Per str. Nemesis.—For MADRAS.—Asst. surg. Boustead, Mr. W. Balmain, Mr. A. Fielding, Mr. C. G. Baker, Capt. Bird, Mr. C. Chapman, Lieut. Wood, Mr. Ludlow, Lieut. Ward, Mr. C. W. Wilson. For BOMBAY.—Dr. Hadaway. For GALLE.—Mr. G. W. Kellner, Mr. Byrne. For MELBOURNE.—Mr. Bennett. For SUEZ.—Mr. and Mrs. Power, Mr. G. M. Struthers, Mr. F. Kilburn. For MARSEILLES.—Mr. Huber, Mrs. T. Teil, Miss Barlow, Capt. Maclean, Maj. Baugh, Capt. T. B. White, Mr. F. F. Hogg, Mrs. Sevenoaks, Mrs. Mollwo. For SOUTHAMPTON.—Col. Horsford, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer, Mr. C. Spetz, Mr. G. Barton, Mr. and Mrs. Medhurst and family, Capt. and Mrs. Alexander, Mr. F. Okeden, Mr. W. J. Boyes, Dr. Pennington, Capt. Lowe, Mr. J. Purvis, Mr. J. Hunt, Miss Hunt, Mr. W. Driver, Capt. Brown, Lieut. Hamuill, Dr. A. G. Crewe, Mr. Bright.

COMMERCIAL.

Calcutta, August 9, 1860.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.

	Sell.	Buy.
Public Works, 5 per cent.	3 8 to 3 8
New Company's Rupee 4 do.	17 12 to 17 8
Dit o, 5 do.	3 0 to 3 12
3rd Sica Rupee 4 do.	20 4 to 12 0
Transfer 4 do.	Nominal.
New 5 1/2 do.	3 4 to 3 8

BANK OF BENGAL.

Discount on Govt. Acceptances (3 months)	3 per ct
Do. on Private Bills and Notes (do.)	6 per ct
Interest on Deposit of Co.'s Paper	5 per ct
Do. on open Cash Credit Accounts	5 per ct
On deposit of Goods, &c.	6 per ct

EXCHANGES.

Agency Bills, at 6 months' sight	2 0 1/2 to 2 0 1/2
Do. with documents, do.	2 0 1/2 to 2 1
American Bills under credit, do.	Nominal.
Treasury Bills, 30 days' sight	Nominal.
Navy Bills, 3 days' sight	"
Bank of England Post Bills, at sight	"

RATES OF ADVANCE.

4 per cent. Stock Receipts	Sa. Rs. 100	Co.'s Rs. 75
4 ditto Government Paper	Sa. Rs. 100	" 75
4 ditto ditto	Co.'s Rs. 100	" 75
5 ditto ditto	" 100	" 68
6 1/2 ditto ditto	" 100	" 95
New Treasury Bills	" 100	" 95

On goods 3-4ths of approved valuation.

JOINT STOCK SHARES.

	Paid up.	Present value.
	at Co.'s Rupees.
Bank of Bengal	4000 each	5950 to 5975
Agra Bank	500	650 to 660
Delhi Bank	500	Nominal.
India General Steam	1000	1490 to 1500
Ganges Company	500	590 to 600
Bengal Coal Company (Limited)	1000	1625 to 1650
Calcutta Steam Tug Association (Limited)	1000	600
East-India Coal Company (Limited)	70	72 to 75
Bonded Warehouse Association	445	550 to 575
Calcutta Docking Company	700	875 to 900
Oriental Gas Company (Limited)	10	par.
Assam Company	200	390 to 400
East-India Railway Company	£20	par.
East-India Copper Co. (Limited)	1000	no sales.
Calcutta Auction Co. (Limited)	60	70 par.

PRICES OF BULLION.

Sovereigns	each, Rs. 10	4 to 10 5
Doubloons	"	32 8 to 32 10
Madras Gold Mohurs	"	15 2 to 15 0
Old Gold Mohurs	"	21 14 to 22 0
New Gold Mohurs	"	15 2 to 15 3
China Gold Bars	per sicca wt., Rs. 16	0 to 16 2
Gold Dust (Austral)	"	14 8 to 15 0
Silver, none, Co.'s Rs. 100	"	106 0 to 106 4
Spanish Dollars	per 100 Rs.	222 0 to 223 8
Mexican do.	"	222 8 to 223 0

FREIGHTS.

To London, £3. 5s. to £3. 7s.
To Liverpool, £3. 2s. 6d.

EXPORTS (Calcutta, Aug. 9).—Supplies of produce are arriving from the districts, but not to that extent as would cause a decline in price and induce large operations. The late advices from home are of little interest, and the state of the home markets continue weak, and hold out no encouragement for larger operations in this market. Raw Silk and Corns still maintain former high prices. Sugar is confined to a few purchases of Benares for Bombay and Low Dullsoah for local refining. Saltpetre has been in little inquiry for Europe, and prices are rather drooping. Rice in limited operation in table sorts for Europe or Australia; but Moonghy and Hallum have been in fair demand for Mauritius, Bourbon, and West Indies. Linseed has not been in large operation, although supplies are free. Prices have not altered. Rape Seed continues in fair request for shipment and local crushing. Jute remains unchanged in price, although it has been in less operation.

IMPORTS (Calcutta, Aug. 9).—There is no demand yet from the Upper Provinces for Piece Goods, although news of heavy rains are daily being received from all quarters. We, however, expect soon to hear of orders for purchases; the season's operation cannot be much delayed; the dealers here are all disposed and ready for business, but they are only waiting for instructions. The business during the past fortnight in Grey Cottons has been very limited, and prices have fallen 2 to 3 annas on Shirtings, 1 1/2 to 2 annas on Madapolams, 1 to 1 1/2 annas on Jaconets, and about 1 anna on Mulls. Very little has also been done in bleached goods. Mule Twist has continued very dull; no disposition for purchase, unless a little for local requirement, and importers have also shown no desire to force sale. Metals, excepting Iron, in which a little business has been done, have been very quiet.

MADRAS.

SIR H. G. WARD.

Henry George Ward is dead. The mournful sentence is of the shortest; but if we devoted this morning's Englishman wholly to the task, we could not write down the wide ramifications to which that great misfortune to India extends itself. But a few short weeks since we were congratulating ourselves that such a man was at hand for such an emergency as that which transferred him from Ceylon, for which he had done so much, to Madras, where a wider sphere, we hoped, would have found him more widely useful. It is needless to recapitulate the public incidents of Sir H. Ward's life; we can, however, write more freely of the able man gone from us than we felt it advisable to do of a governor, however honourable and encouraging his antecedents, placed suddenly in the midst of difficulties so serious as those prepared by Sir C. Trevelyan for his successor. Now we realise our loss when we look round for another man so peculiarly fitted by nature and by varied political experience to fill the responsible post of Governor of Madras at such a juncture. It was not merely that he was an able administrator, although, judging from the notices which appeared on his appointment to Madras, we do not think it was generally known how high English statesmen judged those powers from his services to the Home Government. As Secretary to the Admiralty in the Ministry formed by Lord John Russell in 1846, and for the succeeding two years, he was so highly esteemed, and under Lord Auckland effected so much improvement, and initiated such practical measures of administrative reform in the Admiralty, that when the Government of the Ionian Isles required to be filled under circumstances demanding a tried and able man, Sir C. Villiers, to whom the government had been offered, withdrew his claims in deference to the high estimation of the then Mr. Ward, whose after career has amply fulfilled the anticipations formed of him. But beyond his administrative ability, his firmness of purpose, his Colonial experience, and his power of enlisting the sympathies and stimulating the zeal of those in contact with him, there was another most important feature of his past career which marked him as the only man to succeed Sir Charles Trevelyan in the government which his monomania for independence, and blind personal vanity, had brought to the point of rebellion against all government. Sir Henry Ward and the Right Hon. James Wilson had worked together for the cause of free trade through the first difficulties of its development in England. His training and experience enabled him to comprehend the requirements of a great financial reform movement. His official connection and personal friendship with the author of the measures for carrying it on fitted him admirably for entering into the spirit and carrying out the principles of that great work. His entire unselfishness, cool moderation, and unwavering resolution, all tried and well approved of old, were the sureties of success in working out, amongst a population encouraged to resistance by the highest and therefore the most pernicious example, and by an instrumen-tality unconvinced of the justice and necessity of the obnoxious imposts, the initiatory enactments of a reform which can alone assure the prosperity of the sister Presidencies, by securing the unity and progression of the Empire.

Such another man, in all respects, we cannot hope to see gazetted to the Presidency of Madras. Of course for the immediate present the principal member of the Madras Council, Mr. Morehead, succeeds, pending the nomination from England of the new Governor. For ourselves, we could wish that Sir Bartle E. Frere, a man too good for the Council under Lord Canning's dictatorship, and worst than useless therein, could be put once more into such congenial sphere for the exercise of his undoubtedly great administrative power as the Governorship of Madras.—Englishman.

MISCELLANEOUS.

TALOOK MAGISTRATES.—Government has sanctioned, on the recommendations of Mr. Pelly, Mr. Brett, and the Inspector-General of Mofussil police, the appointment of Talook magistrates for six talooks in the Salem districts. Each talook is to have one magistrate, with the exception of Salem, which, on account of its combining three talooks in itself, under the new arrangement is to have two.

"RENDER UNTO CÆSAR," &c.—We learn from the Moniteur Officiel of Pondicherry, that on Sunday, the 22nd of July, a Te Deum was chanted in honour of the annexation of Savoy and Nice to France.

THE CALICUT PROVINCIAL SCHOOL.—It appears from an order of Government, dated the 14th of June, that the house at present occupied by this institution is too limited for its purpose. Local subscriptions, amounting to about Rs. 6,000, have been promised towards the construction of a new building, and a grant in aid of Rs. 9,000 has been given by Government. This sum will be handed over as soon as the subscriptions are paid up. The new school-house is estimated to cost Rs. 14,442, and will accommodate 600 pupils.

INCOME-TAX.—The following circular instructions have been issued by the Military Auditor-General in reference to the collection of the Income-tax:—

The following deductions are to be made on account of Income-tax from pay and allowances for July, 1860, due and payable on 1st August.

1. From pay and allowances amounting to (200) two hundred per annum, and less than 500 rupees (2) two per cent.

2. From pay and allowances amounting to 500 rupees a year and upwards (4) four per cent.

3. Upon every fractional part of (100) one hundred rupees of the annual amount of pay and allowances, the like proportion of duty to be charged, but no duty to be charged of a lesser denomination than one anna.

4. No deduction from persons whose annual income is less than (200) two hundred rupees.

5. No deduction to be made from officers, non-commissioned officers, and privates of British or Indian forces, whose pay and allowances are less than the pay and allowances of a captain in the Indian forces.

6. Travelling allowances, contract [such as troop or company command allowances, troop contract and office allowances] allowances, tent or horse [including regimental tentage and horse allowances] allowance, or any allowance in lieu of house rent, or to meet any disbursement from the public service, are exempt from deduction.

7. Pensioners, civil and military, are subject to deductions for Income-tax under pars. 1 and 2.

The gross amount of income to be taken into account, not the amount actually paid after such fixed or casual deductions as those on account of military mess and band funds, or retrenchments, &c.

HYDRABAD, July 12.—A Hindoo accepted of conversion to Islam at the hands of Mubboob Ali Shah, a fuqueer. It is said by one party and denied by another, that the fuqueer had engaged to pay a sum of money to the convert, who, not receiving it, and receiving abuse, wounded the fuqueer with a dagger of an Arab, his creditor, who accompanied him on his visit to the fuqueer, a person much honoured by the Nizam. The cutwal of the city, returning from a visit to the fuqueer Mubboob Ali Shah, was informed that a dacoit was then on the road passing near him. He desired his men to apprehend him; the informer and an Arab attempted it, and were cut down by the dacoit, who himself was killed at the instant by another Arab of the cutwal's retinue. There is something curious in the fact of a known dacoit passing by the cavalcade of a cutwal attended by his numerous detectives; there is no accounting for anything that is done here. A fuqueer, supposed to possess some money, was murdered at night, and his house pillaged: there is no clue to the murderers. A khidmutgar of the Nizam, Lol Mahomed, passing on his elephant with a large retinue of armed men, attempted to pierce a regiment of the Nizam's, drawn up in line under its European officer. He was desired to pass on by the road. This he refused to do, and his cavalcade being obstructed by a native officer, an Arab collared him, and a Siddee made a thrust at the adjutant with his dagger. He was immediately seized and disarmed by the sepoy. The retinue of the khidmutgar, on seeing this, drew their swords, but, being immediately surrounded by the regiment with fixed bayonets, the khidmutgar begged to be allowed to proceed on his way. This was acceded to; the sepoy acted very forbearingly towards the transgressors. All they did was to take away the arms of the Siddee, and to give him a sound beating with the butt ends of their muskets. On the same day a letter from Aurungabad informed us that six women were murdered near Aurungabad, and that the murderers had ranged their bodies in a row on the road side. This extraordinary fact must lead to their detection. Ramjeegond, who has been plundering the country with great success, has been taken by the Naib of Edlabad. We have now but one plunderer of note, one Hajee Ali, an Arab, whose apprehension cannot now be far distant. A deserter from the Royal Irish seized upon a horse in the country, the property of a nobleman, Lushkur Jung, and rode off; being followed by a syce, he shot him. After wandering about without food for some days, he entered a village to procure some, was seized, and has been brought to Hyderabad. A lancer has cut down a corporal. There was nothing immediate to irritate the man and to lead him to this. It is supposed that it was done in revenge for the corporal's having had him confined in the Crimea. We have many persons deserving hanging in the Nizam's gaols. Among them we have Ghoolab Khan and Ramjeegond, chiefs of banditti, and atrocious criminals. It is quite impossible the Government should not hang these. The lenity of the Government hitherto has made severe punishment necessary in the cases of these men and others, not to inflict which would be rank injustice and cruelty towards the country.—Englishman.

TRAVANCORE.—Major Drury, the assistant resident at Travancore, is engaged in editing a series of papers to illustrate the progress of the country since the beginning of the century. Major Horsley's descriptive History, first published in 1839, and Lieutenant Arthur's Report, issued in 1810, constitute the first numbers of the series. In the eighteen years from 1836 to 1854 the population shows a decline of 18,021, chiefly in the lower castes who constitute the labouring class. Brahmins and Soodras on the one hand, and the serfs on the other have increased. The Shanars who have most readily embraced a Faith which teaches them independence and liberty seem to have fled from the thralldom to which they were subjected, and thus their number has fallen from 108,515 to 82,861. The revenue has risen from Rs. 37,24,144 in 1836 to Rs. 42,77,119 in 1859. Travancore is almost the last specimen in India of a pure Hindoo state, unaffected by foreign conquest, and yet influenced by Christian institutions. Under the protection of its princes 190,000 followers of the Syrian and Popish churches have existed for centuries. A large Protestant mission has also been most successful.

MADRAS MEDICAL SOCIETY.—The Madras Times says the local service intend to break up the "Madras Medical Society", and in its place to establish a society in each division on the model of that at Hyderabad. The new societies are meant to form centres for the professional men of the district for collecting information, discussing subjects and circulating periodicals. They should extend their inquiries to all branches of Natural History and Meteorology. Much information is lost, or confined to individuals, for the want of some such channel through which to make them public.

A LONG JOURNEY.—Errode has been sanctioned as the point at which a railway from Trichinopoly is to unite the Madras and Bepore line with that from Trichinopoly to Negapatam. Errode, or Yirodu, as it is in the maps, is about seventy miles from Trichinopoly. The new line will run almost parallel with the Cavery. When the Lahore and Delhi Railway is finished, and the projected line through Madura and Tinnevely laid, the course of railways through the entire length of India will be zigzag. Starting from Lahore, it will be possible to go in a zigzag direction from Lahore to Cape Comorin without changing carriages. Thus:—Lahore to Delhi and Jubbulpore on the East India line; Jubbulpore to Bombay, and thence by the South-East line to Arcanum, where the two Madras lines meet; thence by the Bepore line to Errode, and thence to Trichinopoly and Tinnevely.

THE BREACH OF CONTRACT ACT, which in Bengal is confined to Calcutta, and which was applied to the coffee districts of Madras by Sir Charles Trevelyan, has been extended to Coorg by Sir Mark Cubbon. The planters will now be protected in their advances to the coolies, but by carrying out the Act they may drive away all labourers from their estates. "Is it not possible to do away with the advance system in the case of mere coolies who have nothing but their labour?"

THE MADRAS BOARD OF REVENUE lately asked the local government to allow four Mysore Bulls to be purchased, in order to improve the Tanjore breed. The answer returned was—in one year the cost of cattle-breeding experiments was Rs. 2,455, and the result one calf! This is nearly as bad as cotton-growing experiments in Bombay.

MADRAS IRISH FUSILIERS.—A local journal describes the piece of plate presented by the community of Madras to the 1st Fusiliers for their gallant deeds in 1857. The centre piece "consists of a plinth surmounted by an equestrian statuette of the gallant Neil, a miniature copy, we believe, of the statue to be erected to the memory of that brave man in Madras. The horse is exquisitely delineated and executed in frosted silver. He is represented as pawing and impatient, while his gallant rider, erect, calm and thoughtful, is restraining his eagerness. A bas relief on the side of the plinth represents with painful fidelity the 'last scene of all, the fall of the hero at the gate of Lucknow. At the corners there are Fusiliers." The sergeants' mess also received a piece of plate. The Hindoos presented a vase to the regiment.

DR. FENELLY, the Vicar-Apostolic of Madras, has issued a long pastoral address to the Roman Catholics of his diocese, denouncing the concordat by which the Pope grants to King Pedro V., of Portugal, ecclesiastical patronage in the East. The concordat gives the Portuguese crown the right over the cathedral churches of Goa, Cranganore, Cochin, St. Thomé and Malacca, with which Singapore is joined. It enforces the erection of new bishoprics beyond these limits, and the removal of vicars-apostolic who may exist within the territory of any bishopric after the bulls of confirmation have been forwarded. The document is a curiosity in the nineteenth century. After charitably consigning schismatic priests to destruction, Dr. Fenelly says, the result of allowing disaffected Portuguese priests to cover India will be most terrible in the event of another rebellion. They will sympathise with the natives in their national dislike to the English, and assist France or Russia in the event of a European war! The pastoral states that the result of two centuries' labour in Madras has been the conversion of 20,000 souls, of whom the boatmen, so well-known to all who have landed there, form a large portion. The number of priests brought into the vicarate in eighteen years has been twenty-six.

SHIPPING.

ARRIVALS.

July 25. Lady Warncliffe, Sherder, Mauritius.—26. Earl of Hardwick, Noaks, Bimpham and Cocoadia.—27. str. Canada, Curling, Suez, Aden, and Galle; str. Governor Higginson, McMullan, Muscatapur; Edmund Graham, Henderson, Sunderland.—29. Theresa, Kennedy, Lond on; Gotheborgs, Bjorsk, Sunderland; Eena, King, Lond on; Adelaide, Longman, Mauritius.—30. Thracina, Deward, Mauritius; Louisa, Smith, Singapore; Gallant Neill, Bews, Cocoadia; Sindan, Stuart, Mauritius.—31. Wellington, Howlett, Mauritius; Melanie, Glazebrooke, Ganjam; Scinde, Michel, Swansea; Iccu, Lowe, Mauritius.—Aug. 2. Excelsior, Kerr, Newcastle.—5. George Marshall, Davison, Sydney.—6. Abellino, Hall, Trincomalee; Charlotte, Pearse, Porto Novo.—7. Day Dream, Cochrane, Singapore.—8. Str. Columbian, King, Suez, Aden, and Galle.—9. Hurkaru, Fleck, Negapatam; St. Marc, Aldree, Mauritius; Admiral Duparee, Ginon, Pondicherry.—12. Indiana, McKirdy, Sydney.—13. Str. Dalhousie, Hopkins, Raigoon; David Malcolm, Knight, Mauritius; P. and O. str. Newcis, Weston, Calcutta.

PASSENGERS ARRIVED.

Per Earl of Hardwick.—Mrs. Noaks and child, Mr. and Miss Randall, Mrs. Luttrall and family, Mrs. Marcar and family, Mr. and Mrs. Regeu and family, Mr. Gare, Mr. Wright.

Per str. Caudia, from SOUTHAMPTON.—Rev. J. Murphy, Mr. Wilkinson, Capt. Ogilvie, Lieut. Findlay, Mr. Sanderson, Mr. Duncan. From MARSEILLES.—Mr. Elliott, Rev. J. Rogers, Capt. and Mrs. Holmes, Capt. Young. From SYDNEY.—Capt. Morphy.

Per Hurkaru.—Mr. and Mrs. Stephenson.

Per str. Governor Higginson.—Mr. and Mrs. Hall, Mr. Hay, Capt. Brown, Dr. Murray, Lieut. Stranger, Capt. and Mrs. Blagrove, Mr. Southerland, Mr. Smith, Judge Glass, Mrs. Glass and child, Capt. Middleton, Mrs. Beemlen.

Per Adelaide.—Mrs. Longman and two children.

Per Sindian.—Dr. Almeida.

Per Wellington.—Capt. Bristow, Bengal army, Lieut. Brooks, 18th Inf.

Per Day Dream.—Lieut. Armstrong.

Per str. Columbian.—Mrs. Cook, Miss McDonald, Messrs. R. Groves and D. C. Budd, Miss Cherry, Mrs. Yates. From ALEXANDRIA.—Capt. and Mrs. M. Donald. From SEBZ.—Mr. Lamanese. From GALEX.—Mrs. Herbert, Mr. Viga.

Per H.M.'s str. Daulhousie.—Col. Grogdon, Col. Mrs., and Miss Cotton, Maj. Webb, Capt. Fitzgerald, H.M.'s 68th, Capt. Power, Lieut. and Mrs. Skottowe and child, Dr. Morton, Mr. Lafond, Mr. Rundell, Mr. Gordon, Mr. Liddle, Lieut. Hutchings, Lieut. Burgess, Apoth. Smith, wife, and five children.

Per P. and O. S. N. Co.'s steam ship Nemesis.—From CALCUTTA.—Asst. surg. Bonstead, Mr. W. Rainani, Mr. A. Fielding, Mr. C. G. Baker, Capt. Bird, Mr. C. Chapman, Lieut. Wood, Mr. Ludlow, Lieut. Ward, Mr. C. W. Wilson.

DEPARTURES

July 24. Fetterlein, Orford, Calcutta.—25. Hjelvelin, Bräddahs, Ganjam, Alexander Baring, Nunerley, Rangzon and Kaulin in.—27. Cauda, (s.), Curlew, Calcutta; Adelaide Jonkin, Colombo.—28. Lady Warrling, Shedder, Akyab.—29. William Miles, Silver, Colombo via Gopulpore.—30. Bombay, Dandington, Bordeaux; Egyptian Train, Goodwin, Liverpool; H. M.'s ship Scosoris, Smutt, Calcutta via Rangzon.—31. Trak, Middleton, Northern Ports. August 1. Couranto, Penrice, Ganjam.—2. Deference, Daly, Hong Kong. 3. Governor Higginson (s), McMillan, Calcutta via Northern Ports.—4. Columbian (s), King, Calcutta.—9. Charlotte, Pearce, Porto Novo.—13. Aurora, Ryan, Calcutta.

PASSENGERS DEPARTED.

Per str. Candia.—W. R. Robinson, Esq., Capt. H. T. and Mrs. Campbell.

Per Sesostria.—Licnt. Elliot, Licnt. Campbell, 23rd N.I., Conductor Donac, Assistant surgeon Kearney, Mrs. Crofton.

Per str. Gov. Higginson.—For BIMBATA.—Licnt. W. H. Burton. For CALCUTTA.—Capt. Bruce, P. Orr, Esq.

Per str. Columbian.—N. Argute, Esq., Capt. E. W. Bristow, Mrs. Swiny.

Per Aurora.—T. Hilca, Esq., Mr. and Mrs. Cooke and family.

Per P. and O. Co.'s str. Neuhaus.—To SOUTHAMPTON.—Miss Mortlock, S. Thompson, Esq., Ens. G. H. B. Young, Mrs. Wahnab, Capt. J. Cameron, W. Beaumont, Esq., Maj. G. I. Condy, Maj. I. C. Disbrough, Mr. J. F. Viney, Mr. H. O'Hara.

To MARSEILLES.—Licnt. R. S. Gray, Ass. surg. W. F. Davis, J. F. Mackenzie, Esq., Licnt. F. W. Dobre, Mrs. Vaidm, Licnt. W. G. Sharp, Licnt. P. MacCarthy, Rev. J. Hay.

To SYDNEY.—Capt. R. Cox. To MAURITIUS.—J. D. Robinson, Esq.

To POINT DE GALLE.—Capt. J. D. Collinor.

COMMERCIAL.

Madras, August 14, 1860.

BANK OF MADRAS.

Interest on Loans on deposit of Gov. Securities ...	5 per ct.
On Cash Credits on do. (subject to commission of $\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. on the sum granted) on amount drawn	5 per ct.
Discount on Government Bills	4 per ct.
Do. on Private Bills, at or within 8 months....	7 per ct.

EXCHANGES.

Document Bills, at 6 months' sight	9 0½
Credit, to 6 months'	2 0½
Agents' Bills on England, at 6 months	1 11½
" " " do.	1 11½
" " " Sight	1 11½
H.M.T. Treasury Bills	none
Bank of England Post Bills	none
Mauritius Government Bills	nominal
Ceylon do.	" "
Court of Directors' Bill on the Government of Bengal, 30 days' sight	None
Agents' Bills on Calcutty 30 days	½ per cent. pm.
Do. on Bombay	¾ "

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.

5½ per cent. Loan.....	1859	3 to 3½ pm.
5 per cent. ditto	1856-57	1½ to 2 dis.
4 per cent.	1832-33
"	1835-36
"	1842-43	16 dis.
"	1851-55
5 per cent. Transferable Book Debt		No transacts.
Tanjore Bonds		½ per ct. dis.
Bank of Madras Shares		8 prem.

PRICE OF BULLION.

Sovereigns..... each Rs.10-7

RATES OF ADVANCE.

On Govt. 5½ per cent. Promissory Notes.....	98	per ct.
Do. 4½ do. do.	80	per ct.
Do. 5 do. do.	93	per ct.
Do. 4 per cent. Stock Receipts.....	80	per ct.
Do. 4 per cent. Promissory Notes Sica.....	80	per ct.
Do. 4 per cent. do. Company's	80	per ct.
Do. 3½ do. do. do.	—	per ct.
On Tanjore do. do. do.	98	per ct.

FREIGHTS.

Quotations to London & Liverpool, £2. 5s. to £3.

BOMBAY.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE BOMBAY DOCK AND LAND RECLAMATION COMPANY.—The provisional committee of the Bombay Dock and Land Reclamation Company (Limited), held their first meeting on the 2nd August, at the temporary office of the company, 16, Apollo street, Mr. W. S. Sebright Green in the chair; there being present Messrs. Tyljee Bhoymea, Robert Fairbairn, Sorajjee Jeejeebhoy, Bhugwandass Purshotumdass, Pranjeewandas Toolseedass, Purshotumdass Mohundass, Abraham Shepherd, Dorabjee Hormusjee, Aljee Arabee, and Aljee Salla Mahomed. The chairman read to the meeting the official reply from the secretary to Government Public Works Department, to the application which had been sent in by the acting secretary, stating, "that the Honourable the Governor in Council will be prepared to afford the undertaking encouragement as soon as Government shall be satisfied of the bona fide character of the scheme." It was determined to register the company forthwith, and the memorandum and articles of association were signed.

BAZAAR "GUP."—The Indore correspondent of the Bombay Times states that the opium dealers in that neighbourhood expect the war with China to have an unfavourable effect on their trade. In a conversation with an opium soucar about the probable results of this war, the latter said : " Isu't the Russ ka Padsha going to assist the Cheen loke ka Padsha with one lakh of men and big guns, and do you mean to say that your force can resist such an army as that ? " On being asked where he got such information, he said it was bazaar kubber, and that the general impression was, that we should get the worst of it. That the natives are given to discuss European politics as affecting their own interests and our rule, was abundantly shown during and before 1857.

THE CRIMINAL SESSIONS at Bombay occupied the Court for eight days. There were thirty-four cases, implicating fifty-five prisoners, of whom twenty-four were Hindoos, eighteen Mahomedans, nine Parsees, three Christians, and one Chinaman. Nine prisoners pleaded guilty, twelve were acquitted, twenty-six were sentenced, and the rest disposed of in other ways. Those sentenced were to be imprisoned for periods varying from three months to two years; one to be transported to the Straits Settlements, and one to be hanged.

A HINT TO M.P.s.—Mr. Chisholm Anstey, notorious for long speeches in the House of Commons, was pulled up by Sir Joseph Arnould in the Bowday Court for "wasting public time by unnecessary length." Mr. Anstey "did not care for the intimidation of the Court," if he liked he would read the whole evidence to the jury. The Judge at last appealed to his discretion, on which Mr. Anstey became magnanimous. In charging the jury, the Judge reminded them of the remark of an English wit—"that people often forgot that there had been such a grand event as the Deluge, when the world was submerged by the rising of the waters, and that when disposed to make long speeches, or write voluminous books, they ought to recollect that since that event human life was shortened, and they ought to learn to 'gaze on Noah and be brief." His Lordship said that Mr. Anstey had made a very able defence of the prisoner, but that he had forgotten a little to "gaze on Noah and be brief."

THE UNCOVENANTED FAMILY PENSION FUND of Bombay seems to be on a very small scale. The number of subscribers is only fifty-one, and the amount of their monthly payments is Rs. 343. Their capital amounts to Rs. 38,805. For six months the Government increased the rate of interest allowed on it from 5 to 6 per cent., for what reason is not evident from the report.

MAHABLESHWUR.—The Government of Bombay has decided that the sum of 3 rupees an acre is to be charged for land at the Sanatorium of Mahableshwur on a 21 years' lease. The rate at Matheran and Egutpoora is 5 rupees. Holders may redeem the tax on the basis of 5 rupees an acre at 30 years' purchase. Unless for choice building and garden sites within the station, these terms are practically prohibitory. What settlers in India want is waste land at the Ceylon rate of Rs. 2-8 an acre purchased outright.

CHINA.

HONG KONG, July 26.—The last mail for Europe was dispatched hence on the 8th inst. by the steamer Pekin, the issue of this report prepared for transmission by her being dated two days previously. It was then advised that the Imperial cause in the valley of the Yang-tze appeared utterly and hopelessly lost, and that the rebels having evinced no sign of administrative abilities, the utmost anarchy and distress prevailed in that region—that the allied French and British forces had nearly all assembled at the places of rendezvous in the Pechili gulf, but that it was uncertain or unknown when hostilities would commence—that some enterprising foreigners had ventured into the silk districts and had succeeded in bringing some silk to Shanghai, which they had purchased very cheap—that a slight disturbance had taken place at Foochow, which, however, had subsided—and that matters at Canton had become more settled and pacific.

Since then, strange to say, political matters, inflammable as they are, have remained in statu quo. Regarding the insurgents in the valley of the Yang-tze, they do not appear to have made any sign whatever of a disposition to organise a Government, or to rule the districts they have conquered and hold undisputed possession of. In fact, they do not even bury the numerous dead which lie in the very cities they occupy. They evince a great desire to be friendly with foreigners, and several parties of the latter who have visited them have met with a most cordial reception from the chiefs. Reliable information is of course difficult to procure, but a mass of intelligence, authentic, though desultory, has been published lately regarding these insurgents. There is clearly no imperial army in the field to act against the rebels, yet there is an impression gaining ground at Shanghai that the insurgents are losing ground, that they have sustained several reverses lately, and that an important place called Sung-Kiang has been wrested from them. These impressions derive some confirmation from the fact of boats laden with silk having lately arrived at Shanghai, without seeing any rebels whatever during their passage; as well as from the fact of some of the insurgent outposts, which approached near Shanghai, having been driven in by Imperial troops equipped by the Shanghai mandarins, with the co-operation of a body of foreign mercenaries. The probability is that the rebels are occupied at present with an attack they have avowed their intention of making on the important city of Hang-Chow, which, lying in the opposite direction, will account for their paucity of force in the districts where they are stated to have lost ground. They still occupy Soochow with a very large force, their main body continuing at Nankin, where Hung-tien-tsoon, the originator of the rebellion, reigns supreme, with all the sanctity and fanaticism for which the movement is famous. To proposals made by the foreigners who visited Soochow that trade might be allowed to continue, the insurgent chiefs gave their immediate assent, stating however that they should claim the duties. They at the same time expressed their intention of taking Shanghai, but no steps having been adopted to carry out this intention, the probability is that the decidedly favourable attitude assumed by the allies, whom the rebels have clearly the utmost dread of, towards the Imperialists, has caused the abandonment of the project—at all events, until Hang-chow shall have been captured.

The measures adopted by the representatives of the allied powers at Shanghai towards the insurgents are the very reverse of the professions of neutrality they promulgate. When the attack on Shanghai was expected, bodies of French and British troops and vessels of war were dispatched a considerable distance into the interior, with the avowed intention of arresting the advance, no attempt whatever being made to open communications—and this too after the insurgents had expressed their intention of avoiding all cause of offence to foreigners, which as the foreign quarter is quite distinct from the city, and capable of defence, there could be no difficulty about. To all intents and purposes the Imperialists are refugees at Shanghai, which they have no means of holding for one day if the allies observed the neutrality they profess. Still the Imperial authorities are allowed to issue proclamations to appease the people, stating positively that the foreign forces had espoused the Imperial cause, and would repel any attack on Shanghai. A troop of foreign mercenaries have been raised and equipped at Shanghai, and actually drilled on the race course; these, as mentioned above, have already been in collision with the insurgents. The Custom House is not only allowed to continue its functions under the allied guns, but an extra transit duty is allowed to be imposed on silk. Worst of all, Chinese suspected of having connection with the insurgents are allowed to be seized and executed. There is but one solution to these extraordinary proceedings, which is, that it is hoped the Pekin Cabinet may have a tangible proof of the bona fide intentions of the allies, and therefore may be the more disposed to entertain pacific negotiations on the appearance of the plenipotentiaries off the Peiho. It is very probable that such an effect may be produced, but even so, what good can result unless the allies undertake to extinguish the rebellion, which the present moribund dynasty has for many years shown itself to be quite incapable of coping with? Such a contingency is clearly impossible, and in the meantime the foreign trade of Shanghai is placed in very great jeopardy. The Imperialists have not a foothold in the valley of the Yangtze except under foreign protection, and the insurgents can retaliate in many ways without provoking a collision, thereby stopping a trade carried on in territory under their control, for the behoof of their enemies. For instance, they could destroy the mulberry trees, or stop up the canals, or seize the silk. Meanwhile the trade has improved to an extent that could hardly have been hoped for. The success which attended the expedition into the silk districts of the two Frenchmen named in last report, encouraged many others to repeat the attempt, and owing to the peculiar position of the allied powers with the belligerents, any property accompanied by foreigners seems as safe as if it were sacred. The Chinese seeing this, have employed foreign sailors and the like to "convoy" their property, and the result is that a large quantity of silk has come to market. There is no hope as yet, however, of the new teas being brought by the same means, and with the small barter trade in pulse against manufactured goods, the import market is quite suspended.

Regarding the movements of the allied forces. From the best information procurable it appears that the British force was ready for offensive operations on the Peiho at the end of June, but that the French force was behind in consequence of all the artillery harness and accoutrements having been lost in the transport Isere in the harbour of Amoy. The French commanders-in-chief insisted upon the British force waiting until the lost articles should be replaced by supplies from Europe, which could hardly arrive until the end of August. This extraordinary demand the British commanders-in-chief, it appears, assented to; but it is now stated that the Earl of Elgin at a conference at Shanghai induced the French Envoy, Baron Gros, to consent to proceed to hostilities at once. The entire force, including both envoys, and excepting a garrison left at Shanghai (which by the way is nearly all British) have been hurried up to the respective places of rendezvous, and the report now runs to the effect that the Taku forts would be attacked between the 23rd and 25th instant. Nor is this the only contre-temps attending this disastrous French alliance, for it seems that the British force outnumbered the French vastly, and as the latter insist upon the strength of each being equal, 2,000 British troops are to be left behind, and the naval brigade will not be called into requisition. These combined, must be nearly equal to the entire French force, so that the whole connection is most unsatisfactory. It is to be hoped that these reports are partially untrue, but they emanate from a quarter entitled to respect, and have been repeated so often that much credence is attached to them.

The latest date from Ta-Lien-Whan, the British rendezvous on the Gulf of Pechili, comes down to the 12th instant. The troops had been placed under canvas, and were extremely healthy. The naval force, however, were not so healthy. Water and provisions were scarce, but the supply was on the increase.

An extraordinary correspondence has taken place between the Shanghai Chamber of Commerce, her Majesty's Consul at that port, and the heads of the foreign customs, which reflects anything but credit on British diplomacy in China. It seems that Mr. Bruce, her Majesty's minister and superintendent of trade, in the very questionable zeal he has long evinced for the foreign customs, took advantage of his position as the consul's superior, and permitted, if he did not initiate, sundry encroachments on the functions of the consul, which had been established by custom and secured by treaty. For instance, the Customs' functionaries were allowed to confiscate any goods which they might deem were being irregularly passed, or to make any alterations they might deem fit in the regulations of trade, and to publish the same for general information without in any way consulting the consul. The latter was told by Mr. Bruce to withhold any interference, and so long ago as last November he addressed a dispatch to Mr. Bruce strongly denouncing these encroachments. To this he has never received a reply; and after waiting until the Earl of Elgin arrived and left, he took the opportunity, in a correspondence he had with the Chamber of Commerce, to publish the dispatch. This commented so severely on the foreign customs' authorities, that two of them (one being the Earl of Elgin's ex-secretary) demanded an explanation, which being refused, they retaliated by publishing their correspondence, which contains some severe strictures on the consul, who has instituted proceedings against them for libel. The subject is highly important, for the consul's dispatch incontestably proves that Mr. Bruce made use of his position to control both the Canton consulate and the Commissioners—in effect committing an act of spoliation in the seizure of the Canton customs, to the great detriment of the foreign name, and to the prejudice of British trade. Besides it was for the violation of the principles for which the Consul contends, namely the seizure of the Arrow's crew by Yeh without the intervention of the Consul, that caused the present war, and it is a most inexplicable circumstance, that Mr. Bruce's conduct should have been disowned by Lord John Russell in the House of Commons, and therefore must be unknown to and unauthorised by her Majesty's ministers.

There is no news from Japan. At Foochow all is quiet and prosperous. At Canton the authorities have driven back the rebels and seem to have obtained the upper hand. New congous were coming down apace.—Overland China Trade Report.

Official Gazette.

BENGAL.

BY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL.

Foreign Dept., Fort William, July 25.—The Gov. gen. in Council is pleased to appoint Mr. J. P. Stratton to be political asst. for Bundelcund from this date.

July 27.—The foll. arrangements are made, consequent on the removal of Capt. C. D. Grant, dep. comr., Martaban:—

Capt. J. P. Briggs to be dep. comr. of Martaban.

Capt. J. F. J. Stevenson to be dep. comr. at Tavoy.

Capt. E. M. Rayan to be dep. comr., 2nd class, at Moulmein.

Lieut. W. P. Harrison to be dep. comr., 3rd class, at Mergui.

Lieut. H. S. Hill to be asst. comr., 1st class.

Lieut. C. E. Watson to be asst. comr., 2nd class.

H.E. the Gov. gen. in Council is pleased to accept the resig. of Capt. T. E. Bell, asst. to the comr. of Nagpore, and to place his servs. at disposal of the Govt. of Madras.

Financial Dept., Fort William, July 25.—Mr. E. F. Harrison received charge of the office of the sub-treasurer, Madras, from Mr. F. C. Forbes on the 10th inst.

Mr. W. J. Raynor received charge of the office of the civ. auditor, Madras, from Mr. E. F. Harrison on the 10th idem.

July 27.—The Gov. gen. in Council is pleased to permit Mr. F. C. Forbes, actg. sub-treasurer, Madras, to proc. to England on furl., on m.c., for 12 mo., commencing from 10th inst., the date on which he made over charge of his office to Mr. E. F. Harrison.

Public Works Dept., Fort William, July 25.—Appointments.—Mr. A. Johnstone is app. a prob. asst. overseer in public works dept., and posted to the N. W. Provs.

July 26.—Lieut. T. C. Manderson, of the Bengal engrs., is app. a prob. asst. engr., and posted to the N. W. Provs.

July 27.—The app. of Mr. C. Zimmerman as a temp. asst. supervisor, in Notification No. 157, of 28th inst., is hereby cane.

The servs. of Ens. R. Anderson, of H.M.'s 95th regt., prob. asst. engr., Gwalior div., are placed at disposal of Govt. of Bombay.

Transfer.—Mr. W. W. Clarke, C.E., 3rd cl. exec. engr., is transf. from Rohilcund railway survey to the irrigation dept., N. W. Provs., for employ. on Bundelcund irrigation works, with effect from 9th June.

Foreign Dept., Fort William, July 30.—Subject to the conf. of H.M.'s Govt., the Right Hon. the Gov. gen. in Council is pleased to recognise M. T. Chretien as vice-council for France at Rangoon, with jurisdiction in Pegu and the Tenasserim provs.

July 31.—Mr. C. Hordern is conf. in his app. as extra asst. comr. in Hyderabad assg. dists. The notice, No. 2,175, dated 22nd ult., is cane.

Public Works Dept., Fort William, July 30.—Appointment.—Prob. asst. overseer Mr. J. A. Cochran, att. to Tenasserim provs., is app. permy. to the public works dept. as an asst. overseer.

July 31.—Ens. J. S. Tait, of inf., is appd. a prob. asst. engr. in the public works dept., and posted to the Punjab.

July 26.—Appointment.—Mr. E. M. Reilly to be a member of the charitable hospital and dispensary committee at Tunlook.

July 21.—Prob. asst. overseer corp. A. C. Wright is transf. from the Berhampore to the 2nd div. of grand trunk road.

July 28.—Mr. W. Saxton, appd. by the gov. of India, in the public works dept., in notice, No. 144, dated 11th inst., a prob. asst. overseer in the dept. of public works, and posted to Bengal, has been att. to the 2nd div. of grand trunk road.

Home Dept., Fort William, August 1.—The servs. of Rev. J. Dawson, a-st. chapl. of church of Scotland on Bengal estab., have been placed at disp. of the Govt. of the Punjab.

Mily. Dept., Fort William, July 31.—No. 795.—The undermnt. officer is perm. to proc. to Eur., on leave of absence, on m.c.:—

Capt. J. N. H. Maclean, 32nd Madras N.I., dep. comr. of Baitool, Saugor, and Nerbudda territories, for 15 mo., under new reg.

No. 796.—With reference to the notice, issued by the Govt. of the N.W. Provs., No. 634a, dated 18th inst., the servs. of Lieut. G. H. W. Hoggan, 4th N.I., adjt. of the divisional mily. police batt., Meerut, are, at his own request, replaced at the disp. of H.E. the C. in C.

No. 800.—The undermnt. sub assts. of the Ganjam topographical survey are prom. from the 3rd to the 2nd class, from the dates specified opposite to their respective names:—

Mr. R. W. Chew, March 1.

Mr. E. F. Macvicie, June 1.

No. 801.—The foll. orders issued by the Resident at Hyderabad are confirmed:—

Dated July 4.—No. 161.—Confirming the regimental order by the officer comdg. 2nd inf. Hyderabad contingent, dated June 12, directing Lieut. Pedler, officg. 2nd in com. 2nd inf. Hyderabad contingent, to act as adjt., in add. to his own duties, fr. June 13, consequent on dep. of Lieut. Innes to join 3rd inf. Hyderabad contingent.

No. 165.—Granting Lieut. Steward, adjt., 4th cav. Hyderabad contingent, 6 weeks' leave, fr. date of quitting his station, to Bombay, prep. to Eur.

No. 802.—The foll. order issued by the commr. of the prov. to the Nagpore irreg. force is confirmed:—

Dated Jan. 24.—No. 4.—Appg. Lieut. C. H. Plowden, 19th Madras N.I., to act as adjt. of 3rd inf., at Raepore, in succ. to Lieut. Manning.

No. 804.—H.E. the Gov. gen. in Council is pleased to make the following promotions:—

Ordnance Commissariat Dept.—Asst. comy. of Ordnance Capt. T. Spencer, vet. estab., to be dep. comy.; Dep. Asst. Comy. Mr. J. Borthwick to be asst. comy.; Conductor T. Newbold to be dep. asst. comy. of ordnance fr. May 19, in succ. to Capt. J. Hamilton, dep. comy., transferred to invalid pension establishment.

No. 805.—The undermentioned officer is perm. to proc. to Europe, on leave, m.c.:—

Capt. W. R. E. Alexander, 53rd N.I., comdt. Alexander's horse, for 15 mos., under new regs.

No. 806.—The following officers are promoted to rank of capt., by brevet, from the dates specified opposite to their respective names:—

Lieut. W. O. Rennie, 32nd N.I., July 20.

Lieut. C. Armstrong, 10th N.I., July 22.

Lieut. J. Keer, 60th N.I., July 26.

No. 808.—Appointment:—

3rd Regt. Punjab Inf.—Lieut. G. A. Way, 58th N.I., offic. adjt., to be adjt.

August 1.—No. 809.—The undermentioned officer is perm. to proc. to Europe, on leave, m.c.:—

Lieut. and Brev. capt. J. R. A. S. Lowe, 56th N.I., dep. asst. comy. gen., for 15 mos., under new regs.

August 2.—No. 811.—The undermentioned officer is permitted to proc. to Europe:—

Surg. W. C. B. Eatwell, of the med. dept., principal of medical college, for 6 mos., without pay.

No. 812.—The undermentioned officers are permitted to proc. to Europe, on furl.:—

Lieut. col. and brev. col. R. Hiersford, regt. of art., for 3 years, under old regs.

Capt. and brev. maj. F. W. Baugh, 26th N.I., for 2 years, under new regs.

August 3.—No. 813.—Appointment:—

Punjab Irreg. Force Art.—Lieut. W. A. B. Gillies, art., to do duty with No. 1 horse light batt. at Kohat.

No. 814.—Lieut. H. C. E. Ward, 5th Eur. regt., do. du. with guide corps, is perm. to proc. to sea, on m.c., and to be absent for 3 mos., under new regs.

No. 815.—The foll. proms. are made:—

42nd N.I.—Capt. D. Gausson to be maj., and Lieut. C. W. Peter to be capt., fr. May 11, v. Maj. C. Campbell, ret.

No. 817.—Col. M. K. Atherly, of H.M.'s 92nd highlanders, to be a brig. of 2nd class, on estab., with effect from date on which he assumed com. at Cawnpore.

No. 818.—The undermnt. officer has reported his return from England:—

Lieut. E. S. Jackson, 12th N.I., sub asst., stud. depar.; date of arr. at Fort William, July 13.

No. 819.—The servs. of Capt. J. T. Watson, 12th N.I., are placed at disposal of the govt. of N.W.P.

July 27.—No. 789.—The return to duty of Surg. J. McClelland, med. dept., is to have effect fr. Dec. 27, 1859, instead of fr. Feb. 24 last.

No. 790.—Promotions:—

Army Commissariat Dept.—Capt. J. I. Willes, 69th N.I., asst. commr. gen., 2nd class, and acting asst. commy. gen., 1st class, to be asst. commy. gen., 1st class, v. Lieut. col. R. S. Simpson, who vacates on prom.

Maj. A. D. Dickens, 38th L.I., dep. asst. commy. gen., 1st class, and acting asst. commy. gen., 2nd class, to be asst. commy. gen., 2nd class, v. Capt. Willes.

BY THE LIEUT. GOVERNOR.

July 24.—Appointments.—Mr. A. W. Russell, add. judge of Dacca, is vested with powers of a sess. judge in that dist.

Mr. R. J. Wigram to offic. as mag. and dep. coll. of Jessore.

Mr. W. Macpherson to offic. as jt. mag. and dep. coll. of Behar.

Lieut. C. F. Middleton to offic. as jun. asst. to comr. of Assam.

Sub-lieut. R. S. O'Conner, 2nd Bengal police batt., to be 2nd lieut. of 4th Bengal police batt.

Mr. D. J. Poole to be sub-lieut. 1st grade in 2nd Bengal police batt.

Leave of absence:—Dr. W. J. Palmer, principal asst. to opium agent at Benares, for 2 mo.

BY THE LIEUT. GOVERNOR, N.W.P.

Military Dept., Camp Nynce Tal, July 17.—In modification of Order No. 463a, dated May 14, granting 3 mos. leave to Lieut. R. J. Young, adjt. of the Budaon mil. police, the Lieut. gov. has been pleased to grant that officer priv. leave for the period above specified.

BY THE LIEUT. GOVERNOR, PUNJAB.

General Dept., July 12.—No. 1,815.—Appointment.—Mr. C. W. W. Alexander is app. inspec. of schools, Lahore circle. Mr. Alexander assumed charge of his office on 2nd inst.

The Indian Army.

Simla, July 26, 1860.—With the view to promote the efficiency of the army, and to reward meritorious officers, the C. in C. intends to confer the appointments which are in his gift solely on officers of tried merit or of good promise.

2. H.E. cannot give effect to these intentions if he is in ignorance of the services and merits of applicants for appointment.

3. Officers frequently solicit advancement or appointments without transmitting their applications through their superiors, or giving any or only insufficient proof of their qualifications for the appointments to which they aspire.

4. The C. in C. directs that officers will transmit their applications for appointments through their present or late commanding officers, who are requested to express a full opinion of their military qualifications, giving ample details of any good services which they may have performed in the field; of their proficiency in military knowledge; of their ability to exercise discipline, or to carry on the interior economy of a regiment. H.E. will receive with satisfaction from applicants any other testimonials as to their services and qualifications.

5. Sir Hugh Rose does not require that these testimonials should be invariably official; any testimonial, no matter from what quarter, will be held by H.E. to be valid which convinces him that an officer has done good service, or is capable of performing it.

6. Service in a regiment which has distinguished itself by its discipline and good interior economy will in itself be considered by the C. in C. to be a practical recommendation.

7. It is the intention of the C. in C. to establish during the cool season camps of instruction, when H.E. will have an opportunity of personally forming an opinion of the merits of officers and of corps.

By order of H.E. the C. in C.,

W. MAYHEW, Lieut. col.,
Adj. gen. of the army.

Payment of Compensations for Losses.

Gen. Dept., July 16.—No 1,852.—With reference to the notification of the Government of India, in the Financial Department No. 57, dated 29th ult., intimating that the compensations awarded for losses during the mutiny will be paid to parties entitled thereto, from and after the 1st of August next, the Hon. Lieut. gov. of the Punjab is pleased to determine that such payments on accounts of losses sustained within the Punjab Provinces shall be made from the civil treasuries at Lahore, Umballa, and Delhi respectively; and claimants are requested to communicate to this office, as soon as possible, the treasury at which they desire to receive the sums awarded to them.

MADRAS.

BY THE GOVERNOR IN COUNCIL.

Fort St. George, July 26.—Appointment.—Ens. E. M. Campbell, 11th N.I., to be asst. superint. of police on prob., v. Lieut. McGoun, res.

Public Works Dept., Fort St. George, July 31.—The servs. of Mr. E. E. Merrill are transf. to North Canara, to act as 2nd asst. engr.

August 4.—The undermnt. gentlemen have obtained leave of abs. from their stations:—

Mr. H. E. Smith, sub coll. and jt. mag. of Salem, for 3 mo., from the date of quitting his station (after the 28th inst.).

Mr. W. Beaumont, asst. to superint. rev. survey, for 12 mo. and 4 weeks, prep. leave from 26th ult., to Eur., on m.c.

August 7.—Lieut. W. L. N. Knyvett, 41st N.I., is posted to Cuddapah as asst. superint. of police, with effect from 2nd June last.

Fort St. George, August 10.—Leave of absence:—

Mr. E. C. G. Thomas, dep. director of rev. settlement, in ext. to Oct. 31.

Mr. S. Thompson, asst. to coll. and mag. of Bellary, for 15 mo., m.c., under despatch of the late hon. court of directors, dated April 17, 1857, No. 28.

Appointments:—

Mr. G. B. Tod to be hd. asst. to coll. and mag. of the Kistna dist., but to continue to act as princp. asst. to coll. and mag. and govt. agent in Ganjam dur. employ. of Mr. Thornhill on other duty.

Mr. W. Nisbet to be hd. asst. to coll. and mag. of Trichinopoly.

Mr. P. P. Hutchins to be hd. asst. to coll. and mag. of South Arcot.

Mr. J. H. Garstin to be hd. asst. to coll. and mag. of Tinnevely.

Mr. A. M. Webster to be hd. asst. to coll. and mag. of North Canara.

Mr. H. S. Thomas to act as hd. asst. to coll. and mag. of Madura dur. the employ. of Mr. Kerr on other duty.

Rev. A. J. Rogers, A.M., jt. chap. of Bangalore, having ret. to India within the period of 15 mo., will rejoin his station.

July 25.—No. 339.—The undermen. officer is per. to proc. to Europe:—Capt. C. D. Grant, 11th N.I., on furl., for 2 yrs.

July 27.—No. 340.—Maj. C. Dysart, 3rd Madras Eur. regt., is per. to proc. to Bombay, on m.c., under the regs. of 1854, to enable him to obtain a final m.c. to Eur.

Admitted upon the estab. as a cadet for the inf., and prom. to the rank of ens., leaving the date of his com. to be settled hereafter.—Mr. H. E. Wilkinson; arrived at Madras on July 27.

No. 342.—The undermen. med. officers having completed 20 years' service in India, to be surgs. maj., under the royal warrant of Jan. 13, 1860:—

Surgs. A. Shewan, J. W. Maillardet, H. Goodall, J. Forbes, T. White, C. I. Smith, C. Paterson, J. C. Campbell, J. Dorrard, C. K. J. E. Mayer, J. Shaw, R. H. Rennie, W. Mackenzie, J. Middlemass, T. C. Jordon, A. Lorimer, E. G. Balfour, J. Sanderson, J. H. Orr, J. H. Reynolds, W. G. Frichard, J. M. Jackson, C. G. E. Ford, D. Macfarlane, H. W. Porteous, J. Kennedy, D. T. Morton, W. C. Maclean, J. B. Stevens, C. W. Pickering, H. E. Hadwen, B. S. Chinmo, J. C. Burton, C. Timms, H. Smith, E. S. Tribe, C. B. M. Rogers, C. D. Currie, J. L. Rankin, W. R. Gingell, W. Lloyd, J. Peterkin, J. Pringle, and W. Johnston, from Jan. 13.

Surg. A. Blacklock, from Feb. 8.

Do. J. W. Mudge, M.D., from March 8.

Do. T. W. Whitlock, from March 10.

Do. W. W. Rawes, from April 14.

July 31.—No. 348.—The Hon. the Gov. in Council is pleased to make the foll. app. and prom.:—Capt. C. W. S. Young, sub-asst. comy. gen., to act as dep. asst. comy. gen. dur. abs., m.c., of Capt. R. A. Moore. To take effect from 27th inst.

37th Regt. (Gren.)—Sen. ens. F. L. Halemman to be lieut., v. Dames, dec.; date of com., April 16.

The undermen. officers have returned to their duty, by per. of the Home Govt., without prejudice to their rank:—

Capt. G. B. B. Holmes, art.; Capt. C. W. S. Young, 52nd N.I., sub-asst. comy. gen., and Lieut. C. J. Elliott, 11th N.I. Arrived at Madras on July 27.

The undermen. officers are per. to proc. to Eur.:—

Capt. R. O. Cary, 13th N.I., on m.c., under old regs., and to embark from Madras.

Capt. J. Dinsdale, 22nd N.I., on m.c., under old regs., with retrospective effect from the date of his embarkation from Penang.

Lieut. and adjt. R. A. Clementson, 22nd N.I., on m.c. for 15 mos., under regs. of 1854, with retrospective effect fr. date of his embarkation from Penang.

Lieut. R. S. Gray, 16th N.I., on m.c., under old regs., and to embark from Madras.

Asst. surg. W. F. Davis, on m.c. for 18 mos., under regs. of 1854, and to embark from Madras.

July 31.—No. 351.—Capt. R. Cox, 38th N.I., is permitted to proc. to the Cape of Good Hope and Australia, on m.c. for 2 years, under old regs.

Returned to duty:—Surg. maj. J. Sanderson; arr. at Madras, July 27.

Appointment and promotions:—

Maj. gen. Sir G. C. Whitlock to the divisional staff of the army, with effect fr. date on which Maj. gen. A. Tulloch may vacate his command by prom. to lieut. gen.

Infantry.—Senior Lieut. col. (maj. gen.) N. Johnson, unatt., to be col., v. Scott, dec.; date of commission, June 25.

20th N.I.—Sen. Ens. J. C. M. Russel to be lieut., v. Young, rem. fr. effective list; date of commission, March 3, 1859.

24th N.I.—Sen. Ens. T. Lavie to be lieut., v. Warner, dec.; date of commission, July 11.

The undermentioned officers are permitted to proc. to Europe:—

Col. T. Anderson, 3rd L.C., on furl., under regs. of 1854.

Lieut. W. G. Sharpe, 41st N.I., on m.c. for 18 mos., under regs. of 1854, and to embark from Madras.

Lieut. T. Taylor, qmrr. of the late Madras Sapper militia, on m.c. for 18 mos., under regs. of 1854, and to embark from Madras.

Dep. comy. H. G. O'Hara, 2nd asst. dist. engr., dept. pub. works, on m.c. for 15 mos., under regs. of 1854, and to embark from Madras.

August 9.—No. 362.—Capt. J. Cameron, 1st regt. lt. cav., is perm. to proc. to Eur. on m.c., under old regs., and to embark from Madras.

August 10.—No. 364.—The Hon. the Gov. in Council is pleased to make the following prom.:—
Artillery.—Senr. lieut. col. (unatt.) maj. gen. Eneas Shirreff to be col., v. Blundell, dec.; date of commiss., July 6.

The undermnt. officers are perm. to proc. to Eur.:—

Maj. G. J. Condy, 27th N.I., on m.c. for 15 mo., under regs. of 1854, and to embark from Madras.

Lieut. F. W. Dobree, 43rd N.I., adjt. and 2nd in com. Golcondah subindus, on m.c. for 15 mo., under regs. of 1854, and to embark from Madras.

Returned to his duty:—

Capt. R. M. Macdonald, 29th N.I., inspector of schools.—Arrived at Madras on Aug. 8.

BY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF.

Head Quarters, Choultry Plain, July 25.—As a temp. arrangement, Capt. D. Shaw, 39th N.I., is app. to act as adjt. of 34th N.I.

The undermnt. officers having been rep. qualified to com. a comp. at batt. exercise, are relieved from do. du. with the 2nd Eur. L.I., and will join and do du. with the 13th N.I.

Ens. E. Moore, R. Nelson, E. J. Gunthorpe, A. C. Williams, and H. W. A. Willins.

Ens. E. W. C. H. Miller, 8th N.I., is app. to do du. with 48th N.I. to join.

Lieut. A. E. Arbutnot, 8th regt. L.C., having been rep. qualified to com. a troop at exercise, is relieved from do. du. with 1st drag. gds., and will join and do du. with 6th regt. L.C.

July 26.—The foll. removals are ordered:—

Lieut. col. T. McGoun, from 41st N.I. to 20th N.I.
Lieut. col. G. F. Salmon, from 20th N.I. to 41st N.I.

With reference to G. O. No. 48, dated May 11, 1859, Ens. H. E. Wilkinson is app. to do du. with 2nd Eur. L.I. to join.

July 28.—Capt. H. Acton, 2nd N.I., whose servs. were replaced at disposal of the C. in C. in G. O. No. 345 of 27th inst., is directed to join his regt. at Tonghoo.

With reference to G. O. dated Dec. 7, 1859, 2nd capt. G. C. Robinson, of the D. co., 1st batt., art., is relieved from do. du. with art. at Bangalore and will proc. to join his co. at Rangoon.

Lieut. J. T. McGoun, 36th N.I., whose servs. have been placed at disposal of C. in C. in notification published in Fort St. George Gazette, dated July 24, to rejoin his regt.

July 30.—Lieut. col. F. B. Lys, 2nd Eur. L.I., will do du. with 45th N.I.

Ens. H. H. G. Hands is removed fr. do. du. 74th highlanders, to do du. 2nd Eur. L.I., at Trichinopoly; to join forthwith.

Leave of absence:—

Maj. G. J. Condy, 27th N.I., dep. asst. adjt. gen., centre div., till Oct. 31, to Bangalore and the Neilgherries, on m.c.

Lieut. R. FitzGibbon, asst. commy. of commissariat dept., till July 31, to Mysore and Western Coast, on m.c.

August 3.—Cornet. A. Ricketts, gen. list, do. du. 1st drag. gds., till Nov., to Ootacamund, on m.c.

July 31.—Lieut. A. Cook, 32nd N.I., is app. to act as qmrr. and interp. of that regt.

Lieut. H. S. Court, 44th N.I., is app. adjt. of that regt.

Aug. 2.—Lieut. J. D. L. Campbell, 23rd L.I., is app. to do du. with 34th L.I.

The undermnt. officers have been examined in the Tamil language:—

Ens. E. W. Begbie, inf., do. du. 44th Madras N.I., is qualified as interp.

Asst. surg. D. Kearney, med. dept., qualified for med. ch.

The Moonshie allowance to be disbursed to Ens. Begbie.

The following removals and postings are ordered:—

Surg. maj. W. G. Pritchard, from 11th N.I., in med. ch. of 1st batt. art. and Eur. and native art. at St. Thos. Mount, to be staff surg. Rangoon, but to do du. with 52nd N.I., until Oct. 1.

Surg. maj. C. G. E. Ford, from 2nd Eur. L.I., to 1st batt. art. and Eur. and native art. at St. Thos. Mount.

Asst. surg. J. Maitland, from 48th N.I., directed to assume med. ch. of 2nd Eur. L.I.—to join.

Asst. surg. D. Mackenzie, to 10th N.I.

Asst. surg. W. A. Smith, from do. du. C. company 3rd batt. art., to do du. 48th N.I., dur. the employ. of Asst. surg. Maitland on other duty.

Asst. surg. J. T. Williams, from 10th N.I. to 25th N.I.

Asst. surg. P. W. Marriot, from do. du. 1st Madras fus. to 1st Madras fus.

August 6.—The undermnt. officers have been examined in the Hindoostanee language:—

Lieut. W. F. Wright, 44th N.I., Madras, qualified as interp.

Ens. J. W. Ouchterlony, 2nd Eur. L.I., do. du. 34th L.I.; Lieut. J. B. Reid, 16th N.I.; Lieut. H. C. On-low, 35th N.I.; Ens. W. O. Foord, 47th N.I. Madras, qualified for the gen. staff.

Lieut. A. A. Davidson, 4th N.I.; Lieut. E. Shaw, 10th N.I.; Lieut. J. H. Shaw, 27th N.I., Madras; creditable progress.

Lieut. R. Alexander, art.; Ens. J. S. Blaxland, inf., do. du. 47th N.I., Madras; passed exam. prescribed for officers of comps.

The Moonshie allowance to be disbursed to Lieuts. A. A. Davidson, E. Shaw, J. H. Shaw, and H. C. Onslow.

August 7.—On the recommendation of the officer comdg. 1st Madras fus., and Maj. gen. the Hon. A. A. Spencer, comdg. Mysore div., 2nd lieut. T. R. Tabuteau, 1st Madras fus., who was ordered in G. O. dated March 22, to do du. with 36th N.I., is perm. to rejoin his regt.

Capt. A. C. Grant, 5th Bengal Eur. L.C., is app. to act as interp. to H.E. the C. in C., without prejudice to his app. as mil. sec., and with retrospective effect fr. July 1, 1860.

Leave of absence:—

Lieut. col. J. J. Losh, 42nd N.I., fr. Aug. 24 to Jan. 23, 1861; Madras.

Capt. J. N. Beaver, Eur. vet., for 6 mo. fr. date of depart.; Madras.

Aug. 8.—The foll. removals are ordered in arty.:—

Capt. F. G. Nuthall, do. du. B co. 2nd batt. art., fr. horse brig., non-effective, to 2nd batt. B co.

Capt. A. N. Scott, fr. 4th batt. A co. to 3rd batt. B co.

Capt. G. B. B. Holmes, fr. 3rd batt. B co. to 4th batt. A co.; to do du. under orders of officer comg. arty. centre div. till the season admits of marching.

Capt. J. DeC. Sinclair, late prom., to 1st batt. B co.

2nd Capt. N. G. Campbell, fr. horse brig., non-effective, to 1st batt. B co.

2nd Capt. G. G. J. Campbell, fr. horse brig., non-effective, to 4th batt. B co.

2nd Capt. A. J. Ogilvie, D tr. horse art., to do du. under the orders of officer comg. art., centre div., till the season admits of marching.

2nd Capt. E. S. Milluan, late prom., to horse brig. D co.

2nd Capt. W. D. Forster, late prom., to 5th batt. D co.

Lieut. W. D'O. Kerrich, fr. horse brig., non-effective, to 5th batt. B co.

The foll. posting is ordered:—Col. (maj. gen.) N. Johnson, late prom., to 14th N.I.

With reference to G. O. Sept. 28, 1859, Lieut. H. P. Lane, D co. 3rd batt. art., will continue to do du. with horse brigade, v. Lieut. Taylor, in Eur., on m.c., under new regs., to have effect fr. date of return to duty of Lieut. Gordon.

Capt. F. G. Hodgson, 39th N.I., is app. to act as qmrr. of 15th N.I.

Demise and Funeral of Sir Henry George Ward, the late Governor of Madras.

Fort St. George, August 3.—The Government announce with much regret the demise of H.E. the Hon. Sir Henry George Ward, Knight, Grand Cross of the Order of St. Michael and St. George, Governor of the Presidency of Fort St. George, which melancholy event took place at Madras, on the evening of Thursday, the 2nd instant.

The flag of Fort St. George will be hoisted half-staff high, and continue so till sunset.

Minute guns, seventeen in number, will be fired from the ramparts of Fort St. George.

Similar marks of respect will be paid to the memory of Sir H. G. Ward, Knight, at all the principal military stations and posts dependent on the Presidency.

H.E.'s remains will be interred in St. Mary's Church in the fort at a quarter to six this evening.

By order of Government,

T. PYCROFT, Chief Secretary.

The following was the order of procession, as detailed in the G.O. of H.E. the C. in C.:—

Band of H.M.'s 43rd foot.

4th regt. N.I.

34th regt. L.I.

44th regt. N.I.

Infantry Volunteer Guards.

H.M.'s 43rd regt.

One-half the Hon. the Gov.'s Body Guard.

Garrison Band.

H.E. the Hon. the Governor's Charger, led by Non-Commissioned Officers of Body Guard.

Flanked by a quarter of the Hon. the Governor's Body Guard.

H.E. the Hon. the Governor's Carriage.

H.E. the Commander-in-Chief's Carriage.

The Hon. the Councillor's Carriages.

The Hon. the Puisne Justice's Carriage.

Other Carriages in succession.

No Carriages but those of the Chief Mourners, the Hon. the Governor, H.E. the C. in C., the Members of Council, and Puisne Judge of the Supreme Court, were allowed to pass the Wallajah Bridge, where the procession halted.

H.M.'s 43rd and the Infantry Volunteer Guards moved forward into the fort, passing by the Brigade Major's house and main guard towards St. Mary's Church, at which the head of the column halted and the troops formed a street.

Half the Body Guard passed over the Bridge and formed up in line to the right and left, on the road leading to the Saluting Battery and General Hospital, fronting the river, resting on their swords reversed, and the Trumpts sounded a Dead March as the Hearse passed.

When the Street was prepared within the Fort, the procession moved forward, the Troops resting on their arms reversed, Bands and Music playing the Dead March in Saul.

The Garrison Band precede the Hearse in its progress to the Church.

The Procession followed the Corps through the Fort in the following order:—

Chief Mourners.

H.E. the C. in C. and the Honourable the Councillors.

The Honourable the Puisne Judge.

The Governor's Personal Staff.

Secretaries to Government.

Officers of the General Staff.

Members of the Boards.

Officers and Gentlemen two and two, the Juniors leading.

During the procession seventeen minute guns were fired from the saluting battery, commencing when the hearse reached the government bridge, and a salute of seventeen guns after the body was deposited in the grave.

The coffin was carried into the church by eight men of H.M.'s 43rd, the Commander-in-Chief and five other officers bearing the pall. The funeral service was read by the archdeacon, assisted by the Rev. Messrs. Alcock and Gibson. The coffin was placed in a vault between the font and reading desk, next to the spot in which are deposited the remains of H.E.'s lamented predecessor, Sir Thomas Munro.

The parade was then dismissed, and the troops marched to their respective quarters, right in front.

The following Fort St. George Gazette Extraordinary was issued at Fort St. George, Aug. 4.

In consequence of the lamented decease of the Honourable Sir Henry George Ward, Knight, G.C.M.G., the office of Governor of Fort St. George and its dependencies devolves in virtue of the provisions of Section LXIII. of the Act 3rd and 4th of William IV., cap. 85, upon the Honourable William Ambrose Morehead as the Senior Civil Member of Council, and the usual oaths of office are administered to him, and takes his seat accordingly.

Fort St. George, Aug. 4, 1860.—The Hon. the Gov. in Council has been pleased to make the following appointments:—

Mr. S. Ward to be private secy. to the hon. the Governor.

Brev. maj. D. W. Tupper, of H.M.'s 50th regt., to be mil. secy. to the hon. the Governor.

Capt. C. C. FitzRoy, H.M.'s 68th Foot and Capt. R. C. Glover, H.M.'s 43rd Foot, to be A.-de-C. to the hon. the Governor.

Subadar Maj. Veerasawmy, Sirdar Bahadoor, sappers and miners, to be the native A.-de-C. to the hon. the Governor.

MEMORANDUM.

A general mourning from Sunday the 5th to Sunday the 12th inst. is requested by the Gov. in Council, in testimony of respect to the memory of the late Sir Henry George Ward, Knight, G.C.M.G.

By order, T. PYCROFT, Chief Sec.

Fort St. George, Aug. 4, 1860.

Court Martial.

CAPTAIN J. T. CLARKE, 34TH REGT. C.L.I.

Head Qrs., Choultry Plain, August 2.

At an European general court martial held at Fort St. George on July 26, 1860, Captain John Trist Clarke, of the 34th regt. or C.L.I., was arraigned on the following charge:—

Charge.—For conduct unbecoming the character of an officer and a gentleman, and to the prejudice of good order and military discipline, in having at Madras on the 23rd June, 1860, when in attendance at a court of inquiry, assembled for the purpose of investigating certain complaints which had been preferred against him by the said Lieut. col. R. W. O'Grady, been in an unfit state to appear before the said court from the effects of intoxication.

Finding.—Guilty of the charge.

Sentence.—The Court sentence the prisoner, Captain John Trist Clarke, of the 34th regt. or C.L.I., to suspension from rank and pay and allowances for four months.

Confirmed.

(Signed) PAT. GRANT, lieut. gen., C. in C.
Fort St. George, July 31, 1860.

BIRTHS.

BARNES, wife of A. C., daughter, still-born, at Calicut, July 28.
 BERNARD, wife of W. F., son, at Sooree, July 27.
 BRADSHAW, wife of J., daughter, Aug. 8.
 CUNLIFFE, wife of B., daughter, at Adyar, Aug. 10.
 DANGERFIELD, wife of Capt., son, at Trichinopoly, July 31.
 FISHER, wife of Capt. J. F., son, at Bellary, July 22.
 GREEN, wife of Lieut. col. Geo. W. G., C.B., 2nd Bengal Fusiliers, daughter, at Bunnoo, Punjab, July 22.
 HARPER, wife of A., daughter, at Kandy, Aug. 1.
 JENNINGS, wife of Lieut. C. J., son, at Trichinopoly, Aug. 2.
 KELLY, wife of W. H., daughter, at Barrackpore, July 27.
 MARSACK, wife of Capt. A. B., daughter, at Yercand, July 26.
 MCLEARY, wife of W., daughter, at Calcutta, Aug. 3.
 MEDLICOTT, wife of J. G., son, at Calcutta, Aug. 5.
 MORFEW, wife of J., daughter, at Trincomalie, July 31.
 MULFOLLAND, wife of T., son, at Kandy, Aug. 2.
 MYLNE, Mrs. J. W., son, at Calcutta, Aug. 4.
 NASH, wife of J. L., son, at Calcutta, July 29.
 NESBITT, wife of H. K., daughter, at Berhampore, July 19.
 PIERCE, wife of Capt., daughter, at Simla, July 21.
 RUSSELL, Mrs. F., daughter, at Calcutta, Aug. 3.
 SLATER, wife of Rev. S., son, at Calcutta, July 30.
 SPARROW, wife of Dr., daughter, at Neilgherries, July 27.
 SPELDEWIND, wife of W. F., son, at Jaffna, July 17.
 TICKELL, wife of J., son, at Berhampore, Aug. 1.
 TOVEY, wife of Lieut. A. C. H., son, at Dum Dum, July 18.
 TROWELL, wife of R., son, at Kandy, Aug. 11.
 WHYTE, wife of D. B., son, at Durbungah, July 19.

MARRIAGES.

BUTT, Capt. A. J., to Maggie A., daughter of Dr. W. Gilchrist, at Madras, Aug. 1.
 CHAMIER, F. E. A., to Annie M. C., daughter of the late J. G. Johnstone, at Lucknow, July 31.
 FOSTER, F., to Sarah E., daughter of E. Lemist, Aug. 1.
 KEARY, W. S., to Ellen, daughter of E. Oxborrow, at Madras, July 21.
 MILLIGAN, Lieut. W. J. L., H.M.'s 73rd regt., to Isabella M., daughter of Lieut. col. Moir, at Dinapore, July 23.
 OELRICHS, G. H., to Miss Marguerite Bourgeois, at Calcutta, Aug. 1.
 SCOTT, R., to Justa A. S., daughter of the late Capt. T. Locke, at Vepery, Aug. 1.

DEATHS.

BADDELEY, John E., infant son of W. C., at Tirhoot, July 23.
 BAKER, Frederick, infant son of G., at Howrah.
 BICH, Arthur B., at Calcutta, July 20.
 BLUNT, W. W., at Madras, Aug. 5.
 CHURCH, Charles, infant son of F., at Serampore, Aug. 4.
 CLARK, Thomas C., at Dacca, aged 18, July 25.
 CLEMONS, Frederic M., son of the late Maj. J., at sea, May 17.
 DEALTRY, Amy G., at Bangalore, Aug. 4.
 FERNANDO, Elizabeth A., infant daughter of C. P., at Kandy, Aug. 9.
 GORDON, Capt., Madras Engrs., drowned at Talien Bay, July.
 GUTHRIE, Capt. John, Polmaise, at Fuhchau, aged 40, July 16.
 HALLEN, infant son of Dr. H., Aug. 3.
 JONES, Lieut. Arthur C., Madras art., at Rangoon, July 18.
 LATAPPE, Jean A., infant son of E. D., at Calcutta.
 MACKENZIE, Charles C., at Calcutta, aged 39, July 29.
 MARKS, Herbert K., infant son of C. H., at Calcutta.
 MCCARTHY, Michael J., at Rangoon, aged 45, July 13.
 NESBITT, infant daughter of Mr., at Berhampore, July 20.
 NICHOLETT, Stuart R., infant son of Capt. C. H., at Mussorie, July 18.
 OORLOFF, Emily H., wife of A., at Badulla, aged 27, Aug. 3.
 REBEL, Rev. J. A., at Ootacamund, Aug. 1.
 RIDETT, Mrs. Mary, at Calcutta, aged 63.
 ROBERTSON, F. D., at Calcutta, aged 28, July 26.
 SLATER, James M., inf. son of Rev. S., July 30.
 THEOBALDS, Isabella A., widow of the late R. S., at Jaulnah, July 20.
 WAHAB, Lieut. William L., 25th Madras N.I., at Mercara, July 18.
 WALKER, Marion, wife of Maj. C. E. M., at Ramadroc, Aug. 1.

WALLER, Henry, inf. son of the late R., of cholera, at Allahabad, July 27.
 WARNER, Lieut. James C., 24th Madras N.I., at Rangoon, July 10.
 YATE, Edwin, at Dum Dum, July 28.

WAR OFFICE.

CHANGES, PROMOTIONS, &c.
IN H.M.'s REGIMENTS SERVING IN INDIA.

Sept. 4.

Corps of Royal Engineers.—Maj. gen. Sir H. D. Jones, K.C.B., to be col. comdt., v. Gen. Nicolls, dec.
6th Drag. Gds.—Maj. E. L. Jervis, from 13th light drags., to be maj., v. Dickson, who exch.
Royal Engineers.—Lieut. R. Grant to be 2nd capt., v. Stopford, dec.; 2nd Capt. W. B. Gosset to be adj., v. Stopford, dec.
3rd Foot.—A. W. H. Gelston, gent., to be ensign, without purch., v. P. Walker.
6th Foot.—Lieut. J. A. Staines to be capt., by purch., v. Parkinson, ret.; Ens. J. B. Hopkins to be lieut., by purch., v. Staines.
8th Foot.—Lieut. E. Tanner to be capt., by purch., v. Gray, ret.; Ens. W. J. Watson to be lieut., by purch., v. Tanner.
13th Foot.—Capt. H. N. Salis, fr. 5th lt. drags., to be capt., v. Boyd, who exch.
19th Foot.—F. Knowles, gent., to be ens., without purch., v. Fryer; Lieut. E. W. Evans to be adj., v. T. Thompson, dec.
27th Foot.—K. D. Murray, gent., to be ens., without purch., v. Cobbe, cashiered.
38th Foot.—Maj. and Brev. Lieut. col. F. A. Willis, c.b., fr. 84th foot, to be maj., v. Farrer, who exch.
60th Foot.—Ens. R. F. de B. Barry to be lieut., without purch.; Ens. J. E. H. Peyton to be lieut., without purch., v. Hodges, dec.; Ens. C. G. Fryer, fr. 19th foot, to be ens., without purch., v. Barry; F. E. Lonsdale, gent., to be ens., without purch., v. Peyton.
73rd Foot.—Ens. H. R. Eyre, from 99th foot, to be ens., v. Gibsons, prom.
74th Foot.—Ens. C. J. Rolleston to be lieut., by purch., v. McCrummen, prom.; J. F. Darvall, gent., to be ens., by purch., v. Rolleston.
75th Foot.—Capt. W. H. Urquhart, fr. h.p. unatt., to be capt., v. Justice; Asst. surg. H. H. Maclean, fr. 6th foot, to be asst. surg., v. Semple.
79th Foot.—Ens. A. P. B. Bailie to be lieut., by purch., v. McNair, prom.
83rd Foot.—H. G. Davies, gent., to be ens., by purch., v. Whitlock, prom.
89th Foot.—Lieut. W. Dudge to be capt., by purch., v. Beck, ret.; Ens. W. Atthill to be lieut., by purch., v. Dudge.
90th Foot.—Lieut. F. B. Bleazby, fr. 100th foot, to be lieut., v. Eyre, ret.
Rifle Brigade.—Lieut. A. A. A. Kinloch to be instructor of musketry, v. Moorson.

STAFF.

Brev. col. F. E. Chapman, c.b., royal engrs., to be dep. adj. gen. of the royal engrs., v. Brev. col. J. W. Gordon, c.b.

BREVET.

The following promotions, which appeared in the Gazette of July 21, to be ante-dated to Jan. 19, 1858:
 To be Lieut. cols. in the Army:—Maj. H. Boyé, of 22nd Bombay N.I.; Maj. L. S. Hough, 31st N.I.
 To be Majors in the Army:—Capt. W. F. Hunter, 2nd Bombay L.C.; Capt. J. A. Wood, 20th Bombay N.I.
 The date of the brevet-majority of Brev. col. W. W. Davidson, 32nd Bengal N.I., to be changed from Jan. 16, 1819, to June 7, 1819.

Sept. 11.

12th Lt. Drag.—Cornet T. E. Houghton, fr. 17th lt. drag., to be cornet, v. Jackson, who exch.; Sept. 11.
17th Lt. Drag.—Cornet J. D. Jackson, fr. 12th lt. drag., to be cornet, v. Houghton, who exch.; Sept. 11.
Mil. Train.—R. Forrest, gent., to be ens., without purch., v. Percival, dec.; Sept. 11.
3rd Foot.—The surname of the gentleman cadet app. to an ensign without purch. on the 4th July, 1860, is Girdlestone, and not Girdleston, as then stated.
5th Foot.—Ens. J. Leslie to be lieut., by purch., v. Shoobred, ret.; Sept. 11.
8th Foot.—Surg. J. Irvine, fr. staff, to be surg., v. Annesley, app. to staff; Sept. 11.
13th Foot.—Lieut. H. L. Fitzgerald to be capt., without purch., v. Segrave, dec.; Ens. L. P. Jenkins to be lieut., without purch., v. Fitzgerald; Aug. 9.
37th Foot.—Lieut. D. Alleyne, from 79th foot, to be lieut., v. Jones, who exchanges; June 27.
60th Foot.—To be lieuts., by purch.:—Ens. J. Tottenham, v. Sainsbury, ret.; Ens. R. H. Beadon, v. Traherne, ret.; Ens. J. W. Marshall, v. Fortescue, ret.; Ens. R. Meade, v. Northey, prom.; Ens. H. J. Lees, v. Lovell, ret.; Ens. P. W. Worsley, v. Curtis, prom.; Ens. A. F. Terry, v. Knox-Gore, prom.; Sept. 11. To be ens., by purch.:—E. Burr, gent., v. Terry; Sept. 11. A. R. Lees, gent., v. Tottenham; Sept. 12.

61st Foot.—Lieut. L. Knipe, from 95th foot, to be lieut., v. Andros, exch.; Sept. 11.
75th Foot.—Ens. W. G. Mansergh to be lieut., without purch., v. Row, dec.; May 27. Ens. C. H. Heycock, from 94th foot, to be ens., v. Mansergh; Sept. 11.
79th Foot.—Lieut. T. S. G. Jones, from 37th foot, to be lieut., v. Alleyne, exch.; June 27.
95th Foot.—Lieut. J. Budgen to be capt., without purch., v. Wild, dec.; Ens. L. Knipe to be lieut., without purch., v. Budgen; June 8. Lieut. E. B. Andros, from 61st foot, to be lieut., v. Knipe, exch.; Sept. 11.

BREVET.

Capt. and brev. maj. W. D. Macdonald, 93rd foot, to be lieut. col. in the army; Sept. 11.
 Capt. C. M. Fitzgerald, 31st Bengal N.I., to be maj. in the army; Aug. 15, 1859.
 The following promotions to take place in H.M.'s Indian military forces, consequent on the deaths of Gen. Sir H. S. Scott, K.C.B., Madras inf., June 25; and of Maj. gen. F. Blundell, c.b., Madras art., July 5:—
 To be General.—Lieut. gen. E. Frederick, c.b., Bombay inf.; June 26.
 To be Lieut. general.—Maj. gen. A. B. Dyce, Madras inf.; June 26.
 To be Maj. generals.—Col. H. Goodwyn, Bengal engrs.; June 26. Col. W. G. White, Madras inf.; July 6.
 The undermentioned officers of H.M.'s Indian military forces, retired on full pay, to have a step of honorary rank as follows:—
 To be Maj. general.—Col. C. G. Otley, Madras inf.; Sept. 11.
 To be Colonels.—Lieut. col. H. Green, Madras inf.; Sept. 11. Lieut. col. H. D. Shippard, Madras inf.; Sept. 11. Lieut. col. H. Boye, Bombay inf.; Sept. 11.
 To be Lieut. colonels.—Maj. T. P. Walsh, Madras inf.; Sept. 11. Maj. G. M. Gumm, Madras art.; Sept. 11. Maj. B. Cary, Bengal inf.; Sept. 11.
 To be Majors.—Capt. W. A. Shaw, Bengal cav.; Sept. 11. Capt. F. J. M. Mason, Madras inf.; Sept. 11.

The Victoria Cross.

WAR OFFICE, Sept. 4.

The Queen has been graciously pleased to signify her intention to confer the decoration of the Victoria Cross on the undermentioned officer of H.M.'s army, whose claim to the same has been submitted for her Majesty's approval, on account of acts of bravery performed by him in India, as recorded against his name, viz:—

Lieut. H. E. Wood, 17th lancers, for having, on the 19th Oct., 1858, during action at Sindwaha, when in command of a troop of the 3rd L.C., attacked with much gallantry, almost single-handed, a body of rebels who had made a stand, whom he routed; and also for having subsequently, near Sindhora, gallantly advanced with a duffadar and sowar of Beaton's horse, and rescued from a band of robbers a portul, Cheemum Singh, whom they had captured and carried off to the jungles, where they intended to hang him.

TOWN FUND FEES.—The gross income of the Madura Town Fund Fees for the year 1859 was Rs. 4,877-10 2, exceeding that of the previous year by Rs. 844-2 1. The balance to the credit of the fund at the close of 1859 was Rs. 2,322-10-9, which is to be expended in gravelling and repairing some of the minor roads of the town. The Board of Revenue "are glad to observe that a systematic commencement has been made by the townsmen for collecting sufficient funds for other municipal purposes. Rs. 810-7-0 have been already subscribed, and Mr. Clarke anticipates further local contributions, which, it is hoped, will enable the officers of Government to give effect to the proposition for improving the present imperfect drainage of the town." In noticing this report, on the 20th July, Government remarked that it was "satisfactory, inasmuch as it shows that the leading inhabitants are sensible of the importance of sanitary improvements in the town, and are willing to take trouble and incur sacrifices in order to effect them. The efforts which have caused such a change for the better in Madura, are worthy of commendation and imitation elsewhere."

COUNTRY AGENTS:—

Edinburgh, W. Blackwood and Sons.
Dublin, Hodges and Smith.
Brighton, C. Booty.

Communications for the Editor, and Advertisements, should be sent under cover to Messrs. WM. H. ALLEN & Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

* * Should any delay or irregularity occur in supplying this Paper, communication of the fact to the Publisher will insure a remedy.

ALLEN'S INDIAN MAIL,

THURSDAY, September 13, 1860.

THE REAL DIFFICULTIES OF
MADRAS.

SIR HENRY WARD is dead, and the loss to the Civil Service of the Empire is a heavy one. In the long list of colonial governors he was probably the ablest administrator, certainly the man who best understood how to reconcile an autocratic vigour with the prejudices of European colonists. The special regret for his loss, to-day universal in Indian circles, is, however, we believe, misplaced. The real difficulties of the Madras Presidency, as they did not begin with Sir Charles Trevelyan, would not have ended with Sir Henry Ward. He might have been the most popular of governors. He might have colonized Wynaad, while reconciling the civilians to reform; might have remodelled the finance of his province without exciting the odium which in India always follows economy. And yet the urgent difficulties of the Presidency would in no degree have been removed. Those difficulties we believe to be the relation of Madras to the Central Government, the condition of the Civil Service, and the existing tone of the Mussulman population. Believing these difficulties to be not only serious, but likely to produce immediate and most grave political agitation, we shall describe them at some length.

1. For twenty years every Governor of Madras has quarrelled with the central authority. Sir H. Pottinger, trained to obedience by years of successful service, openly defied Lord Dalhousie on a point of vital importance. Lord Harris, the most successful servant of the Colonial-office, could not write a letter to the Supreme Government without a protest or a sneer. Sir Charles Trevelyan, a civilian of civilians, a man in whom one would expect official decorum to have become a religion, openly rebelled. The stronger the governor the more distinct was his contumacy. The iron will of Lord Dalhousie, the calm dogged imperturbability of Lord Canning, alike failed to secure the most ordinary official courtesy. The chief of Madras has always been a leader of opposition. He always, while the present régime lasts, will be. Usually a peer, always a man of reputation, the Governor of Madras is invested with what seems to be enormous power. He stands in the front rank of the Imperial hierarchy. He rules absolutely twenty-three millions of men in a country as large as a first-class European State. He has an independent appeal to her Majesty's Government. He has an independent army, Civil Service, judiciary, police, and revenue. In short, he is, to all appearance, a ruler of the first grade, entitled by every circumstance of his position, by official etiquette, and by positive law, to carry his own policy into effect. In truth, he has as much real authority as the lord-lieutenant of an English county. He can issue orders, after the Governor-general has revised, altered, or emasculated them. He can carry out a policy, provided it is that of the Supreme Government. He can spend his revenue, if the Government of Calcutta has sanctioned every item, from sixpence upwards. He can appeal to England, if he wishes for a dry reference back again to Bengal. No ability, energy, or zeal can stand against such a system. Governor after governor, soldier or politician, examines it, tries it, and either rebels like Sir C. Trevelyan, or like Lord Harris sulkily devotes himself to detail. The old evils go on unchecked, and the surgeon, forbidden to operate, contents himself with changing the bandages of the cancer.

2. Whatever the merits of the Civil Service of Bengal, there can be no question about that of Madras. It is hopelessly effete. A hundred and fifty gentlemen, linked together by intermarriage, have a complete monopoly of office. The competition of soldier civilians is almost unknown. The competition of the uncovenanted is not cared for. There are no native nobles able to spend lakhs in punishing a careless magistrate, few Europeans in the interior to exercise a minute and hostile vigilance. The consequence is as usual, the Civil Service is very excellent, very respectable, and fast asleep. This evil the Governor of Madras is powerless to correct. He did not appoint, and except for corruption he is practically powerless to remove them. Yet they, and they only, govern, judge, and administer the interior.

3. But far more dangerous than perplexed relations with Calcutta, or lax administration in the interior, is the tone of the Mussulmans of Madras. That creed, including the bravest of the population, all the cavalry, and a large section of the line, enjoys in the government of Hyderabad a centre of unity wanting throughout the North-west. A word from Hyderabad, followed by the proclamation of a religious war, would bring all the enormous populace of the Moslem section of Madras, all the Mussulman soldiery, 100,000 fighting fanatics from the native territory itself, 14,000 drilled and trained Arabs and Mushtaheds, the immense artillery now garrisoning 1,800 native forts, and perhaps the Moplah clans of the West, into the field. Any one of these classes is formidable alone. Combined they could work their will for a season as fully as the sepoys. Triplicane for three years has been in a ferment, which has at last compelled Government, under pretence of paying preposterous debts, to bribe the leaders of the creed. The Hyderabad State is by the latest accounts declared to be lapsing into that utter anarchy which in India precedes an outbreak. Above all, the Mahomedan impulse, the great surge of religious hate now beating on Syria, Algeria, and European Turkey, is felt directly in Southern India. Let the word but go forth that Europe means the destruction of Islam, and from end to end of the Madras Presidency the lives of the Christian rulers will be as the lives of Maronite priests were recently in Damascus.

NON-REGULATION JUSTICE.

IN the number of the Oude Gazette which was published on the 13th of June last, there appeared an article reflecting in severe terms on the justice and integrity of a native official. The editor of that journal openly charged Ramdial, the individual in question, with the worst malpractices, and compelled him to vindicate his character by instituting an action for libel against his accuser. The following paragraph extracted from the offensive article forms the gravamen of the charge, and upon it especially the plaintiff relied for the recovery of heavy damages:—

"We have frequently heard before of unscrupulous corruption and tyrannous oppression on the part of the Extra-assistant Commissioner Ramdial, but the occurrence thus related constitutes a climax that overcomes our temper and forbearance in the matter. We say we have the best of reason for believing the accusation made against him. Such corruption and tyranny as are dinned into our ears every day as being practiced by Ramdial ought to be brought to the notice of the Government; and if no attention is paid by them to the same, the shame is their's alone."

The plaint was filed under the provisions of Act VIII. of 1859, which, according to Mr. Bayley, the judicial commissioner, does not apply to Oude. Mr. Fraser, the civil judge, however, appears to hold a different opinion, but while he assumes himself authorised to adopt that Act, he does not care to adhere too closely to its provisions.

"The plaint (says a Calcutta contemporary) does not set out the names of the defendants, as required by the Act, nor were all the parties who have appeared to the suit shareholders in the paper when the alleged libel was written, some of them having become proprietors subsequent thereto. The judge has also ruled that the plaintiff is not to be restricted to such portion of the alleged libel as he has set out, but is to be at liberty to use the whole article. At the same time he has ruled that the defendants must in their pleas set out each individual act of oppression and corruption imputed to the plaintiff with the same exactitude as in an indictment, and must only produce evidence on these points; he has also made the defendants set out in their pleas the signification they intended the word corruption to bear,—and put them to the proof of that signification."

Considerable trouble was taken by at least two English magistrates to effect a compromise, and the proprietors of the paper were naturally disposed to escape the costs and annoyance of a tedious and expensive suit in an Anglo-Indian Court of Law. The editor, however, seems to have stuck to his colours, and to have declined withdrawing the allegations complained of. All parties, therefore, were obliged to come into court, the plaintiff demanding £1,000 damages, and the defendants putting in the following pleas:—

"That the plaintiff was guilty of corruption in the following instances, to wit, in causing the zenanas of respectable Hindoo women to be defiled by the introduction therein by his orders, on Sunday, the 10th day of June last, of certain women of the sweeper caste, and who, on or about the 10th day of June, defiled a zenana by sending his chuprassees there also; in acting in contravention of the orders of the Local Government, and with a want of integrity in levying the tax which he was instructed to collect in Lucknow, and corruptly receiving, from divers persons, a larger sum than that they were required to pay by those orders."

"That a certain fixed sum having been directed to be paid by the Mohulla of Aushrullabad, by the order of the Local Government, the plaintiff proceeded corruptly to collect the same, by compelling certain persons, excusable by the Local Government, to contribute towards such payment: such act being in perversion of justice and moral principles, and tending to mislead the Local Government as to the capabilities of the inhabitants of the said Mohulla to bear the tax, is in itself corrupt."

"Also, on the same occasion and time, in compelling Hindoo women to pay the amount of tax levied on the male members of the family, by taking from them their jewels and ornaments, the said jewels and ornaments being the private and personal property of the said women, and in no way under the control of the male members of their family, or subject to their debts, being the Istreedhun of the said women, the said act being a perversion of justice, and a corrupt proceeding, and a misleading of the Local Government as to the means and capability of the parties assessed to pay the tax.

"Also, on the same occasion and time, placing guards on her Majesty's highway, to wit, on the roads leading to and from the said Mohulla, and thereby preventing the egress and ingress of her Majesty's subjects, whilst he proceeded to levy the aforesaid tax by the before-mentioned means, the same being corrupt and unjust.

"That the word corruption, was used in a sense of perversion or deterioration of moral principles, loss of honesty and integrity, and not in the sense of bribery.

"That the plaintiff has sustained no actual damages from the publication of the alleged libel, and is not entitled to interest on his claim.

"That the plaintiff has over-estimated his damages, in praying interest thereon."

As the evidence is not yet fully before us we shall abstain from expressing an opinion, one way or the other, as to the guilt of either party, and shall confine ourselves to a few remarks on the very extraordinary conduct of the judge who tried the cause. The proceedings are represented as having commenced with a philological discussion as to the exact signification of the words "corruption," and "moral influences," in the course of which the plaintiff's native attorney frequently contradicted the other side in the most coarse and offensive manner, repeatedly using the phrase, "joot bath." Mr. Hollingberry, who conducted the defendant's case, at length appealed to the judge, whereupon that functionary replied that the natives had not such a nice sense of honour as Europeans, that they did not consider it an insult to give the lie, that it was merely an expression of non-concurrence as to a fact, and therefore that although he would not permit an Englishman to make such a remark before the court, he should not take offence with a native for doing so.

On the third day the judge issued the following orders:—

"1st. That none of the evidence, either that was or might be taken in the case, should be published till the close of the proceedings.

"2nd. That even then none of the evidence that had been rejected by the court should be published."

As a matter of taste and feeling it might have been better had the conductors of the local paper complied with Mr. Fraser's injunctions, however disposed they might have been to dispute his authority on such a point. They chose, however, to act in direct opposition to his instructions, though it does not appear that the report they published was in any respect garbled or mutilated. On the seventh day of the trial the judge accordingly read them a severe lecture on the duties and privileges of the public press. To this the editor replied that it was not competent for any judge to "gag" the press, or to prevent the publication of any report of the proceedings in his court. But who ever heard of a defendant successfully maintaining his ground against a judge, unchecked by jury or counsel? Mr. Fraser, at least, was not prepared to acknowledge his fallibility, and so after taking twenty-four hours to consider the matter, he summarily fined the proprietors and editor of the paper £20 for contempt of court, prefacing his sentence by the following quite untenable remarks:—

"The argument that the interference of this court in passing a preventive order to be observed by defendants in a case pending before it is a gagging of the press, has no weight any more than the assumption of Mr. Hardinge that the Legislature has given a charter of independence to the press in Oude. The English press here is free, but is not free by any legal right. The Executive Government with enlightened views has chosen to leave it as free as if it had full legal right, and by that courtesy alone is it free."

Now, it would be well that this point should be definitively settled. To suppose that the liberty of the press in India depends upon the caprice or courtesy of any prejudiced or passionate magistrate is altogether absurd and ridiculous. Nevertheless, it is equally evident that there are gentlemen belonging to the Covenanted Service who still regard the press as a nuisance only to be tolerated when it happens to glorify their own individual good qualities, or to defend them against the malice of their subordinates and the ignorance of their superiors. It is time, therefore, that all doubts on this point should at once be removed, and that the press should be fully recognised as a self-existing institution, responsible only to public opinion and the ordinary tribunals of law, but in no way dependent on the will of any individual magistrate, whether in a regulation or non-regulation province.

A careful perusal of the evidence thus far adduced must lead every impartial reader to the inevitable conclusion that real justice will never be administered until properly trained judges are appointed to preside over the different courts. The mere smattering of law possessed by civilians is calculated rather to mislead than to guide them aright. It may not be necessary to require any great depth of legal knowledge and acumen, but it is really indispensable that judges should be well versed in the law of evidence, and trained to discriminate between what is admissible and what irrelevant. For this reason we look forward with some satisfaction to the time, now nigh at hand, when English barristers, after passing a strict and searching examination in the native languages, shall be appointed sessions judges, and go on circuit as in this country.

There is also much to be said touching the apparently unjustifiable suspension of Captain Chamberlain and Lieutenant Scott for endeavouring to do their duty without fear or favour, but we shall reserve for another occasion the remarks that suggest themselves on that head. In the mean time we shall content ourselves with an expression of thankfulness that our own lives are cast in the "regulation provinces" of Old England, and not in the much-vaunted "non-regulation provinces" of India.

SHIPPING.

ARRIVALS.

Sept. 5. John Paul, Cowan, Akah.—6. H.M.S. Boscawen, Powell, Cape of Good Hope; Danube, M'Anley, and Brunelle, Orkney, Bombay.—7. Abyssinian, Thomas, Kurrachee; Equator, Scilborg, Batavia.—8. Appleton, McDonald, Calcutta and Trinidad; Caroline Elizabeth, Pascoe, Cochon.—10. Star of the North, Buckham, Foo-chow-foo; William Chandler, Miller, Bombay; Caroline, Peterson, Akah.—11. Victoria, Gregory, Tutuoreen; Plantagenet, Hayes, Bombay; Elize and Mathilde, Nordenholtz, Akah; Castle Eden, Young, Maulmain; O'Thyen, St. Helena.—12. Naval Brigade, Owen, Bombay.

PASSENGERS DEPARTED.

Per str. Delta, from SOUTHAMPTON, Sept. 12, to proceed per str. Bombay, from SEZ. For MALTA.—Capt. Somers, Lieut. Carey. For ALEXANDRIA.—Mr. Parry, Mr. R. M. Rowe. For SEZ.—Mr. N. Gow. For BOMBAY.—Mrs. Verelue, Comr. H. A. Drought, Mr. E. Montefiore, Mrs. E. Murray, Mr. Caldecott, Mr. and Mrs. Davison, Mr. N. Howard, Miss Forb's, Cornet Phillips, Lieut. Whitelock, Ens. Herring, Ens. Raikes, Ens. Hutton, Ens. Cotton, Mr. J. Rescueres, jun.
Per str. Massilia, from MARSEILLES, to proceed per str. Bombay, from SEZ. For BOMBAY.—Capt. Barr, Capt. and Mrs. Mackenzie, Mr. R. W. Hunter, Mr. G. N. McPherson, Miss Fowle, Mr. D. Richmond, Capt. J. M. Harris, Capt. Flood, Mr. E. Nol-ten, Mr. C. Richen, Mr. H. Bergfeldt, Mr. G. Brummier, Mr. W. Stokes, Mr. T. Schaffer, Miss. A. Beymond, L. Yelin, C. Zerwech, L. Elvasser, R. Eyth. For GALLI.—Mr. M. Kenzie. For CYLON.—Mr. Gaudron, Mr. Conyet. For CALCUTTA, via Bombay.—Mr. Blackwell. For SHANGHAI.—Mr. Jannet, Mr. de Courcy.

DOMESTIC.

BIRTHS.

SHAKESPEAR, the wife of Major Talbot, H.M.'s Bengal army, of a son, at 5, Beaumont-street, Portland-place, Aug. 5.

WILSON, the wife of Captain W., H.M.'s 1st Bombay N.I., of a son, at Kelvingrove, Bridge of Allan, N.B., Sept. 4.

MARRIAGES.

LAMBERT, Frederick William, major in the Indian army, son of Vice-Admiral Sir George R. Lambert, K.C.B., of Norbiton-place, Surrey, to Mary J., daughter of the late General Sir John Lambert, G.C.B., &c., at Brighton, Sept. 4.

HUNTER, Charles, H.M.'s Bengal Art., son of Lieut.-col., Bombay Retired List, to Catharine A. L., daughter of William Powis, Esq., barrister-at-law, at St. Mark's, Hamilton-terrace, Sept. 6.

SHELLEY, Thomas M., H.M.'s 11th Bengal N.I., to Mary E., daughter of Thomas Tong, Esq., at Beckingham, Sept. 4.

WILLIAMS, Henry E. T., Captain 3rd Madras Europeans, to Mary E., daughter of D. Graham Johnstone, Esq., at Brighton, Sept. 1.

WYNCH, Rev. John W., son of Col. John, late of the Madras Artillery, to Mary J., daughter of Lieut.-col. F. Minchen, late Madras army, at Upton Church, Torquay, Sept. 6.

DEATHS.

BERESFORD, Henry F. P., son of Henry B., late of the East India Company's Civil Service, at Hampstead, aged 10 years 8 months, Sept. 5.

CRUICK, Louisa A., infant daughter of Capt. J. M., H.M.'s Bengal army, at Stone, near Berkeley, Gloucestershire, aged 1 month, Sept. 2.

GLASSPOOLE, Capt. Edgar R., 6th Bombay N.I., at Ormesby St. Michael, Great Yarmouth, aged 33, Sept. 7.

TAYLOR, Henry Corbet, late of the Madras army, at the Manor House, Bexley, aged 45, Sept. 8.

VIGNE, Mary Anne, widow of the late Henry, of Walthamstow, aged 80, Sept. 6.

East-India House,

September 12, 1860.

ARRIVALS REPORTED IN ENGLAND.

MILITARY.

Bengal Estab.—Major T. G. St. George, 17th N.I.; Major M. F. Kemble, 41st N.I.; Capt. A. K. Comber, 18th N.I.; Cond. C. B. Goode; Major G. G. Dennis, 1st Eur.

Madras Estab.—Capt. W. B. Fellowes, 3rd Cav.

Bombay Estab.—Capt. R. Richards, 3rd N.I.; Lieut. W. Lumsden, 22nd N.I.; Lieut. W. Jacob, 19th N.I.

ECCLIESIASTICAL.

Madras Estab.—Rev. A. Nagle.

GRANTED EXTENSION OF LEAVE.

CIVIL.

Bengal Estab.—Mr. F. S. Child, 6 mo.

MILITARY.

Bengal Estab.—Capt. J. P. Martin, 4th Eur., 3 mo.; Capt. E. C. S. Williams, Eng., 2 mo.; Capt. G. Gaynor, 2nd Eur., 6 mo.; Capt. H. Durrant, 5th Cav., 3 mo.; Col. J. Coke, C.B., 10th N.I., 6 mo.; Lieut. G. C. H. Armstrong, 59th N.I., 3 mo.; Lieut. C. M. S. Fairbrother, 5th Cav., 6 mo.; Lieut. G. A. H. Lillie, 13th N.I., 4 mo.; Lieut. col. Timias, 34th N.I., 6 mo.; Maj. S. J. Hire, 22nd N.I., 6 mo.; Lieut. H. Campbell, 63rd N.I., 6 mo.

Madras Estab.—Lieut. F. Samwell, 6th N.I., 6 mo.; Lieut. T. Higginson, 22nd N.I., 6 mo.; Lieut. F. B. Glover, 2nd Eur., 3 mo.; Lieut. F. J. H. Helbert, 5th Cav., 6 mo.; Lieut. W. R. Shakespear, 3rd Cav., 3 mo.

Bombay Estab.—Maj. F. A. C. Kane, 15th N.I., 6 mo.; Asst. surg. J. Keith, 6 mo.; Lieut. J. G. Malcolmson, 3rd Cav., 2 mo.

PERMITTED TO RETURN TO DUTY.

MILITARY.

Bengal Estab.—Lieut. col. S. J. Browne, 46th N.I.; Col. J. E. Landers, 9th N.I.; Capt. C. Batchelor, 3rd Cav.; Capt. C. Clark, 2nd Eur.; Lieut. F. Henderson, 16th N.I.; Lieut. C. W. Thomas, 3rd Cav.; Lieut. B. Cuppage, 3rd Cav.; Lieut. C. C. Jervoise, 1st Cav.; Lieut. A. H. Prinsep, 4th Cav.; Lieut. E. H. Macquaghten, 2nd Eur. Cav.; Asst.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

NOTICE.—THE HOME AGENCIES of the BENGAL MILITARY and ORPHAN FUNDS will be REMOVED from 27, CANNON-STREET, E.C., to 55, PARLIAMENT-STREET, WESTMINSTER, S.W., on the 24th SEPTEMBER, 1860. (Signed) J. A. WELLER, Colonel, Officiating Agent.

India Office,
7th September, 1860.

By Order of the Secretary of State for India in Council.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That on MONDAY, the 17th Instant, the ACCOUNTS and CASH DEPARTMENTS of the INDIA OFFICE will be REMOVED from the EAST INDIA-HOUSE to the WESTMINSTER PALACE HOTEL, Victoria-street, Westminster.

By Order of the Secretary of State for India in Council.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That TWENTY JUNIOR APPOINTMENTS in the Engineer Establishment of the Department of Public Works in India will in the year 1861 be open to PUBLIC COMPETITION.

Candidates must be not more than Twenty-three years of age; and must have passed either not less than three years as Articled Pupils of a Civil or Mechanical Engineer, or not less than two years as Students in a School or College recognised by the Secretary of State in Council as possessing an efficient Class for Civil Engineering, and, in addition, not less than one year in practice under a Civil or Mechanical Engineer.

On these points they must be provided with satisfactory certificates, and they must also produce testimonials of good moral character and conduct from the Engineer or Professor under whom they have served or by whom they have been instructed, as well as certificates from the Examining Physician to the India Office of their being in a fit state of health for service in India. On applying with these documents at the Department of Public Works in this Office, in the course of the month of May next (during which month only will applications be received), the names of the Candidates will be registered, and they will be authorised to present themselves for examination, on an appointed day, at the Royal Indian Military College, at Addiscombe.

The Subjects of Examination, and the maximum number of marks to be awarded for proficiency in each, will be the following:—

Writing English correctly and legibly from dictation to be indispensable.

Algebra: Elementary Principles; Simple and Quadratic Equations; Surds; Ratios and Proportion; Arithmetical and Geometrical Progression ... 80
Euclid: 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 6th, and first 21 Propositions of the 11th Book ... 80
Statics: Composition and Resolution of Forces, the Centre of Gravity, the Mechanical Powers; Roofs, Arches, and Bridges; Strength of Materials ... 260
Dynamics: Collision of Bodies; Uniformly Accelerated Motion; Circular Motion and Centrifugal Force ... 260
Hydrostatics and Hydraulics; Pressure of Fluids; Specific Gravity, and Equilibrium of Floating Bodies; Elastic Fluids and Atmospheric Pressure; Hydrostatic Machines ... 120
Making Working Drawings of Machinery, and Plans, Elevations, and Sections of Buildings ... 120
Framing of Estimates and Specifications from given plans and data ... 80
Projects for Bridges, Locks, Dams, Roads, and other Engineering works ... 140
Trigonometrical Surveying, comprising Plane Trigonometry, and traversing with the theodolite ... 120
Land-Surveying with Compass and Chain, and Plotting from a Field-Book ... 60
Levelling, and Use of the Instruments employed ... 60

No Candidate will be passed who shall not obtain 600 marks, of which at least 140 must be awarded for Mathematics; but the Candidates who may obtain the prescribed number of marks will be ranked by the Examiners in the order of the numbers they may severally obtain, and as many of them as may be required at the time for the public service will be appointed "Probationers in the Public Works Department," the appointments being given to those who stand highest in the Examiners' list.

Each Probationer must, within a month of his nomination, sign a covenant, describing the terms and conditions of his appointment, and must embark for India when required to do so by the Secretary of State in Council, who will provide for the expenses of his passage. Any Nominee not embarking when required will forfeit his appointment. Otherwise he will be allowed pay, at the rate of 170 rupees (which is about the equivalent of £17 in English money) a month, from the date of his appointment.

On arriving in India he will be placed in a Civil Engineering College, or in such other educational institution as the Local Government may appoint, in order to acquire a colloquial knowledge of one of the Native Languages, and to receive further instruction in his profession. While thus studying, he will be allowed free quarters, in addition to his monthly pay.

When pronounced sufficiently qualified by the President of the College or Institution, he will be transferred to the effective establishment of the Public Works Department, with the rank to which his attainments may entitle him, and with all the rights and privileges appertaining to that rank in respect of pay, promotion, furlough, retiring pension, &c.; particulars of which will be furnished from this Office, on application.

(Signed) T. G. BARING.

India Office, 9th August, 1860.

N.B.—All communications to be addressed to the "Under Secretary of State for India."

CLAPHAM COMMON—UNFURNISHED.

MR. JAMES STEVENS is instructed to LET No. 1, THE CRESCENT, Rent £90. This house is within a few yards of that delightful and healthy spot—Clapham Common, and overlooks a beautiful ornamental enclosure. It has just been thoroughly drained with glazed pipes, and put into substantial and ornamental repair, and is fit for immediate occupation. The house contains, on the ground floor, entrance-hall, dining-room and library. Above—double drawing-rooms, with five bed-rooms, very convenient store closets, and excellent domestic offices. Within one mile of the Balham Station for Brighton, Crystal Palace, West-end, &c. Omnibuses to West-end and City pass constantly.

JAMES STEVENS, Auctioneer, Clapham Common, S.

APARTMENTS.—CLAPHAM-COMMON.

Any Gentleman engaged in the City during the day will hear of first-rate Apartments as above, on reference to Messrs. BURNS and LAMBERT, 63, Paternoster-row. The occupant desires to make the Gentleman as comfortable as he could be at his own house, and provides good sitting-room and bed-room, with breakfast, tea, and on Sundays dinner also, for Thirty Shillings a week. The family is musical, and some members of it having been educated in France, they would not object to conversing in French, or even occasionally giving instruction in that language.

MRS. SWINEY, of No. 9, THE GROVE, CLAPHAM-COMMON, having a larger house than she requires, would be happy to let a part of it to an Indian family. The house is pleasantly situated, within a convenient distance of town, and several Indians reside near. A family would find this a desirable opportunity of providing themselves with a comfortable home at a moderate price. If desired, the young ladies would converse with the children in French, or give them occasional lessons in that language gratuitously. They are also proficient in music. Mrs. SWINEY offers undeniable references.

INDIA.

OFFICERS in the ARMY and CIVILIANS PROCEEDING TO INDIA, may insure their lives on most favourable terms in the MEDICAL, INVALID, and GENERAL LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY.

The rates of this Company, which transacts the business of the Delhi, Simla, North-West, and other Indian Banks, are lower than those of any other Office, while the Agencies at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, Ceylon, and about fifty up-country stations in India, afford every possible facility for the transaction of business.

Prospectuses, Forms of Proposals, and every other information, may be obtained of the Secretary, at the Chief-Office, 25, Pall-mall. C. DOUGLAS SINGER, Secretary.

CHEVALIER BOWNESS and SON'S FISHING-TACKLE MANUFACTORY, established upwards of 100 years, 12, Bell-yard, Temple-bar, London, continue only to supply articles of the best manufacture for Mahseer, Salmon, Trout, and general fishing. Complete cases fitted for India, Norway, Canada, and the Continent. Orders are respectfully requested to be forwarded direct as above.

HUTTON'S MATHEMATICS.

8vo, cloth, 12s.
HUTTON'S COURSE OF MATHEMATICS. New Edition, entirely remodelled, and adapted to the instruction now pursued in the Royal Military Academy, Woolwich. By Dr. RUTHERFORD, F.R.S.

8vo, cloth, 7s.
A KEY to DR. RUTHERFORD'S EDITION. HUTTON'S COURSE OF MATHEMATICS, By JAMES HICKIE, Esq.

8vo, cloth, 12s.
HUTTON'S RECREATIONS in MATHEMATICS and NATURAL PHILOSOPHY. New Edition, revised, and numerous additions. By EDWARD RIDDLE, F.R.S., Mathematical Master, Royal Hospital, Greenwich. 400 Woodcuts.
London: WILLIAM TEGG, 85, Queen-street, Cheapside, E.C.

MEMOIRS of a GRIFFIN; or, a Cadet's First Year in India. By Capt. BELLEVUE. With numerous illustrations. 2 vols., post 8vo, cloth, £1. 1s.
* These Memoirs being founded on fact, serve to instruct the Cadet whilst he reads for fun.
London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall street.

New Edition, 8vo, and 4to. Plates, price 13s.
INTRODUCTORY ESSAY to the Study of FORTIFICATION for Young Officers of the Army By Major HECTOR STRAITH.

* This work was written to enable young officers to pass their examination for entrance into Her Majesty's and the East-India Company's Armies.
London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

In 8vo, cloth, with Maps, price 10s. 6d.,
MEMOIR on the EUPHRATES VALLEY ROUTE to INDIA; with Official Correspondence and Maps. By W. P. ANDREW, F.R.G.S.

"It is impossible to refer to the Surveys and Reports of General Clancy and his colleagues on the Euphrates, published twenty years ago, without astonishment, that even at that period the British Government and people failed to take immediate steps to avail themselves of its capabilities."—The Times.

"What a glorious thing it would have been," said a writer in the 'Lancet' of August last, "had the Euphrates Valley Railway and the Scinde and Punjab Railway been accomplished facts at the time of the present insurrection."—Vide The Indus and its Provinces—p. 14.
London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

surg. C. Lowdell; Capt. J. W. Smith, 22nd N.I.; Lieut. F. W. Grant, 22nd N.I.; Lieut. T. M. Shelley, 11th N.I.; Capt. H. Mackenzie, 20th N.I.; Capt. C. M. N. Fellowes, 3rd Eur.; Cond. W. Skeaf; Surg. maj. J. H. Butler; Surg. maj. G. S. Mann; Asst. surg. G. A. Watson.

Madras Estab.—Major J. G. Balmain, Art.; Capt. R. V. Handyside, 9th N.I.; Capt. A. H. Hope, 3rd Cav.; Lieut. J. Bradish, 15th N.I.; Lieut. J. Macdougall, 41st N.I.; Lieut. col. J. L. Barrow, Art.; Lieut. F. H. Vanderzee, 34th N.I.; Lieut. R. D. Henderson, 2nd Cav.

Bombay Estab.—Maj. W. G. G. Cumming, 17th N.I.; Capt. C. A. Loch, 1st Cav.; Capt. F. S. Kempt, 1st Eur.; Capt. D'O. Compton, 29th N.I.; Lieut. J. D. Hall, 4th N.I.; Capt. H. W. J. Holland, 13th N.I.; Asst. surg. H. H. Smith; Asst. surg. J. F. Steinhauser; Sub-Cond. T. Glover.

BENGAL GOVERNMENT LOANS.

	Buy. s. d.	Sell. s. d.	Actual Sales.
4 per Cent. Loan of 1859-60	—	—	2 0½
5 p. Ct. Loan of 1854 (P. Works Loan)	—	—	1 10½
4 per Cent. East-India } Seca Rs.	—	—	1 0½
Transfer Loan Stock }	—	—	—
New 5 per Cent. Loan of 1856-57	—	—	1 11½
4 per Cent. Loan of 1855-56	—	—	1 7½
4 per Cent., 1842-43	—	—	1 7½

INDIA EXCHANGES.

BILLS.	Bank and Commercial Bills, at 60 days' sight, per Co.'s Rpe.	Indian Govt. Bills, at 60 days' sight, per Co.'s Rpe.	Total for each Mail to Three Presidencies.
Bengal...	1s. 11½d.	2s. 2d.	£. s. d.
Madras...	1s. 11½d.	2s. 2d.	—
Bombay	1s. 11½d.	2s. 2½d.	—

Bank of Bengal Post Bills and Indian Government Interest Bills on Calcutta, 1s. 11½d.

STOCKS AND SECURITIES.

Shares.		Paid.	Prices.
India Stock		217
India Stock (5 per ct.), 1859		103½	£
India 5 p. ct. Enfaced Paper		96½
India Bonds, Enf. Paper, 5 per cent.		102½
India Loan Debentures, 1855		96½	£
India Debentures, 1859		96½
India Enfaced Paper, 4 per ct.		83½
India 5 per cent. for account...		103½	£
India Bonds (£1,000)		6s. to 2s. dis.
Ditto (under £1,000)		8s. dis.
RAILWAYS.
Bombay, Baroda, and Central India (guar. 5 per ct.)	100	93½ to 94½
Ditto Additional Capital, A	all	17½ to 18
Ditto B	16	1½ dis.
Calcutta & S. Eastern (lim.)	1.3	¾ dis. ½ pm.
Ceylon (guar. 6 per cent.)	74	1½ to 1½ dis.
Eastern Bengal (gu. 5 p. ct.)	74	1½ to 1½
East Indian	100	99½ to 100½
Ditto 4½ p. ct. debentrs.	all	98½ to 99½
Ditto F. Ext.	15	¾ dis. par
Ditto 5 per ct. deb... 1864	100	101 to 102
Jubbulpore	15	¾ dis. par.
Great Indian Peninsula (guar. 5 per ct.)	100	96 to 97
Ditto (New ditto)	6	1 to 1½ dis.
Great S. of India (Lim.) Scrip (guar. 5 per ct.)	13	2 to 1½ dis.
Madras (guar. 4½ per ct.)	100	84 to 85
Ditto 5 per cent.	100	93 to 95
Ditto Extension (guar. 4½ per cent.)	100	87 to 89
Ditto 4th Extension (guar. 5 per ct.)	10	1½ to 1½ dis.
Ottoman Rail. (guar. 6 p. ct.)	7	...
Scinde 5 per cent.	all	97½ to 98½
Ditto (New)	15	...
Ditto Indus Steam Flotilla (guar. 5 per ct.)	all	93 to 94½
Punjab (5 per ct.)	7	1½ to 1½ dis.
BANKS.
Aggra and United Service Lim.	50	79 to 81
Australasia	all	64 to 66
Bank of Egypt	all	20 to 20½
Chart. of Ind., Aus., & China	all	20½ to 21½
Chart. Merc. of India, Lond., and China	all	32 to 34
Oriental Bank Corporation	all	16½ to 17½
Ottoman Bank	all	...
MISCELLANEOUS.
Madras Irrig. and Canal	1	1½ to 2½ pm.
Nerbudda Coal and Iron	5	2 to 1½ dis.
Mediterran. Ext. Tel. (Lim.)	all	3 to 4
N. B. Australasian Company	all	2 to 1
Oriental Gas	all	2 to 1
Ditto New	15s.	2½ to par.
Oriental Inland Steam A.	6	...
P. and O. Steam Nav. Co.	all	74 to 76
Ditto New	25	13½ to 13½ pm.
Red Sea and Ind. Telegraph	17½	7½ to 18½
Submarine Telegraph Scrip	all	1 to 1
Ditto Registered	all	1 to 1

THE ROYAL INSURANCE COMPANY,
29, LOMBARD-STREET, LONDON, and
ROYAL INSURANCE BUILDINGS, LIVERPOOL.
Chairman in Liverpool—Charles Turner, Esq.
Chairman of London Board—Samuel Baker, Esq.
At the Annual Meeting on the 10th instant the following highly satisfactory results were shown:—

FIRE DEPARTMENT.
Notwithstanding the large accessions of business made annually through a long series of years, which obviously increase the difficulty of further advances, the Fire Premiums of the year 1859 rise above those of the preceding year by a larger sum than has been obtained by the increase of any single year since the formation of the company, excepting the year 1853; disclosing an advance of 50 per cent. in three years. To this circumstance must be attributed the gratifying announcement that the accounts for the year show a profit of £42,488. 3s. 4d.

The following figures exhibit the progress of the whole Five Branches, running over the last ten years:—

	Total Premium received.	Increase in the Year above each preceding one.
1850	£14,027 10 0	49,557 19 8
1851	52,673 5 11	8,615 15 11
1852	76,925 4 2	24,251 18 3
1853	112,561 4 4	35,639 0 2
1854	128,159 11 4	15,895 7 0
1855	130,060 11 11	1,601 0 7
1856	151,733 0 6	21,672 17 7
1857	175,049 4 8	23,315 15 2
1858	196,148 2 6	21,098 17 10
1859	228,314 7 3	32,166 4 9

Placing the Company among the very largest Offices in the kingdom. Indeed, it is believed that there are now only three Offices in existence which equal it in Fire Revenue.

LIFE BUSINESS.
The Directors desire to call the especial attention of the Proprietors to the statements of the Life Branch of the establishment.

The Actuary's Report on this subject is accompanied by an appendix, containing the fullest particulars of the investigation made, and is illustrated by two coloured diagrams, which make plain to the unprofessional eye the mortality experienced by the Royal, as indicated by curved lines, which contrast most favourably with the former averages of mortality, also displayed on the diagrams.

It is expected that these elucidations will attract a deep and profitable attention to the subject of Life Assurance in the minds of tens of thousands who have hitherto given no heed to its principles and advantages, and it is evident that this Company, as well as others, will not fail to reap much of the favourable consequences to be anticipated.

The Bonus appertaining to the assured, with participation, amounts to £2 per cent. per annum, to be added to the original sum assured of EVERY PARTICIPATING POLICY effected previously to the 1st of January, 1858, for each entire year that it had been in existence since the last appropriation of Bonus thereon, and is one of the largest Bonuses ever declared.

PERCY M. DOVE, Manager and Actuary.
JOHN B. JOHNSTON, Sec. to London Board.

PERSONS proceeding to INDIA can effect ASSURANCES on favourable terms with the COLONIAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

LOANS given to Civil or Military Officers proceeding to India on her Majesty's Service.
Agents at Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, and in all the British Colonies, where premiums can be paid and claims settled.

The Colonial was established in 1846, and its present income is £10,000 per annum.
Subscribed Capital, £1,000,000 sterling.
Constituted by Act of Parliament.

SAMUEL R. FERGUSON, Res. Sec.

LONDON 81, Lombard-street, E.C.,
and at Messrs. Paris and Co.'s, No. 19, St. James's-street, S.W.

EDINBURGH (Head Office) 5, George-street.
DUBLIN 65, Upper Sackville-street.
GLASGOW 58, St. Vincent-street.

EAST-INDIA WINE COMPANY, 124,
Bishopsgate-street, London, E.C.—The following choice WINES delivered CARRIAGE FREE to every railway station in the Kingdom, and to all parts of London and its environs:—

	Per Doz.
SHERRY Good	36s.
Superior Pale	42s. and 44s.
Mature and Choice, Pale or Gold,	46s. and 48s.
Very Choice, Pale or Gold	54s.
PORT Fine Crusted	42s., 44s., and 46s.
Superior Old Crusted	48s. and 54s.
Very Fine Beeching ditto	60s.
Ditto ditto, in pints	33s.
CLARET St. Julien, Larose, Second and
Third Growth	36s. to 54s.
Chateau Lafitte, Margaux, and Latour, First Growth	78s.
MADEIRA East-India	63s. to 72s.
West-India	4s. to 60s.
Direct	36s. to 54s.
MARSALA Finest quality	30s.
BUCCELLAS Superior	32s.
VIDONIA Finest	48s. to 54s.
CHAMPAGNE Fine Sparkling	72s.
Finest quality	36s.
Ditto pints	75s.
MOSELE Finest Sparkling	75s.
HOCK Ditto ditto	75s.
OTHER GERMAN AND FRENCH WINES.
Bottles charged 2s., andampers or Cases 1s. per dozen, and allowed for if returned.

WINE IN WOOD SUPPLIED DIRECT FROM THE DOCKS, ON FOR EXPORTATION.

Orders and Communications to be addressed to
CHARLES JAY, Manager,
East-India Wine Company,
124, Bishopsgate-street, E.C.
The above Wines may be ordered through Messrs. GRIND-
LAY and Co., East-India Army Agents, 63, Cornhill, E.C.

CHRISTIAN AND RATHBONE, EAST INDIA AND COLONIAL OUTFITTERS, 11, WIGMORE-STREET, LONDON.

COMPLETE EQUIPMENTS and OUTFITS for Ladies, Officers, Cadets, and Civilians, of the best quality, at the lowest prices for cash. Estimates will be forwarded on application, showing the entire cost of
OUTFIT and PASSAGE via the CAPE, or OVERLAND.
ESTABLISHED 1792. 11, WIGMORE-STREET.

Published Weekly, on the 3rd, 10th, 15th, and 26th of each month,

THE HOME NEWS.

PRICE 6d.

A JOURNAL SPECIALLY DEVOTED TO INDIAN TOPICS AND THE GENERAL NEWS OF THE DAY.

The publication of the HOME NEWS weekly instead of fortnightly, as heretofore, rendering it now as available to the English as to the Indian reader. Messrs. GRINDLAY and Co. will be happy to receive names of intending Subscribers, and will forward the HOME NEWS to them on the days of publication.

The HOME NEWS contains a Summary of the Principal Events of the Week—Parliamentary Intelligence, with Full Reports of all Indian Debates—East-India House Reports—Foreign Intelligence—Opinions of the Press—Literature—Law and Police Courts—Political, Clerical, and Miscellaneous News—Arrivals and Departures of Ships from and to the East—List of Passengers Outwards and Home—Army and Navy Promotions and Changes—Births, Marriages, and Deaths—Commercial, &c., &c.

SUBSCRIPTION. £1 4s. 0d.
For One Year 0 4 0
Postage on 48 Numbers
HOME NEWS OFFICES, 63, Cornhill; and
9, St. Martin's-place, Charing-cross.

Subscribers to Messrs. Grindlay and Co.'s Agency, 21s. per annum in England, are entitled to receive the HOME NEWS free of cost, except for postage, in addition to the use of their Reading Rooms, &c.

I.
In post 8vo., Twenty-second Thousand, 7s. 6d.,
CHRIST ON THE CROSS: Psalm XXII.
By JOHN STEVENSON, D.D., Vicar of Patricbourne, Canterbury.

II.
In post 8vo., Twenty-second Thousand, 5s.,
THE LORD OUR SHEPHERD: Psalm
XXIII. And,

III.
In post 8vo., Sixth Thousand, 6s.,
GRATITUDE: Psalm CIII.
SERLEY, JACKSON, and HALLIDAY, Fleet-street.

PERRIN'S SCHOOL BOOKS.

FABLES AMUSANTES, avec une Table
Générale et Particulière des Mots, et de leur Signification en Anglais, selon l'ordre des Fables. 12mo, cloth, 1s. 6d.

A NEW METHOD OF LEARNING THE SPELLING and PRONUNCIATION OF THE FRENCH
LANGUAGE. In two Parts. 12mo, cloth, 1s. 6d.

THE ELEMENTS OF FRENCH CONVER-SATION, with familiar and easy dialogues. 12mo, cloth, 1s.

London: WILLIAM TEGG, 85, Queen-street, Cheap-side, E.C.

Corrected to May 12, 1860.

THE EAST-INDIA REGISTER & ARMY LIST FOR 1860,

CONTAINING
Complete Lists of the Servants, at Home and Abroad; Regulations respecting the Appointments to the Civil, Military,
and Medical Services.

COMPILED BY PERMISSION.

12mo, sewed, 10s.; or, by post, 10s. 6d.;
or, bound, 11s. 6d.; or, by post, 12s.

London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

This day is published, post 8vo., price 7s. 6d.,
THE CONSUMMATION. BY THOMAS
HUTTON, F.G.S., Capt. Bengal Army.
Also, by the same Author, 2nd Edition, in 12mo,
price 3s. 6d.,

ISRAEL, IN THE PAST, THE PRESENT,
AND THE FUTURE: OR, LECTURES ON THE RE-
STORATION OF THE JEWS.

Second Edition, in 8vo., price 10s. 6d.,

THE CHRONOLOGY OF CREATION; OR,
GEOLOGY AND SCRIPTURE RECONCILED.
London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street, E.C.

PROFESSOR WILSON'S GLOSSARY.

GLOSSARY OF JUDICIAL and REVENUE
TERMS, and of useful words occurring in official documents relating to the Administration of the Government of British India, from the Arabic, Persian, Hindustani, Sanskrit,
Hindi, Bengali, Uriya, Marathi, Gujarathi, Telugu, Karnata,
Tamil, Malayalam, and other Languages, compiled and published under the authority of the hon. the Court of Directors of the E. I. Company. By H. H. WILSON, M.A., F.R.S.,
&c., &c. 4to, cloth, £2 2s. 6d.

London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

THE WIDOW of a CLERGYMAN, residing in a large and airy house, in a healthy situation in Cheltenham, wishes to RECEIVE THREE or FOUR CHILDREN whose parents are resident in India, to bring up and Educate in her own family. A mother's watchful care, kindness, and attention will be given, with every facility for improvement in education, which will be based upon religious principles. The highest references can be given.
Address B. L. Messrs. WIGHT and BAILEY, Booksellers, Cheltenham.

A WIDOW LADY living in Glasgow wishes to get FOUR CHILDREN, whose parents are in India, to BOARD with her. A Gentleman in the Indian Civil Service leaves his children with her; she has reared a large family of her own, and would watch over the training of those committed to her care with maternal solicitude.
Address, Mrs. S., care of JAMES ROGERS, General Postoffice, Glasgow.

SUPERIOR EDUCATION for the DAUGH-
TERS of GENTLEMEN in a FIRST-CLASS ESTAB-
LISHMENT, West of London. Inclusive Terms, from Sixty to Ninety Guineas per annum. The system adopted combines the most approved features of the Colleges, with the discipline of the School. Professors of eminence attend for all the higher branches of English Instruction, all Accomplishments, and Foreign Languages. A French Governess is resident.
References to Clergymen and others. Situation and Residence
unexceptionable.
Address ALPHA, Messrs. LEADER and COCK'S, 63, New Bond-street, London.

ADDISCOMBE DIRECT APPOINT-
MENTS, and WOOLWICH.
The Rev. C. J. HUGHES, M.A., who has Prepared nearly TWO HUNDRED PUPILS for the above, occasionally has VACANCIES.
Adelaide Lodge, 61, Finchley Road, St. John's Wood, N.W.

HINDOOSTANI AND PERSIAN.
LESSONS in the above LANGUAGES are given by an INDIAN GENTLEMAN of Eighteen
Years' Experience as Professor, Interpreter, and Translator;
who has obtained Certificates of degrees of honour and high proficiency from the Examiners of the College of Fort William. He possesses the most satisfactory testimonials, and can give unexceptionable references.
Address, "ALFY," care of Messrs. ALLEN and Co.,
7, Leadenhall-street, London, E.C.
Established 1820.

SELECT CLASSICAL and MILITARY ESTABLISHMENT.—HOLLAND HOUSE, BLACKHEATH,
by T. KIMBER, M.A., Author of "Vanhan's First System," &c. References: The Rev. Dr. Jeff, King's College, London;
the Rev. Canon Hey, York, &c.

* Arthur E. Hawclock, who gained the highest number of marks (4750) at the Examination in June last for admission to Sandhurst, passed from Hol and-house.

Prospectuses may be obtained from RIVINGTONS, Waterloo-place; PARKER and SON, 145, West Strand; POSEYBON, Dublin; THE LIBRARY, Cheltenham; STOTHEBAN, York.

ORIENTAL LANGUAGES—The Rev. G.
SMALL, M.A., gives INSTRUCTIONS in HINDU-STANI, SANSKRIT, PERSIAN, BENGALI, HEBREW, &c., at his residence, 17, Church-street, Cliftonville, Brighton, and on two days a week at his Class-room in London, 22, New North-street, Red Lion-square. Mr. S. was ten years a missionary in India.

MILITARY and NAVAL EDUCATION.—
A CAMBRIDGE GRADUATE, resident at Brighton,
RECEIVES a limited number of PUPILS, between the ages
of Twelve and Fifteen, who may be destined for the Military and Naval Professions. With a view to this ultimate object, the entire course of Study, from the outset, is regulated expressly in conformity with the requirements of the Examinations at Addiscombe, Sandhurst, Woolwich, and Portsmouth;
and every care is taken to direct special attention to those subjects likely to prove professionally useful in the future career of the Naval or Military officer. The Pupils are examined periodically in Mathematics by Professor J. R.
Young, formerly of Belfast College, and Author of "A Course of Mathematics, Pure and Mixed, for the Use of Candidates for the Military and Civil Service Examinations," &c.; and also in Classics and Modern Languages by Scholars of repute.
Prospectuses may be had of Messrs. ALLEN and Co., 7,
Leadenhall-street, London.

AN INTRODUCTION to the GRAMMAR of the SANSKRIT LANGUAGE, for the Use of Early
Students. By H. H. WILSON, M.A., F.R.S., &c., &c. 8vo.
Cloth, 15s.
London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

Price Sixpence,
WHO SHALL REGENERATE INDIA?
By Major W. MARTIN, Bengal Retired List.
London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

TO RAILWAY AND STEAM SHIPPING COMPANIES.

MACHINE BELTING.

FIRE-ENGINE HOSE and BUCKETS,

All descriptions of Leather for Exportation.

S. E. NORRIS and CO.,

SHADWELL LONDON,

MANUFACTURERS AND PATENTERS.

OVERLAND ROUTE.—COMMUNICA-

TION BY STEAM TO INDIA, AUSTRALIA, &c. via Egypt.—The PENINSULAR and ORIENTAL STEAM NAVIGATION COMPANY BOOK PASSENGERS and RECEIVE CARGO and PARCELS for GIBRALTAR, MALTA, EGYPT, ADEN, CEYLON, MADRAS, CALCUTTA, the STRAITS, and CHINA, by their Steamers leaving Southampton on the 4th and 20th of every month. For GIBRALTAR, MALTA, EGYPT, ADEN, and BOMBAY, by those of the 12th and 27th of each month; and for MAURITIUS, REUNION, KING GEORGE'S SOUND, MELBOURNE, and SYDNEY, by the Steamers leaving Southampton on the 20th of every month.

For further particulars, apply at the Company's Offices, 123, Leadenhall-street, London, E.C., or Oriental-place, Southampton.

TEETH WITHOUT SPRINGS.

BY HER MAJESTY'S ROYAL LETTERS PATENT.

Newly-invented and Patented Application of Chemically prepared INDIA-RUBBER in the construction of ARTIFICIAL TEETH, GUMS, and PALATES.

MR. EPHRAIM MOSELY, SURGEON DENTIST, 9, GROSVENOR-STREET, GROSVENOR-SQUARE, Sole Inventor and Patentee.

A new, original, and invaluable invention, consisting in the adaptation, with the most absolute perfection and success, of

CHEMICALLY PREPARED INDIA-RUBBER, in lieu of the gold or bone frame. The extraordinary results of this application may be briefly noted in a few of their most prominent features:—

All sharp edges are avoided; no springs, wires, or fastenings are required; a greatly increased freedom of suction is supplied, a natural elasticity, hitherto wholly unattainable; and a fit, perfected with the most unerring accuracy, are secured; while, from the softness and flexibility of the agent employed, the greatest support is given to the adjoining teeth when loose, or rendered tender by the absorption of the gums. The acids of the mouth exert no agency on the chemically prepared India-rubber, and, as a non-conductor, fluids of any temperature may with thorough comfort be imbibed and retained in the mouth, all unpleasantness of smell or taste being at the same time wholly provided against by the peculiar nature of its preparation.

Teeth fitted with gold, and Mr. Mosely's White Enamel, the only stopping that will not become discoloured; particularly recommended for front teeth.

9, Grosvenor-street, Grosvenor-square, London; 14, Gay-street, Bath; and 10, Eldon-square, Newcastle-on-Tyne.

ARTIFICIAL TEETH, SET in the new

CHEMICALLY PREPARED INDIA-RUBBER, forming a beautifully fitting plate to the gums, or over stumps, without producing the slightest pain, and on this plan it is impossible to detect them as artificial when the workmanship is of superior order. Mr. BRADSHAW can, with the greatest confidence, undertake any case, no matter how difficult, with certain success, being a thoroughly practical workman, supplying for many years the first dentists of the day with their most particular work in Artificial Teeth. Doing all his own work himself, he is enabled to supply his patients at an exceedingly moderate price. Single Teeth, from 3s. 6d. to 10s. 6d.; a Complete Upper or Lower Set, from £2 to £5. Mr. Bradshaw, Dentist, 20, Great Portland-street, Oxford-circus.

COMMANS'S CELEBRATED ARECA-

NUT TOOTH-PASTE is used by her Majesty and the Royal Family.—Has been examined, approved, is used and recommended, by many of our first physicians and dentists as the best preparation known for cleaning and preserving the teeth. Testimonials have been received, unsolicited, from many of the nobility and gentry. The following is amongst the many testimonials of its high value.

"Liverpool, August, 1859.

"I have much pleasure in offering my testimony to the value of your Areca-nut Tooth Paste, and have no hesitation in saying that it is the most efficacious and agreeable Dentifrice ever produced. I have recommended its use to my patients for some years.

"W. J. NEWMAN,

"Surgeon Dentist to the Liverpool Infirmary for Children." Prepared only by COMMANS, Chemist, Bath, in pots, 2s. each; to be procured of all Chemists, through the Wholesale Agents, Barclay, Edwards, London; Oldham and Co., Dublin; Duncan and Flockhart, Edinburgh.

FINE HEAD OF HAIR.

THE BEARD, WHISKERS, AND MUSTACHIOS.

ROWLANDS' MACASSAR OIL

POSSESSES wonderfully nourishing powers for the growth, restoration, and improvement of the human hair. It prevents it from falling off or turning gray, strengthens weak hair, and makes it beautifully soft, curly, and glossy. In the growth of the beard, whiskers, eyebrows, and mustachios it is unfailing in its stimulative operation. In reference to the hair of early childhood the use of the oil is attended with the happiest effects; mild, invigorating, and purifying in every instance, it dispels scurf and dandrif, and renders unnecessary the use of the fine comb. In all climates it alike displays its incomparable results, and has long been an established favourite in India. Price 3s. 6d., 7s., 10s. 6d. (equal to four small), and 21s. per bottle.

On the wrapper of each bottle are the words, "ROWLANDS' MACASSAR OIL," in two lines.

Sold by A. ROWLAND AND SONS, 20, Hatton-garden, and by Chemists and Perfumers.

TO FAMILIES PROCEEDING TO INDIA

and the COLONIES.—Owing to the difficulty experienced in procuring REALLY GOOD DRESSING-CASES, TRAVELLING and CARRIAGE-BAGS at the Colonies, Families and Ladies and Gentlemen proceeding abroad are invited to inspect the Stock of DESKS, DESPATCH-BOXES, WORK-BOXES, FINE CUTLERY, KNIVES, SCISSORS, and other FANCY ARTICLES, at 52, NEW BOND-STREET, which will prevent the annoyance so often experienced abroad in purchasing worthless exported articles.

Sole Manufacturers—WILLIAMS and Co., 52, New Bond-street, London, W.

TO PERSONS FURNISHING.

THE most varied and extensive STOCK of CABINET FURNITURE, UPHOLSTERY GOODS, BEDSTEADS, BEDDING, CHIMNEY-GLASSES, DAMASKS, CARPETS, &c., conveniently arranged for public inspection, will be found in the immense Furniture Galleries and Show-rooms of Messrs. DRUCE and Co., Nos. 58, 65, and 69, BAKER-STREET. The price is marked on every article in plain figures, that persons may make their own estimates, as importunity to purchasers is not allowed. Every article being manufactured by first-rate workmen, of the best seasoned materials, a twelve-month's warranty is given.

Purchasers are invited to visit this establishment before deciding elsewhere.

N.B.—Iron Bedsteads, 8s. 6d. each; 500 Easy Chairs and 100 Ward-robes to select from. Carpets 1s. per yard under the usual price.

. Illustrated Books post free.

J. MAPLE and Co.'s NEW ILLUSTRATED

CATALOGUE, containing the Prices of every Article required for completely furnishing a House of any class, post free. This is the largest and most convenient Furnishing Establishment in the world. Established Twenty years.

J. MAPLE and Co., 145 and 146, Tottenham-court-road.

HANDSOME BRASS and IRON BED-

STEADS.—HEAL and SON'S Show Rooms contain a large assortment of Brass Bedsteads, suitable both for Home use and for Tropical Climates; handsome Iron Bedsteads with Brass Mountings and elegantly japanned; Plain Iron Bedsteads for Servants; every description of Wood Bedstead that is manufactured, in Mahogany, Birch, Walnut-tree Woods, Polished Deal and Japanned, all fitted with Bedding and Furniture complete, as well as every description of Bedroom Furniture.

HEAL and SON'S ILLUSTRATED

CATALOGUE, containing Designs and Prices of 100 Bedsteads, as well as of 150 different articles of Bedroom Furniture, sent free by post.

HEAL and SON, Bedstead, Bedding, and Bedroom Furniture Manufacturers, 146, Tottenham-court-road, W.

FURNITURE, LOOKING-GLASSES, and

PIANOFORTES.—The Variety, Quality, and Economic Price of BARTHOLOMEW and FLETCHER'S vast Stock of New and Second-hand Cabinet Furniture demand the attention and render it the interest of every one to inspect their extensive Show-rooms before purchasing. Elegant Suites of Furniture in Damask, Velvet, Silk, Hair Seating, or Morocco, from £10. 10s.; Mahogany Telescope Dining Tables, 5 ft. long, £2. 12s. 6d.; 7 ft., £4. 8s.; £5. 5s.; 10 ft., £8. 8s. Mahogany Wardrobes, £5 to £30. Marqueterie Cabinets, from £2. 2s. to £20. 500 pieces Brussels Carpet, last year's patterns, from 2s. 4d. Every article warranted of sterling quality. An Illustrated Catalogue post free.

BARTHOLOMEW and FLETCHER, 217 and 219, TOTTENHAM-COURT-ROAD, General House Furnishers.

OBTAIN THE IMPERIAL LINEN COM-

PANY'S PRICE LIST, sent free by post, and never buy Household Linens or Family Drapery of any kind without first consulting this useful manual, as you will by it learn to save one-third your outlay, secure first-class goods from the first-class makers, and be in pocket all profits intervening between the producer and consumer.

The THREE-GUINEA SAMPLE PARCEL, containing One rich Hambro' double Damask Table-cloth, to dune ten persons, usually £1. 1s.

One very large pair fine Witney Blankets, usually 17s. 6d.

One pair fine white Russia Sheets, usually 16s. 9d.

One pair magnificent Embroidered Swiss Curtains, usually 19s. 6d.

Half-a-dozen rich Damask Dinner Napkins, usually 10s. 6d.

One elegant Marsella Bed-quilt, welted, usually 13s. 6d.

Six Marsella Toilet Covers, fringed, usually 9s. 6d.

One bundle Royal Turkish Towels, fringed, usually 12s. 6d.; and

One dozen fine French Cambric Handkerchiefs, usually 10s. 6d.

All of which will be forwarded to any part on receipt of three guineas.

N.B.—Other articles, of same value, may be substituted, if desired.—Post-office orders payable at Old Cavendish-street.

Bankers—S. SAMUEL SCOTT & Co.

Address—THE IMPERIAL LINEN COMPANY.

53, WIGMORE STREET, CAVENTISH SQUARE, LONDON.

Manager, JAMES THOMAS.

BRITISH COLLEGE OF HEALTH,

Foston-road, London.

THE MORISONIAN SYSTEM OF MEDICINE.

1. The vital principle is in the blood.
2. Everything in the body is derived from the blood.
3. All constitutions are radically the same.
4. All diseases arise from impurity of the blood.
5. Pain and disease have the same origin.
6. From the intimate connection subsisting between mind and body, the health of the one must conduce to the serenity of the other.
7. Proper vegetable purgation is the only medicinal mode for effectually eradicating disease.
8. The discovery of a vegetable medicine was a desideratum.
9. This discovery was made by James Morison, the Hygeist, who also proclaimed "the medical liberty of the subject."

Morison's Medicines are sold by the appointed agents.

NO ICE REQUIRED to produce common

Ice, Dessert Ices, to Ice Wines, &c., in SIMPSON'S NEW PATENT FREEZING VASE.—This Apparatus is, without exception, the most efficacious, simple, and portable ever produced. By using the Patented Freezing Powder, Dessert Ices and Common Ice can be frozen by the most inexperienced, in a few minutes, on the table, or in an invalid's apartment. Residents and travellers in hot climates will find it invaluable, as it produces that luxury—Ice!—at command, and only occupies the space of an ordinary hat-case.

Prices: one pint, Four Guineas; three pints, Five Guineas. Freezing Powder, 3/4s. per cwt. Freezing Pots, Ice Moulds, &c., &c.

SODA-WATER, &c.—Use the "Seltzogene" (solely of one piece of glass), the only portable apparatus that has the patronage of the medical profession, who recommend it for making pure Soda-water and Aerated Beverages. Metallic impregnation is avoided, there is no leakage, and it is not affected by hot climates.

Prices: two pints, 2s.; three pints, 3s.; five pints, 4s. Powders (forty charges in box), 8s., 10s., and 16s. each. References and descriptive catalogues sent free.

GEO. SIMPSON'S Patent Depot, 312c, Oxford-street, London.

PULVERMACH'S GALVANIC ANTI-

RHEUMATIC CHAIN-BANDS FOR SELF-APPLICATION.—Unequalled and certain as are the effects of the Chain-Bands in all kinds of Rheumatic Pains, still more remarkable and speedy is the relief they afford in Neuralgia, Tic Dolorous, Head and Toothache, &c. Even the most inveterate cases of Paralysis, Epilepsy, Deafness, Gout, Sciatica, Lumbago, Indigestion, Nervous Debility, &c., disappear in a comparatively short time. Prospectuses, recording a vast number of private cures and extracts from numbers of scientific works, sent free. Chain-Bands, 5s., 10s., 15s., 22s., according to power.

J. L. PULVERMACH and Co., 73, Oxford-street, adjoining the Princess's Theatre, London, and all Chemists.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT and PILLS.—

DAMP WEATHER.—DISEASES OF THE THROAT.—Whenever the atmosphere is surcharged with moisture a vast number of throat affections arise, which, though simple at first, soon become complicated and serious. Holloway's Ointment, thoroughly rubbed over the top of the chest and glands of the neck, is admirably well adapted to cure all such complaints; it penetrates, reduces inflammation, and cures, without the pain of swallowing medicine, which is a matter of momentous consideration in childhood, when irritation begets fever, and increases the severity of every symptom. In quinsy, diphtheria, ulcerated sore throat, and scarlatina, this Ointment, rubbed on the skin, will dissipate all dangerous indications and conduct the patient with celerity and safety to perfect health.

DR. BUCHAN'S PATENT SUGAR-

COATED VEGETABLE PILLS, VEGETABLE SKIN OINTMENT, and CONCENTRATED VEGETABLE ESSENCE for Purifying the Blood, Regulating the Bowels, and Removing Vitiated Humours, Bileous and Liver Complaints, Rheumatism, Gout, Scorbatic Affections, Costiveness, Skin Eruptions, deep-seated Ulcers, and all Diseases of the Nervous system, from whatever causes, &c., affording at once a new lease of life to the sickly and aged of both sexes, whilst in addition imparting a beautiful and clear complexion, so anxiously sought for by all. Proved by the sworn testimonies made before the Lord Mayor of London, and sitting Magistrates. Sold by Buchan and Co., Patentees, 22, Newman-street, Oxford-street, London, W., and all chemists in town and country. Prices:—Pills, per box, 1s. 1/2d. 2s. 9d., and 11s.; Ointment, per pot, 1s. 1/2d., and 2s. 9d.; Essence, per bottle, 11s. or family bottle containing four times that quantity, 33s. Agents:—Barclay, 75, Farringdon-street; J. Singer, 130, Oxford-street; Hannay, 63, Oxford-street; Butler, 4, Chancery; Hooper, 43, King William-street, London Bridge; R. Howden, 78, Gracechurch-street; Proust, 229, Strand, &c., &c.

Just published, gratis, or post free for one stamp, to be had of all Agents, and at 22, Newman-street, Extracts from Dr. Buchan's Work, entitled, BUCHAN'S DOMESTIC MEDICINES, being a Book of Reference, containing instructions for the cure of every ailment incidental to man, woman, or child.

THE MAGNESIAN EFFERVESCENT is the most agreeable and effective remedy in all cases of Gout, Rheumatism, Acidity, Heartburn, Indigestion, and Biliary Affection, Nausea, Fever, Thirst, and Sea-sickness. It is highly recommended by the profession, and will be found especially valuable to those going to India or travelling in warm climates; as a mild and efficacious saline aperient it stands unequalled, and will be found peculiarly adapted for delicate females and children. To be obtained through all respectable chemists, and wholesale from Messrs. BARCLAY, Farringdon-street (put up in stoppered bottles at 4s. 6d. for India), and smaller size at 1s. 1/2d. and 2s. 9d.

Prepared only by EDWARD PRICHARD, Chemist, 10, Vigo-street, Regent-street, W.

KEATING'S PERSIAN INSECT POWDER.

UNRIVALLED IN EXTERMINATING

MOSQUITOES, Fleas, Bugs, Flies, Beetles, Cockroaches, and every description of Insect infesting Animals and Poultry. Protects Clothes, &c., from Moths. ONLY INJURIOUS TO INSECT LIFE. See that the name of THOMAS KEATING, 79, St. Paul's Churchyard, is on every Packet.

Sold by all Agents of KEATING'S COUGH LOZENGES.

WATERPROOFS FOR INDIA.

EDMISTON and SON, Sole Manufacturers

of the only WATERPROOF CLOTHING guaranteed to withstand the climate of India. The POCKET SAPHONA (weight 12 ounces), price 40s. This coat can be carried in the pocket. Shooting Boots and every requisite for the Sportsman in India. Portable Folding Baths, Air beds, Waterbeds for Invalids, Pillows, &c. Portable India-rubber Boats, to carry one or more persons, weighing from forty to fifty pounds. Price £7. 10s., £10. 10s., and £18. 18s., folding in a compass of three feet.

The SAPHONA DEPOT, 5, Charing-cross, late 69, Strand, London.

This day is published, with upwards of Four Hundred Illustrations, price 18s. 6d.,

THE ILLUSTRATED HORSE DOCTOR;

Being an accurate and detailed account of the various Diseases to which the Equine Race are subjected, together with the latest mode of treatment and the requisite prescriptions, written in plain English.

By EDWARD MAYHEW, Esq., M.R.C.V.S.

"A BOOK WHICH SHOULD BE IN THE POSSESSION OF ALL WHO KEEP HORSES."

CRITICAL REMARKS.

"In order to make a good book two things are essential—an author competent to treat the subject he takes in hand, and a publisher spirited enough to give the writer a loose rein in the production of his work—that is, liberality in allowing him all means and appliances for rendering it a master-piece. The publishers of 'The Illustrated Horse-Doctor' deserve the highest credit and the greatest success for giving the world this admirable volume in its present costly shape. Its intrinsic merit deserves every penny which has been spent upon it, and, inasmuch as we have never seen a book brought out with better taste or finish, the cost of its production must have been very serious. No one with the least equine knowledge can require to be told that Mr. Mayhew is the man for the task which he has undertaken, and most satisfactorily accomplished. His high reputation in the veterinary art, and his qualifications as a practised writer on domestic animals, render him the very person for supplying an intelligent and interesting work on the diseases of the horse, which would be devoid of mere professional technicalities, whilst, at the same time, his skill as a draughtsman, and humour as a witty observer of life, enabled him to illustrate with his pencil what he had written with his pen. We advisedly say that 'The Illustrated Horse-Doctor' is the very best book of the kind which we know; and what gives it an especial charm is, that the author so thoroughly sympathises with the noble animal which he describes. Without pretending to go into any analysis of this valuable work, we at once pronounce it as scientific, yet intelligible; informing, yet highly amusing; acceptable to the profound horse-doctor, yet the work of all others for the bookshelves in every gentleman's sanctum; admirable in every way as a practical treatise on a very important subject, which it elevates altogether out of the region of quackery; and the tone is so learned, yet easy; so close to business, yet gentleman-like, that the dedication to Sir Benjamin seems as much in its proper place as if it faced a surgical work on the diseases or wounds of man. We give it our unqualified approbation and recommendation."—Era, July 15, 1860.

"Although the book will be mainly valued as an instructor to those who have to do with sick and suffering horses, all the causes of which are treated in detail of symptoms and treatment, yet it may with great advantage be studied by the owners of horses, who never think of treating them for disease—who, when their studs are ill, always call in the veterinary surgeon, and leave the patients in his hands; for in its pages they will find hints and advice, compliance with which is as much more important than the remedying disease as prevention is better than cure. Take the following as a sample of this:—'Above all, attend to the stabling, and let the box be large and well ventilated. Food is eaten but occasionally during the day; air is as essential as more substantial nutriment of life, and is consumed night and day. Food has to undergo a complicated change, and to travel before it joins the blood. Air is no sooner inhaled than it is immediately absorbed by the blood.' Are not these brief sentences full of importance to the keepers of horses?"—Western Morning News.

"We have no doubt that this valuable dictionary of the veterinary art will meet with signal success. We have before us a compendious history of all the diseases which horseflesh is heir to, and which man's abuse has bequeathed to it, with directions for treatment, and the necessary remedies, likewise the exposure of popular fallacies. . . . That horses suffer greatly from the ignorance of their riders more than from any intentional cruelty is very certain; but whatever the cause the effect is the same. A horse sinks exhausted in the field, after only a short run, and the rider is thunderstruck. Had he read Mr. Mayhew's book, and taken notice of the warning signal, of which, poor man, he was unaware, and put on the break, the catastrophe would not have been. It is in cases such as these, or where accidents happen in out of the way places, much useful information is to be gained by the general reader. . . . The work concludes with a brief summary, arranged in alphabetical order, of the subjects previously treated on, upon which great care has been bestowed, and the known ability of the author guarantees its worth. Hardly less attractive than the letter-press are the four hundred beautifully-executed woodcuts, which accompany it, and which explain clearly the meaning. In conclusion, we wish Mr. Mayhew the success his work deserves, and the public the good taste to appreciate it."—Sun, July 2, 1860.

"The great mass of them (the illustrations) are wonderfully faithful, and they are so varied and interesting that we would undertake to get rid of the most confirmed bore that ever pressed heavily on mankind for a good two hours by only handing him the book, and directing his attention to them. It is a well-known fact that grooms only remember the names of four or five diseases, and are sadly indiscriminate in their knowledge of symptoms. This book furnishes at once the bane and the antidote, as the drawings show the horse not only suffering from every kind of disease, but in the different stages of it, while the alphabetical summary at the end gives the cause, symptoms, and treatment of each."—Illustrated News, June 23, 1860.

"The diagnosis of every disease, no matter how simple or how complicated, is described in the most lucid manner, so that he who runs may read, and he who reads may understand. The cause and symptoms of suffering being ascertained, the next step naturally is to prescribe the most efficacious mode of treatment; and this difficult task Mr. Mayhew has achieved with admirable success—in no small degree attributable to the excellence of the numerous engravings with which he has illustrated his already perspicuous letter-press. That every member of the Veterinary College will be anxious to possess a copy of this new manual of his profession may be accepted as an undoubted fact; but we shall be strangely surprised if it do not find a conspicuous place on the shelves of every country gentleman, and of every intelligent farmer throughout merry England."—National Standard, June 23, 1860.

"We are inclined to think that this is about the very best book respecting the treatment of equine disease that ever has been written or published. The author is evidently well acquainted with the duties of his profession, and willing to give a world-wide extent to his own useful and practical experience, so that those who read may adopt his rules and regimen, and save that noble animal, whose use is one of the greatest blessings mankind enjoys, from much pain and suffering. In country districts, where the horse doctor cannot easily be summoned, this book will be invaluable; whilst, in more frequented localities, its use will always be found to be safe and judicious. The illustrations are clever, and fully serve the purpose for which they are annexed—to give certain indications of the nature of disease, and the readiest means of treatment."—Bell's Messenger, June 23, 1860.

"One of the most valuable works that we possess upon the subject, all the diseases to which the horse is liable being lucidly described, and the remedies stated very clearly. The wood engravings, which are numerous, well illustrate the text, and serve to complete the character of a work which all who possess a horse must desire to be master of also."—News of the World, June 24, 1860.

"The above is a volume of cyclopædic proportions, written by a wise, philanthropic, and scientific man. The numerous illustrations—by the author himself—are simply marvellous for their power of delineation, and more so of expression; and none but a man who knew the structure of the animal, within and without, could have given these transcripts with the diagnosis of disease and illness, together with the (so to speak) physiognomy of pain and suffering, in so wonderful a manner. It is in every sense a perfect book, and calculated to be of essential benefit to 'man and horse.'"—Dispatch, June 24, 1860.

"Mr. Mayhew is not only master of his subject, but knows how to teach others to master it also. The volume describes all the diseases to which horses are exposed throughout the infinite variety of circumstances in which they are placed; traces each disease to its cause, as far as it can be ascertained, and points out the course of treatment which should be adopted in every case. In pursuing this clear and thoroughly practical method of inquiry and exposition, Mr. Mayhew draws in all the collateral lights that can be brought to bear upon his topic, and shows to what extent the calamities to which horseflesh is heir may be referred to the ignorance, neglect, and brutality of owners; making, upon the whole, a large percentage in the bills of mortality. . . . It will be gathered from what we have said, that the scope of this valuable and interesting publication is hardly expressed in the title. It is undoubtedly a Manual for the 'Horse-doctor,' and by far the most exhaustive that has ever appeared; but it is also a great deal more. The moral side of the question is as largely and sympathetically discussed as the medical, and the great mass of the public who know nothing about horses will derive lessons from the perusal of the work which they could not have anticipated."—Home News.

LONDON: WM. H. ALLEN AND Co., 7, LEADENHALL-STREET.

LONDON:—Printed by RICHARD KINDER, Printer, at his Printing Office, Angel-court, Skinner-street, in the Parish of St. Sepulchre; and published by JAMES PEARCE ALLEN, 7, Leadenhall-street, both in the County of Middlesex.—September 13, 1860.

ALLEN'S INDIAN MAIL

AND OFFICIAL GAZETTE

FROM

BRITISH & FOREIGN INDIA, CHINA, & ALL PARTS OF THE EAST

(WITH THIS PAPER "THE INDIAN NEWS" IS NOW INCORPORATED.)

VOL. XVIII.—No. 455.]

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1860.

[PRICE 6d.]

CONTENTS.

SUMMARY AND REVIEW	689
BENGAL:—
The Right Hon. James Wilson	690
The New Civil Code	690
The Gorkha Colony in the Doon	691
Miscellaneous	691
Shipping and Commercial	693
MADRAS:—
Three or One?	694
Miscellaneous	694
Shipping and Commercial	695
BOMBAY:—
What is the Indian navy?	695
Miscellaneous	696
Shipping and Commercial	697
CEYLON	698
CENTRAL ASIA	698
OFFICIAL GAZETTE	699
DOMESTIC	705
ORIGINAL ARTICLES:—
In Memoriam	705
Prize Property	705
Breweries in India	706
BOMBAY:—
Shipping and Domestic	707
Arrivals, &c., reported at the East-India House	707
STOCKS AND SECURITIES	707

DATES OF ADVICES.

Bengal	Aug. 13	Burmah(Rangoon)	Aug. 2
Madras	" 18	Bombay	" 24
Agra	" 16	Ceylon	" 18
China (Hong-Kong)	July 26.

MAILS TO INDIA.

Mails to India and China, via Marseilles, are despatched from London as follows, viz.—Those for Bombay packets, on the evenings of the 3rd and 18th of each month; and those for Calcutta packets (including mails for Ceylon, Madras, and China), on the evenings of the 10th and 26th of each month. When any of these dates falls on a Sunday, the mails are made up on the following evening.

Letters and Newspapers can be forwarded to any part of India via Bombay and Marseilles, and in most cases will reach their destination some days sooner than if despatched by the following Calcutta mail. The Bombay mails via Southampton, however, are no longer available for the transmission of Letters or Newspapers to the Madras Presidency.

Mails for the Mediterranean and all parts of India, except the Bombay Presidency, are despatched via Southampton on the mornings of the 4th and 20th, or, when either of these dates falls on Sunday, upon the previous evening.

Mails for the Mediterranean, the Presidency of Bombay, and Upper or North-West Provinces of Bengal, are despatched via Southampton, on the 12th and 27th of the month, except when these dates fall on Sunday, in which case they are forwarded on the previous evening.

POSTAGE.

Via Southampton (pre-payment compulsory), letters under

1 oz. 0s. 6d.	2 oz. 2s. 0d.	4 oz. 4s. 0d.
1 oz. 1s. 0d.	3 oz. 3s. 0d.	5 oz. 5s. 0d.

Books, with the ends of the covers open (not exceeding 3 lbs. in weight), if sent via Southampton, under 1 lb. 4d.; under 1 lb. 8d.; under 1 lb. 1s. 4d.; under 1 lb. 2s.; under 2 lbs. 2s. 8d.; under 2 lbs. 3s. 4d.; and under 3 lbs. 4s. Postage-stamps must be affixed.

Via Marseilles (pre-payment compulsory), letters under

1 oz. 0s. 9d.	1 oz. 1s. 9d.	1 lb. 3s. 3d.
1 oz. 1s. 0d.	2 oz. 2s. 0d.	1 lb. 3s. 6d.

Newspapers for the East Indies, when not exceeding 4 oz. 2d. each; when above 4 oz. and not exceeding 8 oz., 3d. each—an additional penny being charged for every additional 4 oz. or fraction thereof. For all countries or places eastward of Suez, the charge is 2d., whatever the weight of the newspaper.

Books under 1 lb. 6d.; under 1 lb. 1s.; and for every additional 1 lb. an additional 1s.

The Mails for China are despatched at the same rate of postage as those to India; but must be pre-paid.

SUMMARY AND REVIEW.

THE Indian papers received by the Bombay Mail of the 24th of August are chiefly occupied by the obvious comments suggested by the death of Mr. James Wilson, following as it did so closely upon that of Sir Henry Ward. It is admitted on all hands that the loss of the Financial Commissioner will be severely felt, but the natives generally are represented as regarding his untimely decease as a special interposition of Providence on their behalf. The funeral of the lamented gentleman took place in the afternoon of the 12th of August, and, according to the Englishman, almost the entire male European population of Calcutta, together with many natives of rank and influence, accompanied his body to the grave, as a last token of respect and sympathy. The Viceroy, the Commander-in-Chief, the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, the Judges of the Supreme Court, and the Members of the Executive and Legislative Council, formed part of the melancholy procession, and a salute of fifteen minute guns told that all was over with one from whom such great things were so lately expected.

The vacant seat in the Legislative Council, through the retirement of Sir James Outram, has been conferred on Mr. Cecil Beadon, who was sworn in on the 11th August, in presence of Sir Barnes Peacock, Sir Bartle Frere, Sir Mordaunt Wells, and Messrs. Forbes, Sconce, and Harrington. The audience was unusually numerous, in expectation of hearing Sir Mordaunt Wells open out upon Mr. Eden, but this pleasure was unavoidably deferred, in consequence of the Indigo Commission having failed to supply the members with printed copies of the evidence adduced before them. The vacancy in Council, caused by the death of the late Mr. Le Geyt, has been filled by the appointment of Mr. C. J. Erskine, apparently a very unexceptionable selection. It is not so easy, however, to find a successor to the late Financial Commissioner, but it is rumoured that the Right Hon. Robert Lowe has been offered the honourable, though onerous post.

Several Colonial Governors, such as Sir George Grey, Sir W. Denison, and Sir Henry Barkly, have been spoken of as likely to succeed to the government of Madras, and no doubt these are all good men and true, and would do their best to discharge in an efficient manner the novel duties that would devolve upon them. But if Indian experience is of any avail in Indian administration, a man of unblemished character, and one universally respected, both in his private and public capacity, by all ranks and classes, whether native or European, presents himself in the person of Sir Bartle Frere, whose appointment as Governor would be hailed with delight throughout the Madras Presidency.

The death of Sir Henry Ward appears to have been wholly unexpected. On the morning of the 2nd August his Excellency received guests as usual at his public breakfast, and afterwards transacted some business. Soon after noon, however, symptoms of decided cholera made their appearance, and at 9.30 p.m. of the same day he breathed his last. The funeral took place on the following evening, with every demonstration of public respect and private sorrow, and Sir Henry's mortal remains were laid in St. Mary's Church, between the communion rails and the grave of Sir Thomas Munro.

The Income-tax Bill was gazetted on Saturday, July 28, as Act No. 32 of 1860, and entitled "An Act for Imposing Duties on Profits arising from Property, Professions, Trades, and Offices." It is satisfactory to learn that, notwithstanding what had been reported to the contrary, Mr. Wilson had completed and arranged all the details for the collection of the tax before he was too much prostrated by illness to attend to public business.

The Oude Libel Case has terminated in a verdict for the plaintiff, the proprietors of the Oude Gazette being fined Rs. 3,000 damages, and Rs. 500 costs. A public subscription, however, has been instituted, for the purpose of indemnifying the defendants, and in a very few days Rs. 1,500 were subscribed for that purpose in Bombay alone. Until we are in possession of the entire facts we must refrain from commenting on this very extraordinary trial, which we trust will prove the death-knell of courts of law presided over by men ignorant of either law or equity.

We are happy to observe that the good faith of H.H. the Nizam during the late troubles has not been allowed to pass without due recognition. The debt of sixty-five lakhs due to the British Government has been remitted, and the districts of Dharaseo, Raichore, and Shorapur, yielding an annual revenue of fourteen lakhs, have been ceded to his Highness, who in return gives up certain lands on the Godavery worth Rs. 20,000 per annum. A khillut, consisting of British manufactures to the value of £10,000, will be presented to the Nizam, and others valued at £3,000 each to the Nawabs Salar Jung and Shums-ool-Oomrah. Inferior rewards and gratuities will also be conferred upon men of less note who did good service, according to their means.

Casualties by Death in the Armies of India reported since last Publication.

H.M.'s FORCES.—Capt. J. F. Baxter, H.M.'s 56th Regt., at Ahmednuggur, Aug. 20.
MADRAS.—Brev. maj. John G. C. Disbrowe, 43rd Madras L.I., at Suez, on his passage from Madras, aged 34, Sept. 4.
BOMBAY.—Ensign Robert G. Stratton, H.M.'s 5th Bombay N.I., of fever, at Macao Fort, aged 19, July 24; Ens. F. W. B. Portman, 15th N.I., at Ahmednuggur, Aug. 1; Capt. Davies, Commandant of the Guzerat Provincial Battalion, at Kaira, Aug. 3.

Passengers by the present Mail.

FOR Marseilles.—From BOMBAY.—Mr. Robertson, Major Southey, Mr. Weir, Capt. Cleland, Lieut. Robinson, From ALEXANDRIA.—Major and Mrs. Loch, Mr. Antiquaries, Mr. McFarlane, Mr. Roussillon. From ADEN.—Mrs. Jordan, Mr. Kavanagh, Col. Hellewell, Maj. Conville, Maj. Galt.

Expected at Southampton.

Per str. Ellora, Sept. 23.—From BOMBAY.—Mr. Branshall, Mrs. Sisson and child, Capt. Taylor, Mrs. Olsen, Mr. J. Carter, Mrs. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Snowden and child, Mrs. Sandford, Mrs. Wood and child, Messrs. Levi, Cousins, Phipps, Bolton, Hodgkinson, Marsden, Montgomery, Capt. J. Magee, J. Humphrey, J. Smith, J. Hodgden, R. Talbot, From ADEN.—Mrs. McLaren and son.

NEWSPAPER

BENGAL.

THE RIGHT HON. JAMES WILSON.

Death is an element in politics which we do not sufficiently take into account. We are constantly asking ourselves, or one another, what such and such a public character is "going to do" with reference to some public measure; what effect opposition will have upon him; what he will say in reply to his opponents, &c., &c. And in the midst of it all, perhaps, he is suddenly called away, leaving his place vacant, and his measures to be carried out, or abandoned, as the case may be, by others, and to those who have resisted his policy, though with the most honest intentions, a certain unavoidable feeling of regret—a wish that some expressions had been softened which might have bordered on the personal, and which were not exactly what one would like to address to a fellow-creature, if one had known that he tottered on the brink of the grave.

It is always unreasonable to be taken by surprise by the death of any man, but more especially, perhaps, in this climate. The diseases which attack us here are often fearfully sudden—or, at least, so stealthily undermine the constitution that the last fatal result comes unannounced, and is yielded to at once. It is not unusual for death to follow sickness with the same rapidity with which burial follows death, and we none of us know when we wake in the morning whether we may not be literally lying in the graveyard before night.

Most men of fifty-five have by that time settled for life, so that we can tell with tolerable certainty the general tenor of the course which awaits them during their remaining years, and the sort of position they will occupy in the recollection of those who have known them, or heard their names. They have usually taken their rank in the procession of life, and in the great majority of cases do not change it again. The age of adventure is then past, and we look, and others look for us, for nothing more than a continuation of the same pursuits, the same views, and the same position, for our remaining years. Life has got into a groove.

It was otherwise with the statesman—for so we may surely call the man who was, last week, the most prominent in India—whose death we record to-day. Mr. Wilson had passed his life in successive changes of position, and we had no certainty that those changes were at an end. We wondered what he would do, what he would become, next; what history would have to tell of him more than we knew. And all the time we scarcely considered the possibility that the next change might be that one which had none to follow it. Suddenly we find him gone, and that we have his whole career before us.

James Wilson was born at Hawick, in 1805. His father was a hosier, and a quaker; and started his son in business, when quite young, as a manufacturer of hats in his native place. Thence the future Privy Councillor removed to London, and afterwards to Newcastle; but in none of these localities did he meet with any success, and at last abandoned the trade which he found so unprofitable. The natural turn of his inclination (or the accidental direction of it which we call natural) was towards public finance; and he published in 1839 a treatise on the "Influence of the Corn Laws," followed by other works on similar subjects. In 1843 he established the Economist newspaper. The unusual dexterity with which he handled, in this periodical, the complicated subjects which he had to deal with, soon drew public attention upon him, and in 1847 he entered Parliament as member for Westbury. Here the oratorical powers of Mr. Wilson, who always rose with circumstances, and the masterly manner with which he dealt with the financial questions at that time paramount in importance, marked him out as an efficient supporter of a Government not over strong in the article of talent; and in May, 1848, he received the appointment of Secretary to the Board of Control, which he held till the resignation of Lord John Russell in 1852, and which, of course, could not fall to give him some acquaintance with Indian affairs to the limited extent to which that knowledge can be gained at a distance. The office was not a very high one, but considering the aristocratic exclusiveness of the Whig oligarchy, its attainment by a retired tradesman was really a triumph, and though such appointments could easily be paralleled on the Tory side of the House, in the annals of the Liberal party Mr. Wilson's case is almost unique. He only remained ten months out of office, and obtained the post of Secretary to the Treasury under Lord Aberdeen in December of the same year. This office he held till he sailed for India last autumn, excepting only the Tory interregnum of 1858. At the general election of 1857 he changed his seat, being returned for the borough of Devonport.

The Minister who selected Mr. Wilson for his Eastern mission, as well as the chosen financier himself, made the mistake of supposing "Indian finance" to be a branch of "finance," instead of being, as it is, the very keystone and turning-point of the whole question of the administration of Indian affairs. What was wanted was, not a speculator who understood money, but a statesman who understood India with the familiarity which only long residence, with great power of observation and reflection, could give. No question ever required this more. But Mr. Wilson never could recognise this. He left England with all his schemes cut and dried, and this statement on his tongue, that financial principles, like other principles, were everywhere the same, and could be applied in Asia as in Europe—words which preceded him to our shores, and raised, as was only natural, the most ominous forebodings for the future—forebodings which have been only too unhappily realised.

Yet there is one hope of escape, and we sadly and earnestly implore the Government not to neglect it. The death of Mr. Wilson gives them an opportunity to reconsider the measures which they passed by his advice. They could not perhaps do so before, because such a proceeding might wear the appearance of yielding to popular clamour; but they can do it now, not ungracefully, and with a fair excuse; for they may reasonably say that the scheme of the Income-tax has been left immature, the mind that devised the impost being no longer present to preside over its collection. The tax descends far too low—dangerously, frightfully low, in its application. It must be collected by native agency; it must, therefore, in effect surrender all the more respectable part of the native community to torture and spoliation at the hands of a few greedy and inhuman officials. The Viceroy and his Council know this well, and if they persist in carrying out this measure it will be simply for want of moral courage to avow their conviction.

If it turns out that Mr. Wilson has failed in his mission, he has at least this plea, that the work he was called on to do was not his own. It was the peculiar province of the supreme administration; expressly the question they were sent out here to solve. If they were not competent to deal with it, they ought to have retired from posts they were incompetent to fill, and gone back to the country they had better never have left. The events of Lord Canning's administration have taught the English little, if they have not learnt this lesson, that the most important position a Government ever had to fill—the wielding of the mightiest sceptre in Asia—must never be entrusted again to the hand of the feeblest and most insignificant of their public men.—Delhi Gazette.

THE NEW CIVIL CODE.

The Civil Judges in some thirty districts were directed to report on the working of Act VIII of 1859, after a year's experience, and the Code has now been just thirteen months in operation. The practical effect of the reform will, however, have been felt for a shorter period. The old abuses, of which such grievous complaints had been preferred, were grounded on unreason, ratified by the failure of justice, and sanctioned by time. The consequence was that, true to their conservative instincts, all zemindars who made litigation a pastime or a profession poured into every court a perfect flood of suits during the last few days of June, 1859. There was that vague and undefined feeling so peculiar to this country, that no man could be sure how the new measure would work. Nor was it an easy task for vakeels and mookhtars to give up, without a pang, the interminable verbiage of plaint and answer, replication and rejoinder, in which the same facts and the same arguments were spread out, two and three times, in almost the same words. It was so much easier to dilute than to condense; so much more genuine to the native intellect to conceal the point at issue in a maze of circumlocution; so constantly an object of paramount importance to introduce confusion into the minds of the presiding official where none existed previously, or to increase it where it did. In this way, for several months after the new Code had come into action, the majority of the native judges were making desperate exertions to clear off the last legacies of the obsolete and discarded laws. Some few set themselves to work on the new Code in earnest: others gladly availed themselves of every excuse put forward by a sharp witted Vakeel, and endeavoured occasionally to galvanise into life the dead bodies of the former Acts and Regulations, under the notion that every suit which had had birth before the month of July was to be governed by the old forms until decree and execution. Others, again, sat with exemplary patience, waiting to catch the mind of their European superiors on the subject, or to see what the Sudder Court would "rule" for their guidance.

With all this delay, the new law was gradually creeping into operation at the close of the year; and it may be reasonably expected that the district judges are now in a position to pronounce decidedly on some of its results. One of the most obvious advantages to suitors, Vakeels, and inexperienced judges, is the collection of our scattered civil law into one volume of reasonable size. Formerly the student was hurried, breathless and in despair, from Lord Cornwallis to the Marquis of Hastings, or was sent back from the latest improvements dictated by Mr. Colvin to some philanthropic amendments of Lord William Bentinck. Now, everything that relates to a suit from its first institution to the realisation of the decree, in any court of whatever grade, is to be found in three hundred and eighty-eight sections. The most stringent rules are laid down for brevity and clearness, and, in this view, the Legislative Council, with a ruthless disregard of vested rights in prolixity, have swept away three, or we might say, four papers replete with that interminable verbiage which professed to be guided by the strictest rules of juridical allegation. The plaint is to be a mere statement, and not a challenge propounded at length. There is no written answer required. The judge collects the facts and arguments relied on by the defendant verbally from his counsel, and thereupon frames the issues of the suit. In special cases leave is granted to the defendant to file a written statement, and this may be useful where complicated interests have to be described with clearness, or where parties claim conflicting rights derived from some common ancestor deceased three or four generations back. But in the larger class of cases, such as debt, contract, damages, or simple dis-possession, a brief statement of the claim, and a verbal reply, which is usually a point-blank denial, ought to guide the judge in framing an issue. The saving in time to three-fourths of the suitors may amount, in this way, to at least two or three months, and, as regards temper, this can hardly be overrated. Another point of significance is the peremptory requisition on all plaintiffs to verify their suits. A man may do this in his own house and transmit the plaint, duly verified, to his pleader, but there is provision that, in the case of absentees, the court may allow plaints to be verified and subscribed by any competent persons. We warn the authorities that this is precisely the section most liable to abuse. Nothing is so easy as for a rich man, who has qualms of conscience or fear of consequences, to devolve the risk and the duty on some unprincipled agent. If the old practice is thus revived in another shape, we shall have just as many of those cases of fraud and forgery which have polluted the very atmosphere of our courts, and of that more numerous class which are the very embodying of groundless encroachment, or vindictive litigation.

The provisions regarding the summoning and examination of witnesses, and the attention which the presiding judge must now devote to the living voice of the witness, instead of to the lifeless records of his deposition, are the old provisions re-enacted with greater stringency and some important changes. Let the judges but do their duty in conducting themselves the examination in chief, and there is no saying how many well concocted tales will be shaken to pieces, what a mass of irrelevant statements will no longer cumber the records, what hearsay evidence will be peremptorily discarded, what wholesale discomfiture will await those who, for days, have been teaching a knot of villagers to repeat dates, and places, and facts, with unbroken voice and unimpeachable exactness.

Another grand reform initiated by the new Code, is the abolition of appeals in regard to the execution of decrees. Formerly a suitor, after carrying his regular suit through three successive courts, had still to encounter the opposition of pretended claimants to the property attached, and in all cases of importance had to run the gauntlet of the same three courts again. This monstrous privilege was the cause of vexation and annoyance sufficient to excuse those who, under the signature of "Lovers of Justice" and "True Britons," weekly or monthly displayed their grievances through the columns of the press. The claimants, who were generally the relatives of the defendants, and who based their title on some questionable deed of gift, or some collusive transfer dated years back, will now be politely referred to a regular suit to vindicate their rights, instead of enjoying the luxury of delaying justice by two cheap and summary appeals. A quiet invitation of this sort, unless the parties are very rich and determined, may be like a request to a shivering Bengalee to take a cold bath at sunrise in January. The crying nuisance of paupers will also be somewhat abated. Formerly these men, who were a class per se, had an appeal allowed them to the sudder court against the ruling of an European judge who had decided, on seeing the pauper and hearing witnesses on both sides, that he was well able to pay the usual stamp fees. Now every judge of whatever grade hears applications of this kind from asserted paupers, and admits or rejects them without any appeal at all.

From these and other sections some men have already been emboldened to declare that the new Code has not been altogether a snare and a delusion. It has shortened delay. It has swept away long-winded repetitions of the same facts. It will ensure to holders or purchasers of decrees in execution something more than the acquirement of a bag of lawsuits. It ought to annihilate or reduce to a minimum the evil influence hitherto exercised over the generality of witnesses. It should facilitate, in the end, the labour of the judge himself. We trust that any official reports of the working of the Code may be published, and reformers will then be able to decide what yet is wanting to the attainment of speedy, certain, and substantial justice in Bengal.—Friend of India.

THE GOORKHA COLONY IN THE DOON.

We watch with some interest the result of a military experiment which is now being made in the pretty valley of Dehra Doon, at the foot of that part of the Himalayas on which the sanatoria of Landour and Mussoorie are situated. Government have decided to establish there a military colony somewhat on the "Recruit Boy" system of the Madras Army, and resembling that introduced into Russia with such marked success by Alexander I. in 1815.

In the sieges and campaigns of 1857, none of the heterogeneous races comprising our native army, not even the Sikhs, distinguished themselves more than the Goorkhas. Their brethren who marched down so slowly from Nepal under Jung Bahadur were naturally disinclined to fight against their own creed. They were not our subjects, and they could not comprehend the duties devolving upon them as our allies, unless it were to plunder our enemies to the full. But the Goorkhas who had been enlisted in our service, had been drilled according to our methods, and were led by our officers, formed a new source of strength amid mutinous Mussulmans and treacherous Poorbeahs. To take only one instance: the Sirmoor Rifles were the first in the field in 1857. The corps marched out of Dehra for the disturbed district of Boolundshuhur three days after the mutiny at Meerut. In the action at the Bhadub ke Serai it was the only native regiment attached to our force. It was the first of the native corps to take its place on the Delhi Ridge, and as the Sikhs came down from the Punjab they found it fighting. Its achievements in those four months under fire and in the terrible siege are well known. It came out of Delhi with 327 of its 490 men killed or wounded. Like the Sikhs, the Goorkha soldiers entitled themselves to the gratitude of our Government, and gained the admiration of the European soldiers, side by side with whom they fought. Since an irregular native army is to be maintained; since, untaught by the horrors of 1857, and the financial crisis which has followed, undismayed by a military expenditure of 15 millions sterling and grievous taxation, it has been resolved once more to nourish the monster which had well nigh swallowed us up, we cannot too highly value the Goorkhas as an element of negative danger, if not of safety.

But whence are we to recruit our Goorkha regiments? We want real Goorkhas, not the stunted Mongols, the puny hill men, who die in the plains. We want the fighting tribe, on whom Jung Bahadur relies, and the Court of Nepal naturally decline to allow us to drain the country of its best soldiers to fill our ranks. We object to Irishmen joining the Papal army. We prohibit enlistment under a foreign power. Jung Bahadur is quite as jealous. The difficulty can be overcome only by our becoming independent of Nepal, by forming a colony of the recruits we already have, of the disabled and pensioned men. We shall thus raise fighting Goorkhas, who will be bound by no tie to Katmandoo, who will be our own subjects, and prove, we doubt not, as loyal and as brave as the Sirmoor Rifles on the Delhi heights and in the Delhi streets. Accordingly, an estate of 3,000 acres, of which nearly two-thirds are uncultivated, has been set apart for the new colony in the Doon. We see that the good people of Landour, the correspondents of the up-country journals, and even the tea planters are alarmed. They anticipate an invasion of Goorkha recruits, who will cover half the Doon, who will shut out European capital, and be pampered into treason. All this is imaginary. Not one new recruit will cross our frontier. The colony will consist solely of the Goorkha pensioners now scattered over the valley, and of the men of the Sirmoor Rifles who were disabled at Delhi. To them at first 1,000 and ultimately 3,000 acres will be assigned. There they will cultivate, and flourish, and raise "boys" to take their place in their corps. As the boys reach the age of sixteen or seventeen they will be drafted into the recruiting depot, and thence into the regiments which require them. If the colony increases, as in these favourable circumstances it will increase, beyond the wants of commanding officers, the tea planters, so far from being ruined by the alienation of 3,000 acres for military and political purposes, will have a supply of labour at their doors.

The system thus being introduced was the secret of the fidelity of the Madras Army in 1857. To each corps forty pension boys and thirty recruit boys are attached on Rs. 3½ a month. They must be the sons of soldiers in the service. Those not eligible for the ranks are discharged at fourteen years of age, the rest become sepoy at the age of sixteen. Schools, vernacular and English, are kept up, the former of which they are forced to attend; they are drilled in every part of the usual exercise except with the musket, and at the same time live in their own homes, and are subject to family influences. The Russian plan combines agricultural labour with military duty. In Southern Russia alone are 80,000 military colonists, forming the nucleus of the army, and the total number in the whole country is, we believe, twice that amount. As we watch this experiment, so successful in Madras, introduced for the first time into Bengal, to secure soldiers of whom as natives we can only say that they are less an element of weakness and danger than Poorbeahs, we ask if the system would be bad for Europeans, the source of our strength. Shall we ever see the slopes of the Himalayas and the spurs of the Ghats dotted with colonies of old veterans and rosy children acting at once as outposts of strength to our empire, and the nurseries of men for our army?—Friend of India.

MISCELLANEOUS.

NATIVE OPINION OF MR. WILSON.—The unexpected death of the Right Hon. James Wilson, the financial member of the Supreme Council of India, will not fail to create a deep impression on the mind of the people of India. The sad tidings conveyed by electric wire throughout the length and breadth of the country will be received with painful satisfaction. The untimely removal of one who, with however good intention, has caused so much dread and perplexity during his short Indian career, will be attributed to a special Providence that watches over the affairs of men. Such a sentiment is by no means confined to the native. The civilised European shares it with the more ignorant and devout Asiatic. Philosophers may protest against and laugh at it, but the fact remains that the mass of the people, insensible to all logic, is governed more by feelings than by abstract reasoning. True statesmanship accepts the logic of facts, and shapes its measures accordingly. The feeling against the author of the Income tax is by no means unnatural, and since the disgraceful disclosures in the Lucknow Court, not altogether unreasonable. The verdict of that tribunal, backed though it may be by the confirmation of the Supreme Government, will not modify the opinion regarding the practical working of the Income-tax. A conviction is fast growing up that the atrocities of Ramdial are the usual results of a measure where higher European agency looks for a maximum of revenue, and the execution falls in the hands of corrupt and irresponsible subordinates. Shall we say that this belief is strengthened when the people imagine that Providence itself has pronounced against the author of the impending calamity by calling him from the scene of his sublimity labours? But will his loss be a gain to the country? That cannot be, unless the pestilential tax be repealed. The Government of India are on their trial. To many the deficit appears to be a mere pretence. The pernicious effect of the tax on society (not in a pecuniary but in a moral point of view) likely to take place has alarmed the public. Imagination conjures up the idea of the worst portion of the society let loose on the meek and the unoffending; rebellion is prophesied, and the natives seriously ask, is the British Raj to end, that our rulers have grown so infatuated? The Government are, we believe, ere this aware that if any resistance break forth, it will have the sympathy, not only of the people of this country but of a good portion of the Europeans. It is urged that Government are not in a position to retrace their steps; the Act XXXII. of 1860 has passed, received the sanction of the Viceroy, and been partially put in force already. We submit that the Rubicon has not been irretrievably crossed. It is well known that the Tax Act was more the creation of Mr. Wilson than of the Indian Government. He was personally identified with it. All the responsibility lay on his shoulders, and since the passage of arms between him and the Madras Government, he knew that his personal reputation was at stake. He manfully fought his battles. The Government of India generously left him an open field, and promised their hearty co-operation. And now that he has gone, they can enter it, and act to the best of their discretion. No false sentiments of delicacy towards the memory of an individual ought to prevail over the vital interests of millions. It is no time for indulging in maudlin notions of preserving the prestige of Government. They have never set up their claim to infallibility, and would lose nothing by being wiser to-day than what they were yesterday. On the contrary, the Raj would be strengthened, inasmuch as the people would be free from dread and anxiety. Lord Canning has the enviable opportunity of closing his reign by an act that would earn for him the eternal gratitude of India. He has pacified the princes and nobles of the land; let him crown his acts by the blessings of a contented people. Let him inform the English ministry of the actual feelings of the country, and ask for a royal proclamation annulling the Tax Act. Mr. Wilson's Indian career, though short and stormy, and his counsels in one measure highly erroneous, has not been without any benefit to this country. His currency scheme, modified by Sir C. Wood, will, if carried out cautiously, prove a boon to the country. The utilization of the cash balances will bring in a revenue of half a million sterling per annum. He has established a finance department, introduced a system of audit and budget, and formed committees to inquire into the civil and military expenditure. He would have, ere long, reduced to system the chaos of Indian accounts. Unfortunately he was led away by a doctrine that what is right in one country cannot be wrong in another. He cared not to see whether a people were prepared to receive a principle. It was on this rock that his vessel split. We shall not be hard in commenting on the support he gave to the indigo planters to the prejudice of the ryot. He had more than atoned for it in the discussion on the Arms Act, by courageously avowing that he would make no distinction between the white and the coloured races in the eyes of law. All will honour him for his earnestness and perseverance in the cause he deemed right. We shall not forget that he has died in harness, a victim to the overwhelming work devolved upon him. May his successor profit by his experience.—Rast Guffar.

GANGS OF POISONERS.—In the Punjab it is reported that cases of poisoning had become so very frequent that the Lieutenant-governor had recommended the appointment of an officer, as in the Thuggee department, to hunt down the gangs of poisoners who were infesting the country. We understand that this recommendation has been sanctioned.

NEPAUL.—A private letter from Nepaul reports that cholera had broken out as bad as it was four years ago, when it was very destructive. The wife of Balarao, brother of the infamous Nana, has been carried off by this epidemic. Cholera has for once been discriminating, and is raging with peculiar violence amongst the rebel chiefs and their followers who have sought refuge in Nepaul. Maharaja Jung Bahadoor, G.C.B., has demanded engagements from the family of the infamous Nana, Balarao, and other rebels in Nepaul not to write or speak on the subject of the British Government so long as they remain under his protection. The treaties between the Nepaul and the British Governments are to be renewed.

TO SPORTSMEN.—The Hurkaru states that the Muthah is infested with tigers. Government has increased the allowance of the shikaries from 20 to 50 Rs. for the destruction of every tiger.

SUTTEE IN OUDE.—The Lucknow correspondent of the Delhi Gazette, writing under date the 5th August, says, it will be well to mention the prevalence of suttee in this province; within a few months upwards of half a dozen suttees have taken place; in some of these cases the authorities here have been compelled to award so severe a punishment as imprisonment for life, and fourteen years' transportation. The great epidemic, cholera, has had something to do with all these human sacrifices.

AGRA, August 18.—We (Delhi Gazette) hear a great deal about the scarcity of grain and provisions here, and that whole families (native) have been forced to go without food. Atta is selling at 10½ and 11 seers the rupee; but bunneahs will not sell even that without reference to the Kotwal. The civil authorities, though anxious and willing to do anything in their power to alleviate the distress, do not consider themselves called on to interfere. Several boats, laden with thousands of maunds of grain, are on their way up the river, but the sudden rise of the water has delayed them. Children are being offered for sale in the district to anyone who will purchase them. The last sum we heard asked was four rupees eight annas for one. Such a state of things is very fearful to contemplate, and we scarcely know how to account for it. It is commonly said that it is all owing to a combination among the grain dealers, but the civil authorities evidently do not put faith in this idea. Their opinion is that the general distress, though great, is not such as to warrant interference, because the favourable rains and promising crops have given plenty of employment to day-labourers, and the bunneahs will now advance money. The Income-tax could scarcely have been introduced at a more inauspicious and inopportune time, coming as it does upon those whose small incomes will make it very severely felt. Had we a representative Government, or was there a system of any kind by which the real state of the country in parts remote from the seat of Government could be made known to those who hold the reins of the executive administration in their hands, we might hope for some alleviation, and some kind of adaptation of administrative measures to the existing wants of the country and the population—but there is none.

MURREE, August 2.—One of the most valuable frontier officers had a narrow escape with his life this morning, and his friends feel that an interposition of Providence ought to be acknowledged in the occurrence. As Colonel Lumsden was attending the ball practice, a khulassee made a sudden rush at a native officer's sword, and then struck with great force at Colonel Lumsden's head, which, however, he fortunately missed, but inflicted a severe wound on his left arm just above the elbow. He had not time to repeat the blow, for another native officer standing by struck at the man, and some one else got the sword from him, though not without having his own hand cut in the effort. The sepoy then rushed at the Khulassee and belaboured him with the butt-ends of their muskets. The bone does not appear to be injured, but had the sword been sharper, the consequences would have been serious. It is difficult to tell what could have prompted the mad deed; the man is as yet too drunk to give anything like an intelligent account of himself. He is a common down-country coolie, and Lumsden does not know that he has ever punished the man, or given him any cause for dissatisfaction or complaint.—Lahore Chronicle.

LANDOUR, August 9.—We are getting most favourably through our rains as yet. The last half of July we had some very heavy falls of rain, and a good deal of gloomy, foggy weather, but it has been unusually fine for August, generally the most disagreeable month of the rains. For the last week we have had not more than one good shower on an average during the day, and two days without any rain, and between the falls bright intervals of sunshine, and very little of the everlasting fog we had last year at this time.

We have, also, for more than three weeks enjoyed almost an immunity from thunder-storms, generally so heavy in the hills in July and August, nothing but an occasional roll of distant thunder being heard. The fall of rain up to this has been, however, very good, and up to the average; 45 inches having fallen since the 26th of June. This has been a very quiet season so far, nothing going on but an occasional ball at the club, with the exception of marriages, which have been more than usually numerous; six having already taken place since March, and four more on the tapis; this place is still far from full, several good houses being still unoccupied, and likely to remain so; while one good house, which has always been hitherto taken, has been let by the owner as a barrack for the troops, for want of a tenant. Notwithstanding the good rains we are having, and which have extended to the Roorkee and Saharunpore districts, whence we are entirely supplied, the price of grain still keeps up unusually high, almost as high as last month, when famine was staring the North-west Provinces in the face, and which the rains came just in the nick of time to avert; but the rascally bunniahs are never satisfied. If want of rain was the pretext before, they are just as likely to keep up their prices on the score of too much now, as I have often known to be the case.—Delhi Gazette.

BAREILLY, August 6.—These are sad times, and there is much work for officials, which I hope will be done in good faith, and with good spirit. The clouds, though threatening, have not, since I last wrote, favoured us with anything like a good or heavy shower; and the evils consequent on this you may more readily conceive than I describe. The prices of provisions are daily rising, and have, I believe, risen to famine rates, grain selling for nine or ten seers for the rupee. The city, I am told, affords a sad spectacle of misery and distress. The old and decrepid, as well as the young and helpless, are burdens too weighty for those on whom they have hitherto been dependent; and the struggle between natural affection and unavoidable poverty and helplessness awakens most painfully our feelings of philanthropy and benevolence. My servant, who has just been to the city, tells me the following touching tale:—Two old women, who are just barely able to move about, were forced out of the hovels which had hitherto sheltered them by their own offspring, who found it impossible to support and maintain them. To our officials I would say, be up and doing. If famine itself has not made its appearance, there are unmistakeable indications of its rapid strides towards the province of Rohilkund. The local Government, anticipating distress, have not been remiss in issuing instructions for the alleviation of the sufferings of the poor and the destitute; and now that the evil days have set in, I trust our officials will set heart and hand to work. Report has it that there is an abundance of grain in store, and the want of rain, however fatal to the crops, does not wholly account for the rapid rise in the price of provisions. Grain has been and continues to be exported in large quantities to some great mart in the vicinity, and the result of this, combined with the unfavourable season, has been the rise of the price of provisions in this district, higher than it is at present in any other district of the North-West. Our officials must not keep aloof nor appear indifferent. A little bustling, a little interference, open manifestations of sympathy for the poor and destitute, angry looks and angry words to the Bunyas, should be the policy adopted. Our police here need a little looking after, and I believe our magistrate only requires to be informed of their insolence and overbearing to bring them to their senses. A lady and a gentleman with two children were on their way to the city mounted on an elephant, and had scarcely advanced a few yards on the main road, when some police stopped the elephant and insolently ordered the driver to turn back, as there were orders strictly prohibiting elephants from passing through the main street. The driver turned to return, when a whole posse of the police surrounded the elephant and insisted on its being driven to the Kotwalle, and in spite of the gentleman's remonstrances they took the animal vi et armis in that direction, of course not before one of the policemen had struck the elephant, and alarmed the lady and children. The case is to come before the magistrate, who, I trust, in deciding the case will give full consideration to the humiliation and mortification to which the complainant was exposed, the arbitrary assumption of authority by the Kotwal, not losing sight of the cheek of the man who struck the elephant, and endangered the lives of those mounted on the animal. I expect to be furnished with particulars of the case. Our magistrate, who is entitled to credit for great improvements in the city, and who has paid some attention to the public garden here, availing himself of the assistance of a gentleman who has a taste for gardening and a fair knowledge of botany, should look to the drainage of the station, which appears to have been entirely lost sight of.—Delhi Gazette.

THE MODEL C. IN C.—We (Hurkaru) have discovered the reason of the sudden call for Income-tax on the July salaries. Sir Hugh Rose cannot go up to Barrackpore, eighteen miles, with his own carriage and horses, as other people do, but he must have a steamer placed at his disposal. Well, a day or two ago the steamer had all steam up and was ready to start at the appointed hour, when his Excellency sent down to the ghat to ask whether she could wait half an hour or so, as he was detained by important matters of State. It was replied that as the tide was rising it would not matter much, and the additional time could easily be granted. So the steamer waited for half an hour, and then for another half hour, but when the third half hour had nearly expired, a palkee was seen approaching, which on arrival at the ghat disgorged—Sir Hugh Rose's cook. That functionary proceeded on board and told the lowly-bowing captain that his Excellency had changed his mind and was to go by land, but that the steamer was immediately to weigh anchor and carry to the suburban palace himself, his Excellency's cook, which the steamer did, and in the words of a vulgar but expressive song, "that's the way the money goes, pop goes the weasel."

DEATH OF "MRS. DEACLE."—It is with regret that the Mofussilite records the death of a lady, Mrs. Andrews, who, for 19 years, has been known to the public of India as "Mrs. Deacle," albeit she was the wife of an officer in the Bengal army. In private life Mrs. Deacle was a kind, courteous, and charitable woman, whose purse and professional services were always at the command of any person in real distress. In Calcutta, where she first appeared upon the Indian boards, this intimation of her demise will cause some sorrow to those who, like ourselves, knew her in the plenitude of her beauty and ability; and at Bombay, where she never failed to attract large audiences, this feeling, we are satisfied, will be shared.

SIMLA, August 7.—The annexed appeared in the Simla Advertiser of the 4th current:—"At a public meeting, held at the Assembly Rooms, on Monday, the 30th July, 1860, the following resolution was unanimously carried:—That, in the absence of any immediate local organised protection for the Christian inhabitants of Simla, on which reliance can be placed, this meeting resolves that a petition be presented to his honour the Lieutenant-governor of the Punjab, showing that there are, besides the covenanted and uncovenanted services, upwards of sixty non-official residents at Simla, and requesting that they may be allowed to form themselves into a volunteer rifle company, for self-defence, on any emergency, and in furtherance of the declared intention of his honour, to order the immediate construction of fortified places of refuge for Europeans and Eurasians at all the non-military stations in the Punjab, and Cis-Sutlej territories. (Signed) S. B. GOAD, Major, Chairman. With reference to the above.—Those directly interested in the movement, or sympathising with the position of their fellow-countrymen at Simla, where families are so often without protection, are earnestly invited to add the weight of their influence and co-operation to the proposed petition, by sending in their names and suggestions to the secretary, or to append their signatures to a memorial which will be placed in the reading-room on Wednesday next, the 8th instant. HENRY T. TAPP, Hon. Secretary. Simla, 4th August, 1860.—It is refreshing to see Englishmen at length awaking to a sense of their duty, and I most devoutly hope that our little sanatorium may be the first to set so good an example, and that it will be universally followed. The para. referring to some fortified places of refuge, is highly important, and should be carried out at once. The establishment of a rifle company will do a vast deal of good, if it does no more than teach the surly impertinent looking followers of Mahomet that they will not 'catch the weasel asleep again.'"

LAHORE, August 9.—There is but little news stirring here; the weather is delightfully cool, we have had several very heavy falls of rain, and scarcely a day passes that we do not have a smart shower or two; the rain was sadly wanted, provisions, grain, &c., had risen to very high prices, but are now considerably reduced. The railway subordinate, Mr. Dalley, who in a quarrel shot one of his comrades (Mr. Fulmore), will shortly be sent to Calcutta to undergo trial in the Supreme Court, charged, I believe, with felony. The railway works, notwithstanding the dissensions which have so unhappily arisen among the higher officials, are proceeding steadily, and if, as is expected, the locomotives arrive during the cold season, there is every probability of the Lahore and Amritsur line being opened early next year.

MR. COURT, the magistrate of Allahabad, has been summoned to Calcutta by the Governor-general, for the purpose, it is understood, of giving his advice on the best method of levying the Income-tax on the commercial and agricultural classes of the community. Mr. Court is one of the oldest district officers of the North-West Provinces, and has always had the reputation of being a thoroughly sensible and practical working man.

PUNJABEE PROSELYTES.—Four men, one woman, and two children of the 24th Punjab Infantry (Pioneers) have been baptised by the Rev. R. Clarke at Khairabad, on the Indus. More are likely to apply for baptism, and the Christian congregation is now so large that Mr. Clarke is thinking of a place of worship for them.

KISHNAGUR, August 5.—The ryots are entirely repudiating the payment of rents, and with heavy lot payments before us, I cannot conceive what is to be done with such an overwhelming number of cases in hand; the idea of applying to the collector is perfectly ridiculous. The Government machinery is a regular farce, and far worse than useless, as there are so many quibbles and obstacles thrown in the way that it is more than probable one's case is dismissed, or one's servants get into a scrape, thus making matters doubly bad. Then, again, with the whole country against one, what on earth is a man to do for witnesses. It is to be recollected that until within the last few months contracts between the landholders and ryots have been for the most part in good faith; and from our seldom or never having had to resort to the Courts, our servants are not up to all the intricacies necessary to carry on cases properly; and even if they were, where are the Courts? There can be no doubt that this has now become a war of race. The Eden perwanah was taken advantage of in February and March last by the British Indian Association to raise such a combination amongst the ryots of Lower Bengal (and which I have no doubt is fast spreading like wildfire to Behar and other districts) that the Income-tax will meet with the same organized opposition and paralyse the hands of Government. The Bengalees are a cunning race, and work in the dark like moles; and their outcry against planters is all bosh to hide their real views; this our blind Government will not see. A zemindar close to this is sending emissaries over the districts, and openly holding darbar at his house and inciting ryots to combine and pay no rents to indigo planters, telling them it will take the planters three years to get a decree against them. I suppose this is another case of oppression in the rampant Anglo-Saxon asking for any rents at all from his innocent lambs of ryots. Unless Act 10 of 1859 (particularly sec. 11) is repealed, in three or four years every zemindaree in Bengal will go to the hammer, and as for the small zemindars, I give them six months for their zemindarees to be sold. The ridiculous attempts at legislation we have lately had might do very well in Utopia, but certainly will not answer with the lying litigious ryot of Bengal.—Englishman.

BRIGADIER COLIN TROUP, now in command at Mooltan, will succeed to the Bareilly brigade, as Brigadier Milman proceeds with his regiment, the 37th foot, to England. In all probability a Queen's officer will be appointed to that at Mooltan.

THE GANGES CANAL.—It has been rumoured for some time that the Ganges canal, upon which so many millions have been expended, has proved a complete failure. The Hurkaru hears that the canal has been emptied, the current having been found too rapid, and that it has cut holes in its bed fifty feet deep. We should be glad to learn from our contemporaries, or some of our readers in the North-West, how the matter really stands. Concealment can do no good, and there need be little fear that the desire to hang somebody for the failure will be gratified.

A CHRISTIAN SETTLEMENT.—The State Secretary has approved of the grant of land in Dehra Doon to Major Rind, of the Invalids, who is endeavouring to locate a village of native Christians. The State Secretary is desirous of hearing how the experiment succeeds.

MURRAY'S JAT HORSE.—We are glad to learn that all idea of disbanding Murray's Jat Horse has been relinquished. We are no great admirers of native cavalry; but it would have been singular if a corps, whose constitution offers such unusual guarantees for loyalty as the Jat Horse, and whose short history has abundantly proved its serviceableness had been selected for suppression.

MR. J. J. HARVEY, sub-treasurer, is to be appointed commissioner for the Income-tax. The separate Bengal accountant's office is to be amalgamated with the accountant-general's office, and Mr. White, uncovenanted assistant, is to be placed in charge of the new office.

COMPENSATION CLAIMS IN OUDE.—The Oude Gazette has heard that the compensation claims registered and passed by Colonel Barrow, c.b., and now being paid by Mr. Bickers, the officer in charge of the Treasury in that city, amount to above 6,92,000 Rupees. There are about 450 claimants for Oude.

A ROYAL SPENDTHRIFT.—The lavish expenditure of the King of Oude has attracted the attention of the Government. He makes no provision for his family, and wastes his income in a very spendthrift manner. As his income is only for life, the burden of providing for his successors and family will fall on Government, if he continues to squander his means as he now does. The question is under consideration, and the necessity for a reform presses itself on the attention of the authorities.

SHIPPING.

ARRIVALS.

Aug. 6. William Cole Fottill, Liverpool; Voyager, Banks, Mauritius; Sir John Mandeville, Knight, Liverpool; Rajmahal, Roddick, Liverpool; Pocahontas, Woodness, Boston; Amelia, Burton, Madras; Ruben, Panger, —. 9. Str. Burmah, Gray, Moulmein; Pearl, Thompson, Port Louis.—10. John Masterman, Westfild, London; Western Star, Owler, Boston; Austea, Nickles, Liverpool; Balie Nicol Jarvie, Motley, Madras.—11. Alert, Price, Singapore; Samuel Appleton, Freeman, Penang; Bengal, Ross, Bourbon.

PASSENGERS ARRIVED.

Per str. Burmah.—Mr. and Mrs. Weyn and child, Mr. Atkinson, Miss Frances, Mr. and Mrs. Reid, Mr. Salmon, Mr. Dannithorne, Mr. and Mrs. Jones and three children. Per Pearl.—Mrs. Thompson and two children. Per John Masterman.—E. J. Milner, Esq.

COMMERCIAL.

Calcutta, August 9, 1860.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.

	Sell	Buy
Public Works, 5 per cent.	3 8 to 3 8
New Company's Rupee 4 do.	17 12 to 17 8
Dit do, 5 do.	3 0 to 3 12
3rd Sica Rupee 4 do.	20 4 to 13 0
Transfer 4 do.	Nominal.
New 5 1/2 do.	2 4 to 2 8

BANK OF BENGAL.

Discount on Govt. Acceptances (3 months)	3 per ct.
Do. on Private Bills and Notes (do.)	6 per ct.
Interest on Deposit of Co.'s Paper	5 per ct.
Do. on open Cash Credit Accounts	5 per ct.
On deposit of Goods, &c.	6 per ct.

EXCHANGES.

Agency Bills, at 6 months' sight	2 0 1/2 to 2 0 3/4
Do. with documents, do.	2 0 1/2 to 2 1
American Bills under credit, do.
Treasury Bills, 30 days' sight	Nominal.
Navv Bills, 3 days' sight
Bank of England Post Bills, at sight

RATES OF ADVANCE.

per cent. Stock Receipts	Sa. Rs. 100	Co.'s Rs. 75
4 ditto Government Paper	500	75
4 ditto ditto	Co.'s Rs. 100	75
5 ditto ditto	100	88
5 1/2 ditto ditto	100	95
New Treasury Bills	100	95

On goods 3-4ths of approved valuation.

JOINT STOCK SHARES.

	Paid up.	Present value.
Bank of Bengal	4000 each	595 1/2 to 597 1/2
Agra Bank	500	630 to 660
Delhi Bank	500	Nominal.
India General Steam	1000	1490 to 1500
Ganges Company	500	590 to 600
Bengal Coal Company (Limited)	1000	1625 to 1650
Calcutta Steam Tug Association (Limited)	1000	600
East-India Coal Company (Limited)	70	72 to 75
Bonded Warehouse Association	445	550 to 575
Calcutta Docking Company	700	875 to 900
Oriental Gas Company (Limited)	10	par.
Assam Company	200	390 to 400
East-India Railway Company	20	par.
East-India Copper Co. (Limited)	1000	no sales.
Calcutta Auction Co. (Limited)	60	70 par.

PRICES OF BULLION.

Sovereigns	each, Rs. 10	4 to 10 5
Doubloons	32 8 to 32 10
Madras Gold Mohurs	15 2 to 15 0
Old Gold Mohurs	21 14 to 22 0
New Gold Mohurs	15 2 to 15 3
China Gold Bars	per sicca wt., Rs. 16	0 to 16 2
Gold Dust (Australia)	14 8 to 15 0
Sycee Silver, none, Co.'s Rs. 100	106 0 to 106 4
Spanish Dollars	per 100 Rs. 2 2	0 to 2 2 8
Mexican do.	222 8 to 223 0

FREIGHTS.

To London, £3. 5s. to £3. 7s.
To Liverpool, £3. 2s. 6d.

MADRAS.

THREE OR ONE?

In 1823, just as the Marquis of Hastings was leaving India, the Rajah of Arracan was engaged in murdering British sepoy, expelling them from British territory and laying claim to Eastern Bengal on behalf of the King of Ava. Years of insolence and insult had to be avenged, and early in 1824 Sir Archibald Campbell began the first Burmese War. The military operations which he conducted stretched along the whole extent of coast from Tenasserim to Arracan, while a British force was busily engaged from Rangoon to Chittagong. Not till the whole coast was subjugated and our army was within four days' march of the capital of the Burmese empire was a treaty signed at Yandaboo. All claims on the part of the King of Ava to Assam, Cachar, and our eastern districts, were for ever given up, and the two provinces of Arracan and Tenasserim were surrendered to their conquerors. The territories thus ceded were little else than belts of jungle from which malaria and wild beasts drove man in terror. They contained no great rivers, their coasts were rendered valuable by no safe harbours, they were surrounded on three sides by the possessions of the native court. Worse than this, they were separated from each other by the rich valleys of the Irrawaddy and Sitang, from the capital of which ancient kings had ruled the wide extent of Burmah ere the baseborn Alompra gave Ava the permanent predominance. No cessions could have been more unpromising than these almost unpeopled wastes, rich in nothing but mineral wealth and a virgin soil. Yet British enterprise redeemed them from the swamp and the jungle, recalled to Arracan the trade which of old flowed to and from Ava through the Aeng Pass, caused grain to wave where the tiger had roamed, created an external trade which is yet in its infancy, turned useless forests into the material of imperial navies, and in twenty years quadrupled the extent, the wealth and the comfort of the population.

After a quarter of a century of peace an avenging army once more sacked Rangoon, and again the Court of Ava had to pay the penalty of ignorant insolence. The whole of the north and south coast had been ceded in the first war. It only remained to receive Pegu, the ancestral province of Burmah, which a new dynasty had grievously oppressed and neglected. The acquisition of this not only became to us a source of new wealth, and to its peasants the charter of new rights, but it connected Arracan and Tenasserim, it gave us the full sweep of the east coast of the Bay of Bengal, it enabled us to command every river and to hem in the Burmese within their central provinces; it made us, in fact, the door-keepers of his golden-footed Majesty's Palace. In the first war the distance between Arracan and Tenasserim rendered two different governing establishments necessary, and in a short time two slightly different systems of administration and codes of judicial procedure were in operation. When Pegu was annexed, a third official establishment and system of law and rule were introduced suitable to our new subjects. While our conquests in Burmah were consolidated by the last war and our land and sea frontiers rendered continuous, the provinces still remained separate in every other respect, though each inferior in everything but area to a third class district in Hindostan. And so they have continued till financial difficulties, military reform, and civil improvement have forced on Government the question—shall British Burmah consist as now of three separate Commissionerships or be merged into one? As reforms must be carried out in any case, this question first of all demands settlement.

We believe the time has come when it is necessary to amalgamate not only Tenasserim and Pegu, but also Arracan in one great eastern dependency, which should ultimately include, if not the whole of Chittagong, those districts of it which are not under the Regulations. The one argument against such amalgamation is the extent of territory and distance of jurisdiction. The whole area would be 80,000 miles, with a length of coast above 1,000 miles. But this difficulty is one to be overcome, not by three separate and independent commissioners, but by a sufficiently numerous body of inferior officials adapted to the necessities of the country. It would, moreover, be removed by the completion of the roads which were suspended in 1857, and of the telegraphic system which will shortly be perfected, and by the extension of steam communication which the growing trade of the coast necessitates. The question of distance settled, every other consideration is in favour of that amalgamation which Lord Dalhousie contemplated and Mr. Ricketts urged. It should be made, as it can be made, on the basis of no increase to the civil charges. It will most certainly result in the diminution of the present wasteful military expenditure by the substitution of a well organised and firmly centralised system of police for the Madras regiments. One European regiment and a few battalions of military police will hold the whole of British Burmah against the most formidable force of Burmese until reinforced from Calcutta, as with the telegraph they could be in a week. The people of the three provinces are all homogeneous. They are Indo-Chinese, and consist of the four families of Mughls, Talayns, Karens, and Burmese. Of these we have delivered the first three from the oppression of the last, and have made one a Christian nation. We are sure of their allegiance. They all form a race totally distinct from our other Asiatic subjects, and yet so differ from each other that they are as little likely to coalesce against us as a Madras regiment. Three of them, with a slight admixture of Christian Karens, would form admirable police corps. Their language, customs, religious usages are the same. The adoption of a special code for Pegu has made their laws different, so that they are all insulated. But the Pegu code is so simple, so embodies the local usages of the people, so combines sound justice with simple procedure, that it would be a boon to the sister provinces gradually to assimilate their regulations with it. The existing anomaly is a hardship to all traders who have dealings with the three ports of Akyab, Rangoon, and Moulmein. The provinces have arrived at that stage when it is essential to separate the judicial and executive functions of the officials. The late trial of Captain Grant is conclusive as to the necessity of this.

With a judicial commissioner, as in the Punjab and Oude, to relieve the Commissioner of that branch of his duties; with a financial secretary to fit in to the new revenue system at Calcutta; with the Public Works, Marine, Telegraph, and Post Office departments centralised and the revenue customs and general administration assimilated; with one will directing every official and carrying out a uniform policy, British Burmah would, we believe, enter on a career of prosperity which she can never hope to attain so long as she is broken up into separate provinces. The Queen of Great Britain would then be worthily represented in the Court of Ava by a chief commissioner, not of a small district, but of a great province. The interests of the European merchants would be better secured by a uniform administration and fixed usages. The creation of Recorders' or Small Cause Courts in the three ports, and the occasional visits of judges on circuit from the high court in Calcutta, would secure those civil facilities and that criminal justice without which European capital will take wings to itself and flee away. At present the revenue of the three provinces is nearly seventy-five lakhs of rupees. The single district of Rangoon alone yields upwards of twenty-two lakhs. Why, then, should a commissioner be paid to raise twelve and a-half lakhs, which is the yield of Moulmein, or six and a half, which is the revenue of Arracan? Of the sum of Rs. 11,700 at present spent per month on the three commissioners and their establishments, assign Rs. 3,000 to a judicial commissioner and quite enough will remain for the chief commissioner and his establishment, and for a financial secretary.

We submit that every consideration of military defence, administrative efficiency, and financial economy, is in favour of the amalgamation of Arracan, Pegu, and Tenasserim into the one great province of British Burmah. A few years more, when commerce recovers its elasticity, and the rice market of China is opened; when free trade and good roads unclog to us the frontiers of Burmah and Siam, if not of China; when all the Karens are Christianised, and the hills over which wild tribes now roam are dotted with the villages of peaceful peasants; when the population is doubled and the trade of the ports ten instead of five millions, a Lieutenant-governor shall rule in Rangoon, no longer a city of wood, and it may be, dictate terms to the court of Ava or the Mandarins of Yunnan.—Friend of India.

MISCELLANEOUS.

INSPECTORS OF SCHOOLS.—The following is an extract from a despatch, dated 30th April, 1860, from the Secretary of State to the Government of India:—"The resolution of the Lieutenant-governor, rendering the passing of an examination in the vernacular a necessary condition of continuing in employment as an inspector of schools, will put an end to the manifest absurdity of an officer being charged with the supervision and inspection of vernacular schools, who is altogether ignorant of the language in which the business of the school is carried on. The rule is in accordance with the instructions conveyed in paragraph three of my despatch dated 22nd December, No. 22, 1859, and I have to direct that it be communicated to the other presidencies, in order that if there are in them any officers in the department of education, who are unacquainted with the vernacular, they may be called on to undergo a similar examination." The Director of Public Instruction was requested by the Madras Government on the 9th July to give effect to the order contained in this despatch.

THE AMENDE HONORABLE.—The Madras Government have made a public apology to Mr. James Ochterlony, a coffee planter in the Wynad district. Sir Charles Trevelyan had determined that a tax should be levied on the cultivation and not on the extent of land held by grantees. It was objected that this would encourage speculators to buy up large tracts of forest land and so keep real planters out, and lead to land-jobbing. In an official paper Mr. Bourdillon, the secretary to Government, cited Mr. Ochterlony as an instance of a land-jobber. Mr. Ochterlony shows that he holds only 7,000 acres, of which a large portion is not fit for coffee; of the balance 2,800 acres are set aside for coffee, and 1,000 acres are under cultivation. Government has published Mr. Ochterlony's letter with their apology.

MADRAS IRRIGATION COMPANY.—When almost too late the Madras Government has arrested the works of the Madras Irrigation Company. Now that Arthur Cotton has gone, Col. Lawford, the Government engineer, objects to the Company's schemes, on the ground of the bad sanitary effect of extensive irrigation; of the plans being far too extensive in comparison with the population to be remunerative; and that irrigation and navigation in combination are impossible. The plans of the company are vast—to construct the Maury tank in Mysore by which to irrigate one and a quarter millions of acres in Mysore, Bellary, and Kurnool, to make a navigation canal from the Toombuddra to the Krishna, to render the Pennair navigable, and to unite it with the East Coast Canal. A decision rests with the Secretary of State. Interest on the Company's capital is guaranteed, so that the shareholders will be indifferent to delay.

HYDERABAD, July 25.—This Government, which had given up all expectation of receiving any boon from the English Government, has been agreeably surprised by the restoration to it of Raichore and Darashew, two of the assigned districts, and of Shorapoor, which was captured by the English during the convulsions from its rebel Zemindar, the whole yielding a revenue of fourteen lakhs Company's rupees, equal to eighteen lakhs of Hyderabad rupees a year. This is a sufficient and generous recompense to the Nizam's Government for its fidelity to its alliance, and, what is more, I believe it to be satisfactory to the members of the Government. If this cession be allowed to pass in its integrity into the hands of the Minister, we may expect to find order restored to the finances, and the debts of the Government gradually discharged; but as it is quite impossible that perverse actions should not occasionally invade the system for good, which (though not often) sometimes obtains in a Native Government, and is now conspicuous in all things in the Nizam's Government in which the Minister is permitted to exercise uninterrupted authority, the English Government would do more good by looking to the prevention of these than it will have done even by the recompense it has made to the Nizam. Besides the above gift the Nizam will be presented with British manufactures to the amount of a lakh of rupees. The Minister, Mookhtar-ool-moolk, is highly extolled for his conduct, the English Government in express terms acknowledging gratitude to him for his services. Let this not be forgotten by it in the day of his need, if that ever come. He is to be presented similarly with British manufactures to the amount of thirty thousand rupees. Shums-ool-oomrah will be presented with a similar gift, but the reason assigned for it as given me is not comprehensible. Shums-ool-oomrah is complimented for having, though at the head of a large force, remained quiet (sakit) during the rebellion. I give you this account, though I do not believe it, for I may possibly not obtain any other version. No new treaty is to be made; then I presume the new arrangements will be entered upon the old treaty in clauses. The subsidiary arrangements are that the English Government gives up its debt of fifty-five lakhs of rupees, and the Nizam's on its part, asks for no account of the management of the assigned districts. There is to be besides an interchange of certain talooks and towns to clear away the intermixture of the assigned country with the Nizam's, which had not been provided against by the treaty of 1853. The gift of the British Government to the Nizam is generous. It retains only as much country as will cover by its revenues the charge of the contingent. Query, the net charge? If so, the supernumerary expenses will be defrayed by it, and this cannot be inconsiderable. The English Government has asked and obtained from the Nizam the cession of a small tract of land on the Godavery, giving a revenue of twenty thousand rupees a year. —Englishman.

THE MILD HINDOO AGAIN.—We (Bangalore Herald) have seen a letter from the Neilgherries to a friend at this station, which contains a sad piece of intelligence. The wife of the Band Sergeant of the Rifles, and niece of Mr. Dawson, came from Jackatallah to Ootacamund on a visit; and on her return on horseback alone she was met by some ruffian fellows, taken from her horse, and tied with her back to a tree, where she was found by some of her friends in a most deplorable state. She was, when the letter was despatched, in a dying state. In a subsequent missive she is reported dead. It is said one of the men is in custody, and we sincerely hope the others will speedily be discovered and punished with the utmost rigour of the law.

TEGU AND TENASSERIM PROVINCES.—The formation of a distinct geological survey party for the Pegu and Tenasserim provinces has been sanctioned by Government at a monthly cost of 1,500 rupees. The State prisoners at Rangoon, the King of Delhi and his coadjutors, cost 631-7-6 rupees monthly, besides an allowance of 200 rupees to the officer who looks after them.

COMMERCIAL.

Madras, August 14, 1860.

BANK OF MADRAS.

Interest on Loans on deposit of Gov. Securities ...	5 per ct.
On Cash Credits on do. (subject to commission of 1 per cent. on the sum granted) on amount drawn	5 per ct.
Discount on Government Bills	4 per ct.
Do. on Private Bills, at or within 3 months	7 per ct.

EXCHANGES.

Document Bills, at 6 months' sight	2 04
Credit, to 6 months'	2 04
Agents' Bills on England, at 6 months	2 0
" " " 3 do.	1 11 1/2
" " " 1 do.	1 11 1/2
" " " Sight	1 11 1/2
H.M. Treasury Bills	none
Bank of England Post Bills	none
Mauritius Government Bills	nominal
Ceylon do.	"
Court of Directors' Bill on the Government of Bengal, 30 days' sight	None
Agents' Bills on Calcutta, 30 days	1/2 per cent. pm.
Do. on Bombay	1/2 "

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.

54 per cent. Loan	1859 .. 3 to 3 1/2 pm.
5 per cent. ditto	1856-57 .. 1 1/2 to 2 dis.
4 per cent.	1852-53 ..)
"	1855-56 ..) 16 dis.
"	1852-53 ..)
"	1854-55 ..)
5 per cent. Transferable Book Debt	No transacts.
Tanjore Bonds	1/2 per ct. dis.
Bank of Madras Shares	8 prem.

PRICE OF BULLION.

Sovereigns

RATES OF ADVANCE.

On Govt. 54 per cent. Promissory Notes	98 per ct.
Do. 4 1/2 do. do.	80 per ct.
Do. 5 do. do.	93 per ct.
Do. 4 per cent. Stock Receipts	80 per ct.
Do. 4 per cent. Promissory Notes Sicca	80 per ct.
Do. 4 per cent. do. Company's	80 per ct.
Do. 3 1/2 do. do. do.	— per ct.
On Tanjore do. do. do.	96 per ct.

FREIGHTS.

Quotations to London & Liverpool, £2. 5s. to £3.

BOMBAY.

WHAT IS THE INDIAN NAVY?

The Indian navy is a small collection of ships and steamers employed between the two extreme points of the Persian Gulf and the Chinese waters, centering at Bombay as their headquarters. The service on board these ships is performed by men holding commissions as naval officers, and whose circumstances are supposed to resemble those of officers in the royal navy, their rank being similar, and their pay adjusted so as to render the advantages, taking the differences of climate and situation as to expense into consideration, pretty nearly equal in both. This is doubtless the general impression at home; and as the officers in the smaller service number amongst them men equal in science, enterprise, bravery, and all the other requisites of an efficient servant of the Crown, to the most distinguished men in the royal navy,—the impression that they are upon the whole equally remunerated, certainly ought to be the true one. This little service, at the present day, numbers some adventurous and world-known explorers, whose energy in the dangerous heat and parched plains of Africa may be held to equal that displayed by a few from amongst a much larger service, amid the no less deadly regions of the Northern Seas.

Let us now inquire into the truth or otherwise of the idea that equal justice is done to the two services. A correspondent thus puts the case of two brothers, the elder of whom enters the Indian, and the younger the Royal navy. The elder boy was eager to go to sea; and his parents, thinking probably of the magnificence of the "gorgeous East," at once made inquiries at the India-house. But in that stately establishment the Company's naval service was scarcely recognised, and little known; and the officials kept the inquiring papa and anxious mother in the dark respecting it, parrying their attempts to elicit information with some such general remark as, "the young gentleman will probably be a lieutenant in four or five years," and representing that a midshipman commences his career on more than double the pay he would receive in the Royal navy. The father, at hazard, sends his son to Bombay, and considers him provided for. But is he so? The lad soon discovers that his Rs. 50 of monthly pay, after deducting fund and mess subscriptions, will barely suffice to keep him in clothes; and the problem, how he is to clothe his growing person, and keep out of debt, is soon solved by being found insoluble. The Indian midshipman likewise discovers, to his extreme disgust, that a few steamers, two or three sailing vessels of war, and one or two surveying ships, form the whole of what is grandiloquently termed a "navy." His younger brother in the meanwhile enters the Royal service, and although in no way superior in education or in talent, yet what with his chances in the Crimea, or in the Baltic, or China seas, attains in twenty-one years the rank of post captain and the honours of a C.B.

The unfortunate elder one still plods on, a lieutenant of fourteen years' standing, making what head he may against a climate which sends him home on sick-leave, if he can afford it; and if not—to his grave. And his pay is so small that he cannot afford it, unless by borrowing the necessary funds. The "Royal" officer, in the same unhealthy seas, which he is rarely called to visit, has his allowances increased to more than the amount of those enjoyed by his Indian equal in rank, who has borne the burden and heat of the day. Numberless other instances might be given of the difference between the circumstances of officers in the two services. The commander of a Royal ship is allowed freight on Government treasure, while the Indian captain has none. On private treasure the proportion of freight allowed to the latter is so small as not even to balance the risk he is obliged individually to bear. The shore allowances of an Indian naval officer are also shamefully inadequate to his expenses. In short, the whole subject of the pay and promotion of the service is one requiring immediate and thorough revision.

Amalgamation, to which the Indian army is so averse, is what the Indian navy looks forward to with hope. We have heard a great deal in the last two or three years of the grievances of this and that branch of the service, and of that other one; but we doubt if amongst them all they can make out a case more urgently demanding relief. But one feeling pervades the Indian navy; and the discipline and efficiency of the service under discouragements so profound, are equally honourable and marvellous. A sailor is not easily induced to take up the pen, but we do earnestly invite the officers of the Indian navy to make an appeal to public opinion through our columns. Let the service either be amalgamated with the Royal navy, or put upon a footing of equality therewith. The suspense in which its officers at present stand ought not to be permitted to continue. The position and circumstances of the Indian navy would have demoralized any body of men in whom the sense of duty was not unusually strong, years ago, and we cannot but be conscious of some indignation that Royal officers have been content, year after year, to command this gallant and distinguished little service, without an effort to secure for it the status and the consideration to which it is entitled, and which we take the liberty to add must be accorded it.—Bombay Times.

MISCELLANEOUS.

RAO DAISSULJEE, Rao of Cutch, who died on the 26th July, was one of the most respectable of the native princes of India, and the Supreme Government have lost in him a faithful ally. In the Scinde, Punjab and Affghan campaigns, and lastly in the Indian mutiny, this prince rendered us important and hearty service, and we are glad to find the Crown has testified its sense of these services by remitting the tribute of two lakhs per annum hitherto exacted from this little kingdom. His Highness Rao Daissuljee was born in 1817, and succeeded to the Gaddee at the early age of four years, in pursuance of the treaty made between his father, the late Rao Bharmaljee, and the British Government. A regency was appointed to manage the kingdom during his minority, which ended upon the young prince attaining his seventeenth year, in 1836. For many years he conducted the affairs of State with such vigour and prudence as to win the esteem of the Supreme Government and the regard of his subjects. The province was visited by no less than three famines during his reign, but the Rao had the credit of having humanely exerted himself to the utmost to alleviate the distress of his subjects therein. It was under Rao Daissuljee again that the practices of suttee and infanticide were suppressed, and the slave trade, for which Cutch was formerly notorious. To facilitate commerce, and develop the resources of his country, he abolished transit duties in the province, and constructed the road between Mandavee and Bhooj, spending also a large sum upon the pier at Toona Bunder. He opened a public school at Bhooj for the education of the young, and founded a hospital for the sick there also. Rao Daissuljee had the advantage of an education superintended by an English clergyman. The royal family of Cutch is a branch of the Jhareejah Rajpoots. The prince leaves five widows and three children (two sons and a daughter) surviving, and is succeeded on the Musnud by his elder son, Balooobha, under the title and designation of His Highness the Rao Pragmuljee, whose installation took place on Saturday morning, the 28th July, in the presence of Colonel Trevelyan, the resident, and several other European officers. The ceremony was as follows:—A royal tent was pitched opposite the chief entrance to the palace, in which was a simple bench, where the young prince early in the morning came and seated himself. A mattung (i.e. low caste priest) then entered the tent, and wounding one of his fingers with a knife, touched the lad's forehead with the blood, and stuck thereon a dozen pearls. The ceremony is called Teela, the common people performing it with a red paint (kunkoo), and a few grains of rice for pearls. The air was now rent with the clanging of wild native music. A shoemaker holds the State umbrella over the prince's head, while a Rajpoot (Seedhal) waves the Chunmer (or gold handled fly fan) over him. The Rajpoot now folded a turban of country cloth round the young man's head, when he rose and proceeded to the temple of Lukshmee Narayan, where he seated himself for half an hour upon a couple of mattresses spread upon a cot for a throne, to remind the prince it would seem of the lowly pretensions of his fathers in the far back time. He was now presented with the Uperna, or cloth of gold, in which, after robing himself, he went to the royal mint, where he took his stand upon a heap of uncoined money and ordered some pieces to be forthwith struck in his name. An incident in this part of the scene is worth noting. The Cutch coinage has hitherto borne on the reverse side the superscription of the Mogul sovereign of Delhi. On the present occasion this gave place to the superscription of Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen of India, whose name the Cutch money will henceforth bear; the name of Rao Shree Pragmuljee was on the other side. From the mint the prince proceeded to the temple of Ashapoor, whence he returned to the palace, and robing himself very richly, entered the apartment known as the palace of glasses (Aeenamehal) and held his first darbar to be received and recognised by his nobles as their sovereign. The darbar was attended by Colonel Trevelyan and several other officers. Colonel Trevelyan presented His Highness with a Khillat valued at Rs. 5,000 on the part of the Supreme Government, congratulating him upon his accession to the throne of his royal fathers. The Mahajuns and Karbarees then presented their Nuzuranas, and the darbar broke up.—Bombay Times.

UNITED SERVICE INSTITUTION, POONA.—The adjourned meeting of this institution assembled at the Mess-room of H. M.'s 25th Regiment N. L. I. at Poona on the 21st August, to receive the report of the committee appointed at the meeting of the 21st July, and it affords us great pleasure to be enabled to state that "The United Service Institution of Western India" is now an accomplished fact. The meeting was very well attended, and amongst those present we observed His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, the Lord Bishop of Bombay, the Honourable W. E. Frere, Commodore Wellesley, R.N., Major General Hale, Col. Lacy, Mr. D. Davidson, C.S., Col. Kirby, Col. Skinner, Col. Phayre, Col. Shute, Col. Buchanan, Col. Evans, Col. Grimes, Col. Stewart, Captain Hill, Dr. Turner, Captain Ker, Captain Francis, Rev. F. Gell, Col. Somerset, Col. FitzWygram, Col. Forster, Professor McDougall, Professor Draper, Mr. H. Coke, Major Stock, Major Wray, Col. Goodfellow, Captain McDonald, Captain Bythell, Col. Munbee, Major Wray, Captain G. Davison, Lieutenant R. T. Thompson, Lieutenant Young, Captain Eveyard, Major Schneider, Dr. Inglis, Dr. Maitland, Capt. Hill Wallace, Capt. Cowper, (engineers), Capt. Murray, &c. &c. After considerable discussion, three rupees per mensem was fixed as the subscription for resident members in Poona, and one rupee per mensem, or rupees 12 per annum, for non-resident members. The committee trust that these rates will secure the support of the great body of the united services at all stations in Western India. They propose that non-resident subscribers who come temporarily to Poona for less than three months shall have all the privileges of residents. Not the least interesting feature of the meeting was that on the list being sent round, donations to the amount of 3,280 rupees were subscribed on the spot, showing that the interest taken in the foundation of the institution on a firm basis is a genuine one.

NEW BARRISTERS.—The Bombay bar has received an accession of two more members by the arrival of Mr. John Philip Green and Mr. John Dunbar, by the last steamer from England. They took their usual oaths of admission on the 13th August before the judges of the Supreme Court.

DEATHS IN BOMBAY IN 1859-60.—A weekly contemporary has been at the trouble to find out the total number of deaths in the island of Bombay during the last year from the official mortuary returns. The total mortality during the year was slightly in excess of that of the preceding one, being 14,209, against 14,113 of the last year. The mean average of the last eleven years is 14,730. On an average, therefore, the mortality each day during the last year was nearly forty. In the order of caste, we observe the total mortality as follows:—

Caste.	1859-60.	1858-59.
Hindoos	9,328	9,178
Mahomedans	3,099	3,220
Parsees	710	725
Native Christians	504	497
Europeans	333	253
Negro Africans	112	156
Jews	59	35
Indo-Europeans	46	49
Unknown Caste	18	—
Total	14,209	14,113

It will be seen from the above table that the slightly increased mortality of the past year was shared by Hindoos, Jews, and Europeans, whilst among the other races it was nearly equal, or a little less. In the following table we give the percentage of the total deaths amongst each race, also the number of deaths each day on an average:—

RACE.	Per cent. of the total deaths.	Average No. of deaths each day.
Hindoos	65	25.6
Mahomedans	22	8.5
Parsees	5	1.9
Native Christians	3	1.4
Europeans	2	.9
Negro-Africans	8	1 every 3 days
Jews		1 " 6 "
Indo-Europeans		1 " 8 "
Unknown		1 " 20 "
	100

We now divide the total mortality in the order of the different diseases prevalent in this island:—

Disease.	1859-60.	1858-59.
Fever	7,010	7,384
Cholera	1,955	115
Alimentary system	1,499
Cachexy and Debility	1,031
Respiratory system	966
Nervous system	741
Small-pox	378	1,712
Accident and violence	189	161
Sexual system	145
Dropsy	123
Locomotive and Tegumentary system	78
Leprosy	38
Vascular system	29
Urinary system	11
Measles	10	6
Other and unknown causes	6

It will be seen from the above that the greatest number of deaths was from fever, being nearly half of the total mortality. Next in virulence stands cholera, the prevalence of which dire epidemic was enormously great during the last year, being nearly one-seventh of the total mortality, and 1,840 in excess of that of the previous year. The disease of the nervous system follows next, the total casualties registered from it being 1,499, or nearly one-tenth of the total deaths. The loss from cachexy and debility is not a small one, 1,031 being announced during the year. The returns from accidents and violence are a little over those of the preceding year, being 189 against 161. We are glad to observe that the mortality from small-pox was considerably less this year than the preceding one, being in the inverse ratio to cholera; 378 deaths were all that were reported during the year, against 1,712 in the previous year. We believe the advantages of vaccination are now widely known and appreciated by the natives. From measles the mortality during the whole year was only 10, being 4 in excess of the preceding week. We observe that the greatest mortality in our island in 1859-60 was during the month of June, while the smallest was in the month of October. During the week ending 15th June there occurred in our island 585 deaths, the mortality from cholera and fever alone amounted respectively to 315 and 103. In the previous year (1858-59) the greatest number of deaths took place during the week ending 10th March, when 460 deaths occurred. The fewest casualties this year occurred during the week ending 19th October, being 207 against 175 in the corresponding week in the previous year. The greatest number of deaths took place in the months of June, July, and December, being more than three hundred each week, the maximum, as we have stated above, being 585 for one week. During the remaining nine months the mortality was less than 300, the minimum being 207. We subjoin in the following table the greatest and the smallest number of persons of each sect who died during the week:—

DURING ONE WEEK.
Caste.	Greatest.	Smallest.
Hindoo	435	131
Mahomedans	106	38
Parsees	22	6
Native Christians	20	2
Europeans	22	2
Negro-Africans	8	0
Jews	5	0
Indo-Europeans	4	0
Unknown Caste	2	0

Besides this total mortality—14,209—331 still-born births took place in the island during the past year.—Bombay Gazette.

REMOVAL OF THE SEAT OF GOVERNMENT TO POONA.—We (Poona Observer) are informed on good authority that the whole question of the removal of the seat of Government from Bombay to Poona is now under reference to the Secretary of State for India. The reply will not be long delayed, and as the removal has been rendered imperative by a "concatenation of circumstances," not the least amongst which is the extortionate demands of the Bombay landlords for an excessive rent on buildings occupied by Government offices, we can have no doubt as to the result.

SCINDA.—The prospects of the khurreef cultivation in Scinda are very unfavourable, owing to the want of water. The river has fallen considerably, and there has been no rain. The rice seedlings are drying up; cattle are dying daily from drought, and many of the cultivators are leaving the fields in despair. At Kurrachee the want of rain is seriously felt. The price of ghee has risen from Rs. twenty-four to twenty-seven per maund. Grass is scarce, and the supply of lucerne has failed in the Government gardens.

THE MHOW DIVISION.—The distribution of the European cavalry in the Mhow division will, in future, be as follows:—Head-quarters and two squadrons at Mhow; one squadron Nusseerabad; one ditto Neemuch. European Infantry.—4th Foot, head-quarters wing from Ahmedabad to Ahmednuggur, detaching one company to Asseerghur to relieve the company 28th foot, which will join its own regiment. 56th foot from Poona and Ahmednuggur, head-quarters and four companies, Bombay; three companies Ahmedabad, and three companies Sattara. 83rd foot.—Wing from Kolapoor to Belgum, to join head-quarters. 95th foot from Neemuch will move, but its destination is not yet fixed. 1st Bombay (fusiliers) from Belgum to Poona, to relieve the 56th. 2nd European light infantry from Bombay to Neemuch, will first join the companies of instruction at Poona in December, and afterwards proceed to Neemuch to relieve the 95th regt. NATIVE INFANTRY.—1st Grenadier N.I. from Kurrachee to Bhooj. 12th regt. N.I., from Nusseerabad to Surat, to relieve the 16th regt. N.I. 15th regt. N.I. from Poona to Aden, exchanging with 29th regt. N.I. 16th regt. N.I. from Surat to Rajcote, to relieve the 17th regt. N.I. 17th regt. N.I., from Rajcote to Nusseerabad, to relieve the 12th regt. N.I. 20th regt. N.I. from Dharwar to Dhoolia, exchanging station. 26th regt. N.I. from Dhoolia to Dharwar, exchanging station. 29th regt. N.I. from Aden to Poona, exchanging with 15th regt. N.I.

THE MONSOON.—The total fall of rain at Bombay, up to the 17th August inclusive, is as follows:—At Byculla, 66 in. 22 cts.; in the Fort, 60 in. 10 cts.; and at Colaba, 51 in. 5 cts.

RELIEFS.—The following reliefs for the season 1860-61 have received the sanction of Government, and will be carried out under orders that will be communicated hereafter to officers commanding divisions and brigades by the Quarter-master-general of the Army:—ROYAL ARTILLERY.

—No. 7 battery from Poona to Nusseerabad, Bombay Artillery, 3rd troop horse artillery, from Nusseerabad to Poona, changing station; 1st company 1st battalion from Ahmedabad to Poona, relieved by 3rd company 3rd battalion, to leave battery at Ahmedabad and take up battery of 3rd company 3rd battalion at Poona; 2nd company 2nd battalion from Sattara to Belgum, with field battery attached; agreeably to Government Resolution No. 2,490, 13th July, 1860, detailing or second battery for Belgum. 3rd company 2nd battalion from Sholapoor to Kurrachee, to leave battery at Sholapoor, and take up battery of 4th company 3rd battalion at Kurrachee. 3rd company 3rd battalion from Kolapoor to Ahmedabad, to leave battery at Poona en route, and take up battery of 1st company 1st battalion at Ahmedabad. 4th company 3rd battalion from Kurrachee to Sholapoor, to leave battery at Kurrachee, and take up battery of 3rd company 2nd battalion at Sholapoor. —CAVALRY.—3rd Dragoon Guards from Mhow will move from Mhow Division, station not yet fixed. 8th Hussars from Nusseerabad to Mhow to relieve 3rd Dragoon Guards, detaching one squadron to Nusseerabad, and one squadron to Neemuch.

THE G. I. P. RAILWAY seems to be pursued with singular good fortune in its accidents. It contrives somehow or other to smash its engines into fragments, and its carriages into splinters, without damaging either engineers, stokers, or passengers. We trust the same luck may ever attend it. The night train from Bombay on Friday, August 17, while proceeding up the incline that leads into the "Llanowlee Locomotive Station," where the large engine is detached, and while travelling at about five miles an hour (says the report) struck off the line into a siding, encumbered with a train of waggons, into which the train ran with great violence. The engine broke away at the points, pursuing the proper line, the coupling irons having snapped. One carriage, in which were eight soldiers, a little girl, and two European gentlemen, was smashed to pieces, and how the inmates escaped destruction is marvellous. The only injury sustained was by Mr. T. Roper, one of the gentlemen in question, whose leg was severely crushed. The van next the engine was uninjured. The next carriage was a third class one, containing forty or fifty passengers, none of whom were hurt, although the carriage was thrown flat on its side, and at the end had to be broken to get the passengers out.

Mr. THOMAS has returned from England, to resume his duties as third magistrate of Bombay, which have been conducted during his temporary absence by Mr. E. Leake. We learn that the clerks of the Central Police Court contemplate presenting Mr. Leake with a gold watch, accompanied by a suitable address, in recognition of his affable and considerate conduct towards them.

H.M.'s 64TH.—The order for the removal of H.M.'s 64th Foot from Kurrachee to Hyderabad has been countermanded, as the authorities at head-quarters considered it would be inflicting a hardship upon the men again to send them up country. This regiment has been twelve years in India, six of which have been spent in Sind, and three in the field. It appears that this corps is to go to Poona or Belgum in the approaching winter, and will be relieved by H.M.'s 51st from Mean Meer, or the 57th from Bombay.

THE OPIUM DUTY.—The opium merchants of Bombay have addressed a petition to Sir George Clerk, to support before the Supreme Government their very reasonable remonstrance against the threatened unwarrantable increase next month (September) on the duty of Malwa opium to Rs. 600, and possibly at the end of the year to Rs. 700, a chest. They point to the incontrovertible facts, that the yield of opium of Malwa and Bengal is falling off, that the price of Indian opium in the Chinese market is already higher than that of the drug produced in China itself, or imported from other countries, and that the soil of China is eminently favourable to the cultivation of the poppy, so that the competition is sure to increase. All these arguments were dwelt upon by Mr. Wilson in his financial statement. The late minister also stated, as one of the reasons for imposing new taxes, that the opium revenue had decreased; yet he deliberately sinned against the principles of free trade by loading the drug with a duty that will soon drive it out of the market.

INDIAN WITCHES.—The people of Gwalior, says the Englishman, discovered a sorceress the other day, through whose fancied spells a great number of women died; a number of people recognising her, made a rush upon her and killed her. A similar case occurred in the village of Kerowlee, Tanna, on the 24th of February last. A woman of the name of Jewlee was murdered by eight men, because she had the reputation of being a witch, and was supposed to have caused the death of human beings and cattle by witchcraft. One of the prisoners, at his trial, added that the witchcraft of the deceased had killed his sister a month before. All the prisoners were convicted, and sentenced to transportation for life. Happily, however, as observed by one of the reviewing judges, it must by this time be well known throughout the Konkun that belief in a person being a witch does not justify homicide.

THE COMMERCIAL BANK has declared a dividend of 8 per cent. per annum, or Rs. 20 per share, for the half year ending 30th June last.

DEATH OF MR. JOSEPH JACKSON.—We regret to announce the demise of Mr. Joseph Jackson, at the Adelphi Hotel, on the night of the 9th Aug., from dysentery. The deceased was a contractor of the Great Indian Peninsula Railway Company for the Thul Ghaut portion of the Wassind line, which was rapidly progressing under his careful and energetic superintendence. He leaves a widow and child, and a large circle of sorrowing friends.

MR. C. J. ERSKINE.—The Honourable the Governor of Bombay has appointed Mr. C. J. Erskine to be member, for the presidency of Bombay, of the Legislative Council of India.

FACT AND FICTION.—It is stated that one of the Hindoo theatrical companies in Bombay has applied to the Right Honourable the Governor in Council for permission to enact, on the boards of the Grant-road Theatre, a drama relating to the Cawnpore Massacre of 1857.

ARTILLERY HEAD-QUARTERS.—It is confidently asserted that the head-quarters of the Artillery are to be removed from Ahmednuggur to Kirkee, and that the Cavalry are henceforward to be stationed at Ahmednuggur. We suppose there is a desire to have the Artillery within easier reach of Bombay, should the defenceless state of our island and harbour form too strong a temptation to some of our faithful allies.

CRIM. CON.—Summonses were issued on Friday, the 3rd August, in an action of crim. con., brought by Colonel Gore Boland Munbee against Captain Charles Payne Barras, in which the damages have been assessed at Rs. 20,000. The case was set down for hearing in the third plea side term of this year, which commenced on the 25th Aug. Messrs. L. and S. L. Acland and Prentiss are the solicitors for the plaintiff, and Messrs. Bowyer and Crawford for the defendant.

INCOME-TAX COMMISSIONERS.—Mr. Spooner, Commissioner of Customs; Mr. Lodwick, Civil Auditor; and Mr. Reid, Magistrate of Angria's Colaba, have been appointed commissioners for the Income-tax in the Bombay presidency.

SHIPPING.

ARRIVALS.

Aug. 8. Nasaree, White, Mauritius; Faluca Saden, Tabernor, Hong Kong; Jorne Durhan, Effehrn, Macao.—10. Str. Madras, Browne, Suez; Silistria, Matter, Aden.—11. Str. Bombay, Potts, Suez.—14. Arlington, Horton, Sydney.—15. Tomogonops, Por, London; Bonne Mere, Chable, Mauritius; Brewster, Clerk, Boston.—16. Melbourne, Morris, Melbourne.—17. Empress Eugenie, Nattrass, London; Telemach, Gardes, Aden; Montague, Broadfoot, London.—20. Str. Singapore, Curling, Hong Kong.—21. Anne De Bre agne, Barguttiet, Nantes.—22. Sir Charles Napier, Scott, Juddah; str. Scindian, Beyts, Kurrachee.—23. Jessore, Gachet, Bordeaux.

not to give way to such foolish thoughts. Besides this, it was a lucky thing that the King of Bookhara, having divided the country amongst both tribes, recrossed the Hamoon and marched towards his capital, otherwise if he had remained only four or five days longer in the disturbed place, it would have been a very difficult job for Ufzul Khan to keep the country. Since the departure of the King, the rebels have commenced to present themselves before the Sirdar to make up with him. The King is gone to Bookhara, and his son is at a place called Kurrun.—July 14.—The durbar was held as usual. Ameer Dost Mohamed Khan, turning towards Sirdar Sooltan Mohamed Khan, asked him the reason of his son's delaying in the Killa Kazee, and not obeying his (the Ameer's) order to march to Toorkistan? Sooltan Mohamed said, in reply, that they were ready to do so, but having been desired by Sirdar Shere Allee Khan to wait and to accompany him, they were obliged to comply with his wishes. On this the Ameer got angry, arguing with the Sirdar that it was not his object that they should march along with Shere Allee Khan's camp, and ordered Sooltan Mohamed to get Shere Allee Khan back to Cabool, as he does not wish to send him to Toorkistan. It was heard by the Paish Khidmut that Shere Allee Khan arrived at Cabool in the evening, and the Ameer held a Council in the Sheesha-khana, which was attended by Sirdars Sooltan Mohamed Ghoolam, Mohamed Mookhtear and Shere Allee Khan. They were discussing some important matter for a long time, but it was kept a secret.—July 15.—Sirdar Mohamed Ufzul Khan's urzee was this day received from Toorkistan, in which he informed the Ameer that the King of Bookhara had marched back to the seat of his Government, and that the Hakim of Shiburghan had sent his Mootbir (a confidential servant) to him to settle affairs. It is very likely that in some two or three days matters will be settled to his satisfaction, and the Shiburghanees will come to ask his forgiveness. He also told the Ameer that he had received news from Bookhara to the effect that the King of Kokan had declared himself to be independent, and that the Hakeem of Shuhur Subz had privately joined with the King of Kokan. The King of Bookhara intended to march to Kokan, and has already sent some of his troops to Kirchee. The brother of the Khan of Kokan had come to Bookhara, but it is not known for what; Mohamed Ufzul Khan requested the Ameer in his letter, not to send so many troops to Toorkistan as written before, but only five or six thousand of all arms, which would be quite sufficient to take Mamana. He said he had got troops enough to post in different places in Toorkistan. The Ameer was overjoyed to hear all this news, and said in the durbar that until these Toorkistanees people are taught a good lesson they will not remain quiet.—July 16.—Shah Ghasse Khankool Khan died to-day. The Ameer and Ghoolam Mohamed Khan Mookhtear, went to his house as customary. In the evening the Ameer was inspecting his stable when the Kotwal of the city brought to him two men who had stolen about three hundred rupees worth of property from the Serai of the mother of late Mohamed Ukber Khan. The Ameer having asked a few questions, ordered the property to be given back to the owner and the thieves to be punished. The Kotwal fined one of them, who was a Hindoo, 200 rupees, and ordered the ears of the other to be cut, and proclaimed in the city.—July 18.—Ameen-ood-dowlah Khan, son of Sirdar Shooja-ood-dowlah Khan, who has just come from Toorkistan, attended the durbar to pay his respects to the Ameer. On his being asked by the Dost why he had left Balkh without his permission, he replied, that when the Ameer sent him to Toorkistan he was ordered to remain there only for one year; now, as the time had expired, and besides this, Mohamed Ufzul Khan had taken Surboud and Sungjaruk, he did not see any harm in coming home, but if the Ameer was displeased with him for so doing, he would go back to Toorkistan at once. The Ameer was quite pleased with his discourse, and told him that he was welcome to remain in Cabool till further orders. Ghoolam Mohamed Khan Mookhtear informed the Ameer that Sirdar Shere Allee Khan was ready to pay three lacs of rupees if the Ameer would keep him from going to Toorkistan. For some time the Ameer remained quiet, thinking upon the subject. At last he agreed to the proposal of Ghoolam Mohamed.—July 19.—This morning Dost Mohamed Khan ordered eighty ponies to be hired and to be sent to Sirdars Mohamed Oosman Khan and Uslum Khan to accompany their camp to Toorkistan. The Ameer wrote to the above said Sirdars to march to Toorkistan without any delay, and to send back Shere Allee Khan to Cabool. Mohamed Oosman Khan having received this direction, lost no time in replying to the Ameer's letter, in which he said that he had far from good health, and as his brother Sirdar Kadur Khan was going with the army, he would feel very much obliged if the Ameer would excuse him from going to Toorkistan. No sooner had Dost Mohamed received this answer than he got enraged, and said that this is always the case with these Sirdars. He trusted in Sirdar Oosman Khan, and hoped that he would undoubtedly go to Toorkistan, but he too brings some excuse or the other, like the other Sirdars. The Ameer asked Ghoolam Mohamed's opinion about the subject. He said that in his opinion it was better not to send any Cabool Sirdar to Toorkistan, because none of them would ever agree with Ufzul Khan. At last it was settled that only the troops under Uslum Khan and Kadur Khan were to march to Toorkistan, and all the other Sirdars were to come back to Cabool. Accordingly orders were sent to Sirdar Peer Mohamed and the sons of Sooltan Mohamed at Killa Kazee to come back to Cabool, and send the army assembled at that place under Sirdar Uslum Khan and Kadur Khan. Shere Allee Khan was directed to pay the three lacs which he promised without any delay, which he obeyed.—July 20.—A letter was this day received from the wife of Sirdar Sooltan Ahmed Jan (the daughter of the Ameer) from Herat, in which she told her father and mother that the Sirdar had got higher rank and honours from the King of Persia than what he had before. He has got Herat as a permanent jageer, and is now on his way to Herat. She also told him that all the enemies of the Sirdars have been slighted and shamed, and now there was no fear of anything whatsoever. She further promised in the letter to send more news to the Ameer on Sirdar Sooltan Ahmed's arrival at Herat. In the evening the Ameer received intelligence to the effect that the Salam Khyle people had attacked the Jugdul-luck Thana, and had wounded the Thanadar of that place. The Ameer ordered the Pulsee people, who are connected with the Salam Khyle, to go and bring the criminals at once.—Delhi Gazette.

THE INDIA-HOUSE LIBRARY.—The India-house library, now about to be removed to the offices of the Board of Control, Cannon-row, contains upwards of 24,000 volumes of every class of Eastern literature, of which 8,000 are manuscript; this latter portion is famous throughout the world of literature as containing the choicest collection of Sanscrit and Persian MSS. extant. In this library is the famous Koran, written on vellum, in the ancient Cufic character, by the Caliph Othman III., about 35 of the Hegir (A.D. 655). There is also a portion of the Koran written by Huzut Ali, son-in-law of Mahomet, with the seal of Timour and other kings of Persia; and a memorandum written by Shah Jehan, referring to his having given 1,500 golden mohurs for it. The printed library contains the most unique collection of works on all subjects relating to India, China, and the Archipelago. The Secretary of State for India has determined to maintain and extend the library of the India-office, and render it as perfect as possible.

Official Gazette.

BENGAL.

BY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL.

COMMISSARIAT APPOINTMENTS.

Lieut. C. S. W. Ogilvie, 5th Eur. regt., dep. asst. commissary gen., 2nd class, and acting dep. asst. commissary gen., 1st class, to be dep. asst. commissary gen., 1st class, v. Maj. Dickens.

Capt. J. S. Ogilvie, 48th N.I., sub-asst. commissary gen., 1st class, on leave, to be dep. asst. commissary gen., 2nd class, v. Lieut. C. S. W. Ogilvie.

Capt. T. W. Holland, 38th L.I., sub-asst. commissary gen., 2nd class, and acting sub-asst. commissary gen., 1st class, to be sub-asst. commissary gen., 1st class, v. Capt. J. S. Ogilvie.

No. 794.—The undermentioned officer is perm. to proc. to Europe, on leave of abs. on sick cert.:

Asst. surg. A. G. Crewe, med. dep., offic. civil asst. surg., Purneah, for 15 mo., under new regts.

Foreign Dep., Fort William, August 3.—Lieut. H. Fraser, asst. gen. superint. of operations for the suppression of thuggee and dacoity, at Nagpore, received charge of his office on the 21st ult.

Public Works Dep., August 3.—The undermentioned engineer probationers, sent out from England under covenant with the Sec. of State for India, are app. to the public works dept. as 2nd class asst. engr., and posted as follows:—

To the Punjab.—Messrs. W. Stevens, J. H. Lyons, A. Byrne, and J. W. Wright.

To the (irrigation dept.) N.W. Provinces.—Messrs. J. C. Cleland and T. Jones.

Home Dept., Fort William, August 6.—Orders by the Right hon. the Secy. of State for India, dated May 31.—The underment. civ. serv. has been per. to res. the serv.:—Mr. A. J. Hay.

August 7.—H.E. the Gov. gen. in Council is pleased to attach Mr. H. Morris, of the C.S., reported qualified for the public serv., to N.W.P., the Punjab, and Oude.

Rev. A. W. Irwin, app. an asst. chaplain on Bengal estab., rep. his arr. on 29th ult., per str. Candia.

Mr. Irwin's serv. are placed at disposal of the govt. of the N.W.P.

Foreign Dept., Aug. 4.—Appointments:—

Mr. G. E. Barr to be coll. of customs at Bassein.

Mr. H. P. Ouslow to be coll. of customs at Meccaday.

PROMOTIONS IN PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Public Works Dept., Aug. 7.—Promotions.—H.E. the Gov. Gen. in Council is pleased to make the following promotion to fill vacancies in the dept. of public works:—

To be a superintg. engr. of the 3rd class:—

Capt. F. P. Layard, 19th N.I., but to continue to offic. as superintg. engr. of 2nd class.

Capt. F. Alexander, art. Meerut div.; Maj. H. A. Browlow, engr., Eastern Jumna Canals; Maj. J. J. McLeod Innes, engr., garrison engr. Fort William; and Capt. T. C. Merrick, 4th Eur. regt., Lower Central div., Ganges Canal.

To be executive engrs. of the 2nd class:—

Mr. T. W. Armstrong, C.E., Nuddea Rivers; Capt. S. Black, 37th N.I., Lahore div.; Lieut. G. P. de P. Falconnet, Madras engr., Thyet Myo div. (temp. while employed in the Pegu Circle); Lieut. W. R. Johnson, 39th Madras N.I., South Astagram div. (Mysore); Capt. D. Limond, engr., Cawnpore div.; Mr. W. Smith, C.E., Burdwan div.; Lieut. S. T. Trevor, engr., asst. to chief engr. of Pegu (temp. while employed in the Pegu Circle); and Lieut. W. R. Tucker, engr., Fyzabad div.

To be Executive Engineers of the 3rd Class.—Mr. F. R. Boyce, offic. asst. to chief engr., and sec. to Govt. of Bengal; Lieut. W. H. Campbell, 45th Madras N.I., North Astagram div. (Mysore); Capt. C. Dumbleton, 4th Eur. L.C., 7th div., Grand Trunk Road; Mr. T. S. Isaac, C.E., Calcutta canals; Capt. A. K. Moffat, 58th N.I., Lower Sirhind div.; Lieut. J. L. Watts, engr., Agra div.; Lieut. H. E. Whish, 26th N.I., Etawah terminal div., Ganges canal.

To be Executive Engineers of the 4th Class, or Special Assistants.—Mr. O. H. Clark, Chittledroog div. (Mysore); Lieut. W. Jeffreys, engr., Western Jumna Canals; Mr. H. Prince, C.E., Iron Bridge-ward, special asst.; Lieut. E. Sweetnam, 45th N.I., Futtahgur div.; Capt. R. H. Tullloh, 16th N.I., Azimgurh div.

To be Assistant Engineers of the 1st class.—Mr. M. Duell, 2nd div., Grand Trunk Road; Lieut. J. Eckford, engr., Roorkie workshops; Lieut. A. McNeill, engr., Berhampore div.; Ens. A. Monies, unatt., Peshawar div.; Ens. H. J. Nuthall, H.M.'s 56th regt., Lucknow div.; Lieut. E. T. Thackeray, engr., office. asst. to chief engr. of Oude; Lieut. D. Ward, engr., Fyzabad div.

The Gov. gen. in Council is pleased to make the foll. appts.:

Capt. E. L. Earle, of art., to be an exec. engr. of 3rd class, and posted to the Western Jumna canals.

Mr. J. Kemp to be an asst. supervisor in public works dept., in Mysore.

Capt. F. W. Peile, 2nd class exec. engr., Allahabad div., to offic. temp. as superint. engr., 2nd circle, N.W.P.

Capt. J. R. Martin, 1st class asst. engr., to offic. temp. as exec. engr., Allahabad div.

Mr. E. Corcoran is app. a temp. asst. overseer in the public works dept., and posted to Pegu.

Mily. Dept., Fort William, Aug. 7.—No. 822.—The undermen. gent. to be a cadet for the engr. in H.M.'s Indian mil. forces, at the pres. of Bengal. He is accordingly admitted into the serv.:

Engrs.—Mr. E. A. Trevor; date of arr. at Fort William, July 30.

No. 823.—The undermen. officer is perm. to proc. to Eur., on leave, on m.c.:

Asst. surg. H. Webster, Madras medical dept., for 15 mo., under new regs.

No. 825.—Appointment.—Punjab Irreg. Force.—Lieut. F. J. N. Mackenzie, 52nd N.I., adjt. of 9th irreg. cav., to be staff officer, v. Capt. Graydon, res.

No. 827.—Mr. St. G. Kirke, whose app. as a cadet of inf. on this estab. was announced in G. G. O. No. 896, of June 21, 1859, having satisfied Govt. on the points of qualification prescribed by existing regs., is admitted into the serv. as a cadet of inf., from July 6, and prom. to rank of ens., leaving date of his comm. for future adjustment.

No. 828.—Her Majesty has been pleased to app. the undermen. gentleman to be an asst. surg. in H.M.'s Indian mil. forces at the pres. of Bengal. He is accordingly admitted into the serv.

Med. Dept.—Mr. G. W. Jameson; date of arr. at Fort William, Aug. 4.

No. 829.—The undermen. officer is per. to proc. to Eur. on leave, m.c.:—Lieut. C. E. Benthall (cav.), do. du. with 4th Eur. L.C., for 18 mo., under new regs.

No. 830.—The undermen. officers have rep. their return from England:—

Capt. R. W. Clifford, 2nd Eur. L.C.; date of arr. at Fort William, June 27.

Capt. H. T. Pollock, 35th N.I., and Capt. and brev. maj. H. Nicoll, 50th N.I., brig. maj. Delhi; date of arr. at Fort William, July 30.

BY THE LIEUT. GOVERNOR.

July 31.—Appointments.—Mr. R. Fryer to offic. as civil asst. surg. of Bancoorah.

Mr. J. J. Durant to offic. as civil asst. surg. of Pooree.

Mr. F. W. A. De Faback to offic. as civil asst. surg. of Purneah.

August 1.—Mr. F. J. Cockburn to offic. as coll. of customs at Calcutta.

July 31.—Leave of absence.—Mr. T. Wilson, sub-dep. opium agent of Benares and Mirzapore, for 3 mo., making over chg. of his office to Mr. Cosserat, who will conduct the duties thereof during Mr. Wilson's absence, or until further orders.

August 1.—Mr. C. Chapman, coll. of customs at Calcutta, for 3 mo.

Mr. H. W. Alexander, C.S., to 30th Nov.

August 2.—Appointment.—Mr. S. Nation, dep. mag. and dep. coll. of Tipperah, is vested with special powers of an asst. to a mag.

BY THE LIEUT. GOVERNOR, N.W.P.

Mily. Dept., Camp Nynee Tal, July 18.—The servs. of Lieut. G. W. H. Hoggan, adj. Meerut div. mily. police, are replaced at disp. of Govt. of India in the mily. dept.

July 23.—Appointment.—Mr. R. Sterndale is appd. to be adjt., on probation, of Chundeyree mily. police batt., v. Lieut. F. R. Turner, resg.

July 21.—Lieut. R. B. Graham, adjt. of the Moozuffernuggur dist. police batt., is appd. to be div. adjt. at Meerut, v. Lieut. G. W. H. Hoggan, resg.

July 27.—Brev. capt. E. B. Clay, of the 66th regt. Goorkha lt. inf., is appd. to be offic. comdt. of Saugur mily. police batt., v. Lieut. H. N. Noble.

BY THE LIEUT. GOVERNOR, PUNJAB.

Revenue Dept., No. 1,004, dated July 19.—Mr. W. Matthews, offic. dep. coll. Khewra salt mines, has obtained 1 mo. indulgence leave from such date as he may avail himself of the same, under Sec. VII. of the uncoventanted service leave rules.

Gen. Dept., dated July 25.—No. 1,917.—Leave.—Rev. J. Kilbee Stuart, chap. of Rawul Pindee and Jhelum, has 1 mo.'s sick leave, with effect from date of expiration of his privilege leave, under mil. rules.

Dated July 24.—No. 1,903.—Capt. Hall, asst. comsr., Lahore, has 2 mos.'s priv. leave, from such date as he may avail himself of the same.

Dated July 25.—No. 1,916.—Lieut. W. P. Powlett, asst. comsr., Peshawur, has priv. leave for 1 mo., with effect from 7th inst., or such subsequent date as he may avail himself of the same.

Dated July 24.—No. 1,899.—Appointment.—Capt. H. A. Dwyer is appd. to offic. as dep. comr. of Rawul Pindee district, with effect from date on which he received charge.

Public Works Dept., dated July 24.—No. 1,382.—Under instructions from govt., public works dept., Mr. E. J. Martin, 2nd class engr., has been appd. to Delhi div. public works. This cancels the order published in Punjab Gazette of June 20, posting Mr. Martin to Mooltan, as asst. superint. Suttlej canals.

Gen. Dept., dated July 25.—No. 1,921.—Transfer.—Capt. T. W. Mercer, asst. comr., is transferred from Jullunder to the Jhelum district.

Lahore, July 25.—No. 309.—Corps of Guides.—The regimental order, dated July 6, by Lieut. col. H. B. Lumsden, comdg., directing Lieut. C. W. Hawes, comdt. of cav., to act as 2nd in com. of the corps; Lieut. E. E. B. Bond, adj., to act as comdt. of cav.; and Lieut. H. C. E. Ward, do. du., to act as adj.; in room of Lieut. and 2nd in com. T. G. Kennedy, appd. act. comdt., 2nd Punjab cav., is confirmed.

No. 310.—The brig. order, dated July 11, by Brig. gen. N. Chamberlain, c.b., comdg. Punjab. irreg. force, directing Capt. J. P. W. Campbell, comdt. 1st Sikh inf., to offic. as staff officer, Punjab irreg. force, in add. to his other duties, as a temp. arrangement, with effect from July 1, v. Capt. W. Graydon res., is confirmed.

PASSENGER ARRANGEMENTS ON THE INDUS.

Lahore, July 25.—The following is published for general information:—

Gen. Dept., dated July 24, 1860.—Extract from a letter No. 546, dated July 11, from the comr. in Scinde to the Hon. the Lieut. gov., Punjab:—

Para. 1. I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of Mr. Sec. Davies' letter, [No. 1,568, dated 16th ult., forwarding copy of letter and accompaniment from the asst. comr., Mithunkote, suggesting arrangements for embarking passengers by the flotilla vessels at places on the Indus, to be hereafter notified,] and in reply to state that the superint. of the flotilla considers the number of fixed stations cannot be increased without the risk of disorganizing the whole arrangements of the flotilla; but he proposes that parties wishing to embark at any particular place should apply, by letter or telegraph, to the sen. naval officers at Mooltan and Sukkur, who have been directed to attend to such requisitions, and to make any possible arrangement for their accommodation.

(True extract) R. H. DAVIES,
Sec. to Govt., Punjab.

LOSSES BY THE MUTINY.—PAYMENT OF COMPENSATION.

Gen. Dept., July 25.—In continuation of notice. No. 1,852, dated 16th inst., it is hereby notified, for the information of all parties concerned, that payments of awards of compensation for losses sustained in the Punjab territories during the mutiny, will be made at the option of claimants, either in cash from the Lahore, Umballa, and Delhi civil treasuries, or by drafts from those treasuries on the civil treasuries at Rawul Pindee, Sealkote, Umritsur, and Mooltan.

Claimants now residing at Calcutta, as well as claimants in England or elsewhere out of India, who have appointed agents in Calcutta, may obtain drafts from the Lahore, Umballa, or Delhi treasury on the general treasury at Fort William, in payment of their awards of compensation.

By order, &c.,
R. H. DAVIES, Sec. to Govt., Punjab.

BY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF.

Adj. Gen.'s Office, Simla, July 12.—Leave of abs.:—Late 14th N.I.—Lieut. C. J. Durand, fr. July 1 to Oct. 15, in ext. of priv. leave, to remain at Nynee Tal, on m.c.

July 13.—With reference to G.O. No. 672, of 23rd ult., Brev. col. A. Wheatley, 4th Eur. L.C., to Gwalior until Sept. next, and then to reside at Deyrah and hills north of it.

Lieut. B. C. Urquhart, is removed as 2nd in com. from 17th irreg. cav. to Alexander's horse, which he is directed to join.

Orders confirmed:—Peshawur brig. order dated May 26, authorising the provision of a seat at the public expense for Lieut. F. Coddington, Ben. art., procg. on duty to Attock, and also for his return to Peshawur.

Saugur district order dated 1st ult., appg. Asst. surg. P. O'Brien to charge of the office of the dep. insp. gen. of hospitals, Saugur circle, as a temp. measure, v. Surg. St. G. W. Tucker.

The following Saugur district order directing med. arrangement is confirmed:—

Dated March 10.—Asst. surg. P. O'Brien to receive med. charge of the Allygurh levy.

Futtehghur station order dated 25th ult., app. Lieut. and adjt. E. B. Wimberly, 3rd Eur. Bengal inf., to act as station staff, in add. to his other du., v. Lieut. H. Edmeades, res., with effect from April 15 last.

Jhansi station order dated the 27th ult., app.

Lieut. and adjt. R. G. Newbigging, H.M.'s 89th regt., to act as station staff, in add. to his other du., in room of Lieut. T. R. Davidson, removed to 2nd Mahratta horse.

Cawnpore brigade order dated 2nd inst., app. Asst. surg. W. H. Adley, of Roberts's horse, to med. ch. of brigade staff, as a temp. measure, v. Asst. surg. Campbell.

Peshawur brigade order dated 3rd inst., directing Surg. J. H. Jones to afford med. aid to 3rd troop 2nd brig. horse art., on depart. of Asst. surg. E. J. Vivian.

Leave of absence:—73rd N.I.—Capt. E. Dandridge (com. Shahjehanpore levy), from May 1 to Oct. 25, to Landour.

July 14.—The C. in C. is pleased to confirm the foll. officers in their appointments:—

Lieut. G. H. Hale, late 57th N.I., actg. adjt. 6th irreg. cav.

Maj. G. G. Pearse, Madras art., actg. com. 3rd Sikh irreg. cav.

Lieut. G. F. Smith, 3rd Bengal Eur. cav., actg. adjt. 4th Sikh irreg. cav.

Maj. J. B. Y. Matheson, of the late 52nd N.I., actg. com. Benares horse.

Capt. G. A. Ferris, of H.M.'s 97th Foot, actg. com. Ramghur irreg. cav.

July 16.—The following orders are confirmed:—

Fort William garrison order, dated 5th inst., directing Ens J. H. Maling, general list, to do duty with H.M.'s 27th regt. at Umballah.

Morar station order, dated 6th inst., directing the following medical arrangements:—

Asst. surg. T. P. Wright, 23rd Punjab inf., to ass. med. ch. of left wing 2nd Mahratta horse, under orders to proceed to Seepree.

Asst. surg. A. Eteson, 2nd Mahratta horse, to receive med. ch. of Gwalior Camel Corps from Asst. surg. Wright.

Asst. surg. T. J. Orton, royal art., to ass. med. ch. of right wing 23rd Punjab inf.

By Capt. F. H. Smith, commg. 2nd regt. Mahratta horse, dated 7th inst., assuming ch. of adjt.'s office, v. Lieut. T. R. Davidson, proc. in com. of a wing to Seepree.

Leave of absence:—

Late 55th N.I.—Capt. J. D'O. Baring, fr. July 8 to Jan. 8, 1861, to Nynee Tal and hills north of Deyrah, on m.c.

General List.—Ens. F. E. Hastings, fr. July 5 to Nov. 5, to Dehree, on m.c.

The following orders are confirmed:

By Lieut. J. A. H. Moore, 2nd in command 9th Punjab inf., dated May 1 last, assuming command of regt., v. Brev. maj. J. B. Thelwall, on leave; and app. Lieut. O. Menzies to act as 2nd in command, and Lieut. H. Collett to act as adjt.

By Maj. J. C. Phillips, commdg. 1st Mahratta horse, dated 11th inst., assuming charge of adjt.'s office, on departure of Lieut. E. D. H. Vibart, 2nd in command, and offic. adjt.

The Oude div. order, dated 14th inst., appng. Asst. surg. G. Youell, H.M.'s 54th foot, to m.c. of depot at Cawnpore, v. Asst. surg. A. Reid, is confirmed.

The following presv. div. ords., making medical arrangements, are confirmed:—

Dated 30th ult.—Directing Asst. surg. M. H. Lackersteen, M.D., relieved from the med. charge at Raneegunge, to do duty with the European recruit depot at Barrackpore.

Orders confirmed:—

By Brig. T. Chute, com. in Oude, dated Oct. 2, 1858, appg. Lieut. H. J. Nuthall, 24th Punjab inf., to act as asst. field engr. with a brigade in the field.

By Capt. H. S. Obbard, com. 21st Punjab inf., dated 18th ult., appg. Lieut. E. Beddy to act as adjt., in add. to his other duties.

By Lieut. M. Hunter, com. 16th irreg. cav., dated 27th ult., assu. ch. of adjutant's office, in add. to his other duties, in room of Lieut. T. R. Davidson, proc. to join the Mahratta horse.

Meerut division order, dated 13th inst., directing Asst. surg. W. Moir, att. to 3rd Bengal Eur. inf., to proceed and report himself to the officer comdg. at Cawnpore.

Oude division order, dated 11th inst., directing Asst. surg. W. Moir, att. at Cawnpore, to assu. med. ch. of 2nd comp. 3rd batt. art., v. Asst. surg. A. D. Campbell, removed to another appointment.

Artillery regtl. order, dated 12th inst., directing Capt. J. A. Angelo, on being rel. fr. com. of 2nd comp. 1st batt. and No. 16 lt. field batt., to join and do du. with 3rd comp. 4th batt. at Lahore.

Orders confirmed:—

Lahore div. ord. dated April 29, directing Brev. maj. G. C. Synghe, H.M.'s 13th L.I., to proc. to Mooltan, and rel. Capt. W. Gordon, maj. of brig.

Benares station ord., dated 11th ult., directing Asst. surg. J. Fawcus, 47th N.I., to proc. to Azimgurh, in med. ch. of a detach. of H.M.'s 13th L.I., returning to Jounpore.

Peshawur div. ord., dated May 1, directing Capt. H. E. Iremonger, offic. asst. adjt. gen., to offic. as dep. asst. qmrr. gen. of the div., in add. to his other duties, v. Capt. W. H. Cooper, on leave.

Adj. gen.'s Office, Simla, July 18.—Lieut. A. G. Remington, late 12th N.I., is app. to do du. with 20th Punjab inf., to join.

Asst. surg. A. Christison, is app. to med. ch. of Kelat-i-Ghizlie regt., v. Asst. surg. A. Taylor, rem.

Order confirmed:—

Oude div. ord., dated May 26 last, appg. Capt. M. F. Evans, late 36th N.I., to act as cantonment joint mag. at Roy Bareilly.

Capt. M. K. Nightingale, fort adj. of Fort William, to do duty at Landour depot for 1 year, fr. 15th inst. Capt. R. W. Clifford, 2nd Eur. L.C., now at the presy., will proc. forthwith to join the depot at Barrackpore, for duty with recruits proc. up country.

Appointments:—

Sirmoor Rifle Regt.—Lieut. O. I. Chalmers, 4th Eur. regt., to be adj., v. Lieut. Macintyre.

22nd Punjab Inf.—Lieut. H. A. Lewes, of late 20th N.I., offic. adj. of 7th Punjab inf., to be adj.

Lieut. H. Moore, interp. to C. in C., is app. to act as A.D.C. on H.E.'s personal staff, in add. to his own duties, during leave to England of Lieut. C. H. Strutt.

Leave of absence:—

General List.—Cornet C. W. Campbell, doing duty with 2nd drag. gds., from July 10 to Nov. 10, to Hills north of Deyrah, on m.c.

Late 10th N.I.—Ens. J. W. A. Michell, do. du. with 13th P.I., from July 10 to Nov. 1, to Hills north of Deyrah, on m.c.

July 20.—Asst. surg. J. J. Durant to do du. in the hospital of 4th Eur. L.C., pro tem.

July 14.—The C. in C. is pleased to confirm the following officers in their appts.:—

Lieut. E. Beddy, late 53rd N.I., acting adj. 21st Punjab inf.

Capt. E. Smyth, late 13th N.I., acting 2nd in com. 22nd Punjab inf.

Lieut. H. Morton, 5th Bengal Eur. inf., acting 2nd in com. Shaljehanpore levy.

Capt. H. W. Chapman, late 28th N.I., acting 2nd in com. Bareilly levy.

The following officers having passed the prescribed examination in Hindostanee, are confirmed in their appts.:—

Lieut. W. F. Badgley, late 20th N.I., acting adj. 18th Punjab inf.

Lieut. B. Rogers, late 68th N.I., acting adj. Kemaon levy.

SHORT EXTENSIONS OF LEAVE.

Adj. Gen's Office, Simla, July 27.—The C. in C. is pleased to publish, for the information of the army, the following extract of a letter from the Right Hon. the Secretary of State for India to H.E. the Gov. Gen. in Council, No. 78, dated Feb. 24 last, referring to officers who proceeded to England with discharge soldiers:—

"Para. 9. I have also decided to grant short extensions of leave, not exceeding 4 months, on private affairs, to such officers as can show strong reasons for desiring it. Officers availing themselves of such leave will have a free passage back to India, but will not be entitled to draw pay, or to count the time as service for pension, beyond the expiration of the 2 mos. priv. leave allowed to them."

The undermentioned officers have leave of absence:—

1st T 2nd B horse art., Brev. lieut. col. G. Bouchier, c.b., from July 31 to Sept. 30, in extensn. of priv. leave, to remain at Simla.

1st E. B. fus., Lieut. F. D. M. Brown, from July 5 to Nov. 16, to remain at the presy., for the purpose of studying and undergoing an examination in the native languages.

Capt. A. Pond, 3rd Eur. regt., recently returned from duty to England with discharged soldiers, is directed to proc. to join his regt., with which his servs. are urgently required.

Lieut. W. H. Garton, late 50th N.I., is appd. to do du. in the Benares div. from 13th inst.

Lieut. J. M. Sym, 58th N.I., passed prescribed col- loq. exam. on 16th inst.

Lieut. J. R. Pearson, Deputy commissy. of ordnance, recently returned from furl., is appd. to do duty in arsenal of Fort William.

The undermentioned officers were declared by the board examiners at Fort William on the 10th inst. to have passed in Hindostanee:—

Lieut. Sir R. de L. St. George, Bart., Bengal horse art.

Lieut. Sir A. Andrew, late 27th N.I., doing du. with 2nd Assam L.I. batt.

Lieut. R. Blair, 32nd N.I.

Lieut. Sir R. M. Sewell, late 71st N.I.

Leave of absence:—

Late 67th N.I.—Maj. R. N. Raikes, from July 20 to Oct. 31, to visit the hills north of Deyrah, on urgent private affairs.

QUEEN'S TROOPS.

Adj. gen's Office, H.M.'s British Forces, Hd. Qrs., Calcutta, July 16.—The ext. of leave granted to Capt. W. C. Grant, 2nd drag. gds., in G.O. No. 85, of June 23, is hereby cancelled, that officer having been detained for duty on a special committee at the pres.

REMOVAL OF HEAD QUARTERS TO THE PRESIDENCY.

The adj. gen. H.M.'s forces being with the C. in C. at the pres., until further orders, all important documents requiring immediate attention will be addressed accordingly. Monthly returns, &c., will be forwarded to the office at Simla as heretofore; also applications for general courts martial.

Lieut. col. Torrens, asst. adj. gen., will take charge of the office at Simla, from such date as Col. Congreve, c.b., may make it over to him.

July 18.—The following officers, royal art., having reported their arr. at Calcutta, are at the recommendation of Col. Sir G. Barker, posted to batteries as follows, and directed to join accordingly:—

Brev. maj. Curtis to take over command of No. 3 battery, 14th brig., at Dacca, from Lieut. col. Maude, c.b., who, on being relieved, will proc. to England.

Capt. Seale, to Futtyghur, to join No. 6 battery, 11th brig.

Capt. Holsworth, to Dum Dum, to take over com., of No. 5 battery, 14th brig., from Major Johnson, who, on being relieved, will proc. to Madras, to join H battery horse brig.

Lieut. Stirke to Raj. Ghat, Benares, to join No. 2 battery, 14th brig.

With reference to the above, Major Johnson, royal horse art., will remain for the present at Calcutta, for employ. upon a special committee.

Under instructions from the Horse Guards, Capts. Segrave, 71st, and Godfrey, 73rd foot, will proc. to England, to join the depots of their regts.

By order of H.R.H. the Gen. C. in C., 2nd Capt. Law is transf. from No. 7 battery, 13th brig. royal art., to No. 4 battery, of the same brig., and will proc. to join his batty. in China, without delay.

Capt. Warren, dep. asst. q.m.r. gen. royal art., is posted to No. 3 battery, 14th brig.

The leave to Europe for 12 mo. granted to Brev. maj. Bredin, royal art., in 9th para. of G.O., No. 27, dated Calcutta, March 13, 1860, is can. at his own request.

Orders confirmed:

By the Officer comdg. 3rd batt. rifle brig.:

Dated May 18.—App. Lieut. E. H. Chamberlain to act as instructor of musketry dur. abs., on leave, of Capt. Windham.

By H.E. Lieut. gen. Sir P. Grant:

Granting leave to the following officers to England, under new rules, m.c.:

1st Foot (1st batt.)—Capt. A. H. Versturme.

60th Foot (3rd batt.)—Ensign G. E. Piggott.

Leaves of absence:—

2nd Drag. Gds.—Brev. Lieut. col. C. S. Hutchinson, to Simla, fr. July 3 to Oct. 15.

7th Drag. Gds.—Capt. J. Cleland, to England, under new rules, fr. July 10, 1860, to Jan. 10, 1861.

Royal Art.—Lieut. H. Edmeades, in extension, fr. June 15 to Oct. 15, to remain at Nynee Tal, on m.c.; Asst. surg. W. Haughton, to Simla, from June 28 to Nov. 15, on m.c.

Asst. surg. G. Smith, H.M.'s 34th regt., will proc. from Allahabad, without loss of time, to join his own corps at Fyzabad, where his servs. are urgently required.

July 11.—The C. in C. in India is pleased to make the following proms., until H.M.'s pleasure shall be known:

7th Foot.—Ensign F. C. Keyser to be lieut., by purch., v. Gardner, ret.; June 8.

70th Foot.—Ens. W. S. F. Feneran to be lieut., by purch., v. Duff, ret.; July 9.

91st Foot.—Ens. C. L. Harvey to be lieut., without purch., v. Obbard, dec.; April 25. Cancels the prom. of Ens. Spearman to this vacancy.

The retirement from the service, by the sale of his commission, of Lieut. A. W. C. Magrath, 74th foot, is accepted by the C. in C. in India.

The undermentioned officers of the royal art. have passed their examination in the vernacular, viz.:—

Asst. surgs. H. F. Paterson and R. D. Burn.

Adj. gen's Office, Simla, July 4.—With reference to G.O., No. 90, para. 2, the name of Brev. maj. C. E. Walcott will be substituted for that of Lieut. col. Smith. The former officer will proc. to England, on being relieved by Capt. Broughton.

The following orders are confirmed:—

By the Officer comdg. 52nd foot:—

Dated June 8.—Appg. the following committee of paymastership consequent upon Paymr. Fellows proc. on leave to England:

President: Capt. Bouchier. Members: Capts. Champion and Graves; and appg. Lieut. Murphy to act as paymr. on the responsibility of the committee.

By the Officer comdg. 79th foot:—

Dated Nov. 22, 1858.—Appg. Ens. Stewart to do duties of adj. dur. abs. on sick leave of Lieut. Wimberley.

Leave of absence:—

54th Foot.—Asst. surg. B. C. Mathew to Nynee Tal, fr. June 23 to Nov. 15, on m.c.

Head Quarters, Calcutta, July 18.—The C. in C. has been pleased to accept the unconditional resignation of Lieut. Crozier's (70th regt.) commission, from the date of the receipt of this order at Allahabad, subject to the approval of her Majesty.

Under instructions from the Horse Guards, Capt. Windham, 3rd batt. rifle brig., will proc. to England, without delay, for the purpose of joining staff college. On arrival he will report himself to the adj. gen., Horse Guards.

Official notification has been received that the undermentioned officer has been posted as follows: Rifle Brigade.—Brev. maj. Nixon to 1st batt.

Leave of absence:—

34th Foot (1st batt.)—Maj. Skurray, fr. May 4 to Nov. 9, m.c.

27th Foot.—Lieut. col. Stapylton, from May 20 to Nov. 25, m.c.

July 20.—Official intimation has been received that H.R.H. the Gen. C. in C. has been pleased to approve of the app. of Capt. Calvert, horse brig., royal art., v. Brev. Lieut. col. Middleton, and the arrangements made with regard to the app. of asst. adj. gen., royal art. in Bengal.

H.R.H. the Gen. C. in C. has been pleased to approve of the undermentioned officers being posted to batts. as follows:—

4th Foot.—Major Cocks to 1st batt.; Capt. Boyce to 2nd batt.; Lieut. Studdert to 2nd batt.; Lieut. Brockman to 1st batt.

60th Foot.—Lieut. col. Hawly to 4th batt.; Major Feilden to 4th batt.; Capt. Northey to 4th batt.

The following orders are confirmed:

By H.E. Lieut. gen. Sir W. Mansfield:

Granting leave to Cornet G. B. Bruce, 17th lancers, to England, under new rules, m.c.

By the Brigdr. gen. comdg. Oude div.:

Dated June 28.—Making the following medical arrangements consequent upon the demise of Staff surg. Moline, Surg. P. Clarke, 90th foot, to assume med. charge of 54th foot, and Asst. surg. Read, 54th foot, to take over charge of the depot, Cawnpore, fr. Surg. Clarke, in add. to his regimental duties, with effect from June 18.

Leave of absence:

27th Foot.—Asst. surg. J. M. Cameron, to Calcutta, for 2 mo., fr. July 8, m.c.

July 2.—H.R.H. the Gen. C. in C. has been pleased to approve of the app. of Lieut. Safford, 97th foot, to act as musketry instructor to his regt., v. Aunesley, resigned.

INACCURATE RETURNS.

The names of several officers having been noted for prom. in the recommendation return attached to the nominal lists forwarded monthly to the military secretary who had not passed their examination, or who had no certificates of having done so at the depot, the attention of comdg. officers is called to the necessity of being more accurate in these returns, and they will be held responsible that no officer's name is recommended for promotion, whether for purchase or otherwise, who is not qualified in every respect for the higher rank.

The following order is confirmed:

By the Brigdr. comdg. at Fort William:

Dated July 4.—Directing Ens. C. C. Richardson, 70th regt., to proc. to Allahabad, to rejoin his regt., at the expense of the State, his servs. being urgently required.

Leaves of absence:

38th Foot.—Lieut. and Adj. P. H. Eyre, to Mussoorie, fr. July 4 to Nov. 30, m.c.

43rd Foot.—Ens. G. H. Young, to England, under new rules, for 6 mo., fr. date of embarkation.

52nd Foot.—Paymr. F. W. Fellows, to Calcutta, fr. June 13, m.c.

July 28.—H.R.H. the Gen. C. in C. has been pleased to approve of the transfer of Serg. H. Cameron, fr. 3rd batt. 11th brig. R.A., to the army hospital corps (as a serg.), dated May 4, and of his remaining att. to 3rd batt. 11th brig. R.A. in India.

The foll. order is confirmed, subject to approval by H.R.H. the Gen. C. in C.:

By the officer comdg. 54th foot, dated July 9, appg. Lance corporal J. Morrett to act as 3rd class serg. instructor of musketry, with effect fr. the 1st inst.

The foll. orders are confirmed:—

By H.E. Lieut. gen. Sir P. Grant, notifying that the undermentioned officer has been examined in the Hindostanee language:—

Lieut. W. Arbuthnot, rifle brig., qualified for the general staff.

By H.E. Lieut. gen. Sir W. R. Mansfield, granting leave to Ens. H. M. Innes, 4th foot, to England, under new rules, on m.c.

Leave of absence:—

34th Foot.—Asst. surg. F. Pennington, to England, under new rules, on m.c.

70th Foot.—Lieut. G. Duff, fr. March 8 to date of publication of his ret. fr. the serv.

75th Foot.—Capt. C. H. Malan and Lieut. D. Ham-mill, to Calcutta, fr. July 10 to Sept. 9, on m.c., and thence to England, under new rules, for the same purpose.

July 24.—With reference to the 2nd para. of G.O. No. 91, dated Calcutta, July 3, cancelling leave to Lieut. col. Maxwell, c.b., 88th foot, read Col. G. V. Maxwell, 88th foot.

The following order is confirmed:

By Brigdr. Smith, comdg. in Fort William:
Dated July 16.—Direct. Lieut. A. W. Burton, 1st batt. 19th foot, to proc. to Dacca and join detach. of his regt. at that place, his servs. being urgently required.

Leaves of absence:
 Royal Artillery.—Asst. surg. J. Barker to England, under new rules, m.c.
 38th Foot.—Lieut. A. M. Grote to remain at presy. 2 mo., m.c.

July 26.—The undermentioned officer has passed in the vernacular:

71st Foot.—Lieut. R. J. Issacke.

Her Majesty has been pleased to appoint Maj. gen. Sir W. Mansfield, K.C.B., to serve on the staff of the army in India as a lieut. gen., with a view to his succeeding to the command of the troops in the Bombay presidency.

The following order is confirmed subject to approval by H.R.H. the Gen. C. in C.:

By the officer comdg. 1st batt. 24th foot:

Dated June 23.—Appointment.—Sergt. J. Lindsay to act as 3rd class sergeant instructor of musketry, from 1st inst.

The following orders are confirmed:

By H.E. Lieut. gen. Sir P. Grant:

Granting leave to Lieut. R. J. Hickman, 3rd batt. 60th rifles, to England, under new rules, for 18 mo., from date of departure from his regt.

Granting leave to Ensign H. G. Robley, 68th foot, to England, under new rules.

Lieut. R. P. L. Welch, No. 2 batty. 13th brig., is app. adj. and quip. to royal art. serving in Madras presy., v. 2nd Capt. L. D. Broughton. Lieut. Welch to proc. to Madras with as little delay as possible.

By the Officer comdg. 2nd drag. gds.:

Dated June 14.—App. Capt. W. S. Grant to act as interp. to corps.

By the Officer comdg. at Umballa:

Dated June 23.—Direct. the dep. postmr. to furnish a seat in the mail cart to Kalka.

Ens. W. G. Hicks, 92nd highlanders (with one servant) at the public expense, to join his corps, his servs. being urgently required.

Leaves of absence—

19th foot, 1st batt. Capt. H. F. Massy, in ext., from Oct. 4 to Feb. 4, to remain in Ireland; 46th foot, Asst. surg. W. Vennor, to Cashmere, from July 15 to Oct. 15; 75th foot, Lieut. J. S. Allfrey, to Mussoorie, from July 6 to Nov. 6, on m.c.; 79th foot, Ens. G. W. Coventry, to Dalhousie, from July 15 to Nov. 14, on m.c.; 90th foot, Lieut. G. Miller, from Aug. 1 to 10, in ext.; Rifle brig. 3rd batt. Lieut. J. Vaughan, to Mussoorie, from July 15 to Oct. 15.

Asst. surg. J. Barker, royal art., will take med. cha. of invalids, &c., of H.M.'s British army prog. to England, by the transport Saladin.

Asst. surg. J. W. Longhead, H.M.'s 56th regt., at present attached to H.M.'s 82nd foot, will take med. cha. of women and children prog. to the upper provinces, per flat Dulla, on the 26th inst. The duty performed, he will join his regiment.

Head Qrs., Calcutta, July 30.—The ret. fr. the serv., by the sale of his commission, of Ens. C. Rochfort, of H.M.'s 81st foot, is accepted by the C. in C. in India, subject to approval.

Lieut. H. L. Fitzgerald, 2nd batt., 13th foot, is placed at disposal of Brigdr. Smith, for duty with invalids proc. to England.

The foll. order is confirmed, subject to app. by the C. in C.:

By the officer comdg. 71st foot, dated July 10, app. Serg. P. Gow to act as 3rd class serg. instructor of musketry.

Orders confirmed:—

By H.E. Lieut. gen. Sir W. R. Mansfield, granting leave of abs. to Lieut. A. J. Rait, R.A., to England, under new regts., on m.c.

By Maj. gen. comdg. pres. div., dated April 26, directing Asst. surg. Hodgson, R.A., to afford med. aid to the Eurasian regt. at Dacca, in add. to his other duties.

Leave of absence:—

6th Drag. Gds.—Lieut. col. C. Sawyer, to Mussoorie, fr. June 21 to Oct. 15.

6th Foot.—Lieut. B. S. Cumberland, to sea, fr. Aug. 1 to Sept. 20.

23rd Foot.—Capt. J. Williamson, fr. July 13 to Oct. 15, to Simla, on m.c.

52nd Foot.—Lieut. R. Wingfield and G. Wilberforce, in ext. of priv. leave, to Murree, fr. July 1 to Sept. 1, on m.c.

Aug. 4.—The foll. orders are confirmed:—

By the brigdr. comg. Rohilcund field force:—

Dated June 26.—Directing Staff asst. surg. A. Croker to proc. without delay to Lucknow and join 23rd foot for du., his serv. being urgently required.

By the officer comg. 52nd regt.:

Dated April 30.—Appg. Capt. F. A. Champion to act as interp.

Dated July 2.—Appg. Ens. J. C. W. Lever to act as instruc. of musk. dr. abs. of Lieut. Keyworth on priv. leave.

Leave of absence:—

H.R.H. the gen. com. in chief has been pleased to grant leave to foll. officers:—

Roy. Art.—Asst. surg. A. J. L. Hepworth, fr. June 4 to Sept. 4, m.c.

24th Foot.—Lieut. and adjt. Fox, fr. June 7 to Dec. 8, m.c.

75th Foot.—Brev. lieut. col. Gordon, fr. Aug. 19 to Dec. 20.

97th Foot.—Maj. Hawkins, fr. Sept. 15 to Dec. 31. Asst. surg. A. K. Drysdale, 79th Highlanders, will take med. ch. of convalescent depot at Dajedling fr. Aug. 24, relieving Asst. surg. Maclean, 42nd Highlanders, who will rejoin his regt.

Asst. surg. B. Reade, 2nd batt. rifle brigade, will take med. ch. of Murree convalescent depot fr. Aug. 24, relieving Asst. surg. Deakin, H.M.'s 70th regt., who will rejoin his corps.

August 6.—At the recommendation of Col. Sir G. Barker, K.C.B., Lieut. W. H. Newcome, royal art., arr. from England, will proc. by dak at the public expense to Peshawar, and join Maj. Hastings, battery 11th brig. roy. art., where his services are urgently required.

Order confirmed:—

By the officer comdg. 83rd foot:—

Dated June 12.—Appg. Lance corporal G. Mone to act as 3rd class sergt. mstr. of musketry fr. June 12.

Leave of absence:—

60th Foot.—Maj. T. Benson, to England, under new rules, for 1 year, from date of embarkation at Madras.

Funeral of the Rt. Hon. James Wilson.

Home Dept., Fort William, Aug. 12.—The Rt. Hon. James Wilson, Fourth Ordinary Member of the Council of the Governor-general, died yesterday, at seven o'clock in the evening.

The Governor-general in Council notifies to the community with the deepest regret this mournful event and great public calamity, and requests that the officers of Government, civil and military, will attend the funeral of the late Mr. Wilson, assembling for this purpose at No. 9, Middleton-street, at half-past five o'clock this evening.

H.E. in Council has directed the flag of Fort William to be lowered to half-mast high during this day, and that fifteen minute guns be fired at the time of the funeral from the ramparts of Fort William.

By order of the Rt. Hon. the Gov. gen. of India in Council.

Appointment of C. Beadon, Esq., to the Council.

Fort William, Home Depart., Aug. 11.—No. 1,502.—A vacancy existing in the office of one of the ordinary members of the council of the Gov. General of India, and no person provisionally or otherwise appointed to succeed thereto being present on the spot, H.E. the Viceroy and Gov. Gen. of India in Council has been pleased under the provisions of the Act III. and IV., William IV., Chap. LXXXV., Sect. LXIV., to appoint Cecil Beadon, Esq., of the Bengal C.S., to be a temporary ordinary member of the said council, and the said C. Beadon, Esq., has accordingly this day taken the oaths and his seat in the said Council.

Mr. Beadon will continue to hold also the office of secretary to the Govt. of India in the foreign department.

Specifications of Inventions.

August 3.—The undermentioned specifications of inventions have been filed under the provisions of Act. No 15 of 1839, in the office of the Secretary to the Government of India in the Home Department, and have been sent to the office of one of the secretaries to each of the Governments of Bengal, Fort St. George, Bombay, and the N.W. Provinces:—

No. 27.—Charles Henry, civil engr., and Charles Coles Adley, civil engr., both of the city of Calcutta, for an improvement in the means of supporting telegraph wires.

No. 31.—Francis Morton, of James's-street, Liverpool, in the county of Lancaster, engr., for improvements in the construction of fences and the posts or pillars for the same, parts of which improvements are also applicable to the construction of gate posts or poles for telegraph purposes or for signal posts.

No. 47.—Benjamin Gower, engr., Allahabad, and Charles Coles Adley, telegraphic engr. to the East Indian Railway Company, Calcutta, for a combined whistle and carriage key, for the use of guards and other servants employed upon railways or other means of locomotion.

W. GREY,

Sec. to the Govt. of India.

Neglect in Signing Discharged Soldiers' Certificates.

Head Quarters, Calcutta, July 21.—Very serious inconvenience has resulted from the careless manner in which the documents of men sent home for discharge have been prepared. In some case the commanding officer has neglected to sign the Parchment Certificate, either as regards service or character, which latter has also frequently been omitted, or differed totally from that recorded by the Regimental Board.* In several cases the proceedings of the Board have not been signed by the president and members; and in some instances the cause and conditions of discharge have been omitted, or incompletely filled in.

His R. H. the General C. in C. has directed that commanding officers be referred to the instructions so clearly laid down at pages 178 and 179 of the Queen's Regulations, and warned that H.R.H. will take the most serious notice of any repetition of such carelessness in the preparation of documents of so much importance both to the public and to the soldier, as those relating to the latter's discharge.

Numerous instances occurred during last year of soldiers of H.M.'s forces having been allowed to quit their regiments, and proceed to the ports of embarkation, with claims of various kinds remaining unadjusted. H.E. the C. in C. in India warns officers commanding regiments, stations, brigades, and divisions, that they will severally be held responsible for such irregularities.

The small books of soldiers about to be discharged must invariably be balanced before they leave their regiments, the issue and receipt of clothing or compensation in lieu, entered and attested, and where no settlement of accounts was made "at sea" those words should be inserted.

MADRAS.

BY THE GOVERNOR IN COUNCIL.

Fort St. George, July 23.—No. 334.—Lieut. col. J. J. Losh, mil., is relieved fr. office of mil. and gen., and his servs. are placed at disposal of C. in C. from this date.

Lieut. col. T. McGoun will at once assume the appt. of mil. and gen.

July 24.—Lieut. J. T. McGoun, 36th N.I., is permitted to res. his appt. of asst. superint. of police. His servs. are placed at the disposal of the C. in C.

Lieut. J. N. Hunter, acting district engr. South Canara, has cumulative priv. leave for 3 mos., to Bangalore.

July 27.—Rev. J. T. D. Kidd, chaplain of Vepery, has priv. leave for 1 mo.

Aug. 3.—Leave of absence.—Mr. F. M. Kindersley, head asst. to coll. and mag. of Tanpore for 2 mos.

Lieut. col. G. Nalpen to be a lay trustee of St. Mark's Church, Mercara.

July 31.—Leave of absence.—Lieut. F. Robertson, engr., 1 mo. priv. leave to Madras for the purpose of completing his studies in Tamilang.

No. 1,575.—Mr. T. Bhencus, inspecting postmr. of the 3rd grade, Cuddapah div., leave for 3 mos. from Aug. 1.

July 27.—Mr. S. Marcar, act. princ. Sud. Ameen of Chittoor, for 1 mo.

ABOLITION OF OFFICE OF MEDICAL STOREKEEPER AT RANGOON.

Fort St. George, July 24.—No. 335.—The Gov. in Council directs that from the 1st Oct. next the medical storekeepership of Rangoon be abolished, and that a staff surgeon be appointed to the charge of the details staff, medical stores, &c., at that station, on a staff salary of Rs. 500 per mensem.

No. 336.—25th N.I.—Ens. J. F. G. Shirreffs to be lieut., v. Wahab, dec.; date of comm., July 19.

34th L.I.—Sen. Ens. D. T. Hatchell to be lieut., v. Arnot, dec.; date of comm., July 19.

39th N.I.—Lieut. H. M. S. Magrath to take rank fr. Feb. 1, 1859, in succ. to McMahon, prom. (N.B.—This cancels the prom. to lieut. of Ens. F. Allan.) Ens. J. Ros to be lieut., in succ. to Shaw, prom.; date of comm., July 11.

The underment. officer is prom. to rank of capt., by brev., fr. July 22:—

15th N.I.—Lieut. J. M. Grant.

Returned to duty:—Asst. surg. S. J. Wyndowe; arr. at Bombay, June 25.

Leave of absence:—Rev. S. R. Macfarlane, sen. chaplain, Church of Scotland, 1 mo.

BY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF.

Head Qrs., Choultry Plain, July 21.—The underment. having been reported qualified to com. a comp. at battalion exercise, are relieved from do. du. with 74th Highlanders, and will join and do du. with the regts. below specified:—

Ens. A. Anderson, with 35th N.I.

Ens. R. N. I. Sturt, with 19th N.I.

July 23.—Capt. J. G. Touch, 26th N.I., dep. judge adv. gen. centre div., is app. to assu. ch. of the office of judge adv. gen. of the army.

* In this case a reason should be assigned and attached to the proceedings of the Board.

July 24.—The underment. having been reported qualified to com. a troop at exercise, are relieved from do. du. with 1st drag. gds., and will join and do du. as follows:—

Cornet A. R. Kenny, with 6th L.C.

Cornet H. E. Kensis, with 3rd L.C.

Leave of absence:—

Maj. R. Crewe, 45th N.I., fr. July 27, 60 days, Bangalore and Madras, priv. leave.

Capt. L. Tripe, 12th N.I., fr. date of dep. fr. Madras, 2 mo.

Lieut. B. S. Cunningham, 3rd L.I., fr. July 30 to Sept. 27.

Lieut. C. S. Blair, 18th N.I., fr. July 15, for 60 days, to remain at Madras, priv. leave.

July 19.—Lieut. Lane, 41st N.I., till Nov. 1, Madras and Tuluat, m.c.

Lieut. T. K. Guthrie, 36th N.I., 2 mo., Madras.

July 17.—Mr. W. Elliot, civ. and sess. judge of Tinnevely, 15 mo., to Eur.

July 11.—Maj. gen. M. Carthew, inf., is perm. to reside and draw pay within limits of the pres.

July 5.—With reference to para. 4. of G.O. No. 61, dated Feb. 10, and G.O. No. 81, of this date, the undermentioned officers are posted to the European veterans with effect from May 16:—

Lieut. col. Halpin, Picketts, Rose, Majs. Glover and Strettell, to 1st native vet. batt., Majs. Leader, Archer, Beaumont, Woodfall, Green, to be posted to 2nd native vet. batt.

Majs. Denton, Hobart, Leggatt, Harris, Hamilton, Clarke, Wapshare, to 1st native vet. batt.

Cpts. Beaver, Stuart, Johnstone, Wright, Gerard, G. A. Smith, Hadfield, O'Neill, Farran, Hunter, Gill, to 1st and 2nd native vet. batt.

Cpts. Short, Templer, May, Mayne, Obbard, Begbie, Chapman, French, McBride, Ransom, posted to 1st native vet. batt.

Cpts. H. C. R. W. Smith, Jackson, Trist, Miller, Morphy, Butler, posted to 2nd native vet. batt.

Lieuts. Cottrell, Hughes, Utterson, FitzGibbon, Simpson, Darling, Mitchell, Currant, Lancaster, Markham, Duncan, Woodhouse, posted to 1st native vet. batt.

Lieuts. Nixon, Hurst, Wright, Johnstone, Tomlinson, Davidson, Barry, Proudfoot, Craig, and Bradley, posted to 2nd native vet. batt.

Public Works Dept., July 3.—Lieut. W. H. Burton, engr., to be an assist. dist. engr. in Tarla Kunda estate.

June 30.—Consequent on the intended departure of Mr. F. C. Forbes, actg. sub-treasurer for England by the next steamer, the following arrangements have been ordered by the Govt. of India:—

Mr. E. F. Harrison to be sub-treasurer at Madras; Mr. H. D. Sandeman to be civil auditor at Madras, but to continue to act as civil auditor, Fort William.

Mr. J. W. Raynor to act as civil auditor at Madras pending the arrival of Mr. Balmain from the Punjab.

Mr. T. Peachey to act as 1st asst. acct. gen. until Mr. Rayner is rel. of duties of civ. auditor.

Fort St. George, July 3.—Capt. J. L. Barrow, art., comy. of ordnance, Hyderabad subsid. force, has furl. for 6 mos. to Eur., under regs. of 1854.

Leave of Absence to the Neilgherries on M.C.

Head Qrs., Choultry Plain, Aug. 9, 1860.—No. 90.—The C. in C. calls the attention of officers to the following rules, published for the guidance of officers visiting the Neilgherries on medical certificate, &c.:—

1st. All sick officers, on arrival at Ootacamund, Kotagerry, or Coonoor, are to report themselves either personally or in writing to the medical officer in whose district they are, and, if necessary, apply for his medical attendance.

2nd. So long as officers are under medical treatment, they must obtain the permission of their medical attendant before changing their station or absenting themselves from it beyond the day; but when not under treatment may change their station as often as they feel inclined, always reporting themselves to the medical officer of their new station.

3rd. Every officer, while under medical treatment, is to consider himself in the hands of the surgeon of the district in which he resides, and such district officer is alone responsible for his patient's treatment.

4th. In cases of emergency, medical officers, without reference to their particular charge, will afford the most prompt assistance, in the first instance, to all cases in which their services are called for, informing the patient, at the same time, who his proper medical attendant is.

5th. Medical certificates granted by private practitioners to military officers cannot under any circumstances be recognised, but such certificates, when countersigned after perusal of the case and personal examination of the patient by the medical officer of the district, are to be submitted for the decision of a board of medical officers, convened under the orders of the officer commanding the division.

6th. Officers are not to quit the hills for the purpose of returning to their duty until such period, short of the expiration of their leave, as will allow them time, at the prescribed rate of marching, to join; and then only on being reported by the medical officer of their district as fit to join.

7th. The families of military officers, if in military employ, are entitled to gratuitous medical aid from the surgeon of the district in which they reside.

8th. Officers of H.M.'s British and Madras armies residing on the Neilgherries are available, under orders of the officer commanding the southern division, for employment at Wellington or other station on the hills on military duties, such as courts-martial (superior to regimental) or mixed committees of H.M.'s service, unless reported unfit by their medical attendant.

9th. A monthly register or roster will be kept by each medical officer, showing the rank and names of the officers considered eligible for such employment, who will forward the register on the 1st or 2nd of each month to the deputy-assistant adjutant general of the division.

10th. This arrangement is intended to obviate the necessity of withdrawing officers from distant stations, for the performance of duties which can be readily carried on locally, and it is to be distinctly understood that such employ will confer no claim to extra allowances, or to compensation for any other allowances suspended during residence on the hills; nor is an officer to be detailed for such duty, if it shall interfere with the tenor of his medical certificate, by placing him on duty of uncertain duration, and thus preventing his return to duty within the period originally specified—unless under special sanction, to be previously obtained from army headquarters.

11th. Printed copies of these rules to be supplied from Madras to each medical officer for information of sick officers on arrival on the hills, which, when thoroughly perused, will be returned to the medical officer signed.

12th. Any infringement of these orders to be immediately reported to the officer commanding the division, through the proper channel, who will, if necessary, forward the same to the adjutant-general of the army for H.E.'s disposal.

N.B.—Officers on privilege leave on the Neilgherries are to report themselves on arrival and departure to the dep. asst. adjt. gen. of the division, and are available for the duties specified in paragraph 8, at the discretion of the officer commanding the division, who will, however, detail officers on general in preference to those on privilege leave.

Officers Responsible for Passage Money.

Fort St. George, Aug. 3.—No. 353.—Requisitions for passages having been made for individuals proceeding with corps or departments, not entitled to passage at the public expense, the hon. the Governor in Council is pleased to direct that in all embarkations unauthorised by regulation, the officer ordering them will be held responsible for the cost, whether of passage or table money. To obviate delay in the adjustment of such charges, however, the bills of commanders of vessels will be admitted in the first instance as a public charge, the military auditor-general subsequently recovering the amount from the parties liable.

A certified copy of the authority under which such embarkations occur, will invariably be attached to the bills before submitting them to the military auditor-general to be passed for payment.

Band Subscriptions.

Head Quarters, Choultry Plain, Aug. 4.—No. 88.—The C. in C. directs it to be notified, that it has been decided by the Government of India that officers on the general list are to pay subscriptions to the bands of the regiments with which they are doing duty. Their donations to bands, as also to messes, are to be adjusted with the corps to which they may be finally posted.

BOMBAY.

CIVIL.

(From the Government Gazette, Aug. 9.)

Judicial Dept., Bombay Castle, Aug. 7.—Mr. Armstrong, 1st asst. mag. of Sholapoor, is invested with powers of a mag.

The remaining portion of the leave for 3 mos., granted under date Feb. 7 last, to Mr. C. Forbes, judicial asst. to coll. of Sattara, is cancelled, from the date of that officer assuming charge of the appt. of act. judge of the Konkan.

Aug. 8.—Capt. W. Y. Shortt, superint. of police at Sholapoor, resumed charge of his duties on 24th ult.

Revenue Dept., Aug. 4.—Mr. A. Taylor, asst. comr. of customs, salt, and opium, has leave for 3 mos., to proc. to England.

Mr. J. C. Whitcombe, sub-asst. superint. rev. survey and assessment, Khundeish, has leave for 15 days.

Aug. 8.—Mr. J. G. Moore, act. 2nd asst. to coll. and mag. of Broach, has leave for 2 mos.

Financial Dept., Aug. 8.—The gov. of India have granted Mr. J. M. Erskine (sub-treasurer) leave for 2 mos. and have made the following arrangements:—

Mr. L. C. Probyn to act for Mr. Erskine.

Mr. D. B. Hodge to act for Mr. Probyn as 1st asst. to the accountant general.

Mr. J. L. Hynes to act for Mr. Hodge as 2nd asst. to the account. gen.

Mr. L. C. Probyn to act as gov. director of the Bank of Bombay and member of the Mint committee, during Mr. Erskine's abs. on leave.

General Dept., Aug. 8.—The Hon. the gov. of Bombay has appt. Mr. C. J. Erskine to be member, for the pres. of Bombay, of the Legislative Council of India.

Ecclesiastical Dept., Aug. 7.—Rev. W. K. Fletcher, sen. chap. at the pres., is allowed priv. leave for 2 mos., from the date on which he may avail himself of it.

Judicial Dept., Aug. 13.—ERRATUM.—Capt. W. H. Shortt, superint. of police at Sholapoor, resn. ch. of his du. on 21st, and not on 24th ult., as notified under date 8th inst.

Revenue Dept., Aug. 14.—Mr. J. W. Scott, asst. to superint. of rev. survey and assess., Khundeish, has leave for 1 mo., to proc. to Bombay.

Mr. W. H. Payne, asst. to comr. of customs, salt, and opium, has leave for 3 mos., to Bombay.

Bombay Castle, Aug. 15.—Mr. E. P. Robertson acted as coll. and mag. of Ahmedabad fr. June 16 to July 16.

The foll. gentlemen of the C.S. have passed departmental examination:—

First Standard.—Mr. R. A. Worthington.

Second Standard.—Messrs. J. B. Richey, H. M. Birdwood, J. MacFarlan, C. M. Hogg, A. K. Nairne.

BY THE GOVERNOR IN COUNCIL.

Poona, August 8.—No. 481.—With reference to G. O. No. 442, dated July 14, Capt. (brev. maj.) Haggard, is nominated to act as agent for gunpowder, and to perform the duties of senior deputy principal commissary of ordnance in addition.

No. 482.—The following promotions are made:—

Conductor (actg. dep. asst. comy.) J. Mathieson to be dep. asst. comy. of ordnance.

August 13.—No. 485.—Col. J. C. Heath, 31st N.I., to be a brigd. of 2nd class as a temp. measure, and to com. 2nd class brigade at Poona.

Bombay, August 11.—Returned to duty on the 10th August:—

Lieuts. H. C. Done and W. H. Newport, 3rd Eur. regiment.

Lieut. A. W. Godson, 12th N.I., passed colloq. exam. in Hindoostance on July 30.

Leave of absence:—

20th N.I.—Lieut. and adjt. H. L. Robinson, from July 13 to Aug. 31, to proc. to Bombay on m.c., under new furl. regs., prep. to Europe.

Poona, Aug. 16.—No. 488.—The G.O. No. 466 of July 30, placing the servs. of Lieut. Neave, of H.M.'s 24th regt. N.I., at the disposal of H.E. the C. in C. is cane.

Aug. 17.—No. 491.—The servs. of Ens. Ducat, of H.M.'s 17th regt. N.I., are placed at disposal of the Govt. of India.

Aug. 20.—No. 494.—The following promotions are made:—

H.M.'s Bombay Corps of Engrs.—Capt. J. H. Burke, to be lieut. col., 2nd Capt. H. St. Clair Wilkins, to be capt., and Capt. H. Pym, to be 2nd capt. from Aug. 16, 1860, in succn. to Lieut. col. Hart, retired.

Lieut. col. E. Wemyss and Lieut. A. Le Messurier of the corps of engr., are respectively entitled to the superior rates of pay, from Aug. 16 inclusive, v. Hart and Pym.

Aug. 21.—No. 496.—The underment. officers are allowed furl. to Europe on m.c., under new furl. regs.:—

Maj. W. Loch, 1st L.C., actg. mil. paymr. at presy., for 18 mos., and Lieut. and adjt. H. L. Robinson, 20th N.I., for 15 mos.

No. 497.—On the depart. of Maj. Loch, of H.M.'s 1st L.C., to England, Capt. J. T. Annesley, H.M.'s 26th N.I., will act as paymr. at presy. in addition to his duties as paymr. and superintd. of family payments.

Aug. 14.—No. 486.—The underment. med. officers having completed 20 years' service from the date of their arrival in India are prom. to be surgs. maj. under royal warrant of Jan. 30, 1860:—

Surgs. P. S. Arnott, A. Burn, C. Morehead, T. Waller, D. Ritchie, A. H. Leith, P. W. Hockin, D. Grierson, J. W. Winchester, W. Arbuckle, A. Durham, D. Carnegie, J. Dias, W. H. Bradley, M. Thompson, A. Wright, W. Neilson, D. Costello, H. D. Glaske, and R. H. Davidson, from June 13.

No. 487.—The following promotions are made:—

H.M.'s 29th Regt.—Lieut. J. D. Eales to be capt. of a compy., and Ens. J. Jopp to be lieut. from Aug. 4, 1860, in succn. to Davies, dec., on the 30th idem.

THE MANUAL OF ARTILLERY EXERCISE.

Poona, Aug. 17.—The following G.R.O., dated Horse Guards, Jan. 1, is published for the information of the army. At the recommendation of the commandant of artillery, the C. in C. directs that the "Manual of Artillery Exercise" to which it refers be adhered to by H.M.'s regt. of Bombay art.:

Horse Guards, Jan. 1.—The Gen. C. in C. having approved of the instructions contained in the "Manual of Artillery Exercise," which embodies the service of ordnance and the carbine drill, desires that they may be strictly adhered to throughout the service. H.R.H. also directs that each officer of the royal artillery shall provide himself with a copy of the Manual.

By command of H.R.H. the Duke of Cambridge.
C. BINGHAM, Dep. Adj. Gen.

BY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF.

Poona, Aug. 6.—The following apps. are made, with effect from July 1:—

Capt. (Brev. maj.) A. Crawford, brig. maj. on the estab., to be asst. adjt. gen. of div. v. Leith.

Brev. maj. A. Crawford, asst. adjt. gen., is posted to northern div.

Capt. J. A. Collier, H.M.'s 7th N.I., to be a brig. maj. on estab., v. Crawford, and will continue as brig. maj. at Poona.

Ens. J. L. Fagan, do. du. with 2nd Gren. N.I., is removed to do du. with 25th N.I., at Poona,—to join.

Bombay, Aug. 7.—Leave of abs.:—2nd Eur. L.I.—Lieut. G. Billamore, from 1st to 31st Aug., in ext., to remain at Poona, on m.c.

SUPPLY OF SMOOTH BORE MUSKETS FOR THE NATIVE ARMY.

1. A supply of smooth bore muskets and fuzils, to a new description, having arrived from England for the arming of the native army, the C. in C. desires that all regts. having arms, which may have served the prescribed period, or may be considered by a committee unserviceable, shall immediately prefer indents for new arms, viz.:—smooth bore fuzils for havildars, and smooth bore muskets for rank and file.

2. With ref. to G.O. No. 379, dated 16th June last, Pensioned dep. asst. comy. of ordnance D. McKenzie is per. to draw his stipend at the English rate in India until he can arrange for passage to Eur.

Poona, Aug. 9.—Inf. cadet C. Hay, recently arr. from England, is att. to do du., for a period of 6 mo., with H.M.'s 57th regt.

Leave of abs.:—H.M.'s 28th N.I.—Lieut. col. G. C. Stockley, from Aug. 8 to Sept. 6, to remain at Bombay, on priv. leave, in ext. of 30 days granted by the maj. gen. cong. P.D.A.

Aug. 13.—Leave of absence has been granted by H.R.H. the Gen. C. in C. to the undermentioned officers:—

56th Regt.—Paymr. Finlay, fr. June 8 to Dec. 13, on m.c.

72nd Highlanders.—Capt. Best, fr. June 21 to Dec. 29, on m.c.

23rd Regt.—Capt. Sprot, fr. June 25 to Oct. 29, on m.c.

95th Regt.—Lieut. Cubitt, fr. June 26 to Oct. 29, on m.c.

Maj. W. H. C. Lye, 13th N.I., is att. to 31st N.I., and will proc. to take comm. of that regt., at Deesa, at his earliest convenience.

The foll. arrangements in the barrack depart. to have effect fr. 1st prox., consequent on departure of Capt. Raitt, barrack mr. at Poona, to England, on furl.:

Cond. P. MacLaughlin, 2nd class barrack mr. of Ahmednuggur, to be 1st class barrack mr. of the Poona circle, v. Raitt.

Capt. F. J. Groube, invalid estab., to be 2nd class barrack mr. of Ahmednuggur circle, v. MacLaughlin.

Orders will be given by the gr. mr. gen. of the army relative to the immediate transfer of the Poona and Ahmednuggur barrack masters' du. to the above officers, in anticipation of the permanent arrangement above ordered.

THE RELIEFS.

August 20.—The following reliefs for the season 1860 and 61 have received the sanc. of govt., and will be carried out under orders that will be communicated hereafter to officers comdg. divs. and brigds. by the qrmr. gen. of the army:—

Royal Artillery.

No. 7 battery, from Poona to Nusseerabad, changing station.

Artillery.

3rd troop horse art., from Nusseerabad to Poona, changing station.

1st compy. 1st batt., from Ahmedabad to Poona, relieved by 3rd compy. 3rd batt., to leave batty. at Ahmedabad and take up batty. of 3rd compy. 3rd batt. at Poona.

2nd compy. 2nd batt., from Settara to Belgaum, with field batty. attached, agreeably to govt. resolution No. 2,490, 13th July, 1860, detailing a second batty. for Belgaum.

3rd compy. 2nd batt., from Sholapore to Kurrachee, to leave batty. at Sholapore, and take up batty. of 4th compy. 3rd batt. at Kurrachee.

3rd compy. 3rd batt., from Kolapore to Ahmedabad, to leave batty. at Poona en route, and take up batty. of 1st compy. 1st batt. at Ahmedabad.

4th compy. 3rd batt., from Kurrachee to Sholapore, to leave batty. at Kurrachee and take up batty. of 3rd compy. 2nd batt. at Sholapore.

Cavalry.

3rd drag. gds. from Mhow to — will move from the Mhow div. station not yet fixed.

8th Hussars, from Nusseerabad to Mhow, to rel. the comp. 28th foot, which will join its own regt.

3rd drag. gds., detaching one squadron to Nusseerabad, and one squadron to Neemuch. The distribution of the European cav. in the Mhow division will in future be as follows:—Head qrs. and 2 squadrons at Mhow, 1 squadron at Mhow, and 1 squadron at Neemuch.

European Infantry.

4th Foot, hd. qrs. wing, from Ahmedabad to Ahmednuggur, detaching 1 comp. to Asseergur to rel. the comp. 28th foot, which will join its own regt.

56th Foot, from Poona and Ahmednuggur, head qrs. and 4 comps. to Bombay, 3 comps. to Ahmedabad, and 3 comps. to Settara.

83rd Foot (wing), from Kolapore to Belgaum, to join head qrs.

95th Foot, from Neemuch to —, will move, but destination not yet fixed.

1st Bombay Fus., from Belgaum to Poona, to rel. the 56th.

2nd Eur. L.I., from Bombay to Neemuch, will first join the camp of instruction at Poona in Dec., and afterwards proc. to Neemuch to rel. the 95th.

Native Infantry.

1st Regt., from Kurrachee to Bhoj.

12th Regt., from Nusseerabad to Surat, to rel. the 16th N.I.

15th Regt., from Poona to Aden, exchanging with 29th N.I.

16th Regt., from Surat to Rajcote, to rel. 19th N.I.

17th Regt., from Rajcote to Nusseerabad, to rel. 20th N.I.

20th Regt., from Dharwar to Dhoolia, and 26th regt. from Dhoolia to Dharwar, exchanging stations.

29th Regt., from Aden to Poona, exchanging with 15th N.I.

Aug. 21.—Maj. Symons, of the invalid estab., 1st class barrack-master at Bombay, is perm. to resign that appt. at his own request.

Conductor E. Whitmore, Bombay garrison, is appt. 1st class barrack-master at Bombay, v. Symons.

Leave of absence:—

17th N.I.—Lieut. H. T. Hebbert, from Sept. 15 to Oct. 30, to Bombay, on priv. leave.

19th N.I.—Capt. P. M. Briggs, from Aug. 17 to Sept. 30, to proceed to Bombay for the purpose of being examined by the standing medical committee for the transfer to the invalid estab.

Bombay, Aug. 21.—Leave of absence:—

31st N.I.—Capt. M. I. Battye, from Aug. 6 to Sept. 5, to Bombay, on m.c.

Aug. 16.—The undermentioned ensigns are attached to regiments as follows from the dates specified opposite their respective names, and directed to join, with the exception of Ens. Burnes, who will proceed as soon as the season permits:—

Ensigns.—G. G. Morris, attached to 7th N.I., from Sept. 1.

E. S. Williamson, attached to 10th N.I., from Aug. 17.

W. E. F. Vibart, attached to 10th N.I., from Aug. 17.

C. S. Lechmen, attached to 18th N.I., from Aug. 17.

W. F. Predeaux, attached to 15th N.I., from Aug. 17.

H. L. Hall, attached to 1st Eur. (fusiliers) from Aug. 17.

W. W. Haywood, attached to 10th N.I., from Aug. 22.

J. D. S. Ogilvy, attached to 15th N.I., from Aug. 17.

A. B. H. Burnes, attached to 31st N.I., from Sept. 1.

Under authority of the C. in C. in India, Lieut. O. L. L. Prendergast, of H.M.'s 52nd L.I., is attached to Kurrachee depot, and will await the arrival of regimental drafts expected from England, when his servs. will be availed of in conducting them to the head qrs. of their regt.

Poona, Aug. 17.—Leave of absence:—

2nd L.C.—Lieut. LeGeyt, fr. Aug. 6 to Sept. 20, to Ahmednuggur, on priv. leave.

2nd S. Maratta Horse.—Lieut. W. A. Kerr, 2nd in com., for 1 mo. fr. date of quitting Sholapore, to Bombay.

Aug. 20.—The underment. officers passed the colloq. exam. in Hindoostanee on Aug. 11:—

Lieut. A. J. Bannerman, 9th N.I.; Ens. F. H. T. G. Cumming, 12th N.I.

Bombay, Aug. 18.—The underment. officers have been reported to be qualified as interps. in the Hindoostanee language:—

Lieut. A. J. Doig, 15th N.I.; Lieut. T. L. Fraser, 14th N.I.; Lieut. W. F. F. Waller, 25th N.I.; Cornet G. C. Hogg, 2nd L.C.; Lieut. J. Gabbett, 95th foot.

Unatt. Ens. D. C. Pedder, att. to 4th foot (K.O.), passed colloq. exam. in Hindoostanee on Aug. 7.

Leave of absence:—

2nd L.C.—Lieut. H. J. Titter, fr. July 20 to Aug. 10, to remain at Poona, on m.c.

15th N.I.—Lieut. A. J. Doig, fr. 14th to 23rd Aug. to Bombay, for the purpose of undergoing an exam. in Hindoostanee.

Poona, Aug. 15.—H.E. the C. in C. has much pleasure in notifying that Colour serg. Mulkeri of H.M.'s 57th regt. has passed the examin. required by G.O. April 20, 1844, in the colloq. Hindoostanee language, and trusts that the example set by this non-commissioned officer may be followed by others.

The following orders are confirmed:—

By Lieut. col. J. Holmes, cong. at Nusseerabad, dated July 15, granting leave to Ens. Ward, H.M.'s 28th regt., from July 12 to Aug. 15, to proc. to Taraghar on m.c.

Aug. 16.—The leave to Lieut. D. B. Young, of the 25th regt., F.L.I., in G.O. of March 10 last, is to be considered as "privileged" leave.

The Right Hon. the Secretary of State for India has been pleased to permit Surg. W. H. Bradley, of the med. estab. to count as service for retiring pension, the leave (not exceeding 15 mos.) granted to that officer on account of illness contracted on field service.

NAVAL.

Poona, Aug. 2.—No. 137.—Mr. J. J. Newberry, 1st cl. engr., is per. to proc. to Poona, with leave, for 1 mo., com. from 30th ult., on m.c.

Aug. 6.—No. 138.—Ext. of leave, on m.c., have been granted to the foll. officers of the I.N., viz.:—

Com. M. B. Worsley, 4 mo.

Lieut. James A. H. Heathcote, 2 mo.

Mr. G. B. Hewett (mate), 6 mo.

Superint. Office, Bombay, Aug. 10.—Mr. Midshipman Arabin, having arr. from Aden, per P. and O. Com.'s str. Madras, is hereby directed to join the Ajdaha as supern. from this date.

Poona, Aug. 11.—No. 140.—Mr. T. Dale Smart is adm. to the serv. as a capt.'s clerk for the I.N. from the date of arr., the 29th ult.

Asst. surg. Hojel, of the Ajdaha, was per. to reside on shore out of the Sanatorium, m.c., from 10th inst., and the surg. of the Auckland was directed to afford med. aid to the officers and crew of the former vessel from that date.

Aug. 18.—Mr. Finnis, midshipman, supern. of the Ajdaha, is to be transf. to the Punjab.

Lieut. Forster, of the Ajdaha, is directed to hold himself in readiness to proc. to Cannanore on special duty, by the B. S. N. Co.'s str. Pioneer, which leaves this on 22nd inst.

Aug. 21.—Mr. H. Boys, midshipman of the Ajdaha, is per. to reside on shore at the Sanatorium, m.c., from 14th inst.

Aug. 22.—Mr. Lishman, midshipman supern., att. to the Ajdaha, is to be transf. to the Auckland.

The Operations before the Fortress of Beyt.

Commodore's Office, Bombay, Aug. 11.—Adverting to G.O. dated Dec. 2 last, the C. in C. I.N. has much gratification in publishing the subjoined copy of a letter from the acting chief secretary to Government dated 6th inst. No. 3,111, in the political department, stating that the commendation bestowed upon Commander Cruttenden, the officers and men of the I.N., who were employed in the operations before the Fortress of Beyt, has met with the concurrence of H.M.'s Secretary of State of India.

No. 3,111 of 1860.—Political Department.
From H. L. Anderson, Esq., acting chief secretary to Government, Bombay. To Commodore G. G. Wellesley, C.B. R.N., C. in C. I.N.

Dated Aug. 5, 1860.

Sir,—With reference to your letter of Oct. 19 last, No. 1,030, I am directed by H.E. the Governor in Council to intimate to you, that in a despatch dated March 1 last, No. 9, H.M.'s Secretary of State for India has informed this Government that he entirely concurs in the commendation which has been bestowed on the officers and men of the I.N. employed in the operations before the Fortress of Beyt, more particularly Commander Cruttenden and the other officers mentioned.

2nd. In making this intimation to you I am desired to request that the sentiments of H.M.'s Secretary of State for India may be communicated to Commander Cruttenden and the other officers alluded to.—I have the honour to be, &c.

H. L. ANDERSON, Actg. Chief Sec., C. in C. I.N., Office, Bombay, Aug. 11.

BIRTHS.

ARTHURS, Mrs. W. F., daughter, at Aden, June 25.
 AUDJO, wife of Capt. J. K., son, at Patna, Aug. 2.
 BATTISCOMBE, wife of Capt. N. C., daughter, at Ahmednuggur, Aug. 8.
 BAUMBACH, wife of J., daughter, at Rampart Row, Aug. 20.
 BAYLEY, wife of E. C., daughter, at Lucknow, Aug. 9.
 BECHER, wife of Maj. S., daughter, at Calcutta, Aug. 9.
 BLAKEMAN, wife of J. H., daughter, at Bombay, Aug. 20.
 BRESNAHAN, wife of T. D., twin daughters, at Royapooram, Aug. 6.
 BURGESS, wife of Rev. A., daughter, at Royapettah, Aug. 13.
 CHAMPTON, wife of Maj. J. H., son, at Mhow, Aug. 8.
 DALE, wife of Capt. J. D., daughter, at Kamptee, Aug. 12.
 DAVEY, wife of Dr., son, at Poona, Aug. 8.
 DRAKE, wife of J. A., son, still-born, at Murree, July 26.
 EBDEN, wife of Dr. H. A., daughter, at Calcutta, Aug. 3.
 HENNING, wife of C., daughter, at Delhi, Aug. 11.
 HOGAN, wife of G., son, at Sealkote, July 26.
 JAMIESON, Mrs. J., son, still-born, at Bombay, Aug. 15.
 JUDGE, wife of G. S., son, at Panchganny, June 22.
 KIDD, wife of L., daughter, at Kurrachee, Aug. 8.
 KNIGHT, wife of H., son, at Matoonga, Aug. 9.
 LAING, wife of P. S., son, at Lucknow, Aug. 5.
 LYONS, wife of Capt. E. W., son, at Bhooj, Aug. 4.
 MAIDMENT, wife of W., son, at Bombay, Aug. 21.
 MELVILLE, wife of S., son, at Allahabad, Aug. 3.
 MYATT, wife of P., daughter, at Sattara, Aug. 4.
 OSTREHAN, wife of Lieut., daughter, at Poona, Aug. 12.
 RAWLINS, wife of Capt. J. S., daughter, at Mussoorie, Aug. 2.
 ROBERTSON, wife of A. D., son, at Malabar Hill, Aug. 8.
 SAFOND, wife of A. N., son, at Mhow, Aug. 5.
 SHIPTON, wife of Lieut. W., daughter, at Baroda, Aug. 16.
 SMITH, wife of J., daughter, at Bombay, Aug. 18.
 STEVENS, wife of C., son, at Byculla, Aug. 24.
 STOWELL, Mrs. J. A., son, at Agra, Aug. 10.
 TANNER, wife of H. C. B., daughter, at Kurrachee, Aug. 12.
 TEMPLE, wife of Lieut. A. B., son, at Almorah, Aug. 5.
 THOMAS, wife of H. S., son, at Madura, July 31.
 TRISCOIT, wife of Capt., son, at Cuttack, July 30.
 WALSH, wife of Rev. J. J., son, at Allahabad, Aug. 9.
 WATSON, wife of J., daughter, at Bombay, Aug. 22.
 WESTROPP, wife of Lieut. G. R. C., daughter, at Sawntwarree, Aug. 12.
 WEOUGHTON, wife of W. N., son, at Coonoor, Aug. 9.

MARRIAGES.

CONCANNON, J. W., to Miss Mary A. P. Mortan, at Agra.
 DARKE, J. P., to Ellen J., daughter of J. B. Tapp, at Kurrachee, Aug. 7.
 D'MONTE, S., to Miss Letitia Rodgers, at Madras, July 30.
 GODFREY, Lieut., H.M.'s 28th Madras N.I., to Matilda E., daughter of E. E. Merrill, at Dowlaiswaram, Aug. 2.
 MEKLEJOHN, W., to Mrs. M. McKenzie, at Kurrachee, Aug. 15.
 ROBINS, F., to Emily, daughter of the late G. Robins, at Byculla, Aug. 13.
 SMITH, W., to Jessie F., daughter of the late J. J. Pemberton, Aug. 4.
 STEPHENSON, Rev. R., to Mary, daughter of Rev. G. Scott, at Negapatam, July 31.
 WILLIAMSON, B., to Charlotte J. Z., daughter of Rev. B. O. Deane, at Bellary, Aug. 7.

DEATHS.

ALLEN, Mary, widow of the late T. B., aged 40, Aug. 14.
 ALLEN, Thomas B., on board the Burita, aged 45, Aug. 12.
 ANDREWS, wife of Capt. J. R. B., at Simla, July 29.
 BAXTER, Capt. J. F., H.M.'s 56th regt., at Ahmednuggur, Aug. 20.
 BENSON, Ann E., infant daughter of J., at Byculla, Aug. 20.
 BLAIR, Catherine J., at Kurrachee, aged 3, Aug. 16.
 BOW, William C., infant son of J. C., at Futtchpore, Aug. 5.
 BROOKS, George, at Poorundlun, Aug. 13.

BROWN, Harold G., infant son of J. B. S., at Ferozepore, July 29.
 CLAY, infant son of Capt. E. B., at Nynee Tal, Aug. 5.
 DAVIES, Capt., Com. Guzerat Provincial Battalion, at Kavia, Aug. 3.
 EDGINTON, Mrs. Margaret, at Bombay, aged 68, Aug. 16.
 FAULKNER, Matilda V., infant daughter of H., at Poona, Aug. 6.
 FITZGERALD, Charles J., infant son of C. J., at Pursewaikum, Aug. 2.
 GONSALVES, Ann, infant daughter of D., at Colaba, Aug. 6.
 GOOCH, Julia C., wife of Lieut. G. C., at Murree, aged 27, July 30.
 HAGGARD, Sophia, at Poona, aged 24, Aug. 6.
 HALL, Laura C. A. B., infant daughter of Maj. G., at Nowgong, July 31.
 HENDERSON, George H., infant son of Capt. J., at Ahmedabad, Aug. 11.
 HISSKIN, Kate B., at Poona, aged 4, Aug. 16.
 JACKSON, Joseph, at Bombay, aged 45, Aug. 9.
 LAUGHLAND, Janet G., at Poona, aged 1, Aug. 12.
 LEEPER, Kathleen, infant daughter of Rev. F. J., at Tanjore, Aug. 1.
 MARSHALL, Buxter A., at Madras, aged 6, July 28.
 MOUNTAIN, John K., at Kirkee, aged 37, Aug. 12.
 PORTMAN, Ens. F. W. B., 15th Bombay N.I., at Ahmednuggur, Aug. 1.
 PUCKLE, Richard M. K., infant son of R. K., at Trichinopoly, Aug. 9.
 STRATON, Ens. Robt. G., H.M.'s 5th Bombay N.I., at Macao Fort, of fever, aged 19, July 24.
 VAUGHAN, Catherine M., at Bombay, Aug. 11.
 WILLIAMS, Sarah C., wife of W., at Bombay, Aug. 7.
 WULLEN, Maria L., wife of Capt. T. D. V., of cholera, at Kaabadavie, aged 26, Aug. 21.
 YELSMORE, inf. daughter of J. M., at Madras, July 24.

WAR OFFICE.

CHANGES, PROMOTIONS, &c.,
IN H.M.'s REGIMENTS SERVING IN INDIA.
Sept. 18.

1st Drag. Gds.—T. A. Quin, gent., to be corn., by purch., v. Marsland, prom.
 6th Drags.—Lieut. col. T. R. Crawley, fr. 15th lt. drags., to be lieut. col., v. FitzWygram, who exch.
 7th Lt. Drags.—F. M. Drew, gent., to be corn., by purch., v. Hon. A. W. E. M. Herbert, prom.; J. Lawrence, gent., to be corn., by purch., v. Scrope, prom.
 12th Lt. Drags.—J. Stevenson, gent., to be corn., by purch., in succ. to Lieut. J. H. B. Vaughan, who ret.
 4th Foot.—Lieut. C. T. Wilson to be capt., by purch., v. Boehmer, who ret.; Ens. W. P. Bridson, to be lieut., by purch., v. Wilson.
 13th Foot.—Ens. D. T. Perse to be lieut., by purch., v. Ruck, ret.; S. Flower, gent., to be ens., by purch., v. Perse.
 23rd Foot.—L. J. W. Hadden, gent., to be ens., by purch., v. Bacon, prom.
 60th Foot.—Maj. P. B. Roe to be lieut. col., by purch., v. Brev. col. M. G. Dennis, c.b., ret.; Capt. and brev. inaj. C. A. B. Gordon to be maj., by purch., v. Roe; Lieut. W. F. Carleton to be capt., by purch., v. Gordon; Ens. J. G. Crosbie to be lieut., by purch., v. Carleton; R. D. Elphinstone, gent., to be ens., by purch., v. Beadon, prom.; C. J. Shepherd, gent., to be ens., by purch., v. Marshall, prom.; T. H. Duncombe, gent., to be ens., by purch., v. Crosbie; Lieut. W. G. Turle to be instruc. of musk., v. Northey, prom.
 64th Foot.—Asst. surg. E. Parsonage, M.D., fr. staff, to be asst. surg., v. Lundy, to staff.
 70th Foot.—Lieut. A. C. H. Tovey to be capt., without purch., v. Jackson, dec.; Ens. C. C. Richardson to be lieut., without purch., v. Tovey; H. L. M. Ravenhill, gent., to be ens., without purch., v. Richardson.

BREVET.

Brev. maj. G. Man, ret. upon full pay, fr. capt. of companies of gentlemen cadets, Roy. Mil. Coll., to be lieut. col. in the army, the rank being honorary only.
 Capt. D. M. Murray, 64th foot, to be major in the army.
 Capt. J. P. Caulfield, 4th Bengal Eur. regt.
 Capt. H. Le Poer Trench, 35th Bengal N.I.

ASSAM.—There has been an inundation in Assam, in consequence of the rise of the river Berhampooter. Wild animals were swept away by the stream; many were destroyed by the natives on the high land, whither they were driven by the flood.

MAJOR SYMONS, of the Invalid Establishment, is about to vacate the appointment of barrack master of the garrison of Bombay.

COUNTRY AGENTS:—

Edinburgh, W. Blackwood and Sons.
 Dublin, Hodges and Smith.
 Brighton, C. Booty.

Communications for the Editor, and Advertisements, should be sent under cover to Messrs. WM. H. ALLEN & Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

* * Should any delay or irregularity occur in supplying this Paper, communication of the fact to the Publisher will insure a remedy.

ALLEN'S INDIAN MAIL,

WEDNESDAY, September 19, 1860.

IN MEMORIAM.

We regret to announce the death of Lieutenant Harry J. G. Gordon, of the Madras Engineers, at the early age of 25, who was drowned by the upsetting of a boat, whilst in the execution of his duty, in Talien Bay, North China, on the 11th July last.

This promising young officer arrived in India in December, 1856, and was posted to the Sappers and Miners. With the B company of this corps he served in the Persian Expedition of 1856-7. On the return of the company from Persia it was ordered to join the field force in Central India commanded by Major-general Sir Hugh Rose, with which it served during the whole of the campaign, including the forcing of the Pass of Mundesore, the actions at Rathgur and Barodia, and the capture of Calpee and Gwalior. Lieut. Gordon latterly held command of the company, and was "specially mentioned" by Sir H. Rose, for "the satisfactory manner in which he performed the duty."

On the formation of the expeditionary force for China, Lieut. Gordon again volunteered his services, and lost his life by the melancholy accident above described.

Lieut. Gordon had received a medal and clasp for Persia, and a medal and clasp for the Central India campaign.

PRIZE PROPERTY.

THREE years having elapsed since the fall of Delhi, and no portion of the prize money having been as yet distributed, the captors of the Imperial city are becoming naturally somewhat impatient, and are filling the columns of the daily papers with remonstrances and expressions of indignation that are only too well justified by the dilatory conduct of the Indian Government. The Secretary of State has repeatedly applied for the necessary details, which, under one pretext or another, have been kept back as long as it was possible to do so without outraging all rules of decency. At last the preliminary information was known to have been afforded, and each day the papers were anxiously scanned in the expectation of coming across a notification of the date of distribution. But the cup was still held away from their eager lips. A difference of opinion arose as to the principle by which Government should be guided in distributing the value of the captured booty, and a committee was appointed to consider the question. This took place three months ago, but nothing is yet publicly known as to the decision, or recommendations, of these gentlemen. It appears, however, that the scale of distribution adopted will be that promulgated in her Majesty's Proclamation of the 11th August, 1854, the effect of which is "greatly to reduce the shares of the commanding and other officers, and to augment in proportion the shares of the non-commissioned officers and soldiers." The "heroes of Delhi" will, moreover, be glad to learn that Sir Charles Wood has recommended that "the booty taken should be divided only amongst the troops employed at the siege and capture of that city." Sir Charles might even have gone still further without being guilty of any very glaring injustice had he classed the Cashmere contingency with General Cortlandt's levies. It is true this "rabble rout" made a noisy attack upon one of the gates; but it is equally true that they were very speedily repulsed, and also that for this trifling service they received a donation of twelve months' batta. It is questionable how far the army will feel grateful to Colonel Champneys, Military Auditor-General, for his excessive zeal in suggesting to the Government the propriety of deducting the donation batta from the Delhi and Lucknow prize money, because the latter was likely to be of considerable value, and also because the former is "given in many cases of field service where prize booty was not required." It is needless to observe that Colonel Champneys was not present either at Delhi or Lucknow. The Court of Directors, however, took a more liberal view of the matter than the parsimonious Auditor-General, and declared the grants of donation batta to be quite irrespective of any booty to which the troops might eventually become entitled. The total amount to be distributed to "the army before Delhi" is Rs. 35,57,917, 6 annas, 8 pie; and to the Lucknow forces Rs. 14,82,645, 6 annas, 1 pie; the Nepaulese troops being very properly debarred from participating in the latter, on the ground that they helped themselves to their full share of plunder before the sack was discontinued. Several other sums are also ready for distribution. Colonel Greathed's column, for instance, are to have Rs. 5,029, 9 pie. Lieutenant-colonel Malcolm's force is down for Rs. 10,026, 15 annas, 8 pie, for the capture of Nurgood, and also for Rs. 4,903, 5 annas, 11 pie, for property seized at Hulgulle; and Major Evans' field force will receive Rs. 1,00,113 taken from the Bheels by Captain Birch's detachment. The field force under Major-General Roberts comes in for Rs. 1,68,122, 13 annas, 7 pie, on account of Kotah and Awah, while that under Sir Hugh Rose may expect Rs. 7,71,010 for the capture of Dhar, and about 6 lakhs for that of Jhansi. The plundered property seems to have been of a most miscellaneous character. The booty gathered together at Awah, for example, comprised the most heterogeneous articles, usually sold at absurdly low prices. The largest sum given for a horse was 43 rupees, while a grey pony was purchased for 1 rupee 8 annas. Buffaloes averaged about 3 rupees each; cows varied from 1 rupee 8 annas to 5 rupees 8 annas; bullocks from 1 rupee to 17 rupees 8 annas; and asses from 8 annas to 3 rupees; while a ram fetched 3 rupees 8 annas. Coats of mail were to be had for 8 annas to 2 rupees 8 annas; tulwars for 1 rupee to 2 rupees 12 annas; tents for 1 rupee 12 annas to 450 rupees; and tom-toms for 10 annas to 3 rupees. A bird-cage fetched 2 annas, a drum 9 annas, a shield 12 annas, and a group of figures 5 annas. Three elephants, however, realised 1,700 rupees, and a tonjohn and palanquin 390 rupees. The sale list of the property captured at Kotah embraces a still greater variety of articles. Lots of bedding, fans, clothing, carpets, silver ornaments, parrots, boxes, a leather bag, brass idols, looking-glasses, rope, a velvet pillow, a pistol box, brass and copper pots, lace cloth, a stone idol, silver thread, iron wire, brass wire, cowrie ornaments, sabre leather, hooks, silver cloth, ponies, horses, bullocks, an umbrella, chairs, a book, betel-nut, quilts, a turban, a cat, a clock, an American watch, a sword, a copper inkstand, copper vessels, copper dishes, a musket box, lotahs, tape, a palanquin, sandal-wood, a writing-desk, opium, a large durbar tent, an elephant howdah, country paper, cups, spices, wheat, elephant armour, scales, gold ornaments, couches, hides, flags, brass guns, silver parrots, peacocks, cows, and fish, silver toys, shawls, tables, chair armour, and quantities of native manufactures, form a strange and barbarous medley, and prove the sagacity of the troops in ferretting out whatever could be turned into money, from a small sword that was knocked down at two annas to a bedstead that realised 500 rupees. The amount of misery and ruin represented by these fantastic columns of the prize agents is appalling to conceive. How many thousands of individuals were reduced to abject want to make up that total of 46,726 rupees, 2 pies, that appears at the foot of the Kotah tables, it is terrible to contemplate. We may, however, hence learn to form some idea of the anguish and wretchedness that would fall on myriads of Englishmen if ever a French army were to burst into our metropolis. The sufferings inflicted by our own troops upon the Indian rebels are but a small measure of the direful consequences that would ensue if London ever became a prize of war. But so long as England is true to herself she has little to fear from any invader. A free people fighting for their hearths can never be subdued.

* London Gazette, 8th November, 1859.

BREWERIES IN INDIA.

Festina lentissime was certainly in too many respects a favourite maxim with the East India Company in the days of their grandeur. Though liberal and even munificent paymasters, they were ever slow to forward any experiments in agriculture, manufactures, or trade. It was no part of their policy to encourage the immigration of European settlers, or the introduction of European theories and principles as well as capital. They were content to let well alone, and were, therefore, systematically opposed to innovations of any kind. A remarkable instance of their indifference to economical improvements has very recently been brought to light through the publication, by order of the House of Commons, of copies of certain papers forwarded to the Court of Directors in 1849 and 1850 by the Government of Madras. These documents referred to the possibility of supplying the European troops with malt liquor brewed in India, instead of continuing to incur the risk and expense of despatching it from this country. There appears to be no doubt as to the fact that a considerable loss is annually sustained by Government in the endeavour to furnish the European soldiers with wholesome malt liquor at a reasonable price. In 1855-56, indeed, the loss incurred under this head in the Bengal Presidency alone amounted to £77,212; in 1856-57 to £32,459; and in 1857-58 to £39,852. Taking the three Presidencies the annual loss cannot amount to less than £50,000. It therefore becomes a question worthy of serious consideration whether some arrangement could not be made with a view to enable the troops to obtain a sound wholesome beverage, and at the same time effect a reduction of the public expenditure. So far back as 1849 Capt. Ouchterlony, of the Madras Engineers, established the fact that good drinkable beer could be brewed in the Neilgherries, and sent down to the plains, for at least 25 per cent. less than it costs to import it from England. His experiments were conducted, moreover, under every possible disadvantage. His copper was barely enough for a brewing of 10 gallons, and his implements were all of the rudest kind. He himself was very slightly acquainted with either the principles or the practice of brewing, and his materials were of the most inferior description. But, notwithstanding all these serious drawbacks, he succeeded in producing an article which was pronounced by officers, non-commissioned officers, and privates of several European regiments to be "very good," though too sweet and new. The sweetness was due to the use of raw Muscovado sugar, and to the want of sufficient fermentation, the hops also being described as "old and bad." The consequence was that the beer was rather heady, and somewhat "muddy," from being run off into bottles without due preparation. The troopers of H.M.'s 15th Hussars, nevertheless, approved of it, though objecting to its sweetness, while the men of H.M.'s 51st Light Infantry were even enthusiastic in their commendation. Some of them, too, spoke with a certain air of authority, derived from a practical knowledge of the subject. "At present very good," says private William Warren; "I think it will not keep; I lived at an inn five years." "Very good," says William Hinan, "I think it would be better if a little older—say three months; I have been a brewer, and am of opinion it would keep." James Gregory, however, is more fastidious, and declares it to be "indifferent," adding the remark that it was "too sweet and too new, might improve by keeping; I was a brewer for eight years; not sufficiently hopped." But William Kelfe, who was "five years at a public-house," and H. Evestead, who was "four years a brewer," declare that it was "very good;" and these two are able to sign their names,—an amount of scholarship not possessed by the others. According to John West, "it was the best beer he had tasted in India." Corporal Vick would like it to be a little older; and W. Luck, considerable man, fears that "it would make a man's head ache should he take a little too much," in which respect it might be thought to resemble "jolly good ale and old" of the most famous tap. The 94th men, again, express their perfect readiness to drink nothing but Neilgherry beer, if supplied at three annas a bottle, and the 2nd European Fusiliers are equally gracious and patronising. Major-general Kennett, of the Bombay army, pronounced it to be "very similar in taste to the ale sold at public-houses in the country in England." Mr. E. F. Elliot, superintendent of police, Madras, eulogises its body and fine flavour, "similar to home-brewed beer in England, only more potent." A German missionary, the Rev. G. H. Weigle, is reminded of the fatherland, and says that "the beer of this year (1849) comes in appearance and taste very near to the better sorts of German beer," while the Rev. J. Griffiths "could barely distinguish it from college ale," and "certainly preferred it to Bass's or Allsopp's." Captain Briggs, H.A., describes it as being "very ripe," and thought it "palatable and of good body." Mr. M. D. Cockburn, C.S., pronounced it to be very like the "beer brewed by farmers in England," and to Major-general Dyce it appeared to be "a sound, palatable, good liquor," resembling "both in smell and taste the common English ale, but much stronger." Fortified by all these favourable certificates, and supported by the Government of Madras, Captain Ouchterlony ventured to solicit from the Court of Directors pecuniary aid for the furtherance of his public-spirited labours to the extent of £100, taking care to show that a grant to that amount would be amply covered by the sums he had saved to Government through refraining from drawing certain office allowances to which he was entitled. This modest and reasonable request was left unanswered and unnoticed, and of course the experiment for the time fell to the ground. In the Himalayas, however, beer of excellent quality has been produced for some years past, and with a moderate capital and a proper "plant" there is no doubt that the speculation would prove both safe and profitable. There is some difficulty, indeed, about procuring hops, but perhaps other plants or herbs might be found to impart a bitter flavour and equally good as preservatives. But even if hops have to be imported from Europe, it would still answer to supply the European troops and residents with a really pleasant and wholesome beverage at a far lower price than is now paid. The promise of Government patronage would probably suffice to raise the necessary capital, and a large saving would thus be effected in the military expenditure of each year.

SHIPPING.

ARRIVALS.

Sept. 13. Hontress, Owen, Calcutta: Everetta, Montgomerie, Mamba; Utopia, Keen Kooria Moora.—14. J. L. Hall, Richardson, Akyab; Sir Ralph Abercromby, Humpseed, Whampoa; Amalia, Freiberg, Calcutta; Culliden, McLean, Bombay; Gem of the North, Mills, Macao.—15. Thomson Hankey Junior, Lyall, Mauritius; Latona, Cammell, India and Demerara; Marion, Niemann, Akyab; Donald McKay, Freye, Mauritius; Glengriffith, Webster, Singapore; Bellona, Miller, Calcutta; Norwood, Brstow, India and Demerara; Crimes, Morgan and Plantagenet, Hayes, Bombay; Gloriosa, Klabin, Cochon; Thomas, Rodger, India and Jamaica.—17. Runymede, Brass, Hong Kong; Alchymist, Bennett, Macao; Hawich, Franklin and Ascendant, Spencer, Madras; Phio, Gohitely, Mauritius; Wild Flower, Bain Singapore; Malacca, Paulsen, Hong Kong; Chalmers, Banton, Bombay; Sea Queen, Smith, Bombay; Eudymon, Taverer, Singapore; Queen of the Wave, Brown, Madras; Anne, Lily, Alcoa Bay; Nell Gwyn, Clarke, Madras; Hiawatha, Dewar, Singapore; William and Jane, Norris, Madras; Fieda, Batavia. 18. Retriever, Moore, Ceylon; Laurel, Clapthorpe, Bombay; Alton, Adams, Hilton, Tuomas; Florence, Shearer; Bates Family, Hogg; Victory, Lowen; James Booth, McQueen; and Dubbrook, Forster, all from Bombay; John McVicar, Coutts, Hongkong; Samuel Adams, Guy Maulmain; Chloris and Pacific, Akyab.

PASSENGERS DEPARTED.

Per str. Ripon, Sept. 20, to proceed per str. Bengal, from SEKZ. FOR MALTA.—Mr. Midway. FOR ALEXANDRIA.—Mr. A. Clarke, Capt. Benbank. FOR CALCUTTA.—Mrs. Ferguson, Mr. R. Spears, Mr. Stutz, Mr. and Mrs. Burnett and two children, Mrs. Barrow and two daughters, governess, and two children, Mr. Mullie, Mr. Self, Mr. and Mrs. McEnvoy, Mr. and Mrs. Cockell and son, Miss Hillman, Mrs. Bell and two children, Mr. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Warner, Capt. and Mrs. Bunbury, Miss Short, Mr. S. McDowell, Miss Walters, Miss Stenhouse, Lieut. Henderson, Miss Trotter, Mr. and Mrs. Boswell, Mr. Pemberton, Mr. Jellicoll, Mr. Kay, Mrs. Wemyss, Miss Palmer, Mr. C. Dickinson, Mr. Farr, Miss Gibson, Maj. Bolman, Mrs. and Miss Southall, Mr. Vaux, Mr. Courtney, Mr. Miller, Miss Cameron, Capt. Carder, Mr. Hewett, Mr. Stenhouse, Mr. Worthington, Miss Ewart, For MADRAS.—Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Walker, Mr. G. Jones, Lieut. H. Parker, Mr. and Miss Caldwell, Mr. W. J. Rhoads, Mr. J. Short, Mr. G. Short, Mr. and Mrs. Harper, Mr. Wilson, Lieut. J. Macdougall, Capt. and Mrs. Goudard, Lieut. C. H. Gower, For SINGAPORE.—Mrs. Bernard and infant, For HONG KONG.—Mr. H. Dickinson, Mr. A. H. Roberts, Mr. Collie, Mr. and Mrs. W. Cole and daughter, Mr. Maslin, For PENANG.—Mr. A. Cree, For CEYLON.—Mr. H. Collier, Mr. T. E. Stewart, Comdr. F. A. Ellis, Comdr. S. Tricheard, Mr. E. Ormiston.

Per str. Vectis, from MARSEILLES, Sept. 28, to proceed per str. Bengal, from SEKZ. FOR CALCUTTA.—Lieut. C. N. McMullen, Mr. and Mrs. Bodelis, Mr. and Mrs. St. G. Tucker, Mrs. C. Marillier, Mr. L. D. Dr. H. Cannon, Mr. C. B. Trevor, Mr. J. Lagarie, Mr. Pearce, Mr. Macrae, Mr. A. Brandroth, Rev. L. Poynder, Lieut. Col. Taylor and two ladies, Mr. W. A. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. A. Fisher, Mr. Longridge, Capt. and Mrs. Baumgarten, Mr. W. Grant, Mr. Packe, Miss Pinard, For ADEN.—Capt. J. F. Webb.

DOMESTIC.

BIRTHS.

COLLINS, the wife of Edward (retired Indian Service), of a son, at Great Amwell Ware, Herts, Sept. 15.

PRINSEY, the wife of C. Campbell, of a son, at Barnes, Sept. 14.

ROBERTS, the wife of Captain Richard, P. and O. Co.'s steam ship Massilia, at Marseilles, Sept. 6.

MARRIAGES.

BURGESS, Captain B., late H.M.'s Indian army, to Elizabeth A., daughter of John Ballard, Esq., at St. Luke's Church, Cork, Sept. 11.

HANCOCK, William J., to Annette D., daughter of the late Major General Bowdler, of the Madras army, at St. Peter's Church, Dublin, Sept. 12.

HAVESGAL, Rev. Francis T., to Isabel, daughter of Colonel William Martin, H.M.'s Bengal army, at the Cathedral, Hereford, Sept. 6.

HODGETTS, Joseph H., to Catherine B., daughter of the late Thomas Rees, Esq., of China, at the Church of St. John the Evangelist, Durdham Down, Clifton, Sept. 12.

LEARMOUTH, Somerville, to Maria K., daughter of Lestock K. Reid, Esq., formerly of the Bombay Civil Service, at Trinity Church, Paddington, Sept. 11.

MACNABB, James W., eldest son of the late James Munro Macnabb, Esq., of Highfield House, Hants, to Amy, daughter of Sir James Weir Hogg, Bart., at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, Sept. 13.

PILOT, Capt. B. J. C., H.M.'s 33rd M.N.I. to M. N. P., daughter of John Gardner, Esq., late Captain 5th Dragoon Guards, at the British Embassy, Paris, Sept. 13.

SAVILLE, Robert B., to Eliza J., daughter of the late Colonel William G. Mackenzie, Bengal army, at Edinburgh, Sept. 11.

STEWART, Major Patrick, Royal Bengal Engineers, to Miss McDonall, daughter of Colonel McDonall, of Logan, Wigtownshire, N.B., at St. James Church, Piccadilly, Aug. 28.

DEATHS.

DISBROWE, Brev. Maj. John G. C., 43rd Lt. Inf., at Suez, on his passage home from Madras, aged 33, Sept. 4.

REEVES, Helen R. M., daughter of Henry W., of the Bombay Civil Service, at Reading, aged 2 years 7 months, Sept. 11.

East-India House,

September 18, 1860.

ARRIVALS REPORTED IN ENGLAND.

MILITARY.

Madras Estab.—Asst. surg. W. F. Davis.

Bombay Estab.—Major G. E. Ashburner, 8th N.I.

GRANTED EXTENSION OF LEAVE.

MILITARY.

Bengal Estab.—Capt. W. C. Watson, 47th N.I., 6 mo.

Madras Estab.—Lieut. C. Clerk, 2nd Cav., 6 mo.;

Capt. R. A. Roberts, Eng., 6 mo.; Capt. C. H.

Hutchinson, Art., 3 mo.

Bombay Estab.—Major W. T. Johnson, 6th N.I., 6 mo.,

Lieut. A. Fergusson, 2nd Eur., 6 mo., Lieut. L.

Russell, 16th N.I., 6 mo.

PERMITTED TO RETURN TO DUTY.

MILITARY.

Bengal Estab.—Capt. F. A. Von Meyern, 53rd N.I.;

Lieut. L. Macdonald, 73rd N.I.; Asst. surg. G. R.

Pemberton; Vet. surg. J. Siddall.

Madras Estab.—Capt. G. A. Arbuthnot, 8th Cav.; Lieut. B. H. W. Magrath, 21st N.I.; Ens. C. R. Crawford, 15th N.I.

Bombay Estab.—Lieut. A. G. Plomer, 25th N.I.; Comd. J. Scott.

BENGAL GOVERNMENT LOANS.

	Buy. s. d.	Sell. s. d.	Actual Sales.
5 per Cent. Loan of 1859-60	—	—	2 04
5 p. Ct. Loan of 1854 (P. Works Loan)...	—	—	1 107
4 per Cent. East-India } Sicea Rs.	—	—	1 04
Transfer Loan Stock }	—	—	1 114
New 5 per Cent. Loan of 1856-57	—	—	1 74
4 per Cent. Loan of 1855-56	—	—	1 74
4 per Cent., 1852-53	—	—	1 74

INDIA EXCHANGES.

BILLS.	Bank and Commercial Bills, at 60 days' sight, per Co.'s Rpe.	Indian Govt. Bills, at 60 days' sight, per Co.'s Rpe.	Total for each Mail to Three Presidencies. £. s. d.
Bengal...	1s. 11½d.	2s. 2d.	—
Madras...	1s. 11½d.	2s. 2d.	—
Bombay	1s. 11½d.	2s. 2½d.	—

Bank of Bengal Post Bills and Indian Government Interest
Bills on Calcutta, 1s. 11½d.

STOCKS AND SECURITIES.

Shares.		Paid.	Prices.
£.	India Stock	217½
	India Stock (5 per ct.), 1859	163½
	India 5 p. ct. Enfranch. Paper, 5	96
	per cent.	102½
	India Loan Debentures, 1858	92½
	India Debentures, 1859	96½
	India Enfranch. Paper, 4 per ct.	84½
	India 5 per cent. for account...	104½
	India Bonds (£1,000)	6s. to 3s. dis.
	Do (under £1,000)	ss. dis.
	RAILWAYS.
Stock	Bombay, Baroda, and Central	100	93½ to 94½
	India (guar. 5 per ct.)	all	17½ to 18
	Do Additional Capital, A	16	18½ to 19
	Do B	16	18½ to 19
	Calcutta & S. Eastern (lim.)	13	18½ to 19
	Ceylon (guar. 6 per cent.)	7½	18½ to 19
	Eastern Bengal (gu. 5 p. ct.)	7½	18½ to 19
Stock	East Indian	100	99½ to 100½
	Do 4½ p. ct. debentures.	all	98½ to 99½
	Do F Ext.	15	18½ to 19
Stock	Do 5 per ct. deb. 1864	100	101 to 102
	Jubbulpore	15	18½ to 19
Stock	Great Indian Peninsula (guar.	100	96 to 97
	5 per ct.)	6	1 to 1½ dis.
	Do (New ditto)	13	2 to 1½ dis.
	Great S. of India (Lim.) Scrip	100	83 to 85
	(guar. 5 per ct.)	100	93 to 94½
Stock	Madras (guar. 4½ per ct.)	100	93 to 94½
Stock	Do 5 per cent.	100	93 to 94½
Stock	Do Extension (guar. 4½	100	86 to 88
	per cent.)	10	1½ to 1½ dis.
	Do 4th Extension (guar.	7	18½ to 19
	5 per ct.)	10	18½ to 19
Stock	Ottoman Rail. (guar. 6 p. ct.)	all	97½ to 98½
	Sicily 5 per cent.	15
Stock	Do (New)	all	93 to 94½
	Do Indus Steam Flotilla	7	18½ to 19
	(guar. 5 per ct.)
	Punjab (5 per ct.)
	BANKS.
100	Agra and United Service lim.	50	78 to 80
40	Australia	all	64 to 66
25	Bank of Egypt	all	194 to 204
25	Chart. of Ind., Aus. & China	all	20½ to 21
25	Chart. Merc. of India, Lond.	all	32 to 34
	and China	all	16½ to 17½
25	Oriental Bank Corporation...	all
25	Ottoman Bank	all
	MISCELLANEOUS.
20	Madras Irrig. and Canal	1	2 to 2½ pm.
20	Nerbudda Coal and Iron	5	2 to 1½ dis.
10	Mediterran. Ext. Tel. (Lim.)	all	3 to 4
1	N. B. Australasian Company	all	1 to 1
1	Oriental Gas	all	1 to 1
	Do New	15s	1 dis. to par.
10	Oriental Inland Steam A.	6
50	P. and O. Steam Nav. Co.	all	74 to 76
50	Do New	25	12½ to 13½ pm.
20	Red Sea and Ind. Telegraph	17½	17½ to 18½
1	Submarine Telegraph Scrip	all	1 to 1½ d.
1	Do Registered	all	1 to 1½ d.
10	Do do	all	5 to 7 d.

CAPTAIN HAMILTON, Deputy Commissary of Ordnance, who has been fifty-six years in India, was presented with a gold snuff-box by the European establishment of the arsenal at Allahabad, on the occasion of his being placed on the invalid establishment. The box was presented by Major Russell in behalf of his brother officers, the warrant and non-commissioned, and others connected with the arsenal.

BARKER'S GRAND PICTURE, "THE RELIEF OF LUCKNOW," IS NOW ON VIEW AT HAYWARD AND LEGGATT'S, 79, CORNHILL. Admission Free, on presentation of Private Address Card.

By Order of the Secretary of State for India in Council.
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That
TWENTY JUNIOR APPOINTMENTS in the Engineer
Establishment of the Department of Public Works in India will in the year 1861 be open to PUBLIC COMPETITION.

Candidates must be not more than Twenty-three years of age; and must have passed either not less than three years as Articled Pupils of a Civil or Mechanical Engineer, or not less than two years as Students in a School or College recognised by the Secretary of State in Council as possessing an efficient Class for Civil Engineering, and, in addition, not less than one year in practice under a Civil or Mechanical Engineer.

On these points they must be provided with satisfactory certificates, and they must also produce testimonials of good moral character and conduct from the Engineer or Professor under whom they have served or by whom they have been instructed, as well as certificates from the Examining Physician to the India Office of their being in a fit state of health for service in India. On applying with these documents at the Department of Public Works in this Office, in the course of the month of May next (during which month only will applications be received), the names of the Candidates will be registered, and they will be authorised to present themselves for examination, on an appointed day, at the Royal Indian Military College, at Addiscombe.

The Subjects of Examination, and the maximum number of marks to be awarded for proficiency in each, will be the following:—

Writing English correctly and legibly from dictation to be indispensable.

Algebra: Elementary Principles; Simple and Quadratic Equations; Surds; Ratios and Proportion; Arithmetical and Geometrical Progression	80
Euclid: 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 6th, and first 21 Propositions of the 11th Book	80
Statics: Composition and Resolution of Forces, the Centre of Gravity, the Mechanical Powers, Roofs, Arches, and Bridges; Strength of Materials	260
Dynamics: Collision of Bodies; Uniformly Accelerated Motion; Circular Motion and Centrifugal Force	260
Hydrostatics and Hydraulics; Pressure of Fluids; Specific Gravity, and Equilibrium of Floating Bodies; Elastic Fluids and Atmospheric Pressure; Hydrostatic Machines	120
Making Working Drawings of Machinery, and Plans, Elevations, and Sections of Buildings	120
Framing of Estimates and Specifications from given plans and data	80
Projects for Bridges, Locks, Dams, Roads, and other Engineering works	140
Trigonometrical Surveying, comprising Plane Trigonometry, and traversing with the theodolite	120
Land-Surveying with Compass and Chain, and Plotting from a Field-Book	60
Levelling, and Use of the Instruments employed	60
	1,000

No Candidate will be passed who shall not obtain 600 marks, of which at least 140 must be awarded for Mathematics; but the Candidates who may obtain the prescribed number of marks will be ranked by the Examiners in the order of the numbers they may severally obtain, and as many of them as may be required at the time for the public service will be appointed "Probationers in the Public Works Department," the appointments being given to those who stand highest in the Examiners' list.

Each Probationer must, within a month of his nomination, sign a covenant, describing the terms and conditions of his appointment, and must embark for India when required to do so by the Secretary of State in Council, who will provide for the expenses of his passage. Any Nominee not embarking when required will forfeit his appointment. Otherwise he will be allowed pay, at the rate of 170 rupees (which is about the equivalent of £17 in English money) a month, from the date of his appointment.

On arriving in India he will be placed in a Civil Engineering College, or in such other educational institution as the Local Government may appoint, in order to acquire a colloquial knowledge of one of the Native Languages, and to receive further instruction in his profession. While thus studying, he will be allowed free quarters, in addition to his monthly pay.

When pronounced sufficiently qualified by the President of the College or Institution, he will be transferred to the effective establishment of the Public Works Department, with the rank to which his attainments may entitle him, and with all the rights and privileges appertaining to that rank in respect of pay, promotion, furlough, retiring pension, &c.; particulars of which will be furnished from this Office, on application.

(Signed) T. G. BARING.

India Office, 9th August, 1860.

N.B.—All communications to be addressed to the "Under Secretary of State for India."

AN INTRODUCTION to the GRAMMAR of the SANSKRIT LANGUAGE, for the Use of Early students. By H. H. WILSON, M.A., F.R.S., &c., &c. 8vo, 6th, 18s.

London: Wm. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

ADDISCOMBE DIRECT APPOINTMENTS, and WOOLWICH.
The Rev. C. J. HUGHES, M.A., who has Prepared nearly TWO HUNDRED PUPILS for the above, occasionally has VACANCIES.
Adelaide Lodge, 61, Finchley Road, St. John's Wood, N.W.

HINDOOSTANI AND PERSIAN.

LESSONS in the above LANGUAGES are given by an INDIAN GENTLEMAN of Eighteen Years' Experience as Professor, Interpreter, and Translator; who has obtained Certificates of degrees of honour and high proficiency from the Examiners of the College of Fort William. He possesses the most satisfactory testimonials, and can give unexceptionable references.

Address, "ALLY," care of Messrs. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street, London, E.C.
Established 1820.

SELECT CLASSICAL and MILITARY ESTABLISHMENT.—HOLLAND HOUSE, BLACKHEATH; by T. KIMBER, M.A. Author of "Vauban's First System," &c. References: The Rev. Dr. Jelf, King's College, London; the Rev. Canon Hey, York, &c.

* Arthur E. Havelock, who gained the highest number of marks (4,730) at the Examination in June last for admission to Sandhurst, passed from Holland-house.

Prospectuses may be obtained from RIVINGTONS, Waterloo-place; PARKER and SON, 445, West Strand; PENNOBY, Dublin; The LIBRARY, Cheltenham; SROTHERAN, York.

HUTTON'S MATHEMATICS.

8vo, cloth, 12s.

HUTTON'S COURSE OF MATHEMATICS.
New Edition, entirely remodelled, and adapted to the Instruction now pursued in the Royal Military Academy Woolwich. By Dr. RUTHERFORD, F.R.A.S.

8vo, cloth, 7s.

A KEY to DR. RUTHERFORD'S EDITION.
HUTTON'S COURSE OF MATHEMATICS, By JAMES HICKIE, Esq.

8vo, cloth, 12s.

HUTTON'S RECREATIONS in MATHEMATICS and NATURAL PHILOSOPHY. New Edition, revised, and numerous additions. By EDWARD RIDDLE, F.R.A.S., Mathematical Master, Royal Hospital, Greenwich. 400 Woodcuts.

London: WILLIAM TEGG, 85, Queen-street, Cheapside, E.C.

Preparing for publication, in One Volume Octavo,

BY J. R. YOUNG,

(Late Professor of Mathematics, Belfast College),

A COURSE OF MATHEMATICS
PURE AND MIXED,

More especially designed for the Use of Candidates for the MILITARY & CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.

WITH A VARIETY OF PROBLEMS IN, AND PRACTICAL APPLICATIONS OF THE FOLLOWING SUBJECTS:

1. ALGEBRA, TRIGONOMETRY, AND MENSURATION.
2. ANALYTICAL GEOMETRY (CONIC SECTIONS), STATICS, DYNAMICS, AND HYDROSTATICS.
3. THE DIFFERENTIAL AND INTEGRAL CALCULUS with their applications to the Higher Geometry, Mechanics, &c., &c.

The object of this work is to furnish Candidates for the Military and Civil Service Examinations with such a practical knowledge of Pure and Mixed Mathematics as may prove most serviceable to them in the course of the ordeal to which they are about to be subjected. On such occasions a mere theoretical acquaintance with principles is by no means sufficient. It is also necessary that the young aspirant should have been trained by actual experiments, as it were, to the application of the abstract rules, the enunciation of which he has otherwise mastered only by an effort of memory. To assist him in thus gathering the fruits of his intellectual industry, Mr. J. R. Young has devised a multitude of problems, of greater or less difficulty, in Algebra, Trigonometry, Mensuration, Analytical Geometry (Conic Sections), Statics, Dynamics, Hydrostatics, the Differential and Integral Calculus, with their applications to the Higher Geometry, Mechanics, &c. The chief peculiarity of this work, however, is one that will recommend it to a very large class of students. The most difficult questions are rendered comparatively easy, by the practical simplifications that are introduced in their mode of solution. Instead of a pompous and puzzling display of technical phraseology, the utmost care has been taken to explain the most knotty points in a plain, unaffected manner, intelligible to every ordinary capacity. In this respect, Mr. Young's "Course of Mathematics" will be found to possess a decided superiority over all preceding works on the same subject.

London: Wm. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

CLAPHAM COMMON—UNFURNISHED.

MR. JAMES STEVENS is instructed to LET No. 1, THE CRESCENT, Rent £90. This house is within a few yards of that delightful and healthy spot—Clapham Common, and overlooks a beautiful ornamental enclosure. It has just been thoroughly drained with glazed pipes, and put into substantial and ornamental repair, and is fit for immediate occupation. The house contains, on the ground floor, entrance-hall, dining-room and library. Above—double drawing-rooms with five bed-rooms, very convenient store closets, and excellent domestic offices. Within one mile of the Balham Station for Brighton, Crystal Palace, West-end, &c. Omnibuses to West-end and City pass constantly.

JAMES STEVENS, Auctioneer, Clapham Common, S.

APARTMENTS.—CLAPHAM-COMMON.

Any Gentleman engaged in the City during the day will hear of first-rate Apartments as above, on reference to Messrs. BURNS and LAMBERT, 63, Paternoster-row. The occupant desires to make the Gentleman as comfortable as he could be at his own house, and provides good sitting-room and bed-room with breakfast, tea, and on Sundays dinner also, for Thirty Shillings a week. The family is musical, and some members of it having been educated in France, they would not object to conversing in French, or even occasionally giving instruction in that language.

MRS. SWINEY, of No. 9, THE GROVE, CLAPHAM-COMMON, having a larger house than she requires, would be happy to let a part of it to an Indian family. The house is pleasantly situated, within a convenient distance of town, and several Indians reside near. A family would find this a desirable opportunity of providing themselves with a comfortable home at a moderate price. If desired, the young ladies would converse with the children in French, or give them occasional lessons in that language gratuitously. They are also proficient in music. Mrs. SWINEY offers undeniable references.

CLAPHAM COMMON.—APARTMENTS,
handsomely furnished, consisting of Drawing-room, Dining and Bed-rooms, situated on the south side of the Common.

For references and terms apply at Brunswick House, Clapham Common.

AN AYAH, who speaks English fluently, is desirous to RETURN to MADRAS. Would give her services to any lady going either Overland or by long Sea Voyage in exchange for a Free Passage. The highest testimonials can be given.

Address—Mrs. E. Bruce, Durris, Aberdeen.

CAUTION.—FRENCH, 9, Royal Exchange,
London, Chronometer, Watch, and Clock Maker (established 1810), has NO CONNECTION whatever, and never had any, with the CITY OBSERVATORY, carried on by Mr. Jacob French since 1854, as Jeweller and Watchmaker. Mr. Jacob French sold his premises in July last to Mr. Bennett, of 64 and 65, Cheapside. The words "late French," in his advertisement, being calculated to mislead the public, renders this advertisement necessary.

PURITY OF COMPLEXION, AND A SOFTNESS AND DELICACY OF SKIN
Are realised by the Use of ROWLANDS' KALYDOR,
AN ORIENTAL BOTANICAL PREPARATION.
THIS Royally-patronised and Ladies' esteemed Specific exerts the most soothing, cooling, and purifying action on the skin, and eradicates freckles, tan, pimples, spots, discoloration, and other cutaneous visitations. It obviates all the effects of climate on the skin, whether with reference to cold and inclemency, or intense solar heat, and is universally in high repute, from the sultry climes of India to the frozen realms of the North.—Price 4s. 6d. and 8s. 6d. per bottle.
CAUTION.—On the wrapper of each bottle are the words, "ROWLANDS' KALYDOR," &c., and their signature, "A. ROWLAND and SONS," in red ink at foot.
Sold at 20, Hatton-garden, and by Chemists and Perfumers.

This day is published, post 8vo., price 7s. 6d.
THE CONSUMMATION. By THOMAS HUTTON, F.G.S., Capt. Bengal Army.
Also, by the same Author, 2nd Edition, in 12mo., price 3s. 6d.,
ISRAEL, IN THE PAST, THE PRESENT, AND THE FUTURE; or, LECTURES ON THE RESTORATION OF THE JEWS.
Second Edition, in 8vo., price 10s. 6d.,
THE CHRONOLOGY OF CREATION; or, GEOLOGY AND SCRIPTURE RECONCILED.
London: Wm. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street, E.C.

MESSRS. ALLEN & CO.'S MILITARY MANUALS.JUST READY FOR PUBLICATION,

UNIFORM WITH THE POCKET EDITIONS OF THE "FIELD EXERCISE," AND "QUEEN'S REGULATIONS," A MANUAL OF MILITARY LAW,

FOR ALL RANKS OF THE

ARMY, MILITIA, AND VOLUNTEER SERVICES;

COMPRISING

AN ACCOUNT OF THE CONSTITUTION, COMPOSITION, AND PROCEDURE OF COURTS-MARTIAL;

And a Detail of the Crimes that may be tried and the Sentences that may be awarded by each description of Court.

ALSO,

A NOTICE OF THE PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE OF COURTS OF INQUIRY,

AND

A SHORT EXPOSITION OF THE LAW OF EVIDENCE,

TO WHICH IS ADDED,

AN ABSTRACT OF THE ACTS GOVERNING THE VOLUNTEER FORCE,

AN

ACCOUNT OF THE LAW RELATING TO RECRUITING,

AND

A Review of the Duties, Obligations, and Liabilities of Soldiers to Civilians and the Civil Power; of the Duties of Civilians towards the Military; and of the Legal Rights, Privileges, and Exemptions of Soldiers.

BY

COLONEL J. K. PIPON,Assistant Adjutant-general at Head Quarters.

AND

J. F. COLLIER, Esq.,Of the Inner Temple, Barrister-at-Law.

LONDON: WM. H. ALLEN AND Co., 7, LEADENHALL-STREET. 1860.

BY AUTHORITY.

Price 1s. 0d., by post 1s. 2d.,

THE POCKET EDITION OF FIELD EXERCISE AND EVOLUTIONS OF INFANTRY;
 AS REVISED BY HER MAJESTY'S COMMAND.
1859.

London: WM. H. ALLEN AND Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

THE AGRA and UNITED SERVICE BANK
 (LIMITED): ESTABLISHED IN INDIA, JULY, 1833.
 INCORPORATED BY LETTERS PATENT, 1857.
 PAID-UP CAPITAL—£1,000,000 STERLING.
 RESERVED FUND—£175,000.

BRANCHES AT CALCUTTA, BOMBAY, MADRAS, AGRA, LAHORE, HONG-KONG, AND SHANGHAI.

HEAD OFFICE—27, CANNON-STREET, LONDON, E.C.

Current and floating accounts opened on same terms as by other London Bankers.

Sales and purchases effected in British and Foreign Securities, in Indian Government paper, &c.; and Army, Navy, and Civil Pay and Pensions realised at the India house.

Deposits for Fixed Periods are received on terms favourable to Depositors, particulars of which may be obtained at the Bank.

Bills issued at the Exchange of the day, and free of any extra charge, on the Branches of the Bank.

Approved Bills drawn against Funds, or upon Parties in India, purchased.

Circular Notes payable at the principal cities of Europe granted.

Interest on Indian Government Securities drawn, and the equivalent paid to parties interested, without charge.

By order of the Board,

WILLIAM SHIPMAN,

Officiating General Manager.

PROFESSOR WILSON'S GLOSSARY.

GLOSSARY OF JUDICIAL AND REVENUE
 TERMS, and of useful words occurring in official documents relating to the Administration of the Government of British India, from the Arabic, Persian, Hindustani, Sanskrit, Hindi, Bengali, Uriya, Marathi, Guzarathi, Telugu, Karnata, Tamil, Malayalam, and other Languages, compiled and published under the authority of the Hon. the Court of Directors of the E. I. Company. By H. H. WILSON, M.A., F.R.S., &c., &c. 4to. cloth, £3 2s. 6d.

London: WM. H. ALLEN AND Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

PERSONS proceeding to INDIA can effect ASSURANCES on favourable terms with the COLONIAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

LOANS given to Civil or Military Officers proceeding to India on her Majesty's Service.

Agents at Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, and in all the British Colonies, where premiums can be paid and claims settled.

The Colonial was established in 1846, and its present income is £40,000 per annum.

Subscribed Capital, £1,000,000 sterling.

Constituted by Act of Parliament.

SAMUEL R. FERGUSON, Res. Sec.

LONDON 81, Lombard-street, E.C., and at Messrs. Paris and Co.'s, No. 10, St. James's-street, S.W.

EDINBURGH (Head Office) 5, George-street.

DUBLIN 65, Upper Sackville-street.

GLASGOW 58, St. Vincent-street.

Corrected to May 12, 1860.

THE EAST-INDIA REGISTER & ARMY LIST

FOR 1860,

CONTAINING

Complete Lists of the Servants, at Home and Abroad; Regulations respecting the Appointments to the Civil, Military, and Medical Services.

COMPILED BY PERMISSION.

12mo. sewed, 10s.; or, by post, 10s. 6d.;

or, bound, 11s. 6d.; or, by post, 12s.

London: WM. H. ALLEN AND Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

Price Sixpence.

WHO SHALL REGENERATE INDIA?

By Major W. MARTIN, Bengal Retired List.

London: WM. H. ALLEN AND Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

TO LATE RESIDENTS IN INDIA.—

TRUE MADRAS CURRY and MULLIGATAWNEY PASTE and CHUTNIES.—Messrs. BARRIE and Co., Vepery, Madras, to enable their old correspondents returning from India to continue the use of the celebrated Condiments, have made arrangements to forward regular supplies of the above, packed in glass jars for family use, at 1s. 9d. and upwards, which may be had of CROSSE and BLACKWELL, Purveyors to Her Majesty, 21, Soho-square; FORTNUM, MASON, & Co., Piccadilly; and of the Principal Sauce Vendors throughout the Kingdom. Each bottle is labelled, and BARRIE and Co., Madras, stamped on the glass.

BLAIR'S GOUT & RHEUMATIC PILLS.

Price 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d. per box.

This preparation is one of the benefits which the science of modern chemistry has conferred upon mankind; for during the first twenty years of the present century to speak of a cure for the gout was considered a romance; but now the efficacy and safety of this medicine is so fully demonstrated by unsolicited testimonials from persons in every rank of life, that public opinion proclaims this as one of the most important discoveries of the present age. These Pills require no restraint of diet or confinement during their use, and are certain to prevent the disease attacking any vital part.

Sold by all medicine vendors. Observe "Thomas Prout, 229, Strand, London," on the Government stamp.

DINNEFORD'S PURE FLUID MAG-

NESIA has been, during twenty-five years, sanctioned by the medical profession and universally accepted by the public as the best remedy for Acidity of the Stomach, Heartburn, Headache, Gout, and Indigestion. As a mild aperient it is admirably adapted for ladies and children, and it is invaluable in warm climates. Manufactured (with the utmost attention to strength and purity) by DINNEFORD and Co., 173, New Bond-street, London; and sold by all respectable chemists throughout the Empire.

In Octavo, Price Half-a-Crown a Part,

THE ANNALS OF INDIAN ADMINISTRATION.

EDITED BY MEREDITH TOWNSEND, ESQ.,

(EDITOR OF THE "FRIEND OF INDIA").

CONTENTS:

PART I.—DECEMBER, 1856.

- | | |
|--|---|
| IMPERIAL.
Mr. Plowden's Salt Report.
Indian Treaties since 1834.
INDIAN RECORDS.
Jubbulpore School of Industry.
Pegu Survey, Central District.
Northern District.
Flax in the Punjab.
Hindostan and Tibet Roads.
BENGAL RECORDS.
Mr. Smith's Report on Coal and Iron.
Education.
N.W.P. RECORDS.
Survey of Rohilkund.
Public Works of Meerut.
Hukabundee Schools.
Roads in Nunar.
Settlement of Barrah.
Tenures in Pergunah Budohee. | PUNJAB RECORDS.
Public Works.
MADRAS RECORDS.
District Roads.
Public Works.
Budget of 1855-56.
Police Returns.
Parla Kimeedy.
Black Town Drains.
BOMBAY RECORDS.
Enam Commission.
Poonar Duttur.
Concealment of Records.
Bombay Education.
(Poona).
Forced Labour in Seinde.
Hilly Region of Kurrachee.
Adoptions in the Deccan.
Canals in Hyderabad.
Police Returns.
Mortuary Report. |
|--|---|

PART II.—MARCH, 1857.

- | | |
|--|---|
| IMPERIAL.
Transactions of the Government of India.
Universities in India.
The Post-office.
The Electric Telegraph.
INDIAN RECORDS.
Third Punjab Report.
Communication between Calcutta and Dacca.
The Dacca and Arracan Road.
Creek Navigation from Akyab to Tounzoo.
Tounzoo Mountain Road.
The Geography of Pegu.
The Pegu Survey Department.
Report on the Tounzoo District of the Survey.
Journal of a Tour from Tounzoo to the Salween.
Major Jacob's Punjab Administration.
Flax in the Punjab.
The Mineral Deposits of Kumaon.
The Administration of Pegu in 1855-56.
The Straits Settlements. | N.W.P. RECORDS.
Payment of Village Police.
Jails of the N.W. Provinces.
Revenue Report of the N.W.P.
The N.W. Provinces in 1855-56.
BENGAL RECORDS.
Annual Report of Bengal for 1855-56.
Jails of Bengal.
MADRAS RECORDS.
Report of the Madras Presidency for 1855-56.
Annual Report on Cochin Travancore.
BOMBAY RECORDS.
The Ford Wall.
Wet and Dry Docks.
History of Sind.
Report on the Collectorate of Ahmedabad.
A Short Account of the Chooch Tribe.
Report on the Provinces of Kattywar.
Annual Report on Bombay for 1855-56.
Report on the Hyderabad Assigned Districts in 1855-56.
Infanticide in Kattywar. |
|--|---|

PART III.—JUNE, 1857.

- | | |
|--|--|
| IMPERIAL.
Cases instituted in the Madras Court of Small Causes for 1856.
Supreme Court, Small Cause Side, for 1856.
Commerce and Shipping of the Port of Rangoon.
of the Port of Bassein.
Report on the External Commerce of the Madras Territories for 1855-56.
Commerce and Shipping of the Straits Settlements for 1854-55.
The Jails of the Madras Presidency for 1855.
INDIAN RECORDS.
Revenue Reports of the Ganges Canal.
Irrigation in Lower Egypt.
Correspondence on Lightning Conductors.
BENGAL RECORDS.
Report on the Teak Plantations of Bengal.
Notes on the Siam Countries.
Report on Serrangunge.
Correspondence relative to Vaccination.
on the Discovery of the Tea Plant in Sylhet.
Report on the Tea Company's Botanical Garden.
Notes on the Patna Opium Agency.
N.W.P. RECORDS.
Revision of the Chuwkeedaree Assessment Zillah Bareilly.
Suicide in Bundelcund. | Memo. regarding Talooka Kote.
Suspension Bridges in the N.W.P.
MADRAS RECORDS.
Commutation Rates of the Madras Presidency.
Central and Local Museums in the Madras Presidency.
The Gatta Percha of S. India.
Materials of the Madras Presidency for Grindstones.
Memoir on the Aurawutti Sculptures.
The Madras Railway for 1855.
BOMBAY RECORDS.
Memoir of Satara.
Satara Jagredars.
History of the Rajas of Satara.
of the Rhonslays of Satara.
Climate and Diseases of Satara.
Census of the Satara Districts.
Revenues and Resources of the Lapsed Satara Territory.
Old Public Buildings and Manuscripts of Beejapoor.
Assessment of the Ouerkote District.
Revenue Settlement of the Thurr District.
Thurr and Parkur Districts.
The Bygaree Canal, Upper Sind.
Tenure of the Possessions in the Deccan held by his Highness Jayjee Rao Sindia.
The Nahrwan Canal.
The Tigris above Baghdad.
A Journey through Kurdistan.
Researches in Lower Mesopotamia.
Memoir of Baghdad.
The Topography of Ninevah. |
|--|--|

PARTS IV. and V.—SEPT. and DEC., 1857.

- | | |
|--|---|
| IMPERIAL.
Statistics of 24 Pergunnahs.
Report on the Administration of the Salt Department for 1855-56.
Abkaree L.P. for 1855-56.
External Commerce of Bengal for 1856-57.
PARLIAMENTARY BLUE BOOKS.
The Mutinies.
East India Railways.
Area and Population of India.
Police in Bengal.
INDIAN RECORDS.
Tea Cultivation.
MADRAS RECORDS.
Madras Budget of 1856-57.
Report on Vaccination, Madras Presidency.
Madras Land Revenue Report for Fusly, 1854-55.
Report on Civil Justice in Madras for 1856.
BOMBAY RECORDS.
The Fossils of the Eastern Portion of the Great Basaltic District of India.
Secunderabad to Beeder.
Masulipatam to Goa. | The Geology of a portion of the Deccan.
Geology of the Island of Bombay.
The Trap Formation of the Sagar District.
On the Geology of Malwa.
Geology of Nagpur.
Fossil Fish from the Tableland of the Deccan.
The Geology of Kotah.
Geological Notes on Tract between Bellary and Bijapur.
Geology of the Southern Malabar Country.
Geological Report on the Bagulatti and the adjoining Talooks.
The Basin of the Malpurba.
Geology of Cutch.
The Geology of the Country between Hoshungabad and Nagpur.
Perim Island.
The Cornelian Mines of Barroch.
Geology of Parts of Sind.
The Belochistan Hills.
The Geology of Sind.
Geology of the South East Coast of Arabia.
Summary of the Geology of India. |
|--|---|

PART VI.—MARCH, 1858.

- | | |
|--|--|
| PARLIAMENTARY BLUE BOOKS.
The Mutinies.
Ditto.
INDIAN RECORDS.
The Gueowar's Hospital.
Karen Nee.
Jubbulpore School of Industry.
The Thuggee Department in 1856.
The Andamans.
BENGAL RECORDS.
Public Instruction in Bengal, 1856-57.
The Himalayas. | The Nepalese Mission to Peking.
Sub-Himalayan Races.
MADRAS RECORDS.
District Roads for 1855-56.
The Madras Railway Fares.
Trade of the Madras Territories for 1856-57.
Cases in Madras Police Offices, 1856.
BOMBAY RECORDS.
Annual Engineer's Report for 1856-57.
Mineral Districts of the Nerbudda Valley. |
|--|--|

PART VII.—JUNE, 1858.

- | | |
|---|--|
| PARLIAMENTARY PAPERS.
Military Charters.
Further Papers on the Despatch of Troops to India.
The Mutinies.
BENGAL RECORDS.
The Salt Department for 1856-57.
Shipping in Rangoon and Dalhousie in 1856-57.
Commerce and Shipping of Singapore for 1855-56.
PUNJAB RECORDS.
British Rule in Hoocheepore. | MADRAS RECORDS.
Criminal Justice in the Madras Presidency.
Jails of the Madras Presidency.
Civil Dispensaries of the Madras Presidency.
Madras Medical College.
Court of Small Causes.
The Supreme Court of Madras (Small Cause Side).
Irrigation in the Madras Provinces.
BOMBAY RECORDS.
The Eastern Narra. |
|---|--|

PART VIII.—SEPTEMBER, 1858.

- | | |
|---|---|
| PARLIAMENTARY PAPERS.
Education in India.
East India Revenues.
The Indian Navy.
Public Works.
The King of Oude.
The Press.
The Mutinies in the East Indies.
BENGAL RECORDS.
Report on the Bhowanipore and the Dullimda Asylums.
The Calcutta Court of Small Causes.
The Abkary Administration of the Lower Provinces for the year 1856-57. | Survey Operations of the Lower Provinces from 1st October, 1856, to 30th September, 1857.
The Trade of Bengal, 1850-1858.
N.W.P. RECORDS.
The Navigation of the Gogra.
Report on the Agra Medical School.
MADRAS RECORDS.
The Civil Administration of the Madras Presidency for the year 1856.
Jails in the Madras Presidency for the year 1856. |
|---|---|

PART IX.—DECEMBER, 1858.

- | | |
|---|---|
| PARLIAMENTARY PAPERS.
Remount Horses for the Army in India.
BENGAL RECORDS.
Bengal Administration Report for 1856-57.
The Indian Administration Report for 1856-57.
Administration of Madras for 1856-57.
Administration of Bombay for 1856-57.
Administration of Pegu, 1856-57. | Administration of the Straits Settlements for 1856-57.
Administration of the Tenasserim and Martaban Provinces for 1856-57.
Administration of Mysore for 1856-57.
Administration of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts for 1856-57.
N.W.P. RECORDS.
Thomson's Opinions. |
|---|---|

- MADRAS RECORDS.
 The Agricultural Exhibitions of the Madras Provinces.
 The Effects of the Godavery Krishna and Coleroon Adducts.

PART I.—VOL. III.—MARCH, 1859.

- | | |
|---|---|
| PARLIAMENTARY PAPERS.
Transport of Troops.
East Indian Railways—Sunday Trains.
BENGAL RECORDS.
The Rivers of Bengal.
External Commerce of Bengal for 1857-58.
N.W.P. RECORDS.
Ajmere and Mairwara.
BOMBAY RECORDS.
The Supply of Water to the Poona Cantonment.
Thuggee and Dacoity.
Mr. Dalzell's Review of Mr. Plowden's Bombay Salt Report. | MADRAS RECORDS.
Vaccination in the Madras Presidency.
The Agricultural Exhibitions in the Madras Provinces in the year 1857.
Rules for Grants-in-Aid of Schools unconnected with Government in the Madras Presidency.
Madras Revenue Survey.
Sedislinghur or Beekul Harbour.
Madras Dewanee Udawlut Report for 1857.
Cases in Madras Police Offices for 1857.
Trade of the Madras Territories for 1857-58. |
|---|---|

PART II.—VOL. III.—JUNE, 1859.

- | | |
|--|---|
| INDIAN RECORDS.
The Construction of a Light-house on the Alguada Reef.
Report on Indian Administration, 1857-58.
Ditto on the Administration of the Punjab, 1857-58.
Administration of the Straits Settlements, 1857-58.
Ditto ditto Assigned Districts, 1857-58.
The Administration of Mysore, 1857-58.
The Telegraph Department, 1857-58.
Commerce and Shipping of Rangoon and Bassein, 1857-58.
The Andaman Islands and Barron Islands.
BENGAL RECORDS.
The Drainage of Calcutta.
Report on the Administration of the Salt Department, 1857-58.
N.W.P. RECORDS.
Prison Returns of the North-Western Provinces, 1856. | Revenue Administration Report of the North-Western Provinces, 1857-58.
BOMBAY RECORDS.
A History of Arabia Felix or Yemen.
MADRAS RECORDS.
Madras Medical College.
The Madras Railway, 1857.
The Administration of Criminal Justice in the Madras Presidency, 1857.
Madras Land Revenue Report, 1856-57.
Ditto ditto ditto, 1855-56.
Ditto Court of Small Causes, 1854.
The Madras Forest Department.
Madras Budget of Public Works, 1857-58.
Ditto Civil Dispensaries, 1857.
Col. A. Cotton's Memorandum on the proposed Beikul and Hyderabad Railway.
Prisons in the Madras Presidency, 1855-58.
Public Works in Malabar, Coimbatore, Trichinopoly, and Tanjore. |
|--|---|

PART III.—VOL. III.—SEPTEMBER, 1859.

- | | |
|--|--|
| PARLIAMENTARY PAPERS.
Organization of the Indian Army.
INDIAN RECORDS.
The Administration of the Public Works Department, 1857-58.
The Administration of Pegu, 1857-58.
The Administration of Tenasserim.
The Administration of the Post-office, 1857 and 1858.
BENGAL RECORDS.
The Administration of Bengal, 1857-58.
Report of the Calcutta Municipal Commissioners, 1856. | Pooree and Balasore.
N.W.P. RECORDS.
The Administration of the North-West Provinces, 1857-58.
BOMBAY RECORDS.
The Sind Forests, 1856-59.
The Revenue Survey in Sind, 1856 and 1857.
The Administration of Bombay, 1857-58.
MADRAS RECORDS.
Cases in the Madras Police Offices, 1854.
Madras Public Works, 1857-58.
The Administration of Madras, 1857-58. |
|--|--|

PART IV.—VOL. III.—DECEMBER, 1859.

- | | |
|--|--|
| PARLIAMENTARY PAPERS.
Colonization and Settlement (India).
The Punjab Committee on the Reorganization of the Army.
Sir Partle Frere on ditto.
General John Jacob on ditto.
INDIAN RECORDS.
Administration of the Punjab and its Dependencies, 1858-59.
Administration of Pegu, 1858-59.
Commerce and Shipping of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca, 1856-57.
BENGAL RECORDS.
Public Instruction in Bengal, 1857-58. | Revenue Account of the East Indian Railway for the half-year ending 1858.
Survey Operations of the Lower Provinces, from 1st Oct., 1857, to 30th Sept., 1858.
N.W.P. RECORDS.
Revenue Administration Report for 1858-59.
BOMBAY RECORDS.
Revenue Account of the G.I.P. Railway, for the half-year ending 1858.
External Commerce of Bombay, 1858-59.
Memoir on the Ruins of Babylon.
MADRAS RECORDS.
Revenue Account of the Madras Railway, for the half-year ending 1858. |
|--|--|

TO RAILWAY AND STEAM SHIPPING COMPANIES.
MACHINE BELTING.
FIRE-ENGINE HOSE AND BUCKETS,
All descriptions of Leather for Exportation.
S. E. NORRIS AND CO.,
SHADWELL LONDON,
MANUFACTURERS AND PATENTERS.

OVERLAND ROUTE.—COMMUNICATION BY STEAM TO INDIA, AUSTRALIA, &c. via Egypt.—The PENINSULAR AND ORIENTAL STEAM NAVIGATION COMPANY BOOK PASSENGERS AND RECEIVE CARGO AND PARCELS FOR GIBRALTAR, MALTA, EGYPT, ADEN, CEYLON, MADRAS, CALCUTTA, the STRAITS, and CHINA, by their Steamers leaving Southampton on the 4th and 20th of every month. For GIBRALTAR, MALTA, EGYPT, ADEN, and BOMBAY, by those of the 12th and 27th of each month, and for MAURITIUS, REUNION, KING GEORGE'S SOUND, MELBOURNE, and SYDNEY, by the Steamers leaving Southampton on the 20th of every month.

For further particulars, apply at the Company's Offices 122, Leadenhall-street, London, E.C., or Oriental-place, Southampton.

OVERLAND ROUTE.—SPECIAL NOTICE.—Important Gain of Four Days in the Transmission of PARCELS TO INDIA, CHINA, and AUSTRALIA.

Arrangements are now completed by which a limited number of Express Parcels can be sent through our offices via France four days later than by the ordinary route.

Despatches to Bengal, Madras, and China on the 6th and 22nd, in addition to the 2nd and 18th; to Bombay on the 14th and 30th, in addition to the 10th and 25th; to Melbourne on the 22nd, in addition to the 18th.

Tariffs and full details may be had on application to GEORGE W. WHEATLEY and Co. (late Waghorn), 150, Leadenhall-street, E.C.

PASSAGES and OUTFITS to INDIA.—

Plans and prices of accommodation of all Ships sailing for INDIA may be seen at the Offices of Messrs. GRINDLAY and Co., and Passages, Overland and via the Cape, negotiated without charge for Commission.

CADETS, ASSISTANT-SURGEONS, &c.—Every article of OUTFIT, Camp, and Cabin Furniture supplied on the shortest notice, at the Outfit and Supply Branches, 121, Bishopsgate-street. Complete Lists, showing the total expense of military and personal equipment in all branches of the Service, may be obtained, with every information relative to India, of GRINDLAY and CO.,

EAST-INDIA ARMY AGENTS,

124, Bishopsgate-street, and 63, Cornhill

AND

EAST-INDIA ROOMS,

3, St. Martin's-place, Charing-cross.

WEST-END PARCELS FORWARDING DEPARTMENT,
9 St. Martin's-place, Charing-cross.

ARTIFICIAL TEETH, SET in the new
CHEMICALLY PREPARED INDIA-RUBBER, forming a beautifully fitting plate to the gums, or over stumps, without producing the slightest pain, and on this plan it is impossible to detect them as artificial when the workmanship is of superior order. Mr. BRADSHAW can, with the greatest confidence, undertake any case, no matter how difficult, with certain success, being a thoroughly practical workman, supplying for many years the first dentists of the day with their most particular work in Artificial Teeth. Doing all his own work himself, he is enabled to supply his patients at an exceedingly moderate price. Single Tooth, from 3s. 6d. to 10s. 6d.; a Complete Upper or Lower Set, from 42 to 45. Mr. Bradshaw, Dentist, 29, Great Portland-street, Oxford-circus.

COMMANS'S CELEBRATED ARECA-

NUT TOOTH-PASTE is used by her Majesty and the Royal Family.—Has been examined, approved, is used and recommended, by many of our first physicians and dentists as the best preparation known for cleaning and preserving the teeth. Testimonials have been received, unsolicited, from many of the nobility and gentry. The following is amongst the many in testimony of its high value.

"Liverpool, August, 1859.

"I have much pleasure in offering my testimony to the value of your Areca-nut Tooth Paste, and have no hesitation in saying that it is the most efficacious and agreeable Dentifrice ever produced. I have recommended its use to my patients for some years."

"W. J. NEWMAN.

"Surgeon-Dentist to the Liverpool Infirmary for Children."

Prepared only by COMMANS, Chemist, Bath, in pots, 2s. each; to be procured of all Chemists, through the Wholesale Agents, Barclay, Edwards, London; Oldham and Co., Dublin; Duncan and Flockhart, Edinburgh.

BRITISH COLLEGE OF HEALTH,
Euston-road, London.

THE MORISONIAN SYSTEM OF MEDICINE.

1. The vital principle is in the blood.
2. Everything in the body is derived from the blood.
3. All constitutions are radically the same.
4. All diseases arise from impurity of the blood.
5. Pain and disease have the same origin.
6. From the intimate connection subsisting between mind and body, the health of the one must conduce to the serenity of the other.
7. Proper vegetable purgation is the only medicinal mode for effectually evacuating disease.
8. The discovery of a vegetable medicine was a desideratum.
9. This discovery was made by James Morison, the Hygeist, who also proclaimed "the medical liberty of the subject."

Morison's Medicines are sold by the appointed agents.

INDIAN CIVIL & MILITARY SERVICE.
—PORTABLE DRESSING-CASES, POUCHES, WRITING-DESKS, and DESPATCH-BOXES, so arranged as to give no trouble in traveling. These well-made requisites contain every necessary article, arranged so compactly as to save the continual expenses gentlemen are put to in clothing quarters. They are pronounced to be the most useful and economical goods of their kind obtainable at the present day.
Manufactured and Sold only by WILLIAMS and Co., 52, New Bond-street.

ALLEN'S NEW OVERLAND TRUNKS,
with Metallic Lining and A-tight Compartments.
ALLEN'S PATENT DESPATCH BOX, with Stationery.
ALLEN'S NEW DRESSING BAG, with Silver Fittings.
The above are the best articles yet invented for India and China.

ALLEN'S ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE of Patent Portmanteaus, BULLOCK TRUNKS, Writing and Dressing Cases, by post, for two stamps.

J. W. ALLEN, Manufacturer, 18 and 22, Strand, London.

Merchants supplied.

TO PERSONS FURNISHING.

THE most varied and extensive STOCK of
CABINET FURNITURE, UPHOLSTERY GOODS, BEDSTEADS, BEDDING, CHIMNEY-GLASSES, DAMASKS, CARPETS, &c., conveniently arranged for public inspection, will be found in the immense Furniture Galleries and Show-rooms of Messrs. Druce and Co. Nos. 65, 66, and 69, BAKER-STREET. The price is marked on every article in plain figures, that persons may make their own estimates, as opportunity to purchase is not allowed. Every article being manufactured by first-rate workmen, of the best seasoned materials, a twelve-month's warranty is given.

Purchasers are invited to visit this establishment before deciding elsewhere.

N.B.—Iron Bedsteads, 8s. 6d. each; 500 Easy Chairs and 100 Wardrobes to select from. Carpets 1s. per yard under the usual price.

* * Illustrated Books post free.

J. MAPLE and Co.'s NEW ILLUSTRATED
CATALOGUE, containing the Prices of every Article required for completely furnishing a House of any class, post free. This is the largest and most convenient Furnishing Establishment in the world. Established Twenty years.
J. MAPLE and Co., 145 and 146, Tottenham-court-road.

HANDSOME BRASS AND IRON BED-STEADS.—HEAL and SON'S Show Rooms contain a large assortment of Brass Bedsteads, suitable both for Home use and for Tropical Climates; handsome Iron Bedsteads with Brass Mountings and elegantly japanned; Plain Iron Bedsteads for Servants; every description of Wood Bedstead that is manufactured, in Mahogany, Birch, Walnut-tree Woods, Polished Deal and Japanned, all fitted with Bedding and Furniture complete, as well as every description of Bedroom Furniture.

HEAL and SON'S ILLUSTRATED
CATALOGUE, containing Designs and Prices of 100 Bedsteads, as well as of 150 different articles of Bedroom Furniture, sent free by post.

HEAL and SON, Bedstead, Bedding, and Bedroom Furniture Manufacturers, 166, Tottenham-court-road, W.

FURNITURE, LOOKING-GLASSES, and PIANOFORTES.

The Variety, Quality, and Economic Price of BARTHOLOMEW and FLETCHER'S vast Stock of New and Second-hand Cabinet Furniture demand the attention and render it the interest of every one to inspect their extensive Show-rooms before purchasing. Elegant Suites of Furniture in Damask, Velvet, Silk, Hair Sealing, or Morocco, from £10 10s.; Mahogany Telescope Dining Tables, 5 ft. long, £2 12s. 6d.; 7 ft., £1 8 ft., £5 5s.; 10 ft., £8 8s. Mahogany Wardrobes, £5 to £30. Marqueterie Cabinets, from £2 2s. to £20. 500 pieces Brussels Carpet, last year's patterns, from 2s. 4d. Every article warranted of sterling quality. An Illustrated Catalogue post free.

BARTHOLOMEW and FLETCHER, 217 and 219, TOTTENHAM-COURT-ROAD, General House Furnishers.

OBTAIN THE IMPERIAL LINEN COM-

PANY'S PRICE LIST, sent free by post, and never buy Household Linens or Family Drapery of any kind without first consulting this useful manual, as you will by it learn to save one-third your outlay, secure first-class goods from the first-class makers, and be in pocket all profits intervening between the producer and consumer.

One rich Hambro' double Damask Table-cloth, to dine ten persons, usually £1 1s.

One very large pair fine Witney Blankets, usually 17s. 6d.

One pair fine wide Russia Sheets, usually 16s. 9d.

One pair magnificent Embroidered Swiss Curtains, usually 19s. 6d.

Half-a-dozen rich Damask Dinner Napkins, usually 10s. 6d.

One elegant Marsella Bed-quilt, welted, usually 13s. 6d.

Six Marsella Toilet Covers, fringed, usually 9s. 6d.

One bundle Royal Turkish Towels, fringed, usually 12s. 6d.; and

One dozen fine French Cambric Handkerchiefs, usually 10s. 6d.

All of which will be forwarded to any part on receipt of three guineas.

N.B.—Other articles, of same value, may be substituted, if desired.—Post-office orders payable at Old Cavendish-street, Bankers—ST. SAMUEL SCOTT & Co.

Address—THE IMPERIAL LINEN COMPANY,
53, WIGMORE STREET, CAVENTISH SQUARE, LONDON.
Manager, JAMES THOMAS.

TABLE GLASS of the Finest Quality and
Design, at Low Prices, manufactured by GOODWIN, 33, Princes-street, Leicester-square, London, W.
Export Orders, &c., executed for the Trade.

"INDIAN BAEL" for DIARRHŒA, DYSENTERY, &c. imported by J. G. GOULD, Pharmaceutical Chemist, 198, Oxford-street, corner of Orchard-street, Portman-square, W.

NO ICE REQUIRED TO produce common
Ice, Dessert Ices, to Ice Wines, &c., in SIMPSON'S NEW PATENT FREEZING VASE.—This Apparatus is, without exception, the most efficacious, simple, and portable ever produced. By using the Patentee's Freezing Powder, Dessert Ices and Common Ice can be frozen by the most inexperienced, in a few minutes, on the table, or in an invalid's apartment. Residents and travellers in hot climates will find it invaluable, as it produces that luxury—Ice!—at command, and only occupies the space of an ordinary hat-case.

Prices: one pint, Four Guineas; three pints, Five Guineas. Freezing Powder, 3s. per cwt. Freezing Pots, Ice Moulds, &c., &c.

SODA-WATER, &c.—Use the "Seltzogene" (solely of one piece of glass), the only portable apparatus that has the patronage of the medical profession, who recommend it for making pure Soda-water and Aromatic Beverages. Metallic impregnation is avoided, there is no leakage, and it is not affected by hot climates.

Prices: two pints, 2s.; three pints, 3s.; five pints, 4s.

Powders (forty charges in box), 8s., 10s., and 16s. each.

References and descriptive catalogues sent free.

GEO. SIMPSON'S Patent Depot, 315c, Oxford-street, London.

Price 1s. post-free.

PULVERMACHER'S MEDICO-GALVANIC
NIC Improved System of SELF-APPLICATION of the Patent GALVANIC ANTI-RHEUMATIC CHAIN-BANDS, demonstrating the unequalled success obtained by their use in the treatment of Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Tic Dolorous, Deafness, Epilepsy, Paralysis, and Loss of Nervous or Functional Force. Most interesting Book, popularizing the wonderful results of Medical Galvanism, based on the soundest teachings of physiology, verified and tested by the first Authors and Physicians of the world, and stating innumerable overwhelming authentic cases of prompt cures of long-standing diseases. Price 1s. (post-free). Direct from J. L. Pulvermacher and Co., 73 Oxford-street, London (adjoining Princess's Theatre). All Bookellers, News Agents, and appointed Agents for the sale of the Chain-Bands.
N.B.—Chainus, 5s., 10s., 15s., 22s., according to electric power.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS and OINTMENT.—

DIBILITY.—CONSUMPTION.—In no diseases are the results of the alterative and tonic influence of these invaluable remedies more apparent, or more gratifying than in that feeble condition of the body which precedes consumption; a change for the better is remarked ere this treatment has been followed for a week, and the improvement steadily progresses; the melancholy emaciation soon gives place to health, strength, and cheerfulness; all the threatening symptoms, which had hitherto resisted medical skill, yield with facility before the marked influence of this rational treatment. The appetite returns, the perspirations diminish, the shortness of breath ceases, and the cough altogether vanishes.

DR. BUCHAN'S PATENT SUGAR-

COATED VEGETABLE PILLS VEGETABLE SKIN OINTMENT, and CONCENTRATED VEGETABLE ESSENCE for Purifying the Blood, Regulating the Bowels, and removing Vitiated Humours, Bilious and Liver Complaints, Rheumatism, Gout, Scorbatic Affections, Costiveness, Skin Eruptions, deep-seated Ulcers, and all Diseases of the Nervous system, from whatever causes, &c., affording at once a new lease of life to the sick and aged or by the sexes, whilst in addition imparting a beautiful and clear complexion, so anxiously sought for by all. Proved by the sworn testimonies made before the Lord Mayor of London, and sitting Magistrates. Sold by Buchan and Co., Patentees, 22, Newman-street, Oxford-street, London, W., and all chemists in town and country. Prices:—Pills, per box, 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., and 11s.; Ointment, per pot, 1s. 1½d., and 2s. 9d.; Essence, per bottle, 11s. or family bottle containing four times that quantity, 33s. Agents:—Barclay, 75, For in-dome-street; J. Singer, 150, Oxford-street; Hanway, 63, Oxford-street; Butler, 4, Chancery; Hooper, 83, King William-street, London Bridge; R. Howden, 78, Gracechurch-street; Prout, 229, Strand &c. &c.

Just published, gratis, or post free for one stamp, to be had of all Agents, and at 22, Newman-street. Extracts from Dr. Buchan's Work, entitled, BUCHAN'S DOMESTIC MEDICINES, being a Book of Reference, containing instructions for the cure of every ailment incidental to man, woman, or child.

THE MAGNESIAN EFFERVESCENT is the most agreeable and effective remedy in all cases of Gout, Rheumatism, Acidity, Heartburn, Indigestion, and Bilious Affection, Nausea, Fever, Thirst, and Sea-sickness. It is highly recommended by the profession, and will be found especially valuable to those going to India or travelling in warm climates; as a mild and efficacious saline aperient it stands unequalled, and will be found peculiarly adapted for delicate females and children. To be obtained through all respectable chemists, and wholesale from Messrs. BARCLAY, Farringdon-street (put up in stoppered bottles at 4s. 6d. for India), and smaller size at 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d.

Prepared only by EDWARD PRICHARD, Chemist, 10, Vigo-street, Regent-street, W.

KEATING'S PERSIAN INSECT POWDER.

UNRIVALLED IN EXTERMINATING
MOSQUITOES, Fleas, Bugs, Flies, B. & C., Cockroaches, and every description of insect infesting Animals and Poultry. Protects Closets, &c., from Moths. ONLY INJURIOUS TO INSECT LIFE. See that the name of THOMAS KEATING, 79, St. Paul's Churchyard, is on every Packet.
Sold by all Agents of KEATING'S COUGH LOZENGES.

THE REAL INDIAN CURRY POWDER.

Unequalled for its delicious flavour and stimulating qualities. 1lb. bottles, 3s. 6d.; ½lb. 2s. 3d.; 3lbs. 1s. 6d.; or 7lbs. for 21s. Curry and Mulligatawny Paste.—1lb. jars, 8s. 6d.; ½lb. 4s. 8d. Payee's New Curry-sauce and Oriental Relish, bottles 1s. 6d. Bengal Club and Mango Chutnee, bottles 1s. 6d. and 2s. each. The Royal Combination Pickle, highly recommended, bottles 2s. Bombay Pickled Mangoes, 1ap Sauce, Nepaul Pepper, Preserved Ginger, and all Indian delicacies, may be had at PAYNE and CO.'S FOREIGN WAREHOUSE, 328, Regent-street.

A TEXT-BOOK FOR PUBLIC EXAMINATIONS.

This day is published, in 8vo., highly illustrated with Plates and Cuts, price 10s. 6d.,

ELEMENTARY PRINCIPLES OF FORTIFICATION.

BY J. T. HYDE, M.A.,

Professor of Fortification and Artillery, Royal Indian Military College, Addiscombe.

London: WM. H. ALLEN AND Co., 7, Leadenhall-street, E.C.

This day is published, in 8vo., price 15s.,

THE HISTORY OF CHESS;

FROM THE TIME OF THE
EARLY INVENTION OF THE GAME IN INDIA,
TILL THE PERIOD OF
ITS ESTABLISHMENT IN WESTERN AND CENTRAL EUROPE;

Containing, from Oriental Sources, a correct Description of the

CHATURANGA,

OR PRIMEVAL GAME OF THE ANCIENT HINDUS;

Also, a full Explanation of the Theory and Practice of the

SHATRANJ,

OR MEDIEVAL GAME, AS PLAYED BY THE PERSIANS, THE ARABS, AND THE EUROPEANS, DOWN TO THE BEGINNING OF THE SIXTEENTH CENTURY OF OUR ERA;

The whole Illustrated with numerous Notes and Diagrams.

TO WHICH IS ADDED,

AN APPENDIX,

CONTAINING ESSAYS AND DISCUSSIONS ON THE GAME FROM VARIOUS SOURCES.

BY DUNCAN FORBES, LL.D.,

Professor of Oriental Languages in King's College, London; Member of the Royal Asiatic Society of Great Britain and Ireland; and Author of several Works on the Hindustani and Persian Languages.

ROMANIZED HINDUSTANI.

This day is published, in Royal 8vo., price £1. 16s.,

A DICTIONARY: HINDUSTANI-ENGLISH AND ENGLISH-HINDUSTANI.

(In the Roman or English Characters.)

By DUNCAN FORBES, LL.D.

This day is published, in 12mo., price 5s.,

THE BAGH-O-BAHAR; WITH A VOCABULARY OF ALL THE WORDS OCCURRING IN THE WORK. (In the Roman or English Characters.)

By DUNCAN FORBES, LL.D.

A New Edition, Revised throughout, in 18mo., price 3s. 6d.,

HINDUSTANI MANUAL.

(In the Roman or English Characters.)

A Pocket Companion for those who visit India in any capacity, consisting of a Compendious Grammar, Exercises, Dialogues on Familiar Subjects, and a Vocabulary.

By DUNCAN FORBES, LL.D.

DR. FORBES' WORKS ARE NOW USED IN ALL THE COLLEGES AND GOVERNMENT SCHOOLS IN INDIA.

London: WM. H. ALLEN AND Co., 7, Leadenhall-street, E.C.

LONDON:—Printed by RICHARD KINDEL, Printer, at his Printing Office, Angel-court, Skinner-street, in the Parish of St. Sepulchre; and published by JAMES PEARCE ALLEN,
7, Leadenhall-street, both in the County of Middlesex.—September 19, 1860.

ALLEN'S INDIAN MAIL

AND OFFICIAL GAZETTE

FROM

BRITISH & FOREIGN INDIA, CHINA, & ALL PARTS OF THE EAST

(WITH THIS PAPER "THE INDIAN NEWS" IS NOW INCORPORATED.)

VOL. XVIII.—No. 456.]

LONDON, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1860.

[PRICE 6d.]

CONTENTS.

SUMMARY AND REVIEW	713
BENGAL:—
The Trade of the Three Presidencies	714
Lumsden's Mission to Candahar	714
Miscellaneous	714
Shipping and Commercial	716
MADRAS:—
Miscellaneous	717
Shipping and Commercial	717
BOMBAY:—
Miscellaneous	718
CHINA
718
OFFICIAL GAZETTE	718
DOMESTIC	722
ORIGINAL ARTICLES:—
Cotton from India	723
Sir John Lawrence at Glasgow	723
HOME:—
Scinde Railway	724
Shipping and Domestic	725
Arrivals, &c., reported at the India Office	725
STOCKS AND SECURITIES	725

DATES OF ADVICES.

Bengal	Aug. 24	Burmah (Rangoon)	Aug. 4
Madras	" 29	Bombay	" 24
Agra	" 16	Ceylon	" 31
China (Hong-Kong)	August 10.

MAILS TO INDIA.

Mails to India and China, via Marseilles, are despatched from London as follows, viz.—Those for Bombay packets, on the evenings of the 3rd and 18th of each month; and those for Calcutta packets (including mails for Ceylon, Madras, and China), on the evenings of the 10th and 26th of each month. When any of these dates falls on a Sunday, the mails are made up on the following evening.

Letters and Newspapers can be forwarded to any part of India via Bombay and Marseilles, and in most cases will reach their destination some days sooner than if despatched by the following Calcutta mail. The Bombay mails via Southampton, however, are no longer available for the transmission of Letters or Newspapers to the Madras Presidency.

Mails for the Mediterranean and all parts of India, except the Bombay Presidency, are despatched via Southampton on the mornings of the 4th and 20th, or, when either of these dates falls on Sunday, upon the previous evening.

Mails for the Mediterranean, the Presidency of Bombay, and Upper or North-West Provinces of Bengal, are despatched via Southampton, on the 12th and 27th of the month, except when these dates fall on Sunday, in which case they are forwarded on the previous evening.

POSTAGE.

Via Southampton (pre-payment compulsory), letters under

1 oz. 0s. 6d.	2 oz. 2s. 0d.	4 oz. 4s. 0d.
1 oz. 1s. 0d.	3 oz. 3s. 0d.	5 oz. 5s. 0d.

Books, with the ends of the covers open (not exceeding 3 lbs. in weight), if sent via Southampton, under 1 lb. 4d.; under 1 lb. 8d.; under 1 lb. 1s. 4d.; under 1 lb. 2s.; under 2 lbs. 2s. 8d.; under 2 lbs. 3s. 4d.; and under 3 lbs. 4s. Postage-stamps must be affixed.

Via Marseilles (pre-payment compulsory), letters under

1 oz. 0s. 9d.	1 oz. 1s. 9d.	1 1/2 oz. 3s. 3d.
1 oz. 1s. 0d.	1 oz. 2s. 0d.	1 1/2 oz. 3s. 6d.

Newspapers for the East Indies, when not exceeding 4 oz. 2d. each; when above 4 oz. and not exceeding 8 oz., 3d. each—an additional penny being charged for every additional 4 oz. or fraction thereof. For all countries or places eastward of Suez, the charge is 2d., whatever the weight of the newspaper.

Books under 1 lb. 6d.; under 1 lb. 1s.; and for every additional 1 lb. an additional 1s.

The Mails for China are despatched at the same rate of postage as those to India, but must be pre-paid.

SUMMARY AND REVIEW.

THE arrival of the Overland mail brings us intelligence from Calcutta down to the 23rd August, from Madras to the 29th, and from China to the 10th of that month.

Lord Canning's lines have certainly not fallen in pleasant places. Almost from the commencement of his government he has been engaged in fomenting, or suppressing, mutiny and disaffection in one shape or another. From his inappreciation of the gravity of the situation, the first sparks of mutinous feeling in the native army were suffered to develop into a fearful conflagration, which even now is barely extinguished. Before this peril had quite passed away he contrived to alienate the good will and lose the services of 10,000 European soldiers at a time when not a man could be spared. And at present he is successfully labouring to disgust the entire non-official European community in India, and is driving them into avowed and hostile opposition. The Arms Act, the latest specimen of legislative bungling exhibited by the Calcutta Council, has been greeted with a storm of indignation throughout the Bengal Presidency. At Agra, Simla, Lucknow, and Allahabad, petitions have been prepared for presentation to the British Parliament, complaining of the non-exemption of Europeans, against whom, indeed, the measure is fully as much directed as against the natives. Rifle clubs are also being formed at several stations, in open defiance of the Act, and a general feeling of exasperation appears to animate the English residents against a Government that systematically insults them under the pretext of treating alike "Trojan and Tyrian," native and European, without preference or distinction. So far is this impracticable impartiality being carried that, by the Penal Code now before the Legislative Council in Committee, Europeans are subjected to the punishment of flogging at the discretion even of native Mofussil magistrates. We trust, however, that the Secretary of State will interpose his cooler judgment, and check the Calcutta law-makers in the downward course they seem so eager to pursue.

The Income-tax Bill has already required to be amended, in order to indemnify the officials against the consequences of the irregular and illegal proceedings they had been led into by their excessive zeal. The burden of collecting this new impost has been laid upon the already over-weighted shoulders of collectors, deputy collectors, and tahsildars, whose duties hitherto sufficiently onerous will thus be rendered almost intolerable.

A commission has at length been appointed to draw up a report on an organised system of native police for all India. The members are Messrs. W. Robinson, Madras; S. Wauchope, Calcutta; R. Temple, for the Punjab; W. Court, for the North-West; and Lieutenant-colonel Bruce, for Oude.

According to a Calcutta contemporary, Sir R. J. H. Birch, Lieutenant-general M. Cubbon, commissioner of Coorg and Mysore, and Colonel Sir R. Shakespeare, have been mentioned as successors of Sir James Outram in the Supreme Council. The last named officer, it is believed, will be the successful candidate.

The death of the Maharajah of Travancore is stated to have taken place on the 18th of August. His Highness died of dyspepsia, from which he had long been suffering. "This native prince," says the Madras Athenæum, "was ever ready to listen to the advice of the British resident, and, what is more to the purpose, to act upon it. In this way slavery was abolished in his dominions; and, latterly, education and the construction of public works, have made great progress. Although the Maharajah has left children of his own he will be succeeded, under the peculiar law of inheritance which prevails in Travancore, by a nephew. This singular custom is owing to the frightful, but recognised, immorality which prevails among both sexes. Marriage exists in name only, and the result is that, as no man knows his own offspring, sisters' children are regarded as heirs."

On the 26th July the Allied forces were to sail from Talien Bay to the Sha-luy-tien Islands, about fourteen miles from the Peiho. The English troops were embarked in a single day without hurry or confusion, and are described as being exceedingly well equipped at all points, while the French are deficient in both artillery and cavalry. The first division of the British army and the entire French force were to land simultaneously at Pehtang, so that the commencement of active hostilities might be made by nearly equal numbers on both sides. After the capture and destruction of the forts at the mouth of the Peiho, easy terms, it was expected, would be offered to the Chinese Government.

Casualties by Death in the Armies of India reported since last Publication.

BENGAL.—Lieut. Stannus W. Fraser, 23th Bengal N.I., at Hazareebaugh, aged 32, Aug. 6.

BOMBAY.—Ens. G. R. Stratton, 5th Bombay N.I., at Macao Fort, July 24; Maj. C. D. Mylne, H.M.'s Bombay army, at Cheltenham, aged 50, Sept. 25.

Passengers by the present Mail.

For Marseilles.—From Calcutta.—Brig. Troup, Mr. Pillans, Mr. Ingram, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell. From Madras.—Asst. surg. Murray, Ens. Blake, Capt. Adamson. From Galle.—Mr. Alston. From Singapore.—Mr. Groll, Mr. Van Leyan. From Hong Kong.—Mr. Bittle, Mr. Berque, Capt. Pillan. From Penang.—Mr. Phillips and child. From Aden.—Mrs. Drum.

Expected at Southampton.

Per str. Ceylon, Oct. 3.—From Singapore.—Capt. Napier. From Hong Kong.—Dr. and Mrs. Bain, Mr. Cleverly, Mrs. Medhurst and two children. Lieut. Strong, Mr. Yates. From Madras.—Capt. and Mrs. Syme, Capt. Jackson, Mr. Dawson, Mr. Orme, Lieut. Taylor, Maj. Benson, Capt. Carey, Mrs. Gape and two children, Maj. Fupper. From Calcutta.—Col. Leunox, Mr. Truman, Capt. Sowers, Dr. Webster, Mrs. Chuckerbutty and four children, Mrs. Jones and three children, Lieut. Litchfield, Mrs. Loveday and child, Mr. and Mrs. the and child. From Galle.—Mrs. Graves, Lieut. Nole, H. N. Mrs. Freedom and three children. From Alexandria.—Mr. Ingram, Dr. Morton, Miss Molesworth, Mr. Whitley, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, Mr. Day.

BENGAL.

THE TRADE OF THE THREE CAPITALS.

Mr. Spooner has supplied us with the exact statement of the export trade of Bombay, wanting in his condensed report which we lately reviewed. We can now institute an accurate comparison between the commerce of Calcutta and Bombay, and form a correct idea of the external trade of British India in 1859-60.

I.—CALCUTTA.

Imports	Rs. 18,33,72,697
Exports	14,21,76,871
	32,55,49,768

Duty on merchandise and imported salt Rs. 2,05,85,569

II.—BOMBAY.

Imports	Rs. 9,87,49,906
Exports	15,51,54,526
	37,39,04,432

Duty on merchandise and salt... Rs. 1,42,87,340

III.—MADRAS.

Imports	Rs. 4,47,06,810
Exports	4,44,20,017
	8,91,26,827

The Madras figures we have been compelled to take from an imperfect return in a local journal. Thus, while the value of the trade of Bombay exceeds that of Calcutta by Rs. 2,84,54,664, or nearly three millions sterling, the yield in duty to the revenue from Bombay is less by Rs. 62,98,229, or nearly three-fourths of a million. This striking difference may be partly accounted for by the greater quantity of salt imported into Calcutta, and the higher excise levied on it. But there must be some other reason besides this. Is it in the accounts?

We have, thus, for the trade of the three capitals, a total of nearly seventy-nine millions sterling. If to this we add four millions for the Pegu coast, four for Kurrachee, and one for Aden, we have a total for the trade of all India of eighty-eight millions annually, yielding a Customs' revenue of nearly four millions sterling on merchandise alone. In 1813, when the Company's monopoly was broken up, the trade was under one million. These eighty-eight millions are the work of European capital, of "interloping" energy.—Friend of India.

LUMSDEN'S MISSION TO CANDAHAR.

Cabul is the only spot in Central Asia which is free from Russian influence. Since Lord Ellenborough's proclamation restored Dost Mahommed Khan to liberty in 1842, our connection with a kingdom in which we met with such terrible disaster has been most distant. But not the less did our political officers on the frontier continue to watch the efforts of the Amir to re-establish his power. In all his movements we are interested, and we are now enabled to trace them since he became again Lord of Cabul.

After having firmly seated himself on the throne in 1848, the death of his heir apparent led the Amir to nominate Gholam Hydar Khan, of a younger branch of his family. In 1850 he annexed Balkh, and in 1854 he made himself master of Candahar to secure it from Persia. When the conquest was completed, the Persians occupied Herat, murdered the governor, and threatened Candahar. Meanwhile, in March 1855, Gholam Hydar Khan, on the part of his father, formed with Great Britain an alliance offensive and defensive. As an ally of Cabul, and as the avenger of a broken treaty, we at once suspended all intercourse with the Persian court, and entered on the brief war of 1856-7. To prevent a Persian force attempting a march on Cabul and Ghuzni, the Amir rebuilt the fort of Kelat-i-Ghilzie. On 6th January, 1857, he personally entered into a treaty with Sir John Lawrence, at Peshawur, by which, in consideration of receiving a monthly subsidy of a lakh of rupees, he bound himself to keep up a regular army for the defence of Afghanistan so long as the Persian war continued. He agreed, also, to allow such British officers as might be deputed for the purpose to visit any part of his country to see if the subsidy was properly applied, as well as to give assistance in military matters. Thus was the British relation with Cabul, formed to resist Russian aggression in 1839 and attended with such bitter results, renewed under more auspicious circumstances, and for the same object, in 1857.

Accordingly, a mission was at once appointed, consisting of Major (now Colonel) H. B. Lumsden, Lieutenant Lumsden, and Dr. Bellew, accompanied by two natives, one of whom was to be left as our vakeel at Cabul. British energy and Persian cowardice brought the war to a close on the 4th March, 1857. Nine days after the mission left Peshawur with an escort of guides and Multanis. Marching through the Ispin Ghawi and Shutur Gardan, passes never before visited by Europeans, they reached Candahar on the 26th April. On the 27th July the Persians made a pretence of evacuating Herat, leaving it in the hands of Sultan Jan, who, we have just heard, has again made it over in defiance of treaties to the Shah. Colonel Taylor, however, was sent from Bagdad to acknowledge the so-called neutral and independent Government. Thus we have spent treasure, if not spilt blood, on another fruitless war for purposes more English than Indian. When Colonel Lumsden had settled down at Candahar, and began to cultivate friendly relations with the Afghans, the Indian rebellion broke out. The mission had reason to quake for their lives. The Persian troops, in spite of the treaty, hovered on the frontiers of Herat ready to take advantage of the extinction of British power in Hindostan. The whole Afghan nation, excited by priestly zealots and the notorious "Peshawary Brothers," called on the Amir to lead them against the infidel, and re-establish the Dourani name and the Moslem faith supreme throughout Asia. Dost Mahommed would have yielded but for his son Azim Khan. Like Jung Bahadur in Nepal, like Dinkur Rao in Gwalior, and Salar Jung in Hyderabad, he opposed the tide of popular feeling alone. He gained over the heir apparent, who had seen our power when he visited the three Presidencies. Together they showed their old father that it was unbroken even at Peshawur, that it had triumphed over more deadly dangers before, that if it triumphed now as surely it would, Dost Mahommed, if in the ranks of the enemy, would be no longer Amir of Cabul. Delhi fell in time to secure his wavering allegiance as well as that of the chiefs of the Punjab, and of our native allies throughout India. Meanwhile Colonel Lumsden's solitary mission, like Captain Montgomerie's survey party in Cashmere, remained in the midst of a turbulent nation of fanatics, showing that self-conscious contempt of danger which is the characteristic of the Saxon alone. They encouraged the heir apparent to resist the fanaticism of the Afghans. They saw two confident Persian armies driven back by the Turkoman hordes and one sold into slavery. They lived through a revolt of all the moulavies in Candahar, and quietly pursued their duty of watching the state of the country, noting the condition of the Government, the army, the chiefs, the people, inquiring into its products, and studying its topography. By their presence they secured the fidelity of the Amir. By their investigations they have enabled us to form a correct idea of Central Asian politics, and have collected a body of information as to the tribes of Afghanistan and Kafiristan, worthy to rank as materials for a continuation of Mountstuart Elphinstone's "Cabul." In 1842 a British army left behind them the bones of their countrymen and the curses of the people; in 1858 a British mission introduced the blessings of English medicine, established a dispensary, and impressed a treacherous race with a conviction of the power, the honesty, the peaceful policy of the British Government. The mission returned to Peshawur in June, 1858, after an absence of fifteen months.

Col. Lumsden's character as a soldier has always been high; he has added to it the reputation of a successful and courageous diplomatist. In the history, yet to be written, of European policy and adventure in Central Asia, his name will hold an honourable place.

Hereafter we may sketch the scientific results of the Candahar mission, or describe the accursed character of the government, and the oppressed condition of the people. Dost Mahommed is now above seventy years of age. Amir of Afghanistan and Balkh, he rules over two and a-half millions of warlike subjects. From policy he, the heir apparent, and nearly all his sons who are chiefs of provinces, are friends of the British. He is equally friendly to Beloochistan, which is allied with us. He hates Persia, and he has very recently stripped Bokhara of one of its provinces. He will take from Turkistan all he can get. In spite of his efforts and our treaty, Sultan Jan has openly made Herat over to the Persians, and Herat is the key to India. So long as the Amir lives, peace on our frontier is certain. As the only spot aggressively opposed to Russia and her satraps, it is our policy to maintain friendly relations with any de facto Government which may rule from Cabul. But when he dies, and the event cannot be far distant, bloodshed and anarchy must ensue. Gholam Hydar Khan has since 1848 been heir apparent. But from his conquest of Kunduz, Afzal Khan is now the stronger and more popular of the Amir's sons. Whatever may happen, our true policy is to keep aloof. The calamitous Afghan war, and the fruitless Persian campaign, have taught us that it is not by intrigue in Central Asia we are to prevent a Russian invasion of India. With Cabul and Herat we have nothing to do. But on our own frontier, at the mouth of the passes where an enemy must debouch into the plains, there is the key of our defence. In five years troops from Kurrachee and Calcutta may reach Lahore in a few days; seven years hence they may go to Peshawur by railway.

Commercially, too, peace, non-intervention, should be our object. The Punjab and Sind are about to enjoy new facilities for the increase of their trade and the development of their material resources, in the navigation of their rivers and the completion of their railways. It is of importance that our frontiers should be so quiet and our relations with the chiefs of Central Asia so intimate, that we could compete in their markets with the Russians and the Chinese. Not a hundred miles from our Kangra tea plantations the "brick tea" of China is sold at a high price after having been conveyed a thousand miles or more. In return for the wool which annually comes down the passes of the Sulimans and the Eastern Himalayas, we could furnish much better and cheaper piece goods and broad cloths than the inferior stuff sent at a high price from St. Petersburg. All of Central Asia that is not supplied by Russian traders or their agents is under the suzerainty of the Chinese. The material wealth of Thibet is locked up from the outside world. Any future treaty with China should include the right to trade on fair terms with the plateaux of Central Asia, and in the rich districts of the South-East provinces, which we hope at no distant time to penetrate from the frontier of Pegu.—Friend of India.

MISCELLANEOUS.

UNPOPULARITY OF THE ARMS ACT.—A meeting with reference to the Arms Act has been held at Allahabad. There were upwards of a hundred present. Memorials against the Act were adopted, addressed to the Queen, the House of Lords and the House of Commons respectively. The resolutions passed and the sentiments expressed were the same as those of the Simla meeting which we notice elsewhere.

ASSAM TEA COMPANY.—The crop raised by the Assam Tea Company in the present season will be 911,500 lbs. of packed tea. The dividend declared last May was 12 per cent. on the paid up capital.

HYDROGEN GAS.—The Engineer's Journal urges the introduction of hydrogen gas into India. At present the Oriental Gas Company charge for coal gas Rs. 8 per 1,000 cubic feet. Hydrogen gas can be supplied at Rs. 1-8. The materials for making it are simply fuel for heating the furnace, charcoal for decomposing the water and lime for purifying it. The Rajah of Burdwan has ordered his palace to be lighted up with it. The real difficulty which will operate against its extensive use in India will be the danger of explosion, should the hydrogen come in contact with the common air.

PUNJAB POLICE FORCE.—The Punjab Government have issued a statement of the Punjab irregular force and police battalions, with the names of the commanding officers and the places where they are stationed. There are six batteries of artillery, six regiments of cavalry, twelve regiments of infantry, and ten battalions of police.

RAJMAHAL.—A clergyman is to be appointed to Rajmahal by the Additional Clergy Society, granting him an allowance of Rs. 250 a month for three years, and Rs. 300 after that time. The Government will contribute Rs. 100, and the East India Railway Company Rs. 200 a month to the funds of the society. Like Howrah and Ranee-gunge, Rajmahal may be described as a railway city. The various lines throughout India will cause towns to spring up as in England. At present the railways employ 700 Europeans, with their families.

A LIBERAL OFFER.—It is right to place on record the liberal offer to the Municipal Commissioners of Mr. E. D. Kilburn, a Calcutta merchant, to subscribe a thousand rupees for the supply of good drinking water to the city by means of filters, fountains, or any other plan.

THE REVENUE BOARD.—The Calcutta Gazette notices the appointment of Mr. E. T. Trevor as commissioner of Cuttack and superintendent of the Tributary Mehals, in place of Mr. G. F. Cockburn, who goes home on medical certificate. Mr. H. L. Dampier, accordingly, officiates as secretary to the Bengal Board of Revenue, and the Hon. A. Eden as junior secretary. When will any reform be introduced into this board? One despotic experienced revenue officer, acting with the Lieutenant-governor, will do the work much more efficiently. At any rate there is no need for two secretaries.

BAREILLY, August 11.—We have most oppressive weather; although the clouds hang about, the rain keeps off most provokingly, making supplies of all sorts scarce and dear. This province is, in general, noted for its plentiful agricultural products, but at present atta is selling at ten seers per rupee, and everything else, except rice, proportionally high priced. Sickness, too, is attacking the villagers, who are flocking into the dispensaries at Bareilly, Shreehanpoor, and Pilibheet. Snakes are very plentiful, and several cases of persons having been bitten have ended fatally. A reward of two annas is given by the civil authorities for every snake killed. Wolves, too, have become troublesome; this I account for by their having been driven in from the jungles by the flooding of some of the rivers, coming down from the hills. The river Sardah this year has been unusually low; what water has risen is not caused by rain, but by the melting of the snow. It has been decided that the whole of the Kumaon Terai, from Buhm Dheo to Hurdwar, shall be formed in a separate district, under the charge of a joint magistrate. Mr. Elliot Colvin is to be the first incumbent, with his head-quarters at Nainee Tal. It is most probable, now that the Oude forests have been given to the Nepalese, that the Kumaon forest will have to be opened for cutting timber. It is to be hoped some proper arrangements will be made as regards forest conservancy; no young trees ought to be allowed to be cut, as great recklessness is shown by the woodcutters, who prefer cutting down small saplings to large trees, simply because they are more portable, and an order ought to be issued to prevent villagers setting fire to the grass indiscriminately in the jungle, as annually a large number of young trees are burnt down.—Englishman.

THE DELHI BANK has declared a dividend on the operations of the past half year at the rate of seven per cent. per annum. The managers set aside the sum of Rs. 22,283 to erect a building in Delhi for the Bank, in place of that to which the mutiny has given an almost historic interest. The unacknowledged debts have been reduced in amount from $3\frac{1}{2}$ to $2\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs, by a process which does not say much for the honour of the debtors, who thought they would escape liability in the confusion of 1857. The amount awarded as compensation to the Bank was just one third of its claim, or Rs. 2,38,470. This sum was divided among the shareholders as a bonus at the rate of Rs. 56 per share. Much of the success of the Bank is owing to the energy and ability of Mr. J. C. Parry, the manager. His services have been acknowledged by a grant of Rs. 5,500 and the preservation of his portrait in the Bank.

PRIZE MONEY.—Nothing has been definitely settled regarding any of the Indian Prize Money except that of Delhi. The sum realised from the sale of the jewels, coins, shawls, arms, and other booty, was Rs. 32,41,917. With the interest which has accrued the total amount awaiting the orders of her Majesty is Rs. 35,57,917, and this, before it is distributed, will certainly reach 36 lakhs. On the 12th of March last, Sir Charles Wood requested the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury to advise her Majesty to give directions for the distribution of the booty among the forces engaged before Delhi. With them, therefore, the present delay rests. On the 6th July last Sir Charles Wood stated, in the House, that it was owing to a proposition of the Treasury to substitute the scale of distribution adopted after the Russian War for that which has hitherto been adhered to in India. The Indian scale is the more favourable to the officers, the English scale to the men. We reprint the former from Jameson's Code, and for the sake of comparison publish the latter. By the Indian scale the Commander-in-Chief receives one-eighth of the whole. Of the rest general officers receive 1,500 shares; colonels, 600; lieutenant colonels, 360; majors, 240; captains and surgeons, 120; lieutenants, assistant surgeons, cornets, ensigns, and adjutants, 60; conductors and apothecaries, 15; sub-conductors, &c., 3; trumpet majors and sergeants, 2; five majors, corporals, privates, and volunteers, 1. According to the English scale, the Commander-in-Chief receives one-fourth of one tenth part of the net proceeds, and so on downwards, after a rather complicated arithmetical fashion, for general and field officers. It is most probable that the English rate will be adopted. From the scales it is easy for each officer and private to compute his share. As a commission is sitting to report on the subject, we fear the Delhi force need not look for justice for the next twelve months. The Lucknow, Central India, and Kirwee prizes are still more hopeless. The claim of the vast army which captured the first has been referred to a committee, and is still under consideration. The settlement of the question, as to what troops have more or less a claim to it, may take fourteen years, as it did in the case of the Deccan prize. The papers on the subject of the Central India and Kirwee and Banda booty are still in India. The India Office are not yet officially aware of the fact that any prize whatever was taken at Kirwee. Colonel Dunne, in the House of Commons last month, pleaded for the Saugor column, under Sir George Whitlock, which captured it without a blow. He described the battle of Banda also as one in which 600 men defeated 8,000 rebels, of whom they slaughtered 800, taking nine guns. That the column is entitled to the Banda prize is evident, but the fate of the Kirwee treasure is a delicate question, which the Indian Government evidently believe delay only will solve. When all the captors are dead, it will be easy to appropriate the booty. Is it for this the authorities are waiting?—Friend of India.

THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY from Rajmahal to Colgong and Bhagulpore is expected by the engineers to be opened about April next.

INDIAN ANTIQUITIES.—A letter in the Lahore Chronicle from Peshawur says the Assistant-Commissioner is busy excavating the mounds in the plain between the cantonment and the Khyber. Stone sculptured cornices, friezes, capitals, hands, heads, arms, and whole statues have already been discovered. The latter, which are described as a kind of bold bas-relief, are supposed to be of Buddhist origin. Two kings, one standing and the other sitting, are represented in this manner. The former measures nine feet high, and the dress and ornaments are more correctly treated than the face and figure; in the sitting king the face is much better. Some of these mounds are said to have been explored by Europeans in the time of Runjeet Singh.

ANOTHER COMMISSION.—We (Friend of India) have been unfair to Lord Canning. He has resolved to do something about the native police. He has appointed a commission! It consists of Lieutenant-colonel Bruce, C.B., lately chief of the Oude police; Mr. Robinson, superintendent of the Madras police; Mr. S. Wauchope, commissioner of Calcutta police; Mr. Court, magistrate of Allahabad; and Mr. R. Temple, as representative of the Punjab. All the members are now in Calcutta, but they cannot get any instructions. They will draw up an admirable report, on which it will, as usual, be impossible to get any orders.

SURKEE.—The North-West Provinces have an advantage over most places in improvising buildings for libraries, museums, or, indeed, for temporary residences, at a rate which might well seem fabulous. Walls of bricks sun-dried, are, if sheltered from the rain, as good as those of bricks burned. They cost some tenth of the price, and, notwithstanding the dearness of wood, buildings can be constructed at prices we cannot contend with. But there is a variety of grass or rush called surkee—excellently suited for flimsy buildings of moderate height, and which, when well thatched, suits admirably for a residence, for eight or nine months in the year. It keeps out rain, and at all seasons is infinitely preferable to a tent. We (Friend of India) have seen cottages of surkee 90 feet square, or with 460 square feet of floor, and 600 feet of wall area, exclusive of doors and windows, constructed for a cost of not more than Rs. 120, fitted up with book-shelves or specimen cases to hide the nakedness of the walls. They look as durable as much more substantial and expensive buildings. Such buildings it is intended to use for the educational museums about to be established in the North-West. There pukka houses are expected to return 30 per cent. at least on the money invested on them.

THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S TOUR.—We (Friend of India) see much nonsense written in some journals regarding the cost of Lord Canning's tour in the North-West. It has been estimated as high as seventy-five lakhs of rupees. The whole amount was under six lakhs, including the expenses of the Commissariat and Quarter-Master-General's departments, and the gifts to native chiefs and princes. No money could have been better spent. We despise a little too much the glitter and parade of royalty in all our dealings with the natives. The death of Mr. Wilson has made it somewhat doubtful whether Lord Canning will make a tour through Central India and pay his promised visit to Holkar. At any rate it will delay his departure.

"BANI-ISRAEL."—Dr. Bellew, who accompanied Col. Lumsden's mission to Candahar, gives an account of the Afghans, compiled from seven of their own histories, written from 70 to 250 years ago. They call themselves "Bani-Israel," or children of Israel, and claim direct descent from Sarul or Saul, the King. His two sons, Barakhia and Iramia, were chief men under Daood, his successor. Their son, Assaf and Affghana, filled high offices under Suleiman. Affghana and his forty sons built the temple. During the captivity their descendants, because they adhered to the religion of their forefathers, were banished from Palestine by Bhuka-u-asr (Nebuchadnezzar), and took refuge in the mountains of Ghor. Thence they gradually extended their power towards the Kohistan-i-Cabul and Ghuzni. Till Mahommed appeared they read the Pentateuch and observed the Mosaic Law. They then adopted the Koran, and their leader, Kais Mahommed, was called Pathan, meaning in Syrian a rudder, as he was to guide the people in the new faith like a skilful pilot. Hence the Afghans have adopted the term Pathan as their national appellation, and by that name the Hindoos have always known them. From this Kais, who first embraced Mahommedanism, the tribes trace their descent through his three sons, their direct offshoots being Durrani, Ghilzais and Kakars. Apart from these traditions, evidently the fruit of Mahommedanism, Dr. Bellew considers there are good grounds for considering them as of Israelitish origin. Their physiognomy, ceremonies, social and religious, and traditions, are all Jewish. They still keep up the custom of casting the "pur" or lot mentioned in the Book of Esther.—Friend of India.

MORTALITY IN INDIA.—In Dr. McClelland's report on the health of troops in India we see the following particulars of mortality, compiled by Dr. Cheevers. The annual mean rate of deaths for ten years, per 1,000 men, is, for Bengal, 65.29; for Bombay, 54.44; and for Madras, 28.35. The rate of mortality of women per 1,000 is, in Bengal, 44.4; in Madras, 24.7; in Bombay, 30.5. The rate of mortality of children is, in Bengal, 84.2; in Madras, 39.8; in Bombay, 31.00. The low rates in Madras are attributable to the accessibility of hill sanitarium, and the high rates of Bengal to the prevalence of malaria. In Bengal one-third of the deaths are caused by fever, in Madras one-ninth, and in Bombay one-fourth.

DEATH OF MR. BLUNT, C.S.—We notice in a Madras journal the death of Mr. Blunt, one of the oldest retired members of the Bengal Civil Service, which he entered before the close of last century. He was Sudder Judge, Member of the Board of Revenue, in the Supreme Council, and Second Governor of Agra, where he succeeded Sir Charles Metcalf. His later years were clouded by pecuniary embarrassments. He spent most of his time in sailing in Green's ships between Calcutta, Madras, and London. He possessed a store of anecdotes of his contemporaries, reaching back to Lord Cornwallis.

SIMLA.—A public meeting was held at Simla on the 30th July, with reference to the Arms Act. It was attended by all the European non-official residents. A draft of petition addressed to the House of Lords was read and approved of. The petition explains the position of the non-official European residents at Simla, the services they rendered during the mutinies, and claims exemption from the obnoxious clause in the Arms Bill regarding Europeans and Eurasians. A resolution was next passed to the effect that the Lieutenant-governor be addressed on the subject of organizing a Rifle Volunteer Corps. A resolution to petition the Lords and Commons for the admission of an independent member in the Legislative Council, to represent the mercantile, non-official, uncovenanted, and other Christian inhabitants, was carried unanimously.

A JOINT-STOCK BREWERY COMPANY has been formed at Murree, the sanitarium of the Punjab. The manufacture of beer at Mussoorie and Simla has been a success.

CALCUTTA MEDICAL COLLEGE.—Dr. Eatwell, the principal of the Calcutta Medical College, has published details of the results of the college since its establishment twenty-five years ago. At present eighty-five of the native students are sub-assistant surgeons in Government service. At least twenty are practising on their own account in Calcutta, and of these several have an income of Rs. 600 a-month. The Bengalee educated students practise all over Bengal; sixty-two are employed by Government as native doctors. Of the Hindustani students there are 330 with regiments and in hospitals. In 1836 Pandit Mo-doo-soodun Goopto was the first Hindoo, who, in spite of caste, dissected the human body. The other medical schools in Bombay, Madras, Agra, and Hyderabad, have turned out relatively as many medical students.

EXECUTION OF REBELS.—The Delhi Gazette says Awaz Khan, the murderer of Major Burton, political agent at Kotah, has been hanged, along with Mehrab Khan, a leader of the rebels.

ABDOOLAH BEG, who was guilty of the murder of Bhowance Singh and Dr. Handsbrow, in May, 1857, was hanged at Bareilly on the 8th August.

MAHARAJA RUNBEER SING, of Cashmeer, has permitted the surveyors of Government to examine the bed of the Ravee through his country.

JHANSI.—A fellow of the name of Damoodur Rao, calling himself the adopted son of the Raja of Jhansi, petitioned Government for some lands or allowances, which, he said, he was entitled to under some treaties with the Jhansi State. It appears that this Damoodur Rao held aloof during the rebellion, and when the Rance joined it he was called on to oppose her and assist in putting down the insurrection. He returned no answer, and now the Governor-general refuses to recognize him or to receive his petition. He was, it is said, adopted only four days before the Raja died.

A "BORE."—According to the Hurkaru, the bore which visited Calcutta on the 17th and 18th August swamped a number of up-country boats, and one hundred and twenty-five lives (natives) were lost.

"AKBARIE TUBABUT."—We (Friend of India) have received a prospectus of the Akbarie Tubabut or Medical Gazette, to be published in Oordoo, at the office of the Indian Lancet, Peshawur, if a sufficient number of subscribers be obtained. It is intended as "a medium of communication between native doctors in Government employ and native hakims, for the improvement of medical and surgical knowledge, and the greater alleviation of the many diseases to which the millions of inhabitants of this country are subject." It is to be published monthly. We fear native hakims are as obstinately attached to native methods and remedies as old wives at home to their traditional cures.

NEPAUL.—A private letter from Nepaul states that a number of rebel sepoys had congregated round the shrine of Pushputnath (one of the names of Siva), pretending that they were devotees and Brahmins. Maharajah Jung Bahadoor ordered them to be driven away, and a fight took place, in which some were killed. The Begum and her son, Brijes Kudr, Balarao, and others are constructing buildings to reside in. Most of their followers have left them in consequence of the panic caused by cholera.

ATTOCK.—Our (Englishman) readers may remember that an attempt to tunnel the Indus at Attock is being made, and that the work was commenced in March, or thereabouts, by a wing of the pioneer corps (24th Punjab infantry), under command of Captain Chalmers. It suffered some interruption during the Wuzzeeree campaign, but has been resumed since the return of the corps from the frontier. We now hear that the shaft on the Attock side has been carried down 118 feet, and that in seven or eight weeks the actual tunnelling will commence. Not a single accident, barring trifling skin wounds, had occurred, and there is great prospect of the undertaking being successful.

THE YOUNG RAJA OF AGORE has been sent from Mirzapore to Benares, for the purpose of being educated; an allowance of Rs. 600 a month has been made him, and for his tutor, Mr. Roberts, Rs. 250.

THE INDIAN POST-OFFICE.—The Bombay papers give us a glimpse of Post-office doings in Bombay. The departure of the last mail steamer, the Benares, was delayed owing to the non-receipt of the Governor-general's despatch. At last, after waiting eighteen long hours in vain, the steamer sailed. Half an hour after the missing despatch was discovered on the Postmaster's table. The most frantic firing of guns and displaying of signals proved unavailing to attract the attention of the steamer, as it went to sea. This seems to be no rare occurrence. This time last year despatches from the Secretary of State to Lord Canning were not forthcoming. The Calcutta Post office was turned topsy-turvy in vain. Terrible was the Viceroy's wrath.

After a few days the missing box was discovered under the Postmaster's table, where it had served as a footstool.

JUGURNATH.—The Supreme Government has replied to the State Secretary on the subject of the allowances paid to the priests of Jugurnath, that instructions have been given to calculate the annual value of the commuted allowance, and that the priests are to be offered land to the calculated value, or the amount is to be funded for them. If the priests make any difficulty, or refuse the arrangement, they are to be told that they shall get nothing else.

INCOME-TAX COMMISSIONERS.—The following appointments, under the Income-tax Act, have been determined on:—Mr. Allen, of the Revenue Board, to be special commissioner; Mr. Grote, president of the Income-tax commission; Mr. Wauchope, commissioner; Mr. Montresor, do.; Messrs. Cowie, Bullen, and Rajah Pertaubchund Sing, to be commissioners. Thus there will be three Government officers and three outsiders.

"AURUNGZEBE."—The Indian Lancet contains a notice by Dr. Frazer, of H.M.'s 88th, of the boil or ulcer peculiar to the districts of Delhi and Meerut, and called by the natives "Aurungzebe", after that Emperor who was a victim to it. In ten months one hundred and fourteen soldiers of H.M.'s 88th, besides officers, women and children, were afflicted with Delhi boils all over the body. In three months after their arrival in the city the sores made their appearance. They disfigure the appearance of the patient, and appear on the same spot, in many cases, four times, leaving behind the trace of a deep wound. Dr. Frazer agrees with the theory of the natives, which ascribes them to the water of the district being impregnated with salts. A similar disease appears in Sind and Mooltan, where the water is the same. It appears most after the rains, when the wells have been filled with water percolating through the saline soil.

RUSSIAN INFLUENCE seems to have obtained a footing in Thibet. Some Lamas are now in St. Petersburg in the character of physicians, but really as diplomatists.

DR. S. B. PARTRIDGE, who distinguished himself in the Lucknow Residency in 1857, has been appointed to officiate as Principal of the Calcutta Medical College. His predecessor, Dr. Eatwell, has gone home. Dr. S. G. Chuckerbutty, a native, is to act as Professor of Materia Medica.

MR. W. F. FERGUSON has been appointed Secretary to the Indigo Planters' Association.

LAWRENCE MEMORIAL ASYLUM.—According to the North West Gazette the Lawrence Memorial Asylum at Murree is to be open for the reception of children in October next. The sum of Rs. 67,000 has been funded in five per cent. paper, and the interest will be at the disposal of the Punjab committee for the new asylum. A superintendent and an assistant, selected by Sir John Lawrence, are now on their way out from England. We have thus Lawrence Asylums for soldiers' children at Sonawur for Bengal, the Neilgherries for Madras, Mount Abo for Bombay, and Murree for the Punjab.

SHIPPING.

ARRIVALS.

Aug. 6. Shah Allam, Tallobert, Mauritius; Morning Star, Forman, Mauritius.—11. Str. Columbian, King, Gale and Madras.—12. Str. Pericles, Fergusson, Bombay; str. Governor Higginson, McMillan, Madras.—13. Majestic, Millar, Glasgow; Sherazee, Littlepage, Port Blair; City of Benares, McMillan, Glasgow; Deva, Hall, Port Blair.—14. Granite State, Weeks, Liverpool; Wm. J. Morris, Jackson, Liverpool.—15. Hydra, Brown, Mauritius; Clara, Snow, London; Crescent City, Murray, Bombay.—16. Patel Carim, Dameron, Mauritius.—18. Paragon, Gibson, Coringa.—20. Oairis, Rogers, Ceylon; National Eagle, Matthews, Liverpool; Eddystone, Grant, Liverpool; Inspector, Rohoman, Aden.—21. Philosopher, Ross, Liverpool; Agra, Major, London; Cinderella, Williams, London.—23. Fulwood, Bhooze, Liverpool.

PASSENGERS ARRIVED.

Per str. Columbian.—From SOUTHAMPTON.—Mrs. Peel, Mr. Cowie, Mr. and Mrs. Pratt, Mr. Gibb, Capt. and Mrs. Gully. From MARSEILLES.—Mr. McDonald, Mr. Spencer. From SUEZ.—Mr. and Mrs. Teit. From GALLI.—Mr. Coleman. From MADRAS.—Mr. Argenti, Capt. Bristow, Mrs. Swaney, Surg. Perceocke. Per Clava.—Mr. and Mrs. Weeks. Per Pericles.—Mrs. Lawson. Per Gov. Higginson.—Maj. Strange, Capt. Bruce, P. Orr Esq. Per Deva.—A. W. Campbell.

Per Granite State.—Mrs. Weeks and infant.
Per Philosopher.—Mrs. Wilson and four children.
Per Cinderella.—Mr. Williams.
Per National Eagle.—Mrs. and Miss Mathews.
Per Inspector.—Mr. Bell.
Per Agra.—Mr. and Mrs. Littlewood, Mr. Balzeaw, Mr. Jones.

DEPARTURES.

Aug. 5. Str. Baltic, Melville, Arracan, Rangoon, and Moulmein.—6. Tubal Cain, Wells, Port Blair.—9. Seringapatam, Binden, Melbourne; Augusta, Perraud, Bourbon; Negotiator, Hawkins, London; Vanguard, Connell, Liverpool.—10. Paul Auguste, Messemacker, Dunkirk; Supperjee, Herjee Patta, Colombo; Jane Leech, Downward, London and Cape; Charles Hill, Small, New York; Winterthur, Lenard, London; str. Nemesis, Weston, Suez; City of Lucknow, Brown, London.—12. Joshua, Fowler, Melbourne and Sydney; Pio IX., Lacy, Havre.—13. Rowena, Wilson, Mauritius; Cherokee, Allan, London; Ocean Queen, Hinkley, Boston.—14. Therese, Wallace, Philadelphia; Lord Clyde, Couper, London; Ocean Rover, Briard, Boston.—16. Peron, Guilband, Colombo; Koh-i-noor, Guthery, Mauritius; Empress, Lecraw, New Orleans.—23. P. and O. Co.'s str. Bengal, —, Suez.

PASSENGERS DEPARTED.

Per str. Bengal.—For MADRAS.—Capt. Bruce, Lieut. and Mrs. Morris, Col. and Mrs. Smith, Maj. Johnson, Lieut. Menzies, Rev. W. T. Humphrey, Mr. W. Clark. For GALLE.—Mrs. Knight, Mr. W. Johnson, Capt. Delane, Mr. and Mrs. Gray. For SUEZ.—Dr. Eatwell, Col. McLeod. For MARSEILLES.—Mr. M. A. Pillars, Mr. M. L. Ingram, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Campbell, Brig. Troup. For SOUTHAMPTON.—Col. Lennox, Mr. W. R. Traman, Capt. J. L. Savers, Mrs. Lindsay and infant, Dr. Webster, Maj. and Mrs. Ommamey, Mr. and Mrs. Roe and child, Mrs. Chuckerbutty and family, Mrs. Loveday and children, Lieut. Litchfield, Mrs. E. Jones and family.

COMMERCIAL.

Calcutta, August 22, 1860.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.

	Sell.	Buy.
Public Works, 5 per cent.....	3 0 to 3 4
New Company's Rupee 4 do.....	18 0
Do. 5 do.....	3 4
3rd Sica Rupee 4 do.....	20 0
Transfer 4 do.....	Nominal.
New 5½ do.....	2 8 to 2 12

BANK OF BENGAL.

Discount on Govt. Acceptances (3 months).....	3 per ct.
Do. on Private Bills and Notes (do).....	6 per ct.
Interest on Deposit of Co.'s Paper.....	4½ per ct.
Do. on open Cash Credit Accounts.....	5 per ct.
On deposit of Goods, &c.....	6 per ct.

EXCHANGES.

Agency Bills, at 6 months'sight.....	2 0½
Do. with documents, do.....	2 0½ to 2 1
American Bills under credit, do.....
Treasury Bills, 30 days'sight.....	Nominal.
Navy Bills, 3 days'sight.....	"
Bank of England Post Bills, at sight.....	"

RATES OF ADVANCE.

4 per cent. Stock Receipts.....	Sa. Rs. 100 Co.'s Rs. 78
4 ditto Government Paper.....	Sa. Rs. 100 " 78
4 ditto ditto.....	Co.'s Rs. 100 " 78
5 ditto ditto.....	" 100 " 91
5½ ditto ditto.....	" 100 " 98
New Treasury Bills.....	" 100 " 98

On goods 3-4ths of approved valuation.

JOINT STOCK SHARES.

	Paid up.	Present value.
	At Co.'s Rupees.
Bank of Bengal.....	4000 each 5900 to 5950
Agra Bank (Limited).....	500 " 700 Not avail.
Delhi Bank.....	500 " 480
India General Steam.....	1000 " 1490 to 1500
Ganges Company.....	500 " 575 to 590
Bengal Coal Company (Limited).....	1000 " 1725 to 1750
Calcutta Steam Tug Association (Limited).....	600 " 575 to 600
East-India Coal Company (Limited).....	70 " 73 to 75
Bonded Warehouse Association.....	445 " 550 to 575
Calcutta Docking Company.....	700 " 900 to 905
Oriental Gas Company (Limited).....	10 " par.
Assam Company.....	200 " 390 to 400
East-India Railway Company.....	£20 " 3 rs. dis.
East-India Copper Co. (Limited).....	1000 " no sales.
Calcutta Auction Co. (Limited).....	75 " 70 to 75

PRICES OF BULLION.

Sovereigns.....	each, Rs. 10	5 to 10 6
Double gold.....	" 32	8 to 32 10
Madras Gold Mohurs.....	" 15	2 to 15 0
Old Gold Mohurs.....	" 21	14 to 22 0
New Gold Mohurs.....	" 15	2 to 15 3
China Gold Bars.....	per sicca wt., Rs. 16	0 to 16 2
Gold Dust (Australian).....	" 15	0 to 16 0
Sycee Silver, none, Co.'s Rs. 100.....	" 106	0 to 106 4
Spanish Dollars.....	per 100 Rs. 232	0 to 232 8
Mexican do.....	" 224	8 to 225 0

FREIGHTS.

To London, £2. 5s. to £3. 10s.
To Liverpool, Nominal.

Exports (Calcutta, Aug. 22).—Arrivals of produce from the districts are not so heavy as they generally are at this time of the year, and holders are consequently continuing firm in their demand. The discouraging advices from home show no inducement to operate for shipment. A very moderate business is still doing in almost all staples. Rice and Corn continue to be held at extreme prices, and scarcely any business is doing in them. Sugar is almost neglected for Great Britain. Purchases are altogether confined to shipment for Bombay. Saltpetre is being purchased with caution, consequent on unfavourable advices from home. Rice is without fresh contracts for Australia, but a limited business is doing for Great Britain. Ballum and Moonghy only continue to be engaged for Mauritius, Bourbon, and West Indies. Oilseeds.—Linsced continues in fair inquiry, but arrivals are not in excess of requirements, and prices continue firm. Rapeseed is also in fair request, and maintains former value. Jute continues to engage fair inquiry for Great Britain; but stocks being very light, former prices are maintained. Hides have fallen in price, caused by the late panic in trade at home; but business since last week has been resumed, without, however, any indication of rise in price.

Imports (Calcutta, Aug. 22).—The news from the Upper Provinces received last week state that Grey Heavy Shirtings have slightly improved in price. The buyers at Calcutta have received instructions to purchase, but they have not as yet commenced operations, expecting that importers will submit to lower prices, the late inclination shown by some holders to force sales having caused this impression. The market during the fortnight has been as dull as the last, without any desire by dealers to purchase, although several buyers have been going about daily since last week merely with the object of ascertaining the disposition of the holders. In Mule Trist the market continues inactive, with a still downward tendency in price; stocks in first and second hands have accumulated. The Metal market is still inactive.

MADRAS.

THE MYSORE.—The ceremony of the presentation of the khuretas, or letters from the Viceroy and Governor-general to the Rajah of Mysore, took place at Mysore on the 20th July. At noon on that day, the cortège moved from Dr. Campbell's residence, under a royal salute. First came a regiment of Mysore Infantry, next followed his Highness' body guard, then a host of native spearmen in the variegated costume of the Mysore army of 100 years ago, next a troop of dancing girls, and then, immediately preceding the state elephant, came the wing of the 6th Regiment, with its magnificent band. On the elephant, in a superb silver howdah, sat Colonel McQueen and Captain Pearse, with the khuretas, followed by a squadron of Mysore horse. Behind them came the state carriage of his Highness with all the European community of Mysore, and all the officers of the Mysore commission and the surrounding stations, who were present to do honour to the occasion. Four squadrons of Mysore horse brought up the rear. The Rajah received Colonel McQueen and the European gentlemen very graciously. The khuretas in Persian were read by an old Mahomedan moonshee, aged ninety-four, who was once in the service of Tipoo Sultan. After this the Rajah addressed Colonel McQueen, and expressed his pleasure and gratification in being honoured with the khuretas, and attributed his present proud position to the able administration of Cubbon Sahab. The old man was visibly affected when he concluded his speech. A large tray full of rupees was then brought and scattered to the crowd below. In the evening there was a magnificent dinner for forty persons, comprising the whole European community of Mysore. The evening's entertainment was concluded by a grand pyrotechnic display, and by an exhibition of horsemanship by Mr. Hillier and his company.—Hurkaru.

PIO NONO.—The Madras collection for the Pope amounts to Rs. 1,252. That in Calcutta is about Rs. 7,000, in Allahabad Rs. 1,015.

THE 1ST FUSILIERS.—In acknowledging the receipt of the Madras testimonials to the 1st Fusiliers, Colonel T. J. Fisher said, very happily—"The magnificent silver centre piece for the officers, and the handsome silver tankard for the sergeants, will be religiously guarded, and handed down as heir looms in this regiment, and, whatever may be its future designation, these testimonials will remind us that we were the 1st Madras Fusiliers—a designation endeared to us by the recollection of the flattering address, splendid banquet, pecuniary assistance and rewards, and noble testimonials that have marked the appreciation of our services by the inhabitants of our own Presidency of Madras."

SIR GEORGE WHITLOCK has been appointed to the divisional staff, with effect from the date on which Major-general Tulloch may vacate his command by promotion to Lieut.-general.

THE RAJAH OF TRAVANCORE has directed the establishment of a series of lights along the inland water communication of the country to guide the vessels which navigate the rivers and canals. The work is to take place in commemoration of the services of General John Munro, who died a year or two ago. He was both resident and dewan in Travancore from 1810 to 1819. The lights are to be called by his name.

CALICUT, July 10.—Captain S. J. Batten, in command of a company of the 18th regiment Native Infantry at Calicut, having been appointed Assistant Executive Engineer in the Public Works department, Captain R. R. Rickets, of the same corps, has been ordered to proceed to Calicut and assume command of the detachment at that station. The company of Golundaz at Cannanore expects to be ordered to St. Thomas's Mount immediately after the rains, a company of European Artillery from Trichinopoly taking their place here. As there are no barracks for them here, a bungalow or two are to be rented for their accommodation.

SHIPPING.

ARRIVALS.

Aug. 15. Lady Franklin, Millard, Mauritius.—17. Seringapatam, Gimblett, London.—19. Storm Cloud, Campbell, Otago.—20. Christophe Colombo, Bally, Pondicherry.—21. Alnwick Castle, Taylor, London; Lady Alice, Smith, Pondicherry; str. Dalhousie, Hopkins, Negapatam; Glenalu, Harrison, Galle; Leumella, Peace, Grimsby.—22. Inez, Page, Boston; str. Malta, Brown, Suez.—24. Clive, Shaw, London.

PASSENGERS ARRIVED.

Per Lady Franklin.—Mrs. Millard and three children.
Per Seringapatam.—Mr. and Mrs. Collis, Mrs. Fussell and two children, Mrs. McKenzie and five children, Mr. Bunkall.
Per Storm Cloud.—Mrs. Campbell.
Per Alnwick.—Lieut. col. Bell, Lieut. and Mrs. Garrett, Lieut. and Mrs. Cole and child, Mrs. Lewell, Miss Rice, Miss Garrett, Lieut. Hadow, Lieut. Hazen, Mrs. Hazen and two children, Lieut. de Brett, Mr. Herre, Mrs. Skepwith, Mrs. Harrison, Lieut. and Mrs. Brooks and three children, Lieuts. Wilson, Fitzroy, Middlecoat, Nash, Mr. Hodnett, Mrs. Handerson, Mr. Boardman, Mr. Keane, Mrs. Sanderson, Miss Miller, Mrs. Harris and two daughters.
Per str. Dalhousie.—H. Phillips, Esq., Miss Phillips, Miss Cameron, W. Byard, Esq., and H. Talpat, Esq.
Per str. Malta, from SOUTHAMPTON.—Capt. Paxton, Lieut. and Mrs. D'Arcy, Mrs. Col. Marshall and two children, Messrs. Burgess, J. Wilson, T. Mason, C. Ryder, S. C. Turner, Burgess, C. Shaw, Allen. From MARSEILLES.—Mr. P. Dupont, Mr. and Mrs. Longley. From MELBOURNE.—Messrs. Henslow and Budley. From PENANG.—Lieut. Underwood.
Per P. and O. Co.'s str. Bengal, from CALCUTTA.—Capt. Bruce, Lieut. and Mrs. Morris, Col. and Mrs. Smith, Major Johnson, Lieut. Menzies, Rev. W. T. Humphry, Mr. W. Clark.

DEPARTURES.

Aug. 14. Wellington, Howlett, London via Northern Ports; Earl of Hardwicke, Noaks, London via Cape Town.—15. George Marshall, Davison, Calcutta.—16. Ameral Duparrie, Guion, Coringa; Melanie, Glazebrooke, Masulipatam.—17. Corriemulzie, Blacklock, London.—18. Str. Dalhousie, Hopkins, Negapatam; Hurkaru, Fleck, Calcutta; Theresia, Kennedy, London via Gopulpore; Icene, Lowe, Ganjam and Colombo; Flora, Deans, London via Cuddalore; Lady Franklin, Millard, Nicobar Island.—20. Nonpareil, Leonhard, Penang and Singapore.—21. Narwhal, Gillham, Northern Ports; Louisa, Smith, Singapore and Penang.—22. C. Columbus, Bally, Northern Ports; Abacchino, Hall, Calcutta.—23. Str. Malta, Down, Calcutta.—24. Lucknow, Asplet, Gopulpore; Glenalu, Harrison, Akyab.

PASSENGERS DEPARTED.

Per Earl of Hardwicke, for LONDON.—Mr. and Miss Bain and two children, Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Hitchcock, Mrs. Church and three children, Mr. Peachey's two children, Mr. and Mrs. Rogie and two children, Dr. Chinner and family, Capt. Jane, Capt. Rudd. For CAPE.—Major A. Wood.
Per Corriemulzie.—G. Vanden Hevel.
Per Narwhal, for MASULIPATAM.—Lieut. Cherry, Lieut. Carmichael, Sub-Conductor Callaghan.
Per Abacchino.—Mr. Young.
Per str. Malta.—Lieut. F. Robertson, Hon. Sir C. B. M. Jackson, Kt., Lieut. Brooks, Mr. Farnaro.
Per P. and O. Co.'s str. Bengal, to GALLE.—Lieut. H. C. E. Ward, Capt. F. W. Priestly, J. Kirkwick, Esq., J. F. Mair, Esq., and infant. To SUEZ.—Rev. C. Ballet. To MARSEILLES.—Asst. surg. J. Murray, M.D., Ens. R. P. Hake, Capt. J. J. Adamson, Lady Ward and three Misses Ward, S. Ward, Esq., Dr. D. T. Morton. To SOUTHAMPTON.—Capt. W. B. Jackson, H. R. Dawson, Esq., F. Orme, Esq., Lieut. T. Taylor, Major D. W. Tupper, Capt. R. O'Carry, Capt. and Mrs. W. Syme and infant, Major T. Benson, Mr. Grape and two children.

COMMERCIAL.

Madras, August 27, 1860.

BANK OF MADRAS.

Interest on Loans on deposit of Gov. Securities.....	5 per ct.
On Cash Credits on do. (subject to commission of ½ per cent. on the sum granted) on amount drawn.....	5 per ct.
Discount on Government Bills.....	4 per ct.
Do. on Private Bills, at or within 3 months.....	7 per ct.

EXCHANGES.

Document Bills, at 6 months'sight.....	2 0½
Credit, to 6 months'sight.....	2 0½
Agents' Bills on England, at 6 months.....	2 0½
" " " 3 do.....	1 11½
" " " 1 do.....	1 11½
" " " Sight.....	1 11½

H.M. Treasury Bills.....	none
Bank of England Post Bills	none
Mauritius Government Bills	nominal
Ceylon do.	"
Court of Directors' Bill on the Government of Bengal, 30 days' sight.....	None
Agents' Bills on Calcutta, 30 days	$\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. pm.
Do. on Bombay	$\frac{1}{2}$ dis.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.

5 $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. Loan.....	1859	8 $\frac{1}{2}$ to 4 pm.
5 per cent. ditto	1856-57	1 $\frac{1}{2}$ to 2 dis.
4 per cent.	1832-33
"	1835-36	15 $\frac{1}{2}$ to 16 $\frac{1}{2}$ dis
"	1842-43
"	1854-55
5 per cent. Transferable Book Debt	No transact.
Tanjore Bonds	$\frac{1}{2}$ per ct. dis.
Bank of Madras Shares	10 prem.

PRICE OF BULLION.

Sovereigns..... each Rs.10-9

RATES OF ADVANCE.

On Govt. 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. Promissory Notes.....	98 per ct.
Do. 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ do. do.	80 per ct.
Do. 5 do. do.	93 per ct.
Do. 4 per cent. Stock Receipts.....	80 per ct.
Do. 4 per cent. Promissory Notes Sicca.....	80 per ct.
Do. 4 per cent. do. Company's	80 per ct.
Do. 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ do. do.	— per ct.
On Tanjore do. do.	98 per ct.

FREIGHTS.

Quotations to London & Liverpool, £2. 2s. 6d. to £3.

BOMBAY.

THE GAEKOWAR proposes to establish a railway through his territories for the benefit of the pilgrims to Dwarka; he has already commenced to purchase sheep for sacrifice at the Dusera festival in October. Sometimes as many as 10,000 sheep are sacrificed on this occasion.

"BOMBAY MISCELLANY."—Messrs. Chesson and Woodhall, Bombay publishers, have issued a prospectus of an Indian weekly magazine, to be called the Bombay Miscellany. The writers are to be "the literati of India, professional and non-professional." Litterateurs, we suppose, are meant. In any circumstances such an undertaking will not succeed. Anglo-Indians will read nothing but first-class literature, unless the subjects be purely Indian, and first-class literature can be got only in England.

BELOOCH NAVVIES.—We notice that some 200 of the disbanded Beloochee regiment have applied to be engaged as labourers on the Scinde Railway. It would be well if three-fourths of our native army of 200,000 men were returned on the labour market in a similar way.

MR. GEORGE LANDSEER, a Bombay artist, is preparing for publication a work called "Western India," containing landscape drawings of Bombay, Elephanta, Karli, Matheran, Poona, Sattara, Mahableshwur, and the Falls of Gairseppa. Ferguson, in his splendid work, has already illustrated the architectural ruins of Bombay.

BANK OF BOMBAY.—The directors of the Bank of Bombay have declared a dividend for the past half-year at the rate of 11 per cent. per annum. The net profit was Rs. 272,516.

CHINA.

HONG KONG, August 10.—We have to announce to our readers by this opportunity, the departure of the whole of the British forces from their rendezvous at Talien for the Peiho, on the 26th July. The French force was to leave Cheefoo on the same date. Lord Elgin paid a visit to Cheefoo, accompanied by the General and Admiral, and returned to Talien about the 20th; and the embarkation of the troops commenced on the 24th. The British force is very complete in every respect; but the French are very defective in numbers, are short of artillery, and have no cavalry, and no sufficient means of transport. Altogether the Allied force will number about 200 vessels, inclusive of transports, and it is thought that this imposing force may cause the Chinese Government to come to terms at once. But Lord Elgin, we believe, has determined to take the forts before treating. The forces will rendezvous at the Shay-luy-tien islands, about fourteen miles from the Peiho. The landing will take place at Pehtang; and the first division, under General Mitchell, consisting of the 1st, 2nd, 31st, and 60th regiments, and a Punjab regiment, will land at first simultaneously with the French force, for the attack. We believe every effort will be made to prevent our forces wintering in the north; and that, after the forts are taken, the Chinese will not be pressed very hard for terms.

The rebels are said to be withdrawing themselves to Suchau. They are also said to have taken the city of Nan-tsin, in the centre of the silk districts. Communications have been received by some European missionaries from some of the leaders, who were formerly pupils under them, together with copies of their books, proclamations, and edicts. From those the rebels appear to be acquainted with the first principles of Christianity. The Imperial Government has proved itself utterly incapable of putting down the rebellion, and has therefore proved itself incapable of protecting the people, and a government which cannot protect its subjects should not exist. That the rebels are not worse (and this would be a poor recommendation) than the Imperialists is perfectly evident. The country people prefer the rebels to the Imperialists. The former in their progress only destroying those places where they meet with much opposition; and the latter looting, destroying, and killing indiscriminately.

Shanghai still remains in the same unsettled state. A serious misunderstanding has occurred between her Majesty's Consul and the Commissioners of Customs, which has given rise to a good deal of bad feeling, the consul, of course, being the popular man. The "model settlement" would seem to have as large a sprinkling of human nature as any other port in China.

From Chusan we learn the French there were making themselves very unpopular.

At Fuchau, the celebration of the 30th birthday of the Emperor passed off quietly. A thunder storm broke over the town on that day, when a flash of lightning set the Model Tower on fire, and it was soon reduced to ashes. The Model Tower was situated a few miles out from the city, and was one of the sights to be seen by foreigners. The fact of its being burnt down on the Emperor's birthday was regarded by the natives as rather ominous.

The people of the prefecture of Chaouchau, of which Swatow is the port, are becoming very inimical to foreigners, and have been issuing placards, the tenor of which is "kill, kill." The cause of their animosity is said to have arisen from H.M.'s Consul having sent word to the Taotai that he would shortly pay him a visit in a gunboat; and also the arrival of two heavily-armed junks to enforce the payment of duties by native trading boats, under the new Custom-house system.

From Manila we learn that the American vessel, the crew of which mutinied, was a transport, and had a large quantity of artillery and ammunition on board. H.M.I.N. steamer Zenobia left Hong Kong on the morning of the 6th, to see after her.

Matters at Canton remain quiet. The Governor and Tartar General paid a visit lately to the new French Commissioner, to congratulate him on his appointment. We regret to say sickness is very prevalent amongst the troops at Canton. The rebels are said to be in possession of some important passes, which prevents produce coming down.

In the colony nothing of note has occurred during the past fortnight.

Government has issued a notice that it will hold a Court of Enquiry, to enquire into the abuses said to be committed by certain public servants in times past; but we do not think it will come to any practical conclusion.

We are glad to say our imprisoned contemporary of the Friend of China was released from jail on the 4th inst., a subscription having been collected to pay his law costs.—Overland China Mail.

APPOINTMENT.—(Downing-street, Sept. 27.)—The Queen has been pleased to appoint Thomas Elliott, Esq., to be Registrar in the Colonial Secretary's Office in the Island of Mauritius.

Official Gazette.*BENGAL.*BY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL.

Foreign Dep., Fort William, Aug. 8.—Dr. F. Douglas to be civ. surg. of Lucknow from June 1.

The servs. of Lieut. G. S. Dysart, dep. Bheel agent and political asst., at Maunpore, and 2nd in com. of Maleva Bheel corps, are placed at disposal of C. in C. from date of his being relieved from present duties by the agent to the Gov. Gen. for Central India.

Military Dep., Fort William, Aug. 10.—No. 831.—The servs. of Lieut. J. P. Turton, 26th N.I., are placed at disposal of foreign dept.

Lieut. J. G. Bell, asst. commr., East Berar, returned to his duty on 8th ult.

The servs. of Maj. J. G. Halliday, 12th Madras N.I., 4th asst. to commr. of Mysore, are replaced at disp. of Govt. of Fort St. George.

Asst. surg. A. D. Campbell, in med. charge of Deolee irreg. force, assumed charge of his duties on 18th ult.

Lieut. J. J. Blair, adjt. 1st corps Mayne's horse, returned to his duty from leave on 18th ult.

Aug. 9.—Lieut. A. Soppitt, asst. dist. superint., is app. to act as dist. superint. of police in Oude, during leave of Lieut. Chamberlain, with effect from June 30 last.

Mr. W. Knighton to be an asst. commr. of 3rd class, in province of Oude.

THE COMMISSION OF THE PEACE.

Aug. 10.—A commission of the peace was issued from the Supreme Court of Bengal, on the 27th ult., directed to the undermentioned officers:—Capt. E. Thompson, dep. commr., Seetapore, Mr. W. Glynn, asst. commr. Hurdai, Capt. W. T. MacGregor, cantonment jt. mag., Seetapore, Mr. F. St. C. Williams, extra asst. commr., Seetapore, Mr. C. A. Elliott, asst. commr., city mag., Lucknow, Mr. E. Bickers, extra assistant commr., Lucknow, Mr. C. R. Crommelin, asst. commr., Roy Bareilly, Capt. F. E. A. Channier, asst. commr., offic. dep. commr., Durriabad, Capt. M. M. Proctor, cantonment jt. mag., Fyzabad, Mr. P. Walker, extra asst. commr., Pertabgurh, Capt. J. S. Ross, dep. commr., Gonda, Mr. H. G. Ross, asst. commr., Gonda, Capt. C. R. Shaw, offic. dep. commr., Fyzabad, Capt. B. Ford, cantonment jt. mag. at Rangoon, Lieut. H. S. Hill, asst. commr., 1st class, Tonasserim and Martaban provs., Maj. J. F. D'E. W. Hall, superint. of Serohi, Capt. J. W. W. Osborne, political agent of Rewah, Lieut. T. Acton, asst. political agent at Rewah.

Public Works Dep., Fort William, August 9.—Appointment.—Lieut. C. Fraser, of H.M.'s 86th foot, prob. asst. engr., Gwalior div., is app. permanently to public works dept., as an asst. engr. of the 2nd class.

Postings.—Mr. J. A. Windle, 2nd class asst. engr., is posted to Circular and Eastern canals.

Mr. E. V. Vernon, 2nd class asst. engr., is posted to Burdwan div.

Mr. T. J. Macnamara, 2nd class asst. engr., is posted to 2nd div. Grand Trunk road.

Mr. J. D. Derry, 2nd class asst. engr., is posted to Bhaugulpore div.

Aug. 10.—Transfer.—Capt. J. Eliot, 2nd cl. exc. engr., Barrackpore div., is transf. from Bengal to Punjab, for employ. in Upper Sirhind div., dur. abs. on m.c. of Capt. J. E. T. Nicolls. Capt. Eliot will retain his present charge until relieved.

Promotion.—In continuation of Notification No. 170, dated Aug. 7, H.E. the Gov. gen. in Council is pleased to make the foll. proms:—

To be exec. engr. of 2nd class, Capt. W. S. Trevor, of engrs., Ganges and Darjeeling road.

To be exec. engr. of 3rd class, Capt. A. F. Baird, 18th N.I., Dacca div.

Foreign Dept., Fort William, Aug. 11.—Mr. A. B. Young to be dep. secy. to the govt. of India in the foreign dept.

Fort William, Aug. 14.—Lieut. J. P. Turton, 26th N.I., to be adjt. of the Eripoorah irregular force.

Lieut. J. C. Wood, superint. of Dhar, ass. ch. of his duties on 28th ult.

Mr. H. S. Sparks offic. as dep. commr. of Mohundee district fr. June 1 to July 19, and Mr. W. C. Wood ass. ch. of the same district from July 20.

Lieut. W. W. Pemberton, offic. asst. commr., 2nd class, received ch. of Shony Gyeen Treasury from Moung Shoay Doh on July 11.

Lieut. W. P. Harrison, asst. commr., 1st class, made over ch. of Shony Gyeen Treasury to Moung Shoay Doh, asst. commr., 3rd class, on July 5, and rel. Lieut. H. C. Menzies of the ch. of the Mergui district on 21st idem.

Financial Dept., Aug. 9.—The Gov. gen. in Council is pleased to re-appoint Messrs. W. Waterfield and G. W. Moultrie to be auditors of the accounts of the administrator gen. of Bengal for the current official year 1860-61.

Public Works Dept., Aug. 14.—With reference to notification No. 103, dated June 1, Lieut. col. H. Yule, secy. to the govt. of India in public works dept., quitted Roorkee May 27, and rejoined at that place to resu. his journey to Calcutta on July 13.

Lieut. col. Yule rejoined hd. qrs. at Calcutta on 9th inst.

Leave of absence:—

H.E. the Gov. gen. in Council is pleased to grant Lieut. col. H. Yule, secy. to govt. of India in public works dept., leave, on m.c., for 4 mo., fr. 9th inst., to proc. to sea (the Straits, Ceylon, and Australia).

Cond. T. Reid, asst. engr., 2nd class, att. to Dharsa div. of public works, till June 30, to proc. to Neilgherry hills, on m.c.

Appointment:—Lieut. D. Gair, veteran estab., sub engr., 3rd class, 7th div. Grand Trunk Road, is app. a probationary asst. engr. in public works dept.

Mily. Dept., Fort William, Aug. 14.—No. 836.—Her Majesty has been pleased to app. the undermnt. gentleman to be an Asst. surg. in H.M.'s Indian mily. forces at presy. of Bengal. He is accordingly admitted into the serv.

Med. Dept.—Mr. T. G. Skardon, date of arr. at Fort William, Aug. 10.

No. 838.—The servs. of Asst. surg. A. Christison are placed at disp. of the home dept.

No. 839.—The undermnt. officer is perm. to proc. to Eur. on furl:—

Col. H. Troup, 6th Eur. regt., brigdr. comdg. Delhi brig., for 3 yrs., under old regs.

No. 840.—The servs. of Lieut. H. U. Smith, 46th N.I., are placed at disp. of foreign dept.

Foreign Dept., Fort William, Aug. 18.—The Gov. gen. in Council is pleased to recognise the app. of Mr. L. G. Watson to be acting vice consul for France at Kurrachee.

Aug. 20.—The Gov. gen. in Council is pleased to app. Lieut. R. T. Snow, 7th Madras N.I., to offic. as asst. to pol. agent at Rewah.

Maj. H. Forbes ass. com. of Bhopal levy on the 1st inst.

The following proms. are made in the Oudh comis. from 1st inst., consequent on the resg. of his app. by Capt. A. P. Orr:—

Capt. E. Thompson to be dep. comr., 2nd class.

Capt. J. S. Ross to be dep. comr., 3rd class.

Mr. C. A. Elliott to be asst. comr., 1st class.

Mr. H. J. Sparks to be asst. comr., 2nd class.

Public Works Dept., Fort William, Aug. 21.—Appointment.—Mr. J. C. Rebeiro is appl. a temp. asst. overseer in public works dept., and posted to Pegu.

Transfer and Posting.—Capt. A. F. Baird, exec. engr., 3rd class, is transf. from Dacca to Barrackpore div. of public works, v. Capt. J. Elliot.

Capt. E. A. Saunders, exec. engr., 4th class, is posted to Dacca div. of public works, v. Capt. A. F. Baird.

Military Dept., Fort William, Aug. 21.—No. 858.—Mr. H. B. Hanna, whose app. as a cadet of inf. on this estab. was announced in G. G. O. No. 544, of April 19, 1859, having satisfied govt. on the points of qualification prescribed by existing regs., is admitted into the service from Feb. 15, 1860, and prom. to rank of ens. from Jan. 4, 1860, and will stand immediately below Ens. C. O. W. Apperley. Vide List of Cadets No. 1 of 1860, and G. G. O. No. 271 of 1860.

No. 859.—With reference to G. G. O. No. 811 of 14th inst., the undermnt. proms. are made:—

Lieut. col. G. P. Whish, Bengal inf., to be col. from June 2, v. Gen. Sir D. Leighton, Bombay inf. dec.

Maj. C. V. Cox, Bengal art., to be lieut. col. from June 2, v. Gen. Sir D. Leighton, Bombay inf. dec.

Capt. A. K. Gore, Madras inf., to be maj. from June 2, v. Gen. Sir D. Leighton, Bombay inf. dec.

Lieut. col. M. E. Sherwill, Bengal inf., to be col. from June 4, v. Maj. gen. F. S. Hawkins, Bengal inf. dec.

Maj. G. Allan, Madras inf., to be lieut. col. from June 4, v. Maj. gen. F. S. Hawkins, Bengal inf. dec.

Capt. W. Dent, Madras inf. (dec.) to be maj. from June 4, v. Maj. gen. F. S. Hawkins, Bengal inf. dec.

Lieut. col. A. Cunningham, Bengal engrs., to be col. from June 16, v. Gen. S. Goodfellow, Bombay engrs. dec.

Maj. W. F. Nuthall, Bengal inf., to be lieut. col. from June 6, v. Gen. S. Goodfellow, Bombay engrs. dec.

Capt. E. H. S. Bowdich, Bombay inf., to be maj. from June 16, v. Gen. S. Goodfellow, Bombay engrs. dec.

No. 861.—The servs. of Maj. H. S. Grimes, 46th N.I., late offic. dep. paymr., Cawnpore div., are, at his own request, replaced at disp. of C. in C.

No. 865.—Capt. A. H. Ternan, 4th Eur. regt., dep. comr. of Jaloun, is to be considered to have been on leave on m.c. to Eur. for 15 mo., under new regs., with effect fr. 3rd May, 1859, the date of his depart. on the steamship Hindustan. Capt. Ternan has reported his return from England on June 25, the date of his arr. at Bombay.

No. 867.—Appointments:—2nd Punjab Cav.—

Lieut. F. Lance, adjt., to be 2nd in com., v. Lieut. Craigie, res. Lieut. R. B. P. Campbell to be adjt., v. Lieut. Lance.

No. 868.—The undermnt. officer is perm. to proc. to Eur. on leave, m.c.:—Lieut. E. F. Litchfield, 2nd N.I., for 18 mo., under new regs.

No. 869.—Appointments:—

Punjab Irreg. Force.—Art.—2nd Capt. T. E. Hughes, art., do. du. offic. comdt. of No. 3 Punjab batty., v. Capt. Mecham, dec., with effect fr. date on which he assumed com.

Lieut. A. Walker, art., is confirmed in his app. of do. du. officer of No. 3 Punjab batty., v. Capt. Hughes.

No. 870.—Lieut. D. Gair, vet. estab., sub eng., 7th div., Grand Trunk Road, is allowed an ext. of leave fr. April 22 to May 8, the date on which he reported his return to Bengal fr. m.c. to Eur.

No. 871.—The undermnt. officer is perm. to proc. to Eur. on leave, m.c.:—Capt. J. E. T. Nicolls, engrs., exec. eng., Upper Sirhind div., for 15 mo., under new regs.

Home Dept., Aug. 16.—The serv. of Asst. surg. A. Christison are placed at disp. of Right Rev. the Lord Bishop fr. Oct. 1.

Foreign Dept., Aug. 15.—Mr. J. K. Macrae is app. to offic. as an asst. comr. 2nd cl. in Tenasserim and Martaban Prov. fr. 26th ult.

Aug. 17.—The Gov. gen. in Council is pleased to confirm the brigade order issued on 25th ult. by Maj. H. O. Mayne, permitting Lieut. D. Sampson to res. his app. of subaltern in 1st corps, Mayne's horse, at his own request.

Asst. surg. A. D. Campbell, app. to Deolee irreg. force, assu. med. ch. of Harowtee polit. agency on 18th ult.

Public Works Dept., Aug. 16.—Appointments:—

Mr. A. P. Locke is app. a temp. asst. overseer in public works dept., and posted to Pegu, with effect fr. June 20.

Capt. H. T. Campbell, 13th Madras N.I., is app. an exec. eng. 3rd cl., and posted to Nagpoor.

Mil. Dept., Aug. 15.—No. 843.—Lieut. col. and brev. col. W. G. Lennox, 63rd N.I., is perm. to proc. to Eur., under old regs., for residue of furl.

Fort William, Aug. 17.—No. 844.—ERRATUM.—In G. G. O. No. 785, 24th ult., notifying the date of return from England of 2nd Capt. W. H. Parish, art., for "19" read "18" July, 1860.

No. 846.—The serv. of Lieut. N. M. T. Horsford, 27th N.I., do. du. with Agra levy, are placed at disp. of Govt. N.W.P.

No. 848.—The serv. of Asst. surg. A. Vans Best, m.d., are, at his own request, replaced at disp. of C. in C.

No. 849.—Her Majesty has been pleased to app. the undermnt. gentleman to be a cadet for the inf. in H.M.'s Indian mil. forces at the Pres. of Bengal. He is accordingly admitted into the serv., and prom. to the rank of ens., leaving the date of his commission to be adjusted hereafter:—

Infantry.—Mr. T. R. Cowie; date of arr. at Fort William, Aug. 12.

No. 851.—The undermentioned officers have reported their return from England:—

Lieut. W. Gully, of artillery, and Lieut. D. Macdonald, 25th N.I., date of arrival at Fort William, Aug. 12.

No. 852.—The following orders issued by the resident at Hyderabad are confirmed:—

No. 179, dated July 24.—Confirming the order by the officer commanding 5th inf., Hyderabad contingent, dated July 1, 1860, directing Lieut. Justice, officg. 2nd in command, 5th inf., Hyderabad contingent, to act as adjt. in addition to his own duties as 2nd in command, consequent on depart. of Lieut. Watson appointed to 3rd cav. Hyderabad contingent.

No. 185, dated July 28.—Permitting Lieut. Teed, 2nd in command, 3rd inf. Hyderabad contingent, to proceed to Bombay, prep. to leave to Europe, m.c., with effect from date of his departure from Hingolee.

No. 186, dated July 28.—Confirming the order by the officer comdg. 4th cav., Hyderabad contingent dated July 2, directing Lieut. Dowker, 2nd in command, 4th cav., Hyderabad contingent, to act as adjt. in addition to his own duties from that date, consequent on departure of Lieut. Stewart, adjt. 4th cav., on leave.

No. 853.—2nd Capt. A. H. Lindsay, regt. of arty., has extension of leave to May 28, the date on which he reported his return to Bengal from m.c. to Europe.

No. 854.—Appointment:—

Col. W. G. Brown, of H.M.'s 24th foot, to be a brig. of 1st class on estab., in succn. to Brig. H. Troup, proceeding to Eur.

BY THE LIEUT. GOVERNOR.

Aug. 8.—Mr. D. Cunliffe to offic. as collector of 24-pergunnahs.

Aug. 9.—Mr. E. T. Trevor to offic. as comr. of revenue and circuit of Cuttack div. and superint. of the Tributary Mehals.

Mr. H. L. Dampier to offic. as secy. to the Board of Revenue.

Hon. A. Eden to offic. as jun. secy. to the Board of Revenue.

Mr. J. S. Spankie to offic. as mag. collr. and salt agent of Cuttack, and ex-officio asst. to superint. of Tributary Mehals.

Mr. T. F. W. Smith to be asst. to superint. of survey, 3rd or eastern div., and to exercise full powers of a collr., in dists. of Dacca, Bulloah, Sylhet, Tipperah, Fureedpore, Backergunge, Mymensing Bograh, Pubnah, Rungpore and Rajshahye.

Capt. H. Raban to be commandant of 4th Bengal police batt.

Capt. W. Reveley to offic. as commandant of 6th Bengal police batt.

Mr. W. W. Swinden to be superint. of salt chowkies in Jessore.

Mr. J. S. Rochfort to be superint. of salt chowkies at Bulloah.

Mr. J. K. Williams to be superint. of salt chowkies in Bangundy.

Leave of absence:—

Aug. 7.—Mr. G. F. Cockburn, comr. of Cuttack, for 1 mo. on m.c., under new revised absentee rules, making over charge of his office to Mr. R. N. Shore, who will offic. as comr., in addition to his own duties, till the arrival of Mr. Trevor.

Aug. 8.—Mr. G. Bright, collr. of 24th pergunnahs, for 3 mos., under new rules.

Aug. 8.—It is hereby notified that Mr. W. M. Collins has been app. by the Govt. of Natal to be emigration agent at Calcutta for that colony.

Aug. 9.—Appointment.—Mr. S. H. C. Tayler to be regt. of deeds and a marriage regt. in Rajshahye.

Mr. H. Michel, sub-asst. to the comr. of assam at Luckimpore, is vested with powers of a prin. asst. comr.

Mr. W. Cruise to be a sub-asst. comr. in Sonthal pergunnahs.

Aug. 10.—Mr. J. F. K. Hewett to be sec. to local committee of public instruction at Bancoorah.

Aug. 13.—Mr. A. Money to offic. as sec. to the govt. of Bengal, retaining charge of his present duties as controller of salt chowkies.

Leave of absence:—Mr. C. P. Brownfield, sub-asst. revenue surveyor, 3rd class, 1st or northern div., 15 days, in ext.

The servs. of Asst. surg. A. Vans Best are placed, at his own request, at disposal of the govt. of India in the mil. dept.

Aug. 17.—Appointments.—Mr. V. H. Schalch to offic. as comr. of rev. and circuit of the Chittagong div.

Mr. F. A. Lushington to offic. as civ. and sess. judge of Tirhoot.

Mr. H. S. C. Tayler to offic. as mag. and coll. of Rajshahye.

Mr. C. T. Metcalf to offic. as jt. mag. and dep. coll. of Rajshahye.

Mr. S. N. Shirecore to offic. as civ. asst. surg. of Rajshahye.

Aug. 18.—Mr. J. Baptist, moonsiff of Meherpore in Nuddea, is vested with powers of a dep. coll. within the sub-div. of Kurrempore, in district of Nuddea.

Aug. 21.—Mr. W. Le F. Robinson to offic. as mag. and coll. of Purneah.

Mr. H. A. Cockerell to offic. as mag. and coll. of Moorsheadabad.

Mr. C. J. Mackenzie to offic. as mag. and coll. of Baraset.

Mr. C. B. Garrett to offic. as jt. mag. and dep. coll. of Midnapore.

Mr. H. Nelson to offic. as civ. and sess. judge of Sarun.

Mr. R. J. Richardson to offic. as additional judge of Tirhoot and Sarun.

Mr. H. Rose to offic. as mag. and coll. of Sarun.

Mr. T. P. Larkins to offic. as mag. and coll. of Bograh.

Mr. H. Beveridge to offic. as joint mag. and dep. coll. of Mymensing.

Mr. S. Nation, dep. mag. and dep. coll., to ch. of sub div. of Kishoregunge, and to exercise special powers of an asst. to a mag. in Mymensing.

Mr. R. C. Raikes to be coll. of Backergunge.

Mr. C. F. Harvey to be mag. of Backergunge.

Mr. H. Muspratt to be joint mag. and dep. coll. of Dacca.

Leaves of absence:—

Aug. 17.—Mr. R. Alexander, mag. and coll. of Purneah, for 4 weeks, under the financial resolution of Oct. 14, 1857, prep. to proc. on furl.

Aug. 21.—Mr. G. D. Wilkins, judge of Sarun, for 4 weeks, under the financial resolution of Oct. 14, 1857, prep. to proc. to Eur., on m.c.

Aug. 16.—Appointments.—Mr. S. B. Partridge to offic. as principal of med. coll.

Dr. S. C. G. Chuckerbutty to offic. as prof. of materia medica and clinical medicine in med. coll.

Lieut. W. Phaire to be a member of the local com. of public instruction at Gowhatty.

Public Works Dept., Bengal, Aug. 16.—Appointment.—1st class sub-engr. asst. conv. J. Brooke, having rep. his ret. on 30th ult. from leave, has been posted to Patna div.

BY THE LIEUT. GOVERNOR, N.W.P.

Judicial Dept., Camp Nymee Tal, July 16.—No. 1,854a.—Leave for 2 mos. is granted to Mr. F. R. Hogg, asst. to mag. and coll. of Seharunpoor, from the date on which he may avail himself of the same.

July 18.—No. 1,872a.—Lieut. H. F. Newmarch, asst. commr. of Saugor, is invested with full powers of a joint mag. and dep. coll.

No. 1,879a.—The following gentlemen are appd. members of the Mussoorie municipal committee for the year 1860-61:—

General Hoggan, C.B., Maj. Rind, Rev. R. N. Maddock, M.A., Maj. W. M. Tritton, Messrs. H. G. Scott and J. Mackinnon.

July 20.—No. 1,900a.—The servs. of Lieut. P. W. Bannerman, asst. superint. of Neemuch, are placed at disposal of the govt. of India in foreign dept.

July 21.—No. 1,932a.—Mr. W. Duthoit, asst. to mag. and coll. of Allypurb, is vested with full powers of a joint mag. and dep. coll., with effect from 14th current.

No. 1,934a.—Mr. A. J. Lawrence, asst. to mag. and coll. of Meerut, is vested with full powers of a joint mag. and dep. coll., with effect from 14th current.

Revenue Dept., Camp Nymee Tal, July 18.—No. 1,875a.—The servs. of Mr. G. B. Macnochie, dep. coll. of Etawah, are placed at disposal of the govt. of India.

July 20.—No. 857a.—Mr. F. B. Tracey, asst. to mag. and coll. of Cawnpore, is vested with powers of a dep. coll., for the adjudication of cases.

Judicial Dept., Camp Nymee Tal, July 24.—No. 1,951a.—Notifications.—Asst. surg. C. T. Paskie, civil asst. surg. of Jounpore, is transf. in the same capacity to Saharunpoor, v. Asst. surg. Hutchinson.

July 27.—No. 1,973a.—Capt. R. H. Price, 31st N.I. is appd. to offic. as cantonment joint mag. of Shah-jehanpore, from May 21, the date on which he assn. charge of the office, until arr. of Capt. G. F. Carnegie.

Gen. Dept., Camp Nymee Tal, July 26.—No. 816a.—Maj. B. P. Lloyd, dep. commr. of Ajmere, is appd. to be a member of local committee of public instruction at that station.

Judicial Dept., Camp Nymee Tal, July 30.—Capt. A. S. Allen, offic. canton. jt. mag. of Cawnpore, is confirmed in that app., v. Capt. R. R. Harris, dec.

Lieut. S. Carey, 87th N.I., is app. to be an asst. commr. in Jhansi div., with effect fr. date on which he began to do duty.

Capt. G. F. Carnegie, offic. canton. jt. mag. of Shah-jehanpore, is app. cant. jt. mag. of Futtehlghur.

July 31.—The Hon. R. A. J. Drummond, offic. civ. and sess. judge of Saugor and Nerbudda territories, is invested with powers of a special commr. within those territories.

Priv. leave for 2 mos., on m.c., is granted to Mr. A. O. Hume, mag. and coll. of Etawah, fr. Sept. 1, or from any subsequent date on which he may avail himself of the same.

Aug. 3.—Two mos. priv. leave is granted to Capt. Dennys, superint. of Neemuch, fr. 1st ult.

Aug. 1.—Priv. leave for 3 mos. is granted to Mr. G. G. Billings, dep. coll. and dep. mag. of Allypurb, fr. date on which he may avail himself of the same.

BY THE LIEUT. GOVERNOR, PUNJAB.

Civil Dept., Gen. Dept., Aug. 1.—No. 1,980.—Leave.—Dr. A. P. Tomkyns, civil surg. of Delhi, has 2 mos. priv. leave, from date he availed himself of the same.

Public Works Dept., July 31.—No. 1,441.—Capt. T. W. Martin, probationary asst. engr., Lahore and Peshawur road, has 1 mo.'s priv. leave, from such date as he may avail himself of the same.

No. 1,442.—Capt. H. E. Quin, probationary asst. engr., Lahore and Peshawur road, has 1 mo.'s priv. leave, from such date as he may avail himself of the same.

Gen. Dept., July 30.—No. 1,960.—Mr. J. W. Smyth, asst. commr. is appd., temp., to be personal asst. to the commr. of Lahore.

No. 1,959.—Mr. T. D. Forsyth, offic. commr. of Lahore, will act also as commr. of Mooltan, dur. abs. of Col. Hamilton.

No. 1,923a.—Leave of abs. for 45 days is granted to Mr. S. J. Naher, dep. coll. of Nimar, from the date which he may avail himself of the same.

Military Dept., Lahore, Aug. 1.—No. 320.—The Dera Ghazee Khan station order, dated July 6, by Capt. J. C. Godby comdg., directing Lieut. F. Hammond, 4th Punjab cav., to offic. as station staff officer, dur. abs. of Lieut. A. R. Chapman, is confirmed.

No. 321.—Leave of absence:—

The 60 days' priv. leave granted to Lieut. F. Lance, offic. 2nd in com. 2nd Punjab cav., in Punjab order No. 282, dated July 4, is to have effect from 11th idem, instead of the date therein specified.

No. 323.—The regimental order, dated Abbottabad, June 11, by Lieut. G. A. Williams, comdg. 4th regt. Sikh inf., appg. Lieut. and Adj. G. B. Stainforth, to offic. as 2nd in com.; and Lieut. A. M. Ommanney, offic. do. du. officer, to offic. as adj., v. Lieut. and offic. 2nd in com. R. J. L. Crutchley, H.M.'s 24th regt., directed to join at the Mauritius, is confirmed.

Aug. 3.—No. 326.—Leave of absence:—

3rd Sikh Inf.—Lieut. F. T. Bambridge, offic. a lj, from Aug. 4 to Oct. 1 next, in ext. of 60 days' priv.

leave, to remain at Calcutta, to undergo an examination in the native languages.

Aug. 4.—No. 827.—The servs. of Capt. H. Hayley, 69th N.I., and Capt. of Police, Dera Ismael Khan (on furl.), are placed at disposal of C. in C.

Gen. Dept., July 25.—No. 1,918.—Mr. P. S. Melville, offic. commr., Trans-Sutlej div., to be commr. of Hissar div., fr. date of expiry of Maj. R. C. Browne's 15 mo. leave to Eur.

No. 1,919.—Transfers:—
Mr. E. L. Brandreth, commr. of Hissar div., is transf. to Delhi div., but will continue to retain ch. of the Delhi div.

No. 1,920.—Lieut. col. R. G. Taylor, commr. of Lahore, is permanently transf. to the Leia div.

Aug. 1.—No. 1,979.—Mr. J. G. Cordery, asst. commr., Umritsur, is transf. to Attock.

Aug. 4.—No. 2,012.—Appointments:—
Mr. Naesmyth, dep. commr. of Goordaspore, is app. to offic. as commr. of the Hissar div.

No. 2,013.—Capt. J. Fendall, asst. commr., Hooshiarpore, is app. to offic. as dep. commr. of the Goordaspore dist.

No. 2,014.—Mr. W. B. Jones, asst. commr., is re-app. to offic. as personal asst. to the financial commr. fr. July 15.

Public Works Dept., Aug. 4.—No. 1,475.—Leave:—
Capt. A. K. Mollat, exec. eng., Lower Sirhind div., has leave on m.c. fr. July 19 to Oct. 31, in ext.

Gen. Dept., Aug. 4.—No. 2,015.—ERRATA.—In the Punjab Gazette of July 21, appg. Lieut. A. A. Munro, asst. commr., to offic. as dep. commr. of Dehra Ismael Khan, for Lieut. read Capt. A. A. Munro. In the Punjab order published in the Gazette of Aug. 1, transg. Mr. E. L. Brandreth fr. Hissar to Delhi div., and intimating that he will continue to retain ch. of the Delhi div., for Delhi read Hissar.

Civil Dept., July 26.—No. 1,927.—Leave.—Capt. A. Le Gallais, cantonment jt. mag., Sealkote, has 2 mo. priv. leave, with effect from 2nd prox.

July 27.—No. 1,952.—Posting.—Mr. J. W. Smyth, asst. commr., offic. personal asst. to financ. commr., Punjab, is posted to Lahore dist., as a temp. arrangt.

July 26.—No. 1,930.—Appointment.—Lieut. G. P. Gurdon, 33rd N.I., is appd. an asst. commr., and posted to Sealkote dist.

July 26.—No. 1,926.—Capt. M. B. Which received ch. of the cantonment jt. mag.'s office at Peshawur, as offic. cantonment jt. mag., from Capt. Wace, 33rd N.I., on 11th inst.

Mily. Dept., Lahore, July 27.—No. 312.—The following order, by Maj. L. B. Jones, comdg. Dera Ismael Khan frontier and dist., is conf.:—

Camp Tik, July 2.—Directing Asst. surg. T. Sheehy, in med. ch., 6th Punjab inf., on duty on frontier, to assume med. ch. of the wing "Cureton's Mooltanee regt. of cav.," serving in the Goomul valley, in add. to his other dus.

BY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF.

Adj. Gen.'s Office, Simla, July 23.—With reference to G. G. O., No. 761, of 17th inst., Brigdr. T. Chute is posted to com. of Allahabad, and Brigdr. J. Welchman to that of the Dinapore brig.

The servs. of Rev. J. Dawson, of the Church of Scotland, having been placed at disposal of C. in C. for employ. in China, he is directed to proc. and report himself to the officer comdg. the expeditionary force there.

Appointments:—
2nd Regt. Hodson's Horse.—Lieut. the Hon. J. H. Fraser to continue to act as 2nd in com., vacating his substantive appt. as adjt.

Lieut. B. C. W. Mitford, 3rd Bengal Eur. inf., offic. adjt. of Cureton's Mooltanee regt. of cav., to be adjt. 2nd Regt. of Gwalior Inf.—Lieut. W. Sheffield, unatt., to be 2nd in com.

Lieut. A. P. Palmer, acting adjt. of 2nd regt. Hodson's horse, is directed to rejoin his own corps, the 5th Bengal Eur. inf.

Ens. R. E. K. Money, late 13th N.I., do. du. with H.M.'s 6th foot, is app. to do du. with Kemaoon batt., and directed to join.

July 24.—The foll. officers passed prescribed colloq. exam. on dates specified:—

Lieut. G. S. Hills, late 38th N.I.; T. Dawes, late 72nd N.I.; Cornet G. D'A. Jackson, gen. list.; and Asst. surg. W. Moir, med. dept.; July 17.

Ens. J. R. M. Homfray, gen. list., passed prescribed colloq. exam. on 16th inst.

July 25.—Lieut. M. Macleod, 42nd highlanders, is app. to do du. with 12th irreg. cav., as a temp. measure.

Orders confirmed:—
By Capt. V. Tonnochy, com. 13th regt. Punjab inf., dated 11th inst., directing Lieut. T. H. Scott, offic. 2nd in com., to act as adjt., in add. to his other duties, v. Ens. J. W. A. Michell, proc. on leave.

Goordackpore station order, dated 13th inst., appg. Lieut. P. E. V. Gilbert, 13th L.I., to act as station staff officer fr. 1st idem, v. Capt. M. Browne.

Leave of absence:—
Brigade Staff.—Brigdr. H. Troup, comdg. at Delhi from Aug. 1 to Sept. 15, to Calcutta, on m.c., prep. to Europe.

General List.—Lieut. C. E. Bentball, do. du. with 4th Eur. L.C., fr. July 16 to Aug. 16, to proc. to Calcutta, on m.c., prep. to furl. to Europe.

Medical Dept.—Surg. J. D. Crawford, fr. July 28 to Nov. 28, to Dhurmsalla and hills, on m.c., under new rules.

Presidency division orders, dated 12th inst., directing medical arrangements:—

Placing the servs. of Asst. surg. D. O'Brien at disp. of dep. insp. gen. of hospitals, Allahabad.

Cawnpore brigade order, dated 13th inst., appg. Asst. surg. W. Moir, in med. ch. of 2nd comp. 3rd batt. art., to charge of station staff, with effect from 14th idem, v. Asst. surg. W. H. Adley.

PROTECTION OF SUDDER BAZARS.

July 28.—The practice of furnishing a native guard for the protection of Sudder Bazaars is to be renewed at all stations where superintendents of Bazaars have been appointed.

CONSERVANCY ESTABLISHMENTS AT ALLAHABAD.

With the sanction of Government, the officer commanding the wing of H.M.'s 48th foot at Allahabad is authorised to entertain, as a temporary arrangement, a conservancy establishment on the scale allowed for six companies; the wing being equal to that number in strength, though there are only four companies present.

Orders confirmed:—
By Brev. col. G. Burney, comdg. 65th N.I., dated 8th inst., appg. Lieut. R. H. de Montmorency to act as adjt., v. Brev. capt. W. Reveley.

Dinapore station ord., dated 11th inst., directing Asst. surg. F. W. A. DeFabeck to proc. without delay to Purneah, for the purpose of relieving the civil asst. surg., reported sick.

Appg. Asst. surg. W. R. Hooper to the med. ch. of 4th comp. 5th batt. art., in add. to his other duties, dur. abs. of Asst. surg. DeFabeck.

Mooltan station ord., dated 15th ult., appg. Lieut. C. MacFarlane, of 1st Eur. Bengal fus., to offic. as cantonment jt. mag., in add. to his other duties.

Cherra Poonjee station ord., dated April 16, appg. Lieut. D. S. Buist, Sylhet L.I. batt., to act as station staff, in add. to his other duties.

Meerut div. ord., dated 30th ult., appg. Lieut. col. G. P. Whish, brig. maj., to offic. as dep. asst. adjt. gen. of the div., in add. to his other dur. abs., on m.c., of Capt. G. R. Simeon.

Leave of absence:—
Late 67th N.I.—Maj. R. N. Raikes, fr. July 20 to Oct. 31, to hills north of Deyrah.

Adj. Gen.'s Office, Simla, Aug. 4.—Capt. W. Graydon, late 16th N.I., is directed to join and do gen. du. at Meeran Meer.

Capt. T. W. Seager, late 27th N.I., is directed to do gen. du. at Dinapore, on expiration of his leave.

Lieut. A. G. Remington, late 12th N.I., is directed to do gen. du. at Benares, instead of joining the 20th Punjab inf., as ord. in G.O. of 18th ult.

Dated 20th ult.—Asst. surg. R. W. Cunningham, recently arrived from Europe, to do du. in Pres. General Hospital.

Dated 21st idem.—Placing the serv. of Asst. surgs. L. Emanuel and R. W. Cunningham respectively at disposal of the dep. inspectors gen. of hospitals, Allahabad and Lucknow.

Leave of absence:—
63rd Regt. N.I.—Brev. col. W. G. Lennox, from July 24 to Sept. 24, to pres., prep. to furl. to Europe.

Aug. 6.—Maj. P. Harris, 70th N.I., is app. to com. of 1st Eur. Bengal Fus., and directed to join.

The C. in C. is pleased to make the following apps.:—

Alexander's Horse.—Lieut. H. Chapman, adj. of the Kamroop regt., to be second in com., v. Lieut. B. C. Urquhart, whose serv. have been placed at disposal of Punjab Government.

Kamroop Regt.—Capt. E. H. C. Wintle, late 61st N.I., to be second in com.

Ens. A. Scott, general list, do. du. with 6th, is perm. to join and do du. with H.M.'s 19th foot, stationed at Benares.

The following orders are confirmed:—
By Maj. H. C. Anderson, comdg. Cawnpore levy, dated 1st ult., assuming charge of adjt.'s office, v. Capt. F. K. Bacon.

Scepre station orders, dated 12th and 17th ult., the former directing Asst. surg. T. P. Wright, 23rd Punjab inf., to afford med. aid to company of H.M.'s 89th regt., head qrs. 1st Mahratta horse, wing of 2nd Mahratta horse, and sick of the 2nd Gwalior inf., left behind, in room of Asst. surg. F. H. O'Donel.

Capt. H. N. Hodgson, 23rd Punjab inf., to act as station staff, from 12th idem, in room of Lieut. E. D. H. Vibart.

Nagode station order, dated 15th ult., directing Asst. surg. J. C. Bow, Alexander's horse, to afford med. aid to detach. Allypurb levy, in add. to his other duties.

Presy. div. order, dated 17th ult., directing Lieut. L. E. Evans, late 15th N.I., returned from England, from duty with discharged men, to do duty with East Indian regt.; and Asst. surg. L. Emanuel to do duty in gen. hospital.

By Brev. col. J. M. B. Fraser-Tytler, commdg. 9th irreg. cav., dated 18th ult., assuming charge of adjt.'s office, in room of Lieut. J. F. N. Mackenzie, placed at disposal of Punjab Govt.

Oude div. order, dated 23rd ult., directing Asst. surg. D. O'Brien, arrived at Allahabad from the presy., to proceed to Cawnpore, and do duty with 1st Eur. lt. cav.

Meerut div. order, dated 23rd ult., directing Asst. surg. A. P. Holmes to afford med. aid to 13th Punjab inf., in addn. to his other duties, and as a temp. arrangement, from the 21st idem.

Leave of absence:—

Late 12th N.I.—Lieut. A. G. Remington (late commdt. Banda police batt.) for 3 mos., from 1st July, to Calcutta, m.c.

MADRAS.

BY THE GOVERNOR IN COUNCIL.

Fort St. George, Aug. 14.—Appointment:—Rev. W. W. G. Cooper to offic. as chaplain at Vepery during abs. of Rev. J. T. D. Kidd. (The leave of 10th inst. cancelled.)

Revs. G. E. Morris and J. Richards, asst. chaplains on this estab., have attained the rank of chaplains; the former on June 23; latter July 10, consequent on retirement in England of Revs. H. Taylor and W. W. Lutyens.

Aug. 17.—Leave of absence:—Mr. W. Knox, coll. and mag. of Krishna dist., for 6 mos., from date of quitting dist., to sea, on m.c.

Asst. surg. H. F. C. Cleghorn, conservator of forests, for 15 mos., to Eur., m.c.

Maj. H. Drury, 45th N.I., com. the resident's escort, Travancore, for 15 mos., m.c., to Eur., under new regs.

Appointments:—Mr. E. C. Carr to act as sub-coll. and jt. mag. of Salem during abs. of Mr. H. G. Smith.

Capt. J. Nicholas, 44th N.I., sub-asst. Commy. gen. Wellington, to be jt. mag. of Wellington and Coonoor.

Lieut. R. H. Beddome, 42nd N.I., 2nd class asst. to conservator of forests, to be 1st class asst., and to act as conservator of forests during abs. of Dr. Cleghorn.

Capt. J. J. Brine, 4th N.I., actg. 1st asst. dist. engr., Madura, to be 2nd class asst. to the conservator of forests.

Mr. R. Morrison to be a 3rd class asst. to the conservator of forests.

Rev. T. A. C. Pratt, offic. chaplain at Vellore, to be jt. chaplain at Secunderabad.

Aug. 21.—Appointments:—Capt. F. Young, 24th N.I., to be permanently employed in the Nair brig., v. Daly.

Capt. C. M. White, 45th N.I., to command the resident's escort Travancore and Cochin during abs. of Capt. Drury.

Aug. 23.—Appointments:—Mr. G. Thornhill to act as coll. and mag. of Kistna dist. during abs. of Mr. W. Knox.

Mr. C. R. Pelly to act as civ. and sess. judge of Masulipatam during abs. of Mr. J. J. Cotton.

Mr. C. T. Longley to act as sub-judge of the Zilla of Chicacole during employ of Mr. Pelly.

Lieut. H. St. M. Wynch, 31st L.I., to be asst. supt. in revenue survey.

Mr. T. H. L. Gordon to be a prob. asst. and supt. in the rev. survey.

Public Works Dept., Aug. 24.—Appointments:—

Lieut. L. Paxton to act as district engr., Madura, dur. employ. of Capt. Ryves.

Mr. W. Rundall, 2nd asst. dist. engr. in the Godavery dist., to be 1st asst. dist. engr. in the same dist., v. Stoddard, prom.

Mr. F. N. Hawkins, 2nd asst. dist. engr. in Godavery dist., to act as 1st asst. dist. engr. in same dist. dur. abs. of Mr. Tuke.

Lieut. F. G. Hankin to act as 1st asst. dist. engr., Madura, dur. abs. of Mr. W. C. Harington, but to remain at Wellington, under orders of Capt. Farewell, for employ. on the Kunur Ghat until relieved.

Mr. G. Leggat, supern. asst., to be 2nd asst. dist. engr. in Ganjam, but to continue to do duty in Kur-noul.

2nd capt. H. T. Rogers, engr., to be 2nd asst. dist. engr. in Godavery dist., v. Mr. W. Rundall—to join immediately.

The undermen. gentlemen of Madras civ. serv. have rank of 1st and 2nd class respectively:—

Mr. E. B. Thomas, coll. and mag. of Coimbatore, attained rank of 1st class on Aug. 11; and Messrs. H. Newill, director of revenue settlement, G. N. Taylor, Inam comr., and J. Fraser, coll. and mag. of South Canara, the rank of 2nd class, respectively, on Aug. 1, July 17, and Aug. 13, 1860.

Fort St. George, Aug. 13.—No. 368.—The underment. officer is perm. to proc. to Eur.:—Lieut. H. P. T. McCarthy, art., on m.c., for 18 mo., under regs. of 1854, and to embark from Madras.

Aug. 14.—No. 370.—Promotions:—Artillery.—

Sen. 2nd capt. G. Carleton to be capt., and Sen. lieut.

G. F. Blair to be 2nd capt., v. Jones, dec.; date of commissions, July 19.

Memorandum.—Lieut. A. C. Davidson is entitled to the pay and allowances of lieut. fr. July 19, in succ. to Blair, prom.

Capt. C. J. A. Deane, 42nd N.I., being disqualified for the active duties of his profession, is transf. to inv. batt.

Aug. 17.—No. 374.—Maj. C. J. Southey, 3rd Madras Eur. regt., is perm. to proc. to Eur. on furl. for 2 years, under regs. of 1854, and to embark from Bombay.

No. 375.—Appointment and promotions:—

Lieut. H. M. S. Magrath, 39th N.I., to be extra A.D.C. to Hon. the Gov.

42nd N.I.—Sen. lieut. (brev. capt.) T. McMunn to be capt., and Sen. ens. F. S. FitzPatrick to be lieut., v. Deane, transf. to inv. batt.; date of commissions, Aug. 15.

Returned to duty:—Lieut. col. J. D. Mein, horse art.; arr. at Bombay Aug. 10.

The serv. of Lieut. C. James, 43rd N.I., are placed at disp. of Govt. of India for employ. as a subaltern to Mayne's horse.

Aug. 21.—No. 378.—Promotions:—

1st Madras Fus.—Senior Lieut. E. B. Sladen to be capt., and Senior 2nd Lieut. F. J. Granville to be lieut., v. Menzies, dec.; date of commissions, Aug. 15.

The undermentioned officers are prom. to the rank of capt. by brevet, from the dates specified against their names:—

Lieut. E. W. H. Lateward, 52nd N.I.; Aug. 20.

Lieut. R. Q. Mainwaring, 2nd N.I.; Aug. 20.

The servs. of Lieut. D. J. P. Campbell, 7th N.I., do. du. with sappers and miners, are temp. placed at disposal of commr. of Mysore, for employ. under chief engr.

Lieut. and qrmr. A. F. Laughton, 18th N.I., is per. to proc. to Eur., on m.c., for 16 mo., under regs. of 1854; to embark from western coast.

Aug. 24.—Surg. maj. D. T. Morton, 37th regt. (grens.), on m.c., for 18 mo., under regs. of 1854; to embark from Madras.

Asst. surg. J. Murray, med. estab., on m.c., for 18 mo., under regs. of 1854; to embark from Madras.

Returned to duty:—

Lieut. F. E. Hadow, art., and Lieut. G. W. Cole, 41st N.I.; arr. at Madras Aug. 21.

Ens. F. Middlecoat, 7th N.I.; arr. at Madras Aug. 21.

Lieut. (brev. capt.) L. Paxton, 43rd N.I., 1st asst. district engr. dept. public works; arr. at Madras Aug. 22.

Lieut. D. F. Arcy, 32nd N.I.; arr. at Madras Aug. 22.

BY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF.

Id. Qrs., Choultry Plain, Aug. 10.—Capt. F. Young, 24th N.I., having been reported fit to return to duty, the unexp. portion of the leave, on m.c., granted to him in G. O. dated June 12, is cancl. fr. the date on which he may join his detach.

Lieut. J. Markham, riding master 1st L.C., having been reported fit to return to duty, the unexp. portion of the leave, on m.c., granted to him in G. O. dated May 18, is cancl. from date on which he may join his regt.

Asst. surg. C. R. G. Parker, recently admitted on estab., is app. to do du. under surg. maj. of 1st batt. art. at St. Thomas' Mount.

Aug. 11.—With reference to G. O. No. 360 of the 7th inst., Maj. gen. Sir G. C. Whitlock is posted to Northern division.

The following removal is ordered:—Lieut. R. Thompson, from 2nd suppl. co. 5th batt. art. to F co. 5th batt. art.; to rel. Lieut. Pritchard of F co. on its arr. at Cuttack.

Lieut. W. F. Wright, 44th N.I., is app. qrmr. and interp. of that regt.

Leave of absence:—

Capt. C. C. McCallum, 7th N.I., dep. judge adv. gen., N. div. from July 21 till Dec. 31—Neilgherries, m.c.

Lieut. W. G. Sharpe, 41st N.I., from date of departure—Pres., m.c., prep. to Eur.

Aug. 16.—The following posting is ordered:—

Capt. C. J. A. Deane, to Eur. veterans.

Lieut. J. R. S. Handerson, 52nd N.I., is appd. adj. of that corps.

Aug. 17.—With reference to G. O. No. 366, dated 10th inst., Capt. T. E. Bell, 2nd Eur. L.I., is permitted to join, via Calcutta.

The undermentioned med. officer attained the position of 1st class asst. surg. on Aug. 14:—

2nd class Asst. surg. J. Chisholm.

Aug. 18.—The following removals are ordered:—

Col. (Maj. gen.) J. Campbell, from 26th N.I., to 14th N.I.

Col. N. Johnson, from 14th N.I., to 26th N.I.

The following appts. are made in the artillery:—

Lieut. D. D. Anderson to be adj. of the horse brig.

Lieut. B. L. Gordon to be adj. of the art. recruit depot.

Aug. 20.—The undermnt. officers have been examined in the Hindoostanee language:—

Lieuts. C. S. Steward, 4th L.C., Kamptee; E. W.

Childers, art., Cannanore; R. Griffith, 2nd N.I., Tonghoo; R. Beatty, 10th N.I., Secunderabad; and Ens. H. A. Hammond, 26th N.I., Kamptee—Qualified for the gen. staff.

2nd Capt. G. Dangerfield, art., Trichinopoly; Lieuts. W. S. Bailey and A. Cuppage, 1st Madras fus., Bangalore; F. P. H. Bird, 2nd Eur. L.I., Trichinopoly; M. A. Rowlandson, 41st N.I., Rangoon; Ens. W. R. E. Fullerton, 28th N.I., Kamptee; W. Stenhouse, 32nd N.I., Moulmein; and W. H. Hoskins, 49th N.I., Secunderabad—Creditable progress.

Lieuts. G. W. W. Morant, 8th L.C., do. du. 5th L.C.; J. J. Barclay, 1st Madras fus.; J. Ward, 18th N.I.; J. W. Stephenson, 44th N.I.; Ens. G. J. Van Someren, do. du. H.M.'s 66th foot; C. B. Wetherall, do. du. 3rd Madras Eur. regt.; and N. Alexander, 22nd N.I.—Passed the examination prescribed for officers of troops and compys.

The Moonshiee allowance to be disbursed to 2nd Capt. G. Dangerfield; Lieuts. C. S. Steward, W. S. Bailey, A. Cuppage, F. P. H. Bird, and M. A. Rowlandson; and to Ens. W. R. E. Fullerton, W. Stenhouse, and W. H. Hoskins.

Lieut. R. J. C. Marter, 1st (King's) drag. gds., is appd. to act as dep. judge adv. gen. northern div., dur. abs., on m.c., of Capt. C. C. McCallum.

Ens. C. H. Trotman is relieved from do. du. with 3rd batt. 60th rifles, and appd. to do du. with 2nd Eur. L.I.—To join.

Aug. 21.—The following postings are ordered in the art.:—

Col. A. Shirreff, late prom. to 1st batt., and Capt. G. Carleton, late prom. to 3rd bn. B co. (No. 5 H. batty.)—to join the Mount when relieved from adjutancy of horse brig.

2nd capt. G. F. Blair, late prom. to 3rd batt. C co. Leave of absence:—

Lieut. col. A. Pinson, 37th Gren., from Aug. 1 to Aug. 1, 1861—Madras, eastern coast, Bangalore and Nilgiris, m.c.

Capt. the Hon. H. Arbuthnot, 3rd L.C.—pres., m.c., to enable him to obtain a final m.c. to Cape of Good Hope.

Lieut. F. W. Robson, 20th N.I., pres. m.c., 'prep. to Eur.

Aug. 22.—With reference to G. O. No. 360, dated Aug. 7, 1860, and G. O. dated 11th idem, Maj. gen. A. Tulloch will, on prom. to lieut. gen., retain command of northern div. till relieved by Maj. gen. Sir G. C. Whitlock, K.C.B.

Asst. surg. A. Fergusson is per. to enter on general duties of the army.

Asst. surg. J. Brett, 14th N.I., is to be considered, in reference to G. O. of March 1, 1860, as having returned to duty on Feb. 20, the date of his assuming temp. med. charge of 48th N.I.

Aug. 23.—Asst. surg. G. E. Whitton, do. du. C. tr. horse art., will do du. as a temp. measure with H.M.'s 1st drag. gds.

Movements of Regiments.

The following movements are ordered:—No. 2 batty. 13th brig. royal art., fr. Secunderabad to Bellary.

B co. 1st batt. art., fr. Moulmein to Cannanore.

C co. 1st batt. art., fr. Bellary to Moulmein, as a reserve co.

Guns, horses, and drivers of C co. 1st batt. art., fr. Bellary to Cannanore.

4 Co. gun Lascars att. to C co. 2nd batt. art., fr. Trichinopoly to Rangoon.

4 Co. gun Lascars att. to C co. 1st batt. art., fr. Bellary to Rangoon.

4 B co. gun Lascars att. to D co. 4th batt. art., fr. Rangoon to Cannanore.

4 H co. gun Lascars att. to D co. 4th batt. art., fr. Rangoon to Trichinopoly.

20th N.I., fr. Vellore to Burmah, to embark at Madras.

22nd N.I., fr. Penang to Mangalore.

23rd L.I., fr. Rangoon to Secunderabad, to land at Cocanada, or Masulipatam, as may be ordered at the time.

24th N.I., fr. Henzada to Vellore, to land at Madras.

28th N.I., fr. Samulcottah to Burmah, to embark at Cocanada.

31st L.I., fr. Moulmein to Secunderabad, to land at Cocanada or Masulipatam.

41st N.I., fr. Rangoon to Samulcottah, to land at Cocanada.

47th N.I., fr. Secunderabad to Burmah, to embark at Cocanada or Masulipatam.

49th N.I., fr. Secunderabad to Penang, to embark at Cocanada or Masulipatam.

51st N.I., fr. Mangalore to Burmah.

BIRTHS.

Brox, wife of Rev. R., son, at Dacca, Aug. 15.

BOARDMAN, wife of Capt. W., daughter, Aug. 21.

BOND, wife of D. B., daughter, at Matelle, Aug. 8.

BRODERSDEN, Mrs. C., son, at Hong Kong, Aug. 2.

BROWN, Mrs. J., daughter, at Ramkistopore, Aug. 17.

COOKSON, wife of Maj., son, at Murree, Aug. 6.

DANGERFIELD, the wife of Capt. Madras artillery, of a son, at Trinichopoly, July 31.
GOMESS, wife of A. D'B., daughter, at Calcutta, Aug. 10.

GORDON, wife of C. W., son, at Serampore, Aug. 21.
GRAY, wife of J. J., daughter, at Calcutta, July 31.
LITTLE, wife of J. W., daughter, at Colombo, Aug. 27.
MAULTRIE, wife of G. W., daughter, Aug. 20.
MITCHELL, wife of R., son, at Kandy, Aug. 15.
NOLAN, wife of G., daughter, at Lucknow, Aug. 5.
PATERSON, wife of J., son, at Calcutta, Aug. 16.
PIERES, wife of T. A., son, at Kornegalie, Aug. 14.
FIXLEY, wife of Capt. A. W., at Dum Dum, Aug. 17.
POURIAN, J. E. St., wife of, son, at Chandernagore, Aug. 7.
ROBB, Mrs. G., son, at Calcutta, Aug. 10.
ROW, wife of Capt. W. S., daughter, at Hazareebaugh, Aug. 12.
SANDERSON, wife of W. E., son, at Calcutta, Aug. 8.
SILVER, wife of J., daughter, at Tinnivelly, Aug. 1.
SIMMONS, Mrs., son, still-born, at Calcutta, Aug. 20.
STEVENSON, wife of J., daughter, at Calcutta, Aug. 20.
TATE, wife of E. C. J., daughter, at Calcutta, Aug. 7.
WILLIAMS, wife of D., son, at Mangalore, Aug. 16.
WOOD, wife of B., son, at Rajmehal, Aug. 11.

MARRIAGES.

BULL, Rev. J. V., to Charlotte, daughter of Maj. gen. Sir G. C. Whitlock, at Bangalore, Aug. 18.
CHEKE, G. N., to Isabel A., daughter of the late R. Taylor, at Simla, Aug. 7.
DE LAPLACE, S. A., to Henrietta J., daughter of L. Tiery, at Calcutta, Aug. 13.
DUNLOP, H. G., to Mary P., daughter of the late J. G. Waller, at Colombo, Aug. 21.
HAUGHTON, Lieut. R. H.M.'s 40th regt., to Isabella A., daughter of Col. A. Feirson, at Vizianagram, Aug. 16.
LIMOND, Capt. D., to Mary H., daughter of Capt. P. T. Milner, at Cawnpore, Aug. 7.
PRESTAGE, F., to Eliza A., widow of the late Lieut. G. H. Haines, at Kishinaghar, Aug. 14.
ROSE, W. G., to Mrs. Hannah A. Orr, at Calcutta, Aug. 20.
SINCLAIR, D., to Margaret, daughter of Lieut. J. Bradley, at Nagpore, Aug. 1.
TUCKER, T. R., to Elizabeth S., daughter of Lieut. col. Bennett, Aug. 14.

DEATHS.

ANDREE, Andreas, F., at Colombo, aged 55, Aug. 16.
BLACKMORE, Mary J., infant daughter of Capt. E., at Calcutta, Aug. 21.
BROOKE, William A. F., on board the Candia, at sea, aged 13, July 7.
CLARKE, Henrietta, at Burdwan, aged 28, Aug. 16.
CLERK, Mary, wife of H. J., at Barrackpore, aged 69, Aug. 13.
COCKRELL, H. W., at Bangalore, Aug. 8.
EVING, Georgiana, wife of R. D., at Cynthen, aged 33, Aug. 18.
FERGUSON, Christian S., wife of D., at Calcutta, Aug. 13.
FRABER, Lieut. Stamins W., 28th Bengal N.I., at Hazareebaugh, aged 32, Aug. 6.
HINDLE, John H. S., son of Lieut. J. W., at Dow-lashweram, Aug. 7.
JOHNSON, S. G., at Chittoor, Aug. 11.
JONES, Edward L., on board the Assyrian, at sea, June 12.
LOGIN, Mrs. Elizabeth, at Mirzapore, aged 56, July 29.
LUTTRELL, Gilbert, at Bimlipatam, Aug. 18.
MITCHELL, Harriet S., wife of R., at Kandy, Aug. 25.
MORE, Jane E., widow of the late Capt. J. F., at Monghyr, aged 66, Aug. 8.
O'CONNOR, Mrs. Ellen, aged 41, Aug. 9.
RENNY, wife of Capt. R., at Goruckpore, Aug. 2.
SHALLCROSS, Sarah, on board the Charlotte Ann, at sea, aged 27, June 25.
STRATON, Ensign G. R., 5th Bombay N.I., at Macao Fort, July 24.
WHITE, Theodora E., widow of the late A., at Barrackpore, aged 75, Aug. 12.
WILSON, Right Hon. James, at Calcutta, aged 54, Aug. 12.
WIRE, Walter C., drowned in the China Sea, July 26.
WOODWARD, John S., drowned, at Calcutta, Aug. 18.

WAR OFFICE.

CHANGES, PROMOTIONS, &c.,
 IN H.M.'s REGIMENTS SERVING IN INDIA.

Sept. 21.

1st Drag. Gds.—Lieut. J. Cunningham to be capt., by purch., v. T. W. Still, who ret.; Lieut. H. E. Sidney to be capt., by purch., v. J. H. Anderson, who ret.

6th Drags.—C. Borlase, gent., to be cornet, by purch., v. Rathbone, ret.

7th Lt. Drags.—R. A. Farquharson, gent., to be cornet, by purch., v. Johns, prom.

Royal Artillery.—Staff surg. F. Bone to be surg., v. Dassaville.

Military Train.—Lieut. col. H. Bird, fr. h.p. unatt., to be lieut. col., v. G. Erskine; Acting Vet. surg. J. M. Wilson to be vet. surg.; Acting Vet. surg. W. Appleton to be vet. surg.; Acting Vet. surg. R. Marshall to be vet. surg.

3rd Foot.—Ensign J. Law to be lieut., without purch., v. Caldecott, dec.; T. W. Carpenter, gent., to be ensign, without purch., v. Law; Lieut. J. H. Le Cocq to be adj., v. A. B. Letts, who resigns.

4th Foot.—C. F. Hooper, gent., to be ensign, by purch., v. Bridson, prom.

5th Foot.—Capt. E. Le Pelley, fr. 75th foot, to be capt., v. J. B. Barker, who exch.; J. Fergusson, gent., to be ensign, by purch., v. Leslie, prom.

6th Foot.—G. S. Grimbble, gent., to be ensign, by purch., v. Hopkins, prom.

7th Foot.—Ensign F. C. Keyser to be lieut., by purch., v. Gardner, ret.; F. J. Murray, gent., to be ensign, by purch., v. Keyser.

8th Foot.—J. Dawson, gent., to be ensign, by purch., v. Keyser.

19th Foot.—The date of Lieut. E. W. Evans's app. as adj. to be antedated to March 19.

23rd Foot.—Asst. surg. R. W. Saunders, from 8th foot, to be asst. surg., v. Morris, dec.

48th Foot.—W. B. Beatty, gent., to be ensign, by purch., v. Brown, prom.

54th Foot.—Maj. J. C. H. Jones to be lieut. col., without purch., v. Lieut. col. C. E. Michel, ret.; Capt. J. S. Thomson to be maj., without purch., v. Jones; Lieut. E. Cliffe to be capt., without purch., v. Thomson; Ensign D. B. Coppinger to be lieut., without purch., v. Cliffe; Sergt. Maj. L. Purnell to be ensign, without purch., v. Coppinger.

60th Foot.—Capt. J. Cheese fr. h.p. of late land transport corps, to be capt., v. Waters, who exch.; F. S. Blunt, gent., to be ensign, by purch., v. Lees, prom.; H. J. Daubuz, gent., to be ensign, by purch., v. Barker, ret.

75th Foot.—Capt. J. B. Barker, fr. 5th foot, to be capt., v. E. Le Pelley, who exch.; Lieut. M. C. Morris to be capt., by purch., v. W. J. J. Smith, ret.; Ensign C. Finnerty to be lieut., by purch., v. M. C. Morris.

79th Foot.—G. L. Morley, gent., to be ensign, by purch., v. Baillie, prom.

83rd Foot.—E. Meyricke, gent., to be ensign, by purch., v. Murphy, prom.

88th Foot.—W. H. Brewer, gent., to be ensign, by purch., v. Hatfield, prom.

89th Foot.—L. H. Jones, gent., to be ensign, by purch., v. Athill, prom.

94th Foot.—Lieut. J. R. Rolls to be capt., by purch., v. Gardiner, prom.

97th Foot.—A. Lynch, gent., to be ensign, by purch., v. Gray, prom.

98th Foot.—Lieut. S. H. Heywood to be capt., by purch., v. Rhodes, ret.; Ensign C. G. Heathcote to be lieut., by purch., v. Heywood.

99th Foot.—M. W. Kelly, gent., to be ensign, by purch., v. Eyre.

Rifle Brigade.—Lieut. F. E. Sotheby to be capt., by purch., v. G. R. Saunders, who ret.; Ensign Lord E. Cavendish to be lieut., by purch., v. Sotheby; W. Duberly, gent., to be ensign, by purch., v. Lord E. Cavendish.

BREVET.

To be Majors in the Army.—Capt. C. E. S. Gleig, 14th foot; Capt. H. A. Adams, 13th Bombay N.I.; Capt. C. Buckle, 3rd Bombay L.C.; Capt. R. H. Shebbeare, 60th Bengal N.I.; Capt. F. Rooime, 10th Bombay N.I.

The undermentioned promotions to take place consequent on the death of Maj. gen. H. F. Lockyer, c.b.:—Brev. col. F. W. Hamilton, c.b., fr. grenadier gds., to be maj. gen.; Lieut. col. B. E. M. Gordon, 91st foot, to be col.; Maj. F. G. Hamley, 50th foot, to be lieut. col.; Capt. S. Darling, 9th foot, to be maj.

For the notification in the Gazette of the 18th inst., relative to Capt. Caulfield and Trench, read Capt. J. P. Caulfield, 4th Bengal Eur. regt., to be maj. in the army; Capt. H. Le Poer Trench, 35th Bengal N.I., to be maj. in the army.

Sept. 25.

6th Drags.—Asst. surg. V. M. McMaster, fr. 78th foot, to be asst. surg., v. Burton.

7th Lt. Drags.—The app. of Mr. R. A. Farquharson to a cornetcy, by purchase, which appeared in the Gazette of the 21st inst., has been cancelled.

Royal Artillery.—J. Graham, gent., late qrmr. Forfar and Kincardine artillery militia, to be paymr., v. Robins, res.; Sept. 8.

Royal Engineers.—Capt. C. Pasley, from seconded list, to be capt., v. Brev. maj. F. Du Cane, res.; Sept. 1. The following to be substituted for the app. of 2nd Capt. C. A. Rice, which was notified in the Gazette of March 2.—2nd Capt. C. A. Rice, from temp. h.p., to be super. 2nd capt.; Jan. 18. 2nd Capt. C. A. Rice, fr. the super. list, to be 2nd capt., v. Warren, prom.; Jan. 31.

Military Train.—Capt. T. S. Kirkpatrick, fr. 28th foot, to be capt., v. J. Blake, who exch.; Ensign J. M. Benthall to be lieut., by purch., v. James, ret.; Sept. 25.

5th Foot.—The app. of Lieut. N. J. Barron as adj., v. Sutton, res., to be antedated to Dec. 16, 1858.

19th Foot.—Ensign J. C. T. Humfrey to be lieut., without purch., v. T. Thompson, dec.; March 19. W. R. Thornhill, gent., to be ensign, without purch., v. Humfrey; Sept. 25.

28th Foot.—Capt. J. Blake, fr. mil. train, to be capt., v. Kirkpatrick, who exch.; Sept. 25.

43rd Foot.—Lieut. S. T. Sargent to be capt., without purch., v. Capt. and Brev. maj. Disbrowe, dec.; Sept. 5. C. W. P. Warner, gent., to be ensign, without purch., in succ. to Lieut. Sargent.

44th Foot.—G. Bain, gent., to be ensign, by purch., v. Maguire, prom.; Sept. 25.

48th Foot.—J. Talbot, gent., to be ensign, by purch., v. Keyworth, prom.; Sept. 25.

61th Foot.—Lieut. F. Du B. Lukis to be capt., by purch., Hinchliff, prom.; Ensign C. H. Sams to be lieut., by purch., v. Lurkis.

71st Foot.—Qrmr. J. Twigg, fr. h.p. 1st lt. inf., British Swiss legion, to be qrmr., v. Anderson.

88th Foot.—Maj. gen. Sir G. Buller, k.c.b., to be col., v. Lieut. gen. H. G. Broke, dec.; Aug. 30.

94th Foot.—Ensign J. Mackinlay to be lieut., by purch., v. Brinkman, ret.; Ensign J. J. Blake to be lieut., by purch., v. Rolls, prom.; Qrmr. W. McCall, fr. mil. train, to be ensign, without purch., v. Haycock; H. Jones, gent., to be ensign, by purch., v. Mackinlay; Sept. 25. F. J. Hassard, gent., to be ensign, by purch., v. McCall, ret.; Sept. 26.

Ceylon Rifle Regt.—Ensign G. W. F. L'Estrange has been perm. to retire from the service by the sale of his commission; Sept. 25.

INDIAN RAILWAYS.—The capital authorised to be raised under the guarantee of the Government of India, for railways, steam flotilla, and Madras irrigation, is £38,173,300, and there has now been actually raised and paid by the companies £31,228,335, leaving £6,944,965 still to be raised. Only the sum of £632,376 has been raised in India; all the rest has been from this country. Up to the end of 1859 the Indian Government had advanced for interest guaranteed to the companies £3,854,103, and they have since paid in England a further sum of £691,801; but against this must be set the amount received by the Government from the traffic of completed portions of the railways, an amount which had reached £562,000, so long ago as in June, 1859. The following table, made up to the 15th of August last, shows the financial position of each company, the sum it has paid up, the sum which has been paid out and expended (partly estimated), the estimated balance due on account of each company, and the sum authorised, but not yet raised:—

	Paid up.	Paid out.	Balance	Authorised, but not yet raised.
	£	£	£	£
East India Railway	14,870,223	13,725,570	1,144,653	629,777
Eastern Bengal	568,058	449,617	119,021	431,962
Calcutta and South-Eastern	197,240	167,593	29,647	52,760
Madras	4,452,552	4,330,118	122,104	547,118
Great South of India	289,220	289,620	8,008	360,740
Great Ind. Peninsula	6,115,759	5,551,569	564,190	2,717,511
Bombay, Baroda, &c.	2,004,711	1,974,160	26,551	995,289
Southern	1,244,932	1,136,626	108,306	5,008
Punjab	704,956	512,621	162,134	795,044
Indus Steam Flotilla	249,505	192,250	57,255	495
Madras Irrigation and Canal	531,199	35,566	495,631	468,801
	31,228,335	28,390,243	2,838,092	6,944,965

But it must not be supposed that the £38,173,300 authorised to be raised will complete these great works; some £15,000,000 more will be required, but this is all that has as yet been authorised.

INDIAN COAL.—Dr. Hains, the chemical analyst to the Bombay Government, has sent in a report on samples of coals from Australia, the Nerbudda Valley, and Nagpore. The first has the appearance and all the properties of Newcastle coal, it is bituminous and admirably suited for coke. The two Indian coals resemble each other in being unfitted for coke from their dull harshness, slaty cleavage and absence of bitumen. Their ash too is very large. The amount of heat given forth by both is less than that of the Welsh coal. In all respects they seem to resemble the Burdwan coal.

To Correspondents.

"A SUBALTERN."—The article in question was founded on certain papers printed by order of the House of Commons, on which no mention whatever was made of General Whitlock's column.

Communications for the Editor, and Advertisements, should be sent under cover to Messrs. W.M. H. ALLEN & Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

* * Should any delay or irregularity occur in supplying this Paper, communication of the fact to the Publisher will insure a remedy.

ALLEN'S INDIAN MAIL,

SATURDAY, September 29, 1860.

COTTON FROM INDI

THE Lancashire manufacturers at length awakening to the necessity of taking immediate action, if they would not be for ever entirely dependent on America for their supplies of cotton. They are now at the eleventh hour beginning to comprehend the full significance of the maxim—aide-toi et Dieu t'aidra. Hitherto they have been content to rail at the old Court of Directors of the East India Company for not converting one-half of their Eastern empire into a cotton plantation, and devoting one-half of their revenues to the construction of roads and railways, navigable canals, and canals of irrigation. We do not blame them for rousing the Government to make greater exertions in the way of developing the internal and natural resources of the country, but they were decidedly not justified in expecting that everything was to be done for them while they did nothing for themselves. For, after all, the chief if not the sole motive of their bitter invectives against the late system of administration was the purely selfish desire of increasing their own profits. It would not, of course, have been decent to avow this in so many words, and therefore the plea was put forward of our bounden duty to improve the condition of our fellow-subjects, and by conferring material benefits to reconcile them to a foreign rule. The pretext, however, was too flimsy to deceive even themselves, and now at last we find them frankly admitting the real object of their past agitation. It is now proposed to form a Limited Liability Company, with a capital of £100,000, in 1,000 shares of £100 each, for the purpose of buying cotton in India of superior quality and shipping it direct to this country. Another part of the project is to establish a model-farm in the East Indies for the cultivation of cotton suitable for coarse spinning; and another in Australia for the introduction of the Brazil, Egyptian, and Sea Island varieties. There is every reason to believe that the ultimate success of this speculation would be both certain and astounding. There are vast tracts of land in India every way adapted for the growth of excellent cotton, and where it can be produced at an exceedingly low rate of cost. As the different railways now in progress are opened for traffic, there will be abundant means of conveying the crop to the sea-coast at a very trifling charge, and free from the present risk of waste and adulteration. It is also more than probable that our Australian colonies possess unbounded capabilities for the production of the choicest qualities, and which in a given number of years will render them independent of the mother country. With the increase of capital it cannot be supposed that those enterprising colonists will be content to supply England with the raw material in part exchange for manufactured goods when they will have it in their power, within their own territories, to satisfy all their wants. But many years must elapse before this consummation can be attained, and in the mean time it will be to the mutual advantage of the colonies and the mother country that the former should produce for the latter to manufacture. The only doubt on the subject that suggests itself is as to the sufficiency of the proposed capital. It is recommended, indeed, that the annual profits over and above a dividend of 10 per cent. upon the paid-up capital should be allowed to accumulate until the sum of one million sterling be completed; but this is a slow and unsatisfactory process, and quite unworthy of the opulent, but apparently unenterprising capitalists of Manchester. With such a fair prospect of large and immediate returns for the money invested there should be no more difficulty in raising a quarter of a million than the small sum proposed, whereas the advantage of having ample means at the disposal of the managers is too obvious to need any comment.

The immense importance of the cotton trade to this country is hardly appreciable by mere columns of figures, but the fact that between four and five millions of men, women, and children, are directly or indirectly interested in this industry cannot be viewed without mingled feelings of admiration and anxiety. We cannot but admire the wonderful perseverance of the race that has developed to such vast proportions within the space of two generations the cultivation of a plant not indigenous to America. But it is not with its benefit to the American producers that we are chiefly concerned:—it is more important to consider what would be the consequences to ourselves if this great staple of manufacture were suddenly cut off. The first step would be the utter ruin and misery of one million of human beings, who, according to Mr. Bazley, are employed in the spinning, weaving, mechanical, and other factories, including bleach-works, print-works, and other auxiliary trades. And this is only a small proportion of the vast aggregate interested in the cotton industry from first to last. The number of individuals in this country dependent upon its success is represented as equal to the entire population of the kingdom of Belgium, while the capital employed in fixed and floating investments is estimated at £150,000,000. A civil war between the Northern and Southern States of America, an insurrection of the negro population, an epidemic, a disease in the plant itself, a maritime war—any one of these causes would suffice to throw out of employment one person in every seven of the inhabitants of the British Isles. The terrible significance of such a state of things must be patent to the least reflective. Happily the means of guarding against such a fearful calamity are, under Heaven, in our own hands. Let the Lancashire manufacturers put forth only one-tenth part of the enterprise which has produced such mighty results in America, and no apprehensions need be entertained for the future. From India, and ere long, from Australia, abundant supplies of cotton will be at all times procurable, and a new field for labour will be opened to British settlers in those distant lands—but this cannot be done for £100,000.

SIR JOHN LAWRENCE AT GLASGOW.

FROM very ancient times it has been the custom for civic bodies, when they wished to do honour to a royal prince, or a distinguished warrior or diplomatist, to convert the object of their veneration into an imaginary cordwainer, merchant tailor, or fishmonger, or, in a larger and more general way, to make him a burgher of some great commercial or manufacturing city. In this manner the freedom of the populous and flourishing city of Glasgow has been conferred, within the last seventeen years, upon eight very remarkable men, who have been thought to have deserved well of their country. The first of these was Mr. Richard Cobden, one of the apostles of Free-trade, and now an ardent admirer of his astute Majesty, the Emperor of the French. The next in point of time was Sir Henry Potttinger, who negotiated the treaty with China which has indirectly brought about our present hostilities with that empire. Two "conspicuous leaders in the government of the country"—to use the Lord Provost's own words—were next bracketed together to receive an honorary degree from the favoured city of St. Mungo. Lord John Russell and Lord Palmerston were "the happy couple," united by common interests, but so often divided in affection, who were thus enabled to plume themselves on the proud distinction of being citizens of Glasgow. The Earl of Elgin, "famous for his administration in Jamaica, Canada, and China"—we again quote the Lord Provost, who omitted, however, to explain when it was that the noble earl administered the affairs of China—was also one of the illustrious eight whose names are inscribed in the Libro d'Oro of the commercial capital of Scotland; and ere long a warrior, renowned alike for caution and for valour, was admitted into the glorious band of supposititious burghers. Sir Colin Campbell, whose name will ever be remembered in connection with "the thin red line" that withstood the furious onset of the Russian horse at Balaklava, and who has since been elevated to the peerage for "taking his time" in Ouda and Rohilkund, may now claim the undisputed privilege of establishing a warehouse, or setting up a booth on the Broomielaw. The seventh vial of civic flattery was poured upon the patient head of Dr. Livingstone, who, leaving the unexplored courts and alleys of his native land, wandered far away into the unknown regions of Central Africa, tendering the post obit blessings of Christianity in exchange for the cotton and other perishable commodities of nude and untutored savages destitute alike of Sunday-schools and pantaloons of broad-cloth. Last, but not least, on this bea-droll of civic fame stands forth the "Saviour of India," the late Governor of the Punjab, and present member of the Privy Council and of the Council of India—Sir JOHN LAWRENCE, Baronet. On Friday, the 21st instant, a large and highly respectable audience assembled in the Glasgow Town-hall, in order to witness the presentation of the freedom of that city to that able and vigorous ruler. The Lord Provost, of course, presided on the august occasion, and delivered a complimentary speech, couched in the high-flown language characteristic of civic orators. Sir John's reply, however, was in excellent taste, full of matter, and very suggestive. After acknowledging the honour done to himself, and ascribing the success of his exertions to "the merciful aid of the Almighty," he applied himself to the refutation of a remark once made in the House of Commons, and adopted in this journal, to the effect that the tranquillity of the Punjab, previous to the mutiny, had been secured by denuding the Lower Provinces of European troops. Sir John admits the fact that a large proportion of the English regiments were cantoned in that province, but affirms that that "arrangement had nothing whatever to do with the character of the administration." This is clearly begging the question. It is easy to assert that the presence of so large a force did not influence "the character of the administration;" but how is the fact to be proved? It is difficult to believe that the newly-annexed province could have been ruled with such an iron hand had not the population been overawed by the imposing array of British bayonets. "From the first," says Sir John, "the administration of the country was organised on a vigorous and economical basis." Undoubtedly; but only because the Government reposed with confidence on an army that had crushed the power of the Khalsa. The system thus inaugurated was maintained by the same means by which it was first imposed, and "thus it was that the rest of the Bengal Presidency was left with an insufficient number of our own soldiery." We do not question the fact that the material prosperity of the people was greatly advanced under the new "Raj," for such was the case throughout our Indian empire, but the recent disclosures at Lucknow may fairly justify a suspicion that even under a paternal British Government oppression was not altogether unknown.

With characteristic frankness Sir John Lawrence does not hesitate to vindicate "one of the greatest men who ever governed India" from the obloquy that so unjustly attached to the annexation of Oude. Had Lord Dalhousie's scheme been carried out in all its details, there would have been no greater chance of an insurrection in that province than in the Punjab; but through a short-sighted economy he was deprived of the means of effectually carrying out his views. On the subject of the mutiny Sir John is entitled to speak with the highest authority, and we shall offer no apology for transcribing his remarks in their entire length.

"The annexation of Oude," he said, "had nothing whatever to do with the mutiny in the first instance, though that measure certainly did add to the number of our enemies after the mutiny commenced. The old Government of Oude was extremely obnoxious to the mass of our native soldiers of the regular army who came from Oude and the adjacent province of Behar, and with whom the mutiny originated. These men were the sons and kinsmen of the Hindoo yeomen of the country, all of whom benefited more or less by annexation; while Oude was ruled by a Mahomedan family, which had never identified itself with the people, and whose Government was extremely oppressive to all classes, except its immediate creatures and followers, and to no class so much as to the great body of the agriculturists. But when the introduction of the greased cartridge had excited the native army to revolt; when the mutineers saw nothing before them short of success on the one hand or destruction on the other, they, and all who sympathised with them, were driven to the most desperate measures. All that could be influenced by love or fear rallied round them. All that had little or nothing to lose joined their ranks. All that dangerous class of religious fanatics and devotees who abound in India; all the political intriguers, who in peaceful times can do no mischief, swelled the numbers of the enemy, and gave spirit and direction to their measures. India is full of races of men who from time immemorial have lived by service or by plunder, and who are ready to join in any disturbance which may promise them employment. Oude was full of disbanded soldiers, who had not had time to settle down. Our gaois furnished thousands of desperate men who were let loose on society. The cry throughout the country, as cantonment after cantonment became the scene of triumphant mutiny, was 'the English rule is at an end; let us plunder and enjoy ourselves.' The industrious classes throughout India were in our favour, but for a long time feared to act. On the one side they saw the few English in the country shot down, or flying for their lives; or, at the best, standing on the defensive, sorely pressed. On the other side, they saw summary punishment in the shape of the plunder and destruction of their homes, and even of death itself, dealt out to those who aided us. Was it then so wonderful that they refused to sacrifice all that was dear to them for our sakes? But when we evinced signs of vigour—when we began to assume the offensive, and vindicate our authority, many of these people came forward and identified themselves with our cause. Surely it is mere folly to suppose that we could ever have weathered the storm which beset us, had the mass of the people of the country risen heartily against us. One of the great evils of those sad times was the large numbers who were gradually drawn or forced into the struggle against us, who, when once committed, saw no hope of safety except in continuing the struggle. Then it was that sound policy dictated the advantage of giving such men a way to escape, and of dealing tenderly with them."

With what follows, however, we do not so fully agree, being convinced that the introduction of the Bible into the Government schools can as yet be only partially effected. There are, perhaps, certain districts, especially in the Madras Presidency, where no ill feeling would be produced by such a measure, but it would assuredly be a dangerous step to take in most parts of Hindostan. However, Sir John has a right to be heard on this, as on every other point connected with the administration of Indian affairs, which no man living more thoroughly understands. He is reported to have concluded his speech, certainly a striking contrast to the rapid orations so frequently delivered on such occasions, in the following words:—

"There is one other subject on which I will say a few words, and that is on the introduction of the Bible into our schools in India. The Sepoys revolted, not because Christianity was taught to the people of India, but because they believed that the cartridge they were required to use would convey destruction to their bodies and their souls. This was, in their view, a tremendous attack on caste and religion. Their ideas on such matters in no wise accord with ours. A Hindoo soldier lying wounded on the field of battle has died rather than drink water offered to him by a man who, in his eyes, was an outcast. A Sikh soldier in our hospitals at Agra preferred continuing to suffer for some hours all the anguish arising from feverish thirst, induced by severe wounds, rather than receive water from the hands of an English lady. His words were—'Though no man see me drink, God will see it.' The religion of the great majority of the people of India consists in ceremonial observances, and in a fancied personal freedom from certain contaminating influences. They are extremely ignorant and proportionately superstitious. They have certainly a general impression that we desire their conversion, and that this will be accomplished by physical means. Thus stories of bone dust mixed with the flour sold in the market, and the like, are constantly floating about the country. We are never secure from panics arising from such causes. Does not this, then, inculcate the policy of instructing the people, where they are willing to receive it, as to the real character of our religion? Sound policy surely dictates that we should give them the means of comprehending its principles. We cannot teach them the very elements of our sciences without showing them the folly of their own faith. Shall we then sap the foundations of their belief, without giving them facilities for acquiring true knowledge? Can this be wisdom? It is said that the work should be restricted to the missionaries. But what can a few missionaries do among hundreds of millions of people? I do not desire to see the Government undertake the duty of the missionary; but that when the parents of children belonging to our schools do not object, and masters are able and willing to instruct, the Bible should not be prohibited. Government, as regards the extension of our faith, cannot really remain neutral. Its influence will either be for or against its progress. Under the most favourable auspices, that faith will not spread very fast; the probability rather is that its progress will be lamentably slow. I myself believe that sound policy, as well as our duty to God and to man, demand that we should give facilities and encouragement to the spread of Christianity in India, and that the introduction of the Bible into the Government schools may be effected in many places with the full consent of the children and their parents by teachers who have their heart in the work."

SCINDE RAILWAY.

The directors state in their report that all the permanent way material, rolling-stock, and machinery required for the construction and working of the line have been shipped from this country for Kurrachee, with the exception of iron girders required for the harbour works in connection with the railway, which are now being prepared. The works generally along the line are proceeding in a highly satisfactory manner. The cuttings and embankments are all in a very forward state, and the masonry is being rapidly proceeded with. The permanent way is laid up to a point twenty-seven miles from Keamaree, and the engines are daily carrying material over this length. From Kotree the road is laid to a point about fifteen miles from that place. By means of a temporary branch railway to Gharra large quantities of permanent way have been delivered near Kharaseer, from which point the road is being laid both towards Kotree and Kurrachee. Permanent way material has also been carted forward beyond the Joong-shai river, and from Loyach the road is being laid in both directions. This portion of the work is progressing in a satisfactory manner. Vessels drawing 19ft. 6in. have, in the past year, safely entered the harbour of Kurrachee, and as many as thirty-one vessels, ranging from 500 to 1,200 tons, have been at one and the same time accommodated in the port, all of them swinging to their anchors. Not a single accident has happened to any vessel during the year. Telegraphic communication with Bombay has now been established, and as Kurrachee will shortly become the seat of telegraphic communication with Europe, its commercial importance will be materially enhanced. The trade of the past year amounted to £3,000,000, being an increase over the previous year's trade of £500,000 sterling, or 17 per cent. A gratifying feature in the trade of the current year is the increased export to Europe direct. The value of direct exports was largely in excess of the previous year, especially to the ports of London and Marseilles. The value of English manufactured goods imported during the current year, of which chiefly the Affghans are the carriers, amounts to considerably more than half a million sterling. These have hitherto passed through Bombay to Scinde. From the settlement at Kurrachee of several influential mercantile houses, imported goods are now arriving direct from England. With regard to the Indus steam flotilla, the experimental steamer Stanley made her preliminary trial trip on the Indus, and encountered a cyclone (which entirely disabled a Government vessel) and a subsequent storm of unusual severity without sustaining any injury, proving that, notwithstanding her lightness of construction and draught, she was fully equal to contend with the storms which occasionally visit the Indus. Three of the passenger steamers have arrived at Kurrachee, and are in course of erection; and the remaining passenger steamers have recently left this country. The seven accommodation flats have arrived at Kurrachee, and two of them are nearly completed. In reference to the Punjab Railway, the report states that the ballasting and laying of the permanent way on the section between Lahore and Umritsir, 32 miles in length, are proceeding as rapidly as local circumstances admit, and the arrival of the iron girders, after encountering considerable difficulty from the rapid rise of the river Sutlej, will enable the only two bridges on this section of the railway to be speedily completed. The locomotives for working this section of the railway have been safely landed at Kurrachee, and arrangements are in progress for conveying them up the Indus. On the section from Lahore to Mooltan, 218 miles in length, the earthworks throughout are in a forward state, with the exception on one district between 80 and 89 miles from Lahore, where the scarcity of labour and the great distance from water have caused delay in the execution of this portion of the work. Large quantities of permanent way material and ballast have been deposited along the line. Wells are being sunk at convenient distances, and bricks burnt for the construction of the necessary tanks at the watering stations. During the current year the sum of £111,000 has been paid in anticipation of calls, and similar payments will continue to be received.

SHIPPING.

ARRIVALS.

Sept. 19. Albertine, Kruger; Cambridge, Hewett; and Seaforth, Marshall, Akyab; Indus, Phillips, Mauritius and Algoa Bay; Wanderer, Blackburn, Algoa Bay; Mayola, Hordman, Penang; Bon Accord, Colville, Galle; Prompt, Nicholson, Bombay.—20. John Henry, Scott, Calcutta; Hermione, Greenhorn, Mauritius; Confidence, Johnson, Maulmain; John Banks, Young, Bimlipatam; Glenroy, Laing, Bombay.—21. Shand, Moscrop, Calcutta; Johanna, Juhur, Algoa Bay; Thebes, Daniell, and Osborne House, Adamson, Cochin.—22. Tasman, McNeill, Bombay.—24. Constantia, Sinclair, Shanghai; Windsor, Easthope, Maulmain; Comorin, Tully, Calcutta.—25. Str. Phoebe, Ladds, Cape of Good Hope; Falcon, Maxton, Foochow-Foo; Thor, Westman, Akyab.—27. Canadian, Guthrie, Calcutta.—28. Neptune, McDonald, Algoa Bay.

PASSENGERS DEPARTED.

Per str. Indus, from SOUTHAMPTON, Sept. 27, to proceed per str. China, from SUZ.—For MALTA.—Mrs. Fulton and son, Lieut. Col. Tyler, Capt. Murphy, Lieut. Cotter, Mrs. Herdman and child, Mr. J. Townend, Mr. Lees, Mr. Mellor. For ADE.—Mrs. Fuller and three children. For SUZ.—Mr. H. Cowan. For BOMBAY.—Mr. and Mrs. J. King, Mr. Doveton, Lieut. J. Watson, Mr. W. M. Campbell, Mr. M. Campbell, Capt. and Mrs. E. A. Beamish, Mrs. Barron and daughter, Lieut. A. T. Reid, Maj. Soppitt, Lieut. and Mrs. Knight, Mr. Cruikshank, Mr. Milander, Mrs. Etheridge and child, Mrs. Macfarlane, General, Mrs., and two Misses Beaton, Mrs. A. Sangster, Mr. and Mrs. Thornhill, Mr. J. Hutton, Col. Smith, Cornet Stopford, Mr. Crofton, Cornet Coates, Mr. J. Galway, Ensign Phillips, Mr. J. E. Macaulay, Mr. J. R. Gibson, Mr. Little. For SHANGHAI.—Mrs. Marshall, Mrs. Maclean. For HONG KONG.—Mr. Callaghan, Capt. R. Gilley, Dr. C. Chapman. For SINGAPORE.—Mr. Brine. For CALCUTTA.—Mr. and Mrs. J. H. De Salis and infant, Mr. Izon.

Per str. Euxine, from MARSEILLES, Oct. 5, to proceed per str. China, from SUZ.—For BOMBAY.—Mr. and Mrs. G. Nicolett, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Tyler, Miss C. Roberts, Brig. Gen. G. St. Lawrence and wife, Mr. Foyett, Mr. R. Pinkey, Mr. H. Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Mignon, Jaffir Sulliman, Col. and Mrs. Barron, Mr. and Mrs. Broderick, Mr. J. F. Aldridge, Lieut. J. D. Hall, Mr. Warren, Col. and Mrs. Browne, Mr. D. Watson, Mr. R. Aiken, Mr. and Mrs. A. Vernon, Mr. R. Wallace, Mr. Stead, Mr. J. F. Wallace, Mdm. Didier, Lieut. Col. A. Butler. For ALEXANDRIA.—Mr. Graham. For HONG KONG.—Mr. and Mrs. T. Borradaile, Mr. L. Josephs, Mr. Boye, Mr. J. Jackson. For PENANG.—Mr. H. Renie. For Ceylon.—Mr. D. B. Lindsay, Mr. and Mrs. Forsyth. For SHANGHAI.—Mr. J. Schult.

DOMESTIC.

BIRTHS.

DAWSON, the wife of Capt. A. H., Madras Art., of a daughter, at Cheltenham, Sept. 25.
EVERTON, the wife of Robert E., Bengal Civil Service, of a son, at Gresford Lodge, Denbighshire, Sept. 25.
LARKINS, the wife of Lieut. Col. W. H., late of the Bengal army, of a daughter, at Byfleet, Surrey, Sept. 22.
WILLIAMS, the wife of Monier, of a son, at 3, Montpelier-terrace, Cheltenham, Sept. 19.

MARRIAGES.

COVENTRY, St. John, of Henburgh-house, Dorset, to Mary Elizabeth, only daughter of Lieut. Col. F. W. Todd, late of the 14th regt. Madras N.I., by the Rev. Thos. Grey Clarke, vicar of Odiham, Hants, rural dean, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, assisted by the Rev. W. R. Clark, vicar of Taunton, at St. Mary Magdalene, Taunton, Sept. 27.
GODFREY, Lieut. W. H. R., H.M.'s 35th regt., Madras army, to Marianne, daughter of F. R. Mantell, Esq., at St. Mary's Church, Bilton, Gloucestershire, Sept. 20.
HERSEE, Alfred, to Ellen, daughter of the late Col. John Gibbs, H.E.I.C.S., at Camberwell, Sept. 20.
HOCKLEY, Capt. Julius J., H.M.'s 66th or Goorkha Lt. Inf., to Emma A. M., daughter of the Rev. John J. T. Darby, at South Stoke Church, near Wallingford, Sept. 20.

LORD, Charles O., 13th Bombay N.I., to Elizabeth, daughter of Capt. Eyre C. Lord, formerly of the Bombay army, at Brislington, near Bristol, Sept. 20.

MACNABB, James W., H.M.'s Indian Civil Service, to Amy, fifth daughter of Sir James Weir Hogg, Bart., at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, Trafalgar-square, Sept. 13.

PLOMER, Lieut. Alfred G., H.M.'s 25th Bombay N.I., to Ellen L., daughter of the late Francis J. Bush, Esq., at Christ Church, Frome, Somersetshire, Sept. 18.

SALTER, George S., to Anne Maria, widow of the late G. S. Wilkinson, Esq., at Loughton Church, Essex, Sept. 25.

STEWART, Capt. William F., H.M.'s Bengal Irregular Cavalry, to Cornelia J., daughter of Lee P. Townshend, Esq., of Wincham Hall, Cheshire, Sept. 25.

STEWART, Capt. Charles T., H.M.'s Bengal Engrs., to Eliza M., relict of the late E. S. Whitehouse, Esq., at Inston, N. Devon, Sept. 25.

WORTHINGTON, Capt. J. Yorke, Bengal Artillery, to Henrietta C., widow of the late Rowland E. Cooper, Esq., at the Old Church, Scarborough, Sept. 18.

DEATHS.

ELLIS, John Utlay, formerly of Madras, at The Birches, Hagley, Worcestershire, aged 56, Sept. 21.
GOLDSMITH, Edward, many years in the H.E.I.C.S., at Blenheim-lodge, Northfleet, aged 79, Sept. 24.

LEIGHTON, Frances M., widow of Major-general Thomas, Bombay Army, at Clifton, Sept. 23.

MYLNE, Major Charles D., H.M.'s Bombay army, at Cheltenham, aged 50, Sept. 25.

ROHDE, Richard, son of John, of the Madras Civil Service, at Ramsgate, aged 10, Sept. 16.

India Office,

September 28, 1860.

ARRIVALS REPORTED IN ENGLAND.

CIVIL.

Bengal Estab.—Mr. C. Temple.

Madras Estab.—Mr. S. Thompson.

MILITARY.

Bengal Estab.—Col. R. Horsford, Art.; Maj. F. W. Baugh, 26th N.I.; Maj. G. G. Dennis, 1st Eur.; Capt. W. R. E. Alexander, 53rd N.I.; Capt. W. Agnew, 29th N.I.; Surg. G. G. W. Tucker; Asst. surg. A. G. Crewe; Lieut. C. G. S. Moncrieff, Engrs.; Lieut. R. W. Elton, 74th N.I.

Madras Estab.—Maj. Wreford, Ret.; Maj. G. J. Condy, 27th N.I.; Capt. Maclean, 32nd N.I.; Capt. J. Cameron, 1st Cav.; Lieut. W. G. Sharp, 41st N.I.; Lieut. P. MacCarthy, Art.; Lieut. R. J. Gray, 16th N.I.; Lieut. F. W. Dobree, 43rd N.I.

Bombay Estab.—Maj. C. G. Southey, 3rd Eur.; Capt. J. E. Taylor, Ret.

GRANTED EXTENSION OF LEAVE.

CIVIL.

Bengal Estab.—Mr. G. L. Martin, 6 mo.; Mr. P. C. Turnbull, Uncov., 6 mo.; Mr. C. B. Douglas, Uncov., 6 mo.

Madras Estab.—Mr. F. H. Crozier, 6 mo.; Mr. W. B. Leggatt, Uncov., 6 mo.

Bombay Estab.—Mr. J. A. G. Duff.

MILITARY.

Bengal Estab.—Asst. surg. T. Anderson, 4 mo.; Lt. A. Shepherd, 5th Cav., 3 mo.; Lieut. C. P. Chambers, 48th N.I., 6 mo.; Lieut. G. S. Hills, Eng., 3 mo.; Lieut. E. B. Wake, 3rd Cav., 3 mo.; Lieut. G. W. Holdsworth, 3rd Eur., 3 mo.; Capt. A. M. Mackenzie, 56th N.I., 3 mo.

Madras Estab.—Lieut. C. L. Oliver, 1st Eur.; Capt. H. E. T. Williams, 3rd Eur., Capt. W. G. Stott, 2nd Eur.

Bombay Estab.—Lieut. G. H. Bridges, 1st Eur.; Lieut. P. J. F. Henslowe, 3rd Eur.; Lieut. F. W. Jones, 18th N.I.; Capt. A. Davidson, Eng.; Capt. W. N. Dyett, 3rd Eur.; Capt. J. Miles, 16th N.I.

PERMITTED TO RETURN TO DUTY.

CIVIL.

Bengal Estab.—Mr. E. E. Woodcock; Mr. C. W. Moore; Mr. C. J. Daniell; Mr. C. B. Trevor; Mr. W. Lane; Mr. F. E. Hall, Uncov.

Bombay Estab.—Mr. C. E. H. Tytler; Mr. R. W. Hunter.

MILITARY.

Bengal Estab.—Capt. E. Davidson, Eng.; Maj. gen. N. Jones; Maj. H. Finch, 31st N.I.; Surg. C. G. Andrews; Surg. W. Keates; Lieut. H. E. Harington, Art.; Lieut. T. M. Leslie, 53rd N.I.; Lieut. F. C. Innes, 60th N.I.; Capt. C. E. T. Williams; Capt. J. P. T. Hawkey, 74th N.I.

Madras Estab.—Capt. W. Graves, 25th N.I.; Lieut. E. H. Prother, 6th N.I.; Lieut. R. K. Macquoid, 13th N.I.; Lieut. W. H. R. Godfrey; Conductor F. C. Field.

Bombay Estab.—Capt. E. S. Beamish, Art.; Asst. surg. J. Pirie, M.D.; Capt. J. T. Barr, 7th N.I.; Col. J. Liddell, 3rd Eur.

BENGAL GOVERNMENT LOANS.

	Buy. s. d.	Sell. s. d.	Actual Sales.
5½ per Cent. Loan of 1859-60	—	—	2 0½
5 p. Ct. Loan of 1854 (P. Works Loan)...	—	—	1 10½
4 per Cent. East-India } Sicca Rs.....	—	—	1 7
Transfer Loan Stock }	—	—	—
New 5 per Cent. Loan of 1856-57.....	—	—	1 11½
4 per Cent. Loan of 1855-56	—	—	1 7½
4 per Cent., 1812-43.....	—	—	1 7½

INDIA EXCHANGES.

BILLS.	Bank and Commercial Bills, at 60 days' sight, per Co.'s Rpe.	Indian Govt. Bills, at 60 days' sight, per Co.'s Rpe.	Total for each Mail to Three Presidencies.
	£. s. d.	£. s. d.	£. s. d.
Bengal...	2s. 1s. 11½d.	2s. 9d.	—
Madras...	1s. 11½d.	2s. 2d.	—
Bombay	2s. 1s. 11½d.	2s. 2d.	—

Bank of Bengal Post Bills and Indian Government Interest Bills on Calcutta, 1s. 11½d.

EXPORT OF BULLION.

Per str. Rapon, Sept. 2, 1860.

	Gold.	Silver.
Alexandria	£30,000*	—
Madras	7,201	—
Calcutta	—	6,200
Penang	—	1,820
Singapore	4,650	—
Hong Kong	—	60,105
Shanghai	—	10,402
	£37,201	£83,267

Per str. Indus, Sept. 27, 1860.

Alexandria	£1,000	—
Bombay	179,422	£48,915
	£180,422	£48,915

* Shipped by the Government of India.

STOCKS AND SECURITIES.

Shares.		Paid.	Prices.
£.
India Stock			218
India Stock (5 per ct.), 1859			103½
India 5 p. ct. Enforced Paper			96
India Bonds, Enfd. Paper, 5½ per cent.			102½
India Loan Debentures, 1858			96½
India Debentures, 1859			96½
India Enforced Paper, 4 per cent.			83½
India 5 per cent. for account... ..			103½
India Bonds (£1,000)			6s. to 2s. dis.
Ditto (under £1,000)			5s. dis.
RAILWAYS.
Stock	Bombay, Baroda, and Central India (guar. 5 per ct.) ..	100	94 to 95
18	Ditto Additional Capital, A ..	all	17½ to 18
18	Ditto B	16	1½ dis.
5	Calcutta & S. Eastern (lim.) ..	1.8	1½ dis. ½ pm.
20	Ceylon (guar. 6 per cent.) ..	7½	1½ to 1½ dis.
20	Eastern Bengal (gu. 5 p. ct.) ..	7½	1½ to 1½ dis.
Stock	East Indian	100	99½ to 100½
100	Ditto 4½ p. ct. debentrs.	all	98 to 99
20	Ditto F Ext.	15	½ dis. par.
Stock	Ditto 5 per ct. deb. 1861 ..	100	101 to 102
20	Jubbulpore	15	½ dis. par.
Stock	Great Indian Peninsula (guar. 5 per ct.)	100	96 to 97
	Ditto (New ditto)	6	1 to ½ dis.
20	Great S. of India (lim.) Scrip ..	13	2½ to 1½ dis.
Stock	Madras (guar. 4½ per ct.) ..	100	83 to 85
Stock	Ditto 5 per cent.	100	93½ to 94½
Stock	Ditto Extension (guar. 4½ per cent.)	100	86 to 88
20	Ditto 4th Extension (guar. 5 per ct.)	10	1½ to 1½ dis.
20	Ottoman Rail. (guar. 6 p. ct.) ..	7
Stock	Scinde 5 per cent.	all	98 to 100
20	Ditto (New)	15
Stock	Ditto Indus Steam Flotilla (guar. 5 per ct.)	all	93 to 94½
20	Punjab (5 per ct.)	7	1½ to 1½ dis.
BANKS.
100	Agna and United Service lim.	50	78 to 80
40	Australasia	all	19½ to 20½
25	Bank of Egypt	all	20½ to 21
20	Chart. of Ind., Aus., & China ..	all	32 to 34
25	Chart. Merc. of India, Lond., and China	all	16 to 17
25	Oriental Bank Corporation ..	all	—
20	Ottoman Bank	all	—
MISCELLANEOUS.
20	Madras Irrig. and Canal	1	2 to 2½ pm.
20	Nerbudda Coal and Iron	5	2 to 1½ dis.
10	Mediterran. Ext. Tel. (lim.) ..	all	2 to 4
1	N. B. Australasian Company ..	all	1 to 1
1	Oriental Gas	all	1 to 1
1	Ditto New	15s.	1 dis. to par.
10	Oriental Inland Steam A.	6	—
50	P. and O. Steam Nav. Co.	all	73 to 75
50	Ditto New	25	12 to 13 pm.
20	Red Sea and Ind. Telegraph ..	17½	17 to 18
1	Submarine Telegraph Scrip ..	all	1 to 1
1	Ditto Registered	all	1 to 1
10	Do. do.	all	5 to 7

THE EAST INDIA IRRIGATION and CANAL COMPANY.

The DIRECTORS of this COMPANY, having the highest confidence in the profitable character of their proposed undertaking, have resolved to PAY INTEREST at the rate of FIVE PER CENT. PER ANNUM upon the deposit of £1 per Share now in their hands, and also upon all future calls, upon the understanding that such interest shall be recouped out of the first profits realised beyond 5 per cent. on the capital raised.

The usual Interest Warrants will be issued half-yearly, viz., in January and July.
By order, JOHN WESTWOOD, Secretary.
No. 27, Cannon-street, London, E.C., Sept. 21, 1860.

FIVE PER CENT. INVESTMENTS.

Particulars of Investments for LARGE or SMALL SUMS of MONEY, bearing FIVE PER CENT. PER ANNUM INTEREST (well secured), withdrawable at notice, may be obtained, on application to THOMAS H. BAYLIS, 429, Strand, London.

CLAPHAM COMMON—UNFURNISHED.

MR. JAMES STEVENS is instructed to LET No. 1, THE CRESCENT, Rent £90. This house is within a few yards of that delightful and healthy spot—Clapham Common, and overlooks a beautiful ornamental enclosure. It has just been thoroughly drained with glazed pipes, and put into substantial and ornamental repair, and is fit for immediate occupation. The house contains, on the ground floor, entrance-hall, dining-room and library. Above—double drawing-rooms, with five bed-rooms, very convenient store closets, and excellent domestic offices. Within one mile of the Balham Station for Brighton, Crystal Palace, West end, &c. Omnibuses to West-end and City pass constantly.

JAMES STEVENS, Auctioneer, Clapham Common, S.

CAUTION.—FRENCH, 9, Royal Exchange, London, Chronometer, Watch, and Clock Maker (established 1810), has NO CONNECTION whatever, and never had any, with the CITY OBSERVATORY, carried on by Mr. Jacob French since 1854, as Jeweller and Watchmaker. Mr. Jacob French sold his premises in July last to Mr. Bennett, of 64 and 65, Chapside. The words "late French," in his advertisement, being calculated to mislead the public, renders this advertisement necessary.

CHEVALIER BOWNESS and SON'S FISHING-TACKLE MANUFACTORY, established upwards of 100 years, 12, Ball-yard, Temple-bar, London, continue only to supply articles of the best manufacture for Mahseer, Salmon, Trout, and general fishing. Complete cases fitted for India, Norway, Canada, and the Continent. Orders are respectfully requested to be forwarded direct as above.

PERSONS proceeding to INDIA can effect ASSURANCES on favourable terms with the COLONIAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

LOANS given to Civil or Military Officers proceeding to India on her Majesty's Service.
Agents at Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, and in all the British Colonies, where premiums can be paid and claims settled.

The Colonial was established in 1846, and its present income is £10,000 per annum.
Subscribed Capital, £1,000,000 sterling.
Constituted by Act of Parliament.

SAMUEL R. FERGUSON, Res. Sec.
LONDON 81, Lombard-street, E.C.,
and at Messrs. Paris and Co.'s, No. 10, St. James's-street, S.W.
EDINBURGH (Head Office) 5, George-street.
DUBLIN 65, Upper Sackville-street.
GLASGOW 58, St. Vincent-street.

EAST-INDIA WINE COMPANY, 124, Bishopsgate-street, London, E.C.—The following choice WINES delivered CARRIAGE FREE to every railway-station in the Kingdom, and to all parts of London and its environs:—

Per Doz.
SHERRY Good	36s.
Superior Pale	42s. and 44s.
Mature and Choice, Pale or Gold	46s. and 48s.
Very Choice, Pale or Gold	51s.
PORT Fine Crusted	42s., 44s., and 46s.
Superior Old Crusted	48s. and 51s.
Very Fine Bee-swing ditto	60s.
Ditto ditto, in pints	33s.
CLARET St. Julien, Larose, Second and Third Growth	36s. to 51s.
Chateau Lafite, Margaux, and Latour, First Growth	78s.
MADEIRA East-India	63s. to 72s.
West-India	48s. to 60s.
Direct	36s. to 51s.
MARSALA Finest quality	30s.
BUCCELLAS Superior	36s. to 42s.
VIDONIA Finest	32s.
CHAMPAGNE Fine Sparkling	45s. to 51s.
Finest quality	72s.
Ditto pints	36s.
MOSELLE Finest Sparkling	78s.
ROCK Ditto ditto	75s.

OTHER GERMAN AND FRENCH WINES.
Bottles charged 2s., and 11 pence or Cases 1s. per dozen, and delivered for if returned.

WINE IN WOOD SUPPLIED DIRECT FROM THE DOCKS, OR FOR EXPORTATION.

Orders and Communications to be addressed to
CHARLES JAY, Manager,
East-India Wine Company,
124, Bishopsgate-street, E.C.

The above Wines may be ordered through Messrs. GRINDLAY and Co., East-India Army Agents, 63, Cornhill, E.C.

CHRISTIAN AND RATHBONE, EAST INDIA AND COLONIAL OUTFITTERS, 11, WIGMORE-STREET, LONDON.

COMPLETE EQUIPMENTS and OUTFITS for Ladies, Officers, Cadets, and Civilians, of the best quality, at the lowest prices for cash. Estimates will be forwarded on application, showing the entire cost of OUTFIT and PASSAGE via the CAPE, or OVERLAND.

ESTABLISHED 1792. 11, WIGMORE-STREET.

SUPERIOR EDUCATION for the DAUGHTERS of GENTLEMEN in a FIRST-CLASS ESTABLISHMENT, West of London. Inclusive Terms, from Sixty to Ninety Guineas per annum. The system adopted combines the most approved features of the Colleges, with the discipline of the School. Professors of eminence attend for all the higher branches of English Instruction, all Accomplishments, and Foreign Languages. A French Governess is resident. References to Clergymen and others. Situation and Residence unexceptionable.
Address ALPHA, Messrs. LEADER and Cock's, 63, New Bond-street, London.

GROSVENOR COLLEGE, BATH.

AT A MEETING of COUNCIL, SEPTEMBER 19th, 1860, arrangements were made for ESTABLISHING certain SCHOLARSHIPS, entitling the holders to a remission of the Entrance and Education Fees (about £20 annually) during the remainder of their student course. Pupils who shall hereafter enter the College and pursue the full scheme of studies as boarders will be eligible by the Council as scholars.

One Scholar will be elected at Michaelmas, and one at Christmas next, after which a succession of Scholarships is proposed.

Dr. GODFREY, the Founder of the Scholarships, liberally offers a Bonus of £20 to the first such Scholar who shall distinguish himself in public competition.

For fuller information reference may be made to the College.

HINDOOSTANI AND PERSIAN.

LESSONS in the above LANGUAGES are given by an INDIAN GENTLEMAN of Twenty Years' Experience as Professor, Interpreter, and Translator; who has obtained Certificates of degrees of honour and high proficiency from the Examiners of the College of Fort William. He possesses the most satisfactory testimonials, and can give unexceptionable references.

Address, "ALFA," care of Messrs. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street, London, E.C.

ADDISCOMBE DIRECT APPOINTMENTS, and WOOLWICH.

The Rev. C. J. HUGHES, M.A., who has Prepared nearly TWO HUNDRED PUPILS for the above, occasionally has VACANCIES.

Adelaide Lodge, 61, Finchley Road, St. John's Wood, N.W.

SELECT CLASSICAL and MILITARY ESTABLISHMENT.—HOLLAND HOUSE, BLACKHEATH, by T. KIMBER, M.A., Author of "Vauban's First System," &c. References: The Rev. Dr. Jelf, King's College, London; the Rev. Canon Hey, York, &c.

* Arthur E. Havelock, who gained the highest number of marks (4,730) at the Examination in June last for admission to Sandhurst, passed from Holland-house.

Prospectuses may be obtained from RIVINGTONS, Waterloo-place; PARKER and SON, 45, West Strand; PONSOMBY, Dublin; THE LIBRARY, Cheltenham; STOTHERAN, York.

MILITARY and NAVAL EDUCATION.

A MARRIED CLERGYMAN, resident at Brighton, RECEIVES a limited number of PUPILS, between the ages of Twelve and Fifteen, who may be destined for the Military and Naval Professions. With a view to this ultimate object, the entire course of Study, from the outset, is regulated expressly in conformity with the requirements of the Examinations at Addiscombe, Sandhurst, Woolwich, and Portsmouth; and every care is taken to direct special attention to those subjects likely to prove professionally useful in the future career of the Naval or Military officer. The Pupils are examined periodically in Mathematics by Professor J. R. YOUNG, formerly of Belfast College, and Author of "A Course of Mathematics, Pure and Mixed, for the Use of Candidates for the Military and Civil Service Examinations," &c.; and also in Classics and Modern Languages by Scholars of repute. Prospectuses may be had of Messrs. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street, London.

Corrected to May 12, 1860.

THE EAST-INDIA REGISTER & ARMY LIST FOR 1860,CONTAINING

Complete Lists of the Servants, at Home and Abroad; Regulations respecting the Appointments to the Civil, Military, and Medical Services.

COMPILED BY PERMISSION.

12mo. sewed, 10s.; or, by post, 10s. 6d.; or, bound, 11s. 6d.; or, by post, 12s.

London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

PROFESSOR WILSON'S GLOSSARY.

GLOSSARY of JUDICIAL and REVENUE TERMS, and of useful words occurring in official documents relating to the Administration of the Government of British India, from the Arabic, Persian, Hindustani, Sanskrit, Hindi, Bengali, Urdu, Marathi, Guzarathi, Telugu, Karnata, Tamil, Malayalam, and other Languages, compiled and published under the authority of the hon. the Court of Directors of the E. I. Company. By H. H. WILSON, M.A., F.R.S., &c., &c. 4to. cloth, £2. 2s. 6d.

London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

A LUCRATIVE and HIGHLY-RESPECTABLE POSITION in an IMPORTANT ANGLO-INDIAN UNDERTAKING is OPEN to a GENTLEMAN willing to ADVANCE for preliminary purposes £200 or £300.

For particulars address "POONAH," care of Mr. JOHN FOSS, 7, Pope's Head-alley, Cornhill.

AN AYAH, who speaks English fluently, is desirous to RETURN to MADRAS. Would give her Services to any Lady going either Overland or by long Sea Voyage in exchange for a Free Passage. The highest Testimonials can be given.

Address—Mrs. E. Bruce, Durris, Aberdeen.

Just received.

CALCUTTA REVIEW. No. 68.

Price Seven Shillings.

CONTENTS.

1. Capture of Lucknow.
2. Christianity in India.
3. Oudh.
4. The Ryot in Bengal.
5. Clavijo's Embassy to Timur.
6. Calcutta in 1830.
7. An Indian Staff Corps.
8. The Indigo Blue-book.
9. The British Soldier in India.
10. Critical Notices of Works on India and the East.

CONTENTS of No. 67.

1. Outram at the Alumbagh.
2. Colonisation and Settlement in India.
3. Mountstuart Elphinstone.
4. The Law Courts of the Bengal Presidency.
5. Ceylon of Yore.
6. Limitations of Indian Liberty.
7. Indigo Planters and Missionaries.
8. The Wedding at Pattiala.
9. The New Taxes.
10. Critical Notices of Works on India and the East.

CONTENTS of No. 66.

1. Melanesia and the New French Settlement.
2. The Mahomedans in the Punjab.
3. English Life in Bengal.
4. The French Courts of Justice.
5. Military Hygiene in India.
6. Lord Dalhousie.
7. Forbes's Ras Mala.
8. India as a Career.
9. Critical Notices of Works on India and the East.

London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street, E.C.

This day is published, post 8vo., price 7s. 6d.,
THE CONSUMMATION. By THOMAS HUTTON, F.G.S., Capt. Bengal Army.

Also, by the same Author, 2nd Edition, in 12mo., price 3s. 6d.

ISRAEL, IN THE PAST, THE PRESENT, AND THE FUTURE: or, LECTURES ON THE RESTORATION OF THE JEWS.

Second Edition, in 8vo., price 10s. 6d.

THE CHRONOLOGY OF CREATION; or, GEOLOGY AND SCRIPTURE RECONCILED.

London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street, E.C.

Published Weekly, on the 3rd, 10th, 18th, and 26th of each month.

THE HOME-NEWS.

PRICE 6d.

A JOURNAL SPECIALLY DEVOTED TO INDIAN TOPICS AND THE GENERAL NEWS OF THE DAY.

The publication of the HOME NEWS weekly instead of fortnightly, as heretofore, rendering it now as available to the English as to the Indian reader, Messrs. GRINDLAY and Co. will be happy to receive names of intending Subscribers, and will forward the HOME NEWS to them on the days of publication.

The HOME NEWS contains a Summary of the Principal Events of the Week—Parliamentary Intelligence, with Full Reports of all Indian Debates—East-India House Reports—Foreign Intelligence—Opinions of the Press—Literature—Law and Police Courts—Political, Clerical, and Miscellaneous News—Arrivals and Departures of Ships from and to the East—List of Passengers Outwards and Home—Army and Navy Promotions and Changes—Births, Marriages, and Deaths—Commercial, &c., &c.

SUBSCRIPTION.

For One Year £1 4s. 0d.
Postage on 48 Numbers 0 4 0

HOME NEWS OFFICES, 63, Cornhill; and 9, St. Martin's-place, Charing-cross.

Subscribers to Messrs. Grindlay and Co.'s Agency, &c., per annum in England, are entitled to receive the HOME NEWS free of cost, except for postage, in addition to the use of their Reading Rooms, &c.

TO RAILWAY AND STEAM SHIPPING COMPANIES.

MACHINE BELTING.

FIRE-ENGINE HOSE AND BUCKETS,

All descriptions of Leather for Exportation.

S. E. NORRIS AND CO.,

SHADWELL LONDON,
MANUFACTURERS AND PATENTERS.

OVERLAND ROUTE.—COMMUNICA-

TION BY STEAM TO INDIA, AUSTRALIA, &c., via Egypt.—The PENINSULAR and ORIENTAL STEAM NAVIGATION COMPANY BOOK PASSENGERS and RECEIVE CARGO AND PARCELS for GIBRALTAR, MALTA, EGYPT, ADEN, CEYLON, MADRAS, CALCUTTA, the STRAITS, and CHINA, by their Steamers leaving Southampton on the 4th and 20th of every month. For GIBRALTAR, MALTA, EGYPT, ADEN, and BOMBAY, by those of the 12th and 27th of each month; and for MAURITIUS, REUNION, KING GEORGE'S SOUND, MELBOURNE, and SYDNEY, by the Steamers leaving Southampton on the 20th of every month.

For further particulars, apply at the Company's Offices, 123, Leadenhall-street, London, E.C., or Oriental-place, Southampton.

TEETH WITHOUT SPRINGS.

BY HER MAJESTY'S ROYAL LETTERS PATENT.

Newly-invented and Patented Application of Chemically prepared INDIA-RUBBER in the construction of ARTIFICIAL TEETH, GUMS, and PALATES.

MR. EPHRAIM MOSELY, SURGEON DENTIST, 9, GROSVENOR-STREET, GROSVENOR-SQUARE, Sole Inventor and Patentee.

A new, original, and invaluable invention, consisting in the adaptation, with the most absolute perfection and success, of

CHEMICALLY PREPARED INDIA-RUBBER,

in lieu of the gold or bone frame. The extraordinary results of this application may be briefly noted in a few of their most prominent features:—

All sharp edges are avoided; no springs, wires, or fastenings are required; a greatly increased freedom of suction is supplied, a natural elasticity, hitherto wholly unattainable; and a fit, perfected with the most unerring accuracy, are secured; while, from the softness and flexibility of the agent employed, the greatest support is given to the adjoining teeth when loose, or rendered tender by the absorption of the gums. The acids of the mouth exert no agency on the chemically prepared India-rubber, and, as a non-conductor, fluids of any temperature may with thorough comfort be imbibed and retained in the mouth, all unpleasantness of smell or taste being at the same time wholly provided against by the peculiar nature of its preparation.

Teeth filled with gold, and Mr. Mosely's White Enamel, the only stopping that will not become discoloured; particularly recommended for front teeth.

9, Grosvenor-street, Grosvenor-square, London;
1, Gay-street, Bath; and
10, Eldon-square, Newcastle-on-Tyne.

ARTIFICIAL TEETH, SET in the new CHEMICALLY PREPARED INDIA-RUBBER, forming a beautifully fitting plate to the gums, or over stumps, without producing the slightest pain, and on this plan it is impossible to detect them as artificial when the workmanship is of superior order. Mr. BRADSHAW can, with the greatest confidence, undertake any case, no matter how difficult, with certain success, being a thoroughly practical workman, supplying for many years the first dentists of the day with their most particular work in Artificial Teeth. Doing all his own work himself, he is enabled to supply his patients at an exceedingly moderate price. Single Teeth, from 3s. 6d. to 10s. 6d.; a Complete Upper or Lower Set, from £2 to £5. Mr. Bradshaw, Dentist, 20, Great Portland-street, Oxford-circus.

COMMANS'S CELEBRATED ARECA-NUT TOOTH-PASTE is used by her Majesty and the Royal Family.—Has been examined, approved, is used and recommended, by many of our first physicians and dentists as the best preparation known for cleaning and preserving the teeth. Testimonials have been received, unsolicited, from many of the nobility and gentry. The following is amongst the many in testimony of its high value.

"Liverpool, August, 1859.

"I have much pleasure in offering my testimony to the value of your Areca-nut Tooth Paste, and have no hesitation in saying that it is the most efficacious and agreeable Dentifrice ever prepared. I have recommended its use to my patients for some years.

"W. J. NEWMAN.

"Surgeon Dentist to the Liverpool Infirmary for Children."

Prepared only by COMMANS, Chemist, Bath, in pots, 2s. each; to be procured of all Chemists, through the Wholesale Agents, Barclay, Edwards, London; Othman and Co., Dublin; Duncan and Flockhart, Edinburgh.

WHITE and SOUND TEETH are indispensable to PERSONAL ATTRACTION and to health and longevity, by the proper mastication of food.

ROWLANDS' ODONTO, or PEARL DENTIFRICE, stands unrivalled in its capabilities of embellishing, purifying, and preserving the Teeth to the latest period of life. Prepared from Oriental Herbs with unusual care, transmitted to this country at great expense, this unique compound will be found to eradicate all tartar and concretions, and impart a pearl-like whiteness to the enamelled surface, remove spots of incipient decay, render the gums firm and red, fix the teeth firmly in their sockets, and, from its aromatic influence, impart a delicate fragrance to the breath. It is important to observe, that when used in early life, it effectually prevents all aches in the teeth and gums, effaces spots and discoloration, eradicates scurvy, and, in a word, soon realises the chief attribute of beauty—a Fine Set of Pearly Teeth.

PRICE 2s. 9d. PER BOX.

CAUTION.—The words "ROWLANDS' ODONTO," are on the Label, and "A. ROWLAND and SONS, 20, Hatton-garden," on the Government Stamp.

Sold by them, and by Chemists and Perfumers.

TO FAMILIES PROCEEDING TO INDIA

and the COLONIES.—Owing to the difficulty experienced in procuring REALLY GOOD DRESSING-CASES, TRAVELLING and CARRIAGE-BAGS at the Colonies, Families and Ladies and Gentlemen proceeding abroad are invited to inspect the Stock of DESKS, DESPATCH-BOXES, WORK-BOXES, FINE CUTLERY, KNIVES, SCISSORS, and other FANCY ARTICLES, at 52, NEW BOND-STREET, which will prevent the annoyance so often experienced abroad in purchasing worthless exported articles.

Sole Manufacturers—WILLIAMS and Co., 52, New Bond-street, London, W.

TO PERSONS FURNISHING.

THE most varied and extensive STOCK of CABINET FURNITURE, UPHOLSTERY GOODS, BEDSTEADS, BEDDING, CHIMNEY-GLASSES, DAMASKS, CARPETS, &c., conveniently arranged for public inspection, will be found in the immense Furniture Galleries and Show-rooms of Messrs. DRUCE and Co., Nos. 58, 68, and 69, BAKER-STREET. The price is marked on every article in plain figures, that persons may make their own estimates, as importunity to purchasers is not allowed. Every article being manufactured by first-rate workmen, of the best seasoned materials, a twelve-month's warranty is given.

Purchasers are invited to visit this establishment before deciding elsewhere.

N.B.—Iron Bedsteads, 8s. 6d. each; 500 Easy Chairs and 100 Wardrobes to select from. Carpets 1s. per yard under the usual price.

* * Illustrated Books post free.

J. MAPLE and Co.'s NEW ILLUSTRATED

CATALOGUE, containing the Prices of every Article required for completely furnishing a House of any class, post free. This is the largest and most convenient Furnishing Establishment in the world. Established Twenty years.

J. MAPLE and Co., 145 and 146, Tottenham-court-road.

HANDSOME BRASS AND IRON BED-

STEADS.—HEAL and SON'S Show Rooms contain a large assortment of Brass Bedsteads, suitable both for Home use and for Tropical Climates; handsome Iron Bedsteads with Brass Mountings and elegantly Japanned; Plain Iron Bedsteads for Servants; every description of Wood Bedstead that is manufactured, in Mahogany, Birch, Walnut-tree Woods, Polished Deal and Japanned, all fitted with Bedding and Furniture complete, as well as every description of Bedroom Furniture.

HEAL AND SON'S ILLUSTRATED

CATALOGUE, containing Designs and Prices of 100 Bedsteads, as well as of 150 different articles of Bedroom Furniture, sent free by post.

HEAL and SON, Bedstead, Bedding, and Bedroom Furniture Manufacturers, 196, Tottenham-court-road, W.

FURNITURE, LOOKING-GLASSES, and PIANO-FORTES.

The Variety, Quality, and Economic Price of BARTHOLOMEW and FLETCHER'S vast Stock of New and Second-hand Cabinet Furniture demand the attention and render it the interest of every one to inspect their extensive Show-rooms before purchasing. Elegant Suites of Furniture in Damask, Velvet, Silk, Hair Seating, or Morocco, from £10. 10s.; Mahogany Telescope Dining Tables, 5 ft. long, £2. 12s. 6d.; 7 ft., £4. 8 ft., £5. 5.; 10 ft., £8. 8s. Mahogany Wardrobes, £5 to £30. Marqueterie Cabinets, from £3. 2s. to £20. 500 pieces Brussels Carpet, last year's patterns, from 2s. 4d. Every article warranted of sterling quality. An Illustrated Catalogue post free.

BARTHOLOMEW and FLETCHER, 217 and 219, TOTTENHAM-COURT-ROAD, General House Furnishers.

OBTAIN THE IMPERIAL LINEN COM-

PANY'S PRICE LIST, sent free by post, and never buy Household Linens or Family Drapery of any kind without first consulting this useful manual, as you will by it learn to save one-third your outlay, secure first-class goods from the first-class makers, and be in pocket all profits intervening between the producer and consumer.

The THREE-GUINEA SAMPLE PARCEL, containing One rich Handkerchief double Damask Table-cloth, to dine ten persons, usually £1. 1s.

One very large pair fine Witney Blankets, usually 17s. 6d.

One pair fine wide Russia Sheets, usually 16s. 9d.

One pair magnificent Embroidered Swiss Curtains, usually 19s. 6d.

Half-a-dozen rich Damask Dinner Napkins, usually 10s. 6d.

One elegant Marsella Bed-quilt, welshed, usually 13s. 6d.

Six Marsella Toilet Covers, fringed, usually 9s. 6d.

One bundle Royal Turkish Towels, fringed, usually 12s. 6d.; and

One dozen fine French Cambric Handkerchiefs, usually 10s. 6d.

All of which will be forwarded to any part on receipt of three guineas.

N.B.—Other articles, of same value, may be substituted, if desired.—Post-office orders payable at Old Cavendish-street.

Bankers—St. SAMUEL SCOTT & Co.

Address—THE IMPERIAL LINEN COMPANY,

53, WIGMORE STREET, CAVENDISH SQUARE, LONDON.

Manager, JAMES THOMAS.

BRITISH COLLEGE OF HEALTH,

THE MORISONIAN SYSTEM OF MEDICINE.

1. The vital principle is in the blood.
2. Everything in the body is derived from the blood.
3. All constitutions are radically the same.
4. All diseases arise from impurity of the blood.
5. Pain and disease have the same origin.
6. From the intimate connection subsisting between mind and body, the health of the one must conduce to the serenity of the other.
7. Proper vegetable purgation is the only medicinal mode for effectually eradicating disease.
8. The discovery of a vegetable medicine was a desideratum.
9. This discovery was made by James Morison, the Hygienist, who also proclaimed "the medical liberty of the subject."

Morison's Medicines are sold by the appointed agents.

NO ICE REQUIRED to produce common

Ice, Dessert Ices, to Ice Wines, &c., in SIMPSON'S NEW PATENT FREEZING VASE.—This Apparatus is, without exception, the most efficacious, simple, and portable ever produced. By using the Patentee's Freezing Powder, Dessert Ices and Common Ice can be frozen by the most inexperienced, in a few minutes, on the table, or in an invalid's apartment. Residents and travellers in hot climates will find it invaluable, as it produces that luxury—Ice!—at command and only occupies the space of an ordinary hat-case.

Prices: one pint, Four Guineas; three pints, Five Guineas. Freezing Powder, 34s. per cwt. Freezing Pots, Ice Moulds, &c., &c.

SODA-WATER, &c.—Use the "Seltzogene"

(solely of one piece of glass), the only portable apparatus that has the patronage of the medical profession, who recommend it for making pure Soda-water and Aërated Beverages. Metallic impregnation is avoided, there is no leakage, and it is not affected by hot climates.

Prices: two pints, 23s.; three pints, 30s.; five pints, 42s. Powders (forty charges in box), 8s., 10s., and 16s. each. References and descriptive catalogues sent free.

GEO. SIMPSON'S Patent Depot, 315c, Oxford-street, London.

PULVERMACHER'S GALVANIC ANTI-

RHEUMATIC CHAIN-BANDS FOR SELF-APPLICATION.—Unequaled and certain as are the effects of the Chain-Bands in all kinds of Rheumatic Pains, still more remarkable and speedy is the relief they afford in Neuralgia, Tic Doloréus, Head and Toothache, &c. Even the most inveterate cases of Paralysis, Epilepsy, Deafness, Gout, Sciatica, Lumbago, Indigestion, Nervous Debility, etc., disappear in a comparatively short time. Prospectuses, recording a vast number of private cures and extracts from numbers of scientific works, sent free. Chain-Bands, 5s., 10s., 15s., 22s., according to power.

J. L. PULVERMACHER and Co., 73, Oxford-street, adjoining the Princess's Theatre, London, and all Chemists.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT and PILLS.—

WARNING TO MOTHERS.—Nothing is more distressing than to read in the weekly bills of mortality the number of deaths caused by measles, scarletina, and diphtheria. All having the care of children should know that Holloway's Ointment, well rubbed upon the throat and chest, will arrest the most untoward symptoms and preserve the little sufferer. No nursery should be without this cooling and healing unguent, which can never be wrongly applied, but must always be productive of benefit, whatever the nature or duration of the disease. When practicable, Holloway's Pills should be administered in all constitutional complaints, if they can be given without irritating the patient. The effect of both Pills and Ointment is constant and certain.

DR. BUCHAN'S PATENT SUGAR-

COATED VEGETABLE PILLS, VEGETABLE SKIN OINTMENT, and CONCENTRATED VEGETABLE ESSENCE for Purifying the Blood, Regulating the Bowels, and Removing Vitiated Humours, Bilems and Liver Complaints, Rheumatism, Gout, Scorbatic Affections, Costiveness, Skin Eruptions, deep-seated Ulcers, and all Diseases of the Nervous System, from whatever causes, &c., affording at once a new lease of life to the sickly and aged of both sexes, whilst in addition imparting a beautiful and clear complexion, so anxiously sought for by all. Proved by the sworn testimonies made before the Lord Mayor of London, and sitting Magistrates. Sold by Buchan and Co., Patentees, 22, Newman-street, Oxford-street, London, W., and all chemists in town and country. Prices:—Pills, per box, 1s. 13d., 2s. 9d., and 11s.; Ointment, per pot, 1s. 13d., and 2s. 9d.; Essence, per bottle, 11s. or family bottle containing four times that quantity, 33s. Agents:—Barclay, 75, Farringdon-street; J. Singer, 150, Oxford-street; Hannay, 63, Oxford-street; Butler, 4, Cheapside; Hooper, 43, King William-street, London Bridge; R. Howden, 78, Gracechurch-street; Prout, 229, Strand, &c., &c.

Just published, gratis, or post free for one stamp, to be had of all Agents, and at 22, Newman-street, Extracts from Dr. Buchan's Work, entitled, BUCHAN'S DOMESTIC MEDICINES, being a Book of Reference, containing instructions for the cure of every ailment incidental to man, woman, or child.

THE MAGNESIAN EFFERVESCENT is the most agreeable and effective remedy in all cases of Gout, Rheumatism, Acidity, Heartburn, Indigestion, and Biliary Affection, Nausea, Fever, Thirst, and Sea-sickness. It is highly recommended by the profession, and will be found especially valuable to those going to India or travelling in warm climates; as a mild and efficacious saline aperient it stands unequalled, and will be found peculiarly adapted for delicate females and children. To be obtained through all respectable chemists, and wholesale from Messrs. BARCLAY, Farringdon-street (put up in stoppered bottles at 4s. 6d. for India), and smaller size at 1s. 13d. and 2s. 9d.

Prepared only by EDWARD PRICHARD, Chemist, 10, Vigo-street, Regent-street, W.

DINNEFORD'S PURE FLUID MAG-

NESIA has been, during twenty-five years, sanctioned by the medical profession and universally accepted by the public as the best remedy for Acidity of the Stomach, Heartburn, Headache, Gout, and Indigestion. As a mild aperient it is admirably adapted for ladies and children, and it is invaluable in warm climates. Manufactured with the utmost attention to strength and purity by DINNEFORD and Co., 172, New Bond-street, London; and sold by all respectable chemists throughout the Empire.

KEATING'S PERSIAN INSECT POWDER.

UNRIVALLED IN EXTERMINATING

MOSQUITOES, Fleas, Bugs, Flies, Beetles, Cockroaches, and every description of Insect infesting Animals and Poultry. Protects Clothes, &c., from Moths. ONLY INJURIOUS TO INSECT LIFE. See that the name of THOMAS KEATING, 79, St. Paul's Churchyard, is on every Packet.

Sold by all Agents of KEATING'S COUGH LOZENGES.

BARKER'S GRAND PICTURE,
"THE RELIEF OF LUCKNOW,"

IS NOW ON VIEW AT
HAYWARD AND LEGGATT'S, 79, CORNHILL.

Admission Free, on presentation of Private Address Card.

A TEXT-BOOK FOR PUBLIC EXAMINATIONS.

This day is published, in royal 8vo., highly illustrated with Plates and Cuts, price 10s. 6d.,

ELEMENTARY PRINCIPLES OF FORTIFICATION.

BY J. T. HYDE, M.A.,

Professor of Fortification and Artillery, Royal Indian Military College, Addiscombe.

London: WM. H. ALLEN AND Co., 7, Leadenhall-street, E.C.

This day is published, in 8vo., price 15s.,

THE HISTORY OF CHESS;

FROM THE TIME OF THE
EARLY INVENTION OF THE GAME IN INDIA,
TILL THE PERIOD OF

ITS ESTABLISHMENT IN WESTERN AND CENTRAL EUROPE;

Containing, from Oriental Sources, a correct Description of the

CHATURANGA,

OR PRIMÆVAL GAME OF THE ANCIENT HINDUS;

Also, a full Explanation of the Theory and Practice of the

SHATRANJ,

OR MEDIÆVAL GAME, AS PLAYED BY THE PERSIANS, THE ARABS, AND THE EUROPEANS, DOWN TO THE BEGINNING OF THE SIXTEENTH CENTURY OF OUR ÆRA;

The whole Illustrated with numerous Notes and Diagrams.

TO WHICH IS ADDED,

AN APPENDIX,

CONTAINING ESSAYS AND DISCUSSIONS ON THE GAME FROM VARIOUS SOURCES.

BY DUNCAN FORBES, LL.D.,

Professor of Oriental Languages in King's College, London; Member of the Royal Asiatic Society of Great Britain and Ireland; and Author of several Works on the Hindustani and Persian Languages.

ROMANIZED HINDUSTANI.

This day is published, in Royal 8vo., price £1. 16s.,

A DICTIONARY:
HINDUSTANI-ENGLISH AND ENGLISH-HINDUSTANI
(In the Roman or English Characters.)

By DUNCAN FORBES, LL.D.

A New Edition, Revised throughout, in 18mo., price 3s. 6d.,

HINDUSTANI MANUAL.
(In the Roman or English Characters.)

A Pocket Companion for those who visit India in any capacity, consisting of a Compendious Grammar, Exercises, Dialogues on Familiar Subjects, and a Vocabulary.

By DUNCAN FORBES, LL.D.

DR. FORBES' WORKS ARE NOW USED IN ALL THE COLLEGES AND GOVERNMENT SCHOOLS IN INDIA.

London: WM. H. ALLEN AND Co., 7, Leadenhall-street, E.C.

LONDON:—Printed by RICHARD KINDER, Printer, at his Printing Office, Angel-court, Skinner-street, in the Parish of St. Sepulchre; and published by JAMES PEARCE ALLEN, 7, Leadenhall-street, both in the County of Middlesex.—September 29, 1860.

ALLEN'S INDIAN MAIL

AND OFFICIAL GAZETTE

FROM

BRITISH & FOREIGN INDIA, CHINA, & ALL PARTS OF THE EAST

(WITH THIS PAPER "THE INDIAN NEWS" IS NOW INCORPORATED.)

VOL. XVIII.—No. 457.]

LONDON, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1860.

[PRICE 6d.]

CONTENTS.

SUMMARY AND REVIEW	729
BENGAL:—
Chaos and Old Night	730
Agriculture in the Punjab	731
Miscellaneous	731
Shipping and Commercial	734
MADRAS:—
Affairs in Burmah	734
Miscellaneous	734
BOMBAY:—
A Cantonment Dispute at Mhow	735
Miscellaneous	735
Shipping and Commercial	736
Ceylon	737
THE STRAITS	737
OFFICIAL GAZETTE	737
DOMESTIC	742
ORIGINAL ARTICLES:—
The Way the Money Goes	743
Surfout, point de Zèle!	743
ROM:—
Shipping and Domestic	744
Arrivals, &c., reported at the India Office	744
H.M.'s British Regiments stationed in India	745
STOCKS AND SECURITIES	745

DATES OF ADVICES.

Bengal	Sept. 2	Burmah (Rangoon)	Aug. 18
Madras	" 3	Bombay	Sept. 11
Agra	" 4	Ceylon	" 1
China (Hong-Kong)	August 10.

MAILS TO INDIA.

Mails to India and China, via Marseilles, are despatched from London as follows, viz.—Those for Bombay packets, on the evenings of the 3rd and 18th of each month; and those for Calcutta packets (including mails for Ceylon, Madras, and China), on the evenings of the 10th and 26th of each month. When any of these dates falls on a Sunday, the mails are made up on the following evening.

Letters and Newspapers can be forwarded to any part of India via Bombay and Marseilles, and in most cases will reach their destination some days sooner than if despatched by the following Calcutta mail. The Bombay mails via Southampton, however, are no longer available for the transmission of Letters or Newspapers to the Madras Presidency. Mails for the Mediterranean and all parts of India, except the Bombay Presidency, are despatched via Southampton on the mornings of the 4th and 20th, or, when either of these dates falls on Sunday, upon the previous evening.

Mails for the Mediterranean, the Presidency of Bombay, and Upper or North-West Provinces of Bengal, are despatched via Southampton, on the 12th and 27th of the month, except when these dates fall on Sunday, in which case they are forwarded on the previous evening.

POSTAGE.

Via Southampton (pre-payment compulsory), letters under

1 oz. 0s. 6d.	2 oz. 2s. 0d.	4 oz. 4s. 0d.
1 oz. 1s. 0d.	3 oz. 3s. 0d.	5 oz. 5s. 0d.

Books, with the ends of the covers open (not exceeding 3 lbs. in weight), if sent via Southampton, under 1 lb. 4d.; under 1 lb. 8d.; under 1 lb. 1s. 4d.; under 1 lb. 2s.; under 2 lbs. 2s. 6d.; under 2 lbs. 3s. 4d.; and under 3 lbs. 4s. Postage-stamps must be affixed.

Via Marseilles (pre-payment compulsory), letters under

1 oz. 0s. 6d.	1 oz. 1s. 9d.	1 lb. 0s. 3d.
1 oz. 1s. 0d.	1 oz. 2s. 0d.	1 lb. 0s. 3d.

Newspapers for the East Indies, when not exceeding 4 oz. 2d. each; when above 4 oz. and not exceeding 8 oz. 3d. each—an additional penny being charged for every additional 4 oz. or fraction thereof. For all countries or places eastward of Suez, the charge is 2d., whatever the weight of the newspaper.

Books under 1 lb. 6d.; under 1 lb. 1s.; and for every additional 1 lb. an additional 1s.

The Mails for China are despatched at the same rate of postage as those to India; but must be pre-paid.

SUMMARY AND REVIEW.

THE Bombay Mail of the 11th September, just come to hand, is, fortunately for India, devoid of any very startling intelligence. Tranquillity, scarcely disturbed by robber raids, prevails throughout the peninsula, and not a whisper reaches us of the evil doings of Bheels, Arabs, or Kohillas. At Aden, indeed, some slight disturbance appears to have taken place, but of too insignificant a character to demand more than a passing allusion.

In the absence of violent commotions and wholesale murders the Indian papers accept with gratitude the subject for philippics furnished by Sir Charles Wood's "European Forces Bill." The arguments, however—as well as the invectives which they employ, are already familiar to the British public, though now carefully furbished up and made to look "as good as new."

The outcry against the Income-tax appears to have died away: the Anglo-Indian community, however clamorous for a time, being accustomed to subside speedily into quietude, and exhibit an Oriental resignation. Their patience on one point—the double payment of the tax by fund-holders—may possibly be accounted for by a conviction on their part that such a gross act of spoliation will not be permitted by the British Legislature. It is certainly opposed to both justice and common sense that any one should pay twice over on the income he may derive from Indian funds or railways. The Calcutta law-makers seem to regard an Income-tax as identical with a Capitation-tax, and accordingly assess the individual, rather than his net receipts from purely Indian property. We may hereafter have something to say upon this subject, but for the present we shall content ourselves with the expression of a hope—would that we could say, of a belief!—that the authorities will of themselves see the fallacy of their reasonings and the injustice of their acts. Otherwise, although they may not be competent to lose India altogether, it will seem as if their object in this and other recent measures was to ascertain how near they could bring the vessel of the State to the verge of a maelstrom without its being dragged into the gulf, and its shattered fragments whirled round and round, in mad confusion, in the raging waters.

The report of the Indigo Commission was sent in to the Lieutenant-governor of Bengal on the 27th of August, as his Honour was on the point of setting out for Serajunge. It is stated that the commissioners were not unanimous. The president, Mr. Seton Karr, the Rev. Mr. Sale, and Baboo Chunder Mohun, are averse to any innovations, and think that the civil courts, as already constituted, suffice for the administration of justice between planters and ryots. On the other hand, Mr. Temple and Mr. Fergusson recommend the institution of prompt and vigorous measures "to dissipate the delusions of the ryots as to indigo and rent, and that a summary procedure should be available to both planter and ryot in the case of bona fide contracts." The object of Mr. Grant's tour is to inquire into matters connected with this troublesome indigo question, and also to inspect the line of railway—the professional knowledge of Captain J. P. Beadle, consulting engineer to Government, having been secured for the latter purpose.

The operation of the Stamp Act, as regards Bills of Exchange, has been postponed until the 1st of January. Cheques, or bills payable on demand, however, do not benefit by this delay, but must bear a stamp, adhesive or otherwise, of the value of one anna. The Licence Bill has changed its name for that of Certificate Bill, and will not affect any parties who are subject to Income-tax—a paternal Government being content with the fleece, and generously dispensing with the scrapings of the hoofs.

The accounts from the North-West Provinces are still very distressing as regards the sufferings of the natives from famine and cholera. The latter scourge has fallen heavily upon H.M.'s 71st Highlanders, stationed at Morar, of whom seventy-six were buried in a single month. Altogether, ninety Europeans were cut off at that station within the above period.

Sir Hugh Rose is apparently resolved to carry out to the fullest extent his programme for the improvement of military discipline in India. Elsewhere we give his Excellency's general order on the subject of leave, which requires that every officer applying for leave to Europe shall send in, at the same time, a statement of his services in the field, and of his employment since the commencement of his professional career.

Sir William Mansfield is entering upon the same path, but with less judgment, if, at least, it be true that he has issued instructions to all commanding officers in the Bombay army "to remove summarily, and discharge with a gratuity of three months' pay, every man whom they considered unfit for the service, either on physical, mental, or moral grounds." As such a proceeding would be both unjust and impolitic, we hope that the order in question has been misquoted by our Bombay contemporaries, and shall expect to see a contradiction of the report in the next batch of papers we may receive from that presidency.

We have good reason to believe that the Governorship of Madras has been offered to Colonel Sir W. T. Denison, K.C.B., at present Governor-general of the Australian Colonies. It is also stated, in generally well-informed circles, that Mr. Wilson's successor will be Mr. Laing, M.P. for the Wick Burghs, and Secretary to the Treasury, a gentleman distinguished for a large practical knowledge of financial matters. The Calcutta Council have at last awakened to the fact that the death of the Right Hon. James Wilson was a serious loss, and that it would be at least decent to say something about it. Sir Bartle Frere accordingly speaks of the lamented gentleman as "him whom they all had such cause to mourn, and who would be and was mourned for by every right-minded Englishman throughout the country, and who, when the news reaches home, will be mourned for as in England they had already mourned our other great men, our Havelocks, Nicholsons, and Peels." He further alluded to "the mighty dead" as "a man who had had peculiar privileges with regard to finance." Sir Bartle Frere may be an excellent pro-Consul, but he is evidently no orator.

THE BOMBAY AND MAURITIUS MAILS.

The Delta, with the heavy portion of the mails, was to leave Malta at midnight, the 1st, and may be expected at Southampton on the 10th inst.

The Singapore brought the mails to Suez, and arrived there on the 27th Sept.

OUTWARD MAILS.

The Ottawa, with the London mails of the 27th August and 3rd September, reached Aden on the 19th ult., with her main shaft broken. The Norna went on with her mails and passengers to Bombay.

The Benares, with the Indian mails, &c., of 12th and 18th August, reached Bombay on the 7th September.

The Company's steamship Orissa, which left Southampton on the 7th July, arrived at Bombay on the 7th September.

The Colombo, with the Indian mails of the 4th and 10th August, arrived at Calcutta on the 10th September (three days early). The Ripon, from Southampton 20th September, arrived at Malta on the 30th, at 4 P.M.

The Vectis, from Marseilles 28th September, reached Malta on the 30th, at 11 P.M., and left for Alexandria at 2 A.M. next morning.

Casualties by Death in the Armies of India reported since last Publication.

BENGAL.—Col. Samuel L. Thornton, Bengal Invalid Establishment, at Meerut, aged 67, Aug. 14.

H.M.'s FORCES.—Capt. J. F. Baxter, H.M.'s 56th Regt., rather suddenly, at Ahmednagar, Aug. 20.

BOMBAY.—Capt. H. F. Davies, 29th Bombay N.I., at Kaira, Sept. 3; Lieut. Edmund L. Bennett, 9th Bombay N.I., at Mhow, Aug. 29.

MADRAS.—Lieut. Robert W. Brice, 1st Madras Eur. Regt., at Bangalore, Aug. 28; Capt. Grant, 9th M.N.I., at Jaulnah, Sept. 4; Capt. John Dimshide, 2nd Madras Inf., at sea, June 18; Brig. Anisack, Com. of Artillery, Aug. 31, at the Mount, Madras; Capt. Robert Menzies, 1st Madras Eur. Regt., of cholera, at Bangalore, Aug. 4.

Passengers by the present Mail.

For MARSEILLES.—From MALTA.—Mr. and Miss Spottiswood. From ALEXANDRIA.—Gen. Werderevsky. From BOMBAY.—Col. and Mrs. Hart, Mr. Ellis, Mr. Bone, Mrs. Forde, Maj. Drury, Capt. Battye, Bapt. Laurie, Lieut. Loughton.

Expected at Southampton.

Per str. Delta, Oct. 10.—From ALEXANDRIA.—Miss Newson. From HONG KONG.—Lieut. Mackenzie. From BOMBAY.—Mr. and Mrs. Remington, Mr. Ware, Mr. Gray, Mr. Teed, Rev. D. Moore, Dr. Johnstone, Mr. and Mrs. Hore, Mrs. Faunce, Maj. Drury's two children, Lieut. and Mrs. Heisch and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Leake and two children, Mr. Anderson, Capt. Margesson, Mr. and Mrs. Shaw and three children, Lieut. and Mrs. Burgess, Capt. G. C. Burne.

BENGAL.

CHAOS AND OLD NIGHT.

It was no trifling matter that Lord Dalhousie shrunk from as a difficulty not to be overcome. Yet when our merchants applied for the production of annual estimates for each future year, the thing was pronounced impossible. And so it was under the circumstances, and with the machinery then at command. Of English financiers—both of whom proposed this as one of the earliest tasks to be undertaken, and which no doubt under them would have been accomplished successfully—Sir Charles Trevelyan has been lost to us by his own insufferable indiscretion, and Mr. Wilson has been removed by the hand of Providence. Within competency, vacillation and uncertainty on every side of us, chaos seems come again, and we know not where to look for a deliverer. On the verge, as we flattered ourselves, of having order brought from confusion, we had begun to look back on the financial mysteries and bewilderingments spread over the past twenty years, as things all but incredible, a return of which there would be no longer any reason to apprehend. Yet, here we are, near the close of 1860, in the midst of greater difficulties, than ever yet beset our path, enhanced by the very outward step that has been made for their removal, with no more financial talent at command, than that for which the simple accounting of 16 years ago proved too much.

In June, 1842, Lord Ellenborough was horrified at the enormous increase in the civil expenditure of a million sterling. He appointed a committee, assuming that the waste was owing to the extravagance of his pet aversion—the Civil Service, when it turned out that the excess was due exclusively to charges on account of the Afghan and Chinese wars. In November, 1841, the Supreme Government assured the world, and to all appearance for the purpose of misleading the public, that the expenditure of the years 1839-40, when we were in the thick of our troubles with Afghanistan, exceeded our income by only 43 lakhs. In 1843 Sir Robert Peel on introducing the Income-tax showed that in the year ending 1840 they amounted to two and a-half crores, and he estimated the deficit of 1840-41 at about the same amount; that is, about six times the deficiency set down by the Supreme Government. In 1843 the Bengal financiers gave out that within six months of our troops crossing the Sutlej from the north funds had accumulated in the treasury to the extent of above three crores, and that the old Five per Cent. Loan was about to be closed. The Parliamentary accounts show us that the alleged surplus was considerably under the actual deficiency, and the Five per Cent. Loan was accordingly kept open till 1853, when it was closed by mistake, Government, instead of being able to pay off their old debts, being unable to make the two ends anything like meet. In March, 1855, what was called the Public Works Loan was opened for 2½ millions sterling, and it now turned out that, in place of the Treasury being gorged with bullion, there had, in June 1853, been seventeen millions cash balances in hand, and that these by May 1855 had been reduced to eight millions—a sum not sufficient to carry on the Government of the empire. Yet nobody had the least idea that such a state of matters as this was hurrying on until the crisis arrived, and the inference naturally would have been, that as we had saved three millions sterling betwixt September 1852 and July 1853, as asserted, we had been going on saving a couple of millions annually at least. In 1857, when the first burst of the mutinies reached home, the Chairman of the India House, Mr. Ross Mangles, stated that whatever might befall India, there was at all events no fear of want of money—Lord Dalhousie having left an accumulated surplus of fourteen millions behind him. The old Bengal civilian obviously did not comprehend the difference betwixt an accumulated balance in the Imperial treasury, and the cash balances in the local treasuries preserved for the current charges of the districts around, and which, when at their maximum of eighteen millions in 1843, still left it imperative on us to borrow three millions. When the reports of the Parliamentary Committee on Indian affairs were published in 1852-53 no man could make head or tail of the accounts. The statements from Bombay and Madras were so thoroughly conflicting, that it was nothing unusual to find whole lakhs left out in entries of one presidency which occupied the most prominent place in the returns of the other, when the two in point of fact ought to have corresponded with each other. The personal establishment of the Governor of Bombay was set down at some lakh of rupees, in addition to his salary and perquisites of a lakh and a half more, his honour of Madras having been made to appear in the accounts to settle this little bill out of his own pocket. In May 1855 the Supreme Government were taken by surprise by learning one fine morning that there was not as much money in the treasury at Lahore as would meet two months of the military charges of the Punjab. They telegraphed to Bombay to send off by Kurrahee instantly every penny the treasury could spare, and accordingly the castle vaults were cleared on the instant—a crore and a half requiring to be transmitted through Sind at the height of the inundation, when its transport was more than usually tardy and uncertain. It was something more even than chance that Bombay had the money to spare, and a piece of singular good fortune that a secretary was on the spot who had courage enough to take the responsibility on himself of giving all orders.

The incapacity of our financiers to see into the middle of next week made the Government of India run the narrowest possible risk of appearing insolvent in the eyes of the Sikhs. Sir Charles Trevelyan, in his evidence in 1852, stated that no merchant could have ever passed through the Insolvent Court who laid books before the commissioners kept as were those of the East India Company. In the speech of Mr. Wilson, in introducing the Income-tax Bill, such fearful discrepancies were pointed out that it appeared we had really no means of determining our actual liabilities. Of one thing we were quite sure, that if they differed from the sum set down, the difference was to our disadvantage. In the balance-sheet for 1850, corrected up to 1860, it appeared that the railway dividends of £833,300 had been omitted from the expenditure, and that in the military department the commissariat charges at Bombay and Madras, amounting to £900,000, had been overlooked, while the home charges were £640,490 in excess of the separate account. An error was detected of no less than £775,000 in the sum the new tax was estimated to realise. In looking at the past, it need be no marvel that our whole financial system continued in a state of perennial confusion. The Court of Directors, stripped of all substantial power in the administration of India, regarded it only as a source of patronage and of emoluments for their friends. The accountancies and auditorships, being appointments of much responsibility, were of course highly paid. But then the Act of Parliament confined them to members of the Covenanted Civil Service, and they accordingly were nominated, when of sufficiently high standing, without the most remote regard to qualification. Had the gentlemen holding the appointments of sub-treasurer, civil auditor and accountant-general, been all clubbed together they could not have summed up or checked a butler's bill, or told the debtor from the creditor side of the ledger. Matters have of late become greatly improved, by confining those to the Revenue department who have selected this as a sphere for their future exertions. But accounting is a thing requiring a long and tedious training, and a large amount of experience in subordinate departments before an accountant can be placed at the head of affairs. For this training no provision whatever was made at Haileybury, nor does it form a test of qualification under the competitive system, and the result is, in the majority of cases, the accomplishments of the head of the department must be very inferior indeed to those of his subordinate.

Now, in the foulest financial weather in which the vessel of the State ever sailed—with mists and squalls, and tempests, and thunder in the air—with rocks and shoals, and breakers and quicksands on every side, we have no pilot amongst us who gives the slightest indication of capacity for weathering the storm.—Friend of India.

AGRICULTURE IN THE PUNJAB.

The state of agriculture, the prospects of tea planting, of flax cultivation, and the development of the resources of the Punjab generally, is a subject of paramount importance.

Some years ago the Punjab Agricultural Society instituted a series of inquiries regarding the state and practice of agriculture in that country. The result of the inquiries proved that with the exception of Rawulpindee, the countries Trans Indus, and the hill districts of Kote Kangra and Simla, the face of the country was one uniformly level plain, varied only by depressions several miles in length forming the five rivers, which flow through the plains and unite in Siude. These low lands are full of fine alluvial deposit, and are enriched by partial inundations every year. They are tracts of great natural fertility, and abundance of the best water for irrigation is obtained a very few feet from the surface. The ground between one basin and the other of adjoining rivers is higher by several feet, and comparatively dry and unproductive. Portions toward the south are either not cultivated at all, or are barren and covered with jungle and sandy waste, yet the soil is friable, and has for the most part a fair admixture of loam and sand, requiring the command of water only to fit it for the highest cultivation. Nearing the hills, and eastward of a line drawn from the point of junction of the Sutlej and Beas rivers through Umritsur, Wuzerabad and Jhelum, the whole surface is a scene of uninterrupted fertility and richness, to the base of the lowest range of hills which bound the plains to the north and east.

The cultivated products of the countries, though such differences exist in the levels of the surface, are much the same in all. Wheat, barley, sugarcane, maize and millet are the staples of the whole country, with some cotton, hemp, tobacco, pulses, and vegetables of several sorts.

We will not now allude to the modes of cultivation adopted by the natives; our object is to refer to the late report of the Punjab Government on the improvement which has lately taken place in the cultivation and preparation of land. The mutiny seriously affected some portions of the country; several villages were entirely destroyed, others partially or wholly deserted, and for a time the fields were left untillied. But matters soon returned to the state they were in before the troubles. The villagers flocked back to their residences, the plough was at its wonted work again, and cultivation began to extend beyond its former boundaries and to encroach on the jungles. The report states that in one district, Goozerat alone, close upon eleven thousand acres of jungle have been brought under the plough during the past year; in pergunnah Taran of the Umritsur district, there has been an increase of cultivation of upwards of five thousand acres.

Oil seeds have lately formed an object of cultivation, particularly in the Ferozepore and Mooltan district; it is grown, not for home trade, but for export to Kurrahee, where the demand is apparently increasing. The growth of tea at Holta, in the Kangra district, need only be mentioned. Cotton seems to flourish in the submontane districts, such as Umballa, Hosharpore, Goozerat and Peshawur. Flax has also been introduced and grown abundantly. Arboriculture has been carried on with some vigour in the districts of Lahore, Goojranwalla and Goordaspore, where an aggregate of near 150,000 trees has been planted by the district officers.

It is gratifying to hear that the natives are beginning to take an interest in the cultivation of trees, several new groves of mangoes and other useful trees having been planted by the zemindars in the Trans and Cis Sutlej States. The Punjab has always been noted for the absence of trees of large growth; this is owing to two causes, the appropriation of saplings for purposes of building during the Sikh rule, and also to the devastation caused to groves and trees wherever found, by contending armies, before the annexation of the country by the British. Efforts have for many years been made to replace the forests that once existed, and encouragement in rewards and titles have been held out by the administration to all who will plant a grove or assist in improving the irrigation of the country. The happiest results have followed these efforts, and the most encouraging is now recorded in the report, that the zemindars are lending their aid to the good causes.

The destruction of forests is said to cause a cessation, or very considerable diminution in the fall of rain in a locality. We may suppose, on the same argument, that an increase of tree cultivation will increase the fall of rain in a locality where before the rain fell but seldom. The fall of rain in the Punjab is exceedingly small. We learn from the report that during the past six years the greatest annual fall was twenty-six inches in 1856, and the smallest, eighteen inches in 1857. It is to be hoped that the anticipated result from the planting of trees will be realised, by which means the labours of the husbandman will be greatly assisted, and his dependance on well irrigation diminished. The introduction of canal irrigation, more generally than was the case during the Sikh domination, has been a great assistance to the cultivator, and has brought a vast amount of land under the plough which had hitherto been lying fallow.—North West Gazette.

MISCELLANEOUS.

PHILIBHET, August 30.—The price of grain has again risen here, to-day it is selling at 9 seers the rupee, and as the rains apparently have left off, the khurreef crops, which were looking well until this drought took place, will suffer much; I am afraid there is every sign of a famine. A letter from Seetapoor, dated 24th, mentions a rise in the price of articles in that station; ottah sells at 13 seers, rice 13 seers, dal 11 seers, and ghee 1½ seers per rupee. The dead body of a man was brought in here a few days ago; it was found in a nullah not far from this; the man had been strangled and thrown there. Two men of a village not far from the spot have been confined on circumstantial evidence. The property of a Mussulman, by name Khan Mahomed, has been confiscated, as he is suspected of being one of those who plundered Mr. Carmichael's property when the disturbances broke out here. You may have heard that Captain A. Orr, late of the King of Oude's service, and Deputy-Commissioner of Fyzabad, has left the service, a grant of land to the value of Rs. 2,800, of which he gets Rs. 1,400 clear, having been given to him; his estate is in the Roy Bareilly district, and belonged to Ram Buksh, of Doondeah Kherah, whom Captain Orr was the means of capturing, and Sewdursun Singh, Talookdar of Chundalpoor. Captain Bunbury, also of the late Oude Police, has estates to the amount of Rs. 2,200, of which he gets half the revenue given to him; they are also in the same district as Capt. Orr's, and as the lands are the confiscated estates of Bancee Madho, of Shunkurpoor, and Kooree Soodowlee, late the property of Rajah Hindoopaul Singh, these are the only two jagheers given to Europeans out of the Seetapoor district in Oude. I fancy the relief is entirely knocked on the head, occasioned by Mr. Wilson's death, and the greater financial embarrassments which are dreaded therefrom; fresh orders have been issued to the Public Works and other departments, directing all works of any magnitude to be suspended for the present, and that the expenditure connected with those of a smaller nature that are permitted to be continued, as well as the drawing of any fresh estimates, should be accomplished with the strictest economy. This order, if true, would seem to corroborate the statement relative to there being no relief this year. Snakes continue as plentiful as ever, although since the 1st of the month 189 cobras alone have been killed, and bought here for ready money. I saw one to-day which measured 5-10, the largest I have ever seen.

PESHAWUR, August 29.—A strange case of attempt at bribery has just been related to me. It would appear that an officer in one of H. M.'s regiments at present here, found the beef supplied by the Government contractor for the troops such very poor stuff as to be under the necessity of rejecting it on three or four consecutive occasions that he was officer of the day. The contractor undertook through an under-strapper to conciliate the officer, by offering his wife a present of Rs. 60! The lady, of course, acquainted her husband with the fellow's proceeding, and the unfortunate tool, not the principal, was sentenced to four months' imprisonment by the magistrate before whom he was very properly at once brought. The Invaliding Boards are to begin their labours without delay. The number of time-expired men, and others claiming their discharge, will be very large. I hear of no ten years' soldiers enlisting again, while numerous cases of twenty-one years' men claiming their discharge are reported. In some instances fifteen years and upwards of service are thrown away. This is not to be ascribed to any dissatisfaction with the interior management of their regiments, but to the harassing restrictions recently enjoined by the general authorities, who should take heed before it is too late, or else our troops will soon consist of nothing but new recruits, of yesterday's importation, and old soldiers on the eve of going home to be pensioned off. I am sure that when Sir Hugh Rose receives the returns of all the limited-service men and others claiming their discharge, who will leave India this ensuing cold season, he will see the necessity of relaxing the imprudent, not to say senseless, system of discipline for the introduction of which he must be held responsible. One fact he should notice particularly; it is the very heavy proportion of non-commissioned officers who are seizing the first opportunity that presents itself of leaving the service. While on this topic, I must say I regret that the order for the assembly at Mooltan of the invalids from the Punjab makes it compulsory upon the detachments from the Peshawur division to perform the tedious march by way of Lahore, instead of allowing them to take boat at Jhelum, and float comfortably, rapidly, and cheaply, too, down to their destination. I suppose this will be done by-and-bye, when that dreadful road from Lahore to Mooltan is well bordered with graves. Among the proposed invalids is a soldier affected with a sort of madness, which he seeks to wreak upon everything in the shape of living animals! Dogs and Coolies are his particular aversion, and woe to them if they come within biting distance; of course the man enjoys a most ravenous appetite, which ten loaves of bread, with accompaniments, are said to have on one occasion been insufficient to satisfy. A black snake, nearly six feet long, was killed the other day in an old building near the beer godown. Upon being opened it was found to contain a full-grown duck, of which, epicureanlike, it had just made a feast at one gulp. The weather is improving rapidly. Yesterday afternoon a sand-storm, which lasted about twenty minutes and blew very thick, ushered in a little rain, with some thunder, and left the air so very cool that a blanket became a matter of comfort during the night.—Delhi Gazette.

THE BISHOP is expected at Bareilly in Nov., and candidates for confirmation are in the mean time to be catechised and examined in preparation for that ordinance. A new church is in prospect at that station, which it is hoped will be ready for the Bishop to consecrate. He will pay Nynee Tal a visit before deciding on a locality for the first of the hill schools.

FYZABAD, August 23.—In the course of the last week some six persons have been bitten by snakes, and for want of proper treatment not one of them has recovered, but all gone to their last account. The people of Oude, it seems to me, are quite ignorant of the treatment of snake bites, and hence I think it is chiefly owing to fear, despair, and hopelessness of any proper treatment that every victim, no matter if he is bitten by a less venomous reptile, is precipitated to otherwise avoidable death. In June last I myself saw an instance of the effect of this predominating fear in the case of a woman here who was bitten by a snake, and would have certainly died, had not a Bengalee baboo seen her at the time. This woman was bitten at 6 p.m. in a finger of her right hand, and before twelve minutes had elapsed she swooned and became senseless, which shows that it was not from the effect of poison but that of fear; for poison could not have circulated so rapidly throughout her whole frame. Just at this moment the said baboo arrived at her house, and was surprised to see her features had become pale, her eyes half shut, jaws locked, and her breathing almost imperceptible. The baboo was an orthodox Brahmin, and had great faith in "munturs," of which he knew by heart a good many, and he began to repeat them. I was in his company, and foreseeing the inevitable consequence that would result were he only to mutter his spells and do nothing else, I advised him to apply some sort of sensation, as is usually done in Bengal in such cases. He accordingly began to give her slaps on the head in addition to his munturs, and ordered five men to fan her continually with five fans. He, moreover, tied a string on her right arm, close to her shoulder, up to which place the poison had then circulated. He ascertained this circulation of poison from the fact of the hairs of her arm being loosened from their roots, and capable of being taken out at the least touch of the fingers. Besides the above, I gave the baboo two bits of roots of a certain plant which I had by me, and which a certain jogee had given me as a medicine for snake bites. The two bits were accordingly placed in her two nostrils so that she could smell them. Half-an-hour after these processes were commenced, her eyelids opened of themselves, and she came to her senses, and after half-an-hour more the heaviness which had seized her whole frame gave way, and she stood on her legs and began to walk, to the unspeakable joy and happiness of her husband and relatives, who had taken her for dead when she had swooned. After she had perfectly recovered, the baboo applied a little chunnam upon the place where the snake had bitten, and told her not to sleep for that night.—Delhi Gazette.

SIMLA, August 23.—The petition to the Lieutenant-Governor to be permitted to establish a Volunteer Rifle Corps has now upwards of a hundred signatures. It is in the course of circulation for the names of such as may not have seen it lying on the table of the "Library." The signatures of all the householders, and of almost all the old residents of Simla, are attached; among others those of our Deputy Commissioner, Lord W. M. Hay, who, by the way, has lately become a house proprietor, and of General Innes, the owner of some of the best and finest houses in the station, having perhaps the largest stake, in the shape of property, in the prosperity of Simla. After the petition has been circulated throughout the station it will be forwarded to his Honour for his sanction, of which but little doubt can be entertained, when it is manifest that the desire is so earnest and universal. It is considered advisable to procure the signatures of the ladies also, therefore a paper for that purpose is also in circulation. A meeting of the committee chosen to draw up the petition to her Majesty against the Arms Act took place on the 20th, when it was finally decided in which form the petition should be drawn up. It now remains but to engross it, to adopt a lawyer's phraseology, and then despatch it to its destination, and may it be accompanied by many of a like nature from every important station in India. The usual "Reunion" took place last evening, and was very successful; more gaiety is on the tapis in the shape of balls and theatricals, but "news" I have none to give, unless it be about the weather, but that, being at all times a dull subject, and at the present time and place a most misty, uncomfortable damp one, you will hardly thank me for troubling you with. Ah, there is another subject, I had well nigh forgotten—tea, a most important and interesting one to several persons here who desire to become tea planters, and are anxiously turning their attention to the views Government may have in inducing, or rather holding out sufficient inducement to would-be settlers to colonize. Land there is no want of, soil rich, water in abundance, climate good; and many would have come forward to purchase or lease lands for plantations, but for the apathy and supineness shown by Government towards any project which would bring an accession of Europeans unconnected with the services to settle in the land; strangely blind to the fact that this policy of colonisation and settling of our own race in India would, more than any other policy, promote the well-being of the State, establish our supremacy, add to the wealth of, and altogether place the government of the empire on a firm and solid basis.—Delhi Gazette.

THE SCHOOLMASTER ABROAD.—The Delhi Gazette publishes the following letter from a native deputy-postmaster, to his superior officer:—"Sir,—I beg to inform you as ordered Gout according Manwell No. 205 as a letter stamped from place to place and to another place Paid letter forwarded and same postage according Manwell to taken at Post Office.—Your most obedient."

THE JODHPUR SIKH HORSE ceased to exist as a corps on the 18th August. The men are to be equally divided and attached to two infantry regiments in Rajpootana.

MURREE, Aug. 18.—The lands confiscated from the rebels in 1857 have recently been sold by public auction. They comprised altogether about one hundred and ten acres, and fetched on an average Rs. 16-8 per acre. With the exception of the land in Sinddean village, all was bought by the natives. The Sinddean land of about twenty-seven acres was purchased for the Murree Brewery, and is intended for hop plantations; it lies near the fourth mile-post on the left-hand side of the new road over Mocheepoor Hill to Abbottabad. This road is being fast made, and will be a pleasant summer road, but will be shut up in winter, for the greater part of its length, by the snow.

CASHMERE.—I have never seen the most favoured regions more thoroughly brought under cultivation than those which are ruled over by the Maharajah of Cashmere. From the valley to the mountain top, on every spot which jungle or forest have left vacant, where there is soil for the ploughshare to turn up, or room for a crop to grow, the waving corn is to be found as an evidence at once of the fertility of the land, and of the will with which the people take advantage of it. Englishmen have indeed done much for the people who have been brought under their undoubtedly just rule, but it would be difficult to state in what respect the ruler of Cashmere has been wanting, or at fault, with regard to the condition of his people and subjects. Certainly, no one can detect in the fat rosy features of the labouring women who are constantly passing along the river side, or of the men who loiter lazily on its banks while their wives are at work, the signs of either that mental prostration that bears with it its own fate, or those that would tell of a people who are suffering from a sense of oppression or wrong.—Lahore Chronicle.

NON-REGULATION LAW.—The judges of the Supreme Court of Calcutta have given their decision that the act of Mr. Bayley, in refusing to allow an attorney to plead in the Civil Court the other day, was an illegal one; and that there is no law which gives a judge the power of excluding either a barrister or an attorney of her Majesty's Supreme Court from pleading before any judicial tribunal, not even in a non-regulation province.

We (Oudh Gazette) have since heard that the Calcutta bar have petitioned the Governor-general on the subject, and his Excellency has sent instructions to the local authorities here which, we think, will compel them to respect the ruling of a Court which they apparently previously treated with contempt. However they may try to screen themselves under the shadow of the Vice-regal wings, the precocious little bantling, the commission, will yet learn that the Supreme Court is, in legal matters, of higher power than his Excellency himself.

BAREILLY, August 22.—We cannot now complain of a want of rain, for we have had an abundance for the last week, which promises to continue yet awhile. Provisions continue dear; how to account for this I do not know, unless we attribute it to the taxes, which like most evils are more horrible in anticipation than in realisation. The Commissioner has gone to Moradabad, to preside at the special commission for confiscated estates. The Road and Ferry Fund Committee, of whose existence there was some uncertainty, arising from the disgraceful state of roads, bridges, &c., throughout the province, excepting, perhaps, the Peeleebheet Division, have awakened from their lethargy, caused by unknown circumstances, and have decided on measures which, if carried out, will testify not only to their existence, but to their usefulness and efficiency. Roads to be repaired; Kuch roads to be metalled; and dilapidated bridges to be substantially rebuilt; we may soon expect to have gharry communication with Agra and Meerut, and to receive our papers and letters at least a day earlier than we do. I would draw attention to a slight omission, which, in some measure, is detrimental to the efficiency of the executive part of the duties of the committee. Our civil officials have much to engage their attention; the commissioner, besides the administration of the province, frequently has special and extraneous duties to attend to; the magistrate and his assistants have as much as they can do to afford satisfaction to Government for the discharge of their legitimate work; it then becomes imperative with them to avail themselves of every assistance which circumstances throw in their way for the general improvement of their district. Canal and railway officers of this province should, as in other provinces, be members of the committee, their professional knowledge, and the perambulatory nature of their avocations, specially recommend them as invaluable members for such committees. As anticipated by me (Allen's Indian Mail, Sept. 19), the kotwal, who does not appear to be popular with the community, either civil or military, has been reprimanded for his arbitrary assumption of authority, and the policeman who struck the elephant dismissed. Our police require much looking after. It has, since the mutiny, increased to an inordinate bulk, and been invested with an importance formerly unknown; and the consequence is, that more or less at every station there is a cry against it for officious interference, a haughtiness of demeanour, and an uncontrollable inclination to display their brief authority. An occasional rub like that administered by our magistrate will have a most salutary effect.—Delhi Gazette.

BUNDLECUND, August 19.—Sickness is rife in Bundelcund, and it is anticipated a very unhealthy season will result from the capricious weather we have had this year. Her Majesty's 89th, who garrison the Chundeyree district, are suffering a good deal from sickness, while the civil residents in Lullutpore are victims to fever and dysentery and rheumatism, the last a complaint peculiar to Bundelcund. At Jhansie, matters are no better. Captain Knatchbull, of the 89th Regiment, broke his collar bone from a fall off his horse a few days ago. The rebels under Davee Sing made an inroad into the Chundeyree district a few days ago, under the belief that the heavy rain would prevent their depredations being punished; the district commandant, accompanied by the assistant-commissioner, has gone out in pursuit.

ALLAHABAD, August 23.—The meeting for the formation of a rifle club at this station took place the evening before last, at Durrant's Hotel.

About forty persons were present, of all sections of the community. It was satisfactory to find that the commissioner, the officiating magistrate Mr. W. Johnstone, and Mr. R. Money, member of the Board, not only attended but took an active part in the proceedings. Mr. H. P. Le Mesurier, chief engineer of the Allahabad and Jubbulpore Railway, the originator of the project, having temporarily left the station, Mr. W. Johnstone, as officiating secretary, read out the prospectus, and explained in a few words the objects of the club, which were described to be the promotion of sociality among the Christian residents, and the encouragement of manly sport. It was distinctly explained that the club had no political signification whatever, and was not intended to be a comment on the acts of the Government. The following arrangements were then agreed to unanimously, in a series of resolutions:—An entrance fee of Rs. 10 is to be paid by all members, the money so obtained being devoted to the object of providing a prize or prizes, to be contended for at Christmas. A committee has been appointed, on the principle of representation; one member each being nominated on the part of the military, the civil, and uncovenanted services, and the railway officials. The committee are empowered to carry out the objects of the club by levying such monthly subscriptions as may be necessary to defray the cost of erecting butts, and framing rules for observance by members of the club. They are to nominate their own secretary, and to elect new members in the room of those who may, from any cause, be unable to act. The club promises well. It counts already upwards of fifty members. There is nothing else of general interest to report at present; except that the Lieutenant-governor has recently struck a well aimed blow at red-tapism, by issuing a circular on the system of correspondence, which will save the waste of an enormous quantity of foolscap paper. All formal letters, on matters requiring the orders of Government, will hereafter be forwarded, with an endorsement at the back, by the officer through whom the application is submitted; and will be returned with the orders of Government similarly recorded on the document. The only record of these orders that need be retained for reference will be the short entry in the receipt and despatch books of the several offices which it concerns.—Delhi Gazette.

MIRZA ELIHEE BUX.—A letter from Delhi mentions that Mirza Elihee Bux—the father-in-law of the late heir apparent Mirza Fikroo Deen, who died suddenly some months before the mutiny, has been granted one lakh of rupees “bonus,” and a handsome allowance per month for the part he took in assisting the late Major Hodson in capturing the ex-King of Delhi. Our correspondent adds:—“This man has played his cards well.” It would be a good plan if the authorities of Delhi were to ask him, as he is deemed worthy of such a handsome reward, what has become of his stepson, Feroze Shah; it is highly probable that he might feel disposed to furnish some proof of his desire to serve the Government, in return for such liberality. “It would be very interesting to the Indian as well as the English public, to know the real story of the manner in which the ex-King and family of Delhi were captured. I do not mean the late Major Hodson’s account, but the proceedings preliminary to the march to Nizam-odeen’s tomb, which led to the promise of the ex-King’s life. If I mistake not, Mirza Elihee Bux could throw considerable light upon this subject; and if he thought it inimical to his interests to do so, I could point out more than one other native who would be found fully acquainted with the particulars of this very mysterious business, about which so much apathy has been displayed both here and in England.”—Delhi Gazette.

THE SOLDIERS’ FRIEND.—The late General Sir Charles Napier was considered, notwithstanding his imaginary severity, to be the best friend of the soldier, but Sir Hugh Rose goes a little beyond, as far as regards the comfort and proper administration of food to the European troops. We are credibly informed that his Excellency paid a visit the other day to the commissariat department, and with great patience waited for the hour when bread was served out. The hour came at last, and Sir Hugh desired that a loaf should be brought to him. The order was instantly obeyed, and one was submitted for his Excellency’s approval. On his breaking the bread, to his utter astonishment he found that it contained an immense quantity of gravel. Enraged at this gross neglect of duty on the part of the Commissary-general, he at once issued an order for the assembly of a committee. This committee is to be composed of six members, namely—the commanding officer, the surgeon, and four officers.

LIFE IN ASSAM.—As an exemplification of the prudence of including Europeans in the Arms Act, we (Hurkaru) have before us a letter from one of the Assam tea plantations, from which we find that a European assistant narrowly escaped being murdered by some of his own burkundazes. The particulars are as follows:—“He awoke one night and found his room in darkness. A burkundaz was called, and on his answering the summons, he was told to fetch a light. The man replied in a very insolent tone that it was raining, and that he would not go for a light. On hearing this, the assistant jumped out of his bed, and groped his way into the verandah. At that moment he was seized by some one from behind, who called out to two others to come and maro the sahib. Surrounded by three ruffians armed with formidable clubs—one of them having been discovered by the assistant when they decamped—a struggle ensued. With a desperate effort he extricated himself, knocked one burkundaz over, and ran towards the servants’ lines, situated not far from the bungalow. Rousing up two of the men, the assistant returned with them to the scene of action, but discovered that his assailants had disappeared. They proceeded to the houses of the burkundazes, and found them deserted, every article having been removed. The house of a tailor was next searched, and there, lying not far from his bed, was a bundle containing the goods and chattels of the villains, which was evidently placed there for removal after the robbery was perpetrated. From the above facts it is obvious that the burkundazes intended to rob and probably murder the assistant—he being in charge of a large sum of money belonging to his factory—and escape with their booty afterwards. The European assistant had not a pistol, gun, or revolver with him. Living many miles from other bungalows occupied by Europeans, and dependent entirely upon the fidelity of his burkundazes, here was a man left entirely to the mercy of those who were appointed to guard and protect his life and property. Had the assistant been provided with a revolver, or any other kind of weapon, the burkundazes would not have dared to attack him in the way they did. This circumstance shows, if anything, the absolute necessity for every European in the Mofussil having fire-arms about him, as a means of protection from the treacherous attacks of natives, and yet Messrs Harington, Forbes, and Wilson will, on the plea of having no class legislation—a plea, by the way, which their very measures contradict—they will, we repeat, deprive their countrymen of such protection by the Arms Act.

SIMLA, August 28.—Colonel Becher, Quarter-master-General of the Army, left Simla for Calcutta yesterday, to join the Commander-in-chief in Calcutta. None of the head-quarter officers move from hence at present, nor expect to move. A few more may be ordered to join his Excellency’s camp at Allahabad. The remainder can enjoy themselves, about Christmas time, in snowballing each other; a sport which the natives in the bazaar, Hindoostanees and mountaineers, take great delight in. Before this comes to hand, our brewery will be at work; it is a thoroughly English undertaking in all its appliances, and deserves extensive support. This will make the third brewery at work between the Ganges and the Sutlej, the others being one at Mussoorie and one at Kussowlie; both turn out good beer. We had in the commencement of this month 538 European adults, residents, and visitors from the plains, the number of each sex being equal; of children, I venture to guess, about 120. I have found as many as twelve in a group as rosy, happy fractions of humanity as you would find in any place at home. The 5th Fusiliers, 24th, 27th, and 73rd, are the Regiments spoken of here as being likely to go home; and the camp of exercise at Umballa will have, it is said, the 7th Hussars, the 46th from Jullunder, 71st from Gwalior, 92nd and Rifles from the hills, besides the Artillery and Native Corps stationed at Umballa. In the early part of this month the Mofussilite bestowed some wholesome castigation upon an officer belonging to one of her Majesty’s Regiments, who printed and circulated a long slander in bad verse upon the society of Simla generally, especially the ladies. This was done anonymously, but circumstances pointed so clearly to the offender that he found it necessary to come forward and avow the authorship, through the medium of the Delhi Gazette. He is likely to suffer for his folly, as a court-martial is talked of. August 30. It is said the trial of Captain Urquhart, Paymaster of her Majesty’s 27th, for slandering the society of this place, will be held at Juttogh, the native cantonment, four miles distant from Simla, and that Mr. Lang, the barrister and editor of the Mofussilite, is to be employed in the defence. The reason for assembling the court-martial in this neighbourhood is, to save the many witnesses, who are likely to be summoned, the expense and inconvenience of a journey to Umballa; many of the officers whose evidence may be called for being on sick leave. Paying a visit yesterday to one of our printing offices (we have two here), I had the pleasure of looking over the first number of a new journal, The Skirmisher, or Rifle Brigade Gazette. It is got up by the officers of the two battalions serving in this presidency, for brigade circulation only, I believe, as there is no price named. The idea is an excellent one, and might be followed with advantage by the non-commissioned officers and men at all large European stations, between which an interchange of papers might take place. Much latent talent would be developed, and a healthy rivalry established amongst men who are now often at a loss how to while away their time. A very promising magazine is also in hand at the same press; it is entitled The Bengal Magazine, and is got up by the officers of the 7th Hussars; but whether it is to be a monthly or quarterly the publishers do not know. I glanced over a few of the articles; they are all well written, and if the others are as good, the magazine will be a success.—Bombay Times.

GORUCKPORE, Sept. 3.—A few days ago one of the commissariat elephants went to drink water in the Ramguthal lake, which is close by. As he was drinking an alligator caught hold of his proboscis and attempted to pull him into the water, while the elephant tried to drag him up. The contest lasted a few minutes; at last the elephant prevailed, and bringing his adversary out of the water dashed him on the ground, and finished him by crushing him with his huge fore paws. The payment of the compensation money commences to-day. The total sum awarded for losses in this district amounts to Rs. 2,01,240-14, varying from Rs. 3, allowed to a police trooper, to Rs. 23,000, awarded to Mr. Cook, indigo factor, at Bustee. Altogether 58 persons have been fortunate enough to satisfy the compensation commissioner as to the correctness of their claims. Of these about one-sixth are natives. Mr. Wallace claimed Rs. 159,883, but obtained only Rs. 2,500. Rather strange.—Hurkaru.

CAPTAIN CROSSMAN V. CAPTAIN MAXTED.—This abduction case was disposed of on the 28th of August. Captain Maxted was arraigned and charged with the abduction of Miss Florence Crossman, a ward of the Court, from the lawful custody of the Lady Superioress of the Loretto Convent, to whose charge Miss Crossman was entrusted by the Court. Captain Maxted pleaded guilty, and on the plea being recorded, Mr. Peterson, as counsel for Captain Crossman, informed the Court that as Captain Maxted had pleaded guilty and the child had been given up, the father of the young lady having attained the only object which had forced him to move in the matter, namely, the restoration of his child, he had no desire to press for severe punishment, and left it entirely to the discretion of the Court, and would acquiesce with any disposal of the case the Court thought proper. Mr. Doyme, for Captain Maxted, said that his client felt very sorry for what had occurred. He had, however, been totally unconscious that he was doing anything that was wrong. It was intimated to the bench that the child was in court and in the prothonotary's room, and Mr. Peterson said that a Mrs. Howard had very kindly consented to take charge of the child. There was a willingness to send back the child to the Convent, but the Lady Superioress declined to again receive her after what had taken place. If the Court should so order, Miss Crossman could immediately be placed under the charge of Mrs. Howard. Mr. Doyme asked whether if the court consented to Mrs. Howard taking charge, the mother would be allowed to see the child? Mr. Peterson indignantly replied that Mrs. Howard would have nothing to do with the ward if the mother had the privilege of visiting her. The chief justice thought that through her conduct in the matter before the Court the mother had forfeited her right to intercourse with her child. Mr. Doyme said that in very extreme cases Courts had allowed that right still to adhere to the mother. It was eventually decided that the child should reside with Mrs. Howard, and that she should not be removed, except by an order of the Court. Sir Barnes Peacock then sentenced the prisoner, whom he acquitted of improper motives, but who being nevertheless culpable, he could not allow to escape without a fine of Rs. 500.—Hurkaru.

THE RELIEFS.—According to the Mofussilite, the following movements of European regiments will take place in the ensuing cold season:—H.M. 13th Guruckpore to Barielly; 24th Ferozepore to England; 27th Umballa to Jhansie; 48th (Wing) Ooraie to Allahabad; 71st Gwalior to Umballa; 81st Rawul Pindee to Delhi; 82nd Shahjehanpore to Agra; 89th Delhi to Peshawur; 89th Jhansi to Ferozepore; 94th Nowshera to Gwalior; 98th Peshawur to Rawul Pindee; 3rd Battalion Rifles (Wing) Agra to Shahjehanpore; Left Wing Agra to Moradabad; 75th (Wing) Allahabad to Ooraie; 51st (Wing) Umritsur to Meeran Meer; 79th (Wing) Meeran Meer to Umritsur; 70th Allahabad to Presidency. The 5th, 37th, and 73rd, will probably return to England in the cold weather.

SHIPPING.

ARRIVALS.

Aug. 27. Str. Malta, Down, Suez; Ida Ziegler, Reynolds, London.—28. Grande, Montel, Bourbon; Merric England, Kelly.—29. Meteor, Colser, Melbourne.—30. Ann Holstberg, Macquire, Liverpool; Jacques Searin, Martin, Mauritius; Admiral Preiz Adalbert, Soutag, Melbourne; Abaelino, Hall, Madras.—31. Knight Errant, Hole, London; Auranga, Cassan, Liverpool; La Reine Blanche, Daily, Cardiff; Glen Isla, Parker, London; Bentuck, Wood, Mauritius; Ruthvin, Williams, Liverpool.

PASSENGERS ARRIVED.

Per str. Malta, from SUEZ.—Mr. G. C. Mercer, Mrs. Bennett. From MARSEILLES.—Mrs. J. Fawcett. From SOUTHAMPTON.—Messrs. Grosjean, J. Hill, W. Sconce, F. M. Lind, McPherson, Lieut. J. Hills, Mrs. Penny, Lieut. Kinloch, Maj. A. C. Warner, Rev. W. and Mrs. Drawbridge. From ADEN.—Mr. Lundquist, Mrs. Smyth. From SYDNEY.—Capt. Fraser, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell. From MELBOURNE.—Messrs. Lyall, Gladstone, Peetson. From BOMBAY.—Mr. Eiskine, Mr. McNichol. From GALLE.—Mr. Byrue. From MADRAS.—Hon. Sir C. R. M. Jackson, Lieut. J. Robertson, Lieut. A. Brooks, Mr. Fornaro.

Per Ida Ziegler.—Mr. W. F. Good.
Per Ann Holzberg.—Mr. J. Brook.
Per Meteor.—Mr. Colser, Mrs. Nichols.
Per Ruthvin.—Mrs. Williams and children.

Mr. Spooner, Commissioner of Customs, left Bombay by the China Mail on the 31st August for Calcutta, to assist the commission there in the formation of a uniform tariff for all India.

MADRAS.

AFFAIRS IN BURMAH.

Rangoon papers have reached us to the 14th August. Our readers will note the curious report that a French company has applied to the King for leave to establish an electric telegraph line in Burmah. Concurrently with this, we have the announcement that the notorious adventurer D'Orgoni is an utterly insignificant personage at the Court of Ava, and that he never held there any such important or conspicuous position as the jealous fears of the English attributed to him. If this be so, then the French Government must have other agents in Burmah, who are busy negotiating for permission to erect the telegraph. The object of such an application, if it has been really made, clearly is, to connect by the electric wire Rangoon with the distant and newly-acquired Anamese province of the French empire, which can at present only be reached in a week's voyage from Singapore. Our active and energetic allies, should their plan be carried out, will have gained an immense advantage over us in China. Strange to say, though the whole sea-coast on both sides of the Bay of Bengal is ours, and though we have convenient stations dotted on the map from Calcutta to Hong Kong for completing telegraphic communication with our valuable colonies and wealthy trading establishments in China, we have not yet even attempted to accomplish the work which has now been undertaken by our French rivals. Our immense commerce with China rests on the most precarious footing, and in case of a European war a week's advantage to either Power in priority of intelligence might make the difference to us between victory and ruin. Experience, it is true, has shown that submarine telegraphs are unreliable; but there is no reason why, as far at least as Singapore, a line should not be erected along the coast, and remain as secure and free from interruption as the line from Bombay to Kurrachee. The negligence of the Government, where so great interests are at stake, is unpardonable.

Perhaps the project of a French telegraph through Burmah is tolerably certain to be as much a failure as a submarine cable from Singapore to Hong Kong. But too little notice has hitherto been taken of the influence France is likely to exercise in the countries beyond the Ganges, since her recent conquests in the Anamese empire. The expedition which has established French authority on the Eastern continent was, we may be sure, no partial or temporary effort of the arms of France; it was the first step in the execution of a deep-laid and comprehensive design—nothing less, in truth, than the accomplishment of the old and never-abandoned dream of a French empire in the East. Missionaries are very useful pioneers of the bayonet and the rifle in achieving the triumphs of modern civilisation. The truculent savage, who would resist to death an armed enemy, has his fierceness disarmed and all the better feelings of his nature excited when the missionary comes to him with messages of peace and goodwill, soliciting protection instead of offering defiance. Soon the teacher of the gospel, by virtue of his superior knowledge and sacred character, acquires so much authority at the barbarian court that the feelings of the natives towards him change from pity to jealousy, and from jealousy to dislike. Finally, unable longer to bear foreign interference, the people commit some gross outrage on one of these holy men, and this is forthwith accepted by the Sovereign of the State to which the missionary belongs as a sufficient excuse for sending a fleet and army to revenge his insulted faith and vindicate the ways of God to man by appropriating the most convenient province in the uncivilised empire. These are the successive steps in the progress by which the French, following the good old rule—the simple plan—of all great conquerors, have succeeded in obtaining possession of their colony of Saigon. No doubt they will push on now as rapidly as possible westwards, extending the power of their arms or their secret influence over all the territories between the Bay of Bengal and the Pacific Ocean. It is the more necessary than ever, then, for the English to work quietly but perseveringly to counteract the efforts of a rival from whom we have, it is true, nothing at present to fear in the East, but who may nevertheless one day become formidable. Peculiar importance, therefore, attaches to the suggestions made by Captain Sprye, and enlarged upon in an able article by the Rangoon Times, for the construction, if not of a telegraph, at least of an overland route for our commerce between our Burmese provinces and China.—Bombay Gazette.

MISCELLANEOUS.

RANGOON GAOL.—In our last issue we (Rangoon Times) briefly alluded to the rising among the convicts in the jail of our station, and owing to the lateness of the hour before the facts could be collected, no particulars were then given of the disturbance. It appears that a large gang of convicts, who are employed within the walls of the jail in breaking stones, was released from that work at the usual hour, 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and according to custom the prisoners were directed to put their hammers down near a tree. In moving forward some twenty-five or thirty of these men made a rush on the sentry at the guard-house, knocked him over at once, took his musket, and then sprung inside of the guard-house, where the men composing the guard lay sleeping. The refractory convicts seized every musket there, beat the guard, who were now without arms, and compelled them to run for their lives. Shouting and yelling immediately commenced, and showers of stones were sent flying in every direction. The jailor coming to his window to see what was the matter, one of the armed convicts took a deliberate aim at him with a musket and pulled the trigger. Fortunately the cap did not explode. Seizing his five-barrel revolver, Mr. Murphy came outside instantly, and ordered the great body of the prisoners, who were looking on at a few paces distant from his house, to keep off and remain quiet, when they should not be touched. The ringleaders were moving about quickly, attacking the peons, shouting and screaming and calling for fire to burn down the jailor's house. Some the mutineers had got as far as the gate, when the jailor with great presence of mind determined to stop them. He fired, when the mutineer staggered and fell against the gate. He fired successively five shots at the most prominent of the rebel convicts, wounding two of them. By this unexpected resistance on the part of the jailor and the assistance he obtained from a friend who happened to be with him at the moment, and the Christian clerk of the jail, the mutinous prisoners were gradually cowed. Nothing but the personal courage and resolution of the jailor, and the few who acted with him, saved the jail from flames, and the breaking loose of the whole body of convicts. When the disturbance arose, there were some six hundred prisoners within the jail walls. One gang of a hundred men, who were working outside, had not yet returned. The results in casualties are four killed, 13 wounded, and 1 escaped. Three sepoys wounded. On Thursday morning last, by authority of the magistrate, eighty of the abettors and confederates in the disturbance were tied up in the presence of the assembled gangs, and received thirty cuts each on the back with stout ratans.

BRIGADIER AMSINCK, the Commandant of the Artillery, died early on the morning of the 31st August, at the Mount. His illness was of short duration, and it was only within the last day or two that any danger was apprehended. The Brigadier joined the Madras Artillery in 1822; he was at once attached to the Horse Brigade, and served continuously with it until his promotion to a majority in 1845. Very shortly after his arrival he passed as interpreter, and succeeded to the then much coveted prize of quarter-master to one of the horse brigades. In 1831 he was appointed secretary to a board of officers to inquire into abuses in the then system of the saddle contract; this brought him to notice, and he became thereafter one of "Conway's pets." In 1832 he got promoted, and was immediately appointed to the command of one of the Native troops of Horse Artillery. Officers who served in the Hyderabad Subsidiary Force in the years 1832 to 1841 will recollect the "dashing" Captain, and his noble troops (well did they uphold their reputation at Lucknow during the mutiny). In 1843 he was appointed to command the artillery in the Bundelcund field force, and served throughout the campaign at the head of one of the European troops of horse artillery. On his promotion to a majority in 1845 he returned to England: after a short stay he came back to his duty—and was appointed to the command of the Artillery at Aden. Subsequently he was appointed to the command of the artillery at Nagpore, and afterwards at Saugor, where he remained until Lord Dalhousie's fatal policy caused the relief of the Madras troops there, a measure which greatly influenced the course of events in 1857. The brigadier on being relieved at Saugor proceeded with an European battery from Saugor to Burmah via Calcutta; when en route he was detained at Barrackpore, and witnessed the opening scene of the tragic events of 1857-58. He held the command of the artillery in Burmah for three years, when Sir Patrick Grant conferred on him the command of Trichinopoly, and subsequently the command of the artillery, which he lived to hold for the short period of eight months only.—Daily Times.

RAMJEEGOND, the famous dacoit of the Deccan, has not yet been seized, the Nizam's Government having offered two thousand rupees' reward for his apprehension. The Minister has gone with Captain Anderson to settle boundary disputes.

THE CHALDEAN CHURCHES on the Malabar coast recently sent a deputation of priests and laymen to Mosul, with a request that Mar Yoosef, the Chaldean patriarch, would consecrate one of their number Bishop. The French priests there, however, desiring to put the Indian Christians entirely under the yoke of the Pope, had induced him to delay his consent. The deputation accordingly resolved to ask the Nestorian patriarch, Mar Shimoon, to meet their wishes, and received the consent of their brethren in India to their doing so. The threat of leaving the Chaldean communion may induce Mar Yoosef to yield at last. The Chaldean Christians have hitherto been confounded with the "Syrians," or Jacobites, who acknowledge the supremacy of the Jacobite patriarch of Mardean. About Calicut and Aleppee there are still several who adhere to the Chaldean rite, but who have hitherto been kept under by the Romish priests, who have roused them to resistance, by forcing celibacy on their clergy, and altering their festivals.

BREACH OF OFFICIAL TRUST.—We insert the following from the Calcutta Gazette without remark. "Certain letters from the Madras Board of Revenue, relative to the Bill for Licensing Trades and Professions, and the Income Tax Bill having appeared in the public newspapers received in England, prior to the receipt of the Madras Government despatch forwarding those letters, the Secretary of State made the following observations:—'The publication of official communications of that nature is obviously most objectionable, and can only result from a breach of official trust. I desire that you will remind all the servants of Government that, except in cases where the publication of official papers may be duly authorised by the Government, any communication of such documents to the newspapers will subject the officer or servant by whom they may be furnished to the severest mark of my displeasure.'

THE POLICONDAR HILLS.—Captain Stewart describes, in the "Madras Journal of Literature," a range of hills, hitherto unvisited by Europeans, seventeen miles from Cuddapah. They run for a distance of forty-five miles due east and west between the Cheyair and Paupagnee rivers. Towards the east they reach the height of 2,300 feet, nearly the height of Bangalore. In January the temperature was 45 deg., or as low as that of the Neilgherries. Fever is unknown. The natives call the hills, Policondahs. We fear the elevation is too slight to make them fit for a sanitarium in the hot season.

BOMBAY.

A CANTONMENT DISPUTE AT MHOW.

For some weeks letters, written in that tone of reckless exaggeration which distinguishes native correspondence, have been appearing in the Bombay and Poona papers, concerning some alleged misdoings of Captain Warden, of the 4th Rifles, and the Kotwal of Mhow. It so happens that just at present the rule for observing strict economy in all departments of the State is being carried out in the army, by the abolition of the separate office of barrack-master, the duties of which will in future be performed by officers holding other staff appointments which do not yield them sufficient occupation. Captain Warden, who was barrack-master in Mhow, is one of the officers who, in consequence of these changes, have been compelled to resign their appointments and return to their regiments; and this circumstance is eagerly claimed as proof of the Commander-in-chief's displeasure with the captain, and the guilt of the latter as regards the charges brought against him. These charges are of the most serious character. It is alleged that the Kotwal had been brought before a military tribunal at Mhow for "gross misconduct, and corrupt practices," and that Captain Warden "aided and abetted the Kotwal in his illegal acts of oppression, having for their object the deterring of his accusers from coming forward to prosecute him. Many persons were kept in close confinement for several days, and only allowed five pice per diem for their maintenance; they were also prevented from seeing their friends, and threatened with torture and with being placed in irons if they did not withdraw their complaints against the Kotwal."

Here is a sufficiently clear indictment; and, as the assertions contained in it are totally false, and the paper in which they were first published—the Poona Observer—is about to be prosecuted for libel by the gentleman who is thus broadly denounced, we wish to place the real facts of the case before the public. In the first place, then, it appears that the brigadier at Mhow ordered a court to assemble for the purpose of investigating charges of oppression and corruption brought in an anonymous letter against the Kotwal. A Mahomedan of bad character, a commissariat contractor who had reason not to like the Kotwal, avowed himself, at the first meeting of the court, to be the author of the letter; but he could bring only one or two "very poor" witnesses on his side, and an address most numerous signed was presented by the respectable inhabitants of the city, declaring that they had no complaints to make. At the last sitting of the court, however, some of the head Banians came rushing in tumultuously, and said they "had changed their minds"—they wished to accuse the Kotwal. These Banians then took an oath at a Hindoo temple to stand by one another, paraded the streets shouting and using threats to the terror of the peaceful inhabitants, and, in fine, became so mutinous that the Brigadier issued a warning notification, and ordered Captain Warden to seize the persons of the ringleaders. These were accordingly taken, to the number of seven or eight. They were imprisoned for two or three days, fed with the usual diet, and neither ironed nor bound. Their release was granted on security, after they had confessed that the riot was nothing but a "conspiracy" against the Kotwal, and had "implored pardon." Their case has been referred to the Deputy Judge Advocate-General, and they will doubtless get their deserts each in a sound flogging. They are all Shroffs and contractors to the Commissariat, in which department the Kotwal is thoroughly detested because he dares to do his duty.

The court of inquiry has published its judgment on the original case. One member thinks there must be some grounds for complaint, although he considers the actual charges to be not proved. The other member and the president declare the charges to be "unfounded, false, and malicious." The Kotwal has sent in his resignation, but all the well-conducted citizens of Mhow are anxious it should not be accepted.

This is, we assure our readers, the plain unvarnished tale, from which it may easily be inferred why Captain Warden has become so obnoxious to the commissariat contractors and their friends. It was a good idea, since there are so many people who love to sup full of horrors every day, to get up a parallel to the Lucknow libel case on this side of India, but the attempt has failed here, as it did in Oude.—Bombay Gazette.

MISCELLANEOUS.

POONA.—The weather in Poona has, for the last week, (Sept. 10) been hot and disagreeable. The atmosphere is sultry and oppressive, and the climate, generally, dry and close. A fall of rain is greatly required, both to check sickness and improve the condition of the crops, which are becoming prematurely brown for want of moisture. All around the cantonment vegetation is suffering, and a rise in prices is beginning to be anticipated. As we approach Khandalla, there is abundant evidence to show that the fall of rain has been more plentiful; but as the country is poor and arid, it is less required than in the districts around Poona, which may be regarded as the garden of the Dekkan. In the Konkan the crops look remarkably well, and the general appearance of vegetation is extremely healthy. The Ghauts, as usual at this season of the year, are covered with foliage, and intersected with cascades; so that travellers between Bombay and Poona have an opportunity of viewing scenery as beautiful as it is varied.

MISSING VESSELS.—H.M.'s I.N. schooner Emily left Calcutta for Bombay in May last, but no intelligence of her has yet been received. The ship Shah Allum, also, has not been heard of since she left Calcutta for Mauritius with coolies.

AN ATTORNEY IN DISGRACE.—On the 21st August affidavits were filed and a motion made by Mr. Austey, before Chief Justice Sir M. Sausse, for the removal of Mr. Fernandez's name from the roll of attorneys, for refusing to deliver up to a client certain documents, as well as extorting the payment of costs without the bill having passed through the taxing office.

TROUBLES AT ADEN.—Our letters from Aden report that some of the Arabs in the neighbourhood have been at their old tricks again. Fourteen camels belonging to the residents were plundered near Sheik Othman by a party headed by the brother of the Foodhli chief, and one Somali shot. These camels were engaged in bringing water into the town, and in consequence of this outrage an order has been given prohibiting the townspeople from frequenting Sheikh Othman for that purpose. The Arabs alone are allowed to bring in the water, and should any thing occur to stop the supply from that quarter, the people would be in great straits. It is much to be regretted that notwithstanding the large expenditure made in repairing the old tanks, and in putting up condensers, &c., Aden appears to be as badly off as ever for this indispensable article, notwithstanding that on the opposite side of the harbour abundance of good water exists close to the shore, and it only requires proper organisation to make the same available for the town and shipping. We are glad, however, to hear that the outrage above reported seems to have been perpetrated by a troublesome brother of the Foodhli chief, and that the chief himself has expressed his readiness to restore the plundered property. It does not appear that any indemnity is forthcoming for the murder of the Somali; it is to be hoped, however, that such atrocities under our very walls will not pass unpunished. Unfortunately Brigadier Coghill is absent from Aden, and we have not much confidence in the young man who is charged with the duties of the Residency. He wants tact and weight, and the Arabs do not respect him. By the same opportunity we have received some deplorable details regarding the doings of the Turks in the Red Sea. The acting governor of Mokha had demanded a large sum of money from the chiefs of two of the principal tribes in the vicinity, and as the money was not forthcoming immediately, he had them imprisoned, and publicly flogged at the gates of the town three times every day. The tribes, being indignant at this usage, collected in numbers, scaled the town by night, released the prisoners, and killed every Turk they could meet with, sparing the native inhabitants of the town. On being pursued the following morning, they again worsted the Turks, of whom they killed twelve, and captured as many horses. The tribes still hold the passes, and allow no supplies to reach the town. The natural consequence is that Mokha is becoming deserted. A somewhat similar affair has occurred at Beit-ool-Fakih. Ahmed Pasha, the Governor of Yemen, had imprisoned the chiefs of the Zenareek tribe, in order to extort a large fine from them. The latter requested to be sent home, under an escort, in order to collect the money. The arrangement was accordingly made; but, on reaching their own borders, the tribes rose upon the escort and killed upwards of two score of their number. Nothing, indeed, can be more wretched than the Turkish Government in the Red Sea, and as far as we can see there is no chance whatever of any improvement in the system. The Porte is too weak to keep a sufficient garrison in the country, and the men sent out as Governors generally obtain their appointments by purchase, and, knowing that they may be ousted any day by a higher bidder, they are only intent on making good their original capital, with as much interest superadded as they can squeeze, by fraud or violence, from the unfortunate Arabs.—Bombay Gazette.

THE PERSIAN GULF.—It is no easy matter to keep the police of the seas; and on the borders of the Red Sea and the Persian Gulf, in particular, there would seem to be no end to the troubles and mischiefs with which the marauding Arab tribes of the coast constantly perplex our naval and military authorities. Only yesterday (August 29) we reported some fresh disturbances near Aden, raised by some of the wild people whom we persevere in trying to coax and awe into peace. Now we have particulars of the recent transference of Bahrain, in the Persian Gulf, to the Turkish Government, which are well calculated to excite uneasiness as to the permanence of the amicable relations we have succeeded in establishing among the chiefs. Our position in the Gulf is not such as to warrant forcible interference on our part in the affairs of any of the petty states. We have not even an island we can call our own, though an English squadron is continually in those waters. We have not there gratified our national predilection for planting the British flag on every convenient station at the mouth of a river or the entrance of a narrow sea, but have, on the contrary, scrupulously abstained from exercising the legitimate power which war gave us to occupy one of those islands the possession of which would be most useful to our fleets and commerce. But this singular self-denial has by no means weakened our moral influence in the Gulf. In all disputes the English determine what should be done, and their voice is invariably raised in behalf of peace. In this instance of the change of Government at Bahrain, the origin of the whole affair was the act of a petty chief on the mainland, who, according to Arab custom, seized and plundered a vessel belonging to the Sheikh of Bahrain, which had been forced by stress of weather into a port in his dominions. The Sheikh too wished to resent the outrage after the customary Arab fashion, by making war on the aggressor without further ceremony; but, being dissuaded from such summary action by his British advisers, he in a fit of resentment hoisted Turkish colours instead of those of the Imaum of Muscat, his true lord paramount, and invoked the protection of the Turkish Government, who, he hoped, would allow him to do whatever he liked. But the Turks seem by no means eager to interfere. Their vessels of war are all housed for the season, and not a sloop has yet been sent to take possession of Bahrain. Should the Turks really attempt to interfere, it will be a matter for consideration whether our Government, which is so deeply interested in keeping all things unchanged in the Gulf, should allow any formal scruple to prevent it from checking the aggressiveness of a power which is too weak to control the various races already subject to its rule.—Bombay Gazette.

SURAT, August 28.—A rumour is abroad that the 16th Regiment stationed here will shortly proceed to Rajkote, and the 12th Regiment will come down here. A letter from Bhooj, dated the 22nd, informs me that no rain has fallen there: grass is sold at 56 lbs. per rupee, and eatables very dear. The inhabitants are emigrating to Bombay and other places. Not much rain here; the heat is somewhat oppressive during the day, but the mornings and evenings are pleasant.

DR. CULLUM, Assay Master, has been directed to proceed to Calcutta on special duty.

MAHARAJA JADOONATH OF SURAT, whose presence was looked for in Bombay to reclaim the Sudavdhas (Reformers) from their errors, has all but openly ranged himself on their side, and states his determination to avow in open meeting that the re-marriage of widows, whether sanctioned by the Shastras or not, is demanded by the interests of society. It is rumoured that a great meeting is to be convened upon this subject, and that European and Parsee gentlemen will be invited to attend it.

ANOTHER NATIVE FIRM IN ENGLAND.—Some of the Khoja merchants of Bombay have made arrangements to open a firm in England. A company has been formed for the purpose, the capital of which is to be four lakhs of rupees, to be raised by 200 shares of Rs. 2,000 each. The funds raised by subscription by the Khoja merchants of Bombay, for the establishment of a school for the education of boys of their caste, now amount to Rs. 46,205.

A DEEP SEA PIER FOR BOMBAY.—Public spirit in Bombay appears to have suddenly received an impetus which may perhaps push us farther than we either anticipated or desired. The abundance of capital, and the want of means of employing it, have brought numerous speculators into the market, and scarcely a day passes that a new scheme is not proposed for advancing in some way or other the commercial prosperity of Bombay. It is not long since the admirable project of reclaiming Back Bay was started; and now we find Mr. Kennelly, of the Indian Navy, coming forward with a plan for constructing a pier from the Carnac Bunder, opposite the railway station, to Cross Island, at a cost, in the first instance, of sixty lacs of rupees. Mr. Kennelly's proposition is a very reasonable one; it does not clash with the Back Bay scheme, and it has, we (Bombay Gazette) understand, the full and cordial approbation of the Government, which has resolved to patronise Mr. Kennelly's design instead of building docks or piers of its own. Mr. Kennelly suggested at first that the pier should be carried out for a distance between 4,000 and 5,000 yards, and then extended parallel to the seashore, as far as the Middle Ground, on which it was believed the Government intended to erect a battery. But the battery has been abandoned, and therefore the pier also is given up. The present plan comprises a pier 6,000 yards long into the sea, and a cross pier at right angles to the other, and at first only 4,000 yards in length. Double lines of rails will be laid down along the pier, on which there will also be covered sheds for goods; and the large extent of land near the Carnac bunder, which is left dry at low water, it is proposed to reclaim gradually, in order that warehouses may be built on it for the use of the merchants and the Government. The scheme has received the sanction of the most eminent engineers, and will, we believe, be vigorously proceeded with at once. We wish Mr. Kennelly all success. The more projectors of this sort we have the better it will be for Bombay. When the Back Bay scheme and this new one are both executed, our port will be unrivalled by any other in the world. Of course we do not pretend to speak of the pecuniary advantages or difficulties of either plan. These things the public must find out for themselves; our duty is fulfilled when we have congratulated the people of Bombay on the prospect of such material improvements being effected in the state of our harbour.

MEMON COMPANY.—The Mahomedan merchants of Bombay have formed a joint stock company, styled the "Memon Company," for the purpose of establishing a mercantile house in London to carry on their agency business. A large capital has been raised for the purpose, and we hear nearly all the shares have been subscribed for. Their object is to be independent of the European houses, who generally act as commission agents in importing and exporting goods to and from England.

SHIPPING.

ARRIVALS.

Aug. 25. King Lear, Croudece, Sydney.—26. Str. China, Henry, Suez.—27. Tigris, Dyer, Muscat.—30. Maria Augusta, Nylin, Cardiff.—Sept. 1. East, Boyd, Aden.—2. Echunga, Cooper, London; Charles Henrie, Rickmers, Antwerp.—3. Havlock, Gandy, Liverpool.—4. Mutlah, Lemon, Liverpool.—5. Kildare, Hetherington, Liverpool; Relief, McPherson, Liverpool; Algeria, McMillar, London; Grefco Berg, Srellman, London; Storm King, Guthrie, Liverpool.—6. Summer Cloud, Fallman, Hong Kong; str. Orissa, Purchase, Southampton.—8. Strathmore, Mann, London; Antoinette, Tudor, Mahi; str. Pottinger, Munro, Hong Kong.—9. Str. Benares, Burne, Suez; Robert Ritson, Brough, London; Wide Awake, Robinson, Calcutta.—10. Mohawk, Pullen, Clyde.

PASSENGERS ARRIVED.

Per East.—Lieut. H. Gibson, 11th regt. N.I.
Per Havlock.—Mrs. Gandy and two children.
Per P. and O. Co.'s str. Pottinger.—From CALCUTTA.—Dr. Hudaaway, Mr. A. Stewart, Mr. Vidgal. From MELBOURNE.—Mr. Haycock. From GALLA.—Countess Van Holten, Mrs. Docherty, Mrs. Fletcher, Mr. J. Black.
Per B. S. N. Co.'s str. Pioneer.—From MALABAR COAST and RUTNAAGHERRY.—Mrs. Wilkins and three children, Mr. Palmer, Maj. Denry and two children, Col. and Mrs. Faunce, Lieut. Forster, Lieut. LeMesurier, L.N., Lieut. Longton, M.N.I., Miss Kurney.
Per Robert Ritson.—Mr. J. Brook, Mr. and Mrs. W. Wheatley, Mr. K. Habergand.
Per P. and O. Co.'s str. China.—From SOUTHAMPTON.—Mr. and Mrs. Bays and infant, Mrs. Bays, Miss Paine, Messrs. Dalmahy, Nummo, Melhuish, Holgate, Duckworth, Fish, Andrews, Squair, Hettford, Garland, Johnson, Handley, Tickle, H. Pittman, E. Ayers, T. J. Walton, and J. Maxted, Mrs. Jenkins and child. From SUEZ.—Mr. and Mrs. Purdon. From ADEN.—Mr. R. M. Rogers.
Per P. and O. Co.'s str. Benares.—From SOUTHAMPTON.—Col. and Mrs. Shute, Capt. Parsons, Mrs. Douglas, Mr. Patterson, Mrs. Townley, Mr. Finlayson, Mrs. Dalziel, Miss Nicholson, Maj. Keating, Mrs. Thatcher. From MARSEILLES.—Capt. and Mrs. Gordon, Lieut. Metcalfe, Mr. Corke, Col. Russell, Lieut. Strachan, Capt. H. Gordon, Lieut. Griffith, Mr. Audebert.

DEPARTURES.

Aug. 25. Malakoff, Harris, Kurrachee; Benjamin Seuer, Foulard, Hong Kong; Chandernagore, Lynas, Hong Kong.—27. Lansdowne, Richardson, Amoy.—28. Str. Punjaub, Foulerton, Zanzibar; Sea Lion, Alexander, Moultman; Frater, Stone, Hong Kong.—30. Medway, Kennedy, New York; Waverly, Upton, Hong Kong; Douglas, Bathe, Hong Kong.—31. Str. Madras, Brown, China; Haddington, Browne, London; Mercia, Hudson, Hong Kong.—Sept. 1. Telegram, Sergeant, Hull; John Cunningham, Battery, Moultman.—4. Star of the East, Grayston, Calcutta.—5. Bonne Mere, Chable, Kurrachee; South Sea, Long, Rangoon; Berwickshire, Jeffery, London; Futty Salan, Anderson, Mauritius and Calcutta; Egeria, Pollock, Cannanore and Calcutta; Admiral, Clerk, Hong Kong.—6. Hopewell, Barron, London.—7. Sultan, Limstrong, Calcutta.—8. Kossuth, Jones, Calcutta; Sourisquois, Vaux, London.—10. Khimjee Oodowjee, Partridge, Liverpool; Nouveau Luning, Ventre, Marseilles via Kurrachee.—11. P. and O. str. Singapore, Curling, Suez.

PASSENGERS DEPARTED.

Per B. S. N. Co.'s str. Tilly, to KURRACHEE.—Mrs. G. Engell, Dr. and Mrs. Holton, Asst. apoth. Law, Mrs. Cavell.
Per P. and O. Co.'s str. Maivars, for HONG KONG.—Lieut. col. Holcombe, Mrs. Sutton. For SINGAPORE.—Mr. C. Curtin. For GALLA.—Mr. J. McLenn. For CALCUTTA.—Lieut. Hunter, Lieut. Loch, 2nd Bengal L.C.
Per P. and O. Co.'s ship Haddington.—Mrs. Browne and child, B. Allen, Esq., Miss Hugh.
Per B. S. N. Co.'s str. Scindian.—To KURRACHEE.—Maj. Hatch, Bombay Art., Lieut. Trafford, Art. Lieut. and Mrs. Donne, Lieut. Newport, 3rd Bombay Eur. Regt., Mr. E. Hundley, Mrs. J. E. McDougall.
Per Star of the East.—Mrs. O'Meally and four children.
Per Sultan.—Mr. C. Manning, Mrs. E. Seymour.
Per B. S. N. Co.'s str. Bombay.—Mrs. E. Hapthen and a child, Mr. and Mrs. Fenner, Mrs. Westaway, Mr. A. Stewart, Mr. M. Fearnley, Mr. J. Weightman.
Per P. and O. Co.'s str. Singapore.—For ADEN.—Mrs. H. Riley, Lieut. Mortimer. For MARSEILLES.—Maj. Drury, Mr. B. H. Ellis, Mrs. Forde, Lieut. col. and Mrs. Hart, Capt. Bat-

Digitized by Google

BY THE LIEUT. GOVERNOR.

Aug. 22.—Leave of absence:—
Lieut. C. P. Waller, 9th police batt., from 7th inst. to Nov. 6 next, on m.c.
Lieut. H. W. Cornish, 8th police batt., for 1 mo., from Oct. 1 next.

The priv. leave for 2 mos., granted by the Lord Bishop of Calcutta to Rev. W. T. Humphrey, Chaplain of Barrackpore, is confirmed.

Aug. 23.—Appointments:—
Capt. J. Smith to be comdt. of Seebundie levy at Sumbulpore.

Mr. J. Johnson, dep. mag. and dep. coll. of Monghyr, is transf. to Moorshedabad, in which dist. he will exercise special powers of an asst. to mag.

Mr. H. Davies, dep. mag. and dep. coll. of Moorshedabad, is transf. to Monghyr, in which dist. he will exercise full powers of a mag.

Mr. L. R. Tottenham to be sec. to the local com. of pub. instruction at Furruckpore.

Aug. 24.—Mr. C. Sconce to offic. as med. officer of Cachar, and asst. to the superint. of that dist.

BY THE LIEUT. GOVERNOR, N.W.P.

Judicial Dept., Camp Nynee Tal, Aug. 6.—During the abs. of Mr. M. H. Court on special duty at the presy., Mr. W. Johnston, jt. mag. and dep. coll., will offic. as mag. and coll. of Allahabad.

Aug. 7.—Lieut. G. L. K. Hewett, late of 41st N.I., is app. to be an asst. comr. in Jubbulpore div.
Mr. C. G. Sperling, asst. in Rohilund div., is transf. to Agra div.

Mr. A. P. Howell, asst. in Meerut div., is rem. to Agra div.

Mr. Crossthwaite, asst. to mag. and coll. of Banda, is vested with full powers of a jt. mag. and dep. coll., with effect from 14th ult.

Mr. C. W. Carpenter, asst. to mag. of Furruckpore, is vested with full powers of a jt. mag. and dep. coll., with effect from 14th ult.

Mily. Dept., Camp Nynee Tal, Aug. 16.—Leave of absence.—In ext. of the leave granted to Lieut. J. L. Sawers, 2nd in com. of Jhansie div. of mily. police, by notice No. 538a, dated June 5 last, gen. leave is granted to that officer from 15th inst. to 15th prox., to remain at presy., prep. to furl. to Eur., on m.c.

Judicial Dept., Camp Nynee Tal, Aug. 13.—No. 2,124a.—Lieut. Ricketts, asst. commsr. of Hoshungabad, is vested with full powers of a joint mag. and dep. coll.

No. 2,134a.—Capt. J. T. Watson, late of the 12th regt. N.I., is appd. to offic. as cantonment joint mag. of Shahjehanpore, dur. abs. on leave of Capt. Gibbs, or until further orders.

Aug. 15.—No. 2,149a.—Lieut. S. Carey, asst. commsr. of Chundeyree, is vested with special powers of an asst. mag., subject to the result of the ensuing exam.

No. 2,156a.—Mr. S. May Moens, asst. to the mag. and coll. of Bareilly, is vested with full powers of a joint mag. and dep. coll., with effect from the 14th ult.

THE OFFICES OF REGISTRAR OF DEEDS, &c.

Aug. 16.—No. 2,170a.—Under the provisions of Act III. of 1859, the Lieut. Gov. N.W.P. is pleased to invest Major R. Ouseley, cantonment joint mag. of Saugor, with civil jurisdiction, as set forth in sec. 1 of the said Act, within the limits of his criminal jurisdiction, and also to appoint the said Major R. Ouseley to be registrar of deeds, within the said limits.

No. 2,178a.—Maj. R. Ouseley, cantonment joint mag. of Saugor, having been invested with civil jurisdiction, and appd. to be registrar of deeds, under Act 3 of 1859, within the limits of his criminal jurisdiction; it is hereby notified, that the said officer will accordingly exercise civil jurisdiction, and act as registrar of deeds, within the said limits, from and after this date.

2nd. Under the provisions of section 9, Act 3, of 1859, the powers of the registrar of deeds of the district of Saugor will be suspended from and after this date, within the limits of the Saugor cantonments.

No. 2,176a.—Under the provisions of Act 3 of 1859, the Hon. the Lieut. Gov., N.W.P., is pleased to invest Capt. G. F. Carnegie, cantonment joint mag. of Furruckabad, with civil jurisdiction; as set forth in section 1 of the said Act, within the limits of his criminal jurisdiction, and also to appoint the said Capt. G. F. Carnegie to be registrar of deeds within the said limits.

No. 2,172a.—Capt. G. F. Carnegie, cantonment joint mag. of Furruckabad, having been invested with civil jurisdiction, and appd. to be registrar of deeds, under Act 3 of 1859, within the limits of his criminal jurisdiction, it is hereby notified that the said officer will accordingly exercise civil jurisdiction, and act as registrar of deeds within the said limits, from and after this date.

2nd. Under the provisions of section 9, Act 3, of 1859, the powers of the registrar of deeds of the district of Furruckabad will be suspended from and after this date, within the limits of the Furruckabad cantonments.

Aug. 17.—No. 2,187a.—Mr. H. Morris, of the C.S., is app. to be an asst. in the Benares div.

Aug. 18.—No. 2,191a.—The servs. of Civil asst. surg. W. H. Spry, civil asst. surg. of Ajmere, are placed at disposal of Govt. of India, in the mil. dept., from 7th prox.

Aug. 24.—No. 1,109.—The undermen. officers are vested with full powers of a jt. mag. and dep. coll., with effect from 14th ult. :—
Messrs. C. Grant, H. Ross, and A. Colvin.

Gen. Dept., Camp Nynee Tal, Aug. 11.—No. 908a.—Dr. G. R. Playfair, superint. med. school, Agra, is app. to offic. as lecturer of anatomy dur. absence on leave of Dr. Lacy.

Mily. Dept., Camp Nynee Tal, Aug. 16.—No. 721a.—In ext. of the leave granted to Lieut. J. L. Sawers, 2nd in com. of Jhansie div. of mily. police, by notification No. 538a, dated June 5, gen. leave is granted to that officer from 15th inst. to 15th prox., to remain at presy., prep. to furl. to Eur., on m.c.

Aug. 20.—No. 729a.—Mr. H. C. Leeson, uncov. adjt. of the Muttra police batt., is removed from his appt.

No. 731a.—Leave, for 1 mo., from Oct. 1 to 31 next, is granted to Mr. H. Gibson, adjt. of Baitool batt. of mily. police.

Lieut. E. R. H. Twyford, the comdt., will perform du. of adjt.'s office, dur. the abs. of Mr. Gibson.

No. 733a.—Lieut. L. K. Hewett, adjt. of Rohilund div. of mily. police, is, at his own request, perm. to res. his appt.

BY THE LIEUT. GOVERNOR, PUNJAB.

Public Works Dept., Aug. 8.—No. 1,498.—Leave:—Mr. Campbell, exec. Delhi div., has 1 mo.'s priv. leave, from 15th inst., or such subsequent date he may avail himself of the same.

Gen. Dept., Aug. 6.—No. 2,031.—Appointment:—Lieut. J. R. G. G. Short, asst. commr., held ch. of the district of Peshawar, from May 9 to June 18.

Lahore, Aug. 8.—No. 329.—The regimental order, dated Murdan, July 15, by Lieut. col. H. B. Lumsden, comdg. corps of guides, directing Lieut. E. E. B. Bond, offg. comdt. of cav., to rec. ch. of the adjt.'s office, in add. to his other du., dur. leave of Lieut. H. C. E. Ward, is confirmed.

Gen. Dept., Aug. 13.—No. 2,089.—Leave:—Capt. Bristow, dep. commr. of Jhelum, has priv. leave for 2 mo., from such date as he may avail himself of the same.

Public Works Dept., Aug. 13.—No. 1,520.—Capt. J. E. T. Nicolls, exec. engr. of Upper Sirhind div. of public works, has 2 mo.'s leave, prep. to furl. to Eur., on m.c., under new regs., with effect from date of his availing himself of the same.

Gen. Dept., Aug. 14.—Nos. 2,093-5.—Promotions:—Capt. C. A. McMahon, asst. commr., 2nd class, to be asst. commr., 1st class.

Lieut. W. M. Lane, asst. commr., 3rd class, to be asst. commr., 2nd class.

Mr. R. G. Melvill, asst. commr., 3rd class, to be asst. commr., 2nd class.

Aug. 13.—Appointment:—Mr. A. J. S. Donald, late extra asst. commr., Sirsa district, having forfeited his appt. by overstaying his leave, is hereby re app. to that post from July 7, 1859, the date he res. ch. of his duties.

Lahore, Aug. 4.—15th Punjab Inf.—No. 335.—Leave of abs.—Lieut. C. E. Stewart, offg. 2nd in com., has 4 mo.'s leave, from such date as he may avail himself of it, to Calcutta to undergo an examination in native languages.

No. 336.—The Brigade Order dated August 1, by Brig. gen. N. Chamberlain, com. Punjab irreg. force, appg. Lieut. F. J. N. Mackenzie, adjt. 9th irreg. cav., to offic. as staff officer Punjab irreg. force, is conf.

No. 339.—The Kohat Station Order, dated July 14, by Lieut. col. A. T. Wilde, com., directing Lieut. J. W. McQueen, 4th Punjab inf., to assu. ch. of station staff office dur. abs. of Lieut. H. Pitcher, on leave, is confirmed.

No. 340.—The Kohat station order, dated July 14, by Lieut. col. A. T. Wilde, comg., directing Surg. C. K. Webb, 4th Punjab inf., to assu. med. ch. of 2nd Punjab cav., in add. to his other du., during leave of Asst. surg. A. Garden, is conf.

Aug. 15.—No. 311.—The Brigade Order, dated August 14, by Brig. gen. Chamberlain, com. Punjab irreg. force, transf. Lieut. W. A. B. Gillies, art., do. du. with Hazara Mountain train, as an add. doing du. officer to No. 1 Punjab light field batt. is conf.

Gen. Dept., No. 2,041, dated Aug. 9.—Leave:—Capt. Cox, dep. commr. of Peshawar, has priv. leave for 1 mo., with effect from 10th inst.

Lieut. J. R. G. Short, asst. commr., will conduct duties of dist. during Capt. Cox's abs.

Public Works Dept., No. 1,502, dated Aug. 11.—Lieut. Blair, asst. engr. 8th div. Grand Trunk road, to Kohat div., as offg. exec. engr.

Capt. Keyes, special asst. engr. from Huzara to the Molant div.

These appointments are subject to confirmation by the Supreme Government.

Civil Dep.—Gen. Dep. No. 2,170, dated Aug. 23.—Appointments.—Capt. T. W. Mercer, asst. commr. is app. to the out-station of Pind Dadun Khan, from July 4, 1860, inclusive.

No. 2,171, dated Aug. 23.—Capt. T. W. Mercer, asst. commr., received charge of the Jhelum dist. on Aug. 18, 1860.

HAZARA HORSE.

Leave of absence.—No. 345.—Lieut. W. Musgrave, comdg., is allowed 2 mos. priv. leave, from such date as he may avail himself of it, to Cashmere.

Lahore, Aug. 24, No. 349.—The regimental order, dated Goruckpore, Aug. 6, by Capt. R. Renney, comdg. 3rd Sikh inf., directing Lieut. B. R. Chambers, 2nd in com., to offic. as adjt., in add. to his other duties, from Aug. 4, 1860, during leave of Lieut. F. T. Bainbridge, is confirmed.

BY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF.

Adjt. Gen.'s Office, Simla, Aug. 7.—Capt. and Brev. maj. G. C. Sygne, dep. asst. adjt. gen. Benares div., is per. to remain at Simla, until Sept. 30, on leave.

The C. in C. in India is pleased to confirm the following appointments made by the Com. of the forces in China:—

Fane's Horse.—Lieut. and adjt. H. C. Catley to be 2nd in com., v. Lieut. R. G. Hope Johnstone, proceeded to England on m.c.

Lieut. R. B. Anderson, doing duty, to be adjt., v. Lieut. Catley.

Aug. 8.—The following orders are confirmed:—
By Maj. H. O. Mayne, comdg. at Goonah, dated 25th ult., directing Asst. surg. J. H. Sylvester, Mayne's horse, to assume med. ch. of a detach., 23rd Punjab inf.

Seronge field force order, by Lieut. col. W. Boyle, dated 31st Jan. last, directing Asst. surg. T. Walsh, H.M.'s 89th foot, to assume med. ch. of Bareilly levy, as a temp. measure, on dep. of Asst. surg. H. Stewart.
Lahore div. order, dated 21st June last, placing servs. of Lieut. R. H. Wall, late 16th N.I., acting barrack mr., Sealkote, at disp. of Punjab Govt., for employ. in Punjab police.

Leave of absence:—
3rd Compy. 6th Batt. Art.—Capt. S. C. Woodcock, from 15th July to 15th Oct., to Murree, under new rules.

Late 50th N.I.—Lieut. W. H. Garton, from 10th Aug. to 10th Feb., 1861, to presy., in view to undergoing an exam. in the native languages.

Aug. 1.—Lieut. J. E. Kennedy, late 74th N.I., att. to 4th Bengal Eur. inf., is app. to do du. with H.M.'s 48th regt., and directed to join.

Asst. surg. J. Elliott is app. to med. ch. of 65th N.I., v. Asst. surg. A. Vans Best, placed at disposal of govt. of Bengal.

Asst. surg. P. O'Brien, in ch. of medical depot at Saugor, is app. med. storekeeper at that station.

Unatt. Ens. H. Murray, now at the presy., is app. to do du. with Barrackpore depot; to join.

Roorkee station ord., dated 30th June last, directing Capt. A. Paterson and Lieut. and adjt. K. J. W. Coghill, 2nd Eur. Bengal fus., ordered on court martial du. to Meerut, to proc. by carriage dawk.

Orde div. order, dated 26th ult., appg. Lieut. W. A. Franks, late 12th N.I., to do du. with Cawnpore levy.

By Maj. J. F. Stafford, comdg. 7th Punjab inf., dated 28th ult., appg. Lieut. A. Copland, offg. 2nd in com., to resume also the duties of adjt., v. Lieut. H. A. Lewes.

Leave of absence:—
Late 29th N.I.—Ens. H. A. McNair, fr. Aug. 1 to Jan. 31, to Mussorie and Hills north of Deyrah, m.c.

Late 46th N.I.—Ens. R. M. B. Thomas, act. interp. H.M.'s 38th foot, fr. July 22 to Sept. 22, prep. to res. serv.

Late 51st N.I.—Ens. H. A. Plowden, do. du. Murray's Jat horse, fr. Aug. 1 to Sept. 31, in ext., to undergo an exam. in native languages.

Aug. 9.—The underment. officers were declared by the Board of Examiners at Fort William, on the 30th ult., to have passed in Hindoostanee:—

Lieuts. C. S. S. Taylor, F. Coddington, E. H. Ryans, C. E. Armstrong, A. S. Heyland, T. J. C. A. Studdy, J. A. O. Hampton, C. Cowie, W. Barron, and L. H. S. James, Bengal art. Lieuts. J. Eckford, P. Lambert, and C. C. S. Moncrieff, Bengal engr. Lieut. A. J. C. Birch, H.M.'s 24th foot, do. du. with Pathan cav. regt. Capt. C. H. S. Scott, H.M.'s 71st Highlanders, act. brig. maj., Gwalior. Cornet Irvine Low, 3rd Bengal Eur. cav. Lieuts. A. L. Douglas and E. J. McNair, 2nd Eur. Bengal fus. Lieut. J. P. Cambridge, late 2nd N.I. Ens. W. J. Parker, 4th N.I. Lieut. R. Worsley, late 15th N.I. Lieuts. A. Battye, C. St. J. B. Barnett, and Ens. A. N. Phillips, late 18th N.I. Lieuts. C. H. Ewart, late 25th N.I.; H. C. T. Jarrett, late 26th N.I.; J. R. Pearson, late 27th N.I.; C. A. Copland, late 30th N.I.; G. G. Cunliffe and M. P. Moriarty, late 41st N.I.; G. S. Goad, late 49th N.I.; R. Stainforth, late 56th N.I.; T. Dayrell, 56th N.I.; A. Lindsay, late 68th N.I.; and R. Clifford, late 74th N.I. Ens. A. B. Chalmers, W. R. Hamilton, and J. S. Tait, gen. list. Asst. surg. C. Plank, med. depl. Lieut. M. Tweedie, 13th Bombay N.I.

Aug. 10.—Capt. E. St. George, 1st Eur. Bengal fus., now at presy., is app. to do du. at Barrackpore depot, and directed to join.

Appointment:—1st Mahratta Horse.—Lieut. J. P. Turton, of the late 26th N.I., to do duty, and act as adjutant.

Aug. 11.—Leave of absence:—
2nd Batt. Art.—Lieut. col. W. H. Delamain, from June 29 to Oct. 31, in ext. of priv. leave, to remain at Simla, on m.c., under new rules.

3rd Batt. Art.—Col. R. Horsford, from July 24 to Aug. 10, to presy., prep. to furl. to Eur. for 3 years.
Late 53rd N.I.—Capt. W. R. E. Alexander (comdt. Alexander's horse), from July 18 to Aug. 18, to Calcutta, on m.c., prep. to furl. to Europe.

Aug. 13.—The servs. of Brev. capt. S. D. White, 3rd Eur. regt., as interp. to H.M.'s 6th foot, being no longer required, he is directed to proceed and join his regiment.

Surg. maj. J. Bowhill is to be considered as having been posted to 3rd brig. horse art. fr. Dec. 2, 1857, the date of the G. O. appointing him to the med. ch. thereof.

Leave of absence:—

Unatt. List.—Ens. G. Bradley, fr. Sept. 1 to Nov. 15, to presy., prep. to retire fr. the service.

SICKNESS AND MORTALITY RETURN.

Aug. 14.—In order to admit of sickness and mortality returns being punctually transmitted to the India-house, officers commanding regiments are required to transmit return to the officer of the army, at the Presidency as soon after the 1st of January of each year as possible.

These returns will be furnished under the counter-signature of officers commanding stations who will be held responsible for their punctual transmission.

The returns due for the year 1858 need not now be furnished.

By order of H.E. the C. in C.

Court Martial.

CORNET R. SIMMONS.

Adj. Gen.'s Office, H.M.'s British Forces, Calcutta, Aug. 9.—Adj. Gen.'s Office, Simla, July 28.—At a general court martial assembled at Umballah, on June 23, Cornet R. Simmons, of H.M.'s 7th (Queen's Own) regt. of lt. drags. (hussars), was arraigned on the following charges:—

Charges.—1st. With having, at Umballa, on May 12, failed to appear at the place appointed by his commanding officer for parade for watering order, although duly warned to attend.

2nd. With conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline, in having, at Umballa, on May 12, after having been directed to attend at commanding officers quarters to account for his absence, as stated in the first charge, appeared there in a state of intoxication.

3rd. With having, at Umballa, on the night of the 12th of May, before being set at liberty by proper authority, broken the arrest in which he had been placed by his commanding officer, by quitting his quarters and proceeding to those of the acting adjutant of the regt.

4th. With behaving in a manner unbecoming an officer, and to the prejudice of good order and military discipline, in having, on the occasion of his proceeding to the quarters of the acting adjutant, as above stated, presented a pistol at that officer, and endeavoured to compel him by intimidation to return him, Cornet Simmons', sword.

Finding.—Guilty.

Sentence.—The Court sentences the prisoner, Cornet R. Simmons, of H.M.'s 7th (the Queen's Own) Lt. Drags. (Hussars), to be cashiered.

Approved and confirmed.

(Signed) HUGH ROSE, gen., C. in C. in India.

Hd. Qrs., Calcutta, July 18.

Recommendation to Mercy.—The court begs to recommend the prisoner to the merciful consideration of H.E. the C. in C., on the ground that his present position, recently attained, proves former meritorious service.

Remarks by H.E. the C. in C.—The finding and recommendation of the court to mercy are just.

It would not be for the good of the service that the prisoner should remain in his regiment, to which he has given an example of very great insubordination and irregularity: on the other hand, the prisoner's very good and gallant services do not allow Sir Hugh Rose to abandon him to his fate.

The benevolence of H.E. the Viceroy enables him to provide Mr. Simmons with a useful and honourable livelihood, and to afford him an opportunity of regaining the esteem of his superiors, which he won by his devotion and his bravery.

Leave of Absence.

Adj. Gen.'s Office, Simla, Aug. 21, 1860.—In pursuance of instructions from Government, the Commander in Chief is pleased to direct that every officer, on applying for leave to Europe, shall furnish with his application for leave a statement of his services in the field, and also a statement showing how he has been employed during his service.

2. In the former of these statements, the corps with which the officer may have served on each occasion of service must invariably be specified; all general orders publishing despatches in which the applicant may have been mentioned in any way are to be cited; and the statement is in all respects to be so prepared that reference to official records for substantiation of the entries may be easily effected.

3. In the other statement called for, each appointment which the officer applying for leave may have held during his service is to be noted, and the general order or other authority by which appointed is to be quoted.

4. Officers who have not the means of referring to general orders to trace the orders, particulars, &c., which it is hereby required they shall furnish, must apply to the divisional or brigade staff officers nearest at hand, and by whom the necessary records may be possessed; and officers are warned that this work cannot be entirely thrown upon the adjutant general's office, and that statements which are not as complete as they possibly might be will be returned for completion.

5. In addition to the above statements, all officers applying for leave to Europe will furnish a declaration to the effect that their conduct has never been the subject of a court martial or court of inquiry, or if this cannot be certified, the facts of the case must be fully stated.

6. Officers commanding divisions, stations, and regiments, are requested to see that all those respectively under their command make themselves acquainted with this general order, and all officers concerned are cautioned to take timely steps for the preparation of the statements required, in order that, when desirous of proceeding on leave to Europe, their departure may not be delayed from the absence of the documents; for any such delay, and consequent inconvenience, they will only have themselves to blame.

7. In case of sudden and severe sickness necessitating immediate embarkation, the rule will of course be set aside; but in all other cases a strict observance of the provisions of this order will be enforced.

Lord Canning's Tour.

TO H.E. THE RIGHT. HON. THE GOVERNOR OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

My Lord,—The several letters noted in the margin* relate to your Excellency's progress through the Punjab, and the durbars held by you in that province.

The loyalty which on these occasions was manifested by the assembled chiefs towards your Excellency in person, and through you towards H.M. the Queen, is a source of much gratification to M.M.'s Government.

At Sealkote your Excellency received the Maharajah of Cashmere, and afterwards visited him in his own encampment, where, after again thanking him for the services that he had rendered to the armies of her Majesty, you informed him in his own durbar that it was the sincere desire of H.M.'s Government that his illustrious house might be perpetuated by lineal descent, but that in the event of any failure of direct heirs, his Highness might rely upon a willing recognition by the British Government of an heir adopted into his house according to its usage and traditions. This announcement, the tenor of which is entirely in accordance with the views of H.M.'s Government, was received by the Maharajah with feelings of grateful satisfaction, and I learn with pleasure, from the letter of the lieut. gov., enclosed in your despatch of the 29th of March, that "he considers great and he trusts lasting benefits have accrued to the Punjab" from the visits of your Excellency.

With your visits to these remote stations, and the several durbars which you held there, you brought to a close your receptions of the princes and chiefs of India. I am commanded by the Queen to express her Majesty's satisfaction that your Excellency's progress has elicited everywhere expressions of loyalty to the British throne, and that you have neglected no opportunity of strengthening, by offices of friendship and assurances of goodwill, the alliances of the principal natives states of India, to whose good services we owe, under Providence, so much of our recent successes, and whose confidence in our justice and moderation must ever be one of the main pillars of our strength.—I have, &c., (Signed) C. Wood.

Invaliding Committees.

Adj. gen.'s Office, H.M.'s British Forces, Head Qrs., Calcutta, Aug. 13.—General officers comdg. divs. and brigadiers comdg. separate brigades will, as soon after the receipt of this order as practicable, cause committees of med. officers to be assembled within their command, for the purpose of examining such soldiers of H.M.'s service as may be deemed fit subjects to be invalided.

2. The general officers and brigadiers comdg. respectively at Lucknow, Bareilly, Saugor, Gwalior, and Meerut, will cause the invalids of their divs. and brigds. to march as soon as the season will permit to

* G. G. foreign 23rd February, No. 17a, 1860; 27th February, No. 18a, 1860; 12th March, No. 25a, 1860; 29th March, No. 32a, 1860.

Cawnpore, to be forwarded to Calcutta as opportunities offer, under the orders of the general officer comdg. the Oude div., who will move the invalids of regts. at Cawnpore to the pres., in like manner.

3. The general officer commanding Meerut division will give the necessary order for marching the invalids from Landour in such time as will admit of their joining the Meerut party and proceeding with it to Cawnpore.

4. The brigadier commanding in Rohilcund will issue similar instructions for the invalids from Nynsee Tal proceeding with the Bareilly detachment.

5. The invalids from Allahabad, from corps in the Benares division, and from Darjeeling, will proceed to Calcutta, as opportunities offer, under the orders of the general officers commanding the Oude and Benares divisions.

6. The invalids from the Meerut, Oude, and Benares divisions, and Saugor, Gwalior, and Rohilcund brigades, should be moved in such time that the last detachment may reach Calcutta on or before 1st January, 1861.

7. The gen. officer commanding the Meerut division, and the brigadiers commanding Saugor, Gwalior, and Rohilcund brigades, will, as soon as they are in possession of data of the probable number of invalids from their commands, cause a numerical return of the men, women and children to be forwarded to the general officer commanding the Oude division. The information, together with that which the latter officer will be pleased to obtain from corps in his own division, will enable him to make timely arrangements for carriage, medicines, &c., &c.

8. Dr. Linton will carry out the usual arrangements connected with the annual invaliding in the Sirhind, Lahore, and Peshawur divisions, as also at Mooltan, where the final medical board will assemble for the examination of the invalids on the 25th December, 1860.

9. The invalids of regiments at Peshawur are to march in time to reach Mooltan before Dec. 25, 1860. They will be joined en route by the invalids from stations in the Peshawur and Lahore divisions.

10. The general officer commanding the Sirhind division will move the invalids from stations in his command in time to reach Mooltan before Dec. 25, 1860.

11. The general officers commanding the Peshawur and Sirhind divisions will cause a return of the probable number of men, women, and children who will march from their divisions to be furnished to the general officer commanding the Lahore division. The information contained in these returns, together with that which he will obtain from similar returns, to be called for from corps in his own division, will enable him to make timely arrangements for tonnage, medicines, &c., &c., so as to ensure the embarkation of the entire party at Mooltan on or before Dec. 30, 1860.

12. The general officer commanding the presidency division will give the necessary orders for the movement towards Calcutta of invalids from stations under his command.

13. The annual invaliding committee at the presidency will be formed in the usual manner. The inspector-general or the deputy inspector-general of H.M.'s hospital will preside at this committee.

14. Officers to command and do duty with the several parties of invalids will be appointed hereafter.

15. The officers comdg. the several convalescent and other depots will place themselves in communication with the officers commanding the regiments of such men as may be invalided at the depots, with a view to ensure accuracy in their documents and accounts.

16. The rules laid down in the Queen's regulations, pages 178, 179, 185, 186, 197, 198, 199, G.O. August 14, 1850, pages 551, 552, 553, of the 1st volume Standing Orders; G.O. August 24th, 1852, page 77, of the 2nd volume Standing Orders; and G.O. No. 101, dated Calcutta, July 21, 1860, are to be strictly observed.

17. Officers commanding regiments and depots from which invalids passed by station boards are to appear before the general invaliding committees at Mooltan and Calcutta, will forward, through the prescribed channel, the two copies of No. 1 Return (vide pages 113 to 116 of the 1st volume Standing Orders) required by the adjutant general H.M.'s forces to the inspector general of H.M.'s hospitals direct, as soon after the committees have closed their proceedings as practicable.

18. These returns will eventually be forwarded by the inspector gen. to the adj. gen.'s office. No additional copies are therefore to be sent to the latter dept.

19. Returns of the probable number of invalids must be forwarded as early as possible, and of the number that have been passed by station committees immediately after such committees have closed their proceedings, to the adj. gen. H.M.'s forces in India, in the form laid down in circular, Aug. 2, 1853, pp. 117, 118, 119, of vol. 2 standing orders.

By order of H.E. the C. in C.,

E. HATTHORNE,
Col., Adj. gen. H.M.'s Forces in India.

Powers of the Lieut.-Governor of the Punjab.

Financial Department, Fort William, July 21.—
No. 65.—Notifications.—The Governor-general in Council is pleased to direct that the following resolutions be published:—

No. 1,527.—Extract from the proceedings of the Government of India in the Financial Department, Dated 14th Feb., 1860.

Read again the Office Memorandum from the Under-Secretary to the Government of India, with the Governor-general in the Foreign Department, No. 46, dated the 7th ultimo, forwarding for consideration and orders, a letter from the Government of the Punjab, requesting instructions in regard to the competency of the Lieut.-governor to sanction past establishments and expenditure generally.

Read again the communication to the civil auditor at this presidency, No. 230, dated the 17th ultimo, forwarding the above for report.

Read again the reply of the civil order, No. 240, dated 20th ultimo.

Read again the telegraphic message to the civil auditor of the N.W. Provinces, dated the 31st ult.

Read a telegraphic message from the civil auditor of the N.W. Provinces, in reply, dated the 7th inst.

Resolution.—The Hon. the President in Council observes that the Government of the Punjab requests that the powers in regard to the competency of the Lieut.-governor to sanction past establishments and expenditure in general may be defined.

2. Mr. Raynor, the former civil auditor of the Punjab, of whom the Lieut.-governor had inquired to what extent he was empowered to recognise the authority of the Lieut.-governor in respect to establishments prospective and retrospective, replied that, in the civil auditor's office at Agra the practice was to accept the authority of the Lieut.-governor for all past expenditure on establishments that had been discontinued without reference to the length of time for which they had been retained, the expenditure in such case being passed as a contingency; if the establishments were not discontinued the Lieut.-governor was competent to sanction them for six months only. Mr. Raynor added that, pending a reference to the Supreme Government, he was prepared to act on this rule, and several cases had been disposed of accordingly.

3. The present civil auditor, however, demurs to this practice. He considers that his predecessor's audits were not strictly correct; that the Lieut.-governor has authority to sanction establishments for six months only, whether prospective or retrospective, and that establishments could in no wise be treated as contingencies.

4. A direct reference was, therefore, made by the Government of the Punjab to the Agra civil auditor, and that officer confirms Mr. Raynor's account of the practice of that office.

5. The civil auditor at this Presidency having been called upon for a report on the subject, states that since the rules of the 8th December, 1843, were passed by the Government of India in this department, local governments are not competent to sanction the entertainment of establishments, whether permanent or temporary, without reporting the same for the sanction of the Supreme Government.

6. He is, therefore, he states, not aware of the precise circumstances under which the civil auditor of the North-Western Provinces, and Mr. Raynor, late civil auditor of the Punjab, state that the Lieut.-governor of the Punjab has authority to sanction establishments for six months. Should this statement, however, he adds, be based on the article 334 of the civil auditor's Manual for the N.W. Provinces, he would observe that their interpretation is not quite correct, inasmuch as the date of the order* cited in the article in question is anterior to the rule of December, 1843, which must have superseded the orders of 1840.

7. The civil auditor of the N.W.P. also having been requested to report under what orders of government he accepted the authority of the Lieut.-governor of those provinces for past expenditure discontinued without reference to the length of time for which they had been retained, and under what authority, likewise, it was held that the Lieut.-governor was competent to sanction establishments for six months, states that there is no rule in the offices restricting the authority of the Lieut.-governor in the sanction of temporary establishment; such charges are passed under express orders, without reference to period embraced therein, under article 334 of the civil auditor's manual (the same as quoted by the civil auditor at this presidency), temporary establishments sanctioned by Government, without specification of period are allowed, he adds, for six months and then retrenched, for renewed authority.

8. His Honour in Council is of opinion that the rule in Bengal is the correct rule; and he desires that it be enforced; viz., that the local governments shall not be permitted to sanction any establishments, temporary or permanent, without immediately reporting such sanction for the confirmation of the Government of India; and that the auditors shall not pass the charges for any such establishments unless they have been sanctioned by the Government of India.

* Hon. Court, dated March 12, 1840. General Department, N.W. Provinces, dated June 13, 1840.

Ordered, that a copy of the foregoing resolution be sent to the secretary to the Government of India with the Gov.-general for information and for communication to the Government of the Punjab; and that the original paper received with the office memorandum above adverted to be returned.

Ordered also, that a copy of the resolution be communicated, respectively to the local governments and the auditors noted in the margin* for their information.

(A True Extract.)

(Signed) C. HUGH LUSHINGTON,
Sec. to the Govt. of India.

No. 2,804.—From C. H. Lushington, Esq., Sec. to the Govt. of India, Financial Department, to the Civil Auditor, N. W. P.

Fort William Council Chamber,
March 30th, 1860.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

Sir,—I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 49-456, dated the 19th instant, inquiring with reference to the ruling of the 14th ultimo, viz., that the local governments shall, for the future, not have the power to sanction any establishments, temporary or permanent, without reporting the same to the Supreme Government for confirmation; first, whether the authorities subordinate to those Governments are to be permitted, as heretofore, to sanction establishments; and secondly, whether every charge connected with an establishment is to be held to require the sanction of the Supreme Government prior to its being passed.

2. You observe in regard to your first inquiry that the authorities noted in the margin† have been hitherto understood to have the power of sanctioning establishments for the periods specified against their names; and that as the local governments are held to be without the power of conveying this sanction, you are of opinion that it is impossible that those who are under them shall continue to possess this power, even if the other two officers, viz., the Director-general of the Post-office in India and the Postmaster-general, are held to have that authority as being directly under the Supreme Government.

3. With respect to the above, the Hon. the President in Council desires me to state that the ruling of the 14th ultimo, mentioned above, is to be held applicable to all establishments, whether sanctioned in the first instance by the Board of Revenue, Commissioners, the Director-general of the Post-office, or the Postmaster-general; and with respect to the second question, I am to state that every charge connected with an establishment is held to require the sanction of the Supreme Government, and should not be passed without such sanction having been obtained.

4. With reference to the opinion expressed by you in the 7th para. of your letter under acknowledgment, viz., that some date should be specified from which the powers hitherto held with respect to the sanction of establishments by the Lieut.-gov. and the different authorities quoted by you shall be held to terminate, I am directed to inform you that the President in Council determines that the recent orders will be applicable to all establishments entertained subsequent to the date of those orders, viz., February 14.—I have, &c.,

(Signed) C. HUGH LUSHINGTON,
Sec. to the Govt. of India.

BOMBAY.

CIVIL.

(From the Government Gazette, Aug. 23.)

*Political Dept., Bombay Castle, Aug. 17.—*H.E. the Gov. in Council is pleased to recognize Mr. B. F. Farnham as consular agent at Kurrachee for the Govt. of the United States of America.

*Judicial Dept., Aug. 18.—*Mr. J. G. Moore, acting 2nd asst. mag. of Broach, is vested with the power of inflicting corporal punishment.

Mr. C. A. Middleton acted as judicial dep. mag. of Kurrachee from Jan. 10 to March 5, 1860, and has been app. to act as judicial dep. mag. of Hyderabad from March 8 last.

Aug. 20.—H.E. the Gov. in Council is pleased to make the foll. apps:—

* Governments of Bengal, Fort St. George, Bombay, North-Western Province, and the Eastern Settlements. Civil Auditors, Fort William, Fort St. George, Bombay, North Western Provinces, and the Punjab.

† Authority given under orders of Government, N.W.P.

Authority given under orders of Government of India.

Sudder Board of Revenue Commissioners of Divisions.
The Director-general of the Post-office in India.
Postmaster-general.

Prospective, 6 months.
Prospective, 3 months.

Mr. C. Forbes to be judge and sess. judge of Konkan, in succ. to Mr. C. J. Erskine.

Mr. F. Lloyd to be judicial asst. to mag. of Satara.

Mr. C. H. Cameron to be sen. asst. judge and sess. judge of Konkan, for the detached station of Butnagherry.

The Hon. G. A. Hobart to be sen. asst. judge and sess. judge of Ahmedabad, for the detached station of Kaira.

Aug. 22.—Mr. R. H. Thomas, 3rd mag. of police, resumed ch. of his duties on 18th inst.

*Revenue Dept., Bombay Castle, Aug. 20.—*The servs. of the following gentlemen are placed at the disposal of the Govt. of India:—

Messrs. H. Burra and H. E. Jacomb for employment in Punjab.

Mr. W. Ramsay for employment in Nagpore.

Aug. 21.—In supersession of the leave granted on June 11 and July 23 last respectively, Capt. W. R. Lambert, coll. and mag. of Hyderabad, has 3 mos. leave from May 29 last, to Kurrachee.

Mr. G. Waddington, supernu. 3rd asst. coll., Satara, has leave for 1 mo.

*Gen. Dept., Aug. 22.—*Asst. surg. Asher, 1st Belooch batt., performed duties of civ. surg. at Hyderabad from May 27 to June 8, 1860, and from July 15 to July 28 last, and assumed charge of his app. as actg. civ. surg. at that station on July 29, 1860.

*Public Works Dept., Aug. 22.—*Lieut. Mathew, asst. engr., has been granted an extra. of leave on m.c., from July 6 to Aug. 31.

(From the Bombay Government Gazette, Aug. 80.)

*Revenue Dept., Aug. 27.—*Mr. H. Burra, C.S., has passed an examination in Scinde language.

Mr. L. Reid, actg. coll. of Ahmednuggur, is permitted to proceed into the dists. of his collectorate on gen. duty, on the opening of the season.

*Financial Dept., Aug. 28.—*Under instructions from the Govt. of India, Dr. Collum has been directed to proceed to Calcutta on special duty.

*Gen. Dept., Aug. 29.—*Mr. J. B. Richey, actg. 3rd asst. to coll. and mag. of Khandeish, and attached to the educational dept., on special duty, is app. educational inspector, N. div., from 1st inst., from which date he has been in charge of the duties.

*Public Works Dept., Aug. 24.—*The leave granted to Lieut. col. Margary, by Govt. notification dated June 6, is extended to Oct. 1.

(From the Government Gazette, Sept. 6.)

*Political Dept., Sept. 3.—*Capt. G. B. Tyrwhitt assu. charge of the office of polit. superint. of Thurr and Parkur on Aug. 7 last.

*Judicial Dept., Sept. 1.—*Mr. H. E. Lecke, asst. superint. of police at Tanna, resu. ch. of his office on 20th ult.

Sept. 3.—Mr. J. F. Hore, 1st judge of the Bombay Court of Small Causes, has leave for 12 mos. fr. date of depart. of the next mail steamer, to proc. to Eur., on m.c.

*Revenue Dept., Aug. 30.—*Mr. M. J. S. Stewart, asst. comr. in Scinde, has leave for 8 mos.

Mr. R. C. Beynon, asst. superint. rev. survey S. Mahratta country, has leave for 1 mo.

Aug. 31.—Mr. R. B. Pitt, supernu. asst. superint. rev. survey and assessment, Khandeish, has been perm. to proc. to Bombay fr. 24th inst., for the purpose of appearing before the general examination committee.

Sept. 1.—Mr. J. MacFarlan to be a 3rd class dep. coll. and mag. in Scinde.

Lieut. C. D. J. Dodd, 8th N.I., to be a supernu. dep. coll. and mag. in Scinde.

Sept. 3.—Mr. H. G. Rowell, sub asst. superintend. Khandeish rev. survy. and assessment, has leave for 1 mo., to Poona.

Mr. D. C. R. Leighton to act as coll. and mag. of Tanna dur. abs. of Mr. Morgan, on leave.

Sept. 5.—The foll. apps. are made, to take effect from the date of Mr. Spooner's dep. for Calcutta on special duty:—

Mr. E. L. Jenkins, to be offic. commr. of customs, salt, and opium.

Mr. A. F. Bellasis, to be offic. dep. commr. of customs, salt, and opium.

Mr. E. W. Ravenscroft, to be offic. coll. and mag. of Surat, continuing to perform, in add., his du. in the alienation dept.

Mr. H. Burra has been app. act. 3rd class dep. coll., Scinde, from April 3. This app. is to have effect up to date of Mr. Burra's dep. to Punjab.

*Gen. Dept., Aug. 31.—*Asst. surg. Broughton, superint. at Mahabeshwur, has priv. leave for 1 mo., from Sept. 1.

Sept. 1.—Mr. F. P. Baker, dep. educational inspector, Dharwar sub div., is granted priv. leave for 1 mo., from Oct. 2.

Sept. 5.—Dr. E. Impey received ch. of the office of postmr. gen. of Bombay, from Mr. Leighton, on Aug. 22.

Mr. C. R. Rowlands, act. chief resident engr., Bombay water works, is granted priv. leave for 1 mo., fr. Sept. 1.

*Public Works Dept., Sept. 5.—*Mr. M. Barton, 1st class asst. engr., at present employed in survey of Tinai Ghaut, is prom. to the grade of special asst. engr., Dharwar districts.

BY THE GOVERNOR IN COUNCIL.

Poona, Aug. 20.—No. 495.—The following G.O. by the Govt. of India, dated July 20, No. 770, is published:—

DONATION BATTAL.

"Under the authority of the Rt. Hon. the Sec. of State for India, it is hereby notified that officers of the med. serv., whether of the British or Indian armies, who may be entitled to donation batta, will draw that of the grade corresponding to the relative army rank conferred upon them by the royal warrants of Oct. 1, 1858, and Jan. 13, 1860."

Aug. 21.—No. 496.—The undermnt. officers are allowed furl. to Eur., on m.c., under the new furl. regs.:

Maj. W. Loch, 1st regt. L.C., actg. mily. paymr. at presy., for 18 mo.

Lieut. and adj. H. L. Robinson, 20th N.I., for 15 mo.

No. 497.—On the dep. of Maj. Loch, of H.M.'s 1st L.C. for England, Capt. J. T. Annesley, H.M.'s 26th N.I., will act as paymr. at presy., in add. to his dus. as paymr. and superint. of family payments.

Aug. 22.—No. 499.—The following station order by Col. C. Lucas, commdg. at Ahmedabad, is conf. as a tempy. measure:—

Lieut. Nignon, actg. asst. comy. gen. at Ahmedabad, having been directed to proc. on du. to Bombay, Capt. Hill, 14th N.I., is (subject to confirmation) app. an actg. first class commt. agent, to carry on the commt. dus. at this station, and will receive ch. of the office from Lieut. Mignon in the course of to-morrow.

Aug. 24.—No. 501.—Capt. A. Raitt, invalid estab., has furl. to Eur. for 3 yrs., under old regs.

Bombay, Aug. 23.—Leave of abs.—30th N.I.—Capt. J. J. Laurie, from Aug. 16 to Sept. 16, in ext. to remain at Asseerghur, on m.c.

Poona, Aug. 23.—The Govt. of Bombay, with the sanction of the Govt. of India, has been pleased to place the servs. of Ens. Anderson, H.M.'s 95th regt., at the disposal of the C. in C.

Ens. Anderson will join the hd. qrs. of his regt. at Neemuch as soon as possible.

Orders confirmed:—

The foll. postings of field officers are ordered:—

Col. R. St. John, fr. unatt. to 7th N.I.

Lieut. col. H. S. Watkin, fr. 6th N.I. to 11th N.I.

Lieut. col. C. G. Munro (new prom.), to 16th N.I.

Lieut. col. C. R. Hogg (new prom.), to 24th N.I.

Col. G. Macan (new prom.) will remain unatt.

Lieut. G. R. Goodfellow, H.M.'s 15th N.I., is confirmed in the app. of qmr. and interp. to that corps.

Ens. G. H. Reinecker, H.M.'s 28th N.I., is confirmed in the app. of adjt. to that corps.

The foll. transfer and postings in the regt. of art. are ordered:—

Capt. W. S. Hatch, fr. 1st to 3rd batt., to com. 4th co. with No. 7 lt. fd. batty. att.

Lieut. M. A. Chaldecott, to join hd. qrs. 1st batt.

Lieuts. S. S. Jacob and F. W. Major, to 4th batt., to join and proc. with the co. ordered to Aden.

Lieut. T. H. Trafford, to 3rd batt., to join 4th co. with No. 7 lt. fd. batty. att.

Asst. surg. G. Y. Hunter is placed on gen. du., Pres. div., and directed to join.

Lieut. J. Barras, H.M.'s 15th N.I., is confirmed in the app. of adjt. to that corps.

REMOVAL OF KHANDALLA.

Aug. 27.—No. 503.—Khandalla is transf. from the Poona circle of the barrack dept. to the pres. circle.

Aug. 29.—No. 504.—Capt. R. Richards, of H.M.'s 3rd N.I., has been granted by the authorities at Hong Kong a furl. to Eur., for 13 mos., on m.c.

Aug. 31.—No. 507.—Lieut. Warden, 2nd class commissariat agent in Cutch, is relieved of his duties, and his servs. are placed at disposal of C. in C.

No. 508.—Admitted to the serv. as cadet of inf. on this estab., date of arr. at Bombay, Aug. 27:—

Infantry.—No. 556.—Mr. Simon S. Dalmahoy.

Sept. 1.—No. 509.—Lieut. H. I. E. Teed, 23rd Madras N.I., has a furl. to Eur. for 15 mos., on m.c., under new regs.

No. 510.—Lieut. H. J. Heisch, of H.M.'s 28th N.I., has furl. to Eur. for 18 mos., on m.c., under new regs.

Sept. 3.—No. 511.—The underment. officers have been permitted to return to their duty, viz.:—

Lieuts. R. L. Campbell, E. M. Smith, F. C. Donne, W. H. Newport, T. Knight, and J. W. Watson.

No. 512.—The underment. officers have been granted extensions of leave for the periods specified, viz.:—

Lieut. col. T. Maughan, 4 mos.; Lieut. col. H. Daly, 6 mos.; Capt. J. Jones, 3 mos.; 2nd Capt. F. Lloyd, 6 mos.; Lieut. A. H. Woodhouse, 3 mos.; Lieut. G. H. Banner, 4 mos.; Lieut. W. Williams, 6 mos.; Vet. surg. H. J. Poett, 4 mos.

No. 513.—The underment. officers have been permitted to retire from the service, viz.:—

Capt. the Hon. C. E. Hobart, 26th N.I., from June 8; and Asst. surg. T. Boycot.

Sept. 6.—No. 513.—Lieut. C. D. J. Dodd, of H.M.'s 8th N.I., has been appd. a sup. dep. coll. and mag. in Scinde.

Bombay Castle, Sept. 7.—No. 514.—Capt. M. J. Battye, of H.M.'s 31st N.I., has a furl. to Eur. for 18 mos., on m.c., under new regs.

Poona, Sept. 10.—No. 515.—The servs. of Capt. C. T. T. Beddom, engrs., are placed at disposal of the govt. of India.

BY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF.

Poona, Aug. 24.—The following transfers in the regt. of art. are ordered:—

Lieut. col. H. W. Trevelyan, from 2nd batt. to horse art.

Lieut. col. E. S. Blake, from 4th to 1st batt.

Leave of absence:—

Regt. of Art.—Lieut. col. R. C. Wormald, for 60 days, privilege leave, from Aug. 15, to remain at Belgaum.

H.M.'s 30th N.I.—Lieut. M. M. Carpendale, from Sept. 1 to Oct. 30, to Bombay, on priv. leave.

Aug. 25.—The undermentioned officers are transferred from the regiments they are at present with, and attached to the corps opposite their respective names, and directed to join as soon as possible:—

Ensigns Girardot and Hudson to 3rd N.I.

Ens. Ogilvie, 3rd Eur. regt.

Bombay, Aug. 25.—Returned to duty on Aug. 18:—

Capt. (Bt. maj.) W. S. Hatch, regt. of art.

Lieut. A. W. Macnaughton, 2nd L.C.

Lieut. M. A. Chaldecott, artillery.

Asst. surg. G. Y. Hunter, med. estab.

Aug. 27.—Inf. cadet S. S. Dalmahoy, recently arr. from England, is att. to do du. for a period of 6 mos. with 83rd foot.

Poona, Aug. 27.—Surg. maj. A. Burn is posted to 17th N.I.

Asst. surg. C. Joynt, on being relieved by Surg. maj. Burn, is placed on gen. du., northern div.

Aug. 28.—With reference to G.O. No. 725 of 9th ult., Lieut. col. Kirby, H.M.'s 94th regt., is app. mil. sec. to C. in C. fr. date on which he assu. the act. app., with consent of C. in C. in India.

Aug. 29.—Leave of abs. has been granted by H.R.H. the gen. Cg. in C. to the underment. officer:—

95th Regt.—Col. Rames, c.b., fr. July 9 to Oct. 9, m.c.

Aug. 31.—The underment. officer has passed the required exam. in the colloq. Hindoostance lang.:—

Lieut. F. Angelo, H.M.'s 28th regt.

Under instructions conveyed in the foll. extract of G.O. by the C. in C. in India, Asst. surg. Hopkins, H.M.'s 71st regt., will proc., immediately on being relieved by Staff surg. Holton, fr. med. ch. of Kurrachee depot to join his corps at Morar:—

(Extract G.O.)—"Calcutta, Aug. 20.—At the recommendation of the dep. inspec. gen. of hospitals, Asst. surg. E. Hopkins, H.M.'s 71st Highlanders L.I., do. du. at Kurrachee depot, will proc. immediately, at the public expense, to join his corps at Morar, where his serv. are urgently required."

Bombay, Sept. 1.—The underment. officers passed the colloq. exam. in Hindoostance on 27th Aug.:—

Lieut. F. C. H. Clarke, art.

Ens. F. S. Leacock, att. to 1st batt. art.

Leave of abs.:—31st N.I.—Lieut. C. D. McLeod, fr. 1st to 30th Sept., in ext., to remain in the Deccan, m.c.

Poona, Aug. 31.—Lieut. F. J. Mortimer, art., is directed to join the native co. of Golundauze at Aden by the next mail steamer.

Sept. 1.—The foll. orders are confirmed:—

By the maj. gen. cong. at Ahmedabad, dated Aug. 23, granting leave to Asst. surg. Kearney, H.M.'s 4th (king's own) regt., for 1 mo., fr. Aug. 25, to Bombay, m.c.

By the officer comg. H.M.'s 28th regt., dated Aug. 15, appg. No. 2742 Sergt. G. Morris to act as 3rd cl. sergt. instruc. of musk. fr. Aug. 15.

By the officer comg. H.M.'s 56th regt., dated Aug. 27, appg. Lieut. Bolton to act as instruc. of musk. fr. Aug. 20, v. Lieut. Thompson.

Bombay, Sept. 3.—The leave granted to the underment. officers in G. O. Nos. 639, 351, and 512, dated respectively June 16, April 7, and May 12 last, came under the furl. regs. below specified, viz.:—

Capt. F. J. Groube, inv. estab., new rules.

Capt. F. R. Jardine, inv. estab., old rules.

Lieut. T. H. Blair, 19th N.I., new rules.

Poona, Sept. 7.—Lieut. R. St. John, H.M.'s 72nd highlanders, is att. to cav. branch of Scinde frontier field force, and directed to join.

Leave of abs.:—2nd Regt. L.C.—Lieut. C. A. Moore, from Sept. 15 to Jan. 15, 1861, to Bombay.

The Rt. Hon. the Sec. of State for India has been pleased to permit the underment. officers to count as service for the retiring pension the periods entered against their names of leave of abs. on m.c., on account of wounds received in action, or sickness contracted in field service:—

Maj. J. D. Woolcombe, c.b., art., 18 mo.

Maj. E. A. Hardy, 1st regt. L.C. (Lancers), 15 mo.

Maj. A. B. Little, 25th N.I., 18 mo.

Capt. R. E. Glasspoole, 6th N.I., 18 mo.

2nd Capt. T. M. Harris, art., 18 mo.

Lieut. W. J. Stevenson, art., 18 mo.

Lieut. J. C. Farquharson, 2nd L.C., 18 mo.

Lieut. W. A. Kerr, 24th N.I., 15 mo.

Lieut. A. G. Plomer, 25th N.I., 9 mo.

Sept. 10.—Inf. cadet E. A. Douglas, recently arr. from England, is att. to do du. for a period of 6 mo. with 2nd Eur. L.I.

NAVAL.

Poona, Aug. 17.—No. 141.—Actg. lieut. F. Warden has been allowed priv. leave by the Govt. of India for 60 days, commencing from 1st ult.

Superint. Office, Bombay, Aug. 23.—Actg. lieut. Morland is app. registrar of seamen from the date of Lieut. Forster's departure.

Poona, Aug. 23.—No. 143.—Mr. F. G. Bone, purser, and sec. to C. in C., I.N., has furl. to Eur. for 15 mo., on m.c., under new furl. regs.

Superint. Office, Bombay, Aug. 30.—Mr. J. J. Newberry, 1st class engr., having ret. from leave, is directed to join the Ajdaha as superny., for duty in the factory.

Aug. 31.—Mr. J. V. Harrison, capt.'s clerk of the Ajdaha, is allowed 7 days' priv. leave to Nassick from this day.

Mr. W. Robinson, actg. 2nd class 2nd mr. of the Dalhousie, having passed the required exam., is prom. to actg. 1st class 2nd mr. from 18th inst.

Poona, Sept. 1.—No. 146.—Mr. R. L. Lawson, actg. mr., I.N., has a furl. to Eur. for 1 year, on m.c.

Superint. Office, Bombay, Sept. 3.—Mr. J. C. Ibbs, purser and account. to the dockyard, is allowed 14 days' priv. leave to proc. to the Deccan, commencing from this date.

Sept. 4.—Mr. R. L. Lawson, act. mr. of the Indus flotilla, having arr. by the Scindian, on m.c., on 23rd ult., was perm. to reside on shore at the sanatorium from that date, on m.c.

Sept. 8.—Lieut. P. W. Fendall, of the Falkland, who arr. by the Tigris from the Persian Gulf, was perm. to reside on shore at the sanatorium, on m.c., from 27th ult.

Lieut. Forster, having ret. from special du., is directed to rejoin the Ajdaha as superny.

Mr. Le Messurier, mate, having arr. at the pres., is directed to join the Ajdaha as superny., under arrest.

Income-tax.

CIRCULAR.—No. 1,811 of 1860.
TO THE MILITARY PAYMASTER, D.A.

Sir,—A copy of the Income-tax Act, No. XXXII., of 1860, having been received, I beg to forward you the following instructions in supercession of those conveyed in my circular letter No. 1,710, dated 1st inst.

2. (Section 100, part 10.) Income-tax is to be levied and deducted on the face of all abstracts in respect of every public office or employment, and upon every annuity, salary or pension payable by you, on and after the 1st inst., at the rate of four (4) per cent. on all whose annual income shall aggregate and exceed Rs. (500) five hundred, and at the rate of two (2) per cent. on all whose annual income shall be less than Rs. 500, and equal to Rs. (200) two hundred, with the following exceptions, viz.—all officers, non-commissioned officers and privates of H.M.'s British or local forces, or of any police force, whose pay and allowances shall be less than the pay and allowances of a captain of infantry.

3. (Sections 127 and 129, part 13.) Public officers, civil, military, or naval, are to be wholly exempted in respect of any allowance received by them "for travelling expenses,* contract allowances, tent or horse allowance, or any allowance in lieu of house rent, or to meet any disbursement for the public service."

4. (Section 100, Rule 1, part 10.) The assessment in respect of every salary or payment made to any public officer, in cases requiring audit, will be made by this department at the time of audit, and in all other cases by you on payment.

5. (Section 134, part 13.) The Act provides "that any person who shall be liable to the payment of any periodical sum, or to have any sum periodically deducted from his salary, in order to secure a deferred annuity to himself, or to his widow, or a provision to his children after his death, shall be entitled to deduct the amount so paid by him for such insurance or contract, or deducted from his salary as aforesaid from any profits or income in respect of which he shall be liable to be assessed." Donations and subscriptions to the military fund are therefore exempt, and to be deducted from all officers, married or single, prior to computing the amount of tax—for example, Income-tax will be paid by,

* Government Resolution 2,852 of 13th Aug., 1860; Government Resolution No. 2,912 of 17th Aug., 1860.

Majors, Rs. 410-10-6 minus 27-12-0=383-2-6 at 4 per cent.

Captains, Rs. 249-1-0 minus 17-0-0=232-1-0 at 4 per cent.

with this exception, that no duty shall be charged of a less denomination than one anna.

6. (Section 4, part 1.) Heads of departments are to be assessed for their establishments, the members thereof allowing their principals such deductions.

7. Subalterns or any others on staff employ, and in receipt of staff salaries, which, with their Indian pay and allowances, aggregate or exceed the pay and allowances of a captain of infantry, Rs. 249-1-0, are liable to be taxed, the same being computed on the total amount (less military fund deductions) and not on the residue after deduction of their pay and allowances.

8. As regards those officers whose salaries are drawn partly in civil and partly in the military department, the military auditor general will recommend that they be assessed wholly in the former department, whence ordinarily the larger amount of their income is derived.

9. (Section 185, part 17.) The claim of govt. for Income-tax is to have a priority over all private claims.

10. (Section 142, part 15.) In conclusion, I have to observe that, as from the reading of the Act it would appear doubtful that salaries for July are liable for this impost, I have represented the same to govt.; but as it was ordered by the Supreme Government, as per copy of telegram already sent you, no refund thereof (with the exception of that assessed on any one drawing less than captains of infantry, and on the allowances not liable thereto) can be authorised by this dept. until the decision of govt. be received.—I have the honour to be, &c.,

G. H. ROBERTSON, Col.,
Actg. Mil. Aud. Gen.

Bombay, Mil. Aud. Gen.'s Office, Aug. 10.

Allowance for repairs of arms, and stationery, lights and petty stores.

Head and heel rope allowance; forage do.; caveson do.; saddle do.; gun contingent do.; office rent do.; stationery do.; mess and band do.

(Circular.)

No. 1,909 of 1860.

TO THE MILITARY PAYMASTER, D. A.

Sir,—Adverting to my printed circular, No. 1,811, of the 10th inst., regarding Income-tax, I have the honour, under the orders of govt., for your information and guidance.*

2. All military pensioners are exempted from Income-tax; likewise, pending further instruction, naval pensioners. Regarding civil pensioners in the military department, a reference will be made to the govt. of India.†

3. (Section 7, part 13.)—It has been ruled that the pay and allowances of a captain, as specified in Act XXXII. of 1860, are the field pay and allowances of a captain of infantry, Rs. 415-6-0, or, exclusive of tentage, specially exempted, Rs. 340-6-0; all, therefore, whose pay and allowances are less than those of a captain of infantry at the field rate are exempt.‡

4. The example shown in the fifth paragraph of Circular No. 1,811 will stand thus:—

At the field rate—
Majors, Rs. 639-3-0 minus 27-12-0 = 611-7-0 at 4 per cent.

Captains, Rs. 340-6-0 minus 17-0-0 = 323-6-0 at 4 per cent.

At garrison rate—Captains, Rs. 249-1-0 exempt.

5. Claims for Persian donation batta and for all salaries due, though not paid, prior to the 1st July, 1860, are exempted; and tax, therefore, that may have been assessed upon such claims you are authorised to refund. All salaries for the month of July are assessable under the Act.¶

I have the honour to be, &c.,

G. H. ROBERTSON, Col.,

Actg. Mil. Auditor Gen.

Bombay, Mil. Aud. Gen.'s Office, Aug. 22, 1860.

Expenditure on Public Works.

Poona, Sept. 3.—The attention of officers commanding divisions and stations is requested to para. 1 of the Public Works Department Order, dated Oct. 12, 1859, published in the Bombay Government Gazette dated 13th idem.

Also to circular memorandum No. 2,979 of Nov. 16, 1858, from the qmr. gen. of the army, giving cover to Government resolution No. 3,141 of 1858, dated Nov. 9, 1858, prohibiting in the strongest manner all expenditure by commanding officers without the previous sanction of Government upon any works, except those of an imminently emergent and pressing character.

* Secretary to Government of India's Letter, No. 82 of 3rd August, 1860.

† Secretary to Government of India's Letter, No. 83, dated 3rd August, 1860. Section 129, part 13.

‡ Military Fund Subscription.

¶ Bombay Government Gazette, 16th Aug., 1860, page

In the event of commanding officers being requested by executive engineers to issue emergent orders, authorising them to carry out any work, previous to the sanction of Government being obtained, they are to certify that the cause of that order is an emergency which could not reasonably have been foreseen.

When possible commanding officers should in such cases guard themselves by a telegraphic report to the qmr. gen. of the army, for the C. in C.'s order on the subject.

BIRTHS.

BEER, wife of F., daughter, at Calcutta, Aug. 22.

BENNETT, wife of W., son, at Burhee, Aug. 22.

BROWN, wife of Capt. J. F. H., daughter, at Ganjam, Aug. 7.

BYRCE, wife of J., son, at Manora, Aug. 26.

CHESTER, wife of Lieut. C. W. R., son, at Kussowlie, Aug. 17.

COLVIN, wife of Rev. R. F., daughter, at Malabar-hill, Aug. 23.

COOPER, wife of F. F. F., daughter, at Mazagon, Sept. 10.

COOPER, wife of Capt. E. M. G., son, at Neemuch, Aug. 27.

CORNWALL, wife of Maj., daughter, at Rawul Pindee, Aug. 13.

DALGAVINS, wife of R. P., son, at Madras, Aug. 25.

DANDRIDGE, wife of Capt. C. C., daughter, at Landour, Aug. 27.

DAVISON, wife of Capt. G., son, at Poona, Sept. 6.

DILLON, wife of J., son, at Mhow, Aug. 24.

DUCAT, wife of W. W., son, at Parell, Sept. 5.

ELPHINSTONE, wife of Lieut. P. A., son, at Malligaum, Aug. 25.

FIDO, wife of J., son, at Upper Colaba, Sept. 6.

FULTON, wife of Capt. J. J., son, at Kaipore, Aug. 13.

GAMBLE, wife of H., son, at Mazagon, Sept. 3.

HARRISON, wife of Capt. G. A., son, at Jubbulpore, Aug. 28.

HAYTER, wife of D., son, at Belgaum, Aug. 21.

HUNTER, wife of G. Y., son, at Bombay, Aug. 28.

HUNTER, Mrs. A. J., son, at Middle Colaba, Sept. 4.

KNEEBONE, Mrs. G. A., daughter, at Mazagon, Aug. 22.

LEHMANN, wife of Rev. F., son, at Assam, July 28.

LIGHT, wife of R. E. H., son, at Dharwar, Aug. 30.

MACDONALD, wife of Lieut. col., daughter, at Mus-sourie, Aug. 19.

MARSH, wife of W., son, at Kurrachee, Aug. 15.

MERCUR, wife of W. C., daughter, at Coolie Bazar, Aug. 26.

NORMAN, wife of A., daughter, at Poona, Sept. 2.

OLIVER, wife of Capt., daughter, at Dapoolie, Aug. 28.

OUSELEY, wife of J. D., son, at Burdwan, Aug. 26.

PATERSON, wife of W. R., son, at Calcutta, Aug. 27.

PELLEY, wife of Col. H. J., son, at Sattara, Sept. 4.

RICHARDS, wife of Rev. J., son, at Chowringhee, Aug. 28.

SAUNDERS, wife of R. F., son, at Dhurmsala, Aug. 15.

SHUTE, wife of Maj. D., daughter, still-born, at Simla, Aug. 13.

SIMPSON, wife of Lieut., daughter, at Bangalore, Aug. 23.

SKINNER, wife of J., son, at Malabar Hill, Aug. 27.

STRANACK, wife of K. B., son, at Malabar Hill, Sept. 2.

TURNER, wife of H., son, at Byculla, Aug. 29.

WILLIAMS, wife of Capt. A. F., son, at Jaulnah, Aug. 21.

WILLOCK, wife of H. D., son, at Shahjehanpore, Aug. 14.

MARRIAGES.

BALFOUR, B., to Miss M. E. Linton, at Calcutta, Aug. 23.

CREAR, W., to Isabella G., daughter of T. King, at Chindwarra, Aug. 20.

DANGERFIELD, E., to Mary A. E., daughter of the late W. Paine, at Byculla, Aug. 28.

FOWLER, J. T., to Adelaide, daughter of F. Lewis, at Bombay, Aug. 25.

MAXTED, G., to Florence L., daughter of Capt. C. Crossman, at Chandernagore, Aug. 10.

McMANNUS, J., to Miss Elizabeth Burton, at Jaulnah, Sept. 3.

MORIARTY, Lieut. P., to Emily C., daughter of the late Maj. gen. F. S. Hawkins, C.B., at Sectapore, Aug. 15.

ORR, F., to Mrs. Sarah Nelson, at Poona, Aug. 27.

STEVENSON, J., to Maria L., daughter of H. G. French, at Rannuggur, Aug. 21.

TOMKYN, A. P., to Amelia, daughter of S. Cardozo, at Landour, Aug. 14.

DEATHS.

ALLAN, George N., infant son of Mr., at Umballah, Aug. 29.

AMSINCK, Brigadier, com. of art., at the Mount, Madras, Aug. 31.

BAXTER, Capt. J. F., 56th foot, at Ahmednuggur, Aug. 20.

BEAHAM, Dora, infant daughter of M. H., at Ellich-pore, Aug. 20.

BECK, Caroline E., at Madras, aged 4, Aug. 31.

BENNETT, Edith, infant daughter of E. L., at Tardeo, Aug. 27.

BENNETT, Lieut. Edmund L., 9th Bombay N.I., at Mhow, Aug. 29.

BRUCE, Lieut. Robert W., 1st Madras Eur. regt., at Bangalore, Aug. 28.

CARSTAIRS, Adeliza, wife of M., at St. Thorne, aged 26, Sept. 2.

CHESNAYE, Adelaide F., infant daughter of G. C., at Meer Meer, Aug. 19.

CHESTER, Charles F., infant son of Lieut. C. W. R., at Kussowlie, Aug. 18.

CHESTER, Ellen S., wife of Lieut. C. W. R., at Kussowlie, Aug. 18.

CHRISTON, Mrs. Euphemia, at Gwalior, Aug. 18.

CRUMP, Isabella, widow of the late P., at Calcutta, Aug. 28.

DAVIES, Capt. H. F., 29th Bombay N.I., at Kaira, Sept. 3.

DINSDALE, Capt. John, 22nd Madras infantry, at sea, on his passage to England, June 18.

DUN, Percy W., infant son of Capt. E. W., at Ellich-pore, Aug. 20.

GIBSON, Agnes, infant daughter of Ensign P., at Agra, Aug. 25.

GRANT, Capt., 9th M.N.I., at Jaulnah, Sept. 4.

GREEN, S., at Madras, aged 35, Aug. 16.

HURST, James, at Sind, Aug. 15.

KING, Edward, infant son of Dr. H. J., at Baitool, Aug. 3.

LEDLIE, John P., of cholera, at Agra, Aug. 22.

MACAULAY, Surg. Robert W., Bengal Medical Service, at Odin Bay, China, aged 37, July 15.

McMULLEN, J., accidentally shot, at Belgaum, aged 60, Aug. 20.

MADDOX, William G., at Egmore, Aug. 17.

MENZIES, Capt. Robert, 1st Madras Eur. regt., of cholera, at Bangalore, Aug. 14.

MILLS, Edgar J. L., infant son of J., at Madras, Aug. 27.

MULLINS, Emmeline R., of cholera, daughter of R. T., at Muttra, aged 3, Aug. 24.

MULLINS, Eva E., of cholera, daughter of R. T., at Muttra, aged 5, Aug. 24.

MURPHY, Arthur, of cholera, at Agra, aged 19, Aug. 17.

NIELD, James, of cholera, at Neemuch, Aug. 26.

OWEN, Emma A., wife of H. P., at Calcutta, Aug. 28.

POSSONBY, Henrietta, wife of G., at Ceylon, aged 23, Aug. 31.

ROBERTS, Cecil C., infant son of Capt. G. B., at Madras, Aug. 30.

ROGERS, infant son of A., at Ahmedabad, Aug. 31.

ROSS, George C. L., infant son of Lieut. F. J. T., at Surat, Aug. 22.

STEPHENS, P., at Nizapoor, Aug. 22.

TAYLOR, Caroline F., infant daughter of Capt. C. W., at Octacumund, Aug. 25.

THORNTON, Col. Samuel L., Bengal Invalid establishment, at Meerut, aged 67, Aug. 14.

UNDERWOOD, Henrietta M. L., infant daughter of J. H., at Nusseerabad, Aug. 21.

WOODHOUSE, Mary Y., infant daughter of Mr., at Mazagon, Aug. 27.

YATES, Thomas T., infant son of J., at Agra, Aug. 26.

YOUNG, Caroline, wife of Lieut. col. A. G., at Param-bore, aged 31, Sept. 3.

THE MONSOON.—The total fall of rain at Bombay up to the 9th Sept., inclusive, is as follows:—At Byculla, 72 in. 69 cts.; in the Fort, 67 in. 49 cts.; and at Colaba, 58 in. 35 cts.

THE KHELAT AGENCY.—At the last meeting of the Bombay Medical Society, Dr. Cook submitted the annual report of the Kheilat agency for the past year. The mission was marching nearly the whole of the year, and the effects of the climate on the escort were carefully recorded in the event of sanatoria being established, or of any future military occupation of the country. The people of the table land of Beloochistan are in the habit of migrating to the plains at the beginning of the cold season. Dr. Cook treated 728 patients, of whom 400 were cured. As a proof that malaria is not arrested by mere elevation, he cites Kheilat. "It stands 7,000 feet above the sea, is the highest inhabited spot of the whole of the Beloochistan table land, is well drained, and not too thickly populated; its soil is light and dry, and there is no waste water in the valley, yet the malaria of intermittent fever is certainly not extinguished, and the causes which produce it are still operating." Free drainage is the best means of counteracting malaria.

COUNTRY AGENTS:—

Edinburgh, W. Blackwood and Sons.
Dublin, Hodges and Smith.
Brighton, C. Booty.

Communications for the Editor, and Advertisements, should be sent under cover to Messrs. WM. H. ALLEN & Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

* * Should any delay or irregularity occur in supplying this Paper, communication of the fact to the Publisher will insure a remedy.

ALLEN'S INDIAN MAIL,

SATURDAY, October 6, 1860.

THE WAY THE MONEY GOES.

By order of the House of Commons a somewhat curious correspondence has been printed, which goes far to explain the reason of such an enormous sum of money being annually required to cover the army estimates. In the autumn of 1857, the D troop of Royal Horse Artillery, together with a large quantity of stores, harness, &c., &c., was despatched from the Woolwich Arsenal to Bombay, to assist in putting down the Sepoy revolt. Within two years after the arrival of the D troop in India, its carriage equipment was utterly worn out, and the battery in consequence rendered unfit for service. The wheels were found to be "much shaken," "the heads and butts of the spokes in many instances quite gone, and the felloes much injured; the trails of some of the guns" were "split, the perches of the waggons damaged, and all the spare-wheel axletree arms broken off; the whole of the ammunition-boxes" were "shaken, and the sides warped, and the forage cart and hospital cart unserviceable." Major Worgan, the agent for gun-carriages, having examined the battery, reported to the Inspector-general of Ordnance that "the woodwork of the whole of the carriages had deteriorated to an extent rendering it inadvisable to incur any expense in repairing the battery," and advised that the carriages should be broken up and the iron work employed for repairing similar equipment. By way of explanation, the officer in command of the battery stated that during its eight months of field service it had performed "some extraordinary and unparalleled marches in pursuit of the rebels in Central India." But how, then, did it happen that of the Indian batteries which performed equally severe marches not one was worn out, or reduced to a similar state of inefficiency? The Bombay Inspector-general of Ordnance and Magazines stoutly asserts that it was because the Indian batteries are far superior to those sent out from Woolwich, and he quotes as an example "the fact that the battery with the 1st troop Bombay Horse Artillery, on their return from field service in 1843, having performed the whole tour of Scinde, Afghanistan, Punjab, and Scinde again, traversing about 3,500 miles, over every variety of ground, being engaged in repeated actions with the enemy, with nearly three years' constant exposure to every degree of climate, suffered far less than the battery now under consideration." One of two inferences, therefore, suggests itself—either the Woolwich gun-carriages are far inferior in workmanship to those made in India, or the officers and men of the Royal Artillery know less of the practical details of their profession than those of the sister service in the East.

But not only were the carriages inefficient, the harness also despatched to Bombay seems to have been of very second-rate quality. The saddles and pannels required new stuffing and lining, the reins and straps were eaten through by the rust of the buckles, and other articles stood in need of new buckles and straps. The Under Secretary of State for War replies to this charge as follows:—"With reference to the statement that the pannels were moth-eaten, and that the harness had a soiled appearance, I am to add that the whole supply was issued new from store, and that the pannels were only stuffed just before being packed: it must, therefore, be assumed that whatever damage the articles complained of had sustained, occurred after shipment." In the opinion of Lord de Grey and Ripon, this answer is evidently quite satisfactory. He thinks it quite sufficient that the supply was newly issued from store, and that the pannels were stuffed before packing, as if it were a matter of no earthly consequence what might be their condition when unpacked. Things may be new and yet utterly worthless; pannels may be stuffed so badly that the work may have to be all done a second time; the very packing may have been so faulty that the buckles may have become rusted and the leather mildewed on the outward voyage. Whatever the cause, there can be no doubt of the fact that the harness reached India in an unserviceable condition. It is also a little significant that the supply which the Bombay authorities, judging from the wear and tear of similar articles manufactured in their own presidency, estimated as sufficient for fifteen years' use, was calculated by the Horse Guards authorities to last only for one-half of that period. There is yet another point worthy of notice, and which reflects discreditably on the condition of the Bombay arsenal. How came it to be necessary to indent upon the War Department in this country for supplies, an abundant quantity of which should at that time, above all others, have been in store? For the Persian war had just then been brought to a sudden and unexpected termination, and had it continued, it was from the Bombay arsenal that the British army would have drawn its matériel. Would the answer have been—"No effects?" Must operations have been delayed from want of mechanical means? This question should be satisfactorily answered, for at present no confidence can be placed in any Government department. Our gun-boats turn out to be wholesale repositories of tinder; new clothing is sold as old, while old clothing is issued as new, gun-carriages fall to pieces after eight months' jolting, and harness reaches its destination with the buckles rusted, and the leather moth-eaten. What is the cause of all this? Who are the real culprits? And why do they not come forward and claim the Grand Cross of the Bath, which, now-a-days, is bestowed upon those whom our ancestors would have hanged or shot? Somebody has done amiss; why, then, is he not rewarded? In the mean time could not the public money be laid out more satisfactorily than on mildewed pannels, rusty buckles, and wheels without spokes, felloes, or tire? If this is the way the money goes, it is not surprising that the annual charges of the War Department should be so onerous as to be well nigh intolerable.

SURTOUT, POINT DE ZELE!

THE epithet "zealous," as applied to a Government subordinate, is liable to a considerable difference of interpretation according to the point of view from which it is regarded. In the eyes of "the powers that be" a zealous official is one who is ever ready to execute and justify the orders of his superiors and to sacrifice his private feelings and judgment to the will of the constituted authorities. The general public, however, are apt to estimate zeal by a different standard. With them it is more meritorious to uphold, at any risk, the great principles of truth, justice, and equity, than to render an exact and implicit obedience to arbitrary commands. This divergence of interpretation has very recently been strikingly exemplified in Oude. An income-tax, as our readers are already aware, was some months ago illegally imposed both in that province and in the Punjab, and a considerable revenue was thus raised after the most approved fashion of non-regulation autocracy. Not only did the natives submit to this impost without rising in rebellion against a Government that so ruthlessly attacked their most deeply-rooted prejudice—a fixed repugnance to part with their money for any save an ostentatious purpose—but, according to official accounts, they paid it "without a murmur." This (official) fact enabled the Viceroy triumphantly to refute the gloomy predictions put forth by the refractory Governor of Madras; for what avails argument in the presence of contradictory conclusions; or theory, when opposed to experience and practice? The simple statement that in two important provinces, each inhabited by a turbulent and warlike people, the tax was actually collected without opposition, or even remonstrance, was naturally entitled to greater respect and consideration than the most earnest warnings and vaticinations of evil. Sir Charles Trevelyan's a priori reasonings, however clear and plausible, could not, of course, maintain their ground for a moment against the overwhelming weight of an answer founded on positive knowledge. The natives, he said, would not pay unless coerced by force, and the consequence of imposing such an odious and inquisitorial tax would be to excite universal disaffection throughout the empire. To this Lord Canning replied, with a smile, "But they do pay it, and without a murmur." Now, it is clear that in his lordship's eyes the officers who succeeded in bringing about such a fortunate result, at the same time furnishing him with such a happy rejoinder, must have been exceedingly "zealous" men and worthy of high commendation. We now proceed to give an instance of another kind of zeal.

In the city of Lucknow there happens to be published a newspaper known as the Oudh Gazette, which is entirely unconnected with the Government and wholly dependent for its success on the favour of the public—a favour only to be obtained by a frank, manly, and fearless bearing. This journal, then, having no fear of official snubbings before its eyes, ventured to call in question the truth of the authorised version of the state of native feeling in Lucknow, and even accused one of the Government subordinates of corrupt and ty-rannous conduct in levying a tax as unpopular as, it is now known to have been, illegal. This report reached the ears of Captain Chamberlain, the commandant of the police force in that district, and, considering himself responsible for the preservation of the public peace, that officer instantly took steps to ascertain how far it was based upon truth. With this view he ordered the regular informers in the service of the Government to institute the necessary inquiries, and—to use his own words—he “found that the assertions made by the Oudh Gazette were notoriously true.” A report to that effect was accordingly sent in by him to the Commissioner, and his subordinate officer, Lieutenant Scott, was instructed by him to investigate the matter more thoroughly. About this time the Commissioner received an anonymous letter warning him that the lives of all the Europeans in the place were in danger, and seditious proclamations were placarded in the streets couched in violent and offensive language. Captain Chamberlain was thereupon desired to find out what was the real state of public feeling, and in consequence of certain information that came to his knowledge he apprised the Deputy-commissioner that Ramdial was suspected of having accepted a bribe from an opulent money-lender. The only notice that Mr. Carnegie condescended to take of this instigation was to give Ramdial a hint that he had better be cautious as to what he was doing, as Captain Chamberlain was watching his movements. The latter officer in the discharge of his duty laid before the Commissioner two distinct instances of oppression on the part of Ramdial, touching the first of which the Commissioner wrote to him demi-officially, “I’ve sent the fellow away you sent me, with a flea in his ear.” This refined and polite phrase appears to be a “non-regulation” formula, equivalent to a denial of justice, for on the second occasion, in which four men were the complainants, the Chief Commissioner again wrote to the Commandant of Police: “I sent the four men you sent me away with a flea in their ear.” Captain Chamberlain himself was shortly afterwards “sent away with a flea in his ear.” His private and demi-official instructions authorised him to receive petitions from the natives against the income-tax, at the same time that he received public orders not to do so, and as he complied with the former instead of strictly obeying the latter, he was dismissed from his post and remanded to his regiment. His subordinate, Lieut. Scott, was likewise suspended for acting on the orders given to him by his commanding officer, and for caring more to elicit the truth than to make a report agreeable to the higher authorities. Had these officers been content to blind themselves as to the doings of the native officials and gloze over whatever was unpleasant, they would no doubt have been recommended to the favour of the Viceroy as “zealous” public servants, who regarded General Orders as the highest code of honour and morality. But, unfortunately for their immediate interests, they happened to entertain vulgar and common-place ideas about “zeal,” and thought more of their conscience than of their promotion. So, verily, they have their reward. By their indiscreet zeal they have given occasion to a great scandal in convicting their superiors of sending in garbled reports, and in reducing to nullity the apparently unanswerable assertion of the Governor-general as to the readiness of the natives to submit to increased taxation. Their dismissal should act as a warning to others not to know too much, and as an encouragement to those who prefer the emoluments of office to its responsibilities. But is this the sort of idea the world is to accept as to the peculiar advantages of the non-regulation system of administration? Is this the mode, plus the flower of the European army in India, which has succeeded so admirably in the Punjab, and which is recommended for general adoption throughout the Indian peninsula? If it be so, the inhabitants of the older provinces are not so much to be pitied as we have been asked to believe.

SHIPPING.

ARRIVALS.

October 1. Invincible, Rollason, Shanghai.—2. Velo, Jones, Nagasaki; City of Dublin, Adair, Calcutta.—3. Orient, Cockburn; Witch, Campbell; and Zodiac, Jarvis, Alga Bay; Susanne, Muller, Cape of Good Hope.—4. Renvoir, Stewart, Shanghai; Cossipore, Vellacot, Bombay, and Mauritius; Ellen, Rodger, Keng, Foo-chow-Foo; Acustus, Hegarth, Nagasaki; Westward Ho, Wilkinson, Calcutta; Shelburne, Watson; and India, Flint, Akyah.—5. Edendale, Spence, Bombay; Ocean Sprite, Martza, Alga Bay; Clifton Belle, Corbett; and Merchant Prince, McLay, Bombay; Veritas, Carrey, Rangoon.

PASSENGERS DEPARTED.

Per str. Pera, from SOUTHAMPTON, Oct. 4, to proceed per str. Candia, from SEZ.—For MALTA.—Lieut. Carey, Comdr. J. M. Reeve, Asst. surg. Duly. For ALEXANDRIA.—Capt. Layard. For CALCUTTA.—Capt. T. Turton, Mrs. Watson and inf., Mrs. Anderson and inf., Maj. and Mrs. Finch, Surg., and Mrs. Mann, Mrs. Brown, Miss Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. C. Horne, Mrs. Samms, Mrs. Thwaites and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Andrews, Mr. C. W. Thomas, Mr. J. H. Broome, Capt. A. Taylor, Capt. W. B. and Mrs. Girdlestone, Mr. and Mrs. Macrae, Mrs. Dickson, Miss Wright, Mr. W. H. Pierson, Mr. G. Strahan, Mrs. Caruthers, Miss M. M. Mester, Mr. Lyall, Mr. Griffith, Capt. C. Batchelor, Lady Barker, Rev. R. B. and Mrs. Batty, Capt. F. C. Innes, Mrs. Vigors and infant, Mr. F. R. Brooking, Mrs. J. Perry and two children, Capt. Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas, Mr. J. D. Tremlett, Mr. W. H. Smith, Mr. Goldie, Mr. F. Growse, Lieut. W. Button-Shaw, Lieut. Hicks, Mr. W. Ludovici, Mrs. Hillier, Mr. J. G. Ross, Capt. E. Fellowes, Mr. Hyde, Mr. Griffin. For MADRAS.—Viscount Powesscott, Capt. Bateson, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dopping, Mr. Pennycook, Mr. J. J. Eager, Mrs. and Miss Campbell and two children, Capt. and Mrs. Philpotts, Mr. L. W. Iredell, Capt. Crewe, Capt. and Mrs. Ferguson, Capt. H. M. Ferguson, Lieut. J. Hovos, Capt. W. Graves. For Ceylon.—Mr. F. Sabonadiere and child, Miss Gibson, Mr. H. Moogart, Mr. Carey, Mrs. Stephens and infant, Maj. gen. and Mrs. O'Brien and Aide-de-Camp, Mr. Mairs, Col. Reynr, Mr. Hallbert. For HONG KONG.—Mr. G. Smith, Miss Harmer, Mr. and Mrs. Dixon, Mr. C. H. Platt, Vet. sur. Appleton, Mr. Inglis. Per str. Massilia, from MARSEILLES, Oct. 12, to proceed per str. Candia, from SEZ.—For CALCUTTA.—Asst. surg. and Mrs. Lowdell, Mr. Thomas, Mr. C. N. Cooke, Mue. Gervain, Mmle. Gervain and friend, Mr. W. MacNair, Mr. Moore, Lieut. C. C. Taylor, Mr. F. Lamouroux, Lieut. J. and Mrs. Stewart, Lieut. Mathias, Capt. C. A. Clarke, Mr. Mrs. J. and Miss Siddall, Mr. Harrison, Maj. St. John, Mr. P. M. Tat. For MADRAS.—Miss Butler, Lieut. F. W. Vanderzee, Mr. Lawson, Mr. J. E. Armstrong. For SHANGHAI.—Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Tate, Mr. Birt. For HONG KONG.—Mr. R. Westall, Mr. J. D. Gibb, Mr. E. F. Parker. For SINGAPORE.—Mr. Matzen, Mons. and Mue. Deschaux, Mr. Temple. For MALTA.—Lady Pirie and friend, Mr. Tat. For CEYLON.—Judge Temple's Nephew. For ALEXANDRIA.—Mr. and Mrs. Cavafy, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Aslaur.

DOMESTIC.

BIRTHS.

BOURDILLON, the wife of Edmund D., of a son, at Great Amwell, Herts, Sept. 29.
POPE, the wife of C. A., late of the India-house, of a daughter, at Islington, Sept. 30.
REID, the wife of Leacock R., late of the Bombay Civil Service, of a daughter, at 122, Westbourne-terrace, Sept. 29.
SPILSBURY, the wife of Capt. E. J., H.M. Bengal Army, of a daughter, at Bath, Sept. 24.

MARRIAGES.

PAULI, William B., R.N., to Christiana, daughter of the late Christopher Fagan, Esq., of Calcutta, at Ropley, Sept. 26.

DEATHS.

BOULDERSON, Shadwell M., late of the Bengal Civil Service, at Ord House, Ross-shire, aged 67, Oct. 1.
GRAY, William, son of Capt., H.M.'s 1st Bombay Eur. Regt. Fusiliers, at Great Malvern, aged 6 years and 7 months, Sept. 21.

JACKSON, Mrs., wife of the late Capt. F. C., 12th Bengal N.I., at Torquay, aged 30, Sept. 26.
LAURENCE, Capt. John, retired Commander Hon. E.I.C.'s Service, at Brighton, aged 71, Sept. 26.
MACAULAY, Zachary, of the Railway Clearing House, formerly a member of the firm of Bainbridge and Co., Madras, aged 46, Sept. 27.

India Office,

October 4, 1860.

ARRIVALS REPORTED IN ENGLAND.

CIVIL.

Bengal Estab.—Mr. F. F. Hogg.

MILITARY.

Bengal Estab.—Capt. J. R. Lowe, 56th N.I.; Col. H. Troup, 6th Eur. Regt.
Bombay Estab.—Lieut. H. L. Robinson, 20th N.I.; Cond. W. E. Tarleton, Barrack-master, Aden.

GRANTED EXTENSION OF LEAVE.

CIVIL.

Bengal Estab.—Mr. H. Hankey, 2 mo.; Mr. W. S. Paterson, 3 mo.; Mr. E. Macdonnell, Uncov., 2 mo.
Madras Estab.—Mr. C. G. Plumer, 6 mo.

MILITARY.

Bengal Estab.—Capt. J. Lamb, 29th N.I., 4 mo.; Lieut. A. Willes, 2nd Bengal Eur. Regt., 6 mo.; Lieut. J. C. McNeill, 12th N.I., 6 mo.; Capt. G. M. Waddilove, 24th N.I., 6 mo.; Capt. F. Mackenzie, 26th N.I., 6 mo.; 2nd Capt. F. S. Taylor, Engrs., 6 mo.; Lieut. J. R. McPherson, 3rd Eur. Regt., 6 weeks.
Madras Estab.—Surg. R. Sutcliffe, Med. Est., 6 mo.; Brev. col. C. H. Graeme, 2nd L.C., 6 mo.; Lieut. T. H. B. Brooke, 12th N.I., 3 mo.
Bombay Estab.—Lieut. H. A. Woodhouse, 7th N.I., 5 mo.

PERMITTED TO RETURN TO DUTY.

MILITARY.

Bengal Estab.—Lieut. A. F. P. Harcourt, 30th N.I.; Lieut. col. J. Vaughan, 21st N.I.; Lieut. C. C. Taylor, 56th N.I.; Lieut. G. B. C. Simpson, 23rd N.I.; Lieut. J. C. Lockwood, 2nd L.C.; Lieut. E. H. C. Simpson, 39th N.I.; Brev. Col. T. F. Fleming, 36th N.I.
Madras Estab.—Lieut. A. D. Gordon, 24th N.I.; Lieut. A. T. Searle, 32nd N.I.; Lieut. C. F. Moore, 7th N.I.; Capt. G. C. Finlay, 12th N.I.; Lieut. R. C. Burn, 5th N.I.; Lieut. J. Stewart, Art.
Bombay Estab.—Capt. J. S. Trevor, Engrs.; Lieut. C. H. Strutt, Art.; Capt. J. Black, 2nd N.I.; Lieut. H. L. Sibthorpe, 9th N.I.; Brev. Col. A. Shephard, 13th N.I.; Surgeon J. Deas, Med. Est.; Lieut. J. C. Hobson, 3rd N.I.

PERMITTED TO RETIRE.

MILITARY.

Bengal Estab.—Surg. H. R. Bond.
Bombay Estab.—Major H. W. Freedy, 25th N.I.

PERMITTED TO RESIGN.

MILITARY.

Bombay Estab.—Lieut. C. Combe, 3rd L.C.

THE COTTON MILL MANIA.—The Bombay Times gives statistics of the extent to which the increase of duty on yarn from 5 to 10 per cent. has developed a mania for establishing cotton mills in Bombay. At present the four companies in operation are:—Broach Spinning Mill, 17,000 spindles; Oriental Spinning and Weaving Company, 24,000 ditto, 240 looms; Bombay Spinning Mills, 31,500 ditto; the Throstle Mill Company, 10,000 ditto. Total, 23,500 spindles, 240 looms; and three of those are about to extend their mills one-third. Other eight mill companies have been projected. If carried out there will be 300,000 spindles and 4,000 looms in Bombay on a capital of a million sterling. Unless these mills turn their attention to weaving coarse grey goods as well as spinning low yarn, the market, it is feared, will be flooded with more yarn in one year than can be used in seven. With weaving and spinning combined, with careful superintendence and cheap labour, there is no reason why Bombay should not rise as rapidly as Manchester.

A WEEKLY ENGLISH NEWSPAPER, called the Orientalist, is to be started in the course of the present month by educated natives. Besides a staff of competent editors, who have been appointed to conduct the journal, valuable contributions will be made to it by intelligent natives in England, China, and the Presidencies of India.

H.M.'s BRITISH REGIMENTS

STATIONED IN INDIA,

CORRECTED TO THE 4TH OCTOBER, 1860.

(This List, which is compiled exclusively for "Allen's Indian Mail," will appear, with alterations, periodically.)

	Where Stationed.	Station of Depots.
BENGAL.
2nd Dragoon Gds.....	Lucknow	Canterbury
6th " " " " " "	Meerut	Maidstone
7th " " " " " "	Sealkote	Canterbury
7th Light Dragoons ...	Umballah	Maidstone
1st Batt. 5th Foot ...	Fort William	Colchester
1st " 6th " " " " "	Barrackpore	Do.
1st " 7th " " " " "	Peshawur	Chatham
1st " 13th " " " " "	Goruckpore	Fernoy
1st " 19th " " " " "	Benares	Chatham
1st " 20th " " " " "	Gondah	Do.
1st " 23rd " " " " "	Lucknow	Do.
1st " 24th " " " " "	Ferozepore	Do.
27th Regt. " " " " "	Umballah	Cork
34th " " " " " "	Fyzabad	Colchester
35th " " " " " "	Meerut	Chatham
37th " " " " " "	Fort William	Colchester
38th " " " " " "	Roy Bareilly	Do.
42nd " " " " " "	Bareilly	Stirling
46th " " " " " "	Jullundur	Buttevant
48th " " " " " "	Allahabad	Cork
51st " " " " " "	Meean Meer	Chatham
52nd " " " " " "	Sealkote	Do.
54th " " " " " "	Cawnpore	Colchester
70th " " " " " "	Allahabad	Canterbury
71st " " " " " "	Morar	Perth
73rd " " " " " "	Dinapore	Chatham
75th " " " " " "	Allahabad	Do.
77th " " " " " "	Benares	Do.
79th " " " " " "	Meean Meer	Stirling
80th " " " " " "	Saugor	Buttevant
81st " " " " " "	Rawul Pindee	Chatham
82nd " " " " " "	Shahjehanpore	Canterbury
88th " " " " " "	Delhi	Colchester
89th " " " " " "	Jhansi	Fernoy
90th " " " " " "	Seetapore	Canterbury
92nd " " " " " "	Dugshai	Perth
93rd " " " " " "	Rawul Pindee	Aberdeen
94th " " " " " "	Nowshera	Chatham
97th " " " " " "	Jubbulpore	Colchester
98th " " " " " "	Peshawur	Canterbury
2nd Batt. Rifle Brig...	Subathoo	Winchester
3rd " " " " " "	Agra	Do.
Royal Artillery.
E Batty.—Horse Brig.	Meean Meer	Woolwich
F " " " " " "	Meerut
No. 1 Batty.—11th Brig.	Fyzabad
No. 2 " " " " " "	Lucknow
No. 3 " " " " " "	Seetapore
No. 4 " " " " " "	Mooltan
No. 5 " " " " " "	Morar
No. 6 " " " " " "	Futtehgunh
No. 7 " " " " " "	Peshawur
No. 8 " " " " " "	Agra
No. 1 Batty.—14th Brig.	Barrackpore
No. 2 " " " " " "	Benares
No. 3 " " " " " "	Dacca
No. 4 " " " " " "	Allahabad
No. 5 " " " " " "	Dum-Dum
No. 6 " " " " " "	Roy Bareilly
MADRAS.
1st Dragoon Guards...	Bangalore	Canterbury
17th Lancers	Secunderabad	Maidstone
1st Batt. 1st Foot	Secunderabad	Colchester
1st Batt. 18th " " " "	Secunderabad	Buttevant
43rd Regiment	Fort St. George	Chatham
3rd Batt. 60th Rifles...	Jackatalla	Winchester
66th Regiment Foot ...	Cannanore	Colchester
68th " " " " " "	Rangoon	Fernoy
69th " " " " " "	Tonghoo	Do.
74th " " " " " "	Bellary	Aberdeen
91st " " " " " "	Kumptee	Chatham
Royal Artillery.
H Batty.—Horse Brig.	Secunderabad	Woolwich
No. 2 " 13th " " "	Secunderabad	Do.
No. 8 " 13th " " "	Secunderabad	Do.
BOMBAY.
3rd Dragoon Guards...	Mhow	Canterbury
6th Light Dragoons ...	Kirkee	Maidstone
8th Hussars	Nussecrabad	Canterbury
1st Batt. 4th Foot	Ahmedabad	Chatham
28th Regiment Foot....	Nussecrabad	Fernoy
33rd " " " " " "	Deesa	Do.
56th " " " " " "	Poona	Colchester
57th " " " " " "	Poona	Cork
64th " " " " " "	Kurrachee	Canterbury
72nd " " " " " "	Mhow	Aberdeen
83rd " " " " " "	Belgaum	Chatham
95th " " " " " "	Neemuch	Fernoy
Royal Artillery.
D Batty.—Horse Brig.	Mhow	Woolwich
No. 1 " 13th " " "	Poona
No. 5 " " " " " "	Aden
No. 6 " " " " " "	Neemuch
No. 7 " " " " " "	Poona

BENGAL GOVERNMENT LOANS.

	Buy. s. d.	Sell. s. d.	Actual Sales.
5½ per Cent. Loan of 1859 60	—	—	2 0½
5 p. Ct. Loan of 1854 (P. Works Loan)...	—	—	1 10½
4 per Cent. East-India } Sicca Rs.....	—	—	1 7
Transfer Loan Stock }	—	—	—
New 5 per Cent. Loan of 1856-57.....	—	—	1 11½
4 per Cent. Loan of 1855-56	—	—	1 7½
4 per Cent., 1842-43.....	—	—	1 7½

INDIA EXCHANGES.

BILLS.	Bank and Commercial Bills, at 60 days' sight, per Co.'s Rpe.	Indian Govt. Bills, at 60 days' sight, per Co.'s Rpe.	Total for each Mail to Three Presidencies.
Bengal...	2s. 1s. 11½d.	2s. 2d.	£. s. d.
Madras...	1s. 11½d.	2s. 2d.	—
Bombay	2s. 1s. 11½d.	2s. 2½d.	—

Bank of Bengal Post Bills and Indian Government Interest
Bills on Calcutta, 1s. 11½ d.

STOCKS AND SECURITIES.

Shares.		Paid.	Prices.
£.
India Stock		218
India Stock (5 per ct.), 1859		103½
India 5 p. ct. Enfaced Paper		96
India Bonds, Enf. Paper, 5; per cent.		102½
India Loan Debentures, 1858		96½
India Debentures, 1859		96½
India Enfaced Paper, 4 per ct.		85½
India 5 per cent. for account... ..		103½
India Bonds (£1,000)		4s. dis.
Ditto (under £1,000)		8s. dis.
RAILWAYS.
Stock	Bombay, Baroda, and Central India (guar. 5 per ct.) ..	100	94 to 95
18	Ditto Additional Capital, A ..	all
18	Ditto B ..	16	1½ 1 dis.
5	Calcutta & S. Eastern (lim.) ..	1.3	1½ dis. ½ pm.
20	Ceylon (guar. 6 per cent.) ..	7½	1½ to 1 dis.
20	Eastern Bengal (gu. 5 p. ct.) ..	7½	1½ to 1½ dis.
Stock	East India ..	100	100½ to 100½
100	Ditto 4½ p. ct. debentrs.	all	98 to 99
20	Ditto F Ext.	15	½ dis. par
Stock	Ditto 5 per ct. deb.	100	101 to 102
20	Jubbulpore ..	15	½ dis. par.
Stock	Great Indian Peninsula (guar. 5 per ct.) ..	100	96 to 97
20	Ditto (New ditto) ..	8	1 to 1½ dis.
20	Great S. of India (Lim.) Scrip (guar. 5 per ct.) ..	13	2½ to 1½ dis.
Stock	Madras (guar. 4½ per ct.) ..	100	8½ to 86
Stock	Ditto 5 per cent.	100	94 to 95
Stock	Ditto Extension (guar. 4½ per cent.) ..	100	87 to 89
20	Ditto 4th Extension (guar. 5 per ct.) ..	10	1½ to 1½ dis.
20	Ottoman Rail. (guar. 6 p. ct.) ..	7
Stock	Scinde 5 per cent.	all	99 to 100
20	Ditto (New) ..	15
Stock	Ditto Indus Steam Flotilla (guar. 5 per ct.) ..	all	93 to 94½
20	Punjaub (5 per ct.) ..	7	1½ to 1½ dis.
BANKS.
100	Agra and United Service lim.	50	78 to 80
40	Australasia ..	all
25	Bank of Egypt ..	all	19½ to 20½
20	Chart. of Ind., Aus., & China ..	all	20 to 20½
25	Chart. Merc. of India, Lond., and China ..	all
20	Oriental Bank Corporation ..	all
20	Ottoman Bank ..	all	16 to 17
MISCELLANEOUS.
20	Madras Irrig. and Canal ..	1	2 to 2½ pm.
20	Nerbudda Coal and Iron ..	5	2 to 1½ dis.
10	Mediterran. Ext. Tel. (Lim.) ..	all	2 to 4
1	N. B. Australasian Company ..	all	1 to 1½
1	Oriental Gas ..	all	1 to 1
	Ditto New ..	15s.	1 dis. to par.
10	Oriental Inland Steam A.	6
50	P. and O. Steam Nav. Co.	all	72 to 74
20	Ditto New ..	25	11½ to 12½ pm.
1	Red Sea and Ind. Telegraph ..	17½	17½ to 18
1	Submarine Telegraph Scrip ..	all	1 to 1½
10	Ditto Registered ..	all	1 to 1½
	Do. do.	all	5 to 7

PEGU.—The following figures show the decline in the trade of Pegu last year:—

	1858-59.	1859-60.
Exports and imports—Sea	3,27,85,034	2,03,30,739
" " Land	70,84,666	84,67,919
	3,98,69,700	2,87,98,658

a decrease of more than a million sterling. Last year the imports exceeded the exports by more than half a million. Deducting Government treasure and private bullion imported, the balance of trade against Pegu was 22 lakhs of rupees. The value of the rice sent out of Pegu was forty lakhs of rupees.

ENGRAVED BY ORDER OF THE HON. EAST-INDIA COMPANY.

AN ATLAS of INDIA, on a scale of four miles to an inch. From Trigonometrical Surveys made for the purpose, being intended to form a complete Map of the whole of India, on a uniform plan, the Sheets being issued separately as they are completed, at 4s. each, or on cloth, in cases, 7s. each.

The following Sheets are published, viz.:—

24. Bassein, Dumaun.
25. Bombay.
26. Junjeera, Rutnagheriah, Vizia-droog.
- 27 & 41. Goa, Dharwar, Belgaum.
38. Aurungabad, Nassik.
39. Poona.
40. Satara, Bcejapoor, Meeruj.
41. Goa.
42. North Canara, Mysore, &c.
43. South Canara, Coorg, &c.
44. Part of Malabar.
47. Himalaya Mountains.
48. Dehra Doon, Sirhind, and Upper Doonab.
49. Delhi, Meerut, &c.
50. Agra, Bhurtpoor, Jeypoor.
55. Maiker, Jaulnah, Bassein.
56. Nandaur, Kowlas, Beder.
57. Sholapore.
58. Part of the Ceded Districts, and Nizam's Dominions.
59. Part of the Ceded Districts, and Mysore Dominions.
60. Mysore Dominions.
61. Coimbatore, Neilgherry Hills, Malabar.
62. Travancore, Cochín, Dindigul.
63. Tinnevely and Travancore
65. Himalaya Mountains.
66. Gurhwal, Kumaon.
67. Moradabad, Bareilly.
68. Furruckabad, Etawah.
69. North Bundelcund.
70. South Bundelcund.
72. Nagpoor.
73. Wyragar, Chandak.
74. Gilgunder, Mullangoor.
75. Hyderabad.
76. Guntoor, Kurnool, &c.
77. Cuddapah, Nellore, &c.
78. Madras, Arcot, &c.
79. Salem, Trichinopoly.
80. Ramnad, Tanjore.
81. Tuticorin.
88. Allahabad.
89. Rewah, part of Mirzapoor.
94. Rajshimundry, Elloor, Coringa.
95. Masulipatam, Mouths of the Kistna.
102. Khitmandu, Goruckpore.
103. Ghazepoor, Dinapore.
107. Ganjam, Goomsur.
108. Ganjam, part of Vizagapatam.
109. Part of Vizagapatam.
111. Nathpore, Bhowareh.
112. Bhagulpore, Purneah.
113. Soory, Raughur.
114. Midnapore, Charrbassa.
124. Lower Assam.
125. Sylhet.
129. Upper Assam.
130. Upper Assam.
131. Munnipoor.
138. North-East part of Assam.

* A small Index Sheet may be had GRATIS, on application.
London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

Preparing for publication, in One Volume Octavo,

BY J. R. YOUNG,

(Late Professor of Mathematics, Belfast College),

A COURSE OF MATHEMATICS
PURE AND MIXED.More especially designed for the Use of Candidates for the MILITARY & CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.WITH A VARIETY OF PROBLEMS IN, AND PRACTICAL APPLICATIONS OF THE FOLLOWING SUBJECTS:

1. ALGEBRA, TRIGONOMETRY, AND MENSURATION.
2. ANALYTICAL GEOMETRY (CONIC SECTIONS), STATICS, DYNAMICS, AND HYDROSTATICS.
3. THE DIFFERENTIAL AND INTEGRAL CALCULUS with their applications to the Higher Geometry, Mechanics, &c., &c.

The object of this work is to furnish Candidates for the Military and Civil Service Examinations with such a practical knowledge of Pure and Mixed Mathematics as may prove most serviceable to them in the course of the ordeal to which they are about to be subjected. On such occasions a mere theoretical acquaintance with principles is by no means sufficient. It is also necessary that the young aspirant should have been trained by actual experiments, as it were, to the application of the abstract rules, the enunciation of which he has otherwise mastered only by an effort of memory. To assist him in thus gathering the fruits of his intellectual industry, Mr. J. R. Young has devised a multitude of problems, of greater or less difficulty, in Algebra, Trigonometry, Mensuration, Analytical Geometry (Conic Sections), Statics, Dynamics, Hydrostatics, the Differential and Integral Calculus, with their applications to the Higher Geometry, Mechanics, &c. The chief peculiarity of this work, however, is one that will recommend it to a very large class of students. The most difficult questions are rendered comparatively easy, by the practical simplifications that are introduced in their mode of solution. Instead of a pompous and puzzling display of technical phraseology, the utmost care has been taken to explain the most costly points in a plain, unaffected manner, intelligible to every ordinary capacity. In this respect, Mr. Young's "Course of Mathematics" will be found to possess a decided superiority over all preceding works on the same subject.

London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

BARKER'S GRAND PICTURE, "THE RELIEF OF LUCKNOW,"

IS NOW ON VIEW AT
HAYWARD AND LEGGATT'S, 79, CORNHILL.

Admission Free, on presentation of Private Address Card.

TOULMIN AND GALE,

MAKERS (to Her Majesty's Government, Bank of England, &c.) OF

PATENT INDIAN DESPATCH BOXES, WRITING DESKS, DRESSING CASES,
TRAVELLING, TOILETTE, AND CARRIAGE BAGS,
JEWEL BOXES, CASES FOR PRESENTATION, &c.

A large assortment of the above, of the finest quality, at the Manufactory, SISE LANE, near the Mansion House, and at

7, NEW BOND-STREET, LONDON,
(OPPOSITE THE CLARENDON).

Orders received through Mr. GEORGE HOLMES, Hong Kong; Messrs. SMITH, TAYLOR, and CO., Bombay; Mr. J. HIGGINBOTHAM, Madras.

ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUES POST FREE.

ESTABLISHED 123 YEARS.

MADRAS RAILWAY COMPANY.

The DIRECTORS are prepared to receive APPLICATIONS for LOANS on DEBENTURES, for four or five years, from the 1st of July, 1860, at 5 per cent per annum, payment of the principal and interest being guaranteed by the Secretary of State for India in Council.

Particulars and Forms of Application may be obtained at the Offices of the Company.

JAMES WALKER, Managing Director.
No. 33, New Broad-street, London, E.C.,
June 22, 1860.

FIVE PER CENT. INVESTMENTS.

Particulars of Investments for LARGE or SMALL SUMS of MONEY, bearing FIVE PER CENT PER ANNUM INTEREST (well secured), withdrawable at notice, may be obtained, on application to THOMAS H. BAYLIS, 429, Strand, London.

CLAPHAM COMMON—UNFURNISHED.

MR. JAMES STEVENS is instructed to LET No. 1, THE CRESCENT, Rent £90. This house is within a few yards of that delightful and healthy spot—Clapham Common, and overlooks a beautiful ornamental enclosure. It has just been thoroughly drained with glazed pipes, and put into substantial and ornamental repair, and is fit for immediate occupation. The house contains, on the ground floor, entrance-hall, dining-room and library. Above—double drawing-rooms, with five bed-rooms, very convenient store closets, and excellent domestic offices. Within one mile of the Balham Station for Brighton, Crystal Palace, West end, &c. Omnibuses to West-end and City pass constantly.

JAMES STEVENS, Auctioneer, Clapham Common, S.

CAUTION.—FRENCH, 9, Royal Exchange, London, Chronometer, Watch, and Clock Maker (established 1810), has NO CONNECTION whatever, and never had any, with the CITY OBSERVATORY, carried on by Mr. Jacob French since 1854, as Jeweller and Watchmaker. Mr. Jacob French sold his premises in July last to Mr. Bennett, of 61 and 65, Cheapside. The words "late French," in his advertisement, being calculated to mislead the public, renders this advertisement necessary.

THE AGRA and UNITED SERVICE BANK
(LIMITED): ESTABLISHED IN INDIA, JULY, 1853.
INCORPORATED BY LETTERS PATENT, 1857.
PAID-UP CAPITAL—£1,000,000 STERLING.
RESERVED FUND—£175,000.

BRANCHES AT CALCUTTA, BOMBAY, MADRAS, AGRA, LAHORE, HONG-KONG, AND SHANGHAI.

HEAD OFFICE—27, CANNON-STREET, LONDON, E.C.

Current and floating accounts opened on same terms as by other London Bankers.

Sales and purchases effected in British and Foreign Securities, in Indian Government paper, &c.; and Army, Navy, and Civil Pay and Pensions realised at the India House.

Deposits for Fixed Periods are received on terms favourable to Depositors, particulars of which may be obtained at the Bank.

Bills issued at the Exchange of the day, and free of any extra charge, on the Branches of the Bank.

Approved Bills drawn against Funds, or upon Parties in India, purchased.

Circular Notes payable at the principal cities of Europe granted.

Interest on Indian Government Securities drawn, and the equivalent paid to parties interested, without charge.

By order of the Board,

WILLIAM SHIPMAN,
Officiating General Manager.

PARENTS who wish to find a HAPPY

HOME for their CHILDREN, where they will receive maternal care and kindness, combined with the advantage of a refined and finished Education, may hear of an opportunity in the home of a married lady whose residence is beautifully situated in the country, by applying for particulars, terms, &c., to Mrs. H., Post-office, Scarborough. References given and required.

HINDOOSTANI AND PERSIAN.

LESSONS in the above LANGUAGES are given by an INDIAN GENTLEMAN of Twenty Years' Experience as Professor, Interpreter, and Translator; who has obtained Certificates of degrees of honour and high proficiency from the Examiners of the College of Fort William. He possesses the most satisfactory testimonials, and can give unexceptionable references.

Address, "ALLEY," care of Messrs. ALLEN and Co.,
7, Leadenhall-street, London, E.C.

ADDISCOMBE DIRECT APPOINTMENTS, and WOOLWICH.

The Rev. C. J. HUGHES, M.A., who has Prepared nearly TWO HUNDRED PUPILS for the above, occasionally has VACANCIES.

Adelaide Lodge, 61, Finchley Road, St. John's Word, N.W.

Corrected to May 12, 1860.

THE EAST-INDIA REGISTER & ARMY LIST FOR 1860,

CONTAINING

Complete Lists of the Servants, at Home and Abroad; Regulations respecting the Appointments to the Civil, Military, and Medical Services.

COMPILED BY PERMISSION.

12mo. sewed, 10s.; or, by post, 10s. 6d.;
or, bound, 11s. 6d.; or, by post, 12s.

London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

PROFESSOR WILSON'S GLOSSARY.

GLOSSARY of JUDICIAL and REVENUE

TERMS, and of useful words occurring in official documents relating to the Administration of the Government of British India, from the Arabic, Persian, Hindustani, Sanskrit, Hindi, Bengali, Oriya, Marathi, Guzarathi, Telugu, Kannada, Tamil, Malayalam, and other languages, compiled and published under the authority of the hon. the Court of Directors of the E. I. Company. By H. H. WILSON, M.A., F.R.S., &c., &c. 4to cloth, £2 2s. 6d.

London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

AN INTRODUCTION to the GRAMMAR of the SANSKRIT LANGUAGE, for the Use of Early Students. By H. H. WILSON, M.A., F.R.S., &c., &c. 8vo. cloth, 18s.

London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

ZADKIEL'S ALMANAC, for 1861, contains the Millennium. The Great Conjunction. Louis Napoleon to "cleanse the Sanctuary." Downfall of Rome—Rise of Jerusalem. Hierarchy—Reign of Discord.

London: G. B. RIGGS, Holywell-street, Strand.

Price Sixpence; post free, Sevenpence.

THE REAL INDIAN CURRY POWDER.

Unequalled for its delicious flavour and stimulating qualities. 1lb. bottles, 3s. 6d.; 4lbs. 2s. 3d.; 4lbs. 1s. 6d.; or 7lbs. for 21s. Curry and Mulligatawny Paste.—1lb. jars, 3s. 6d.; 4lbs. 2s. 3d. Payre's New Curry Sauce and Oriental Relish, bottles 1s. 6d. Bengal Club and Mango Chutnee, bottles 1s. 6d. and 2s. each. The Royal Combination Pickle, highly recommended, bottles 2s. Bombay Pickled Mangoes, Tap Sauce, Nepal Pepper, Preserved Ginger, and all Indian delicacies, may be had at PAYNE and CO.'S FOREIGN WAREHOUSE, 328, Regent-street.

AN AYAH, who speaks English fluently, is desirous to RETURN to MADRAS. Would give her Services to any Lady going either Overland or by long Sea Voyage in exchange for a Free Passage. The highest testimonials can be given.

Address—Mrs. E. Bruce, Durris, Aberdeen.

Just received.

CALCUTTA REVIEW. No. 68.

Price Seven Shillings.

CONTENTS.

1. Capture of Lucknow.
2. Christianity in India.
3. Oudh.
4. The Ryot in Bengal.
5. Clavijo's Embassy to Timor.
6. Calcutta in 1860.
7. An Indian Staff Corps.
8. The Indigo Blue-book.
9. The British Soldier in India.
10. Critical Notices of Works on India and the East.

CONTENTS of No. 67.

1. Outram at the Alumbagh.
2. Colonisation and Settlement in India.
3. Mountstuart Elphinstone.
4. The Law Courts of the Bengal Presidency.
5. Ceylon of Yore.
6. Limitations of Indian Liberty.
7. Indigo Planters and Missionaries.
8. The Wedding at Puttala.
9. The New Taxes.
10. Critical Notices of Works on India and the East.

CONTENTS of No. 66.

1. Malacca and the New French Settlement.
2. The Mahomedans in the Punjab.
3. English Life in Bengal.
4. The French Courts of Justice.
5. Military Hygiene in India.
6. Lord Dalhousie.
7. Forbes's Ras Mala.
8. India as a Career.
9. Critical Notices of Works on India and the East.

London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street, E.C.

This day is published, post 8s., price 7s. 6d.,

THE CONSUMMATION. By THOMAS HUTTON, F.G.S., Capt. Bengal Army.
Also, by the same Author, 2nd Edition, in 12mo., price 3s. 6d.,

ISRAEL, IN THE PAST, THE PRESENT, AND THE FUTURE; or, LECTURES ON THE RESTORATION OF THE JEWS.

Second Edition, in 8vo., price 10s. 6d., or,

THE CHRONOLOGY OF CREATION; or, GEOLOGY AND SCRIPTURE RECONCILED.
London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street, E.C.

PERSONS proceeding to INDIA can effect ASSURANCES on favourable terms with the COLONIAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

LOANS given to Civil or Military Officers proceeding to India on her Majesty's Service.

Agents at Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, and in all the British Colonies, where premiums can be paid and claims settled.

The Colonial was established in 1846, and its present income is £109,000 per annum.

Subscribed Capital, £1,000,000 sterling.

Constituted by Act of Parliament.

SAMUEL R. FERGUSON, Res. Sec.
LONDON 81, Lombard-street, E.C.,
and at Messrs. Paris and Co.'s, No. 10, St. James's-street, S.W.

EDINBURGH (Head Office) 5, George-street.

DUBLIN 65, Upper Sackville-street.

GLASGOW 58, St. Vincent-street.

TO RAILWAY AND STEAM SHIPPING COMPANIES.
MACHINE BELTING.
FIRE-ENGINE HOSE and BUCKETS,
All descriptions of Leather for Exportation.
S. E. NORRIS and CO.,
SHADWELL LONDON,
MANUFACTURERS AND PATENTEES.

OVERLAND ROUTE.—COMMUNICATION BY STEAM TO INDIA, AUSTRALIA, &c., via Egypt.—The PENINSULAR and ORIENTAL STEAM NAVIGATION COMPANY BOOK PASSENGERS and RECEIPTS CARGO and PARCELS for GIBRALTAR, MALTA, EGYPT, ADEN, CEYLON, MADRAS, CALCUTTA, the STRAITS, and CHINA, by their Steamers leaving Southampton on the 4th and 20th of every month. For GIBRALTAR, MALTA, EGYPT, ADEN, and BOMBAY, by those of the 12th and 27th of each month; and for MAURITIUS, REUNION, KING GEORGE'S SOUND, MELBOURNE, and SYDNEY, by the Steamers leaving Southampton on the 20th of every month.
For further particulars, apply at the Company's Offices, 122, Leadenhall-street, London, E.C., or Oriental-place, Southampton.

NOTICE OF REMOVAL.—MESSRS. GRINDLAY and Co., EAST INDIA ARMY AGENTS, have REMOVED their Offices to No. 55, PARLIAMENT-STREET, CHARING-CROSS, S.W.

PASSAGES AND OUTFITS TO INDIA.—Plans and prices of accommodation of all Ships sailing for INDIA may be seen at the Offices of Messrs. GRINDLAY and Co., and Passages, Overland and via the Cape, negotiated without charge for Commission.

CADETS, ASSISTANT-SURGEONS, &c.—Every article of OUTFIT, Camp, and Cabin Furniture supplied on the shortest notice, at the Outfit and Supply Branches. Complete Lists, showing the total expense of military and personal equipment in all branches of the Service, may be obtained, with every information relative to India, of

GRINDLAY and CO.,
EAST-INDIA ARMY AGENTS,
55, Parliament-street, Charing-cross, S.W.,
AND
EAST-INDIA ROOMS,
9, St. Martin's-place, Charing-cross.
WEST-END PARCELS FORWARDING DEPARTMENT,
55, Parliament-street, Charing-cross, S.W.

OVERLAND ROUTE.—SPECIAL NOTICE.—Important Gain of Four Days in the Transmission of PARCELS TO INDIA, CHINA, and AUSTRALIA. Arrangements are now completed by which a limited number of Express Parcels can be sent through our offices via France four days later than by the ordinary route.
Despatches to Bengal, Madras, and China on the 6th and 22nd, in addition to the 2nd and 18th; to Bombay on the 14th and 30th, in addition to the 10th and 25th; to Melbourne on the 22nd, in addition to the 18th.
Tariffs and full details may be had on application to GEORGE W. WHEATLEY and Co. (late Waggon), 150, Leadenhall-street, E.C.

ARTIFICIAL TEETH, SET in the new CHEMICALLY PREPARED INDIA-RUBBER, forming a beautifully fitting plate to the gums, or over stumps, without producing the slightest pain, and on this plan it is impossible to detect them as artificial when the workmanship is of superior order. Mr. BRADSHAW can, with the greatest confidence, undertake any case, no matter how difficult, with certain success, being a thoroughly practical workman, supplying for many years the first dentists of the day with their most particular work in Artificial Teeth. Doing all his own work himself, he is enabled to supply his patients at an exceedingly moderate price. Single Tooth, from 3s. 6d. to 10s. 6d.; a Complete Upper or Lower Set, from £2 to £5. Mr. Bradshaw, Dentist, 20, Great Portland-street, Oxford-circus.

COMMANS'S CELEBRATED ARECA-NUT TOOTH-PASTE is used by her Majesty and the Royal Family.—Has been examined, approved, is used and recommended, by many of our first physicians and dentists as the best preparation known for cleaning and preserving the teeth. Testimonials have been received, unsolicited, from many of the nobility and gentry. The following is amongst the many in testimony of its high value.

"Liverpool, August, 1859.
"I have much pleasure in offering my testimony to the value of your Areca-nut Tooth Paste, and have no hesitation in saying that it is the most efficacious and agreeable Dentifrice ever produced. I have recommended its use to my patients for some years."
"W. J. NEWMAN,
"Surgeon-Dentist to the Liverpool Infirmary for Children."
Prepared only by COMMANS, Chemist, Bath, in pots, 2s. each; to be procured of all Chemists, through the Wholesale Agents, Barclay, Edwards, London; Oldham and Co., Dublin; Duncan and Flockhart, Edinburgh.

TO LATE RESIDENTS IN INDIA.—TRUE MADRAS CURRY and MULLIGATAWNEY PASTE and CHUTNIES.—Messrs. BARRIE and Co., Vepery, Madras, to enable their old correspondents returning from India to continue the use of the celebrated Condiments, have made arrangements to forward regular supplies of the above, packed in glass jars for family use, at 1s. 9d. and upwards, which may be had of CROSSE and BLACKWELL, Purveyors to Her Majesty, 21, Soho-square; FORTNUM, MASON, & Co., Piccadilly; and of the Principal Sauce Vendors throughout the Kingdom. Each bottle is labelled, and BARRIE and Co., Madras, stamped on the glass.

TABLE GLASS of the Finest Quality and Design, at Low Prices, manufactured by GOODWIN, 33, Princes-street, Leicester-square, London, W.
Export Orders, &c., executed for the Trade.

INDIAN CIVIL & MILITARY SERVICE.—PORTABLE DRESSING-CASES, POUCHES, WRITING-DESKS, and DESPATCH-BOXES, so arranged as to give no trouble in travelling. These well-made requisites contain every necessary article, arranged so compactly as to save the continual expenses gentlemen are put to in changing quarters. They are pronounced to be the most useful and economical goods of their kind obtainable at the present day.
Manufactured and Sold only by WILLIAMS and Co., 52, New Bond-street.

ALLEN'S NEW OVERLAND TRUNKS, with Metallic Lining and Air-tight Compartments.
ALLEN'S PATENT DESPATCH BOX, with Stationery.
ALLEN'S NEW DRESSING BAG, with Silver Fittings.
The above are the best articles yet invented for India and China.
ALLEN'S ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE of Patent Portmanteaus, BULLOCK TRUNKS, Writing and Dressing Cases, by post, for two stamps.
J. W. ALLEN, Manufacturer, 18 and 22, Strand, London.
Merchants supplied.

TO PERSONS FURNISHING.
THE most varied and extensive STOCK of CABINET FURNITURE, UPHOLSTERY GOODS, BEDSTEADS, BEDDING, CHIMNEY-GLASSES, DAMASKS, CARPETS, &c., conveniently arranged for public inspection, will be found in the immense Furniture Galleries and Show-rooms of Messrs. DRUCE and Co., Nos. 58, 68, and 69, BAKER-STREET. The price is marked on every article in plain figures, that persons may make their own estimates, as importunity to purchasers is not allowed. Every article being manufactured by first-rate workmen, of the best seasoned materials, a twelve-month's warranty is given.
Purchasers are invited to visit this establishment before deciding elsewhere.
N.B.—Iron Bedsteads, 8s. 6d. each; 500 Easy Chairs and 100 Wardrobes to select from. Carpets 1s. per yard under the usual price.
* * * Illustrated Books post free.

J. MAPLE and Co.'s NEW ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE, containing the Prices of every Article required for completely Furnishing a House of any class, post free. This is the largest and most convenient Furnishing Establishment in the world. Established Twenty years.
J. MAPLE and Co., 145 and 146, Tottenham-court-road.

HANDSOME BRASS AND IRON BEDSTEADS.—HEAL and SON'S Show Rooms contain a large assortment of Brass Bedsteads, suitable both for Home use and for Tropical Climates; handsome Iron Bedsteads with Brass Mountings and elegantly japanned; Plain Iron Bedsteads for Servants; every description of Wood Bedstead that is manufactured, in Mahogany, Birch, Walnut-tree Woods, Polished Deal and Japanned, all fitted with Bedding and Furniture complete, as well as every description of Bedroom Furniture.

HEAL and SON'S ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE, containing Designs and Prices of 100 Bedsteads, as well as of 150 different articles of Bedroom Furniture, sent free by post.
HEAL and SON, Bedstead, Bedding, and Bedroom Furniture Manufacturers, 156, Tottenham-court-road, W.

OBTAIN THE IMPERIAL LINEN COMPANY'S PRICE LIST, sent free by post, and never buy Household Linens or Family Drapery of any kind without first consulting this useful manual, as you will by it learn to save one-third your outlay, secure first-class goods from the first-class makers, and be in pocket all profits intervening between the producer and consumer.

The THREE-GUINEA SAMPLE PARCEL, containing One rich Hambro' double Damask Table-cloth, to dine ten persons, usually £1. 1s.
One very large pair fine Witney Blankets, usually 17s. 6d.
One pair fine Russia Sheets, usually 16s. 6d.
One pair magnificent Embroidered Swiss Curtains, usually 19s. 6d.
Half-a-dozen rich Damask Dinner Napkins, usually 10s. 6d.
One elegant Marsella Bed-quilt, welted, usually 13s. 6d.
Six Marsella Toilet Covers, fringed, usually 9s. 6d.
One bundle Royal Turkish Towels, fringed, usually 12s. 6d.; and One dozen fine French Cambric Handkerchiefs, usually 10s. 6d.
All of which will be forwarded to any part on receipt of three guineas.
N.B.—Other articles, of same value, may be substituted, if desired.—Post-office orders payable at Old Cavendish-street.
Bankers—St. SAMUEL SCOTT & Co.
Address—THE IMPERIAL LINEN COMPANY,
53, WIGMORE STREET, CAVENDISH SQUARE, LONDON.
Manager, JAMES THOMAS.

BRITISH COLLEGE OF HEALTH, Enson-road, London.
THE MORISONIAN SYSTEM OF MEDICINE.
1. The vital principle is in the blood.
2. Everything in the body is derived from the blood.
3. All constitutions are radically the same.
4. All diseases arise from impurity of the blood.
5. Pain and disease have the same origin.
6. From the intimate connection subsisting between mind and body, the health of the one must conduce to the serenity of the other.
7. Proper vegetable purgation is the only medicinal mode for effectually circulating disease.
8. The discovery of a vegetable medicine was a desideratum.
9. This discovery was made by James Morison, the Hygeist, who also proclaimed "the medical liberty of the subject."
Morison's Medicines are sold by the appointed agents.

"INDIAN BAEL," for DIARRHŒA, DYSENTERY, &c., imported by J. G. GOULD, Pharmaceutical Chemist, 198, Oxford-street, corner of Orchard-street, Portman-square, W.

NO ICE REQUIRED to produce common Ice, Dessert Ices, to Ice Wines, &c., in SIMPSON'S NEW PATENT FREEZING VASE.—This Apparatus is, without exception, the most efficacious, simple, and portable ever produced. By using the Patentee's Freezing Powder, Dessert Ices and Common Ice can be frozen by the most inexperienced, in a few minutes, on the table, or in an invalid's apartment. Residents and travellers in hot climates will find it invaluable, as it produces that luxury—Ice!—at command and only occupies the space of an ordinary hat-case.

Prices: one pint, Four Guineas; three pints, Five Guineas. Freezing Powder, 3s. per cwt. Freezing Pots, Ice Moulds, &c., &c.

SODA-WATER, &c.—Use the "Seltzogene" (solely of one piece of glass), the only portable apparatus that has the patronage of the medical profession, who recommend it for making pure Soda-water and Aerated Beverages. Metallic impregnation is avoided, there is no leakage, and it is not affected by hot climates.

Prices: two pints, 23s.; three pints, 30s.; five pints, 42s. Powders (forty charges in box), 8s., 10s., and 16s. each. References and descriptive catalogues sent free.
GEO. SIMPSON'S Patent Depot, 315c, Oxford-street, London.

Price 1s. post-free,
PULVERMACHER'S MEDICO-GALVANIC Improved System of SELF-APPLICATION, of the Patent GALVANIC ANTI-RHEUMATIC CHAIN-BANDS, demonstrating the unequalled success obtained by their use in the treatment of Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, The Doloreux, Deafness, Epilepsy, Paralysis, and Loss of Nervous or Functional Force. Most interesting Book, popularising the wonderful results of Medical Galvanism, based on the soundest teachings of physiology, verified and tested by the first Authors and Physicians of the world, and stating innumerable overwhelming authentic facts of prompt cures of long-standing diseases. Price 1s. (post-free). Direct from J. L. Pulvermacher and Co., 73, Oxford-street, London (adjoining Princess's Theatre). All Booksellers, News Agents, and appointed Agents for the sale of the Chain-Bands.
N.B.—Chains, 5s., 10s., 15s., 22s., according to electric power.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—LIVER AND STOMACH.—The wet weather, with the chilly mornings and evenings, always produces derangement of the digestive organs, which demand early attention, or more violent diseases may arise. For the speedy cure of indigestion nothing equals Holloway's Pills. They have long been recognised, both at home and abroad, as the safest and most effectual remedy for pains in the stomach, flatulency, biliousness, nausea, diarrhoea, and torpid bowels. Holloway's Pills protect the system from the deleterious effects of malaria and variable temperatures, thus proving themselves a most valuable at this season, when the organs of digestion are most sorely tried. They may be advantageously taken without hindrance to business or pleasure, and can do no harm to the most delicate constitution.

KEATING'S COUGH LOZENGES.
JUDGED BY THE IMMENSE DEMAND, this UNIVERSAL REMEDY now stands the first in public favour and confidence; this result has been acquired by the test of fifty years' experience. These Lozenges may be found on sale in every British Colony, and throughout India and China. They have been highly esteemed wherever introduced. For COUGHS, ASTHMA, and all affections of the Throat and Chest, they are the most agreeable and efficacious remedy.
Prepared and Sold in Boxes and Tins of various sizes, by THOMAS KEATING, Chemist, &c., 79, St. Paul's Church-yard, London. Sold Retail by all Druggists and Patent Medicine Vendors in the world.
N.B. To prevent spurious imitations, please to observe that the words "KEATING'S COUGH LOZENGES" are engraved on the Government Stamp of each Box, without which none are genuine.

THE MAGNESIAN EFFERVESCENT is the most agreeable and effective remedy in all cases of Gout, Rheumatism, Acidity, Heartburn, Indigestion, and Biliary Affection, Nausea, Fever, Thirst, and Sea-sickness. It is highly recommended by the profession, and will be found especially valuable to those going to India or travelling in warm climates: as a mild and efficacious saline aperient it stands unequalled, and will be found peculiarly adapted for delicate females and children. To be obtained through all respectable chemists, and wholesale from Messrs. BAXCLAY, Farringdon-street (put up in stoppered bottles at 4s. 6d. for India), and smaller size at 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d.
Prepared only by EDWARD FRICHARD, Chemist, 10, Vigo-street, Regent-street, W.

DINNEFORD'S PURE FLUID MAGNESIA has been, during twenty-five years, sanctioned by the medical profession and universally accepted by the public as the best remedy for Acidity of the Stomach, Heartburn, Headache, Gout, and Indigestion. As a mild aperient it is admirably adapted for ladies and children, and it is invaluable in warm climates. Manufactured (with the utmost attention to strength and purity) by DINNEFORD and Co., 172, New Bond-street, London; and sold by all respectable chemists throughout the Empire.

BLAIR'S GOUT & RHEUMATIC PILLS.
Price 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d. per box.
This preparation is one of the benefits which the science of modern chemistry has conferred upon mankind; for during the first twenty years of the present century to speak of a cure for the gout was considered a romance; but now the efficacy and safety of this medicine is so fully demonstrated by unsolicited testimonials from persons in every rank of life, that public opinion proclaims this as one of the most important discoveries of the present age. These Pills require no restraint of diet or confinement during their use, and are certain to prevent the disease attacking any vital part.
Sold by all medicine vendors. Observe "Thomas Prout, 229, Strand, London," on the Government stamp.

This day is published, with upwards of Four Hundred Illustrations, price 18s. 6d.,

THE ILLUSTRATED HORSE DOCTOR;

Being an accurate and detailed account of the various Diseases to which the Equine Race are subjected, together with the latest mode of treatment and the requisite prescriptions, written in plain English.

By EDWARD MAYHEW, Esq., M.R.C.V.S.

"A BOOK WHICH SHOULD BE IN THE POSSESSION OF ALL WHO KEEP HORSES."

CRITICAL REMARKS.

"In order to make a good book two things are essential—an author competent to treat the subject he takes in hand, and a publisher spirited enough to give the writer a loose rein in the production of his work—that is, liberality in allowing him all means and appliances for rendering it a master-piece. The publishers of 'The Illustrated Horse-Doctor' deserve the highest credit and the greatest success for giving the world this admirable volume in its present costly shape. Its intrinsic merit deserves every penny which has been spent upon it, and, inasmuch as we have never seen a book brought out with better taste or finish, the cost of its production must have been very serious. No one with the least equine knowledge can require to be told that Mr. Mayhew is the man for the task which he has undertaken, and most satisfactorily accomplished. His high reputation in the veterinary art, and his qualifications as a practised writer on domestic animals, render him the very person for supplying an intelligent and interesting work on the diseases of the horse, which would be devoid of mere professional technicalities, whilst, at the same time, his skill as a draughtsman, and humour as a witty observer of life, enabled him to illustrate with his pencil what he had written with his pen. We advisedly say that 'The Illustrated Horse-Doctor' is the very best book of the kind which we know; and what gives it an especial charm is, that the author so thoroughly sympathises with the noble animal which he describes. Without pretending to go into any analysis of this valuable work, we at once pronounce it as scientific, yet intelligible; informing, yet highly amusing; acceptable to the profound horse-doctor, yet the work of all others for the bookshelves in every gentleman's sanctum; admirable in every way as a practical treatise on a very important subject, which it elevates altogether out of the region of quackery; and the tone is so learned, yet easy; so close to business, yet gentleman-like, that the dedication to Sir Benjamin seems as much in its proper place as if it faced a surgical work on the diseases or wounds of man. We give it our unqualified approbation and recommendation."—Era, July 15, 1860.

"Although the book will be mainly valued as an instructor to those who have to do with sick and suffering horses, all the causes of which are treated in detail of symptoms and treatment, yet it may with great advantage be studied by the owners of horses, who never think of treating them for disease—who, when their studs are ill, always call in the veterinary surgeon, and leave the patients in his hands; for in its pages they will find hints and advice, compliance with which is as much more important than the remedying disease as prevention is better than cure. Take the following as a sample of this:—'Above all, attend to the stabling, and let the box be large and well ventilated. Food is eaten but occasionally during the day; air is as essential as more substantial nutriment of life, and is consumed night and day. Food has to undergo a complicated change, and to travel before it joins the blood. Air is no sooner inhaled than it is immediately absorbed by the blood.' Are not these brief sentences full of importance to the keepers of horses?"—Western Morning News.

"We have no doubt that this valuable dictionary of the veterinary art will meet with signal success. We have before us a compendious history of all the diseases which horseflesh is heir to, and which man's abuse has bequeathed to it, with directions for treatment, and the necessary remedies, likewise the exposure of popular fallacies. . . . That horses suffer greatly from the ignorance of their riders more than from any intentional cruelty is very certain; but whatever the cause the effect is the same. A horse sinks exhausted in the field, after only a short run, and the rider is thunderstruck. Had he read Mr. Mayhew's book, and taken notice of the warning signal, of which, poor man, he was unaware, and put on the break, the catastrophe would not have been. It is in cases such as these, or where accidents happen in out of the way places, much useful information is to be gained by the general reader. . . . The work concludes with a brief summary, arranged in alphabetical order, of the subjects previously treated on, upon which great care has been bestowed, and the known ability of the author guarantees its worth. Hardly less attractive than the letter-press are the four hundred beautifully-executed woodcuts, which accompany it, and which explain clearly the meaning. In conclusion, we wish Mr. Mayhew the success his work deserves, and the public the good taste to appreciate it."—Sun, July 2, 1860.

"The great mass of them (the illustrations) are wonderfully faithful, and they are so varied and interesting that we would undertake to get rid of the most confirmed bore that ever pressed heavily on mankind for a good two hours by only handing him the book, and directing his attention to them. It is a well-known fact that grooms only remember the names of four or five diseases, and are sadly indiscriminate in their knowledge of symptoms. This book furnishes at once the bane and the antidote, as the drawings show the horse not only suffering from every kind of disease, but in the different stages of it, while the alphabetical summary at the end gives the cause, symptoms, and treatment of each."—Illustrated News, June 23, 1860.

"The diagnosis of every disease, no matter how simple or how complicated, is described in the most lucid manner, so that he who runs may read, and he who reads may understand. The cause and symptoms of suffering being ascertained, the next step naturally is to prescribe the most efficacious mode of treatment; and this difficult task Mr. Mayhew has achieved with admirable success—in no small degree attributable to the excellence of the numerous engravings with which he has illustrated his already perspicuous letter-press. That every member of the Veterinary College will be anxious to possess a copy of this new manual of his profession may be accepted as an undoubted fact; but we shall be strangely surprised if it do not find a conspicuous place on the shelves of every country gentleman, and of every intelligent farmer throughout merry England."—National Standard, June 23, 1860.

"We are inclined to think that this is about the very best book respecting the treatment of equine disease that ever has been written or published. The author is evidently well acquainted with the duties of his profession, and willing to give a world-wide extent to his own useful and practical experience, so that those who read may adopt his rules and regimen, and save that noble animal, whose use is one of the greatest blessings mankind enjoys, from much pain and suffering. In country districts, where the horse doctor cannot easily be summoned, this book will be invaluable; whilst, in more frequented localities, its use will always be found to be safe and judicious. The illustrations are clever, and fully serve the purpose for which they are annexed—to give certain indications of the nature of disease, and the readiest means of treatment."—Bell's Messenger, June 23, 1860.

"One of the most valuable works that we possess upon the subject, all the diseases to which the horse is liable being lucidly described, and the remedies stated very clearly. The wood engravings, which are numerous, well illustrate the text, and serve to complete the character of a work which all who possess a horse must desire to be master of also."—News of the World, June 24, 1860.

"The above is a volume of cyclopædic proportions, written by a wise, philanthropic, and scientific man. The numerous illustrations—by the author himself—are simply marvellous for their power of delineation, and more so of expression; and none but a man who knew the structure of the animal, within and without, could have given these transcripts with the diagnosis of disease and illness, together with the (so to speak) physiognomy of pain and suffering, in so wonderful a manner. It is in every sense a perfect book, and calculated to be of essential benefit to 'man and horse.'"—Dispatch, June 24, 1860.

"Mr. Mayhew is not only master of his subject, but knows how to teach others to master it also. The volume describes all the diseases to which horses are exposed throughout the infinite variety of circumstances in which they are placed; traces each disease to its cause, as far as it can be ascertained, and points out the course of treatment which should be adopted in every case. In pursuing this clear and thoroughly practical method of inquiry and exposition, Mr. Mayhew draws in all the collateral lights that can be brought to bear upon his topic, and shows to what extent the calamities to which horseflesh is heir may be referred to the ignorance, neglect, and brutality of owners; making, upon the whole, a large percentage in the bills of mortality. . . . It will be gathered from what we have said, that the scope of this valuable and interesting publication is hardly expressed in the title. It is undoubtedly a Manual for the 'Horse-doctor,' and by far the most exhaustive that has ever appeared; but it is also a great deal more. The moral side of the question is as largely and sympathetically discussed as the medical, and the great mass of the public who know nothing about horses will derive lessons from the perusal of the work which they could not have anticipated."—Horn News.

LONDON: WM. H. ALLEN AND Co., 7, LEADENHALL-STREET.

LONDON:—Printed by RICHARD KINDER, Printer, at his Printing Office, Angel-court, Skinner-street, in the Parish of St. Sepulchre; and published by JAMES FRANK ALLEN, 7, Leadenhall-street, both in the County of Middlesex.—October 6, 1860.

ALLEN'S INDIAN MAIL

AND OFFICIAL GAZETTE

FROM

BRITISH & FOREIGN INDIA, CHINA, & ALL PARTS OF THE EAST

(WITH THIS PAPER "THE INDIAN NEWS" IS NOW INCORPORATED.)

VOL. XVIII.—No. 458.]

LONDON, TUESDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1860.

[PRICE 6d.]

CONTENTS.

SUMMARY AND REVIEW	749
BENGAL:—
Incarnations and Excavations.....	750
India's Interest in Syria	750
The Crystal Throne	751
Miscellaneous	751
Shipping and Commercial	753
MADRAS:—
Miscellaneous	753
Shipping and Commercial	754
BOMBAY:—
Miscellaneous	754
CHINA		755
CEYLON		756
THE STRAITS		756
CENTRAL ASIA		757
OFFICIAL GAZETTE.....		759
DOMESTIC		762
ORIGINAL ARTICLES:—
Mr. Wilson's Successor.....	763
Double Income-tax on Indian Securities	763
HOME:—
Shipping and Domestic	765
Arrivals, &c., reported at the India Office	765
STOCKS AND SECURITIES.....		765

DATES OF ADVICES.

Bengal	Sept. 10	Burmah(Rangoon)	Aug 18
Madras	" 14	Bombay	Sept. 11
Agra	" 4	Ceylon	" 15
China (Hong-Kong)		August 25.

MAILS TO INDIA.

Mails to India and China, via Marseilles, are despatched from London as follows, viz.—Those for Bombay packets, on the evenings of the 3rd and 18th of each month; and those for Calcutta packets (including mails for Ceylon, Madras, and China), on the evenings of the 10th and 26th of each month. When any of these dates falls on a Sunday, the mails are made up on the following evening.

Letters and Newspapers can be forwarded to any part of India via Bombay and Marseilles, and in most cases will reach their destination some days sooner than if despatched by the following Calcutta mail. The Bombay mails via Southampton, however, are no longer available for the transmission of Letters or Newspapers to the Madras Presidency.

Mails for the Mediterranean and all parts of India, except the Bombay Presidency, are despatched via Southampton on the mornings of the 4th and 20th, or, when either of these dates falls on Sunday, upon the previous evening.

Mails for the Mediterranean, the Presidency of Bombay, and Upper or North-West Provinces of Bengal, are despatched via Southampton, on the 12th and 27th of the month, except when these dates fall on Sunday, in which case they are forwarded on the previous evening.

POSTAGE.

Via Southampton (pre-payment compulsory), letters under

1 oz. 6d.	2 oz. 2s. 0d.	4 oz. 4s. 0d.
1 oz. 1s. 0d.	3 oz. 3s. 0d.	5 oz. 5s. 0d.

Books, with the ends of the covers open (not exceeding 3 lbs. in weight), if sent via Southampton, under 1 lb. 4d.; under 1 lb. 8d.; under 1 lb. 1s. 4d.; under 1 lb. 2s.; under 2 lbs. 2s. 8d.; under 2 lbs. 3s. 4d.; and under 3 lbs. 4s. Postage-stamps must be affixed.

Via Marseilles (pre-payment compulsory), letters under

1 oz. 9d.	1 oz. 1s. 9d.	1 1/2 oz. 3s. 3d.
1 oz. 1s. 0d.	1 oz. 2s. 0d.	1 1/2 oz. 3s. 6d.

Newspapers for the East Indies, when not exceeding 4 oz. 2d. each; when above 4 oz. and not exceeding 8 oz. 3d. each—an additional penny being charged for every additional 4 oz. or fraction thereof. For all countries or places eastward of Suez, the charge is 2d., whatever the weight of the newspaper.

Books under 1 lb. 6d.; under 1 lb. 1s.; and for every additional 1 lb. an additional 1s.

The Mails for China are despatched at the same rate of postage as those to India, but must be pre-paid.

SUMMARY AND REVIEW.

THOSE who have looked forward to the arrival of the Calcutta Mail of the 8th September for decisive news from China are doomed to disappointment. All that we yet know, however, of the operations of the allies is satisfactory, so far as it goes. Their fleets arrived simultaneously off the mouth of the Peiho, and on the 1st of August the troops were disembarked at Pehatang without opposition. The forts had been abandoned, after being partially undermined, and only three men and a few wooden guns were left behind to welcome the European barbarians. Some skirmishing subsequently took place with the enemy's cavalry, and on the 12th the Tartar camp became an easy prize. The attack on the Taku forts was fixed for the 15th, when a stout resistance was anticipated.

From Shanghai we learn that the insurgents had attacked that city, but were repulsed by the European soldiers and marines, and the suburbs were burnt to the ground that they might afford no cover to the enemy. A panic prevailed among all classes, trade was suspended, and the foreign residents had formed themselves into a volunteer corps.

The intelligence from India is meagre and pointless. Its best feature is the announcement of a decided improvement in the import trade, though exports continue rather flat. "Jute, silk, and oil seeds," says the Englishman, "are in better demand, though still at prices too high for the home rates. Money continues abundant, and the demand for Government securities is limited by the continued distrust in the Governmental course and intentions, though they have certainly strengthened their position by their unwavering resolution to carry out Mr. Wilson's plans, the preparations for carrying which into operation have, however, been but slow."

Sir Bartle Frere appears to have lost much of his former popularity by supporting the Government in the different measures which are most objectionable in the eyes of the non-official Anglo-Indian community. It must be admitted that he has displayed more temper and less tact than is becoming in a lawmaker, and his "civilianism" really seems to be of the most rampant order. This new phase of character is much to be regretted, for, in common with many sincere friends of India, we had hoped that, ere many years had passed, Sir Bartle would have been placed in a seat of high honour and responsibility as Governor of one of the minor presidencies. We now, however, begin to question the advisability of such an appointment.

The report of the Indigo Commission has not yet been published, in consequence of the Government printing-office running short of a particular kind of type. The excuse is even more disgraceful than the delay itself, for there could have been no difficulty in borrowing type for the purpose, if the Government is too poor or too economical to possess a sufficient supply for its own necessities.

The cessation of the rains in the Upper Provinces excites much apprehension as to the fate of the harvest. The prices of grain are already exorbitantly high, and in some districts approaching to famine rates. There is also much sickness abroad, and cholera and fever are described as being unusually prevalent, and unusually severe.

Lieutenant-general Sir Harry G. W. Smith, Bart., G.C.B., the "hero of Aliwal," has been gathered to his fathers. This sad event took place on Friday last, October the 12th.

Mr. Laing, M.P. for the Wick Boroughs, has accepted the seat in the Calcutta Council rendered vacant by the lamented decease of the Right Hon. James Wilson.

CALCUTTA, CHINA, AND AUSTRALIAN MAILS.

The Ripon, with the heavy portion of the above mails, may be expected at Southampton about the 21st inst.

OUTWARD MAILS.

The Indus, from Southampton on the 27th of September, reached Malta on the 6th inst., at 6 A.M., and left at noon for Alexandria.

The Euxine, from Marseilles on the 5th inst., reached Malta on the 8th, at 2 A.M., and left at 8 A.M. for Alexandria.

Casualties by Death in the Armies of India reported since last Publication.

BOMBAY.—Major gen. Sir Henry G. Roberts, K.C.B., H.M.'s Bombay army, at Hazelcote House, Redmarley, aged 60, Oct. 6.

BENGAL.—Capt. William C. L. Ryves, 12th Bengal N.I., at Barrackpore, Aug. 30.

Passengers by the present Mail.

FOR MARSEILLES.—From CALCUTTA.—Capt. Puget, Mrs. Herbert, Maj. Morant, Mr. Currie, Miss Currie, Mr. Uphill, Mr. J. D. Wilkins, Mr. J. C. Todd. From MADRAS.—Messrs. L. Paulmier, P. Vallony, Esq. A. Vallony, Esq. From CHINA.—Messrs. Vangan, Juan de Vismanos, Jose. R. Rumpierre.

Expected at Southampton.

Per str. Ripon, Oct. 21.—From CALCUTTA.—Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Wells and infant, Mr. H. J. Sparkes, Capt. Close, Capt. and Mrs. Nicolls and family, Mr. Gooch, Lieut. Batley, Capt. Fry, Lieut. White, Mrs. Cunningham and children, Capt. Knapton, Lieut. Oliver. From MADRAS.—Messrs. A. Robinson, Esq., Mrs. A. K. C. Kennedy and two children, Capt. F. W. A. Robinson, From CHINA.—Messrs. R. Inglis, Adamson, W. G. Knapton, J. Smith, Blisse, F. Ponsford.

BENGAL.

INCARNATIONS AND EXCAVATIONS.

It is interesting to observe that the two tendencies of the human mind which are typified in Christendom by the two great parties—namely, Protestants and Romanists, are also found to exist among most other religionists. In general terms the two tendencies may be designated respectively as that of adherence to the original Book in its purity, and a readiness to add to this, or even to overlay it by, other subsequent traditions. Thus, among the Jews there are the Karaites and the Talmudists; among the Tibetan Buddhists the Dohk-pa and the Geluk-pa; amongst the Parsees the Qadeemis and the Shenshaes; even among the Hindus we might fancy these tendencies to be represented by the Vedantists, and by the common herd of idolaters. And so among the Mahomedans, the original difference between Sheeas and Soonees was very much that between Puritans and Traditionists. But the whole of the Mahomedan religion generally, being based on conscious and unconscious falsification of history, a sect within that faith with a tendency towards purity would not have been long-lived; hence Sheeism, to maintain its vitality at all, instead of adhering to plain historical fact, and to veritable doctrine as found in the Koran, had to imitate its rivals and work out a body of traditions peculiar to itself; and as in Christian countries Rationalists and Infidels have become Mormons, Table-rappers, and Spiritualists, so the Sheeas, in the monstrosity of their traditions, the grotesqueness of their fabrications, and the ridiculousness of their pretensions, frequently surpass the Soonees. Originally they merely meant to assert that the first three successors of Mahomed were usurpers, and that Ali, his son-in-law, was the real rightful Khalif. But, as in the heat of argument, a man is often driven to assert more than he originally intended, so the Sheeas permitted themselves to be driven from rightful claims to wrongful pretension. There are thousands of Sheeas who have gone so far as to declare Ali not only the rightful Khalif, but even a prophet, and they do not hesitate to substitute the name of Ali for that of Mahomed in the creed. A step beyond this is taken by the Ali Ilahis, a section of the Sheeas, who are found scattered all over from the mountains of Kurdistan to the Khyber hills; there is reason to believe that the Druses of Mount Lebanon are considerably tinged by this heresy, which consists in nothing less than the assertion that Ali was God himself. The Ali Ilahis believe in a succession of incarnations of the Godhead, amounting to 1,001; Benjamin, Moses, Elias, David, Jesus, Ali, Soliman, his tutor, and the Imam Husain are considered the principal incarnations. There is a dispute, however, among them whether the incarnations have all been completed or not. Most say they have, and that Baba Yadgar, the last of the Huft Tun (or Seven Bodies), was also the last appearance of God upon earth; others, however, deny this. And among the latter, some-body now and then sets up for an incarnation.

Such an incarnation a man claimed to be in Tirah this time last year. Tirah is a country south of the Khyber, about which you will in vain consult the gazetteers, and which, even on the frontier, is known mainly as producing the fiercest fanatics and the finest fruit. According to native accounts, it is a country of perennial emerald verdure, of ice-cold fountains, and breezes that add decades to human existence. It appears to be a very elevated plain, of great fertility. It is, or was, until very lately, inhabited principally by a branch of the Wrukzais who had become Sheeas, nobody can tell how long ago. A Sayud was the acknowledged head of a large portion of them. It was this man that claimed to be the Divine Being, and exacted divine honours from all who approached him. Three men he hanged for not acknowledging him; the beards of some mullahs he had shaved because they denounced him; and it is whispered that even a British officer, who invited him down for an interview, received a message full of scorn at his audacity, in reply.

This large arrogance, however, alienated his friends and exasperated his enemies; and this year a certain Soonee Sayud, well known on this frontier as perpetually, but unsuccessfully, intriguing against the British Government, managed to get together a number of Afreedies to attack the Sheeas of Tirah. The first serious onset seems to have been successful; the "god" fled into British territory for protection, many of the Sheeas were killed, and nearly 400 women and children (by Soonee accounts) have been made slaves. Three of the largest forts were taken possession of by the Soonees, and one, curious to tell, by an old Wrukzai chief who had no share in the fight, but whose father or grandfather, or somebody connected with him in some way, had held that identical fort in some past age. Where these Affghans keep their Herald's-office and their Records your correspondent cannot tell.

It is not all over yet. The Sheeas are evidently in a fright; a large number have fled, eighteen of their "forts" have been destroyed, and a large amount of plunder has been taken. In a late fight, Sayud Amir (the firebrand mentioned before) has been wounded, but, it is regretted, only slightly. The usual Affghan jealousy already denies that he had the principal share in planning and leading the original attack.

The transition from the fights of Affghans to the ceramic art of the Greeks, is, perhaps, a little violent, but not more so than the contrast this place in reality affords. Whilst a mound or two in the plain beyond the cantonments was yielding up a few Buddhist sculptures, an officer found in his own grounds some pieces of pottery that carry the mind back immediately to the people that lived, or at least ruled, here eighteen hundred years ago. They are veritable Greek remains. The place where they were found must have been a pottery; for the pieces are not fragments, but incomplete, unfinished, or unsuccessful issues from the oven; they are of a fine bluish clay, of course burned red. They are evidently impressions; for the outer impressed side is quite smooth and clean, whilst the margins and the inside exhibit the marks of the potter's fingers and of the thin lines of the skins of those fingers as plainly as if they had been made yesterday. The subjects are various, but all the figures, whether of men, or of animals, are of great grace, beauty, and perfection. Among the most remarkable are two representing Hercules in a sitting posture, full of repose, with club and lion's skin; one piece appears to represent the parting of Hector and Andromache, perhaps a suggestive scene of the exiled son of Hellas; one represents the Battle of the Pigmies and the Cranes; one a Diana; one a very beautiful Bacchant; one a Nymph sitting on a rock in a Phrygian cap, and several quiet domestic scenes; a mother and a child, the former holding up something which the little fat nudity wishes to reach; a woman spinning; children playing; a scene at a fountain, consisting of three figures and a dog—this evidently was to form a drinking vessel—and others which I have forgotten by this time.

The excavations by Lieut. Johnstone have been suspended from a lack of funds, I believe; he could not always go on in the self-sacrificing way he did. One of the last things laid bare was the foot of a wall built of stone, covered with plaster, in which the figures of men and pilasters were moulded. There was not enough of wall to give one an idea of the building to which it belonged.

—Correspondent of the Lahore Chronicle.

INDIA'S INTEREST IN SYRIA.

The Eastern question has once more entered the region of Indian politics. It is twenty years since in one form it inflicted on India the disasters of the Affghan War, emptying our treasury, slaughtering our soldiers, and teaching our subjects for the first time that we are vulnerable. In its train it brought two Sikh wars and one Persian campaign, and ripened to maturity the spirit of mutiny and rebellion. What the Affghan War left unaccomplished, by the Russian War of 1854

England tried to effect. Both were as terrible in their disasters as they were fruitless in their results. Both but postponed a catastrophe which cannot be much longer averted. At this hour we are in a worse position with reference to the Eastern question than we were in 1830. We have not weakened the strength nor balked the designs of Russia; we have forwarded the project and increased the prestige of France, a Power which has throughout her whole history proved incapable of anything but conquest, unable to carry out the work of civilisation, by which conquest ought always to be succeeded. We cannot be the only European Power dominant in Asia. But as a rival we would rather have Russia than France. In practical common sense, in governing energy, in direct honesty of purpose, in the spawning and organising forces which are the essential requisites of successful colonisation, the Russian, of all European races, most nearly resembles the Anglo-Saxon. Though but a Europeanised Tartar, he is better than an artificial Celt. The Greek creed of Russia is more capable of revivification than the Latin faith of France; the character of its catholicity and the style of its ritual are better suited for the fusion of Asiatic races and the necessities of the Asiatic imagination. We have always looked with hope on the progress of Russia in the East, we have never anticipated anything but good in the march of her arms from the Caucasus to Corea. In trade we require but an open market successfully to compete with her, and as we cannot annex the valley of the Amoor or the steppes of Central Asia we are content that she should have both. We have never thought that her intrigues in Persia were to be dreaded till she becomes mistress of Constantinople. Bitter, everlasting hostility to England is not a part of Russia's policy, nor would it be easy for her, even if she were desirous, to wound us through our Eastern Empire.

But the very opposite of all this is true of France. Ambition of the most unprincipled character is the motive force of all her acts. She loves power for the luxury of its arbitrary exercise or the pleasure of its mere possession, not as means to the development of commerce and the promotion of civilisation. She would be the sovereign of the world, and to effect this she has broken treaties, laughed at promises, provoked unrighteous wars, extinguished nationalities, and fettered the freedom of her own subjects. Her colonies she feeds with slaves, her satrapies she fills with intrigue, her allies she alienates by treachery and deception. All this we have helped her to do, that we might preserve the peace of the world unbroken. We madly joined her in the Crimea, we as foolishly associated her with ourselves in the China wars, in which she had no legitimate interest. We have watched her career from the dust which she bit at Waterloo to the glory which she claimed at Sebastopol, and have sympathized with her growing greatness. Without interference we have allowed her to create a standing army of 600,000 men, to menace Europe, to give laws to Austria, Italy and Spain, to wrong our ally Portugal, to annex provinces, and to threaten Switzerland in defiance of treaties. We have seen her stretch her hands from Morocco along the Northern and Eastern coasts of Africa to Madagascar, telling the rude tribes they were to look to her for protection, that they might supply her colonies with slaves. We have forgotten that when she was permitted by the European Powers to organize an expedition against Algiers in 1830 she pledged her word to take not one inch of ground without their permission, and then captured whole provinces. It was better that she should govern Northern Africa than a Dey who made Christians slaves, and the conquest may now financially be the chief source of her weakness. But the promise she laughed at then she will not be careful to adhere to now when a similar temptation offers itself.

The massacre of the Latin Christians in Syria has given her an argument for intervention, and will afford an opportunity for annexation too tempting to be foregone. It is more than believed that she is the author of the present disturbances.

It is known that French agents supplied the Maronites with minié rifles and incited them to rise. She has now accomplished her end. Once in Syria no mere convention of the Great Powers, no mere will of the Sultan will get her out, any more than they got her out of Algeria. She is the professed heir of the Great Napoleon's policy. The defeat at Acre, the first he suffered, will be wiped out by the permanent occupation of the sea coast of the Levant, and the actual suzerainty of all Syria. Louis Napoleon in his letter to Persigny, written to allay English suspicion, has this most significant sentence:—"I do not see how to resist public opinion in my country, which will never understand that we can leave unpunished, not only the massacre of Christians, but the burning of our consulates, the insult to our flag, and the pillage of the monasteries which were under our protection." Already France is more paramount at the Court of Persia than Russia ever was. Half Sir Henry Rawlinson's time we know to have been occupied in watching French intrigue, as Lord Stratford de Redcliffe checked it at Constantinople. The hold which France is gradually obtaining of Egypt makes it imperative that England resolutely interfere to foil her schemes of self-aggrandizement in Syria. The time has come when we must resolutely look the fact of the dismemberment of Turkey in the face. Yet it would seem we go to Syria as the mere seconds of France. While a first expedition of 12,000 men, to be succeeded probably by twice that number, leaves Toulon for Beyrout, and the Emperor in person inspires the Syrian corps at Chalons with the prospect of a second crusade, our part seems likely to be confined to sending a fleet, and perhaps occupying the coast towns.

Apart from the substitution of France for Russia as our most powerful rival in Asia and her territorial aggrandisement in the East, recent events in Syria must be to India a source of interest and anxiety. It is needless to conceal the fact that these events are watched with eager excitement by the Mussulman population of the North-West, that they have accurate information of the details, and that they gloat over the exaggerated accounts of the massacres. Our own information forbids us to doubt this. The revival of Moslem hate to Christianity during the past five years has been so remarkable, as to lead not a few to seek for its explanation in prophecy. First breaking out in the Indian mutinies of 1857, it spread among the Malays of the Eastern Archipelago, who shook the Dutch power to its foundations, and committed the atrocities at Banjer-massin. It was seen in the outrage at Jeddah, and in the almost successful revolt headed by the Ulemas in Cairo. The most significant evidence of its intensity is to be found in the conviction of all his subjects that the Sultan is too liberal—a conviction which found vent in the conspiracy against him a few months ago. The Mussulman is the only dangerous element of the population in India. We have supplanted him as a conqueror; we stink in the nostrils of his fanaticism; we give no scope to his ambition. With even more concern than our Government is he now watching the course of events in Syria. Our duty in India is clear—to maintain a strong European army as the only safeguard of our power. It may be that we shall be required at no distant period to despatch troops to fight under the shadow of the Pyramids, or on the plains of Syria, for the two keys of our Eastern Empire. It is certain that only force—the ultimate basis of all good government—will deprive Moslem hate of its sting.—Friend of India.

THE CRYSTAL THRONE.

As conquerors the English have never been distinguished by the ruthless vandalism which has characterised all their predecessors in the history of the world. The Romans stripped the cities which they sacked of their most splendid works of art, to adorn the temples and edifices of the capital of the earth. What generals like Mummius left untouched, pretors like Verres swept off from the provinces to deck their country seats or bribe their fellows who stayed at home, and winked at the robbery so long as they shared the spoil. Even the First Napoleon emptied the galleries of Europe into the palaces of Paris, and enriched the Imperial library by means at which a brigand would hesitate. In the East it has ever been recognised as the right, and practised as the custom of the conqueror, to squeeze from his victims the wealth which they possessed, to raze their temples to the ground, to carry off in the rear of the victorious army elephants and camels loaded with the gems of Golconda, the carvings of Onjein, and the riches of Agra and Delhi. What Mahomed of Ghuzni did at Somnath had been done before by Ghenghis and Kubla Khan, was done afterwards by their great descendant Timur, and by Nadir Shah. Timur raised the glories of Samarcand out of the wealth of Delhi; Nadir, three centuries and a-half afterwards, swept away from the same city the riches which his splendid line had accumulated.

But the same awe which fell upon the rough German tribes as, fresh from their forests, they stood in the cities which Greek and Roman civilisation had piled up, has in a far higher form influenced their English descendants. The race which rules over the widest extent of earth still maintains in its original seats its old simplicity, and has added to the spell of instinct the power of a humanising religious belief. No spoils from the countries which it has conquered adorn the streets of its cities. No trophies wrested from injured peoples can be pointed to to rouse the martial ardour of its youth. Its triumphs are rather those of peace than of war, are to be seen in prosperous colonies like Australia, in young nations like America, in new empires like India. Where there are trophies they are to be found only in Leadenhall-street, or in the British Museum, the fruits of fair purchase or free gift. So self-denying are her proconsuls that the offerings of feudatory chiefs are credited to the State, and have to be re-purchased before they can become their private property. England has succeeded to the power of the Moguls, but not to their policy of aggrandisement or their career of wide-spread oppression and destruction. If less splendid she is more honest, if less glorious she is more humane. She came not with the march of the avenger but with the solicitation of the trader, not with the pride of the monarch, but with the humility of the merchant. As she fought she spared, as she extended her empire she respected all property sacred and profane. Up to 1850, the only instance of barbaric folly she was guilty of was in the Carmagnole which Lord Ellenborough published to the princes and chiefs of India, when he set up the gates of Somnath in the Arsenal of Agra, and decked its roof with flaunting banners symbolising English conquests from Cabul to Peking.

At this moment the Queen of England has but one trophy to denote that she is Empress of India, and that was peacefully surrendered by its possessor, Dhuleep Singh, when his throne became ours, in spite of our efforts to maintain its independence. The Koh-i-noor passed through many hands from the time it was discovered in Golconda three centuries ago. Successively the property of Shah Jehan and his successors, of Nadir Shah, of Shah Sujah and Runjeet Singh, it became ours by deed of gift super-added to right of conquest in 1849. It is now one of the Crown jewels of England. Another trophy, not of war against an open foe, but of vengeance upon a cowardly traitor, is now on its way from India to her Majesty. The Crystal Throne which adorned the Audience Hall of the Great Moguls will soon be deposited in an English palace, a sign of the folly of those who would attempt to overthrow British power. In thus acting we have followed in the footsteps of Nadir Shah, though without any of his cruelty or injustice. He carried off to Ispahan that famous Peacock Throne on which Austin de Bordeaux lavished all his skill, and Shah Jehan, at the lowest computation, two crores of his wealth. Now we take possession of what is a greater curiosity, of a less valuable possession.

The crystal throne consists of one mass of rock crystal, four feet in diameter, by two in height, the largest known to exist. In shape it exactly resembles a large sofa cushion, with its tassels at the four corners. When the Maharrattas took Delhi, they tried to burn it with fire, so that, though previously without a flaw, it is now cracked or scamed in several places. It was seen by Bishop Heber on his visit to the palace covered with pigeon's dung, in the midst of the filth and desolation which reigned where Shah Jehan had fancied he had created a paradise on earth. When in 1857 we took the city Sir John Lawrence directed that it should be packed up and be sent to England for presentation to the Queen. Of its history nothing further is known than that it was stored up amid all the magnificence the most splendid of the Moguls accumulated in the city which he built and called by his own name—Shah-Jehanabad.

It is something that the English alone of all the conquerors of earth can say:—"When we might have razed cities to the ground and stripped their inhabitants of the wealth of centuries, we took but a piece of crystal; when, during a century of conquest and after an unprovoked rebellion, we might have drained the East of its fabled wealth, we were content with a diamond. When the madness of our native subjects made our treasury insolvent, we levied no penal cess, nor carried out any general distress, but created a scheme of taxation which included ourselves, that we might raise revenues in justice and fairness to return them with tenfold interest in the blessings of peace, security, and good government."—Friend of India.

MISCELLANEOUS.

GOOROO SADHO SING, of Kurtarpore, having presented a genuine "grunth" to the library attached to the India-house, has been rewarded with a khillut of Rs. 1,500 and a complimentary letter. Bedee Bekrama Sing, the High Priest of Infanticide in Umritsur, having presented for the same purpose an illustrated copy of the life of Baba Nanuck, has received a khillut of Rs. 500 and a complimentary letter also. What are the duties of the High Priest of Infanticide in Umritsur?

THE DALHOUSIE SANITARIUM.—General Windham has warmly approved of Dalhousie as a military sanitarium. He thinks no barracks should be built except of logs, and that the men should be kept under canvas. He recommends as a camping ground, a plateau 2,000 feet below the station, close to the Ravee.

LUCKNOW IMPROVEMENTS.—The gardens known as the "Annas Bagh" and "Bunarsee Bagh," in Lucknow, have been formed into a public resort, and are to bear the name of the "Wingfield Gardens." Lucknow will soon be the cleanest and prettiest town in India. The officials have shown both taste and energy in the many improvements introduced. They have been fortunate in having the command of three lakhs of rupees a year, as local funds, a sum nearly equal to the half of the Municipal revenue of Calcutta. Had the demolitions now taking place at Delhi been carried out, as in Lucknow, immediately after the siege, no rights of property would have been violated when they had no existence, and it would have become the finest city in northern India. Has Lord Canning yet expressed his wishes as to the fate of Kaiser Bagh? Eight months ago the authorities could get no "orders" on the subject. We shall not be astonished to see it restored to the ex-King as his private property. Though the great Imambarra is now the centre of a strong fortification, the question of its trust and funds is so difficult that we expect to see it sooner or later restored to the Mahomedans.

LUCKNOW LIBEL CASE.—The three principal witnesses for the defence in the libel case, viz., Subadar Unjore Tewaree, Jemada Juggernath, and Moula Buksh, are to be indicted for perjury.

MR. W. S. SETON-KARR is gazetted as Secretary to the Bengal Government from the 1st September.

THE UNCOVENANTED SERVICE BANK OF AGRA has declared a dividend for the last half-year at the rate of 14 per cent. per annum. The profits were Rs. 10,313, or upwards of 19½ per cent. on the capital, Rs. 1,05,000. The compensation awarded to the Bank amounted to only Rs. 505.

MR. J. GIBB has been appointed by the Governor-general Secretary to the Financial Committee entrusted with the preparation of the new scheme of budget, estimates and audit. Mr. Gibb, is, we believe, brother-in-law of the late Mr. Wilson, who sent for him from England to aid him in his duties here. He landed at Calcutta on the day on which Mr. Wilson was buried. Mr. Gibb is well acquainted with the working of the Bank of England, and will, we understand, be entrusted with an important post in connection with the new paper currency.

EASTERN BENGAL RAILWAY.—We are glad to observe in the Engineers' Journal some notice of the progress of the Eastern Bengal Railway, which stretches one hundred and ten miles from Calcutta to Koshitee on the Ganges. Messrs. Brassey, Wythes, and Co., the contractors, promise that the line will be open by the middle of 1862. They ascribe the frightful delay hitherto to the difficulty of obtaining labour at reasonable rates. There is no heavy brickwork on the line, and only fifteen per cent. of the earthwork was done in March last. The Barrackpore Station, it is said, will be ready "before next rains." Yet we were promised that the line would be in working order from Calcutta to Barrackpore last January.

BAREILLY, August 18.—The new barracks for the infantry are rapidly being finished; they are ten in number, and are built on what was formerly the Native Infantry parade ground; they have a very handsome appearance, being lofty, with upper windows; but I am told there is too much light, which causes a glare in them all day, besides making them hot, and the verandahs, although lofty and well raised, do not admit of tatties in hot winds acting properly. There has been a great mistake in building these barracks on low ground, which at present is under water, when adjacent is high ground, on which the magazine has been built. The hospital is also a very fine building, quite in keeping with the grand barracks; it is well raised, and is, I fancy, the largest and handsomest building of the kind in the Upper Provinces. There is plenty of accommodation inside it, but this has been rather a healthy year, the average in the hospital being fifty. The quarters for the artillery have not yet been commenced on; those for the married soldiers are nearly finished, but the buildings are close to the bazaar, a road only dividing them. The extraordinary shortsightedness and stupidity displayed in this arrangement will some day make itself painfully evident, for during the prevalence of any epidemic disease it is certain to prove a perfect sink of infection, and none are likely to suffer more than the poor women and children. There are few cantonments in India elevated as Bareilly is, 60 or 80 feet above the level of the surrounding country, where there are greater facilities for easy and complete drainage. While much credit is due to Captain Unwin, the cantonment magistrate, who suggested the removal of the Sudder Bazaar, it seems strange no steps have been taken to remove the filthy and extensive mass of ruins which still cover the site, and which at the present moment is really far more offensive than the bazaar itself. These ruins might easily be carted, at a comparatively insignificant cost, to fill up some of the numerous holes, blind wells and tanks that exist all over the station. These, with a few other improvements, would tend much to make this decidedly the healthiest station in the Upper Provinces. There is not much amusement for the men in Bareilly; no skittle alleys or racket courts, and the officers of the 42nd do not assist in any way to encourage theatricals or games for the troops; and another reason, the present building called a theatre is too small and close to admit of performances at this time of the year.—Englishman.

SNAKE WORSHIP.—The Phoenix cites a legend of the origin of Snake worship in India. It originated in Bhaugulpore at a very early period, and is there called the festival of Beehoola. Chand Saudagar, a rich merchant, had a large family of sons and daughters, nearly every one of whom died by snake bites. When he lost the last son the father died of grief, and the beautiful daughter-in-law, Behoola, burned herself along with the two bodies. Hindoo mythology building upon this tradition makes the goddess Kalee come before Chand and exhort him to worship the cobra; he refused, and next morning his eldest son died of a cobra's bite; the command and the refusal were repeated till all Chand's children had been killed. At last he gave way, and agreed to worship the cobra, and all his children were restored to life. From that time forward snake worship spread over India.

A TREETOTAL ARGUMENT.—A native news-letter from Cabul in the Delhi Gazette records the following incident:—"On the 7th August the Ameer was unwell and received visits from various khans in the Hurrum Sarai. He said he was very sorry to see Koolee Khan always drunk; he had advised him several times to relinquish the habit, but in vain. At the Ameer's request Koolee Khan solemnly swore that from that day he would never drink any kind of liquor, and would be a good man. For this act the Ameer promised him his daughter in marriage, and rewarded him with a valuable khilut, and ten thousand rupees, to enable him to bring his friends from Candahar to be present at the marriage next cold weather."

PILIBHEET, August 25.—This little town is just situated half way between Shajehanpore and Nainee Tal, and on the river Dewah, which takes its rise in the hills, and flowing through the Terai past this and Shajehanpore, at Mahonah, joins the Ganges. At this time of the year it often overflows its banks, carrying away the bridge of boats here, and causing a delay in the traffic between this and Bareilly, as well as doing damage to the boats laden with timber. A joint magistrate resides here to conduct the duties of the district, and there is also a European kotwal. The city is one of the cleanest I have seen in India, and the main street, or bazar, is well paved with stone, with drains on each side; the shops all being similarly built, and there are four handsome gateways. All this was built under the superintendence of the Hon. R. A. J. Drummond when he was Joint Magistrate here; he also built the college and hospital, which are now out of repair, having suffered damage during the mutiny. The population here is about 20,000, chiefly Mahomedans, or Pathans, and during the late disturbances they mostly sided with the rebel Nawab of Bareilly, Khan Bahadoor Khan; most of the Government money was taken by them, but Mr. Bremner, of the Canal Department, was saved through the exertions of Abdool Rihman Khan, who has been rewarded for his conduct by the Government. This is a pretty station, and only wants good roads and bridges to vie with any in the north-west, as it is healthy, and one can run up to Nainee Tal in a night. Troops were stationed here last year, but they have been withdrawn lately. A large trade is carried on here in timber and hides; last year there was a great demand for the former; at the Government sales logs sold at an average of Rs. 28 each, but this year, as there is no very great call for timber, logs are selling at Rs. 10; but the railway contractors are busy sawing and transporting sleepers to Agra and Cawnpore. There were very strong fortifications round the city; the walls are still to be seen—they extended fourteen miles in circumference. These were built by Hafiz Rihmut-oolah Khan, grandfather to the late Khan Bahadoor, some 80 years ago. This Hafiz Jee, as he was more generally called, would not pay revenue to the Oude Government, as this district then formed part of that province. For this he was called to account by the then King of Oude, who sent a force to bring him to reason, but Hafiz Jee met the King's Vuzeer, Nawab Soojah-oo-Dowlah, at Futtehgunge, fourteen miles from Bareilly, and after a hard fight was defeated. The Vuzeer followed the Rohilla force as far as this city, and took as a trophy the large gun which the rebels used with such effect, called Nanuck Mattah, against the Baillie Guard during the siege of Lucknow. I may as well mention that the woods brought here for sale are Sakho, Asanah, Jhaman, Seeshoo, Toon, Deodar, Sahah, and Rhoher; of these Deodar and Toon are scarce. It is intended shortly to begin collecting the taxes in this district (Rohilcund), but I doubt whether it will be carried out as easily as appears to have been the case in Oude. The Pathans are easily excited, and already most absurd rumours have been spread amongst them, and I should advise the authorities to be cautious how they enforce the Act. The comparative lateness of the rains this year, and, in consequence, the short yield, will, no doubt, bring, especially when the taxation has commenced, many a bitter pang, and draw out many a scalding tear from the poor ryot, who will have to find ways and means to satisfy the zemindar's demands for rent. Notwithstanding our having had so much rain here, articles of consumption in the bazaars are selling as dear as they seem to be elsewhere. Attah is selling at twelve seers per rupee, and everything else proportionably dear. It appears most of the Bunneahs send their grain to villages round this, where they get a better price than if sold here. There being no one here to regulate the nerikkh, except the Tehseeldar, the Bunneahs charge just what they like. The manager of the Kumaon Iron Works has lately published a report of their proceedings for the last eighteen months; it is without date, so that one is left in uncertainty as to the period meant. By it we learn that the amount expended in the execution of work-shops, passage money, establishment, &c., up to this time has been more than two lacs of rupees. It is estimated that 40 tons of pig iron are turned out every week from each of the works. It is a pity that tramways are not made to the works from the forests, as these, being dense and close in the neighbourhood, would afford fuel for smelting furnaces for years to come. With all these advantages the iron works do not seem to have done anything worth mentioning, unless preparing machinery at Roorkee for smelting purposes; but by this time the works ought to have been able to supply iron-ways for the railway. At present those imported are subject to the risks of the voyage round the Cape, with subsequent delays in transit to Allahabad and Cawnpore; these inconveniences would be spared by the manufacture of the material in Kumaon. There is a rumour that some of the Goorkhas in the Kumaon Battalion are to have grants of land given them in Kumaon, as has been the case in Dehra Dhoon. It seems strange that these natives, who may have done good service, should be treated so much better than Europeans, who have also served the State, and who ought to be similarly rewarded. The members of the Yeomanry Cavalry, Agra Militia, and others, who have been thrown out of employ since their corps have been disbanded, have as much claim to grants or rewards as the Goorkhas. I am afraid indigo prospects are bad this year in the North-West, owing to the continued drought. A letter from a factory not far from this, received to-day, states that the out-turn of indigo will not exceed three maunds; and having to deal with a set of natives who are always opposed to the planter is not calculated to improve a man's temper. I don't know how you are situated in Calcutta with regard to servants, but here, in Rohilcund, they ask double the wages that they did before the mutinies; in fact they make their own terms, and if they are not quite so favourable to the dominant few as formerly, they are at least beneficial to the subject millions.—Englishman.

VEGETABLE FARMS.—The Mofussilite says inquiries have been made regarding the cost of vegetable farms for the supply of military cantonments. The entire annual cost of supplying 1,000 men in this way will be about Rs. 3,000, or one-third less than the cost at present incurred. The vegetables would, of course, be very much better than those obtained by contract.

THE KIRWEE PRIZE MONEY for Whitlock's column amounts, it is said, to more than three quarters of a million sterling:—37 laks of rupees in silver; 10 laks of rupees in gold bricks; and 40 laks of rupees' worth of jewellery.

TUMLOOK, August 27.—For some time past we have had just the sort of weather for rendering these unwholesome localities absolutely pestiferous. Frequent drizzles, sufficient only to moisten the soil, with intervals of a hot burning sunshine, have been with us the sole characteristics of the wet weather up to the present day. Doctors differ as to the origin of malaria, but sad experience has taught us too explicitly not to view with alarm the state of weather above described. With full and continued showers we should almost be as well off as in winter, and the cessation of the rains alone would be attended with any noticeable amount of illness. Unfortunately the state of things has been otherwise, and there is not a house or cottage in which one or more are not laid up with the fever peculiar to these salt districts. People say that such an amount of illness has not occurred here for years past; some attribute the unhealthiness of the present season to the formation of the new chur. A very absurd deduction on account of Income tax has been made from the last Grant-in-aid Bill of the Tumlook school. Instead of taxing the salaries of the head and second masters of the institution, which are liable to be taxed, being Rs. 50 and 25 per mensem, Baboo Chatterjee has taken it into his head to tax the Government grant of Rs. 70 at four per cent!—Englishman.

PREPARATORY LEAVE.—The Secretary of State for India has declined to sanction the grant of full salary to chaplains during preparatory leave.

KISHNAGHUR, Aug. 22.—The indigo concerns throughout Jessore and Kishnaghur have closed their manufacturing. The former had large crops, and would have made bumper seasons had they been able to work off their plant as usual; with all their loss and difficulties they are fortunate, compared to the Kishnaghur concerns, which at best saved only a portion of their cultivation, and that, from cattle trespass, want of weeding and care, has been a total failure. The out-turn is lower than in 1842—the most disastrous season known. The ryots steadily refuse to pay rents; the disorganisation is daily on the increase, and where any attempt is made to check the outbreak, the police are severely wounded and driven back to the Thannals. A few ryots may suffer imprisonment, but this has no effect on the others; rents continue to be withheld, and the ryots having it all their own way, the district is supposed to be quiet.

THE CALCUTTA AUCTION COMPANY at their fifth half-yearly meeting declared a dividend at the rate of 10 per cent. The sales for the half year closed and posted amounted to Rs. 9,01,451-2-0, and the collections to Rs. 11,01,001-2-0. The outstanding amount for goods sold was at the end of the half year Rs. 3,83,526-8-0, or about two months' sales. There were on the 30th of June 234 shareholders holding 5,088 shares, on which Rs. 3,22,850-15, had been paid.

SHIPPING.

ARRIVALS.

Aug. 23. Commodore, Crowell, Liverpool; Sir Edward Paget, Snow, Moulmein.—24. Str. Baltic, Melville, Akyab, Rangoon, and Moulmein; John Scott, Harrison, London.—27. Gironde, Martel, Bourbon; Amelia, Beattie, Melbourne; Eugene and Anele, Raulit, Bourbon; Inkerman, Grant, Liverpool.—28. Earnest and Charles, Petit, Mauritius.—30. Bentinck, Wedgwood, Mauritius.—Sept. 1. Siharia, Harries, Bombay; Seostros, Smout, Rangoon; Charles, Fenclard, Cardiff.—2. Tippoo Saib, Hackett, Aden.—3. Cambrian, Wilson, Sunderland; Belvidera, Atkinson, Sunderland; Pudsey Dawson, Mackenzie, Liverpool; Northumbrian, Smith, Coconada.—4. Giant's Causeway, Robertson, Melbourne; Arracan, Selkirk, Liverpool.—5. Str. Burmah, Grey, Moulmein, Rangoon, and Akyab; Lucknow, Graham, Melbourne; Futlay Rozack, Lafrances, Rangoon; str. Lancashire, Oliver, Hong Kong.—6. Palmyra, Haman, Mauritius; Maupertuis, Leborgue, Pondicherry; Tubal Cain, Wells, Port Blair.

PASSENGERS ARRIVED.

Per Amelie.—F. Johnson, F. G. Gorse, C. Lindan, H. Schoot, F. Meir, C. Rottenbusch, P. Rottenbusch, C. Mackroft, J. Deal, W. Apple.

Per Inkerman.—Master C. Low, Miss Smith, Mrs. Grant and two children.
Per Pudsey Dawson.—Mrs. K. J. McKenzie.
Per str. Burmah.—G. Van Walstab, Mr. J. M. Uppill, Mr. N. H. Thomson, Mr. R. Currie, Capt. Hutchinson, Mr. Allen, Miss Currie, Mr. Todd, Capt. Anderson, Mr. Magrath, Mr. and Mrs. Wollaston.
Per str. Lancashire.—J. Arratoon, M. M. Torab, J. W. Wickins, Miss Kenzie, J. Hamguit.
Per Lucknow.—Mrs. Gorham.
Per Sarah Newman.—Mrs. Gibson.
Per Tubal Cain.—Lieut. C. Hill, 6th Regt., Messrs. Bolte, F. Fox, Oliver.
Per str. Baltic.—Maj. Moran, Mr. Jacob, Mr. D'Silva, Mr. Fitzherbert, J. J. O. Hay, Esq., A. W. Roghe, Esq., Capt. Motley.

DEPARTURES.

Aug. 24. Viscount Canning, Goodwin, London; Martaban, Joulm, Liverpool; Lafayette, Jones, Penang and Singapore; str. Bengal, Farquhar, Suez.—25. Hersilia, Kirby, London.—26. Geo et Juliette, Fabre, Mauritius; Noville Penelope, Flottel, Madras and Bombay; Rising Sun, Smith, Akyab; Wm. Fairbairn, Allan, Liverpool.—28. John O'Gaunt, Smith, Mauritius; Malabar, Mas, Mauritius.—29. Marseilles, Marley, Mauritius; Bengali, Rosse, Bourbon.—30. Henry Revil, Matheson, London; Levant, Teran, New York.—31. Wide Awake, Oakley, London; Samuel Boddington, Whittaker, London; Pearl, Thompson, Mauritius.—Sept. 1. Eunice, Robertson, Colombo; Saladin, Macted, London; Osiris, Roger, Bourbon.—3. Rip Anna Maria, —, Rangoon; Confidence, Equin, Melbourne.—4. Str. Governor Hodgkinson, McMullan, Akyab, Rangoon and Moulmein; Tippoo Saib, Hackett, —; Deva, Hail, Port Blair.—5. St. Louis, Fernisun, Bourbon via Mauritius.—6. Str. Baltic, Melville, Bimlipatam and Comandul Coast; Thomas Cole, Lowe, Demerara.—8. P. and O. Co.'s str. Columbian, Stewart, Suez.

PASSENGERS DEPARTED.

Per str. Columbian, for MADRAS.—Major Chambers, Capt. Horan, Mr. Robinson. For GALLE.—Mr. F. J. Cockburn, Mr. C. H. Denham. For SINGAPORE.—Sir M. Wells, Mr. E. Wells. For SUEZ.—Mr. D. Ferguson and infant, Miss Black, Mr. J. O. Hay. For MALTA.—Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Cockburn and family. For MARSEILLES.—Capt. Puget, Mrs. Herbert, Major Morant, Mr. Currie, Miss Currie, Mr. Uppill, Mr. G. D. Wilkins, Mr. J. C. Todd. For SOUTHAMPTON.—Mr. and Mrs. Wells and infant, Mr. H. J. Sparks, Capt. Close, Capt. and Mrs. Nicolls and family, Mr. Goock, Lieut. Bailey, Capt. Irby, Lieut. White, Mrs. Cunningham and children, Capt. Edridge, Lieut. Oliver.

COMMERCIAL.

Calcutta, Sept. 8, 1860.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.

	Sell.	Buy.
Public Works, 5 per cent.....	3 0 to 3 4
New Company's Rupee 4 do.....	82 0 to 82 4
Dit 0, 5 do.....	3 4
3rd Sicea Rupee 4 do.....	20 0
Transfer 4 do.....	Nominal.
New 5½ do.....	102 0 to 102 8

BANK OF BENGAL.

Discount on Govt. Acceptances (3 months).....	3 per ct.
Do. on Private Bills and Notes (do.).....	6 per ct.
Interest on Deposit of Co.'s Paper.....	5 per ct.
Do. on open Cash Credit Accounts.....	5 per ct.
On deposit of Goods, &c.....	6 per ct.

EXCHANGES.

Agency Bills, at 6 months' sight.....	2 0½
Do. with documents, do.....	2 0½ to 2 1
American Bills under credit, do.....	Nominal.
Treasury Bills, 30 days' sight.....	"
Navy Bills, 3 days' sight.....	"
Bank of England Post Bills, at sight.....	"

RATES OF ADVANCE.

4 per cent. Stock Receipts.....	Sa. Rs. 100	Co.'s Rs. 78
4 ditto Government Paper.....	Sa. Rs. 100	" 78
4 ditto ditto.....	Co.'s Rs. 100	" 78
5 ditto ditto.....	" 100	" 91
5½ ditto ditto.....	" 100	" 98
New Treasury Bills.....	" 100	" 93

On goods 3-4ths of approved valuation.

JOINT STOCK SHARES.

	Paid up.	Present value.
	at Co.'s Rupees.
Bank of Bengal.....	4000 each	5900 to 5950
Agra Bank (Limited).....	500	650 to 660
Delhi Bank.....	500	500
India General Steam.....	1000	1490 to 1500
Ganges Company.....	500	575 to 590
Bengal Coal Company (Limited).....	1000	1750 to 1800
Calcutta Steam Tug Association (Limited).....	600	575 to 590
East-India Coal Company (Limited).....	70	73 to 75
Bonded Warehouse Association.....	445	560 to 575
Calcutta Docking Company.....	700	875 to 900
Oriental Gas Company (Limited).....	10	9 to 10
Assam Company.....	200	390 to 400
East-India Railway Company.....	£20	Rs. 3 dis.
East-India Copper Co. (Limited).....	1000	no sales.
Calcutta Auction Co. (Limited).....	75	70 to 75

PRICES OF BULLION.

Sovereigns.....	each, Rs. 10	5 to 10 6
Doubloons.....	"	32 8 to 32 10
Madras Gold Mohurs.....	"	15 2 to 15 0
Old Gold Mohurs.....	"	21 14 to 22 0
New Gold Mohurs.....	"	15 2 to 15 3
China Gold Bars.....	per sicca wt., Rs. 16	10 to 16 2
Gold Dust (Australia).....	"	15 0 to 16 0
Sycee Silver, none, Co.'s Rs. 100.....	"	106 0 to 106 4
Spanish Dollars.....	per 100 Rs.	222 0 to 222 8
Mexican do.....	"	224 8 to 225 0

FREIGHTS.

To London, £2 to £3. 10s.
To Liverpool, £2 to £3.

EXPORTS (Calcutta, Sept. 8).—The produce market may be reported as without any change of importance. Stocks and supplies are still very moderate, and unusual at this season of the year, and prices generally are maintained, and in most instances above the ruling prices at home. Raw Silk of European filatures is still firmly held at former prices; but native produce has rather conceded in value. Coriands of good qualities are very light in stock, and held at high prices. Sugar.—The business during the fortnight has been principally in Benares for Bombay. Little has been done for Great Britain. Saltpetre has been in limited operation, owing to the firmness shown by holders. Rice.—Table sorts have been very moderately engaged for Great Britain. Moonghy and Ballum have been freely engaged for Mauritius, Bourbon, and other places. Linseed, of Bengal produce, has arrived freely, and large shipments, especially of the ordinary quality, have taken place for Great Britain. Rapeseed has been engaged moderately for Great Britain. Hides have been in better inquiry at somewhat advanced prices. Jute has been taken moderately.

IMPORTS (Calcutta, Sept. 8).—An active inquiry has sprung up for 6 to 7 lb. Grey Shirtings, and, notwithstanding the willingness of the holders to meet the demand, prices of these descriptions only improved 3 to 4 annas per piece on the lowest figures previously obtained, and about 13,000 bales were readily sold at this advance; this, however, did not last beyond three or four days, as accounts received on the 4th and 5th instant from the Upper Provinces of an extraordinary rise in the price of grain, and the probable result of a famine, and the consequent total cessation of business in all up-country marts, caused an immediate check to the excitement, and no desire has since been shown for purchase, excepting a little for immediate local requirement. Prices of 6 to 7 lb. Clths have again receded 1 to 1½ anna. Grey Madapolams had also risen about 2 annas, but have again fallen 6 pice to 1 anna. Prices of any other description of Grey Cottons have not undergone any change; but a great deal depends on further news which may be received from the Upper Provinces. White Cottons have been in limited operation. Mule Twist.—The market has shown some animation during the last few days. Metals continue very dull.

MADRAS.

HINGOLEE, August 29.—Intelligence having been brought to Captain Davies, the Superintendent of Police of the Ceded Districts, that a body of Bheels, about 150 in number, headed by Itoba Naik, Sukkaram Naik, and others, were committing depredations at Deogaum, and other places in the Talook of Seorce, and that one of his chuprassees and a police naik were killed by them, that officer sent off an order at once to Hyder Beg, zilladar of Nandair, to proceed against them, with instructions that in case he found them too strong for him, to apply to the officer commanding at Hingolee for assistance. He accordingly left Nandair, his head quarters station, that very night with only 125 of his men, of whom forty were sowars, and the remainder footmen, consisting of Scindees and Deckanees, and after a march of four days reached Ramkooree, a distance of 120 miles, from whence, having sent out scouts, and ascertained the exact whereabouts of the Moofsids, he pounced upon them (after another long night march of forty miles) at Deogaum, and succeeded in laying sixty of them hors de combat, and captured forty-four, all more or less wounded. Among the former were four naiks, who, when the zilladar got into the midst of the melee with a few of his men and brought them to the scratch, fought with a desperation truly Spartan ere they bit the dust; some using the butt ends of their matchlocks in self defence when they could no longer use their swords. The zilladar felt the weight of a couple of these to his cost on his right shoulder, as they completely disabled his arm for a few days; but further than the above he sustained no injury, and is doing very well. The casualties on his side were twelve men wounded, and one horse killed (rather long odds for a stand-up fight between irregulars), but when the circumstances under which the attack was made is brought into consideration it is not at all surprising, the more especially as the zilladar's party was composed of so many mounted men. Four naiks and six men are reported to be the number who were laid low by the latter's own hand. It is only one year since Hyder Beg, zilladar, has been appointed to the office he now holds, and within that short time he has done more than all the other zilladars put together; for I do not remember that I ever heard of any of the others having done such service as that which has now been recorded. He is a powerfully-built man, of easy, frank manners, very intelligent, of tried courage, and promises in time to be a valuable servant to the State; and I daresay, if properly encouraged and supported, will speedily rid us of those pests, the Rohillas, and the other insurgents nearest the surrounding country, and who always manage to evade the regular troops of the contingent when these are sent against them. I believe there is a nest of them in the Mahore jungles at present, and the zilladar is busy making arrangements for an expedition against them some time next month, or as soon as the weather clears up sufficiently to admit of this undertaking, and I doubt not that when he does go he will not fail to ferret out and give a good account of the vagabonds.—Poona Observer.

THE "CELESTIAL EMERALD PALACE."—The King of Burmah's new steamer, which was sent out in pieces from Glasgow, was lately launched from the Government dockyard at Rangoon. The wife of the Master-attendant performed the ceremony of naming the vessel, the Celestial Emerald Palace. The King intends it for a pleasure yacht. It is 180 feet in length, eighteen in breadth, and draws eight feet of water. It is fitted with a pair of oscillating engines of 100-horse power.

DR. BLACKWELL.—Our readers may probably remember the conspicuous part played by Dr. Blackwell in the recent trial of Mr. Reade, a Madras civilian, for having pecuniary dealings with the Rajah of Vizianagum. Mr. Reade was suspended for two years, and Dr. Blackwell was ordered to be sent to some other part of the country. The order of the Secretary of State was complied with, but in such a way as to make it a mockery, for the doctor was sent to an adjoining station, where he was within a few hours' ride of the Rajah. We now learn from the Athenaeum that "a despatch from the Secretary of State for India has just reached Madras, intimating Sir Charles Wood's disapproval of the juggle by which Sir Charles Trevelyan and Sir Patrick Grant evaded the spirit of his former orders, regarding Dr. Blackwell's removal from that part of the country in which he had made himself so discreditably conspicuous, by his conduct in connection with the Vizianagum Rajah and the trial of Mr. Reade.—It will be remembered that Dr. Blackwell was only transferred to Chicacole, a short distance from his former station. The Secretary of State now peremptorily directs that he may be sent elsewhere, to some spot less adjacent to the scene of his former exploits."

INCOME-TAX MACHINERY.—The preliminary steps have been taken to introduce the Income-tax. Official and non-official commissioners have been appointed, the latter representing the European mercantile and trading communities as well as the Hindoo and Mahomedan populations. This is for the presidency town. In the Mofussil all collectors are ex-officio commissioners. Assessors for the presidency town have not yet been nominated. The only other point requiring notice is, that while the local Government possessed the power of exempting all property "solely employed for or dedicated to religious or charitable public purposes," it has contained itself with exempting property of this nature belonging to Hindoos and Mahomedans only. On what ground Christian property of this description is excluded from the benefit of the exemption is not mentioned in the proceedings of Government.

THE MADRAS PIER WORKS are now rapidly progressing, and the officers in charge of them expect to carry out the structure another hundred feet during the next two months, in which case ships' boats will be enabled to come to the head of the pier, where Mr. Gilbert proposes to have a ladder hung, so as to allow of the landing and embarkation of passengers beyond the surf. This facility will prove a great advantage both to shore folks and ship captains, and we therefore congratulate them on their satisfactory prospect. A saving of expense, as well as of risk and annoyance, will likewise follow when the arrangement takes effect. Parties passing to and from the mail steamer will have but a very short distance to go, as she has taken up a berth adjacent to the pier, since the buoy was laid down. The only persons who have no cause to rejoice at the rapid progress of operations are the boatmen of this port, whose profits will be, we should think, seriously curtailed when the pier comes fully into play. They have, however, reaped a rich harvest during many years, and not altogether by honest means, as they are noted for robbery and extortion. It is their turn to suffer now; but we do not apprehend that their loss will be great until the bulk of cargo passes either way along the pier, and this it probably will do only after the completion of the structure. The ad interim accommodation above spoken of, applies, we fancy, to passengers, ships' officers, and light baggage alone. The materials for the second section of the pier, which is now being fast proceeded with, were brought out in the good ship Excelsior, and the piles for the third section are daily expected to arrive on board the Peremet. Should they come to hand safely, the works will then be rapidly pushed on towards completion.—Athenaeum.

MALABAR COAST, August 14.—The weather continues agreeable, with occasional sunshine and rain; the station is healthy. Cholera is prevailing on the road between Bangalore and Hoonsoor. A detail of Artillery drivers, now on their route from Madras to Cannanore, have had a few cases among them; a medical subordinate with medicines has in consequence been sent from Cannanore to meet them at Hoonsoor. Brigadier J. Fitz Gerald, being promoted to major-general, relinquishes the command of Malabar and Canara; the general has been a highly popular commander, and we regret we are so soon to lose him. He will be succeeded in the command of the provinces by Colonel A. M. McCally, of H.M.'s 18th regiment Madras Native Infantry. This, however, is only a temporary arrangement. The Bombay steamer will commence plying on the coast from the 22nd, and is expected at Cannanore on the 26th.—Hurkaru.

SHIPPING.

ARRIVALS.

Aug. 30. Day Dream, Cochrane, Covelong.—Sept. 1. Jenne Adele, Derron, Swansea; str. Retribution, Edgell, c.m., Trincomallie.—2. Moulou, Nicholson, Gopaulpore; Mary Harrison, Nightingale, Mauritius; Gallant Nell, Ewes, Masulipatam.—6. Str. Colombo, Dunn, Suez; Queen of Ava, Williamson, London.—7. Sarah Anne, Landsay, Port Phillips.—8. General Havlock, Pounder, Negapatam; Mercer, Crowl, Hartlepool.

PASSENGERS ARRIVED.

Perry Mary Harrison.—Dr. W. Lyndale.
Per Gallant Nell.—Mrs. Goodhall, W. Knox, Esq., and three children.
Per str. Colombo.—From SOUTHAMPTON.—Rev. J. and Mrs. Richard and two children, Mr. R. J. Newbolt, J. Dugard, Dr. J. Fitzpatrick, W. Brewley, From MARSEILLES.—Mr. A. E. Pater, Mr. Cammille. From SINGAPORE.—Staff sergeant Smith. From GALLIE.—Capt. Colton.
Per P. and O. Co.'s str. Columbian.—From CALCUTTA.—Mrs. Thompson and three children, Mrs. Brooks and child, Mr. King, Maj. Chambers, Capt. Horan, Mr. Robinson.

DEPARTURES.

Aug. 28. Str. Dalhousie, Hopkins, Rangoon via Northern Ports.—28. Lietan Iskander, Kloppenburg, Padang and Poto Noro.—31. Aluwick Castle, Taylor, Calcutta; Adelaide, Longman, Mauritius; McNeill, Buck, Mauritius; Vanguard, Hugon, Calcutta.—Sept. 4. Day Dream, Cochrane, Calcutta; str. Retribution, Edgell, Trincomallie; Moulou, Nicholson, London.—6. Str. Colombo, Dunn, Calcutta; Alice, Little, Liverpool.—8. Storm Cloud, Campbell, Calcutta; Meggie, Naughton, Coonada and Gopaulpore.—9. La Prime, Gowjon, Bordeaux; Merrington, Clarke, Liverpool.

PASSENGERS DEPARTED.

Per str. Dalhousie.—Mrs. Capleton, Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. Batten, Mrs. Yates, Mrs. Luttrell, Mrs. Leeper, Mrs. Blagrove, Mrs. Cook, Miss Crofton, Miss Louisa Myrtle, Capt. Robinson, Capt. Blagrove, Surg. Pritchard, Rev. Mr. Pratt, Rev. Mr. Leeper, Capt. Batten, Mr. S. Clarke, Maj. Power, Capt. McDonald, Capt. Cock, Major Webb, Mr. C. Ainslie, Mr. Hutchins, Ens. Middlecott, Mr. Cockerill, Ens. Black-fund, Lieut. Williams, Lieut. Burgess, Capt. Hill.
Per Aluwick Castle.—Mrs. A. Thomas and three children.
Per str. Colombo.—E. B. Toussaint, Esq., H. F. Blanford, Esq., F. Warner, Esq., Lady Jackson and two children.
Per Alice to Liverpool.—Mr. and Mrs. Copp and family.
Per P. and O. Co.'s str. Columbian, to SOUTHAMPTON.—W. A. Davison, Esq., Mrs. A. K. C. Kennedy and two children, Capt. F. W. A. Robson, To MARSEILLES.—Messrs. L. Paulmer, P. Vallony, Esq., A. Vallony, Esq. To ALEXANDRIA.—J. Beaumont, Esq.

COMMERCIAL.

Madras, Sept. 14, 1860.

BANK OF MADRAS.

Interest on Loans on deposit of Gov. Securities ... 5 per ct.
On Cash Credits on do. (subject to commission of 1 per cent. on the sum granted) on amount drawn ... 5 per ct.
Discount on Government Bills ... 4 per ct.
Do. on Private Bills, at or within 3 months ... 7 per ct.

EXCHANGES.

Document Bills, at 6 months' sight	2 04
Credit, to 6 months'	2 04 1/2
Agents' Bills on England, at 6 months	2 04
" " " 3 do.	1 11 1/2
" " " 1 do.	1 11 1/2
" " " Sight	1 11 1/2
H.M. Treasury Bills	none
Bank of England Post Bills	none
Mauritius Government Bills	nominal
Ceylon do.	"
Court of Directors' Bill on the Government of Bengal, 30 days' sight	None
Agents' Bills on Calcutta, 30 days	1/2 per cent. pm.
Do. on Bombay	1/2 dis.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.

5 1/2 per cent. Loan	1859	3 to 3 1/2 pm.
5 per cent. ditto	1856-57	1 1/2 to 2 dis.
4 per cent.	1852-53	"
"	1855-56	15 1/2 to 16 1/2 dis.
"	1842-43	"
"	1854-55	"
5 per cent. Transferable Book Debt		No transacts
Tanjore Bonds		1/2 per ct. dis.
Bank of Madras Shares		12 1/2 prem.

PRICE OF BULLION.

Sovereigns..... each Rs. 10 9

RATES OF ADVANCE.

On Govt. 5 1/2 per cent. Promissory Notes	98 per ct.
Do. 4 1/2 do. do.	90 per ct.
Do. 4 do. do.	93 per ct.
Do. 4 per cent. Stock Receipts	80 per ct.
Do. 4 per cent. Promissory Notes Sica	80 per ct.
Do. 4 per cent. do. Company's	80 per ct.
Do. 3 1/2 do. do.	— per ct.
On Tanjore do. do.	98 per ct.

FREIGHTS.

Quotations to London & Liverpool, £2. 10s. to £2. 15s.

BOMBAY.

BANKS AND BUBBLES.—The first preliminary meeting of the promoters of the Central Bank of Western India was held in the China Steam Navigation Company's Office, Bombay-green, on the 6th September, when the Provisional Committee was selected and the prospectus adopted. Upwards of fifteen thousand shares were subscribed for on the spot, the majority of applicants being leading local capitalists. There is abundance of room for this new bank; and as its branches extend into the interior, new facilities for trade will arise, and capital lending a helping hand to enterprise and industry, the most latent resources of the country will be easily developed, as well as new fields of wealth and new channels for labour. Of the success of the undertaking there can be no doubt, the names of the provisional committee being a sufficient guarantee against failure. An erroneous impression prevailed at first that the bank was established exclusively for natives; but we are glad to say that this idea has been most effectually dissipated. Several of our leading European mercantile firms have already subscribed liberally for shares.—Bombay Telegraph.—The fever of joint-stockeries is still running high in the island. The prospectus of a new bank, to be entitled the BOMBAY ROYAL BANK, with a capital of fifty lakhs, in 20,000 shares of Rs. 250 each, was put upon the share-market on the 4th Sept., between three and four o'clock, and before five 7,000 shares, we are told, were taken up. It is also given out that Mr. G. P. Robinson, formerly of the Mercantile Bank, has telegraphed his willingness to take the management of the bank. We are sorry to explode this affair; but our duty is plain. It seems that Mr. Cawasjee Nanabhooy, a gentleman who possesses a famous reputation for joint-stockeries in Bombay, thought he saw the way pretty clearly to make a lakh of rupees out of a prospectus. So, without a single name of respectability to the scheme, after three or four hours' incubation, the prospectus was out, and men invited to subscribe to the share-list, the privilege of registry upon which was charged for at the very moderate sum of five rupees per share. Are the natives of Bombay mad, that they play into the hands of jobbery so impudent and undisguised? We warn the public against the bubble, as it is our duty to do, and if they choose to make Mr. Cawasjee Nanabhooy a present of a lakh of rupees after that—why let them. The name of Mr. G. P. Robinson is manifestly made use of as a mere draw. We shall be happy to register shares for as good a bank at one rupee a share, and think ourselves well paid for "the job."—Bombay Times.

A TRAGEDY IN TWO ACTS.—At the latter end of last week a horseman of the Hyderabad (in Scinde) police was sent to inquire into some cases of cattle stealing. He was accompanied by an informer, and the owner of some animal or animals. Some of the cattle having been recognised the possessors were called upon to state how they got them. Two men came forward and stated they had purchased them, and if the sowar would go with them they would point out the thieves. The sowar consented, and the five men set out, and arrived late in the day at a small village, where they put up for the night, intending to pursue their route in the morning. A syud of the village supplied them with water, mats, &c., and gave them a place to sleep in near his house. In the dead of night the two "merchants," as they had styled themselves, but who were the thieves, rose, and having quietly possessed themselves of the sowar's sword, murdered him and his two companions, without creating the least alarm. They then mounted the sowar's horse and set off, but not before the dogs of the village had roused the syud and others from sleep, who, calling to the horsemen and receiving no reply went to the spot, and found the three dead bodies. Without loss of time information was sent to the nearest tan-nah, and before daylight a police jemadar with some horsemen and puggies arrived, who, when it was light proceeded to track the murderers. ACT II. The tracks were plain, and followed with ease for twelve coss, when the jemadar arrived at a village which was in fact that of the murderers. They had given out on the road that they would not be taken alive, or give up their arms. On the jemadar's approach they came out of the village, and sat down with their guns ready. In vain did the jemadar, the syuds of the village, and the head men of their tribe call on them to submit, and the jemadar seeing further parley useless, called on the villagers to witness what he had done to induce them to give up their arms. He then drew his sword and advanced with some of his party, when the miscreants fired; the shots fortunately did not take effect. They in turn drew their swords, and a fight took place; the jemadar lost the fore finger of his right hand, and received another wound, but he killed his man—the other was disposed of by the policemen. We understand that though the police had firearms they did not use them, being anxious to capture the murderers. No doubt the jemadar's conduct will be duly appreciated and rewarded. It was the intention of the murderers to have killed their wives and children before attacking the police, but the latter came up too soon to allow them the opportunity.—Sindian.

MISSIONARY MOVEMENTS.—We (Bombay Guardian) believe there is a very good prospect of the return to Western India during the coming cold season of the following missionaries, now at home:—The Rev. Mr. Sherriff, of the Established Church of Scotland; Rev. Messrs. McKee and Wallace, of the Irish Guzerat Mission; Rev. Mr. Hislop, of the Free Church Mission. Two if not three missionaries are expected here, on their way to Rajpootana Mission of the U. P. Church. The Rev. Mr. Weatherhead is expected shortly to labour in connection with the Church Missionary Society's Mission in Western India. The Rev. Mr. Green is on his way round the Cape; he is to be Mr. Cousen's successor in the pastorate of Trinity Chapel.

THE BOMBAY MORTUARY RETURN for 1859-60 shows a total number of 14,209 deaths, being below the ten years' average, which is 14,730. In every 100 there died 65 Hindoos, 22 Mohammedans, 5 Parsees, 2 Europeans, and 3 native Christians. The deaths from small-pox and cholera for two years were as follows:—

		1859-60.		1858-59.
Cholera	...	1,955	...	115
Small-pox	...	378	...	1,712
		2,333		1,827

A DELUGE WANTED.—The sum of Rs. 703 was paid as rewards for the destruction of 1,212 jackals, 9 hyenas, 61 wolves and 909 snakes in the Kurrachee collectorate in the one month of July last.

TAX ON OPIUM.—David Sassoon, the rich Jew merchant, and other opium firms of Bombay, have petitioned Sir George Clerk against the recent increase of Excise duty on Malwa opium. Originally Rs. 400 a chest, it was raised to Rs. 500 in March, 1859, and to-day the duty will be Rs. 600. They fear that it will be further raised to Rs. 700, if not higher. They state that the price of the Indian drug in the China market is now, accordingly, much higher than that of any other description, whether Turkish or home-grown. They fear the price has exceeded the point which will stimulate the Chinese to the cultivation of the poppy for themselves. The native states in which the drug is produced are raising the assessment on the poppy fields simultaneously with the increase of duty. The growth is accordingly declining, although there has been a falling off also in Bengal. The petitioners complain of very serious losses, owing to the frequent charge of Excise rates, and the uncertainty as to what they will ultimately be. The complaint is no doubt over-stated, but the fact as to Bengal is certain that, in 1855, there were brought to sale 53,003 chests, and in 1859-60 only 91,361. In that same period the area of cultivation was reduced from 6,16,251 to 4,67,641 beegahs. Mr. Wilson's anticipations are thus realised, and the necessity for a sound and permanent system of taxation is more evident than ever. Yet it was of the opium revenue that Sir Charles Trevelyan said there was no need for apprehending a failure, the remark as to its precariousness having been reiterated ever since he entered public life.

THE GUJERAT TRACT AND BOOK SOCIETY printed during 1859, 854,800 pages, and issued from the depository to the various stations 17,851 books and tracts. The Society publishes the "Gnyandipak," or lamp of knowledge, a monthly periodical, which has been found successful.

COMMERCIAL.

Bombay, Sept. 11, 1860.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.

4 per cent. Transfer Loan	Rs. 83½	100	Sa
4 " Loan	1832-33	Rs. 83½	100
4 " "	1835-36	Rs. 83½	100
4 " "	1842-43	Rs. 83½	100
4 per cent. Co.'s Rs. Loan	1854 55	Rs. 84	100
5 per cent. Loan (New)	Rs. 97½	100	do.
5 per cent. Co.'s Rs. Loan	Rs. 3 per cent. prem.

BANK AND OTHER SHARES.

Bombay Bank (Rs. 1,000)	39½
Oriental Bank (Rs. 250) 250 paid up.....	83	per cent. ex d.
Commercial Bank (Rs. 1,000) 500 do.	15½	per cent. pm.
Mercantile Bank (Rs. 1,000) 250 do.	35	prem.
N.W. Bank of India (Rs. 400)
Agra Bank (Rs. 500)	58, 60	per ct. pm.
Madras Bank (Rs. 1,000)	13½	per ct. pm.x d.
Apollo Press Com. (Rs. 12,500) 20,000 p. up	Rs. 22,000	dis.
Columbia Press Com. (Rs. 7,000) 7,600 do.	"	6,000
Hydraulic P. Com.	4,600	" 5,400
Cotton Spinning Com.	4,600	do.
Oriental Weaving and Spinning Com.	2,500	do. " 1,325
Colaba L. Com.	10,000	do. " 11,000
Bombay S. N. Com.	500	do. " 335 with div.
Bombay Spinning and Weaving Co.	5,000	1,000 per sh. Rs. 2,200
East India Spinning & Weaving Co. (Limited)	150 Nominal.
Great Eastern Spinning and Weaving Co.	100 Rs. 30 pm.
Manockjee Pitty's Spinning and Weaving Co.	125 Rs. 23 pm.
Oriental Weaving and Spinning Co. (New Shares).....	100 Rs. 200 pm.
Royal Spinning & Weav. Co.	100 Rs. 35 pm.
Throstle Mill Co.	2,000 Rs. 500 pm.
Great Ind. P. R. Com. (Rs. 418-3) paid in Bombay, or £2½ prem. in England—Rs. 14 per share discount.
Dq. New Shares, Rs. 21-13 1 at £2 per share—Rs. 5 do.

EXCHANGES.

On London—at
6 months' sight,	per rupee.	2s. 0 15-16d. for Doc. Bills.
" "	" " "	2s. 0 ¼d. for Cred. Bills.
On Calcutta, at 60 days' sight,	per 100	99½
" "	" 30	100½
" "	" at sight	101
On Madras, at 30 days'		99 pm.
" "	" at sight	99½
On China, at 60 days' sight.....	Rs. 230 per 100 doles

PRICES OF BULLION, &c.

Sovereigns.....	each, Rs. 6-6
Bank of England Notes.....	nom.
Spanish Dollars	per 100, Rs. 230
Republic Dollars.....	" 213
German Crowns	213½
Sycee Silver	per 100 tola, Rs. 106 4
Gold Leaf	per tola, Rs. 17-14

FREIGHTS.

To London, £2. 7s. 6d. to £2. 10s. per ton.
To Liverpool, £2. 5s. to £2. 10s. per ton.

CHINA.

HONG KONG, August 25.—The English mail of July 26th arrived here on the 17th, and that of the 10th July unexpectedly on the 19th instant. Last mail we advised our readers of the departure of the Allied forces from their respective rendezvous; and by this opportunity we have to announce their arrival off the Peiho. The British and French forces arrived simultaneously on the evening of the 27th July, and during the 28th. On the 30th, a general order was issued concerning the debarkation of the troops, which was to have taken place on the 31st. Owing to the state of the weather, however, the forces did not land until the 1st August. The 2nd brigade of the 1st division, together with a portion of the French, were the 1st to land, the latter—the tide ebbing—springing out of their boats into the water, and wading through the mud to the shore. Our men were kept back half an hour longer, until the tide receded a little more, when the 2nd Queen's got out of their boats and formed in the water, and reached the dry mud at the same time as the French. The place chosen for debarkation was within range of the Peitang Southern fort, and the place they picked out for bivouacing on formed the road between Peitang and the Peiho. It was intended that the gunboats should shell the forts at daylight, but a Chinaman informed one of the interpreters, Mr. Gibson, that the forts were empty. Mr. Parkes, Mr. Gibson, Captain Williams, of the Royals, and three men proceeded at once, with the Chinaman as their guide, to the fort, and found only three men inside. They had previously found out from their guide that there were mines in several places. The Northern fort was also found to be abandoned, with only a few wooden guns. Our troops were shortly afterwards safely quartered in Peitang, which is said to be a very filthy city, with a population of 20,000 inhabitants.

As yet no hostilities have taken place. On the morning of the 3rd a reconnaissance took place, when a body of Tartar cavalry were met with, and a slight skirmish took place. Sir Hope Grant then ordered the force to fall back, in hopes of inducing the enemy to follow up their apparent victory, but they preferred to scamper off when they saw our troops retreating. About fourteen men were wounded, one of whom, a Frenchman, has since died. Another reconnoitring party, composed of cavalry, went out on the morning of the 9th, and proceeded as far as the Tartar picket, which retired. A general order had been issued for the advance of the force on the 10th, but it was postponed. An advance, however, took place on the 12th, when the Tartar camp was attacked and broken up. Our troops then proceeded on through some villages to the Taku forts, which were well defended. The assault was expected to come off on the 15th. We are happy to add that the troops were quite healthy and in high spirits when the news left.

From Shanghai our intelligence is of a most disastrous nature. Owing to the proceedings of the rebels trade was quite stopped. During the night of the 13th inst, the rebels had managed to post up proclamations in the foreign settlement. The fact of rebel proclamations having been posted in the settlement caused great excitement and alarm. The foreign residents had previously formed themselves into a Volunteer corps.

It is but justice to the rebels to state, that hitherto they have shown every inclination to be on friendly terms with foreigners, and when the latter paid visits to them at Soochow, they were treated with every courtesy, and the rebels expressed themselves anxious to encourage trade. This was no mere profession, as foreigners had gone on several occasions inland to purchase silk, when the rebels might have prevented it.

Although it was not strange for the rebels to threaten to attack the native city of Shanghai (which is protected by foreign troops), people were not prepared to believe they would actually attempt it. However, on the evening of the day the mail steamer left (18th), they tried to carry their threat into execution. They first attacked the South Gate, but were repulsed by artillery, and they afterwards tried it from another point, where they were also repulsed by the French. The suburbs were then set fire to, to drive the rebels out, we believe, as it was supposed they were harbouring there. It is difficult to say whether the rebels could have committed greater devastation had they taken the place; and it is also difficult to say how far Messrs. Bruce and Bourbonlon are to blame for placing foreign troops to protect the native city, and thereby bring us into collision with the rebels.

We regret to say that affairs at Chusan are not satisfactory. It is said that the conduct of the French there is very overbearing, and very unpopular. The gunboat Kestrel lately made a cruise with some French and English troops on board after pirates. They saw some junks which they were told were pirates, when they attacked and destroyed them. Several of the men on board the Kestrel, including the commander, were severely wounded, and the chief engineer was mortally wounded by the blowing up of one of the junks which had been boarded. He died soon afterwards at Ningpo. It was afterwards found out that these junks were trading vessels, and had been merely attacked on the statement of one man, without any regard to the truth of the statement.

From the coast ports we have nothing of importance to chronicle. At Fuhchan the authorities had resolved to build the Model Tower, which had been burnt. At Amoy there was nothing stirring. At Swatow the excitement against foreigners had subsided, but it was thought only to break out again when Mr. Cain, H. B. M.'s Consul, paid his promised visit to the Taoutai.

From Canton we have no intelligence of importance. The Lok cheong pass still remains in the hands of rebels, which prevents produce coming on, and consequently feters trade very much.

In the colony we have not much to notice. The governor in executive council has been sitting for some days, to inquire into the alleged civil service abuses, in accordance with instructions from the Duke of Newcastle. A severe thunderstorm visited the colony on the morning of the 18th, accompanied with a heavy fall of rain, which tore up the roads dreadfully. A Chinese house fell in, killing five individuals.—Overland China Mail.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE ALLIED FORCES.

PEHTANG, August 7.—The British fleet of transports and men-of-war left Tah-lien Bay on the morning of the 26th July, and most of the vessels arrived the next evening at the anchorage off the Peiho, about twenty miles from the land. The French fleet arrived at the same time, and it only remained for the gun-boats towing the provision junks to come up. These arrived a day later, and the fleet moved ten miles further in.

A general order was sent round the fleet on the 30th concerning the landing of the force, which was to commence on the 31st. It was, however, postponed, probably because of the rain which fell on that day, until the 1st, when the greater part of the 2nd Brigade of the 1st Division, namely, the 2nd Queen's, 60th Rifles and 15th Punjabs, and some artillery and Coolie corps, and about an equal number of French, disembarked on a spit of land below, but within range of, the Pehtang Southern fort. The troops, expecting every instant to be fired upon, waded through the mud in search of a suitable place to bivouac for the night. The only firm standing ground was discovered to be the road leading from Pehtang towards the Peiho, and this was chosen for the purpose. A small party of Tartar cavalry, on which the rifles fired, killing one horse, was seen hovering about the beach, but no opposition was offered to the landing.

It was arranged that the gun-boats should enter the river in the night and commence firing upon the forts at daylight, and that after the forts had been well peppered the troops should escale the southern one. But about nine o'clock of the evening of landing, Mr. Gibson, interpreter to the first division, while in search of water for the men, was informed by a Chinaman of the place that the forts were empty. In consequence of this information, which he reported to General Michell, Mr. Parkes, Capt. Williams, and a guard of three men, returned with him, and having found another Chinaman who made the same statement, they made him guide them up to the gate of the fort. They found the fort tenanted by three men, who after some parley opened the gate. The guide informed the party that mines had been dug, and they found that this was the case at each bastion. Those mines, which contained 13-inch shells in boxes covered with tin, were placed so that troops entering the gate on the west side of the forts, in ascending the bastions would have to pass over strings, the movement of which would, by means of a flint-lock, cause the shells to explode. The Northern fort was also found abandoned. Only two or three wooden guns were found in it.

On the morning of the 3rd a reconnoitring party of about 2,500 English and French had some skirmishing with a strong body of Tartar cavalry, about four miles from Pehtang, in the direction of the Taku forts. A reinforcement, consisting of some of the Royals and a few guns, was sent out about eight o'clock, but before they got up to the front, the Commander-in-chief came up, and ordered the whole party to return. About fourteen men, English and French, were wounded, of whom one or two of the French have died since. It is said that the general withdrew the force in order to embolden the Tartars, and draw them into a decisive battle.

Pehtang is a town of about 20,000 inhabitants. The larger part of it is on the south side of the river, which is protected by two forts, one on the north side consisting of one bastion, and one on the south side of two bastions, constructed entirely of mud, on a framework of wood. The whole country, so far as the eye can see, is a vast mud plain, covered with hillocks about fifteen feet high, some of which are graves and some salt-hills. There is not a drop of fresh water excepting that stored in the houses within at least ten miles. Pehtang appears to have been a well-to-do place, and contains some good houses; but, with the exception of a few of these, which are of brick, nothing else but mud meets the eye—mud houses, mud streets, mud forts, mud everywhere.

The French have made no effort to prevent looting, and had the place offered a desperate resistance the plunder and destruction of the property of the unfortunate inhabitants would not have been greater than they have been. There is not a house in the place which has not been rifled, and according to the statement of the natives women have been violated. We know for certain that six dead bodies of females have been found. The English troops have been kept down by the Provost-Marshal, and they have not looted a tenth part as much as the French, who, after finishing their own part of the town, were not prevented from plundering ours. The town has been completely deserted by the inhabitants, excepting the few who come and go with the little property they can save.

The first division will move upon the Taku forts doubtless before the end of the week. A great deal depends upon the weather, as the few showers we had two days ago rendered the roads almost impassable. The weather is again bright and hot, and the stench from the damp straw, which we laid down on the streets thinking to improve them, and from dead carcasses, is frightful beyond description; but the mud roads are hardening.

P.S.—August 9th.—A reconnoitring party of cavalry went out this morning as far as the Tartar picket, which retired. A general memorial issued yesterday ordered the advance of the troops on the morning of the 10th, but the day has been postponed, because (some say) the French are not ready.

The French war-steamer Weser has arrived since the receipt of the above, and brings four days' (to the 13th) later news. The troops had advanced and captured a Chinese camp, and proceeded on through some villages till they reached the Taku forts. The forts were well fortified, and the attack was to take place on the 15th.—Overland China Mail.

CEYLON.

COLOMBO, Sept. 15.—During the past fortnight, wet and sunny days have alternated, and, on the whole, a good deal of rain has fallen at Colombo. Over some portions of the interior too, there have been showers, but not enough, we fear, to affect the coffee crop favourably to any great extent. Only one vessel, the Talavera, for London, has sailed during the fortnight. The addition thus made to our exports of coffee, is 3,929 cwt., in the proportion of 2,525 plantation, and 1,204 native.

The result of the past fortnight would seem to shew that our estimate of 637,000 cwt. is not likely to be realised. A very considerable number of vessels, however, are in such a state of readiness, that we are safe in predicting their departure before the close of the commercial year, on the 30th instant. Indeed, the Iona and the Queen of Freedom are on the point of sailing.

The Avon, which will sail early in October, is likely to take a considerable number of passengers, including Mr. Johnston, of the Ordnance Department, and his family; Mr. P. Adams and his family; the Rev. J. Rippon, Wesleyan Missionary, Galle, and his family.

We have no better news to give of native coffee, or the produce of low-lying plantations, but most accounts agree that this will be a lucky season for the very elevated plantations. An estate in the fine district of Maturatta has been sold at a high figure.

The railway question has continued to engage attention during the fortnight, Mr. Waller, backed by the Times and Examiner, persisting in the assurance that we can have a railway for the council limit of one and a-half million.

We remain of the same opinion still, that the wise course for the Colony is to hold its hand for the present—to be "off with the old love" (the love of a Company) "before we are on with the new;" and we are very much mistaken if such be not the opinion at which the Planters' Association will arrive when they meet three days hence, to consider this question and the Immigration Scheme, and to elect a Member of Council. Unless, indeed the decision arrived at be to defer the whole of the questions at issue until Sir Charles MacCarthy has assumed the government and announced his policy. His Excellency is expected in the Island by the steamer which brings the mail of 18th September, and which will be due at Galle about 3rd October.

Mr. Molesworth, the acting agent of the railway company, has quietly rebuked the sanguine outpourings of Mr. Waller; but the latter is evidently one of those who believe that they are the men, and that wisdom will die with them. Time will show. We have no hesitation in committing our own reputation to the assertion that a good and a safe railway, connecting Colombo with Kandy, cannot be formed for a sum much under two millions sterling. When we can afford that, let us "go-ahead."

The health of the country is, on the whole, good; although we hear that fever and bowel complaints are prevalent at Kandy.—Ceylon Overland Observer.

THE STRAITS.

THE MANGOSTINE.—The mangostine rind (we understand from a Straits contemporary), and the husk of the Durian fruit, are being collected by the merchants of the place. The locality abounds with both. The articles are found to be useful.

The mangostine rind is a powerful astringent, and found to be an effective cure for diarrhoea and dysentery. It is particularly used by the natives. When required for medical purposes the rind must be dried and pulverised, no part of its quality being lost by the process. Otherwise, it has been used for dying and tanning, and from its cheapness and highly astringent qualities is extensively employed. The husk of the Durian fruit is converted into a kind of potash. The Chinese use it as a head wash. The article is used in several other little processes in the Chinese kitchen. The merchants in Singapore are going to try their hand at these two articles. A local contemporary of that place suggests that the husk of the nutmeg, which is plentiful in that quarter, be used to some purpose. The rind of the mangostine, we understand, already commands a ready sale in China and Western India. They are plentiful in Singapore, and the only labour is in collecting the rinds and drying them before they can be considered saleable. It is expected that these two will soon become staple articles of export.—Calcutta Phoenix.

NETHERLANDS INDIA.—The Java Bode, of September 11, gives some particulars of occurrences alleged to have recently taken place in the residency of Cheribon, which seem to resemble, on a small scale, those which gave rise to the Bengal indigo disturbances. Both appear to have been prompted by the rash advice of a hot-headed civil servant of Government to an ignorant and discontented peasantry. According to the Bode, 100 bouns of land, planted with sugar cane have been destroyed by men and buffaloes. It is said that the former resident of Cheribon, by virtue of authority from Government, hired extensive tracts of waste land to private persons, who cultivated them by free labour. These manufacturers, to the number of six in all, made contracts with the population for the planting of sugar cane, but forgot or neglected to have the contracts registered, and the resident does not appear to have insisted on the observance of this formality. The registration is a mere formality, having this effect only, that when the population refuse to perform their part of the contract, the manufacturer who has registered his can invoke the assistance of the Government, while the holder of an unregistered one remains without such help. The former resident was honourably removed from his post—for what cause is unknown—and it is said that now the population have been forbidden—1st, to plant any more sugar cane for private enterprises; 2nd, or to pay back the advances they have received, and 3rd, have been ordered to lay waste the fields already planted.—Singapore Free Press.

SHIPWRECKS.—The Dutch barque Juno, Captain Chevalier, from Japan, with a cargo of coals, camphor, and silk, and consigned to the agent of the Dutch Trading Society at Macassar, was wrecked on the 3rd August near that place. The Dutch schooner Adriana Jacoba, Captain Ditmars, was totally lost within about fifteen miles from Macassar. The crew were saved. This vessel was from Macassar, bound to China.

JAVA.—The most important item of news from Java by this mail is the mutiny of the Swiss troops at Samarang, and the discovery that a similar spirit of revolt existed amongst the European soldiers in other parts of Java. As far as had been ascertained, the disaffection is confined to the Swiss soldiers, who have been sent out to Java in large numbers for some time past. These consist for the most part of men who were formerly in the Neapolitan service, and their chief ground of complaint is said to be the insufficiency and badness of the rations supplied to them. On the night of the 17th of August the inhabitants of Samarang were thrown into a state of great alarm by the intelligence that the European troops stationed in the Wurtemberg barrack there had mutinied. From nine o'clock in the evening until three o'clock next morning the conspirators made constant attempts to break through the cordon which had been promptly formed round the barrack by the native troops and the militia (schutterij). Their efforts were, however, unsuccessful, and, after a sharp contest, they were overpowered, nine of their number being killed, fourteen wounded, and forty-two taken into custody. The intelligence was immediately communicated to Batavia by telegraph, and the council of Netherlands, India, without loss of time, passed an ordinance, authorising, in the event of rioting or revolt in any garrison in places where courts-martial could be held, the instant holding of such, with power to carry their sentences at once into execution. This was promptly acted on at Samarang, and on the 20th thirty-five of the mutineers were sentenced to be hanged, but when the mail left Batavia it was still uncertain whether these men had been executed. It was found that at Sourabaya, Ambarrawa and Jooekarta, similar risings had been intended by the Swiss soldiers there.

At Sourabaya the signal for revolt was to have been the blowing up of the powder magazine. Desertions were taking place from the different garrisons. On the 7th fourteen men deserted from Sourabaya, three of whom were arrested in the assistant-residency of Mojokerto, on the 10th, while two others were killed by the natives who were trying to capture them. The news from Banjermassing was less favourable, the rebels had collected in great numbers near Amonthay, and had thrown up a large benting (fortification). A strong column under Major Koch had proceeded against them. Large reinforcements of European troops had sailed from Batavia for Banjermassing. The Governor general still continued his tour.—Singapore Free Press.

CENTRAL ASIA.

July 26.—Ameer Dost Mahomed Khan received a letter from his grandson (the son of Sirdar Sooltan Ahmed Jan) from Heerat, in which he informed the Ameer of his getting a letter from his father Sooltan Ahmed, containing the following news:—Sooltan Ahmed having been favoured with a furman (a royal mandate) by the King of Persia to the effect that his Majesty has been given to understand that the sons of Dost Mahomed are thinking of taking Maimana, which at one time belonged to Heerat, and has always been assisted by the Huzara and Char Eemagh people in time of need, and being asked by his Majesty whether he, Sooltan Ahmed, would side with his family or obey the King's order, he wrote an urzee and assured his Majesty that he is a faithful servant, he has nothing to do with the Dost, and that he will do as directed by the King. This urzee has pleased the King so much that his Majesty has been kind enough to send 2,000 golden bootkees (gold mohurs) and a grand khillut for his father, Sooltan Ahmed, and the command of the army now on the way to Heerat. The Ameer having perused this letter stated in the durbar that Sooltan Ahmed is a very cunning man, he knows well how to rise in the world.—July 27.—Sirdar Mohamed Ufzal Khan has sent nine valuable Toorkee horses and seven camels with his letter, as presents for the Ameer, and 2,000 Toorkee sheep to be sold on his own account. The Ameer went to the stable to see the horses and the camels, and having examined them well ordered the Meer Akhoor to take charge of them. The sheep were ordered to be made over to Mirza Ahd Khan, with instructions to sell them at a good price and remit the amount to the Sirdar. The Mirza sent the sheep to the fort of Ufzul Khan, to be fed there until they have become fat, and then to sell them in the bazar.—July 28.—Sirdar Mohamed Oosman Khan, and a few other Sirdars, have this day been desired by the Ameer to get ready and to accompany the troops to Toorkistan. Ubdool Ruzak Khan Moostofee was ordered to write letters to the Kohistanee Khans now at Koondez, to leave that place with their different troops for Toorkistan, and not to delay beyond the 22nd Mohurram (August 11). A number of the citizens waited this day on the Ameer, and being asked the reason, they said that the flour was now sold in the Mundee at a jaruk and two seers caboolee to the rupee, but as it is only sold to those who are rich and strong, the poor class people were starving. On this the Ameer directed Shere Allee Khan to send his sepoy to the Mundee, with the order that the flour is to be sold without any distinction, and that every man, rich or poor, is to have one rupee worth of flour at a time. Shere Allee Khan lost no time in placing his guard in the Mundee, and obeying the orders of the Ameer. Every one now can get the flour at a jaruk and two seers caboolee (13½ seers English weight) to the rupee without any trouble.—July 29.—This morning the Ameer, with his youngest children, went to Goolam Mahomed's garden, while Sirdar Shere Allee Khan, with Sirdars Mahomed Allee, Mahomed Ruffeek and other Khans went to the garden of Meer Syd Jan Merchant, who presented them with a good 'Mahmanee,' or feast. A sepoy of Shere Allee Khan's battalion went to a Hindoo goldsmith's shop, and asked him to give him his ring, which he had ordered him to make. The goldsmith demanded his wages; the sepoy first kicked him right and left, and then taking out his sword gave him a severe cut on his shoulder. The sepoy disappeared, and the goldsmith was carried to the Hurrum Sarai of the Ameer. As the Ameer was returning from the Aliabad garden he saw this wounded man lying at his door. After inquiring how and by whom this was done, the Ameer ordered Shere Allee Khan's battalion to be drawn out for his inspection. The sepoy was recognised, and ordered to be sent to jail.

July 30.—This day the Ameer being far from good health did not attend the durbar; all the Sirdars and the Khans on their making inquiries how the Ameer was doing, were told to go home as he could not see them. Mirza Ubdool Wasai Khan, the Hakeem, was sent for; and Ghoolam Mohamed Khan and Ubdool Wahab Khan having been consulted, the proper medicine was given to the Ameer. The Ameer remained in the Sheesha Khana till after twelve, and then went to his seraglio. It is ascertained that the Dost was suffering with a kind of pain in his stomach. After the Ameer had got a little better, Hakeem Ubdool Wasai Khan desired Ghoolam Mohamed Khan to beg of the Ameer to keep himself from too much eating, as his stomach being weak it would never agree with him.—July 31.—It was stated in the urzee of Sirdar Mahomed Ameen Khan, received this day by the Ameer from Kandahar, that Sirdars Meer Ufzul Khan, Ghoolam Mohamed-deen Khan, and Noor Mohamed Khan, son of Mohamed Suddeek Khan, the Kandaharee chiefs, who had been allowed by the Ameer to go home and see their families instead of coming to Kandahar, went direct to their forts via Bukwah desert. "They did not even remain long in the forts," added Mohamed Ameen, "as a man is just come in from that place, who says that the above named Sirdars, with about one hundred sowars, have taken their route to Persia via Kainaut, and have left their families at Kandahar." The Ameer was very glad to learn this news, and said that that was just the very thing he wanted, because if the Sirdars had gone to Kandahar, they would have surely committed some mischief which would have been the cause of quarrel between them and Mohamed Ameen.

August 1.—Sirdar Mohamed Ufzul Khan's letter reached the Ameer from Toorkistan, intimating to him that he had received intelligence from Bokhara to the effect that the King of Bokhara had made every preparation to take Kokan, and had issued orders to all the khans under him to march to Kokan on the Eed after their usual prayers, when that day he was suddenly taken ill with fever, which continued for some two or three days, and after that he got a pain in his ear, under which sickness he was still suffering. The king had consequently postponed his intentions, and told the khans to wait till further orders; on this the Ameer remarked that "God is the great protector of all his creatures, the King of Bokhara was going to put the Kokanees to the sword, when he is himself punished for his folly."—August 2.—Mirza Ahd Khan this day applied to the Ameer to make over to him the murderer of his brother-in-law, his sister's husband, who (a native of Kadrak Kohistan) had put his brother-in-law to death at Tashkurghan, and thence making his escape had come to Cabool, where he had been recognised and apprehended by the Ameer. The Ameer ordered the criminal to be made over to the Kotwal and Ahd Khan, with instructions to hang him the very same day. The Kotwal obeyed the order, but, as they put the rope round his neck, the rope broke and the prisoner fell down; another rope was brought, by which he was hung and left to swing. After a little while the corpse was taken down by his relations to be buried; when they took it to the mosque to read the prayers over it, they were frightened at seeing that the man was still living. They took him to Shah Tama's tomb, where they left him and went home. A sower of the Ameer's cavalry being there, and seeing all this, made haste and informed the Ameer, who ordered the prisoner to be hung again, and to be left there until he was dead. Many people begged of the Ameer to forgive him, but to no purpose. Sirdar Shere Allee Khan granted a grand khillut, value 8,000 rupees, with a fine horse and sword, &c., to Auleejah Shahmurd Khan, appointing him the ruler of Jellalabad, and conferring upon him the title of Auleejah.—August 3.—Ameer Dost Mohamed Khan being a little unwell, sent for Sirdar Shere Ali Khan, and desired him to pay three months' pay to the four hundred sepoy of Sirdar Mohamed Uslum Khan's battalion, and to the two hundred of that of Mohamed Hoosain Khan. Accordingly, Shere Ali Khan inspected the six hundred sepoy, and himself distributed the pay. When he had done so he advised Mohamed Uslum Khan to go and stop at Killa Kazee, as the Ameer was anxious to see him and some other Sirdars ready to march to Toorkistan.—August 4.—Ghoolam Mohamed Khan, Mookhtear, Ubdoolwahab Khan, and Taj Mohamed Khan Babooree, attended the durbar. Taj Mohamed Khan stated before the Ameer that it was about two years since his son was with Sirdar Ufzul Khan in Toorkistan, and as he was now unwell he would feel much obliged if the Ameer would grant him two months' leave to come to Cabool, that he might be able to show him to some hakeem here. On this the Ameer replied that he could not give him leave at this time when he was sending the others to Toorkistan. Besides this, if he complied with one request others would come upon him for the same, which was out of his power to grant. Ghoolam Mohamed and Ubdoolwahab Khan spoke for him, but in vain. Since Shere Allee's sepoy have been collecting provisions and having them sold in the Mundee, the flour has become a little cheaper, and is now sold a jaruk and half a seer to the rupee.—August 5.—A confidential person of the Kakree tribe, who had just arrived from Heerat, went to the Ameer to pay his respects, and on being asked about Sooltan Jan, stated that Sirdar Sooltan Jan had really been made a great man of by the King of Persia. He had got twenty-four thousand sowars and twenty-four guns under him, and had been ordered by the King to march on Afghanistan. He had not reached Heerat as yet, but was expected shortly. The rumours at Heerat were different; some said that Sirdar Sooltan Jan would march on Kandahar, while others said that he would first go to Maimana. The Ameer sent for Sirdar Shere Allee Khan and told him all about Sooltan Jan. "There is no doubt," said the Ameer, "that Sooltan Jan will threaten one of the two places; but as some of the ex-chiefs of Kandahar are with him, and others are already gone to join his camp, it is very likely that they will bring him to Kandahar. It is, therefore, advisable that the fort of Kandahar should be made defensible, and some more troops be pushed on as reinforcements." Furrak is also being strengthened.—August 6.—The Ameer held durbar as usual. Sirdar Shere Allee was ordered to inspect his battalion and to pay them their four months' pay. Accordingly, Shere Allee Khan paid his regiment and ordered them to Killa Kazee or Daipooree. It is not known yet whether the battalion is to go to Kandahar or Toorkistan. The Paishkhidmut of Shere Allee Khan said that the regiment was destined for Kandahar.—August 7.—This day the Ameer being a little unwell remained in the Hurrum Sarai. Sirdar Mohamed Koollee Khan, the son of Sirdar Rahimidil Khan, Kandharee, with three or four other Khans, went to pay his respects to the Ameer, and having been asked the reason of his coming there, begged of the Ameer to grant him a few months' leave to go to Kandahar. On this the Ameer turned towards Ghoolam Mohamed Khan Mookhtear, and said that he was very sorry to see Mohamed Koollee Khan always drunk; he had advised him several times to give up this habit, but without any use; he would see he would repent for it. Ghoolam Mohamed replied that if he would swear on his faith before the Ameer he might give up drinking. The Ameer told Mohamed Koollee Khan that if he would swear before him just now, to give up all these bad habits, and faithfully promise to be a good man for the future, he would increase his pay and give his daughter, the sister of Sirdar Uslum Khan, to him in marriage. Mohamed Koollee being thus coaxed, solemnly swore before the Ameer that from that day he would never drink any kind of liquor, &c. The Ameer was very much pleased by his so doing, conferred on him a valuable khillut, and promised to marry him to his daughter on his return from Kandahar. The Ameer was also pleased to give him an order for ten thousand rupees on Nazir Mohamed Naeem Khan of Kandahar, and to order him to go to Kandahar and bring his mother and other relations as soon as possible, as in the next cold weather he would have the marriage celebrated. In the evening Mohamed Koollee Khan having made the necessary arrangements left Cabool for Kandahar.—August 8.—Mohamed Shah Khan Ghilzaee (father-in-law of Sirdar Mohamed Shurreef Khan) having been taken ill, had come to Cabool to ask medical aid from the Hakeem at the place. Two days ago a Hindoo Fakcer went to Mohamed Shah and advised him to take his medicine, assuring him that he would see him cured in two days. He was nicely taken in, because no sooner had he taken the Fakcer's medicine than he began to feel worse. The Fakcer disappeared, and Mohamed Shah became so bad that all the Hakeems gave up hopes of his recovery. This morning he was taken from his daughter's house to Saokee, to his fort, where about twelve o'clock he breathed his last. The Ameer was looking at the horses in the stable when he heard this news. He said he was not at all sorry to hear of such a man's death, who was always committing mischief in the State. Had he lived two years more God knows what would have been the result. Ghoolam Mohamed said it was all right what the Ameer said, "really he was a bad man, it is well that we have got rid of him." The Ameer ordered the mother of Mohamed Shah to go to Saokee, and to perform the usual ceremonies.—August 9.—Since last night the Ameer has not been feeling well. This morning he was attacked by ague and fever, which continued till eight o'clock. When he was a little better, the Nazir of the late Mohamed Shah Khan came, and, having paid due respects, stated before the Ameer that Mohamed Shah when dying had requested him to ask the Ameer's permission to bury him near the tomb of Mahtur Alum, at Lughman. The Ameer ordered him to do as he had been told by Mohamed Shah; he had no objection to agree to it. The following rumour is prevalent at Cabool—that the people of Huzara, Char Emagh, Murdshajehan, Surrackshb, Toorkamund, and Tukkas, are said to have taken an oath to attack Surbool and Ukhcha, lately taken by Sirdar Mohamed Ufzul Khan. Troops have been ordered by Ufzul Khan to be assembled at Tukhta Bool, to give them battle firmly if they attempt to come forward. There is no doubt that the Ameer looks very pensive, and Sirdar Shere Allee is busy in paying the troops.—August 10.—Sirdar Shere Allee Khan sent for the son of Sirdar Mahomed Ameen Khan, late ruler of Kohistan, and desired him to go to Kandahar, to his father. Shere Allee Khan, accompanied by Ubdoolrazak Khan Moostafee, went to the Ameer, and proposed that if advisable he would send his son, Yaqoob Khan, and Mahomed Rafeeq Khan, to collect the revenue of Kohistan. The Ameer agreed to it, and said they were to be sent without any delay. When Rafeeq Khan heard of this he said he had no objection to accompany Yaqoob Khan as his Naib, but he knows very well that it is the Moostafee who has been playing all these tricks. Rafeeq Khan, without saying anything more on the subject, left for Kohistan.—August 11.—When Sirdar Ghoolam Heider Khan died, Shere Allee Khan was appointed in his place. Since that time he has been always discharging the Khans and other people who had been employed by the late Sirdar. Some have got their discharge on the plea that they were too old for the service, and others on the ground that they were unfit for the duty. Meer Ukkur Khan, brother of Shah Ghasee Khan Kool Khan, has been this day dismissed, and Attaoola Khan, elder brother of Shere Dil Khan, employed in his room. A grand killut was given to him, and eight khas burdens (the sceptre carriers), now under Bahadoor Khan, nephew of Nazir Naeem Khan, have been ordered to remain with Attaoola Khan. All the Ghilzaee people were so much displeased with Shere Allee for this deed of injustice that they brought it to the Ameer's notice. The Ameer said he had nothing to do with Cabool affairs. Shere Allee Khan is the proper person to be spoken to on the subject.—August 12.—Sirdar Shere Allee Khan and Ubdoolrazak Moostafee attended the durbar, and having paid their respects, stated, that since the time of the late Wuzer Mohamed Ukber Khan and Ghoolam Heider Khan, no account had been submitted by Surwar Khan, Loothane, who, it is said, is using the State treasure in his own private mercantile business, and requested the Ameer, if advisable, to permit them to take measures to settle the accounts with Surwar Khan. The Ameer told them to do what they like, but let it be done in such a manner that they may not be deceived. He advised them not to be very hasty. No sooner had Shere Allee Khan left the durbar than he ordered Surwar Khan to be sent for. On Surwar Khan's presenting himself, Shere Allee Khan desired him to make over the keys of the treasury to Sufdur Allee and told Ubdoolah Khan, son of the Moostafee, to go with Surwar Khan and count the twelve lacs of rupees which are now in the treasury. The money having been weighed and counted was made over to Sufdur Allee, and Surwar Khan was directed to give a proper account for the last twelve years. Sirdar Shere Allee is bent on seeing all the people of note who were kept by the late Ghoolam Heider, dismissed.—Delhi Gazette.

EXPORT OF BULLION.

Per str. Pera , Oct. 4, 1860.
	Gold.	Silver.
Madras	£3,067
Calcutta	—	£10,130
Singapore	—	5,000
Hong Kong	—	35,875
Shanghai	—	35,567
	£3,067	£56,562
Per str. Ellora , Oct. 11, 1860.
	Gold.	Silver.
Bombay	£6,000	£53,400

PASSAGE MONEY TO INDIA.—In consequence of the continued rise in the freight of coals and the cost of naval stores, the directors of the P. and O. Company have given public notice of their intention to recur to the rates of passage money which prevailed previous to January, 1857. The following rates will, therefore, be charged for all passages booked by the Company's steamers sailing on and after the 1st of January, 1861:—Southampton to Aden, £70; ditto to Bombay, £100; ditto to Ceylon, £100; ditto to Mauritius, £100; ditto to Reunion, £100; ditto to Madras, £105; ditto to Calcutta, £110; ditto to Penang, £110; ditto to Singapore, £115; ditto to Hong Kong, £130; ditto to Shanghai, £150. Exclusive of the charge for transit through Egypt, viz.:—£7 for each 1st class passenger, and £3. 10s. for each 2nd class passenger.

Official Gazette.

BENGAL.

BY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL.

Home Dept., Fort William, Aug. 31.—The Rev. W. B. Drawbridge, LL.B., app. an asst. chapl. on Bengal estab., reported his arr. on Aug. 25 per str. Malta.

Mr. Drawbridge's servs. are placed at the disp. of the foreign dept.

Mr. H. Vears to offic. temp. as postmaster of Bombay fr. June 11, the date on which he rec. ch. of the office fr. Mr. Muspratt.

Foreign Dept., Fort William, Aug. 31.—Asst. surg. A. M. Garden, att. to 2nd Punjab cav., to be super. of vaccination in the Simla hills.

Asst. surg. A. Kelsey, actg. residency surg., Baroda, is confirmed in that app. fr. July 25 last.

Maj. S. R. Tickell, dep. commr. rec. ch. of Amherst treasury on Aug. 3, from Mr. W. Twemlow, coll. of customs, Moulmein.

Lieut. G. A. Warner, offic. asst. commr., 3rd class, rec. ch. of Chindwarra treasury from Mr. J. H. Master, offic. dep. commr. of that district, Aug. 31.

Mr. P. A. Walker, extra asst. commr. in Oude, has 2 mos. priv. leave, in ext. of leave granted to him June 19 last.

Lieut. R. T. Snow ass. ch. of his appt. as offic. 2nd asst. to political agent at Rewah on Aug. 21.

The servs. of Lieut. E. Temple, adjt. of Bhopal levy, are placed at the disposal of milly. dept., from date on which he may be relieved from his present duties.

Financial Dept., Aug. 30.—Appointment:—Mr. J. Gibb to be sec. to the financial committee now entrusted with the preparation of the new scheme of budget estimates and new system of audit, &c.

Public Works Dept., Aug. 30.—Posting:—Capt. C. J. Mead, offic. as exec. eng. 2nd div. Grand Trunk Road, is posted permanently to that div.

Leave of abs.:—Leave for 4 mo. on m.c. is granted to Capt. J. H. Wright, exec. eng. 3rd cl., with effect fr. Aug. 1.

Aug. 31.—Appointments:—

Mr. W. R. Power is app. an exec. eng. 3rd cl., and posted to Bengal.

Mr. F. Klerian is app. a temp. sub eng. 1st cl., and posted to Bengal.

Capt. W. C. Grant, 2nd drag. gds., is appd. an offic. asst. eng. attached to garrison of Fort William.

Mr. E. W. Clementson is appd. a probationary asst. engr. in public works dept., and posted to Moulmein div.

Capt. H. Dixon, 22nd Madras N.I., 4th class exec. engr., Mahanuddy div. (now on leave), is removed from public works dept., and his servs. are repl. at disposal of Madras gov.

Mr. J. Kelly, C.E., special asst. engr., Barce Doob Canal, is appd. an exec. engr. of 4th class.

No. 889.—Mr. H. P. Kirke, whose appt. as cadet of inf. on this estab. was announced in G.G.O., No. 1,177, Aug. 19, 1859, is admitted to the serv. from May 31, and prom. to ens. from May 4, and will stand immediately below Ens. A. C. Toker, of list of cadets, No. 2 of 1860.

Foreign Dept., Aug. 31.—Lieut. C. James, 43rd Madras N.I., to do du. as a subaltern in Mayne's horse.

Asst. surg. E. Selons is app. to med. ch. of station of Pertabgurb.

The servs. of the Rev. G. D. Symonds, chaplain of Gondah, in Oude, are placed at disposal of govt. of Punjab and its dependencies.

Sept. 4.—Lieut. F. N. M. Maynard, asst. superint. Oude police, has leave for 2 mo.

Financial Dept., Aug. 31.—Mr. W. Balmain rec. ch. of the office of civ. aud., Madras, from Mr. W. J. Raynor, Aug. 14.

Public Works Dept., Sept. 1.—The servs. of Lieut. F. Robertson, Madras engrs., probat. asst. engr., who was posted to N.W.P., in notification No. 145 of July 12, are placed temp. at disp. of Govt. of Bengal for employ. under the orders of the garrison engr. of Fort William, on special duty, with effect fr. Aug. 27.

Sept. 3.—The division of the Agra and Bombay Road, under ch. of Mr. G. N. Dodd, exec. engr. of 3rd class, is att. to 1st circle of the public works dept. of N.W.P.

Sept. 4.—Lieut. W. B. Holmes, engrs., probat. asst. engr., Hazara div., is app. an asst. engr., 2nd class, with effect fr. June 24.

No. 891.—In continuation of G.G.O. No. 802, July 31, the following further portion of the order issued by the commr. of the prov. to the Nagpore irreg. force is conf.

Dated Jan. 24.—No. 4.—Directing Lieut. Plowden to delay his dept. for Raepore till march of 1st inf., under orders for that station.

On Lieut. Pereira's assg. the com. of the last regt., in pursuance of force order No. 1, of 9th inst., Lieut. Plowden will join that regt., and offic. as adjt. dur. its march.

On arr. of the corps at its destination Lieut. Plowden will join the 3rd regt., and relieve Lieut. Manning, whose resig. of the actg. adjtoy. of that corps is, from that date, accepted.

No. 894.—The following prom. is made:—

12th N.I.—Lieut. J. C. McNeill, to be capt., from 31st Aug., v. Capt. H. C. L. Ryves, dec.

No. 895.—The undermt. officer is perm. to proc. to Eur. on leave, m.c.:—

Capt. E. Close, 32nd N.I., for 18 mo., under new regs.

BY THE LIEUT. GOVERNOR.

Appointments.—Aug. 28.—Mr. F. Jones to be asst. to superint. of survey, 3rd or Eastern div., and to exercise full powers of a collector, in dists. of Dacca, Bulloah, Sylhet, Tipperah, Furreedpore, Backergunge, Mymensing, Bogra, Pubna, Rungpore, and Rajshaye.

This cancels the appointment of Mr. T. F. W. Smith, of 11th inst.

Leave of absence.—Aug. 30.—Rev. J. C. Herdman, sen. minister St. Andrew's Church, 3 mos. priv. leave.

NEW SUB-DIVISION.

Aug. 28.—The Lieut. gov. has been pleased to sanction the formation of a sub-div. in district of Moorshedabad, to be called the sub-division of city, and composed of the following Thannahs, with its head quarters for the present at Loll Bagh, viz.:—

Ranessur and Assampoor, on the right or west bank of the Bhagirattee.

Manoolabazar, Mohimapore and Shibnuggur, on the left or east bank.

And those portions of Thannahs.

Soojagunge and Janmohumdpoore, on the left or east bank which lie respectively north of the Kattengunga Jheel, and north of the Dowlatabazar road from its junction with the City road to the crossing at Balaeghat.

Aug. 30.—Rev. C. H. Hosselmeyer to be a marriage registrar in Durrung.

Aug. 31.—Mr. J. Cockburn, dep. mag., attached to the dacoity comr.'s office at Moorshedabad, is vested with full powers of a mag. in districts of Rajshalye, Nuddea, Burdwan, and Maldah.

Sept. 1.—Mr. W. S. Seaton-Karr to offi. as sec. to govt. of Bengal.

Mr. E. B. Baker to be an assessor under act XXXII. of 1860 in Howrah.

Mr. G. B. Hampton to be coll. for the town of Calcutta and suburbs, including Howrah.

Leave of absence:—Mr. J. E. Howell, dep. mag. and dep. coll. of Nuddea, for 10 days.

Mr. R. Smart, asst. rev. surveyor, 4th or western div., for 1 mo.

Mr. S. C. Hampton, dep. mag. and dep. coll. of Hazareebaugh, for 1 mo.

Aug. 31.—Mr. T. Tweedie, dep. mag. and dep. coll. of Gurbettah, for 1 mo.

Sept. 1.—Mr. G. F. Cockburn, commr. of Cuttack, for 15 mo., on m.c., under new rules.

Sept. 3.—Mr. Special asst. engr. W. Barnfather, attached to the Ganges and Darjeeling road, for 2 mo., comg. from July 2, on which date he availed himself of the same, with the per. of the superint. engr., accorded in anticipation of the approval of govt.

Public Works Railway Dept., Fort William, Sept. 3.

—Capt. F. S. Stanton, dep. consulting engr. in the railway dept., has leave for 20 days, with effect from the date he may avail himself of it.

BY THE LIEUT. GOVERNOR, N.W.P.

Judicial Dept., Camp Nymee Tal, Aug. 6.—No. 2,058a.—During abs. of Mr. Court, Mr. W. Johnston, joint mag. and dep. coll., will offic. as mag. and coll. of Allahabad.

Aug. 7.—No. 2,068a.—Lieut. G. L. K. Hewett, late 41st N.I., is app. to be an asst. commissnr. in the Jubbulpore division.

No. 2,073a.—Mr. C. G. Sperling, asst. in Rohilcund div., is transf. to Agra div.

No. 2,078a.—Mr. A. P. Howell, asst. in Meerut div., is rem. to Agra div.

Aug. 8.—No. 2,191a.—Mr. Crossthwaite, asst. to mag. and coll. of Banda, is vested with full powers of a joint mag. and dep. coll., with effect from 14th ultimo.

Aug. 11.—No. 2,122a.—Mr. C. W. Carpenter, asst. to mag. of Futtehpore, is vested with full powers of a joint mag. and dep. coll., with effect fr. 14th ult.

Mily. Dept., Camp Nymee Tal, Aug. 20.—Mr. H. C. Leeson, uncov. adjt. of Mattra police batt., rem. from his appt.

Leave of absence:—

Mr. H. Gibson, adjt. of Baitool batt. of mily. police, from Oct. 1 to 31.

Lieut. E. R. H. Twyford, the commdt., will perform the duties of the adjt.'s office dur. abs. of Mr. Gibson. Lieut. L. K. Hewett, adjt. of Rohilcund div. of mily. police, is, at his own request, perm. to res. his appt.

BY THE LIEUT. GOVERNOR, PUNJAB.

Public Works Dept., Aug. 18.—No. 2,093.—Leave: Major J. T. N. O'Brien, exec. engr. of Sealkote div., has 1 mo. priv. leave from such date as he may avail himself of the same.

Gen. Dept., Aug. 13.—No. 2,119.—Transfers: Lieut. E. H. Paske, asst. commissnr., is transf. from Jullundur to Hoosharpore.

Aug. 16.—No. 2,115.—Capt. G. M. Battye, asst. commissnr., is transf. from Ferozepore to Loodiana.

Aug. 17.—No. 2,129.—Appointment:—The servs. of Asst. chapln. the Rev. J. Dawson, of the Church of Scotland, having been placed at disp. of Punjab govt., he is app. to Umballa.

BY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF.

Adj. Gen.'s Office, Simla, Aug. 15.—Asst. surg. J. Richardson, med. dept., passed presc. colloq. exam. on 31st ult.

Leave of absence:—

3rd Brig. H.A.—Brev. col. J. Brind, fr. Aug. 10 to Oct. 15, to hills north of Deyrah, m.c.

1st Eur. L.C.—Capt. M. Clarke, fr. Aug. 4 to Jan. 4, 1861, to Simla, m.c.

4th Eur. Inf.—Lieut. R. H. Dyas, fr. Aug. 8 to Dec. 31, to Nymee Tal, m.c.

Aug. 16.—Capt. J. Hamilton, vet. estab., is permitted to draw his pension in India.

Lieut. W. W. Clark, late 36th, and Lieut. F. H. Hood, late 30th N.I., having failed to qualify themselves in Hindoostanee, are removed from their act. apps. in 1st Gwalior inf., agreeably to G.O. June 2, 1859.

Appointments:—1st Gwalior Inf.—Capt. W. D. Hoste, late 55th N.I., to be 2nd in com.; Lieut. R. M. Sewell, late 71st N.I., to be adjt.

Leave of abs.:—4th Tr. 2nd Brig. H.A.—Lieut. H. Girardot, fr. Aug. 15 to Oct. 15, to Murree, m.c.

COMPENSATION TO MEDICAL OFFICERS.

Aug. 18.—Under the authority of Govt., the C. in C. is pleased to notify that officers of the medical service, whether of the British or Indian armies, are entitled to draw compensation for loss of baggage in the relative army rank assigned to them by the Royal warrants dated Oct. 1, 1858, and Jan. 13, 1860.

Appointment:—1st Irreg. Cav.—Ens. B. Gray, H.M.'s 97th regt., to do du.

Leave of abs.:—4th Co. 1st Ben. Art.—Lieut. J. A. O. Hampton, fr. Aug. 10 to Nov. 1, to hills north of Deyrah, m.c.

Aug. 20.—With reference to para. 2 of G.O. dated 9th inst., it is notified that the undermt. officers were declared by the Board of Examiners at Fort William, on the 30th ult., to have passed in Hindoostanee:—

Lieuts. G. N. Money and W. L. Noverre, 1st Eur. Bengal fus.

Ens. C. H. Garbett, gen. list.

Leave of absence.—1st Eur. L.C.—Lieut. col. A. W. C. Plowden, from Aug. 13 to Feb. 18, to Mussoorie, m.c., under old rules.

42nd N.I.—Lieut. E. F. Litchfield, from Aug. 2 to Aug. 30, to pres., prep. to Eur.

Aug. 23.—The undermt. officers have passed the prescribed colloq. exam. on the 15th inst.:—

Asst. surg. D. O'Brien, med. dept.

Lieut. W. L. Samuells, late 11th N.I.

Ens. A. C. Toker, gen. list.

Ens. H. P. Streetfield, gen. list, do. du. with 6th, is app. to do du. with 5th foot, and directed to jom.

Aug. 13.—The Allahabad brigade order dated 13th Jan. last, directing Capt. T. H. Wilson, 57th, and Lieut. W. S. A. Lockhart, 44th N.I., attached to H.M.'s 5th fus., to proc. to Banda, for court-martial duty, is, with the sanction of govt., confirmed.

The following orders are confirmed:—

Allahabad brigade order, dated 3rd ult., directing Surg. H. B. Hinton, 70th N.I., to afford med. aid to detach. of Cawnpore levy arrived from Cawnpore, in add. to his other duties.

By Capt. W. R. E. Alexander, comdg. Alexander's horse, dated 16th ult., re-app. Lieut. H. Chapman to do duty with the corps from 9th idem, and directing him to offic. as adj. from same date.

By the same Officer, dated 18th ult., making over com. of the regt. on his own departure, on m.c., to Lieut. H. M. Repton, and app. Lieut. H. Chapman to offic. as 2nd in com., in add. to his other duties.

Benares division order, dated 21st ult., app. Capt. E. K. O. Gilbert, major of brigade, to offic. as dep. judge adv. at a general court-martial to be assembled at Dinapore, the servs. of the judge adv. gen. of the div. being required to conduct other trials at Benares.

By Brigdr. M. Smith, comdg. in Fort William, dated 25th ult., directing the undermentioned young officers, on the general list, to do duty with the corps specified:—

Ensign L. F. Cottam, H.M.'s 23rd regt.

Capt. O. J. Travers, adj. of Lahore light horse.
Lieut. M. H. Heathcote, late 19th N.I.
Lieuts. P. H. M. Wynter, and C. R. Pennington
32nd N.I.

Lieut. R. J. Walker, late 61st N.I.
Ensign A. J. Wallace, 33rd N.I., passed the prescribed colloq. exam. on the 15th inst.
By Capt. R. J. F. Hickey, comdg. 17th irreg. cav., dated 22nd ult., app. Lieut. and Adj. W. G. Alexander to offic. as 2nd in com., in add. to his other duties, v. Lieut. B. C. Urquhart, rem.; as a tempy. arrangement.

By Brev. col. J. Macdonald, comdg. 73rd N.I., dated 26th ult., directing Capt. F. R. N. Fortescue to continue to discharge the duties of interp. and qmr. Jounpore station order, dated 31st ult., directing Asst. surg. J. Fawcus, 47th N.I., to assume med. chg. of civil station, in add. to his other duties, v. Asst. surg. C. T. Paske, transf.

Dated 5th idem.—Asst. Surg. G. W. Jameson, lately arrived from Europe, to do duty in presy. general hospital.

Sirhind division order, dated 30th ult., directing Asst. surg. R. Mantell, on being relieved from med. charge of Kelat-i-Ghilzie regt., to join and do duty with 3rd brig. H.A.

By Major C. J. Roberts, comdg. Roberts's horse, dated 22nd ult., assuming chg. of adj.'s office during abs. of Lieut. T. J. Watson.

Benares division order, dated 24th ult., directing Lieut. A. Coldney, late 50th N.I., to do general duty at Benares.

Rohilkund field force order, dated 27th ult., directing Lieut. H. Macdonald, late 19th N.I., to do general duty at Moradabad.

Presidency division order, dated 1st inst., directing the undermentioned officers to do duty with the recruit depot at Barrackpore:—

Brev. maj. F. G. Crossman, late 45th N.I.

Capt. H. T. Pollock, late 35th N.I.

Meerut division order, dated 8th inst., directing Capt. H. D. Maunsell, late 62nd N.I., to proc. in chg. of two companies of 13th Punjab inf. to Roorkee, no qualified officer with the regt. being available for the duty.

Oude division order, dated 1st inst., directing the following medical arrangements:—

Placing the servs. of Asst. surg. E. Selons, 9th Punjab inf., at disp. of Chief Commissur. in Oude, for civil med. chg. at Pertabgaurh.

Asst. surg. F. G. Constant, 4th Eur. inf., to proc. and take med. chg. of 9th Punjab inf., at Fyzabad.

By Capt. J. Nisbett, comdg. Meerut levy, dated 6th inst., app. Lieut. and Acting Adj. E. S. Fox to offic. as 2nd in com., in add. to his other duties, from 1st idem.

Morar station order, dated 12th inst., directing Asst. surg. P. M. Crossie, 1st Gwalior inf., to assume med. chg. of 2nd comp. 5th batt. art.

Leave of absence:—

4th Comp. 1st Batt. Artillery.—Lieut. J. A. O. Hampton, from Aug. 10 to Nov. 1, to Hills north of Deyrah, on m.c.

Presidency division order, dated 6th inst., directing Lieut. col. W. P. Robbins, late 15th N.I., returned from special duty in Australia, to do general duty at Barrackpore.

Aug. 24.—Col. J. A. Barstow, 58th N.I., is perm. to reside in, and draw his pay and allowances from, the Rawul Pindee circle.

Lieut. G. S. Hills, late 38th N.I., doing duty with H.M.'s 19th foot, is app. to do duty with 20th Punjab inf., and directed to join.

Aug. 24.—The following officers were declared by the board of examiners at Fort William, on the 9th inst., to have passed in Hindoostanee:—

Capt. O. J. Travers, H.M.'s 70th foot, adjt. of Lahore lt. horse.

Lieut. M. H. Heathcote, late 29th N.I.

Lieut. C. R. Pennington, 32nd N.I.

Lieut. B. J. Walker, late 61st N.I.

QUEEN'S TROOPS.

Adj. gen.'s Office, H.M.'s British Forces, Hd. Qrs., Calcutta, Aug. 15.—Capt. C. H. Malan, 75th foot, is placed at disp. of Brigdr. Smith, for duty with invalids to England.

Dr. A. Anderson, dep. inspector gen. H.M.'s hospitals, will take chg. of the inspector gen.'s office dur. abs. of Dr. Linton.

The following orders are confirmed:

By the Officer comdg. 71st foot:

Dated Aug. 1.—App. Lieut. Lewis to act as qmr. fr. 16th July.

Dated July 26.—App. Brev. maj. Macpherson, 82nd foot, comdg. 1st Gwalior inf., to act as interp. to his corps, there being no qualified officer with the regt.

Leave of absence:

6th Drag. Gds.—Col. H. R. Jones, in ext., fr. Oct. 13 to April 13, 1861, to remain in England.

20th Foot (1st batt.)—Capt. F. L. Edridge, to England, under new rules, for 18 mo., from date of departure from his regt.

71st Foot.—Lieut. S. Boulnois, to Nynce Tal, from Aug. 4 to Dec. 31, m.c.

Aug. 13.—The retirement from the service, by the sale of his commission, of Ensign C. H. Marchant, 82nd foot, is accepted, subject to approval by her Majesty.

The 1st para of G.O., Aug. 4, app. Ensign D. B. H. Johnstone to be lieut., by purch., v. Campbell, who ret., will be suspended pending the result of a Court of Inquiry.

Orders confirmed:

By Lieut. gen. Sir W. R. Mansfield:
Permitting Surg. Jones, who has lately been app. to 77th foot, to retain med. chg. of 64th regt.

By the Officer comdg. 37th foot:

Dated March 31.—App. Ensign Reilly to act as qmr. to the corps.

By the Officer comdg. 93rd foot:

Dated July 6.—App. Lieut. E. C. Haynes to act as instructor of musketry, dur. abs. of Lieut. Tabiteau, with effect fr. June 20.

Leaves of absence:

27th Foot.—Lieut. G. S. White, offic. dep. asst. qmr. gen. at Allahabad, to England, for 18 mo., from date of dep. from that station, under new rules.

51st Foot.—Col. A. C. Errington, in ext., fr. Sept. 1 to Sept. 30, to remain at Simla.

73rd Foot.—Lieut. W. H. S. Pigott, to Neilgherries, for 3 mo., from date of quitting his regt.

Aug. 4.—The C. in C. in India is pleased to make the following promotion, until H.M.'s pleasure shall be known:—

92nd Foot.—Ens. D. B. H. Johnstone, to be lieut., by purch., v. Campbell, who retires.

Under instructions from Horse Gds.—Capt. W. Squier, 91st foot, will proceed to England to assume com. of depot companies of his regt., reporting himself on arrival to the adjt. gen. horse gds.

Official notification has been received that the undermentioned officer has been posted as follows:—

20th Foot.—Lieut. Gibbs to 1st batt.

The Gen. C. in C. has been pleased to approve of the app. of Lieut. Carlisle to act as instructor of musketry to 75th foot during abs. of Lieut. Cornwall on m.c.

In G.O. No. 3, dated Jan. 8, 1859, para. 5, it should have been stated, sanctioning his exchange into 75th foot, instead of the 1st batt. 7th foot.

Orders confirmed:—

By Lieut. gen. Sir W. R. Mansfield:—
Granting leave to Ens. J. L. Watt, 56th foot, to England, under new rules, m.c.

By Lieut. gen. Sir P. Grant:—

Making the following appointments on the personal staff of the hon. the Gov. of Madras:—

Brev. maj. D. W. Tupper, H.M.'s 50th regt., to be mil. sec.

Capt. C. C. FitzRoy, H.M.'s 68th regt., and Capt. R. C. Glover, H.M.'s 43rd regt., to be A.-de-C.

By the brig. gen. comdg. Oude div.:—

Dated July 21.—Directing Asst. surg. G. Smith, 34th foot, to proceed by Dak from Allahabad to Fyzabad, and join his own corps, where his servs. are urgently required.

Leaves of absence:—

37th Foot.—Capt. J. Brown, to England, under new rules, m.c.

52nd Foot.—Lieut. T. Simpson, to Murree, from July 15 to Oct. 15, 1860, on m.c.

Aug. 8.—The foll. officer has, at Camp Tak, on June 15, passed in the vernacular, viz.:—Asst. surg. T. Sheehy, of 7th royal fus.

The foll. order is conf., subject to the approval of H.R.H. the Gen. C. in C.:—

By Lieut. gen. Sir W. R. Mansfield, K.C.B.,—appg. Lieut. Kittero, 4th foot, to act as musketry instructor to his corps, v. Capt. Lawrie.

Leaves of absence:—

4th Foot, 1st batt.—Capt. J. W. Lawrie, to England, for 6 mo., from date of leaving the regt., under new rules.

6th Foot.—Lieut. C. W. H. Wilson, to Neilgherries, for 4 mo., from August 15, on m.c.

34th Foot.—Capt. J. L. Moore, in ext., to Aug. 24, to enable him to rejoin.

88th Foot.—Lieut. M. N. Woodard, to Mussoorie, from July 20 to Oct. 15, on m.c.

89th Foot.—Capt. W. C. G. Pery, to Calcutta, for 2 mo., from Aug. 4, m.c.

Staff asst. surg. Spence, att. to 82nd foot, will proceed immediately from Bareilly to Lucknow, and report himself to Dep. insp. gen. Dr. Tice, for temp. du. with 23rd fus., v. Staff asst. surg. Alexander, rep. sick.

Aug. 22.—The following officers have passed their examinations in the Hindoostanee language before a committee assembled at Simla on Aug. 9, 1860.

Brev. maj. T. H. Stisted, 7th hussars; Lieuts. A. B. Morgan, 19th foot; W. Bennett, 19th foot; W. A. Steward, 28th foot; R. J. Cochrane, 34th foot; G. A. Furze, 42nd foot; H. F. Harris, 71st foot; Capt. H. A. Chichester, 81st foot; Ens. P. Richards, 94th foot; Ensign G. S. Byng, 2nd batt. rifle brig.; Lieut. J. E. Vaughan, 3rd batt. rifle brig.; Lieut. A. D. Rickman, 3rd batt. rifle brigade.

Orders confirmed:—

By Lieut. gen. Sir W. R. Mansfield:
Granting leave to Capt. D. Murray, 64th foot, acting A.D.C. to H.E., to England, for 18 mos. from date of embarkation, under new rules.

Appg. Lieut. C. H. Laprimandaye, 64th foot, to offic. as A.D.C. to Maj. gen. Cunyngame, c.s., comdg. the Scinde division of the army, from May 2.

Leave of absence:—

Royal Art.—Capt. W. D. Milman, to Calcutta, fr. Aug. 10 to Nov. 10, on m.c.

24th Foot, 1st Batt.—Ens. J. F. Caldwell, to Simla, fr. July 28 to Sept. 30, on m.c.

34th Foot.—Capt. G. W. Puget, to England, under new rules, for 18 mo.

42nd Foot.—Lieut. hon. R. H. Stewart, in ext., to Oct. 31.

51st Foot.—Lieut. col. A. H. Irby, in ext., fr. Oct. 15 to 21, to remain in Cashmere.

70th Foot.—Lieut. A. B. Wright, to Nynce Tal, fr. April 28 to Aug. 27, on m.c.

88th Foot.—Ens. P. Dwyer, to Nynce Tal and Almorah, fr. Oct. 6, on m.c.

Asst. surg. E. Hopkins, H.M.'s 71st Highland L.I., do. du. at the Kurrachee depot, will proc. immediately to join his corps at Morar, where his servs. are urgently required.

Asst. surg. Longheed, 56th foot, will proc. without delay to join his regt. at Poona.

Lieut. A. D. Burnaby, royal H.A., is app. adj. and qmr. to the royal H.A. in Bengal, v. Arbuthnot.

Leave of absence:—

13th Foot (1st Batt.)—Capt. A. Bainbrigg, in ext., for 1 mo.

H.R.H. the Gen. C. in C. has been pleased to grant leave to the following officers, on m.c.:—

7th Hussars.—Lieut. and Adj. Mould, from June 14, 1860, to March 13, 1861.

98th Foot.—Col. H. Bates, fr. June 12 to Dec. 20.

Orders confirmed:—

By the brigadier comdg. at Agra:—

Dated Aug. 9.—Directing Asst. surg. Knipe, 88th foot, to do du. with 71st at Gwalior, and to proc. by dak at the public expense to that station, his servs. being urgently required.

By the officer comdg. 75th foot:—

Dated July 29.—App. Capt. Pym to act as interp. to the corps, v. Lieut. Thorp, 69th N.I., under arrest.

By the officer comdg. 79th foot:—

Dated May 4.—App. Lieut. Wimberley to perform duties of instr. of musketry dur. abs. on leave of Lieut. Clay.

Dated Aug. 11.—App. Capt. G. A. Harrison to act as musketry instr. till the ret. of Lieut. Clay.

Leaves of absence:—

6th Drag. Gds.—Lieut. W. G. Blake, to Deyrah, fr. Aug. 15 to Oct. 15.

60th Rifles, 3rd Batt.—Capt. F. Dawson, to England, for 6 mos., fr. date of embarkation, under new rules.

68th Foot.—Maj. H. H. Morant, to England, for 18 mos., from date of quitting Rangoon, under new rules.

91st Foot.—Lieut. H. Hamilton, to England, for 18 mos., fr. date of quitting the regt., under new rules.

93rd Foot.—Lieut. G. C. Gooch, to England, for 18 mos., fr. date of leaving the regt.

The Mooltan depot hospital having been broken up, Staff Asst. surg. Woolhouse will proc. at once to Kurrachee, and report himself to the officer comdg. the depot at that station for duty, his servs. being urgently required.

Quartermaster-general's Department.

Simla, Aug. 22.—The quartermaster-general being about to proceed to the presidency to join the C. in C., requests that all correspondence requiring to be submitted for the information and orders of H.E., may be addressed to the Quartermaster-general, Calcutta, till further orders. Monthly returns and papers for deposit to be sent to the Deputy-assistant Quartermaster-general in charge quartermaster-general's office, Simla.

(Signed)

A. BECHER, Col.,
Qmr. gen. of the Army.

Bills of Exchange Exempt from Stamp Duty.

Fort William, Sept. 1.—Stamp Act.—The foll. ruling in respect of the new Stamp Act is published for general information:—

Under the general exemption at the end of Schedule A of Act No. XXXVI. of 1860, all Bills of Exchange drawn by public officers in their public capacity, whether obtained for public or private purposes, are exempted from stamp duty; and in like manner receipts or discharges given by private parties to public officers in their public capacity on behalf of the govt., are exempted from stamp duty; the govt. or the public officer in his public capacity being in both instances regarded as a party to the instrument.

E. DRUMMOND,
Acct. gen. to the Govt. of India

Proficiency in Shooting.

Adj. Gen.'s Office, Simla, Aug. 23.—The C. in C. is pleased to direct the publication of the following return showing the comparative proficiency in shooting of regiments stationed in Bengal that have established a "Figure of Merit" in the yearly course of rifle instruction for 1859-60 :—

Number in Order of Merit.	Regiment.	Figure of Merit	Per-centage to Number Exercised of		Per-centage of Non-exercised Men.	Name of Officer Best Judge of Distance.	Remarks.
			1st Class Shots.	1st Class in Judging Distance.
1	H.M.'s 6th Foot	38-08	26	61	40	Lieut. Bowen.....	Draft of 235 men included in non-exercised men.
2	" 27th "	36-55	26	86	19	Not known.
3	3rd Batt. Rifle Brig....	31-28	7	71	27	Ditto
4	H.M.'s 48th Foot	30-86	8	79	46	Capt. Knight	Draft of 100 included in number exercised. One co. with Camel Corps. 6 cos. not exercised.
5	" 77th "	30-45	7	70	75	Capt. Willington ..
6	" 34th "	30-25	9	56	6	Lieut. Roche.
7	" 71st "	29-87	12	87	8	Not known.	ditto.
8	" 75th "	29-61	19	79	12	Ditto.
9	" 51st "	28-86	15	76	10	Ditto.
10	" 42nd "	28-76	14	60	12	Capt. Mosley.	ditto.
11	" 94th "	28-22	4	72	17	Capt. Priaux.
12	" 81st "	28-05	5	84	27	Not known
13	" 7th "	27-47	7	77	5	Ditto.	ditto.
14	" 20th "	27-19	6	87	55	Ditto
15	" 19th "	27-08	7	82	26	Ditto
16	" 93rd "	26-81	20	92	9	Lieut. Vesey.	ditto.
17	" 24th "	26-43	9	75	11	Ens. Fraser.
18	" 73rd "	25-75	7	79	50	Not known.
19	" 98th "	25-37	4	62	7	Lieut. Warner.	ditto.
20	" 38th "	25-05	3	71	73	Not known
21	" 90th "	24-22	2	58	10	Ditto.
22	" 70th "	23-75	7	46	14	Capt. Percival.	ditto.
23	" 13th "	23-65	6	68	22	Ens. Kommis.....
24	" 88th "	22-62	2	56	9	Bt. Major Browne.
25	" 82nd "	20-98	3	43	62	Not known	ditto.
26	6th Bengal Eur. Inf....	16-18	Lieut. Dobbin.....

NOTE.—Volunteers to Bengal artillery are included amongst the non-exercised men.

Queen's Troops.—Non-Compliance with Orders.

Adj. Gen.'s Office, H.M.'s British Forces, Hd. Qrs., Calcutta, Aug. 20.—No. 118.—It having been brought to the notice of H.E. the C. in C. that the regiments as follows; [2nd drag. gds., 6th drag. gds., 7th drag. gds., 7th hussars, 5th, 6th, 13th, 20th, 23rd, 24th, 27th, 34th, 35th, 37th, 42nd, 48th, 70th, 71st, 73rd, 79th, 80th, 81st, 82nd, 89th, 92nd, 93rd, 94th, 97th, 98th regts. of foot, 2nd batt. rifle brig., 3rd batt. rifle brig.] have failed to comply with the circular letter from the military secretary's office, dated July 18, 1854, officers commanding these corps are requested to forward immediately to the military secretary to the C. in C. the documents therein called for, viz., muster rolls, casualty lists, family remittances, and account of the assets of deceased officers and men, and to be more punctual in the transmission of these returns for the future.

MUSKETRY INSTRUCTIONS.

With reference to G.O. of May 31, published in para. 8 of G.O. of June 9, commanding officers will be good enough to furnish the district inspectors of musketry with copies of all correspondence which they may address to the chief inspector of musketry on subjects connected with the instruction of musketry.

It is to be understood that all returns are to be forwarded through the district instructor.

Protection of Natives from Maltreatment.

Adj. Gen.'s Office, Simla, Aug. 24.—The commissary general having brought to the notice of the C. in C. a recent case of maltreatment of an old and respectable servant of the State, attached to a regiment as commissariat gomastah, upon whom corporal punishment was summarily inflicted for the non-performance of a task erroneously imposed upon him, H.E. calls upon commanding officers and superior local authorities to prevent such unjustifiable treatment of departmental servants attached as agents to corps.

It must be obvious that no men of respectability will undertake to fill these situations if they are to be subjected to degrading punishment, and the treatment of menials, at the caprice of the regimental officers with whom their duties bring them in contact; and the C. in C. warns officers concerned that they will in future be held responsible for any such unbecoming conduct.

H.E. expects that officers commanding stations will afford their protection to the classes under reference, and invariably bring to notice all instances of harsh and improper behaviour towards them.

MADRAS.

BY THE GOVERNOR IN COUNCIL.

Fort St. George, Aug. 29.—Appointments:—Lieut. col. R. Crew, 45th N.I., to be private sec. to the Hon. the Governor.

Lieut. col. R. Crew will also offic. as mil. sec. Aug. 31.—Ens. E. A. Campbell, asst. superint. of police, is posted to Trichinopoly dist, v. Lieut. McGoun.

Maj. J. F. Tenant, Bengal engrs., is per. to proc. to Calcutta by the next mail str., vacating his app. as govt. astronomer from date of embarkation.

Maj. W. K. Worster, Madras art., to act as govt. astronomer.

The foll. gentlemen have been app. commrs. for the pres. town of Madras for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of Act XXXII. of 1860:—

A. Hall, Esq.—president.

Col. J. C. Boulderson, C. G. Master, Esq., and Mir

Mohib Ally—official members.

H. Nelson, Esq., J. G. Coleman, Esq., and G. Lutchmanarasi Chetty—non-official members.

R. S. Ellis, Esq., special commr.

E. F. Harrison, Esq., has been app. coll. of income-tax for the pres. town.

Sept. 3.—Mr. H. Burton, colonial emigration agent, will act as emigration agent for Natal, dur. abs. of Mr. W. Collins at Calcutta.

Sept. 7.—The appt. of Mr. R. Ellis, to be special income-tax commr. for the pres., does not cancel his previous appt. as sub coll. of Madras, and he will perform the duties of those offices.

Public Works Dept., Sept. 7.—Appointments:—

Capt. A. G. W. Burn, 2nd asst. district eng., Tanjore, to act as 1st asst. district eng. in Coimbatore, dur. employ. of Capt. Morgan on other duty.

2nd Capt. H. T. Rogers, 2nd asst. district eng., Godavery, to act as 2nd asst. district eng. in Malabar, dur. employ. of Mr. König on other duty.

Capt. J. H. M. Babington, act. 2nd asst. district eng., Malabar, to take up his own appt. as 2nd asst. district eng. in South Canara, after delivering over ch. of his office to Capt. Rogers.

Leave of absence:—

11th M.N.I.—Capt. W. Syme, asst. district eng., Bellary, retrospectively from date on which he delivered over ch. of his range, to proc. to Madras, prep. to Eur., on m.c.

Mily. Dept.—Aug. 28.—No. 382.—Promotions:—

49th N.I.—Senior Lieut. F. Pictet to be capt., and Senior Ensign G. H. Cherry to be lieut., v. Keig, removed; date of commission, July 31.

Lieut. R. W. Duff, 47th N.I., is perm. to proc. to Bombay on m.c., under regs. of 1854, to enable him to obtain a final m.c. to Europe.

The undermen. officers are permitted to proc. to Europe:—

Lieut. and adjt. M. A. Worsop, 21st N.I., on m.c. for 15 mos., under the regs. of 1854, fr. date of embarkation at Hong Kong.

Ens. C. J. Watson, 21st N.I., on m.c. for 18 mos., under regs. of 1854, fr. date of embarkation at Hong Kong.

Admitted upon the estab. as a cadet for the inf. by the home govt., and prom. to ensign, leaving date of his commission to be settled hereafter:—

Mr. D. C. Budd; arr. at Madras, Aug. 8.

Judicial Dept., Aug. 24.—Appointment:—

Asst. surg. H. Crocker to be civ. surg. at Chittoor, v. Johnson, dec.

Aug. 31.—Promotions:—

Cavalry.—Sen. cor. (on gen. list) H. E. Kensit to be lieut., v. Judd, of the 8th regt. L.C., res. the serv.; date of com., Aug. 9.

31st L.I.—Sen. lieut. (brev. capt.) G. Adey to be capt., and Sen. ens. J. G. Cloete to be lieut., v. Jackson ret.; date of coms., Aug. 30.

Mr. H. T. H. Baber, having satisfied the govt. on the points of qualification prescribed by existing regulations, is adm. on estab. as a cadet for the inf. from Aug. 10, and prom. to rank of ens., leaving the date of com. to be settled hereafter.

Surg. J. W. Mailardet is per. to ret. from the serv. on a pension of £365 per annum, from Sept. 1.

Sept. 4.—No. 389.—The Hon. the Gov. in Council is pleased to make the foll. proms. and alterations of rank:—

Artillery.—Sen. capt. (brev. lieut. col.) G. S. Cotter to be lieut. col., Sen. 2nd capt. (brev. lieut. col.) R. Cadell to be capt., and Sen. lieut. H. G. Thomson to be 2nd capt., v. Amsinck dec.; date of coms., Sept. 1.

Memorandum.—The undermen. officers are entitled to the pay and allowances of their rank from Sept. 1, v. Amsinck, dec.:

Lieut. col. W. A. Orr, c.b.

Lieut. Hon. A. B. de Montmorency.

Infantry.—Lieut. col. J. J. Losh, to take rank from Sept. 27, 1859, in succ. to Thorpe, prom.

9th N.I.—Maj. W. Borthwick, Capt. A. F. Williams, and Lieut. W. G. Carr, to take rank from Sept. 27, 1859, instead of Sept. 21, 1859, in succ. to Losh, prom.

Infantry.—Lieut. col. G. F. Salmon, to take rank from Nov. 28, 1859, instead of Oct. 25, 1859, in succ. to Holl, prom.

30th N.I.—Maj. W. T. Money, Capt. A. Hunter, and Lieut. C. E. Shirreffs, to take rank from Nov. 28, 1859, instead of Oct. 25, 1859, in succ. to Salmon, prom.

Infantry.—Lieut. col. R. Cotton, to take rank from Dec. 21, 1859, instead of Nov. 28, 1859, in succ. to Hewetson, prom.

37th Regt. Grens.—Maj. W. H. Freese, Capt. T. Hawks, and Lieut. L. B. Byass, to take rank from Dec. 21, 1859, instead of Nov. 28, 1859, in succ. to Cotton, prom.

Infantry.—Lieut. col. R. W. O'Grady, to take rank from Dec. 30, 1859, instead of Dec. 21, 1859, in succ. to Carthew, prom.

34th L.I.—Maj. W. F. Hutton (retired), Capt. J. Davidson, and Lieut. C. Hayter to take rank from Dec. 30, 1859, instead of Dec. 21, 1859, in success. to O'Grady, prom.

The undermen. officers are perm. to retire from the service:—

Capt. J. W. Farren, 25th N.I., on the pension of a col., fr. Aug. 31.

Capt. S. Rippon, art., on pension of his rank from date of sailing of first mail str. for Suez in Sept.

The undermen. officer is permitted to proceed to Europe:—

Capt. R. Western, 44th N.I., on furl. for 3 years, under old regs.

Sept. 7.—No. 393.—The hon. the Gov. in Council is pleased to make the following appointment, alterations of rank and promotions:—

Lieut. col. T. K. Whistler, art., to be comdt. of art., with rank of brigdr., and to com. St. Thomas' Mount, v. Amsinck, dec.

1st Madras Fus.—Capt. E. B. Sladen, and Lieut. F. J. Granville, to take rank fr. June 21, v. Hamilton, ret.

Sen. Lieut. G. J. Harcourt to be capt., and Sen. 2nd Lieut. J. E. V. Rogers to be lieut., v. Menzies, dec.; date of commissions, Aug. 15.

25th N.I.—Sen. Lieut. (brev. capt.) W. Graves to be capt., and Sen. Ens. E. S. Ludlow to be lieut., v. Farren, ret.; date of commissions, Sept. 1.

39th N.I.—Ens. S. H. Mackay to be lieut.

Spiritual Instruction for Railway Officials.

A resolution of the Govt. of India, dated August 1, has been forwarded to the Govt. of Madras, from which it appears that "the agent of the East India Railway Company has ascertained from the venerable thearch-deacon that the additional clergyman for the station at Rajmehal may be appointed on the following terms, namely:—1st. That the railway company provide a house for the clergyman, and subscribe Ra. 200 a month to the society's funds as the clergyman stands appointed to the station, including such periods of leave as he may be entitled to under the regulations of the society. 2nd. That the Govt. contribute Rs. 100 a month towards the clergyman's salary. 3rd. That the society (who are to provide the clergyman, paying, if necessary, his passage and outfit from England) allow him a salary of Rs. 250 a month, for the first three years, and after that Rs. 300 a month."

The resolution of the Govt. of India goes on to say:—

"2. The Hon. the Lieut. gov. of Bengal remarks upon this proposal, that the public advantage of providing a resident clergyman for such a place as Rajmehal is likely to become great and obvious, and that it must be a matter of great interest to the railway company, as likely to conduce to the good order, better morality, and improved discipline of the European employers of the railway.

"3. On these considerations H.E. the Gov. gen. in Council has determined in the public works department that there is no objection to the expenditure proposed to be incurred by the railway company.

"4. With regard to the sum of Rs. 100 a-month, which the Additional Clergy Society stipulates should be contributed by the gov't., the Gov. gen. in Council observes that the interest of the gov't. in the good conduct of the European railway officers, and in everything which is calculated directly or indirectly to lead to economy and good management in the railway works, is scarcely less, pecuniarily or otherwise, than that which it has in the conduct and good management of its own officers in the department of public works.

"5. H.E. in Council considers that a clear and broad distinction can be drawn between an application of this nature preferred in the interest of the railways, which are in point of fact gov't. undertakings, though under a special organisation, and any similar application that might be preferred in connection with other works conducted by other corporations or joint stock companies in India, and being satisfied that the presence of a clergyman is likely to exercise a most beneficial influence on the lives and habits of the large number of Europeans employed in connection with the railway, H.E. in Council considers it very expedient that the gov't. should give every encouragement to the railway company in their plan for providing clergymen at such stations along the line as may be considered sufficiently populous and important to need the services of a clergyman.

"6. On the above considerations, the G. G. in Council is pleased to authorise the grant of Rs. 100 a-month towards the salary of the clergyman who may be appointed by the Additional Clergy Society to the station of Rajmehal."

Drunkenness on the Neilgherries.

August.—By order of government the complaint of the Ootacamund Grievance Committee, with regard to the increase of drunkenness on the hills, has been referred to the Board of Revenue for early report:—

Referred to the Board of Revenue for report on the subject of paragraph 4 of the order.

The Board will report the number of arrack and toddy shops now established at Ootacamund and the regulations existing for the prevention of drunkenness, riots, receiving stolen goods, and other offences in those shops. They will report also whether there has been any and what increase in the number of shops within the last ten years; and if so, whether the European residents were consulted on the subject before the increase was permitted by the collector. Lastly, they will report whether the existing number is necessary, and whether any and what regulation or change of system is desirable, with the view of checking the abuses complained of by the Ootacamund community.

The Board will be requested to give their early attention to this subject, and to report on it fully and without any avoidable delay. In procuring the necessary information it will be proper that the Board should apply not merely to the collector but to intelligent members of the Ootacamund community, and in particular to the Improvement Committee.

Land Tenure—Permanent Puttahs.

Aug. 25.—In this letter the Board of Revenue submit their report on the suggestion of Mr. McDonnell, acting collector of South Arcot, regarding the issue of permanent puttahs.

The Government approve Mr. McDonnell's proposition in general as they have before approved similar plans, especially in connection with Coimbatore, viz., the plan of not issuing a fresh puttah every year or even on occasions of every slight change in the holding, but of entering such slight changes in the previous puttah, and issuing a new puttah only when further entries in the old one would cause confusion.

But the Government do not entirely approve of the form of puttah proposed. They consider it to be open to objection, inasmuch as it does not contain the particulars of the holding, and thus virtually diminishes the security of the raiyat's title, which it is so desirable to increase. It cannot be said that the record of a raiyat's fields in the village register is equal in security to their specification in the puttah held by himself; in the first place, the register is by no means freely accessible to him, and further, he can never be sure that it will be faithfully kept, more especially as there will not be the check of the puttah.

One main reason for which the raiyat values his puttah is that he has in it the proof of his title to his land. In case of dispute or objection he can always show his title. But if the field details are omitted, the document becomes quite useless for that purpose. An old puttah, such as is proposed to be substituted by Mr. McDonnell, would be useless, because the raiyat would be unable to prove by any document in his possession that a given field respecting which a dispute might arise had not been given up by him, or sold, or otherwise conveyed to another person, after the date of the old puttah.

The Government believe that hitherto the puttah has everywhere contained a specification of the holding, and they think that it would decidedly be a backward step to omit it. They resolve, therefore, to direct that a specification of the holding be included in every fresh puttah. This will not need to be re-written every year, because, under the new plan, the puttah will last for several years. It will only be necessary, also, that the particulars should be given once; the last year's holding should be therefore brought in without detail. But the field detail should be given of the land retained as well as of that given up and that newly taken. This plan will involve somewhat more trouble than Mr. McDonnell's; but the additional security to the raiyat is fully worth it.

With reference to the last item of the puttah the Government request to be informed on what system trees are now taxed in South Arcot, and whether the order for substituting the land assessment for the tree tax has not been fully adopted there.

Tea Planting on the Neilgherries.

Aug. 23.—The Board of Revenue submit an application from Mr. H. D. Rae for some land on the Neilgherries on special terms for a tea plantation: they recommend a grant of 200 acres of grass, with 25 of forest for raising seedlings.

2. Mr. Rae asks for the land on a lease of 100 years on the following terms, which he states are similar to those obtaining in the tea-producing districts of Bengal:—

The land to be free for the first fifteen years, and to be assessed at three annas an acre yearly for the next eleven years, and at six annas an acre yearly for the remaining seventy-four years.

The terms proposed by the Board (paragraph 10) are a permanent title, with exemption from all taxation for seven years, and thereafter a tax of one rupee an acre for the whole extent, except such parts as are absolutely uncultivable, i.e., rocks.

3. Tea planting being an experiment, and an important one for the public interests, the Government are disposed to make an exception in favour of that object, from the general rules laid down for acquiring land on the Nilgiris. They observe also that Dr. Cleghorn speaks of Mr. Rae as well qualified for the undertaking on which he proposes to enter. They accordingly approve and confirm the terms proposed by the Board.

4. In consideration of the favourable terms conceded, Mr. Rae should be bound as the Board propose (paragraph 11), to devote the land to the cultivation of tea. This obligation should not terminate, however, at Mr. Rae's option, viz., whenever he may choose to redeem the land tax, but should continue for a fixed time, which may be fixed at fifteen years, unless he should be sooner released from it by the Government.

5. Dr. Cleghorn advises also (paragraph 6) that fallen timber and underwood on the forest land should be removed by the forester on account of Government, before the land is made over to Mr. Rae. This suggestion is also approved.

6. The Board of Revenue will acquaint Mr. Rae, through the collector, with the terms and conditions on which the Government are prepared to comply with his application, and ascertain whether he assents to those conditions. In that case a deed will be drawn up by the Government solicitor, and a specific remedy will be stipulated for breach of the terms, with power of entry to see that the terms are in course of fulfilment. The penalty will be determined hereafter.

7. Mr. Rae wishes to have power to extend his holding hereafter on the same terms if he is successful; this the Government will concede.

8. The Government observe that the Board are under a mistake (paragraph 8) as to the terms established for obtaining land on the Nilgiris, having overlooked the latest Order on the subject. Under that Order (April 4, 1860, No. 517, paragraph 7), land for farming and planting purposes is to be put up to auction without any upset price, subject to a redeemable quit-rent of one rupee an acre.

BIRTHS.

ANDERSON, Mrs. D., daughter, at Calcutta, Aug. 17.
AYERST, wife of Rev. W., son, at Chowringhee, Aug. 30.
BACON, wife of Capt. B. E., son, at Calcutta, Sept. 4.
CURRIE, wife of Lieut. H. O., daughter, at Barrackpore, Aug. 31.
D'NELLO, Mrs. P. H., daughter, at Fyzabad, Aug. 31.
FOLKARD, wife of D. M., son, at Calcutta, Sept. 1.
GIB, wife of Capt., daughter, at Ootacamund, Aug. 4.
GOULDHAWKE, wife of J. H., son, at Calcutta, Aug. 27.
GRAVES, wife of J. S., daughter, at Chinsurah, Sept. 3.
HANCOCK, Mrs. H., daughter, at Shanghai, July 29.
HANNAN, wife of W. C., son, at Calcutta, Sept. 5.
JOHNSON, Mrs. B. D., daughter, at Shanghai, Aug. 10.
LEWIS, wife of Rev. C. B., daughter, at Calcutta, Sept. 2.
LITTLEPAGE, Mrs. J., daughter, at Calcutta, Sept. 3.
MAYER, Mrs. G. H. T., son, at Howrah, Sept. 3.
SAVAGE, wife of Capt. G. W., son, at Calcutta, Aug. 30.
SHUTTLEWORTH, wife of E. J., daughter, at Bursaul, Aug. 25.
TROXSON, wife of Capt. T. H., daughter, at Calcutta, Aug. 31.
WATKINS, wife of J. F., daughter, at Calcutta, Sept. 1.
WESTON, wife of Capt. H. B., son, at Calcutta, Sept. 2.

MARRIAGES.

CUNNINGHAM, Capt. P. S., to Annie, daughter of J. Stroud, at Ootacamund, Aug. 20.
ERSKINE, D., to Mary A. G., daughter of R. Blackwell, at Dacca, Aug. 31.
LAY, H. N., to Eliza E., daughter of Rev. J. Legge, Aug. 21.
REHEIRO, C., to Rachel E., daughter of the late R. Frank, at Chittagong, Aug. 7.
VERINNE, J. S. D., to Mary A., daughter of the late J. H. Savi, at Calcutta, Aug. 27.

DEATHS.

BELLAMY, wife of J., at Amoy, aged 32, Aug. 4.
BRIGHT, Philip, infant son of Lieut. col. R. O., Aug. 26.
BUTTERWICK, Constance M., infant daughter of H. C., at Calcutta, Sept. 1.
CLEGHORN, Evelyn R., infant daughter of J., at Calcutta, Sept. 4.
CORRIE, Capt., Dragon, at Fuchaw, Aug. 13.
DENNES, Capt. J. L., Thunder, at Shanghai, Aug. 10.
JOHNSON, B. D., at Shanghai, aged 36, Aug. 15.
LEES, wife of Capt. T. E. B., at Tezpur, Aug. 3.
MACKAY, Arthur N., infant son of Dr., at Kulputty, Sept. 2.
MANLEY, Mrs. Emily, aged 42, Aug. 27.
MARSAK, Constance, daughter of Capt. A. B., at Zereand, Aug. 23.
PALIN, Harry W. N., infant son of W. T., at Bankipore, Aug. 25.
RYVES, Capt. W. C. L., 12th Bengal N.I., at Barrackpore, Aug. 30.

WAR OFFICE.

CHANGES, PROMOTIONS, &c.,
IN H.M.'s REGIMENTS SERVING IN INDIA.

Oct. 12.

17th Lt. Drags.—Asst. surg. S. Fuller, from the 9th Lt. Drags., to be asst. surg., v. Clerly, who exch.
Royal Art.—2nd Capt. H. Renny to be capt., v. G. R. C. Young, placed on temp. h.p.; Lieut. W. G. Martin to be 2nd capt., v. Renny.
1st Foot.—L. E. Miller, gent., to be ens., without purch., v. Frings, superseded.
6th Foot.—Ens. E. W. Griffith, to be lieut., by purch., v. Keyser, whose promotion, by purch., has been cane.
13th Foot.—Lieut. A. Hensell has been superseded for being absent without leave.
46th Foot.—Capt. J. J. H. Gordon, from 29th Foot, to be capt., v. Coote, who exch.; Ens. R. F. A. Howorth to be lieut., by purch., v. Mullen, ret.
73rd Foot.—Maj. gen. B. O. Jones, to be col., v. Maj. gen. Sir M. Creagh, dec.
75th Foot.—Staff asst. surg. A. Mackay to be asst. surg., v. Woods, res.
90th Foot.—Ens. J. Williamson, to be lieut., by purch., v. C. B. Wynne, prom.; Ens. W. S. Hamilton, from 12th Foot, to be ens., v. Williamson.
Rifle Brig.—Lieut. H. S. Vandeleur, to be capt., by purch., v. Hon. J. F. Pennington, ret.; Ens. F. Wilson to be lieut., by purch., v. Vandeleur.

THE VICTORIA CROSS.

Erratum in the London Gazette of Tuesday, June 19.—In the notification of her Majesty's intention to confer the Victoria Cross on three soldiers of her Majesty's army, for 1st batt., 5th regt., Serg. R. Ewart, read 1st batt., 5th regt., Serg. R. Grant.

COUNTRY AGENTS:—

Edinburgh, W. Blackwood and Sons.
Dublin, Hodges and Smith,
Brighton, C. Booty.

Communications for the Editor, and Advertisements, should be sent under cover to Messrs. WM. H. ALLEN & Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

* * Should any delay or irregularity occur in supplying this Paper, communication of the fact to the Publisher will insure a remedy.

ALLEN'S INDIAN MAIL,

TUESDAY, October 16, 1860.

MR. WILSON'S SUCCESSOR.

MR. LAING has consented to go to India as successor to Mr. Wilson. So much the worse. We had begun to hope that Sir Charles Wood would take this opportunity to reconsider the whole question of Indian financial executive, and might possibly decide that the creation of a new finance department should advisably precede the appointment of a new finance minister. Mr. Wilson succeeded to a large extent, i.e., he really gained the control of the financial policy of the State; but that is no reason Mr. Wilson should be equally successful. Mr. Wilson was peculiarly situated. He was regarded in India as an authority almost infallible in his peculiar department. He was, moreover, singularly exempt from that class-hostility which in India so often paralyses original effort. He had never attacked the civil service, never run down the planters, never called the natives idolaters. He was notoriously in favour of high salaries. He was notoriously indisposed to believe general reduction the true policy. Above all, he was known to be supported by influence with which it was useless to contend, and all parties tacitly agreed to give his dictatorship a fair trial. To no other man would the same free play be permitted. The silent relentless opposition of the official class would tie his hands before he began to work. Even Mr. Wilson, before he died, had begun to feel their opposition most embarrassing. They nearly flung over the license tax. They smashed the tobacco tax—wisely, as we believe, but still by a mere argument of administration. They could not, they said, create a drawing tobacco tax, without breaking up the abkarree. They hated, though they had determined to pass, the Income-tax. They sneered at the Currency Bill. They are resisting with might and main the new audit system and financial organisation. Place any man less weighty and less popular than Mr. Wilson in the same position, and he would be paralysed in a week. Mr. Laing is unknown in India, and will be simply told he knows nothing of the country. To any man except the few of the very first class, who will not go, the Indian official world will raise the same stereotyped objection, want of local knowledge, and go on in the old way. They can bring him to a dead lock without an exertion. The Executive Council—old Indians—can protest with a vehemence which demands fresh reference to England; the Legislative Council—old Indians—can refuse the measures suggested altogether. Both are certain of a powerful support at home from the Committee of old Indians which thinks itself the modern "Council of the Indies."

There is but one hope now for the finances of India, and that rests in the appointment of a financial Governor general. Lord Canning's tour of office expires in March, and his successor should be, before all things, a fair economist. Is there no economist Peer willing to accept the office, no noble President of the Board of Trade, or manager of a great railway, or even statesman accustomed to deal with financial details? He need not know too much. The one man in India whom Indian officials do not choose to resist is the Governor-general. His plans, if he has any, he can carry; and what is now required is, not any particular plan, but a plan—something which will march, and not simply open up new topics for discussion. Lord Elgin might prove such a man. He is experienced. He can count—a feat no Indian financier has yet accomplished, witness Mr. Dorin's blunder of a million, and the million of difference between the home and Indian statements—and, above all, he is a Scotchman. But there exists in Calcutta a singular and most inexplicable dislike to Lord Elgin. He was there in the mutinies, and the official world condemned him utterly. Still he might succeed; for, as we may one day explain, the power of his office is so enormous, that the position itself protects its occupant without much effort of his own. But be the next nominee whom he may, his one recommendation should be his capacity for finance.

The only alternative is to reconstruct the Cabinet, so as to render the financial member practically independent. At present he must win over, first, the Governor-general, then his own colleagues, then the Legislative Council, and then the bureaucracy. By creating him at once Chancellor of the Exchequer he will be relieved of all internal opposition, while the immediate responsibility secured will tempt the Council to concede him at least a fair trial. The bureaucracy will then be powerless, for he, and not a jealous or hostile "Financial Secretary," will be immediate head of the department. As matters stood three months ago, Mr. Lushington, Financial Secretary, could promote a clerk in the Treasury for writing a pamphlet against the financial member. Since the late change which centralised the department, destroying even the segregation of the presidencies, the Secretary has become all powerful. His censure on any subordinate is official ruin. His praise, though it cannot secure absolute promotion out of turn, can secure the little extras which make Indian life smooth—plenty of leave, pleasant stations, and any "deputation work" which may be going—i.e., a pleasant journey, with a salary and a-half during its continuance. All this while, while drawing the allowances of the English Premier, and with a most ramified patronage, he is, politically, the clerk of the financial member, distinctly denied permission to advise unless specially called upon for counsel. His powers might be absorbed in those of the Chancellor, the executive detail left to an under secretary, and the saved salary added, if necessary, to the Chancellor's pay, to secure a thoroughly efficient man.

A financial Governor-general or a Chancellor of the Indian Exchequer are, we believe, the only two alternatives.

DOUBLE INCOME-TAX ON INDIAN SECURITIES.

We are beginning now to have some perception of the value of the legacy left to us by Sir Robert Peel of his new principles of direct taxation. His disciple, Mr. Gladstone, professes only to be carrying out his last wishes, in abandoning one after another old sources of indirect levy under the heads of Excise and Customs, in order to leave the nation no resource but to add one penny after another to Sir R. Peel's Income-tax. It now stands at tenpence, and there is every reason to fear that the coming Session of Parliament will see it raised to one shilling in the pound—that is to say, from a little more than 4 per cent. to 5 per cent., or one-twentieth of every man's income exceeding £150 per annum.

We should have had nothing to say to this tax, or to the principle on which it is levied, if another disciple of this school had not made it his model for the augmentation and improvement of the taxation of India. Mr. James Wilson went out as a theorist imbued strongly with the conviction that direct taxation was the only leather that would save and restore the finance of that country. The Legislative Council had made a blundering attempt to revive the old motulurfa, or trade license tax, and in the discussion of the Bill brought in for that purpose the Government members avowed their intention of assessing the license fee at 3 per cent. of assumed profits. European traders of all kinds were to be subjected to the levy, but it was not to reach official salaries, pensions, or incomes derived from land or from public securities. A great outcry was raised against partial taxation of this kind; and yielding to this outcry the Government drifted into a resolution to propose a general Income-tax, without having ever had the intention to introduce such a measure, and without any inquiry beforehand as to its adaptation to the people of India, or in respect to the principles on which it ought to be framed. In this state of things Mr. Wilson arrived in Calcutta, and taking Sir R. Peel's English Act for his model, brought in the Bill of upwards of two hundred sections that has just been passed into law.

The war Income-tax of Wm. Pitt, which by the Whigs was raised to 10 per cent., and continued until the general peace of 1815, was a real Income-tax, levied only on those who derived income from any source, which they spent, or had the power of spending, in this country. It did not touch incomes derived from the country by foreigners to be spent abroad. If a foreigner invested his money in the public funds of England he was allowed to draw the interest without deduction for Income-tax, and so also a British subject residing abroad or in the colonies.

There were two good reasons for this exemption. First—In those days the incidence of taxation was thought to be properly confined to expenditure, or the means of expenditure. It was not thought fair to tax a man for the mere preference of one locality of investment over another. Secondly—The Government was annually a large borrower, and was desirous of encouraging foreigners to subscribe to its loans, and it was thought, and justly thought, that the public credit would suffer, if those who subscribed their money from abroad on the promise of a specific sum of interest for each amount subscribed were by the act of the Government which received the money to be made to receive less than that specific amount. In those days something of the old notions of honesty and fair dealing remained in England.

When Sir Robert Peel, however, introduced his Income-tax, he declared that he never could understand upon what principle and for what reasons this exemption to foreigners and non-residents had been conceded; and he laid it down that any preference people might show for investment in British stocks must be owing to the stability of the institutions of the country; therefore, that those who benefited by that stability might fairly be called upon to contribute towards the maintenance of the Government and institutions that gave the security. Sir Robert's Bill accordingly made everybody pay, as the condition of receipt of interest or dividends in the United Kingdom. But not content with introducing and applying this novel principle, he adopted Mr. Pitt's principle also to its full extent, and made subject to the same precise rate the man who received income from abroad to be spent in England, as the man who received income from England to be spent abroad, and both these paid exactly the same rate as the man who both received and spent his income in England.

Here we see the root and origin of a great injustice. Suppose Ireland had then had her separate Parliament and her separate system of taxation and finance: Income-tax Bills would have been passed for both countries—that is, one for England by the Parliament at Westminster, and a separate one by the separate Parliament of Ireland. According to Sir Robert Peel's principle, if an Irishman had invested money in the Public Funds, or in a Railroad, or Joint-Stock Bank of England, he must pay in England for the preference of that country for investment. Again, he must return the income he so received from England for second and separate taxation at the same full rate in Ireland. Are the people of England prepared to recognise this as just and fair? The case, however, is precisely that of the double Income-tax now levied upon people residing and spending their money in this country, when they derive that income in any shape whatever from India.

But there are special incongruities and anomalies in this Bill of Mr. James Wilson, and in the application of these new principles to Indian incomes, which require to be pointed out. The Government of India has always depended more upon British capital than on subscriptions by natives of India to its loans. These loans, therefore, have been negotiated with conditions giving facilities to European capitalists to receive the interest in England; and during the late mutinies in Bengal the Government was so hard up in its finance that it extended greatly those facilities, in order to induce people in England to invest their money

India. More than fifteen crores of rupees—that is, fifteen millions sterling—was thus inveigled into the meshes of Indian finance, and now the subscribers are coolly told that their interest is not to be paid in full, but will be reduced ad libitum, to enable the Indian Government to embark in road and canal speculations, or to keep up and maintain 80,000 or 90,000 men of the expensive British army, instead of 25,000 or 30,000 as heretofore, or for any other expensive folly that the Governor-general and governors of the day may fancy. "This," we borrow the phrase from old Lord Liverpool, "is really too bad." If the Government of India were in a condition of finance to be able to snap their fingers at British capitalists, and to say, "We don't care a pin whether you all withdraw your funds from India or not; we can raise what we require from natives there without your aid," the course taken in this instance would be intelligible. But notoriously the contrary is the case; only last session Sir C. Wood obtained Parliamentary sanction to raise money in this country for Indian purposes and upon Indian security; and this sanction was grudgingly given upon a confession that loans in India were nearly impossible. The Government of India is now engaged in the construction of railways that will require more than 20,000,000 sterling to be raised to complete them, and this must be raised in England. The shares of all these railways are at a discount, and the money cannot be got in that shape; yet at this very time the Indian Government adopt a measure that will make it much more difficult than ever to borrow at all either in England or in India.

But let us examine a little the practical working of this double Income-tax levy. There are Indian stocks of different kinds that have long been in the London market. Let us see how they will severally be affected.

First, there is the old stock of the East India Company, the dividends upon which are by law a first charge upon the revenues of India. Are these to pay double Income-tax? No such thing. The law of India can only touch payments made in India, and these dividends are payable only in London, where they are subjected to English Income-tax only. Will Sir C. Wood, in order to carry out Sir R. Peel's and Mr. Wilson's principle, propose to Parliament next session a Bill directing the Bank of England to deduct Indian Income-tax also from these dividends? We doubt if he will venture to propose such an application of the principle.

In like manner, there is the 5 per cent. stock, and the debentures of recent issue, and the old bonds of the East India Company—all these have been raised as territorial debts of India, with the principal and interest payable from the revenues of that country. The investment is clearly made upon Indian security, and, according to Sir Robert Peel's principle, those who made it ought to contribute to maintain the government and institutions on which they depend for their principal and their interest. But the Indian law cannot touch them, because the money was raised and the interest made payable in London. Here is another necessity for British legislation to carry out Sir Robert Peel's principle.

People may say, however, that these are British investments sanctioned by the British Parliament, and, therefore, should not be subjected to Indian taxation. Very well. But what say you to the Transfer Four per Cent. Loan raised in India, with conditions that give the stockholders the option of transferring their capital to a register opened in London, after which transfer the interest is payable in London in cash? The Indian law cannot touch this stock, nor those interest payments, any more than it can touch Sir Charles Wood's more recent stocks. The fortunate holders of this class of security will thus, by the accident of this condition, be exempted from any necessity of contributing towards the maintenance of the government and institutions of India, though depending upon them for their principal and interest.

Again, there are the Indian railway stocks and debentures, interest upon which is guaranteed at fixed rates, and that interest is payable in London or in India as the parties choose to claim it. If received in London this interest will not be chargeable with Indian Income-tax, any more than it is now chargeable with English Income-tax if the parties reside and elect to receive their interest in India.

The double levy, therefore, upon income derived from Indian securities is not uniform, and Sir Robert Peel's principle is a mere device to grab as much as can be got—"recte si possis, si non, quo cunque modo."

We are informed that the Bank of England has already commenced deducting both English and Indian Income-tax from the bills it grants for interest on enfaced paper of the Indian loans. But we are inclined to believe both these deductions to be unwarrantable, if not illegal. The question of the English Income-tax is about to be carried into a court of law, where it will soon be decided. But the Indian tax stands on quite a different footing. Mr. James Wilson's Act makes liable to the deduction of 4 per cent. for Income-tax all payments made in India, whether by bill or otherwise, on account of interest of the public debt of India. But that law has only force in India. It can give neither to the Bank of England nor to the Secretary of State in Council any power or authority to make such or any deduction whatever here in England. Much of this paper has enfaced upon it a notice that the interest, when paid, will be subject to such a deduction. This notice, however, is no authority to make the deduction anywhere except at an Indian treasury, and the Bank of England were bound to give the bill for the full amount, transferring the notice to the face of the bill if it existed on the enfaced promissory note, and leaving the deduction to be made where the law was in force.

It may be asked, how could the Bank of England give an interest bill for an amount the full of which would not be paid on its presentation? This certainly is a difficulty attending the levy of Income-tax upon instruments drawn from abroad. It is, in fact, passing a law for acquittance of a debt by a less payment than its amount. It is a kind of repudiation. This, however, is precisely what will occur when coupons are presented in India for interest due upon the Five-and-a-Half per Cent. Stock, the notes for which have been issued, on application, to holders in England, with interest coupons attached for the entire period of twenty years that these notes have to run. The coupons are cut off and sold in the market here, and will be presented for payment in India by third parties who have no prima facie notice of any intention to make deduction of Income-tax at the time of payment. The deduction will be warranted by the terms of Mr. Wilson's act, and by a notice in the Calcutta Gazette, and there will be no redress in any court of law in India. But how will this transaction stand before the world? There are States in North America who do make deductions for local taxation, from the coupons of their State stock, but this is regarded as a species of repudiation, and is only justified by the example of Sir Robert Peel's Bill of 1841. No State of Europe except England has yet ventured to apply the same principle to any part of its State debt. We have now, however, India adopting it in the face of an impossibility to apply it equally, and fairly, and universally, and we see the outcry it is raising. Either England must give up its levy upon incomes derived from India, or India must acknowledge that what is not spent in India is not fairly assessable with the Indian tax. Undoubtedly, the exemption will make a great hole in the realisation; but if the tax be unjust, and the levy on both pleas impossible, the sooner it is given up the better. We cannot expect the British Chancellor of the Exchequer to yield anything, but a pressure may be brought to bear on the public authorities here that will compel the relinquishment of the Indian tax; and this we are not sorry to see that steps are in progress to organise.

SHIPPING.

ARRIVALS.

Oct. 5. Robert Puleford, Howison, Calcutta; Glenalva, Muir, Bombay; Empress of India, Brown, Maulmain; Treas, Holmes, Japan; Lady Grey, White, Alagoa Bay; Province Deuthe, Alagoa Bay; Hippolyta, Honnseil, Bassin; Freden, Wallen, Bassin; James Russell, Sloane, Calcutta.—6. Hanover, Rich, India and Demerara; Erene, Williams, Port Natal; Astoria, Kooria Moorina; The Duke, Draper, Calcutta; Thomas Wood, Miller, Calcutta; Oshaw, Manila.—8. Omega, Ballingal, Manila; Meteor, Henderson, Madras; William Witherlee, Attwood, Akyab; Hudaigo, Smith, Singapore; Simla, Williams, Calcutta; White Jacket, Flood, Bombay; Wisconsin, Scott, Bombay; Norfolk, Attwood, Melbourne, with crew of the Shepherdess, from Akyab to Liverpool, abandoned in a sinking state.—9. Blue Rock, Pollock, Bombay; Clara, Sheen, Foo-chow-Foo; Humboldt, Danneman, Akyab.—10. Warren Hastings, Gully, Madras; Ferozepore, Watson, Calcutta; Zambira, Miller, Singapore; Fanny Kirchner, Ables, Akyab; Oriental, Nixon, Akyab; Hastings, Thompson, Madras; Maria, Jinnam, Bombay; Concurrent, Davidson and Elizabeth, Larsen, Batavia; 11. Ziba, Tomlinson, Foo-chow-Foo; Lady of the Lake, Taylor, Port Natal; Cassiopea, Harmer, Mauritius; Fortitude, Peterkin, Ceylon; Hanalet, Le Craw, Akyab; Carlotta, Groot, Batavia.—13. Elias, Larraclat, Manila, Bomarsund, Thomson, Bassin; Fleetwood, Wilson, Mauritius; Brierly Hill, Vincent, Bimlipatan; Jane Ann, Bailey, Ceylon; Devonvale, Robertson, Alagoa Bay; Juliana, Stern, Batavia; Thames, Callender, Maulmain; Emma Colvin, Nicholson, Akyab; Broomfield, Blyth, Rangoon; Sir George Pollock, Withers and Beverley, Carter, Shanghai; General Havelock, Jack, Alagoa Bay; Akbar, Hutton, Ceylon; Moskwa, Fate, Kurrahee; City of Pekin, Craig; and Aladdin, Wood, Calcutta; Georgiana, Japan.

PASSENGERS DEPARTED.

Per str. Ellora, from SOUTHAMPTON, October 12, to proceed per str. Benares, from SUEZ. For MALTA.—Lieut. Turner, Capt. T. Harvey, Ens. Hall, Capt. Malony. For ALEXANDRIA.—Mr. and Mrs. C. Mercer, Mr. C. Savery, Miss E. and Miss A. Savery, Miss Coates. For BOMBAY.—Mrs. Keating, Miss Luter, Mrs. W. Shewell and infant, Mrs. Watson and infant, Rev. J. K. Weatherhead, Mrs. L. Shepherd and infant, Maj. Henage, Mrs. White, Mr. J. Tweedie, Mr. Coates, Mr. Whyte, Rev. J. Robson, Rev. W. Martin, Miss Somerville, Mr. W. A. Russell, Mr. Mackintosh, Mrs. Walsh and two friends, Capt. C. A. Loch, Mr. Samuel, Miss M. Ker, Mr. and Mrs. Bercher, Mr. Heath, Mr. Gribble, Mrs. Voyle, Maj. W. G. Cunningham, Mr. C. Mann, Ens. Raikes, Capt. Lowe, Mr. Heath, Mr. N. Scott, Mr. Squire, Mr. J. A. Handy, Ens. Surger, Mrs. Scott. For HONG LONG.—Mr. Hutchison, Mr. Spawier. Per str. Vectis, from MARSEILLES, October 20, to proceed per str. Benares, from SUEZ. For BOMBAY.—Mr. F. A. Shubrick, Hon. Mrs. Cunningham, Capt. and Mrs. Holland, Comr. H. Batt, Mr. T. R. Rogers, Mr. D. Macleod, Col. Benson, Mr. C. J. Moore, Lieut. and Mrs. A. Plomer, Mr. Henderson, Mrs. E. Arthur and infant, Mrs. M. Gregor, Rev. J. and Mrs. Mackee, Capt. and Mrs. Prior, Capt. Trevor, Dr. Rock, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Jervoise, Mr. Ashburne, Col. W. H. Smith, Mrs. Cooper, Mrs. Davidson, Capt. J. Black, Capt. Lockwood, Mr. R. Partridge, Mr. R. Harvey. For PENANG.—Mr. and Mrs. Mathieu. For SHANGHAI.—Mr. J. C. Sillar. For MALTA.—Mr. St. vens, Master Tomer, Earl and Countess of Albemarle, Lady Louisa Keppel, Lady Augusta Keppel. For ALEXANDRIA.—Mr. J. Le Marchant and two ladies.

DOMESTIC.

BIRTHS.

ASTON, the wife of Major J. T., late of the Madras Horse Artillery, of a son, at Dresden, Oct. 1.

BUTTER, the wife of J. H., F.R.C.S., Surgeon Major, H.M.'s Bengal Army, of a son, at Haileybury College, near Hertford, Oct. 3.
STUART, the wife of Henry, Bengal Army, of a son, Oct. 10.

MARRIAGES.

BAIN, James, M.D., H.M.'s Bombay Army, to Elizabeth, daughter of the late Edward Piper, Esq., at Hamilton, Lanarkshire, Oct. 4.
FORSYTH, Brev. Maj., late of H.M.'s 57th regt., to Elizabeth E. B., daughter of the late John Horsley, Esq., Civil Service, Madras, at St. John's Church, Paddington, Oct. 9.
JERISON, John H., to Elizabeth, daughter of the late Capt. Gunn, H.E.I.C.S., at St. George's, Hanover-square, Oct. 9.
MACPHERSON, John R., of the Bengal Army, to Barbara, daughter of John K. Keyworth, Esq., at the parish church, Marylebone, Oct. 4.
NEMBIARD, Capt., W., H.M.'s Bengal Army, to Louisa F., daughter of John A. Whealler, Esq., at St. John's Church, Croydon, Oct. 9.
ROOME, Maj. Frederick, H.M.'s 10th Regt., Bombay N.I., to Henriette, daughter of the late Maj. J. A. A. Eckford, Bombay Army, at the British Embassy, Paris, Oct. 9.
SCOR, Capt. Patrick G., H.M.'s Bengal Army, to Elizabeth M., daughter of James Stewart, Esq., at Cairnmore, N.B., Oct. 3.
TOOGOOD, Octavius, H.M.'s Bengal Civil Service, to Clara, daughter of the late Lawrence Gwynne, Esq., LL.D., at St. Michael's Church, Teignmouth, Oct. 11.
VACHELL, Henry T., Bombay Horse Artillery, to Mary G., daughter of John Barthorp, Esq., at Wollesley, Suffolk, Oct. 4.
VIZARD, Lieut. W. J., H.M.'s 35th regt., Madras N.I., to Josephine, daughter of H. R. Oswald, Esq., Douglas, Isle of Man, at St. Thomas' Church, Douglas, Isle of Man, Oct. 11.

DEATHS.

FORSYTH, Rosetta M., wife of John, Director gen. to the Bengal Medical Establishment, Calcutta, at Henley-in-Arden, Warwickshire, aged 59, Oct. 8.
ROBERTS, Maj. gen. Sir Henry Gee, K.C.B., of H.M.'s Bombay Army, at Hazeldine-house, Redmarley, aged 60, Oct. 6.
THOMSON, Emma E., daughter of Capt. Charles, of the Indian Army, at Longparish, Hants, Sept. 5.

India Office,

October 11, 1860.

ARRIVALS REPORTED IN ENGLAND.

CIVIL.
Bengal Estab.—Mr. F. C. Forbes.
Bombay Estab.—Mr. B. H. Ellis.
MILITARY.
Bengal Estab.—Lieut. E. F. Litchfield, 42nd N.I.; Col. W. G. Lennox, 63rd N.I.; Lieut. J. L. Sawers, 37th N.I.
Madras Estab.—Lieut. A. Laughton, 18th N.I.; Lieut. T. Taylor, Inv.; Capt. W. Syme, 11th N.I.; Asst. surg. H. Wester, Med. Est.; Capt. J. J. Adamson, 37th N.I.; Asst. surg. J. Mundv, Med. Est.; Surg. D. Morton, Med. Est.; Brev. Maj. H. Drury, 45th N.I.
Bombay Estab.—Maj. W. Loch, 1st L.C.; Ens. W. H. Yates, 3rd N.I.; Lieut. T. E. Strong, 3rd N.I.; Capt. M. J. Battye, 31st N.I.

NAVAL.

Bombay Estab.—Mr. F. G. Bone, Purser.

GRANTED EXTENSION OF LEAVE.

MILITARY.

Bengal Estab.—Brev. Major T. E. Kerrison, Art., 6 mo.; Capt. R. W. Chambers, 11th N.I., 6 mo.; Maj. A. Martin, 33rd N.I., 3 mo.; Lieut. R. W. Sartorius, 72nd N.I., 6 mo.
Madras Estab.—Lieut. col. G. S. Cotter, Art., 6 mo.; Lieut. C. J. A. Turner, 29th N.I., 6 mo.
Bombay Estab.—Surg. C. Morehead, Med. Est., 6 mo.; Capt. W. Lodwick, 12th N.I., 6 mo.; Lieut. H. Philipps, 29th N.I., 6 mo.; Lieut. S. J. Thorp, 3rd Eur. Regt., 6 mo.; Surg. R. D. Peele, Med. Est., 6 mo.; Lieut. R. A. Stevenson, Art., 6 mo.; Lieut. J. Wauchope, 24th N.I., 6 mo.; Capt. J. S. P. Malcolmson, Art., 4 mo.

PERMITTED TO RETURN TO DUTY.

MILITARY.

Bengal Estab.—Surg. A. White, Med. Est.; Lieut. T. A. M. Biggs, 10th N.I.; Lieut. H. W. Studdy, 32nd N.I.; Brev. Col. J. F. Flemyng, 36th N.I.; Major W. E. Warrand, Eng.; Lieut. H. V. Mathias, 50th N.I.; Brev. Major T. T. Boileau, 2nd L.C.; Capt. H. T. Bartlett, 21st N.I.; Capt. C. M. Young, Art.; Lieut. F. D. Harrington, 12th N.I.; Lieut. F. M. Leslie, 53rd N.I.; Capt. J. S. Tulloh, Art.; Capt. H. Dickson, Art.

Madras Estab.—Asst. surg. W. H. Harris, Med. Est.; Lieut. A. A. G. Dashwood, 3rd Eur. Regt.; Lieut. H. N. D. Prendergast, Eng.; Lieut. T. H. Warden, 18th N.I.; Capt. E. H. Sladen, 1st Eur. Fus.; Brev. Maj. J. C. Anderson, Eng.; Major L. Bridge, Art.; Capt. R. N. Taylor, 17th N.I.; Capt. K. A. Moore, 29th N.I.

Bombay Estab.—Lieut. R. Burd, 10th N.I.; Surg. J. Deas, Med. Est.

BENGAL GOVERNMENT LOANS.

	Buy. s. d.	Sell. s. d.	Actual Sales.
5½ per Cent. Loan of 1859-60	—	—	2 0½
5 p. Ct. Loan of 1854 (P. Works Loan)...	—	—	1 10½
4 per Cent. East-India } Sicca Rs.....	—	—	1 7
Transfer Loan Stock }	—	—	1 11½
New 5 per Cent. Loan of 1856-57.....	—	—	1 7½
4 per Cent. Loan of 1855-56	—	—	1 7
4 per Cent., 1842-43.....	—	—	—

INDIA EXCHANGES.

BILLS.	Bank and Commercial Bills, at 60 days' sight, per Co.'s Rpe.	Indian Govt. Bills, at 60 days' sight, per Co.'s Rpe.	Total for each Mail to Three Presidencies.
Bengal...	2s. 1s. 11½d.	2s. 2d.	£. s. d.
Madras...	1s. 11½d.	2s. 2d.	—
Bombay	2s. 1s. 11½d.	2s. 2½d.	—

Bank of Bengal Post Bills and Indian Government Interest Bills on Calcutta, 1s. 11½d.

STOCKS AND SECURITIES.

Shares.		Paid.	Prices.
£.	India Stock	220	103½
	India Stock (5 per ct.), 1859	103½	80½
	India Enforced Paper 4 pr. ct.	90	—
	India 5 p. ct. Enforced Paper	102½	—
	India Loan Debentures, 1858	96½	—
	India Debentures, 1859	96½	—
	India Enforced Paper, 4 pr. ct.	83½	—
	India 5 per cent. for account... ..	103½	—
	India Bonds (£1,000)	4s. dis. to par.	—
	Ditto (under £1,000)	par.	—
	RAILWAYS.
Stock	Bombay, Baroda, and Central India (guar. 5 per ct.) ..	100	93½ to 94½
	Ditto Additional Capital, A ..	all	—
18	Ditto B	16	1½ to 1½ dis.
18	Calcutta & S. Eastern (lim.) ..	1.3	4½ dis. ½ pm.
5	Ceylon (guar. 6 per ct.)	7½	1½ to 1½ dis.
20	Eastern Bengal (gu. 5 p. ct.) ..	7½	1½ to 1½ dis.
Stock	East Indian	100	99 to 100
100	Ditto 4½ p. ct. debentrs. ..	all	98 to 99
20	Ditto F Ext.	15	½ dis. par.
Stock	Ditto 5 per ct. deb. 1864 ..	100	101 to 102
100	Ditto	75	½ dis. par.
20	Jubbulpore	all	½ dis. par.
Stock	Great Indian Peninsula (guar. 5 per ct.) ..	100	96 to 96½
20	Ditto (New ditto)	8	1½ to 1 dis.
Stock	Great S. of India (Lim.) Scrip (guar. 5 per ct.) ..	13	2½ to 1½ dis.
Stock	Madras (guar. 4½ per ct.) ..	100	83 to 85
Stock	Ditto 5 per cent.	100	93 to 94
Stock	Ditto Extension (guar. 4½ per cent.) ..	100	86 to 88
20	Ditto 4th Extension (guar. 5 per ct.) ..	10	1½ to 1½ dis.
20	Ottoman Rail. (guar. 6 p. ct.) ..	7	—
Stock	Scinde 5 per cent.	all	89 to 100
20	Ditto (New)	15	—
Stock	Ditto Indus Steam Flotilla (guar. 5 per ct.) ..	all	93 to 94
20	Punjab (5 per ct.)	7	1½ to 1½ dis.
	BANKS.
100	Agra and United Service lim. ..	50	78 to 80
40	Amstrasia	all	—
25	Bank of Egypt	all	19 to 20
25	Chart. of Ind., Aus., & China ..	all	20 to 20½
25	Chart. Merc. of India, Lond., and China ..	all	33 to 35
25	Oriental Bank Corporation ..	all	—
20	Ottoman Bank	all	16½ to 17½
	MISCELLANEOUS.
20	Madras Irrig. and Canal	1	1½ to 2½ pm.
20	Nerbudda Coal and Iron	5	2 to 1½ dis.
10	Mediterran. Ext. Tel. (Lim.) ..	all	2 to 4
1	N. B. Australasian Company ..	all	½ to 1½
1	Oriental Gas	all	½ to 1
	Ditto New	15s.	½ dis. to par.
10	Oriental Inland Steam A. ...	6	—
50	P. and O. Steam Nav. Co. ...	all	72 to 74
50	Ditto New	25	12 to 13 pm.
20	Red Sea and Ind. Telegraph ..	17½	7½ to 17½
1	Submarine Telegraph Scrip ..	all	½ to 1
1	Ditto Registered	all	½ to 1
10	Do. do.	all	5 to 7

MR. E. B. BAKER is appointed Assessor of the Income-tax in Howrah, and Mr. G. B. Hampton Collector in Calcutta and the suburbs, including Howrah.

This Day, Two Volumes, Foolscap Octavo, 12s.,
HOPES AND FEARS: or Scenes from the Life of a Spinster. By the Author of "The Heir of Red-clyffe," "Heartsease," &c.
 London: JOHN W. PARKER and SON, West Strand.

This Day, Post Octavo, 9s.,
WEARING THE WILLOW: A Tale of Ireland and Scotland Sixty Years Ago, by the Author of "The Nut-Brown Maids."

By the same Author.
MEG OF ELIBANK AND OTHER TALES, 9s.
THE NUT BROWN MAIDS: A Family Chronicle of the days of Queen Elizabeth. 10s. 6d.
 London: JOHN W. PARKER and SON, West Strand.

This Day, Foolscap Octavo, 6s.,
FAITHFUL FOR EVER. By COVENTRY PATMORE.

By the same Author.
THE ANGEL IN THE HOUSE. Third Edition. 7s. 6d.
 London: JOHN W. PARKER and SON, West Strand.

8vo, Cloth, price 7s.,
BLAIR'S (Rev. Hugh, D.D.) SERMONS, to which is prefixed the Life and Character of the Author. By JAMES FINLAYSON, D.D.; with a Portrait.
 London: WILLIAM TEGG, 12½, Pancras-lane, Queen-street,
 Cheapside, E.C.

18mo, Cloth, price 3s. 6s.; roan, 4s.,
WALKER'S PRONOUNCING DICTION-
ARY. A New Edition. By R. A. DAVENPORT.
 With KEY to CLASSICAL PRONUNCIATION. 18mo, cloth, 4s. 6d.; roan, 5s.
 London: WILLIAM TEGG, 12½, Pancras-lane, Queen-street,
 Cheapside, E.C.

ZADKIEL'S ALMANAC, for 1861, contains the Millennium. The Great Conjunction. Louis Napoleon to "cleanse the Sanctuary." Downfall of Rome—Rise of Jerusalem. Hieroglyphic—Reign of Discord.
 London: G. BEEGER, Holywell-street, Strand.
 Price Sixpence: post free. Sevenpence.

I.
 In post 8vo., Twenty-second Thousand, 7s. 6d.,
CHRIST on the CROSS: Psalm XXII.
 By JOHN STEVENSON, D.D., Vicar of Patricbourne, Canterbury.

II.
 In post 8vo., Twenty-second Thousand, 5s.,
THE LORD OUR SHEPHERD: Psalm
XXIII. And,

III.
 In post 8vo., Sixth Thousand, 6s.,
GRATITUDE: Psalm CIII.
 SEELEY, JACKSON, and HALLIDAY, Fleet-street.

This day is published, post 8vo., price 7s. 6d.,
THE CONSUMMATION. By THOMAS
HUTTON, F.G.S., Capt. Bengal Army.
 Also, by the same Author, 2nd Edition, in 12mo.,
 price 3s. 6d.,

ISRAEL, IN THE PAST, THE PRESENT,
AND THE FUTURE: or, LECTURES ON THE RE-
STORATION OF THE JEWS.

Second Edition, in 8vo., price 10s. 6d.,
THE CHRONOLOGY OF CREATION; or,
GEOLOGY AND SCRIPTURE RECONCILED.
 London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street, E.C.

Just received.
CALCUTTA REVIEW. No. 68.
 Price Seven Shillings.

CONTENTS.

1. Capture of Lucknow.
2. Christianity in India.
3. Oudh.
4. The Ryot in Bengal.
5. Clavijo's Embassy to Timur.
6. Calcutta in 1846.
7. An Indian Staff Corps.
8. The Indigo Blue-book.
9. The British Soldier in India.
10. Critical Notices of Works on India and the East.

CONTENTS OF No. 67.

1. Onfram at the Alumbagh.
2. Colonisation and Settlement in India.
3. Mountstuart Elphinstone.
4. The Law Courts of the Bengal Presidency.
5. Ceylon of Yore.
6. Limitations of Indian Liberty.
7. Indigo Planters and Missionaries.
8. The Wedding at Pattuata.
9. The New Taxes.
10. Critical Notices of Works on India and the East.

CONTENTS OF No. 66.

1. Melanesia and the New French Settlement.
2. The Mahomedans in the Punjab.
3. English Life in Bengal.
4. The French Courts of Justice.
5. Military Hygiene in India.
6. Lord Dalhousie.
7. Forbes's Ras Mala.
8. India as a Career.
9. Critical Notices of Works on India and the East.

London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street, E.C.

CHRISTIAN AND RATHBONE, EAST INDIA AND COLONIAL OUTFITTERS, 11, WIGMORE-STREET, LONDON.

COMPLETE EQUIPMENTS and OUTFITS for Ladies, Officers, Cadets, and Civilians, of the best quality, at the lowest prices for cash. Estimates will be forwarded on application, showing the entire cost of
 OUTFIT and PASSAGE via the CAPE, or OVERLAND.
 ESTABLISHED 1792. 11, WIGMORE-STREET.

Corrected to May 12, 1860.

THE EAST-INDIA REGISTER & ARMY LIST

FOR 1860,
 CONTAINING

Complete Lists of the Servants, at Home and Abroad; Regulations respecting the Appointments to the Civil, Military,
 and Medical Services.

COMPILED BY PERMISSION.

12mo, sewed, 10s.; or, by post, 10s. 6d.;
 or, bound, 11s. 6d.; or, by post, 12s.

London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

AN INTRODUCTION to the GRAMMAR
 of the SANSKRIT LANGUAGE, for the Use of Early
 Students. By H. H. WILSON, M.A., F.R.S., &c., &c. 8vo, cloth, 18s.

London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

Published Weekly, on the 3rd, 10th, 18th, and 26th of each month,

THE HOME NEWS,

PRICE 6d.,

A JOURNAL SPECIALLY DEVOTED TO INDIAN TOPICS AND
 THE GENERAL NEWS OF THE DAY.

The publication of the HOME NEWS weekly instead of fortnightly, as heretofore, rendering it now as available to the English as to the Indian reader, Messrs. GRINDLAY and Co. will be happy to receive names of intending Subscribers, and will forward the HOME NEWS to them on the days of publication.

The HOME NEWS contains a Summary of the Principal
 Events of the Week—Parliamentary Intelligence, with Full Reports of all Indian Debates—East-India House Reports—Foreign Intelligence—Opinions of the Press—Literature—Law and Police Courts—Political, Clerical, and Miscellaneous News
 —Arrivals and Departures of Ships from and to the East—
 List of Passengers Outwards and Home—Army and Navy Promotions and Changes—Births, Marriages, and Deaths—Commercial, &c., &c.

SUBSCRIPTION.

For One Year £1 4s. 6d.

Postage on 18 Numbers 0 4 0

HOME NEWS OFFICES, 63, Cornhill; and
 9, St. Martin's-place, Charing-cross.

Subscribers to Messrs. Grindlay and Co.'s Agency, 24s. per annum in England, are entitled to receive the HOME NEWS free of cost, except for postage, in addition to the use of their Reading Rooms, &c.

SUPERIOR EDUCATION for the DAUGH-
TERS OF GENTLEMEN in a FIRST-CLASS ESTAB-
LISHMENT, West of London. Inclusive Terms, from Sixty to Ninety Guineas per annum. The system adopted combines the most approved features of the Colleges, with the discipline of the School. Professors of eminence attend for all the higher branches of English Instruction, all Accomplishments,
 and Foreign Languages. A French Governess is resident.
 References to Clergymen and others. Situation and Residence
 unexceptionable.

Address ALPHA, Messrs. LEADER and COCK'S, 63, New Bond-street, London.

MILITARY and NAVAL EDUCATION.—

A MARRIED CLERGYMAN, resident at Brighton,
 RECEIVES a limited number of PUPILS, between the ages
 of Twelve and Fifteen, who may be destined for the Military and Naval Professions. With a view to this ultimate object, the entire course of Study, from the outset, is regulated expressly in conformity with the requirements of the Examinations at Addiscombe, Sandhurst, Woolwich, and Portsmouth;
 and every care is taken to direct special attention to those subjects likely to prove professionally useful in the future career of the Naval or Military officer. The Pupils are examined periodically in Mathematics by Professor J. R.
 Young, formerly of Belfast College, and Author of "A Course of Mathematics, Pure and Mixed, for the Use of Candidates for the Military and Civil Service Examinations," &c.; and also in Classics and Modern Languages by Scholars of repute.
 Prospectuses may be had of Messrs. ALLEN and Co., 7,
 Leadenhall-street, London.

ADDISCOMBE DIRECT APPOINT-

MENTS, and WOOLWICH.

The Rev. C. J. HUGHES, M.A., who has Prepared nearly

TWO HUNDRED PUPILS for the above, occasionally has

VACANCIES.

Adelaide Lodge, 61, Finchley Road, St. John's Wood, N.W.

HINDOOSTANI AND PERSIAN.

LESSONS in the above LANGUAGES are given by an INDIAN GENTLEMAN of Twenty Years' Experience as Professor, Interpreter, and Translator;
 who has obtained Certificates of degrees of honour and high proficiency from the Examiners of the College of Fort William. He possesses the most satisfactory testimonials, and can give unexceptionable references.

Address, "ALLY," care of Messrs. ALLEN and Co.,
 7, Leadenhall-street, London, E.C.

CLAPHAM COMMON—UNFURNISHED.

MR. JAMES STEVENS is instructed to LET No. 1, THE CRESCENT, Rent £90. This house is within a few yards of that delightful and healthy spot—Clapham Common, and overlooks a beautiful ornamental enclosure.
 It has just been thoroughly drained with glazed pipes, and put into substantial and ornamental repair, and is fit for immediate occupation. The house contains, on the ground floor, entrance-hall, dining-room and library. Above—double drawing-rooms, with five bed-rooms, very convenient store closets, and excellent domestic offices. Within one mile of the Balham Station for Brighton, Crystal Palace, West end,
 &c. Omnibuses to West-end and City pass constantly.
 JAMES STEVENS, Auctioneer, Clapham Common, S.

APARTMENTS.—CLAPHAM-COMMON,

—Any Gentleman engaged in the City during the day will hear of first-rate Apartments as above, on reference to Messrs. JURNS and LAMBERT, 63, Paternoster-row. The occupant desires to make the Gentleman as comfortable as he could be at his own house, and provides good sitting-room and bed-room, with breakfast, tea, and on Sundays dinner also, for Thirty Shillings a-week. The family is musical, and some members of it having been educated in France, they would not object to conversing in French, or even occasionally giving instruction in that language.

MRS. SWINEY, of No. 9, THE GROVE,

CLAPHAM-COMMON, having a larger house than she requires, would be happy to let a part of it to an Indian family. The house is pleasantly situated, within a convenient distance of town, and several Indians reside near. A family would find this a desirable opportunity of providing themselves with a comfortable home at a moderate price. If desired, the young ladies would converse with the children in French, or give them occasional lessons in that language gratuitously. They are also proficient in music. Mrs. SWINEY offers undeniable references.

CLAPHAM-COMMON.—APARTMENTS.

Handsomely furnished, consisting of Drawing room,
 Dining and Bed-rooms, situated on the south side of the Common.
 For references and terms, apply at Brunswick House,
 Clapham-common.

PERSONS proceeding to INDIA can effect
 ASSURANCES on favourable terms with the COLONIAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

LOANS given to Civil or Military Officers proceeding to India on her Majesty's Service.

Agents at Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, and in all the British Colonies, where premiums can be paid and claims settled.

The Colonial was established in 1816, and its present income is £40,000 per annum.

Subscribed Capital, £1,000,000 sterling.

Constituted by Act of Parliament.

SAMUEL R. FERGUSSON, Res. Sec.

LONDON 81, Lombard-street, E.C., and at Messrs. Paris and Co.'s, No. 10, St. James's-street, S.W.

EDINBURGH (Head Office) 5, George-street.

DUBLIN 63, Upper Sackville-street.

GLASGOW 58, St. Vincent-street.

AN AYAH, who speaks English fluently, is desirous to RETURN to MADRAS. Would give her Services to any Lady going either Overland or by long Sea Voyage in exchange for a Free Passage. The highest testimonials can be given.

Address—Mrs E. Bruce, Durriss, Aberdeen.

FIVE PER CENT. INVESTMENTS.—

Particulars of Investments for LARGE or SMALL SUMS of MONEY, bearing FIVE PER CENT PER ANNUM INTEREST (well secured), withdrawable at notice, may be obtained, on application to THOMAS H. BAYLIS 429, Strand, London.

PROFESSOR WILSON'S GLOSSARY.

GLOSSARY of JUDICIAL and REVENUE

TERMS, and of useful words occurring in official documents relating to the Administration of the Government of British India, from the Arabic, Persian, Hindustani, Sanskrit,
 Hindi, Bengali, Urdu, Marathi, Gujarathi, Telugu, Karnata,
 Tamil, Malayalam, and other Languages, compiled and published under the authority of the hon. the Court of Directors of the E. I. Company. By H. H. WILSON, M.A., F.R.S., &c., &c. 4to, cloth, £2 2s. 6d.

London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

New Edition, 8vo. and 4to. Plates, price 13s.

INTRODUCTORY ESSAY to the Study of FORTIFICATION for Young Officers of the Army

By Major HECTOR STRAITH.

* This work was written to enable young officers to pass their examination for entrance into Her Majesty's and the East-India Company's Armies.

London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

TO RAILWAY AND STEAM SHIPPING COMPANIES.

MACHINE BELTING.

FIRE-ENGINE HOSE AND BUCKETS,

All descriptions of Leather for Exportation.

S. E. NORRIS and CO.,

SHADWELL LONDON,
MANUFACTURERS AND PATENTERS.

OVERLAND ROUTE.—COMMUNICA-

TION by STEAM to INDIA, AUSTRALIA, &c., via Egypt.—The PENINSULAR and ORIENTAL STEAM NAVIGATION COMPANY BOOK PASSENGERS and RECEIVE CARGO and PARCELS for GIBRALTAR, MALTA, EGYPT, ADEN, CEYLON, MADRAS, CALCUTTA, the STRAITS, and CHINA, by their Steamers leaving Southampton on the 4th and 20th of every month. For GIBRALTAR, MALTA, EGYPT, ADEN, and BOMBAY, by those of the 12th and 27th of each month, and for MAURITIUS, REUNION, KING GEORGE'S SOUND, MELBOURNE, and SYDNEY, by the Steamers leaving Southampton on the 20th of every month.

For further particulars, apply at the Company's Offices, 123, Leadenhall-street, London, E.C., or Oriental-place, Southampton.

NOTICE OF REMOVAL.—MESSRS.

GRINDLAY and Co., EAST INDIA ARMY AGENTS, have REMOVED their Offices to No. 53, PARLIAMENT-STREET, CHARING-CROSS, S.W.

EAST-INDIA WINE COMPANY, 55,

Parliament-street, London, S.W.—The following choice WINES delivered CARRIAGE FREE to every railway-station in the Kingdom, and to all parts of London and its environs:—

	Per Doz.
SHERRY	Good 36s.
	Superior Pale 42s. and 44s.
	Mature and Choice, Pale or Gold, 46s. and 48s.
	Very Choice, Pale or Gold 51s.
PORT	Fine Crusted 42s., 44s., and 46s.
	Superior Old Crusted 48s. and 51s.
	Very Fine Beehive ditto 60s.
	Ditto ditto, in pints 33s.
CLARET	St. Julien, Larose, Second and Third Growth 30s. to 51s.
	Chateau Lafitte, Margaux, and Latour, First Growth 78s.
MADEIRA	East-India 63s. to 72s.
	West-India 48s. to 60s.
	Direct 36s. to 51s.
MARSALA	Finest quality 30s.
BUELLAS	Superior 36s. to 42s.
VIDONIA	Finest 32s.
CHAMPAGNE	Fine Sparkling 48s. to 51s.
	Finest quality 72s.
	Ditto pints 36s.
MOSELLE	Finest Sparkling 78s.
HOCK	Ditto ditto 78s.

OTHER GERMAN AND FRENCH WINES. Bottles charged 2s., and Hamper or Cases 1s. per dozen, and allowed for if returned.

WINE IN WOOD SUPPLIED DIRECT FROM THE DOCKS, OR FOR EXPORTATION.

Orders and Communications to be addressed to CHARLES JAY, Manager, East-India Wine Company, 55, Parliament-street, S.W.

The above Wines may be ordered through Messrs. GRINDLAY and Co., East-India Army Agents, 55, Parliament-street, S.W.

CHEVALIER BOWNESS and SON'S

FISHING-TACKLE MANUFACTORY, established upwards of 100 years, 12, Bell-yard, Temple-bar, London, continue only to supply articles of the best manufacture for Mackerel, Salmon, Trout, and general fishing. Complete cases fitted for India, Norway, Canada, and the Continent.

Orders are respectfully requested to be forwarded direct as above.

TEETH WITHOUT SPRINGS.

BY HER MAJESTY'S ROYAL LETTERS PATENT.

Newly-invented and Patented Application of Chemically prepared INDIA-RUBBER in the construction of ARTIFICIAL TEETH, GUMS, and PALATES.

MR. EPHRAIM MOSELY, SURGEON DENTIST, 9, GROSVENOR-STREET, GROSVENOR-SQUARE, Sole Inventor and Patentee.

A new, original, and invaluable invention, consisting in the adaptation, with the most absolute perfection and success, of

CHEMICALLY PREPARED INDIA-RUBBER,

in lieu of the gold or bone frame. The extraordinary results of this application may be briefly noted in a few of their most prominent features:—

All sharp edges are avoided; no springs, wires, or fastenings are required; a greatly increased freedom of suction is supplied, a natural elasticity, hitherto wholly unattainable; and a fit, perfected with the most unerring accuracy, are secured; while, from the softness and flexibility of the agent employed, the greatest support is given to the adjoining teeth when loose, or rendered tender by the absorption of the gums. The acids of the mouth exert no agency on the chemically prepared India-rubber, and, as a non-conductor, fluids of any temperature may with thorough comfort be imbibed and retained in the mouth, all unpleasantness of smell or taste being at the same time wholly provided against by the peculiar nature of its preparation.

Teeth filled with gold, and Mr. Mosely's White Enamel, the only stopping that will not become discoloured; particularly recommended for front teeth.

9, Grosvenor-street, Grosvenor-square, London; 14, Gay-street, Bath; and 10, Eldon-square, Newcastle-on-Tyne.

TO FAMILIES PROCEEDING to INDIA

and the COLONIES.—Owing to the difficulty experienced in procuring REALLY GOOD DRESSING-CASES, TRAVELLING and CARRIAGE-BAGS at the Colonies, Families and Ladies and Gentlemen proceeding abroad are invited to inspect the Stock of DESKS, DESPATCH-BOXES, WORK-BOXES, FINE CUTLERY, KNIVES, SCISSORS, and other FANCY ARTICLES, at 52, NEW BOND-STREET, which will prevent the annoyance so often experienced abroad in purchasing worthless exported articles.

Sole Manufacturers—WILLIAMS and Co., 52, New Bond-street, London, W.

TO PERSONS FURNISHING.

THE most varied and extensive STOCK of CABINET FURNITURE, UPHOLSTERY GOODS, BEDSTEADS, BEDDING, CHIMNEY-GLASSES, DAMASKS, CARPETS, &c., conveniently arranged for public inspection, will be found in the immense Furniture Galleries and Show-rooms of Messrs. DRUCE and Co., Nos. 54, 56, and 69, BAKER-STREET. The price is marked on every article in plain figures, that persons may make their own estimates, as importunity to purchasers is not allowed. Every article being manufactured by first-rate workmen, of the best seasoned materials, a twelve-month's warranty is given.

Purchasers are invited to visit this establishment before deciding elsewhere.

N.B.—Iron Bedsteads, Es. 6d. each; 500 Easy Chairs and 100 Wardrobes to select from. Carpets 1s. per yard under the usual price.

* * Illustrated Books post free.

J. MAPLE and Co.'s NEW ILLUSTRATED

CATALOGUE, containing the Prices of every Article required for completely furnishing a House of any class, post free. This is the largest and most convenient furnishing Establishment in the world. Est. blished Twenty years.

J. MAPLE and Co., 145 and 146, Tottenham-court-road.

HANDSOME BRASS AND IRON BED-

STEADS.—HEAL and SON'S Show Rooms contain a large assortment of Brass Bedsteads, suitable both for Home use and for Tropical Climates; handsome Iron Bedsteads with Brass Mountings and elegantly Japanned; Plain Iron Bedsteads for Servants; every description of Wood Bedstead that is manufactured, in Mahogany, Birch, Walnut-tree Woods, Polished Deal and Japanned, all fitted with Bedding and Furniture complete, as well as every description of Bedroom Furniture.

HEAL AND SON'S ILLUSTRATED

CATALOGUE, containing Designs and Prices of 100 Bedsteads, as well as of 150 different articles of Bedroom Furniture, sent free by post.

HEAL and SON, Bedstead, Bedding, and Bedroom Furniture Manufacturers, 196, Tottenham-court-road, W.

OBTAIN THE IMPERIAL LINEN COM-

PANY'S PRICE LIST, sent free by post, and never buy Household Linens or Family Drapery of any kind without first consulting this useful manual, as you will by it learn to save one-third your outlay, secure first-class goods from the first-class makers, and be in pocket all profits intervening between the producer and consumer.

The THREE-GUINEA SAMPLE PARCEL, containing One rich Hamper double Damask Table-cloth, to dine ten persons, usually £1. 1s.

One very large pair fine Witney Blankets, usually 17s. 6d.

One pair fine wide Russia Sheets, usually 16s. 6d.

One pair magnificent Embroidered Swiss Curtains, usually 19s. 6d.

Half-a-dozen rich Damask Dinner Napkins, usually 10s. 6d.

One elegant Marsella Red-quilt, welted, usually 13s. 6d.

Six Marsella Toilet Covers, fringed, usually 9s. 6d.

One bundle Royal Turkish Towels, fringed, usually 12s. 6d.; and

One dozen fine French Cambric Handkerchiefs, usually 10s. 6d.

All of which will be forwarded to any part on receipt of three guineas.

N.B.—Other articles, of same value, may be substituted, if desired.—Post-office orders payable at Old Cavendish-street.

Bankers—St. SAMUEL SCOTT & Co.

Address—THE IMPERIAL LINEN COMPANY,

53, WIGMORE STREET, CAVENTISH SQUARE, LONDON.

Manager, JAMES THOMAS.

BRITISH COLLEGE OF HEALTH,

Easton-road, London.

THE MORISONIAN SYSTEM OF MEDICINE.

1. The vital principle is in the blood.
2. Everything in the body is derived from the blood.
3. All constitutions are radically the same.
4. All diseases arise from impurity of the blood.
5. Pain and disease have the same origin.
6. From the intimate connection subsisting between mind and body, the health of the one must conduce to the serenity of the other.
7. Proper vegetable purgation is the only medicinal mode for effectually evacuating disease.
8. The discovery of a vegetable medicine was a desideratum.
9. This discovery was made by James Morison, the Hygeist, who also proclaimed "the medical liberty of the subject."

Morison's Medicines are sold by the appointed agents.

WATERPROOF for INDIA.

EDMISTON and SON, Sole Manufacturers

of the only WATERPROOF CLOTHING guaranteed to withstand the climate of India. The FOCKET SHIRAZIA (weight 12 ounces), price 49s. This Coat can be carried in the pocket. Shooting Boots and every requisite for the Sportsman in India. Portable Folding Baths. Air Beds. Water Beds for Invalids, Pillows, &c. Portable India-rubber Boats, to carry one or more persons, weighing from forty to fifty pounds. Price £7. 10s., £10. 10s., and £15. 15s., folding in a compass of three feet.

The SYPHONIA DEPOT, 5, Charing-cross, late 60, Strand, London.

NO ICE REQUIRED to produce common

Ice, Dessert Ices, to Ice Wines, &c., in SIMPSON'S NEW PATENT FREEZING VASE.—This Apparatus is, without exception, the most efficacious, simple, and portable ever produced. By using the Patentee's Freezing Powder, Dessert Ices and Common Ice can be frozen by the most inexperienced, in a few minutes, on the table, or in an invalid's apartment. Residents and travellers in hot climates will find it invaluable, as it produces that luxury—Ice!—at command and only occupies the space of an ordinary hat-case.

Prices: one pint, Four Guineas; three pints, Five Guineas. Freezing Powder, 31s. per cwt. Freezing Pots, Ice Moulds, &c., &c.

SODA-WATER, &c.—Use the "Seltzogene"

(solely of one piece of glass), the only portable apparatus that has the patronage of the medical profession, who recommend it for making pure Soda-water and Aerated Beverages. Metallic impregnation is avoided, there is no leakage, and it is not affected by hot climates.

Prices: two pints, 23s.; three pints, 30s.; five pints, 42s. Powders (forty charges in box), 2s., 10s., and 16s. each. References and descriptive catalogues sent free.

GEO. SIMPSON'S Patent Depot, 315c, Oxford-street, London.

PULVERMACHER'S GALVANIC ANTI-

RHEUMATIC CHAIN-BANDS FOR SELF-APPLICATION.—Unequalled and certain as are the effects of the Chain-Bands in all kinds of Rheumatic Pains, still more remarkable and speedy is the relief they afford in Neuralgia, Tic Doloré, Head and Toothache, &c. Even the most inveterate cases of Paralysis, Epilepsy, Deafness, Gout, Sciatica, Lumbago, Indigestion, Nervous Debility, &c., disappear in a comparatively short time. Prospectuses, recording a vast number of private cures and extracts from numbers of scientific works, sent free. Chain-Bands, 5s., 10s., 15s., 22s., according to power.

J. L. PULVERMACHER and Co., 73, Oxford-street, adjoining the Princess's Theatre, London, and all Chemists.

HOLLOWAYS'S PILLS.—SLIGHT AND

SEVERE DISEASES.—It is comforting and satisfactory to know that the operation of these famous pills is not limited to the cure of those violent internal distempers for which they are successfully administered in England and foreign countries. They act also as an immediate corrective in the lesser ailments incident to both sexes. Nothing excels them for curing the diseases of children, such as colic, constipation, headache, worms, and all disorders of the skin; they likewise regulate the digestion and stimulate every organ to healthy action. In diseases of the liver, kidneys, and spleen, they invariably afford immediate relief and ultimate cure. In fact, in all complaints to which mankind is liable no medicine is so efficient.

KEATING'S COUGH LOZENGES.

JUDGED BY THE IMMENSE DEMAND,

this UNIVERSAL REMEDY now stands the first in public favour and confidence; this result has been acquired by the test of fifty years' experience. These Lozenges may be found on sale in every British Colony, and throughout India and China. They have been highly esteemed wherever introduced. For COUGHS, ASTHMA, and all affections of the Throat and Chest, they are the most agreeable and efficacious remedy.

Prepared and Sold in Boxes and Tins of various sizes, by THOMAS KEATING, Chemist, &c., 79, St. Paul's Church-yard, London. Sold Retail by all Druggists and Patent Medicine Vendors in the world.

N.B. To prevent spurious imitations, please to observe that the words "KEATING'S COUGH LOZENGES" are engraved on the Government Stamp of each Box, without which none are genuine.

DINNEFORD'S PURE FLUID MAG-

NESIA has been, during twenty-five years, sanctioned by the medical profession and universally accepted by the public as the best remedy for Acidity of the Stomach, Heartburn, Headache, Gout, and Indigestion. As a mild aperient it is admirably adapted for ladies and children, and it is invaluable in warm climates. Manufactured with the utmost attention to strength and purity by DINNEFORD and Co., 172, New Bond-street, London; and sold by all respectable chemists throughout the Empire.

ARTIFICIAL TEETH, SET in the new

CHEMICALLY PREPARED INDIA-RUBBER, forming a beautifully fitting plate to the gums, or over stumps, without producing the slightest pain, and on this plan it is impossible to detect them as artificial when the workmanship is of superior order. Mr. BRADSHAW can, with the greatest confidence, undertake any case, no matter how difficult, with certain success, being a thoroughly practical workman, supplying for many years the first dentists of the day with their most particular work in Artificial Teeth. Doing all his own work himself, he is enabled to supply his patients at an exceedingly moderate price. Single Tooth, from 3s. 6d. to 10s. 6d.; a Complete Upper or Lower Set, from 42 to 45. Mr. Bradshaw, Dentist, 20, Great Portland-street, Oxford-circus.

COMMANS'S CELEBRATED ARECA-

NUT TOOTH-PASTE is used by her Majesty and the Royal Family.—Has been examined, approved, is used and recommended, by many of our first physicians and dentists as the best preparation known for cleaning and preserving the teeth. Testimonials have been received, unsolicited, from many of the nobility and gentry. The following is amongst the many in testimony of its high value.

"Liverpool, August, 1859.
"I have much pleasure in offering my testimony to the value of your Areca-nut Tooth Paste, and have no hesitation in saying that it is the most efficacious and agreeable Dentifrice ever produced. I have recommended its use to my patients for some years."
"W. J. NEWMAN,

"Surgeon Dentist to the Liverpool Infirmary for Children."

Prepared only by COMMANS, Chemist, Bath, in pots, 2s. each; to be procured of all Chemists, through the Wholesale Agents, Barclay, Edwards, London; Oldham and Co., Dublin; Duncan and Flockhart, Edinburgh.

NOW READY,

PRICE 8s. 6d.

SANCTIONED BY H.R.H. THE GENERAL COMMANDING-IN-CHIEF.

UNIFORM WITH THE POCKET EDITIONS OF THE "FIELD EXERCISE," AND "QUEEN'S REGULATIONS,"

MANUAL OF MILITARY LAW,

FOR ALL RANKS OF THE

ARMY, MILITIA, AND VOLUNTEER SERVICES;

COMPRISING

AN ACCOUNT OF THE CONSTITUTION, COMPOSITION, AND PROCEDURE OF COURTS-MARTIAL;

And a Detail of the Crimes that may be tried and the Sentences that may be awarded by each description of Court.

ALSO,

A NOTICE OF THE PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE OF COURTS OF INQUIRY,

AND

A SHORT EXPOSITION OF THE LAW OF EVIDENCE,

TO WHICH IS ADDED,

AN ABSTRACT OF THE ACTS GOVERNING THE VOLUNTEER FORCE,

AN

ACCOUNT OF THE LAW RELATING TO RECRUITING,

AND

A Review of the Duties, Obligations, and Liabilities of Soldiers to Civilians and the Civil Power; of the Duties of Civilians towards the Military; and of the Legal Rights, Privileges, and Exemptions of Soldiers.

BY

COLONEL J. K. PIPON,

Assistant Adjutant-general at Head Quarters.

AND

J. F. COLLIER, Esq.,

Of the Inner Temple, Barrister-at-Law.

HORSE GUARDS, October 12, 1860.

His Royal Highness the General Commanding-in-Chief has been pleased to sanction the publication of "A Manual of Military Law," by Colonel Pipon, Assistant Adjutant-General to the Forces, which he considers will be a most useful addition to the books required by regulation to be in the possession of the officers of the Army. It contains much instructive matter.

(Signed) J. YORKE SCARLETT, Adj.-Gen.

PREFACE.

The Mutiny Act and Articles of War having undergone considerable amendment in the present Session of Parliament, it has appeared to the authors a fitting opportunity to lay before the military profession a concise treatise on the laws under which they serve.

In so doing they have not confined their attention to Courts-martial, but have endeavoured to provide the soldier of every rank and every service with the means of ascertaining his privileges as well as his duties and liabilities.

The Acts relating to the Militia have all been enumerated, but their bulk renders it impossible to give them at length in a work like the present. The Government having pledged themselves to consolidate the Militia laws next Session, perhaps there may then be some hope of presenting them to the reader in a comprehensive form. The Militia Bill of the present session, as it introduces some new and important provisions, is given at length in the Appendix.

A full abstract of the Laws affecting Volunteers and Yeomanry Corps occupies a separate chapter, and the Act whereby they are enabled to acquire lands for practice grounds (which at the time these words are written is yet before Parliament), will likewise be added.

A shorter and more popular notice of these Acts might have been more agreeable to the majority of readers, but in the hope of making this book useful as a book of reference, not only to Volunteers, but to magistrates and other civil dignitaries, it has been deemed more advantageous to ensure accuracy by quoting the words of the enactments, than by curtailment to risk the omission of important matter. Any reader disinclined to peruse the Acts at length, may find any subject on which he desires to inform himself by reference to the Index.

The question of Tolls on the Metropolitan Bridges having lately excited some controversy, a notice of the exemption clauses in the several Acts will be found in the Appendix, where also the late General Order relative to retired pay to Adjutants of Volunteers has been subjoined.

The authors feel that they owe some apology for publishing a law book in the present novel form; but after much consideration and many friendly suggestions, they have preferred to compress matter which would well have filled a more bulky volume, into this handy and inexpensive shape, in order to bring it within the reach of every one.

Before concluding this preface, the authors are bound to record their obligations to that very useful and elaborate work, "Hough's Military Precedents," without the assistance of which their labour would have been much extended. They have also to acknowledge the assistance of "Simmons on Courts-martial;" "D'Aguilar on Courts-martial;" and H. B. Thompson's "Military Forces of Great Britain."

London, October, 1860.

LONDON: WM. H. ALLEN AND CO., 7, LEADENHALL-STREET. 1860.

LONDON:—Printed by RICHARD KINDER, Printer, at his Printing Office, Angel-court, Skinner-street, in the Parish of St. Sepulchre; and published by JAMES PEARCE ALLEN, 7, Leadenhall-street, both in the County of Middlesex.—October 16, 1860.

ALLEN'S INDIAN MAIL

AND OFFICIAL GAZETTE

FROM

BRITISH & FOREIGN INDIA, CHINA, & ALL PARTS OF THE EAST

(WITH THIS PAPER "THE INDIAN NEWS" IS NOW INCORPORATED.)

VOL. XVIII.—No. 459.]

LONDON, MONDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1860.

[PRICE 6d.]

CONTENTS.

SUMMARY AND REVIEW	769
BENGAL:—
The English Budget System in India.....	770
Taxation and Retrenchment.....	770
English Society in India	771
Miscellaneous	771
Shipping and Commercial	774
MADRAS:—
Miscellaneous	775
BOMBAY:—
Miscellaneous	775
Shipping and Commercial	777
OFFICIAL GAZETTE.....	777
DOMESTIC	780
ORIGINAL ARTICLES:—
Sikh Regiments for General Service	781
The Governing Classes of India—No. I.—Introductory	781
"A Daniel come to Judgment!"	782
HOME:—
Shipping and Domestic	782
Arrivals, &c., reported at the India Office	783
STOCKS AND SECURITIES.....	783

DATES OF ADVICES.

Bengal	Sept. 16	Burmah(Rangoon)	Aug 26
Madras	" 18	Bombay	Sept. 26
Agra	" 4	Ceylon	" 15
China (Hong-Kong)	August 25.

MAILS TO INDIA.

Mails to India and China, via Marseilles, are despatched from London as follows, viz.—Those for Bombay packets, on the evenings of the 3rd and 18th of each month; and those for Calcutta packets (including mails for Ceylon, Madras, and China), on the evenings of the 10th and 26th of each month. When any of these dates falls on a Sunday, the mails are made up on the following evening.

Letters and Newspapers can be forwarded to any part of India via Bombay and Marseilles, and in most cases will reach their destination some days sooner than if despatched by the following Calcutta mail. The Bombay mails via Southampton, however, are no longer available for the transmission of Letters or Newspapers to the Madras Presidency.

Mails for the Mediterranean and all parts of India, except the Bombay Presidency, are despatched via Southampton on the mornings of the 4th and 20th, or, when either of these dates falls on Sunday, upon the previous evening.

Mails for the Mediterranean, the Presidency of Bombay, and Upper or North-West Provinces of Bengal, are despatched via Southampton, on the 12th and 27th of the month, except when these dates fall on Sunday, in which case they are forwarded on the previous evening.

POSTAGE.

Via Southampton (pre-payment compulsory), letters under

1 oz. 0s. 6d.	3 oz. 2s. 0d.	4 oz. 4s. 0d.
1 oz. 1s. 0d.	3 oz. 3s. 0d.	5 oz. 5s. 0d.

Books, with the ends of the covers open (not exceeding 3 lbs. in weight), if sent via Southampton, under 1 lb. 4d.; under 1 lb. 8d.; under 1 lb. 1s. 4d.; under 1 lb. 2s.; under 1 lb. 3s. 8d.; under 2 lbs. 3s. 4d.; and under 3 lbs. 4s. Postage-stamps must be affixed.

Via Marseilles (pre-payment compulsory), letters under

1 oz. 0s. 9d.	1 oz. 1s. 9d.	1 lb. 3s. 3d.
1 oz. 1s. 0d.	1 oz. 2s. 0d.	1 lb. 4s. 0d.

Newspapers for the East Indies, when not exceeding 4 oz. 3d. each, when above 4 oz. and not exceeding 8 oz., 3d. each—an additional penny being charged for every additional 4 oz. or fraction thereof. For all countries or places eastward of Suez, the charge is 2d., whatever the weight of the newspaper.

Books under 1 lb. 6d.; under 1 lb. 1s.; and for every additional 1 lb., an additional 1s.

The Mails for China are despatched at the same rate of postage as those to India, but must be pre-paid.

SUMMARY AND REVIEW.

THE intelligence received by the Bombay Mail of the 26th September is in many respects very remarkable. It is, in fact, a series of explanations, the necessity for which betokens deplorable weakness on the part of any Government. In the first place, we have the Governor-general stultifying one of the latest and most unpopular measures of the Legislative Council—the Arms Act—by sanctioning the formation of Volunteer Rifle Corps throughout the dominions subject to his sway. We assume that his Excellency limits this privilege to Europeans and Christians of mixed descent, for otherwise a more dangerous proceeding could scarcely be imagined. But of this there can be no reasonable doubt. In every station, then, a rifle corps may be formed; and where the interference of Government is desired, rifles, bayonets, and accoutrements will be gratuitously supplied to any corps not less than fifty strong. A drill instructor will also be supplied, and likewise practice ammunition; and the hope is even held out that the military practice ground and targets will be laid open to each local corps. The choice of a uniform and the selection of officers will rest with the volunteers themselves, subject, of course, to the approval of the Government, which is not likely to be withheld except on very good grounds.

The second explanation proves that Lord Canning is, at least, not a Bourbon—if he forget nothing, he can learn something. The loss of ten thousand European soldiers has not been altogether thrown away upon the noble viscount, and proper precautions have consequently been taken to prevent a similar catastrophe illustrating Sir Charles Wood's Bill for the suspension of further recruiting for the local army. Rumours, it seems, were rife as to the existence of wide-spread discontent, and of a resolution on the part of the local European soldiery to follow the recent example of their discharged comrades. The report was, no doubt, exaggerated; but the Government did wisely to stem the growing torrent of disaffection by the promulgation of a General Order to assure them that their position would in no way be affected by the new Act. They had enlisted to serve the Queen under certain conditions, and those conditions would be religiously observed. They had accepted service east of the Cape, and east of the Cape they would remain until the period for their discharge arrived. Then they would have the option of re-enlisting for general service or take their dismissal. Nothing could be more fair or explicit; and if a similar course had been pursued on the former occasion, the Government would not now have to lament the loss of so many brave and war-trained soldiers.

There is yet a third explanation to notice. Some little time ago a circular order appeared enjoining the destruction of "soldiers' pets," and which naturally exasperated the men to a dangerous extent. At Peshawur, maddened by indignation at what they considered an act of unfeeling tyranny, they butchered all their tame birds, monkeys, dogs, and other animals in the most ruthless manner, and, doubtless, conceived an effable disgust for a service which could call for such unnecessary sacrifices. Sir Hugh Rose, however, repudiates the order issued in his name, and it is to be hoped will take care that the real offender shall not pass unpunished and unrebuked. It is thus the Commander-in-Chief expresses himself on the subject:—

Head Quarters, Calcutta, Sept. 14, 1860.

A departmental circular was issued lately from Simla, without the knowledge of the Commander-in-Chief, respecting what are called soldiers' pets.

Sir Hugh Rose, whether in Bombay or Bengal, has seen with pleasure these pets; because they are a source of harmless amusement to the soldiers, and impart to their barrack-rooms the associations of home.

Barracks can be in excellent order, and none the worse, because the soldiers keep a few birds, or a company its dog.

His Excellency directs that soldiers may continue to keep their pets, provided this indulgence be kept within proper bounds.

By order of his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, W. MAYHEW, Lieut.-Colonel, Adjutant-general of the Army.

Whatever may be the inferences the public will draw as to the internal discipline of the Indian War department, they must perforce acquit Sir Hugh Rose of any design to wage war upon dogs, turtle-doves, and mungoes. But a fourth explanation now presents itself. Officers asking for leave of absence have been required by a very recent order to send in an account of their services, and this, for obvious reasons, was in many quarters regarded with dissatisfaction. Indeed, it is an unfair and invidious requisition, and one which no military man would be capable of initiating. In India especially it falls to the lot of some of the ablest and bravest men to do essential service to their country without scarcely ever seeing a shot fired in anger; while it may easily be the fate of a dunder-headed subaltern to be present at any number of battles and skirmishes without any advantage to his own side or any detriment to the enemy. It now appears that the objectionable order in question emanated from the Home Government, who were anxious to obtain a record of every officer's services (?), and that Sir Hugh Rose had no option as to its publication. So much for civilian interfering with what they do not understand.

We regret to observe that fresh disturbances are reported as having taken place in the Kattiawar district, though not to a serious extent. The 2nd Grenadiers, however, have been despatched from Kurrachee to Dwarka. In Central India, if the Englishman be correct, tranquillity is likely to be fully restored by the capture of Prince Feroze Shah, of the Royal house of Delhi. A magnanimous government would offer him the command of a regiment of irregular cavalry; in any case, as he was not implicated in the Delhi murders, we trust Lord Canning will not suffer him to be hanged. In the Neilgherries a Bombay officer, Captain Green, is supposed to have been murdered by his servants, a father and two sons—all three Mahomedans—but the motive, unless it were fanaticism, has not been discovered.

The Lucknow Scandal now appears under a different phase. Unjore Tewarry, Colonel Inglis's spy, seems to have been guilty of wilful perjury, and of having falsely and foully conspired against Ram Dial. This does not, however, affect the general tenor of the article we give elsewhere on the subject of Mr. E. G. Fraser's summing up on the former trial. Though defended by Mr. Norris, "a gentleman of high character and position"—says the Bombay Gazette—"who practises at Agra," the facts were too stubborn to be resisted, and the following telegram shows the utter hopelessness of the case.

LUCKNOW, Saturday, Sept. 22.

The defence of Unjore Tewarry has broken down. After a two hours' speech, Norris, of Agra, the special advocate sent by subscription, refused to file the defence.
Court closed.

The Report of the Indigo Commissioners has at length been published, but we reserve our comments until our next issue.

We take this opportunity of directing the attention of our readers to the announcement that the "Manual of Military Law," compiled by Colonel Pipon and Mr. J. F. Collier, has received the sanction of H.R.H. the General Commanding-in-Chief. This Manual comprises, in a portable form, all that relates to courts-martial, or courts of inquiry, the law of evidence, the law and practice of recruiting, the acts governing the Volunteer Force, and the mutual duties, liabilities, and obligations of soldiers and civilians. It will be found to be not less accurate than comprehensive.

Casualties by Death in the Armies of India reported since last Publication.

H.M.'s FORCES.—Lieut. T. M. Traill, Royal Art., at Fyzabad, Sept. 2.

BENGAL.—Lieut. John L. Sawers, H.M.'s Bengal army, in London, Oct. 12; Lieut. John W. Campbell, 51st Bengal N.I., at Asnee, Sept. 12.

MADRAS.—Capt. Benjamin Wyld, 3rd Madras European Regt., at Caunpore, Aug. 30; Capt. F. R. C. East, 8th Madras Cavalry, at Ootacamund, Sept. 15.

BOMBAY.—Capt. Green, Bombay Invalid Establishment, in the Neilgherries, Sept. 12. [Supposed to have been murdered by his native servant.] Capt. J. W. Cottell, Bombay army, at Tuffnell-park-terrace, Upper Holloway, Oct. 18.

Passengers by the present Mail.

FOR MARSEILLES.—From BOMBAY.—Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Coghlan, Col. Woodham, Capt. Campbell, Royal Art., Lieut. H. Harrison, Mr. J. A. Hankey.

Expected at Southampton.

Per str. Indus, Oct. 26.—Mr. Lawson, Asst. surg. Kearney, Mr. H. Vardy, Dr. Hogel, Mr. and Mrs. Watkins, Lieut. and Mrs. Fergusson and infant, Mr. Lancaster, Col. and Mrs. Birdwood and five children, Mrs. Stanley and infant, Maj. Vacher, H.M.'s 33rd Foot, Mr. H. Johnston, Mr. Boys, Mrs. Finnimore and three children, Mrs. Goldsmid and infant, Mrs. Phayre and three children, Mr. Hill, Lieut. McGilivray.

BENGAL.

THE ENGLISH BUDGET SYSTEM IN INDIA.

The proposed introduction of the English budget system into this country is, we fear, likely to prove a failure, first, for want of men competent to carry it out, and, secondly, because the old hands are so wedded to the old practice of depriving heads of departments of the control of all their transactions that change seems almost impracticable. No just or comprehensive scheme of administration has ever yet found favour in India. Our whole Governmental structure was put together in a haphazard sort of way, without regard either to the fitness of men for their work, or to the mischief sure to be caused by the incongruity of appointing one man to discharge various duties wholly inconsistent with, or radically opposed to, one another. To speak of an Indian system were to give this shapeless mass of contradictions a misnomer. It is only the invincible energy of the English race, coupled with a marvellous good luck, that has enabled us to drag on our existence to this day with no worse misfortune than the absolute break down of our finances. With the best material in the world for executing our plans, the organisation of our Government has been from the first so defective that everywhere the genius of mismanagement seems to have been at work. Look, for instance, at the abnormal powers possessed by the Military Secretary to Government. This officer directs the operations of both army and navy; and it is a well-known fact that, in the Persian war of 1857, the fleet was ordered to rendezvous at a place a hundred miles out of its proper course, causing a useless expenditure of a few lacs of rupees, solely because the Military Secretary was utterly ignorant of navigation, and the plans were prepared without any naval officer being consulted.

So, the Audit Department in this country is the great obstacle to financial reform and reduction of expense, for the reason that it attempts to perform work which the heads of the different departments alone can do satisfactorily. For instance, what can the Auditor-general know as to the ordnance equipment necessary for a field force or an army? Again, what can he know of the requirements of the navy? Yet he has the whole and sole control of the expenditure on these heads. What is the inevitable consequence? Why, the heads of departments become disgusted with interference which is often unnecessary and unwarrantable, and are content to let things go on in the old fashion, since they find themselves without power to effect such retrenchments as they know to be possible and useful.

It was hoped that, by the introduction of the budget system, the heads of departments would be vested, as at home, with the sole control of their own business; that they would, every year, carefully consider what amount under the different heads of expenditure was required to carry on the service, and what reforms could be safely effected, and that those estimates would be strictly examined before being sanctioned. The duty of the audit department would then be, as at home, simply to take care the amount sanctioned was not exceeded. But this looked-for change is not to be made. True, the estimates will be made out a little more in detail, but not by the officers at the heads of departments, and thus the whole reform so much boasted of turns out to be a farce. A very expensive farce too; for we have now another audit board at Calcutta, and the military finance commission has been turned into a third board. Really, there seems no hope for India, financially at any rate, until we get "more men from England."—Bombay Gazette.

TAXATION AND RETRENCHMENT.

A rupee has long ceased to represent half-a-crown or even two shillings, and we much doubt whether it will continue to represent the popular notion that a shilling's worth in England can be procured for only twice that sum in India. For the first time in Indian history it is possible that all classes may think of regulating their expenditure. The pressure, as everyone in Lower Bengal knows, falls most heavily on residents in Calcutta. House rent, always high, has been on the increase for some years, and it will scarcely be lowered by the exertions even of the frequent redemptor who may deposit his cementa on the spaces purchased and cleared away in Chowringhee by the order of the Municipal Commissioners. The prices of all ordinary articles of consumption are not likely to fall, even after two possible years of plenty, to what they were five years ago. Municipal taxes have become regular items in the quarterly accounts of every household, and, lastly, we have the income-tax, which from its very title and mode of operation is admirably calculated to make each household cogitate as to what superfluities he can really retrench. Let no one say that the topics which we are about to discuss are trivial or unworthy of notice. We believe that the means of diminishing expenses are available to most members of the community, if they only choose to exert themselves.

First, let us look at domestic economy and superfluous servants. It is quite in accordance with the theory and practice of Eastern life from the "Arabian Nights" downwards, that the master of the house or a steward should proceed to the bazaar, go the round of the shops and make purchases of all articles which, when united, form a substantial meal. That there should be in all Calcutta houses a well-fed Mahomedan whom the unlearned call a consumer, with unconscious satire, and whom correct Hindustani scholars designate as the Lord of the Goods; that in an age of plenty and with teeming bazaars regularly supplied it should be necessary for this functionary to go regularly every day and act as mediator between the Calcutta citizen and his fishmonger and butcher; that in this way the table expenses should be unnecessarily lengthened, and the temper of the master or mistress be worked into fits of exasperation at least two or three times a month—are all canons which hitherto it has been thought unreasonable or presumptuous to question. We are warned, in excuse, of the cheapness of labour, of the tenacity of custom, and of the perishable nature of provisions in this climate. But no labour is cheap that is not required, nor is any custom so inveterate that it may not yield to necessity; nor would provisions deteriorate sooner if they came from the bazaar direct to the house without the useless and expensive interventions of the khan-saman. There is really, if we fairly consider it, no practical reason why a khan-saman should be more needed in Park-street, Calcutta, than in Park-lane, London. The institution saves a little trouble, and that is all. The time is come when it would be quite possible, looking to the regular demand and supply of articles of consumption, to dispense with such an animal altogether. Some attempts have been already made, with partial success, to abolish this mediation, and one or two persons announcing themselves as purveyors of bazaar supplies at the market price with a fixed remuneration for service, have established themselves in this line of business. With a little more enterprise on the part of a few more individuals of the same class, and a little exhibition of unity of purpose on the part of the community, the nuisance of an extra domestic, licensed on Rs. 10 a month to cheat to the utmost limits of his master's credulity or good nature, might be entirely swept away. It is high time that every man who wishes to practise economy should keep a regular set of books, and should be able to deal with his own butcher, his own fishmonger, and his own greengrocer, or with all three in one in Calcutta, as he would do in one of those pleasant terraces where old Indians congregate to the north of Hyde-park.

A supply of pure and wholesome water is another desideratum. As regards drinking-water, every man at this season of the year can lay in a store sufficient for a whole twelvemonth. But the constant demand for the bath, and for other household purposes, has condemned us to employ the services of an individual whom the Emperor Baber, for aught we know to the contrary, in some fit of envy at the coolness of his occupation, or in a mere spirit of mockery at its lowness, chose to denominate "an inhabitant of Paradise." We are told that the hydraulic pressure requisite to force water up to the top of a three-storied house in Chowringhee would entail a heavy expenditure, demanding from each householder supplied by a new water company a monthly sum far exceeding the traditional Rs. 5 which we pay to our bihishly or bheesty. But one large establishment in Calcutta has already found it possible to dispense with the whole of this class of servants, and we have no business to be sceptical, who, in spite of prophecies of failure, have lived to see Calcutta fairly lit with gas. We want a reservoir in each house, and a company of which the shares shall be Rs. 50 or Rs. 100.

Next come the crowd of other domestic servants. To keep up the complement of mate-bearers to the highest possible mark will always be the endeavour of every lazy sirdar. And there is no doubt that the ravages of climate and insects entail far more constant dusting and sorting than perhaps Englishmen require anywhere except in the West Indies: nor do we expect that the work of three Bengalees or Ooriyas will ever, at its best, do more than equal the result of one Englishman's labour. But in the article of syces there is abundant room for economy. It is a well-known maxim of hunting-men at home that one groom can look after two horses and a half; in other words, that two men, i.e. a groom and a helper are equal to the care of five horses. Without looking for such exertions on the part of Mirjan and Buxoo, we are certain that it is time for prudent and determined householders to resent the tyranny which inflicts on them a fresh syce for every additional piece of horse-flesh. Two syces are certainly equal to the care of three horses, even in a Neapolitan atmosphere of laziness, and an extra rupee of wages to each syce for the slight additional labour, would still leave room for saving. There is no reason, either, why the most intelligent and able syces should not learn to drive, as they already do in some families of moderate means. A durwan, we fear, is a necessary incumbrance, and as long as the writing of notes relieves the vacant hours of some, or employs the few spare minutes of others, so long will chuprassees be necessary, especially if the number of officials of this description be reduced.

Economy in some direction has become imperative. In the number of servants and in the excellence of its furniture Calcutta has always been extravagant. And proximity to Europe is not likely to make us spend less in dress or books, or other articles of convenience and luxury. We hope that a few years may see a decrease in the number of servants, and that a particular class may become as obsolete as a hookahburdar. We had much rather that retrenchment should take this practical course than that the community should lose its well-earned character of being the readiest to support schools, to extend missions, and to give substantial relief to the shipwrecked mariner and the starving widow.—Friend of India.

ENGLISH SOCIETY IN INDIA.

What India wants at the present moment is not a successor to Mr. Wilson, but a social reformer. The Income-tax is quite safe; all we now have to do is to pay it, and, before we can accomplish this difficult task without reflecting in our secret hearts on the costliness of patriotism, we must have some one to supplement the financial measures of the Government, with hints as to the means by which the impost may be most lightly felt. The collectors, assessors, and commissioners have had their instructions and suggestions; is there no one to do a similar kind office for the poor tax-payer? In truth, the position of the Anglo-Indian in these days is no laughing matter. At home we see that the Morning Post laments the decay of English decorum and morality in fashionable circles, and records the success with which the Aspasia of London have broken down the barriers once opposed to them by the fastidiousness of polite society. It is a proud satisfaction to us in India to think that in this respect we have not degenerated. Morals are at as high a premium here as in any country in the world; and, indeed, society has become so correct that we shall soon be able to offer ourselves as patterns to the misguided people in England.

But if Anglo-Indian society is more decent, it is also more extravagant than of yore. Extravagance is epidemic among us. No one can fail to be struck with the startling paradox that in a country in which the wages of labour are unusually low, and in which there exist, developed or undeveloped, means of supplying in abundance all the comforts and luxuries of life, Europeans live more expensively than they would at the hotels in Paris or Vienna, which are most famed for extortion. There is no lesson in life so hard to learn as the value of money. Those who have amassed the most appreciate it most highly, and are most careful not to part with it; while on the other hand it will generally be found that men who squander it away have had little or no experience of the advantages which wealth confers. And in this we find an explanation of the lavishness displayed in India. We have no capitalist class among the English colonists—no proud aristocracy with great domains—no merchant princes who can distance all competition for social distinction, and maintain the splendour becoming their rank and wealth, without exciting a ruinous rivalry among their less fortunate fellow-countrymen. We are at the best but a society of adventurers—with our little cliques and sets, of course, corresponding in appearance with the grades of society at home. We have all come out here poor men, and are making money much faster than we ever did in our lives before, and, as each man considers himself as good as any of the rest, there arises a desire to excel each other in the show of wealth. There has probably never been more absurd and reckless waste of money than among the gold-diggers of Australia and California; and each Anglo-Indian is a successful fortune-hunter with all the failings of the class. It might be supposed that the civilians would give a better tone to society. But a false standard of living was set up in the good old days when it was a writer's own fault if he did not soon secure a fortune, and when all the civil servants could afford to be careless of money. The iron bands of routine are stronger here than even in Europe; a custom once fixed becomes as the laws of the Medes and Persians, and cannot be changed, so that to this day the young civilian is compelled, on coming out to India, to assume the state of a great officer of Government, and to plunge himself into debt before he has had time to think of the depth of the abyss into which he is falling. It is the same thing in the army. How many subalterns are not so hampered by the debts they have contracted in order to keep up appearances on first coming out, that they become miserable and reckless, and so hasten the catastrophe which by energy and good conduct they might yet avoid? No encouragement is given to either a young soldier or a young civilian to practice economy. Indeed, with all their efforts, it is not easy to see how they could save anything till the habits and constitution of society are entirely revolutionised. Of course, a highly conscientious and determined man—justus et propositi tenax—will take care to live on his income. We all know Mr. Micawber's golden rule, which is adapted to the means of the humblest member of society:—"Annual income, twenty pounds; annual expenditure, nineteen, nineteen six; result, happiness. Annual income, twenty pounds; annual expenditure, twenty, ought, six; result, misery." But, with the best resolutions in the world, how many men in this country can for the first two or three years keep their expenditure within their income?

It is, perhaps, scarcely worth while to lay bare this social evil unless we have a remedy to propose. But we frankly confess we have none. Still, if the tone of society cannot be at once changed by a moral essay, some benefit may result if only discussion on the subject of Anglo-Indian extravagance be awakened. Few of us can renounce our darling sins, but at least we may try to discover and use palliatives. The Friend of India calls upon the upper ten thousand of Calcutta to set a noble example to the rest of India by discarding their butlers and some of their grooms and water-carriers. The advice is very sensible, and there is no reason why it should not be acted upon here. The model Anglo-Indian, who never does a thing for himself the whole day but eat, drink, and sleep, from the time he is awakened by his barber shaving him in bed till he is undressed by his boy and retires to rest again at night, is happily a rare being in these days. Frequent communication with England has infused a little more English spirit into the European population of India. We are most of us conscious, at least, that all is not right, eager for change, and anxious to help ourselves. Only the demon Custom restrains us. We are all afraid to do what we know is right, because we doubt what Mrs. Grundy will say. Still, there are symptoms of reform; and, if we can induce people to talk and think more about such matters (which are of more real importance to us than the massacre of Christians in Syria or the progress of Garibaldi in Italy) our object is accomplished.—Bombay Gazette.

MISCELLANEOUS.

H.M.'s 75TH REGIMENT.—We (North West Gazette) are sorry to hear that a court of inquiry is sitting upon H.M.'s 75th Regiment. It appears that the officer commanding entertains an idea that the whole of the officers of his regiment have entered into a combination against him. We are afraid that it must result either in the removal of the commanding officer, or in the whole of the officers at present doing duty with the head-quarters being brought to a court martial.

A NATIVE LEGEND.—A trader at Mount Aboo, some three years ago, sent two young sons on a round of pilgrimage to the sacred places of Northern India. At parting he gave each of the lads ten rupees for his expenses, assuring them that when they wanted more they would not fail to receive a further supply. After the expiration of six months he sent for a great number of poor people, and distributed the sum of twenty rupees among them in charity. Some time afterwards the boys came home, and informed him that at a particular day and hour (the same on which he had been engaged in the above work of charity at Mount Aboo) a banker at Benares had given each of them ten rupees, by the help of which they had been enabled to make their way home without distress.

TREASURY RECORDS.—We (Hurkaru) have been informed that the members of the finance commission, have inquired of the covenanted heads of several public offices as to the advisability of destroying the old and useless records, which cost large sums of money for the purchase of furniture to keep them in, and which unnecessarily occupy a large space of their office rooms. The commissioners have also inquired as to the practicability of introducing in all public offices slates for rough calculations, and for drafting letters, which they hope will effect a great saving to the State, by dispensing with a heavy item of public expenditure, in the shape of purchase of country paper. With reference to this inquiry the Sub-Treasurer of Fort William is said to have observed, and justly, too, that the old records of the Treasury are valuable, being generally cancelled Government promissory notes, drafts, &c., which should not be destroyed, unless special orders from Government to that effect are received. There may be no objection to destroying such records or documents in his office as are dated beyond the period assigned by the law of limitation.

BUNDLECOND, Sept. 12.—Dowlut Singh and his party are again on the move. He sliced off a banian's nose the other day. They are now at Palee, whither the District Commandant of Police has proceeded in pursuit. Davee Singh and gang precipitated a phlegmatic vendor of grain from a high cliff the other day, the fall breaking all the latter's bones. He is under medical treatment, but will not recover. The long break in the monsoon has been followed by heavy rain and unhealthy weather.

PROGRESS NOT ALWAYS PROGRESS.—We now hear that the Governor-general's camp is in orders for Central India. So there will be another vice-regal progress, more speeches made, more "khilluts" bestowed, more rewards given. The expense of the last progress was not more than a lakh and a half rupees (six lakhs). Sir Hugh Rose accompanies the Gov.-gen. So farewell camps of exercise. The long-delayed relief forms a subject of much anxiety, but we can confidently assure our military readers that only sickly regiments are to move. Of course there will be certain changes of station, new regiments moving up and old regiments moving down, as such movements must inevitably occur some time or other. But there will be no caprice. Lord Clyde's loved Highlanders will not be brigaded altogether at Simla. Nor will the component regiments of Sir Hugh Rose's army of Central India be deposited at the stations for which they had received their tickets, but for which tickets there are no funds forthcoming to pay. The finance will not permit of some thirty European regiments moving at a cost of some half lakh each, and some twenty native at, say some 10,000 Rs. each. So those regiments whose lines have fallen in pleasant places, and are not likely to be moved, that is the Umballah, Jullunder, Rawul Pindie "ites," we congratulate; but the Peshawur, Mooltan, and Mean Meer "ites" we sincerely condole with.—Lahore Chronicle.

HOSHIAARPORE, Sept. 15.—The weather here has been unusually dry for this season of the year, to the great detriment of the crops. We have had only one shower of rain since the 22nd of August; a famine is inevitable if we have not a change with the approaching new moon to-morrow, as vegetation of every description is completely checked. I believe the denuding of the low range of hills of trees and underwood, thereby causing an excessive radiating heat, has a good deal to do with the droughts which have been prevailing in the Punjab of late years. The old Sikh Government did not allow the indiscriminate cutting of timber on the lower range of hills, knowing by experience that it would injuriously affect the climate.

SIMLA HILLS, Sept. 14.—By the Major-General's commands Captain Urquhart arrived at Jutogh, Simla, on Monday, the 10th instant, there to await trial, but it would appear that the prisoner had been ordered up without sufficient authority, his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief having previously acceded to Captain Urquhart's request not to be tried at or near Simla. His Excellency has, we are informed, given directions for the Court to be held at Umballa—the head quarters of the Sirhind Division. A Court had already been detailed by Sir R. Garrett, composed chiefly of officers not under his command, but who, with their families, have been on leave at Simla for the last four and six months. The major-general, we hear, has represented to his Excellency the impossibility (?) of the court's sitting elsewhere than at Simla, but of this there is a question, and it is not thought that Sir Robert's views will alter the decision on this point of the commander-in-chief. We are told that three-fourths of Simla have been summoned for the prosecution, and nearly half of Umballa. Under present circumstances, the trial cannot take place for a fortnight or three weeks longer. The rain still holds off, clouds come up and disappear without affording us any moisture, and the several springs and falls, generally in full roar at this season, are almost silent. Unless a good fall of rain of some duration comes ere long, I fear the scarcity of water, about which there was much anxiety at the commencement of the season, will be a very serious matter. I am glad to learn by letters from below that good penetrating showers have refreshed the earth and cooled the atmosphere; they have had rain at Delhi and other stations where it was so much wanted, so that the price of grain ought to be falling. There is little or no news stirring here. Mr. Wood, extra Assistant Commissioner, will make over charge of his office to Mr. Bernard on or about the 25th. Mr. Wood will take Mr. Bernard's place at Delhi. A rumour is current to the effect that when Mr. Barnes goes to Lucknow, which will, it is said, be "the move" ere long, Mr. Brandreth, Commissioner of Delhi, will take Mr. Barnes's place, in which case I should think Mr. Ford would be the next Commissioner of Delhi. Mr. Brandreth is at present in the interior of these hills, and Mr. Riddell accompanies him.—Delhi Gazette.

OPIMUM CULTIVATION.—The cultivation of the poppy is to be thrown open to the people in Oude, for the specific purpose of raising additional revenue; the cultivation takes place in the cold season, when the manuring and watering is carried on. After the flowers fall; the plant is ripe for the opium harvest, the people flock to the fields in the evening armed with crooked bladed knives, with which they cut incisions in the capsules or poppy heads, in various directions; they then retire for the night, and on going to the fields next morning they find that juice has exuded from the incisions and collected on the surface. At first it is white and milky, but the heat of the sun speedily converts it into a brown gummy mass, in which state it is scraped off. The thickened juice is collected as it exudes day after day, until all has been obtained, and this total quantity is affected, not only by the whole routine of culture, but by the state of the weather during the cultivation and collecting. The produce is either simply dried, or, to equalise the quality, the whole of the day's collection is rubbed together in a mortar or similar vessel, and reduced to a homogeneous semi-fluid mass, which is then quickly dried in the shade. Much care and labour are needed in preparing the ground and tending the young plants, and many sources of injury occur to the cultivation, in wind, rain and dew, hence the growth of the poppy for opium is rather precarious. The art of deriving a revenue from this commodity was invented by the East India Company, and has become the basis of the vast trade between India and China; had opium been employed merely as a medicinal drug we should not now be at war with the celestials. Just ninety-three years ago Messrs. Watson and Wheeler, two civilians, suggested to the Council in Calcutta that as India grew opium, a revenue might possibly be derived therefrom. Until that time China had purchased no foreign opium, except a little from this country, and some sent from Turkey, but it was now thought that India might obtain a larger share in the trade. The suggestion was so far adopted as to ensure emoluments for several officers under the Government, but in the course of a few years the monopoly was taken out of the hands of these officers, and the profit of the trade assumed for the benefit of the Company, through the medium of speculators or brokers. The system continued under the direction of the Board of Revenue, but towards the close of the century it was transferred to the Board of Trade. About the beginning of the present century the contract system was abolished, Company's agents were appointed, and the cultivation of the poppy was strictly limited to certain districts. The plan thus established has been continued down to the present time, with modification in its details, but not in its principle. Opium, then, is a monopoly in the hands of the Government, so far as this country is concerned; and this monopoly is cherished and fostered because the Chinese are found to be needy purchasers. The Government are not the growers of the poppy, but they control the growers in an extraordinary way. Benares, Patna, and Malwa are the three provinces where the plant has hitherto been grown. The poppy fields are measured every year, and their boundaries fixed, in order to prevent collision among those to whom they are assigned. The contract between the Government and the growers is managed through many intermediate agents, including, besides the Europeans, gomashas, and others, according to the engagement entered into. When the poppies are ripe, immediately before the extraction of the juice, the gomasha and his assistants make a circuit of the country or district, and form by guess a probable estimate of the produce of each field. He then makes the ryot enter into an engagement to deliver the quantity thus estimated, and as much more as the field will yield, at the price previously fixed. If the quantity delivered be less than the estimate, and the agents had any reason to suppose the cultivators have kept back any, the former is empowered by law to prosecute the cultivator in the Civil Courts for damages; also if a villager enters on the cultivation of the poppy without having previously made his agreement with the agent, his property becomes immediately attached, until he either destroys his poppies, or makes the requisite bargain. There is no doubt much to be said against this system. Considering, however, that the culture has vastly increased in amount lately, the balance of evidence seems to show that the cultivators find opium to be as profitable as rice or cotton. The price paid to the ryot for the opium juice is about six annas per pound; but it costs Government four or five times this amount before it finally passes into other hands. The juice has many processes to go through before it is fit for the market, and these processes differ in different countries. The percentage of morphia contained in poppy juice being the chief fact that determines its value, the opium brought forward for sale is carefully classified, in order that dealers may in the first place guess the quality from the district or country, and then analyse it more minutely. The other countries which prepare the drug for sale are Smyrna, Constantinople, Egypt, and Persia. Until the great change in the late Company's Charter, in 1834, the Company were their own merchants in foreign countries, to the exclusion of others; but the external trade is now full. A new system is about to be tried in Oude, namely, to give no advances to the cultivators of the drug; it remains to be seen how this will answer.—Delhi Gazette.

FYZABAD, Sept. 12.—The Bunneahs, with few exceptions, are in all places a most cunning and avaricious set of men. Their covetousness, indulged at the sacrifice of all humane considerations, is a proverb all over the country. Of this class of men the grain-dealers are the most wicked. In all matters connected with the abundance or scarcity, rise or fall of price in grain all over the marts of India, they are the first persons to know which side the wind blows, and they accordingly take measures of their own choice and adoption to secure for themselves, no matter how others suffer by it, a handsome profit. The Bunneahs of Oude, I mean the grain-dealers, who, till a recent date, had no connection with the outer world in reference to export or import of grain, and who, semi-savages as they are, having always more than a sufficient quantity of grain at their disposal and less of the cunning of their more expert brethren of the regulation Provinces, had lived in blessed ignorance, to the great happiness of the ryots, have now all opened their ears and eyes and are doing their best to take advantage of the various rumours flying about, of dearth and scarcity prevailing in other districts. Some eight days before this wheat sold here at the rate of 29 seers per rupee, but the grain dealers of Futtehgunge, which is a Mohulla of Fyzabad, not being content with it, at once reduced the quantity from 29 to 24 seers a rupee, at which rate every one was obliged to buy it for some time. But fortunately our authorities were soon made acquainted with their proceedings, and immediately a stop was put to these exorbitant rates. The wicked fellows, seeing their object not accomplished, struck one day and shut up their shops, hoping by this passive resistance on their part to induce the authorities to accede to their desire. Upon this, the principal ringleaders, I hear, have been all summoned to appear in the Cutchery, there to state their reasons for so doing, so that if they can satisfy the authorities they may sell at a reduced quantity, or if not to suffer punishment which their impertinence justly demands. The latter was the case, and every ringleader was fined two or three rupees per head, and ordered to sell wheat at the present bazaar rate, which is twenty-seven seers per rupee. Since that day they have all opened their shops, and I think they will never do such things again.—Delhi Gazette.

THE THAKOOR OF AWAH, in the Jodhpore territory, who took such prominent part in events which followed after the mutiny of the Jodhpore legion, and subsequently evaded capture by flying to the Meywar hills, has been apprehended by the Rana and given up to the British authorities. This man, who was in rebellion against his own sovereign, the Maharaja of Jodhpore, long before the mutiny began, ought undoubtedly to be made over at once to the Maharaja. Our political agents or our Government have no right to dispose of him. The Maharaja long ago registered an oath that the head of the rebel Thakoor should adorn the gateway of his own fort, and it is a thousand pities that he should be interfered with. The junction of the Awah Thakoor with the mutinous Jodhpore legion was, it will be recollected, the event which led to the death of the lamented Captain Monck Mason, then political agent of Jodhpore, and most of the untoward circumstances and awkward conjunction of affairs that ensued in that part of Rajpootana is to be attributed to the same cause. Captain Monck Mason was killed in September; early in the ensuing month Major Burton and his sons fell by the hands of the assassins in the service of the Raja of the neighbouring State. It is not difficult to trace a connection between the two events. The example of the murder of a British political agent being followed by no retributive consequences is a dangerous one; it proved so in that instance, and will prove so again.—Delhi Gazette.

ALLAHABAD, Sept. 14.—Since my last we have had heavy falls of rain at intervals, and last night, or rather at three this morning, we had a most delightful shower. For a full hour the rain came down in torrents, and was accompanied with very loud peals of thunder, and the lightning was really alarming. The intense heat during the whole of yesterday led one to suppose that it would be followed by rain, but we did not expect such a copious down pour as we have had. Sickness was on the increase at this station, but it will no doubt be considerably lessened now. The Assembly Rooms are being rebuilt, and will be ready in a couple of months, and a Soldiers' Reading Room is also being built in the cantonments near the premises occupied by the Delhi Bank. The committee of our rifle club seem to have gone to sleep, as nothing has been heard by the subscribers of the spot selected for a practice ground; and unless they have opportunities for practice we cannot expect very good shots for the prizes in Christmas week. The officers of the 70th and 75th regiments have already begun the healthful and manly exercise of cricket, and it would be well for the station clubs to follow their example, so as to have ample time during the coming season to play matches with the military. The rivers have risen very much during the last week, and steamers are coming and going regularly to Allahabad and back. I am told that the works at the Railway Jumna Bridge are progressing very favourably under the superintendence of Mr. Deane, the diver; and almost all the engineers of the Jubbulpore line who were passing their time at Allahabad have now proceeded to the line as the working season approaches. People say that the Government have directed that a house should at once be engaged for the Sudder Dewanny office, which is to come down here during the ensuing cold season. Mr. Palmer, who occupies a very large and handsome kotie, was offered Rs. 500 per month, it is said, but he refused it. Unless the Government can secure a place as large as Palmer's, the Sudder Court office will not, I presume, be ordered down; unless one of the barracks is made available, as was the case when the Chief Engineer's office came here last April. The Government deserves much credit for having established a "general hospital" at this station. This has done much good, and all classes of the community are now availing themselves of the boon. Dr. Buist, you have probably heard, is in bad health, and will shortly proceed on leave. Mr. Blanchett, the assistant-superintendent, will officiate for the worthy doctor, who entertains the highest opinion of Mr. Blanchett's ability to manage the press, and has lately obtained for him an increase of 100 rupees to his salary. I have already alluded to the very heavy work the press has to execute for the Government Secretariat office. The labours of the press are increasing, and Dr. Buist thinks that all surplus work must be done by contract at the other presses. Although the Government have an immense establishment, it is inadequate for all the work required from it.—Delhi Gazette.

SPIRITUALISM IN INDIA.—The following curious story is now current among the natives in the neighbourhood of Agra. A native, residing some distance down country, lately died. On arriving in the other world (the sequel will explain how his adventures there came to my knowledge) the first person he met was an old creditor, who rather to his dismay accosted him in the following manner:—"I say, old fellow, you owe me twenty rupees!" "I dare say I do," he replied; "but how can I pay you here? I am only just arrived, and you know very well I could not bring money with me!" "Well, then," said the creditor, "you must come with me to the judge." This functionary was found seated in state on a magnificent cushion, dispensing justice; and on referring to his books, he made the discovery that a mistake had occurred, the wrong man having been summoned by the messengers of death—a chumar, in fact, instead of a sweeper of the same name. Celestial powers could not, of course, be expected to be familiar with such very low castes, and possibly such slight errors are not uncommon! The judge ordered the mistake to be rectified; but before dismissing our friend, advised him, as soon as he returned to earth, to pay his debt. "But," urged the defendant, "how am I to send the money here? No bank would conduct such a transaction." "Take it, then," said the judge, "to Bindraban," the celebrated place of Hindoo pilgrimage near Muttra—"and give it to the priests at the temple, in whose possession you will also find the bond by which you agreed to pay this sum. If they say they have not got the bond, desire them to look for it in the cullum-dan." The dead man returned to life just in time to prevent the combustion of his remains, and set off by dak to Muttra; proceeded to the temple at Bindraban, explained the circumstances to the priests, and offered them twenty rupees. They declined to receive it, and denied all knowledge of the bond; but at the applicant's request consented to send for the cullum-dan (box for reed pens) and examine it. There was no bond! Our hero was now somewhat perplexed, but at last bethought himself of inquiring whether there was not another cullum-dan in the house, and, after some delay, another was found, brought, and opened; and there, sure enough, was the bond, folded up, at the bottom of the box! It was, of course, given up to the owner, on payment of the money; and he went on his way rejoicing. The tale is evidently concocted by the priests at Bindraban, in order to add to their reputation by a miracle, and draw additional pilgrims to their approaching annual festival, which, as we are told by "Thornton's Gazetteer," takes place in September and October.—Delhi Gazette.

BENGAL ARTILLERY RELIEF.—3rd Troop, 1st Brigade, Bengal Horse Artillery, from Gondah to Allahabad. 2nd Troop, 2nd Brigade, Bengal Horse Artillery, from Allahabad to Lucknow. 3rd Troop, 2nd Brigade, Bengal Horse Artillery, from Peshawur to Rawul Pindee. 4th Troop, 2nd Brigade, Bengal Horse Artillery, from Rawul Pindee to Lahore. 1st Troop, 2nd Brigade, Bengal Horse Artillery, from Lahore to Muttra. 3rd Troop, 3rd Brigade, Bengal Horse Artillery, from Muttra to Cawnpore. 2nd Company, 1st Battalion, Bengal Artillery, No. 16 Light Field Battery, from Umritsur to Delhi. 3rd Company, 1st Battalion, No. 17 Light Field Battery, from Lucknow to Gondah. 4th Company, 1st Battalion, No. 9 Light Field Battery, from Delhi to Umritsur. 1st Company, 2nd Battalion, No. 10 Light Field Battery, from Ferozepoor to Muttra. 4th Company, 2nd Battalion, No. 23 Light Field Battery, from Rawul Pindee to Ferozepoor. 2nd Company, 3rd Battalion, No. 12 Light Field Battery, from Cawnpore to Bareilly. 3rd Company, 3rd Battalion, No. 14 Light Field Battery, from Bareilly to Rawul Pindee. 1st Company, 4th Battalion, Bengal Artillery (Reserve), from Delhi to Bareilly. 2nd Company, 4th Battalion, Bengal Artillery, No. 1 Light Field Battery, from Meerut to Oude. 1st Company, 5th Battalion, Bengal Artillery (Reserve), from Bareilly to Delhi. F. Troop, Royal Horse Artillery, Meerut to Lahore. E. Troop, Royal Horse Artillery, Lahore to Peshawur.

BAREILLY, Sept. 15.—We have had an abundance of rain though the morning I wrote my last local was beautifully clear, the day closed with heavy rain, which poured down for five or six days consecutively. Thursday we were positively inundated. Clouds still continue to gather; and judging from appearances, we may reasonably calculate on a few showers more ere the rains wish us good bye. Provisions continue dear, though I doubt not this most favourable change will ultimately compel the Buncahs to be, in spite of themselves, less exorbitant and grasping. I am glad to see that the officials here are advocates for the extension of European agency to the utmost practical extent; and not content with the appointment of an European Kotwal, they have nominated an European to succeed to the vacant post of jailor, consequent on the death of the late incumbent, who was a native, and whose death was occasioned by a blow which he received from one of the convicts. The ranks supply the department of public works with a large number of overseers, superintendents of roads, barrack-masters, &c. I really see no just cause why the civil department should not be permitted to renovate and invigorate some of its branches, such as the police and prison, by indents on the regiments. Our European force has considerably increased, and is well able to supply the deficiencies so much to be deplored in the civil departments, without affecting in the least its own efficiency. However useful schools of industry, libraries, and lectures may be to the private soldier, widening the field of his future prospects, and substantially rewarding for exemplary conduct, will tend more effectually to ameliorate his condition.

THE REBELS.—According to the Englishman there are now remaining in Nepal only fifty-nine rebels; many have returned to their homes, and numbers died of cholera; of the late infamous Nana's followers there only remain seven, including Balarao. The Durbar has received the consent of the British Government to give shelter to Balarao, Buzrut Muhul Begum, and Birjis Kadir, on condition that they prevent them giving annoyance in the British territories.

THE EX-NAWAB OF FURUKABAD has contrived to make his way to Medina, accompanied by four men, in the habit of faqueers. An allowance is to be made to the family of these outlaws.

MR. THOMAS JONES, Register of the Bengal Secretariat Office, is to be appointed to the office of director-general of printing offices under the jurisdiction of the Lieutenant-governor of Bengal, on a salary of Rs. 1,000 per mensem, and Mr. Noah Chick is to succeed Mr. Jones as register on Rs. 700 per mensem.

NAGPOOR.—Letters from Nagpoor inform us that cholera has broken out at Chanda, and the officers are ordered to remove to Madhapoor. The prisoners here have attempted escape, but the emete was easily put down by the guard, DELHI, Sept. 1st.—Hot days with scorching winds, clear nights without dew, fleecy clouds without the least sign of rain, have afforded a plausible excuse to the bunniah to raise their prices again; and they have done it this time most effectually. But not content with demanding rates for their grain and other provisions which would starve to death all the poor people of Delhi in a month, they seem determined to starve the rich also (and thus "possess the land" themselves alone), for latterly the greater part of them have "shut up shop" altogether, and refused to sell on any terms. Many people cannot obtain food for money, and still greater numbers cannot procure it at such exorbitant rates as those at which it is occasionally offered. A famine may in truth be said to be raging in and about Delhi, whilst within the walls of the city alone enough grain is stored away to afford sustenance for 100,000 people during a two years' siege. One building alone, not far from where I write this, contains 10,000 maunds of wheat, besides other grain. The bunniah declare they will not unlock their stores until wheat is up to eight seers the rupee. The present price is eleven seers, when it can be had. It would break a heart of stone to witness all the misery and sufferings which avarice has produced amongst the poor. As a specimen of the manner in which existence is dragged out by thousands at the present time, I will give one or two facts. One evening, as I was passing along a narrow street, I observed a poor woman on an old charpoy uttering the most piteous moans imaginable. She was surrounded by four little miserable-looking children, who had just cried themselves off to sleep. On inquiry I found that she was a poor widow, that every day she laboured from morn till eve for 1 anna, and on her return home she regularly purchased $\frac{1}{4}$ of a seer of coarse atta, and thus she and her four children lived, or rather gradually died, from day to day. Another man with his wife and seven children are eking out a miserable existence on 2 annas a day, which procured them $1\frac{1}{2}$ seer of atta, and what must be the state of those who are ill, or out of employ? A vigorous attempt is just now being made to remedy this state of affairs, and bring the recalcitrant corn-factors to a sense of their duty to the public, by a few noble-minded and enterprising individuals of Delhi. At a meeting convened by the manager of the Delhi Bank (a gentleman ever ready to head any benevolent movement), comprised of a few non-official Europeans and several native bankers, it was unanimously resolved that grain to the amount of 15,000 rupees should be immediately purchased from distant stations in the Punjab, and sold on its arrival in Delhi at a price just sufficient to cover the original cost and expense of transit. The funds for this purpose have been kindly advanced by the manager of the Delhi Bank without interest, and the carrying out of the project entrusted to the Baptist missionaries, who will superintend both the purchase and sale of the grain in person. The deputy commissioner has expressed his cordial approval of the undertaking, and promised to render every assistance in his power to ensure its success. Let us hope that such a measure will have its desired effect.—Lahore Chronicle.

GOVERNMENT COUPONS.—For the convenience of holders of Government paper, and to enhance the value of such paper, coupons were lately issued. These are orders for the payment of interest on Government paper, for twenty years to come, made payable to the bearer, so that they are in fact negotiable instruments and subject to all the laws that affect bills of exchange. The holder of one of these coupons, on presenting it for payment, received the interest, minus the amount of the Income-tax. He was not the owner of the Government paper on which the interest was due, but had received the coupon by transfer, for valuable consideration. Now there was no talk of the Income-tax or of interest on the Government paper becoming subject to that tax. The deduction in question is therefore illegal, and the party would be entitled to re-fund, were he to institute an action in the Supreme Court, suits against Government not being cognizable in the small Cause Court. It should be borne in mind that the owner of the coupon is not by law entitled to recover from the holder of the Government paper the amount illegally deducted, and therefore the Treasury officers are clearly wrongdoers. What complicates the matter, and shows the shortsightedness of the Government, is that they cannot recover the amount of Income-tax even from the owner of the Government paper, for the interest of which they granted the coupons. By issuing the coupons as negotiable instruments they have debarred themselves of all right to meddle with the interest. Nor is there any injustice in this, for the loss is due to their own want of foresight.—Phoenix.

GWALIOR.—The Dewan of the late Ranees of Jhansie has surrendered himself to the political agent at Gwalior.

CAPTAIN HEARSAY.—Government has granted 5,000 acres of land in the district of Mohumdee to Captain Hearsay, an Oude landholder.

OPIMUM.—It is said to be the intention of Government to raise the price of opium in the Mar-taban and Tenasserim Provinces to Rs. 24 per seer.

MR. R. TEMPLE, C.S.—It is stated that Government has sanctioned the payment of Rs. 2,000 to Mr. Temple for his services on the Indigo commission.

THE HEAD QUARTERS OF THE PRESIDENCY DIVISION is to be removed from Barrackpore to Fort William, and General Hearsay is to command. Brigadier Smith is to command the station at Barrackpore, and all officers of the general staff there are to be removed to Calcutta.

JESSORE, Sept. 9.—The ryots of this district are threatening to attack different factories, while in Pubnah they have already commenced operations by attacking Salmoodiah. This insane attempt was made on the 4th instant, and failed with a loss of two men killed, and several wounded on the side of the ryots, the factory losing one man killed. The police (military) are now ordered out in small detachments to those places where matters look most serious, to check affray, but they will effect little good, as the ryots are confident in their numbers, and as latticals form no inconsiderable portion of the population in these parts, the police will come to grief, unless reinforced considerably.

MR. BOYLE, who rendered very valuable services to Government during the recent disturbances in Shahabad, has had the villages of Kourah, Hurregaon and Beehta made over to him in perpetuity, but not without the understanding that he must pay for them a Jumma of Rs. 617 during his life, and his heirs and successors Rs. 5,617 per annum in perpetuity.

THE LICENSE BILL was read a second time in the Legislative Council on the 1st September. It has undergone such important changes as to be virtually a new Bill. According as it now stands it will not fall on any who now pay the Income-tax, to which it is in all respects supplementary. All professional men, and cultivators who sell their own produce, are exempt. It consists of two schedules—A, which levies 1, 2 or 3 rupees annually on those engaged in arts, trades and dealings; and B, which includes tobacco dealers. Of the last, those who sell wholesale are divided into two classes, charged respectively Rs. 100 and 50 a year, and those who sell retail into four classes, assessed at Rs. 24, 12, 4 and 2 a year. Though the Bill has been read a second time in this shape, with a view to publication, it will probably undergo considerable modifications. Its provisions are so stoutly opposed by the Chief Justice and Mr. Sconce, the member for Bengal, that as the Council sat in committee it was almost entirely re-written. It is not proposed that it should come into operation till the beginning of next year. We have strong hopes that the high rate of excise on tobacco represented by Rs. 100 a year from wholesale dealers will be much modified, if not given up altogether.—Friend of India.

THE FINANCE COMMISSION.—The salary of the secretary to the Finance Commission has been fixed at Rs. 1,500 per mensem.

THE NAWAB OF MOORSHEDEBAD.—We (Hurkaru) stated some time last month that the Nawab Nazim of Moorshebad intended to take a journey to England, and his highness believed that nothing less than Rs. 80,000 would cover his expenses. Government did not object to the grant of this sum; but on a second consideration, for reasons unknown to us, it was refused, and as a per contra we learn that a plaint for Rs. 1,30,000 and upwards has been filed against the Bengal Government, on the ground that this money was expended for the construction of several stables during his highness's minority. The records relative to the cause of this expenditure have been called for, but unfortunately not a letter or even a single line can be found; and the secretary has been requested to inquire whether the governor-general's agent is in possession of any documents connected with this point.

ASSESSMENT OF INCOME-TAX.—We hear that the officiating civil auditor North-Western Provinces made the following reference to the Supreme Government regarding the assessment of the Income-tax:—1st. Whether under Section 129 of the Income-tax Act the fixed travelling allowance of officers drawn in monthly abstracts is to be exempted from assessment? 2nd. Whether head money allowance drawn by medical officers (covenanted and uncovenanted) is subject to deduction on account of the prescribed tax? 3rd. Whether missionaries in the receipt of an allowance of Rs. 100 per month for ecclesiastical duties, in the absence of a chaplain from the station, are to be looked upon as military officers not drawing the pay and allowances of a captain, and accordingly not subject to assessment? In reply to which he has received the under-mentioned answer:—1st. The fixed travelling allowance of officers drawn in monthly abstracts is exempt from assessment for Income-tax. Section 129 of the Act declares that officers shall be exempted wholly from the duties in respect of any allowance received for travelling expenses. 2nd.—Head money allowance drawn by medical officers, whether covenanted or uncovenanted, is not exempt, if the officer is in civil employ, or if being in military employ, such allowance added to other pay and allowances raises the income of the recipient to that of a captain of infantry. 3rd.—Missionaries in the receipt of an allowance from Government for the performance of ecclesiastical duties in the absence of a chaplain from the station or otherwise are not military officers, and are not exempt from the Income-tax.—Hurkaru.

CHOLERA IN CALCUTTA.—The Hurkaru announces the death of the Rev. Dr. Ewart, for six-and-twenty years a faithful and zealous missionary in connection first with the Established, and after the disruption with the Free Church of Scotland. Dr. Ewart was seized with cholera on Saturday, the 8th September. Up till noon of the next day there were hopes of his recovery; after that time, however, he sank rapidly, and died at 4.30 p.m. "The deceased," says our contemporary, "was a quiet, unobtrusive, but ardent and zealous missionary, and possessed peculiarly the talent of gaining the affection of his pupils, as is evidenced by the address presented to him when he went home about three years ago. He returned to this country about a year ago. In the same house in Cornwallis-square, Miss Turner, lady superintendent of the Bethune Institution, was seized with the same disease at the same time as Dr. Ewart, and died on Saturday afternoon at 3.30 p.m."

MINZA YACOOB, one of the sons of the King of Delhi, has been sent to Kurrachee, where he is to receive an allowance of ten rupees a month for life.

SHIPPING.

ARRIVALS.

Sept. 10. Alnwick Castle, Tyler, London; Massaliote, Durand, Marseilles; Jonckin, Momesot, Bordeaux; Rowan Tree, Worrell, Liverpool.—12. Arabia, Forest, Liverpool; Day Dream, Colhrane, Madras; William Melhuish, Duff, Liverpool; Netherby, Helman, London; George Heinrich, Schmidt, Antwerp; Raleigh, Sadler, Sunderland; Eagle, James, Sunderland; George Kendall, Fairly, Liverpool.—18. Maria Hay, Middleton, London; Engelman, Harbo, Bombay; Judith, Brown, Liverpool; Albert Cumin, Raynes, Liverpool; Shere Donard, Thomps, Liverpool.—Lt. Maha-Rance, Carr, Liverpool; Storforst Constantine, Brown, Liverpool; Caroline, Kulnan, Gothenburgh; Fræthel, Privoisin, Singapore; Afghan, Colebank, Liverpool; Storm Cloud, Campbell, Madras; Hound, Rogers, New York.

PASSENGERS ARRIVED.

Per str. Colombo.—From SOUTHAMPTON.—Mr. W. Atkins, Mr. H. Ramsay, Capt. D. H. Osborne, Mr. J. Shepherd, Miss S. E. Walker, Lieut. H. R. Boulby, Mr. F. E. Johnston, Miss Brooks, Mr. D. Gilmour, Mr. H. T. Simpson, Mrs. Wienholt, Capt. Cripps, Mr. J. R. Campbell, Mr. W. Dalziel, Mr. G. C. Dutt, Mr. Whittle. From MARSEILLES.—Mr. J. Boudet, Mr. G. C. Fletcher, Mr. E. W. Ball, Mr. Anderson, Mr. Malyon, Mr. A. Hoffman, Mr. J. H. Kavanagh, Mr. Fryer. From BOMBAY.—Mr. T. Jones. From GALLE.—Mr. G. W. Killner, Mr. and Mrs. Dunlop. From MADRAS.—Mr. Trossart, Mr. Blaudford, Mr. Warner, Mr. Hurn, Lady Jackson and two children.

Per Alnwick Castle.—Col. Hill, Lieut. and Mrs. Brooks and three children, Lieut. and Mrs. Garrett, Lieut. Fitzroy, Wilson, and De Brett, Messrs. Hodnett, Harrison, Home, Lovett, Anderson, Skipwith, and Brightou, From MADRAS.—Mrs. Thomas and family.

Per Maha-Rance.—Mrs. Carr.
Per Storm Cloud.—Mrs. Campbell.
Per George Kendall.—Mrs. P. C. Schmidt, Mrs. Farely.
Per Englishman.—Mr. Dairtel.
Per Fatty Sultan.—Mr. J. Delanie, Mr. Miram.
Per Slave Donard.—Mr. John Kay, Mrs. Thomps and two children.

COMMERCIAL.

Calcutta, Sept. 15, 1860.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.

	Sell.	Buy.
Public Works, 5 per cent.....	2 8 to 3 0
New Company's Rupee 4 do.	82 0 to 82 4
Dt. to 5 do.	2 0
Srd Sica Rupee 4 do.	20 0
Transfer 4 do.	Nominal.
New 5 1 do.	101 8 to 102 0

BANK OF BENGAL.

Discount on Govt. Acceptances (3 months)	3 per ct.
Do. on Private Bills and Notes (do.)	6 per ct.
Interest on Deposit of Co.'s Paper	5 per ct.
Do. on open Cash Credit Accounts	5 per ct.
On deposit of Goods, &c.	6 per ct.

EXCHANGES.

Agency Bills, at 6 months' sight	2 0 1/2
Do. with documents, do.	2 0 1/2 to 2 1
American Bills under credit, do.	Nominal.
Treasury Bills, 30 days' sight
Navy Bills, 3 days' sight
Bank of England Post Bills, at sight

RATES OF ADVANCE.

4 per cent. Stock Receipts	Sa. Rs. 100	Co.'s Rs. 78
4 ditto Government Paper	Sa. Rs. 100	" 78
4 ditto ditto	Co.'s Rs. 100	" 78
5 ditto ditto	" 100	" 91
5 1 ditto ditto	" 100	" 98
New Treasury Bills	" 100	" 98

JOINT STOCK SHARES.

	Paid up.	Present value.
Bank of Bengal	4000 each	5900 to 5950
Agra Bank (Limited)	500	650 to 660
Delhi Bank	500	500
India General Steam	1000	1190 to 1500
Ganges Company	500	575 to 590
Bengal Coal Company (Limited)	1000	1750 to 1800
Calcutta Steam Tug Association (Limited)	600	575 to 590
East-India Coal Company (Limited)	70	73 to 75
Bonded Warehouse Association	445	560 to 575
Calcutta Docking Company	700	875 to 900
Oriental Gas Company (Limited)	10	9 to 10
Assam Company	200	390 to 400
East-India Railway Company	£20	Rs. 3 dis.
East-India Copper Co. (Limited)	1000	no sales.
Calcutta Auction Co. (Limited)	75	70 to 75

PRICES OF BULLION.

Sovereigns	each, Rs. 10	5 to 10 6
Doubletons	"	32 8 to 32 10
Madras Gold Mohurs	"	15 2 to 15 0
Old Gold Mohurs	"	21 13 to 22 0
New Gold Mohurs	"	15 2 to 15 3
China Gold Bars	per sicca wt., Rs. 16	0 to 16 2
Gold Dust (Australia)	"	15 0 to 16 0
Sycee Silver, none, Co.'s Rs. 100	"	106 0 to 106 4
Spanish Dollars	per 100 Rs.	222 0 to 223 8
Mexican do.	"	224 8 to 225 0

FREIGHTS.

To London, £2. to £3. 10s.
To Liverpool, £2 to £3.

MADRAS.

MISCELLANEOUS.

MURDER OF AN OFFICER IN THE NEILGHERIES.—Captain Green was last Wednesday morning, Sept. 12, found dead at 7 a.m. by his chokra, who entered the house and saw his master. The boy then went and told his father, who said that he would not go in, and it is supposed that the other servants said the same. Not till nine o'clock did anybody go for Captain Tresure, who was living in the next house: thus two hours had elapsed. When Captain Treasure arrived the deceased was lying on his right side with a chair under his legs, and a double-barrelled musket between them in a loose position, muzzle pointing up towards his body, sleeve on the left arm raised and bent overhead, the body saturated with blood. The authorities and Dr. Stewart were then sent for, at half-past one! The assistant-magistrate sent for Mr. Lowe to examine the body with Mr. Stewart. The body was seen lying in the position with the shirt and banyan torn off. There was a large pool of blood beneath, the right elbow was abraded and bruised. There was a large oval gunshot wound three inches above the left nipple, and three large vertical incised wounds in the left arm-pit, the longest measuring four and a-half inches in length; in the outer of these incised wounds shot were found. Beneath the oval charred wound above the nipple, the doctors found an extensive chest wound, four ribs being shattered and blown into the body of the left lung; and two ribs behind the lung, beneath the shoulder bladebone, fractured. Many shots were found in the chest and lung. The direction of the chest wound would appear to indicate that the deceased had been shot either while on the floor, or from immediately before him, while the wounds in the arm showed that he had probably received a second gunshot wound besides severe stabs. In support of this opinion numerous spots of blood were observed with pieces of flesh, upon an open door, to the left of the centre room, and upon the whitewashed wall to the right of the room upon the chair beneath deceased, and in which it appeared he might have been seated before he fell, no marks of blood were seen, nor were there any on the floor immediately beneath the spot where the chair must have stood, nor was there any blood upon his legs or drawers which would most probably have been the case had he been shot while in the chair. A knife, with the top broken off and stained with blood, was discovered on a table in his bedroom. Mr. Lowe made a careful microscopic examination of the stains on this knife, and found them to be human blood. The inspector of police from Coonoor discovered on searching the houses of Captain Green's servants, turbans, long drawers, coats, and other pieces of cloth stained with blood. He also saw a spot of blood upon a servant's hand. Mr. Lowe examined the stains of blood upon the turban also with the microscope, and found them to be human blood. The stains on the drawers also were blood; upon the clothes they had been washed out, but as far as could be ascertained, they appeared to be those of blood. Mr. Lowe's examination led him to believe that suicide had not been committed, but that Captain Green had died from gunshot and incised wounds inflicted upon him by some person or persons unknown, and that it was impossible for Captain Green himself to have inflicted wounds of the kind either with a gun or with a knife.

DEATH OF CAPTAIN A. GRANT.—We regret to announce the death, at Jaulnah, on the 4th of September, of Captain A. Grant, of the 9th Regt. N.I., caused by wounds received on the 18th of August, in a rencontre with a panther. The deceased and a brother officer were out shooting peafowl, when they started a panther. Captain A. got a shot at the beast, and wounded him. The animal took shelter in some low jungle, when he was pointed out to Captain Grant by one of the coolies, but, being short-sighted, he did not see him, and went close up to the bush. Just as he neared the bush, the panther sprang on the unfortunate officer, and the latter had hardly time to discharge his gun at random, before he found himself stretched on his back on the ground, the beast biting his left arm, which he lacerated dreadfully. Captain Grant was concealed from his companion by some rising ground and brushwood, and some time elapsed before Capt. A.'s notice was attracted to what was going on by the coolies calling out. In the meantime, the beast quitted his prostrate victim, and inflicted severe wounds on two coolies. He then made off, but his body was found two days after near the spot. The place where the accident occurred is some miles from Jaulnah; nevertheless, after the occurrence, Captain Grant rode the whole distance in a heavy shower of rain and was in excellent spirits. Matters appeared to be progressing satisfactorily for some days, but a sudden change for the worse took place, and he sank rapidly. His last moments were very peaceful. He suffered no pain; his faculties were unimpaired to the last, and his spirit left its earthly tenement without a struggle. So calm and collected was he that he requested the attendance of all his brother officers of the regiment, about two hours before his death, and took an affectionate farewell of each separately. He was a highly honourable and amiable man, respected and liked by all who knew him, but he was doubly endeared by his good qualities and friendly disposition to the members of his own regiment, by whom his memory will be long cherished with affection and respect.—Daily Times and Spectator.

SAUGOR, Sept. 8.—Some days ago a havildar of the Saugor military police behaved very well on out-post duty at Narainpoor near Shahgurb. He got intimation that the rebels were going to plunder the village at night, and consequently turned out the whole of his picket, taking his post outside the village on one side. The rebels, about eight or nine, entered it on the other, and commenced looting. The havildar and his party ran up to where the rebels were, when they were received by a volley given in good style; the Nujeebs returned it, and the havildar rushing on, killed one man (a Poorbeah) with his bayonet, and wounded three others, who escaped into the dense jungles.

COCHIN, Sept. 14.—The Captain and 19 of the crew of the Barque Hopewell arrived here this morning. They state that the vessel left Bombay on the 6th, and experienced fine weather. On the 10th she passed the Island of Underoo, and at 1 a.m. of the 11th, the vessel struck on the reef adjoining the Island of Kalpeni, the most south-eastern group of Laccadives. In a very short time after striking, the vessel fell over, with her decks to windward, and instant abandonment became necessary. The long boats were put out with a few tins of preserved potatoes in her, and the captain and crew left the ship while she was going to pieces. They have been exposed ever since in an open boat, and the only water they had to drink was what they could catch from the rain. They landed in a most distressed condition, without clothes and shoes, &c., but were immediately cared for by Captain Coster, our master attendant, and provided by him with food and clothes.

BOMBAY.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE UNITED SERVICE INSTITUTION OF WESTERN INDIA was on Monday evening, Sept. 22, inaugurated by an introductory lecture by the Lord Bishop of Bombay. A most satisfactory audience as to rank and numbers was assembled, but we regretted to observe only a very small sprinkling of the young officers, for whose benefit the lectures more especially are intended. A thirst for improvement has evidently yet to be created in this class of the community, which at present seems singularly destitute of zeal for intellectual pursuits. The chair was taken at six o'clock by the Hon. Mr. Reeves, member of council, who stated that the reason of his doing so was the unavoidable absence of H. E. the Commander-in-Chief, who had gone to join the Governor at Sattara. Mr. Reeves announced that the institution was to be opened as a reading-room from the 1st October, and that a short course of lectures had been arranged for during the remainder of the present season.

MR. F. PRATT, assistant secretary in the general department, has a provision made for him in consequence of the abolition of that establishment, to become the secretary to the Income-tax commissioners.

A BRAHMIN IN LONDON.—A Guzarati Brahmin, Mr. Mahiputram Roopram, left Bombay for England some months ago. There were threats of expulsion from caste freely uttered at the time of his embarkation. A thrill of horror went through the Brahminical body. The editor of the Wurtuman Dipica has received a letter from Mr. Mahiputram, from London, which is calculated to relieve the distress of those who feared that it would be impossible to quit India without violation of caste. It turns out that this is an altogether baseless idea. Mr. Mahiputram finds himself at this present moment, in the heart of London, just as truly in the odour of castity (if we may coin a word) as ever he was. He moves in his own Brahminical empyrean in the heart of that wicked and profane city, and carries his own inviolate atmosphere with him wherever he goes. To be serious, his account is this. On board the steamer he had a cabin to himself. When anybody belonging to the boat came for the purpose of cleaning his cabin he had but to say that his own servant would attend to that. He had his own water brought and his food prepared. Wherever the steamer touched he could get a new supply of water. Once in England, there is not the slightest difficulty; just as in India the meat bazaar is separate from the other bazaars, so it is in London. There is nothing to hinder a Brahmin in London from getting his milk, vegetables, and the like from Englishmen; for do not Brahmins in India get these from Mussulmans? As for water, the arrangements are admirable. Water is brought into houses by pipes, and all you have to do is to cause a pipe to be carried to your room, and lo! you have an exhaustless supply of pure water. Should this by any chance not be practicable, what simpler than to take a house on the banks of the river Thames? In a word, says this pioneer of Bombay Brahmins, in the most reassuring tone, there is nothing in London to endanger the preservation of your religion. People do not speak to you on the subject of religion; or, when they do, they apologize to you for it. In conclusion, he exhorts those of his countrymen who have the means to hasten to Europe, and view the works of art and prodigies of industry so numerous there.—Catholic Examiner.

SECRETARIAT CHANGES.—From the 1st October the general department of Government is to be merged into others, and the assistants transferred to the revenue and political departments, with the exception of some few whom Government are unable to provide for at present, who are consequently to be discharged, but with a gratuity of six months' pay if having served for ten years or over; together with a number from the judicial, revenue, and political departments likewise, which departments are to be remodelled on a reduced scale.

THE COURT-MARTIAL on Mr. LeMesurier, of the Indian navy, terminated on the 14th Sept. The sentence on the prisoner was that he be dismissed from the service, and forfeit all pay and pension due at the time of his desertion. There were extenuating circumstances in the case, Mr. LeMesurier having sent in his resignation, and having had reason to believe it was accepted, before he quitted his ship, or the punishment would doubtless have been heavier.

STAMP ACT COMMITTEE.—The following gentlemen have been appointed a committee by Government for the purpose of devising means to carry into effect the Stamp Act:—President—Henry Newton, Esq., C.S., registrar of the Sudder Adawlut. Members—L. C. Probyn, Esq., C.S., 1st assistant accountant-general, and acting sub-treasurer; J. M. Erskine, Esq., C.S., sub-treasurer (now on leave to Europe); and R. H. Showell, Esq., unconvananted service, acting collector of Bombay, also in charge of Stationery department.

CAPT. H. RIVERS, consulting engineer for railways, has been appointed ex-officio secretary to Government in the Railway Department.

LIEUT. COLES, of the 15th R. N. I., has been appointed to act for Mr. H. E. Leeke, as assistant superintendent of police at Tanna.

MR. P. M. DALZELL, Collector of Customs at Kurrachee, who returned to India by the last mail from England, where he had been on leave, has brought with him some very fine Leicestershire rams. These animals are the best and handsomest that could be procured, with long wool, of a very fine fibre. They have cost something like thirty pounds a head, independent of the expenses of bringing them from their native pastures. Besides the three which Mr. Dalzell has brought with him overland, there are four others coming round the Cape. The venture has been made with the entire sanction of Government, with the view to improve the breed in Sind, upon which, amongst other things, Mr. Dalzell has set his heart, and to which he has addressed and is addressing all his energies and intelligence.

DISTRESSING OCCURRENCE.—A private letter mentions a very distressing occurrence which has cast a gloom over the society of Poona. Two young ladies, daughters of Mr. Spooner, the commissioner of Customs for this presidency, went out on a fishing excursion a few days ago, and unhappily with no sufficient covering for their heads from the rays of the sun. The consequence was, as might have been expected, that both of them had sun-strokes, from the effects of which one—the youngest—girl died on Tuesday morning, and the other still remains in a precarious condition. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved father, who with all his family were very popular in the presidency. Mr. Spooner only left for Calcutta by the last China mail, and the news of this sad catastrophe will be the first intelligence to reach him of his family since he so lately bade them farewell.—Bombay Gazette.

DWARKA, Sept. 3.—Cholera has visited the town and neighbouring country, and swept off, I believe, a great many through Okamundel and Kattywar. Fortunately, so far, the detachment has been spared, having lost but one sepoy from the disease; and it is to be hoped it has nearly completed its circuit here, cases becoming fewer daily. Almost all hope of rain has now been given up; a famine is impending; provisions have risen to a very high price; forage is not to be had at any figure; the cattle are dying of starvation, and the detachment of Guzerat Irregular Horse is to be despatched hence, owing to the want of grass and rain. To crown all, the Wagheers are again assuming a hostile attitude. On the morning of the 31st August the Commandant, with a subaltern and a hundred rank and file of the Grenadiers, marched, under the guidance of Captain Barton, Assistant Political Resident, towards Positree, where a party of Wagheers under Djoda were reported to have been seen. On reaching Moolwell, a village about thirteen miles from Dwarka, they found the birds had flown; they certainly had been there the previous day, but were then safe and snug in Kattywar, having, I presume, had early intelligence of the kind reception they would receive had they awaited our arrival. If the information received here, in the intelligence department, be correct, as it is believed to be in this case, the Wagheers are assembling, and purpose, in a body of some five or six hundred, at least, to make a sudden rush upon the town, plunder all available property, kill a few people, and raze the great temple to the ground; that they have lost their country and their homes, and, therefore, may as well perish in a blaze as quickly as possible. Djoda and Veda Mannick are both reported to be assembling all the men available both in Oka and in Kattywar, and will probably give trouble before they are exterminated. They are good shots and active men, able to march or move ten miles to our five. As we know not when an attack may be made, the guards in the town and on the walls, which are rather extensive, have been strengthened. In consequence of a number of Grenadiers being out on outpost duty, there are not more than a hundred men available here for defending the town after the necessary guards have been posted in the Dhurmsalla, &c. A requisition has been sent to Rajcote for a reinforcement of a hundred of the 17th N.I. as a temporary move, while measures are being taken at Baroda, and elsewhere, for the immediate despatch of a field force. It is to be hoped that it will meet with a more successful result than the previous two expeditions. Any force coming, will, I imagine, require to carry all requisite supplies, as there is absolutely nothing procurable in the village. Boats are again to be seen scattered over the deep, imparting a little variety to the unbroken surface, and affording a prospect of approaching intercourse with life again. The weather is becoming close and oppressive like October.—Bombay Times.

APPOINTMENTS.—Dr. R. T. Reid, barrister-at-law, has been appointed acting first judge of the Small Cause Court, in the room of Mr. J. F. Hore, proceeded to Europe on leave for twelve months. Dr. Reid has consequently resigned the two offices of coroner of Bombay and examiner in insolvency, which were held by him. Mr. J. P. Green, the newly arrived barrister-at-law, is appointed acting professor of the Government Law School during the absence of Mr. Hore. Mr. John Dunbar, barrister-at-law, has been appointed examiner of insolvents in succession to Dr. Reid. W. T. Roper, Esq., has been elected a director of the commercial bank of India.

LOCAL IMPROVEMENTS.—Bombay is in a fair way at last of having all its shipping wants supplied. We learn that in addition to the Back Bay reclamation scheme, and Mr. Kenelly's Deep Water Pier, a project has been submitted to Government by Sir Henry Leeke, under the sanction of Sir Charles Wood, for carrying out Mr. Malet's scheme of reclaiming the whole harbour shore from the Fort to Mazagon Hill. The capital is to be supplied from home. The agents for the scheme are Messrs. Forbes and Co.

KURRACHEE, Sept. 15.—Small kaffias have commenced to arrive here from Candahar and Khelat. The following are reported during the past month:—Twenty-two donkey loads of raisins; eighteen of jeera; twelve of kismiss; four of prunes; four of pistas; one of apricots; three mule and three camel-loads of apples.

INCOME-TAX COMMISSIONERS.—The Government Gazette of the 13th September announces the appointment of the following gentlemen as commissioners for the town and island of Bombay, for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of Act 32 of 1860 (the Income-tax):—Special Commissioner: Mr. J. Gibbs. President: Mr. A. F. Bellasis. Members: Mr. H. Newton, Mr. W. London, Mr. Braz Fernandez, Mr. Cowasjee Jehangeer, Mr. Mungaldass Nathooiboy. The notification intimates further that the names of the other non-official members of the commission will be published hereafter. The gentlemen to whom the appointment has been offered we believe are:—Mr. James Hunter, Mr. M. C. Wilkinson, and Mirza Ali Jan.

CUTCH.—Accounts from Cutch state that very great scarcity prevails there. The want of rain is severely felt, and forage was selling at 30 lbs. per rupee. An order was proclaimed prohibiting the exportation of grain and forage, unless a certificate was obtained from the authorities, and then only a limited quantity allowed to be sent out of the country. The late Rao, before his death, having requested that import duty on all articles be suspended for two months, his wishes have been religiously fulfilled. Numbers of artisans and labourers were daily emigrating from Cutch to Sind and other parts. It is reported that in consequence of the scarcity of fodder, the people are sending their cattle to Sind; many come via Luckput to Kohra, from thence they have to pass the Runn, a long dreary march of thirty-five miles, and occupying a space probably of twenty-four hours to accomplish. More than one thousand head of cattle are reported to have lately perished on this one march.—Sind Commercial Gazette.

GOVERNMENT LAW SCHOOL.—At a meeting of the senate of the University of Bombay, held on the 4th September, the Government law school was recognised by the university as an institution for degrees in law. The law school at present contains in all fifty-eight students, of whom thirty belong to the candidate class, and the rest to the higher classes.

The servs. of Maj. H. O. Mayne, 6th Madras L.C., are placed at disposal of govt. of Madras.

The servs. of Lieut. C. A. de Kantzow, 48th N.I., are placed at disposal of milty. dept.

Lieut. H. E. Wood, H.M.'s 17th lancers, has been perm. to res. his appt. as 2nd in com. of 2nd regt. of Mayne's horse, and his servs. are placed at disposal of C. in C.

Sept. 11.—Asst. surg. J. Ogilvy, of H.M.'s 33rd regt., is apptd. to jt. med. ch. of Meywar agency and civil station of Neemuch, as a temp. arrangt.

Lieut. P. W. Bannerman received ch. of the offices of dep. Bheel agent, and 2nd in com. Malwa Bheel corps from Lieut G. S. Dysart on 23rd Aug.

The servs. of Capt. W. A. Gibb, 48th Madras N.I., asst. gen. superint. of operations for the suppress. of Thuggee and Dacoity, are, at the request of the Govt. of Fort. St. George, replaced at disp. of that Govt., from date of the expiry of the leave granted to him in G.O., by gov. gen., No. 4,249, dated 12th July.

Asst. surg. E. Selons ass. med. ch. of station of Portaburgh on 19th Aug. last.

No. 904.—The following proms. are made:—

Artillery.—Lieut. D. J. Welsh to be 2nd capt. fr. 28th July, v. 2nd Capt. E. H. Willoughby, dec.

4th Eur. L.C.—Lieut. M. M. Prendergast to be capt., from 2nd July, v. Capt. W. A. Shaw, ret.

No. 906.—The leave on m.c., under old regs., granted to Capt. R. R. Mainwaring, of 6th Eur. regt., v. G.G.O. No. 851, of the 11th June, 1859, is ext. for a further period of 18 mo. on the same account.

No. 908.—The servs. of Lieut. F. D. Ogilvie, 46th N.I., are placed at disp. of the Foreign dept.

No. 909.—H.E. the Gov. gen. of India in Council is pleased to make the following appt.:

Hyderabad Contingent, 4th Cav.—Lieut. F. J. Innes, adjt. of 3rd inf., to be adjt., v. Lieut. R. C. Stewart, proc. to Eur. for 3 years, under old regs.

No. 912.—Under authority of the Rt. Hon. the Sec. of State for India, H.E. the Gov. gen. in Council is pleased to confer the honorary rank of asst. surg. on pensioned Apothecary E. George, late of the sub. med. dept., and now in charge of the Park-street Dispensary.

No. 914.—Capt. E. W. Bristow, of the inv. est., has an ext. of leave fr. July 31 to Aug. 13, the date on which that officer returned to Bengal from m.c. to Cape of Good Hope.

No. 915.—The serv. of the underment. officers are placed temp. at disp. of Govt. of N.W. Prov.:—

Asst. surg. J. J. McDermott, att. to the convalescent depot at Allahabad.

Asst. surg. F. Odevaine, att. to Shajehanpore levy.

BY THE LIEUT. GOVERNOR.

Sept. 4.—Mr. F. Jones, asst. of the superint. of survey, 3rd or eastern div., for 6 weeks, on m.c., under sec. VI. of new revised absentee rules.

Sept. 5.—Mr. G. D. Wilkins, judge of Sarrin, for 1 year, on m.c., under sec. VIII. of the new revised absentee rules.

Appointments.—Mr. J. Geoghegan to be asst. to mag. and coll. of Pubna.

Sept. 6.—Mr. E. Stewart, dep. mag. and dep. coll. of Pubna, to the charge of sub-division of Kooshtea, and to exercise the powers in add. to those he already exercises in the dist.

Sept. 7.—Mr. A. Money to offic. as coll. of customs at Calcutta, retaining charge of his present duties as controller of salt chowkies.

Mr. J. H. R. Carnac to be a member of local committee of public instruction at Midnapore.

Mr. F. Grant to be a dep. mag. and a dep. coll. in Bograh, and to exercise powers of a covenanted asst. to a mag. in that district.

Sept. 7.—Leave of absence:—

Mr. F. J. Cockburn, offic. coll. of customs at Calcutta, for 1 mo., on m.c., under new rules.

NEW SUB-DIVISION.

Sept. 6.—The Lieut. gov. has been pleased to sanction the formation of a sub-div. in dist. of Pubna to be called the sub-division of Kooshtea, and composed of the following thannahs, with its hd. qrs. at Kooshtea, viz.:—

Hurinainpore.
Kooshtea.
Dhurmpore.
Koksa, and { So much as lie on the west of the Pangsa, { River Goria.

The jurisdiction of the Comorecolly sub division in thannahs Koksa and Pangsa being limited to such portions as lie wholly on the east of that river.

Sept. 11.—Mr. G. C. Fletcher, C.S., rep. his return to the presy. on 10th inst. in the str. Colombo.

Income-tax.

PROCLAMATION.

For the information of her Majesty's native subjects of the North Western Provinces.

1. Hitherto the revenue of the Govt. has, for the most part, been derived from land.

2. Persons engaged in trade, and other professions and employments yielding them an income, though they have enjoyed the protection of the Govt., have not hitherto contributed to its necessities.

3. The disturbances which occurred two years ago will not have passed away from the recollection of H.M.'s native subjects in these provinces.

4. Loyal and disloyal alike suffered,—the former from the conduct of the disaffected, the latter from the penalties which their own acts brought upon them.

5. In suppressing these disturbances and restoring tranquillity, enormous expenditure fell upon the Govt., and debt was incurred.

6. The receipts of the Government now fall short of its expenditure, and the two must be equalised.

7. The Government, therefore, is compelled to call upon all H.M.'s subjects to contribute, according to their means, to the necessities of the times.

8. A tax accordingly will be levied upon persons of all classes, excepting those whose profits or income do not exceed Rs. 200 in the year, from whatever source derived.

9. Every person having an income, or profits, amounting to Rs. 200 a-year, and less than Rs. 500, from whatever source such income or profits may be derived, will be required to contribute annually at the rate of Rs. 2 in every hundred rupees of such income or profits.

10. Those having an income, or profits, of Rs. 500 and upwards, from whatever source such income or profits may be derived, will be required to contribute annually at the rate of Rs. 3 in every hundred rupees of such income or profits for the use of the Government, and one rupee in every hundred rupees besides, for the construction of canals and roads, and other works useful to the people; in all, 4 rupees for every hundred rupees of income.

11. All the subjects of H.M. in the N.W. provs. will see that this tax is in itself quite just and equal. And they are assured that it is necessary for the purposes of the Government.

12. It will be seen that while the poorer people are excused from payment, all other persons as above, including H.E. the Viceroy, and his honour the lieut. governor, and all other servants of the Government in the civil department, down to a Mohurrir who receives even Rs. 16-10-8 a month, will have to contribute a' exactly in the same proportion to their means.

13. The law which has been passed by the legislative council for the imposition of this tax will be in force for five years only, from the 1st August, 1860.

14. His Honour the Lieut. gov. of the N.W.P., therefore, calls upon all the subjects of her Majesty in the N.W.P. to give obedience to this law; to assist the collectors of the several districts and the other officers of the Government in carrying out its provisions, either by making voluntary returns of their income, which will be accepted by the collector without further inquiry, unless he have good reason to suspect their correctness; or by combining and assessing themselves in the lump in the way of punishment, to the satisfaction of the collector; or by rendering assistance and information to the collectors and other officers aforesaid. Her Majesty's subjects may rest assured that, if they give ready obedience to the law, and deal fairly with the Government, every effort will be made by the Government to protect them from harassment, indignity, and undue exaction, and from being required to make any disclosure hurtful to their interests in the trade or other occupations which they may be following.

15. On the other hand, His Honour the Lieut. gov. warns H.M.'s subjects in the N.W.P. that the Government is resolved to carry out the objects of this law; and His Honour is sanguine that the officers of the government will be spared the necessity of enforcing the penalties which this law attaches to fraud, evasion, wilful neglect, and resistance, active or passive, to the commands of the Government.

By order of the Hon. the Lieut. gov. of the N.W.P.,
GEORGE COOPER, Secy. to Govt. N.W.P.

Nynce Tal, Aug. 21, 1860.

[The above proclamation applies to the whole of India.—Ed. A.I.M.]

MADRAS.

Moturpha Taxes.

Sept. 10.—When the income-tax, license-tax, and tobacco-tax were approved by the Government of India, it was a part of the general plan that the moturpha and vessabuddy taxes in this presidency should be abolished. The abolishing clause is contained in the License-tax Bill, which has not yet been passed into law, while the Income-tax Bill has been enacted, and measures have already been taken in order to bring it into operation. It would be felt as a hardship by persons already paying the moturpha and vessabuddy if they were called on to pay a further special tax, and the Government, acting on what they believe to be the intention of the Government of India, resolve to direct that the payment of income-tax shall, protanto, exempt parties from the payment of the moturpha and vessabuddy taxes.

That it is to say, where the amount payable to these taxes by any individual falls below the amount assessable on him on account of the income-tax, no demand shall be made for the former, and where the amount payable to the two taxes by any persons exceeds that assessed on him for the income-tax the payments for the latter shall be taken in diminution of the sums payable to the former.

The Board of Revenue, to whom a copy of this resolution will be furnished, will be requested to issue the necessary instructions for giving effect to it. The purport of it should be made public without delay, especially in Bellary and Cuddapah.

BOMBAY.

CIVIL.

Political Dept., Fombay Castle, Sept. 12.—Lieut. H. Elliott is confirmed as supern. 3rd asst. to political agent in Kattywar, and apptd. to act as 2nd asst., v. Mr. J. W. S. Wyllie, transf. to Oude.

Judicial Dept., Sept. 10.—Mr. H. E. Leeke, asst. superint. of police at Tanna, has leave for 12 mos. to Europe, on m.c., under clause 3, sec. 5, of the uncovenanted serv. absentee rules.

Sept. 11.—Mr. C. A. Middleton, act. judicial dept. mag. at Hyderabad, has prep. leave for 8 weeks, from the date of leaving his appt.

Revenue Dept., Sept. 7.—Mr. H. M. Grant, supern. asst. to the superint. rev. surv. and assessment, Tanna and Rutnagherry, has leave for 1 mo., on m.c., to proceed to Bombay.

Sept. 11.—The following appts. are made, to take effect from the date of Mr. Shaw's depart. for Eur.:—

Mr. J. R. Arthur to be 1st asst. to coll. and mag. of Ahmednuggur, continuing to act as 1st asst. at Rutnagherry.

Mr. H. N. B. Erskine to be 2nd asst. to coll. and mag. of Dharwar, and to act as 1st asst. at Ahmednuggur.

Mr. H. B. Lindsay to be 1st asst. to coll. and mag. of Broach, continuing to act as 1st asst. at Surat.

Mr. G. Norman to be confirmed as 2nd asst. at Ahmedabad.

Mr. J. Elphinstone to be 2nd asst. to coll. and mag. of Belgaum.

Mr. G. G. B. Coulson to be 2nd class dep. coll. and mag. in Hyderabad, continuing to act as settlement officer at Kurrachee.

Mr. T. Bosanquet to be 3rd asst. to coll. and mag. of Khandeish, and to act as 2nd asst.

Mr. R. Phillips to be 3rd asst. to coll. and mag. of Sholapoor, and to act as 2nd asst.

Mr. W. H. Probert to be 3rd asst. to coll. and mag. of Ahmedabad.

Mr. E. H. Percival to be 3rd asst. to coll. and mag. of Kaira, continuing to act as 2nd asst.

Mr. A. H. Spry to be actg. 3rd asst. to coll. and mag. of Kaira.

Mr. A. K. Nairne to be actg. 3rd asst. to coll. and mag. of Khandeish.

Mr. A. L. Spens to be actg. 3rd asst. to coll. and mag. of Dharwar.

Mr. G. Waddington to be 3rd asst. to coll. and mag. of Sattara.

Gen. Dept., Sept. 8.—Mr. B. H. Ellis, sec. to Govt. in revenue and financial depts., has furl. to Eur. on m.c. for 15 mos.

Sept. 11.—The Hon. the Gov. in Council is pleased to make the following arrangements and appts. in connection with the secretariat:—

Mr. H. L. Anderson to be chief sec. to Govt., and sec. in political, secret, judicial, and educational depts.

Mr. B. H. Ellis to be sec. to Govt. in revenue, financial and gen. depts.

Mr. A. D. Robertson to act as sec. to Govt. in revenue, financial, and gen. depts.

Capt. Marriott to act as sec. to Govt. in the military, marine, and ecclesiastical depts.

Col. Scott, chief engr., to be ex-officio sec. to Govt. in public works dept.

Sept. 12.—Messrs. B. H. Ellis and A. D. Robertson respectively delivered over and received ch. of the office of sec. to Govt. in rev. and financ. depts. on 11th Sept., 1860.

Mr. J. P. Green is apptd. to act as Govt. prof. of law, in the Elphinstone College, dur. abs. on leave of Mr. Hore.

The servs. of the underment. gentlemen of the Bombay C.S. have been placed at disp. of the Govt. of India:—

Messrs. T. M. Mason and J. W. S. Willie for employment in Oude, and Mr. E. Macnaghten, for employment in Nagpore.

Public Works Dept., Sept. 8.—The Hon. the Gov. in Council is pleased to make the following appts. in the public works dept.:—

Capt. H. W. B. Bell to be superint. engr., northern circle, v. Lieut. col. Hart, ret.

Capt. Southley to be garr. and dockyard engr. at presy.

Maj. R. Malcolm to be conf. as a dep. consulting engr. in railway dept., v. Southley.

(From the Government Gazette, Sept. 20.)

Bombay Castle, Sept. 15.—The servs. of Lieut. J. Jacob, 22nd N.I., have been placed at disp. of the Govt. of India, for employ. in Mayne's horse.

Judicial Dept., Sept. 15.—R. T. Reid, Esq., has been appd. to act as first judge to the Court of Small Causes, dur. the abs. of Mr. J. F. Hore.

Sept. 17.—Capt. T. G. Coles to be acting asst. superint. of police at Tanna, dur. abs. of Mr. Leeke. Mr. C. Forbes has been appd. acting judge and sess. judge of the Konkani from 1st Aug. last, the date on which he received ch. of the Tanna Adawlut from Mr. C. J. Erskine.

Sept. 18.—Lieut. H. H. Elliott, actg. 2nd asst. to political agent in Kattywar, is app. an asst. mag. in the regulation district of Thakoor of Bhownuggur.

SAUGOR CIRCLE.

Sept. 19.—H.E. the Hon. the Gov. in Council is pleased to republish the following notification, dated Fort William, Sept. 7:—

The app. of chief engr. of the Saugor and Nerbudda territories is abolished, and the exec. divisions under that office are constituted a superint. engr.'s circle, to be called the third or Saugor circle of public works dept. of the N.W. Provinces.

The servs. of Lieut. col. S. O. E. Ludlow, chief engr. of the Saugor and Nerbudda territories, are, at his own request, placed at disp. of govt. of Fort St. George.

Capt. C. T. Boddam, Bombay engrs., is app. superint. engr. of Saugor circle.

The above orders will have effect from the date on which Lieut. col. Ludlow is rel. by Capt. Boddam.

The underment. officers have passed examinations in Sindie language, agreeably to the test prescribed at p. 14 of the Regulations of the Public Works Department:—

Lieut. G. L. C. Merewether, asst. engr.

Lieut. E. P. Gambier, 2nd class asst. engr.

Lieut. Mant, Bombay engrs., has passed an exam. in vernacular of the Oordoo language.

Lieut. col. Margary to act as exec. engr., Sattara district, v. Kennedy.

Sept. 18.—Capt. H. Rivers, consulting eng. for railways, to be ex-officio sec. to Govt. in railway dept.

BY THE GOVERNOR IN COUNCIL.

Poona, Sept. 13.—No. 519.—Admitted to the serv. as cadet of inf. on this estab.; date of arr. at Bombay, Sept. 9, 1860:—

No. 555.—Infantry.—Mr. E. A. Douglas.

No. 520.—The following prom. is made:—

H.M.'s 9th N.I.—Ens. C. H. Coles to be lieut., from Aug. 30, v. Bennet, dec. on 29th idem.

No. 522.—The following proms. are made:—

H.M.'s 25th N.I.—Lieut. (brev. capt.) G. L. Thomson to be Capt. of a compy., and Ens. S. H. Burnes to be lieut. from 9th June, in succ. to Hobart, ret. on 8th idem.

No. 523.—The following officer, cadet of the season 1845, is prom. to the brev. rank of capt. from the date specified opposite his name:—

Lieut. J. F. Berthon, 11th N.I., Sept. 8.

Sept. 14.—No. 524.—The following prom. is made:—

Med. Estab.—Asst. surg. F. Broughton, to be surg. from Aug. 31, v. Arnott, conf. in the rank of dep. insp. gen. of hospitals from 30th idem.

Sept. 18.—No. 526.—The furl. to Eur. granted in April, 1856, to Brev. maj. R. H. Keatings, of the regt. of art., is ext. to the 10th inst., the date of that officer's return to duty.

Sept. 17.—Brev. maj. C. M. Barrow, 19th N.I., com. the marine batt., is directed to proc. and join his regt. at Mhow.

Capt. G. A. Leckie, brig. maj. and asst. adjt. gen. at the hd. qrs. of the army, is app. to com. of marine batt. from Oct. 1, v. Barrow.

Capt. C. T. Aitchison, brig. maj. Belgaum brig., is app. to act as asst. adjt. gen. at hd. qrs. of the army, v. Leckie.

Capt. J. A. Collier, brig. maj., is posted to Poona.

Capt. W. S. Hewett, 11th N.I., actg. brig. maj., is app. a brig. maj. on estab., v. Leckie, and posted to Ahmedabad.

Brev. maj. A. Cargegy, brig. maj. at Kurrachee, is transf. to Belgaum brig. dur. abs. of Capt. Aitchison.

Capt. E. S. Scott, 30th N.I., is app. to act as brig. maj. at Kurrachee.

Leave of abs.—19th N.I.—Maj. E. H. Hart from Oct. 1 to Dec. 31, to Deccan and Bombay.

Bombay, Sept. 20.—Leave of absence.—22nd N.I.—Lieut. F. Adam, from Sept. 25 to Oct. 15, and 25th N.I., Lieut. E. S. Ostrehan, from Sept. 19 to Oct. 15, to Bombay, m.c.

Poona, 21st Sept.—No. 529.—Ens. J. M. Madden, attached to H.M.'s 15th N.I., is granted leave to Mangalore, from 1st Nov. 1860 to the 28th Feb. 1861, under new furl. regs.

No. 530.—Lieut. T. Waddington, H.M.'s 7th N.I., is granted a furl. to Eur. for two years, under new furl. regs., to commence from date of the dep. of first steamer in Oct.

No. 531.—Capt. E. Waddington, H.M.'s 23rd N.I., is granted a furl. to Eur. for three years under old furl. regs., to commence from date of dep. of first steamer in Oct. next.

No. 533.—The undermentioned officers are allowed furloughs to Europe for fifteen months, on m.c., under new furl. regs.:—

Lieut. Col. J. B. Woonnam, principal commissary of ordnance; Lieut. col. C. Birdwood, 3rd N.I. and acting deputy com. gen.; Surg. Maj. A. Burn; Lieut. S. F. McGillivray, 26th N.I., and Assist. superint. of police, Ahmednuggur, and Assist. surg. A. N. Hojel.

No. 534.—Lieut. T. Turner is confirmed in appointment of Assist. to military and gen. ordnance dep.

BY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF.

Poona, Sept. 10.—Lieut. Grant, 6th N.I., to count as service for retiring pension, the leave taken in consequence of a wound received in action during the attack on the Fort of Beyt, from Oct. 11 to Feb. 15.

With reference to G.O., dated Adj. gen.'s office, H.M.'s forces, Calcutta, June 6, Dep. insp. gen. Dr. Hadaway, having reported his arrival at the h. qrs. this day, will assume duties of Dep. insp. gen. H.M.'s hospitals in this presy.

Surg. maj. Inglis, H.M.'s 64th regt., will proceed to join his regt. at Kurrachee after handing over the Dep. insp. gen.'s office to Dr. Hadaway.

The following orders are confirmed:—

By Maj. gen. Cuninghame, com. Scinde div., dated Aug. 30, granting leave under new furl. regs. to Lieut. Burgess, H.M.'s 64th regt., at the recommendation of a board of med. officers, to proceed to England, m.c., subject to the further confirmation of H.E. the C. in C. in India.

Surg. maj. Fraser, in med. charge 57th foot.

The underment. officer has passed the required examn. in the colloquial Hindoostanee:—Lieut. H. E. Couper, H.M.'s 64th regt.

Leave of absence:—

56th Regt.—Lieut. H. G. Monk, from Sept. 1 to Oct. 20, to Bombay, m.c., in Hindoostanee language.

Leave has been granted by H.R.H. the gen. C. in C. to the undermentioned officers:—

3rd Drag. Gds.—Lieut. col. Barrow, from Aug. 17 to Oct. 31, by which time he is to have rejoined his corps in India.

64th Regt.—Brev. maj. Goode, from Oct. 10 to April 12, 1861.

Bombay, Sept. 11.—Returned to duty on Sept. 9:—

Maj. (Brev. lieut. col.) E. L. Russell, 12th regt. N.I., remount agent.

Capt. (Brev. maj.) R. H. Keatinge, regt. of art., political agent, Nimar.

Capt. R. Gordon, 4th N.I. (rifles.)

Lieut. C. J. Griffith, 17th N.I., Inam commr. northern div.

Sept. 12.—Leave of absence:—

Artillery.—Lieut. T. H. Ouchterlony, fr. Sept. 4 to Oct. 24, for the purpose of appearing before the next examination committee.

1st Regt. L.C. (Lancers).—Lieut. G. E. Erskine, fr. Aug. 31 to Sept. 30, to proc. to Taragur, on m.c.

1st Gren. N.I.—Lieut. W. Fergusson, fr. Sept. 1 to Sept. 30, to presy., on m.c.

11th N.I.—Capt. H. R. Hathway, fr. Sept. 1 to Oct. 30, to Bombay, for the purpose of appearing before the next examination committee.

Jacob's Rifles.—Lieut. E. Coghlan, fr. Sept. 1 to Sept. 30, in ext., to proc. to Bombay, on m.c.

Ordnance Dept.—Actg. cond. F. Hanson, fr. Sept. 1 to Sept. 30, to proc. to the Deccan, on m.c.

Poona, Sept. 12.—With the sanction of the Govt. of Bombay, the servs. of Lieut. Collier, of H.M.'s 8th hussars, are placed at disp. of C. in C. in India, for employ. with Ranegurh irreg. cav.

Lieut. Collier will proc. to join that corps immediately.

Sept. 13.—Capt. H. Y. Beale, 12th N.I., is app. fort adjt. at Surat, and will proc. to take up his appt. at his earliest convenience.

Lieut. H. M. B. Sandwith is perm. to res. app. of adjt. of Poona irreg. horse, and is app. adjt. of his regt., the 3rd N.I.

Lieut. K. Neave, 24th N.I., is directed to rejoin his regt.

DEPUTY-INSPECTORSHIP OF HOSPITALS.

Referring to G. G. O. No. 366 of June 12 last, Government having authorised the retention of a dep. insp. gen. of hospitals at Belgaum, Dep. insp. gen. Mackenzie will cont. in that app., and will be styled dep. insp. gen. of the "Southern Mahratta Circle."

Bombay, Sept. 14.—The underment. officers passed colloq. exam. in Hindoostanee on the dates shown opposite their names:—

2nd Lieuts. G. W. Oldham and H. W. Watson, engrs.; and Ens. J. L. Fagan, att. to 25th N.I.I.—Sept. 10.

Ens. F. F. Comyn, att. to 30th N.I.—July 16.

Leave of absence:—

12th N.I.—Lieut. and Adj. R. J. Hotchkis, fr.

Sept. 3 to Oct. 31, to proc. to Bombay, on m.c., under new rules, m.c. to Europe.

14th N.I.—Lieut. W. B. Preston, fr. the date of quitting Ahmedabad, to Oct. 31.

22nd N.I.—Lieut. G. A. Jacob, fr. Sept. 20 to Oct. 20, to Bombay, for the purpose of appearing before the next examination committee.

Lieut. col. E. S. Blake, art., is directed to proc. and join the hd. qrs. of 1st batt. at Ahmednuggur.

Leave of absence:—

2nd Eur. L.I.—Ens. A. H. Davis, fr. Oct. 5 to Nov. 30, on privilege leave.

15th N.I.—Lieut. col. G. R. Grimes, fr. Sept. 15 to Oct. 30, on privilege leave.

17th N.I.—Capt. J. Pogson, fr. Oct. 20 to Nov. 30, to proc. to Bombay.

25th N.I.—Surg. W. J. Stuart, for 56 days, fr. date of departure, on privilege leave.

Leave of absence, to proc. to England by the overland route, under the new furl. regs., is granted to the undermentioned officers at the recommendation of a board of medical officers, on m.c., subject to the confirmation of the C. in C. in India:—

4th (King's Own Regt.).—Asst. surg. E. B. Kearney, who is not available for duty.

33rd Regt.—Brev. maj. F. S. Vacher, who is available for duty.

On arr. they will report themselves to the adjt. gen. Horse Guards.

Maj. R. Anderson, H.M.'s 56th foot, is app. to com. of gen. depot, with effect fr. date of dep. of Maj. Vacher, on m.c., to Europe.

Sept. 15.—Leave of absence:—

1st Gren. N.I.—Lieut. E. Bell, fr. Sept. 7 to 30, to Bombay, on m.c., for the purpose of obtaining a final certificate to Eur.

Poona, Sept. 20.—The underment. ens. are att. to regts., as follows, fr. the dates specified opposite their respective names, and directed to join accordingly:—

Ens. E. G. Peyton, at present do. du. with 56th foot, is att. to 4th N.I., fr. Sept. 28; Ens. F. S. Leacock, at present do. du. with 1st batt. art., is att. to 2nd Eur. L.I., fr. Oct. 1.

Ens. J. B. Hannel, fr. 1st Eur. regt., to 56th N.I., fr. date of his arr. at Dharwar; Ens. F. C. Singleton, fr. 57th foot, to 22nd N.I., fr. Oct. 1.

Ens. W. Scott, fr. 64th foot to 12th N.I., fr. date of his arr. at Surat.

Ens. D. C. Pedder, fr. 4th foot, to 11th N.I., fr. Oct. 12.

Lieut. Gabbett, 95th regt., is app. interp. to 72nd highlanders, v. Lieut. St. John.

Sept. 21.—The underment. officers of the invalid estab. are perm. to reside and draw their pay and allowances at the stations affixed to their respective names.

Lieut. col. A. Troward, Southern Konkan and Bombay.

Messrs. J. Symons, Bombay, and H. C. Jones, Belgaum.

Capt. S. C. Baldwin, Southern Konkan and Bombay; C. Cameron, Bombay; F. G. Green, Nassick;

T. Oliver, Mount Abbo; H. S. Osborne, Bombay; De L. McD. Gleig, Rajcote; F. W. Holbrow, Bhowndy; F. J. Groube, Poona; F. R. Jardine, Ahmednuggur; and Lieut. D. J. Smith, Bombay.

Bombay, Sept. 22.—Ens. T. G. Hunter, att. to 8rd N.I., passed colloq. exam. in Hindoostanee on Aug. 17.

Leave of absence:—

15th N.I.—Ens. J. W. Berthon, fr. Sept. 25 to Oct. 25, to Bombay.

30th N.I.—Capt. J. J. Lawrie, fr. Sept. 16 to Oct. 15, in ext., to remain at Asseerghur, on m.c.

NAVAL.

Sept. 6.—Lieut. N. P. Mason is allowed a further extn. of leave to remain in Persia and Turkish Arabia, from 1st inst. to the end of Feb. next, on m.c.

Sept. 7.—With reference to G.O. No. 125, dated Feb. 28 last, Asst. surg. Colvill will continue to do duty in the I.N.

Sept. 10.—Midshipman A. W. Campbell has been allowed by the Govt. of India to proceed to Calcutta, with leave for 2 mos.

Sup's. Office, Bombay, Sept. 13.—Mr. J. N. C. Beyts, purser, actg. chief clerk in civil branch and clerk of the check, is app. purser of Ajdaha, v. Williams.

Mr. C. J. Whiting, jun. clerk C. in C.'s office, is app. actg. chief clerk in civil branch and clerk of the check, v. Beyts, transferred to Ajdaha.

Sept. 11.—Mr. J. C. Beyts, purser, having returned from England by the P. and O. Co.'s steamer China on 27th ult., was directed to join the Ajdaha as supy. from that date.

Mr. J. C. Beyts, purser supy., attached to Ajdaha, is app. actg. chief clerk in civil branch and clerk of the check, v. Williams relieved.

Poona, Sept. 14.—No. 152.—Mr. H. Boys, midshipman, is allowed a furl. to Eur. for 15 mos., on m.c., under new furl. regs.

Superint.'s Office, Bombay, Sept. 15.—Lieut. Williams, supern. attached to Ajdaha, is directed to receive charge of Euphrates from Master Attendant on 15th inst., and to commission her from that date.

Mr. Pendlebury, captain's clerk, supern. on board Ajdaha, is to be appd. clerk in charge of Euphrates, from 15th inst.

Lieut C. Forster, supern. on board Ajdaha, is to be directed to hold himself in readiness to proceed by the first B. S. N. Co.'s steamer leaving Bombay for Kurrachee, to assume charge of the river steamer Assyria.

Sept. 15.—Comdr. Constable having completed the duty referred to in S. O. dated June 21, and furnished a m.c., is perm. to reside on shore, m.c.

Mr. R. H. Carr, 3rd class engr., supernum. att. to Ajdaha, is to be transf. to Auckland.

Poona, Sept. 13.—No. 151.—The following temp. arrangements and appointments are confirmed:—

By Commodore G. G. Wellesley, C. in C. I.N.:—
Mr. A. C. Dando, actg. mr. in ch. of the Goolanar, proc. on special duty to Aden, to be accommodated on board the str. Benares, fr. Aug. 7.

Asst. surg. Hojel, of the Ajdaha, to reside on shore at the sanitarium, m.c., fr. Aug. 10.

The surg. of the Auckland to afford med. aid to the officers and crew of the Ajdaha, fr. Aug. 10, v. Asst. surg. Hojel, discharged to sick quarters.

Mr. Jones, 1st class engr. and asst. to the superint. of the dockyard pumping engine, to take temp. ch. of the engine, fr. May 12, v. Ingle, ret.

Actg. Lieut. G. C. Sconce, Ferooz, to be store accountant of the Falkland, fr. Sept. 9, 1857, v. Lieut. Edwards.

Sept. 18.—No. 153.—Midshipman M. J. Sutton is perm. to res. the serv.

No. 154.—Lieut. E. F. T. Ferguson has a furl. to Eur. for 15 mo., on m.c., under new regs.

Superint.'s Office, Sept. 21.—Lieut. H. Moreland, of the Auckland, was perm. to reside on shore at the Sanitarium, m.c., fr. 19th inst.

Asst. surg. Lawrence, of the Tigris, is to be transf. to Euphrates.

Lieut. Nixon is app. registrar of seamen, v. Moreland, sick.

Messrs. A. P. Young, C. B. Girdlestone, and F. W. S. Williams, midshipmen, supernum. on board the Ajdaha, are to be transf. to Euphrates.

Mr. H. Driver, 3rd. cl. eng., supernu. attached to Ajdaha, is to be directed to hold himself in readiness to proc. to Kurrachee by the B. S. N. Co.'s str. which leaves this after the arrival of the next Overland Mail, for the purpose of joining the Indus flotilla.

Land.

The following letter from the Government of India, with its accompanying despatch from the Secretary of State for India, is published for general information.

No. 1,811.

From W. Grey, Esq., Sec. to Govt. of India, to the Sec. to the Govt. of Bombay.

Dated Fort William, Aug. 31.

SIR,—In continuation of my letter, No. 1,118, dated 26th May, I am directed to transmit, for the information and guidance of the Government of Bombay, the accompanying copy of a Despatch, No. 36 of 1860, dated the 28th ultimo, from the Secretary of State, declining to sanction any relaxation of the rule which prohibits officers in the public service from holding land for agricultural purposes in India.

2. I am to draw attention to the modification of the existing rules which is allowed in favour of grantees generally, expressed in the concluding part of the Despatch.

I have the honor, &c.

(Signed) W. GREY, Sec. to the Govt. of India.

No. 36 (Revenue).

India Office, London, July 24.

To H.E. the Right Hon. the Governor General of India in Council.

MY LORD,—1. In your letter of the 2nd April last (No. 6) you have referred for the consideration and orders of H.M.'s Government "the general question of Government servants holding lands in India."

2. In the opinion of the Governor-general, in which all the other members of your Government concur, "it would be quite sufficient to rule, as regards military officers, that they might acquire and hold lands anywhere, unless, as in the case of Government grants, residence be made a condition of ownership; but that they should not be employed in any civil situation in which their influence could, on any reasonable supposition, be brought to bear unduly on their own personal interests as landholders. H.E. is further of opinion that officers of the C.S. might be permitted to hold lands anywhere out of their own presidency."

3. I am very desirous that all due encouragement should be given to the settlement of Europeans as landed proprietors in India, but, as regards officers in the public service, whether civil or military, I am of opinion that it is inexpedient that they should be permitted to engage in pursuits by which their time and attention would be diverted from their proper duties, to which their entire energies should be devoted. I am, therefore, unable to sanction the relaxation of the rules recommended by your Government; and I desire that it may be clearly understood that no officer, so long as he remains in the actual service of the Government, can be permitted to acquire and hold lands for agricultural purposes in any part of India. I think it, however, desirable to take this opportunity of withdrawing the prohibition in the despatch of the 9th May, 1838, against the grant of land to any European unless he shall undertake to reside on it, and cultivate it himself within a specified period, and that it will be sufficient if, in all cases, the Governor in Council or the Lieut. Gov. should be satisfied, previously to making the grant, that the applicant has the means and intention of bringing into cultivation the land applied for, without insisting on the condition of actual residence.—I have, &c.,

CHARLES WOOD, Secy. of State for India.

BIRTHS.

ANDERSON, wife of Capt. P. C., son, at Peshawur, Aug. 30.

ARGLES, wife of C. V., daughter, at Mozufferpore, Sept. 2.

BAKER, wife of W. A., son, at Kurrachee, Sept. 10.

BERKELEY, wife of L., daughter, at Mussoorie, Sept. 8.

BILBY, wife of J., son, at Bombay, Sept. 9.

BIRCH, wife of Lieut. A. J. C., daughter, at Goordaspore, Sept. 4.

BROWN, wife of Maj. G. G., son, at Mhow, Sept. 12.

CARTER, wife of H. V., daughter, at Bombay, Sept. 14.

CHASE, wife of H., daughter, at Mynpoory, Sept. 10.

CLARKE, wife of Col. J., daughter, at Seetapore, Sept. 9.

COMBE, wife of Capt. J. J., son, at Belgaum, Sept. 14.

CONNELL, wife of Capt., daughter, still-born, at Simla, Sept. 7.

COOKES, wife of Capt. C. H., daughter, at Peshawur, Sept. 10.

CORY, wife of Lieut. A., son, at Shahjehanpore, Sept. 13.

CRANERBURGH, wife of P. M., daughter, at Calcutta, Sept. 11.

DOWNING, wife of W. B., daughter, at Calcutta, Sept. 14.

FRANCIS, wife of Lieut. A., daughter, at Accola, Sept. 1.

GILDEA, wife of Maj., son, at Rawul Pindee, Sept. 5.

GONSALVES, Mrs. S. B., son, at Calcutta, Sept. 12.

HARRIS, wife of G. A., daughter, at Madras, Sept. 11.

HAYLOCK, wife of W. H., daughter, at Kollhapore, Sept. 22.

HAWKINS, wife of Capt. J. R., son, at Poona, Sept. 16.

HAYES, Mrs. J., daughter, at Bengal, Sept. 15.

JOHNSON, wife of Lieut. W. R., daughter, at Madras, Sept. 8.

LARFENT, wife of A. de H., son, at Poona, Sept. 17.

LEE, wife of C., son, at Kurrachee, Sept. 14.

LEONARD, wife of J., daughter, at Roynpettah, Sept. 7.

MACCARLANE, wife of Rev. J. R., daughter, at Annerly, Sept. 15.

MATHEWS, Mrs. C., daughter, at Bombay, Sept. 9.

MAYNE, wife of Major H. O., daughter, at Ghoona, Sept. 11.

MINAS, Mrs. P. A., son, at Sirsa, Sept. 1.

NICOLSON, wife of Dr., daughter, at Ahmedabad, Sept. 6.

OGLIVIE, wife of Capt. C. S. W., daughter, at Saugor, Sept. 15.

PARTRIDGE, wife of S. B., son, at Calcutta, Sept. 12.

PINTO, wife of J. W., daughter, at Kirkee, Sept. 2.

POWYS, wife of R. H., son, at Kilpauk, Sept. 14.

PROCTER, wife of Lieut. M. M., daughter, at Fyzabad, Sept. 16.

ROBERTS, wife of Maj. W., twins, at Nusseerabad, Sept. 4.

ROBERTSON, wife of J. C., son, at Landour, Sept. 6.

ROWLAND, wife of F., son, at Byculia, Sept. 17.

ROZARIO, wife of G., twins, at Lower Colaba, Sept. 12.

SANDERSON, wife of W., son, at Poona, Sept. 9.

SLADEN, wife of Capt. J. R., son, at Murree, Aug. 30.

SMITH, wife of Dr. T., son, at Girgaum, Sept. 17.

SULLEN, wife of S., daughter, at Cawnpore, Sept. 13.

TAYLOR, wife of Capt. H. A., daughter, at Simla, Sept. 8.

THOMSON, wife of Maj. M., son, at Cawnpore, Sept. 10.

VALLADARES, Mrs. S. M., son, at Metharpacady, Sept. 3.

WARREN, wife of R., daughter, at Bandora, Sept. 23.

WESTALL, wife of T., son, at Colaba, Sept. 24.

WHITEWELL, wife of H., daughter, at Madras, Sept. 8.

YOUNG, wife of Capt. J. N., daughter, at Meer, Aug. 31.

MARRIAGES.

BELL, Lieut. H. J., 2nd Madras Eur. regt., to Ellen E., daughter of M. Lewin, at Ootacamund, Sept. 4.

BROUGHTON, F., to Mary A., daughter of A. J. Lewis, at Bombay, Sept. 11.

CLEVELAND, H., to Effie M., daughter of Maj. Barrow, at Bombay, Sept. 11.

CURTIS, Lieut. A. F., 5th Madras L.C., to Salina S. W., daughter of Lieut. A. Davidson, at Secunderabad, Sept. 18.

LONDON, W., to Caroline A., daughter of the late Rev. R. C. Griffith, at Byculia, Sept. 13.

ROACH, J., to Miss Harriet M. Kelly, at Poona, Sept. 17.

SMITH, H. G., to Annie D., daughter of the Rev. A. F. Camanerer, at Madras, Sept. 10.

THOMPSON, W. B., to Miss Sophia Alone, at Benares, Sept. 10.

WRIGHT, S. R., to Justina A. E., daughter of J. Fillhardt, at Mysore, Sept. 10.

DEATHS.

ARDAGH, Helen, wife of V. E. R., at Deccan, Sept. 17.

CAMPBELL, Lieut. John W., 51st Bengal N.I., at Asnee, Sept. 12.

CARLETON, William M., infant son of Lieut. col., at Peshawur, Aug. 29.

CRAIGIE, J., of the Civil Service, Sept. 15.

DALZIEL, Catherine, wife of W., at Agra, aged 37, Sept. 10.

DAWES, William, infant son of S. R., at Bellary, Sept. 9.

DILLNER, C., at Indore, Sept. 13.

D'LEENO, Lewis, at Mysore, Sept. 15.

D'SILVA, Jolanna, daughter of P. C., at Onnawattce, Sept. 10.

EAST, Capt. F. R. C., 8th Madras cav., at Ootacamund, Sept. 15.

ELPHINSTON, infant son of Lieut. P. A., at Malligaum, Sept. 7.

FAIRBROTHER, Edith F. H., daughter of Capt., at Mhow, aged 5, Sept. 17.

GILLIES, Mrs. F. M., at Vepery, aged 34, Sept. 10.

GREEN, Capt., Bombay Invalids, Neilgherries, Sept. 12.

JOHNSON, Annie, wife of W., at Muttra, aged 33, Sept. 8.

LAVIE, Elizabeth F., infant daughter of W., at Rajamundry, Sept. 3.

LUDLAM, —, infant daughter of G. W., at Mussoorie, Sept. 11.

MACDONALD, Meyrick B., infant son of Capt. W. C. R., at Jaulnah, Aug. 31.

MC MULLEN, Cecilia, infant daughter of R. W., at Agra.

PARKES, William, at Peh-tang, aged 27, Aug. 4.

PELLEY, Constance, infant daughter of W. A., Sept. 7.

PELLEY, Jane A., wife of W. A., aged 25, Sept. 14.

ROBERT, Frances M., infant daughter of Major W., at Nusseerabad, Sept. 12.

ROBERTS, —, infant son of Major W., at Nusseerabad, Sept. 7.

SPOFFORTH, Thomas, on board the Nubia, at sea, Aug. 11.

SPOONER, Emily, daughter of R., at Malabar, Sept. 18.

TRAILL, Lieut. F. M., Royal Art., at Fyzabad, Sept. 2.

WALLER, Charles, infant son of the late R., at Lucknow, Sept. 4.

WEBB, Elizabeth, wife of J., at Agra, aged 36, Sept. 7.

WEISTEAD, Hugh W., infant son of G., at Bulundshuhur, Sept. 11.

WHITE, Clara I., widow of the late T., at Trevandrum, aged 57, Aug. 30.

WILSON, Robert, accidentally shot, at Nipoor, Sept. 2.

WYLD, Capt. Benjamin, 3rd Madras Eur. regt., at Cawnpore, Aug. 30.

WAR OFFICE.

CHANGES, PROMOTIONS, &c., IN H.M.'s REGIMENTS SERVING IN INDIA.

Oct. 16.

13th Foot.—Ens. R. F. King to be lieut., without purchase, v. Henzell, superseded; Lieut. E. L. England to be adj., v. Boud, prom.

18th Foot.—Ens. C. H. Stevenson to be lieut., without purchase, v. Theobald, dec.; Ens. G. A. Nicolls to be lieut., without purchase, v. Bryant, prom.

27th Foot.—Staff Asst. surg. J. H. T. King to be asst. surg., v. Cameron.

56th Foot.—Lieut. and Adj. H. Williams to be capt., without purchase, v. Baxter, dec.; D. J. G. Stewart, gent., to be ens., without purch., in succ. to Williams.

70th Foot.—Ens. R. S. Riddell to be lieut., by purch., v. Crozier, ret.

74th Foot.—Lieut. R. F. Martin to be capt., by purch., v. C. W. Sherlock, ret.; Ens. N. M. McLeod to be lieut., by purch., v. Martin; Ens. H. S. Andrews, from 12th foot, to be ens., v. McLeod.

90th Foot.—Capt. H. R. H. Gale, from mil. train, to be capt., v. C. B. Wynne, who exch.

Rifle Brig.—A. Cope, gent., to be ens., by purch., v. Herbert.

A RIFLE ASSOCIATION has been formed in Bombay. The members are to have monthly competitions for prizes of the value of Rs. 500. Steps are being taken to establish a rifle corps at Kurrachee.

COUNTRY AGENTS:—

Edinburgh, W. Blackwood and Sons.
Dublin, Hodges and Smith.
Brighton, C. Booty.

Communications for the Editor, and Advertisements, should be sent under cover to Messrs. WM. H. ALLEN & Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

 Should any delay or irregularity occur in supplying this Paper, communication of the fact to the Publisher will insure a remedy.*

ALLEN'S INDIAN MAIL,

MONDAY, October 22, 1860.

SIKH REGIMENTS FOR GENERAL SERVICE.

"In enduring fatigue, absence from the prejudices of caste, and patience of discipline, the Sikh is not easily surpassed. He only requires the skill of European officers and instructors to make him an excellent soldier." Such was the opinion of Shahamat Ali, Colonel Wade's Persian Secretary, many years before actual experience could testify to the truthfulness of his observation. Since the above remark was first made we have had abundant opportunities of ascertaining its accuracy, and ample evidence of the soldierly qualities of the Sikhs, whether as gallant enemies or faithful comrades. Their bravery is as unquestionable as their capability of enduring hunger and fatigue, or their freedom from caste prejudices. Nothing seems to come unacceptable to them in the way of eating and drinking, provided only it be good of its kind and sufficient in quantity. As light cavalry they are probably unsurpassed by any in the world, and would give a good account of either the far-famed Hulus, or the equally vaunted Chasseurs d'Afrique. At this moment Major Probyn's corps is serving in China far away from the Punjab, and has been mentioned in terms of the warmest eulogy by the graphic correspondent of the Times. So gratified, indeed, was that intelligent spectator by their martial bearing, their perfect seat on horseback, and their general good conduct in camp, that he became strongly impressed with the advisability of employing such fine soldiers in European as well as in Asiatic warfare. There would be little difficulty, we imagine, in adopting this suggestion, and there are many reasons for believing that it might produce very beneficial results. It is not likely that the Sikhs themselves would object to serve either at the Cape of Good Hope, in Australia, or in the British Isles. Infantry regiments would be more generally useful than cavalry corps, and we cannot but think that the experiment should be fairly tried. In the first place, the Sikhs serving far from their homes would, to a certain extent, be hostages for the loyalty of their countrymen, who would hesitate to compromise the safety of their friends and relatives. But far more important would be the moral influence these men would exercise on their return to their families, after judging for themselves of the immense power and resources of Great Britain, and of the utter hopelessness of any attempt on their part to emancipate themselves from her gentle sway. Nor would it be possible for them to remain insensible to the charms of a refined civilisation combined with a comparatively pure morality and a religion based upon truth. Whatever difficulties exist are merely questions of detail, which could readily be overcome by officers who have served in the Punjab, and are consequently familiar with the Sikh character. At least, let the attempt be made. Let volunteers be called for to form a regiment for so many years' service in foreign parts, and we shall be greatly surprised if they do not present themselves in eager emulation.

THE GOVERNING CLASSES OF INDIA.
No. I.—INTRODUCTORY.

THE Government of India is an autocracy tempered by two fears. It dare not do any act likely to provoke a military revolt. It cannot do any act against which the Europeans will appeal to Parliament. Within these wide limits it is under no restraint whatever, save its own conscience. That Government has repeatedly, by an executive act, changed the tenure of land in a province. It has repeatedly outlawed whole races; punished them for new crimes by special tribunals. It has once made death the sole penalty for every offence. It has often destroyed the aristocracy of a province at a stroke. It has twice changed all the proprietary rights in a land inhabited by forty millions of men. It can arrest any individual out of a fifth of the human race, and imprison him for life without a trial. Hundreds of State prisoners are so incarcerated at this hour. It can destroy or create entire trades by an order in Council. And it can do all these acts without opposition—without even a remonstrance. The Act of 1856 which made death the sole penalty of crime passed in six hours. The Act of 1857 which abrogated law in the Sonthal Pergunnas was never discussed. The order which consigned Doodoo Meah, a bad tempered landowner, a sort of Indian Lord Ionsdale, a State prisoner for life, has never been published. The decree which made village tenure, instead of ryotwar, law in Raichore was contained in a private despatch. We are not arguing that the Government uses its wide powers oppressively. Except when misinformed, its intentions are usually benevolent. We only adduce these instances to prove that the Government of India is a despotism of a character almost without a parallel on earth. Add to these facts, that the larger section of the European community are officials and soldiers; that the entire native population hope to be officials or soldiers; that Government can dismiss any individual official or soldier; and that it is absolutely exempt from the corrective fear of assassination, and our readers have some idea of the one autocracy reared by Englishmen.

Who really exercises this enormous power the British public, at all events, though called on occasionally to subscribe loans rendered necessary by autocratic management, never knows. The mass regard the "Government" as a myth, an unfathomable entity occupied in civilising the "millions of India," and incurring debt. The "knowing youngsters who hang about offices," and write pert articles in weekly newspapers, always speak of the Governor-general as "the Government." Both are widely distant from the mark. The Government of India is not a secret oligarchy, as the mass believe, nor is it the autocracy of a man. It is a despotism conducted by about sixteen perfectly well known but irresponsible individuals, headed by a single and usually very little known chief, and a close corporation of officials, or Indian peerage, who possess, among other powers, almost the entire initiative.

The men who really exercise the governing power consist of, first, the Governor-general, secondly, the three secretaries for the army (Military Department), for the Regulation Provinces (Home Department), for the Non-regulation Provinces (Foreign Department), two or three strong members of the Legislative Council, the Governor of the North-West, the Commander-in-Chief, any military officer high in favour in Calcutta, and the Advocate-general. To this list may be added the two or three men of mark, who rise occasionally in the Provinces, and, for special reasons, the Secretary to the Legislative Council.

Behind all these, we have said, lies the great initiating power—the Civil Service. The nature and extent of their authority may be comprehended from the following brief sentences. The Government of India, from the cumbrousness of its organisation, and the multiplicity of its duties—duties compared with which those of Parliament, if more important, are still few—glides more and more into a reviewing Government. It examines, criticises, approves, or condemns the projects of other men. The Civil Service, holding every office of importance in revenue, in the judiciary, and in the executive, possesses in practice the sole initiative. A collector complains of a great abuse. The commissioner endorses his complaint. The Lieutenant-governor thinks the subject interesting, and asks all other collectors and commissioners what they think. The collective memorandum is laid before the Home or Foreign Secretary, according as the province is "regulation" or otherwise, and is by him laid before the Council. The one or two strong men in Council give their opinions, and if favourable endeavour to convince the Governor-general. Once convinced he tries to drive the remedy through the Legislature, usually with success, unless the proposition affects the Europeans. In that case he has as severe a struggle for his Bill as an English Minister, and usually loses, though he does not consequently resign. It is only in rare cases that the Government really initiates, and the work in that case usually devolves on the Governor-general.

For—and this is the key to an otherwise unintelligible confusion—while India is usually governed by some twenty gentlemen and the Civil Service, the Governor-general can, when he pleases, act as independently as a czar. His theoretical power is enormous. He has all the prerogatives of an English sovereign, except the bestowal of titles. He has, besides, the right, by law, to do any executive act whatsoever in defiance of all his advisers. He has also the right to do any legislative act, though this power has been only once or twice exerted. He is, moreover, supreme over all branches of the administration, and can practically dismiss any official, from a lieutenant-governor to a sweeper. Theoretically, he can only suspend a Civilian, but an order of that kind is never reversed. He can make peace or war, and borrow the money for either on his bare fiat.

He can order a reform to be considered, drive it through official formulas in a few hours, and then order a reluctant Council to pass any laws essential to his plan. In short, if he pleases he is an autocrat of the Frederick the Second stamp, and can initiate as well as sanction anything, from a conquest to a footpath in a cantonment. Usually he reviews, but the new administration of the Punjab, the revenue measures of 1858, the campaign of the same year, the whole series of recent annexations, and the annihilation of the right of property in Oude, are instances of the personal autocracy of the Governor-general. We propose, in the next number, to examine the character of the peer who now wields this tremendous authority.

"A DANIEL COME TO JUDGMENT!"

We hope our readers are not thoroughly weary of the Lucknow Libel Case, for we have yet a few words to say on the subject. Were it not that the administration of justice is hardly a fit matter for jest, we could find much food for laughter in the entire conduct of this trial. But, in truth, such levity would be sadly misplaced, for we can scarcely imagine any case more calculated to bring our Courts of Law into contempt and disrepute. It will be remembered that the action arose out of an article which appeared in the Oudh Gazette, accusing a native official, named Ramdial, of "tyrannous oppression" and "unscrupulous corruption." The individual thus assailed was naturally compelled to resent such gross allegations, and to call upon the editor and proprietors of that journal to retract those charges. On their refusing to do so, and on the failure of his European superiors to effect a compromise, Ramdial had recourse to law, and laid his damages at the goodly sum of Rs. 10,000. The defendants, conscious of having acted in good faith, resolved to justify the statements they had put forth, and, to do so more effectually, engaged the services of Mr. Carruthers, a Calcutta lawyer of considerable experience and reputation. The Judicial Commissioner of Oude, however, decided that attorneys were excluded from appearing in Non-regulation Courts. This ruling has since been over-ruled, and Mr. Bayley has been convicted of giving a wrong interpretation of the law. The defendants, in default of a legal adviser, were represented by Mr. Hollingberry, a gentleman possessed of both keenness and soundness of judgment, while the plaintiff, on the plea that he could not be spared from his regular duties, was allowed to avail himself of the services of a retired native professional pleader: it may be observed, parenthetically, that he was, nevertheless, not only present day after day, but was actually accommodated with a seat on the bench. The evidence adduced was of the most conflicting and contradictory character, and on one side or the other—perhaps on both—the most unblushing falsehoods were solemnly deposed to on oath. According to the defendants' witnesses, Ramdial was guilty of the most arbitrary, insulting, and cruel conduct, while the plaintiff's witnesses—mostly his own subordinates—present him in the light of a just, merciful, and high-minded magistrate. Some of his witnesses, indeed, were English gentlemen, but their testimony was purely of a negative character.

If there had been noises of any kind they must have heard them—and yet it was proved that they heard nothing of a great commotion raised by the presence of a mad dog in the compound. And if any acts of oppression had been committed they must have come to their knowledge—and yet it is notorious that even now the police are guilty of the most horrible cruelties in order to extort confession, without the magistrates obtaining any legal proof of the fact. In short, as one of the native witnesses naively observed: "Those who are Ramdial's friends will say it is all false, but those who are his enemies will say the opposite." The Judge, however, summed up, or rather pleaded, against the defendants in a written speech that occupied five hours in the delivery, and on the whole we are inclined to agree with him that the balance of probability was, if anything, in favour of the plaintiff. But, what manner of man was this "Judge"? How was he qualified to try a libel case, by no means the simplest matter that ever comes into a Court of Law? Mr. E. G. Fraser, then, was an uncovenanted official, for many years stationed at Agra, where he acquired the respect of his superiors by his steady attention to his duties and by the excellence of his private character. He is also a man of considerable culture, and in former years, at least, was a frequent contributor to the local press. Against him personally there is not a word to be said. But is that all that is required of a Judge? Is there no necessity for a previous legal training? Is the law of evidence a matter of intuition? Is any honourable, hard-working man, who can write a letter to the Times, fit to sit upon the Bench and administer not only justice, but law? In India it appears to be even so. If an official display a certain amount of ability in collecting revenue, he is at once deemed qualified for any other post, and may pass from the "receipt of custom" to sit in "Court." After some such fashion was Mr. Fraser's progress to the high position he now occupies, with considerable advantage to himself, if not to the community at large. It is very likely that his legal knowledge is quite equal to that of any Covenanted Civilian in the province of Oude, but the whole system is faulty and defective. A case of this kind should never have been submitted to the judgment of an untrained magistrate, unassisted even by a jury. And no better proof need be adduced than Mr. Fraser's own summing up—clever, discursive, passionate, and illogical. It must suffice to notice one point—the assessment of damages. Ramdial, he says, was justified both by precedent and by all the circumstances of the case in laying them at Rs. 10,000, and therefore "this Court"—as the Judge fondly styles himself—awards him Rs. 3,000. The reason assigned for even this award has nothing to do with the merits of the original libel. Indeed, "this Court" seems more than half disposed to commend the original publication of the libellous matter complained of by the plaintiff.

"Had the defendants on trial"—he says—"simply adduced the grounds on which the libel was published and endeavoured fairly to prove them, waiting the result in dignified patience, it could well have been believed that the editor had merely, like others, been misled, and, under a sense of public duty, had run the risk of publication. If found correct, this course would have entitled him to just applause; if incorrect, his having to suffer, or rather the proprietors having to suffer, the consequent penalty, would have called for respectful and remunerative sympathy far and wide."

In that case merely nominal damages would have been given, and Ramdial's Rs. 10,000 would have dwindled down to the smallest sum that would carry costs. But the defendants, or rather one of them, the editor of the Oudh Gazette, not content with attacking a native subordinate, ventured even to pass strictures upon "this Court" itself, and for that the nominal damages were converted into a heavy penalty. This may seem incredible, but here are the exact words used by the sapient Judge:—

"The editor, during the early part of the proceedings especially, so conducted himself as to show that he acted merely in a spirit of hostility not only to the Government, but (what is more to our present purpose) to their instrument, Ramdial. Nothing less was aimed at than his utter ruin. It was not enough to damage his character; but the calls for his suspension, the report that he had been suspended, and the intimations that he was unworthy of his official position and the like were incessant, and if the truth must be told, everything was done through the columns of the paper to intimidate or distract the attention of the Judge; the whole press of India being evidently set frantic, and every bit of resulting denunciation that could be scraped together republished. The influence, the pressure, was wholly on that side, in the vain hope that the Court would be basely moved to yield to clamour what it could not yield to justice. Let the Press of India learn its real influence in a wrong course, when even so small a man as an Uncovenanted Judge can bear with equanimity its almost unanimous denunciations utterly unmoved and often amused, so long as he does his duty conscientiously, certain that before long the whole matter will be correctly understood, and the gentlemen of the press who have taken part in this wild outcry will begin to ask what it was all about, and consider whether it was merited; and then, as sure as there is a particle of sense, honesty, and true independence in them, declare it was not! Meanwhile their alliance with the Oudh Gazette to crush Ramdial right or wrong, under the verdict of this Court, has utterly failed; and the proprietors of that paper are left without the excuse which the Judge would himself have made for it in mitigation of damages."

It is evident that the question cannot rest here. Justice will doubtless be dealt out in the long run, but in the mean time a great scandal has been caused and a great folly perpetrated. Mr. Fraser is not worse than his neighbours, but neither he nor they are fit to sit in judgment upon such a case. If the dignity of the Courts is to be upheld, trained barristers must be appointed to preside over them. Nor must the non-regulation folly be permitted to continue. There must be but one form of government for all India. Whichever system is best adapted to the native character, let that be chosen, but let it be one, and uniform over the whole territory.

SHIPPING.

ARRIVALS.

Oct. 15. Oregon, Wilson, Rangoon; Harold, Wise, Calcutta; War Cloud, Mackay, Akyab; East Lothian, Craigie, Madras; Echo, Orr, Akyab; Eclipse, Jarvis, Akyab.—16. African, Gibson, Colombo; Sebastian Cabot, Quirk, Singapore; Patriot Queen, Fletcher, Calcutta; Peerless, Major, Bombay; Catherine, Wats in, Akyab; Blencathra, Mossop, Bombay; Anna Henderson, Husband, Colombo; Couva, Mill, Colombo; Cassibelanus, Scott, Bombay; Globus, Blake, Bombay; Menzies, Jago, Akyab; Suoni, Cochlin China; Serincapatam, Humphrey, Maulmain.—17. Wellington, Mahey, Colombo; Plymouth Castle, McAlister, Calcutta; Grassmere, Timms, Madras; Elmor, Hogg, Kurrachee; Kate Kearney, Gill, Akyab; Thomas Blyth, Barrett, Mauritius; Abiyala, Johnson, Rangoon; Juventa, Wilson, Colombo; Night Watch, Burckett, Colombo; Aphrodite, Stewart, Calcutta.—18. Mersey, Mourilyan, Madras; Rebecca, Cochlin; Jane Grey, Verry, Singapore; Martaban, Hepburn, Bombay; Napoleon III., Dobbie, Singapore; Cowslip, Ross, Tutuoreean; Ellen Castle, Ganan, Ceylon; Augusta Jessie, Shields, Cochlin; Poitiers, Howard, Bombay.—19. Cumloden Castle, Brom, Bombay; Etheldreda, Cross, Ceylon; Fortitude, McDonald, Colombo; Ocean King, Short, Calcutta.

PASSENGERS DEPARTED.

Per str. Ceylon, from SOUTHAMPTON, Oct. 20, to proceed per str. Colombo from SUEZ. For MALTA.—Capt. Close, Mr. B. H. Evans, Rev. C. S. Gordon, Mr. A. Graham, Mrs. Heasty, Miss Armstrong, Mr. Cunningham, Mr. E. W. Millman. For

India Office,

October 19, 1860.

ARRIVALS REPORTED IN ENGLAND.

CIVIL.

Bombay Estab.—Mr. C. F. H. Shaw.

MILITARY.

Bengal Estab.—Surg. W. C. B. Eatwell, Med. Est.Madras Estab.—Asst. surg. H. Webster, Med. Est.; Lieut. F. Laughton, 18th N.I.; Lieut. H. J. E. Teed, 23rd N.I.; Ens. R. P. Blake, 39th N.I.; Asst. surg. J. Murray, Med. Est.Bombay Estab.—Lieut. C. R. Blair, 2nd N.I.; Capt. H. S. Anderson, 23rd N.I.; Lieut. W. H. Mackenzie, 5th N.I.; Lieut. H. J. Heisch, 28th N.I.; Lieut. M. F. Wainwright, Inv.

PERMITTED TO RETURN TO DUTY.

MILITARY.

Bengal Estab.—Lieut. H. S. Clarke, Art.; Lieut. col. C. Prior, 64th N.I.; Brev. capt. M. J. White, 26th N.I.; Surg. G. Saunders, Med. Est.; Capt. W. F. Stewart, 45th N.I.; Lieut. C. J. Prinsep, 1st Eur. L.C.; Capt. M. G. Brabazon, 60th N.I.; Surg. A. R. Atkinson, Med. Est.; Capt. G. P. Law, 11th N.I.; Capt. J. H. Dyas, Eng.Madras Estab.—Capt. R. S. Wilson, 52nd N.I.; Lieut. F. Horsley, 6th L.C.; Lieut. G. E. Fryer, 21st N.I.; Capt. E. S. Milman, Art.; Capt. C. S. B. Bivar, 1st L.C.Bombay Estab.—Lieut. col. T. Maughan, 23rd N.I.; Asst. surg. R. G. Ford, Med. Est.

NAVAL.

Mr. C. M. Beddome, mate.

GRANTED EXTENSION OF LEAVE.

MILITARY.

Bengal Estab.—Capt. F. W. Drummond, 5th Eur. L.C., 6 mo.; Lieut. S. Boulderson, 5th Eur. L.C., 2 mo.; Lieut. H. D. Jackson, Art., 6 mo.; Lieut. F. Trench, 2nd Eur. L.C., 2 mo.; Lieut. J. Thomson, 34th N.I., 6 mo.; Lieut. H. M. Caulfield, 4th Eur. L.C., 4 mo.; Lieut. P. S. Yorke, 12th N.I., 6 mo.Madras Estab.—Ens. E. B. Bruce, 51st N.I., 6 mo.; Capt. W. R. Campbell, 28th N.I., 6 mo.; Lieut. F. P. Rowley, 3rd Eur. Regt., 6 mo.Bombay Estab.—Lieut. J. Gordon, 19th N.I., 6 mo.; Asst. surg. F. Powell, Med. Est.

NAVAL.

Lieut. F. Gardiner, 4 mo.

PERMITTED TO RESIGN.

MILITARY.

Bengal Estab.—Lieut. A. W. Money, 3rd Eur. Regt.

PERMITTED TO RETIRE.

MILITARY.

Bengal Estab.—Vet. surg. J. Harris.

THE OUDE JEWELS.—Messrs. Mackenzie and Lyall have sold off the Government presents and the King of Oude's jewels. The latter have disappointed the public, who seemed to expect diamonds the size of mangoes, pearls like billiard balls, and emeralds which none could lift. The two collections made up 1,136 lots, some of which bordered closely upon rubbish. The celebrated Lolly necklace, once the property of Timour Shah, the "first king and great Persian conqueror of Delhi," and which bore his name, and weighs one seer, was amongst the lots. There was also the "far-famed and surpassing" Oudo diamond, the largest in Bengal; its weight is fifty six and a half rutties. It formed the "Olympus" to a "superlatively magnificent" belt star, which contained, besides the diamond, 20 others, cut and brilliant, 18 smaller ones, and 14 smaller still. There was a fine tiara, in which 263 glistening diamonds strove to take the shine out of each other. Lot 761 was a costly dagger, with a solid gold scabbard, and a fine Damascus blade. It was studded with 162 large diamonds, 34 emeralds, 68 pearls, and the tassel was one large topaz. I saw an egg cup of the ordinary size, made out of one emerald, and it looked worth about four annas. Gems of every description, rubies, agates, topazes, amethysts, turquoises, and crystals surrounded you on all sides, and from the ceiling hung Cashmere shawls, elephant trappings, cummerbunds, and other specimens of "eastern taste and splendour." The jewels sold at a high price, and the sale was held at Messrs. Hamiltons'.

BENGAL GOVERNMENT LOANS.

	Buy. s. d.	Sell. s. d.	Actual Sales.
5½ per Cent. Loan of 1859 60	—	—	2 0½
6 p. Ct. Loan of 1854 (P. Works Loan)...	—	—	1 10½
4 per Cent. East-India } Sica Rs.....	—	—	1 7
Transfer Loan Stock }	—	—	—
New 5 per Cent. Loan of 1856-57.....	—	—	1 11½
4 per Cent. Loan of 1855-56	—	—	1 7½
4 per Cent., 1842-43.....	—	—	1 7

INDIA EXCHANGES.

BILLS.	Bank and Commercial Bills, at 60 days' sight, per Co.'s Rpe.	Indian Govt. Bills, at 60 days' sight, per Co.'s Rpe.	Total for each Mail to Three Presidencies.
Bengal...	2s. 1s. 11½d.	2s. 2d.	—
Madras...	1s. 11½d.	2s. 2d.	—
Bombay...	2s. 1s. 11½d.	2s. 2½d.	—

Bank of Bengal Post Bills and Indian Government Interest Bills on Calcutta, 2s.

EXPORT OF BULLION.

Per str. Ceylon, Oct. 20, 1860.

	Gold.	Silver.
Alexandria	£10,000	—
Mauritius	25,000	—
Madras	2,619	214,800
Calcutta	15,100	71,700
Singapore	850	51,850
Hong Kong	—	304,939*
Foo Chow	—	9,672
Shanghai	—	148,746
	£53,069	£601,707

* £200,964 shipped by her Majesty's Government.

STOCKS AND SECURITIES.

Shares.		Paid.	Prices.
£.	India Stock	221	—
	India Stock (5 per ct.), 1859	103 to 103½	—
	India Enforced Paper 4 pr. ct.	80½	—
	India 5 p. ct. Enforced Paper	96 to 96½	—
	India Bonds, Enfd. Paper, 5½ per cent.	102½	—
	India Loan Debentures, 1856	96½	—
	India Debentures, 1859	96½	—
	India Enforced Paper, 4 per ct.	83½	—
	India 5 per cent. for account	103½	—
	India Bonds (£1,000)	4s. dis.	—
	Ditto (under £1,000)	1 dis. to par.	—
	RAILWAYS.
Stock	Bombay, Baroda, and Central India (guar. 5 per ct.)	100	93 to 94
18	Ditto Additional Capital, A	all	—
18	Ditto B	16	1½ to 1½ dis.
5	Calcutta & S. Eastern (Lim.)	1.3	4 dis. ½ pm.
20	Ceylon (guar. 6 per cent.)	7½	1½ to 1½ dis.
20	Eastern Bengal (gu. 5 p. ct.)	100	99½ to 100
Stock	East Indian	all	98 to 99
100	Ditto 4½ p. ct. debentrs.	15	½ dis. par.
20	Ditto F. Est.	100	101 to 102
Stock	Ditto 5 per ct. deb.	75	½ dis. par.
100	Ditto 1865-70	all	½ dis. par.
20	Jubbulpore	all	—
Stock	Great Indian Peninsula (guar. 5 per ct.)	100	96½ to 96½
20	Ditto (New ditto)	8	1½ to 1½ dis.
20	Great S. of India (Lim.) Scrip (guar. 5 per ct.)	13	2½ to 1½ dis.
Stock	Madras (guar. 4½ per ct.)	100	94 to 95
Stock	Ditto 5 per cent.	100	93½ to 93½
Stock	Ditto Extension (guar. 4½ per cent.)	100	87 to 88
20	Ditto 4th Extension (guar. 5 per ct.)	10	1½ to 1½ dis.
20	Ottoman Rail. (guar. 6 p. ct.)	7	—
Stock	Scinde 5 per cent.	all	98½ to 99½
20	Ditto (New)	15	—
Stock	Ditto Indus Steam Flotilla (guar. 5 per ct.)	all	93 to 94
20	Punjab (5 per ct.)	7	1½ to 1½ dis.
	BANKS.
100	Agra and United Servicel.	50	78 to 80
40	Australasia	all	62 to 64
25	Bank of Egypt	all	184 to 19½
20	Chart. of Ind., Aus., & China	all	20½ to 20½
25	Chart. Merc. of India, Lond., and China	all	33 to 35
25	Oriental Bank Corporation	all	—
20	Ottoman Bank	all	17 to 17½
	MISCELLANEOUS.
20	Madras Irrig. and Canal	1	1½ to 2½ pm.
20	Nerbudda Coal and Iron	5	2 to 1½ dis.
10	Mediterran. Ext. Tel. (Lim.)	all	2 to 4
1	N. B. Australasian Company	all	1 to 1½
1	Oriental Gas	all	1 to 1
10	Ditto New	16s.	1 dis. to par.
10	Oriental Inland Steam A.	6	—
50	P. and O. Steam Nav. Co.	all	74 to 76
25	Ditto New	25	12½ to 13½ pm.
20	Red Sea and Ind. Telegraph	17½	17½ to 17½
1	Submarine Telegraph Scrip	all	½ to 1
1	Ditto Registered	all	½ to 1
10	Do. do.	all	5 to 7

DOMESTIC.

BIRTHS.

CHRISTIE, the wife of Colonel John, H.M.'s Indian Army, of a daughter, at 2, Prince's-terrace, Hyde-park, Oct. 14.

CROWE, the wife of Capt. Carlisle, Bombay Horse Artillery, of a daughter, at Ennis, Ireland, Oct. 13.

HEATH, the wife of Capt. A. H., H.M.'s Bengal Artillery, of a son, at Downpatrick, Oct. 14.

MALLOCK, the wife of Colonel, late Bengal Artillery, of a son, at Brookfield-house, near Paignton, Oct. 2.

SHUBRICK, the wife of Charles J., Madras Civil Service, of a daughter, at West Cliff-house, St. Leonards-on-Sea, Oct. 11.

MARRIAGES.

DANVERS, F. C., to Louisa, second daughter of E. Mocatta, Esq., at Hove, Sussex, 17th inst.

ELLIS, John Daymond, architect, Norwich, son of the late Rev. J. D. Ellis, of Antilly, Calcutta, to Maria, daughter of Thomas T. Read, Esq., of South Burlingham, Norfolk, at Burlingham, St. Edmund, Oct. 18.

HANNER, Capt. Francis H., H.M.'s Bengal Army, to Mary Ann C., widow of the late Lieut. Col. Campbell, at St. George's Church, Hanover-square, Oct. 16.

SMITH, Capt. Charles F., H.M.'s 71st Highland Light Infantry, to Anastasia H., daughter of Gen. Hutton, H.M.'s Indian Army, at St. Nicholas Church, Brighton, Oct. 16.

STUART, Kenneth B., M.D., Calcutta, to Sarah M., daughter of William Witherspoon, Esq., at 18, Great Stuart-street, Edinburgh, Oct. 17.

WESTON, Capt. Henry, late of the H.E.I.C.'s Service, to Harriett K., daughter of James Lane, Esq., of South-terrace, Cork, at Templebrady Church, Sept. 27.

DEATHS.

COTTELL, Capt. J. W., Bombay Army, at Tufnell-park-terrace, Upper Holloway, Oct. 18.

CROWE, Maria M., infant daughter of Capt. Carlisle, Bombay Horse Artillery, at Ennis, Ireland, Oct. 13.

DAVIES, Rev. Morgan, formerly chaplain in Bombay, at St. Mark's Parsonage, near Flint, aged 67, Oct. 11.

SAWERS, Lieut. John L., H.M.'s Bengal Army, in London, Oct. 12.

SCOTT, Wilding, son of Arthur, of the India-office, at Grove-road, North Brixton, aged 14, Oct. 18.

STURT, Frederick M. H., son of the late Capt. O. F., Madras Army, at Brighton, aged 33, Oct. 3.

SULLIVAN, Catherine, relict of the late Joseph S., surgeon, Bengal Army.

THE BIBLE IN THE PUNJAB.—The Lieutenant-Governor has authorised copies of the Bible to be kept in the libraries of the Zillah schools, where alone the English language is taught. These will be thus open to perusal by such boys as may desire it. And, further, if any boy spontaneously expresses a wish to be educated in the Bible, it will be incumbent on the head master, should he be himself a Christian, to give the instruction demanded out of school hours.

THE NORTHERN ASSURANCE COMPANY.

1, MOORGATE STREET, LONDON.
DAYS OF GRACE.

In cases of Annual Insurance the liability of the Company continues in force during the 15 days allowed for the renewal of the Policy, and the Company is bound to accept payment of the Premium, although the insured property should meanwhile have been destroyed. In Foreign Insurances the Company is equally bound to accept the Premium if instructions to pay have been despatched from the place where the property is situated, within 15 days from the date when the Policy falls due. See case referred to in the Times City Article, 13th Oct., 1860.

MADRAS MILITARY FUND.
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that all Subscribers producing the required Health Certificate, and notifying their intention to secure for all children hereafter born to them, the same rates of pension as are paid to children having lost both parents, will insure the higher rates of Annuity to a posthumous child or children of either sex, the prescribed donation being in such cases deducted from the Pension. This rule has been added to the regulations, and follows immediately after Article 12.

GRINDLAY & Co.,
Agents to the Madras Military Fund.
Madras Military Fund Office,
55, Parliament-street, S.W., October 15, 1860.

MADRAS MILITARY FUND.
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that pending the sanction of the army, and acting upon the recommendation of the actuary, the Directors have resolved, as a temporary measure, to reduce the rates of Donations and Subscriptions 10 per cent. from the 1st July last. Subscribers are requested when drawing their pay in future, to observe that the correct amount has been deducted at the India-office.

GRINDLAY & Co.,
Agents to the Madras Military Fund.
Madras Military Fund Office,
55, Parliament-street, S.W., October 15, 1860.

FIVE PER CENT. INVESTMENTS.—Particulars of Investments for LARGE or SMALL SUMS of MONEY, bearing FIVE PER CENT PER ANNUM INTEREST (well secured), withdrawable at notice, may be obtained, on application to THOMAS H. BAYLIS, 429, Strand, London.

THE AGRA and UNITED SERVICE BANK
(LIMITED): ESTABLISHED IN INDIA, JULY, 1833.
INCORPORATED BY LETTERS PATENT, 1857.
PAID-UP CAPITAL—£1,000,000 STERLING.
RESERVED FUND—£175,000.

BRANCHES AT CALCUTTA, BOMBAY, MADRAS, AGRA, LAHORE, HONG-KONG, AND SHANGHAI.

HEAD OFFICE—27, CANNON-STREET, LONDON, E.C.
Current and floating accounts opened on same terms as by other London Banks.
Sales and purchases effected in British and Foreign Securities, in Indian Government paper, &c.; and Army, Navy, and Civil Pay and Pensions realised at the India house.
Deposits for Fixed Periods are received on terms favourable to Depositors, particulars of which may be obtained at the Bank.
Bills issued at the Exchange of the day, and free of any extra charge, on the Branches of the Bank.
Approved Bills drawn against Funds, or upon Parties in India, purchased.
Circular Notes payable at the principal cities of Europe granted.
Interest on Indian Government Securities drawn, and the equivalent paid to parties interested, without charge.
By order of the Board,
WILLIAM SHIPMAN,
Officiating General Manager.

A EUROPEAN SERVANT going out to a situation in Bombay will be glad to give her services on the voyage out, in return for her passage being paid.
Address, Mrs. D., Commercial Bank, Haddington, N.B.

EDUCATION.—A LADY, the wife of an Officer, educating her Daughter at home, wishes to RECEIVE TWO or THREE YOUNG LADIES to study with her. They will enjoy every comfort and attention, with the advantage of a first-class education. A Resident foreign Governess. The highest references in England and India.
Address, "India," Stancely's Post-office, 179, Sloane-street, Knightsbridge, London.

ADDISCOMBE DIRECT APPOINTMENTS, AND WOOLWICH.
The Rev. C. J. HUGHES, M.A., who has Prepared nearly TWO HUNDRED PUPILS for the above, occasionally has VACANCIES.
Adelaide Lodge, 61, Finchley Road, St. John's Wood, N.W.

HINDOOSTANI AND PERSIAN.
LESSONS in the above LANGUAGES are given by an INDIAN GENTLEMAN of Twenty Years' Experience as Professor, Interpreter, and Translator; who has obtained Certificates of degrees of honour and high proficiency from the Examiners of the College of Fort William. He possesses the most satisfactory testimonials, and can give unexceptionable references.
Address, "ALLY," care of Messrs. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street, London, E.C.

AN INTRODUCTION to the GRAMMAR of the SANSKRIT LANGUAGE, for the Use of Early Students. By H. H. WILSON, M.A., F.R.S., &c. 8vo cloth, 18s.
London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

SALE'S KORAN.

New edition, 8vo, cloth, 7s. 6d.,

THE KORAN, commonly called the ALCORAN of MOHAMMED, with Explanatory Notes, taken from the most approved Commentators; to which is added a Preliminary Discourse, by GEORGE SALE, Gent., and Memoir of the Translator, and with various Readings and Illustrative Notes from Savary's version of the Koran. Fine Frontispiece. &c.
London: WILLIAM TEGG, Pancras-lane, Queen-street, Cheapside, E.C.

8vo, Cloth, price 7s.,

BLAIR'S (Rev. Hugh, D.D.) SERMONS, to which is prefixed the Life and Character of the Author. By JAMES FINLAYSON, D.D.; with a Portrait.
London: WILLIAM TEGG, 124, Pancras-lane, Queen-street, Cheapside, E.C.

18mo, Cloth, price 3s. 6s.; roan, 4s.,

WALKER'S PRONOUNCING DICTIONARY. A New Edition. By R. A. DAVENPORT. With KEY to CLASSICAL PRONUNCIATION. 18mo, cloth, 4s. 6d.; roan, 5s.
London: WILLIAM TEGG, 124, Pancras-lane, Queen-street, Cheapside, E.C.

Just received.

CALCUTTA REVIEW. No. 68.
Price Seven Shillings.

- CONTENTS.
1. Capture of Lucknow.
 2. Christianity in India.
 3. Oudh.
 4. The Ryot in Bengal.
 5. Clavijo's Embassy to Timur.
 6. Calcutta in 1860.
 7. An Indian Staff Corps.
 8. The Indigo Blue-book.
 9. The British Soldier in India.
 10. Critical Notices of Works on India and the East.

CONTENTS OF No. 67.

1. Outram at the Alumbhangh.
2. Colonisation and Settlement in India.
3. Mountstuart Elphinstone.
4. The Law Courts of the Bengal Presidency.
5. Ceylon of Yore.
6. Limitations of Indian Liberty.
7. Indigo Planters and Missionaries.
8. The Wedding at Pattiala.
9. The New Taxes.
10. Critical Notices of Works on India and the East.

CONTENTS OF No. 66.

1. Melanesia and the New French Settlement.
 2. The Mahomedans in the Punjab.
 3. English Life in Bengal.
 4. The French Courts of Justice.
 5. Military Hygiene in India.
 6. Lord Dalhousie.
 7. Forbes's Ras Mala.
 8. India as a Career.
 9. Critical Notices of Works on India and the East.
- London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street, E.C.

Preparing for publication, in One Volume Octavo,
BY J. R. YOUNG,

(Late Professor of Mathematics, Belfast College),
A COURSE OF MATHEMATICS,
PURE AND MIXED.
More especially designed for the Use of Candidates for the MILITARY & CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.
WITH A VARIETY OF PROBLEMS IN, AND PRACTICAL APPLICATIONS OF THE FOLLOWING SUBJECTS:
1. ALGEBRA, TRIGONOMETRY, AND MENSURATION.
2. ANALYTICAL GEOMETRY (CONIC SECTIONS), STATICS, DYNAMICS, AND HYDROSTATICS.
3. THE DIFFERENTIAL AND INTEGRAL CALCULUS with their applications to the Higher Geometry, Mechanics, &c., &c.

The object of this work is to furnish Candidates for the Military and Civil Service Examinations with such a practical knowledge of Pure and Mixed Mathematics as may prove most serviceable to them in the course of the ordeal to which they are about to be subjected. On such occasions a mere theoretical acquaintance with principles is by no means sufficient. It is also necessary that the young aspirant should have been trained by actual experiments, as it were, to the application of the abstract rules, the enunciation of which he has otherwise mastered only by an effort of memory. To assist him in thus gathering the fruits of his intellectual industry, Mr. J. R. Young has devised a multitude of problems, of greater or less difficulty, in Algebra, Trigonometry, Mensuration, Analytical Geometry (Conic Sections), Statics, Dynamics, Hydrostatics, the Differential and Integral Calculus, with their applications to the Higher Geometry, Mechanics, &c. The chief peculiarity of this work, however, is one that will recommend it to a very large class of students. The most difficult questions are rendered comparatively easy, by the practical simplifications that are introduced in their mode of solution. Instead of a pompous and barren display of technical phraseology, the utmost care has been taken to explain the most knotty points in a plain, unaffected manner, intelligible to every ordinary capacity. In this respect, Mr. Young's "Course of Mathematics" will be found to possess a decided superiority over all preceding works on the same subject.

London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

"INDIAN BAEI," for DIARRHOEA, DYSENTERY, &c., imported by J. G. GOULD, Pharmaceutical Chemist, 198, Oxford-street, corner of Orchard-street, Portman-square, W.

Corrected to May 12, 1860.

THE EAST-INDIA REGISTER & ARMY LIST

FOR 1860,

CONTAINING

Complete Lists of the Servants, at Home and Abroad; Regulations respecting the Appointments to the Civil, Military, and Medical Services.

COMPILED BY PERMISSION.

12mo. sewed, 10s.; or, by post, 10s. 6d.;

or, bound, 11s. 6d.; or, by post, 12s.

London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

PROFESSOR WILSON'S GLOSSARY.

GLOSSARY of JUDICIAL and REVENUE TERMS, and of useful words occurring in official documents relating to the Administration of the Government of British India, from the Arabic, Persian, Hindustani, Sanskrit, Hindi, Bengali, Uriya, Marathi, Guzarathi, Telugu, Karnata, Tamil, Malayalam, and other Languages, compiled and published under the authority of the hon. the Court of Directors of the E. I. Company. By H. H. WILSON, M.A., F.R.S., &c., &c. 4to. cloth, 29 2s. 6d.

London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

This day is published, post 8vo., price 7s. 6d.,

THE CONSUMMATION. By THOMAS HUTTON, F.G.S., Capt. Bengal Army.
Also, by the same Author, 2nd Edition, in 12mo., price 3s. 6d.,

ISRAEL, IN THE PAST, THE PRESENT, AND THE FUTURE: or, LECTURES ON THE RESTORATION OF THE JEWS.

Second Edition, in 8vo., price 10s. 6d.,

THE CHRONOLOGY OF CREATION; or, GEOLOGY AND SCRIPTURE RECONCILED.

London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street, E.C.

HORSBURGH'S CHARTS, &c., for the Navigation from England to India and China, and throughout the Eastern Seas, viz.:

1. North Atlantic Ocean, 5s.
2. South Atlantic Ocean, 5s.
3. Anchorage at Gough's Island, 1s.
4. Bird's Islands and Duddington Rock, 1s.
- 5 and 6. Cape of Good Hope, two sheets, 8s.
7. Indian Ocean, 6s.
8. Arabian Sea and East Africa, 7s. 6d.
9. Hindoostan Coasts and Islands, 6s.
10. Bombay Harbour, 5s.
11. Goa Road and River, 6s.
12. Maldiva Islands and Channels, 2s.
13. Bay of Bengal, 5s.
14. Peninsula of India, East of Bengal Bay, 7s.
15. West Coast of Sumatra, 5s.
16. Straits of Malacca and Singapore, one sheet, 6s.
- 17, 18, and 19. Straits of Malacca and Singapore, three sheets, 15s.
20. Strait of Sunda, 5s.
21. Straits of Banca and Gaspar, 7s. 6d.
22. Caramata Passage and Borneo, West Coast, 6s.
23. Straits of Rhio, Durian, Lingin, and Singapore, 6s.
- 24 and 25. China Sea and Coasts adjacent, two sheets, 12s.
26. Canton River and Channels, 6s.
27. East Coast of China, 7s. 6d.
28. Bashee Islands, 2s.
- 29, 30, and 31. Eastern Passages to China, three sheets, 21. 1s.
32. Passages through the Barrier Reefs, 2s.

THE INDIAN DIRECTORY; or, Directions for Sailing to and from the East Indies, China, Australia, and the interjacent Ports of Africa and South America, Compiled chiefly from Original Journals of the Honourable Company's Ships, and from the Observations and Remarks resulting from the Experience of Twenty-one Years in the Navigation of those Seas. By JAMES HORSBURGH, Esq., F.R.S., &c. Seventh Edition, 2 vols. 4to., cloth lettered, 24. 6s.

London: WM. H. ALLEN & Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

COLONEL HOUGH ON COURTS-MARTIAL.

PRECEDENTS IN MILITARY LAW; including the Practice of Courts-Martial; the Mode of Conducting Trials; the Duties of Officers at Military Courts of Inquests, Courts of Inquiry, Courts of Requests, &c., &c.

The following are a portion of the Contents:—

- | | |
|-----------------------------|--|
| 1. Military Law. | 8. Precedents of Military Law. |
| 2. Martial Law. | 9. Trials of Arson to Rape. (Alphabetically arranged.) |
| 3. Courts-Martial. | 10. Rebellions. |
| 4. Courts of Inquiry. | 11. Riots. |
| 5. Courts of Inquest. | 12. Miscellaneous. |
| 6. Courts of Request. | |
| 7. Forms of Courts-Martial. | |

By Lieutenant-colonel W. HOUGH, Late Deputy Judge-advocate-general, Bengal Army, and Author of several Works on Courts-Martial.

In one thick 8vo. vol., price 25s.

"It would be impossible to over-estimate the utility of this work to members of the military profession as a comprehensive exposition of the law especially applicable to them, and to the practice of military tribunals; and it would be difficult to speak in terms of commendation too high of the manner in which it has been executed."—Morning Chronicle.

WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street, London, E.C.

MEMOIRS of a GRIFFIN; or, a Cadet's First Year in India. By Capt. BELLEW. With Numerous Illustrations. 2 vols., post 8vo. cloth, 21. 1s.
* * * These Memoirs being founded on fact, serve to instruct the Cadet whilst he reads for fun.

London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

NOW READY,

PRICE 8s. 6d.

SANCTIONED BY H.R.H. THE GENERAL COMMANDING-IN-CHIEF.

UNIFORM WITH THE POCKET EDITIONS OF THE "FIELD EXERCISE," AND "QUEEN'S REGULATIONS,"

MANUAL OF MILITARY LAW,

FOR ALL RANKS OF THE

ARMY, MILITIA, AND VOLUNTEER SERVICES;

COMPRISING

AN ACCOUNT OF THE CONSTITUTION, COMPOSITION, AND PROCEDURE OF COURTS-MARTIAL;

And a Detail of the Crimes that may be tried and the Sentences that may be awarded by each description of Court.

ALSO,

A NOTICE OF THE PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE OF COURTS OF INQUIRY,

AND

A SHORT EXPOSITION OF THE LAW OF EVIDENCE,

TO WHICH IS ADDED,

AN ABSTRACT OF THE ACTS GOVERNING THE VOLUNTEER FORCE,

AN

ACCOUNT OF THE LAW RELATING TO RECRUITING,

AND

A Review of the Duties, Obligations, and Liabilities of Soldiers to Civilians and the Civil Power; of the Duties of Civilians towards the Military; and of the Legal Rights, Privileges, and Exemptions of Soldiers.

BY

COLONEL J. K. PIPON,

Assistant Adjutant-general at Head Quarters.

AND

J. F. COLLIER, Esq.,

Of the Inner Temple, Barrister-at-Law.

LONDON: WM. H. ALLEN AND Co., 7, LEADENHALL-STREET. 1860.

BY AUTHORITY.

Price 1s. 0d., by post 1s. 2d.,

THE POCKET EDITION OF FIELD EXERCISE AND EVOLUTIONS OF INFANTRY; AS REVISED BY HER MAJESTY'S COMMAND.

1859.

London: WM. H. ALLEN AND Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

Uniform with the "Field Exercise," price 1s., by post, 1s. 2d.

THE QUEEN'S REGULATIONS AND ORDERS FOR THE ARMY.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE, HORSE GUARDS, FIRST OF DECEMBER, 1859.

POCKET EDITION.

BY AUTHORITY.

London: WM. H. ALLEN AND Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

Uniform with the "FIELD EXERCISE," price 1s., by post 1s. 2d.,

MANUAL OF ARTILLERY EXERCISES. POCKET EDITION.

BY AUTHORITY.

LONDON: WM. H. ALLEN AND Co., 7, LEADENHALL-STREET.

In Octavo, Price Half-a-Crown a Part,

THE ANNALS OF INDIAN ADMINISTRATION.

EDITED BY MEREDITH TOWNSEND, ESQ.,

(EDITOR OF THE "FRIEND OF INDIA").

CONTENTS:

PART I.—DECEMBER, 1856.

IMPERIAL.
Mr. Plowden's Salt Report.
Indian Treaties since 1834.
INDIAN RECORDS.
Jubbulpore School of Industry.
Pegu Survey, Central District.
Punjab, Northern District.
Flax in the Punjab.
Hindustan and Tibet Roads.
BENGAL RECORDS.
Mr. Smith's Report on Coal and Iron.
Education.
N.W.P. RECORDS.
Survey of Rohilund.
Public Works of Meerut.
Hulkabundee Schools.
Roads in Nimar.
Settlement of Barrah.
Tenures in Pergunnah Bundeloh.

PUNJAB RECORDS.
Public Works.
MADRAS RECORDS.
District Roads.
Public Works.
Budget of 1855-56.
Police Returns.
Punja Kimedy.
Black Town Drains.
BOMBAY RECORDS.
Enam Commission.
Poonar Duttur.
Concealment of Records.
Bombay Education.
(Poona).
Forced Labour in Sende.
Hilly Region of Kurrachee.
Adoptions in the Deccan.
Canals in Hyderabad.
Police Returns.
Mortuary Report.

PART II.—MARCH, 1857.

IMPERIAL.
Transactions of the Government of India.
Universities in India.
The Post-office.
The Electric Telegraph.
INDIAN RECORDS.
Third Punjab Report.
Communication between Calcutta and Dacca.
The Dacca and Arracan Road.
Creek Navigation from Akyah to Toungoop.
Toungoop Mountain Road.
The Geography of Pegu.
The Pegu Survey Department.
Report on the Tounghoo District of the Survey.
Journal of a Tour from Tounghoo to the Salween.
Major Jacob's Punjab Administration.
Flax in the Punjab.
The Mineral Deposits of Kumaon.
The Administration of Pegu in 1855-56.
The Straits Settlements.

N.W.P. RECORDS.
Payment of Village Police.
Jails of the N.W. Provinces.
Revenue Report of the N.W.P.
The N.W. Provinces in 1855-6.
BENGAL RECORDS.
Annual Report of Bengal for 1855-56.
Jails of Bengal.
MADRAS RECORDS.
Report of the Madras Presidency for 1855-56.
Annual Report on Cochin Travancore.
BOMBAY RECORDS.
The Ford Wah.
Wet and Dry Docks.
History of Sind.
Report on the Collectorate of Ahmedabad.
A Short Account of the Choolat Tribe.
Report on the Provinces of Kattywar.
Annual Report on Bombay for 1855-56.
Report on the Hyderabad Assigned Districts in 1855-56.
Infanticide in Kattywar.

PART III.—JUNE, 1857.

IMPERIAL.
Cases instituted in the Madras Court of Small Causes for 1856.
Supreme Court, Small Cause Side, for 1856.
Commerce and Shipping of the Port of Rangoon.
Port of Bassein.
Report on the External Commerce of the Madras Territories for 1855-56.
Commerce and Shipping of the Straits Settlements for 1854-55.
The Jails of the Madras Presidency for 1855.
INDIAN RECORDS.
Revenue Reports of the Ganges Canal.
Irrigation in Lower Egypt.
Correspondence on Lightning Conductors.
BENGAL RECORDS.
Report on the Teak Plantations of Bengal.
Notes on the Siam Countries.
Report on Serajunge.
Correspondence relative to Vaccination.
Notes on the Discovery of the Tea Plants in Sylhet.
Report on the Hon. Company's Botanical Garden.
Notes on the Patna Opium Agency.
N.W.P. RECORDS.
Revision of the Chowkedaree Assessment Zillah Bareilly, made in Bundelcund.

Memo. regarding Talooka Kote.
Suspension Bridges in the N.W.P.
MADRAS RECORDS.
Communication Rates of the Madras Presidency.
Central and Local Museums in the Madras Presidency.
The Gutta Percha of S. India.
Materials of the Madras Presidency for Gravestones.
Memoir on the Amrawutti Sculptures.
The Madras Railway for 1855.
BOMBAY RECORDS.
Memoir of Satara.
Satara Jagdeedars.
History of the Rajas of Satara.
of the Rhonslays of Satara.
Climate and Diseases of Satara.
Census of the Satara Districts.
Revenues and Resources of the Lapsed Satara Territory.
Old Public Buildings and Manuscripts of Bejapoor.
Assessment of the Omerkote District.
Revenue Settlement of the Thurr District.
Thurr and Parkur Districts.
The Bagore Canal, Upper Sind.
Tenure of the Possessions in the Deccan held by his Highness Jayjee Rao Sindia.
The Nahrwan Canal.
The Tigris above Baghdad.
A Journey through Kurdistan.
Researches in Lower Mesopotamia.
Memoir of Baghdad.
The Topography of Ninevah.

PARTS IV. and V.—SEPT. and DEC., 1857.

IMPERIAL.
Statistics of 24-Pergunnahs.
Report on the Administration of the Salt Department for 1855-56.
Abkaree L.P. for 1855-56.
External Commerce of Bengal for 1856-57.
PARLIAMENTARY BLUE BOOKS.
The Mutinies.
East India Railways.
Area and Population of India.
Police in Bengal.
INDIAN RECORDS.
Tea Cultivation.
MADRAS RECORDS.
Madras Budget of 1856-57.
Report on Vaccination, Madras Presidency.
Madras Land Revenue Report for Fusly, 1854-55.
Report on Civil Justice in Madras for 1856.
BOMBAY RECORDS.
The Fossils of the Eastern Portion of the Great Basaltic District of India.
Secundrabud to Reeder.
Masulipatam to Goa.

The Geology of a portion of the Deccan.
Geology of the Island of Bombay.
The Trap Formation of the Sagar District.
On the Geology of Malwa.
Geology of Nagpur.
Fossil Fish from the Tableland of the Deccan.
The Geology of Kotah.
Geological Notes on Tract between Bellary and Bijapur.
Geology of the Southern Maharashtra Country.
Geological Report on the Bagulkot and the adjoining Tolooks.
The Basin of the Malpurba.
Geology of Cutch.
The Geology of the Country between Moshungabad and Nagpur.
Perim Island.
The Cornelian Mines of Baroach.
Geology of Parts of Sind.
The Belochistan Hills.
The Geology of Sind.
Geology of the South East Coast of Arabia.
Summary of the Geology of India.

PART VI.—MARCH, 1858.

PARLIAMENTARY BLUE BOOKS.
The Mutinies.
Ditto.
INDIAN RECORDS.
The Guicowar's Hospital.
Karen Nec.
Jubbulpore School of Industry.
The Thuggee Department in 1856.
The Andamans.
BENGAL RECORDS.
Public Instruction in Bengal, 1856-57.
The Himalayas.

The Nepalese Mission to Peking.
Sub-Himalayan Races.
MADRAS RECORDS.
District Roads for 1855-56.
The Madras Railway Fares.
Trade of the Madras Territories for 1856-57.
Cases in Madras Police Offices, 1856.
BOMBAY RECORDS.
Annual Engineer's Report for 1856-57.
Mineral Districts of the Nerbudda Valley.

PART VII.—JUNE, 1858.

PARLIAMENTARY PAPERS.
Military Colonists.
Further Papers on the Despatch of Troops to India.
The Mutinies.
BENGAL RECORDS.
The Salt Department for 1856-57.
Shipping in Rangoon and Dalhousie in 1856-57.
Commerce and Shipping of Singapore for 1855-56.
PUNJAB RECORDS.
British Rule in Hoshcarpore.

MADRAS RECORDS.
Criminal Justice in the Madras Presidency.
Jails of the Madras Presidency.
Civil Dispensaries of the Madras Presidency.
Madras Medical College.
Court of Small Causes.
The Supreme Court of Madras (Small Cause Side).
Irrigation in the Madras Provinces.
BOMBAY RECORDS.
The Eastern Narra.

PART VIII.—SEPTEMBER, 1858.

PARLIAMENTARY PAPERS.
Education in India.
East India Revenues.
The Indian Navy.
Public Works.
The King of Oude.
The Press.
The Mutinies in the East Indies.
BENGAL RECORDS.
Report on the Bhowanipore and the Dullunda Asylums.
The Calcutta Court of Small Causes.
The Abkarry Administration of the Lower Provinces for the year 1856-57.

Survey Operations of the Lower Provinces from 1st October, 1856, to 30th September, 1857.
The Trade of Bengal, 1850-1858.
N.W.P. RECORDS.
The Navigation of the Gogra.
Report on the Agri Medical School.
MADRAS RECORDS.
The Civil Administration of the Madras Presidency for the year 1856.
Jails in the Madras Presidency for the year 1856.

PART IX.—DECEMBER, 1858.

PARLIAMENTARY PAPERS.
Remount Horses for the Army in India.
BENGAL RECORDS.
Bengal Administration Report for 1856-57.
The Indian Administration Report for 1856-57.
Administration of Madras for 1856-57.
Administration of Bombay for 1856-57.
Administration of Pegu, 1856-7.

Administration of the Straits Settlements for 1856-57.
Administration of the Tenasserim and Martaban Provinces for 1856-57.
Administration of Mysore for 1856-57.
Administration of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts for 1856-57.
N.W.P. RECORDS.
Thomson's Opinions.

MADRAS RECORDS.
The Agricultural Exhibitions of the Madras Provinces.
The Effects of the Godavery Krishna and Coleroon Annicuts.

Education in the Madras Presidency, 1856-57.
Revision of Village Accounts of the Madras Presidency.
Revision of Talook Accounts in the Madras Presidency.

PART I.—VOL. III.—MARCH, 1859.

PARLIAMENTARY PAPERS.
Transport of Troops.
East Indian Railways—Sunday Trains.
BENGAL RECORDS.
The Rivers of Bengal.
External Commerce of Bengal for 1857-58.
N.W.P. RECORDS.
Ajmere and Maiwarra.
BOMBAY RECORDS.
The Supply of Water to the Poona Cantonment.
Thuggee and Dacoity.
Mr. Dalzell's Review of Mr. Plowden's Bombay Salt Report.

MADRAS RECORDS.
Vaccination in the Madras Presidency.
The Agricultural Exhibitions in the Madras Provinces in the year 1857.
Rules for Grants-in-Aid of Schools unconnected with Government in the Madras Presidency.
Madras Revenue Survey.
Sedashinghur or Beekul Harbour.
Madras Dewanne Udawlut Report for 1857.
Cases in Madras Police Offices for 1857.
Trade of the Madras Territories for 1857-58.

PART II.—VOL. III.—JUNE, 1859.

INDIAN RECORDS.
The Construction of a Light-house on the Alguada Reef.
Report on Indian Administration, 1857-58.
Ditto on the Administration of the Punjab, 1857-58.
Administration of the Straits Settlements, 1857-58.
Ditto ditto Assigned Districts, 1857-58.
The Administration of Mysore, 1857-58.
The Telegraph Department, 1857-58.
Commerce and Shipping of Rangoon and Bassein, 1857-58.
The Andaman Islands and Barten Islands.
BENGAL RECORDS.
The Drainage of Calcutta.
Report on the Administration of the Salt Department, 1857-58.
N.W.P. RECORDS.
Prison Returns of the North-Western Provinces, 1856.

Revenue Administration Report of the North-Western Provinces, 1857-58.
BOMBAY RECORDS.
A History of Arabia Felix or Yemen.
MADRAS RECORDS.
Madras Medical College.
The Madras Railway, 1857.
The Administration of Criminal Justice in the Madras Presidency, 1857.
Madras Land Revenue Report, 1856-57.
Ditto ditto ditto, 1855-56.
Ditto Court of Small Causes, 1858.
The Madras Forest Department.
Madras Budget of Public Works, 1857-58.
Ditto Civil Dispensaries, 1857.
Col. A. Cotton's Memorandum on the proposed Beikul and Hyderabad Railway.
Prisons in the Madras Presidency, 1857-58.
Public Works in Malabar, Coimbatore, Trichinopoly, and Tanjore.

PART III.—VOL. III.—SEPTEMBER, 1859.

PARLIAMENTARY PAPERS.
Organization of the Indian Army.
INDIAN RECORDS.
The Administration of the Public Works Department, 1857-58.
The Administration of Pegu, 1857-58.
The Administration of Tenasserim.
The Administration of the Post-office, 1857 and 1858.
BENGAL RECORDS.
The Administration of Bengal, 1857-58.
Report of the Calcutta Municipal Commissioners, 1858.

Pooree and Balasore.
N.W.P. RECORDS.
The Administration of the North-West Provinces, 1857-58.
BOMBAY RECORDS.
The Sind Forests, 1858-59.
The Revenue Survey in Sind, 1856 and 1857.
The Administration of Bombay, 1857-58.
MADRAS RECORDS.
Cases in the Madras Police Offices, 1858.
Madras Public Works, 1857-58.
The Administration of Madras, 1857-58.

PART IV.—VOL. III.—DECEMBER, 1859.

PARLIAMENTARY PAPERS.
Colonization and Settlement (India).
The Punjab Committee on the Reorganization of the Army.
Sir Bartle Frere on ditto.
General John Jacob on ditto.
INDIAN RECORDS.
Administration of the Punjab and its Dependencies, 1858-59.
Administration of Pegu, 1858-59.
Commerce and Shipping of Prince of Wales Island, Singapore, and Malacca, 1856-57.
BENGAL RECORDS.
Public Instruction in Bengal, 1857-58.

Revenue Account of the East Indian Railway for the half-year ending 1858.
Survey Operations of the Lower Provinces, from 1st Oct. 1857, to 30th Sept., 1858.
N.W.P. RECORDS.
Revenue Administration Report for 1858-59.
BOMBAY RECORDS.
Revenue Account of the G.I.P. Railway, for the half-year ending 1858.
External Commerce of Bombay, 1858-59.
Memoir on the Ruins of Baby-lon.
MADRAS RECORDS.
Revenue Account of the Madras Railway, for the half-year ending 1858.

TO RAILWAY AND STEAM SHIPPING COMPANIES.

MACHINE BELTING.

FIRE-ENGINE HOSE and BUCKETS,
All descriptions of Leather for Exportation.

S. E. NORRIS and CO.,

SHADWELL LONDON,
MANUFACTURERS AND PATENTERS.

OVERLAND ROUTE.—COMMUNICATION BY STEAM TO INDIA, AUSTRALIA, &c. via Egypt.—The PENINSULAR and ORIENTAL STEAM NAVIGATION COMPANY BOOK PASSENGERS and RECEIVE CARGO and PARCELS for GIBRALTAR, MALTA, EGYPT, ADEN, CEYLON, MADRAS, CALCUTTA, the STRAITS, and CHINA, by their Steamers leaving Southampton on the 4th and 20th of every month. For GIBRALTAR, MALTA, EGYPT, ADEN, and BOMBAY, by those of the 12th and 27th of each month; and for MAURITIUS, REUNION, KING GEORGE'S SOUND, MELBOURNE, and SYDNEY, by the Steamers leaving Southampton on the 20th of every month.

For further particulars, apply at the Company's Offices, 122, Leadenhall-street, London, E.C., or Oriental-place, Southampton.

NOTICE OF REMOVAL.—MESSRS. GRINDLAY and Co., EAST INDIA ARMY AGENTS, have REMOVED their Offices to No. 55, PARLIAMENT-STREET, CHARING-CROSS, S.W.

PASSAGES and OUTFITS to INDIA.—

Plans and prices of accommodation of all Ships sailing for INDIA may be seen at the Offices of Messrs. GRINDLAY and Co., and Passages, Overland and via the Cape, negotiated without charge for Commission.

CADETS, ASSISTANT-SURGEONS, &c.—Every article of OUTFIT, Camp, and Cabin Furniture supplied on the shortest notice, at the Outfit and Supply Branches. Complete Lists, showing the total expense of military and personal equipment in all branches of the Service, may be obtained, with every information relative to India, of

GRINDLAY and CO.,

EAST-INDIA ARMY AGENTS,

55, Parliament-street, Charing-cross, S.W.,

AND

EAST-INDIA ROOMS,

9, St. Martin's-place, Charing-cross.

WEST-END PARCELS FORWARDING DEPARTMENT,
55, Parliament-street, Charing-cross, S.W.

ORIENTAL, AUSTRALIAN, and GENERAL PASSENGER and PARCEL EXPRESS AGENCY for all parts of the world. Passages secured. Plans, Handbooks, and Maps furnished; Military Pay, Pensions, and Allowances received. Parcels and Merchandise despatched with regularity and economy. Luggage collected, shipped, and insured.

Chief Office, 150, Leadenhall-street, E.C.; Western Branch, 23, Regent-street, S.W.

GEO. W. WHEATLEY & CO.

NOTICE to OVERLAND PASSENGERS.

A SPECIAL BRANCH of the ORIENTAL, AUSTRALIAN, and GENERAL STEAM AGENCY is OPENED at 23, Regent-street, Waterloo-place, S.W., where the fullest information can be had. Passages engaged, baggage collected, shipped, and insured. Handbooks for Southampton, Marseilles, and Trieste Routes. Passports procured, and visas obtained. Apply to GEO. W. WHEATLEY and Co. (formerly Waghorn and Co.).

PERSONS proceeding to INDIA can effect ASSURANCES on favorable terms with the COLONIAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

LOANS given to Civil or Military Officers proceeding to India on her Majesty's Service.

Agents at Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, and in all the British Colonies, where premiums can be paid and claims settled.

The Colonial was established in 1846, and its present income is £40,000 per annum.

Subscribed Capital, £1,000,000 sterling.

Constituted by Act of Parliament.

SAMUEL R. FERGUSON, Res. Sec.

LONDON 81, Lombard-street, E.C.,
and at Messrs. Paris and Co.'s, No. 10, St. James's-street, S.W.

EDINBURGH (Head Office) 5, George-street.

DUBLIN 65, Upper Sackville-street.

GLASGOW 58, St. Vincent-street.

THE REAL INDIAN CURRY POWDER.

Unequalled for its delicious flavour and stimulating qualities. 1lb. bottles, 8s. 6d.; 3lbs. 2s. 3d.; 3lbs. 1s. 6d.; or 7lbs. for 21s. Curry and Mulligatawny Paste.—1lb. jars, 8s. 6d.; 3lbs. 2s. 3d. Payne's New Curry Sauce and Oriental Relish, bottles 1s. 6d. Bengal Club and Mango Chutney, bottles 1s. 6d. and 2s. each. The Royal Combination Pickle, highly recommended, bottles 2s. Bombay Pickled Mangoes, Tap Sauce, Nepaul Pepper, Preserved Ginger, and all Indian delicacies, may be had at PAYNE and CO.'S FOREIGN WAREHOUSE, 328, Regent street.

TO LATE RESIDENTS IN INDIA.—

TRUE MADRAS CURRY and MULLIGATAWNEY PASTE and CHUTNIES.—Messrs. BARRIE and Co., Vepery, Madras, to enable their old correspondents returning from India to continue the use of the celebrated Condiments, have made arrangements to forward regular supplies of the above, packed in glass jars for family use, at 1s. 9d. and upwards, which may be had of CROSSE and BLACKWELL, Parveyors to Her Majesty, 21, Soho-square; FORTNUM, MASON, & Co., Piccadilly; and of the Principal Sauce Vendors throughout the Kingdom. Each bottle is labelled, and BARRIE and Co., Madras, stamped on the glass.

INDIAN CIVIL & MILITARY SERVICE.

—PORTABLE DRESSING-CASES, POUCHES, WRITING-DESKS, and DESPATCH-BOXES, so arranged as to give no trouble in travelling. These well-made requisites contain every necessary article, arranged so compactly as to save the continual expenses gentlemen are put to in changing quarters. They are pronounced to be the most useful and economical goods of their kind obtainable at the present day.

Manufactured and Sold only by WILLIAMS and Co., 52, New Bond-street.

ALLEN'S NEW OVERLAND TRUNKS,

with Metallic Lining and Air-tight Compartments.

ALLEN'S PATENT DESPATCH BOX, with Stationery.

ALLEN'S NEW DRESSING BAG, with Silver Fittings. The above are the best articles yet invented for India and China.

ALLEN'S ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE of Patent Portmanteaus, RULOCK TRUNKS, Writing and Dressing Cases, by post, for two stamps.

J. W. ALLEN, Manufacturer, 18 and 22, Strand, London.

Merchants supplied.

TO PERSONS FURNISHING.

THE most varied and extensive STOCK of CABINET FURNITURE, UPHOLSTERY GOODS, BEDSTEADS, BEDDING, CHIMNEY-GLASSES, DAMASKS, CARPETS, &c., conveniently arranged for public inspection, will be found in the immense Furniture Galleries and Show-rooms of Messrs. Druce and Co., Nos. 55, 56, and 69, BAKER-STREET. The price is marked on every article in plain figures, that persons may make their own estimates, as opportunity to purchasers is not allowed. Every article being manufactured by first-rate workmen, of the best seasoned materials, a twelve-month's warranty is given.

Purchasers are invited to visit this establishment before deciding elsewhere.

N.B.—Iron Bedsteads, 8s. 6d. each; 500 Easy Chairs and 100 Wardrobes to select from. Carpets 1s. per yard under the usual price.

* * Illustrated Books post free.

J. MAPLE and Co.'s NEW ILLUSTRATED

CATALOGUE, containing the Prices of every Article required for completely furnishing a House of any class, post free. This is the largest and most convenient furnishing Establishment in the world. Established Twenty years.

J. MAPLE and Co., 145 and 146, Tottenham-court-road.

HANDSOME BRASS and IRON BED-

STEADS.—HEAL and SON'S Show Rooms contain a large assortment of Brass Bedsteads, suitable both for Home use and for Tropical Climates; handsome Iron Bedsteads with Brass Mountings and elegantly japanned; Plain Iron Bedsteads for Servants; every description of Wood Bedstead that is manufactured, in Mahogany, Birch, Walnut-tree Woods, Polished Deal and Japanned, all fitted with Bedding and Furniture complete, as well as every description of Bedroom Furniture.

HEAL and SON'S ILLUSTRATED

CATALOGUE, containing Designs and Prices of 100 Bedsteads, as well as of 150 different articles of Bedroom Furniture, sent free by post.

HEAL and SON, Bedstead, Bedding, and Bedroom Furniture Manufacturers, 196, Tottenham-court-road, W.

OBTAIN THE IMPERIAL LINEN COM-

PANY'S PRICE LIST, sent free by post, and never buy Household Linens or Family Drapery of any kind without first consulting this useful manual, as you will by it learn to save one-third your outlay, secure first-class goods from the first-class makers, and be in pocket all profits intervening between the producer and consumer.

The THREE-GUINEA SAMPLE PARCEL, containing One rich Hambro' double Damask Table-cloth, to dine ten persons, usually £1. 1s.

One very large pair fine Witney Blankets, usually 17s. 6d.

One pair fine wide Russia Sheets, usually 16s. 6d.

One pair magnificent Embroidered Swiss Curtains, usually 19s. 6d.

Half-a-dozen rich Damask Dinner Napkins, usually 10s. 6d.

One elegant Martell Bed-curtain, welled, usually 13s. 6d.

Six Marcella Toilet Covers, fringed, usually 9s. 6d.

One bundle Royal Turkish Towels, fringed, usually 12s. 6d.; and

One dozen fine French Cambric Handkerchiefs, usually 10s. 6d.

All of which will be forwarded to any part on receipt of three guineas.

N.B.—Other articles, of same value, may be substituted, if desired.—Post-office orders payable at Old Cavendish-street.

Bankers—ST. SAMUEL SCOTT & Co.

Address—THE IMPERIAL LINEN COMPANY,

53, WIGMORE STREET, CAVENTISH SQUARE, LONDON.

Manager, JAMES THOMAS.

TABLE GLASS of the Finest Quality and

Design, at Low Prices, manufactured by GOODWIN, 33, Princes-street, Leicester-square, London, W.

Export Orders, &c., executed for the Trade.

COMMANS'S CELEBRATED ARECA-

NUT TOOTH-PASTE is used by her Majesty and the Royal Family.—Has been examined, approved, is used and recommended, by many of our first physicians and dentists as the best preparation known for cleaning and preserving the teeth. Testimonials have been received, unsolicited, from many of the nobility and gentry. The following is amongst the many in testimony of its high value.

"Liverpool, August, 1859.

"I have much pleasure in offering my testimony to the value of your Areca-nut Tooth Paste, and have no hesitation in saying that it is the most efficacious and agreeable Dentifrice ever produced. I have recommended its use to my patients for some years.

"W. J. NEWMAN,

"Surgeon Dentist to the Liverpool Infirmary for Children." Prepared only by COMMANS, Chemist, Bath, in pots, 2s. each; to be procured of all Chemists, through the Wholesale Agents, Barclay, Edwards, London; Oldham and Co., Dublin; Duncan and Flockhart, Edinburgh.

NO ICE REQUIRED to produce common

Ice, Dessert Ices, to Ice Wines, &c., in SIMPSON'S NEW PATENT FREEZING VASE.—This Apparatus is, without exception, the most efficacious, simple, and portable ever produced. By using the Patented Freezing Powder, Dessert Ices and Common Ice can be frozen by the most inexperienced, in a few minutes, on the table, or in an invalid's apartment. Residents and travellers in hot climates will find it invaluable, as it produces that luxury—Ice!—at command and only occupies the space of an ordinary hat-case.

Prices: one pint, Four Guineas; three pints, Five Guineas. Freezing Powder, 3/4d. per cwt. Freezing Pots, Ice Moulds, &c., &c.

SODA-WATER, &c.—Use the "Seltzogene" (solely of one piece of glass), the only portable apparatus that has the patronage of the medical profession, who recommend it for making pure Soda-water and Aromatic Beverages. Metallic impregnation is avoided, there is no leakage, and it is not affected by hot climates.

Prices: two pints, 23s.; three pints, 30s.; five pints, 42s. Powders (forty charges in box), 8s., 10s., and 16s. each. References and descriptive catalogues sent free.

GEO. SIMPSON'S Patent Depot, 315c, Oxford-street, London.

Price 1s. post-free,

PULVERMACHER'S MEDICO-GALVA-

NIC Improved System of SELF-APPLICATION, of the Patent GALVANIC ANTI-RHEUMATIC CHAIN-BANDS, demonstrating the unequalled success obtained by their use in the treatment of Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Tic Dolorieux, Deafness, Epilepsy, Paralysis, and Loss of Nervous or Functional Force. Most interesting Book, popularising the wonderful results of Medical Galvanism, based on the soundest teachings of physiology, verified and tested by the first Authors and Physicians of the world, and stating innumerable overwhelming authentic facts of prompt cures of long-standing diseases. Price 1s. (post-free). Direct from J. L. Pulvermacher and Co., 73, Oxford-street, London (adjoining Princess's Theatre). All Booksellers, News Agents, and appointed Agents for the sale of the Chain-Bands.

N.B.—Chains, 5s., 10s., 15s., 22s., according to electric power.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT and PILLS.

—FEMALE COMPLAINTS.—Climate, fashion, and neglect hurry thousands of our daughters prematurely to the tomb; each and all of whom would still have been their parents' pride had Holloway's remedies been applied without delay. On them all may rely for restoring health, when natural functions are suspended, or morbidly sluggish. Under the genial influence of Holloway's preparations, beauty, vigour, and vivacity are rekindled. The Ointment should be well rubbed over the kidneys and bottom of the stomach every night on going to bed; the effect will be marvellous. Eight or ten Pills should be taken nightly, for some little time, while using the Ointment, in order to purify the blood, cleanse the system, and correct all obstructions.

KEATING'S COUGH LOZENGES.

JUDGED BY THE IMMENSE DEMAND,

this UNIVERSAL REMEDY now stands the first in public favour and confidence; this result has been acquired by the test of fifty years' experience. These Lozenges may be found on sale in every British Colony, and throughout India and China. They have been highly esteemed wherever introduced. For COUGHS, ASTHMA, and all affections of the Throat and Chest, they are the most agreeable and efficacious remedy.

Prepared and Sold in Boxes and Tins of various sizes, by THOMAS KEATING, Chemist, &c., 79, St. Paul's Church-yard, London. Sold Retail by all Druggists and Patent Medicine Vendors in the world.

N.B. To prevent spurious imitations, please to observe that the words "KEATING'S COUGH LOZENGES" are engraved on the Government Stamp of each Box, without which none are genuine.

DINNIFORD'S PURE FLUID MAG-

NESIA has been, during twenty-five years, sanctioned by the medical profession and universally accepted by the public as the best remedy for Acidity of the Stomach, Heartburn, Headache, Gout, and Indigestion. As a mild aperient it is admirably adapted for ladies and children, and it is invaluable in warm climates. Manufactured (with the utmost attention to strength and purity) by DINNIFORD and Co., 172, New Bond-street, London; and sold by all respectable chemists throughout the Empire.

BLAIR'S GOUT & RHEUMATIC PILLS.

Price 1s. 1/4d. and 2s. 9d. per box.

This preparation is one of the benefits which the science of modern chemistry has conferred upon mankind; for during the first twenty years of the present century to speak of a cure for the gout was considered a romance; but now the efficacy and safety of this medicine is so fully demonstrated by unsolicited testimonials from persons in every rank of life, that public opinion proclaims this as one of the most important discoveries of the present age. These Pills require no restraint of diet or confinement during their use, and are certain to prevent the disease attacking any vital part.

Sold by all medicine vendors. Observe "Thomas Prout, 229, Strand, London," on the Government stamp.

ARTIFICIAL TEETH, SET in the new

CHEMICALLY PREPARED INDIA-RUBBER, forming a beautifully fitting plate to the gums, or over stumps, without producing the slightest pain, and on this plan it is impossible to detect them as artificial when the workmanship is of superior order. Mr. BRADSHAW can, with the greatest confidence, undertake any case, no matter how difficult, with certain success, being a thoroughly practical workman, supplying for many years the first dentists of the day with their most particular work in Artificial Teeth. Doing all his own work himself, he is enabled to supply his patients at an exceedingly moderate price. Single Tooth, from 3s. 6d. to 10s. 6d.; a Complete Upper or Lower Set, from £2 to £5. Mr. Bradshaw, Dentist, 20, Great Portland-street, Oxford-circus.

A TEXT-BOOK FOR PUBLIC EXAMINATIONS.

This day is published, in royal 8vo., highly illustrated with Plates and Cuts, price 10s. 6d.,

ELEMENTARY PRINCIPLES OF FORTIFICATION.

BY J. T. HYDE, M.A.,

Professor of Fortification and Artillery, Royal Indian Military College, Addiscombe.

London: WM. H. ALLEN AND Co., 7, Leadenhall-street, E.C.

This day is published, in 8vo., price 15s.,

THE HISTORY OF CHESS;

FROM THE TIME OF THE

EARLY INVENTION OF THE GAME IN INDIA,

TILL THE PERIOD OF

ITS ESTABLISHMENT IN WESTERN AND CENTRAL EUROPE;

Containing, from Oriental Sources, a correct Description of the

CHATURANGA,

OR PRIMEVAL GAME OF THE ANCIENT HINDUS;

Also, a full Explanation of the Theory and Practice of the

SHATRANJ,

OR MEDIEVAL GAME, AS PLAYED BY THE PERSIANS, THE ARABS, AND THE EUROPEANS, DOWN TO THE BEGINNING OF THE SIXTEENTH CENTURY OF OUR ÆRA;

The whole Illustrated with numerous Notes and Diagrams.

TO WHICH IS ADDED,

AN APPENDIX,

CONTAINING ESSAYS AND DISCUSSIONS ON THE GAME FROM VARIOUS SOURCES.

BY DUNCAN FORBES, LL.D.,

Professor of Oriental Languages in King's College, London; Member of the Royal Asiatic Society of Great Britain and Ireland; and Author of several Works on the Hindustani and Persian Languages.

ROMANIZED HINDUSTANI.

This day is published, in Royal 8vo., price £1. 16s.,

A DICTIONARY:
HINDUSTANI-ENGLISH AND ENGLISH-HINDUSTANI
(In the Roman or English Characters.)
By DUNCAN FORBES, LL.D.

A New Edition, Revised throughout, in 18mo., price 3s. 6d.,

HINDUSTANI MANUAL.
(In the Roman or English Characters.)

A Pocket Companion for those who visit India in any capacity, consisting of a Compendious Grammar, Exercises, Dialogues on Familiar Subjects, and a Vocabulary.

By DUNCAN FORBES, LL.D.

This day is published, in 12mo., price 5s.,

THE BAGH-O-BAHAR;
WITH A VOCABULARY OF ALL THE WORDS OCCURRING IN THE WORK.
(In the Roman or English Characters.)
By DUNCAN FORBES, LL.D.

DR. FORBES' WORKS ARE NOW USED IN ALL THE COLLEGES AND GOVERNMENT SCHOOLS IN INDIA.

London: WM. H. ALLEN AND Co., 7, Leadenhall-street, E.C.

LONDON;—Printed by RICHARD KINDEL, Printer, at his Printing Office, Angel-court, Skinner-street, in the Parish of St. Sepulchre; and published by JAMES FRASER ALLEN, 7, Leadenhall-street, both in the County of Middlesex,—October 22, 1860.

ALLEN'S INDIAN MAIL

AND OFFICIAL GAZETTE

FROM

BRITISH & FOREIGN INDIA, CHINA, & ALL PARTS OF THE EAST

(WITH THIS PAPER "THE INDIAN NEWS" IS NOW INCORPORATED.)

VOL. XVIII.—No. 460.]

LONDON, SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1860.

[PRICE 6d.]

CONTENTS.

SUMMARY AND REVIEW	789
BENGAL:—
The Indigo Question	790
Miscellaneous	791
Shipping and Commercial	793
MADRAS:—
Annexation of Pegu to British India	793
Miscellaneous	794
Shipping and Commercial	795
CHINA	795
THE STRAITS	796
OFFICIAL GAZETTE	797
DOMESTIC	801
ORIGINAL ARTICLES:—
"Making a Law unto Themselves"	802
The Governing Classes of India—No. II.—Earl Can- ning	803
HONG-KONG:—
East Indian Railway	804
Great Indian Peninsula Railway	804
Ceylon Railway	804
Shipping and Domestic	805
Arrivals, &c., reported at the India Office	805
TOBACCO AND SECURITIES	805

DATES OF ADVICES.

Bengal	Sept. 23	Burma (Rangoon)	Sept. 19
Madras	" 27	Bombay	" 26
Agra	" 4	Ceylon	" 30
China (Hong-Kong)	Sept. 11.

MAILS TO INDIA.

Mails to India and China, via Marseilles, are despatched from London as follows, viz.:—Those for Bombay packets, on the evenings of the 3rd and 18th of each month; and those for Calcutta packets (including mails for Ceylon, Madras, and China), on the evenings of the 10th and 26th of each month. When any of these dates falls on a Sunday, the mails are made up on the following evening.

Letters and Newspapers can be forwarded to any part of India via Bombay and Marseilles, and in most cases will reach their destination some days sooner than if despatched by the following Calcutta mail. The Bombay mails via Southampton, however, are no longer available for the transmission of Letters or Newspapers to the Madras Presidency. Mails for the Mediterranean and all parts of India, except the Bombay Presidency, are despatched via Southampton on the mornings of the 4th and 30th, or, when either of these dates falls on Sunday, upon the previous evening.

Mails for the Mediterranean, the Presidency of Bombay, and Upper or North-West Provinces of Bengal, are despatched via Southampton, on the 13th and 27th of the month, except when these dates fall on Sunday, in which case they are forwarded on the previous evening.

POSTAGE.

Via Southampton (pre-payment compulsory), letters under

1 oz. 0s. 6d.	2 oz. 2s. 0d.	4 oz. 4s. 0d.
1 oz. 1s. 0d.	3 oz. 3s. 0d.	5 oz. 5s. 0d.

Books, with the ends of the covers open (not exceeding 3 lbs. in weight), if sent via Southampton, under 1 lb. 4d.; under 1 lb. 8d.; under 1 lb. 1s. 4d.; under 1 lb. 2s.; under 1 lb. 3s. 8d.; under 1 lb. 5s. 4d.; and under 3 lbs. 4s. Postage-stamps must be affixed.

Newspapers for the East Indies, when not exceeding 4 oz. 3d.; when above 4 oz. and not exceeding 8 oz., 3d. each—an additional penny being charged for every additional 4 oz. or fraction thereof. For all countries or places eastward of Suez, the charge is 3d., whatever the weight of the newspaper.

Via Marseilles (pre-payment compulsory), letters under

1 oz. 0s. 9d.	1 oz. 1s. 9d.	1 1/2 oz. 3s. 3d.
1 oz. 1s. 0d.	1 oz. 2s. 0d.	1 1/2 oz. 3s. 6d.

Newspapers not exceeding 4 oz., 3d., when above 4 oz. and not exceeding 8 oz., 6d. each. Books under 1 lb. 6d.; under 1 lb. 1s.; and for every additional 1 lb., an additional 1s.

The Mails for China are despatched at the same rate of postage as those to India; but must be pre-paid.

SUMMARY AND REVIEW.

THE overdue China and Calcutta Mail has at length arrived, bringing intelligence from Hong Kong to the 12th of September, and from Calcutta to the 22nd of that month. The most important news relates to the complete success of the allies in the province of Pecheli, and the probable termination of hostile operations. The Tartars, however, offered a resistance without precedent in the history of our wars with China, and acquitted themselves in a manner that would not have disgraced the finest European troops. But jingalls and bows and arrows had no chance against Armstrongs and the canons rayés; nor could their undisciplined valour make head for any length of time against the trained courage and strategical skill of their enemies. On the 12th August their entrenched camp was taken after a severe contest, in the course of which a small detachment of Fane's Sikh horse, under Lieut. McGregor, charged a body of Tartar cavalry three times their number, and routed them with great slaughter. Two days later the earthworks between Sin-ho and the forts, and also the village of Tang-Kow were carried by the allies, after a heavy cannonade. Active preparations were then made for the crowning effort, which came off on the 21st. It was resolved—Sir Hope Grant taking upon himself the sole responsibility—to attack the furthest inland one of the two forts on the north side of the river, and the event justified his sagacity. The allies rivalled one another both in the excellence of their artillery practice and in the irresistible impetuosity of their assault. The Tartars, however, stood to their guns like good soldiers, and were bayoneted while fighting to the last. The other forts surrendered without firing a shot, and the entire province of Pecheli submitted to the invaders. The Ambassadors and Admiral Hope have since proceeded to Tientsin, whence they were preparing to start for Peking, escorted by cavalry and artillery,—an honourable reception having been promised them by the Chinese Government. The enemy is supposed to have lost upwards of 1,500 men in these different encounters, and on the part of the allies also the loss has been very considerable. General Montauban admits that he has 200 men and officers hors de combat, while the English rolls give twenty-one men killed, and twenty-two officers and 161 men wounded. Of the officers, two—Captain Miller and Lieutenant Kingsley, of the 67th Regiment,—are dangerously wounded; thirteen severely, namely, Lieut. McGregor, Fane's Horse; Captain Brooke, 48th; Lieut. Gye, R.A.; Brevet-Major Graham, 23rd company R.E.; Captain G. Ingham and Lieut. R. Rogers, 44th; Lieut. G. Maires, R.M.; Lieut. Colonel Thomas and Lieut. Burslem, of the 67th; and Brigadier Reeves, of the 90th. The seven officers slightly wounded are Lieut. Stewart and Ensign Macaulay, of Probyn's Horse; Lieut. Kempson, of the 90th; Lieut.-col. T. O. Travers, Capt. Carrington, and Lieuts. Barker and Straghan, of the Royal Marines; and Lieut. Lennon, of the 67th. Lieutenants Rogers and Burslem and Ensign Chaplin, of the 67th, have been recommended for the Victoria Cross.

From India itself the only news of general interest comes from the Indigo districts of Pubna, Jessore, and Nuddea, where great excitement prevails among the ryots. So imminent, indeed, is the danger of riotous disturbances that two gunboats, two companies of European soldiers, and 1,200 military police have been sent to overawe the deluded peasants and suppress the first attempt at an outbreak. The difficulty, says the Friend of India, has now reduced itself to this:—

"The planters must gain the self-interest of the ryot on their side by making the crop profitable to them. The Government must give such laws, speedy justice, good police, and an efficient administration, that the planter shall be protected against fraud and European capital encouraged. By a reform of the whole Government of Bengal, by a summary contract law such as the tradesmen of the presidency towns and the coffee planters of Madras enjoy, and by Small Cause Courts can this be done. Government has not yet made public what course it intends to follow in consequence of the suggestions of the report. Meanwhile, but little indigo will be sown this October in the richest districts of Bengal. Time alone will effect a good understanding between the planter as landholder and manufacturer, and the ryot as rent-payer and cultivator."

The apprehensions of a famine in the North-West Provinces have again revived, but the Government is sensible of the danger, and has taken steps to provide such palliatives as have been suggested by Colonel Baird Smith, one of the most intelligent officers in the Indian army. His report is based on the sound principle that the course of trade should not be interfered with, an enunciation rendered necessary by the injudicious conduct of certain officials, who were so utterly ignorant of the very rudiments of political economy, as to fine the bunnahs who exported grain from one town to another, in order to benefit by the best market. Colonel Baird Smith further recommends Government to place at the disposal of the local authorities certain sums of money to be expended, by committees specially appointed, in the relief of the people; that these committees, or whatever other authorities may be appointed for the purpose, should buy grain from the regular merchants and supply the people with it in return for labour, none but the helpless and infirm being granted relief gratuitously; and that moveable columns of troops should be available to assist the police in case of food riots as in 1838.

NEWSPAPER

There is no truth whatever in the telegraphic announcement that the 6th Bengal Europeans are in a mutinous state. A rumour to that effect was mentioned some time ago in the Englishman, but contradicted on the following day.

The details of the forthcoming amalgamation are, we believe, at length arranged in all essential points. The scientific branches—that is, the Engineers and the Artillery—are still, it appears, to remain a local service. In the native infantry promotion will still go by seniority, though the officers will all belong to a general staff corps, from which they will be specially selected for original appointments. We are happy to add that Lieut.-col. H. W. Norman, C.B., deputy adjutant-general of the army in India, has been appointed Assistant Military Secretary to H.R.H. the General Command-in-Chief. This appointment, which cannot fail to give universal satisfaction, has been made consequent on the amalgamation of the British and Indian armies, which require the services of an officer of Indian experience at the Horse-Guards.

It is stated that Sir Charles Wood has decided upon abolishing the Civil, Military, and Medical Funds. The operation of this measure will, of course, be prospective. Though no fresh subscribers will be admitted, all those at present registered will derive from them the full benefit to which they are entitled.

The appointment of Sir William T. Denison, K.C.B., to the Governorship of the Madras Presidency appears in yesterday's Gazette.

Casualties by Death in the Armies of India reported since last Publication.

H.M.'s FORCES.—Surz. R. W. Macaulay, 1st Sikh Irregular Cavalry, on board the hospital ship Mauritius, at Talienwan Bay, China, July 15.

BENGAL.—Maj. R. S. Tickell, Bengal army, of 22, Leinster-gardens, at Brighton, aged 51, Oct. 24; Lieut. J. Hampton, Bengal Art., at Delhi, aged 22, Sept. 1; Lieut. Charles Handyside, 5th Bengal Eur. Regt., at Mirzapore; General Solano, at Maula, aged 16, Aug. 30.

Passengers by the present Mail.

From CALCUTTA.—Capt. Sullivan, Mr. W. F. Berners, Rev. P. Dufal, Capt. Gully, Mr. Grate, Capt. Martin, Mr. R. Colvin, Mr. F. Harrison. From MADRAS.—Mr. H. F. Cleghorn, M.D., Mr. S. J. Arathoon, Rev. A. W. Pearson. From HONG KONG.—Mr. F. A. Rangel and child, Mr. J. Kibbles, Col. Deschamps, Capt. Fierard. From SINGAPORE.—Capt. and Mrs. McNair and child, Mr. Gregson, Mr. H. Haakman, Mr. and Mrs. Potter and two Misses Potter. From Ceylon.—Mr. Bernard, Mr. A. Hankey, Capt. Warren. From MALTA.—Capt. P. C. Campbell.

Expected at Southampton.

Per str. Pera, Nov. 7.—From CALCUTTA.—Capt. Lucas, Surg. Jackson, Mr. Innes, Mr. C. Vincent, Miss Cockle, Mrs. Ewart, Mrs. Trench, Mr. D. Lawlor, Mr. Holmes. From MADRAS.—Mr. Knox and four children, Capt. and Mrs. Dawson and two children, Mrs. Gorton and two children, Mrs. Cooper and two children, Mrs. Worsop and two children, Mr. Williams, Mrs. Begbie, Lieut. Wright, Miss Pike.

AN INDIAN OBSTRUCTIVE.—We learn from a Bombay paper that a tiger laid himself across a road beyond Shawpore after feasting upon a bullock which he had slain. A bullock train cart was coming up the road, when it was suddenly arrested by the sight of the monster. People attempted to frighten him away from the spot by making a terrible uproar, but this had no other effect upon the animal than causing him to whisk his tail in reply to their shouts. At length the train came close by, when a shovelfull of fire from the engine soon drove the tiger away from the spot to the neighbouring jungle.

BENGAL.

THE INDIGO QUESTION.

The excitement in the indigo districts, which broke out into acts of violence last March, has been revived during the past fortnight. The ryots fear lest they should be coerced into sowing or taking advances in October next. In some cases, afraid to go to the factories, they have taken their rents to the collector, wishing to pay them to him. Again have bodies of military police been despatched in hot haste to Kishnaghur, and there two companies of Europeans have been stationed. With his own eyes the Lieutenant-governor of Bengal has witnessed the spirit of the peasantry. For two whole days he beheld the river on both its banks lined with ryots, from sunrise to sunset crying for justice, many of them swimming to his barge to present petitions. Even Jessore, hitherto so peaceful, shows symptoms of disquietude. The summary law which expires in three weeks was put in force to quell this excitement. Under its provisions more than two-thirds of the usual crop have been secured, while a sum of about Rs. 67,000 has been paid as damages by recalcitrant ryots. But if we are to judge from the spirit which prevails from the Poddah to the Bhagerutty, the planters have either been unable or have found it useless to attempt to come to terms with the cultivators in the interval. The law leaves the difficulty where it found it, and in the light of an incipient agrarian rising, the broad question of indigo cultivation in Bengal has now to be decided.

Its settlement lies in the first instance with the planters themselves. Whether as landholders, or as the purchasers of plant grown on the land of others, the first step must be to enlist the self-interest of the ryot on their side. However perfect the courts might be made, however efficient the police, however easy the acquisition and secure the tenure of the land, however honest and energetic the ryot might become, all of these would avail nothing for the planters' purpose, if indigo were still to be unprofitable or if the ryot were to think it so. The tenure of land in Bengal is such that the planter cannot get his crop except through the ryot. The moment he convinces him it is for his interest to sow, the system of indigo planting will be put on a healthy basis, and develop and extend with the general progress of the country. As a first step the planter should at once act upon his right as zemindar to the full pergunnah rent. At present, when the price of the plant is partly paid by a reduction of rent, the ryot is not sensible of the profit he may make by indigo. It seems to him to be lost in the balancing of the two accounts. No healthy system should depend on such expedients. Full rent is the due of the planter as a landholder; a price which he conceives to be profitable to him, paid in hard cash, will alone induce the ryot to sow. At present half a century of wrong and misgovernment may make it impossible for the planter to convince all the ryots by the most tempting offers. His personal influence should secure this in his own villages, and cultivation on the land of others must, we fear, be left to time. If there is one fact more striking than another in the history of Bengal it is the eagerness with which ryots, who were supposed to be bound with the chains of conservatism, have taken to the cultivation of new crops, or to the extension of others formerly neglected. In the two items of linseed and mustard seed alone, the progress is amazing. In 1833-34, no linseed was exported from Bengal; in 1855-56 the exports reached 2,538,235 maunds, of the value of upwards of half a million sterling. Mustard seed was first exported in 1843-44, in 1855-56 the exports were valued at £261,541. Once make the culture of indigo profitable to the ryot, and the first step from the present difficulty is achieved.

But we do not agree with the report of the majority of the Indigo Commission that this is enough. It is strange that English capital and capitalists should have succeeded in every other country and to some extent in every other part of India except Bengal. It is easy for the Commission to blame the planter and to expose the evils of his system, which they have done most skillfully and fairly. But that system is of Government origin and has grown up under Government nurture. Now that it has broken up, it is the part of the State to throw no difficulties in the way of the planter, and to remove those which exist by just legislation. The first great obstacle lies in the character of the peasantry, in their tendency to fraud, dishonesty, and deception. Mere self-interest will not overcome this, especially in the case of a crop which must be sown, cultivated, and cut at certain critical periods. Were Indigo like jute or rice, requiring no special care or immediate attention, self-interest might be sufficient. But that will not give the ryot either energy or conscientiousness sufficient to attend to the plant at the proper time. Laziness, if not fraud, will have the mastery, and the manufacturer will find himself compelled, as hitherto, to interfere to sow, weed, or cut the crop, if he is not to lose it altogether. His advances will in many instances be lost. To refer him to the ordinary law or courts in such a case would be mockery. In them does he find the second great obstacle to his existence as a capitalist and manufacturer. The whole question of their defects the Report has passed over; but next to the fact that indigo cultivation has failed because it has not been made profitable to the ryot is this, that the courts, the police, and the general policy of the Government of India have forced him to take the law into his own hands. If the planter does his part in increasing the price, it must be on the assurance that Government will afford him an easy and a cheap remedy against fraud. The Report has saddled the system with the faults of the Administration, has made the planter bear the burden of the grossest misgovernment and the saddest defects in both the law and the executive.

To meet the evils of native character and the faults of bad government two things are necessary, a Summary Contract Law and Small Cause Courts. We cannot see that such a law for ryot and planter would be in any sense more special than those already existing for master and servant, tradesman and artificer, railway contractor and labourer, coffee planter and coffee grower. There is a specialty about indigo, as a critical and precarious crop, which none of these possess. If, induced by a tempting price, a ryot makes a contract with a manufacturer to supply a certain quantity of indigo, if, having received advances and led the manufacturer to calculate on a certain return, he fails to make it, why should not the planter be able to get speedy justice in courts with a procedure as simple and cheap as that of the Small Cause Courts of the Presidencies? If the system of advances of cash for work to be done or goods to be delivered is universal in India, if, as the Commission confess, it will be impossible to alter the custom of ages, then a special law should be in force for contracts of all kinds. If the crop is made profitable the ryot should have no temptation to come under the provisions of such a law; if he freely and honestly enters into a contract he will have no reason to fear it. It is meant only for the dishonest. The limitation of a year for suits brought under the Act would prevent all possibility of a return to the semi-serfdom of the old system.

Unless a reform in the administration goes hand in hand with an increase in the price offered for indigo, European capital must leave Bengal, and its richest districts become the prey of anarchy and discontent. Unless by suitable laws, perfect protection, speedy justice and an enlightened policy Government attract the wealth, the energy, the intelligence, and the Christianity of Englishmen to India, it will legislate and tax in vain. Already has it won the approbation of all unprejudiced men by securing the ryot in the possession of his rights. It has yet to educate and Christianise him, and free him from the bondage in which the native zemindar enthrals him. But it must now recognise the fact that in 1857 "old things passed away," that exclusive monopolies, and class animosities were then doomed. The colonist policy is that of which England approves, that which will benefit India; the days in which the official could despise and obstruct the interloper are at an end. We await with some anxiety the course which the Government intend to pursue with reference to this question. It will be made public in a few days. They must not forget that they are as much at the bar of public opinion as the indigo system.—Friend of India.

MISCELLANEOUS.

ALLAHABAD SOLDIERS' LIBRARY.—The soldiers quartered in Allahabad are soon to have their instruction and amusement well provided for in the "Allahabad Soldiers' Library, Reading-rooms and Pleasure Grounds." 1,200 rs. have already been subscribed. The institution will consist of a museum and laboratory, reading-room and library, surrounded by gardens, to which a cricket ground and skittle alley will be attached.

I. G. S. N. COMPANY.—The report of the Indian General Steam Navigation Company for the half year ending 30th June shows a balance available for dividend of Rs. 2,30,437-9-0, equal to about 12 per cent., less Income-tax. The company possess 10 steamers, with flats, all in good order. The depression of trade during the last few months has affected the earnings.

MORPHIA.—The Harkuru states that the experiments in opium recently tried by Dr. Palmer, Opium Examiner of the Benares agency, have proved a complete success. Morphine can be extracted from the confiscated opium, which has always hitherto been burnt. Government have accordingly given orders that it shall be so used. A large saving will be effected by this arrangement.

COMPETITION-WALLAHS.—Thirty-two of the Indian civil service candidates who were successful in 1859 have passed their second examination this year, and have been appointed to the presidencies. For the first time Madras will receive "competition-wallahs," six being sent there. Five are appointed to Bombay, and the rest to Bengal.

"BRITISH" INDIAN ASSOCIATION.—At the last meeting of the British Indian Association, Baboo Joykissen Mookerjee moved that a letter be addressed to the Government of India in the Home Department asking for a commission of inquiry into the present system of administration, with special reference to the reorganisation of the Judicial service; the separation of the office of magistrate from that of collector; the disassociation of the magistrate's judicial functions from his executive and police duties; the distribution of officers according to the duties required; and the formation of sub-divisions. The Association had asked Government for a revised and detailed estimate of revenues and charges in India and at home for 1860-61, and received a reply to the effect that it would be contrary to the practice of any Government to furnish such official returns to private individuals or associations.

THE LAST OF THE BARBAROUS DEGREES.—Sir Charles Wood, in a despatch to the Governor-general, has expressed his approval of the institution of the degrees of Licentiate of Law and Civil Engineering in the three Indian universities. The contest is thus decided in favour of "cram." The ambition of such colonial universities as those of Sydney and Melbourne has been to be considered in all respects of the same character and holding the same legal status as Cambridge and Oxford. Their degrees have been expressly recognised by her Majesty as of the same value as those granted by the chartered senates of England. When universities were established in India, that of London was faithfully copied as a model. It was felt that as the main object of degrees is to recognise English learning, the standard of attainment should be as nearly as possible that recognised in England. To work up to the English level and maintain the English character, which centuries of time and generations of great men have consecrated, while in minor details adapting the required curriculum of study to Indian necessities, was the object with which the universities in the Presidencies began their career. In Calcutta and Madras they succeeded beyond expectation, till, in an evil hour, induced by the Government of Bengal, which wanted certificated pleaders for the Courts, to establish a degree inferior to that of Bachelor of Laws. By this act the Universities of India have put themselves out of the pale of those of Europe, and have lowered themselves beneath those in the colonies. Henceforth they must be considered as bodies per se, which have voluntarily deprived themselves of the borrowed associations of England, while they have nothing as a substitute for them. Apart from the question of academic custom and dignity thus sacrificed, the effects on the higher professional education in India will be most destructive. The impending changes in the courts, the improved civil procedure, and the codification of criminal law, open a future to the native bar and native attorneys, of which they will not be slow to avail themselves. Literature is already giving place to law as the favourite study in the colleges. Instead of insisting on the high standard of attainment necessary to secure the degree of Bachelor of Laws, a standard which some have already passed, the universities have been made parties to flooding the Sudder and higher courts with a set of half-educated pettifoggers, and have resolved to authorise them to use after their names the ludicrous because unrecognised letters L.L. And of this Sir Charles Wood expresses his approval. By this act the universities have deliberately proclaimed it as their principle to lower their standard to that of the native schools, instead of elevating the schools to the level of English colleges.—Friend of India.

THE HARVEST IN THE N.W.P.—Our letters from Allypore and Furrakabad, in the North-West Provinces, are full of the sad intelligence that the scantiness of the rains is causing great fears for the autumn crops, whilst the shortness of any stocks of grain has given ground for serious doubts regarding the supply of food for the people. This is one of the terrible consequences of the late rebellion; the injury to the crops, the waste and wanton destruction of much that was in store has left the country without anything approaching to the usual stocks, to meet an emergency like that now so imminent. The rains throughout the year have been unusually slight. They set in late in the usual season, so late that a panic had attacked the people in the provinces in July. Rain, however, which fell in the end of that month and up to the 21st of August, relieved the first fears of the people, and enabled Sir B. Frere to say in council that all anxiety was at an end on that subject. But the sudden cessation of the rains has renewed the solicitude of all. With the exception of a shower around Agra about the 9th of this month, we have not heard of any rain since the 21st August from Cawnpore to the foot of the Hills. From Allypore we have letters to the 6th Sept., saying that "owing to the stoppage of the rains the crops were all suffering. The labouring classes are so weak from starvation that they are unfit to work. Wheat flour is at seven seers per rupee, so that wages up to two annas a day do not enable the coolie to feed himself, to say nothing of the requirements of his family. When the rains failed in 1837 there was a large stock of grain in the country, and the prices did not rise to famine rates till the months of November and December. We already feel the pressure for want of stocks. Wheat that has heated and fermented in grain pits is now selling at twelve seers, and barley at thirteen seers per rupee. These prices are dragging all sorts of trash into the market, and we shall have some fearful sickness superadded to our other misfortunes. If rain does not fall soon, and generally, the khureef will be lost." From Furrakabad we have the following, dated the 8th Sept.:—"It is almost a famine now; the poorer classes are suffering dreadfully from high prices." We have now before us the emergency which the great Ganges Canal was intended to provide for. The terrible famine and loss of life which occurred in the North-West, in consequence of the failure of the rains of 1837, led to the formation of this canal. It was intended to irrigate untold numbers of acres and save the country; nothing has been done as yet, and we shall now be very anxious to see what advantage the country is to gain from the outlay of two millions on the canal. Hitherto red tape and the special views of this doctrinaire Government have checked and delayed the introduction of the system of irrigation. Rigid unbending rules have been laid down, and the ignorant, prejudiced Indian peasant has been equally obstinate on his side, and so neither has the water been given nor taken. Now the course of events and the terror of famine will break down all these rules and prejudices, and if the canal can provide water, and the engineers can keep it full, there is no doubt it will be largely resorted to. It is only to be hoped the water can be supplied.—Englishman.

TEHERAN, Sept. 7.—I have already apprised you that the Turcomans had broken their engagement not to enter the district of Merwi in a hostile manner, and also to abstain generally from brigandage in Persian territory. With a swarm of nearly 30,000 horsemen, however, they broke into and overran the district in question, pillaging and making captives on all hands. They even threatened to extend their ravages into Khorassan; but to prevent this, and signally punish them once for all, Prince Hamza Mirza, the Commander-in-Chief in the latter province, marched rapidly on them from Sarax with a division of 10,000 infantry, 4,000 cavalry, and a strong force of artillery, calculating that from their great numbers they would show fight. Nor was he mistaken. On the 27th of August he arrived before Merwi, and, although the Islamites do not, if possible, attempt any important affair in the month of Sefer, the Prince determined at once to attack the Turcomans. The combat commenced at daybreak, and lasted nine hours. Notwithstanding several dashing charges of the infantry, under the command of General Mourtusa Khan, it was the artillery under the Prince (who carried with him the Imperial standard) which decided the day. The Turcomans were thrown into utter confusion, and took to flight in complete disorder, hotly pursued by the Persian cavalry. The plain of Merwi was covered with between 3,000 and 4,000 bodies. The detailed bulletin of the battle has not yet reached us, only the general official account, which we have received to-day. A great number of prisoners were captured, including some of the chiefs; also some thousands of horses, camels, arms, and standards fell into the Persians' hands. The loss of the latter was considerable, a large number of officers being among the killed and wounded. The General of Brigade Sartip Ali Kouli Khan, who at the commencement of the action commanded the artillery, was mortally wounded, and, although alive when the account was despatched, he was not expected to survive many hours. The town and district of Merwi have been completely occupied by Prince Mirza. The bridge over a river which falls into the Mourgab, a most important strategical position, has also been taken, and is now held by the Persians. At Mesched, the capital of Khorassan, which was also threatened by an invasion of the Turcomans, there was a great popular demonstration on the occasion of the news of their defeat. The town was illuminated and fireworks let off as if in honour of some great national event. The Prince Commander has determined strongly to fortify Merwi, and to make it a strong military post. The name of the town has also been changed to Nazire, in honour of the Shah. The Shah has been stopping for some time at his summer palace of Chimarn, but is expected to arrive here in a few days to take up his residence for the winter. His return to the capital has been hastened in consequence of the approach of the feast of Mewlud, which will be observed as usual by his Majesty in the capital.—Times.

ALMORA, Sept. 11.—Formerly this station used to vie with Simla in the number of visitors who used to come up for the hot season; but since the establishment of Nynee Tal as a sanatorium few care to come on thus far, unless bound to the snows shooting, ten marches bringing the sportsman to the glaciers, where white bears, yak, wild ponies, thur or wild sheep, musk deer, the moonal or Tinpien pheasant, are to be obtained, and one sees the mighty Himalayas in all their grandeur. This is five marches from the foot of the Hills, there being bungalows at every stage (ten miles), and the road is very good; at Bheem Tal, the second march, the scenery is very charming. There are some other lakes here well worth visiting; the largest of them, Mulwa Tal, is about two miles long, surrounded by hills on all sides, which abound with game, bears, goorall, kukur, or barking deer, pigs, and pheasants, and chicore, and to the lovers of the rod, fine mahseer fishing. I have caught some weighing upwards of 30 lbs. At Ramghur are the iron mines, which were not at work as I passed. They are worked by water power, which is brought down by a canal. Mr. Sowerby is in charge. At present very little iron is turned out, but new workshops for smelting purposes are being built; the hills around abound with ironstone, of which there seems an inexhaustible supply. Tea cultivation is carried on by several parties in these hills, and Government have two plantations, one at Bheem Tal, and one at Hawulbagh; the former has not been started more than ten years, and comprises about one thousand acres; the garden is an amphitheatre, on the sides of which, from the large tree to the seedling, tea is grown. Last year the out-turn was 3,600 lbs., but this year, there being so much flower, and, in consequence, seed, there will be a bad season. At Hawulbagh the plantation is on a larger scale, being upwards of 2,000 acres, and lower than the Bheem Tal one, the thermometer yesterday being 74, under a lignum vite tree. The tea from these gardens is issued to the commissariat for the use of European troops, and some is sold here every year, last year fetching Rs. 4 per lb. The Commissioner here, Major Ramsay, is very anxious to get European settlers in these parts; but it is not likely, as long as the present system of legislation lasts, any Englishman will become a colonist out here. It is melancholy to think that in a country like this, where there are so many sources of profit open to the capital of the colonist, combining with profit to the speculator the benefit of the native population and general advancement in civilisation, European energy should be effectually shut out. Coffee has not as yet been tried up in these hills, but there are fine plateaus where, I should say, it might be cultivated with success—an acre yielding as much as 14 cwt. The only troops stationed here are the Kumaon Battalion; formerly a regiment of Pandys and a company of artillery were garrisoned here. Supplies are cheaper than in Rohilcund; no grain of any sort is allowed to leave the hills, whilst from the plains it is brought up, much to the detriment of the starving population in the provinces. Nainee Tal, just now, is overcrowded, and will be so until the end of next month. We have had little rain up here, although the clouds are hovering about daily. Weather cold, thermometer this morning 70. —Englishman.

SIMLAH, Sept. 11.—An ordination service took place in our church last Sunday; the bishop ordained two gentlemen, candidates for holy orders. Mr. Tousaint, of the Additional Clergy Society, and Mr. Winter, connected with the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel. This service was most interesting, more particularly as but few of the congregation had ever witnessed the ceremony in India. A collection was made at the close of the service for the benefit of the Delhi Mission, as a fund is being raised to provide suitable buildings for that establishment. Mr. Wood, the extra assistant commissioner here, makes over charge of his office on the 26th, to Mr. Bernard, Mr. Wood taking Mr. Bernard's place at Delhi. Mr. Wood has been three years in Simlah, and has given general satisfaction, notwithstanding a few complaints of leniency to natives, which, it is generally rumoured, may be attributed to the fact of his "hands being tied." My letters from the plains, both from the Punjab and below Delhi, are full of distressing accounts of the scarcity and high prices of provisions. In some places where the winter crops have sprung up, they are now dying for want of rain, and unless some good showers fall very soon, I fear the famine, of which we have hitherto only heard, will be a deplorable fact. —Englishman.

Too Soon.—An association is being formed in the north-west "to enable Europeans, Americans, and other Christians, residing in the north-western provinces, Oude, the Punjab, and Sind, to unite together for the purposes of protecting and promoting British interests, and for the advancement of good government in India by suitable representations to the British Parliament and to the constituted authorities of this country." The movement originates in Agra, and the committees at Mussoorie, Simla, and Lahore are invited to open communications with the Agra committee.

KISHNAGUR.—Letters from Kishnagur inform us that the ryots are again becoming troublesome. Captain Reverley's regiment of police was ordered into the district on the 18th Sept., being relieved by Captain Raban and his battalion. Two gunboats sent up the Matabungah passed Serampore on the 16th, and two companies of Europeans to be stationed at Kishnagur.

CAPTAIN MACGRATH has been appointed agent to the Governor-general in the hill tracts of Chittagong, in order to take steps to punish the Kookees for the barbarities they committed last year on the frontiers of Tipperah.

THE ARMS BILL.—The conscientious and large minded legislators who fought so strenuously against law and common sense, as put before them by the judges in the weary debates on the Arms Bill, may see the first result of their resolution in the following Punjab Gazette Extraordinary, which we find in the Mofussilite:—"Sept. 1.—It is hereby notified, for general information, that Act XXXI. of 1860, hereunto appended, will have effect in the Punjab from the 1st day of October, 1860. In the exercise of the power vested in his honour by Section XXVII., the Lieutenant-governor is pleased to exempt, as heretofore, from the provisions of Sections XXV., XXVI., and XXVII. all Europeans and Anglo-Indian British subjects. Also, as heretofore, the chiefs undermentioned, or their sons, or confidential officers specially deputed by them to the local Government, together with their immediate body-guards." And then follows a list of fourteen rajahs and twenty-seven Jagheedar magistrates. The notification also exempts from the provisions of Section XXXII. the districts of Peshawur, Huzara, Kohat, Dehra Ismael Khan, Dera Ghazee Khan, and Kangra. So it is. The empire is drifting anyhow, in feeble hands, upon dangers only indistinct to the purblind vision of a doctrinaire Government, occupied in fighting shadows and nursing effete theories; and the sole result of their labours is, that their cherished principles have to be thrown over by their servants, before the measures clogged with them can be got to practical working shape. In the Punjab, therefore, from the 1st October, all Europeans and Anglo-Indian British subjects are exempted from the operation of the Arms Bill, so far as the bearing of arms is concerned. —Englishman.

SUMBULPORE.—We are still annoyed with constant rows on the border. The Seebundy levy are kept constantly at work, and are, we hear, to be increased to 800; a most necessary measure, if Government are thinking of moving the Shekawatee battalion this year.

THE ANDAMANS.—A letter from Port Blair reports that the convicts continue to behave well. The rebel and mutineer convicts are located at Ross Island, and the ordinary offenders at Viper Island and Atalanta Point. The health of the convicts is very much improved. A semaphore is to be erected at Port Blair. There is no accommodation for more than sixty Europeans (convicts). A proposal for an electric telegraph has been negatived by the Governor-general.

THE KING OF OUDE'S JEWELS, lately sold by Hamilton and Co., realised five lacs of rupees.

NANA SAHIB'S OBSEQUIES.—Letters from Nepal inform us that Balarao has now performed the shraddh or funeral ceremonies of the infamous Nana of Bithoor, expending Rs. 20,000. It is said the Begum Huzrut Muhul was bitten by a snake, but after suffering a little, recovered.

"COMMERCIAL EXCITEMENT."—We hear that an attack has been made by a band of villagers on one of the factories of the Salgamudia Concern in Pubna, and in the affray which occurred one of the servants of the manager was killed and two wounded. We have no satisfactory particulars as to what led to this outrage, but we understand Mr. Grant does not consider such occurrences as "disturbances" or confusion, but merely some excitement between two classes engaged in commerce.

DAUGHTERS-IN-LAW.—The Indian Field lately gave us this glimpse of native female society:—"We believe that in the second-storied rooms of the zemindar and the big employé, no less than in the houses and the huts of the middling and the lower classes, the daughter-in-law is the eternal butt of practical jokes. Dares she disobey the biddings of her czarinas, she is boxed and buffeted with slaps that tell unmistakably of the luxuries of domestic domination. Doubts she the wisdom of any measure that emanates from those fountain heads of authority, she is convinced by the omnipotent logic of drubbing." The Hindoo Patriot accuses the writer of fouling his own nest, and says that "in all well regulated families daughters-in-law are kept in proper control by matrons, but never receive corporal chastisement."

THE RAJAH OF COOCH BEHAR having imprisoned a British subject, the magistrate of Rungpore claimed him, and obliged the Rajah to deliver him up; but disapproving of this proceeding he requested the Government to prohibit all communication to him, except through the agent. The Governor-general, we are informed, declined to accede to his request. As usual, the management of this small independent territory is as bad as possible, and gives endless trouble and annoyance to the English authorities. The fear of annexation being now mitigated, the native chiefs set all law at defiance.

OFFICIAL PLANETS.—We understand that the Commander-in-Chief was to leave the presidency for Allahabad in the third week of October. Nothing has yet been determined regarding Lord Canning's movements. Early in November he will probably form a permanent camp at Benares or Allahabad, and thence make flying visits to Nagpore, Gwalior, and Indore. We trust he will then settle the question of the exchange of the districts to the north of the Godavery for Dharaseo and the Raichore Doab, with the Nizam of Hyderabad. The North-West Gazette says the Lieutenant-governor of the North-West Provinces is to proceed to Moradabad early in November, and form his camp there; thence he marches to Allygurh, Muttra, and Ajmere, returning through Bundelcund to Agra, and reaching Cawnpore again about the 1st of March.

KISHNAGUR, Sept. 20.—Troops come pouring in daily, the 73rd Punjabees from Berhampoor on Tuesday, and Raban's police corps, 650 strong; the first troop of Adlam's Horse came in last evening. Rattray's Sikhs are expected to-morrow, and two companies of Europeans and three gun-boats with twenty-five men in each; in all, we must have in a few days, something near 4,000 troops in the indigo districts of Kishnagur, Jessore, and Pubna. The troops will be broken up into small detachments, and dotted all over the country, so as to be easily accessible, as there is no saying at what moment or in what place an outbreak may occur. There is a sullen, dogged countenance upon every Mussulman one meets, and the children in the villages have been taught to halloo low Bengalee abuse, sala, sala beta saheb, after the Europeans, as they go through them. Not more than half the villages of this district have paid rent for 1267 as yet, and many who commenced have since stopped. The rent question is a very serious one, as it endangers the very existence of the concerns. —Hurkaru.

IRREGULAR CAVALRY.—The three regiments of Native Irregular Cavalry for Central India, hitherto known as Mayne's Horse, are to be henceforth designated "The Central India Horse." The services of Major Mayne, Lieut. de Kantzow and Lieut. Wood, are dispensed with. Col. Travers is appointed to the command, and Lieuts. C. Martin and W. P. Conolly to succeed the other two officers. These changes are, we believe, the result of one of those frequent "personal cases" between officers and their political superiors with which the Government of India occupies its time, to the exclusion of pressing political questions. The 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and 4th Sikh Irregular Cavalry, and the corps of Punjab Infantry, from the 7th to the 24th inclusive, which were last year transferred to the control of the Commander-in-Chief, are now declared subject to the amended Articles of War for native troops.

JESSORE, Sept. 9.—The ryots of this district are threatening to attack different factories, while in Pubnah they have already commenced operations by attacking Salgumoodiah. This insane attempt was made on the 4th, and failed, with a loss of two men killed and several wounded on the side of the ryots, the factory losing one man killed. The police (military) are now ordered out in small detachments to those places where matters look most serious to check affray, but they will effect little good, as the ryots are confident in their numbers, and as latteals form no inconsiderable portion of the population in these parts, the police will come to grief, unless reinforced considerably.

MURREE LAWRENCE ASYLUM.—The Secretary of the Murree Lawrence Asylum, C. E. Herbert, Esq., asks us (Friend of India) to inform all soldiers in the Punjab and its vicinity that the Asylum will be ready for the reception of children of both sexes next spring. The buildings will then be completed, and a principal and matron, selected by Sir John Lawrence, will have arrived. There is room for 80 boys and 60 girls, who will be kept entirely separate. The charges, training, religious instruction, and general rules, are the same as those of the Sunawur Asylum. Mr. Herbert will willingly reply to all questions by parents who wish their children to be admitted. The Asylum is endowed with the surplus of the Henry Lawrence Testimonial Fund, and will be assisted by Government and private donations.

SUTTEES.—Two suttees occurred at Durreabad in Oude, upon which orders to confiscate the villages in which the suttees took place have been confirmed. Another suttee took place in Sunthaur, in Central India.

SHIPPING.

ARRIVALS.

Sept. 7. Sarah Newman, Gibson, London; John Chison, Putt, Liverpool.—8. City of Canton, Blair, Glasgow.—9. Str. Colombo, Dunn, Suez.—10. Loodianah, Walton, put back.—13. Storfurst, Bromann, Liverpool.—15. Hashemy, Ross, Mauritius.—17. Charlotte, Pearson, Pondicherry.—18. Edmund Graham, Henderson, Madras; Peveril of the Peak, Davy, Liverpool; Muthah, Sweny, I.N., Pondicherry.—19. Wansell, Jones, Sydney; Star of the East, Grayson, Bombay.

PASSENGERS ARRIVED.

Per Lucknow.—Mrs. Gorham.
Per Edmund Graham.—Mr. and Mrs. Farthy, Mr. H. Offery, wife, and three children, Mr. L. Xavier, wife, and three children, Mrs. Migridge.
Per Star of the East.—Mrs. O'Mealy, Miss O'Mealy and three children.
Per Charlotte.—Mr. Pearson.
Per Hashemy.—Mr. Channell.

DEPARTURES.

Sept. 7. Scoresby, Irvin, Mauritius.—8. Astrea, Nickles, Mauritius; Brothers, Adams, Boston; Shah Allam, Talbot, Mauritius; Loodianah, Walton, Demerara, via Cape; Defiance, Galloway, London; Japanese, Baird, Mauritius; Chastillon, Bonnier, Melbourne.—9. Jason, Barclay, London; Sir John Lawrence, Sinclair, Bombay; Isaac Jeanes, Cluppan, Philadelphia.—10. Waverley, Swinson, Mauritius.—11. Maharratta, Hickman, Mauritius; Liverpool, Kinney, Mauritius; Bucton Castle, Mawson, London; John Ritson, Matches, Mauritius; str. Columbian, King, Suez.—12. Forfarshire, Richmond, Bombay; Ulysses, Chivas, Demerara.—13. Bombay Merchant, Woodhouse, Hong Kong; A. B. Coutts, Wilson, London; Majestic, Miller, London; City of Mobile, Jeffery, Mobile.—14. Col. Burrey, Cook, Rangoon; Jacques Seurin, Martin, Bourbon; Earnest and Charles, Petit, Bourbon; Undaunted, Clare, London; Ellen Stuart, Lyons, Liverpool; Eliz. Cushing, Pritchard, jun., New York.—15. Camperdown, Denny, Demerara.—16. Bucephalus, Whitley, Hull, via Cape.—17. Gironde, Martel, Bourbon; Hound, Rogers, —.—18. Allandale, Gray, London; str. Burmah, Gray, Akyab, Rangoon, and Moulemein.

PASSENGERS DEPARTED.

Per str. Candia.—For MADRAS.—Col. Scott. For SUEZ.—Mr. J. Little. For MALTA.—Rev. J. C. Herdman. For MARSHALLS.—Capt. G. Sullivan, Messrs. Sadler, W. T. Berners, Grote, Molony, Alexander, and R. Colvin, Rev. P. Dufal, Capt. Gully, Capt. and Mrs. Nicolls, Capt. Martin. For SOUTHAMPTON.—Capt. Lucas, Surg. Jackson, Messrs. Innes, C. Vincent, D. Lawlor, and Holmes, Miss Cockle, Mrs. Ewart, Mrs. Trench.

COMMERCIAL.

Calcutta, Sept. 21, 1860.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.

	Sell.	Buy.
Public Works, 5 per cent.....	96 6 to 96 8
New Company's Rupee 4 do.	84 12 to 82 4
Ditto, 5 do.	96 12 to 97 0
3rd Sica Rupee 4 do.	20 0
Transfer 4 do.	Nominal.
New 5½ do.	101 12 to 102 0

BANK OF BENGAL.

Discount on Govt. Acceptances (3 months)	3 per ct.
Do. on Private Bills and Notes (do.)	6 per ct.
Interest on Deposit of Co.'s Paper	5 per ct.
Do. on open Cash Credit Accounts	5 per ct.
On deposit of Goods, &c.	6 per ct.

EXCHANGES.

Agency Bills, at 6 months' sight	2 0½
Do. with documents, do.	2 0½ to 2 1
American Bills under credit, do.	Nominal.
Treasury Bills, 30 days' sight	"
Navy Bills, 3 days' sight	"
Bank of England Post Bills, at sight	"

RATES OF ADVANCE.

4 per cent. Stock Receipts	Sa. Rs. 100 Co.'s Rs. 78
4 ditto Government Paper	Sa. Rs. 100 " 78
4 ditto ditto	Co.'s Rs. 100 " 78
4 ditto ditto	" 100 " 91
5½ ditto ditto	" 100 " 98
New Treasury Bills	" 100 " 98

JOINT STOCK SHARES.

	Paid up.	Present value.
	at Co.'s Rupees.
Bank of Bengal	4000 each	5960 to 5975
Agra Bank (Limited)	500 "	730 to 750
Delhi Bank	500 "	500
India General Steam	1000 "	1525 ex div.
Ganges Company	500 "	620 to 625
Bengal Coal Company (Limited)	1000 "	1750 to 1800
Calcutta Steam Tug Association (Limited)	600 "	500 to 510
East-India Coal Company (Limited)	70 "	70 to 75
Bonded Warehouse Association	445 "	575 to 585
Calcutta Docking Company	700 "	875 to 900
Oriental Gas Company (Limited)	10 "	9 to 10
Assam Company	200 "	430 to 450
East-India Railway Company	£20 "	Rs. 3 dis.
East-India Copper Co. (Limited)	1000 "	no sales.
Calcutta Auction Co. (Limited)	75 "	70 to 75

PRICES OF BULLION.

Sovereigns.....	each, Rs. 10	5 to 10	6
Doubloons.....	"	32	8 to 32
Madras Gold Mohurs.....	"	15	2 to 15
Old Gold Mohurs.....	"	21	14 to 22
New Gold Mohurs.....	"	15	2 to 15
China Gold Bars.....	per sicca wt., Rs. 16	0	to 16
Gold Dust (Australia).....	"	15	0 to 16
Sycee Silver, none, Co.'s Rs. 100	"	106	0 to 106
Spanish Dollars.....	per 100 Rs.	222	0 to 222
Mexican do.....	"	224	8 to 225

FREIGHTS.

To London, £2. to £3. 10s.
To Liverpool, £2 to £3.

EXPORTS (Calcutta, Sept. 22).—The stocks and arrivals of produce from the districts are still unusually very moderate, and holders do not seem disposed to make much concession in prices; shippers are consequently operating with reserve and caution. In Raw Silk the market is supplied with the rainy band, principally of inferior quality, and but small business has been done for Europe. Corals of good qualities continue scarce, and have advanced in price. Sugar.—Benares kind is being principally engaged in for Bombay. A little is doing for Great Britain. Saltpetre is without change, and in limited shipment. Rice.—Table sorts have been engaged to a fair extent for Europe. Linseed continues to be shipped largely for Great Britain. Rapeseed has been in increased demand for Great Britain. Jute has engaged good demand for Great Britain. Hides continue to engage good inquiry, and extensive shipments have lately taken place.

IMPORTS (Calcutta, Sept. 22).—Accounts from the Upper Provinces received this week are rather favourable; sufficient rains have fallen in all quarters, and the price of grain was steadily falling; some disposition was also shown at different marts for operation. Our market remains much in the same state as last reported; excepting a little demand for heavy Shirtings of known marks there has been little desire to purchase. Importers have shown great desire to sell, but dealers are still holding off, expecting considerable fall in prices consequent on the heavy stocks in first hands. Sales have been forced at a reduction of 2 annas to 3 annas since the last mail on light and medium Grey Shirtings, and 1 anna on Grey Madapolans and Jaconets. Glasgow Goods have engaged a little inquiry, owing to the approaching native holidays. Mule Twist has been sold to a very moderate extent at about last quotations. Metals continue as depressed as before.

THE NEW GOVERNOR OF MADRAS.—(India-office, Oct. 30.)—The Queen has been pleased to appoint Sir William Thomas Denison, K.C.B., Colonel in the Corps of Royal Engineers, to be Governor of the Presidency of Madras.

MADRAS.

ANNEXATION OF PEGU TO BRITISH INDIA.

When the foundations of the town of Rangoon were laid, the principal object of the Governor-general of that day was, to give to public arrangements, a solid and enduring financial basis. To this end Colonel A. P. Phayre, then Commissioner of Arracan, was summoned to Calcutta, to meet Lord Dalhousie in person, and in accordance with his instructions, proceed to inaugurate a new local government for the province of Pegu, about to be annexed to British India. The proclamation of annexation was issued in Rangoon on the 20th of December, 1852. Colonel Phayre assumed civil charge, as Commissioner, and so far as it was his duty as an officer conducting the local administration, he has proved himself a most faithful and devoted servant of the Government. In every possible way the interests of the Government have been uppermost in his mind, and also in his plans and public policy. The interests of the people, it has been said, on the principle, that both cannot be equally liked, have held only a secondary place because of his enthusiasm as a zealous officer of the State. In his judicial and executive capacity, Colonel Phayre has given general satisfaction. To all classes of the population he is always courteous, accessible, and polite, and were it not for his suavity and equanimity of temper, he could scarcely have carried a few most unpopular public measures. In the revenue department he particularly excels, not as the friend of the people, but as the head of the administration in Pegu. In nearly every instance Colonel Phayre has given his decided influence against any remission of revenue. Not only is this a marked feature of his government, which the people all very well know, but he has been most keenly active in seeking out new objects and items of taxation. If a dozen more forms of taxation were proposed by the Government of India to be inflicted on the population of our province, and notwithstanding our present heavy burdens, our distinguished Commissioner would be found the last authority in Pegu to offer a frank opinion against them. Feeling, therefore, most strongly, the gravity of the present crisis in the financial affairs of our province, we are bound, not from any desire to undervalue the merits of Colonel Phayre, but to make known as the public organ of the people of Pegu, to his Excellency the Governor-general in Council, the exact state of things in this portion of her Majesty's eastern dominions.

In laying their plans in Rangoon, by authority of the Supreme Government, the land was cleared by the local authorities of its inhabitants, from one end of the settlement to the other. Town, suburban, and ship-building lots were classified and marked off, and the residence of any person in our town involved the purchase of a lot at a very high upset price, and which entailed on the purchaser in perpetuity, his heirs and successors for ever, the payment to the Government of a definite sum as a monthly municipal tax, and a land assessment payable yearly in lieu of a capitation tax, taking it for granted that such tax was, a just one on the people of this province. The sums realised by the Government on the sales of these lots have been enormous, and yet the monthly and yearly taxes have followed in quick succession as each year has rolled away. Under the operation of these tax rules, the poorest householder, besides the money already invested in the purchase of lots, has to pay Government Rs. 7, or 14s. a-year for the privilege of living in Rangoon. The majority of the householders, however, pay Rs. 9. 8 annas, and Rs. 12 (less 4 pice) or 19s. and 24s. respectively, and Rs. 67. 11 annas, being the amount of taxes charged every year on the first class lots. If any one will add the interest on the original cost of these lots to the amount of taxes levied, he will ascertain exactly the payment made to the Government by each householder in our town. This is merely on ^o form of the taxation which our householders contribute towards the support of Government. The land being taxed in the country, the impost falls as a consequence on the produce. Thus grain is taxed, garden produce, vegetables, all are taxed. Our fisheries are taxed, our salt is taxed, even the timber of our dwellings, the dunnee thatch on our houses are taxed. Every article imported, either as provisions or clothing, is taxed. From all our various sources of revenue, the demand made by Government last year, and actually paid into the public Treasury, was over fifty lacs of Rupees. According to the last published returns, our population numbered eight hundred and ninety thousand and seventy-four persons of all ages.

Of what classes are our population composed? We do not hesitate to state that there is not a rich Burman in Pegu. We have no people here that will compare in thrift, in the dogged power of acquiring and keeping, to the money-lenders, shroffs and mahajuns of Bengal, or other parts of India. All the wealth and savings of our population consist of a few bits of gold, or articles of jewellery, of which they are passionately fond, but which not many of them possess. Their little hoards of gold, amounting to no great sum, are generally kept buried in the ground, to keep them out of the hands of dacoits in the country, and of thieves in the town. Centuries of misrule have kept the people poor. Under the former Burmese Government of Pegu, the possession of a little money rendered the owner of it a marked man. A month or two would see him stripped of every penny of it, and very probably in jail into the bargain. The people, therefore, rather dreaded the consequences of owning property or money, from the misfortunes to which it exposed them. A man who happened to be temporarily in favour with the local authorities, and could thus turn a penny, generally invested it in building a pagoda, or a monastery for the priests, from which he hoped to derive good in a future world. Our local European authorities who correspond with the Government of India, and with all its various departments on public questions and topics, cannot know these things. They do not mix, they cannot mix with the native population. No European officer will sit down and listen to the hardships, and trials and persecutions, through which our Burmese fellow-subjects have passed, at the hands of their own governors. But we record what we do know, and our words are the utterances of truth and soberness. We challenge on these subjects the most rigid inquiry in every corner of our province.

Under the administration of the Burmese Government in Pegu, the taxes were proverbially light and endurable. For example, the agricultural population, without reference to the extent of land they cultivated, or the quantity of produce obtained from their fields, paid for each yoke of oxen, or buffaloes, one tical of nearly pure silver, which went to the provincial officers in charge. To the Myothoogyee of his district, he gave on the same pair of working cattle 6½ baskets of paddy for every yoke of oxen, or buffaloes. The cultivator paid neither on his land, nor on his produce, but simply on the number of yoke of cattle he worked, and this constituted the whole demand; that is the authorised demand of the Government against him. It gave the cultivator every advantage. When his cattle died he paid nothing, because he could do no work. How full of common sense is such a regulation, for while it encouraged personal industry, it made a just discrimination, when a man could no longer work. Hence paddy sold at the rate of from six to ten rupees the hundred baskets. First quality of table rice at ten and twelve annas a basket.

The fisheries were never farmed by the Burmese authorities. On every person engaged in fishing a tax of 5 ticals of silver was levied once a year. The fishermen might catch as much, or as little as they pleased to supply their respective markets. Hence, formerly, a viss of fresh fish could be bought in the market for a couple of annas. Now the price is from eight to twelve annas.

Timber merchants paid six per cent. on all timber brought down for them from the forests. They paid their own workmen, and got the timber wherever they could find it most convenient to themselves. Merchants and bazaar dealers, and traders, paid two and a-half per cent. on their trading operations.

At the Burmese Custom-house, certain import and export duties were levied. The Royal authorities authorised a demand of ten per cent. duty for the King, and two per cent. to the local Custom-house officers. On all articles of silk, woollen, or cloth manufacture, the duty was levied at the highest rate. On spice, wax, honey, copper, cutch, sticlac and ivory, the duty was six per cent. On bazaar articles of produce, such as chillies, onions, garlic, oil gnappee, and salt, it was two and a-half per cent.

Such were nearly all the taxes demanded of the people of Pegu by their own, their native sovereigns and governors.

Mr. Crawford, in his official report in 1826, to the Government of India, estimated the revenues of Pegu at thirty-six lacs of rupees. More recently the Marquis of Dalhousie, in his lucid and interesting Minute, dated the 30th June, 1852, addressed to the Select Committee of the late Court of Directors, observes that the Commissioner of the Tenasserim Provinces, Colonel Bogle, in a very cautious estimate sent to the Governor-general, stated the total amount of the revenue in this province, at from twenty to twenty-five lacs of rupees a year.—Rangoon Times.

MISCELLANEOUS.

TREVANDRUM, Sept. 8.—Maharajah Martanda Vurmah is dead, and his Highness Shree Palmanaba Dausa Vaujee Bala Rama Vurmah Koola Shakara Keereeda Pathee Baghiodia Ramrajah Bahader Munnay Sultan Maharaj Rajah Shamsheer Junj reigns in his stead. His Highness, who was born on the 14th of March, 1832, and has consequently entered upon the 29th year of his age, was lately the First Prince, and has superseded his elder brother, Carela Vurmah, hitherto known as the Elliah Rajah, in consequence of the mental imbecility with which he is afflicted. This infirmity became visible at a very tender age of his Highness, and although it did not debar his elevation to the nominal title of Heir-Apparent, it appears to have led to a provision to the effect that should he not recover from his then state of mind, when the musnud next became vacant, the succession would devolve upon his younger brother. And for that reason, also, he used to be represented on State occasions by the new Maharajah, during the late regime. The provision in question is said to have been dictated by the British Government, and, I conclude, during the office of the Marquis of Tweeddale. His Highness Ramah Vurmah has accordingly been recognised as the Maharajah. This recognition was telegraphed to the British Resident, as his Highness was anxious to secure it previous to the performance of the ceremony called Padictiom, or religious installation, which, by the usage of the country, the successor should undergo immediately after the term of mourning assigned for the deceased sovereign. It was performed on Sunday, the 2nd inst., within the great pagoda of Palmanabaswamy, the tutelary deity of the country, from whom, according to its mythology, it is pretended the sovereign power was originally derived. The superseded prince will not, of course, retain the title of Elliah Rajah, as it would be incompatible with his position of seniority in respect to age, to recognise him as even the titular heir apparent to his younger brother. He will in courtesy be perhaps designated "His Highness the Rajah Carela Vurmah." The question then naturally arises as to the election of the Elliah Rajah. Junior to the young Maharajah are two brothers, the second and third princes, the former named Reve Vurmah, and the latter Rama Vurmah. But the first of these is labouring under a misfortune similar to that which incapacitates his eldest brother from assuming the rule, although the mental infirmity in this case has not developed itself to that degree which is perceptible in H. H.

Carela Vurmah. On the other hand, the third prince is known to be the possessor of a highly cultivated mind, naturally gifted with abilities of a very superior standard, and a firmness of temper, (which he appears to inherit from his elder uncle, the august predecessor of the ruler just deceased), added to an innate urbanity of manners, a characteristic quality in Travancore princes, has long pointed him out as a most promising young man. Nothing, however, has yet transpired to enable me to say on whom the choice has fallen; and it remains to be seen whether it will be considered expedient to nominate H.H. Reva Vurmah to the position of Heir-Apparent, under the conditions laid down in the case of the eldest brother in respect of succession and representation at court, or to at once remove him from the effective political stage, and anticipate the necessity of a future supercession, by immediately elevating the third prince to that rank. Leaving, therefore, this question for the present, I will return to the young Maharajah. H.H.'s formal installation is fixed for the 4th Alpasy, or 18th October.—Athenæum.

THE ARMS BILL.—We understand that instructions have been issued by Government to all magistrates, the commissioner of police, and the inspector general of Mofussil police relative to the Arms Act, No. XXXI of 1860, which comes into operation on the 1st of next month. By certain sections of the Act no person is to be allowed to manufacture, or retain in his possession any cannon, howitzer, or mortar, without the permission of Government; for which permission a fee of fifty rupees is payable. Magistrates have been directed to cause these provisions of the Act, and the penalties for breach thereof, to be generally known throughout their districts. Rajahs, zemindars, large landholders, and others who have been in the habit of keeping cannon, are to be called upon to deliver them up, or to apply for permission to retain them, stating at the same time the number and calibre of the pieces and the purposes for which they are required. These applications are to be forwarded to Government with the magistrate's opinion on them. Cannon, &c., surrendered in the first instance, or for retaining possession of which permission is not granted, are to be broken or burst, and the pieces or their value, as the owners may elect, will be given to them. By certain other sections of the Act all persons, except officers, soldiers, sailors, volunteers, police and revenue officers, and persons specially exempted, who may convey arms, &c., under suspicious circumstances, may be apprehended without a warrant, and any person carrying fire-arms, swords, &c., without a license, is liable to be disarmed by any magistrate, joint deputy, or assistant magistrate, or police officer, if in the opinion of these officials it is dangerous to the public peace to allow such person to go armed, or to carry arms. Licenses to carry arms are to be granted by magistrates in the interior and by the commissioner of police in Madras. These licenses will protect those to whom they are granted from all interference as respects the arms entered in them, but Government desire it to be understood "that persons carrying arms without a license should not be molested, if the arms are in number and character only such as may fairly be presumed to be carried merely for self-defence, and there be nothing suspicious in the circumstances under which they are carried. Dealers in fire arms, &c., are required to take out an annual license on stamped paper of the value of ten rupees; to keep a book showing the stock in trade and the particulars of sales; and such book is to be open to the inspection of all magistrates, joint and head assistant magistrates, superintendents of Mofussil police within their respective districts, inspector-general of police for all districts, and the commissioner of police and his deputies for the town of Madras. The premises of the dealers are likewise liable to an inspection by any of these officers; and any neglect or infraction of the license will subject a dealer to its revocation or suspension. Before arms, ammunition, sulphur, saltbombarding the fortifications of Tang-koo, which were defended for some time with considerable spirit, their fire, however, not doing much damage to the troops actually engaged, but dropping more amongst those in the rear, especially the medical staff and the camp followers and coolies connected with it, one shot, we believe, passing right between Drs. Woodroffe and Birnie, of the royals, who were standing within a couple of feet of each other.

Towards 11 A.M. the Chinese fire was pretty well silenced, and storming parties of the 60th rifles and the royals escalated the wall, and drove what of the garrison remained out of the place. About this time one of the batteries on the south side of the river, which it was supposed had been silenced in the morning, opened fire on the field hospital, a little way in the arrear of Tang-koo, and sent several shots within a few feet of the tent where an artilleryman was at the time having his leg amputated by Dr. Rennie, of the Royal artillery. Dr. Telfer, the superintending surgeon of the division, at once had the hospital tents taken down, and the coolies and mules connected with the medical department moved on, by which prompt and judicious measure the fire of the battery ceased. A short time prior to the incident we have just noted, a party of sailors, under Captain Willis, R.N., crossed the Peiho, in a cockleshell of a boat, and spiked the guns in the masked battery, blowing the junks up.

After the capture of Tang-koo, the 2nd division remained in it, with two batteries of artillery, and the first division returned to their camp at Sin-ho.

On the 17th, a small body of French troops crossed the Peiho, and made a settlement in a village on the south bank, a little way above Sin-ho. On the 18th they made an excursion into the country, but were checked by a superior force of Tartars. Reinforcements, with artillery, were sent over, and the Tartar Cavalry were soon driven from the position they had taken up, and which was defended by some pieces of small cannon.

The same afternoon an affair occurred between some Armstrong guns of Colonel Barry's battery and the battery on the south side of the Peiho, that gave the trouble on the day of the attack on Tang-koo. This battery was firing on some boats that were being brought up the river, to form a bridge across the Peiho, for the passage of the 1st English division and the main body of the French to the south side, prior to their making the projected attack on the rear of the South Taku forts. The Armstrong guns sent some well directed shots over the parapet of the battery at some 2,000 yards, while the Chinese returned the compliment by sending their shot in very good line right over the heads of the artillerymen, and much nearer than their usual practice has been; as they evidently had succeeded in pretty nearly getting the correct range. After about a dozen shots from the Armstrong guns, the Chinamen ceased to fire, and the guns returned to camp.

On the 20th, orders were issued for the attack on the North Forts by a force composed of 1,500 English and the same number of French troops—with a very heavy train of siege artillery, including several 8 inch mortars, and two Armstrong batteries of six guns each. The regiments selected belonged to the second division, and were the 44th, the 67th, and Royal Marines, commanded by Major-general Sir Robert Napier.

The troops moved from Tang-koo on the 20th, and across a flat and muddy plain, cut up by canals and ditches, and took up their position about a mile in the rear of the north fort furthest from the sea. The night was spent in throwing up batteries and trenches to act as a cover for the infantry, also in constructing bridges and improving the approaches to the fort. The same evening, the gun-boats English and French took up positions within about 1,400 yards of the mouth of the river, and all was ready for the attack at daylight the following morning.

About 5 A.M. the guns of the fort commenced firing on the troops, and in a short time the artillery, French and English, took up position, and opened a tremendous bombardment on the fort, while the gunboats came as near as they dared venture, and pitched shell and rockets into the north fort, that we were not attacking, but which was firing briskly away on the French and English lines, as was one also on the south side, the shot and shell from which came a long way to the rear. At seven o'clock our artillery succeeded in exploding the grand magazine of the fort, which went off with a fearful report. The garrison, however, continued undaunted, and the defence was carried gallantly on, until 8 A.M., when the storming parties, consisting of the 44th and 67th, followed by the marines with the pontoons, having gradually closed round the rear, now opened a very heavy fire on the parapet and embrasures, and in conjunction with the French effected, after many difficulties, a footing on the walls, and ultimately drove the gallant defenders out of the fort at the point of the bayonet, but not until the ground had been disputed inch by inch by them. The Chinese coolies behaved admirably; nothing could be more courageous than their general bearing; they carried the French scaling ladders right up to the assault, and when, from the absence of pontoons, there was a difficulty in getting across the formidable canals and ditches which surrounded the fort, the coolies jumped into the water up to their necks, and supported the ladders on their shoulders, so as to form bridges of them, and enable the storming parties to get across. It was by this ingenious contrivance that the first of the French and 67th were enabled to get into the fort on the right. The 44th highly distinguished themselves on the left, and suffered a larger amount of fatal casualties than any of the other troops, having had fourteen killed and forty-seven men wounded, and which loss chiefly fell on one wing that was covering the advance of the Marines with the pontoons.

Our total loss in killed and wounded was twenty-two officers and 180 men—while the French lost about 130. A considerable number of the coolie corps in addition have been killed and wounded.

At three P.M. on the 21st, the remaining northern forts surrendered, a truce of four hours having been granted them to consider the matter, and in the evening the Governor-general of Pecheli, at a conference at Taku, with the Allies, unconditionally surrendered the southern forts and the province of Pecheli, on a cessation of hostilities being guaranteed.

During the assault on the forts, Captain Gregory and Lieutenant Rogers, of the 44th, with Ensign Chaplin, of the 67th, are stated to have highly distinguished themselves.

Brigadier Reeves was wounded in four places, Sir Robert Napier had the glass knocked out of his hand by a bullet, and his boot cut open by another—his aide-de-camp, Capt. Brooke, was shot through the thigh, previous to which a bullet passed through his hat. Several officers of the 67th and Marines have been wounded.

From Shanghai we learn that the rebels have withdrawn for the present before that city. Reinforcements of about 1,300 men had arrived, and a feeling of security prevailed in the settlement. Many of the native merchants and brokers were returning. Trade, however, was much paralysed. It is much to be regretted we have been brought into collision with the rebels; and we have no doubt it would have been averted had Mr. Bruce deigned to correspond with them.

From Fuhchau and Amoy we have no news of importance to narrate.

From Swatow we have intelligence of a burglarious attack being made on the house of the Messrs. Jardine, Matheson, and Co.'s agent, Mr. Morrison, on the 26th August, by about sixty Goswa men. The attack was well planned, and sentries posted at every available place to prevent the foreign Residents from coming to his assistance. They were successful in their attack, and their taste for plunder has, no doubt, been whetted by the rich booty they got on this occasion. The Goswas are a lawless tribe of people, and set the Mandarins at defiance, so that foreigners have to trust to themselves for protection. With a large number of gunboats here it is almost criminal in H.M.'s naval authorities not placing one for the protection of the Residents at Swatow. When a consul is killed, we suppose it will be done.

At Canton everything remains quiet. The Imperialists have obtained a victory over the rebels or local banditti near Loching, where they have been obstructing the passage of teas, and teas may now be expected down freely. Late Pekin Gazettes contain a decree, appointing a new imperial commissioner and superintendent of trade at the five ports. Late reports concerning the Governor general and Governor having an animus towards one another are totally without foundation, those two officers being on the best of terms, the latter having accepted the office of Governor, at the urgent request of the former.

In this colony a trial of a very important nature came on before the Supreme Court on the 3rd instant, and two following days. The case was one for loss of market. A special jury was summoned, and after the examination of several witnesses, gave a special verdict, viz., that the defendants had a lien on the cargo; but that they should have been satisfied with reasonable security; and that the security offered by the plaintiffs was satisfactory. The judge consequently decided in favour of the plaintiffs.

The new inquiry into the civil service abuses drags slowly along.—Overland China Mail.

THE STRAITS.

JAVA, Sept. 11.—The Governor-general had returned from his tour in the western provinces of Java.

At Samarang the court-martial on the Swiss mutineers condemned nine to be hung, which sentence was immediately carried into effect. Four others were sentenced to ten years' imprisonment with hard labour.

The reports which prevailed here on the arrival of the mail steamer, to the effect that the citadel at Sourabaya was in the hands of 400 mutinous Swiss soldiers, proves to be incorrect. Great apprehensions prevailed, however, of an outbreak on the part of the Swiss, and numerous precautions had been adopted. Cartridges had been issued to the schuttery, and arrangements made for landing a large force of seamen and marines if required. The native authorities had been applied to and their assistance requested in case of need, a measure the propriety of which is much questioned. On the 30th August a large party of seamen and marines was landed from the vessels of war in the fort, which marched through the town accompanied by a military band. The Swiss soldiers at Sourabaya have requested to be informed what cause they have given for such precautions being adopted against them, denying that they are all disaffected. It is thought that the enlistment of foreigners, especially Swiss, for the Indian army should be given up, and that the services of Africans should be again had recourse to.

The state of affairs in Banjermassing is not considered favourable. No sooner are the rebels attacked and dispersed in one quarter than they gather together again in another. This, it is thought, will make the pacification of the country a very tedious affair, unless the leaders can be captured. Antasari, one of the principal rebel chiefs, has collected an army of upwards of 3,000 men in the Amunthy district, and is said to exercise great influence with the population. Two attacks were lately made upon the Dutch post at Martapura. They were both unsuccessful, but it is said they were made with a determination which until now has never been experienced in a native enemy. During these attacks the town was partly burnt down.—Singapore Free Press,

Official Gazette.

BENGAL.

BY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL.

Home Dept., Fort William, Sept. 14.—Rev. F. O. Mayne has been per. to ret. to duty by the str. of Sept. 4, the necessary ext. of leave having been granted to him for that purpose.

Foreign Dept., Sept. 13.—The servs. of Capt. R. Jenkins, 5th Eur. L.O., 2nd asst. to the agent to the Gov. gen. for Central India, offic. as Bheel agent and political asst. at Bhopawur, and com. of Malwa Bheel corps are replaced at disp. of the mil. dept. The Gov. gen. in Council is pleased to make the foll. apps.:

Lieut. T. Cadell, 2nd Eur. Bengal Fus., to be dep. Bheel agent and political asst., and 2nd in com. of Malwa Bheel corps, v. Lieut. G. S. Dysart.

Maj. W. D. Aitken, Bombay art., to be offic. 1st asst. to the agent to the Gov. gen. for Central India, as temp. arrangement, dur. abs. of Lieut. Bannerman on special duty.

Sept. 14.—Lieut. H. Fisher, asst. commr. of Hurdul, res. ch. of his du. on 21st ult.

Lieut. F. D. Ogilvie, 46th N.I., to be adjt. of Mhairwarra local batt.

The servs. of the underment. officers, do. du. with Meade's horse, are replaced at the disposal of the mil. dept.:

Lieut. H. M. Burlton, from this date; and Lieut. C. Case, from the date on which he may be relieved.

Mr. T. H. Kavanagh, asst. commr. in Oude, rep. his return to pres. by the str. Colombo on 10th inst.

Public Works Dept., General, Sept. 14.—Appointments.—The undermentioned passed students of the Thomason College are app. probationary asst. engr. in public works dept., and posted as follows:—

Mr. G. F. Maitland to the N.W.P.

Mr. W. C. Hennessey to irrigation dept., N.W.P.

Transfers.—The following exchange of appointments in the public works dept. of N.W.P. is sanctioned:—

Lieut. H. Z. Darrah, exec. engr. of 4th class, from 4th div., Grand Trunk Road, to Futteghurh div.

Lieut. A. H. B. Bruce, exec. engr. of 4th class, fr. Futteghurh div. to 4th div. Grand Trunk Road.

Asst. Overseer A. West, att. to presy. div., is struck off the strength of the pub. works dept. in Bengal fr. Sept. 27, 1859.

Mily. Dept., Sept. 14.—No. 919.—The underment. officer is perm. to proc. to Eur., on leave, on m.c.:—

19th N.I.—Lieut. E. T. Sadler, offic. dep. asst. qmtr. gen. of army, for 15 mo., under new regs.

No. 920.—Ena. St. G. Kirke is to rank fr. June 9, and will stand immediately below Ena. J. H. Maling, on List of Cadets, No. 3, of 1860.

No. 921.—The foll. proms. are made:—

5th Eur. Regt.—Ena. T. T. Oliphant, to be lieut., fr. Sept. 3, v. Lieut. C. Handyside, dec.

67th N.I.—Lieut. B. H. Smith, to be capt., fr. June 15, v. Capt. R. R. Harris, dec.

No. 922.—The underment. officers have rep. their ret. fr. England:—

Lieut. H. DeBrett, 57th N.I., and H. P. P. Nash, 25th N.I.; date of arr. at Fort William, Sept. 9.

Capt. D. H. Osborn, 5th N.I., and Lieut. H. M. Bromley, 52nd N.I., adjt., div. mily. police batt., Jubulpore; date of arr. at Fort William, Sept. 10.

No. 923.—H.M. has been pleased to app. the underment. gentlemen to be cadets for the engr., cav., and inf., in H.M.'s Indian mil. forces at the pres. of Bengal. They are accordingly admitted into the service, the cadets of engr. are prom. to rank of lieut. from the date assigned to them in G.G.O. No. 720 of 1860, and those of cav. and inf. to the rank of cor. and ens. respectively, leaving the dates of their commissions for future adjustment:—

Engineers.—Messrs. C. W. I. Harrison, F. J. Home, B. Lovett, G. T. Skipwith, and H. McV. Chrichton; date of arr. at Fort William Sept. 9.

Cavalry.—Mr. T. Shepherd; date of arr. at Fort William Sept. 10.

Infantry.—Messrs. F. E. Johnstone, W. Atkins, J. R. Campbell, and H. M. Ramsay; date of arr. at Fort William Sept. 10.

No. 925.—Mr. C. W. Babington, whose app. as a cadet of inf. on this estab. was announced in G.G.O. No. 929 of June 28, 1859, having satisfied Govt. on the points of qualification prescribed by existing regulations, is admitted into the service as cadet of inf. from June 13, 1860, and prom. to the rank of ens. from May 4, 1860, and will stand immediately below Ena. H. P. Kite. [Vide list of cadets No. 2 of 1860, and G.G.O. No. 889.]

SERVICES OF SERGEANT G. NOLAN.

No. 930.—Sergeant George Nolan, of the artillery, late deputy superint. of the Sasseram Sebundy levy, and at present assistant engineer of the second class, department public works, having much distinguished himself during the past disturbances (more especially in the district about Shergotty and Sasseram), having been recommended by his commanding officer, and being considered by H.E. the C. in C. to be eminently deserving of reward, the Rt. Hon. the Gov. gen. in Council concurring in that opinion is pleased to confer upon him the rank of ensign unattached, subject to the approval of the Rt. Hon. the Secy. of State for India.

TRANSFER OF THE STATION OF ALLAHABAD.

No. 932.—With reference to G.O. by the Gov. gen., No. 246 of July 2, 1858, H.E. the Gov. gen. in Council is pleased to direct the transfer of the station of Allahabad from the commissariat superintendence of the 2nd or central circle of control to that of the 1st or lower circle.

Foreign Dept., Fort William, Sept. 18.—The prep. leave granted to Mr. J. C. Wilson, c.s., in G.O. No. 5365, dated Aug. 31, 1859, is to have effect fr. Jan. 1, 1859, instead of Dec. 24, 1858.

Dr. T. M. Lownds, in med. ch. of Rajpootana agency, has priv. leave for 1 mo., fr. 1st inst.

The servs. of the following officers are replaced of the disposal of military dept. fr. the date on which they may be relieved of their duties:—

Lieuts. Rawlins, Scott, and Worsely, district superintendents of police in Oude.

Lieut. Maynard, asst. superint. of police in Oude.

Lieut. E. M. Woodcock to be a district superint. of police in Oude.

Public Works Dept., Sept. 15.—Lieut. S. T. Trevor, offic. asst. to chief engr., Pegu, Tenasserim, and Martaban provs., is conf. in that app.

Sept. 17.—The ch. of the Nizamut buildings at Moorhadedabad is constituted a separate exec. div. of the northern circle of the Public Works Dept. of Bengal, Mr. G. W. Vivian, exec. engr., 4th class, retg. the charge.

PUBLIC WORKS DIVISIONS.

H.E. the Gov. gen. in Council is pleased to sanc. rearrang. of the Public Works Dept. of Nagpoor in four divs. as follows:—

1. Nagpoor div. embracing the stations of Kamptee and Seetabuldee Kamptee.

2. Deccan road div.—This road with the station of Nachinagun Seetabuldee.

3. Eastern road div.—The Sumbulpoor road, with the stations of Bhundora and Reapoor Bhundora.

4. Southern road div.—The northern and southern road, with the stations of Chunda and Chindwara Seetabuldee.

Sept. 18.—Appointments.—Capt. T. W. Marten, of H.M.'s 7th fus., whose servs. were placed at disp. of the Govt. of the Punjab in G.O., H.M.'s forces, dated 5th Dec., 1859, is app. a prob. asst. engr., with effect from that date, and posted to Lahore and Peshawur road.

No. 941.—The underment. officer has rep. his ret. fr. England:—

72nd N.I.—Lieut. J. May; date of arr. at Fort William, Sept. 10.

Lieut. col. and Brev. col. J. Macdonald, 78rd N.I., to be a brigdr. on estab.

Transfers.—Mr. T. Login, 2nd cl. exec. engr., Roorkee and Rajpoot road, is transf. to irrigation dept., N.W.P., to offic. as superint. of N. div., Ganges canal, v. Lieut. C. S. Thomason, about to proc., on m.c.

Capt. E. D. R. Ross, asst. engr., 1st class, will take ch. of Roorkee and Rajpoot road, v. Mr. T. Login.

The above transfers are to take effect on Lieut. Thomason's proc. on leave.

Mily. Dept., Sept. 18.—No. 933.—The servs. of Lieut. B. J. Parsons, 23rd N.I., are placed at disposal of public works dept.

No. 935.—The servs. of Capt. J. Tickell, 78rd N.I., are placed at disposal of the govt. of Punjab.

No. 936.—H.E. the Gov. gen. in Council is pleased to make the foll. appt.:—

Hydrabad Contingent—1st Cav.—Lieut. W. J. Bell, 2nd Madras N.I., a.d.c. to maj. gen. comdg. the Pegu div., to offic. as adjt. dur. period Lieut. Tweedie may offic. in civil employ.

No. 937.—The underment. officers are, at their own request, transf. to corps specified, and prom. to rank of lieut., to fill existing vacancies:—

Ena. W. J. Cochrane, fr. 45th to 68th N.I.

Ena. F. H. Alexander, fr. 34th to 43rd N.I.

Ena. D. Darroch, fr. 27th to 16th N.I.

Ena. I. M. Urquhart, fr. 18th N.I. to 6th Eur. regt.

No. 938.—The foll. prom. is made:—

4th N.I.—Ena. W. J. Parker to be lieut., fr. Aug. 26, v. Lieut. J. F. Orchard, dec.

No. 939.—Rank is assigned to the underment. lieuts. cornets, and ensigns, from the dates specified:—

Engineers.—Lieuts. W. H. Pierson, G. Strahan, and B. J. Goldie, not arr. Dec. 10, 1858.

Artillery.—Lieuts. F. A. Wilson, A. Conolly, H. S. Higginson, E. H. Steel, V. Rivaz, E. J. DeLatour, C. E. Salkeld, J. E. Alexander, R. B. Hewson, W. A. Blane, A. T. Wintle, A. D. Anderson, and F. P. W. Freeman not arr., June 8.

Cavalry.—Cor. W. A. S. DeV. Beauclerc, not arr., June 12.

E. A. Money, not arr., July 16.

Infantry.—Ensigns S. M. Binny, not arr., J. G. T. Carruthers, not arr., A. Landon, not arr., B. G. Vyvyan, not arr., H. Beal, not arr., J. R. Campbell, and A. W. Bird, not arr., June 8.

Ensigns C. J. Marshall, J. H. Maling, and L. F. Cottam, June 9.

Ena. H. J. Peet, not arr., June 26.

Ena. T. R. Cowie, July 4.

Ena. S. E. Becher, not arr., July 7.

Ena. G. P. Lucas, not arr., July 16.

BY THE LIEUT. GOVERNOR.

Sept. 6.—Appointments.—The following gentleman to be assessor in the dist. of Bancoorah:—Mr. J. R. Angus.

Sept. 8.—Leave of Absence.—Mr. H. H. M. Warrend, asst. superint. of survey, 4th or western div., for 1 mo., on m.c.

Sept. 11.—Mr. N. C. Macnamara, civ. asst. surg., of Tirhoot, for 1 mo., making over ch. of the med. dus. of the station to Konyloll Sen, the sub asst. surg.

The leave granted to Mr. J. O. Dalrymple, judge of Hooghly, on the 30th of March last, for 6 mo., is cancl.

Sept. 15.—Appointments.—Mr. A. Morgan to be sec. to the local committee of public instruction at Jessore.

Sept. 15.—Leave of Absence.—Lieut. C. P. Waller, Bengal police batt., for 6 mo., on m.c.

BY THE LIEUT. GOVERNOR, N.W.P.

Judicial Dept., Camp Nymee Tal, Aug. 21.—Leave of abs. for 4 mos., on m.c., is granted to Dr. H. Cayley, civil asst. surg. of Goruckpore, in addn. to the leave granted him in Orders No. 1,291a, dated May 23 last.

Asst. surg. A. E. T. Longhurst, of H.M.'s 18th L.I., is placed in charge of civil station of Goruckpore, in addn. to his proper duties, during leave of Dr. H. Cayley, with effect from date on which Dr. Cayley availed himself of leave.

Aug. 25.—Mr. A. P. Howell, asst. mag. and coll. in Agra div., is vested with full powers of a jt. mag. and dep. coll.

Gen. Dept., Camp Nymee Tal, Aug. 21.—Rev. A. W. Irwin is app. to be chaplain of Muttra.

Aug. 25.—Leave of abs. for 1 mo. is granted to Mr. D. Tresham, head master of Benares Normal School, from date on which he may avail himself of the same.

Mily. Dept., Camp Nymee Tal, Aug. 27.—Leave of absence:—Priv. leave for 2 mos. is granted to Mr. McCarthy, offic. adjt. of Ghazeeopore batt. of mily. police, from Sept. 15 next, or the date thereafter on which he may avail himself of it.

Lieut. B. G. VanderGucht, the commdt., will perform the duties of the adjt.'s office, during the abs. of Mr. McCarthy.

Aug. 29.—The following extract from the Calcutta Gazette, dated Aug. 18, is re-published:—

"No. 846 of 1860.—The servs. of Lieut. N. M. T. Horsford, of the 27th regt. N.I., do. du. with the Agra levy, are placed at the disposal of the govt. of the N.W. Provinces."

With reference to the above, Lieut. N. M. T. Horsford is appt. to be adj. of the Etawah district police battalion.

Judicial Dept., Camp Nymee Tal, Aug. 27.—No. 2,240 A.—Leave for 2 mo. is granted to Lieut. C. E. Orman, cantonment jt. mag. of Roorkee, fr. the date on which he may avail himself of the same.

No. 2,242 A.—Capt. J. F. Campbell, 2nd Bengal fus., is, with the consent of Col. Sherwill, comg. at Roorkee, app. to act as cantonment jt. mag. of that station dur. abs. on leave of Lieut. C. E. Orman.

No. 2,244 A.—Priv. leave for 2 mo., on m.c., is granted to Maj. E. Clerk, dep. commr. of Jhansie, fr. date on which he may avail himself of the same.

No. 2,246 A.—Capt. J. Davidson, asst. commr. of Jhansie, is app. to offic. as dep. commr. of that district dur. leave of Maj. E. Clerk.

No. 2,250 A.—Mr. J. H. Batten, engaged on spec. du. at Furruckabad, is hereby authorised to exercise powers of a spec. commr. in that district.

No. 2,269 A.—Mr. G. H. M. Batten, jt. mag. of 1st grade, is posted to the district of Allypore, in the Meerut div.

OFFICE OF REGISTER OF DEEDS.—NEW ORDER.

August 31.—No. 2,285a.—The notification No. 1,729a, dated July 8 last, is cancelled, under the provisions of Act III. of 1859. The Hon. the Lieut. gov., N.W. Prov., is pleased to invest Lieut. W. Smith, cantonment joint mag. of Allahabad, with jurisdiction, within the limits of his criminal jurisdiction; and also to appt. the said Lieut. W. Smith to be register of deeds, within the same limits, from July 8.

No. 2,287a.—Lieut. W. Smith, cantonment joint mag. of Allahabad, having been invested with civil jurisdiction, and appld. to be register of deeds within the limits of his criminal jurisdiction, it is hereby notified that the said officer will accordingly exercise civil jurisdiction, and act as register of deeds, within the said limits, from and after July 3.

2nd. The powers of the register of deeds, of the district of Allahabad, will be suspended from and after July 3, within the limits of Allahabad cantonments.

No. 2,292a.—Priv. leave of absence, for 2 mos., granted to Mr. R. B. Morgan, Judge of the Court of Sudder Dewanny and Nizamut Adawlut, N.W. Prov., from the date on which he may avail himself of the same.

REVENUE TREASURIES.

Revenue Dept., Camp Nymee Tal, Aug. 22.—No. B.—As required by Section 190, Act XXXII. of 1860, it is hereby declared that the Treasury of H.M.'s Government at the Hd. qrs. of every revenue district of the provinces under this Govt. shall be a treasury for the receipt of the duties payable under the said Act by the persons charged to the said duties, in each such district, or any specified portion of such district, and, further, that every treasury in the interior of each such district shall be a treasury for the receipt of the same duties, payable by the persons who have been charged to the said duties in the circle to which such treasury belongs.

Aug. 29.—No. 1,098a.—Mr. B. Alone is app. to be a dep. coll., under Regulation IX. of 1833, and posted to the district of Goruckpore.

No. 1,099a.—Mr. B. Alone, dep. coll. of Goruckpore, is placed in charge of the treasury of that station.

RESTORATION OF STOLEN ELEPHANTS.

Gen. Dept., Camp Nymee Tal, Aug. 28.—No. 982a.—The Govt. being advised by the Govt. of India in the mily. dept. that a great number of Govt. elephants, plundered by the rebels during the recent disturbances, are still in the possession of private individuals, all civil authorities in the N.W.P. are hereby directed to cause diligent inquiry to be instituted, and to issue orders for the restoration of the animals to the commissariat dept., under pain of severe punishment.

Mil. Dept., Camp Nymee Tal, Sept. 4.—The underment. officers of the mil. police, N.W.P., having failed to pass the exam. required, their services are replaced at the disposal of the Govt. of India in the mil. dept.:

1. Lieut. P. P. L. Stafford, 34th Madras N.I., 2nd in com. of Benares div. police batt., and offic. comdt. of Mirzapore batt.

2. Lieut. J. L. Sawers, 37th Bengal N.I., 2nd in com. of Jhansie div. police batt.

3. Lieut. P. C. Dalmahoy, 60th Bengal N.I., adjt. of Humeerpore batt.

4. Lieut. McLuroy, 36th Madras N.I., offic. adjt. of Banda police batt.

1st. With reference to the above, Lieut. P. P. L. Stafford will remain in temp. ch. of Mirzapore batt. until relieved.

2nd. Major Davis, comdt. mil. police of Jhansie div., will perform du. of 2nd in com., in add. to his own.

3rd. The comdts. of Humeerpore and Banda batts. will take temp. ch. of offices of adjts. of batt., in add. to their own du.

Sept 5.—Lieut. J. W. O'Dowda, adjt. of Jounpoor district batt. of mily. police, is app. to offic. as comdt. of Mirzapore district batt. of mily. police.

Capt. G. A. St. P. Fooks, the comdt., will perform the du. of the adjt.'s office, in add. to his own.

Mr. R. Knyvett, offic. adjt. of Seonee batt. of mily. police, is app. adjt. of Humeerpore batt., on probation, v. Lieut. P. C. Dalmahoy, and is required to join without delay.

Capt. G. F. Pearson, the comdt., will take temp. ch. of adjt.'s office, in add. to his other du.

Lieut. R. M. Skinner, adjt. and offic. comdt. of Allygurh batt. of mily. police, is, at his own request, perm. to res. his appt.

With reference to the above, the servs. of Lieut. R. M. Skinner are replaced at disposal of the Govt. of India, in mily. dept.

Lieut. G. L. Smith, offic. adjt. of Rohilkund div. of mily. police, is app. to offic. as comdt. of Allygurh batt., v. Lieut. R. M. Skinner, res.

Maj. J. W. Carter, the comdt. of Rohilkund div. of mily. police, will perform duties of the adjt.'s office in add. to his own.

Appointment:—Mr. S. Boileau is app. to be adjt., on probation, of Banda district batt. of mily. police.

BY THE LIEUT. GOVERNOR, PUNJAB.

Gen. Dept., No. 2,197, dated Aug. 27.—Leave.—Capt. A. L. Busk, dep. commr., Umballa, has 1 mos. priv. leave, from Sept. 5, and will make over charge of his office to Lieut. Horne, asst. commr.

Public Works Dept., No. 1,598, dated Aug. 28.—The underment. officers have obtained 1 mos. priv. leave from dates respectively of their departure:—

Mr. N. G. Steele, exec. engr., 9th div., Grand Trunk Road.

Lieut. P. Lambert, asst. engr., 9th div., Grand Trunk Road.

No. 1,599, dated Aug. 28.—Mr. C. Fraser, asst. supervisor, Kohat div. of public works, has 3 mos. priv. leave, from date of his availing himself thereof.

Gen. Dept., No. 2,219, dated Aug. 29.—Rev. J. Sharkey, chaplain of Peshawur, has 18 mos. leave to England, on m.c., from Oct. 1, 1860.

Public Works Dept., No. 1,600, dated Aug. 28.—Appointments.—Capt. Eliot has been app. to offic. for Capt. Nicolls, exec. engr. of Upper Sirhind div. of public works.

Gen. Dept., No. 2,212, dated Aug. 28.—Rev. H. F. Corby is app. to offic. as chaplain of Subathoo.

No. 352.—Leave of absence.—Maj. O. E. Rothney, offic. comdt. Hazara Goorkha batt. is allowed 5 weeks' priv. leave from such date as he may avail himself of it.

No. 2,236, dated Aug. 30.—Leave.—Capt. R. O. T. Nicolls, asst. commr. at Loodiana, has 8 weeks' leave, to enable him to proceed to Calcutta, prep. to m.c., to England, with effect from such date as he may avail himself of the same.

No. 2,239, dated Aug. 30.—Mr. C. E. Bernard, asst. commr. of Delhi, has 2 mos. leave on m.c., from the date of his availing himself thereof.

No. 2,257, dated Sept. 1.—Lieut. J. Chalmers, asst. commr. Dera Ismael Khan, has leave on m.c. for 6 mos., with effect from May 10 last, under mily. rules.

Public Works Dept., No. 1,625, dated Sept. 1.—Lieut. L. W. Desborough, of H.M.'s 27th foot, assumed charge of Lower Sirhind div., as offic. exec. engr., on May 23, 1860, in room of Capt. Moffat, proceeded on m.c.

1ST REGT. PUNJAB CAVALRY.

Leave of absence.—No. 356.—Asst. surg. D. B. Daly, from July 30 to Oct. 1, 1860, in extn. of priv. leave, to remain at Murree.

Civil Dept., Judicial Dept., No. 536, dated Sept. 8.—Powers.—Capt. J. Bean, cantonmt. jt. mag. of Rawul Pindee, is vested with powers described in Act III. of 1859, in regard to jurisdiction of civil suits in mily. cantonments.

Public Works Dept., No. 1,641, dated Sept. 6.—Appointment and Posting.—Capt. J. Eliot, transferred to this province from Bengal, is placed in charge of Upper Sirhind div., v. Capt. Nicolls.

Gen. Dept., No. 2,319, dated Sept. 8.—Capt. J. B. Smyly, asst. commr., returned from m.c., is posted to Ferozepore dist.

No. 2,369, dated Sept. 7.—Mr. L. Cowan, extra asst. at Gooragau, has priv. leave for 2 mos.

Public Works Dept., No. 1,676, dated Sept. 8.—Mr. D. Kirwan, offic. supdt. Indus canals, has a mos. indulgence leave, from date of his availing himself thereof.

Gen. Dept., No. 2,310, dated Sept. 7.—Transfer.—Mr. D. Fitzpatrick, asst. commr., is transf. from the Delhi to the Gooragau dist.

Mily. Dept., Lahore, Sept. 7.—No. 65.—The brig. order, dated Aug. 27, by Brig. gen. N. Chamberlain, c.b., comdg. Punjab irreg. force, directing the following transfers, with effect from Sept. 1, 1860, is confirmed:—

Lieut. W. C. B. Ryan, adjt., 5th Punjab cav., to 3rd Punjab cav.

Lieut. C. B. Crispin, adjt., 3rd Punjab cav., to 5th Punjab cav.

No. 367.—The brig. order, dated Aug. 18, by Brig. gen. N. Chamberlain, c.b., comdg. Punjab irreg. force, directing Lieut. W. J. Furlong, doing duty with the 5th regt. Punjab inf., to do duty with corps of guides, in room of Lieut. Ward, doing duty officer, proceeded on leave on m.c., is confirmed.

No. 368.—The brig. order, dated Aug. 29, 1860, by Brig. gen. N. Chamberlain, c.b., comdg. Punjab irreg. force, appg. Lieut. F. H. Jenkins, 2nd in command 1st Sikh inf., to offic. as 2nd in command of the corps of guides, with effect from Aug. 20, 1860, is confirmed.

No. 369.—The regimental order, dated Aug. 16, by Capt. J. P. W. Campbell, comdg. 1st Sikh inf., appg. Lieut. C. D. P. Nott, offic. adjt., to offic. as 2nd in com., and Lieut. W. H. Unwin, doing du. to offic. as adjt., with effect from Aug. 16, in room of Lieut. and 2nd in com. F. H. Jenkins, removed temp. to corps of guides, is confirmed.

No. 370.—The Kohat station order, dated Aug. 14, by Capt. M. R. Somerville, comdg., directing Surg. C. K. Webb to make over med. charge of the 2nd Punjab cav., on his depart. on leave, to Asst. surg. S. C. Courtney, 5th Punjab inf., is confirmed.

No. 371.—The Kohat station order, dated Aug. 14, 1860, by Capt. M. R. Somerville, comdg., directing Asst. surg. A. Verchere, 1st regt. Punjab inf., to afford med. aid to 4th Punjab inf., and also to receive charge of the civil med. duties of Kohat, on depart. on priv. leave of Surg. C. K. Webb, is confirmed.

No. 855.—The Murdon station order, dated July

27, by Lieut. col. H. B. Lumsden, comdg., directing Asst. surg. J. F. Tuson, corps of guides, to rec. med. ch. of the civil establishments and dispensary at that station, fr. June 1, is confirmed.

No. 356.—Leave of absence:—1st Regt. Punjab Cav.—Asst. surg. D. B. Daly, fr. July 30 to Oct. 31, in ext.

BY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF.

Adjt. Gen.'s Office, Simla, Aug. 27.—Col. W. G. Brown, 24th foot, app. a brigdr. on the estab., is posted to Delhi.

Lieut. col. C. S. Reid is rem. from 2nd batt. to 3rd brig. horse art.

Lieut. E. P. Gordon, 88rd N.I., is exempted from further examination in the native languages, the board of examiners at Fort William having on the 8th inst. declared him qualified to discharge the duties of regimental interpreter.

The following officers were declared by the board of examiners at Fort William, on 13th inst., to have passed in Hindustani:—

Lieut. A. Vivian, late 20th N.I.

Lieut. S. Beckett, late 25th N.I.

Leave of absence:—

1st E.B. Fusiliers.—Brev. maj. T. Whelton fr. July 14 to Nov. 1, to Simla, on m.c., under new rules.

2nd E.B. Fusiliers.—Lieut. C. Blair fr. July 20 to Oct. 30, in ext., to remain at Simla, on m.c.

3rd Eur. Inf.—Lieut. E. B. Wimberley, adj., from Sept. 1 to Nov. 30, to visit Simla and Hills north of Deyrah, on m.c.

Late 18th N.I.—Capt. E. Smyth (2nd in com. 32nd P.I.) fr. July 21 to Jan. 21, to visit Almorah, m.c.

66th or Goorkha L.I.—Lieut. St. G. M. Bishop (do. du. 8th irreg. cav.) fr. Aug. 16, 1860, to Feb. 16, 1861, to Darjeeling, on m.c.

Aug. 28.—Capt. E. W. Bristow, inv. estab., is perm. to reside at presy., and to draw his pay and allowances fr. presy. pay-office.

The C. in C. is pleased to make the following appointments:—

Robert's Horse.—Lieut. G. H. W. Hoggan, 4th N.I., to be adj., v. Lieut. T. J. Watson.

12th Punjab Inf.—Lieut. G. C. Huxham, late 48th N.I., to be adj.

RIFLE PRACTICE—JUDGING DISTANCE.

Aug. 29.—The Horse Guards' Circular Memo, No. 157, dated March 7, 1859, republished in G.O., dated May 31 of the same year, having been very generally neglected during last practice season, the attention of commanding officers is particularly directed to that memorandum, as H.E. considers "judging distance" by officers to be one of the most important parts of musketry instruction.

Appointments:—

1st Assam L.I.—Lieut. D. Ross, late 10th N.I., to be adj., v. Lieut. C. P. Hunter, 5th Eur. Inf., whose servs. are required with his corps.

Alexander's Horse.—Lieut. H. Chapman, 2nd in com., to act as comdt. dur. leave of Capt. W. R. E. Alexander.

Lieut. H. M. Repton, adj., to act as 2nd in com.

Lieut. R. Blair, 32nd N.I., to act as adj.

Ensign St. G. Kirke, Gen. List, is app. to do duty with H.M.'s 27th regt.

Leave of absence:—

Late 24th N.I.—Lieut. J. Trevenen (adj. 14th Punjab inf.) fr. Sept. 1 to Oct. 31, to Calcutta, prep. to furl. to Europe.

Aug. 30.—The undermentioned officers passed the prescribed colloquial examination on the dates specified:—

Asst. surg. R. Gray, med. dep., on 15th inst.

Ensign E. C. O'B. Horsford, gen. list, 23rd inst.

Appointments:—

Ensign J. H. Bewsey, unatt. list, is app. to do duty with Rohilkund horse, and directed to join forthwith.

17th Irreg. Cav.—Capt. W. J. Ward, 2nd in com. 14th Punjab inf., to be 2nd in com.

The presy. div. order dated April 4 last, app. Lieut. W. Campbell, attached to regt. of Lucknow, to do duty with Sylhet L.I. batt., v. Lieut. H. G. Waterfield, transf. to Kelat-i-Ghilzie regt., and to proc. to join that corps, is confirmed.

Sept. 1.—Brev. col. W. C. Campbell, late 30th M.I., is directed to do gen. duty at Meerut, on expiration of his present leave.

Asst. surg. W. R. Hooper, med. dep., passed prescribed colloq. exam. on 15th ult.

Lahore div. order, dated 18th inst., directing Asst. surg. G. S. Davie, H.M.'s 73th highlanders, to relieve Asst. surg. A. K. Drysdale fr. med. ch. at Dalhousie.

By Col. E. Darvall, comdg. 3rd Eur. inf., dated 12th inst., directing Ensign G. A. Owen to offic. as adj. during such time as Lieut. E. B. Wimberley may hold tempy. com. of the regt.

Roorkee station order dated 15th inst., directing Surg. R. S. O. Thring, Bengal sappers and miners, to receive med. chg. of detach. 13th Punjab inf., in add. to his other duties.

The following presy. div. orders are confirmed:—Dated 15th ult.—Directing Asst. surg. T. G. Skaddon to do duty at the presy. gen. hospital.

Oude div. order dated 24th ult., directing Asst. surg. G. W. Jameson to proc. and do duty with 1st Eur. L.C. at Cawnpore.

Gwalior district order dated 21st inst., directing Asst. surg. D. O'Brien, 1st Eur. L.C., to proc. to Muttra, where cholera has broken out, and do duty with 2nd Eur. L.C.

With the sanction of Govt., and under the provisions of G.O., No. 1,113, dated Sept. 1, 1857, Brev. maj. A. S. Smith, late 24th N.I., is perm. to count as serv. for retiring pension the leave granted him fr. May 13 to Oct. 15, 1858.

Sept. 7.—Brev. Lieut. col. C. T. E. Hinda, 65th N.I., is perm. to visit Calcutta also, on leave granted to him in G.O. of May 1 last.

Agra district order dated 5th ult., directing Asst. surg. J. Richardson, doing duty with 2nd Eur. L.C., to do duty with H.M.'s 71st highlanders at Gwalior.

Leave of absence:—
Late 46th N.I.—Ensign R. M. B. Thomas fr. Aug. 4 to Oct. 4, to Calcutta. This cancels the leave granted in G.O., 8th ult.

Order confirmed:—
Delhi station order dated June 30 last, directing Lieut. M. O. Hitchens, art., to proc. to Calcutta by dawk, and on arrival to report himself to the adj. gen. of the army.

Leave of absence:—
Med. Dep.—Asst. surg. H. W. Spry fr. Sept. 7 to Dec. 7, in ext., to Calcutta, on m.c., prep. to furl. to Europe.

Sept. 4.—Brev. maj. A. S. Smith, late 24th N.I., is perm. to count as serv., for ret. pension, the leave granted him from 18th May to 15th Oct., 1858.

Leave of absence:—Late 46th N.I.—Ens. R. M. Thomas, from 4th Aug. to 4th Oct., to Calcutta. This cancels leave granted in G.O. 8th ult.

Sept. 6.—The following rems. and posting in the regt. of Bengal art. are directed:—

Capt. H. J. B. Macleod, from 2nd compy. 1st to 4th compy. 6th batt.

2nd Capt. W. H. Parish, from 5th compy. 8th to 1st compy. 6th batt.

2nd Capt. J. Percival, from 1st compy. 6th to 5th troop 1st brig.

Sept. 7.—Brev. Lieut. col. C. T. E. Hinde, of the 65th N.I., is perm. to visit Calcutta also, on leave granted to him in G.O. of 1st May last.

Leave of absence:—

Lahore Light Horse.—Capt. O. J. Travers, H.M.'s 70th foot, from 27th Aug. to 15th Oct., to Nynee Tal.

Medical Dept.—Asst. surg. H. W. Spry, from 7th Sept. to 7th Dec., in ext., to Calcutta, on m.c., prep. to furl. to Eur.

QUEEN'S TROOPS.

Adj. Gen's Office, H.M.'s Forces, Hd. Qrs., Calcutta, Sept. 6.—Hd. Qrs., Calcutta, Aug. 30.—The C. in C. in India is pleased to make the following proms., until H.M.'s pleasure shall be known:—

1st Drag. Gds.—Lieut. J. Cunningham, to be capt., by purch., v. Mitchell, ret.

Cornet F. Sedley, to be lieut., by purch., v. Cunningham, prom., Aug. 29.

70th Foot.—Ens. C. L. Richardson, to be lieut., without purch., v. Quin, dec., Aug. 22.

Aug. 31.—Memorandum.—In G.O. No. 82, of July 14, 1858, promg. Ens. R. H. Ross, of 35th foot, to be lieut. read Ensign and Adj. R. H. Ross, to be lieut. and adj.

Sept. 1.—The following officers have qualified themselves in the native languages as follows:—

Lieut. W. B. Armstrong, 7th drag. gds., passed in Hindoostanee at Sealkote, on July 10.

Lieut. J. B. Oliver, royal horse art., passed in Hindoostanee at Fort William, on Aug. 6.

Act. serg. H. Blockman, of the 38th foot, passed at Fort William, on Aug. 6, the test prescribed for mil. interp.

Lance Corporal W. Shakespeare, 81st foot, passed in vernacular at Rawul Pindee, on Aug. 15.

Capt. Luellyn, royal art., having been posted to Maj. Craford's batt., 13th brig., at Poona, will proc. to join accordingly on being relieved by Lieut. Newcome.

The following orders are confirmed:—

By Lieut. gen. Sir W. R. Mansfield:—

Directing Lieut. O. L. L. Prendergast, 52nd foot, to be attached to Kurrachee depot, and await arr. of drafts fr. England, when he will proc. with them to the Hd. Qrs. of his corps.

By Lieut. gen. Sir P. Grant:—

Granting leave to Lieut. H. J. Fane, 81st foot, to England, via Cape of Good Hope, under new rules, m.c.

Leaves of absence:—
Royal Horse Art.—Lieut. Oliver, to England, under new rules, m.c.

4th Foot.—Capt. T. D. Sheppard, to England, for 18 mos., from date of embarkation, under new rules.

33rd Foot.—Capt. W. A. Parry, to England, for 18 mos., from date of quitting the regt., under new rules.

54th Foot.—Asst. surg. A. Reid, to Nynee Tal, fr. Aug. 20 to Nov. 20, on m.c.

75th Foot.—Maj. D. F. Chambers, paym., to England, under new rules, on m.c.

89th Foot.—Asst. surg. T. Walsh, to Calcutta, fr. Aug. 24 to Oct. 23, m.c.

90th Foot.—Capt. L. H. L. Irby, to Calcutta, fr. Aug. 20 to Oct. 19, m.c., and to England, under new rules, for the same purpose.

H.R.H. the Gen. C. in C. has been pleased to grant leave of absence to the following officers:—

6th Foot.—Maj. Blanckley, fr. July 3, 1860, to Jan. 11, 1861, m.c.

71st Foot.—Maj. Loftus, from July 16 to Dec. 31.

90th Foot.—Lieut. col. Smith, C.B., fr. Sept. 22 to Oct. 20.

98th Foot.—Lieut. Gardiner, fr. June 25 to Sept., m.c.

Sept. 3.—The C. in C. in India is pleased to make the following prom., until H.M.'s pleasure shall be known:—

56th Foot.—Lieut. H. Williams, to be capt., without purch., v. Baxter, dec., Aug. 21.

The retirement fr. serv., by the sale of his commission, of Ens. John M. O'Leary, 84th foot, is accepted, subject to approval.

Asst. surg. W. Collis, 98th foot, passed examin. in vernacular at Peshawar, on Aug. 15.

Sept. 6.—Lieut. W. Bennett, of 1st batt., 19th foot, is appd. interp. to that corps.

Order confirmed:—
By H.E. Lieut. gen. Sir P. Grant:—

Granting leave to Brev. Maj. Disbrowe, 43rd foot, to England, under new rules, m.c.

Leave of absence:—

73rd Foot.—Lieut. H. Fraser, to Calcutta, for 6 weeks, fr. date of quitting the regt., m.c., and to England, under new rules.

80th Foot.—Capt. G. Sullivan, to England, under new rules, m.c.

89th Foot.—Capt. W. C. G. Fery, to England, under new rules, m.c.; Asst. surg. T. Walsh, to England, under new rules.

Sept. 8.—The C. in C. in India is pleased to make the following proms., until H.M.'s pleasure shall be known:—

6th Drags.—Lieut. Hon. E. R. Rourke, to be capt., by purch., v. Dawson, ret., Sept. 8.

Cornet R. J. FitzSimon, to be lieut., by purch., v. Rourke, prom. Sept. 8.

The leave to Lieut. Pigott, 73rd regt., is cancelled at his own request.

The following order is confirmed, subject to approval by H.R.H. the Gen. C. in C.:—

By the officer comdg. 97th foot:—

Dated Aug. 18.—App. Lance serg. Thomas Fitzgerald, to act as 3rd class serg. instruc. of musketry, from 15th inst.

Orders confirmed:—

By H.E. Lieut. gen. Sir P. Grant:—

Granting a further extension of leave to Capt. J. Smyth, 69th foot, to Aug. 31.

By the gen. officer comdg. Oude div.:—

Dated Aug. 27.—Directg. Asst. surg. Ramsay, 20th foot, to proc. to Cawnpore at the public expense, and do du. with 54th foot.

Leave of absence:—

81st Foot.—Capt. G. Betts, to England, under the new rules, from Sept. 30, 1860, to July 30, 1861.

At the recommendation of the dep. insp. gen. of hospitals, in charge of the insp. gen's office, Asst. surg. Allanby, H.M.'s 95th foot, do du. with provist. batt. at Dum Dum, will proc. at once to join his corps at Neemuch, where his servs. are very urgently required.

Rifle Practice.

Adj. Gen's Office, Simla, Aug. 31.—The C. in C. directs particular attention of all officers to the following remarks of the Gen. C. in C., promulgated in Horse Guards G.O. No. 749, dated May 7; in view to the instructions therein contained being strictly observed:—

The Gen. C. in C. deems the present a fitting opportunity of calling attention to the concluding para. of the G.O. of Feb. 1, 1859, promulgating the new edition of the musketry regs. H.R.H. regrets to observe that the extra position drill, thereby enjoined, is not practised in the majority of regts., as often as it might be. This neglect will tend to lower considerably the standard of shooting, and thereby materially affect the efficiency of the infantry. Position drill is indispensable to accustom the soldier to handle his rifle expertly, and to habituate him to those positions, standing and kneeling, on which good shooting mainly depends.

The Gen. C. in C. expects that general officers on the staff will take measures for ascertaining that the provisions of the G.O. in question are strictly adhered to.

The Great Gun Exercise.

Adj. Gen's Office, Simla, Sept. 4.—In modification of G.O. dated March 17 last, the C. in C. is pleased, with the sanction of Govt., to lay down the following rules regarding the instruction of officers and soldiers of British infantry in the great gun exercise:—

1. All officers, sergeants, majors, quartermaster-sergeants, non-commissioned drill staff, and 100 men of European regiments, together with the European officers of native corps, shall be taught the gun drill at all stations where guns and qualified instructors are available.

2. For this purpose, the issue of fifteen rounds of field, and five rounds of siege gun ammunition per officer and man, is authorised.

3. The instruction is to be carried on at all seasons, and at such time and place as may be agreed upon by officers commanding divisions of artillery and regiments of infantry.

4. On receiving intimation of the number of officers and men required to be instructed, the officer commanding the artillery at the station shall submit an emergent indent on the nearest magazine for the requisite quantity of ammunition and stores; an account of the expenditure of which is to be made for the information of the inspector general of ordnance on the termination of the drills.

5. The first course having been completed, it is to be understood that the officers and men are to continue to be annually exercised in the gun drill for two or three days under the officer commanding the artillery division, and for this purpose a supply of two rounds of light ammunition for every officer and soldier is to be indented for. Both officers and men should also be permitted to attend in small detachments and take part, for three or four days, in the annual standing practice of the artillery, at stations where it is carried out.

6. During the period of instruction, four artillery non-commissioned officers may be appointed at each station, to officiate as drill instructors, on a staff allowance of Rs. 5 a month.

7. When divisions of royal and Bengal artillery may be serving together, it is expected that each shall, according to its means, afford instruction to the infantry located at the station.

New Form of Discharge Certificate.

Adj. Gen's Office, Simla, Aug. 25.—A new form of discharge certificate for European soldiers having been approved by H.E. the Gov. gen. in Council, forms will be supplied to regts., and the following instructions in regard to these certificates are to be strictly observed by comdg. officers:—

The description of the soldier, particulars of enlistment, character, and cause or circumstances of discharge, are to be filled in with corps; and these entries are to correspond exactly with the record of these particulars in the regt. committee proceedings and final descriptions.

In cases of time-expired men, the cause of discharge is to be entered as "His contracted period of service having expired."

In cases of men, invalided, the entry is to be "On account of unfitness for further service."

In free discharge cases, "Having been granted a free discharge."

In discharge by purchase cases, "Having paid the sum prescribed by regulation."

In cases of men pensioned, "Having been admitted to pension by G.G.O. No. — of (date)."

The discharge certificates are invariably to be sent with the committee proceedings, and final descriptions, to the ports of embarkations with the men.

In cases of men who may be at convalescent depots, or otherwise absent from their corps, the officers under whose orders they are serving, will be responsible that timely application is made to the regiments concerned for the requisite documents; and if this precaution be duly observed, there can be no excuse for men being detached without their papers.

The certificates of men performing regimental duty, who desire to remain in the country, are to be sent direct to the office of the adj. gen. of the army, at Calcutta, for signature; and they are to be forwarded in anticipation of discharge, so that they may be received back in time to allow of the discharge being effected at the proper time, and without delay and detention of the soldier.

When men are entitled to reckon additional service, the period of such extra service, and the authority under which the boon has been granted, are to be noted in the margin of the discharge certificates.

As regards men on staff employ, departmental officers concerned will always make application to the officer in charge of the office of the adj. gen. of the army, at the Presidency, for discharge certificates in due time, to allow of the certificates being sent with the men to the ports from which they are to embark; and these officers are responsible that all claims for pay and clothing are settled before the men quit their stations.

These applications are to be accompanied by a roll of the form published with this order; and when men wish to be finally discharged in India, an intimation to this effect is invariably to be made in the application for discharge certificates.

The C. in C. requests that heads of all departments will see to the due observance of this rule on the part of subordinate officers.

The rules contained in paragraph 8 apply equally to cases of non-commissioned officers serving with native corps, whose commanding officers will be responsible for the settlement of their claims before they leave their corps.

At Calcutta and Kurrachee respectively, the discharge documents will be delivered over to the fort adjutant and officer commanding the depot, who, after the acknowledgment on the reverse of the discharge certificate has been duly signed by the discharged soldier, and witnessed, will immediately transmit the discharge certificates and final descriptions to the adjutant general's office at the Presidency, for registry and signature, and for transmission to the authorities in England.

A supply of certificates will now be sent to each regiment, and a further supply when required will be furnished on indent.

For soldiers who proceed to England, the paper discharge certificates are to be used, and prepared in duplicate.

For men who are to be discharged in India, one certificate of paper and one of parchment is to be used; the latter will be made over to the discharged soldier, and the former without any accompaniment is to be sent to the adjutant general's office for record.

By order,
W. MAYHEW, Lieut. colonel, adjt. gen.
of the army.

The European Portion of the Local Army.

H.E. the Gov. gen. in Council has reason to believe that at some stations there prevails amongst the English soldiers of the local army a misapprehension as to the bearing which the provisions of a Bill, lately proposed to Parliament by H.M.'s Government, will have upon the condition of the non-commissioned officers and men of H.M.'s Indian forces.

The Gov. gen. in Council is able to state for general information that no change whatever in the condition of the non-commissioned officers and men of these forces is provided by the Bill, or contemplated by H.M.'s Government.

It is the intention of H.M.'s Government that the rights, privileges, and exemptions of every man now serving in H.M.'s Indian forces shall, for the whole time of his service, remain precisely what they now are: that no man shall be called upon to serve out of India during the term of his engagement, but that at the end of that term he shall take his discharge, unless he shall desire to enlist into H.M.'s army for general service, which he will be free to do; and that during each man's term of engagement he shall not be required to serve otherwise than in H.M.'s Indian forces, and in such arm of them as he has chosen for himself.

The intention of H.M.'s Government in introducing the Bill is to put a stop to recruiting for military service exclusively in India.

The Gov. gen. in Council desires to save the men of H.M.'s Indian forces from any mistake on a subject so nearly affecting their feelings and their interests, and with this view the present G.O. is issued.

R. J. H. BIRCH, Maj. gen.,
Sec. to the Govt. of India.

Leave of Absence Affecting Promotion.

No. 940.—With reference to Government G.O. No. 1,537 of the 15th November, 1859, in which it was announced that no deduction was to be made on account of leaves of absence taken during the five years required to qualify a Lieut. col. for promotion under the Royal Warrant of the 14th October, 1858, H.E. the Gov. gen. in Council is pleased, under instructions from the Right Hon. the Sec. of State for India, to notify that, in cases of officers in command of regiments serving in India, or holding equivalent appointments, who may proceed home on furlough for periods varying from one to three years, it has been determined to place a limit on the period of absence to be reckoned as part of the five years qualifying for promotion to col., and that fifteen months, being one-fourth of the whole period of five years, will be the term allowed, exclusive of leave obtained on medical certificate in consequence of wounds received in action.

This regulation, it has been intimated, will apply to both H.M.'s British and Indian forces serving in India.

Soldiers' Gardens.

As a first step towards the provision of vegetables, recourse is to be had to the soldiers' gardens, it being the desire of Government to give to these gardens every reasonable encouragement.

In furtherance of this object, executive commissariat officers will in the first week of January of each year furnish officers commanding stations with a memorandum showing the probable quantity of vegetables that will be daily required for European troops during the ensuing official year.

On receipt of this memorandum, commanding officers will ascertain from officers commanding European corps the extent to which the gardens of their men are likely to furnish the quantity required; the several kinds of vegetables that can be supplied in each month of the year, and the price at which, in their opinion, payment should be made.

On the above information being obtained, officers commanding stations will assemble committees* to determine the articles that should be taken from the soldiers' gardens during each month of the year, and to fix the prices to be paid for each description of vegetables, due consideration being given by the committee to the interests of the soldier and to the prices locally prevailing of the description of articles recommended by the committee. The quantity of vegetables to be allowed to each man daily is one pound.

If it shall appear that the soldiers' gardens are capable of supplying only a portion of the vegetables required, or that the gardens cannot be depended on to supply any, committees will determine what description and quantities of each kind reported to be obtainable from other sources during each season should be issued in the several months, and the price which should be allowed.

The proceedings of committees, on being closed, are to be made over to executive commissariat officers, who will arrange direct with the local civil authorities for the supply of the articles recommended by committees to complete the quantities which the soldiers' gardens may be unable to supply.

R. J. H. BIRCH, Maj.-gen., Sec. to Govt. of India.

The Command of Fort William.

No. 929.—H.E. the Gov. gen. in Council is pleased to direct that the command of Fort William and its dependencies shall be placed on the same footing as the command of all other stations of the army, and be subject to the control and orders of H.E. the Commander-in-Chief.

The head-quarters of the presidency division will be removed from Barrackpore and established in Fort William.

The station of Barrackpore will be constituted a 2nd class brigade command.

The appointments of brigadier and of brigade major in Fort William are abolished, and the duties of the latter officer are transferred to the fort adjutant.

An assistant quarter-master general, who is to be of the rank of field officer, will be allowed for the duties of the quarter-master general's department in Fort William, in place of the deputy assistant quarter-master general now authorized.

The remaining staff of Fort William will continue as at present.

H.E. the C. in C. is requested to issue such subsidiary orders as may be necessary for carrying into effect the changes now authorized.

Treasuries for the Receipt of Taxes.

Revenue Dept., Camp Nynce Tal, Aug. 22.—As required by sec. CXI., Act XXXII. of 1860, it is hereby declared that the treasury of H.M.'s gov. at the head qrs. of every revenue dist. of the provinces under this gov. shall be a treasury for the receipt of the duties payable under the said Act by the persons charged to the said duties in each such dist., or any specified portion of such dist.; and, further, that every treasury in the interior of each such dist. shall be a treasury for the receipt of the same duties, payable by the persons who have been charged to the said duties in the circle to which such treasury belongs.

MADRAS.

BY THE GOVERNOR IN COUNCIL.

Fort St. George, Sept. 14.—Appointment.—Mr. R. A. Dalvell to act as sub-judge of zillah of Chicacole until Mr. Longley joins.

Public Works Dept., Sept. 14.—The undermen. appts., published in the Fort St. George Gazette, of 7th inst., are, cance.:

2nd capt. H. T. Rogers, 2nd asst. dist. engr., Godavery, to act as 2nd asst. dist. engr. in Malabar.

Capt. J. H. M. Babington, actg. 2nd asst. dist. engr., Malabar, to take up his own appt. of 2nd asst. dist. engr. in South Canara.

Lieut. F. Robertson, of engrs., has passed exam. in Tamil, prescribed for the public works dept.

The authorised Monshi allowance is to be disbursed to that officer.

Sept. 15.—The Hon. the Gov. in Council has been pleased to make the foll. appt.:—Rev. J. Richards to be chap. of St. Thomas' Mount.

Sept. 18.—Leave of absence:—Rev. A. W. Pearson, chap. of Arcot, for 12 mo., to Eur.

Sept. 21.—Leave of absence:—Mr. W. Knox, coll. and mag. of the Krishna dist., 15 mo., to Eur., on m.c., under lieu of the leave granted to him on 17th ult., and for 4 weeks prep. leave.

Appointment.—Lieut. C. Gordon, 46th N.I., to act as adjt. of Golcondah Sebundies, v. Lieut. Dobree, pro. to Eur., to take effect from July 26.

* To be composed as follows:—Hd. Qrs. Station.—Dep. inspec. gen. of hospitals, or senior med. officer; exec. commiss. officer; civil officer. Outposts.—A field officer or captain; an officer in charge of a troop or company; a medical officer.

The servs. of Asst. surg. J. H. Blackwell, zillah surg. of Chicacole, have been placed at disposal of the C. in C.

Sept. 25.—Appointment.—Rev. W. T. Blenkinsop, sen. pres. chap., to act as chap. at Arcot.

Mr. W. T. Blair, C.S., rep. his return this day to pres. by the str. Nemesis.

Mr. R. W. Barlow, C.S., ret. to the pres. by the ship Clarence, on 19th inst.

Sept. 14.—No. 402.—The Hon. the Gov. in Council is pleased to make the following prom.:

9th N.I.—Sen. Lieut. T. H. Elphinstone, to be capt., v. Grant dec., date of commission Sept. 5.

Capt. F. Dawson, H.M.'s 3rd batt. 60th rifles, dep. asst. qmrr. gen. southern div., is permitted to proc. to Eur. on furl. for 6 mos., under regs. of 1854.

With reference to leave to Eur. on m.c. for 18 mos. granted by Bombay gov. to Capt. J. G. Russel, 29th N.I., Paym. Kampsee, the servs. of that officer are placed at disposal of C. in C. from July 23, the date of his embarkation.

So much of G.O. dated Sept. 12, No. 397, as places the services of Capt. R. Morton, art., at disposal of gov. of India, is cancelled.

The servs. of Capt. C. M. J. Thornton, art., are placed at disposal of the gov. of India in public works dept.

The servs. of Lieut. W. J. Bell, 2nd N.I., are placed at disposal of gov. of India, for employ in Hyderabad contingent.

Lieut. W. S. Hobbart, art., is perm. to proc. to Bombay, with leave for 3 mo., under regs. of 1854.

Lieut. W. G. Morris, 1st L.C., who has ret. to his du. by permission of the Home Govt., is readmitted on estab., fr. April 17.

Surg. J. A. Horak is prom. to rank of surg. maj., fr. Sept. 6.

Returned to duty:—

Surg. J. FitzPatrick, arr. at Madras on Sept. 6.

The servs. of Asst. surg. W. R. Grylls are placed at disposal of Govt. of India for med. ch. of Seonia.

Sept. 18.—No. 408.—Promotions:—

Art.—Senior 2nd Capt. E. W. Dance to be capt., and Senior Lieut. J. Stewart to be 2nd capt., v. Rippon, ret.; date of comma., Sept. 15.

Memo.—Lieut. W. H. Montgomery is entitled to the pay and allowances of his rank, fr. Sept. 15, in succ. to Stewart, prom.

Memo.—The underment. officers of engr. are entitled to the pay and allowances of their rank from dates specified against their names:— (This cancels the memo. respecting Lieut. Trail, published in G.O. No. 393, Sept. 7.)

Lieut. D. H. Trail, fr. July 12, v. Gordon, dec.

Lieut. W. Coningham, fr. July 26, v. Campbell, dec.

Sept. 21.—No. 410.—Returned to their duty by perm. of the Home Govt. without prejudice to their rank:—

Lieut. D. Mitcalfe, 10th N.I., arr. at Bombay on 9th Sept., 1860.

Capt. E. W. Dance, art., and Lieut. A. A. Gordon, 7th L.C., arr. at Madras on 16th Sept.

Ens. E. S. Bell, 6th N.I., arr. at Madras on 19th Sept.

The underment. officer is perm. to proc. to Eur.:

Lieut. W. F. Wright, 44th N.I., on m.c. for 15 mo., under regs. of 1854, and to embark from Madras.

Sept. 25.—No. 411.—Maj. W. G. Robertson, 22nd N.I., is perm. to proc. to sea, on m.c. for 1 year from date of embarkation from Singapore, under old regs.

Lieut. J. Moxon, engr., is perm. to proc. to Bombay on m.c., under regs. of 1854, for the purpose of obtaining a final m.c. to Eur.

Capt. C. C. Fitzroy, 68th foot, is perm., at his own request, to reg. app. of A.D.C. to the Hon. the Gov.

Capt. W. C. L. Baker, art., comr. of ordnance, is, as a temp. arrang., appd. insp. of ordnance, Fort St. George, without prejudice to his substantive app.—to have effect from date of ret. of Capt. S. Rippon.

Returned to duty:—

Capt. C. L. Combe, 23rd L.I.; arr. at Rangoon on July 14.

Capt. T. Crofton, 52nd N.I.; arr. at Madras on Sept. 19.

The undermentioned officers are permitted to proc. to Europe:—

Ens. E. W. Begbie, on the general list, on m.c. for 18 mos., under regs. of 1854.

Asst. surg. S. Meredith, on m.c. for 18 mos., under regs. of 1854.

The underment. gentlemen are admitted upon the establishment as cadets for the engineers and infantry, in conformity with their appointment by the Home Govt., and prom. to rank of lieut. and ensign respectively, leaving date of commission of Mr. Renaud to be settled hereafter:—

Mr. C. A. Sims, engr., and Mr. S. Renaud, inf.; arr. at Madras, Sept. 25.

Mr. E. T. Rogers, inf., arrived at Madras, Sept. 16.

The underment. gentleman is admitted upon estab. as asst. surg.:—Mr. H. R. Handyside; arr. at Madras Sept. 20.

BY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF.

Hd. Qrs., Choultry Plain, Sept. 17.—The following removals are ordered in the art.:—

Lient. col. G. Rowlandson fr. 4th batt. to H. brig non effective.

Lient. col. G. S. Cotter fr. late prom. to 4th batt. art.

Capt. (maj.) J. Babington from C co. 3rd batt. to D co. 4th batt. To join on being retired by Capt. Smith.

Capt. (lieut. col.) R. Cadell fr. late prom. to 3rd batt.

2nd Capt. S. R. Smith from B co. 3rd batt. to C co. 3rd batt. (No. 6 to join in ch. of the horses of the baty. and art. drafts for Burmah.)

Lient. A. K. Seacombe fr. do. du. recruit depot to C co. 3rd batt. art. To join under Capt. Smith (No. 6 horse baty.).

The foll. posting is ordered:—Surg. J. Fitzpatrick to do du. 1st L.C.

Sept. 18.—The undermen. officers of the 1st Madras fus. are directed to rejoin their regt. until further orders:—

Maj. (brev. lieut. col.) M. Galway, doing duty 36th N.I.

Capt. (brev. maj.) T. Raikes, com. Eur. inf. depot. Capt. (brev. maj.) E. L. Grant, com. Wellington conv. depot.

Sept. 19.—Second Capt. J. Blair, 1st batt. art., act. adj. and qmtr. of art. in the Straits, is confirmed in that appt. v. Cadell, prom.

Sept. 20.—So much of G.O. dated 7th inst. as directs Ens. E. A. Bruce, 37th gren., to do du. with 35th N.I., is cancelled.

Sept. 21.—The following removals are ordered in the art.:—

Lient. W. R. C. Brough, from B co. 3rd batt. to C co. 3rd batt., and No. 6 battery. To join in charge of horses for No. 6 battery per Seringapatam.

Lient. W. Bisset, from C co. 3rd batt. to C co. 4th batt. To join.

Sept. 22.—With reference to G.O. April 7, the appt. of Capt. J. B. Knocker, 40th N.I., to be station staff officer in Straits, is to have effect from Jan. 25, the date on which he assumed charge of the appt. from Lient. Hudleston, 14th N.I., under instructions from army head qrs.

The following removal is ordered in the art.:— Lient. W. Wyndham from 1st batt. C co. to 5th batt. B co. To join.

Court Martial.

LIEUT. H. RAMSAY, 15TH N.I.

Head Qrs., Choultry Plain, Aug. 15.—At an European General Court Martial, held at Trichinopoly, on July 30, Lient. Horace Ramsay, 15th N.I., of H.M.'s Indian mily. forces, was arraigned on the foll. charge, viz.:—

Charge.—For conduct highly unbecoming an officer and a gentleman, and to the prejudice of good order and mily. discipline, in having at Rangoon, on May 8, while in arrest, appeared near the public wharf, where a detachment of the regt. to which he belonged was embarking, in a disgraceful state of intoxication.

Revised Finding.—The Court having most maturely weighed and considered the evidence before it, and what has been stated in defence, begs most respectfully to adhere to its former finding of "Not Guilty of the charge."

Disapproved.

(Signed) PAT. GRANT, Lient. col., C. in C. Head Qrs., Madras, Aug. 15.

Remarks by H. E. the C. in C.—It is painful to withhold approval of an acquittal of such a charge, but with the facts before me I cannot hesitate.

The bandmaster of the regiment saw Lient. Ramsay in a conveyance close to the wharf when the detachment to which the prisoner belonged was embarking. From his position he supposed him to be intoxicated. He entered the conveyance, called Lient. Ramsay by name, but found that "he could not articulate a word." To the bandmaster, "he appeared to be drunk." Lient. Ramsay at noon on the same day was found in his own house lying on the floor by an officer of his regiment, and when spoken to, answered "rather incoherently." That officer believed him to be in a state of intoxication.

Between four and five o'clock p.m. of the same day, after embarking on the Tubal Cain, he was seen by another officer, to whom he appeared "as if he had been drinking."

Lient. Ramsay in his defence does not attempt to offer any other explanation of his state. I give the Court full credit for conscientious motives in forming and adhering to their opinion, but I much regret that I have to reflect on their discrimination and ability duly to weigh and appreciate evidence so strong in support of the charge.

Mistaken views, however, conscientiously entertained, when they arise from a want of knowledge of that which it is the duty of officers to know, deserve censure, and are injurious to discipline.

I cannot allow the verdict of the Court to be published to the army without a full expression of disapprobation.

BIRTHS.

ABERCROMBIE, wife of A., daughter, at Dacca, Sept. 3.

BRINKWORTH, wife of W. H., daughter, at Budaon, Aug. 30.

COTTON, wife of R. R., daughter, at Madura, Sept. 16. DAVIDSON, wife of R., daughter, at Cuddapah, Sept. 14.

FIRMINGER, wife of Rev. T. A. C., son, at Chinsurah, Sept. 10.

HALL, wife of A., son, at Calcutta, Sept. 14. HANCE, wife of Dr. H. F., daughter, at Whampoa, Sept. 8.

HAPPER, wife of Rev. A. P., daughter, at Canton Aug. 28.

HARRISON, wife of Major, son, at Trichinopoly, Sept. 22.

HATHORN, wife of Capt. J. G., daughter, at Darjeeling, Sept. 8.

HAYES, wife of J. W., daughter, at Madura, Sept. 9. LAING, wife of J., daughter, at Kandy, Sept. 15.

LINES, wife of J., daughter, at Calcutta, Sept. 18. PEACHT, Mrs. A. F., daughter, at Calcutta, Sept. 10.

ROUSSAC, wife of E. A., son, at Darjeeling, Sept. 3. TAIL, Mrs. R., daughter, at Calcutta, Sept. 18.

TYDD, wife of A. G., son, at Chuckerboir, Sept. 17. WILKINS, wife of J., daughter, at Cuddalore, Sept. 10.

WILLIAMSON, wife of G. H., daughter, at Calcutta, Sept. 3.

MARRIAGES.

ADAMS, A. Y., to Julia O. L., daughter of the late Sir H. G. Ward, at Newera Ellia, Sept. 27.

BUSHMAN, J. G., to Clara, daughter of J. Brooks, at Serampore, Sept. 15.

CAWDELL, Rev. J. A., to Mary A., relief of the late J. Hollis, at Mooradabad, Sept. 8.

DUNBAR, F. K., to Mrs. L. A. Nickels, at Calcutta, Sept. 18.

FORBES, Lient. W. E., Bengal art., to Louisa C., daughter of the late J. Colquhoun, at Calcutta, Sept. 12.

LAWLERS, Capt. W. H., to Miss Rebecca Galloway, at Calcutta, Sept. 13.

MAYNE, W. J., to Emma E., daughter of J. Heron, at Monghyr, Sept. 10.

PRENDERGAST, Lient. J. H., 38th Madras N.I., to Marion, daughter of the Rev. J. W. Gordon, at Walton, Sept. 13.

SCHMIDT, A. E., to Annie, daughter of E. A. Blundell, at Singapore, Sept. 18.

WALSTAB, G. A. V., to Mary A., daughter of the late J. Nowlan, at Calcutta, Sept. 12.

WEBER, J., to Anne C., daughter of J. David, at Dhurumtollah, Sept. 10.

DEATHS.

CLARK, Mrs. R. C., at Colombo, aged 31, Sept. 26. COLLEGE, Hugh W., infant son of G. W., at Bolundshuhur, Sept. 11.

FRYER, Caroline M. A., wife of A., at Calcutta, aged 28, Aug. 31.

HAMPTON, Lient. Joseph, Bengal art., at Delhi, aged 22, Sept. 1.

HANDYSIDE, Lient. Charles, 5th Bengal Eur. regt., at Mirzapore.

MACKEY, Ellen C., daughter of Doctor, at Coimbatore, Sept. 18.

PALIN, Gilbert C. W., infant son of Capt. C. T., at Surat, Sept. 2.

PARRY, John, at Calcutta, Sept. 11.

POURCEIM, Anne M. E., wife of J. E. S., at Chandernagore, aged 21, Sept. 10.

RIBERA, Martinus, at Avishawelle, aged 57, Sept. 15.

ROBINSON, Maria, wife of Rev. J., at Serampore, Sept. 17.

SAGE, Algernon W., infant son of Capt. A., at Bassein, Aug. 23.

SCHMIDT, Hermann, at Calcutta, aged 28, Sept. 16.

SOLANO, General, at Manila, aged 46, Aug. 30.

ZOZZA, A. H., at Colombo, aged 58, Sept. 13.

WAR OFFICE.

CHANGES, PROMOTIONS, &c., IN H.M.'s REGIMENTS SERVING IN INDIA. Oct. 23.

7th Drag. Gds.—Ensign G. H. Bacchus, from 12th foot, to be cornet, v. O'Dowd, prom.

13th Foot.—H. Hart, gent., to be ensign, without purch., v. King, prom.

49th Foot.—Ensign C. C. Welman, fr. 77th foot, to be ensign, v. H. Topp, who exch.

51st Foot.—Capt. G. B. MacQueen, fr. 60th foot, to be capt., v. P. Chaplin, who exch.

54th Foot.—B. A. Hume, gent., to be ensign, without purch., v. Purnell.

57th Foot.—Capt. E. Gorton, from 29th foot, to be capt., v. J. R. Grimston, who exch.

72nd Foot.—Capt. and Brev. Lient. col. W. Macdonald, from 28th foot, to be capt., v. E. J. Upton, who exch.

77th Foot.—Ensign H. Topp, from 49th foot, to be ensign, v. C. C. Welman, who exch.

79th Foot.—Lient. W. J. McCrawford to be capt., by purch., v. Brev. maj. H. H. Stevenson, prom.

82nd Foot.—Capt. F. R. S. Flood, from h.p. unatt., to be capt., v. Brev. maj. W. R. Farman.

83rd Foot.—C. L. Smith, gent., to be ensign, by purch., v. Brymer, prom.

BREVET.

Lient. col. W. N. Custance, c.n., 6th drag. gds., to be col. in the army; Jan. 19, 1858.

Capt. H. Scott, 13th lt. drags., to be maj. in the army; July 20, 1858.

Capt. G. D. D. Cleveland, 98th foot, to be maj. in the army; Oct. 23.

Capt. R. J. Evans, 27th foot, to be major in the army; Oct. 23.

Capt. F. R. S. Flood, 82nd foot, to be major in the army; Oct. 23.

Brev. Lient. col. F. G. Urquhart, 1st foot, to be colonel; Sept. 20.

Oct. 26.

8th Lt. Drags.—Ensign F. Helzar, from 6th foot to be cornet, v. Tonnochy, prom.

17th Lt. Drags.—E. Corbet, gent., to be cornet, by purch., v. Goldsworthy, prom.

18th Lt. Drags.—Ensign T. A. B. Wright, fr. 64th foot, to be cornet, v. Harris, prom.

13th Foot.—Ensign M. J. Bell to be lieut., by purch., v. F. D. Edwards, ret.; Ensign G. Kemmis to be lieut., by purch., v. Hazlitt, ret.

33rd Foot.—Ensign M. Lynch to be lieut., by purch., v. Vaughan, prom.

43rd Foot.—Staff asst. surg. R. A. P. Grant to be asst. surg., v. C. D. Madden, m.d.

57th Foot.—Staff asst. surg. J. A. Illingworth to be asst. surg., v. W. Ferguson.

68th Foot.—Staff asst. surg. O. Codrington to be asst. surg., v. A. P. M. Corbett.

74th Foot.—Capt. H. G. L. Campbell, from 22nd foot, to be capt., v. J. Falconer, who exch.

83rd Foot.—Staff asst. surg. E. Drew to be asst. surg., v. E. O'Connell.

95th Foot.—Lient. M. Robinson, from 28th foot, to be lieut., v. L. Cubitt, who exch.

Rifle Brigade.—Ensign H. J. T. Walpole, from 16th foot, to be ensign, v. Wilson, prom.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

Asst. surg. W. Ferguson, from 57th foot, to be staff asst. surg., v. O. Codrington.

Asst. surg. A. P. M. Corbett, from 68th foot, to be staff asst. surg., v. E. Drew.

Asst. surg. C. D. Madden, from 43rd foot, to be staff asst. surg., v. J. A. Illingworth, app. to 57th foot.

Asst. surg. E. O'Connell, from 83rd foot, to be staff asst. surg., v. K. J. Parr.

BREVET.

Lient. col. C. A. Denison, 52nd foot, having completed five years' service as dep. adj. gen. at Madras, with the rank of lieut. col., to be col. in the army; Oct. 23.

Oct. 30.

Rifle Brigade.—Maj. gen. Sir G. Buller, k.c.n., from 88th foot, to be col. comdnt., v. Lient. gen. Sir H. G. W. Smith, Bart., g.c.n., dec.; Oct. 13.

88th Foot.—Maj. gen. J. Cox to be col., v. Maj. gen. Sir G. Buller, k.c.n., transf. to rifle brigade; Oct. 13.

ACCELERATED ROUTE TO THE EAST.—It is said to be the intention of the Egyptian Government to carry the railway from Suez along the African shore of the Red Sea, as far as a point closely adjoining Cape Guardafui, which would be within a short steaming distance of Aden. The coast is said to be a dead sandy level nearly the whole distance, offering no impediments whatever to the laying down of rails, of which the work would almost entirely consist, and as any amount of forced labour could be brought to bear upon the undertaking by the Pacha, it would not take long to complete. When this project is carried out, the overland journey will be shortened by five days; the dangers of the Red Sea navigation will be avoided; passengers will escape the worst part of the voyage, and the Peninsular and Oriental Company will save the great cost entailed by the present necessity for keeping up a coal depot at Suez.

COUNTRY AGENTS:—
Edinburgh, W. Blackwood and Sons.
Dublin, Hodges and Smith.
Brighton, C. Booty.

Communications for the Editor, and Advertisements, should be sent under cover to Messrs. WM. H. ALLEN & Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

* * Should any delay or irregularity occur in supplying this Paper, communication of the fact to the Publisher will insure a remedy.

ALLEN'S INDIAN MAIL,

SATURDAY, November 3, 1860.

"MAKING A LAW UNTO THEMSELVES."

ANOTHER striking illustration has quite recently been furnished of the absence of any definite system of law procedure in the province of Oude. Rather more than a fortnight after the conclusion of the late libel case in Lucknow, criminal proceedings were instituted against the defendant's three principal native witnesses, on the charge of having committed corrupt and wilful perjury in giving their evidence against Ramdial. Mr. Pearson, Magistrate of Cawnpore, was specially deputed to act as judge, while the prosecution was intrusted to Mr. King, Secretary to the Chief Commissioner; Mr. Spiers, an attorney, conducting the defence. One of the accused having confessed that he had been suborned by Unjore Tewarry to bear false witness against Ramdial, his depositions were laid before the Court, and were proved to have been voluntarily made, without either reward or punishment having been held out to him as an inducement. Thus far it was all plain sailing, but the rest of the day was taken up by a discussion that will appear so strange and incredible to persons acquainted only with the administration of law in this country that we feel it our duty to bring it prominently before the notice of the British public.

Mr. Spiers's first objection to the informality of the indictment, in that no prosecutor was mentioned therein, was over-ruled by the Court, on the ground that it was set forth in the calendar. It was then asked if Mr. E. G. Fraser, the judge who tried the libel case out of which the present proceedings arose, was legally qualified to administer an oath—because, otherwise, in the eye of the law no perjury could have been committed. The Court was of opinion that the proof of his qualification to do so existed in the fact of his appointment as Civil Judge, but could not say whether judges were compelled to take the oath in non-regulation provinces. The conductor of the prosecution explained that it was not customary to administer the oath to a judge in the province of Oude, but did not state why a greater compliment should be paid to the integrity of a non-regulation Judge than to any other. Mr. Spiers then argued that Mr. Fraser, as a Civil Judge, was not competent to institute criminal proceedings which arose out of a civil suit that was no longer pending, and quoted from "Beaumont's Criminal Law" to show that when a civil suit has once been closed there is no power to re-open it for the purpose of preferring an indictment for perjury. The judge, however, doubted if that rule held good in Oude, because the only guide that non-regulation Courts professed to follow was the attainment of justice without too nice regard to legal technicalities, but the plea might be recorded. Now, Mr. Pearson's remark is at first sight plausible enough. It doubtless sounds well to talk of emancipating justice from the thralldom of precedents and formalities, but long experience has established not only the advantage, but the positive necessity of submitting to certain rules and usages, in order to avoid surprises, conceits of law, uncertainties of temper, and a thousand other inconveniences. If all magistrates were equally wise, impartial, even-minded, and sagacious, there would, of course, be little or no necessity for a written law: but taking human infirmity into account, it becomes a matter of congratulation that with respect to the ordinary events and relations of life the law is clear and explicit, and as binding upon the judge as upon the accusers or the accused. The judge, in fact, in all well-regulated communities is but the exponent, the mouthpiece, the dispenser of the law as he finds it laid down through the united wisdom of the representatives of the people. His duty is simply to watch the scales of justice, and, as it were, to read off the degree to which either balance inclines. Such is evidently not the case in non-regulation provinces, and Mr. Pearson admitted that it appeared to be their "peculiar advantage or disadvantage to have no definite law to go by." He also acknowledged with praiseworthy candour that Mr. Spiers's objection would have been fatal in a regulation province, but he did not think it was tenable in Oude. It then transpired that Mr. Fraser had tried the libel case by special orders, and Mr. Spiers insisted that he had been instructed to proceed under the regulations, with which alone his past antecedents had made him acquainted. The consequence, however, was that he had cooked up a mess of law to suit his own palate, deriving his "stock" from the Regulations, and a few mild ingredients from English law, but his high seasoning from the Punjab Code. The most extraordinary statement on the subject was that made by Mr. King, in answer to an exclamation from the defendant's attorney, to the effect that "surely there must be some law in Oude to go by." To this it was replied, that "each Court in Oude was cognisant of its own power, though perhaps not cognisant of the power of any other." What a chance medley of decisions must thence result! What a patchwork of judicial nonsense! What a caricature of law—what a carnival costume for Justice! But the prosecutor, an amateur lawyer for the occasion, was no match in astuteness for the trained practitioner. His startling admission was at once pounced upon by Mr. Spiers, and led to the awkward inquiry, "If the Courts had some special guide of which they were cognisant, what power had the Commissioner to issue an order at variance with such guide?" Mr. King saw his blunder, but it was too late, and he could only falter out something about never having mentioned Mr. Wingfield's name, and then recovering himself, he added, that, "as a matter of fact, the order was given to Mr. Fraser to take up the case." The Court was again puzzled between regulation law and non-regulation caprice, and confessed that, under the former, the trial could not go on. Mr. King, however, now drew upon his imagination, and thought that perhaps there might have been parallel cases to justify the re-opening of a civil case in order to institute criminal proceedings, only they "had not been brought forward." This was too much for Mr. Pearson, who was manifestly bent upon doing his duty as a man of sense and honour, as well as, pro hac vice, a non-regulation judge. He accordingly expressed his opinion that the passage quoted by Mr. Spiers was the latest case in point, and that it was supported by the apparent concurrence of the two Courts; whereupon Mr. King doubted if their ruling was any guide for courts in Oude. "There was, in fact, no law on this matter binding on the judges in this province." Mr. Pearson could only repeat that Mr. Spiers had correctly stated the case. Judgment in the civil suit had been given on the 13th August, while the proceedings in the present case bore date 30th August and 4th September. "That would be a strong point in regulation provinces." Mr. Spiers next asked by what course of procedure the Court intended to be guided—an inquiry that appeared to Mr. King quite irrelevant; it was a point that could be settled hereafter—after the close of the trial, we presume. Neither could he be brought to understand that the objections hitherto made were preliminary, until the Court decided that it certainly was a preliminary objection which Mr. Spiers had urged against the legality of the proceedings, though not what he had said touching Mr. Fraser's competency to administer an oath. The prisoners should undoubtedly have been committed at once by the Civil Judge, when he considered them guilty of perjury; and it was questionable if he were justified, after the delay that had occurred, in commencing proceedings of a quasi-magisterial nature. Mr. King was under the conviction that such was the rule in Oude, but omitted to quote any cases in support of his opinion, and Mr. Spiers drily remarked that the only rule in Oude seemed to be sic volo, sic jubeo. His clients had a clear action against the Civil Judge, by whose orders they had illegally been deprived of their liberty, and he subsequently stated that he had been instructed to retain counsel to bring an indictment for perjury and subornation of evidence against certain Government officials who were to give evidence in that Court, and that Messrs. Carnegie, Berkeley, Lang, Bickers, and others, were to be proceeded against in the Supreme Court at Calcutta. This unfortunate scandal will therefore yet find employment for gentlemen of the long robe, and incalculable mischief will be done to the character of our Courts in India, of the magistrates who preside over them, and indeed of the whole machinery of our Indian administration. But to return to the "preliminary" discussion:—Mr. Spiers insisted that before his clients were brought to trial, he was entitled to ascertain under what law they were to be tried. The Judge himself was "doubtful what laws did really apply here," and appeared to be little reassured by Mr. King's assertion that "no informality would here vitiate proceedings that were carried on bonâ fide." Finally, the Court was adjourned till the following day, Mr. Pearson reserving the doubtful point. But, in fact, the whole case is beset with difficulties, as every case will be until the law is administered by men who understand the law. It is idle to talk of justice under a system that varies in the hands of each individual magistrate—all the magistrates, however, tacitly agreeing to support one another, as if esprit de corps were superior to the esprit des lois. Unjore Tewarry may very possibly have committed perjury—for a spy is not usually the most honourable of men—but the question of his guilt or innocence is altogether immaterial in comparison with the just and impartial dispensation of justice. Without law, however, there can be no justice, and in Oude there seems to be neither justice nor law, nor will there be until a radical change is introduced, and men are expected to be qualified for the duties they are called upon to discharge.

THE GOVERNING CLASSES OF INDIA. No. II.—EARL CANNING.

Few men have been more prominently before the public than Lord Canning, and fewer have been so persistently misunderstood. When he quitted England he was considered a painstaking, somewhat feeble official, fairly accomplished, and likely to prove before all things a "safe" Governor-general. He is now, after five years of strife, sometimes unsuccessful, believed to be a statesman, the calmest, firmest, most sagacious of Pro-consuls. In India he was received as a Governor-general likely to advance progress, to reduce expenditure, to foster education, to promote civilisation, and generally, after a hesitating fashion, to follow in the path of Lord William Bentinck. He is now regarded as a kind of evil imbecile, without power or purpose, shortsighted and obstinate, hostile to Europeans, and the slave of an official and detested faction.

It is difficult to say which of these four estimates of his character is least in accordance with the fact. The key to that character, simple enough in itself, though inconsistent in its action, is to be found in an apparent truism. Lord Canning is what he is because he is his father's son. We do not mean that he owes his position to his birth and name. Of course official doors opened to the son of a Premier, and of a man who with all his faults was loved by many party chiefs, sooner than to the son of a clever barrister or physician. It is known also that the relationship determined his selection as Lord Dalhousie's successor, and the consequent support accorded him in Parliament by the present Dictator. But Lord Canning would have received this aid had he been a totally different character, and it is not in this sense that we speak of the influence of his descent on his career. From his earliest boyhood the notion that he, as son of a statesman, ought himself to be fit for statesmanship has been present to Lord Canning. The enterprise was not so easy as many Radicals may be inclined to assume. With some powerful party connections he was not of the class to which power descends by inheritance, nor had he the advantages which in England so frequently lead to office. He was not of historic descent, like one or two recent Under-Secretaries, nor did he own a city, like Sir John Ramsden, nor had he Sutherland-house at his back, like the Duke of Argyll. His position gave him a chance of a fair start, but very little more. Moreover, he had some personal disqualifications. As he inherits his father's handsome face and port, impaired by a writhing lip almost painful to the observer, so he inherits his father's mind, impaired by the absence of some of its finest qualities. There is the same love of intrigue, the same keen appreciation of scholarship, the same habit of taking views so expansive as to be almost without practical weight. Canning would have delighted in the order annihilating property in Oude. Lord Canning would have been the very man to redress the balance of Europe by recognising a dozen half-caste republics in America. But Lord Canning lacks, unfortunately for India, the original qualities of his father's mind. There is a total absence of imagination in his intellect, and with it of the qualities it produces, farsightedness, sympathy and readiness of resource. There is also a lack of some innate qualities—firmness, magnanimity, and independence of opinion. These latter, however, were to be supplied. Lord Canning, living among politicians, discerned with the strange receptiveness of which we may have hereafter to speak, precisely where his own unfitness lay. A statesman to be safe must be unprejudiced, and some strong convictions were laid aside. A statesman must be indifferent to immediate pressure, and a mind morbid in its sensitiveness was trained to disregard opinion, calumny, and praise. A statesman must be superior to personal feeling, and Lord Canning, too brave not to have a bit of the gladiator in his composition, trained himself to magnanimity. Statesmen in England must work, and one of the most indolent of mankind became indefatigable in the examination of detail. The process had been continued for years, and Lord Canning landed in India a statesman, made as it were to order, by a course of self-discipline almost without a parallel in intellectual history. Unfortunately, imagination and the faculties which spring of it—foresight and creative power—cannot be acquired by any effort, however long continued.

From the day of his arrival in India Lord Canning's career has been a contest between the natural and the acquired qualities of his mind, the acquired qualities winning the game whenever the stake has been large enough to bring the whole power of his training into play. Usually vacillating in trifles, and whenever speedy decision is required, he has on great questions shown a resolution which amounts to obstinacy. Whether sparing the 19th, or providing for the events at Benares, or settling the personal disputes of a station, Lord Canning was in little matters always vacillating and feeble. But no man has seen him swerve from the immutable resolve to hold the scales between Native and European. His foreign policy, which requires no haste, is the admiration of his bitterest opponents for its firmness and dignity. Similarly in a freak of pettishness he suppressed the Hurkaru for publishing a sneering pasquinade. Yet he resisted all advice to place the Press under permanent restrictions. He tried to dismiss the author of the Red Pamphlet for his bitter but clever diatribe. Yet he has repeatedly raised his personal enemies to high posts under his government—posts, too, in which their power to annoy himself was indefinitely increased. It is this perpetual conflict between his real and acquired nature which has produced his extreme unpopularity. Men judge ordinarily by the little acts of which they can see all the bearings and meaning. European and Native alike find Lord Canning small, pettish, and vacillating in all minor affairs, and cannot comprehend that on great questions the Governor-general acts on a different set of principles from those which regulate his daily life. They expect him to be always breaking down. This misapprehension affects in a peculiar degree the European question. There is no doubt whatever that the Governor-general utterly dislikes the colonists. Cool, accomplished, and indifferent, the polished Peer simply detests the turbulent, energetic race who are always screaming about rights, or appealing to Parliament, or demanding new precautions, or criticising financial orders, or, in short, making the hubbub pushing Anglo-Saxons always do make. Fifty snappish orders, proclamations, replies, speeches, and snubs can be quoted against the Governor-general. Yet it is no matter for doubt that Lord Canning accepted the "Norman and Saxon law;" that he struck the "Black" clause out of the Penal Code; that he has armed all Englishmen as volunteers; that he stood alone with Mr. Wilson in protecting the planters; that he has not the slightest intention of allowing the civilians to drive out European farmers by a jacquerie. It is the small outbreaks, not the apparent policy by which men judge—and so judged Lord Canning will never be tolerable to Anglo-Indians.

We have described a character which, if far from originally great, has acquired some of the qualities which constitute greatness. We have to dwell on the one defect which has made Lord Canning, if not the most unsuccessful, at least the most unlucky of Governors-general. He is totally devoid of imagination, can neither foresee a danger, initiate a plan, nor sympathise with any feeling he does not himself experience. It is well known that he could not believe the English people would support Lord Palmerston's Chinese policy, and refused Sir J. Bowring adequate aid in consequence. When the mutinies broke out his solitary proposal was to substitute three regiments of Company's Europeans for six native corps (vide Blue Book, No. I.). Every successive emeute took him utterly by surprise. He thanked the Second as they planned to murder their officers; he thanked the Sixth an hour before they executed the massacre. He declared there was no danger at Dinapore; and utterly repudiated difficulty in Calcutta. In Dinapore the mutiny occurred. In Calcutta the presence of 40,000 armed Hindostanees was officially reported. He could not comprehend that at such a time Europeans were passionately indignant at the mere suggestion of disloyalty, so he ordered even military officers to swear that they had not helped to excite the mutiny. He could not sympathise with the sudden outburst of Puritan feeling, so he sneered at all purely Christian movements. He did not, we firmly believe, mean any insult in any one case. He never compelled the taking of the oath by Europeans, though he had ordered it himself. He never interfered with the missionaries, though he called them prejudiced. He simply could not understand them, and from that failure to understand became hated to a degree men in England cannot even comprehend. The same incapacity was at the bottom of the European mutiny. Lord Canning had no conceivable interest in insulting his own soldiery; yet he issued the order which drove the men frantic, turning them over from one service to another like cattle. Ten thousand men were thrown into mutiny for want of a few generous words, and this by a man whose pen is almost unmatchable. When the mischief was done he still could not comprehend the hunger for Europe which had seized the soldiery, and expected that the order proffering discharge would be rejected by all but a few ringleaders. Ten thousand men accepted it, and his only feeling was, "Est-il possible?"

Exactly the same mental want produces the dilatoriness and feebleness of plan usually shown whenever Lord Canning is left to his own action. He has to resolve, but to resolve he must overcome his natural vacillation, and that takes weeks. Reinforcements were asked from England a month too late. The Six Acts were three months in concoction. The services of the Nepaulese were twice refused. The reinforcements for Lucknow were delayed till nothing but genius like that of Havelock could have saved the town. No single order ever reached Delhi from Calcutta till it fell. The right thing when suggested by other men was always done, but the effort to resolve made it usually too late. In cases where none but himself could act, Lord Canning never devised a plan. No attempt was made by him to reorganise the army. The new police was organised by other men. Delhi was taken by Sir J. Lawrence. No plan of reorganisation for the North-West was attempted by the Governor-general. The Volunteer system was copied from Europe. The Act which saved the Indigo cultivation was drawn up by Mr. Wilson. The new taxes were his and Mr. Harington's. The new Code of Police Law was suggested by Major Rattray. The new Relief Law, the greatest of recent civil reforms, was suggested by the Missionaries, digested by the Secretary to the Legislative Council, and made a working instrument by Mr. Currie. In short, throughout his reign, Lord Canning, the polished, highly-trained man of the world, has proved himself unable to foresee a difficulty or prepare a plan. With those two disqualifications, he is, when his natural temperament has no play, a fair Governor-general.

EAST INDIAN RAILWAY.

The directors of this Company, in their half yearly report, congratulate the shareholders on the satisfactory prospect of completing the line to Delhi. Should the views entertained by Messrs. Turnbull and Sibley, the engineers, be realised, the construction of 1,130 miles of railway would be completed in a shorter space of time than had been anticipated, and in a manner reflecting the highest credit upon the executive officers of the Company. The surveys of the Jubbulpore line had been completed under the able superintendence of Mr. Lemesurier, chief engineer. The line would start from Allahabad, and, taking a south-westerly direction, would join the Great Indian Peninsular system at Jubbulpore, thus forming a complete line of communication between Bombay, the North-Western Provinces, and Calcutta. The total length of this line would be about 223 miles. The Government of India not having replied to the reference made by the Secretary of State for India as to the further capital necessary to complete the works on the main line to Delhi, and, in the meantime, funds being required for their due prosecution, the Board, since they last met the shareholders, had exercised their borrowing powers (limited to £3,000,000) to the extent of one-half of that sum, which they had recently raised on debentures not convertible into stock. The Board were still without the means of giving the proprietors accurate information as to the additional capital required. The cost of the line might be expected to exceed by about £2,700,000 the sum of £17,000,000, anticipated last year.

The line to Rajmahal was advertised to be opened to the public on the 15th instant for the entire distance between Calcutta and Rajmahal, 203 miles. The first train ran through on the 4th of July, and the interval had been employed in putting the line into efficient order for public traffic.

The permanent way and works continued in efficient working order, and had been maintained during the past half-year at a cost of 5½d. per train mile, the cost for the preceding half-year being, under exceptional circumstances, 7d. per train mile. The working expenses were 44.68 per cent. during the half-year. The number of passengers carried during the last half-year was 810,306, of whom 9,121 were 1st class, and 31,322 second class, the remaining 766,863 being third class. The amount for the carriage of the permanent way materials in the last half-year was about 8 per cent. The gross traffic receipts for the half-year ended the 30th of June amounted to £122,942, and the expenses to £54,925, leaving a balance of £68,016. The gross traffic receipts on the Cawnpore line for the half year ended the 30th of June last were £43,164, and the expenses £21,150, leaving £22,014. The company have now 249 miles at work in Bengal, and 126 open in the North-West Provinces, making 375 miles.

GREAT INDIAN PENINSULAR RAILWAY.

The directors of this company state in their report that satisfactory progress in the prosecution of the company's enterprise was effected during the half-year ending the 30th of June last. At the beginning of the half-year 245 miles of railway were open for traffic. This length of line was increased in the course of the half-year to 297½ miles by the opening of the following sections, viz.:—On the 2nd of January, 1860, Barseer-road to Mohol, 28½ miles; on the 2nd of February, 1860, Wassind to Shapoor, 3½ miles; and on the 6th of June, 1860, Mohol to Sholapore, 20½ miles; total, 52½ miles. Of the 297½ miles of railway open, 92½ miles are in the Concan, and 205½ in the Deccan. The Deccan portion is entirely on the Southern line, and is separated from the Concan portion by the break at the Bhore Ghat, across which steep ascent of eight miles the whole of the traffic has to be transported by carts and pack bullocks. By the revenue statement it will be seen that in the half-year the company realised from all sources of traffic the sum of £101,250, by an expenditure of £60,091, which leaves the sum of £41,159 at the credit of net revenue account. This sum, added to the previous net earnings, raises the amount which the company have to place against the advances made by Government as interest upon paid-up capital to £256,160. The amount of those advances to the 30th of June, 1860, was £1,034,431. On comparing the receipts, on an average of 279 miles, during the past half-year, with those on an average of 194½ miles in the corresponding half of 1859, it appears that the receipts for passengers amounted to £40,041, against £32,369; for merchandise £53,352, against £48,607; total receipts, £101,250, against £87,607. The average receipts per mile were £363, against £450. The total expenditure was £60,091, against £39,091, or £215 per mile, against £201 per mile; and the net profit £41,159, or £148 per mile, against £48,515, or £249 per mile in the corresponding period of 1859. The receipts from the carriage of permanent way materials were 9 per cent. of the gross receipts, against 21½ per cent. in the corresponding half of 1859. The last opening of 20½ miles was made in the final month of the half-year, after the close of the trading season. The traffic of the last half-year was also affected very injuriously by the severe visitations of cholera throughout the territory served by the railway; and, owing to the depressed condition of the Bombay cotton market, the traffic in the article of cotton fell off very considerably towards the end of the half-year, the merchants in Barsee and other places preferring to store their cotton rather than to send it down to Bombay for shipment. Considering these points, and bearing in mind the very peculiar position of the opened lines in being separated into two sections by the long break at the Bhore Ghat, the directors regard the traffic already obtained for the railway as highly encouraging. The permanent way, works, and stations of the open line have been maintained in good order during the half-year, at a cost of 6½d. per train mile. The rolling stock has also been thoroughly upheld, and was at the end of the half-year in a highly efficient state. The number of miles of railway in process of construction at the end of the half-year was 512. Upon the Bhore Ghat incline the chief resident engineer expresses his entire satisfaction with the results of the operations, notwithstanding the extraordinary and adverse circumstances which have retarded their progress. These have been the unfortunate death, in November, of Mr. Solomon Tredwell, the contractor, and two outbreaks of cholera among the people employed upon the works—the first in January along the lower seven miles of the incline, when the labourers speedily dispersed, so that the number of hands was reduced in a fortnight from 10,000 to only 1,000; and the next in April, over the whole length of the incline, at which time several European agents and inspectors were cut off by the disease. These were serious causes of interruption, but the directors hope they will occasion no delay in the completion of this important work. Upon the 22½ miles of the north-east division of the Concan line from Shapore to Kassarah, at the foot of the Thull Ghat incline, the works were, at the date of the chief resident engineer's report, finished, with the exception of a few cuttings through basalt of the hardest description. That portion of the railway is to be completed in December next. It is also expected that at the same date 32 miles of the line from Egutpoora, at the summit of the Thull Ghat incline to Nassick, will be opened, and that a further section of 61 miles from Nassick to Nandgaon will be completed in the course of next spring. Satisfactory progress is being made on the other less advanced portions of the railway under construction, with the exception of those comprised in Messrs. Duckett and Stead's contracts, in respect to which the board are taking active measures for the protection of the company's interests. The total receipts on capital account from the beginning of operations to the 30th June last have amounted to £6,016,304, and the total expenditure to £5,481,342, leaving an available balance of £534,962. The company have been able, without pressing upon the money-market up to the present time, to borrow on debentures, which are not convertible into stock, £110,700, in addition to the sum of £333,300, which had been received previously to the 30th June. Proposals for loans continue to be received daily.

CEYLON RAILWAY.

The report of the directors of this Company states that the result of the proceedings at the extraordinary general meeting of the 23rd of July last had been communicated to the Secretary of State for the Colonies, and by him forwarded to Ceylon. Mr. Hawkshaw's report had been received in Ceylon, and presented to the Legislative Council by the Lieutenant-Governor, with an intimation that no action would be taken upon it until the arrival of the new Governor, Sir C. McCarthy, who, before his departure from this country, it was understood, had made himself completely master of the subject, and would not doubt be prepared to deal with it impartially in the interests of the colony and the Company. It would, in all probability, be the end of the year before the views of the Ceylon Government could be ascertained, when they would be communicated to the proprietors. In consequence of the uncertainty attending the future proceedings of the Company, the operations of the past year had necessarily been limited. By last advices from Ceylon, the directors were informed that, with the concurrence of the Government, all the works, except those on the Lake road, had been stopped; that considerable reductions in the police and medical establishments had been effected, and that the staff were employed on surveys. At the last audit the Ceylon accounts could not be passed, owing to the absence of vouchers; and, at the repeated representations of the directors, the local Government had consented to audit the accounts on the spot from the beginning. The Auditor-General was engaged upon them, and the directors had hoped to present them to the meeting officially verified; but at the date of the last advices the accounts for 1859 only were then under investigation.

Mr. G. L. Molesworth, the acting chief resident engineer, stated in his report that he had agreed with the Government controlling engineer to continue the works during the past year with a force of only about 1,500 men. During the spring he had applied to Government to increase that number, in order that those works might be executed during the dry season which lay in districts flooded during the greater part of the year. The quantity of earthwork done during the year amounted to 295,173 cubic yards, the cost varying from 11½d. per cubic yard in high embankments formed from side cutting, where the lead had been long and the baling of surface water expensive, to 3½d. per cubic yard where the cost of each cubic yard had been divided by embankment having been formed from cutting by means of earth-waggons. The earthworks from Colombo to Gallibitiava, 13½ miles from Colombo, were far advanced, and the worst portions of the flooded district had been successfully crossed. The amount of work done in surveys during the year was—48 miles of traverse surveys, 57 miles of sections, 7½ miles of line set out permanently, 43 miles of estimates, and 942 cross sections. The capital account to the 30th of June showed that £294,221 had been received in London, and £208,377 expended, leaving a balance unexpended of £194,844.

SHIPPING.

ARRIVALS.

Oct. 19. Pilgrim, Hutton, Penang.—20. Goleonda, Montgomery, Penang.—22. Launceston, Crisp, Munsorecottah and Maurilius; Julian, Stern, Batavia.—24. George Caning, Sim, Madras and Coast.—25. Imperador (steamer), Grindle, Aden and Cape.—26. Julia, Carter, Foo-chow-foo.—29. Mercedes, Loff, Hong Kong; Mornington, Dyer, Bombay; Ethereal, Jarman, Manila; Sarah Black, Runciman, Alcoa Bay; City of Glasgow, Carnaghan, Calcutta; Chrysolite, McClelland, Foo-chow-foo.—Nov. 1. Ellenborough, Woodcock, Calcutta.

The Windsor Castle (s.), Walker, from Greenock to Calcutta, went ashore on the Island of Sanda about the 29th Oct., and is expected to become a wreck.

PASSENGERS DEPARTED.

Per str. Delta, from SOUTHAMPTON, Oct. 27, to proceed per str. Emu, from SUZ. For MALTA.—Miss Haydon, Miss Bethell, Mrs. and Miss Hearn, Miss Muller. For ALEXANDRIA.—Mr. T. S. Saunders and daughter, Mr. P. Candy, For SUZ.—Mr. Martin, Captain Baker, Mr. Mullens, Mr. Forester. For BOMBAY.—Mr. St. Aubyn, Mrs. and Miss Hadaway, Mrs. Keating, Mrs. Tate and infant, Mrs. Selby, Mr. St. G. Muter, Miss Meicklejohn, Mr. J. Crawford, Mr. L. Heaton, Mrs. Hewett and infant, Lieut. and Mrs. Sibthorpe, Com. Worsley, Mr. C. P. Izon, Mr. C. F. Moore, Mr. P. Le Coutern, Mr. C. H. Baker, Mr. Stevens, Mr. W. Graham, Col. and Mrs. Maughan, Col. and Mrs. James, Miss Good, Mrs. Henderson, Capt. Heycock, Mr. P. Nicholl, Lieut. R. Burd, Mr. T. Bowling, Mr. F. Robson, Cornet Stevenson, Ens. Rolfe, Mr. Fuller, Mr. Cook, Capt. and Mrs. Wakefield, Mr. Baker, Asst. surg. Fuller, Mr. Britton, Mr. Bourdman, Mr. Anderson, Mr. Ferrer, Mr. Clarke, Mr. Moore. For SHANGHAI.—Mr. J. Bradwell, Mr. Bloor, Mr. J. Maitland, Mr. W. Pearson.

Per str. Massilia, from MARSEILLES, Nov. 5, to proceed per str. Emu, from SUZ. For BOMBAY.—Capt. and Mrs. Handyside, Mr. A. B. Bogle, Mr. W. Wedderburn, Mr. Walton, Capt. D. Compton, Col. de Salis, Mr. and Mrs. A. Rimington, Lieut. Hobson, Mr. Labary, Mr. H. Reeves, Mr. Pearson, Capt. Curtis, Mons da Silva, Lieut. Macquoid. For ALEXANDRIA.—Mr. Joad, Hon. Mr. Leigh and two friends, Mr. and Mrs. Gales, two sisters, and son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. Brooke, Mr. and Mrs. Culvert. For SINGAPORE.—Mr. H. Brouse. For MALTA.—Lord Carnarvon, Lord Sandon, Hon. Mrs. W. Colville, Mr. and Mrs. Miles.

DOMESTIC.

BIRTHS.

BARLOW, the wife of G. Nelson, Bengal Civil Service, of a daughter, at Reading, Oct. 19.
CAMPBELL, the wife of Capt. Napier, Madras Horse Artillery, of a son, at Birchwood, Birnam, Perthshire, Oct. 21.
HANKEY, the wife of Jameson A., Bombay Civil Service, of a daughter, Oct. 26.
JONES, the wife of Lieut. J. William, 51st Madras N.I., of a daughter, at 8, Marine-parade, Brighton, Oct. 23.
SHAW, the wife of Charles, Bombay Civil Service, of a son, Oct. 21.
WRIGHT, the wife of Capt. T., Asst. Adj. gen. of Division, Bengal Army, of a son, at St. Helier's, Jersey, Oct. 26.

MARRIAGES.

BEVAN, Rev. D. Barclay, M.A., to Rachel, daughter of the late Josiah Nisbet, Esq., Madras Civil Service, at the parish church, Upper Deal, Oct. 23.
BRADLEY, W. H., M.M.'s Hyderabad Irregular Cavalry, to Lucy, widow of Henry Pearson, Esq., at St. George's, Hanover-square, Oct. 23.
McDOUGALL, Charles E., to Mary G., daughter of Major James Jackson, 14th Madras N.I., at Walcot Church, Bath, Oct. 18.
OUTRAM, Francis B., Bengal Civil Service, son of Lieut. General Sir James Outram, G.C.B., to Jane A., daughter of Patrick Davidson, Esq., at Inchmarlo, Kincardineshire, Oct. 20.
SIBTHORPE, Lester H., H.M.'s 9th Bombay N.I., to Ellen S., daughter of Col. Tripp, late of H.M.'s 98th Regt., at St. John's Church, Ryde, Isle of Wight, Oct. 23.
SMITH, Asst. Surg. Frederick H., H.M.'s Bombay Army, son of Samuel Smith, Esq., late of Calcutta, to Frances H., daughter of the late William H. Hunt, Esq., H.E.I.C.S., at St. Saviour's, Paddington, Oct. 18.

DEATHS.

BINGLEY, Anne, widow of the late T. B., Bengal Horse Artillery, at Kensington, Oct. 20.
BUTTERWORTH, Henry, F.S.A., of Fleet-street, rather suddenly, at his residence, Upper Tooting, Surrey, aged 75, Nov. 2.
COTTELL, Capt. James W., H.M.'s Bombay Army, at 5, Tufnell-park-terrace, Upper Holloway, aged 37, Oct. 18.
DIXON, John A., late of Calcutta, at 9, Wilton-place, Regent's-park, aged 29, Oct. 31.
GRINDLAY, Maria S., wife of Capt. Robert M., at Nice, Oct. 4.
HANDYSIDE, Lieut. Charles E., 5th Bengal Europeans, youngest son of M. Handyside, Esq., w. s., Edinburgh, at Mirzapore, Bengal, Sept. 2.
KIRKLAND, Nugent M., son of Lieut. Nugent, H.M.'s 29th Bombay N.I., at Marohay, Aden, aged 1 year 10 days, Sept. 29.
LLOYD, William, late of the Hon. E.I.C.S., at 6, York-terrace, Queen's-road, Peckham, aged 86, Oct. 27.
SCOTT, Eliza, relict of Major James, of the Bengal Army, at 20, Blomfield-terrace, Harrow-road, Paddington, aged 84, Oct. 25.
SULLIVAN, Catherine, relict of the late Joseph T., surgeon, Bengal Army, at Brighton, Oct. 16.
TAYLOR, Adine E., daughter of K. J., late Bengal Civil Service, at 48, Queen's-gardens, Hyde-park, aged 15 years, Oct. 25.
TICKELL, Major R. S., Bengal Army, of 22, Leinster-gardens, at Brighton, aged 51, Oct. 24.

India Office,

October 27, 1860.

ARRIVALS REPORTED IN ENGLAND.

CIVIL.

Madras Estab.—Mr. A. R. Hutchins.
Bombay Estab.—Mr. J. F. Hore (Uncov.); Mr. H. C. Lecke (Uncov.).

MILITARY.

Bengal Estab.—Capt. E. Close, 32nd N.I.; Capt. J. E. T. Nicolls, Engrs.
Bombay Estab.—Lieut. col. J. B. Woosnam, Art.

NAVAL.

Bombay Estab.—Mr. J. B. Butler, Acting Master.

PERMITTED TO RETURN TO DUTY.

MILITARY.

Bengal Estab.—Capt. H. R. Shelton, 38th N.I.; Capt. G. Strangways, 71st N.I.; Brev. maj. J. W. Sanders, 41st N.I.; Brev. maj. R. P. Anderson, 25th N.I.; Asst. surg. J. Williams, Med. Est.
Madras Estab.—Lieut. F. J. Millar, 33rd N.I.; Capt. G. F. Gosling, 1st Eur. Regt.
Bombay Estab.—Capt. H. G. Robinson, 3rd Eur. Regt.; Capt. J. Jones, Engrs.; Lieut. P. R. Lempriere, Art.; Lieut. C. J. De Lancey, 31st N.I.; Vet. surg. A. J. Foett; Capt. E. S. K. Dawson, 31st N.I.

GRANTED EXTENSION OF LEAVE.

CIVIL.

Bengal Estab.—Mr. J. R. Carnac, 3 mo.
Madras Estab.—Mr. B. Poncefote, 6 mo.

MILITARY.

Bengal Estab.—Lieut. C. E. Farquharson, 3rd Eur. Cav., 3 mo.; Lieut. O. Campbell, Inv. Est., 6 mo.; Brev. Lieut. col. J. L. Vaughan, 21st N.I., 3 mo.; Vet. surg. R. W. Murray, 6 mo.; Lieut. H. B. Wintle, 28th N.I., 6 mo.
Madras Estab.—Ens. W. C. Bagley, 6th N.I., 6 mo.; Asst. surg. J. Miller, Med. Est., 6 mo.; Capt. J. C. Burnett, 4th L.C., 6 mo.
Bombay Estab.—Asst. surg. W. Fleming, Med. Est., 6 mo.; Lieut. G. H. Bonnor, 9th N.I., 6 mo.; Lieut. J. Noding, 4th N.I., 6 mo.; Lieut. M. C. Newall, Art., 6 mo.; Capt. D. F. Fearon, Inv. Est., 6 mo.; Lieut. G. T. Estridge, 24th N.I., 2 mo.

NAVAL.

Bombay Estab.—Mr. G. L. Bonham, Mate, 6 mo.; Comdr. B. Hamilton, 3 mo.; Mr. G. B. Hewett, Mate, 6 mo.

INDIA EXCHANGES.

BILLS.	Bank and Commercial Bills, at 60 days' sight, per Co.'s Rpe.	Indian Govt. Bills, at 60 days' sight, per Co.'s Rpe.	Total for each Mail to Three Presidencies.
Bengal...	2s. 3d. 1s. 11½d.	2s. 2d.	£. s. d.
Madras...	2s. 1s. 11½d.	2s. 2d.	— — —
Bombay...	2s. 1s. 11½d.	2s. 2½d.	— — —

Bank of Bengal Post Bills and Indian Government Interest Bills on Calcutta, 2s.

STOCKS AND SECURITIES.

Shares.		Paid.	Prices.
£.	India Stock		220½
	India Stock (5 per ct.), 1859		102½ to 103½
	India Enfac'd Paper 4 pr. ct.		80½
	India 5 p. ct. Enfac'd Paper, 5½ per cent.		96 to 96½
	India Loan Debentures, 1858		102½
	India Debentures, 1859		96½
	India Enfac'd Paper, 4 per ct.		83½
	India 5 per cent. for account...		103½
	India Bonds (£1,000)		8s. dis.
	Ditto (under £1,000)		1 dis. to par.
	RAILWAYS.
Stock	Bombay, Baroda, and Central India (guar. 5 per ct.)	100	93½ to 94
18	Ditto Additional Capital, A
18	Ditto B	16	1½ to 1½ dis.
5	Calcutta & S. Eastern (lim.)	1.3	4 dis. ½ pm.
20	Ceylon (guar. 6 per cent.)	7½	1½ to 1½ dis.
20	Eastern Bengal (gu. 5 p. ct.)	10	1½ to 1½ dis.
Stock	East Indian	100	99½ to 100½
100	Ditto 4½ p. ct. debents.	all	98 to 99
20	Ditto F Ext.	all	4 dis. par.
Stock	Ditto 5 per ct. deb. 1864	a'l	101 to 102
100	Ditto 1865-70	75	4 dis. par.
20	Jubbulpore	all	4 dis. par.
Stock	Great Indian Peninsula (guar. 5 per ct.)	100	96½ to 96½
20	Ditto (New ditto)	8	1½ to 1½ dis.
20	Great S. of India (Lim.) Scrip (guar. 5 per ct.)	13	2½ to 1½ dis.
Stock	Madras (guar. 4½ per ct.)	100	84 to 85½
Stock	Ditto 5 per cent.	100	93½ to 94½
Stock	Ditto Extension (guar. 4½ per cent.)	100	87 to 88
20	Ditto 4th Extension (guar. 5 per cent.)	15	2 to 1½ dis.
20	Ottoman Rail. (guar. 6 p. ct.)	7	all
Stock	Scinde 5 per cent.	all	98 to 99
20	Ditto (New)	16	all
Stock	Ditto Indus Steam Flotilla (guar. 5 per ct.)	all	93 to 94
20	Punjab (5 per ct.)	7	2 to 1½ dis.
	BANKS.
100	Agra and United Service lim.	50	79 to 81
40	Australasia	all	62 to 64
25	Bank of Egypt	all	18½ to 19½
20	Chart. of Ind., Aus., & China	all	20½ to 21½
25	Chart. Merc. of India, Lond., and China	all	33 to 35
25	Oriental Bank Corporation	all	all
20	Ottoman Bank	all	17 to 18
	MISCELLANEOUS.
20	Madras Irrig. and Canal	1	1½ to 2 pm.
10	Mediterran. Ext. Tel. (Lim.)	all	2 to 4
2½	Nerbudda Coal and Iron	5	3 to 2 dis.
1	N. B. Australasian Company	all	4 to 1½
1	Oriental Gas	all	4 to 1
	Ditto New	16s.	4 dis. to par.
10	Oriental Inland Steam A.	6	all
50	P. and O. Steam Nav. Co.	all	74 to 76
50	Ditto New	25	77 to 79
20	Red Sea and Ind. Telegraph	17½	17½ to 17½
1	Submarine Telegraph Scrip	all	4 to 1
1	Ditto Registered	all	4 to 1

APPOINTMENT.—(India office, Oct. 20.)—The Queen has been graciously pleased to appoint Samuel Laing, Esq., to be the Fourth Ordinary Member of the Council of the Governor-general of India.

LANGUAGES OF INDIA.—SANSKRIT.

PROFESSOR GOLDSTUCKER will commence his LECTURES on SATURDAY NEXT, 20th OCTOBER, at Half-past One o'clock. Gentlemen who wish to attend either of his courses are requested to apply for information at the Office of University College between Ten and Four o'clock.

HINDU STAFF.—The Class of Professor ABDULLAH will meet on Mondays and Thursdays from Seven to Nine p.m. Particulars respecting instruction in ARABIC and PERSIAN by Professor RIEU; in TAMIL by Professor BARON VON STRENG; and in GUJARATI, under the direction of Professor DADABHAI NAORJI, may be learnt on application at the Office of the College.

RICHD. POTTER, A.M.,
Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Laws.
CHAS. C. ATKINSON,
Secretary to the Council.

University College, London, Oct. 18, 1860.

A LADY living at the West-end of London wishes to RECEIVE into her Family TWO YOUNG LADIES, from 12 to 15 years of age, to be educated by her Daughters, who have resided in France, Italy, and Germany, and are able to instruct in the Languages and Literature of those countries; as well as in English, Music, and Landscape Painting. Terms, 150 Guineas per annum each. Address "HILDA," at Mr. CALDER'S Library, 1, Bathurst-street, Hyde-park Gardens, W.

SUPERIOR EDUCATION for the DAUGHTERS of GENTLEMEN in a FIRST-CLASS ESTABLISHMENT, West of London. Inclusive Terms, from Sixty to Ninety Guineas per annum. The system adopted combines the most approved features of the Colleges, with the discipline of the School. Professors of eminence attend for all the higher branches of English Instruction, all Accomplishments, and Foreign Languages. A French Governess is resident. References to Clergymen and others. Situation and Residence unexceptionable.

Address ALPHA, Messrs. LEADER and COCK'S, 63, New Bond-street, London.

EDUCATION.—A LADY, the wife of an Officer, educating her Daughter at home, wishes to RECEIVE TWO or THREE YOUNG LADIES to study with her. They will enjoy every comfort and attention, with the advantage of a first-class education. A Resident foreign governess. The highest references in England and India. Address, "India," Stansby's Post-office, 179, Sloane-street, Knightsbridge, London.

A LADY, residing in the healthiest part of Kensington, is desirous of RECEIVING into her family a LITTLE GIRL, to be Educated with her own daughter, aged seven years. A happy home and careful training can be confidently promised to children whose parents are in India or elsewhere.

Address DELTA, care of the Rev. A. W. MASON, Moulsham Parsonage, Chelmsford.

TO PARENTS IN INDIA.—A RETIRED OFFICER of the Army and his Wife, residing fifty miles from London, are desirous of RECEIVING ONE or TWO CHILDREN into their family. Parental care, strict moral training, and a good Education may be relied on. The best references will be given and required. Terms, to include every expense, from £75 to £160 per annum. Address A. Y. Z., Bedford, England.

MILITARY AND NAVAL EDUCATION.—A MARRIED CLERGYMAN, resident at Brighton, RECEIVES a limited number of PUPILS, between the ages of Twelve and Fifteen, who may be destined for the Military and Naval Professions. With a view to this ultimate object, the entire course of Study, from the outset, is regulated expressly in conformity with the requirements of the Examinations at Addiscombe, Sandhurst, Woolwich, and Portsmouth; and every care is taken to direct special attention to those subjects likely to prove professionally useful in the future career of the Naval or Military officer. The Pupils are examined periodically in Mathematics by Professor J. R. YOUNG, formerly of Belfast College, and Author of "A Course of Mathematics, Pure and Mixed, for the Use of Candidates for the Military and Civil Service Examinations," &c.; and also in Classics and Modern Languages by Scholars of repute. Prospective pupils may be had of Messrs. ALLEN and CO., 7, Leadenhall-street, London.

ADDISCOMBE DIRECT APPOINTMENTS, and WOOLWICH.
The Rev. C. J. HUGHES, M.A., who has Prepared nearly TWO HUNDRED PUPILS for the above, occasionally has VACANCIES.
Adelaide Lodge, 61, Finchley Road, St. John's Wood, N.W.

HINDOOSTANI AND PERSIAN.

LESSONS in the above LANGUAGES are given by an INDIAN GENTLEMAN of Twenty Years' Experience as Professor, Interpreter, and Translator; who has obtained Certificates of degrees of honour and high proficiency from the Examiners of the College of Fort William. He possesses the most satisfactory testimonials, and can give unexceptionable references.

Address, "ALTY," care of Messrs. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street, London, E.C.

SALE'S KORAN.

New edition, 8vo, cloth, 7s. 6d.

THE KORAN, commonly called the ALCORAN of MOHAMMED, with Explanatory Notes, taken from the most approved Commentators; to which is added a Preliminary Discourse, by GEORGE SALE, Gent., and Memoir of the Translator, and with various Readings and Illustrative Notes from Savary's version of the Koran. Fine Frontispiece, &c.

London: WILLIAM TEGO, Pancras-lane, Queen-street, Cheapside, E.C.

CHRISTIAN AND RATHBONE, EAST INDIA AND COLONIAL OUTFITTERS, 11, WIGMORE-STREET, LONDON.

COMPLETE EQUIPMENTS and OUTFITS for Ladies, Officers, Cadets, and Civilians, of the best quality, at the lowest prices for cash. Estimates will be forwarded on application, showing the entire cost of OUTFIT and PASSAGE via the CAPE, or OVERLAND.

ESTABLISHED 1792. 11, WIGMORE-STREET.

This day, cheaper Edition, in One Volume, crown 8vo., 6s.,
MADEMOISELLE MORI: a Tale of Modern Rome.
London: JOHN W. PARKER and SOY, West Strand.

Corrected to May 12, 1860.

THE EAST-INDIA REGISTER & ARMY LIST FOR 1860,

CONTAINING

Complete Lists of the Servants, at Home and Abroad; Regulations respecting the Appointments to the Civil, Military, and Medical Services.

COMPILED BY PERMISSION.

12mo. sewed, 10s.; or, by post, 10s. 6d.;
or, bound, 11s. 6d.; or, by post, 12s.

London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

This day is published, post 8vo., price 7s. 6d.,

THE CONSUMMATION. By THOMAS HUTTON, F.G.S., Capt. Bengal Army.

Also, by the same Author. 2nd Edition, in 12mo., price 3s. 6d.,

ISRAEL, IN THE PAST, THE PRESENT, AND THE FUTURE; or, LECTURES ON THE RESTORATION OF THE JEWS.

Second Edition, in 8vo., price 10s. 6d.,

THE CHRONOLOGY OF CREATION; or, GEOLOGY AND SCRIPTURE RECONCILED.

London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street, E.C.

PROFESSOR WILSON'S GLOSSARY.

GLOSSARY OF JUDICIAL AND REVENUE

TERMS, and of useful words occurring in official documents relating to the Administration of the Government of British India, from the Arabic, Persian, Hindustani, Sanskrit, Hindi, Bengali, Oriya, Marathi, Gujarathi, Telugu, Kannada, Tamil, Malayalam, and other Languages, compiled and published under the authority of the hon. the Court of Directors of the E. I. Company. By H. H. WILSON, M.A., F.R.S., &c., &c. 4to. cloth, £2 2s. 6d.

London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

AN INTRODUCTION to the GRAMMAR of the SANSKRIT LANGUAGE, for the Use of Early Students. By H. H. WILSON, M.A., F.R.S., &c., &c. 8vo. cloth, 18s.

London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

Preparing for publication, in One Volume Octavo,

BY J. R. YOUNG,

(Late Professor of Mathematics, Belfast College),

A COURSE OF MATHEMATICS, PURE AND MIXED,

More especially designed for the Use of Candidates for the MILITARY & CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.

WITH A VARIETY OF PROBLEMS IN, AND PRACTICAL APPLICATIONS OF THE FOLLOWING SUBJECTS:

1. ALGEBRA, TRIGONOMETRY, AND MENSURATION.
2. ANALYTICAL GEOMETRY (CONIC SECTIONS), STATICS, DYNAMICS, AND HYDROSTATICS.
3. THE DIFFERENTIAL AND INTEGRAL CALCULUS with their applications to the Higher Geometry, Mechanics, &c., &c.

The object of this work is to furnish Candidates for the Military and Civil Service Examinations with such a practical knowledge of Pure and Mixed Mathematics as may prove most serviceable to them in the course of the ordeal to which they are about to be subjected. On such occasions a more theoretical acquaintance with principles is by no means sufficient. It is also necessary that the young aspirant should have been trained by actual experiments, as it were, to the application of the abstract rules, the enunciation of which he has otherwise mastered only by an effort of memory. To assist him in this gathering the fruits of his intellectual industry, Mr. J. R. YOUNG has devised a multitude of problems, of greater or less difficulty, in Algebra, Trigonometry, Mensuration, Analytical Geometry (Conic Sections), Statics, Dynamics, Hydrostatics, the Differential and Integral Calculus, with their applications to the Higher Geometry, Mechanics, &c. The chief peculiarity of this work, however, is one that will recommend it to a very large class of students. The most difficult questions are rendered comparatively easy, by the practical simplifications that are introduced in their mode of solution. Instead of a pompous and puzzling display of technical phraseology, the utmost care has been taken to explain the most knotty points in a plain, unaffected manner, intelligible to every ordinary capacity. In this respect, Mr. YOUNG'S "Course of Mathematics" will be found to possess a decided superiority over all preceding works on the same subject.

London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

HAMPSHIRE COAST,

Within one mile and a quarter of the fashionable Watering Place, Bournemouth.

TO be LET, FURNISHED, with immediate possession, a capital FAMILY MANSION, comprising splendid drawing and dining-rooms, spacious library, seven best bed-rooms, with four dressing-rooms, young ladies' room, eight servants' bed-rooms (the whole making seventeen beds), bath-room, five water-closets, three housemaids' closets, house-keeper's room, store-room, servants' hall, kitchen, scullery, butler's pantry, bakehouse, laundry, wine and beer cellars, two larders, and other convenient offices; three-stalled stable, large coach house, saddle room, with two bed-rooms for men servants. The house is handsomely furnished and decorated in first-rate style, and contains ample accommodation for a nobleman's or gentleman's family of distinction with a large establishment. The situation of the house is most desirable, standing in a park of considerable extent, and being only a mile and a quarter of that fashionable watering-place, Bournemouth, and within ten minutes' walk of the beach. There is a splendid conservatory, which is entered from the drawing-room, and faces the south. The house is well protected from the east and north, and is also well supplied with excellent water.

For particulars and cards to view, apply to Mr. W. E. REBBECK, House and Estate Agent, Bournemouth; or to Messrs. ARNOTT and SONS, Auctioneers, Estate and Land Agents, Bridge-street, Christchurch.

CLAPHAM COMMON—UNFURNISHED.

MR. JAMES STEVENS is instructed to LET No. 1, THE CRESCENT, Rent £90. This house is within a few yards of that delightful and healthy spot—Clapham Common, and overlooks a beautiful ornamental enclosure. It has just been thoroughly drained with glazed pipes, and put into substantial and ornamental repair, and is fit for immediate occupation. The house contains, on the ground floor, entrance hall, dining-room and library. Above—double drawing-rooms, with five bed-rooms, very convenient store closets, and excellent domestic offices. Within one mile of the Balham Station for Brighton, Crystal Palace, West end, &c. Omnibuses to West-end and City pass constantly.

JAMES STEVENS, Auctioneer, Clapham Common, S.

CHEVALIER BOWNESS and SON'S FISHING-TACKLE MANUFACTORY, established upwards of 160 years, 12, Bell-yard, Temple-bar, London, continue only to supply articles of the best manufacture for Mahoeer, Salmon, Trout, and general fishing. Complete cases fitted for India, Norway, Canada, and the Continent.

Orders are respectfully requested to be forwarded direct as above.

Published Weekly, on the 3rd, 10th, 18th, and 26th of each month,

THE HOME NEWS,

PRICE 6d.,

A JOURNAL SPECIALLY DEVOTED TO INDIAN TOPICS AND THE GENERAL NEWS OF THE DAY.

The publication of the HOME NEWS weekly instead of fortnightly, as heretofore, rendering it now as available to the English as to the Indian reader, Messrs. GRINDLAY and Co. will be happy to receive names of intending Subscribers, and will forward the HOME NEWS to them on the days of publication.

The HOME NEWS contains a Summary of the Principal Events of the Week—Parliamentary Intelligence, with Full Reports of all Indian Debates—East-India House Reports—Foreign Intelligence—Opinions of the Press—Literature—Law and Police Courts—Political, Clerical, and Miscellaneous News—Arrivals and Departures of Ships from and to the East—List of Passengers Outwards and Home—Army and Navy Promotions and Changes—Births, Marriages, and Deaths—Commercial, &c., &c.

SUBSCRIPTION.

For One Year £1 4s. 0d.

Postage on 48 Numbers 0 4 0

HOME NEWS OFFICES, 63, Cornhill; and
9, St. Martin's-place, Charing-cross.

Subscribers to Messrs. Grindlay and Co.'s Agency, 21s. per annum in England, are entitled to receive the HOME NEWS free of cost, except for postage, in addition to the use of their Reading Rooms, &c.

MEMOIRS of a GRIFFIN; or, a Cadet's First Year in India. By Capt. BELLEW. With humorous illustrations. 2 vols., post 8vo. cloth, £1. 1s. * These Memoirs being founded on fact, serve to instruct the Cadet whilst he reads for fun.

London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

In post 8vo., cloth, price 2s. 6d.,

CHRONOLOGICAL ACCOUNT OF INDIA Showing the principal events connected with the Mahomedan and European Governments in India.

By JOHN CHARLES BURGONE

London: W. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

TO RAILWAY AND STEAM SHIPPING COMPANIES.

MACHINE BELTING.

FIRE-ENGINE HOSE and BUCKETS,
All descriptions of Leather for Exportation.

S. E. NORRIS and CO.,
S H A D W E L L L O N D O N,
MANUFACTURERS AND PATENTERS.

OVERLAND ROUTE.—COMMUNICA-

TION by STEAM to INDIA, AUSTRALIA, &c. via Egypt.—The PENINSULAR and ORIENTAL STEAM NAVIGATION COMPANY BOOK PASSENGERS and RECEIVE CARGO and PARCELS for GIBRALTAR, MALTA, EGYPT, ADEN, CEYLON, MADRAS, CALCUTTA, the STRAITS, and CHINA, by their Steamers leaving Southampton on the 4th and 20th of every month. For GIBRALTAR, MALTA, EGYPT, ADEN, and BOMBAY, by those of the 12th and 27th of each month; and for MAURITIUS, REUNION, KING GEORGE'S SOUND, MELBOURNE, and SYDNEY, by the Steamers leaving Southampton on the 20th of every month.

For further particulars, apply at the Company's Offices, 122, Leadenhall-street, London, E.C., or Oriental-place, Southampton.

NOTICE OF REMOVAL.—MESSRS.

GRINDLAY and Co., EAST INDIA ARMY AGENTS, have REMOVED their Offices to No. 55, PARLIAMENT-STREET, CHARING-CROSS, S.W.

THE NORTHERN ASSURANCE COMPANY.

1, MOORGATE STREET, LONDON.
DAYS OF GRACE.

In cases of Annual Insurance the liability of the Company continues in force during the 15 days allowed for the renewal of the Policy, and the Company is bound to accept payment of the Premium, although the insured property should meanwhile have been destroyed. In Foreign Insurances the Company is equally bound to accept the Premium if instructions to renew have been despatched from the place where the property is situated, within 15 days from the date when the Policy falls due. See case referred to in the Times City Article, 13th Oct., 1860.

PERSONS proceeding to INDIA can effect

ASSURANCES on favourable terms with the COLONIAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

LOANS given to Civil or Military Officers proceeding to India on her Majesty's Service.

Agents at Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, and in all the British Colonies, where premiums can be paid and claims settled.

The Colonial was established in 1846, and its present income is £40,000 per annum.
Subscribed Capital, £1,000,000 sterling.
Constituted by Act of Parliament.
SAMUEL R. FERGUSON, Res. Sec.
LONDON 81, Lombard-street, E.C.,
and at Messrs. Paris and Co.'s, No. 10, St. James's-street, S.W.
EDINBURGH (Head Office) 5, George-street.
DUBLIN 65, Upper Sackville-street.
GLASGOW 58, St. Vincent-street.

FIVE PER CENT. INVESTMENTS.—

Particulars of Investments for LARGE or SMALL SUMS of MONEY, bearing FIVE PER CENT PER ANNUM INTEREST (well secured), withdrawable at notice, may be obtained, on application to THOMAS H. BAYLIS, 429, Strand, London.

EAST-INDIA WINE COMPANY, 55,

Parliament-street, London, S.W.—The following choice WINES delivered CARRIAGE FREE to every railway station in the Kingdom, and to all parts of London and its environs:—

	Per Doz.
SHERRY	Good 36s.
	Superior Pale 42s. and 44s.
	Mature and Choice, Pale or Gold 46s. and 48s.
	Very Choice, Pale or Gold 54s.
PORT	Fine Crusted 42s., 44s., and 46s.
	Superior Old Crusted 48s. and 50s.
	Very Fine Bee-swing ditto 60s.
	Ditto ditto, in pints 33s.
CLARET	St. Julien, Larose, Second and Third Growth 36s. to 54s.
	Chateau Lafitte, Margaux, and Latour, First Growth 78s.
MADEIRA	East-India 63s. to 72s.
	West-India 48s. to 60s.
	Direct 36s. to 51s.
MARSALA	Finest quality 30s.
BUCCELLAS	Superior 36s. to 42s.
VIOGNA	Finest 32s.
CHAMPAGNE	Fine Sparkling 48s. to 54s.
	Finest quality 72s.
	Ditto pints 36s.
MOSELLE	Finest Sparkling 74s.
HOCK	Ditto ditto 78s.

OTHER GERMAN AND FRENCH WINES.

Bottles charged 2s., and Hampers or Cases 1s. per dozen, and allowed for if returned.

WINE IN WOOD SUPPLIED DIRECT FROM THE DOCKS, OR FOR EXPORTATION.

Orders and Communications to be addressed to
CHARLES JAY, Manager,
East-India Wine Company,
55, Parliament-street, S.W.

The above Wines may be ordered through Messrs. GRINDLAY and Co., East-India Army Agents, 55, Parliament-street, S.W.

TO FAMILIES PROCEEDING to INDIA

and the COLONIES.—Owing to the difficulty experienced in procuring REALLY GOOD DRESSING-CASES, TRAVELLING and CARRIAGE-BAGS at the Colonies, Families and Ladies and Gentlemen proceeding abroad are invited to inspect the Stock of DESKS, DESPATCH-BOXES, WORK-BOXES, FINE CUTLERY, KNIVES, SCISSORS, and other FANCY ARTICLES, at 52, NEW BOND-STREET, which will prevent the annoyance so often experienced abroad in purchasing worthless exported articles.

Sole Manufacturers—WILLIAMS and Co., 52, New Bond-street, London, W.

TO PERSONS FURNISHING.

THE most varied and extensive STOCK of CABINET FURNITURE, UPHOLSTERY GOODS, BEDSTEADS, BEDDING, CHIMNEY-GLASSES, DAMASKS, CARPETS, &c., conveniently arranged for public inspection, will be found in the immense Furniture Galleries and Show-rooms of Messrs. DRUCE and Co., Nos. 53, 63, and 69, BAKER-STREET. The price is marked on every article in plain figures, that persons may make their own estimates, as impurity to purchasers is not allowed. Every article being manufactured by first-rate workmen, of the best seasoned materials, a twelve-month's warranty is given.

Purchasers are invited to visit this establishment before deciding elsewhere.

N.B.—Iron Bedsteads, 8s. 6d. each; 500 Easy Chairs and 100 Wardrobes to select from. Carpets 1s. per yard under the usual price.

* * Illustrated Books post free.

J. MAPLE and Co.'s NEW ILLUSTRATED

CATALOGUE, containing the Prices of every Article required for completely furnishing a House of any class, post free. This is the largest and most convenient Furnishing Establishment in the world. Established Twenty years.

J. MAPLE and Co., 145 and 146, Tottenham-court-road.

HANDSOME BRASS and IRON BED-

STEADS.—HEAL and SON'S Show Rooms contain a large assortment of Brass Bedsteads, suitable both for Home use and for Tropical Climates; handsome Iron Bedsteads with Brass Mountings and elegantly Japanned; Plain Iron Bedsteads for Servants; every description of Wood Bedstead that is manufactured, in Mahogany, Birch, Walnut-tree Woods, Polished Deal and Japanned, all fitted with Bedding and Furniture complete, as well as every description of Bedroom Furniture.

HEAL and SON'S ILLUSTRATED

CATALOGUE, containing Designs and Prices of 100 Bedsteads, as well as of 150 different articles of Bedroom Furniture, sent free by post.

HEAL and SON, Bedstead, Bedding, and Bedroom Furniture Manufacturers, 146, Tottenham-court-road, W.

OBTAIN THE IMPERIAL LINEN COM-

PANY'S PRICE LIST, sent free by post, and never buy Household Linens or Family Drapery of any kind without first consulting this useful manual, as you will by it learn to save one-third your outlay, secure first-class goods from the best-class makers, and be in pocket all profits intervening between the producer and consumer.

The THREE-GUINEA SAMPLE PARCEL, containing One rich Hambro' double Damask Table-cloth, to dine ten persons, usually £1 1s.

One very large pair fine Witney Blankets, usually 17s. 6d.

One pair fine wide Russia Sheets, usually 16s. 6d.

One pair magnificent Embroidered Swiss Curtains, usually 19s. 6d.

Half-a-dozen rich Damask Dinner Napkins, usually 10s. 6d.

One elegant Marsella Bed-quilt, welted, usually 15s. 6d.

Six Marsella Toilet Covers, fringed, usually 9s. 6d.

One bundle Royal Turkish Towels, fringed, usually 12s. 6d.; and

One dozen fine French Cambric Handkerchiefs, usually 10s. 6d.

All of which will be forwarded to any part on receipt of three guineas.

N.B.—Other articles, of same value, may be substituted, if desired.—Post-office orders payable at Old Cavendish-street.

Bankers—St. SAMUEL SCOTT & Co.

Address—THE IMPERIAL LINEN COMPANY,
53, WIGMORE STREET, CAVENTISH SQUARE, LONDON.

Manager, JAMES THOMAS.

MOREWOOD AND CO.

(Late MOREWOOD and ROGERS).
Dowgate Dock, Upper Thames-street, London, and Lion Works, Birmingham.

Keep in Stock ready for immediate Shipment MOREWOOD and ROGERS' PATENT GALVANISED TINNED IRON, CORRUGATED OR PLAIN; and GALVANISED IRON. Also, GALVANISED IRON PAILS in various shapes, adapted specially for shipment. MOREWOOD and ROGERS' PATENT GALVANISED TINNED IRON TILE. This is the best form in which the metal can be exported, from their great facility of fixing, convenience of carriage abroad, and saving of freight. Gutters, Ridge, Cap, and all Fittings readily supplied. Wire for Fencing and Telegraph purposes.

Address all Orders to DOWGATE DOCK, LONDON.

WATERPROOFS FOR INDIA.

EDMISTON and SON, Sole Manufacturers

of the only WATERPROOF CLOTHING guaranteed to withstand the climate of India. The POCKET SIPHONIA (weight 12 ounces), price 4s. This Coat can be carried in the pocket. Shooting Boots and every requisite for the Sportsman in India. Portable Folding Baths, Air Beds, Water Beds for Invalids, Pillows, &c. Portable India-rubber Boats, to carry one or more persons, weighing from forty to fifty pounds. Price £7 10s., £10 10s., and £18 18s., folding in a compass of three feet.

The SIPHONIA DEPOT, 6, Charing-cross, late 69, Strand, London.

NO ICE REQUIRED to produce common

Ice, Dessert Ices, to Ice Wines, &c., in SIMPSON'S NEW PATENT FREEZING VASE.—This Apparatus is, without exception, the most efficacious, simple, and portable ever produced. By using the Patentee's Freezing Powder, Dessert Ices and Common Ice can be frozen by the most inexperienced, in a few minutes, on the table, or in an invalid's apartment. Residents and travellers in hot climates will find it invaluable, as it produces that luxury—Ice!—at command and only occupies the space of an ordinary hat-case.

Prices: one pint, Four Guineas; three pints, Five Guineas. Freezing Powder, 34s. per cwt. Freezing Pots, Ice Moulds, &c., &c.

SODA-WATER, &c.—Use the "Seltzogene"

(solely of one piece of glass), the only portable apparatus that has the patronage of the medical profession, who recommend it for making pure Soda-water and Aerated Beverages. Metallic impregnation is avoided, there is no leakage, and it is not affected by hot climates.

Prices: two pints, 23s.; three pints, 30s.; five pints, 42s. Powders (forty charges in box), 8s., 10s., and 16s. each. References and descriptive catalogues sent free.

GEO. SIMPSON'S Patent Depot, 315c, Oxford-street, London.

PULVERMACHER'S GALVANIC ANTI-

RHEUMATIC CHAIN-BANDS FOR SELF-APPLICATION.—Unequalled and certain as are the effects of the Chain-Bands in all kinds of Rheumatic Pains, still more remarkable and speedy is the relief they afford in Neuralgia, Tic Doloréux, Head and Toothache, &c. Even the most inveterate cases of Paralysis, Epilepsy, Deafness, Gout, Sciatica, Lumbago, Indigestion, Nervous Debility, &c., disappear in a comparatively short time. Prospectuses, recording a vast number of private cures and extracts from numbers of scientific works, sent free. Chain-Bands, 5s., 10s., 15s., 22s., according to power.

J. L. PULVERMACHER and Co., 73, Oxford-street, adjoining the Princess's Theatre, London, and all Chemists.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.

—DAMP WEATHER.—DISPENSES OF THE THROAT.—Whenever the atmosphere is surcharged with moisture a vast number of throat affections arise, which, though simple at first, soon become complicated and serious. Holloway's Ointment, thoroughly rubbed over the top of the chest and glands of the neck, is admirably well adapted to cure all such complaints; it penetrates, reduces inflammation, and cures, without the pain of swallowing medicine, which is a matter of momentous consideration in childhood, when irritation begets fever, and increases the severity of every symptom. In quinsy, diphtheria, ulcerated sore throat, and scarlatina, this Ointment, rubbed on the skin, will dissipate all dangerous indications, and conduct the patient with celerity and safety to perfect health.

KEATING'S COUGH LOZENGES.

JUDGED BY THE IMMENSE DEMAND, this UNIVERSAL REMEDY now stands the first in public favour and confidence; this result has been acquired by the test of fifty years' experience. These Lozenges may be found on sale in every British Colony, and throughout India and China. They have been highly esteemed wherever introduced. For COUGHS, ASTHMA, and all affections of the Throat and Chest, they are the most agreeable and efficacious remedy.

Prepared and Sold in Boxes and Tins of various sizes, by THOMAS KEATING, Chemist, &c., 79, St. Paul's Church-yard, London. Sold Retail by all Druggists and Patent Medicine Vendors in the world.

N.B. To prevent spurious imitations, please to observe that the words "KEATING'S COUGH LOZENGES" are engraved on the Government Stamp of each Box, without which none are genuine.

DINNEFORD'S PURE FLUID MAG-

NESIA has been, during twenty-five years, sanctioned by the medical profession and universally accepted by the public as the best remedy for Acidity of the Stomach, Heartburn, Headache, Gout, and Indigestion. As a mild aperient it is admirably adapted for ladies and children, and it is invaluable in warm climates. Manufactured (with the utmost attention to strength and purity) by DINNEFORD and Co., 172, New Bond-street, London; and sold by all respectable chemists throughout the Empire.

MUMFORD'S CONCENTRATED

CORDIAL ESSENCE OF JAMAICA GINGER.

The Cordial Essence, which is now taken in preference to all other preparations of Ginger, not only from its agreeable flavour, but from the value and certainty of its effects, will be found most useful in all cases of indigestion, spasms, heartburn, diarrhoea, irritability of the bowels, and in most nervous affections. To invalids suffering with impaired digestion from long residence in warm climates, and to those who are proceeding to India, this preparation cannot be too strongly recommended.

Prepared only by GEORGE MUMFORD, Chemist, 5, Bathurst-street, Hyde-park-gardens, and sold by all Chemists, in bottles at 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each; also in large stoppered bottles, for foreign use, at 21s.

COMMANS'S CELEBRATED ARECA-

NUT TOOTH-PASTE is used by her Majesty and the Royal Family.—Has been examined, approved, is used and recommended, by many of our first physicians and dentists as the best preparation known for cleaning and preserving the teeth. Testimonials have been received, unsolicited, from many of the nobility and gentry. The following is amongst the many in testimony of its high value.

"Liverpool, August, 1859.

"I have much pleasure in offering my testimony to the value of your Areca-nut Tooth Paste, and have no hesitation in saying that it is the most efficacious and agreeable Dentifrice ever produced. I have recommended its use to my patients for some years.

"W. J. NEWMAN,

"Surgeon-Dentist to the Liverpool Infirmary for Children."

Prepared only by COMMANS, Chemist, Bath, in pots, 2s. each; to be procured of all Chemists, through the Wholesale Agents, Barclay, Edwards, London; Oldham and Co., Dublin; Duncan and Flockhart, Edinburgh.

This day is published, with upwards of Four Hundred Illustrations, price 18s. 6d.,

THE ILLUSTRATED HORSE DOCTOR;

Being an accurate and detailed account of the various Diseases to which the Equine Race are subjected, together with the latest mode of treatment and the requisite prescriptions, written in plain English.

By EDWARD MAYHEW, Esq., M.R.C.V.S.

"A BOOK WHICH SHOULD BE IN THE POSSESSION OF ALL WHO KEEP HORSES."

CRITICAL REMARKS.

"In order to make a good book two things are essential—an author competent to treat the subject he takes in hand, and a publisher spirited enough to give the writer a loose rein in the production of his work—that is, liberality in allowing him all means and appliances for rendering it a master-piece. The publishers of 'The Illustrated Horse-Doctor' deserve the highest credit and the greatest success for giving the world this admirable volume in its present costly shape. Its intrinsic merit deserves every penny which has been spent upon it, and, inasmuch as we have never seen a book brought out with better taste or finish, the cost of its production must have been very serious. No one with the least equine knowledge can require to be told that Mr. Mayhew is the man for the task which he has undertaken, and most satisfactorily accomplished. His high reputation in the veterinary art, and his qualifications as a practised writer on domestic animals, render him the very person for supplying an intelligent and interesting work on the diseases of the horse, which would be devoid of mere professional technicalities, whilst, at the same time, his skill as a draughtsman, and humour as a witty observer of life, enabled him to illustrate with his pencil what he had written with his pen. We advisedly say that 'The Illustrated Horse-Doctor' is the very best book of the kind which we know; and what gives it an especial charm is, that the author so thoroughly sympathises with the noble animal which he describes. Without pretending to go into any analysis of this valuable work, we at once pronounce it as scientific, yet intelligible; informing, yet highly amusing; acceptable to the profound horse-doctor, yet the work of all others for the bookshelves in every gentleman's sanctum; admirable in every way as a practical treatise on a very important subject, which it elevates altogether out of the region of quackery; and the tone is so learned, yet easy; so close to business, yet gentleman-like, that the dedication to Sir Benjamin seems as much in its proper place as if it faced a surgical work on the diseases or wounds of man. We give it our unqualified approbation and recommendation."—Era, July 15, 1860.

"Although the book will be mainly valued as an instructor to those who have to do with sick and suffering horses, all the causes of which are treated in detail of symptoms and treatment, yet it may with great advantage be studied by the owners of horses, who never think of treating them for disease—who, when their studs are ill, always call in the veterinary surgeon, and leave the patients in his hands; for in its pages they will find hints and advice, compliance with which is as much more important than the remedying disease as prevention is better than cure. Take the following as a sample of this:—'Above all, attend to the stabling, and let the box be large and well ventilated. Food is eaten but occasionally during the day; air is as essential as more substantial nutriment of life, and is consumed night and day. Food has to undergo a complicated change, and to travel before it joins the blood. Air is no sooner inhaled than it is immediately absorbed by the blood.' Are not these brief sentences full of importance to the keepers of horses?"—Western Morning News.

"We have no doubt that this valuable dictionary of the veterinary art will meet with signal success. We have before us a compendious history of all the diseases which horseflesh is heir to, and which man's abuse has bequeathed to it, with directions for treatment, and the necessary remedies, likewise the exposure of popular fallacies. . . . That horses suffer greatly from the ignorance of their riders more than from any intentional cruelty is very certain; but whatever the cause the effect is the same. A horse sinks exhausted in the field, after only a short run, and the rider is thunderstruck. Had he read Mr. Mayhew's book, and taken notice of the warning signal, of which, poor man, he was unaware, and put on the break, the catastrophe would not have been. It is in cases such as these, or where accidents happen in out of the way places, much useful information is to be gained by the general reader. . . . The work concludes with a brief summary, arranged in alphabetical order, of the subjects previously treated on, upon which great care has been bestowed, and the known ability of the author guarantees its worth. Hardly less attractive than the letter-press are the four hundred beautifully-executed woodcuts, which accompany it, and which explain clearly the meaning. In conclusion, we wish Mr. Mayhew the success his work deserves, and the public the good taste to appreciate it."—Sun, July 2, 1860.

"The great mass of them (the illustrations) are wonderfully faithful, and they are so varied and interesting that we would undertake to get rid of the most confirmed bore that ever pressed heavily on mankind for a good two hours by only handing him the book, and directing his attention to them. It is a well-known fact that grooms only remember the names of four or five diseases, and are sadly indiscriminate in their knowledge of symptoms. This book furnishes at once the bane and the antidote, as the drawings show the horse not only suffering from every kind of disease, but in the different stages of it, while the alphabetical summary at the end gives the cause, symptoms, and treatment of each."—Illustrated News, June 23, 1860.

"The diagnosis of every disease, no matter how simple or how complicated, is described in the most lucid manner, so that he who runs may read, and he who reads may understand. The cause and symptoms of suffering being ascertained, the next step naturally is to prescribe the most efficacious mode of treatment; and this difficult task Mr. Mayhew has achieved with admirable success—in no small degree attributable to the excellence of the numerous engravings with which he has illustrated his already perspicuous letter-press. That every member of the Veterinary College will be anxious to possess a copy of this new manual of his profession may be accepted as an undoubted fact; but we shall be strangely surprised if it do not find a conspicuous place on the shelves of every country gentleman, and of every intelligent farmer throughout merry England."—National Standard, June 23, 1860.

"We are inclined to think that this is about the very best book respecting the treatment of equine disease that ever has been written or published. The author is evidently well acquainted with the duties of his profession, and willing to give a world-wide extent to his own useful and practical experience, so that those who read may adopt his rules and regimen, and save that noble animal, whose use is one of the greatest blessings mankind enjoys, from much pain and suffering. In country districts, where the horse doctor cannot easily be summoned, this book will be invaluable; whilst, in more frequented localities, its use will always be found to be safe and judicious. The illustrations are clever, and fully serve the purpose for which they are annexed—to give certain indications of the nature of disease, and the readiest means of treatment."—Bell's Messenger, June 23, 1860.

"One of the most valuable works that we possess upon the subject, all the diseases to which the horse is liable being lucidly described, and the remedies stated very clearly. The wood engravings, which are numerous, well illustrate the text, and serve to complete the character of a work which all who possess a horse must desire to be master of also."—News of the World, June 24, 1860.

"The above is a volume of cyclopædic proportions, written by a wise, philanthropic, and scientific man. The numerous illustrations—by the author himself—are simply marvellous for their power of delineation, and more so of expression; and none but a man who knew the structure of the animal, within and without, could have given these transcripts with the diagnosis of disease and illness, together with the (so to speak) physiognomy of pain and suffering, in so wonderful a manner. It is in every sense a perfect book, and calculated to be of essential benefit to 'man and horse.'"—Dispatch, June 24, 1860.

"Mr. Mayhew is not only master of his subject, but knows how to teach others to master it also. The volume describes all the diseases to which horses are exposed throughout the infinite variety of circumstances in which they are placed; traces each disease to its cause, as far as it can be ascertained, and points out the course of treatment which should be adopted in every case. In pursuing this clear and thoroughly practical method of inquiry and exposition, Mr. Mayhew draws in all the collateral lights that can be brought to bear upon his topic, and shows to what extent the calamities to which horseflesh is heir may be referred to the ignorance, neglect, and brutality of owners; making, upon the whole, a large percentage in the bills of mortality. . . . It will be gathered from what we have said, that the scope of this valuable and interesting publication is hardly expressed in the title. It is undoubtedly a Manual for the 'Horse-doctor,' and by far the most exhaustive that has ever appeared; but it is also a great deal more. The moral side of the question is as largely and sympathetically discussed as the medical, and the great mass of the public who know nothing about horses will derive lessons from the perusal of the work which they could not have anticipated."—Horn News.

LONDON: WM. H. ALLEN AND Co., 7, LEADENHALL-STREET, E.C.

LONDON:—Printed by RICHARD KINDER, Printer, at his Printing Office, Angel-court, Skinner-street, in the Parish of St. Sepulchre; and published by JAMES FRANKS ALLEN, 7, Leadenhall-street, both in the County of Middlesex.—November 3, 1860.

ALLEN'S INDIAN MAIL

AND OFFICIAL GAZETTE

FROM

BRITISH & FOREIGN INDIA, CHINA, & ALL PARTS OF THE EAST

(WITH THIS PAPER "THE INDIAN NEWS" IS NOW INCORPORATED.)

VOL. XVIII.—No. 461.]

LONDON, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1860.

[PRICE 6d.]

CONTENTS.

SUMMARY AND REVIEW	809
BENGAL:—
Sartor Militaris	810
Brewing in India	811
Miscellaneous	813
Shipping and Commercial
MADRAS:—
Murder of Captain Green	813
Miscellaneous	814
BOMBAY:—
Miscellaneous	814
Shipping and Commercial	815
Ceylon	816
CENTRAL ASIA	816
OFFICIAL GAZETTE	817
DOMESTIC	821
DESPATCHES	822
ORIGINAL ARTICLES:—
Loyal Mahomedans	825
Curiosities of Eastern Civilisation	825
HOME:—
Shipping and Domestic	826
Arrivals, &c., reported at the India Office	827
BOOKS	827
STOCKS AND SECURITIES	827

DATES OF ADVICES.

Bengal	Oct. 1	Burmah(Rangoon)	Sept. 12
Madras	" 10	Bombay	Oct. 12
Agra	" 6	Ceylon	Sept. 30
China(Hong-Kong)	Sept. 11.

MAILS TO INDIA.

Mails to India and China, via Marseilles, are despatched from London as follows, viz.—Those for Bombay packets, on the evenings of the 3rd and 18th of each month; and those for Calcutta packets (including mails for Ceylon, Madras, and China), on the evenings of the 10th and 26th of each month. When any of these dates falls on a Sunday, the mails are made up on the following evening.

Letters and Newspapers can be forwarded to any part of India via Bombay and Marseilles, and in most cases will reach their destination some days sooner than if despatched by the following Calcutta mail. The Bombay mails via Southampton, however, are no longer available for the transmission of Letters or Newspapers to the Madras Presidency.

Mails for the Mediterranean and all parts of India, except the Bombay Presidency, are despatched via Southampton on the mornings of the 4th and 20th, or, when either of these dates falls on Sunday, upon the previous evening.

Mails for the Mediterranean, the Presidency of Bombay, and Upper or North-West Provinces of Bengal, are despatched via Southampton, on the 12th and 27th of the month, except when these dates fall on Sunday, in which case they are forwarded on the previous evening.

POSTAGE.

Via Southampton (pre-payment compulsory), letters under

1 oz. 0s. 6d.	2 oz. 2s. 0d.	4 oz. 4s. 0d.
1 oz. 1s. 0d.	3 oz. 3s. 0d.	5 oz. 5s. 0d.

Books, with the ends of the covers open (not exceeding 3 lbs. in weight), if sent via Southampton, under 1 lb. 4d.; under 1 lb. 8d.; under 1 lb. 1s. 4d.; under 1 lb. 2s.; under 2 lbs. 2s. 6d.; under 2 lbs. 3s. 4d.; and under 3 lbs. 4s. Postage-stamps must be affixed.

Newspapers for the East Indies, when not exceeding 4 oz. 3d. each; when above 4 oz. and not exceeding 8 oz., 3d. each—an additional penny being charged for every additional 4 oz. or fraction thereof. For all countries or places eastward of Suez, the charge is 2d., whatever the weight of the newspaper.

Via Marseilles (pre-payment compulsory), letters under

1 oz. 0s. 9d.	1 oz. 1s. 9d.	1 lb. 0s. 3d.
1 oz. 1s. 0d.	1 oz. 2s. 0d.	1 lb. 0s. 6d.

Newspapers not exceeding 4 oz., 3d., when above 4 oz. and not exceeding 8 oz., 6d. each.

Books under 1 lb. 4d.; under 1 lb. 1s.; and for every additional 1 lb. an additional 1s.

The Mails for China are despatched at the same rate of postage as those to India; but must be pre-paid.

SUMMARY AND REVIEW.

THE Bombay Mail of the 12th October is destitute of eventful news, unless the announcement of the death of Dr. Buist, which took place at Calcutta on the first of that month, be regarded as such. With the exception of the Gazette the Bombay papers deal somewhat harshly with the memory of the deceased, who was for many years connected with the press in that Presidency. The death of Major-general A. Woodburn, C.B., is also announced as having occurred at Ahmedabad on the 28th of Sept.

The chief subject of discussion, however, is the second Lucknow trial, which has terminated in the conviction of the accused. According to the telegram, the defendants' counsel was not permitted to call a single witness, although there were eighteen in attendance; and when Major Fisher, 4th N.L., volunteered to give favourable evidence as to Unjore Tewarry's character and antecedents, he was told by the Commissioner that the defendant's "character was not at stake." In this country, at least, it would be thought that a man's character would be altogether at stake under a prosecution for perjury; but apparently it is not so in Oude. The sentence of the Court was three years' imprisonment for Unjore Tewarry, two years for Jugganath Sing, and eighteen months for Mowla Bux, who confessed his guilt. The matter, however, cannot rest here. The sensation excited throughout India is too great to be easily suppressed, and there is little doubt that the whole case will have to be gone through anew, to the infinite scandal and disgrace of our Indian courts of law. It is not a little suspicious, too, that the Chief Commissioner should have given special orders that Unjore Tewarry, the convicted perjurer, be treated with kindness and consideration, and also that the Oudh Gazette should suddenly have become a warm partisan of the local Government.

A very important alteration in the Overland Mail Service has been suggested by Mr. Riddell, Director-general of the India Postal Department, and submitted by the Viceroy's orders for the consideration of the Chambers of Commerce of the different Presidencies. It is proposed that the Calcutta and Madras Mails be sent via Bombay; that a mail be despatched on a fixed day once a week from London and Bombay, so that there shall be fifty-two mails in the year; that the Marseilles route be exclusively adopted for letters and newspapers; and that the time occupied between London and Bombay be limited to twenty days. The Indian Government is evidently favourable to the scheme.

The Wagheer campaign is likely to be a protracted affair, as the rebels have escaped into the "Geer," a dense forest in the south-west corner of Kattywar.

The Paper Currency experiment, if the Madras Times be correctly informed, is to be confined in the first instance to the Bengal Presidency.

The arrival of Mr. Markham, in charge of several boxes of the cinchona plant for the Madras Government, is announced in the Bombay papers. This is the plant from the bark of which quinine is obtained, and as about one-half of the entire quantity of that costly drug annually manufactured is consumed in India alone, it will effect a considerable saving of public money if it can be produced in that country. It is therefore proposed to attempt the cultivation of the cinchona in the Neilgherries.

THE BOMBAY AND MAURITIUS MAILS.

The Elora, with the heavy portion of the above mails, was to leave Malta at two P.M. on the 4th, and may be expected at Southampton about the 13th inst.

The Nepaul, with the Mauritius mails, reached Suez on the 31st of October. Having fallen short of coal, she was obliged to cast the Candia off sixty miles below that place, but was to return to tow her up the same day.

Casualties by Death in the Armies of India reported since last Publication.

BENGAL.—Lieut. John F. Orchard, 4th Bengal N.I., near Chumbra, Aug. 25; Col. C. D. Blair, C.B., of the Inv. Estab., at Simla, Sept. 27.
MADRAS.—Capt. Mars Morphet, late of H.M.'s 57th Regt., at St. Thome, Sept. 5.
BOMBAY.—Maj. gen. Woodburn, C.B., at Ahmedabad, Sept. 28; Lieut. F. W. Skottowe, late comdng. H.M.'s schooner Atari, I.N., at Bushire, Aug. 17.

Passengers by the present Mail.

From BOMBAY.—For MARSEILLES.—Mr. Cheshire, Capt. Dawson, Rev. A. Matchett.

Expected at Southampton.

Per str. Elora.—Serg. Callaghan, Mrs. Kenne and four children, Rev. and Mrs. Fitzpatrick and three children, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Stuart, Lieut. Mathew, Capt. Quinn, Asst. surg. Kelsey, Mrs. Clarke and two children, Miss Tenney, Capt. Duff.

BENGAL.

SARTOR MILITARIS.

After March, 1862, the whole of the clothing of her Majesty's regiments in India is to be made up in this country, from materials sent out from England. In addition to the uniform necessary for a native army and constabulary, the clothing agencies now established at the three presidency towns and at Meerut must dress 80,000 European soldiers. By the appointment of Mr. Kellner to investigate the state of the agency at Alipore, near Calcutta, and to introduce reforms into the establishment, and from the detailed inquiries of the Military Finance Commission, Government appear to be alive to the necessity of making timely preparation for the vast increase of duty with which they will be burdened. March, 1862, seems so distant a period, that we only trust they will not be tempted to keep the matter "under consideration" till it is too late. A healthy reform has been already initiated in the present offices. In the next eighteen months there is time to introduce a new and better system, as cheap for the State, and as efficient for the increased army, as that which so successfully works in Belgium.

The system which has hitherto prevailed is so thoroughly unsound as to be unfitted for even the limited work which it is required to turn out. In Calcutta the same officer is superintendent and agent, in one capacity spending the money, and in the other, by a metaphysical transformation, sanctioning the expenditure and auditing the accounts. The books do not afford the means of verifying the balance of cash and stock, the latter of which amounts in Calcutta in the year to from 10 to 14 lakhs of rupees in value. The accounts of the master tailor who receives the cloth do not always tally with those of the storekeeper who gives it out. The cost of each article supplied to a regiment, and of each part of which it is composed, is arrived at by an average valuation, so that the charge for a pair of hooks and eyes, for instance, for a tunic, appears as sixty-six hundredths of a pie, and of a linen stay tape as forty-one hundredths. This accuracy would be refreshing were not the fact too evident that while it minds the pie it lets the lakhs take care of themselves. The system causes excessive labour in computation, disregards the ordinary laws of book-keeping, does not provide sufficient checks against fraud, does not afford any means of letting the agent know the exact amount and value of the stock in hand, and is wastefully expensive. Government has directed an immediate reform, which has been partly carried out. Cash and stock accounts are now kept separate, the stores received and expended are carefully scrutinised every month, and an annual return will henceforth be made showing the cost of soldiers' clothing throughout the service. Tables of the quantities allowable for all kinds of garments have been prepared, similar to those used in the English establishment at Pimlico. When tested by professional persons and approved of by a committee of officers, these will be in force in all the Indian agencies.

As reforms in the present system these may be admissible. But it becomes Government to consider now whether they will maintain these agencies, whether they will continue to indent on England for stores of cloth and material. At present the agencies make up all the clothing required for each regiment, and only during the pressure of the China war was there need to have recourse to outside contractors. The contract system, which was maintained at Futtehgurh till 1841, and at Alipore till 1853, proved so utterly bad that it was abolished. But then it was in the hands of natives, and no supervision over them was exercised. Now, in the Presidency towns at least, there are so many European firms, and there is such competition among them, that with the most despotic control on the part of a Government agent, the contract system would prove cheaper and better. Once create a demand, once call for tenders, and the supply of cloth and material would be amply sufficient. The present system, by which the Secretary of State for India sends out stores valued at millions sterling, which on arrival are not required, must be discontinued. The one fact that there is at this moment sour beer in the commissariat goes down to the extent of a quarter of a million sterling is sufficient to condemn it. The Committee for War Stores has sent in a strong recommendation on this point.

But even this, while it saves expenditure, will not meet the difficulty which is felt in every regiment, that the clothing when received does not fit. The instances are numerous in which the garments, on reaching their destination, are at once taken to pieces and made up again to fit the men. The plan at once cheapest and most efficient is that of allowing every regiment to make up its own uniform from the materials furnished to it. It is done in France and in the English cavalry. In the former, Government themselves manufacture the cloth which they supply to commanding officers, while the expenditure is checked by the Intendance. When allowed as optional for a few years in the Bengal army, as many as four regiments of cavalry and twenty-one of infantry availed themselves of the permission in 1849. The common objection that this plan would not answer for the infantry, who are moved from place to place, is met by the fact that it did answer in 1849. Even if nothing more could be said for it than that it was as good as any other, the fact that it would afford employment to soldiers, who have been tailors in the long Indian day and amid the dangerous idleness of barrack life, is sufficient to recommend it. We do not despair of seeing regimental workshops introduced into the Queen's army, so that each corps shall be a complete colony within itself, making use of native labour only for the most menial duties, or to supplement their own. Small State agencies for each army would still be requisite as reserves in case of emergency. Any system of option as in 1849, except as a tentative measure, we would object to. As necessitating an indefinite Government establishment it would be productive of useless expense.

Before March, 1862, Government must decide how an army of 80,000 Europeans is to be clothed. They are left unfettered as to what plan they shall adopt. As the first step to the elevation of the condition of the private in India, we plead for a trial of the French and English cavalry system. With sewing machines and a few native assistants there are tailors enough in every regiment to do the work. Once introduced we are assured it would be so successful that it would spread to all sorts of labour. There is nothing a regiment or any of the military departments require, except the raw material, which soldiers and their families could not produce. We have no fear that the industrious artisan would be a worse fighter or a more slovenly soldier than the drunken, despairing, canui idler. Work and marriage are what soldiers in India want, and in this case the one would remove the imaginary obstacles to the other. Why should a Government which uses industrial occupations to reform the criminal see an army of 80,000 men demoralised in an Indian climate by enforced idleness?—Friend of India.

BREWING IN INDIA.

The necessity of a lower temperature than is obtainable in this country has been generally held fatal to every proposal to establish breweries therein, and in spite of the alleged success of certain experiments at the Neilgherries and the hill stations of Kussowlie and Mussoorie in the Himalayas, the failure of the brewery at Poonah some years ago is constantly adduced in Western India as a sufficient answer to all anticipations of success elsewhere, although the conditions may in all respects be new. We cannot believe, however, that the Burton breweries will enjoy a monopoly of the Indian supply many years longer, while on economic grounds it is plainly desirable that we should render ourselves independent of them as early as possible. However unanimously medical opinion may express itself against the use of wine or spirits in India, there seems to be a very general verdict in favour of the moderate use of malt liquor, the services performed by which in the vital processes are pointed out by Liebig with clearness and felicity. Apart from this purely medical aspect of its use, it must not be overlooked that stimulants of one kind or other will ever be used by the masses, and that beer being immeasurably less harmful than others, it is desirable to bring its consumption within the means of the masses. Were the use of ardent spirits to be supplanted by a popular taste for cheap and wholesome malt liquor, the reform which temperance and teetotal societies are striving with laudable perseverance to effect would be largely secured. A Simla correspondent says, "Our brewery commenced working the day before yesterday, being a thoroughly English undertaking in every respect. A practical brewer of considerable experience, as well as two maltsters from home, a steam-engine (8-horse power), boilers, copper mash-tubs, tuns, coolers, &c., stores of hops, and excellent malt from mountain barley. It was a pleasing sight to see the first steam-engine introduced into the Himalayas at work, and the volumes of smoke issuing from the tall chimney shaft, which vies in height with the surrounding pine trees. The brewery is much larger than either the one at Kussowlie or Mussoorie, and can turn out thirty hogsheads of malt liquor daily. It would have been at work months ago, but for the loss of some of the machinery by the sinking of a boat conveying it up the Ganges. The lost portions had to be obtained from the workshops at Roorkee, hence the delay. In connection with the brewery is a small experimental hop plantation, from cuttings put down in March last. It is, I am happy to add, a success, several of the plants being nearly thirty feet high, and many of the lupules gathered in the first week of this month are fully two inches in length, all having the aroma of the best Kentish hops. The credit of introducing the plant into this region is due to Mr. Edward Dyer, the manager of the brewery at Kussowlie, who last year raised a sufficient quantity of hops for 13 hogsheads of beer, entirely Himalayan, both malt and hops. Here is matter for Europeans who contemplate settling in India to ponder upon. Hops and barley, easily reared, and giving a return within twelve months, instead of having, as in tea-planting, to wait five years!"

We look upon this experiment with very deep interest. Should it succeed, the question of European colonization upon the hill lands of India will be materially helped forward to its desired solution. From the augmentation of the European army and the rapid influx of strangers into all parts of the country, the present shipments of malt liquor to India are greatly in excess of what they were before the mutiny, while the taste is being rapidly developed in some of the native communities. We doubt if the beer-drinking population of India to-day numbers less than 200,000 persons. The army alone is nearly 100,000 strong, and if we add to this number the soldiers' families, civilians (covenanted and uncovenanted), the independent settlers in the country, merchants, lawyers, and planters, the Eurasian Population and the Portuguese and Parsee communities, in all of whom the use of malt liquor is become habitual, we are persuaded that we are not over-rating the beer consumers of India at 200,000 persons. Allowing each of these but one pint bottle a day, we find the present consumption of the country to be about six millions of gallons, or 120,000 hogsheads a year.

Pts.	Gallons.
200,000 div. 12 mul. 865 =	60,8,090

We doubt if this calculation is very far from the mark. The trade reports of Calcutta and

Madras for the last official year are unfortunately not within our reach, but we find the imports of malt liquor into Bombay alone, during the year ending April 30 last, were as follows:—

On Government account ...	12,20,184 Gallons.
On Private account ...	3,93,842 "
	16,13,526 "

This is irrespective of the shipments which found their way direct to Kurrachee (the returns of which have not yet been received) during the same period. If we value these shipments upon the average of one rupee a gallon,—and the cost cannot be less when the charges of transport and the wastage are borne in mind—it will be apparent that India is remitting on this account alone nearly two-thirds of a million sterling annually to England.

The question of supplying ourselves with beer becomes, then, one of great economic importance. For upon the supposition that we have land lying waste upon our hill slopes that might be cultivated with the hop, the annual remittances we have to make for beer, representing a capitalized value of twelve millions sterling, are all but a dead loss to us. If we are to consume this vast amount let us by all means try to supply ourselves, that what goes out of one pocket may go into the other, instead of going abroad. We calculate that were European skill and capital to be embarked in this enterprise successfully, the manufacture of malt liquor might afford the means of industrial subsistence to a population of 300,000 souls. It must not be supposed that India's gain would necessarily be England's loss. The revolution we are contemplating must necessarily be slow in its approaches, and long before it is completed the industrial interests of England would have quietly adjusted themselves to the change. In place of taking £600,000 worth of beer annually from her, she might find us taking three times that equivalent in piece goods or metal, to the advantage of both countries. A wise government will therefore foster and encourage such experiments, in so far as it legitimately may do so.

In view of such considerations as we have now attempted to present to the reader, what judgment can we form of the recent order of the Home Secretary prohibiting the servants of Government who constitute nine-tenths of our European community from holding lands of any kind until their service is completed, and the enterprise which marked their earlier years is exhausted? The Bombay Gazette remarked very justly upon this order that "Sir Charles Wood must be utterly ignorant of the habits of English life in India if he supposes that Government servants have not leisure to perform the simple duties of absentee landowners. The business of looking into accounts, and devising or entering with zest into schemes of agricultural improvement, would be a relief to the monotony of official work, and a man who had landed property in the country would not on that account be a less earnest and devoted servant of the State."

It is impossible to over-estimate the importance of cultivating the resources of India by the appliance of European skill and capital to her fields. He is entitled to be looked upon as a benefactor of the country who succeeds in introducing the cultivation of any new staple into it. The tea plantations of Assam, and the coffee estates of Wynaad, will we trust be followed by the hop grounds of the Himalaya, and should this be so Mr. Edward Dyer of Kussowlie will have rendered no mean service to the country. We shall look with interest for future advices of the prospect of the Simla Brewery, and do not despair of ourselves tasting Simla beer.—Bombay Times.

MISCELLANEOUS.

OPIMUM CULTIVATION.—The collector of Ghazepore has been directed to provide nearly forty lakhs of rupees for the purpose of making advances to the opium cultivators during the ensuing season of 1860-61 in the Benares division.

MAHARAJAH RUNBEER SING has just sent to the Lieut.-governor some additional presents for the Governor-general, which he had omitted when his lordship passed Lahore.

"THE PROGRESS."—As it is a matter of some interest, and has been the subject of much misrepresentation, we now give the exact expenditure for the Governor-general's tour and gifts to native princes and chiefs, which we recently stated in round numbers as under six lakhs of rupees. The total cost was Rs. 5,40,000, or £54,000, a sum less than the Viceroy's salary and allowances for two years. This does not include military expenditure, which was really not incurred by the progress. The escort which accompanied the camp was so arranged that it consisted in all cases of troops marching from one station to another in the course of the ordinary relief. Nor has it any reference to the value of the estates presented to faithful feudatories, which were in almost every case lands confiscated for rebellion, and did not affect in any way the revenue of the State. But it includes charges of all other kinds, for carriage, commissariat, and all other gifts to the recipients of the honours conferred for loyalty. Of the whole amount Rs. 1,32,000 were 'toshakannah' charges. That is, after deducting the offerings presented by tributary princes and subjects from the gifts bestowed, the total cost to the Government was £13,200, a sum which will yet be far more than realised by the recent sale of the toshakannah stock in Calcutta. Even if to this we add the Rs. 106,000 to be bestowed on the Nizam of Hyderabad and his ministers, we have less than two lakhs and a-half, less than the Viceroy's salary for one year, as the total money of a progress distinguished for its magnificence, still more important for its political results. Nor can it be said that in any respect the liberality manifested was unbecoming the British power. No one who was present at even the meanest of the durbars could fail to be struck with the barbaric splendour and oriental parade which accompanied the Viceroy and his entourage. All felt that in this respect at least Lord Canning was a worthy representative of her Majesty. It was not merely the rich gifts of horses and elephants gaily caparisoned, of jewels and golden ornaments of exceeding price, of cloths brocaded with silver and woven with an art the finest loom cannot equal. These were but trifles to the assurance extended to princes that, as they held their power on the tenure of fealty to the British Government, so, while faithful, they and their family would ever hold it, even should direct heirs be denied them.—Friend of India.

MESS PLATE.—The Hurkaru hears that the collector of customs, Calcutta, has received instructions from the Supreme Government to the effect that all regimental mess plate should for the future be exempted from the payment of customs duty, in the event of a declaration from the commanding officer of the corps that the articles have been in use for twelve months previous to the time of importation. The Board of Revenue has likewise received orders to refund, under the special circumstances of the case, the duty charged on the mess plate of her Majesty's 54th regiment.

CAPTAIN URQUHART, of the 27th Foot, is not to be tried at Jutogh after all, but at Umballah. This will put the members of the court, as well as the witnesses, to considerable inconvenience, as they happen to be at Simlah. Sir Hugh Rose's decision on the subject, however, is quite right; and we are utterly at a loss to know why Captain Urquhart was even taken to Jutogh to be tried. Wherever he was placed under arrest, there, according to all precedent, he should have remained, and thither should all the members of the court and the witnesses have proceeded—without any sort of reference to their convenience or their comfort. There has been a further irregularity in this matter. Captain Urquhart, after being placed under arrest, was for eight days (so we are informed) required to perform the duties of his office—that of pay-master of the 27th Foot. We have always understood that when an officer was deprived of his sword he was considered incapable of performing any duty (regimental or staff) whatsoever; and if Captain Urquhart, while so employed, had left his apartments he could not have been found guilty of breaking his arrest. A paragraph has gone the round of the Indian papers, to the effect that "the editor of the Mofussilite is to conduct Captain Urquhart's defence." We need scarcely say there is not a word of truth in such assertion.—Mofussilite.

BRIGADE COMMANDS.—The stations of Ferozepore, Fyzabad, Jullunder, and Sealkote are re-constituted brigade commands. It is to be hoped the appointments will be bestowed on officers whose claims entitle them to consideration.

PHILIBHEET, 1st Oct.—Weather very warm and sultry, grain still continues dear; gram eleven seers for the rupee, ottah ten seers. The Tehseeldar has ordered a punchayat to inquire into the incomes of the merchants, &c., here, prior to acting on the Government order, which has caused a good deal of commotion. Our kotwal, Mr. Jackson, has been appointed jailor at Bareilly, in room of Moolehund, Darogah, who is dead. His successor is a native from Shajehanpore, by name Kefatollah Khan. We had a very heavy storm on the 18th Sept.; the wind blew a regular hurricane, trees and houses falling under its influence. Wolves have again become troublesome; a child was carried away the other night, its head was found next morning in a tope outside the city. A good many deaths by snake bite have occurred this month, notwithstanding the number killed for the two annas reward offered for the body of every snake brought to the hospital. A letter received this morning from Fyzabad, dated 25th Sept., mentions plenty of rain to have fallen; supplies are now selling cheap, gram at twenty-five and ottah twenty-two seers for the rupee, ghee at two and a-half seers. There was a good deal of fever and ague in the city and neighbourhood. At a village called Akberpore, forty miles from Fyzabad, it is reported to have rained a sort of grain. One hears of blood and fish, but it is the first time I ever heard of grain falling from the clouds! Mr. Hamilton, the opium agent from Ghazepore, has arrived, and is making arrangements for starting the new agency cultivation in Oude. The Nepalese come down next month to take possession of the Terai, lately made over to them. Sir Jung Bahadur intends to visit the tracts some time this cold season. Bala Rao, and the Begum with her son, are about to remove towards Khatmandoo, the latter to take up her residence with the Rane of Lahore. There are not now more than twenty rebels remaining in Nepal, most of them having been carried off by fever this rainy season.—Delhi Gazette.

CAPTAIN URQUHART'S COURT-MARTIAL.—The following officers appear in Sirhind division orders to sit at Umballah on a day which will be hereafter named, for the trial of Captain Urquhart by court-martial:—President: Colonel Reid, horse artillery. Members: Lieut. cols.; Fyers, C.B., rifle brigade; Ewart, 30th N.I.; Blunt, C.B., horse art.; Dodgson, assist. adjt. general; Innes, Loyal Poorbeah regt. Majors: Bagot, Nusseree batt.; Dallas, aide-de-camp; Haines, 92nd Highlanders; Freer, 27th Inniskillings; Bishop, horse art.; Stevens, Khelat-Ghilzee regt.; Trevelyan, 7th hussars; Stisted, 7th hussars; and Fenwick, 30th N.I. Major Maisey will be prosecutor, and Major Hatch judge advocate, by orders from army head quarters.

GENERAL GEORGE MACGREGOR, a distinguished political officer, late agent at Moorsheadabad, is likely to be appointed Lieutenant-governor of Bengal, under the new arrangements. His appointment would be an acceptable one, we believe, to most parties, Europeans and natives, in that presidency.

THE RELIEF.—We understand that several of the reliefs notified lately in general orders will be cancelled, as the Supreme Government objects to the expense that will be incurred in moving so many corps, and especially batteries and troops of artillery, such long distances as those now ordered.

LIEUT.-COL. TAYLOR, the political agent, is under orders to proceed to Nusseerabad, to preside at the trial of the Thakoor of Ahwah, who lately surrendered.

NYNEE TAL, Sept. 29.—According to promise I send you an account of the improvements that have taken place here since last year. First and foremost, the assembly-rooms are now finished; the situation is a good one, close to the bathing-place, and easily get-at-able; the racket court, a covered one, is also about to be built, and the cricket-ground is having new turf laid down, so that next year, when the billiard table is up, there will be no want of amusement. There has been a good deal of rifle practice both here and at Almorah; at the matches Captain Cuppage, of the late 15th Native Infantry, won the chief prizes; he was lucky enough to bag a kyang. One specimen of this animal has reached England. Mr. Dunlop, in his book, "Hunting in the Himalayas," thus describes it:—"The kyang are more asinine than equine in appearance, are of a light red colour, with white belly and legs, and about 14 hands high, half mane, stripe down the back and tail, and bray instead of neigh, the head is disproportionately large, and the term 'a wild horse' a misnomer." Colonel Beamish, of the 35th, and party, have also returned with no end of trophies, having penetrated to Tibet as far as the Sutledge; it is all very well going to the snow in May and June, but not so during the months of July or September. There are two bazaars—one at each end of the lake—but both are in a most filthy condition; the natives are most insolent, and coolies will do no more work than they are actually obliged to do to keep them from starvation; few things can be got from the bazaar for domestic purposes, nor can these even sometimes be procured, without an order from the magistrate. The natives require a tight hand over them, the brushwood requires to be cleaned away, and some trouble bestowed on providing a sufficient number of coolies to fetch up travellers and their baggage before people will be persuaded to revisit a station, and place themselves a second time in such a helpless condition as they have been this season. Until something is done in the way of improvement and progress, Nynee Tal will not be so much patronised as the other Hill-stations; there is only one hotel, kept by a Mr. Chapman. The barracks of the depot are situated at Sham Kote, but although healthy for a great part of the year, it is far from being so during the rains, on this account, that the jungle is too thick, reaching in many places to the very walls of the bungalows; if this were cleared gradually away, and the dense forest of trees thinned, the men might have a chance of getting some fresh air, and the tendency to fever or sickness would decrease. The place is crowded with visitors; the Lieut.-governor has gone to Almorah, the Commissioner, Major Ramsay, and his staff accompany him. The cricket club are trying to get up a ball, and the Lieut.-governor will give one before he leaves next month; he proceeds to Moradabad, and via Agra to Saugor, Bundelcund, and by Mirzapoor to Allahabad. The Kumaon Iron Works Company have purchased the whole of the iron works from Government, and intend to carry on the works under the able superintendence of Mr. Davis: there is no doubt after a few years good iron will be turned out under the new management. Government have discharged Mr. Sowerby and their other European engineers. We have lovely weather; fires not too warm in the evenings; the rains have seemingly left us, but a letter I received from Bareilly this morning mentions there having been heavy falls there. Several officers up here have been ordered down to Lucknow and Seetapoor again, by Sir R. Walpole, for court-martial duty. Delhi Gazette.

BUNDELCUND, Sept. 23.—A party of the military police attacked and routed 150 rebels the day before yesterday. The latter had among them Rajah Heeramm Singh, and the Rana of Banpoor, both of whom were wounded in the engagement; the latter in the back, the former in the arm, very severely. The rebels fought well for three or four hours, and then fled in terror, leaving eighteen wounded and two killed on the field. The party of police brought two heads to the Deputy-commissioner. The affair reflects very great credit on the police, as they were not only far inferior in numerical strength, but the position the rebels occupied (on a rocky elevation) was of considerably greater strength and advantage. This brilliant little affair will tend more to check rebel incursions than any amount of futile pursuit—futile, because the rebels are at liberty to remain in a native State in independence and security. The weather has again changed to an unsullied sky and a bright sun, and the mornings are getting chilly.

SIMLA, Sept. 8.—I learn that the rule of the newly-made Rajah of the Hill-state of Nalaghur is giving much dissatisfaction. On the death of the late Rajah, when the State lapsed to Government, an auction of the deceased Rajah's property took place by order of the British authorities; some of the people of the country bought various articles at the sale; these, the present Rajah, whom the Viceroy placed on the gudgeon in consideration of the services of his father in the Goorka campaign, has insisted on being given up to him, and he has issued a proclamation, that if any such property is concealed, on discovery the individual will be heavily fined. The Maharajah of Puttialla has possessions in these Hills, and has a "deputy" to represent him and look after his interests, who is much disliked. An order for a careful survey and assessment of the Maharajah's Hill-territories has lately been issued by him; the petty officials, in their progress through the country, oppress the Zemindars, insisting upon having sheep, rice, flour, sugar, &c., provided for them by the poor tillers of the soil in every village they choose to stay in. It is said that a threat has been made by this deputy, that if any of the subjects of the Maharajah take service with the English they will be turned out of the country. How far this is true I cannot positively say, the impression, however, remains on the minds of the Hill-people, and they complain. The knowledge that by the late Sunnud given the Maharajah, by the Viceroy, that the English Government will not in any way interfere with his Government or between him and his subjects, renders him more than ever unpopular, because now the people have not, as a dernier resort, the comfort of appealing from any of his arbitrary measures to the Government of India; the making the Maharajah so totally independent, of course was done as a reward for loyalty to our cause and the services he rendered during the rebellion, but it is questionable whether this is entirely a wise measure, as regards the majority of the people. Delhi Gazette.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES.—We noticed some time ago the fall of a most "terrific" aerolite at Dhurumsala, in the Punjab. The proceedings of the Asiatic Society in Calcutta give us some particulars regarding that extraordinary phenomenon, which will bear repetition and remark. The aerolite appeared as a flame of fire, about two feet in depth (reckoning by the eye) and nine feet in length, darting in an oblique direction above the station from N.N.W. to S.S.E. It burst with a terrific report about half-past two in the afternoon, and fragments of the aerolite fell in places to a distance of four miles around the station, burying themselves to the depth of a foot and a-half in the earth, and sending up a cloud of dust in all directions. Specimens from several localities were brought into Dhurumsala; some of the pieces weighed 3 maunds, and were of a greyish colour. One of the most extraordinary circumstances connected with this phenomenon is, that when some of the pieces were picked up immediately after their fall, they could not be held in the hand more than half a minute, owing to the intensity of the cold which benumbed the fingers; this, considering the fact that they were apparently but a moment before in a state of ignition, is very remarkable; each stone that fell bore unmistakable marks of partial fusion. Another very singular phenomenon was witnessed at Dhurumsala on the evening of the same day that the aerolite fell. This, says Mr. Saunders in his letter to the Asiatic Society, appears to have been a succession of igneous meteors, such as fire balls, or falling or shooting stars. The circumstance is thus related. "I think it was on the evening of the same day that the meteor fell that I observed lights in the air; they commenced to appear about seven P.M., and lasted for about three hours, till ten; they appeared for about one minute, some for longer, then went out again, other lights appearing in their places; sometimes three or four lights appeared in the same place together, and one or two moved off, the others remaining stationary; they looked like fire balloons, but appeared in places where it was impossible for there to have been any houses or any roads where people could have been. Some were high up in the air, moving like fire balloons; but the greater part of them were in the distance, in the direction of the lower hills, in front of my house; others closer to our house, and between Sir A. Lawrence's and the barracks. I am sure from some which I observed closely that they were neither fire balloons, lanterns, nor bonfires, or any other thing of that sort, but bona fide lights in the heavens. Though I made inquiries amongst the natives the next day, I have never been able to find out what they were, or the cause of their appearance." This has been a most extraordinary year; several most wonderful phenomena have occurred within the last few months. A waterspout in the neighbourhood of Bhurtpore, another at Calcutta; an aerolite falling at Dhurumsala, another at Bhurtpore; an aurora borealis at Delhi; a shower of live fish at Benares unaccompanied by rain; a similar shower accompanied by rain at Agra; showers of blood at Furruckabad and at Meerut; a dark spot observable on the disc of the sun; earthquakes in various parts, and an unnatural yellow fog or darkness of some duration, which occurred in several parts of the Punjab, Deyrah, &c. All these were strange phenomena, and some of them hitherto unknown. North West Gazette.

CENTRAL INDIA.—Rae Sahib Adil Mohammed and Bae Jhye are still committing depredations in Central India; rewards have been offered for their apprehension. At the strong recommendation of the Supreme Government of India, it is stated the Baiza Bae has transferred the town of Oojein to Scindia.

THE CIVIL SERVICE.—The Government of India has reported to the State Secretary that unless larger numbers are sent out immediately to supply the necessities of the Civil Service the Government will be driven to the very objectionable measure of refusing all furloughs and leaves of absence to the present members, except on medical certificate. The decrease of the members of the Civil Service from deaths and resignations for the last two years had not been adequately supplied by the numbers since sent out from England.

THE LUCKNOW GARRISON.—A reply has been received to the petition sent home by the members of the Uncovenanted Service who were in the Lucknow garrison during the mutiny. The petitioners' claim was for compensation in full for losses they sustained in having to comply with the military orders issued at the time. These orders prevented them from taking more than certain effects into the Residency, most of which they were afterwards ordered to leave behind when quitting that place. The Secretary of State said this case could not be made a special one, but that petitioners would have to abide by the published compensation rules.

THE BISHOP OF CALCUTTA is expected to leave Simla on 1st October to consecrate a new burial-ground at Kussowlie, and hold a confirmation at Umballa, and then to proceed according to the following dates:—Saharunpore, 7th October, Mussoorie 14th, Moradabad 21st, Nynee Tal 28th, Bareilly 4th November. At Bareilly a camp was being formed, and the Bishop will proceed thence by regular marches to Shahjehanpore, Seetapore, Lucknow, Roy Bareilly, Fyzabad, Gondah, Goruckpore, Jnanpore; after visiting these stations he was to proceed by dak to Hazarebagh, and thence to Calcutta.

THE "ORIENT," from London, July 27, lat. S., long. E., experienced a severe gale of wind from north, with terrific sea making a perfect breach over the ship. 10.15 A.M., struck by a heavy sea, carrying away three midship stanchions, and about 120 feet of bulwarks on port side; almost impossible for the men to stand to the pumps, the water being on deck in such quantities. I expected to see the hatches burst open. Aug. 5, lat. 41.15 S.; long. 62.29 E.—Terrific hurricane, commencing at N.N.E. 7 A.M., blowing a heavy gale from N.W., with tremendous sea; running under close reefed main topsail. 2 P.M., sudden shift of wind to S.S.W.; the ship tossed about like a shuttlecock, impossible almost to keep the ship before it, the helm being of little or no use. 2.15 P.M., struck by an enormous sea a-beam, washing away a large portion of the bulwarks on both sides, and smashing in the front of the cuddy, perfectly gutting the two foremost cabins, carrying away the table and everything in the cuddy, and forcing the iron stanchions out of the deck in the cabin, and washing away both quarter galleries, filling the cabins with water, and damaging large quantities of stores. 6 P.M., gale moderating at S.E., but terrific and confused sea. Bar. in centre of hurricane, 29.19; ther. 47.—Englishman.

LAHORE VOLUNTEER RIFLEMEN.—The Punjab, which took the lead in the rifle-club movement, is first in the field in organising a Volunteer Rifle Corps, under the recent permission of the Government of India. The two distinct clubs which have existed at Lahore since May last were dissolved at a joint meeting of their members on the 22nd of September, and a corps formed of more than 50 members. The rifle clubs have, through the considerate interest of the colonel commanding the 70th Highlanders, had the benefit of regular drill instructors, men trained at Hythe, and they are proficient in the manual and platoon exercises, and have made considerable progress in target practice with the Enfield regulation rifle, which has also been provided for them from the ordnance magazine, under the sanction of Sir Robert Montgomery. The corps is at present managed by a committee composed of Mr. A. A. Roberts, c.s., president; Mr. T. D. Forsyth, c.s., vice-president; Mr. C. E. Chapman, c.s., Mr. A. Higgins, Mr. C. F. Kelly, members; Lieutenant F. M. Birch, secretary.

DIBROOGHUN, Sept. 9.—This has been the wettest year of the last eleven, and we have really not had more than seven or eight days free from rain since the beginning of May! A very heavy flood of the Burrampooter—bad drainage and no sun, so cholera is very prevalent in the station. Another meeting of planters has been called to consider H.H. the Lieut. governor's offer to assist them in importing coolies, but unless H.H. will also make a law for detaining them, or recovering them otherwise than by the tedious process of the Civil Courts, to which we are now referred, there will be few, I fancy, willing to risk their money and the fate of their plantations by importing men who have only to steal the nearest boat and be back in Bengal before a warrant can be issued for their apprehension. I believe it is in contemplation to establish a planters' association in Upper Assam, for the purpose of discussing, and, when necessary, properly representing subjects connected with planting interests, and also, if possible, settling all difficulties between planters without the interference of the courts. The number of planters is small at present, but it might be well to make a beginning, and you could doubtless afford some valuable hints from your experience with the I.P.A. Tea seed rising, Assam Rs. 65 this year; China still Rs. 40, at which rates something like 700 mds. have been purchased already from this district alone.—Hurkaru.

SHIPPING.

ARRIVALS.

Sept. 25. Bombay Merchant, Woodhouse, Calcutta; Orient, Burrows, London. 26. Sir John Lawrence, Robertson, Liverpool; Amherst, Hill, Moulmein; Christolite, McIntyre, Port Phillip; Hengist, Campbell, Liverpool; Joseph Steel, Jones, Liverpool; str. Simla, Paterson, Aden.—29. Deva, Butler, Port Blair.—31. Jizze Oakford, Eldridge, Liverpool; Mohussur, Ally Basala, Jeddah.

PASSENGERS ARRIVED.

Per Bombay Merchant.—Messrs. Dalmas, Gandanbutche, Fink, Sautou.
Per Amherst.—Mrs. Hill and child, Mr. Jefferson.
Per Joseph Steel.—Mrs. Jones.

MADRAS.

MURDER OF CAPTAIN GREEN.

On the morning of Thursday, September 13, about nine A.M., a Mussulman boy, about 14 years of age, went to Captain Treasure (a Bombay invalid officer), and informed him that his master, Captain Green, who lived in a house some few hundred yards from that in which Captain Treasure was then residing, was lying down in the centre room of his house, and that he had better send for a doctor. The boy had previously told Captain Treasure's servants that his master had fainted, and had sent him to ask Captain Treasure to send for a medical man. Captain Treasure wrote a note to Dr. Stewart, requesting his attendance, and taking it with him immediately went down to deceased's house, accompanied by the little Mussulman boy. On reaching it he found an old Mussulman and one or two others (since shown to have been servants of deceased) outside the house. He found one of the back doors open, went in, found the doors all shut, and curtains drawn over all the windows; observed deceased lying in the centre room, went up to him, and receiving no reply on addressing him, felt him, and ascertained that he was cold and stiff. Captain Treasure then had a curtain drawn, and saw that deceased was lying at full length on his right side, his left arm raised over his head; his shirt saturated with blood: a chair lay as it were under him, as if he had been sitting in it, and it had fallen over with him; his legs crossed near the feet, and a gun lying between them with its muzzle pointed upwards towards his left breast, and the cocks resting on the ground. Captain Treasure immediately reported what he had seen to the assistant magistrate, who with Dr. Stewart attended with all possible despatch. The matter was at once made known to the highest civil authority, the sub-judge, who instantly convened a Court of Inquest, composed of himself as president, with two captains of the Bombay and a Major and Captain of the Madras army as members. The inspector of police was absent, sick at Coimbatore, but the subordinates of the police were in attendance, and a search was made by them on the premises at once, and deceased's servants placed under surveillance. Before the investigation commenced, little doubt existed in the minds of any present but that he had come by his death by his own hand, either by intention or accident. On examining the body, however, it appeared that the shirt, especially on the left side, was torn to ribbons; and on it and his flannel banian (also much torn) being taken off, a large wound, apparently that of a gun shot, appeared in the left breast; and under the left arm pit were wounds, apparently stabs, one of them larger than the others. The upper part of the body was covered with blood, in a pool of which that portion of his person lay. No spot of blood was on his drawers, stockings or slippers, none on the chair which was lying under him, none upon the gun; no pool of blood on the spot where the chair must have been standing, had it fallen with him; none in the shape of pools or quantities in any part of the floor of the room or house. The body was lying with its head towards the right hand glass door of the room, the feet towards the table in its centre. On the opposite side of the room was a sofa against the wall; and on deceased's left, about a pace from him, was an open door leading into the bed-room. On a table close to this door, and inside the bed-room, was a large old table knife, such as is used in cook-rooms; the point of this was shown by the microscope to have been recently broken off; it had the appearance of having had blood on it, which had been carefully wiped off by a finger and thumb. This blood was shown by the microscope to be human blood. The window curtains of the door, a little to the right rear of the body high up, were perforated here and there with bloody shot marks, and on the top cross part, or vallance, of the same curtains was found a wad, a piece of red paper such as Ely's cartridges are made of, and a piece of skin all adhering together and to the vallance. High up in the corner of the wall above and to the right of this door were many bloody shot marks; and on the inner side of the bedroom-door, which was wide open, and so nearly overlapping the other door, were many marks of blood and shot. On the opposite side of the room, both above and behind the sofa, were marks of shot carrying with them blood and flesh. A medical examination was entered upon. Three ribs were found fractured high up on the left side, both in front and behind. Shots were found in the lungs and pericardium. Three incised wounds were found under the left arm-pit, direction inwards and downwards; one of these was mortal in its nature. The gunshot wound or wounds were described by the medical examiner to be the one downwards and backwards, the other backwards and upwards, both entering at the same aperture in the left breast, and no marks of exit at the breast, but some shot found in the edges of the incised wounds. Both medical men, Drs. Stewart and Lowe, pronounced their opinion that deceased could not have inflicted these stabs and gunshot wounds on himself; that it was next to impossible that he could have either first shot himself and then stabbed himself, or vice versa. The wounds under the armpit were clearly incised wounds; their edges were neither inverted nor everted. External circumstances, such as the chair being stainless, no large quantities of blood in other parts of the floor, the position of the gun, and the marks on the walls in opposite directions, all precluded the idea of suicide or accident. The little Mussulman boy, on being examined, stated that his master's domestic establishment consisted of himself, his, the boy's, father as butler, and his, the boy's, brother as maty, a Canarese waterwoman, and a sweeper, all of whom he declared on the night of deceased's death slept in the cook-room, distant some 30 paces from the house. He said that his master had on the previous day drank some eight bottles of beer, that he had his dinner at seven P.M., and that at eight P.M. he, the boy, according to custom, fastened all the doors of the house on the inside, save one back door through which he went out, and his master fastened it from inside, as he always did, as he would never allow anyone to sleep in the house; that all the servants slept in the cook-room and heard no noise during the night; that he got up the following morning about seven, and going to the back-door, which his master always opened on his coming, he found it ajar; that he went in and saw his master lying on the ground in the centre room; that he called him and received no answer. The room was dark and he observed no blood; he immediately went to the cook-room and told the other servants, none of whom went into the house, but told him to go and call Captain Treasure, which he did, and waited at that gentleman's house until he returned from his morning walk. A paper written on in pencil in deceased's hand writing was found on a small table in the centre room, accusing his (deceased's) servants by name of having assaulted him, robbed him of Rs. 60, and of having taken from him sword, pistols, gun, and dagger. This bore no date. In a box in his room were found 380 odd rupees in a bag. The water man and sweeper declared that all five servants slept in the cook room that night, and heard no noise. The sweeper said he always ran away if his master came near the cook-room, as the three mussulman servants told him that the master would kill him. He said that about eight days back he had seen his master's gun and pistols loaded, and his dagger and sword all in the cook room; the other servants told him that the master had brought these arms there to kill them, and they had taken them away from him. He saw the butler the same evening return the arms into the house. The sword and dagger were found by the Court of Inquest in deceased's bed room; his gun, one barrel discharged, between his legs; his pistols loaded, capped, and one of them cocked, on his dressing table on the day of the inquest. The loaded barrel of the gun contained an Ely cartridge, a charge of swan shot and powder. One pistol was loaded with powder and the same kind of shot as that in the gun; the other pistol with powder and snipe shot; the barrels of both pistols were foul. The assistant magistrate, who was present in the house during the whole day searching deceased's papers, &c., sent an express for the inspector of police at Wellington. He arrived during the night, and on searching the three mussulman servants, i.e., the butler and his two sons, found as follows, viz.:—on seizing the eldest son's hand he observed a small spot of blood on the back of it, which the lad instantly scratched off, saying, it is nothing. His turban and drawers had blood stains on them, and had in some places been washed. The butler's turban had apparently been washed, and suspicious stains were on it; but this turban had been on the cot on which the body had been placed before it was put in the coffin. On the little boy's jacket were marks of blood upon the cuffs, which had been washed; the microscope showed most, if not all, of these stains to be human blood. The three parties gave different accounts of these marks—one saying his nose had bled, the other that he had a certain disease, the other that he had killed a duck, &c. &c. A verdict of wilful murder against the three Musulman servants was recorded. The police and magistracy have since and are at present actively employed in endeavouring to trace out the circumstances of the murder. Much native clothing, some washed and stained, and other articles of the accused's dress, partially burnt, have been found. A reward has been offered for any evidence which will lead to the conviction of the murderers, against whom there is already sufficient evidence for a jury to convict, though not sufficient for a court constituted as are those of this country.—Daily Times and Spectator.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE LATE CAPTAIN MORPHEW.—The Madras Times regrets to announce the death, at St. Thome early on the morning of the 5th September, of Captain Mars Morpheit, late of H.M.'s 57th regiment of foot. Capt. Morpheit was an old Peninsular officer, and carries to his grave the marks of honourable wounds received at the battle of Salamanca. He joined the 2nd battalion 53rd regiment as a volunteer in 1812, and was wounded three times at Salamanca, (once severely.) He was afterwards appointed an ensign in that corps. In the end of the year 1813, he was transferred to the 1st battalion then serving in this country. In June 1815 he obtained his lieutenantcy. He was present at the capture of Jeytich. He afterwards exchanged into the 87th regiment, and in 1824 into the 48th, of which regiment he was for a long time one of the smartest adjutants in the service. He was at the battle of Coorg, and shortly afterwards exchanged as a captain into the 57th regiment, from which he retired about the year 1843, in order to assume the appointment of deputy post-master of Madras. In the year 1846 he was appointed high sheriff. About four years ago loss of sight compelled his retirement from the post office, and he has since lived in much seclusion at St. Thome. He was the kindest and best of husbands and fathers, and the warmest and most sincere of friends. He was an excellent and zealous British officer, but more than this he was a faithful soldier of the Cross. In the 68th year of his age, he peacefully entered into the rest prepared for the people of God.

LIEUT. COL. T. K. WHISTLER has been gazetted Commandant of Artillery and to command St. Thomas's Mount, in the room of Brigadier Am-sinck, deceased.

BANGALORE.—We (Bangalore Herald) question if the Hills themselves are to be compared to the temperature we enjoy at the present time (Sept. 21.) The quantity of rain which has fallen has abundantly met the wants of the ryots, filled all our tanks, and imparted to the atmosphere a most agreeable and refreshing coolness. The mornings are delightful, and from the number of equestrians and pedestrians abroad, may be gathered the character of the season. Our meteorological table during the past week gives the maximum of the thermometer at 70 within the house, and the minimum at 68. The Hills may furnish a scale less in degrees, but they lack the equableness of our own locality. There is no exaggeration in declaring the climate of Bangalore second to no other in India—it is freed from the oppressive enervating heat of the Carnatic, and from the chilliness and dampness experienced at greater altitudes.

INCOME-TAX ASSESSORS.—The Income-tax Commissioners have recommended the Government to appoint the following gentlemen assessors for the city of Madras:—Mr. Morison, Mr. Wilson, Mr. Clarke, Narrainsawmy Moody, and P. T. Ramanjooloo Naidoo.—Times and Spectator, Sept. 28.

MILITARY RETRENCHMENT.—The Military Finance Committee has already recommended retrenchments which will reduce our annual military expenditure to thirteen crores and eighty lacs per annum; and they hope to be able to effect further reductions in the Madras presidency alone to the extent of seventy lacs.

TEA PLANTING.—The Government of Madras have granted 200 acres of grass and 25 of forest land in the Neilgherries to Mr. F. D. Rae for the purpose of tea cultivation. The terms are, "a permanent title with exemption from all taxation for seven years, and thereafter a tax of one rupee an acre for the whole extent, except such parts as are actually uncultivable." The Government depart from the usual rules in consideration of the novelty and importance of the tea experiment.

BOMBAY.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE LATE DR. BUIST.—The people of Bombay will regret in Dr. Buist not the man of genius only, but the tried and warm-hearted friend. His fame was won amongst us, and during his long career of nearly twenty years as a journalist in this city, from the moment when he landed here an obscure provincial editor till he left us with a European reputation for eminence in every branch of science and literature, he devoted himself with all the inexhaustible energy of his character to the social and material improvement of Bombay and its inhabitants. No man ever laboured so disinterestedly, or with more taste and judgment, to benefit the people among whom his lot was cast. Himself a giant in intellect, he used not his strength like a giant to tyrannise over the pigmies by whom he was surrounded, but worked for the good of others rather than for his own. Like all of us, Dr. Buist had his foibles, and these too often made men forget the great services he rendered to mankind. But all learnt at last to do him justice. Few men are prophets in their own country, for local jealousies have seemingly the effect of reducing all to one level, and it is as difficult to be great in a country town as in the presence of one's valet. But when one man is seen to be the enthusiastic originator of every project for transforming a mean provincial town into a civilised metropolis—when, whether we regard the building of schools, the planting of gardens, the collection of museums, or any of the thousands means by which Bombay has been improved and adorned, one hand is seen throughout to be the chief motive power—no community can be so ungrateful as to persistently refuse honour to him to whom honour is due. And Dr. Buist did more than this for Bombay and for India. He raised the press of this country to a position it never before attained.

His name mentioned with respect by every learned society in Europe, his writings quoted and admired wherever they were read, Dr. Buist was the first man to make the Indian press a "power in the state," and looking back on the results of his labours in former years and comparing them with the Indian literature of the day, we see no cause to congratulate ourselves on the progress we have made. No journalist out of London ever won or deserved higher and more extensive fame than Dr. Buist. Though he was no mere man of letters, he gave to his profession all the resources of his powerful intellect, combined with hard work and ceaseless activity. Had he been less comprehensive—had his imagination been less ardent, and his prudence more assured—he might long ere this have retired to England to enjoy in learned ease the fruits of his toil. But the art of money making was unknown to him; and he even squandered his own little fortune on experiments for the good of others. If, however, he has left no store of wealth behind him, he has left what is better—an example of public spirit, unselfish zeal, and intellectual diligence, which every citizen may study with advantage, and a name which will be handed down to posterity as that of one who did good in his generation.—Bombay Gazette.

THE LATE GENERAL WOODBURN.—We (Bombay Times) regret to have to record the death of Major-General Woodburn, at Ahmedabad, on the night of the 28th September. He had been ailing for some time, and sank not from any organic complaint, but from sheer exhaustion. General Woodburn belonged to the season of 1820, and as may be perceived from the subjoined record of his services in the army, was an officer of considerable experience. Major-General A. Woodburn, C.B., served against Kolapore in 1827; commanded the 25th Regiment in Sind and Afghanistan from 1840 to 1849; held the entrenched camp at Kotra (entrance to the Gundava pass) on the 1st December, 1842, while the army of the Khan of Khelat was attacked and defeated; commanded a light battalion in 1842 on the advance to Kandahar, and the right column in the second attack on the heights at Hykulaye; employed in forcing the Kujuck pass, and in reserve with the light battalion at Kandahar during the engagement with Akbar Khan's army under the city walls; with Colonel Wymer's force on the Urghundaub, taking and destroying the forts of the insurgent chiefs; twice engaged in affairs on rearguard during the retirement on Sind; commanded the 2nd Brigade at the battle of Hyderabad in 1843, and the force which carried the surrender of Omerkote. The deceased officer was a brevet lieutenant colonel, Companion of the Bath, and had a medal for services in Sind.

OPIMUM EXCISE.—Some time ago, Messrs. David Sassoon & Co., and the other opium merchants of Bombay, memorialised Government upon the increased excise upon opium, and the want of any previous notice as to the intention of Government to raise the duty. It will be perceived from the subjoined reply, that Government refuse to guarantee the desired notice asked for by the merchants in any future change:—No. 3,580 of 1860.—Revenue Department. To Messrs. David Sassoon and Co., and other opium merchants of Bombay. Gentlemen,—With reference to Mr. Secretary Ellis's letter to you of August 30 last, I am desired to inform you that the Government of India do not deem it expedient to give any guarantee as to the notice desired by any change in future in the rate of pass duty on Malwa opium, but direct that you be assured that your wishes will be carefully kept in mind and fully considered on any future occasion of altering the duty.—I have the honour to be, gentlemen, your most obedient servant, A. D. ROBERTSON, Acting Secretary to Government. Bombay Castle, October 9, 1860.

CUTCH.—Recent advices from Cutch state that the land has at last been rescued from the danger of famine, rain having fallen in considerable quantities throughout the country. The crops are invigorated, and though there may not be an abundant harvest, still with a little outside aid, there will be sufficient to sustain the population till next year. Forage will be abundant, and consequently we hope soon to find an appreciable decrease in the high prices now ruling here. The Cutch people who migrated to Kurrachee and other quarters to escape the horrors of famine, are already returning homewards, and the new Rao has now no occasion to dread an inauspicious beginning of his reign, which would have rendered him very unpopular among his superstitious people.—Our Paper.

INCOME-TAX COMMISSIONERS.—The following gentlemen have been appointed additional members of the commission to carry out the provisions of Act XXXII. of 1860, in the town and island of Bombay:—Mr. W. F. Hunter, Mr. W. Steven, and Mr. Meerza Ali Jan. We hear of the appointment of three assessors for the Income-tax:—Mr. A. Faulkner, Assistant Commissioner of Customs; Mr. Dossabhoj Framjee, Assessor to the Municipal Commissioners; and Mr. Moosa Khan Mahomed Hoosein Khan, Persian and Arabic Translator in the Secretariate. Mr. Faulkner will get a salary of Rs. 500; Mr. Dossabhoj, Rs. 350; and Mr. Moosa Khan, Rs. 300. It is said that each of these gentlemen will continue to hold his original office, in addition to the new one.

BANK OF BOMBAY.—Statement of the affairs of the Bank of Bombay on the 8th of October, 1860:—

LIABILITIES.
Proprietors' Capital	...	52,25,000
Circulation...	...	99,84,109
Deposits	...	65,52,006
Rest	...	2,85,782
Rs.	...	3,20,46,897
ASSETS.
Government Securities	...	53,55,091
Loans on Deposit of Government Securities	...	36,80,691
Cash Credits on ditto	...	15,13,472
Bills discounted	...	9,68,629
Other Securities	...	1,84,653
Cash Balance	...	2,03,44,361
Rs.	...	3,20,46,897

By order of the Board of Directors.—JAMES BLAIR, Secretary and Treasurer.

THE WAGHER EXPEDITION.—The Sindian, of the 26th September, informs us that "the right wing of the 1st Grenadier Regiment Bombay Native Infantry, consisting of 350 rank and file, under the command of Major Honner, marched out of Campearly on Saturday morning, and embarked on board H.M.'s steamer Hugh Lindsay, which will convey them to Dwarka; another rising of the Wagheers has rendered it necessary to reinforce the garrison there, and we fancy we shall have to chronicle some hot doings ere long. The following officers accompanied the wing:—Major Johnstone, second in command; Lieutenant Fullerton, adjutant; Lieutenant Gordon, quartermaster; Lieutenant Lucas; Ensigns Reynolds, Wood, and Mockler; Surgeon Styles in medical charge."

CHOLERA has made its appearance in Kurrachee, and some cases have terminated fatally. The epidemic has broken out in the town; it first commenced its ravages at Keamaree, from which place, it would appear, it is travelling up by slow degrees. The present state of the weather certainly favours the presence of so unwelcome a visitor; yesterday morning the sky assumed a very lowering aspect, and the atmosphere was dense and oppressive to a degree; during the day it was exceedingly sultry, and the sensation that came over one was somewhat akin to that he feels when testing the properties of a vapour bath.

MILITARY MOVEMENTS.—The head-quarter wing of the 1st Belooches, under Capt. Beville, to proceed from Hyderabad to Kurrachee and join the left wing. A wing of one of the European corps here (probably the 3rd) is to go to Hyderabad. Government, it is said, has decided upon the removal, during the ensuing cold season, of the dragoons from Kirkee to Ahmednuggur, and the artillery from the latter station to Kirkee. This important change has been resolved on at the recommendation of the Commander-in-Chief, Sir W. Mansfield. We are informed that the reliefs of European corps in this Presidency, generally announced in General Orders, are not to take place. In consequence of this arrangement having been set aside, there will be no corps of exercise at Poona in the cold weather. Government, it seems, are getting very chary about the expense of these movements, and all the more so as the Income-tax is not likely to be so profitable a speculation in this Presidency as was expected.—Poona Observer.

ST. ANDREW'S KIRK.—Mr. Edw. Jas. Martin, junior, late precentor of the Free Church of Scotland, Bombay, has been appointed organist and session-clerk of St. Andrew's Kirk, in the room of Mr. H. A. Cannon, resigned.

Mr. L. C. PROBYN, first assistant to the accountant-general, Bombay, is appointed civil auditor at Agra.

SIR A. GRANT has arrived in Bombay to take up the appointment of Professor of History at the Elphinstone College. This gentleman was highly distinguished at Oxford as a tutor, and his work on the "Ethics of Aristotle" has attracted great attention. The education department is most fortunate in having secured his services.

THE BHEEL LEADER OF KHANDEISH, the traitor Khaja Sing Naick of Sindwa, has at last paid the penalty of his outlawry. His head was brought into Seerpoor on the 3rd October, a Mekranee follower having murdered him. His son also has been brought into Seerpoor in irons, and the disappearance of their leaders will go far, we hope, to reduce their Bheel followers to submission.

ORDINATION.—On Sunday, the 30th Sept., the Rev. Charles Gilder, a Missionary of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts, was ordained to the office of deacon at the close of the forenoon service in St. Mary's Church, Poona, by the Right Rev. Dr. J. Harding, Lord Bishop of the Diocese, who was assisted at the service by the Venerable Archdeacon Boys, and the Rev. Messrs. Fletcher and Fenton.

MR. HENRY CLEVELAND, solicitor, is appointed coroner of Bombay, in succession to Dr. Reid, who, during Mr. Hore's absence, is acting first judge of the Small Cause Court.

CRIM. CON. ACTION FOR DAMAGES.—In the action brought by Colonel Gore Boland Mumbel, Bombay Engineers, against Lieutenant Charles Payne Barras, H.M.'s 29th Bombay N.I., for criminal conversation with the plaintiff's wife, judgment was allowed to be entered by default—a verdict for Rs. 3,000 being recorded as damages against the defendant. The new Divorce Act, unfortunately, does not apply to India.

SHIPPING.

ARRIVALS.

Sept. 25. Bombay (s.), Gething, Kurrachee.—28. Norna (s.), Reynolds, Aden; Sirocco, Winchester, Aden.—30. Nepaul, Briggs, Aden.—Oct. 2. Bombay Castle (s.), Wadge, Hong Kong; Tilly (s.), James, Colombo.—4. Europa, Vagler, Antwerp; B. noelen, Chambers, Liverpool.—5. Claber, Bruin, Mauritius; Emeu (s.), Dundas, Hong Kong.—7. Southern Belle, Benson, London.—8. Hevetia, Naving, Aden; Typhoon, Faulkner, Liverpool.—9. Ottawa (s.), Grubbe, Aden; Snake-spear, Norcross, Hong Kong; Ethel, H.M. Liverpool.—10. Bombay (s.), Potts, Suva.—11. Scindian (s.), Beyts, Kurrachee.

PASSENGERS ARRIVED.

Per B. S. N. Co.'s str. Bombay.—Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs and child, Mr. and Mrs. Goldsmith and child, Capt. Miles, Capt. Strawd, Dr. and Mrs. Jones and two children, Messrs. J. F. Clutcham, W. H. Hurst, R. Leys.
Per Nepaul.—Mr. J. Evans.
Per C. M. S. N. Co.'s str. Bombay Castle.—Mr. Browne, mate of the wrecked barque Hopewell.
Per B. S. N. Co.'s str. Tilly.—Capt. Barron.
Per Claber.—Miss Bruin.
Per P. and O. Co.'s str. Emeu.—From SHANGHAI.—Mr. and Mrs. Marshall. From MADRAS.—Sir A. Grant and Lady Grant, Lieut. Hubbard. From SYDNEY.—Capt. Mitford. From GALLI.—Capt. Brown, Messrs. Barley, Whitford, Artheridge, Millard, Briscoe, Bayley, Butters.
Per Southern Belle.—Lieut. Duncan, 28th Regt. N.I., Mrs. Flasket and four children, Miss W. Wilson.
Per P. and O. Co.'s str. Ottawa.—Mr. and Mrs. J. Reunishaw and three children, Mr. R. Gaffney.
Per B. S. N. Co.'s str. Scindian.—Mr. Faily, Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Fitzpatrick, Maj. and Mrs. Francis, Asst. surg. Longhead, Maj. Malcom, Mr. Bennett, Mr. Barras, Capt. Hughes, Mr. A. Mann, Rev. A. Matchett, Lieut. and Mrs. Ryder.
Per str. Victoria, from SUVA.—Messrs. A. C. Hall, R. Gamvett, and.
Per P. and O. Co.'s str. Bombay.—From SUVA to MZ.—Messrs. Mr. Cumming. To CHINA.—Messrs. C. Lynell, Jannet, De Courcy, and Vallon. To CALCUTTA.—Mr. Blackwell. To CAYLON.—Messrs. Goudron and Couzet. To BOMBAY.—Mrs. Verchere, Mr. and Mrs. Davison, Miss Forbes, Miss Fowler, Capt. and Mrs. Mackenzie, Miss A. Raymond, Miss L. Zeln, Miss C. Zeersveeck, Miss S. Alver, Miss P. Aythe, Mrs. A. Reed, Col. Barr, Commander H. A. Drought, Capt. Flood and T. M. Harris, Lieut. Whitlock, Cornet Phillips, Ensigns Herring, Hutton, Cotton, and Jervis, Messrs. E. Montefiore, R. Murray, Caldecott, R. W. Hunter, McPherson, H. Richman, E. Noisten, C. Richin, H. Bergfeldt, G. Brunner, W. Stokes, T. Schauder, Deedes, Levi, Blake, Bossemere J. Kirby, H. Fielden, M. Kirby, E. Walker, S. Simpson, Francis, Hellerback, Stephani, Bearwick, Mausack, and Howard.

Per P. and O. Co.'s str. Norna.—From SOUTHAMPTON.—Capt. and Mrs. Higginson, Capt. and Mrs. Quin, Mrs. Forman and three children, Miss H. Henderson, Mrs. S. Chatten, Mr. and Mrs. Markham, Mr. and Mrs. Hayes, Mrs. J. White, Mr. and Mrs. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Binks and infant, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Lieut. Edwards, Messrs. B. Boquet, R. Dally, Lodge, E. Pulleyne, Gleiz, P. Spicer, Marsh, W. Colford, J. Tacedale, H. Jones, J. Williams, J. Simons, J. Martin, J. Weir, Brown, Gibb, Fearley, H. Caile, W. Acheong, G. Beaumont, J. Sine air, C. Duront, J. Ewing, D. Aird, J. Hamilton. From MARSILLES.—Mr. and Mrs. Hutchinson, Miss Coates, Maj. H. Brown, Capt. Widdicombe, Messrs. B. Combe, S. G. Turner, Ellis, G. Mossop, Stewart, Legzatt, Coates, Payne, Mialhi, Border, Watson. From SUVA.—Messrs. L. Scraphine, P. Scraphine, L. Routain, J. Grescandi, J. Grescandi.

DEPARTURES.

Sept. 26. Poolucka Sidon, Tavernier, Kurrachee; Brewster, Clarke, Calcutta.—27. Eliza Mary, Black, Havre; str. Orissa, Purcose, Aden and Suva; str. Bombay, Gething, Cochin.—29. Str. Scindian, Beyts, Kurrachee; City of Quebec, Auld, London; Gladiator, Jeffares, Liverpool.—O. Asiatic, Watt, Hong Kong; Jorgin Bruin, Kopperhold, Hong Kong.—Oct. 1. Str. Northam, Brooks, China, &c.—2. Str. Pottinger, Remondou, Aden; Anne De Bretagne, Barallan, M. urit us, via Kurrachee.—4. Wide Awake, Robinson, Calcutta; East, Boyd, Kurrachee.—6. Tomozonopa, Poe, Calcutta.—7. Charles Henri, Ruckmer, Hong Kong.—8. Echo, Le Feuvre, Kurrachee.—9. Teanmach Gardes, Liverpool.—10. Melbourne, Morris, Liverpool; Wizard King, Coe, New York.—11. Str. Tilly, James, Kurrachee; Summer Cloud, Calman, London, via Cochin; Amicus, Neel, Cochin.—12. P. and O. Co.'s str. Emeu, Dundas, Suva.

PASSENGERS DEPARTED.

Per Brewster.—Mr. and Mrs. Ross and child.
Per B. S. N. Co.'s str. Scindian.—Lieut. C. Forster, I.N., Mr. W. Clarke, Mr. J. McFarlane. U.S., Capt. Parsons, 1st Bengal Fus., Ens. Townley, H.M.'s 98th Regt, Lieut. Strachan, H.M.'s 94th Regt., Surg. maj. Ingles 64th Foot, Mr. P. M. Dalzell, Col. Grimes, Mr. Widd Scindia, Mrs. Naill, Mr. J. Wilson, Mr. Brown, M. J. L. Durnolly, Mr. A. P. D. Souli, Mrs. Ross, Mr. R. Boquet, Mr. and Miss Coates, Miss Charter Miss Thomas.
Per Gladiator.—Mr. and Mrs. Pagan and two children.
Per P. and O. S. N. Co.'s str. Northam.—To CHINA.—Mrs. Erskine, Ens. F. C. Hudson and Girardot. For SINGAPORE.—Mr. and Mrs. McNaughten.
Per Anne de Bretagne.—To KURRACHEE.—Mr. E. de Crepebue, Mr. Bagnan.
Per Wizard King.—Mr. W. H. Benny.
Per B. S. N. Co.'s str. Tilly.—To KURRACHEE.—Mrs. and Miss Izule Mrs. Cloke, Mr. Chalmers, Mr. J. Besmeres, jun., Mr. and Mrs. W. Davison, Mrs. Verchere, Capt. and Mrs. Mackenzie, Maj. Goldsmith, M. sters A. J., and T. Izule, Mr. Fearley, Mr. J. Kusby, Mr. H. Filmer, Mr. M. Kirby, Mr. E. Walker, Mr. G. D. Souza, Mr. J. De Souza.
Per P. and O. Co.'s str. Emeu.—For ADEN.—Col. Buchanan, Dr. Hadaway. For SUVA.—Lieut. Waddington, For ALLEXANDRIA.—Mrs. Spooner, Miss Spooner and a child, Captain Waddington. For MARSILLES.—Mr. Cheshire, Capt. Dawson, Rev. A. Matchett. For SOUTHAMPTON.—Serg. Cullaghan, Mrs. Kennedy and four children, Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Fitzpatrick and three children, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Stuart, Lieutenant Matthew, Capt. Squiri, Asst. surg. Kelsey, Mrs. Clarke and two children, Mrs. Penney, Capt. Duff.

COMMERCIAL.

Bombay, Sept. 26, 1860.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.

4 per cent. Transfer Loan	Rs. 82½	100 Sa.
4 " " Loan	1832-33 Rs. 85½	100 Sa.
4 " " " "	1835-36 Rs. 82½	100 Co.
4 " " " "	1842-43 Rs. 82½	100 do.
4 per cent. Co.'s Rs. Loan	1854-55 Rs. 82½	100 do.
5 per cent. Loan (New)	Rs. 92½	100 do.
3½ per cent. Co.'s Rs. Loan	Rs. 102½

BANK AND OTHER SHARES.

Bombay Bank (Rs. 1,000)	39½	40
Oriental Bank (Rs. 250) 250 paid up	87	per cent. ex d.
Commercial Bank (Rs. 1,000) 500 do.	131	per cent. pm.
Mercantile Bank (Rs. 1,000) 250 do.	30½	prem.
N.W. Bank of India (Rs. 400)
Agra Bank (Rs. 500)	56	per ct. pm.
Madras Bank (Rs. 1,000)	Nom.
Apollo Press Com. (Rs. 12,500) 20,000 p. up	Rs. 20	500 dis.
Colaba Press Com. (Rs. 7,000) 7,000 do.	5,550
Hydraulic P. Com.	4,600	do.
Cotton Spinning Com.	4,600	do.
Oriental Weaving and Spinning Com.	2,500	do. 125 pm.
Colaba L. Com.	10,000	do. 11 000
Bombay S. N. Com.	500	do. 20 per share
Bombay Spinning and Weaving Co.	5,000	1,000 per sh. Rs. 2,200
East India Spinning & Weaving Co. (Limited)	150	Nominal.
Great Eastern Spinning and Weaving Co.	100	Rs. 30 pm.
Manockjee Pity's Spinning and Weaving Co.	125	Rs. 28 pm.
Oriental Weaving and Spinning Co. (New Shares)	100	Rs. 200 pm.
Royal Spinning & Weaving Co.	100	Rs. 35 pm.
Throstle Mill Co.	4,000	Rs. 500 pm.
Great Ind. P. R. Com. (Rs. 215-3) paid in Bombay, or £25 prem. in England—Rs. 14 per share discount.
Do. New Shares. Rs. 21-13 1 at £2 per share—Rs. 5 do.

EXCHANGES.

On London—at 6 months' sight, per rupee, 2s. 0½d. for Doc. Bills.
6 months' sight, per 100, 99½
On Calcutta, at 60 days' sight, per 100	100½
30 days' sight, per 100	100½
On Madras, at 30 days' sight, per 100	99½ pm.
On China, at 60 days' sight, per 100 taels	99½

PRICES OF BULLION, &c.

Sovereigns	each, Rs. 10 9
Bank of England Notes	per 100, Rs. 227
Spanish Dollars	per 100, Rs. 213
Republic Dollars	per 100, Rs. 213
German Crowns	per 100, Rs. 106 4
Sycee Silver	per 100 tola, Rs. 17-3-6
Gold Leaf	per tola, Rs. 10 10 ½
Bar Silver	per 100, Rs. 22 ½
Mexican Dollars	per 100, Rs. 22 ½

FREIGHTS.

To London, £2 7s. 6d. to £2 10s. per ton.
To Liverpool, £2 5s. to £2 10s. per ton.

EXPORTS (Bombay, Oct. 11).—Coffee.—Mocha is in demand, and worth Rs. 12-8 to Rs. 15 per pound. The value of Malabar remains at Rs. 9 to Rs. 9-8. Catua continued depressed until the receipt of a telegram, via Galle, with news to the effect of September advising an advance of three-eighths of a penny per lb. in Liverpool, when the dealers raised their prices for good descriptions by Rs. 3 to Rs. 5 per catty. There are few buyers, however, and the small purchases made have been mostly on native account, and for the China market. As yet the arrivals from the outports have been smaller than was expected, and this also tends to prevent a fall. Broach and Surat are held for Rs. 115 to Rs. 117; Dhoolera and Bhownagar for Rs. 110 to Rs. 115; Oomrawuttee, Rs. 100 to Rs. 110. Rs. 92 to Rs. 96 is asked for Mangalore and Veraval; Rs. 96 to Rs. 98 for Coimbatore, while the rates for Saw inned and Dhawar vary from Rs. 103 to Rs. 125 in consequence of the great difference of qualities. The clearances last month were very small, amounting to only 22,839½ bales for Great Britain, and 23,225 bales for China. The rise in Linsed advised in our last has not been maintained, and telegraphic news of a fall at home has caused a decline here to Rs. 4-11 to Rs. 4-12, at which rates the article is now to be had. The stock in country is reported to be large. Rapeseed is yet held for Rs. 6 per cwt. For Gingelly there is a demand on foreign account, but we do not hear of any purchases. Dealers are asking Rs. 26 to Rs. 28 per catty. Ground Nut worth Rs. 22 to Rs. 23, but nothing is doing by English houses.

IMPORTS (Bombay, Oct. 11).—In Grey Cottons the business has been on a larger scale than we have had to report for some time; and though prices in hardly any instances are such as pay the importer, yet the state of things is so far encouraging from the fact that the dealers are doing little or nothing on speculation, but having quit all the stocks, are now buying either to complete up-country orders or for present local wants. The sales of Grey Shirtings have been considerable, at from former rates to 1 to 2 annas advance per piece. 6, 7, and 8 lb. Cottons, 39 inch, are in steady demand, at Rs. 3-11, 4-10, and 6. The last-named are scarce and wanted. 45 inch are less inquired for, and the sales have been very limited, at our quotations. In Printers we hear of no transactions. T-Cloths are in considerable demand at current prices, and, during the last few days a slight advance has been secured on 6 lb. cloths, which, together with 7 lbs., have been the descriptions chiefly required for. Rs. 3-5½ has been refused for the former. The business reported is very large. Longcloths are more wanted, and stocks being light, an advance of 2 as. per piece on 36 and 40 inch widths has occurred. 45 inch is in slight inquiry. Domestics of narrow widths are not yet in much demand, and the sales made have been at their lower prices; but the wider kinds are more wanted, and rates steady, though little has been done. In Drills no transactions are reported. Mulls are without much inquiry and hardly anything has been done. White Shirtings are in moderate demand, at former low prices on which there are as yet no signs of improvement. The market for Cotton Twist has at length begun to show signs of life. Mule has advanced ½ to ¾ of an anna per lb. Nos. 30s. and 40. ¼ to ½ an anna. Nos. 50s. are worth ½ anna advance; and notwithstanding the stocks are large of local production, we may expect a further advance probably during the next two months if the demand continues, as arrivals can be very small. Water, Nos. 20s., 30s., and 40s. have all improved by ½ anna per lb. The demand for Copper has rather improved again, and as stocks have become smaller holders have generally been enabled to raise their prices. The market for Iron is firm.

CEYLON.

COLOMBO, Sept. 29.—A few showers have fallen during the fortnight, but nowhere, we believe, has there been rain sufficient either favourably to affect the crop of coffee on the trees, or to relieve anxiety as to sufficient wood being matured to bear an average crop next season. If rain does not fall speedily and copiously the prospects of the country will be gloomy enough. But there are signs of rain at hand.

During the past fortnight, the closing one of the season, only three vessels have sailed instead of the six we expected. But two of these have taken cargoes so much in excess of what we anticipated that our estimate is pretty closely approached. We reckoned 637,000 cwt. for the season—the actual shipments of the twelve months are 631,000 cwt. The Arles and the Agrippina are ready to sail, and had they actually cleared, our estimate would have been fully met. Of the three ships that sailed in the fortnight, two were for London with 3,795 cwt. plantation, and 2,716 native; total 6,511. The third vessel was destined for Amsterdam, and took 7,146 plantation, and 844 native; 7,990 in all. The aggregate exports of the fortnight have been 10,941 plantation, and 3,560 native; total 14,501.

The exports of cinnamon have not varied greatly for the four last seasons. Coconut oil, on the other hand, has recovered the depression of the previous season and is rapidly advancing. In Plumbago there is a very large increase, and some improvement in coir yarn.

As far as coffee is concerned we fear the next two seasons will scarcely show outturns to justify the opinion held in some quarters that we should go on with the railway. The discussions in council show that, large as our estimated revenue for 1861 is (close on three-quarters of a million), it is likely to be taxed to the uttermost in meeting the demands on it. Within a few days we shall have our new governor amongst us, and we trust he may be enabled to unravel the tangled skein of our over-weighted finances. It will require no small degree of firmness and skill to steer Ceylon safely through the next five years; and we trust Sir C. MacCarthy may be blessed with health, strength, and sagacity equal to the arduous task.

Lord Torrington's pamphlet, advocating the formation of a railway from Colombo to Trincomalee, has excited some attention. The idea is a grand one—we wish we could describe it as "imperial"—for unless the Imperial Government consent to bear the larger share of the expense, we fear the project must, for the present, be deemed impracticable.

Galle has been enlivened by a visit from 183 French soldiers, who arrived overland en route to China.

Considering the state of the weather for some time back, it is scarcely surprising that we should have to record the appearance of some cases of cholera, even in the generally healthy town of Colombo. Every possible precaution has been taken to prevent the spread of the disease, which, we trust, may tend to arrest its progress.

Amongst the victims of this disease in the south of the island, is Mr. James O'Donnel, of the Survey department.

We have the melancholy duty of adding to our obituary the name of Mrs. Clark, wife of Mr. R. C. Clark, of Colombo. Dying at the early age of thirty-one, from a lingering and painful disease, which she bore with Christian resignation, the deceased lady left a family of nine children—one a mere infant—motherless. The large number of persons who attended the funeral showed the respect entertained for the dead and the sympathy felt for the living.—Ceylon Overland Observer.

CENTRAL ASIA.

August 13.—The Ameer is now quite recovered of his sickness, and is carrying on all the business of the State. The Kotwal of the city brought some Afghans and some Chundowlee Chawan Sheer people who had quarrelled among themselves and had wounded one or two men. The Ameer tried them in person, and ordered them to be imprisoned. Sirdar Peer Mohamed Khan, who some time ago had been ordered to go to Toorkistan, attended the durbar and stated that he was too old to go to Toorkistan, if the Ameer would not be displeased, he would send his son, Shah Mohamed Khan, in his place. The Ameer ordered him to do so, but without any delay.

August 14.—It is ascertained by a person just arrived from Bookhara, that one morning the King of Bookhara, after he had said his usual prayers, sat down, sighed, and said, that as he had become very old, it would be better for him to prepare for the next world and get pardon from those whom he next, during his reign, had oppressed or fined. His Majesty immediately sent for the Chief Quazee and Seeyaha Nawe (a day book-keeper) and ordered them to get a statement ready, showing the names of all the people who had been fined and those who had received other punishments since the commencement of his reign. The king also desired them to let him know if he owed any money to any one. A proclamation was ordered to be issued to the effect that if any one had ever paid any fine to the King of Bookhara, he was to present himself before the king, and he would be repaid. The copies of this proclamation were directed to be sent to Samurkund, Kurshee, and other places, with the instructions to the Chiefs to supply the King with a similar statement. Some years ago a Khan at Bookhara had been fined forty thousand tunkas, which is equal to eleven thousand Cabul rupees; his name having been brought to the King's notice, inquiries were ordered to be made if he was living. The Khan had died long ago, but his poor son was labouring as a coolie. He was presented before the King, who ordered forty thousand tunkas to be paid to him as his father's money, and a valuable khillut with four slave girls, and three slaves and a good house, as presents from the King. In a word the King of Bookhara is said to be very charitable and kind to his people, and determined to see justice done in his country. This day the Ameer's health was so far from good, that he did not get up from his bed till late in the evening. All the Sirdars were very anxious about the Ameer's sickness, and some of them gave cows and cash in charity. Sirdar Shere Allee gave two cows and one hundred rupees, Sooltan Mohamed one cow and twenty rupees, and Oosman Khan two cows and fifty rupees. In the evening the Ameer felt a little better, and the Sirdars went home.—August 15.—Sirdar Mohamed Ameen Khan's letter was this day received from Kandahar, informing the Ameer that Meer Uzful Khan, Ghoolam Moheooddeen Khan, and Nadir, the ex-Kandahar chiefs, who were going to Persia via the Bukwah Desert, were robbed on their way of all the valuable property they possessed. They sent their sowars after the thieves, but without any success. At Kandahar it was rumoured that they were robbed by Sirdar Mahomed Ameen's order. From the 15th to the 18th August the Ameer was so bad that no public business whatsoever was executed; all the Sirdars remained with the Ameer, and the Hakeem performed their duties. Sometimes it was given out that he was dangerously ill, and that all the hopes of his recovery were given up. On the 18th the Ameer opened his eyes and talked a little with some Sirdars, which has made them believe that the Ameer Sahib will get round in a few days.—August 19.—Sirdar Shahooddoulah, son of Nawab Mohamed Zaman Khan, told his son Mohamed Yaseen Khan, that when he went to Heerat he left some valuable jewels and books with his mother; on his return he asked her about the jewels, and the answer she gave him was that she did not know anything about it. He has been given to understand, continued the Sirdar, that this woman, meaning his own wife, who is the daughter of Sirdar Peer Mohamed Khan, has been going wrong with some Sirdars and thus lost all his valuables. The only satisfaction he will have is to kill her, as he is ashamed to go and sit amongst the Cabul Sirdars. While he was talking to his son he sent for his wife, and asked her again before Mohamed Yaseen what had she done with the jewels. On her remaining quiet, Mohamed Yaseen brought the sword to cut his mother in two. This woman no sooner saw him going for the sword, than she ran out of the door. The Quaboochee (a sepoy in charge of the door), who also had some connection with her, hid her in a room, and informed Sirdar Peer Mohamed Khan that his daughter had escaped. Sirdar Peer Mohamed Khan, with his four sons, hastened to the place, and told Shahooddoulah that this was very unbecoming of a Sirdar like him, and that if he dared to do such a thing he would ruin him. The matter went so far that they began to abuse each other. While they were quarrelling, the son of the Quaboochee took Peer Mohamed's daughter to the Sirdar's house. After Peer Mohamed left Shahooddoulah's house, the latter killed the two slave girls who were in attendance on Peer Mohamed's daughter.—Delhi Gazette.

Official Gazette.

BENGAL.

BY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL.

BRIGADE COMMANDS.

Mily. Dept., Fort William, Sept. 19.—No. 943.—H.E. the Gov. gen. in Council is pleased to constitute the station of Ferozepore, Fyzabad, Jullundur, and Sealkote to be brigade commands of the sec. class.

Sept. 21.—No. 944.—The undermnt. sub. asst. of the Ganjam topographical survey is prom. from the third to the sec. class, with effect from the 8th Aug., 1860.—Mr. John Harper.

No. 946.—The following order issued by the resident at Hyderabad is conf. :—

No. 203, dated Aug. 14.—Conf. the order by the officer comdg. 3rd regt. of inf., Hyderabad conting., dated 7th Aug., 1860, directing Lieut. Innes, adj., 3rd inf., Hyderabad conting., to offic. as 2nd in com., in add. to his dty. as adj. from that date, consequent on dep. of Lieut. Teed, 2nd in com., 3rd inf., Hyderabad conting., to Bombay, on m.c.

No. 948.—Capt. H. R. Wroughton, 40th N.I., offic. sub asst. comr. gen. having passed the exam. prescribed, is perm. att. to the army commissr. dept., with effect from 6th inst.

No. 949.—The undermnt. officer is prom. to rank of capt., by brev., from the date specified :—

Lieut. B. G. Vander Gucht, 2nd N.I., Sept. 20.

No. 950.—The undermnt. officer is perm. to proc. to Eur. on furl. :—

Capt. E. W. Bristow, inv. estab., for 3 yrs., under old regs.

No. 951.—The undermnt. officers are permitted to proc. to Eur., on leave, m.c. :—

Capt. R. O. T. Nicolls, 6th Madras N.I., asst. comr., Punjab, for 15 mos., under new regs.

Lieut. F. J. Gully, 74th N.I., maj. of brig., Saugor dist. for 15 mos., under new regs.

No. 952.—With reference to notifications from foreign dept., Nos. 4,098 and 4,122, 13th and 14th inst., the servs. of the undermnt. officers are replaced at the disposal of H.E. the C. in C.

Capt. R. Jenkins, 5th Eur. regt., in civil employ.

Lieut. H. M. B. Burton, 5th Eur. regt., do. du. with Meade's horse.

Lieut. C. Case, 67th N.I., do. du. with Meade's horse.

EXAMINATIONS.

No. 953.—The examinations at Roorkee in the test laid down in G.G.O., No. 682, June 26, 1855, of gentlemen nominated to commissions in H.M.'s British and Indian armies will hereafter be conducted by a committee composed of :—

The principal of the Thomason College,

The military chaplain at Roorkee ; and

The collector of Saharunpore.

LIEUT.-COLONELS' LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

No. 954.—The following paragraph of a mil. letter from the Right Hon. the Secretary of State for India, No. 800, of the 16th ult., is published in G.O. :—

"A reference to the subject having been made to the G. C. in C., it has been ruled that leave of abs. taken by a brev. lieut. col. who has obtained that rank for serv. in the field, is to reckon as part of the 8 years' serv. required under the royal warrant of the 31st [Govt. G.O. No. 740 of 1859] Jan. 1859, to qualify for the rank of colonel."

R. J. H. BRACH, Maj. gen.,

Sec. to the Govt. of India.

Foreign Dept., Sept. 22.—The Gov. gen. in Council is pleased to make the foll. app. in the Oude commission :—Mr. E. Bickers to be extra asst. comr. of 2nd cl.

Sept. 25.—The Gov. gen. in Council is pleased to app. Mr. R. H. Clifford to be an asst. comr. 1st cl. in the province of Oude.

Capt. J. Woodcock, comdt. 5th inf., Hyderabad conting., is app. a marriage registrar for mil. station of Ellichpor.

Mr. R. M. Collins, extra asst. comr. of Oude, has priv. leave for 15 days.

Financial Dept., Sept. 22.—Appointment :—Mr. R. Taylor, of the Meerut div., to be civil auditor in the Punjab.

Public Works Dept., Sept. 25.—Appointments :—Lieut. B. J. Parsons, 23rd N.I., is app. a probat. asst. eng. in the public works dept., and posted to the irrigation dept. N.W.P.

Lieut. W. H. G. Palmer, 40th N.I., whose serv. were placed at disposal of the Governor of the Straits Settlements, for employ. in public works dept., by the Madras Govt., in G.O. No. 282, June 22, is app. temp. a spec. asst. eng., with effect fr. May 4.

Promotions :—

Lieut. J. M. Heywood, probat. asst. eng., Barrack-poor div., is prom. to grade of asst. eng. 2nd cl.

Mr. J. Naylor, supernu. 3rd cl. sub eng., under the orders of the superint. for the construction of the Alguada Reef Lighthouse, is prom. to grade of sub eng. 2nd cl., with effect fr. May 1.

Leave of absence :—

Priv. leave for 3 mo. is granted to Mr. P. Magrath, sub eng. 3rd cl., Toungoo Road, with effect fr. date on which he avails himself of same.

The leave for 6 weeks fr. 9th inst. granted by the Lieut. gov. of Bengal to Capt. G. Price, civil architect to Pres., to Ceylon, is confirmed.

Mr. L. F. Byrne, C.E., spec. asst. eng., relieved Capt. G. Price of his dty. on 9th Sept.

ERRATUM.—In Notification No. 219 of 21st inst., appg. Mr. E. B. Toussaint, for "bridge works" read "Burrakur bridge works."

Mily. Dep., Fort William, Sept. 22.—No. 955.—The servs. of Asst. surg. J. B. Scriven, 1st asst. surg. pres. gen. hospital, are placed at disposal of the Govt. of the Punjab.

MUSKETRY STATIONS.

Fort William, Sept. 25.—No. 955.—With reference to G.O. by the gov. gen., dated Feb. 21, appng. inspectors of musketry and establishing dists. of inspection, the following stations are to be added to the districts named :—

1st District.—Jaunpore.

3rd District.—Roorkee, Subathoo, and Dugshai.

4th District.—Jhelum.

The stations of Oorace and Futehghurh are transferred from 2nd to the 3rd dist., and Ferozepore from the 3rd to the 4th dist.

No. 957.—Lieut. R. S. Graves, of the 66th Goorka regt., is app. to offic. as sub-asst. comy. gen., with effect from March 8, 1860, the date on which he assumed charge of the duties of Lieut. Keir, sub-asst. comy. gen., on proceeding to China, and until he was relieved.

No. 958.—The servs. of Asst. surg. R. C. Chandra are placed temp. at disposal of Govt. of Bengal.

No. 959.—The servs. of Asst. surg. J. Fawcus are placed at disposal of the Govt. of the N.W.P.

No. 960.—The undermentioned officer, who proceeded to England on duty with discharged soldiers, is granted furl. from such date as may be fixed by the right hon. the Sec. of State for India :—

Capt. A. D. Dennis, art., for 3 years, under old regs.

No. 961.—H.E. the Gov. Gen. in Council is pleased to make the following appointment :—

Brev. lieut. col. J. W. Cox, 13th foot, to be asst. qmrm. gen. in Fort William, with reference to G.G.O. No. 929, of 14th inst.

No. 964.—The undermentioned officer has reported his return from England :—

Capt. N. T. Parsons, 1st Eur. Ben. fus.; date of arr. at Bombay, Sept. 9.

No. 956.—Maj. W. G. Robertson, 22nd Madras N.I., is perm. to proc. to the Cape of Good Hope, on m.c., and to be absent on that account for 15 mos., under old regs.

General Estab., Sept. 28.—Appointment :—Mr. E. Fitzgerald, temp. asst. overseer, att. to Lucknow div., is app. permanently to the pub. works dept. as an asst. overseer.

Promotion.—Lieut. O. B. St. John, engns, probat. asst. engr., Benares div., is prom. to grade of asst. engr. of 2nd class.

Transfer.—Mr. L. F. Byrne, chief engr., special asst. engr., is transf. fr. Bengal to the Punjab, and will proc. to join when rel. of charge of office of civil architect at presy., on return of Capt. G. Price from leave.

Leave of absence.—Leave, for 3 mos., under new regs., prep. to res. his appt., is granted to Col. A. H. E. Boileau, engns, chief engr. of Nagpore, with effect fr. 1st proximo, or date of his availing himself of the same.

Appointment.—Maj. J. J. McL. Innes, engns, act. controller and auditor of pub. works accounts in Nagpore, is app. to offic. as chief engr. of Nagpore, as a temp. arrangement.

Foreign Dept., Sept. 28.—The app. of Lieut. Tweedie to offic. as dist. superint. of police in Outh, notified in G.O. July 16 last, is in the room of Lieut. Aitken, dist. superint.

Capt. W. B. Shakespeare, late 1st asst. to the agent to the Gov. gen. for Central India, has prep. leave from Feb. 14 to April 12, the date of his departure from Bombay for Eur.

No. 963.—The servs. of Cor. J. Low, 3rd Eur. L.C., are placed at disposal of the foreign dept.

No. 970.—Mr. J. T. Burt is app. a 3rd cl. sub-asst. great trigonometrical survey, from Sept. 12, to fill a vacancy.

No. 971.—The foll. proms. are made :—

Med. Dept.—Asst. surg. G. H. Ray to be surg. from May 5, v. Surg. F. O. Shaughnessy, ret.

Asst. surg. E. C. Thorp to be surg. from July 16 v. Surg. E. W. Macaulay, dec.

BY THE LIEUT. GOVERNOR.

Sept. 20.—Appointment.—The following gentlemen to be assessors in dist. mentioned :—

In Baraset.—Baboo Rajmohom Chowdry.

In Singbhoom.—Dr. W. H. Hayes.

Leave of absence.—The following officer during the ensuing Dusserah vacation :—

Mr. W. Wright, principal sudder ameen of Bhaugulpore.

Sept. 12.—Appointments.—Mr. H. W. J. Bamber, 2nd asst. to the salt agent of Belasore, is vested with powers of a dep. mag. and dep. coll. in that dist.

Sept. 24.—Mr. T. Tweedie, dep. mag. and dep. coll. of Gurbetta, is transf. to Jessore, in which dist. he will exercise full powers of a mag.

Sept. 25.—Mr. H. F. Pellew to offic. as mag. coll., and salt agent of Pooree, and ex-officio asst. to superint. of tributary mehals.

The foll. gentleman to be assessor under Act XXXII. of 1860.—In Sarun, Mr. J. Macleod.

Sept. 27.—Asst. surg. R. C. Chandra to be civil asst. surg. of Tipperah, as a temp. measure.

Mr. J. Bean to be sec., and Mr. H. Davies to be a member of the local com. of public instruction of Monghyr.

Sept. 24.—Leave of absence :—Mr. C. G. D. Betts, dep. mag. and dep. coll. of Diamond Harbour, for 15 days.

Sept. 27.—Mr. J. J. Halla, civil asst. surg. of Nuddea, for 4 weeks, from 16th inst., under financial resolution of Jan. 14, 1859, prep. to proc. to Eur. on m.c.

SALARIES OF MAGISTRATES.

Sept. 27.—The salaries at present attached to the office of magistrate and collector in Lower Provinces of the Bengal Presidency are fixed, according to the station to which the officer is attached, at four different rates, viz., Rs. 28,000, Rs. 23,000, Rs. 18,000, and Rs. 12,000 a-year. This has been found to involve the necessity of frequent transfers, which would otherwise be unnecessary, and also needlessly to multiply acting appointments. In order to remedy these inconveniences, the Lieut. gov. has obtained the sanction of H.E. the Gov. gen. of India in Council to the adjustment of the salaries of officers of this class upon the principle of grades, so that the salary will not necessarily depend upon the station to which the officer is attached. This change will make no difference in the number of officers of this class, nor in the aggregate amount of salary drawn by them.

Henceforth, as the new principle is applied to each magistrate and collector, his salary will be personal. The officers of this class will be divided into two grades; to the first or highest of which, consisting ultimately of twenty-two officers, a salary of Rs. 23,000 a year is attached; and to the second or lowest of which, consisting ultimately of fourteen officers, a salary of Rs. 18,000 is attached. The magistrate of Howrah, who had a house allowed, will rank with the second grade, but will draw Rs. 16,800 a year.

The new arrangement will be carried out on the occurrence of vacancies with as little delay as practicable. The undermentioned magistrates and collectors are accordingly appointed to be magistrates and collectors of the first and second grade respectively.

Sept. 27.—Appointments.—Mr. G. G. Morris, mag. and coll. of Behar, to be a mag. and coll. of the 1st grade.

Mr. E. G. Birch, mag. and coll. of Burdwan, to be a mag. and coll. of the 1st grade.

Mr. W. J. Longmore, mag. and coll. of Chittagong, to be a mag. and coll. of the 1st grade.

Mr. C. E. Lance, mag. and coll. of Dacca, to be a mag. and coll. of the 1st grade.

Mr. C. S. Belli, mag. and coll. of Hooghly, to be a mag. and coll. of the 1st grade.

Mr. F. Tucker, mag. and coll. of Midnapore, to be a mag. and coll. of the 1st grade.

Mr. C. P. Hobhouse, mag. and coll. of Moorshadabad, to be a mag. and coll. of the 1st grade.

Mr. A. Abercrombie, mag. and coll. of Mymensing, to be a mag. and coll. of the 1st grade.

Mr. A. Hope, mag. and coll. of Patna, to be a mag. and coll. of the 1st grade.

Mr. F. A. Lushington, mag. and coll. of Rajshye, to be a mag. and coll. of the 1st grade.

Mr. A. G. Macdonald, mag. and coll. of Rungpore, to be a mag. and coll. of the 1st grade.

Mr. G. G. Balfour, mag. and coll. of Sylhet, to be a mag. and coll. of the 1st grade.

Mr. E. Sandys, mag. and coll. of Tipperah, to be a mag. and coll. of the 1st grade.

Mr. W. H. Brodhurst, mag. and coll. of Tirhoot, to be a mag. and coll. of the 1st grade.

Mr. H. C. Richardson, mag. and coll. of Bhaugulpore, to be a mag. and coll. of the 2nd grade.

Mr. W. H. Henderson, mag. and coll. of Monghyr, to be a mag. and coll. of the 2nd grade.

Mr. H. A. R. Alexander, mag. and coll. of Beerbhoom, to be a mag. and coll. of the 2nd grade.

Mr. J. M. Lowe, mag. and coll. of Maldah, to be a mag. and coll. of the 2nd grade.

Public Works Dept., Sept. 26.—Mr. F. Klerian, who has been app. as a temp. sub-engr. of the 1st class and posted to Bengal, is att. to 2nd div. of Grand Trunk Road, for the works on Shergotty Bridges.

The Volunteer Rifle Corps.

Home Dept., Fort William, Sept. 12th, 1860.

To THE RIGHT HON. SIR G. C. WOOD, BART., G.C.B., SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA.

SIR,—We have the honour to enclose for your information the accompanying copy of an instruction which we have addressed to the several local Governments in India, communicating our views on the subject of the formation of Volunteer Rifle Corps.

2. No formal applications have yet been made to the Government to give aid or facilities in the formation of such corps, but we know from the newspapers, and from other sources, that at some stations in the Punjab and in the N.W. Provinces a disposition to form them has been shown.

3. This disposition is probably traceable to several causes; to the sense of insecurity which has prevailed since the mutinies, and which has not ceased with the restoration of order; to the very remarkable and inspiring success which has attended the organisation of volunteers in the United Kingdom; and, perhaps, to a misapprehension of the purposes and effect of the Arms Bill recently passed, and forming the subject of our despatch of the 18th July, or to a feeling of dissatisfaction at the non-exemption of Christians, as a class, from the operation of that law.

4. But whatsoever may be the causes, it is right that the disposition should be met and responded to by the Government.

5. It has been our aim to do this in such a manner as shall give an assurance of useful and substantial aid wherever the disposition is earnest and deliberate; but we have not thought it necessary or desirable to invite volunteering. We should regret to see corps formed without a fair prospect of durability, and of the maintenance continuously of a certain amount of efficiency and discipline, even when the first impulse may have passed away. We have, therefore, left the initiation of a corps absolutely to each community.

6. You will see that the conditions upon which arms and other aids have been offered are much less stringent than those which have been adopted in England. The discouragements of climate, the frequent changes in the composition of European society at most Indian stations, and the fact that nearly everybody has his hands full, makes it reasonable that as little constraint as possible should be imposed upon those who are become volunteers.

7. We have provided that the arms of the state shall not be placed in the hands of persons without training to use them efficiently, and that the Govt. shall have some security for the discipline and orderly condition of each corps. This we think is enough.

8. It is our intention that the arms to be furnished shall be Enfield rifles of the newest pattern; and if the store of these in India should fall short, we trust that H.M.'s Govt. will be prepared to increase the supply.

We have, &c.,

CANNING.
H. B. E. FRERE.
CECIL BEADON.

Punjab Regiments.

Mil. Dept., Fort William, Sept. 11.—No. 903.—It is hereby notified that the following Punjab regts. were transf. to H.E. the C. in C., with effect fr. Feb. 15:—1st Sikh irreg. cav., 2nd ditto, 3rd ditto, 4th ditto, 7th Punjab inf., 9th ditto, 10th ditto, 11th ditto, 12th ditto, 13th ditto, 14th ditto, 15th ditto, 16th ditto, 17th ditto, 18th ditto, 19th ditto, 20th ditto, 21st ditto, 22nd ditto, 23rd ditto, 24th ditto.

H.E. the Gov. gen. in Council is now pleased to notify that these regts. are subject to the Articles of War for the native troops, and to Act VI. of 1860, published in G.G.O. No. 313 of March 23.

BOMBAY.

CIVIL.

(From the Bombay Government Gazette, Sept. 26.)

Judicial Dept., Bombay Castle, Sept. 22.—Lieut. S. F. McGillivray, superint. of police, Nassick, has leave fr. 1st inst. on m.c., prep. to m.c. to Eur.

Sept. 25.—Maj. Agar, superint. of police at Ahmedabad, has leave for 2 mo.

Lieut. F. W. Atkins, act. superint. of police in Khandeish, has leave for 2 mo.

Sept. 26.—Mr. E. H. Percival, act. 2nd asst. mag. of Kaira, is vested with full powers of a mag. in that collee orate, with exception of the power of flogging and review.

Under the provisions of Act VI. of 1845, the underment gentlemen have been app. H.M.'s justices of the peace for the town and island of Bombay and its dependencies, and are requested to qualify by taking the prescribed oaths:—

Capt. J. J. Combe and Capt. H. R. Hathway.
Mr. J. Gibbs delivered over charge of the office of judicial asst. to the comr. in Scinde to Mr. A. E. D. Grey, act. judicial dep. mag. of Kurrachee, on 21st inst.

Ecclesiastical Dept., Poona, Sept. 24.—Rev. G. A. F. Watson, 2nd chapl. at Belgaum, is granted 40 days' priv. leave dur. months of Oct. and Nov., commencing fr. date of his leaving his station.

Sept. 25.—The foll. arrangements will take effect at the close of this monsoon:—

Rev. G. L. Fenton, sen. chapl. of Poona, to be chapl. at Malcolm Peth.

Ven. Archdeacon Boys to act as sen. chapl. of Poona dur. Mr. Fenton's abs.

Rev. H. H. Brereton, chapl. of Dharwar, to act as chapl. of Kirkee dur. abs. of the archdeacon.

Dharwar will be visited once in each month by one of the chaplains of Belgaum.

Revenue Dept., Fombay Castle, Sept. 21.—Lieut. J. H. Lloyd, supernu. asst. to superint. rev. survey and assessment, Tanna and Rutmagherry, has leave to proc. to Bombay, for the purpose of undergoing an exam. in the Marathi language.

Sept. 24.—Mr. W. M. Coghlan, 2nd asst. to coll. and mag. of Ahmednuggur, has leave, on m.c., to proc. to Bombay.

Mr. Coghlan is also allowed leave, for 15 mo., to Eur., on m.c.

Sept. 25.—Mr. J. A. Hankey, 3rd asst. to coll. and mag. of Ahmednuggur, has leave, for 15 mo., to Eur., on m.c.

Sept. 26.—Mr. H. D. Rae, asst. to superint. rev. survey and assessment, Guzerat, has leave, in ext., for 6 mo.

Financial Dept., Sept. 26.—Asst. surg. M. Kane is app. act. assay mr. dur. Dr. Collum's abs. at Calcutta, on du., or until further orders.

Public Works Dept., Sept. 25.—Erratum.—In notification dated Sept. 8, for "Capt. Southey to be garr. and dockyard engr. at the pres." read "Capt. Southey to be garr. engr."

SERVICES OF DR. GIBSON.

Revenue Dept.—Dr. A. Gibson's employ. on special duty having ceased, and his connection with the forest management of this pres. being thereby ended, H.E. the Gov. in Council desires publicly to acknowledge Dr. Gibson's unremitting zeal in the discharge of the office of conservator of forests during a period of 14 years, and the beneficial results which the measures conducted under his direction, have secured to the State.

Judicial Dept., Oct. 3.—Mr. C. H. Cameron, sen. asst. jud. and sess. jud. of the Konkan, for the detached station of Rutmagherry, received charge of the Adawlut at that station, on 19th ult.

The Hon. the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Judicature at Bombay has been pleased to appt. J. Dunbar, Esq., barrister at law to the office of examiner of the court for the relief of insolvent debtors at Bombay, in succ. to Richard Tuohill Reid, Esq.

Revenue Dept., Oct. 1.—Mr. H. Hutchinson resu. charge of the offices of coll. of Bombay and superint. of stationery on 28th ult.

Mr. H. N. B. Erskine to act as 2nd asst. to coll. and mag. of Belgaum.

Mr. J. Elphinstone to act as 2nd asst. to coll. and mag. of Khandeish.

Messrs. T. Bosanquet and J. H. Grant, to act respectively as 2nd and 3rd assts. to coll. and mag. of Ahmednuggur.

Mr. A. F. Bellasis, offic. dep. comms. of customs, salt, and opium, assu. char. of his duties on the 28th ult.

Oct. 2.—Mr. C. J. Davies to be actg. 1st asst. to coll. and mag. of Kaira.

Mr. E. W. Ravenscroft, offic. coll. and mag. of Surat, assu. char. of his duties on 27th ult.

Mr. W. Harrison, asst. to the superint. rev. sur. and ass. Tanna and Rutmagherry, has leave for 1 mo. to Ahmednuggur.

Mr. J. Gibbs, special comms. for the town and island of Bombay, joined his appt. on the 26th ult.

Oct. 3.—Mr. J. A. Hankey, 3rd asst. to coll. and mag. of Ahmednuggur, has leave to Bombay, from 20th ult. to the date of his embarkation on m.c., to Eur.

Mr. W. Fenner, forest ranger in Scinde, assu. char. of his duties on 22nd ult.

Mr. G. Stretzell acted in the above appt. from June 25 up to the date of Mr. Fenner assuming charge.

Financ. Dept., Oct. 2.—Mr. J. M. Erskine res. ch. of the gen. treasury, and of the offices of gen. paymr., superint. of stamps, and sec. to the Govt. savings bank, on the 29th ult.

Oct. 3.—Mr. A. D. Robertson to act as Govt. director of the Bank of Bombay, and member of the Mint committee, dur. the abs. of Mr. Ellis on leave.

Gen. Dept., Oct. 3.—The servs. of Asst. surg. J. Moore, actg. civ. surg., Bhooj, are placed at disp. of H.E. the C. in C., for app. to med. ch. of Aboo sanitarium.

Public Works Dept., Oct. 8.—Lieut. E. B. Holland, exec. engr., Southern Konkan, to be prom. to sec. class, and to be asst. to chief engr. at the presy.
Lieut. W. A. Baker, assist. to exec. engr., Lower Scinde, to be exec. engr., Southern Konkan.
Lieut. E. P. Gambier, prob. asst. engr., to be asst. exec. engr., Musseerabad and Neeruch.

BY THE GOVERNOR IN COUNCIL.

Poona, Sept. 24.—No. 535.—The undermen. officers have been per. to proc. to Eur. on m.c. for 18 mo. under the new furl. regs.:

H.M.'s 3rd N.I.—Lieut. T. E. Strong and Ena. W. H. Yates.

H.M.'s 5th N.I.—Lieut. W. H. Mackenzie.

No. 537.—Mr. Conductor Gray, head overseer of the gun carriage dept., is prom. to the rank of dep. asst. comy.

No. 538.—The servs. of Lieut. J. Jacob, of 22nd N.I., have been placed at disp. of Govt. of India for employ. in Mayne's horse.

Sept. 25.—No. 532.—Lieut. E. Coghlan, 4th N.I., and qmr. 1st regt. Jacob's rifles, has furl. to Eur. for 18 mo., on m.c., under new furl. regs.

No. 540.—Capt. Beale, H.M.'s 12th N.I., is app. 2nd cl. commissariat agent at Surat, on his taking ch. of the du. of fort adjt. at that station, and the servs. of Lieut. Walsh are placed at disp. of the C. in C. on being rel.

No. 541.—Sub-cond. R. Moore, asst. surv. public works dept., is allowed a furl. to Eur. for 1 year, on m.c.

Bombay, Sept. 27.—Ens. H. A. Hobson, att. to 6th N.I., passed colloq. exam. in Hindoostanee on 22nd Sept.

INTERVIEWS WITH THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF.

1. The C. in C. requests that, whenever officers desire a personal interview with H.E. for the purpose of preferring any claims or demands, they will have the goodness to send a statement of the case in writing to the mil. sec. When this precaution shall have been omitted, it will be out of the power of H.E. to receive personally such claim or demand.

The above rule is not to interfere, of course, with ordinary visits, or with business not affecting claims.

2. Under instructions from gov. art. 221, sec. XLV., page 184, 3rd appendix to Jameson's Code, is cancelled.

INSPECTION OF CLOTHING.

3. In supercession of all previous arrangements, the C. in C. is pleased to appt. the officer comd. the marine batt. to inspect all army clothing previous to its despatch to regts., &c., under the provisions of art. 32, sec. II. of the clothing regs.

In consideration of the duty thus required of this officer, he will be relieved from court-martial and committee duty in the garrison of Bombay.

4. Referring to G.O. No. 540, dated the 25th inst., Lieut. Walsh, of the 1st gen. regt. N.I., on being relieved by Capt. Beale, will proc. and join his regt. forthwith.

5. Asst. surg. G. Y. Hunter, gen. duty, Bombay, is transf. to gen. du. Poona, to join.

Sept. 28.—Cavalry cadet A. Combe, recently arr. from England, is att. to do du. for 6 mos., with 6th Inniskilling drags.

Leave of absence:—

3rd Eur. Regt.—Lieut. T. Ryder, from date of dep. from Kurrachee to Sept. 30, to Bombay, on m.c., under new reg., for the purpose of obtaining a final certificate to Eur.

Poona, Sept. 29.—No. 543.—The underment cadets for the engns., art., and inf., are prom. to lieuts. and ens. respectively, and rank is assigned to them from dates specified opposite their respective names:—

For the Engns.—H. Doveton; Dec. 11, 1858.

For the Art.—F. J. Caldecott, A. C. Gardner, F. Lodge, H. C. Seton, S. G. D. Turner, and E. Montefiore; June 8.

For the Inf.—C. M. Erskine; May 12. C. F. Gleig, and John Becke; June 8. J. I. Tindling, A. R. T. McRae, E. G. Sturt, and E. R. Redy; June 9. E. Hemsted, C. Hay, and F. A. Beville; July 1.

The foll. postings are made to fill vacancies, and regimental rank is assigned as follows:—

Lieut. H. Doveton, regimental rank, Nov. 28, 1859, posted to corps of engns.; Lieuts. F. J. Caldecott, A. C. Gardner, and F. Lodge, June 8, 1860; and Lieut. H. C. Seton, June 25, regt. of art.

No. 544.—The servs. of Ens. J. Ducat, 17th N.I., are placed at the disposal of the gov. of N.W.P.

DEATH OF GENERAL WOODBURN.

No. 545.—The Gov. in Council has learned with much regret the death of Maj. gen. Woodburn, C.B.

Maj. gen. Cunningham, C.B., is confirmed in his appt. on the div. staff of the army, with the rank of brig. gen. dur. abs. of Maj. gen. Sir J. Michel, C.B.

No. 546.—Capt. J. Daun, 8th Eur. regt., is perm. to ret. fr. the serv. on the pension of a capt.

Brigdr. Williams is app. temp. to the div. staff of the army.

ESTABLISHMENT OF THE GARRISON BRIGADE MAJOR.

The following establishment has been fixed for the office of the brigade major, Bombay garrison:—

1 head clerk	Rs. 70
1 second clerk	50
1 third clerk	25
8 peons, Rs. 6 each	18
Stationery	80

Rs. 198

The Rt. Hon. the Sec. of State for India has been pleased to permit Brev. maj. H. L. Evans, H.M.'s 17th N.I., to count as service for the retiring pension, 15 mos. leave obtained by him on account of sickness contracted on field service.

The undermen. officer has passed the required examination in the colloquial Hindoostanee:—

Capt. T. Howley, H.M.'s 4th (King's Own) regt.

Oct. 3.—Leave of absence:—

18th N.I.—Lieut. E. N. Marsh, fr. Sept. 2 to Oct. 31, to Bombay, on m.c., under old furl. regs.

Oct. 4.—No. 550.—The commissariat duties at Malligum will for the future be performed by the station staff officer, who will be ex officio a second-class commissariat agent. In consequence of this arrangement, the servs. of Lieut. L. M. Davies, H.M.'s 26th N.I., are no longer required in the commissariat dept., and are placed at disp. of H.E. the C. in C.

No. 551.—In consequence of Lieut. col. Birdwood's departure to Europe, Capt. J. B. Dunsterville is app. actg. dep. comy. gen., and Lieut. Kenys actg. asst. comy. gen.

With reference to the notification of 12th ult., the following gentlemen have been appointed additional members of the commission to carry out the provisions of Act 32, 1860, in the town and island of Bombay:—Messrs. W. F. Hunter and W. Steven.

REVENUE COLLECTORS.

It is hereby notified, for general information, that the superintendent of stamps, the collector of Bombay, and the collectors in the Mofussil, have, under the provision of section 19 of Act 36 of 1860, been appointed collectors of stamp revenue, and authorised, with the exception of the collector of Bombay, to issue licences for the sale of stamps.

AUDITING SALARY BILLS, C.S.

Under instructions from the Govt. of India, H.E. the Gov. in Council is pleased to direct that the salary bills of all public officers in civil employ without exception, in Bombay, be subjected to the audit of the civil auditor, previous to the issue of the salaries.

Oct. 5.—No. 552.—Asst. surg. A. Kelsey is allowed a furl. to Eur. for 15 mo., on m.c., under new regs.

No. 553.—Surg. W. J. Stuart, of the Bombay med. estab., has a furl. to Eur. for 18 mo. under old regs.

No. 554.—The name of Lieut. R. C. Kennedy, 2nd Bombay L.C., is to be removed from the list of the Bombay army from the date of the promulgation of this order at Neemuch.

No. 555.—The undermen. gentlemen are admitted to the service as cadets of art. and cav. on this estab.; date of arrival at Bombay, Sept. 28, 1860:—

Artillery.—No. 518.—Mr. F. Lodge.

No. 525.—Mr. S. G. D. Turner.

Cavalry.—No. 502.—Mr. B. A. Combe.

No. 556.—The undermen. gentleman is admitted to the service as cadet of inf. on this estab.; date of arr. at Bombay, Sept. 28:—

Infantry.—No. 540.—Mr. C. F. Gleig.

Oct. 6.—No. 558.—Surg. R. Dent has a furl. to Eur. for 2 years under new furl. regs.

Oct. 8.—No. 561.—The foll. proms. are made:—

H.M.'s 3rd Bombay Eur. Regt.—Lieut. H. G. Robinson to be capt. of a co., and Ens. W. T. Sandwith to be lieut. from Oct. 3, in succ. to Daun, ret.

No. 562.—The servs. of Asst. surg. J. Moore, actg. civ. surg., Bhooj, have been placed at disp. of the C. in C. for app. to med. ch. of Aboo sanitarium.

No. 563.—The foll. proms. are made:—

Infantry.—Sen. lieut. col. (brev. col.) G. J. Jameson to be col. and Sen. maj. R. Travers, from the 23rd N.I., to be lieut. col., from Sept. 29, in succ. to Col. A. Woodburn, dec. on 28th idem.

H.M.'s 23rd N.I.—Capt. S. J. K. Whitehill to be maj., Lieut. C. A. C. Hawkins to be capt. of a co., and Ens. J. G. McKee, to be lieut., from Sept. 29 v. Travers, prom.

No. 564.—Lieut. T. H. Turner, asst. mil. aud. gen. ordnance branch, has priv. leave for 1 mo. from 15th inst.

Oct. 9.—No. 566.—Lieut. R. W. Duff, 47th Madras N.I., has a furl. to Eur. for 18 mo., on m.c., under new regs.

Oct. 10.—No. 569.—The undermen. officers have furl. to Eur., on m.c., under new regs.:—

Lieut. T. Ryder, 3rd Eur. regt., for 18 mo.

Lieut. B. H. Mathew, engr., for 15 mo.

BY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF.

Poona, Sept. 22.—Asst. surg. A. M. Blomfield is transf. from gen. duty Southern Mahratta Circle, to ditto, presy.

DISTRIBUTION OF GUARDS.

Poona, Sept. 24.—The C. in C. has had under his attention the subject of distribution of guards at the several stations of this presidency. On an examination of the returns H.E. is of opinion that with proper supervision, and a judicious distribution, many guards may be dispensed with.

The attention of general officers commanding divisions, and brigadiers commanding stations, is particularly called to this subject, and to the separate G.O. under the head "duties in garrison," especially to paragraph 64, and they are requested to prevent the employment of any men in excess of the strength therein laid down for regimental guards.

It is seldom that in peaceful times a departure from these orders can be found really necessary. The extraordinary differences noted by H.E. in regimental arrangements, may be attributed in many cases to want of care rather than to a desire for military precaution.

Adj. Gen.'s Office, Sept. 24.—The undermentioned officer has obtained leave of absence:—

12th Regt. N.I.—Lieut. Wodehouse, to remain in Bombay till Oct. 12, or date of departure of the first steamer for Kurrachee, after the assembly of the next Hindoostanee Examination Committee.

Poona, Sept. 25.—The following transfers and posting in the regt. of art. are ordered:—

Lieut. col. H. W. Trevelyan, c.b., from horse brig. to 1st batt. Lieut. col. J. Pottinger, from 1st batt. to horse brig.

Lieut. C. Carey from 2nd batt. to 4th batt., to command post guns at Rajkote.

Lieut. C. E. Basevi, from 4th batt., Lieut. A. F. Wallace, from 3rd batt., and Lieut. T. H. Ouchterlony, from 2nd batt., to horse brig., to join head qrs., on being relieved.

Lieut. R. Le Messurier, from 4th batt. to 2nd batt., to join 2nd comy. with No. 14 lt. field batty., on being relieved.

Lieut. W. Ward, from 4th batt. to 3rd batt., to join 3rd comy. with No. 15 lt. field batty., on being relieved.

Lieut. R. A. Stevenson, and Lieut. J. Vibart from horse brig. to 2nd batt.

Lieut. H. T. Vachell, from horse brigade to 3rd batt.

Lieuts. H. W. Stockley and J. H. Lloyd, of the horse brig., are posted, the former to the 3rd, and the latter to the 4th troop.

Leave of absence:—

14th Regt. N.I.—Capt. J. S. Hill from Aug. 29 to Oct. 27, on priv. leave.

Lieut. C. Frankland, of H.M.'s 12th N.I., is attached to M.M.'s 95th foot, as instructor of musketry, and directed to join immediately.

Lieut. W. T. Eden, H.M.'s 29th N.I., is attached to do duty with H.M.'s 25th N.L.I., from 30th inst. till arrival of his regt. at Poona.

The following orders are confirmed:—

Dated Sept. 21.—By the officer comdng. at Ahmedabad, appg. Lieut. Fraser, H.M.'s 14th N.I., to act as interp. to H.M.'s 4th (King's Own) regt., v. Capt. Laurie.

Dated Sept. 28.—By Lieut. Guerin, appg. Sergt. Rouse to act as 2nd class sergt. instruct. of musketry to 2nd Eur. regt. L.I., v. Johnson.

Bombay, Oct. 9.—Lieut. A. J. McNeill Duncan, 28th N.I., returned to duty without prejudice to his rank by permission of H.M.'s principal Sec. of State for India in Council on Oct. 8.

OFFICERS' LEAVE.

The C. in C. is pleased to intimate that subject to the approval of the Sec. of State for India, H.E. the Viceroy has ruled that officers proceeding with troops round the Cape to England will be allowed to count 3 months of such period as service for pension.

Lieut. F. C. Donne, H.M.'s 3rd Bombay Eur. regt., is admitted to the wound pension specified in clause 4 of G.O. No. 203, of Feb. 17, 1858.

H. James, comdt. Asseerghur, dated Oct. 3, granting leave to Lieut. C. Thackeray, H.M.'s 28th regt., to Bombay, m.c.

Bombay, Oct. 10.—Leave of absence:—

Unatt. Lieut. J. Bennett, late adjt. N.V.B., from Oct. 1 to 31, to Bombay on m.c.

Poona, Sept. 27.—The undermen. officer has passed the required exam. in the colloq. Hindoostanee:—

Lieut. C. M. Stockwell, H.M.'s 72nd highlanders

The foll. order is republished for information:—

Head Qrs., Madras, Sept. 20.—Paymr. G. B. Belcher, of H.M.'s 17th lancers, has leave, m.c., from Sept. 18 to Nov. 17, 1860, to proc. to Bombay and the western coast.

The foll. orders are conf.:—

By Maj. gen. Cunynghame, c.b., com. Scinde div., dated Sept. 21, 1860, granting leave, under new furl. regs., m.c., to Surg. H. H. Jones, H.M.'s 77th regt.

By Lieut. col. J. Holmes, com. at Nusseerabad, dated Sept. 17, 1860, granting leave, in ext., from Sept. 14 to Oct. 15, to Lieut. Humfrey, H.M.'s 28th regt., to remain at Taraghur sanitarium on m.c.

By Brig. C. Lucas, com. at Neemuch, dated Sept. 21, 1860, granting leave to Lieut. Nicholas, H.M.'s 95th regt., to proc. to Bombay, m.c.

Leave of abs.—8th Hussars. Cor. S. W. Rawlinson, in ext., from Sept. 20 to Nov. 30, to remain at Mussoorie on m.c.

Poona, Sept. 28.—At the recommendation of a med. board, Asst. surg. J. M. Marshall, 91st foot, will join the sanitarium at Colaba, Bombay, where he will remain until the departure of the last mail str. in Nov., when he will proc. to England, m.c. This officer is not available for duty with troops.

Sept. 29.—Inf. cadet C. F. Gleig, recently arr. from England, is att. to do du. for a period of 6 mo. with 64th foot.

Leave has been granted by H.E.H. the Gen. C. in C. to the undermen. officers:—

3rd Drag. Gds.—Surg. Allen from Aug. 9 to Nov. 9, m.c.

Lieut. col. Payne, c.b., from Aug. 14 to Jan. 12, 1861, when he is to embark for Bombay to join his regt.

Oct. 4.—The following order is confirmed:—

By Maj. gen. com. the Scinde div., dated Sept. 24, granting leave to Brev. maj. Francis, H.M.'s 64th regt., for 30 days, to Kurrachee, m.c.

Leave of absence:—

83rd Regt.—Capt. J. M. McKenzie, fr. the date of his giving over his company, until the permission to retire from the service is granted, to Bombay.

The following arrangements in the regt. of arty. are ordered:—

Lieut. J. G. Edwardes to join hd. qrs. 1st batt. Lieuts. T. Walker and G. E. Hancock, having completed their course of instruction at the arty. depot, is att. to h.l. qrs. of the horse brig., for instruction in equitation.

Order confirmed:—

Dated Sept. 22.—By Capt. Boyd, app. Lieut. Newton to act as adjt. to right wing of H.M.'s 11th N.I. during its separation fr. hd. qrs.

ESTABLISHMENT OF THE BRIGADE-MAJOR, BELGAUM.

Referring to G.O., No. 366, abolishing the southern division of the army, and constituting Belgaum a first class brigade under the sanction of Govt., the following office establishment has been fixed for the brigade major at Belgaum:—

Office establishment Rs. 90

Office rent 30

Stationery 25

Rs. 145

The office rent will be increased to Rs. 75 monthly whenever the brigade-major may accompany the brigadier on a tour of inspection.

Leave of abs.:—H.M.'s 31st N.I., Deesa.—Lieut. C. D. MacLeod, fr. Oct. 1 to Nov. 4, in ext., to enable him to rejoin.

Lieut. Ostrehan, 25th N.L.I., is att. for 6 mo. as instruct. of musk. to the two lt. fld. batteries of roy. art. at Poona.

With reference to G.O. dated Poona, June 27, Lieut. Browne, H.M.'s 33rd regt., will proc. to join the detach. of his regt. at Baroda as soon as possible.

Capt. T. E. Gordon, H.M.'s 95th regt., has permission to remain at Bombay and the Deccan till Oct. 21.

Maj. Cocks, or the officer 1st batt. 4th king's own regt. who may have exchanged with him from the 2nd batt., will, on arrival at Aden, remain and take com. of the wing of the regt. at that station.

Bombay, Oct. 4.—Medical Estab.—Asst. surg. N. Hopkins passed colloq. exam. in Hindoostanee on 25th Sept.

Conductor T. Ward, commissariat dept., returned to duty without prejudice to his rank, by permission of H.M.'s Princ. Sec. of State for India in Council, on Sept. 28.

Leave of abs.:—13th N.I.—Lieut. and adjt. S. Consens, fr. Sept. 12 to Oct. 31, to Bombay, m.c.

Poona, Oct. 5.—Referring to G.O. No. 550, dated 4th inst., Lieut. L. M. Davies, H.M.'s 26th N.I., on being relieved of his present duties, will proc. and join his regt.

Asst. surg. W. J. Moore is app. to med. ch. of the sanitarium at Mount Abo.

Brig. gen. Williams, app. temp. to divl. staff of the army in G.O. No. 545, dated 1st inst., is posted to N. div.

Leave of abs.:—Horse Art.—Lieut. J. T. Leishman, fr. Nov. 1 to Dec. 30.

Bombay, Oct. 5.—The undermnt. officers will appear before the gen. exam. committee, to be assembled at the Town-hall on 10th inst., for exam. in the native languages:—

HINDOOSTANEE.

Capt. H. E. Hathway, 11th N.I.

Lieuts. J. D. Sheppard, 4th N.I. (R.C.), and adj. marine batt.; W. B. Preston, 14th N.I.; H. G. Monk, 56th foot; F. J. T. Ross, 16th N.I.; C. J. Turnbull, 23d N.I.; A. N. Bruce, 4th N.I. (R.C.); A. M. She-well, 2nd Eur. L.I.; E. S. Oshchan, 25th N.I.; T. H. Ouchterlony, art.; C. Woodhouse, 12th N.I.; W. J. Berthau, 15th N.I.; G. Consinaker, 23rd N.I.; F. J. S. Adam, 22nd N.I.

Eus. T. G. McRae, 23rd N.I.I.
MARATHES.

Lieut. W. C. Lester, 2nd gen. N.I.; M. J. J. Mig-non 16th N.I.; G. A. Jacob, 22nd N.I.

The leave of the undermt. officers is ext. to the 31st inst. to remain at presy. on m.c.:—
Capt. P. M. Briggs, 19th N.I.

Lieut. W. Ferguson, 1st gen. N.I.; T. Ryder, 3rd Eur. regt.; E. Bell, 1st gen. N.I.

Leave of absence:—
Unat. ens. T. A. Buchanan, from 5th Oct. to 31st Oct. to Bombay, on m.c. for final certificate to Eur.
Poona, Oct. 6.—The undermt. officer has passed the required exam. in the colloquial Hindoostanee:—
Maj. gen. A. A. F. Cunningham, C.B.

NAVAL.

Poona, Oct. 1.—No. 158.—Lieut. Mitcheson, act. naval instructor, is app. to ch. of observatory, and to conduct du. of Indian naval draftsman, in add. to his own, from date of Lieut. Fergusson's departure to Eur.

THE SCHOONER "MARY."

Commodore's Office, Bombay, Oct. 2.—Under the sanction of Govt., the name of the schooner Mary is to be changed to that of Fanny, from the date of her being brought on the estab. of the I.N.

Superint. Office, Bombay, Oct. 2.—Mr. Parkhill, schoolmaster of the Ajdaha, is to be discharged to the shore.

Poona, Oct. 8.—No. 161.—Lieut. H. A. Fraser is allowed extension of leave to remain at the Neilgherry hills until Jan. 31 next, on m.c.

No. 162.—An extension of leave, on m.c., has been granted to Mr. E. A. Mignon, purser in I.N., to enable him to return to his duty by the overland route on Sept. 27.

Lieut. G. Way, I.N., has been perm. to ret. fr. the serv. on m.c. His ret. takes effect on Feb. 11, 1861.

No. 163.—Mr. M. N. C. Byris, purser, ret. to du. on Aug. 27, with the perm. of H.M.'s Secy. of State for India.

Bombay Castle, Sept. 29.—No. 127.—Mr. H. Williams, purser, is app. to act. as secy. to the C. in C. I.N., from date of Mr. Bone's dep. on leave to Eur.

Court Martial.

MR. H. LE MESSURIER MATE, I.N.

Commodore's Office, Bombay, Oct. 10.—At a Court Martial assembled on board H.M.'s receiving ship Ajdaha, at Bombay, on Sept. 12, and by adjournment every day afterwards to Sept. 14. The Court, pursuant to an order from Commodore Wellesley, C.B., R.N., dated Sept. 10, directed to Capt. J. Frushard, I.N., commanding H.M.'s ship Ajdaha, I.N., and second in command in Bombay Harbour, having been duly sworn, proceeded to the trial of Mr. Henry Le Messurier, mate of H.M.'s ship Ajdaha, I.N., on the following charge, exhibited against him by Commodore G. G. Wellesley, C.B., R.N., C. in C. I.N., viz.—

Charge.—For desertion in that he, the said Mr. H. Le Messurier, mate, I.N., being at the time in actual service and full pay, and of and belonging to H.M.'s I.N. ship Ajdaha, did on or about April 12 absent himself from the said ship without permission, and did remain absent until brought back on Sept. 8.

Having carefully and deliberately weighed and considered the evidence in support of the charge, as well as what the prisoner had to offer in his defence, as also the evidence adduced in his behalf, and also the confinement he has already suffered, and having very maturely considered the whole, the Court is of opinion that the charge is proved against the prisoner, and the Court doth therefore adjudge the said Mr. Henry Le Messurier to be dismissed H.M.'s Indian navy, and forfeit all claims against Government of pay, allowances, or other demands, and the said Mr. H. Le Messurier is hereby sentenced accordingly.

RESOLUTION OF GOVERNMENT ON THE ABOVE.

The Governor in Council entirely concurs with Commodore Wellesley. Dismissal from the service was, under the circumstances, no punishment at all. Such leniency to a brother officer guilty of the most deliberate defiance of authority, and who further disgraced himself by dishonourable attempts to misrepresent the circumstances, appears to the Governor in Council misplaced and inconsistent with an adequate apprehension of the responsibilities of a commissioned officer.

W. F. MARRIOTT, capt.,
Actg. Sec. to Govt.

Superint. Office, Bombay, Oct. 10.

Income-tax.

In accordance with paragraph 1 of the civil auditor's printed circular No. 1,309, dated the 12th Sept.,

1860, the following points connected with the Income-tax are hereby notified, for the information and guidance of officers preferring bills to this department.—

1. The undermentioned allowances are not taxable:—House-rent, travelling allowance, batta, horse allowance, tentage, palanquin allowance, subscriptions to the civil, military, medical, and marine funds, as well as subscriptions by Warden's official fund pensioners for their families.

2. Subscriptions on policies of insurance are also not taxable; but the civil auditor has nothing to do with them, and all claims for exemption on their account should be referred to the Income-tax commissioners.

3. Military officers in police employ, whose salary is not above Rs. 415-6-0 per month, are exempt from the tax; but those whose pay in the aggregate is above that sum are liable.

4. Military men in civil employ, whose consolidated salary or whose military pay and allowances exceed that of a capt. of inf., are to be charged on the total, after deductions on account of tentage and horse allowances.

5. Pensions paid before audit to be taxed just the same as those paid after audit; and it is the business of the civil auditor to check the sums deducted by the collectors and others, the disbursing officers being held responsible for any sums not duly levied under the law.

6. Section thirty-one of the Income-tax Act does not exempt persons from paying Income-tax on their house-rent; that section only exempts a person occupying a house at a rack-rent for habitation only from being assessed to Income-tax in respect to the property in or value of such house. If he were occupying his own house or a house rent-free, he would be liable to assessment in respect of the occupation of such house.

7. In calculating the tax leviable on incomes, the table published in the Calcutta Government Gazette of the 18th August, 1860, page 1800, is to be used.

10. Officers, non-commissioned officers, and privates of H.M.'s forces, or H.M.'s Indian forces, and military pensioners in civil employ, other than police employ, are not exempt.

14. The civil audit office is not called on to take notice of the fact that a party's income is more than Rs. 500 per annum, owing to private means which he possesses in addition to his salary. The civil auditor has to do with salary and pensions alone; and if the income derived from them be less than Rs. 500 per annum must assess at the lower rate, leaving to the Income-tax commissioners the task of levying the extra tax.

By order,

A. D. ROBERTSON, Actg. Sec. to Govt.
Bombay Castle, Oct. 2, 1860.

Examination Rules.

Poona, Sept. 21.

No. 532.—With reference to G. O., No. 487, dated July 19, and to the Government Notification, dated Oct. 25, 1858, the Governor in Council is pleased to publish the following Rules, prepared by the Examination Committee for the examination in Hindoostanee of military officers who may be desirous of qualifying themselves for Staff employment, excepting appointments in the Commissariat Department, the office of Cantonment Joint Magistrate, and Interpreterships to Regts., for these the interpreter's examination is required.

POINTS FOR EXAMINATION.

Written translation of an English passage in an easy narrative style into Hindoostanee, both in the Persi-Arabic and Nagri character. Maximum number of marks 75.

2. Viva voce and extemporaneous translation into English of a passage from the "Bagh-o-Bahar," in the Persi-Arabic character. Maximum number of marks 60.

3. Viva voce and extemporaneous translation into English of a passage from the Betal Puchesse in the Nagri character. Maximum number of marks 60.

4. Conversation in Hindoostanee with Native gentlemen, as well as with officers and non-commissioned officers of Native corps. Maximum number of marks 55.

5. Pronunciation, as tested throughout the examination. Maximum number of marks 5.

6. Handwriting as tested in the first exercise. Maximum number of marks 25.

Errors shall be divided into three classes, viz., errors in meaning, errors in syntax, and errors in spelling.

In each class two kinds shall be distinguished—major and minor—one of the former being reckoned equal to two of the latter.

A major error in meaning shall be counted as five units of value; a major error in grammar as three; and a major error in spelling as two.

The errors of each translation shall be distinctly marked on the face of it.

The sum of errors, reckoned as above directed, shall be deducted from the full value, and the remainder assigned as the value of the exercise.

In the viva voce exercise, each examiner shall give a mark, representing, according to his judgment, the degree of the proficiency exhibited by the examinee under the several heads; and the average of such marks shall be assigned as the value of the exercise.

A candidate will not be entitled to a certificate of having passed the examination, if he shall have obtained less than 60 per cent. of the aggregate value of full marks, or shall have obtained in respect of any particular exercise less than 20 per cent. of the marks assigned to it.

Every examinee, whether successful or unsuccessful, shall be allowed to see the general result of the judgment formed respecting him, and the grounds of that judgment so far as they appear on his own exercises.

Allowances of Military Officers on Civil Employ.

Public Works Dept.—H.E. the Hon. the Gov. in Council is pleased to publish, for general information, the following resolution, passed by the Govt. of India in the financial dept., under date July 19:—

No. 6,370.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India in the Financial Department, dated July 19.

[Read an endorsement from the public works dept., No. 3,079, dated 21st ult., forwarding, for consideration and orders, a letter from the Govt. of Fort St. George, relative to the allowances of mil. officers in civil employ during abs. on priv. leave.]

Resolution.—Under orders of the Secretary of State, dated May 19, 1859, priv. leave may be allowed to a mil. officer in civil employ for a period of 3 mos. as prescribed in the civil rules, but the allowances are to be regulated by the mil. rules, under which any expense incurred in providing for the performance of the duties of the absentee is made good by him.

2. If sick or private affairs leave is taken, in continuation of 3 mos' priv. leave, the above rule applies to the allowances of the first 2 mos. of the priv. leave only, after which the reduction prescribed in cases of abs. on sick or private affairs' leave under mil. rules will commence.

3. Lieut.-col. Lawford, dep. chief engr., Madras, Northern Circle, now represents the hardship inflicted on officers situated like himself, by the forfeiture of one-half mo.'s pay, during the 3 mos' cumulative priv. leave.

4. Lieut.-col. Lawford points out that he has served nearly thirty-three years in India, and that consequently it is no object now to him to count one month's service while on leave; in this respect, therefore, the privilege of three months' cumulative leave is to those situated like him altogether null and void.

5. He also points out that the civil officers of the Public Works Department, both covenanted and uncovenanted, are entitled to cumulative leave, without any loss of salary, while officers on the Military Staff are entitled to sixty days' privilege leave annually, on the same terms.

6. It is thus seen that whereas a civilian can obtain, say in nine years, as many months' privilege leave, taken either annually or cumulatively on three different occasions, without any loss of allowances, and a military staff officer no less than eighteen months' privilege leave in the same period, taken by instalments of two months' annually, and on the same terms, a military officer in civil employ is only entitled to nine months' privilege leave in the same period, and if it be taken cumulatively, in periods of three months' each time, he will receive in the aggregate seven and a half months' pay, or one and a-half months' pay, less than a covenanted or uncovenanted officer of the same department.

7. This appears to the chief engineer to bear hard upon military officers in civil employ, and particularly upon those who, like Lieut.-col. Lawford, have served their full time for colonel's pension, and therefore have nothing to gain on that score. But, at the same time, he is of opinion that if any modification of the rule is made, it should be made to include all military officers in civil employ, whatever be their period of service, and not be confined to one class only.

8. To the Government of Madras it appears that there is justice in Lieut.-col. Lawford's representations, and they therefore recommend the case to the favourable consideration of the Government of India; at least in so far as it concerns officers who have served their full time.

9. The Gov.-gen. in Council, however, does not see that Lieut.-col. Lawford has anything to complain of. The three months' cumulative leave was granted to military men in civil employ as a boon, because it was found in practice to be impossible to make arrangements which would allow of their taking privilege leave strictly in accordance with the military rules.

10. With regard to the allowances granted to them during such leave, it has to be observed that privilege leave to covenanted civilians used to be granted on condition that any expense incurred in providing substitutes to officiate during their absence should be defrayed by the absentees.

11. It was subsequently found that the deductions made from the salaries of civilians absent on leave were so large that a considerable surplus was credited every year to the absentee fund; and under these circumstances, when the new absentee rules, dated June 8, 1855, were promulgated, it was provided that privilege leave should be allowed to civilians without any deduction of salary, in the belief that the cost of substitutes would be defrayed out of the amount that would otherwise have been saved to Government.

12. This expectation has been fully realised. Since the operation of the new rules, the sums standing at the credit of the fund, after defraying the allowances of the acting officers, have still been very large, and there is not, therefore, any prospect of the State ever being saddled with any expense, in consequence of the absence on leave of the covenanted civil servants.

13. In respect to uncovenanted servants again it is distinctly provided in Clause 1 [See Financial Notification No. 27, dated June 17, 1857] Section VI. of the Uncovenanted Leave Rules, that privilege leave may be granted, provided it is attended with no "additional expense to Govt." It is further provided in the concluding part of Section XIV. "no additional expense is on any account to be incurred by the absence of any officer on leave."

14. The same rule is observed in respect to military officers. The principle is that the State shall not be put to extra expense by the absence of any of its servants, and as in the case of military officers in civil employ there is no fund, as in the case of covenanted civilians, to meet the cost of substitutes, they, like uncovenanted servants, are themselves obliged to defray any additional expense. The orders which permitted them to take cumulative leave for three months, made no alteration in respect to their allowances. They merely placed them on the same footing with civilians in respect to the period of privilege leave, and this was done simply with the view of improving the position in which they were previously placed. Were they allowed the same indulgence as civilians in respect to allowances, the expense of their substitutes would obviously fall on the State, and thereby infringe the great principle on which all the absentee rules are founded, as above adverted to.

15. The Gov. gen. in Council cannot think, under such circumstances, that it would be expedient to accede to the recommendation of the Madras Govt.

Ordered, that a copy of the foregoing resolutions be sent to the Public Works Dept., with reference to the Govt. of Fort St. George.

Ordered, also, that a copy be sent to the several civil auditors for information.

C. H. LUSHINGTON,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

Covenanted Absentee Rules.

The following letter from the Government of India is published for general information:—
No. 7,727.

From C. H. Lushington, Esq., Sec. to the Govt. of India, Financial Dept., to the Civil Auditor at Bombay.

Fort William Council Chamber, Aug. 17, 1860.

SIR,—In reply to your letter No. 790, dated 28th ult., I am directed to state that the views expressed by you in respect to the grant of an instalment of privilege leave after the first six months of an officer's service under Government appear to the Governor-general in Council to be erroneous.

2. It is clear, from the general bearing of the rules noted in the margin,* and specially from that part of the rules which treats of cumulative leave for two or three months, that no privilege leave, not even for a day, can be granted, until an officer, either in the covenanted or uncovenanted Civil Service, has earned it by being at his post for eleven months.

3. When he has been at his post for eleven months, the Government may, if convenient, give him one month's leave, either at one time or by instalments, but there is nothing in the provisions of the rules quoted which seems to permit of any leave being granted until eleven months' service has been completed.—I have the honour to be, Sir, your most obedient servant,

H. U. BROWN,
Under Sec., for the Sec. to Govt. of India.

BIRTHS.

ADRY, wife of Capt. G., daughter, at Balaram, Sept. 28.

BORRADAILE, wife of A. A., son, at Surat, Oct. 4.

BRISTOCKE, wife of Capt., daughter, at Simla, Sept. 16.

CAREW, wife of R. R., daughter, at Nainee Tal, Sept. 17.

* Financial Notification, dated 27th June, 1857, No. 25. Financial Resolution, dated 20th June, 1858. Do., dated 29th August, 1858. Section XII. of the Covenanted Civil Absentee Rules, dated 8th June, 1855.

CARNEY, wife of P., son, at Mussoorie, Sept. 20.

CLARK, wife of O. D., son, at Asseerghur, Sept. 24.

COFFIN, wife of Maj. S. S., daughter, at Ramandroog, Sept. 18.

COLVIN, wife of A., daughter, at Mozuffurnuggur, Sept. 29.

COURT, wife of J. H., jun., son, at Black Town, Sept. 24.

COWLEY, wife of H. C., son, at Agra, Sept. 29.

DALY, wife of F. D., son, at Simla, Sept. 17.

DANIELL, wife of C. A., daughter, at Landour, Sept. 24.

ELLIOT, wife of Capt. C., son, at Raipore, Sept. 19.

FOOKS, wife of Capt. W. K., daughter, at Umritsur, Sept. 21.

FOX, wife of Capt. H., son, at Howrah, Sept. 22.

GIBBON, wife of J., daughter, at Meerut, Sept. 25.

HEENAN, wife of R., son, at Bhaugulpore, Sept. 20.

HENDERSON, wife of C., daughter, at Poona, Oct. 3.

HOPE, wife of Capt. F. H., son, at Secunderabad, Sept. 28.

HUBBARD, wife of G., daughter, at Bombay, Oct. 1.

KAIL, wife of C., son, at Byculla, Oct. 4.

LACEY, wife of J. T. H., son, at Poona, Oct. 1.

LAPSEY, wife of W., daughter, at Poonamalee, Sept. 26.

LUND, wife of S. W., son, at Kalbadaree, Sept. 29.

LYE, wife of Col. W. H. C., son, at Neemuch, Sept. 26.

MCFAHLAN, wife of D., daughter, at Meerut, Sept. 23.

MAINWARING, wife of Capt. R., daughter, at Vellore, Sept. 22.

MACLAGAN, wife of Capt. R., son, at Roorkee, Oct. 1.

MELLIS, wife of G. J., son, at Mhow, Sept. 25.

MILLS, wife of Capt. H., son, at Ferozepore, Sept. 20.

MONTAGU, wife of Capt. A. W., son, at Sealkote, Sept. 27.

NEEDHAM, wife of Capt. C., daughter, at Benares, Sept. 22.

NICOL, wife of P. D., daughter, at Howrah, Sept. 22.

ODEVAINE, wife of F., daughter, at Humceerpore, Sept. 13.

PALMER, wife of R. S., son, at Calcutta, Sept. 22.

PEILE, wife of J. B., daughter, at Ahmedabad, Oct. 1.

PENNY, wife of C., daughter, at Chinchpoojly, Sept. 28.

PERKINS, wife of Capt. E. N., son, at Dabousie, Sept. 15.

FLOWDEN, wife of G., son, at Dhumsalla, Sept. 13.

ROSS, wife of A., daughter, at Azimgurh, Sept. 14.

RYDER, wife of Capt. S. C. D., daughter, at Seepree, Sept. 22.

SHULDHAM, wife of H. D., daughter, at Delhi, Sept. 21.

SNELL, wife of W. C., daughter, at Calcutta, Sept. 24.

STEEL, Mrs., daughter, at Malabar Hill, Oct. 2.

STEEL, wife of Maj. J. A., son (still-born), at Mussoorie, Sept. 6.

STRATTON, wife of J. H., son, at Bundelkund, Sept. 24.

SWEENEY, wife of Lieut. M. A., daughter, at Calcutta, Sept. 22.

WATSON, wife of Lieut. J., son, at Delhi, Sept. 25.

WHITE, wife of Lieut., son, at Tanna, Sept. 28.

WOODFALL, wife of Lieut. col. C., son, Sept. 21.

WORMALD, wife of Lieut. col. R. C., daughter, at Belgaum, Sept. 29.

MARRIAGES.

ATKIN, F. N. S., to Elizabeth A., daughter of P. Howell, at Secunderabad, Aug. 27.

ATKINS, Capt. F. W. M., to Laura, daughter of the late R. Bell, at Dhurrungam, Sept. 25.

CABRAL, E. E., to Miss Jane A. Rennie, at Kurachee, Sept. 17.

DALE, M., to Mrs. Wiseman, at Poona, Oct. 1.

FERNANDEZ, J. C., to Miss Mary C. Jackson, at Poona, Oct. 1.

HERBERT, C., to Elizabeth G., daughter of Lieut. col. Rigby, at Murree, Sept. 15.

JACOB, W. N. F., to Alice, daughter of W. Haworth, Sept. 29.

LOWNDS, T. M., to Catherine, daughter of the late Rev. C. Gazer, at Ahmedabad, Sept. 27.

MASSEY, J., to Catherine, daughter of J. Knox, at Dhoolia, Oct. 4.

MORGAN, C. H., to Ann C., daughter of the late J. Hughesdon, at Serajungum, Sept. 22.

NARTINDALE, T. F., to Miss Marion H. Philliss, at Calcutta, Sept. 17.

PITCHARD, Lieut. H. T., to Harriette J. D., daughter of T. White, at Vizagapatam, Sept. 24.

SCOTT, Capt. A., to Maria, daughter of the late H. Davidson, at Hyderabad, Oct. 5.

STEWART, J. A., to Elizabeth, daughter of W. M. Fuchabers, at Barrackpore, Sept. 25.

WATMOUTH, Capt. C., to Annie F., daughter of Maj. gen. Carpenter, Sept. 13.

DEATHS.

ALMEIDA, E. D., at Bombay, aged 45, Oct. 9.

BERRIDGE, Ann A., daughter of J., at Goondaloor, aged 17, Sept. 14.

BERRIDGE, Georgina, infant daughter of J., at Goondaloor, Sept. 8.

BLAIR, Col. C. D., Invalid Establishment, at Simla, Sept. 27.

BYRNE, John, at Delhi, Sept. 17.

CARBY, James, at Colaba, aged 32, Sept. 27.

CHASE, infant son of H., c.s., at Mynpoory, Sept. 26.

CRAIGIE, J., Esq., c.s., at Delhi, Sept. 15.

FRANCIS, Grace A., infant daughter of Lieut. A., at Accola, Sept. 10.

HALL, Barbara, wife of S., at Hoonsoor, aged 20, Sept. 27.

HAMMOND, Charles F., at Bombay, aged 35, Oct. 7.

HOPKINS, Dorah, wife of Lieut. J., at Allahabad, Sept. 22.

JOHNSON, William, at Poona, aged 38, Sept. 22.

JOHNSTON, Charles S., infant son of W., at Allahabad, Sept. 28.

JOBSON, Christopher, at Madras, Sept. 18.

LAVILLE, Jeannette M., wife of S., at Bolarum, Sept. 23.

LEACH, Lucy, infant daughter of Mr., at Poona, Oct. 4.

MARKEE, W., at Mazagon, aged 23, Sept. 23.

MCDONALD, wife of W. H., at Bombay, Sept. 27.

MCKENZIE, Ella A., infant daughter of J., at Rajpore, Sept. 15.

MORPHETT, Capt. M., late of H.M.'s 57th regt., at St. Thome, Sept. 5.

MOSES, Francis E., at Poona, aged 27, Sept. 30.

ORCHARD, Lieut. John F., 4th Bengal N.I., near Chumba, Aug. 25.

PELLEY, Percy L., infant son of W. O., at Bombay, Sept. 28.

RATTRAY, Robert H., at Calcutta, aged 79, Sept. 30.

REVIS, H. J., at Madras, Sept. 20.

ROSS, Richard M., at Bombay, aged 42, Oct. 7.

SANDERSON, Alexander, at Asseerghur, aged 34, Sept. 30.

SKOTTOWE, Lieut. F. W., late Com. H.M.'s schooner Snake, at Bu-hire, Aug. 17.

TONNOCHY, Thomas, at Bulundshuhur, aged 70, Sept. 25.

WARD, Alice, wife of J., at Madras, aged 19, Sept. 28.

WOODBURN, Maj.-gen., c.b., at Ahmedabad, Sept. 28.

YATES, wife of J., at Kemptee, aged 52, Sept. 15.

WAR OFFICE.

CHANGES, PROMOTIONS, &c.,
IN H.M.'s REGIMENTS SERVING IN INDIA.
Nov. 6.

7th Drag. Gds.—Capt. J. C. Murphy, from 3rd Lt. drags., to be capt., v. J. V. Cleland, who exch.; Lieut. R. Bury, from 9th Lt. drags., to be lieut., v. R. S. Cleland, who exch.

7th Lt. Drags.—Cornet A. Jones, from 6th drag. gds., to be cornet, v. Fauquharson.

13th Foot.—Ensign R. H. Home to be lieut., by purch., v. Bond.

23rd Foot.—Capt. C. Hewett, from h.p. unatt., to be capt., v. Brev. Lieut. col. C. S. S. E. Gordon.

70th Foot.—Ensign C. H. Prior to be lieut., without purch., v. C. W. Quin, dec.; Aug. 22.

80th Foot.—Capt. Tucker, from 22nd foot, to be capt., v. J. J. Dudgeon, who exch.

95th Foot.—Ensign R. Anderson to be lieut., by purch., v. Knipe.

BREVET.

Capt. W. Gray, 1st Bombay Eur. fus., to be maj. in the army; July 2.

Surg. maj. A. Gibson, Bombay Med. Est., ret. on full pay, to have the honorary rank of dep. insp. gen. of hospitals; Nov. 6.

The following promotions to take place in H.M.'s Indian mil. forces consequent on the death of Gen. J. Currae, Madras inf., on Aug. 29, 1860; and of Maj. gen. Sir H. G. Roberts, K.C.B., Bombay inf., on Oct. 6, 1860:—

Lieut. gen. G. B. Brooks, Bombay inf., to be gen.; Aug. 30.

Maj. gen. J. W. Cleveland, Madras inf., to be lieut. gen.; Aug. 30.

Col. J. Fitzgerald, Madras inf., to be maj. gen.; Aug. 30.

Col. C. Clemons, Madras inf., to be maj. gen.; Oct. 7.

The undermentioned officers of H.M.'s Indian mil. forces, ret. on full pay, to have a step of honorary rank as follows:—

Col. J. S. Ramsay, Bombay inf., to be maj. gen.; Nov. 6.

Lieut. col. N. C. Macleod, Bengal engrs., to be col.; Nov. 6.

Lieut. col. P. L. Hart, Bombay engrs., to be col.; Nov. 6.

Maj. H. W. Freedy, Bombay inf., to be lieut. col.; Nov. 6.

Maj. C. H. Winfield, Madras inf., to be lieut. col.; Nov. 6.

Capt. J. E. Taylor, Bombay inf., to be maj.; Nov. 6.

THE MONSOON.—The total fall of rain at Bombay up to Saturday, October 6, inclusive, is as follows:—At Byculla, 74 in. 65 cts.; in the Fort, 69 in. 86 cts.; and at Colaba, 60 in. 64 cts.

The War in China.

CAPTURE OF THE TAKU FORTS.

WAR OFFICE, Nov. 4.

No. 37.

Head Quarters, Tangku, Aug. 24.

Sir,—I have the honour to report that the allied forces were unable to leave Pehtang until Aug. 12, on account of the very heavy rain, which had made the country almost impassable.

On that morning, however, the troops marched according to the following dispositions—viz., the 2nd div. of inf., an Armstrong battery, a rocket battery, Madras sappers, and the cav. brig., with three six pounders. The whole, under Maj.-gen. Sir Robert Napier, struck off to the right of the road leading from Pehtang to Sinho, for the purpose of turning the left of the Tartar position. This column experienced the greatest difficulty in getting through the deep heavy ground, which extended for more than two miles out of Pehtang, and considerably delayed the departure of the main column, under Sir John Michel, which moved along the causeway leading directly from Pehtang to Sinho, and which was composed as follows—viz., the 1st inf. brig., a company of royal engineers, an Armstrong battery, 1,000 French inf., and a French battery, all under Brigadier Staveley. This was followed by the 2nd inf. brig., two 9-pounder batteries, and a rocket battery, succeeded by the main column of the French.

On approaching the entrenched camp the Tartar cav. moved rapidly down to attack Sir Robert Napier, who was at this time about two and a half miles off, on my right flank. His report of that part of the engagement I beg to enclose.

Sir John Michel's division deployed at the same time in front of the enemy's works, and opened fire with Lieut.-col. Barry's Armstrong battery and Capt. Desborough's 9-pounders, a French battery being on the left, together with a French and an English rocket battery. These guns kept up such a heavy fire that the Tartars were unable to resist long, and they abandoned their works, being closely followed into their second entrenched line at Sinho, which they were unable to defend, and fled to Tangku.

I enclose Sir J. Michel's report of this affair.

The enemy's force was composed principally of cavalry, and numbered about 4,000 men. At Sinho I was joined by Sir R. Napier's div., and the cav., who had cut up a good number of the Tartar horsemen.

The loss of the Chinese was about 100 men.

On the 13th I reconnoitred the ground along the banks of the Peiho leading to Tangku, and found it tolerably firm, though intersected with creeks and ditches. I ordered these to be bridged during the night, and on the morning of the 14th an allied force moved from Sinho towards Tangku, keeping their right flank on the bank of the river. The English part of the force consisted of the 1st inf. div. under Sir John Michel, and the art., as per margin,* which formed one grand battery under Brig.-gen. Crofton, R.A.

On arriving within a mile of Tangku, a battery and some junks on the right bank were silenced by two Armstrong and two 9-pounder guns; and a party of sailors who had been brought up for the purpose crossed the river and burnt the junks.

The whole of the artillery was then advanced to within 600 yards of the entrenchment, and opened a heavy fire on the walls; two French batteries deployed on our left; the enemy replying with ten or twelve guns, and a brisk fire of gingalls and matchlocks. The artillery gradually advanced to within 350 yards, and the enemy's guns being silenced a breach was commenced, when a passage across the double wet ditch was discovered at the river's edge by the 60th rifles, and an entrance was effected, the Chinese retreating with great precipitation. At the same time the French advanced with great gallantry, and entered by the main gate, which had been partially broken in by the artillery fire. The garrison of Tangku retreated, some into the north forts, and some across the river to Tangku.

I am happy to say that our losses in these two engagements were very slight, owing to the enemy being completely paralysed by the superior fire of our artillery.

Forty-five guns were captured in Tangku. My thanks are due to Maj.-gens. Sir John Michel and Sir R. Napier, commanding divisions (the former had a horse killed under him on the 14th), also to Brig.-gen. Crofton, commanding royal art., and Brig. Pattle, commanding the cav., for the able way in which they exercised their respective commands; and the whole of the officers and soldiers acquitted themselves to my satisfaction.

(Signed) J. HOPE GRANT, Lt.-gen.,
Comdg. H.M.'s Forces in China.

The Rt. Hon. the Sec. of State for War.

No. 38.

Head-quarters, Tangku, Aug. 24, 1860.

Sir,—I have the honour to report that, after the capture of Tangku on the 14th inst., I commenced bringing up siege-guns and ammunition from Pehtang, with a view to the reduction of the uppermost fort on the left bank of the Peiho, distant about two miles from Tangku.

The ground upon which it was necessary to advance was mostly of a very difficult nature, and intersected with broad and deep canals used in the manufacture of salt.

I placed Maj.-gen. Sir R. Napier in charge of the advance, his division being quartered in Tangku. Under his superintendence bridges were thrown over these ditches and canals by Lieut.-col. Mann, commanding royal engrs.; and heavy guns as per margin,* with a good supply of ammunition having been brought into Tangku, the 67th regt. and an Armstrong battery were pushed forward on the evening of the 19th to within 2,000 yards, to cover the working parties making roads, bridges, &c. On the 20th the road was made practicable to within 800 yards of the fort, batteries were traced, and the heavy guns were brought out ready to place in position by daybreak of the following day. The Chinese opened fire during the day, and were replied to by Capt. Milward's Armstrong guns at 2,000 yards' range with good effect, and the firing gradually ceased.

During the night batteries were constructed for the heavy guns and mortars, and for one field battery, also for two 8-inch guns, which were brought up by great exertions from Pehtang during the night; and the whole were placed in position by daybreak of the 21st August.

It had been arranged with the Admirals that the gun-boats should cross the bar that morning, and should engage the outer North Fort and the flank of the outer South Fort at the same time that the attack on the inner North Fort was commenced by the land forces.

At five a.m., however, the Chinese opened fire upon the troops from all their forts within range, and we were thus forced to reply an hour earlier than had been intended.

The artillery was disposed as follows:—A French 24 pounder battery of 6 pieces, one English 8-inch gun, and two Armstrongs played on the inner South Fort to keep down the fire they might otherwise have poured on our right flank. Two Armstrong guns and two 9-pounders fired from Tangku across the river at an entrenchment which flanked the French right; three 8-inch mortars were in the centre at 600 yards' range, and to their left rear an Armstrong battery, two 32-pounder guns, and two 8-inch howitzers, all of which played on the fort we were attacking. In addition to this, two 9-pounder guns, four 24-pounder howitzers, the remaining two Armstrong guns, and a rocket battery were placed in the open ground about 800 yards in front of the fort.

The storming party of infantry consisted of a wing of the 44th, under Lieut.-col. MacMahon, and a wing of the 67th, under Lieut.-col. Thomas, supported by the other wings of those two regiments, and the royal marines, under Lieut.-col. Gascoigne. A detachment of royal marines, under Lieut.-col. Travers, carried a pontoon bridge for crossing the wet ditches, and Maj. Graham, R.E., conducted the assault. The whole were commanded by Brig. Reeves.

The fire of the artillery was most effective, the guns of the fort (of which many were of very large calibre) were speedily silenced, and at about seven a.m. the magazine blew up with a terrific explosion. A few minutes later the magazine in the outer North Fort was also exploded by a shell from the gunboats.

The field guns were all advanced to within 500 yards of the fort, and redoubled their efforts.

The fire of the forts having almost entirely ceased, a breach was commenced near the gate, and a portion of the storming party was advanced to within thirty yards to open a musketry fire, the French infantry being on the right, the English on the left.

The fire of our artillery being thus partially compelled to slacken, the enemy emerged from their cover, and opened a heavy fire of musketry on our troops.

The French, under Gen. Collineau, immediately pushed on to the salient next the river, crossed the wet ditches in the most gallant manner, and established themselves on the berm, from whence they endeavoured to escalate the walls. This, however, they were unable to effect, from the vigorous resistance of the Chinese.

The efforts of the sappers to lay down the pontoon bridge were unavailing; no less than fifteen of the men carrying it being knocked over in one instant, and one of the pontoons destroyed.

At this juncture Sir R. Napier caused the two howitzers of Capt. Govan's battery to be brought up to within 50 yards of the gate, in order more speedily to create a breach, and a space sufficient to admit one man had just been made when our storming party (now joined by the head-quarters' wing of the 67th, under Col. Knox), who had partly crossed by the French bridge and partly swam over, forced their way in by single file in the most gallant manner, Lieut. Rogers, 44th regt., and Lieut. Burslem, 67th regt., being the first to enter, when they assisted in the regimental colours of the 67th, carried by Ensign Chaplin, who first planted them on the breach (assisted by Private Lane, 67th regt.), and subsequently on the cavalier, which he was the first to mount. At the same moment the French effected their entrance, and the garrison was driven back step by step, and hurled pell-mell through the embrasures on the opposite side.

Here the same obstacles which had impeded our advance obstructed their retreat; in addition to two wet ditches and two belts of pointed bamboo stakes, there was swampy ground, and a third ditch and bank.

The storming parties opened a destructive fire upon them from the cavalier, and this was enhanced by the cannister fire of Capt. Govan's guns, which had been moved to the left of the fort for that purpose.

The ground outside the fort was literally strewn with the enemy's dead and wounded; three of the Chinese were impaled on the stakes. A few fugitives reached the outer North Fort, which opened fire to cover their retreat, and was answered by the Armstrong guns with good effect.

About an hour after this the whole of the forts on both sides of the river hauled down their war banners and hoisted flags of truce. Gen. Montauban and I sent each an officer to ask their meaning and summon them to surrender, but they only received an evasive and insolent reply, and were defied to come on to the attack.

Accordingly two fresh regiments, the 3rd Buffs and the 8th Punjab Inf., having been brought up, I advanced to attack the outer North Fort. Two 8-inch guns were placed in position against it; the other siege guns could not be brought up.*

* Two Armstrong batteries, two 9-pounder batteries, two pocket batteries.

* 2 32-pounder guns, 2 8-inch howitzers, 3 8-inch mortars, 3 5½-inch mortars.

* The guns of the cavalier of the captured fort were manned and turned on it.

The field batteries were placed at 800 yards range on an arc encircling the left and front, the French guns on our right. Not a shot was fired by the enemy, and the allied infantry pushed on, crossed the ditches, and scaled the walls, without meeting any opposition; the garrison of 2,000 men being made prisoners.

This fort was stronger than the first. They are all constructed on the same plan, being redoubts, with a thick rampart heavily armed with guns and wall-pieces, and having a high cavalier facing seawards, the guns of which were all turned in towards us. They have two unfordable wet ditches, between which and the parapet sharp bamboo stakes were thickly planted, forming two belts, each about fifteen feet wide, round the fort, an abattis encircling the whole, and further covered by pieces of water, which force an advance to be made only on a narrow point.

Towards evening the garrisons of the South Forts were observed to be evacuating them, and detachments of English and French were passed over in ships' boats, and occupied them. There is not now the trace of an enemy near us, and the whole of the forts and entrenched camps are in our hands, containing about 400 guns, many of which are of very large calibre.

It is difficult to account for the confusion and uncertainty which seemed to pervade the enemy when the first fort fell; but it now appears that the general in command was killed, and the second in command either killed or missing; and the confusion caused by this, together with the severe lesson received in the first fort, rendered them incapable or unwilling of further resistance.

I cannot conclude this despatch without expressing my sense of the very valuable services of Major-Gen. Sir Robert Napier, who conducted the attack, and whose assistance has been most useful.

The service of the artillery under Brig.-gen. Crofton was most excellent; its effects I have already described.

The engineering operations were conducted by Lieut. col. Man; and lastly, I must bring to notice the gallant conduct of the storming party, which was commanded by Brig. Reeves, who, himself severely wounded in three places, did not quit the field until he had conducted his men into the fort.

The wounded were removed as soon as possible into Tangku, where every arrangement for their temporary reception was made by Dr. Muir, the principal medical officer.

Many others, both officers and soldiers, behaved in a manner deserving of being mentioned; but want of time does not permit me to treat of it in this despatch, and on a future occasion I shall do myself the honour of bringing their names to your notice.

I would also wish to inform H.M.'s Government how cordially and sincerely our French allies have co-operated with us, as well as the admiration I feel for their gallant conduct in the field.

General de Montauban has always shown every disposition to act thoroughly in concert with me, and to co-operate in every manner in his power.

The services of the gunboats will doubtless be brought to notice by the naval C. in C., and I beg here to record what a valuable and efficient colleague I have found in Admiral Hope, whose unwearied exertions throughout the whole campaign and in discharging the onerous duties of transporting this large force to the seat of war have contributed greatly to the success of operations.—I have, &c.

(Signed) J. HOPE GRANT, Lieut.-gen.,
Comdg. H.M.'s Forces in China.

The Rt. Hon. the Sec. of State for War, &c., &c.

Head-quarters, 1st Div., Camp, near
Sun ho, Aug. 24, 1860.

Sir,—I have the honour to report that, in obedience to the orders of H.E. the C. in C., the 1st div., under my command, marched from Pehtang about half-past ten a.m. on the 12th inst.

On reaching the enemy's second picket-house, which is about 900 yards from their entrenched position, skirmishers of the 1st royals were sent to the left, and some of the 31st to the right, and shortly afterwards Colonel Barry's battery of Arm strong guns, and Capt. Martin's battery of 9-pdrs. (the whole under the command of Capt. Desborough), opened fire on the enemy's entrenchment at a distance of about 800 yards; after a cannonade of twenty-five minutes, the enemy's cav. were seen moving to their left from the entrenchments.

The guns then advanced to within 500 yards, and played on the enemy's position, as also on the cav. who were moving to their right; the fire of two Armstrong guns quickly dispersed their cav., and in a few minutes the advance was sounded, and the enemy's position found to be abandoned.

The enemy now retired to the entrenched village of Sin-ho, but Sir R. Napier's div. having turned their left, the cav. of the enemy, in large numbers, escaped behind this village towards the Peiho Forts.

The Armstrong guns, at a range of from 2,000 to 2,500 yards, made good practice on the fugitives.

This engagement having been entirely that of art., only one man of the div. was wounded.—I have, &c.

(Signed) J. MICHEL, Maj.-gen.,
Comdg. 1st Div.

Camp, Tang-ko, Aug. 24, 1860.

Sir,—I have the honour to report for the information of H.E. the C. in C. the result of the operations of the force under my command, employed in the advance from Pehtang, and the attack of the Tartar post at the Sinho entrenchment.

The troops left their billets at four a.m. of the 12th inst., and moved out in the following order:

An advanced guard of 200 men of the 3rd buff., with two Armstrong guns of Milward's battery, under the command of Lieut.-col. Sargent, 3rd buff.

Four Armstrong guns, Milward's battery, 23rd company royal engineers, 3rd buff., 8th regt. Punjab inf., 44th regt., Rolton's rocket battery, royal marines, Madras sappers and miners, right wing 67th regt., reserve ammunition, hospital stretchers, &c., rear guard, left wing 67th regt.

Cavalry Brigade—2 squadrons King's dragoon guards, Probyn's horse, 3 guns Stirling's battery, Fane's horse.

The head of the column moved at 4 a.m., but though two days' hard work had been devoted to repairing the roads, the deep, tenacious mud rendered them so difficult that it was not till half-past seven that the rear of the column cleared the gate of Pehtang.

According to his Excellency's instructions, the force above enumerated struck off from the causeway by a track to the right, at half a mile from Pehtang. The C. in C. was himself a witness of the extreme difficulties which had to be overcome in extricating the troops from the inundated town of Pehtang, and advancing through the deep mud, in which gun-wheels were frequently embedded axle-deep. It cost two hours' hard labour to the troops to traverse the first two miles.

I advanced by brigades in line of contiguous columns at quarter distance, my front covered by the advanced guard of 200 3rd buff. and Milward's battery, under command of Lieut.-col. Sargent. The cavalry was formed on my right.

A considerable halt was necessary to enable the rear to struggle through the heavy ground, and close up, for I was aware that I was liable to attack from the north as well as from the enemy in front.

Observing the approach of the allied columns to the direct attack of the entrenchment upon the causeway, and perceiving the enemy in great force, both in that entrenchment and in front of the village of Sin-ho, I marched directly towards them, taking their position in flank, and threatening their line of retreat.

On arriving within 1,500 yards, Milward's Armstrong guns opened on the enemy. These were the first shots fired with that weapon in war, and the range and accuracy of their fire excited the admiration of the force. The Tartar horsemen were surprised by the fire, but not shaken. After some hesitation they streamed out in a long line through a passage across the marsh which separated us, and forming with great regularity and quickness, enveloped my force in a great circle of skirmishers. The northern portion formed by the cavalry, known to be in that direction, who hitherto kept out of sight, seemed suddenly to rise in position from the plain.

As soon as the enemy's movements were clearly defined I sent to Brig. Pattle, commanding the cavalry, directing him to detach a troop to protect my right rear, and to take the opportunity to charge which the enemy so boldly offered him.

I then had the satisfaction of seeing the admirable charge of my cavalry, by which the Tartar horde in front of them was driven from the field in disorder. Milward's battery had continued to play upon the enemy as long as it was possible to do so without injury to our advancing cavalry.

About this time Stirling's half-battery, which, being unable to follow the movements of cavalry in such heavy ground, had been left with an escort of thirty of Fane's horse, under Lieut. Macgregor, was charged by a body of Tartar cavalry of very superior numbers. Lieut. Macgregor gallantly led his small party against the enemy and defeated them, many Tartars being killed, and Lieut. Macgregor and many of his men being severely wounded.

Whilst this was going on, my attention had been diverted from my right front to a large party of Tartars, who were steadily approaching the Buffs, on the left front, apparently regardless of the fire of two of Milward's guns under Lieut. Harvey, of the rifles, of the advanced guard, and of Rolton's rockets. They advanced to within 450 yards, and bore unflinchingly for a considerable time such a fire as would have tried any troops in the world. The 4th brigade, under Brig. Reeves, being similarly attacked at the same time, replied with a steady fire, which did considerable execution.

At length the courageous endurance of the enemy began to give way, and they fled from the field with precipitation.

I then advanced my force towards the western end of the village of Sin-ho, and joined the allied columns.

At no time throughout the day had we opportunity of coming into contact with the enemy's infantry.

Trusting that the objects intended by H.E. have been carried out by the force under my command, I beg to bring to his notice the excellent conduct and discipline of the troops of all arms during a very trying day.

I am much indebted to the brigadiers commanding the several brigades of cavalry and of infantry, and to the officer commanding the field artillery, all of whom performed the duties entrusted to them to my entire satisfaction.

I received the most valuable assistance from my divisional and personal staff, whose labours were unremitting.

I beg to subjoin a list of officers, whom I desire earnestly to recommend to H.E.'s favourable consideration.—I have, &c.,

(Signed) R. NAPIER, Maj.-gen.,
Comdg. 2nd div. China Force.

To Capt. Biddulph, Mil. Sec.

(From the London Gazette of Tuesday, Nov. 6.)

ADMIRALTY, Nov. 5.

CAPTURE OF THE FORTS AT THE ENTRANCE OF THE PEIHO.
No. 287.

Coromandel, in the Peiho, Aug. 27, 1860.

My Lord,—You will be pleased to acquaint the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty that on the 12th inst. the allied troops moved out of the village of Pehtang, and occupied that of Sinho, driving back a considerable body of the enemy, and taking two entrenched positions on their march; and that on the 14th they attacked and captured the fortified village of Tang-kou, the enemy retiring across the river and into the forts on its northern bank. To the despatches of the Lieut.-gen. in command I beg to refer their lordships for the details of these and other purely military operations.

2. The Lieut.-gen. in command having acquainted me with his intention of attacking these forts on the 21st, the French and English gunboats, with the rocket-boats of the fleet, were moved into the Peiho on the day previous, in order to shell the outer North Fort with those of light draught, while those of larger size should be held in reserve for the purpose of checking the flank fire of the Southern Fort, should it open on the troops during their advance.

3. The attack of the troops on the Inner Fort commenced about daylight, and that of the gunboats, which had been delayed for want of water in the position assigned to them, about 6; half an hour later the magazine of the Inner Fort exploded, as did that of the Outer Fort shortly after. At 9 the allied flags were shown from the Inner Fort, and at 11 firing ceased, flags of truce being displayed on all the remaining forts.

4. During the afternoon the outer North Fort was taken possession of by the troops without further resistance. In the evening the South Fort, being deserted by the enemy, was occupied, and the booms across the river were removed; but the iron stakes, of which there were two double rows, being fixed with much firmness, a passage through was not opened till noon of the following day, when the gunboats passed up and anchored off Tang-kou.

5. On the following day a force of English and French gunboats* left for Tien-tsin, and on their arriving next morning, finding that the town was destitute of troops, and the authorities anxious to make their unconditional submission, in concert with Admiral Charner, I placed guards in the forts and on the city gates, hoisting the allied flags in token of its military occupation. It is the intention of the Lieut. gen. in command to place an adequate force in the town or its vicinity, the inf. and art. portion of which are now being forwarded in the gunboats.

6. The fire of the gunboats and rocket-boats,† which I placed under the orders of Rear-Admiral Jones, to whose assistance on all occasions I have been much indebted, was well directed and serviceable; that of the French gunboats attracted attention by its precision. Being placed well in on the mud on the northern bank of the river, at high water, only one English gunboat was within long range of the South Fort, all being more or less out of the line of fire of that which they attacked. The enemy, after a few shot, which fell short, ceased to fire on them, and consequently they sustained no casualties whatever.

7. While, therefore, I have not on this occasion to draw your Lordship's attention to conduct such as that which distinguished both officers and men in the attack of last year, I yet gladly avail myself of this occasion to express the sense I entertain of their unwearied exertions, not merely in effecting the landing of the army here—an operation continued without intermission until it was completed, but also in the fitting out of the transport fleet, the embarkation at Hong Kong, as well as the disembarkation and embarkation at Talien-whan Bay, all of which, together with the keeping up the supplies of the army, has involved much heavy labour.

8. I am indebted to Commander Ward and the surveying officers under his directions for a chart of Talien-whan Bay and the coast line of the Gulf of Pecheli, made early in the year, notwithstanding much bad weather, for accurate surveys of the Peitang and Peiho rivers, while still in the possession of the enemy, and for much zeal and ability displayed in subsequently buoying those rivers.

9. I am unwilling to conclude this despatch without acknowledging the cordial co-operation on all occasions of my colleagues, and more espe-

* First Squadron of Gunboats, Capt. McCleverty:—Havock, Staunch, Opossum, Forester, and Algerine.

† Third Squadron of Gunboats, under command of Captain Lord John Hay:—Clown, Drake, Woodcock, and Janus. Third Squadron of Rocketboats, Commander Alpin. Fourth Squadron of Rocketboats, Commander Hirt.

cially of Vice-Admiral Charner, on whose suggestion the effective position assigned to the gunboats was adopted.—I have, &c.,

J. HOPE, Vice-Admiral and C. in C.
The Rt. Hon. Lord Clarence Paget, C.B., M.P.,
Sec. of the Admiralty.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE BATTALION OF MARINES SERVING WITH THE ARMY.

(No. 288.—One Enclosure.)

Coromandel, in the Peiho, Aug. 27.

My Lord,—Herewith I forward, for the information of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, the report I have received of the operations from Lieut.-col. Gascoigne, who is in command of the battalion of royal marines serving with the army, and, should they prove to have been so fortunate as to have obtained the favourable notice of the Lieut.-gen. in command, I feel assured their Lordships will feel pleasure in meeting any request which may be made in their favour by H.R.H. the C. in C.—I have, &c.,

J. HOPE, Vice-Admiral and C. in C.
Rt. Hon. Lord Clarence Paget, C.B.,
Sec. of the Admiralty.

(Enclosure in No. 288 of 1860.)

Batt. of Royal Marines (L.I.),
Ton-ku, Aug. 24.

Sir,—I have the honour to report, for the information of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, the proceedings of the batt. of royal marines under my command, serving by your order with the expeditionary force, and attached to the 4th brig. in the second division, since landing at Peitang on the 9th inst.

On the 12th of August the whole force (excepting the 99th regt.) moved out for Sinho. The Tartar cavalry showed themselves in great numbers during the advance, and made demonstrations of attack, but were repulsed with considerable loss, the casualties being few on the side of the allies, our own batt., though engaged, having none.

On the 14th, at daylight, the art., with the 3rd and 4th brigs. and a French force, were sent forward to take the strongly fortified village of Ton-ku. After a severe bombardment the 60th rifles effected an entrance at the west angle upon the river, the casualties having been but few on the part of the allies. Two deep ditches encompassed the place, and the loss to the enemy was great.

On the 21st (having marched out of Ton-ku the previous evening) the art., engr., royal marines, 44th and 67th regts., accompanied by about 1,500 French, moved to the attack of the strong North Peiho Fort. The right wing of the royal marines being sent forward under Lieut.-col. J. O. Travers to carry the pontoons and scaling-ladders, these companies were commanded by Capt. J. C. Symonds, Brev. maj. J. C. D. Morrison, Capt. J. B. Prynn, and Lieut. T. H. A. Brennan, with No. 6 company, which (on account of the deep mud and heavy weight of the pontoons) was subsequently ordered to assist. These officers all distinguished themselves by endeavouring to surmount the difficulties that met them at every step. The pontoons being laid down by order of the commanding engr., the ladders were immediately taken round to the right angle and put across the ditch. A rush of men upon them caused them to be used as bridges to cross the wide ditch, the men standing up to their armpits in water to support them.

An entrance was effected at the main gate about the same time as at the angle. This fort commanded the others, and in consequence of its fall, and some good practice from four gunboats (one shell exploding a magazine), the forts on both sides of the river submitted to the allies.

With regard to the operations, the remainder of the battalion was kept moving up in support, and during the assault was so placed as to command access to the gate or the angle, should either point have required further assistance.

The loss of the battalion was one private killed, five officers, one sergeant, two corporals, and twenty-one privates wounded.

I have the satisfaction of reporting the good conduct of the battalion generally. Lieut.-col. Travers, during these operations, supported his well-known character for devotion and untiring energy. Asst. surg. D. M. Shaw was well up to the front under fire, and gave instant attention to the wounded men, Dr. J. Little's arrangements for quickly passing them to the rear being most complete and satisfactory.

Capt. Prynn was one of the first to enter the fort, followed by some men of his company, and shot down with his revolver a mandarin of note, since ascertained to have been the general in command.

Capt. Prynn speaks highly of Sergt. Teacle, 8th compy.; Sergt. Knapp, 83rd; Corporal Kelly, 61st; Private Bray, 16th; and Private Bowerman, 8th compy. The conduct of Sergt. H. Trent, 83rd compy., was deserving of all praise, as he continued his indefatigable exertions to get the pontoons up, although wounded, until another severe wound obliged him to be taken to the rear.—I have, &c.

J. H. GASCOIGNE, Lieut.-col.,
Comdg. Battalion.

BENGAL CRIMINAL COURTS.—The following pleasing little incident occurred a few days ago when I was in the station (Kishnagur). To a man who has been accustomed to the purloins of a Bengal criminal court there is nothing unusual in it, but to that fortunate individual who is not, it may appear "funny":—A Mr. Duval, a gentleman connected with the railway, ergo new in the country, had a case in the Fouzdaree Court. When it was over he received a bill of costs from his mooktear, Berisser Singee, one of the best mooktears in the Nuddea Court, the making up or contents of which struck him as singular. Most people would have returned the bill to the mooktear with any objections he liked. Mr. Duval did not; he put it in his pocket, rode into the station, and asked the magistrate's opinion of it. Here it is:—

	R. A. F.
To hiring four witnesses to prove your case ...	8 0 0
To amount paid to witnesses of opposite party to say, "I don't know anything" ...	4 0 0
Paid to the Isaharnuvees for writing "I don't know anything" ...	4 0 0
Paid to the Serishtadar for dismissing the case ...	10 0 0

The amounts are really not at all heavy, but the items I can well fancy astonished a fresh man, only I pity him in any case he may have in future. Every mooktear will work against him con amore. I am glad to say the magistrate has taken the matter up in a perfectly proper light. The mooktear has been suspended from practising in the courts, and will be prosecuted in due form. There is no question, or lack of proof, and I only hope he may be prevented from ever practising again, not for his great crime, but pour encourager les autres. Such accounts have often been sent to all Mofussil men, especially whilst they were young, but it is seldom a magistrate gets the opportunity of taking judicial notice of it, and I am pleased to think the present occasion will not be lost.—Correspondent of Hurkaru.

NATIVE RUMOURS.—The latest report, we hear, that some evil-designed natives have been spreading abroad to delude their simple-minded countrymen is, that Government are about to take advantage of the famine and allow the bunnahs to get rid of all their stores of grain, and then when the people are actually starving, the Government are to open granaries well filled with the old capital of the mischief mongers, atta polluted with bone dust, &c., and so destroy caste. What is to be done with people who will believe such rubbish? During the former visitation of cholera they got a notion spread about that the cholera pills, which had saved the lives of thousands, were composed of some caste-polluting substances, and refused to take them. This notion of theirs about the grain looks well in contrast with Colonel Baird Smith's proposal in his minute, that Government should expend a million sterling in charity.—Delhi Gazette.

COUNTRY AGENTS:—

Edinburgh, W. Blackwood and Sons.
Dublin, Hodges and Smith.
Brighton, C. Booty.

Communications for the Editor, and Advertisements, should be sent under cover to Messrs. WM. H. ALLEN & Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

* * Should any delay or irregularity occur in supplying this Paper, communication of the fact to the Publisher will insure a remedy.

ALLEN'S INDIAN MAIL,

FRIDAY, November 9, 1860.

LOYAL MAHOMEDANS.

SYUD AHMUD KHAN, Principal Sudder Ameen of Moradabad, has taken the trouble to write "An Account of the Loyal Mahomedans in India," with the double view of glorifying himself and of vindicating the fidelity of his co-religionists. His pamphlet is entitled to notice as the best apology that an astute and well-read Mahomedan gentleman, with all the advantages of judicial training, has been able to devise on behalf of his fellow-countrymen. The worthy Syud commences with certain moral reflections to the effect that the misconduct of an individual may bring disgrace and contumely upon a whole class. This, he says, was strikingly exemplified in the late rebellion, when the entire Mahomedan community was represented as all that is "vile, treacherous, and contemptible," because of the misdeeds of a small number of abandoned miscreants. "There was no prickly thorn in those awful times," he continues, soaring into the regions of poetry, "respecting which it was not said that it was planted by a Mahomedan; there was no fiery whirlwind that was not raised by a Mahomedan." Descending from this declamatory flight, he coolly states as a fact that no class displayed "so much single-minded and earnest devotion to the interests of the Government, or so willingly sacrificed reputation and status, life and property, in their cause as the maligned followers of the Prophet." Again, "it is to the Mahomedans alone that the credit belongs of having stood the stanch and unshaken friends of the Government amidst that fearful tornado that devastated the country, and shook the empire to its centre, and who were ever ready, heart and hand, to render their aid to the utmost extremity, or cheerfully to perish in the attempt, regardless of home and kindred, of life and its enjoyments." Presently awakening to the consciousness of the fact that this assertion may appear both novel and startling to such persons as have read only the narratives of "those who are obstinately wedded to their own opinions, albeit founded upon imperfect or erroneous information, and a profound ignorance of the manners and customs of the people, and the condition of the country," the Syud kindly condescends to particulars, and instances a score of Mahomedans in the Rohilcund district who remained throughout true to their allegiance. The first example he adduces is—himself. Fairly enough he records his own services and those of two other Mahomedan officials at Bijnore, and the rewards that were subsequently bestowed upon them by a grateful and discerning Government; but he seems to overlook the damaging circumstance that their enemies also were Mahomedans. In Mr. Shakespear's Report to the Commissioner of the Rohilcund Division, it is stated that the deputy-collector of Bijnore and Syud Ahmud Khan, "with the aid of the chief Hindoo landholders were doing much towards restoring order, when they were compelled on the 23rd of August to fly to Huldwar, which town was shortly afterwards attacked and taken by the Mussulmans, after a stout resistance on the part of Rajpoots and other Hindoos, who have throughout stood firm in their allegiance." And in the very next paragraph we read that the loyal officials made their escape "after running great risk at Chandpoor from the fanatical Mussulmans, who were infuriated against them on account of their loyalty to the British Government." After this it must be acknowledged that in the Bijnore district the faithful were the few, the faithless the many.

Passing on to Zuqurrea Khan, Peshkar of Jehanabad, in the Pilibheet district, we find that this true and devoted servant of the Government "was cut down and killed in open cutchery by a scoundrel of a Mahomedan." So these two cancel one another. Abdoollah Khan, again, the Kotwal of Pilibheet, greatly distinguished himself, as did also his near relatives, in contending against superior forces, likewise commanded by a Mussulman, the notorious Khan Bahadoor Khan. Then, the Moonshee Eemamooddeen, Tuhseeldar of Moradabad, undoubtedly did his duty in putting to death the rebellious Moulvie Munnoo, alias Wahajooddeen; but what was the consequence? Why, he was soon afterwards "obliged to fly and conceal himself, as his conduct on the above occasion exposed him to the bitter hatred of the whole Mahomedan population." But, in truth, it is mere waste of time to attempt to whitewash the Indian Mahomedans, or to draw a distinction in their favour as compared with their Hindoo accomplices. In reality, there cannot be a question that the former were in some respects the more guilty of the two, as being more prone to acts of gratuitous and relentless cruelty. The Syud, indeed, has the audacity to argue a priori that his co-religionists could not have perpetrated the crimes imputed to them, because it was contrary to their religion. Very likely; but this rather enhances than diminishes the enormity of their guilt, as it deprives them of even the miserable excuse of having acted on religious conviction. Their over-zealous advocate is particularly shocked at the charge brought against them of preaching a Jihad, or sacred war, because it is contrary to the precepts of the Koran that "the protected" should make war upon their "protectors"—and this is precisely the relation in which the Mussulmans of India stand towards the English. In like manner he asserts, and very truly, that the Prophet was well disposed towards the Christians, and did not confound them with the Jews or with the Kaffirs of Arabia and Persia. But the Syud is far too sensible a man to suppose that the modern Mahomedans, especially in India, are really guided by the actual teachings of the Koran. The stream, already impure at its fountain head, has long since become polluted with all manner of abominations, and is now a stagnant pool of corruption. It is idle to talk of the prohibition to shed the blood of women and children, to break covenants, to destroy standing corn or trees that bear fruit. There is the damning evidence of facts to show that in India this prohibition has not been regarded, and one fact is more weighty than a dozen arguments. Low, sensual, and degraded, as the Mahomedans are in all parts of the world, nowhere, not even in Constantinople, are they so sunk in vice and all unmanly practices as in India, and this sweeping charge is in no way invalidated by the few exceptional cases that may occur among so many millions. Those who did remain faithful displayed, we gladly admit, remarkable courage and energy, for the Mussulman, when not altogether debased by sensual indulgence, is decidedly a more vigorous and manly being than the majority of the Hindoos. And it is that which makes him inimical to the British rule. He might possibly be induced to forgive our Christianity, but he cannot forget that he belongs to what was once the conquering race, and that it is the English who have reduced him to the level of the Hindoo his fathers conquered, oppressed, and despised. This is the real cause of his animosity, and not the irreligion of the swine-devouring wine-bibbers.

CURIOSITIES OF EASTERN CIVILIZATION.

Do any of our readers ever glance at the Cabul news-writer's letters which appear under the head of Central Asia? Though not at first sight very inviting, they will generally repay the trouble of perusal. Curious enough are the glimpses they occasionally afford of Eastern habits and customs, and of the mingled squalor, magnificence, and barbarism of a genuine Asiatic Court. They throw, too, a strong light upon the "Thousand and One Nights" so dear to the youth of all countries, and serve to reconcile many seeming incongruities and contradictions in Scheherazade's wonderful stories. Without further preamble, then, we extract a few characteristic passages at random.

A great nobleman being desirous to make the Ameer a handsome present, is not above doing a little business at the same time. So, together with the nine horses and seven camels intended as a good-will offering to his sovereign, he sends 2,000 sheep to be disposed of on his own account. Pleased with the attention shown to him, the Ameer can do no less than order the sheep to be well fed and taken care of, and then to be sold at a good price. On the following day a number of the townsfolk wait upon the Ameer and complain that the corn and flour merchants will only deal with "those who are rich and strong," and leave the "poor class people" to starve. Soldiers are at once sent into the bazaar, to compel the dealers to sell at a uniform price to all without distinction, and apparently without reference to the actual cost. The morning after that, while the Ameer and his youngest children are disporting themselves in a garden belonging to one of the princes of the blood, a soldier enters a goldsmith's shop and asks for a ring which he had bespoken. Now, the goldsmith happens to be a Hindoo, and, therefore, keenly sensible of the risk attendant upon a system of credit. Accordingly, he declines to give up the ring until it has been paid for. Thereupon the soldier "first kicks him right and left," and then inflicts a severe sword wound upon his shoulder. The unfortunate goldsmith is straightway carried, not to the hospital, but to the entrance of the Ameer's private residence. By-and-bye the Ameer returns from his pleasant morning promenade, and sees a wounded man lying at his door. He stops and inquires into the case. The battalion to which the sepoy is known to belong is turned out, and the offender being recognised is sent off to jail. But though just and firm to others, the Ameer is apt to be self-indulgent, and the consequence is, that next day he is unable to attend the durbar. Affairs of State, appeals, and petitions, must all stand over till the prince is cured of "a kind of pain in the stomach." The physician is sent for in hot haste. He arrives anxious and important, and after consulting with two personages of distinction, ventures to administer "the proper medicine." We are not told what it was, but the Ameer gets better, and the prudent doctor advises him to "keep himself from too much eating, as, his stomach being weak, it would never agree with him." A few days later a Persian nobleman asks the Ameer to "make over to him" a fellow who had murdered his sister's husband in Tashkurghan, and thence fled to Cabul. This very reasonable request is at once complied with, and orders are issued that the murderer should be hanged "the very same day." No sooner said than done; but the rope breaks, and down he drops. However, another one is quickly obtained, and he is "left to swing." After a while the body is taken down for interment; but while prayers are being read over it at the mosque it begins to show signs of returning animation. Great is the consternation, still greater the compassion of the bystanders. Away gallops a horseman at full speed, and carries the news to the Ameer. Mercy! mercy! is the universal cry; but the old chief is inexorable, and sternly commands the poor wretch to be hanged a third time, "and to be left there until he was dead."

On another occasion a Candaharee chief, Mahomed Koolee Khan, who was unfortunately addicted to drink, called to pay his respects, when the Ameer, turning to one of the great men there present, lamented this deplorable propensity, and said that he would one day repent of his weakness. The nobleman thus addressed politely suggested that if his intemperate friend could be induced to take his oath on the Koran, in presence of his Highness, to abstain from liquor, he would keep to his word. The Ameer at once acted upon the hint, and told Mahomed Koolee Khan that, if he would give up his evil ways, and "faithfully promise to be a good man for the future," he would increase his pay and give him one of his daughters in marriage. It was, of course, impossible to resist such an argument in favour of total abstinence, and the "pledge" was taken without hesitation. Delighted with this ready acquiescence with his wishes, the Ameer conferred on the penitent a robe of honour and an order on the Candahar treasury for ten thousand rupees, and desired him to "bring his mother and other relations as soon as possible, as in the next cold weather he would have the marriage celebrated." At that time, and for several days afterwards, the Ameer was too ill to attend to public business; and considerable anxiety being felt on his account, a certain Sirdar gave two cows and one hundred rupees in charity, another bestowed in a similar manner one cow and twenty rupees, and a third two cows and fifty rupees. His Highness's partial recovery followed as a matter of course.

Sickness and old age are so far beneficial that they sometimes cause even despots to tremble on their thrones and bethink them of the wrongs they have done. Thus, one fine morning, after saying his prayers, the King of Bokhara "sat down and sighed," and said that it was time to prepare for another world, and to ask forgiveness of whomsoever he had ever fined or oppressed. So a proclamation went forth to the most distant borders of the kingdom, to the effect that, if any one had ever paid any fine to the king he must come and present himself before the throne and receive back his money. And it came to pass that, in looking through the day-book of the King's reign, it was discovered that a certain Khan had for some reason or other been fined 40,000 tunkas, a sum equivalent to 11,000 rupees of Cabul. This had happened many years ago, since when the Khan had died in poverty, and left a son who earned his daily bread by the sweat of his brow. Then the King sent for the poor man and returned him the 40,000 tunkas, and arrayed him in robes of honour, and, in addition, bestowed upon him a good house, with three slaves to wait upon him, and four slave girls with whom to make merry and solace himself for his past miseries. "In a word, the King of Bokhara is said to be very charitable and kind to his people, and determined to see justice done in his country"—and this because he is an old man, and well stricken in years.

And now let us return to Cabul, and view a picture of the domestic life of an Afghan nobleman at the present day. Shah-ood-doulah Khan told his son Yaseen Khan that before he went to Herat he left some books and valuable jewels with his (Yaseen's) mother, but that on his return only the books were forthcoming, and that he had ascertained she was a wanton and a "light o' love." Therefore, the only satisfaction he could have would be to put her to death, as he was "ashamed to go and sit amongst the Cabul Sirdars." Then he sent for his wife, and asked her in presence of her son what she had done with the jewels. But she held her peace and would make no reply. Upon that Yaseen Khan rose up and went to fetch a sword "to cut his mother in two." And when she saw him coming she ran away, and the Quaboochee, or soldier at the door, to whom, also, she had granted the last favour, took her and hid her in an inner room, and brought word to her father of the evil plight she was in. Her father, Sirdar Peer Mohamed Khan, was a man of mark in that city, and he rose up, with his four sons, and went to Shah-ood-doulah Khan, and told him "this was very unbecoming of a sirdar like him," and "the matter went so far that they began to abuse each other." While this storm of words was raging, the grateful Quaboochee took the woman home to her father's house, but when her husband found that she had escaped, he seized her two slave girls and slew them. Next day her father, accompanied by two of his friends, again called upon Shah-ood-doulah and remonstrated with him on the impropriety of giving his daughter a bad name, and the others said that he had better let the matter drop, and "make it up with Peer Mohamed." But Shah-ood-doulah answered that, if he could not have the woman's life he would divorce her, and to this they assented, and her property was accordingly given up by him to her father. On the following morning Shah-ood-doulah recounted the whole affair to the Ameer, who commended him for putting away the woman, but reproved him for sending certain sons of Belial to Peer Mohamed's house in the course of the night, with orders to kill the old man or his daughter. This rebuke brought Shah-ood-doulah to his senses, and he "promised before the Ameer that he would think no more of the matter." Verily, a wise man and a sound philosopher! Thus much at present from the Cabulee letter-bag.

SHIPPING.

ARRIVALS.

Nov. 1. Duchess of Sutherland, McLachlan, Batavia. — 3. Greenock, McLean, Mauritius. — 5. Jane Jack Mitchell, Logan, Bombay; He Marie, Calcutta. — 6. Thomas Fielden, Braham, Bombay. — 7. Glencaine, Turnbull, Foo-chow-foo; Post Wieland, Akynb; Genevieve, Tarpe, Mauritius; Pera (str.), Jamieson, Alexandria.

PASSENGERS DEPARTED.

Per str. Ripon, Nov. 4, to proceed per str. Nemesis, from Suez. For MALTA. — Miss Forrest, Mrs. Duncan, Mrs. Knox and child, Dr. R. Grezor, Lieut.-col. and Mrs. Bell, Miss G. R. berts, Mrs. Thora and child, Mr. H. Hansson, Mr. Tighman, Capt. A. P. Ga net, Mr. and Mrs. E. Johnson and two children. For ALEXANDRIA. — Mrs. Ogilvie and infant. For SUZ. — Mr. Newell. For CEYLON. — Rev. R. B. and Mrs. Tonge, Lieut.-col. and Mrs. McDonald. For MADRAS. — Dr. Harris, Mr. P. Irvine, Miss R. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Bland, Mrs. Anderson, Mr. S. Smith, Mr. A. F. Wilkinson, Mr. Foster, Lieut. Wood, Mrs. T. B. Turner, Mrs. Dudgeon. For CALCUTTA. — Mr. H. Cowie, Mr. and Mrs. Keets, Lieut. F. D. Harrington, Mrs. F. Drummond and three children, Col. and Mrs. Fleming, two Misses Cudiffe, Miss Reicher, Mrs. Reid, Miss Blair, Miss Maclean, Mrs. H. D. Tripp, Miss Parry, Lieut. Harcourt, Dr. and Mrs. Stuart, Mr. Montagu, Capt. and Mrs. Tulloch, Mr. D. Robertson, Mr. J. R. Reid, Maj. Oldershaw, Ena. Chambers, Maj. Sinclair, Ena. Dowler, Mrs. Odershaw and two children, Mr. W. B. Walto, Mr. A. Bruce, Mr. H. B. Greaves, Surg. R. Rivers, Mr. Jenkins, Capt. and Mrs. Dickson, Lieut. C. B. Saunders. For HONG KONG. — Mrs. M. McLeod and infant, Paym. Pope, Mr. S. Rosenthal. Per str. Val-tia, from Marseilles, Nov. 13, to proceed per str. Nemesis, from Suez. For ADEN. — Mr. Steinhausen. For MALTA. — Mr. and Mrs. Scott. For ALEXANDRIA. — Rev. W. J. Beaumont, Mr. W. Beaumont, Mr. Fox, Mr. Morrison, Mr. C. Thurbon. For CEYLON. — Mr. and Mrs. Morris, Mr. H. Ritchie. For MADRAS. — Mr. and Mrs. Bradish, Capt. H. A. Hope, Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Scudder, five children, Mrs. A. H. Hope. For CALCUTTA. — Dr. Saunders, Mr. and Mrs. Sandes, Mr. T. Cowie, Mrs. and Miss Hill, Mr. J. Wood, Mr. J. Maitland, Hon. H. B. and Mrs. Devereux, Capt. McDonald, Col. and Mrs. Hawkins, Capt. C. White, Lieut. J. and Mrs. Miller, Capt. Tweedie, Mrs. Cunningham and niece, Mrs. C. F. Tonnerre and infant, Mr. J. Smead, Lieut. F. Acton. For SINGAPORE. — Mr. and Mrs. H. Huecken and three children. For HONG KONG. — Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham.

DOMESTIC.

BIRTHS.

CHAPMAN, the wife of Robert B., Bengal Civil Service, of a daughter, at Manor-cottage, the Forest, Essex, Nov. 4.

MARRIAGES.

COMPTON, Capt. D'Oyly T., Bombay Army, to Clara E., widow of the late W. H. Pigon, Esq., surgeon, Bombay Establishment, at Christ Church, Paddington, Nov. 1.

GROVE, Capt. Joseph C. R., 42nd Royal Highlanders, to Emily H. H., daughter of the late William D. Erskine, of the Madras Army, at Cardross, Perthshire, Oct. 30.

HICKSON, John S., second surviving son of the late John Annesley Hickson, Esq., Capt. and Staff-Officer of Pensioners, Auckland, New Zealand, to Julia L. E., youngest daughter of the Rev. B. P. Brooke, Chaplain of the Bengal Establishment, at the Parish Church, Brighton.

DEATHS.

BRASLEY, W. Frederick, formerly of the Hon. E.I. Co.'s Service, at 185, Great Portland-street, Portland-place, aged 71, Nov. 1.

RAJAH OF JULAWUR.—The Supreme Government has remitted one lac of rupees of the tribute paid by the Rajah of Julawur, and presented him with a khillat worth Rs. 3,000 for his loyal conduct during the rebellion.

India Office,

November 9, 1860.

ARRIVALS REPORTED IN ENGLAND.

MILITARY.

Bengal Estab.—Lieut. F. J. Gully, 74th N.I.
Madras Estab.—Asst. surg. H. F. C. Cleghorn, Med. Est.; Capt. F. W. Robson, 20th N.I.; Capt. F. C. Barber, 29th N.I.

Bombay Estab.—Capt. R. Tubbs, Inv. Est.; Lieut. E. Coghlan, 4th N.I.; Surg. major A. Burn, Med. Est.

NAVAL.

Lieut. E. H. Fergusson; Midshipman H. Boys.

PERMITTED TO RETURN TO DUTY.

CIVIL.

Bengal Estab.—Mr. J. W. Macnabb, Mr. R. P. Harrison, Hon. H. B. Devereaux, Mr. G. F. Harvey.

MILITARY.

Bengal Estab.—Brev. lieut. col. W. Swatman, 2nd Eur. Regt.; Lieut. C. C. S. Moncrieff, Eng.; Asst. surg. F. J. Earle, Med. Est.; Brev. maj. J. F. Richardson, 49th N.I.; Lieut. F. A. Dickins, 31st N.I.; Brev. maj. H. Dinning, 71st N.I.; Capt. J. E. Cracroft, 69th N.I.; Surg. T. Maxwell, Med. Est.; Capt. J. S. Ogilvie, 48th N.I.; Lieut. J. S. Robinson, 1st L.C.; Surg. W. C. Smith, Med. Est.; Capt. J. J. Hockley, 66th N.I.

Madras Estab.—Lieut. A. Drury, 51st N.I.; Lieut. H. F. de Lousada, 51st N.I.; Vet. surg. T. Aston; Asst. surg. J. Chisholm, Med. Est.

Bombay Estab.—Sub-conductor W. C. Tarleton; Lieut. E. H. Ashe, 8th N.I.; Lieut. H. T. Vachell, Art.

GRANTED EXTENSION OF LEAVE.

CIVIL.

Bengal Estab.—Mr. C. F. Carnac, 6 mo.; Mr. J. H. Morris, 6 mo.; Mr. J. W. Dalrymple, granted 3 yrs. from 10th April, 1860.

Madras Estab.—Mr. A. P. Hodgson, 6 mo.

Bombay Estab.—Mr. E. Leckey (uncov.), 6 mo.

MILITARY.

Bengal Estab.—Capt. C. P. St. J. Law, 11th N.I., 3 mo.; Capt. H. T. Bartlett, 21st N.I., 6 mo.; Lieut. col. J. H. Smyth, Art., 6 mo.; Surg. J. Lee, Med. Estab., 8 mo.; 2nd Capt. F. E. Smalpage, Art., 2 mo.; Lieut. J. R. McPherson, 3rd Eur. Regt., 2 mo.; Asst. surg. T. Ringer, Med. Estab., 6 mo.; Lieut. col. H. Le G. Bruce, Art., 6 weeks.

Madras Estab.—Capt. D. Scott, 8th N.I., 6 mo.; Lieut. P. L. Gordon, 6th Lt. Cav., 2 mo.; Lieut. C. Mackenzie, 4th N.I., 6 mo.; Lieut. T. F. J. Russell, 48th N.I., 3 mo.; Capt. J. D. O'Neill, Inv. Estab., 6 mo.

Bombay Estab.—Brev. maj. C. W. Bannister, 2nd Lt. Cav., 6 mo.; Capt. J. G. Fife, Engrs., 6 mo.; Lieut. W. H. F. Sykes, 3rd Lt. Cav., 6 mo.; Brev. col. A. P. Le Messurier, 10th N.I., 6 mo.

NAVAL.

Lieut. J. A. Heathcote, 6 mo.

PERMITTED TO RETIRE (H.P.).

MILITARY.

Madras Estab.—Lieut. W. W. Wotherspoon, Inv. Estab.; Brev. capt. F. Elms, 16th N.I.

Bombay Estab.—Lieut. W. H. Brydon, Art.

BOOKS.

Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine. No. DXI. Wm. Blackwood and Sons.

There are three papers in the November number of Blackwood which will be read with great interest by Anglo-Indians, and indeed by all thoughtful and educated men. The first is on the relative merits of the Nomination and Competition Systems in Civil Service Appointments, and completely overthrows all the claptrap arguments usually adduced in favour of the competitive mania. The second paper, though very able, and in the main well founded, is weakened and disfigured by the acrimonious tone that pervades it. It purports to be a comprehensive review of the present situation and future prospects of the administration of India, and is written, not only in a desponding spirit, but with a degree of bitterness that betokens a personal animosity towards the present Secretary of State for India. It is well worthy, however, of perusal, and in certain political quarters will give considerable satisfaction. The third article to which we have alluded in terms of praise is an excellent synopsis of the question whether "heart of oak" or iron plates are to form the future bulwark of Old England. The writer, a naval man of high standing, supports the latter, and gives unanswerable reasons for the position he assumes.

Strange Surprising Adventures of the Venerable Gooroo Simple and his Five Disciples, Noodle, Doodle, Wisacre, Zany, and Foozle. Trübner and Co.

Messrs. Trübner and Co. appear to have taken up, as a specialty, the pleasing task of clothing in a rich English garb the quaint parables, satires, and conceits of other tongues and other times. In quick succession they have presented to the public their beautiful editions of "Reynard the Fox," and "The Marvellous Adventures of Master Tyll Owl-glass"—to say nothing of the not less surprising "Adventures of Baron Munchausen"—and now they add to our former obligations the duty of rendering them hearty thanks for a work of curious interest, profusely illustrated, and resplendent in its gorgeous cover of sapphire and gold. It is the history of the Gooroo Paramartan, and his young disciples Matti, Madeirgam, Pedei, Mileichan, and Moodan, whose English synonyms are considerably given for the benefit of those who are not familiar with Tamul. It is not so much a translation, however, as a paraphrase of Father Beschi's version of that popular satire on the fatuous ignorance and self-sufficiency of the Brahmins. Though the humour of these ridiculous adventures is sometimes rather coarse, it is thoroughly genuine, and very often quite irresistible. A more amusing volume, indeed, is rarely to be met with, while the notes in the Appendix display considerable erudition and research, though we observe that Ghee is said to be "equivalent to our word mess, a mess of pottage, of meat, &c., and, like the Latin ferculum, means the principal dish of the meal." This is at least a novel definition of the word, which is simply "equivalent" to clarified butter. However, that is a matter of very slight importance, and is largely counterbalanced by the beauty and exquisite drolery of the illustrations; but on that head it is superfluous to say more than that they are designed by "Alfred Crowquill." In short, whoso would keep up the good old kindly practice of making Christmas presents to one's friends and relatives may go far afield and never fall in with a gift so acceptable as a copy of the "Strange Surprising Adventures of the Venerable Gooroo Simple."

THE NAWAB NAZIM OF BENGAL applied to Government to be exempted from the operation of the Income-tax, or if that was not deemed admissible, that as his stipend was paid out of a large accumulated fund, called the Nizamut Fund, that the tax should be paid out of that. The Lieutenant-governor, in laying this claim before Government, stated that he did not think that the claim for exemption was a good one, and that the allowance was made on the same terms as all other pensions paid out of the Nizamut Fund on which Income-tax was charged; but he considered the application of the Nawab for an addition to his income from the fund equal to the tax in a more favourable light, and he would recommend that the addition to his allowance should be paid him. We understand the Governor-general concurs in the view of the Lieutenant-governor. The Governor-general, we are informed, has written to the Lieutenant-governor N. W. Provinces, requesting information when he thought the orders for a general search for arms could be prudently withdrawn, as the Government were anxious to do so at as early an opportunity as possible. The total number of arms collected in the N. W. Provinces up to the end of April last is as follows:—Arms of all descriptions, 36,76,317, and it is estimated that there are at least fifteen lakhs more in the country not surrendered.—Englishman.

EXPORT OF BULLION.

Per str. Della, Oct. 27, 1860.

	Gold.	Silver.
Alexandria	£25,700	—
Mauritius	10,100	2,706
	£45,100	£2,706

Per str. Elipon, Nov. 3, 1860.

	Gold.	Silver.
Alexandria	£5,275	—
Madras	4,766	£17,420
Calcutta	—	9,580
Singapore	850	—
Hong Kong	—	98,800*
Shanghai	—	14,071
Foo Chow	—	1,900
Penang	—	1,200

£10,891

£142,971

* £8,4250 shipped by her Majesty's Government.

BENGAL GOVERNMENT LOANS.

	Buy. s. d.	Sell. s. d.	Actual Sales.
5½ per Cent. Loan of 1859-60	—	—	101½st.
5 p. Ct. Loan of 1854 (P. Works Loan)	—	—	1 10½
4 per Cent. East-India Sica Rs.	—	—	1 7
Transfer Loan Stock	—	—	—
New 5 per Cent. Loan of 1856-57	—	—	95 ½st.
4 per Cent. Loan of 1845-56	—	—	1 7
4 per Cent., 1842-48 and 5½-56	—	—	79ster.

INDIA EXCHANGES.

BILLS.	Bank and Commercial Bills, at 60 days' sight, per Co.'s Rpe.	Indian Govt. Bills, at 60 days' sight, per Co.'s Rpe.	Total for each Mail to Three Presidencies.
Bengal	3s. 4d. 1s. 11½d.	2s. 2d.	£. s. d.
Madras	2s. 1s. 11½d.	2s. 2d.	—
Mombay	2s. 1s. 11½d.	2s. 2d.	—

Post Bills and Bank of Bengal, Bombay, Madras, and Indian Government Interest Bi is 2s.

STOCKS AND SECURITIES.

Shares.		Paid.	Prices.
£.	India Stock	221 to 223
	India Stock (5 per ct.), 1859	103½
	India Enforced Paper 4 pr. ct.	80½
	India 5 p. ct. Enforced Paper	96 to 96½
	India Bonds, Enfd. Paper, 5½ per cent.	102½
	India Loan Debentures, 1858	96½
	India Debentures, 1859	96½
	India Enforced Paper, 4 per ct.	83½
	India 5 per cent. for account	103½
	India Bonds (£1,000)	8s. to 4s. dis.
	Ditto (under £1,000)	1 dis. to par.
	RAILWAYS.
Stock	Bombay, Baroda, and Central India (guar. 5 per ct.)	100	98½ to 99½
	Ditto Additional Capital, A	all
18	Ditto B	16	1½ to 1½ dis.
5	Calcutta & S. Eastern (lim.)	1.3	½ dis. par.
20	Ceylon (guar. 6 per cent.)	7½	1 to 1 dis.
20	Eastern Bengal (gu. 5 p. ct.)	10	1½ to 1½ dis.
Stock	East Indian	100	100 to 100½
100	Ditto 4½ p. ct. debentures	all	98 to 99
20	Ditto F Ext.	all	½ dis. par.
Stock	Ditto 5 per ct. deb. 1861	all	104½ to 101½
100	Ditto 1865-70	75	½ dis. par.
20	Jubbulpore	all	½ dis. par.
Stock	Great Indian Peninsula (guar. 5 per ct.)	100	96½ to 96½
20	Ditto (New ditto)	8	1½ to ½ dis.
20	Great S. of India (Lim.) Scrip (guar. 5 per ct.)	all	2½ to 1½ dis.
Stock	Madras (guar. 4½ per ct.)	100	84½ to 55½
Stock	Ditto 5 per cent.	100	94 to 95
Stock	Ditto Extension (guar. 4½ per cent.)	100	86½ to 87½
20	Ditto 4th Extension (guar. 5 per ct.)	15	1½ to 1½ dis.
20	Ottoman Rail. (guar. 6 p. ct.)	7
Stock	Scinde 5 per cent.	all	98 to 99
20	Ditto (New)	15
Stock	Ditto Indus Steam Flotilla (guar. 5 per ct.)	all	93 to 95
20	Punjab (5 per ct.)	10	2 to 1½ dis.
	BANKS.
100	Agra and United Service lim.	50	40 to 42
40	Australasia	all	62 to 64
25	Bank of Egypt	all	18½ to 19½
20	Chart. of Ind., Aus., & China	all	22 to 22½
25	Chart. Merc. of India, Lond., and China	all	33 to 35
25	Oriental Bank Corporation	all	44 to 46 x.d.
20	Ottoman Bank	all	18½ to 19
	MISCELLANEOUS.
20	Madras Irrig. and Canal	1	1½ to 2 pm.
10	Mediterran. Ext. Tel. (Lim.)	all	2 to 4
20	Nerbudda Coal and Iron	5	3 to 2 dis.
1	N. B. Australasian Compny.	all	1 to 1½
1	Oriental Gas	all	1 to 1
	Ditto New	15s.	1 dis. to par.
10	Oriental Inland Steam A.	6
50	P. and O. Steam Nav. Co.	all	7 to 78
20	Ditto New	25	3½ to 14½ pm.
20	Red Sea and Ind. Telegra.	17s.	1 to 17½
1	submarine Telegraph Scrip	all	1 to 1½
1	Ditto Registered	all	1 to 1½

THE NORTHERN ASSURANCE COMPANY.

1, MOORGATE STREET, LONDON.
DAYS OF GRACE.

In cases of Annual Insurance the liability of the Company continues in force during the 15 days allowed for the renewal of the Policy, and the Company is bound to accept payment of the Premium, although the insured property should meanwhile have been destroyed. In Foreign Insurances the Company is equally bound to accept the Premium if instructions to renew have been despatched from the place where the property is situated, within 15 days from the date when the Policy falls due. See case referred to in the Times City Article, 13th Oct., 1860.

PERSONS proceeding to INDIA can effect ASSURANCES on favourable terms with the COLONIAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

LOANS given to Civil or Military Officers proceeding to India on her Majesty's Service.

Agents at Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, and in all the British Colonies, where premiums can be paid and claims settled.

The Colonial was established in 1846, and its present income is £40,000 per annum.
Subscribed Capital, £1,000,000 sterling.
Constituted by Act of Parliament.
SAMUEL R. FERGUSON, Res. Sec.
LONDON 81, Lombard-street, E.C.,
and at Messrs. Paris and Co.'s, No. 10, St. James's-street, S.W.
EDINBURGH (Head Office) 5, George-street.
DUBLIN 65, Upper Sackville-street.
GLASGOW 58, St. Vincent-street.

THE AGRA AND UNITED SERVICE BANK
(LIMITED): ESTABLISHED IN INDIA, JULY, 1853.
INCORPORATED BY LETTERS PATENT, 1857.
PAID UP CAPITAL—£1,000,000 STERLING.
RESERVED FUND—£175,000.

BRANCHES AT CALCUTTA, BOMBAY, MADRAS, AGRA, LAHORE, HONG-KONG, AND SHANGHAI.

HEAD OFFICE—27, CANNON-STREET, LONDON, E.C.

Current and floating accounts opened on same terms as by other London Bankers.

Sales and purchases effected in British and Foreign Securities, in Indian Government paper, &c.; and Army, Navy, and Civil Pay and Pensions realised at the India house.

Deposits for Fixed Periods are received on terms favourable to Depositors, particulars of which may be obtained at the Bank.

Bills issued at the Exchange of the day, and free of any extra charge, on the Branches of the Bank.

Approved Bills drawn against Funds, or upon Parties in India, purchased.

Circular Notes payable at the principal cities of Europe granted.

Interest on Indian Government Securities drawn, and the equivalent paid to parties interested, without charge.

By order of the Board,
WILLIAM SHIPMAN,
Officiating General Manager.

HAMPSHIRE COAST.

Within one mile and a quarter of the fashionable Watering Place, Bournemouth.

TO be LET, FURNISHED, with immediate possession, a capital FAMILY MANSION, comprising splendid drawing and dining-rooms, spacious library, seven best bed-rooms with four dressing-rooms, young ladies' room, eight servants' bed-rooms (the whole making seventeen beds), bath-room, five water-closets, three housemaids' closets, housekeeper's room, store-room, servants' hall, kitchen, scullery, butler's pantry, bakehouse, laundry, wine and beer cellars, two larders, and other convenient offices; three-stalled stable, large coach house, saddle room, with two bed-rooms over for men servants. The house is handsomely furnished and decorated in first-rate style, and contains ample accommodation for a nobleman's or gentleman's family of distinction with a large establishment. The situation of the house is most desirable, standing in a park of that fashionable watering-place, Bournemouth, and within ten minutes' walk of the beach. There is a splendid conservatory, which is entered from the drawing room, and faces the south. The house is well protected from the east and north, and is also well supplied with excellent water.

For particulars and cards to view, apply to Mr. W. E. REBBECK, House and Estate Agent, Bournemouth; or to Messrs. ARBOTT and SONS, Auctioneers, Estate and Land Agents, Bridge-street, Christchurch.

CLAPHAM COMMON—UNFURNISHED.

MR. JAMES STEVENS is instructed to LET No. 1, THE CRESCENT, Rent £90. This house is within a few yards of that delightful and healthy spot—Clapham Common, and overlooks a beautiful ornamental enclosure. It has just been thoroughly drained with glazed pipes, and put into substantial and ornamental repair, and is fit for immediate occupation. The house contains, on the ground floor, entrance hall, drawing-room and library. Above—double drawing-rooms with five bed-rooms, very convenient storerooms, and excellent domestic offices. Within one mile of the Balham Station for Brighton, Crystal Palace, West end, &c. Omnibuses to West-end and City pass constantly.

JAMES STEVENS, Auctioneer, Clapham Common, S.

In post 8vo., cloth, price 2s. 6d.,

CHRONOLOGICAL ACCOUNT OF INDIA
Showing the principal events connected with the Mahomedan and European Governments in India.

By JOHN CHARLES BURGONYE

London: W. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

ADDISCOMBE DIRECT APPOINTMENTS, AND WOOLWICH.
The Rev. C. J. HUGHES M.A., who has Prepared nearly TWO HUNDRED PUPILS for the above, occasionally has VACANCIES.
Adelaide Lodge, 61, Finchley Road, St. John's Wood, N.W.

HINDOOSTANI AND PERSIAN.

LESSONS in the above LANGUAGES are given by an INDIAN GENTLEMAN of Twenty years' Experience as Professor, Interpreter, and Translator; who has obtained Certificates of degrees of honour and high proficiency from the Examiners of the College of Fort William. He possesses the most satisfactory testimonials, and can give unexceptionable references.

Address, "ALLY," care of Messrs. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street, London, E.C.

Corrected to May 12, 1860.

THE EAST-INDIA REGISTER & ARMY LIST FOR 1860.

CONTAINING

Complete Lists of the Servants at Home and Abroad; Regulations respecting the appointments to the Civil, Military, and Medical Services.

COMPILED BY PERMISSION.

12mo. sewed, 10s.; or, by post, 10s. 6d.;
or, bound, 11s. 6d.; or, by post, 12s.

London: W. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

This day is published, post 8vo., price 7s. 6d.,

THE CONSUMMATION. By THOMAS HUTTON, F.G.S., Capt. Bengal Army.

Also, by the same Author, 2nd Edition, in 12mo., price 3s. 6d.,

ISRAEL, IN THE PAST, THE PRESENT, AND THE FUTURE: OR, LECTURES ON THE RESTORATION OF THE JEWS.

Second Edition, in 8vo., price 10s. 6d.,

THE CHRONOLOGY OF CREATION; OR, GEOLOGY AND SCRIPTURE RECONCILED.
London: W. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street, E.C.

PROFESSOR WILSON'S GLOSSARY.

GLOSSARY OF JUDICIAL AND REVENUE TERMS, and of useful words occurring in official documents relating to the Administration of the Government of British India from the Arabic, Persian, Hindustani, Sanskrit, Hindi, Bengali, Urdu, Marathi, Gujarathi, Telugu, Kannada, Tamil, Malayalam, and other Languages, compiled and published under the authority of the hon. the Court of Directors of the E. I. Company By H. H. WILSON, M.A., F.R.S., &c., &c. 4to cloth, 22 2s. 6d.

London: W. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

AN INTRODUCTION to the GRAMMAR of the SANSKRIT LANGUAGE, for the Use of Early Students. By H. H. WILSON, M.A., F.R.S., &c., &c. 8vo cloth, 18s.

London: W. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

Preparing for publication, in One Volume Octavo,

BY J. R. YOUNG,

(Late Professor of Mathematics, Belfast College),

A COURSE OF MATHEMATICS, PURE AND MIXED.

More especially designed for the Use of Candidates for the MILITARY & CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.

WITH A VARIETY OF PROBLEMS IN, AND PRACTICAL APPLICATIONS OF THE FOLLOWING SUBJECTS:

1. ALGEBRA, TRIGONOMETRY, AND MENSURATION.
2. ANALYTICAL GEOMETRY (CONIC SECTIONS), STATICS, DYNAMICS, AND HYDROSTATICS.
3. THE DIFFERENTIAL AND INTEGRAL CALCULUS with their applications to the Higher Geometry, Mechanics, &c., &c.

The object of this work is to furnish Candidates for the Military and Civil Service Examinations with such a practical knowledge of Pure and Mixed Mathematics as may prove most serviceable to them in the course of the ordeal to which they are about to be subjected. On such occasions a mere theoretical acquaintance with principles is by no means sufficient. It is also necessary that the young aspirant should have been trained by actual experiments, as it were, to the application of the abstract rules, the enunciation of which he has otherwise mastered only by an effort of memory. To assist him in thus gathering the fruits of his intellectual industry, Mr. J. R. Young has devised a multitude of problems, of greater or less difficulty, in Algebra, Trigonometry, Mensuration, Analytical Geometry (Conic Sections), Statics, Dynamics, Hydrostatics, the Differential and Integral Calculus, with their applications to the Higher Geometry, Mechanics, &c. The chief peculiarity of this work, however, is one that will recommend it to a very large class of students. The most difficult questions are rendered comparatively easy, by the practical simplifications that are introduced in their mode of solution. Instead of a pompous and puzzling display of technical phraseology, the utmost care has been taken to explain the most knotty points in a plain, unaffected manner, intelligible to every ordinary capacity. In this respect, Mr. YOUNG'S "Course of Mathematics" will be found to possess a decided superiority over all preceding works on the same subject.

London: W. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

ENGLAND TO INDIA.

Now ready, price One Shilling, fcap. 8vo.

THE ROUTE FROM ENGLAND TO INDIA, via Egypt, or Overland and down the Red Sea. This little work furnishes much useful information to the traveler, and forms an interesting guide-book to the most noteworthy objects in the route.
London: ROBERT CLARKE, 51, Threadneedle-street.

Just received.

CALCUTTA REVIEW. No. 68.

Price Seven Shillings.

CONTENTS.

1. Capture of Lucknow.
2. Christianity in India.
3. Oudh.
4. The Ryot in Bengal.
5. Clavijo's Embassy to Timur.
6. Calcutta in 1860.
7. An Indian Staff Corps.
8. The Indigo Blue-book.
9. The British Soldier in India.
10. Critical Notices of Works on India and the East.

CONTENTS OF No. 67.

1. Outram at the Alumbagh.
2. Colonisation and Settlement in India.
3. Mount Stuart Elphinstone.
4. The Law Courts of the Bengal Presidency.
5. Ceylon of Yore.
6. Limitations of Indian Liberty.
7. Indigo Planters and Missionaries.
8. The Wedding at Puttiala.
9. The New Taxes.
10. Critical Notices of Works on India and the East.

CONTENTS OF No. 66.

1. Melanesia and the New French Settlement.
2. The Mahomedans in the Punjab.
3. English Life in Bengal.
4. The French Courts of Justice.
5. Military Hygiene in India.
6. Lord Dalhousie.
7. Forbes's Ras Mala.
8. India as a Career.
9. Critical Notices of Works on India and the East.

London: W. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street, E.C.

In Post 8vo., price 8s.,

ADVICE TO OFFICERS IN INDIA.
By JOHN MCCOSH, M.D., late of the Bengal Medical Staff.

"To young officers going out to India, Dr. McCosh tenders the most salutary advice."—Leader.

"He is well qualified to be a mentor to the uninitiated."—United Service Magazine.

"He is always a firm, friendly, and practical adviser."—Edinburgh Courant.

"On all matters handled in it, the young officer may gain some valuable hints."—Athenaeum.

"The work is a little encyclopedia of information on miscellaneous subjects."—Edinburgh Medical Journal.

"McCosh's book is one which no cadet should be without."—Caledonian Mercury.

London: W. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

Just published,

DISEASES OF THE SKIN, with Photographic Illustrations, price 1s., by post 1s. 2d.; also SKIN DISEASES, and their REMEDIES, 2s. 6d., by post, 2s. 10d. By R. J. JORDAN, M.D., Licentiate of the Royal College of Physicians, Edinburgh, Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, England, &c., &c. Published by John Churchill, to be had from the Author only.
AT HOME, from Ten to Two, and from Five to Eight, or by appointment.
29, George-street, Hanover-square.

PAYNE'S INDIAN CURRY POWDER.

Unequalled for its delicious flavour and stimulating qualities. 1lb. bottles, 3s. 6d.; ½ lbs. 2s. 3d.; or 7 lbs. for 21s. Curries and Mulligatawny Paste.—1lb. jars, 3s. 6d.; ½ lbs. 2s. 3d.; or 7 lbs. for 21s. Payne's New Curry Sauce and Oriental Relish.—bottles, 1s. 6d. each. Chutneys—viz., Bengal Club, Green Mango, Lucknow, Pindaree, and Cashmere—bottles, 1s. 6d. and 3s. each. Bombay Pickled Mangoes, Tap Sauce, Nepaul Pepper, Preserved Ginger, Guana Jelly, and genuine Arrowroot; and all other Indian delicacies imported direct.

PAYNE and Co., Foreign Warehousemen and Wine Merchants, 328, Regent-street, and 36, Mortimer-street, London. Depot for the celebrated Calcutta Condiments, prepared by Payne and Co. at the Belair Bungalow.

TO LATE RESIDENTS IN INDIA.—TRUE MADRAS CURRY AND MULLIGATAWNEY PASTE AND CHUTNIES.

Messrs. BARRIE and Co., Vepery, Madras, to enable their old correspondents returning from India to continue the use of the celebrated Condiments, have made arrangements to forward regular supplies of the above, packed in glass jars for family use, at 1s. 9d. and upwards, which may be had of CROSSE and BLACKWELL, Purveyors to Her Majesty, 21, Soho-square; FORTNUM, MANON, & Co., Piccadilly; and of the Principal Sauce Vendors throughout the Kingdom. Each bottle is labelled, and BARRIE and Co., Madras, stamped on the glass.

ARTIFICIAL TEETH, SET in the new CHEMICALLY PREPARED INDIA-RUBBER, forming a beautifully fitting plate to the gums, or over stumps, without producing the slightest pain, and on this plan it is impossible to detect them as artificial when the workmanship is of superior order. Mr. BRADSHAW can, with the greatest confidence, undertake any case, no matter how difficult, with certain success, being a thoroughly practical workman, supplying for many years the first dentists of the day with their most particular work in Artificial Teeth. Doing all his own work himself, he is enabled to supply his patients at an exceedingly moderate price. Single Tooth, from 3s. 6d. to 10s. 6d.; a Complete Upper or Lower Set, from £2 to £5. Mr. Bradshaw, Dentist, 20, Great Portland-street, Oxford-circus.

A TEXT-BOOK FOR PUBLIC EXAMINATIONS.

This day is published, in royal 8vo., highly illustrated with Plates and Cuts, price 10s. 6d.,

ELEMENTARY PRINCIPLES OF FORTIFICATION.

BY J. T. HYDE, M.A.,

Professor of Fortification and Artillery, Royal Indian Military College, Addiscombe.

London: Wm. H. ALLEN AND Co., 7, Leadenhall-street, E.C.

This day is published, in 8vo., price 15s.,

THE HISTORY OF CHESS;

FROM THE TIME OF THE
EARLY INVENTION OF THE GAME IN INDIA,
TILL THE PERIOD OF

ITS ESTABLISHMENT IN WESTERN AND CENTRAL EUROPE;

Containing, from Oriental Sources, a correct Description of the

CHATURANGA,

OR PRIMEVAL GAME OF THE ANCIENT HINDUS;

Also, a full Explanation of the Theory and Practice of the

SHATRANJ,

OR MEDIAEVAL GAME, AS PLAYED BY THE PERSIANS, THE ARABS, AND THE EUROPEANS, DOWN TO THE BEGINNING OF THE SIXTEENTH CENTURY OF OUR ÆRA;

The whole Illustrated with numerous Notes and Diagrams.

TO WHICH IS ADDED,

AN APPENDIX,

CONTAINING ESSAYS AND DISCUSSIONS ON THE GAME FROM VARIOUS SOURCES.

BY DUNCAN FORBES, LL.D.,

Professor of Oriental Languages in King's College, London; Member of the Royal Asiatic Society of Great Britain and Ireland; and Author of several Works on the Hindustani and Persian Languages.

ROMANIZED HINDUSTANI.

This day is published, in Royal 8vo., price £1. 16s.,

A DICTIONARY:
HINDUSTANI-ENGLISH AND ENGLISH-HINDUSTANI.

(In the Roman or English Characters.)

By DUNCAN FORBES, LL.D.

A New Edition, Revised throughout, in 18mo., price 3s. 6d.,

HINDUSTANI MANUAL.

(In the Roman or English Characters.)

A Pocket Companion for those who visit India in any capacity, consisting of a Compendious Grammar, Exercises, Dialogues on Familiar Subjects, and a Vocabulary.

By DUNCAN FORBES, LL.D.

This day is published, in 12mo., price 5s.,

THE BAGH-O-BAHAR;

WITH A VOCABULARY OF ALL THE WORDS OCCURRING IN THE WORK.

(In the Roman or English Characters.)

By DUNCAN FORBES, LL.D.

DR. FORBES' WORKS ARE NOW USED IN ALL THE COLLEGES AND GOVERNMENT SCHOOLS IN INDIA.

London: Wm. H. ALLEN AND Co., 7, Leadenhall-street, E.C.

TOULMIN AND GALE,

MAKERS (to Her Majesty's Government, Bank of England, &c.) OF

PATENT INDIAN DESPATCH BOXES, WRITING DESKS, DRESSING CASES,
TRAVELLING, TOILETTE, AND CARRIAGE BAGS,

JEWEL BOXES, CASES FOR PRESENTATION, &c.

A large assortment of the above, of the finest quality, at the Manufactory, SISE LANE, near the Mansion House, and at

7, NEW BOND-STREET, LONDON,

(OPPOSITE THE CLARENDON).

Orders received through Mr. GEORGE HOLMES, Hong Kong; Messrs. SMITH, TAYLOR, and CO., Bombay; Mr. J. HIGGINBOTHAM, Madras.

ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUES POST FREE.

ESTABLISHED 123 YEARS.

BY AUTHORITY.

Price 1s. 0d., by post 1s. 2d.,

THE POCKET EDITION OF FIELD EXERCISE AND EVOLUTIONS OF INFANTRY:

AS REVISED BY HER MAJESTY'S COMMAND.

1859.

London: WM. H. ALLEN AND Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

Uniform with the "Field Exercise," price 1s., by post, 1s. 2d.

THE QUEEN'S REGULATIONS AND ORDERS FOR THE ARMY.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE, HORSE GUARDS, FIRST OF DECEMBER, 1859.

POCKET EDITION.

BY AUTHORITY.

London: WM. H. ALLEN AND Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

Uniform with the "FIELD EXERCISE," price 1s., by post 1s. 2d.,

MANUAL OF ARTILLERY EXERCISES. POCKET EDITION.

BY AUTHORITY.

London: WM. H. ALLEN AND CO., 7, Leadenhall-street.

This day is published, price 2s. 6d., or by post 2s. 8d.,

A COMPANION TO THE NEW RIFLE MUSKET.

SECOND EDITION, WITH ADDITIONS.

BY S. BERTRAM BROWNE,

Late First-class Instructor of Musketry, Hythe. Author of the "Illustrated Position Drill."
12mo. Cloth.

London: WM. H. ALLEN AND Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

TREATISE ON FORTIFICATION AND ARTILLERY.

By MAJOR HECTOR STRAITH.

REVISED AND RE-ARRANGED

By THOMAS COOK, R.N., F.R.S., and JOHN T. HYDE, M.A., Professors of Fortification and Artillery at Addiscombe College.
SEVENTH EDITION, ILLUSTRATED BY UPWARDS OF 300 PLANS AND CUTS. Royal 8vo., cloth, £2. 2s.

LONDON: WM. H. ALLEN AND Co., 7, LEADENHALL-STREET.

TO RAILWAY AND STEAM SHIPPING COMPANIES.

MACHINE BELTING.

FIRE-ENGINE HOSE and BUCKETS.

All descriptions of Leather for Exportation.

S. E. NORRIS and CO.,

SHADWELL LONDON,

MANUFACTURERS AND PATENTERS.

OVERLAND ROUTE.—COMMUNICATION.

by STEAM to INDIA, AUSTRALIA, &c. via Egypt.—The PENINSULAR and ORIENTAL STEAM NAVIGATION COMPANY BOOK PASSENGERS and RECEIVE CARGO and PARCELS for GIBRALTAR, MALTA, EGYPT, ADEN, CEYLON, MADRAS, CALCUTTA, the STRAITS, and CHINA, by their Steamers leaving Southampton on the 4th and 20th of every month. For GIBRALTAR, MALTA, EGYPT, ADEN, and BOMBAY, by those of the 13th and 27th of each month, and for MAURITIUS, REUNION, KING GEORGE'S SOUND, MELBOURNE, and SYDNEY, by the Steamers leaving Southampton on the 20th of every month.

For further particulars, apply at the Company's Office 132, Leadenhall-street, London, E.C., or Oriental-place, Southampton.

NOTICE OF REMOVAL.—MESSRS.

GRINDLAY and Co. EAST INDIA ARMY AGENTS, have REMOVED their Offices to No. 55, PARLIAMENT-STREET, CHARING-CROSS, S.W.

PASSAGES and OUTFITS to INDIA.—

Plans and prices of accommodation of all Ships sailing for INDIA may be seen at the Offices of Messrs. GRINDLAY and Co., and Passages, Overland and via the Cape, negotiated without charge for Commission.

CADETS, ASSISTANT-SURGEONS, &c.—Every article of OUTFIT, Camp, and Cabin Furniture supplied on the shortest notice, at the Outfit and Supply Branches. Complete Lists, showing the total expense of military and personal equipment in all branches of the Service, may be obtained, with every information relative to India, of

GRINDLAY and CO.

EAST-INDIA ARMY AGENTS,

55, Parliament-street, Charing-cross, S.W.,

AND

EAST-INDIA ROOMS,

5, St. Martin's-place, Charing-cross.

WEST-END PARCELS FORWARDING DEPARTMENT, 55, Parliament-street, Charing-cross, S.W.

DINNIFORD'S PURE FLUID MAG-

NESIA has been, during twenty-five years, sanctioned by the medical profession and universally accepted by the public as the best remedy for Acidity of the Stomach, Heartburn, Headache, Gout, and Indigestion. As a mild aperient it is admirably adapted for ladies and children, and it is invaluable in warm climates. Manufactured (with the utmost attention to strength and purity) by DINNIFORD and Co., 173, New Bond-street, London; and sold by all respectable chemists throughout the Empire.

MUMFORD'S CONCENTRATED

CORDIAL ESSENCE OF JAMAICA GINGER. The Cordial Essence, which is now taken in preference to all other preparations of Ginger, not only from its agreeable flavour, but from the value and certainty of its effects, will be found most useful in all cases of indigestion, spasms, heartburn, diarrhoea, irritability of the bowels, and in most nervous affections. To invalids suffering with impaired digestion from long residence in warm climates, and to those who are proceeding to India, this preparation cannot be too strongly recommended.

Prepared only by GEORGE MUMFORD, Chemist, 5, Bathurst-street, Hyde-park-gardens, and sold by all Chemists, in bottles at 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each; also in large stoppered bottles, for foreign use, at 21s.

BLAIR'S GOUT & RHEUMATIC PILLS.

Price 1s. 1d. and 2s. 9d. per box.

This preparation is one of the benefits which the science of modern chemistry has conferred upon mankind; for during the first twenty years of the present century to speak of a cure for the gout was considered a romance; but now the efficacy and safety of this medicine is so fully demonstrated by uncollected testimonials from persons in every rank of life, that public opinion proclaims this as one of the most important discoveries of the present age. These Pills require no restraint of diet or confinement during their use, and are certain to prevent the disease attacking any vital part.

Sold by all medicine vendors. Observe "Thomas Proud, 229, Strand, London," on the Government stamp.

COMMANS'S CELEBRATED ARECA-

NUT TOOTH-PASTE is used by her Majesty and the Royal Family.—Has been examined, approved, is used and recommended, by many of our first physicians and dentists as the best preparation known for cleaning and preserving the teeth. Testimonials have been received, unsolicited, from many of the nobility and gentry. The following is amongst the many in testimony of its high value.

"Liverpool, August, 1859.

"I have much pleasure in offering my testimony to the value of your Areca-nut Tooth Paste, and have no hesitation in saying that it is the most efficacious and agreeable Dentifrice ever produced. I have recommended its use to my patients for some years.

"W. J. NEWMAN,

"Surgeon-Dentist to the Liverpool Infirmary for Children." Prepared only by COMMANS, Chemist, Bath, in pots, 2s. each; to be procured of all Chemists, through the Wholesale Agents, Barclay, Edwards, London; Oshann and Co., Dublin; Duncan and Flockhart, Edinburgh.

INDIAN CIVIL & MILITARY SERVICE.

—PORTABLE DRESSING-CASES, POUCHES, WRITING-DESKS, and DESPATCH-BOXES, so arranged as to give no trouble in travelling. These well-made requisites contain every necessary article, arranged so compactly as to save the continual expenses gentlemen are put to in changing quarters. They are pronounced to be the most useful and economical goods of their kind obtainable at the present day. Manufactured and Sold only by WILLIAMS and Co., 52, New Bond-street.

ALLEN'S NEW OVERLAND TRUNKS,

with Metallic Lining and Air-tight Compartments. ALLEN'S PATENT DESPATCH BOX, with Stationery. ALLEN'S NEW DRESSING BAG, with Silver Fittings. The above are the best articles yet invented for India and China.

ALLEN'S ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE of Patent Portmanteaus, BULLOCK TRUNKS, Writing and Dressing Cases, by post, for two stamps.

J. W. ALLEN, Manufacturer, 18 and 22, Strand, London.

Merchants supplied.

TO PERSONS FURNISHING.

THE most varied and extensive STOCK of

CABINET FURNITURE, UPHOLSTERY GOODS, BEDSTEADS, BEDDING, CHIMNEY-GLASSES, DAMASKS, CARPETS, &c., conveniently arranged for public inspection, will be found in the immense Furniture Galleries and Show-rooms of Messrs. DRUCE and Co., Nos. 68, 69, and 69, BAKER-STREET. The price is marked on every article in plain figures, that persons may make their own estimates, as opportunity to purchasers is not allowed. Every article being manufactured by first-rate workmen, of the best seasoned materials, a twelve-month's warranty is given.

Purchasers are invited to visit this establishment before deciding elsewhere.

N.B.—Iron Bedsteads, 8s. 6d. each; 500 Easy Chairs and 100 Wardrobes to select from. Carpets 1s. per yard under the usual price.

*. * Illustrated Books post free.

J. MAPLE and Co.'s NEW ILLUSTRATED

CATALOGUE, containing the Prices of every Article required for completely furnishing a House of any class, post free. This is the largest and most convenient Furnishing Establishment in the world. Established Twenty years.

J. MAPLE and Co., 145 and 146, Tottenham-court-road.

HANDSOME BRASS and IRON BED-

STEADS.—HEAL and SON'S Show Rooms contain a large assortment of Brass Bedsteads, suitable both for Home use and for Tropical Climates; handsome Iron Bedsteads with Brass Mountings and elegantly japanned; Plain Iron Bedsteads for Servants; every description of Wood Bedstead that is manufactured, in Mahogany, Birch, Walnut-tree Woods, Polished Deal and Japanned, all fitted with Bedding and Furniture complete, as well as every description of Bedroom Furniture.

HEAL and SON'S ILLUSTRATED

CATALOGUE, containing Designs and Prices of 100 Bedsteads, as well as of 150 different articles of Bedroom Furniture, sent free by post.

HEAL and SON, Bedstead, Bedding, and Bedroom Furniture Manufacturers, 196, Tottenham-court-road, W.

OBTAIN THE IMPERIAL LINEN COM-

PANY'S PRICE LIST, sent free by post, and never buy Household Linens or Family Drapery of any kind without first consulting this useful manual, as you will by it learn to save one-third your outlay, secure first-class goods from the first-class makers, and be in pocket all profits intervening between the producer and consumer.

The THREE-GUINEA SAMPLE PARCEL, containing One rich Hamford double Damask Table-cloth, to dine ten persons, usually £1. 1s.

One very large pair fine Witney Blankets, usually 17s. 6d.

One pair fine wide Russia Sheets, usually 16s. 9d.

One pair magnificent Embroidered Swiss Curtains, usually 19s. 6d.

Half-a-dozen rich Damask Dinner Napkins, usually 10s. 6d.

One elegant Marsella Bed-quilt, welved, usually 13s. 6d.

Six Marsella Toilet Covers, fringed, usually 9s. 6d.

One bundle Royal Turkish Towels, fringed, usually 12s. 6d.; and

One dozen fine French Cambric Handkerchiefs, usually 10s. 6d.

All of which will be forwarded to any part on receipt of three guineas.

N.B.—Other articles, of same value, may be substituted, if desired.—Post-office orders payable at Old Cavendish-street.

Bankers—St. SAMUEL SCOTT & Co.

Address—THE IMPERIAL LINEN COMPANY,

53, WIGMORE STREET, CAVENDISH SQUARE, LONDON.

Manager, JAMES THOMAS.

MOREWOOD AND CO.

(Late MOREWOOD and ROGERS),

Dowgate Dock, Upper Thames-street, London, and

Lion Works, Birmingham.

Keep in Stock ready for immediate Shipment MOREWOOD and ROGERS' PATENT GALVANISED TINNED IRON, CORRUGATED or PLAIN; and GALVANISED IRON. Also, GALVANISED IRON PAILS in various shapes, adapted specially for shipment. MOREWOOD and ROGERS' PATENT GALVANISED TINNED IRON TILE. This is the best form in which the metal can be exported, from their great facility of fixing, convenience of carriage abroad, and saving of freight. Gutters, Ridge, Cap, and all Fittings readily supplied. Wire for Fencing and Telegraph purposes.

Address all Orders to DOWGATE DOCK, LONDON.

TABLE GLASS of the Finest Quality and

Design, at Low Prices, manufactured by GOODWIN, 33, PRINCES-STREET, LEICESTER-SQUARE, LONDON, W. Export Orders, &c., executed for the Trade.

NO ICE REQUIRED to produce common

Ice, Desert Ices to Ice Wines, &c., in SIMPSON'S NEW PATENT FREEZING VASE.—This Apparatus is, without exception, the most efficacious, simple, and portable ever produced. By using the Patentee's Freezing Powder, Dessert Ices and Common Ice can be frozen by the most inexperienced, in a few minutes, on the table, or in an invalid's apartment. Residents and travellers in hot climates will find it invaluable, as it produces that luxury—Ice!—at command, and only occupies the space of an ordinary hat-case.

Prices: one pint, Four Guineas; three pints, Five Guineas. Freezing Powder, 2s. per cwt. Freezing Pots, Ice Moulds, &c., &c.

SODA-WATER, &c.—Use the "Seltzogene" (solely of one piece of glass), the only portable apparatus that has the patronage of the medical profession, who recommend it for making pure Soda-water and Aerated Beverages. Metallic impregnation is avoided, there is no leakage, and it is not affected by hot climates.

Prices: two pints, 23s.; three pints, 30s.; five pints, 42s. Powders (forty charges in box), 6s., 10s., and 16s. each. References and descriptive catalogues sent free.

GEO. SIMPSON'S Patent Depot, 315c, Oxford-street, London.

Price 1s. post-free,

PULVERMACH'S MEDICO-GALVA-

NIC Improved System of SELF-APPLICATION of the Patent GALVANIC ANTI-RHEUMATIC CHAIN-BANDS, demonstrating the unequalled success obtained by their use in the treatment of Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Tic Dolorous, Deafness, Epilepsy, Paralysis, and Loss of Nervous or Functional Force. Most interesting Book, popularising the wonderful results of Medical Galvanism, based on the soundest teachings of physiology, verified and tested by the first Authors and Physicians of the world, and stating innumerable overwhelming authentic facts of prompt cures of long-standing diseases. Price 1s. (post-free). Direct from J. L. Pulvermacher and Co., 73 Oxford-street, London (adjoining Princess's Theatre). All Booksellers, News Agents, and appointed Agents for the sale of the Chain-Bands.

N.B.—Chains, 5s., 10s., 15s., 22s., according to electric power.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.

—ROUGH SKIN, CRACKED LIPS, CHAPPED HANDS, PIMPLES, AND SORES.—Diary November, always noted in England for its inclemency, is this year less respectful of our appearance and comfort than usual. Skin affections are already as general as we commonly find them in January. So sudden and unexpected has been the demand for Holloway's Ointment to soothe these irritating disorders, that it became compulsory to make fresh arrangements in the manufactory to meet the public want. As a cosmetic this ointment is likewise invaluable. Nothing can be more harmless to the most delicate skins, or more effective in its operation. All desiring a clear and blooming complexion should give a fair trial to Holloway's Ointment and Pills.

KEATING'S COUGH LOZENGES.

JUDGED BY THE IMMENSE DEMAND, this UNIVERSAL REMEDY now stands the first in public favour and confidence; this result has been acquired by the test of fifty years' experience. These Lozenges may be found on sale in every British Colony, and throughout India and China. They have been highly esteemed wherever introduced. For COUGHS, ASTHMA, and all affections of the Throat and Chest, they are the most agreeable and efficacious remedy.

Prepared and Sold in Boxes and Tins of various sizes, by THOMAS KEATING, Chemist, &c., 79, St. Paul's Church-yard, London. Sold Retail by all Druggists and Patent Medicine Vendors in the world.

N.B. To prevent spurious imitations, please to observe that the words "KEATING'S COUGH LOZENGES" are engraved on the Government Stamp of each Box, without which none are genuine.

DR. BUCHAN'S DOMESTIC MEDICINES.

PATENT SUGAR-COATED VEGETABLE PILLS, a Family Purgative for regulating the bowels, purifying the blood, removing vitiated humours, bilious and liver complaints, rheumatism, gout, scorbutic affections, costiveness, &c.

VEGETABLE SKIN OINTMENT. For eradicating all skin eruptions, sores, deep-seated ulcers, &c., &c.

CONCENTRATED VEGETABLE ESSENCE.

"The greatest strengthener of nature" for the delicate, debilitated, and aged of both sexes, effectually curing depression of spirits, irritability, nervousness, withering of the system, coughs, &c., and all chest complaints, together with the results arising from sojourn and exposure to the extremes of climate, imparting a beautiful and clear complexion, affording at once a new lease of life to all. Cures proved and sworn before Alderman Salomons, M.P., at Guildhall, within the jurisdiction of

THE RIGHT HON. THE LORD MAYOR OF LONDON.

Sold by Buchan & Co., Patentees, 22, Newman-street, Oxford-street, London, W., and all chemists in town and country. Prices:—Pills per box 1s. 1d., 2s. 9d., and 11s.; Ointment, per pot, 1s. 1d., and 2s. 9d.; Essence, 4s. 6d., 11s., or bottles containing four times that quantity, 35s. Agents:—Barclay, 75, Faringdon-street; J. Sanger, 150, Oxford-street; Hannay, 63, Oxford-street; Butler, 4, Chesapeake; Hooper, 43, King William-street, London-bridge; K. Howden, 78, Gracechurch-street; Prout, 229, Strand, &c., &c.

Gratis, or post-free for one stamp, of all Agents, and 22, Newman-street, Extracts from Dr. BUCHAN'S DOMESTIC MEDICINES, containing remedies for every ailment incidental to man, woman, or child.

A Physician and Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, &c. (Registered under the New Medical Act.) attends daily, as above, to give advice without fee, to those purchasing W. Buchan & Co.'s Medicines.

"INDIAN BAEL" for DIARRHOEA,

DYSENTERY, &c., imported by J. G. GOULD, Pharmaceutical Chemist, 196, Oxford-street, corner of Orchard-street, Portman-square, W.

NOW READY,

PRICE 8s. 6d.

SANCTIONED BY H.R.H. THE GENERAL COMMANDING-IN-CHIEF.

UNIFORM WITH THE POCKET EDITIONS OF THE "FIELD EXERCISE," AND "QUEEN'S REGULATIONS,"

MANUAL OF MILITARY LAW,

FOR ALL RANKS OF THE

ARMY, MILITIA, AND VOLUNTEER SERVICES;

COMPRISING

AN ACCOUNT OF THE CONSTITUTION, COMPOSITION, AND PROCEDURE OF COURTS-MARTIAL;

And a Detail of the Crimes that may be tried and the Sentences that may be awarded by each description of Court.

ALSO,

A NOTICE OF THE PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE OF COURTS OF INQUIRY,

AND

A SHORT EXPOSITION OF THE LAW OF EVIDENCE,

TO WHICH IS ADDED,

AN ABSTRACT OF THE ACTS GOVERNING THE VOLUNTEER FORCE,

AN

ACCOUNT OF THE LAW RELATING TO RECRUITING,

AND

A Review of the Duties, Obligations, and Liabilities of Soldiers to Civilians and the Civil Power; of the Duties of Civilians towards the Military; and of the Legal Rights, Privileges, and Exemptions of Soldiers.

BY

COLONEL J. K. PIPON,

Assistant Adjutant-general at Head Quarters.

AND

J. F. COLLIER, Esq.,

Of the Inner Temple, Barrister-at-Law.

HORSE GUARDS, October 12, 1860.

His Royal Highness the General Commanding-in-Chief has been pleased to sanction the publication of "A Manual of Military Law," by Colonel Pison, Assistant Adjutant-General to the Forces, which he considers will be a most useful addition to the books required by regulation to be in the possession of the Officers of the Army. It contains much instructive matter.

(Signed)

J. YORKE SCARLETT, Adj.-Gen.

PREFACE.

The Mutiny Act and Articles of War having undergone considerable amendment in the present Session of Parliament, it has appeared to the authors a fitting opportunity to lay before the military profession a concise treatise on the laws under which they serve.

In so doing they have not confined their attention to Courts-martial, but have endeavoured to provide the soldier of every rank and every service with the means of ascertaining his privileges as well as his duties and liabilities.

The Acts relating to the Militia have all been enumerated, but their bulk renders it impossible to give them at length in a work like the present. The Government having pledged themselves to consolidate the Militia laws next Session, perhaps there may then be some hope of presenting them to the reader in a comprehensive form. The Militia Bill of the present session, as it introduces some new and important provisions, is given at length in the Appendix.

A full abstract of the Laws affecting Volunteers and Yeomanry Corps occupies a separate chapter, and the Act whereby they are enabled to acquire lands for practice grounds (which at the time these words are written is yet before Parliament), will likewise be added.

A shorter and more popular notice of these Acts might have been more agreeable to the majority of readers, but in the hope of making this book useful as a book of reference, not only to Volunteers, but to magistrates and other civil dignitaries, it has been deemed more advantageous to ensure accuracy by quoting the words of the enactments, than by curtailment to risk the omission of important matter. Any reader disinclined to peruse the Acts at length, may find any subject on which he desires to inform himself by reference to the Index.

The question of Tolls on the Metropolitan Bridges having lately excited some controversy, a notice of the exemption clauses in the several Acts will be found in the Appendix, where also the late General Order relative to retired pay to Adjutants of Volunteers has been subjoined.

The authors feel that they owe some apology for publishing a law book in the present novel form; but after much consideration and many friendly suggestions, they have preferred to compress matter which would well have filled a more bulky volume, into this handy and inexpensive shape, in order to bring it within the reach of every one.

Before concluding this preface, the authors are bound to record their obligations to that very useful and elaborate work, "Hough's Military Precedents," without the assistance of which their labour would have been much extended. They have also to acknowledge the assistance of "Simmons on Courts-martial;" "D'Aguilar on Courts-martial;" and H. B. Thompson's "Military Forces of Great Britain."

London, October, 1860.

LONDON: WM. H. ALLEN AND Co., 7, LEADENHALL-STREET. 1860.

LONDON:—Printed by RICHARD KINDER, Printer, at his Printing Office, Angel-court, Skinner-street, in the Parish of St. Sepulchre; and published by JAMES FRANKS ALLEN, 7, Leadenhall-street, both in the County of Middlesex.—November 9, 1860.

ALLEN'S INDIAN MAIL

AND OFFICIAL GAZETTE

FROM

BRITISH & FOREIGN INDIA, CHINA, & ALL PARTS OF THE EAST

(WITH THIS PAPER "THE INDIAN NEWS" IS NOW INCORPORATED.)

VOL. XVIII.—No. 462.]

LONDON, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1860.

[PRICE 6d.]

CONTENTS.

SUMMARY AND REVIEW	833
BENGAL:—
A Small Reform	834
The Next Act of the Revolution	834
The Punjab System	834
Failure of Rain	835
Miscellaneous	835
Shipping and Commercial	837
MADRAS:—
Miscellaneous	837
Shipping and Commercial	838
CHINA	838
THE STRAITS	839
CENTRAL ASIA	839
OFFICIAL GAZETTE	840
DOMESTIC	846
ORIGINAL ARTICLES:—
The Anticipated Famine	847
Indigo	847
HOME:—
Supposed Loss of the Ships Cleveland and Asia , with all hands	848
Shipping and Domestic	848
STOCKS AND SECURITIES	849

DATES OF ADVICES.

Bengal	Oct. 9	Burma(Rangoon)	Sept. 15
Madras	13	Bombay	Oct. 12
Agra	6	Ceylon	16
China(Hong-Kong)	Sept. 28

MAILS TO INDIA.

Mails to India and China, via Marseilles, are despatched from London as follows, viz.—Those for Bombay packets, on the evenings of the 3rd and 18th of each month; and those for Calcutta packets (including mails for Ceylon, Madras, and China), on the evenings of the 10th and 26th of each month. When any of these dates falls on a Sunday, the mails are made up on the following evening.

Letters and Newspapers can be forwarded to any part of India via Bombay and Marseilles, and in most cases will reach their destination some days sooner than if despatched by the following Calcutta mail. The Bombay mails via Southampton, however, are no longer available for the transmission of Letters or Newspapers to the Madras Presidency.

Mails for the Mediterranean and all parts of India, except the Bombay Presidency, are despatched via Southampton on the mornings of the 4th and 20th, or, when either of these dates falls on Sunday, upon the previous evening.

Mails for the Mediterranean, the Presidency of Bombay, and Upper or North-West Provinces of Bengal, are despatched via Southampton, on the 13th and 27th of the month, except when these dates fall on Sunday, in which case they are forwarded on the previous evening.

POSTAGE.

Via Southampton (pre-payment compulsory), letters under

$\frac{1}{2}$ oz. 6d.	2 oz. 2s. 6d.	4 oz. 4s. 6d.
1 oz. 1s. 6d.	3 oz. 3s. 6d.	5 oz. 5s. 6d.

Books, with the ends of the covers open (not exceeding 3 lbs. in weight), if sent via Southampton, under $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. 4d.; under $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. 8d.; under 1 lb. 1s. 4d.; under $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. 2s.; under 2 lbs. 2s. 8d.; under 2 lbs. 3s. 4d.; and under 3 lbs. 4s. Postage-stamps must be affixed.

Newspapers for the East Indies, when not exceeding 4 oz. 2d. each, when above 4 oz. and not exceeding 8 oz., 3d. each—an additional penny being charged for every additional 4 oz. or fraction thereof. For all countries or places eastward of Suez, the charge is 2d., whatever the weight of the newspaper.

Via Marseilles (pre-payment compulsory), letters under

$\frac{1}{2}$ oz. 9d.	$\frac{1}{2}$ oz. 1s. 9d.	$\frac{1}{2}$ oz. 3s. 3d.
1 oz. 1s. 6d.	1 oz. 2s. 6d.	1 oz. 3s. 6d.

Newspapers not exceeding 4 oz., 3d., when above 4 oz. and not exceeding 8 oz., 6d. each.

Books under $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. 6d.; under $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. 1s.; and for every additional $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. an additional 1s.

The Mails for China are despatched at the same rate of postage as those to India; but must be pre-paid.

SUMMARY AND REVIEW.

THOUGH in receipt of intelligence from Calcutta to the 8th of October, and from Hong Kong to the 28th of the preceding month, there is little to chronicle in the way of eventful matter. The news from China, however, is so far interesting that it prepares us for further warlike achievements, instead of the treaty of peace which was generally expected. It seems that very shortly after Lord Elgin's arrival at Tien-tsin, three Imperial Commissioners made their appearance and at once opened negotiations. For a time everything went on most satisfactorily until the question of the indemnity came to be discussed, when Kweiliang suddenly intimated that he had not the necessary powers to affix his signature to a treaty. It is rather surprising that this point should not have been fully ascertained as a preliminary to negotiation; but it is very evident that our European diplomatists are no match for the wily, unscrupulous Mandarins of the Celestial Empire. The consequence is, that the Allied forces, after losing much valuable time, were obliged once more to take the field, and on the 10th of September had reached a place called Yang-tsun-yeh. Tien-tsin was occupied by a garrison of 2,000 men, but Pehtang was evacuated, as the Allied fleets sufficiently protect the river as high as the former town. Some trouble had been caused by the desertion of the coolies; but as it is only Lord Elgin's baggage that is mentioned as being delayed, we may fairly infer that the troops were sufficiently provided with carriage. The next mail from China will probably bring tidings of a decisive battle, and of the fall of Peking.

From Calcutta we receive the usual budget of complaints. Whatever is done ought not to have been done, whatever ought to have been done is left undone. Doubtless the Government is weak and rash, dilatory and precipitate, empirical and wedded to routine; still, it must surely now and then stumble upon a measure not altogether idiotic, and be occasionally capable of distinguishing the right course from the wrong one, and even of following the former. This the Calcutta press appears to deny, and systematically find fault with every Government official, from his Excellency the Viceroy down to his Excellency the Viceroy's Peon. Sir Charles Wood also comes in for his share of reproof, and is severely rebuked for alienating half a million sterling for the benefit of Prince Gholam Mahomed, a grandson of the famous Tippoo Sultan. It must be confessed that that family has the slightest possible claims on the gener-sity of a British Government, as for at least three generations it was in a state of active hostility, for the mutiny at Vellore was the handiwork of Hyder Ali's grandsons. It is not easy, therefore, to understand on what grounds the present representative of that cruel and implacable race should be allowed to subtract from the public revenue an amount that India could little spare at any time, and least of all just now.

The Governor-general was expected to leave Calcutta for Lucknow on the 15th November, and thence proceed to Hyderabad in the Nizam's dominions, and after visiting Nagpore, Indore, and Gwalior, return to the Presidency in March—preparatory, we trust, to handing over the vice-royalty to Lord Elgin as his successor.

Mr. Charles Chicheley Plowden has been appointed private secretary to Mr. Merivale, under Secretary of State for India, vice Mr. A. Hobhouse, promoted.

CALCUTTA, CHINA, AND AUSTRALIAN MAILS.

The Ceylon, with the heavy portion of the above mails, left Malta at six A.M. on the 8th, and may therefore be expected at Southampton about the 17th inst.

OUTWARD BOMBAY MAIL.

The Delta, from Southampton the 27th of October, arrived at Malta on the 5th of November, at noon, and sailed at midnight for Alexandria.

The Vectis (from Marseilles, November 5) arrived at Malta on the 8th, at three A.M.; sailed at ten A.M. for Alexandria.

Casualties by Death in the Armies of India reported since last Publication.

H.M.'s FORCES.—Maj. gen. H. F. Lockyer, on board the Ripon, aged 63, Aug. 30.
BENGAL.—Col. Henry G. Jourdan, H.M.'s Indian army, at 19, Westbourne-park, aged 77, Nov. 10.
BOMBAY.—Lieut. Alexander Bell, 3rd Bombay N.I., at Macao, aged 81, Aug. 25.

Passengers by the present Mail.

From CALCUTTA.—Mrs. Graham and two children, Mr. Tweedie, Mr. Baker, Mr. Owen and infant, Dr. de Boissac, Lieut. Kilvert, Maj. Clark. From MADRAS.—Mr. Elliott, Lieut. Elliott, Mr. Alexander, Capt. Grove, Mr. Hand, Mr. Malohy. From HONG KONG.—Mr. Magniac, Mr. Ridge, Maj. Lowe. From ADEN.—Capt. Blanchard. From SINGAPORE.—Mr. and Mrs. Blecker, Don and Mrs. Osario, three Misses Osario. From ALEXANDRIA.—Don Mas, Mr. Graham. From MALTA.—Com. Reid, R.N., Mr. Simmonds.

Expected at Southampton.

Per str. Ceylon, Nov. 17, from Hong Kong.—Lieut. Wasop, Mrs. Barcham and infant, Mr. B. Campbell. From CALCUTTA.—Miss Colson, Mrs. Bridge, Dr. Youell, Mrs. Ferriss, Capt. Bristow, Mr. and Mrs. Hicks, Mrs. Todd and two children, Dr. Feulner, Lieut. Carter (Dr. J. J. Hall died at sea Nov. 6), Col. and Mrs. Anderson, Lieut. New, Mrs. C. Mason. From MADRAS.—Mr. A. C. Jones, Miss Jones and child, Mrs. Hankin and infant, Lieut. Griffiths, Lieut. E. Hickman, two Misses Horan, Mr. and Mrs. Heap, Mr. and Mrs. Magrath, Miss Magrath. From GALLE.—Mr. Armstrong, Capt. and Mrs. Hook, Mrs. Wear and two children. From MADRAS.—Lieut. Begbie, Mrs. Harsop and three children, Mrs. Forsyth. From ALEXANDRIA.—Mrs. Stewart, Miss Butler.

BENGAL.

A SMALL REFORM.

If there is one thing which more than another distinguishes the district officer of the North-West Provinces from the Collector-magistrate of Lower Bengal, it is that the former is generally intimate with every part of his district. He knows the leading natives, he is familiar with the most obscure localities, he has travelled over every road, and is himself known at the furthest end of his district. All this arises from the fact that he is allowed to work for three or four years in the same spot. The improvements he begins he carries through, and his local knowledge, daily increasing, enables him to overtake a large amount of work. This is not the case in Bengal. There are few stations where an officer can be found who has been in the district a whole year. Promotion has been very rapid, changes still more frequent. In eight months the sub-division of Serampore has seen five joint magistrates; while in the large station of Hooghly none of the leading officials has remained so long as twelve. Under such a system no magistrate can take an interest in his district, none care to clear off the old files of their predecessors, or to initiate improvements which another may despise as trifles, or oppose as innovations.

Hitherto there have been four grades of magistrate and collector in Bengal, with salaries of Rs. 28,000, 23,000, 18,000 and 12,000 a year respectively. These were fixed according to stations, and not to the merits of officers. On promotion from one grade to another, each magistrate has been required to leave his station for that of the higher grade. This is now to be altered. The high salaries of Rs. 28,000 a year attached to Balasore, Pooree, and Cuttack, will be reduced to Rs. 23,000. Though the duties of salt agent are discharged by those who hold these appointments, the ordinary work is lighter than in any other district. There will henceforth be two grades, the first consisting of twenty-two officers paid at the rate of Rs. 23,000 a year, and the second of fourteen officers on Rs. 18,000. The old fourth grade will be abolished, the salaries being increased to 18,000, that of the 2nd. The pay of all the magistrate collectorships is thus equalised, without extra expenditure, but without saving. The really important part of the reform is that the salaries will henceforth be personal, not local. On promotion from the 2nd to the 1st grade, officers need not, as hitherto, leave the station to which they belong for another. If Mr. Molony does well in Jessore, it is to the disadvantage of the district and the public service if he is moved to Hooghly, simply because his time has come for promotion. We may now hope to see officers in Bengal who have been more than a year in the same district, who know the people, and are allowed to take a hearty interest in their duties. —Friend of India.

THE NEXT ACT OF THE REVOLUTION.

In the report of the committee on the amalgamation of the armies are involved consequences for the future of India far more important, far more revolutionary, than any of a purely military character. The army has broken up, the civil service is to follow. The English statesman looks at India as containing a mass of disintegrated materials to be fused with other elements into a new system, to be animated by a new spirit. In the fall of the East India Company all Indian monopolies were doomed; in the abolition of the local army all class prejudices have been swept away. The problem which is now to be solved is not merely the reorganisation of the army, nor the opening of the civil service. It is the creation of a new administration altogether, out of existing materials, which shall recognise no anomaly, tolerate no speciality, allow no class privilege. India henceforth is to be a unity in itself, and a member of the great English fraternity of colonies. As the former it must be governed by one will, as the latter the principles of its Government must be those of the whole British empire. Henceforth, except as large municipalities or provinces like those under the Supreme Government, the presidencies may cease to have a separate administrative existence while enjoying increased local power. They are to be defended by one army, they must be ruled by one civil service. This is the question as looked at from an English point of view; this will be the result, we believe, of the amalgamation of the armies. The old systems, the old monopolies, the old dishonesties, when they ceased to be swaddling bands for our empire in the East, provoked the rebellion of 1857, and, aided by the weakness of a Governor-general, the European strike of 1859. They have proved unequal to the new demands made on them in the increase of European capitalists and the progress of "interloping" energy. They have collapsed, they are things of the past which the present has outgrown. They must be buried with what speed is consistent with safety. What is valuable in them must be galvanised into new life by the breath of a new era, and the infusion of new blood. This is England's determination. With its wisdom we have now nothing to do, if, indeed, the men of the present day are capable of judging such a question.

The first step is—one instead of three armies for all India. Their Commander-in-Chief must henceforth reign alone, having within his command no power of co-ordinate authority, such as the Madras and Bombay Commanders-in-Chief exercise. They might hold the position of commanders of the forces in these presidencies, as recommended by the Duke of Cambridge, or merely lieutenant-generals at the head of corps d'armées. The native army, like the European, must be one in discipline and organisation, raised for general service, and liable to be employed from Peshawar to Cape Comorin. The question is even considered why native corps should not be sent to any station with a warm climate out of India, from Malta to the Cape, from St. Helena and Ascension to China and Japan. All fear of dangerous combination would be prevented, while we should retain hostages for the good behaviour of the native army in India. These regiments should be all officered on the irregular system, and so organised as to be brigaded with European troops. If we are to have a native army, this would deprive it of its sting, while employing it for imperial purposes. It would economise our military strength, and teach the sepy that he is the member of a force which garrisons the half of the civilised world. There is no reason why England should not use the sepy as Russia employs the Cossack.

But the feature of the English scheme which is far more startlingly radical than this is that of a giant staff corps. As India has one army, so must it have but one civil service, without distinction of civil or military, staff or regimental, covenanted or uncovenanted. The staff corps must not be looked at merely in its military point of view. It leads to the question of one homogeneous civil service for the empire, whose members shall not be confined to presidencies but shall be available for any office for which they are fitted, wherever it is to be held. The principle has been already adopted in the financial department, and Mr. Wilson proposed to apply it to the new War Office. But the English idea rises far higher than that. It would fuse the present elements of civil, political, and staff into one great body of executive administrators, before whom Bengal, Madras, and Bombay would cease to have any difference. If the new service were at all divided, it would be according to branches of duty and not localities. The barristers of four years' standing would be available for the judicial line, and those who show a special aptitude for them, for revenue, or police, or military staff, or native regiments, all rising in their departments as in the civil service of England; while the Governor-general would have power to admit to this imperial staff corps any in this country who, though they have not entered by the door of the army or of a college in England, have proved their ability by long tried experience.

There would be thus one civil service and one army, with one Governor-general and one Commander-in-Chief. The regiment which had served at Peshawar and the magistrate who had been years at Lahore, might be changed, should necessity arise, to Madras or Belgaum. The prizes would be open to the best men, and the Governor-general would have a field of selection vaster than he ever could count on before. We have gone into no details, but merely sketched an outline which our readers can fill up for themselves. Two things are evident; a scheme such as this removes the jealousies between the armies and presidencies, and it enables the principles of centralisation and federalism to meet in a point where the safety of the empire is secured, while the independence of the local power in local matters is guaranteed. Bombay will have then no reason to snarl at Calcutta, nor Calcutta make herself suspected of oppressing Madras. While a Supreme Council legislates on imperial questions, local councils will have full sway in their own matters. One will must direct the army; the budget system will secure that one authority shall economise while equitably administering the finances. But all else may be subject to the power of governors, aided by local experience and controlled by local opinion. If the revolution peacefully and speedily accomplish this, India will be placed on a platform from which it may look down with wonder on the old systems which it has outgrown. One by one it is now bursting the fetters which have enchained it. The question which England is better able to answer than we, and which history alone will fully solve, is this,—Is India fit for such liberty? —Friend of India.

THE PUNJAB SYSTEM.

In an article headed "Justice in the Punjab," the Friend of India claims for the late Mr. John Colvin the credit of having first devised that non-regulation administration of justice which was afterwards transplanted to, and has since grown so successfully in, the Punjab. We can fancy how pleasing must be the idea to some minds to be able to trace an act which has been even more than a successful experiment, to a civilian of the Bengal Presidency. Unfortunately, however, on the present occasion the claim is utterly devoid of foundation. Whatever may have been Mr. Colvin's merits as ruler of the Tenasserim Provinces,—and for the sake of argument we will admit that they were great—his "innovations" on the venerable regulations of Sir Elijah Impey had no more connection with the rules now in force in the Punjab than has the Friend of India with consistency. Those rules were founded upon a nearer and a more correct model. When in 1843 the policy of Lord Auckland had forced upon his successor the annexation of Sind, it became a part of the duty of the great soldier, who was compelled, in spite of himself, to become a conqueror and a governor, to devise rules for the administration of the province he had so ably won. Having only soldiers at his disposal, his first object was to select those of them who showed most aptitude for the work, and to employ them for revenue and administrative purposes. So carefully did Sir Charles Napier make his selections, that in an incredibly short space of time the new province was brought into order. Justice was administered on the purest principles, and a system was established and carried out that made it possible for the poorest and humblest to obtain it. Scarcely, however, had this system been brought into play, when one of the subordinate civil Governments of the country, acting on motives which we can divine, sent three civilians to Sir Charles, pleading their services at his disposal. Sir Charles gave them work, but after a short trial he was compelled to send them back to their own presidency with the remark that he "would rather have a hard-working subaltern than a Bengal civilian." It was after the expulsion of these men that the Scinde system of administration grew into perfection. It became in that respect the model province of India. To this fact Sir Bartle Frere, one of the successors of Sir Charles, has borne public testimony, and the state of the province at the present hour is confirmatory of the fact.

Sinde was conquered in 1843; the Punjab was annexed more than six years later. Its first de facto ruler was Major Henry Lawrence. Whither did he turn his eyes for an administrative system? Was it to Tenasserim, as the Friend would have us believe, fifteen hundred miles distant, and separated by the sea? or was it to Sind, the prosperous province, the nearest neighbour adjoining his own? It is impossible to doubt in the matter. Major Lawrence could get nothing in the Tenasserim provinces which he could not obtain in far greater perfection in Sind. There the system was made to his hand; it was acting before his eyes; it was suited to a strong powerful border population; he had no need, then, to go to a distant region for a system. He took that modelled by Sir Charles Napier, only modifying it so as to make it available alike for civilians as for officers of the army. There is, therefore, absolutely no foundation for the assertion that Mr. Colvin is the grandfather of the Punjab system. That system, we have shown, was based upon one which Sir C. Napier had introduced into Sind; and Sir Charles, we all know, never went to a civilian for his plan. Like Minerva, it emerged armed and fitted at all points, from his own brain; and, such as it was, gave him a title to be ranked amongst the greatest, if not the greatest, of Indian administrators, as his military exploits stamp him as second to none in the roll of Indian warriors.—Englishman.

FAILURE OF RAIN.

The Government have made an important addition to the Calcutta Gazette. A supplement is to be published weekly, or twice a week, according to circumstances, containing official papers and such information as the Government of India may deem to be of interest to the public; it is to be unofficial in all other respects. It is to be, in fact, the long-promised Government Gazette, or Government organ of communication with the outer world, to be used as the French Emperor uses the Moniteur. The official portion of the Gazette remains as heretofore. Notifications and orders required by law will appear in it, but in the supplement nothing will appear but information and news for the public, and this supplement can be obtained by paying a separate subscription.

The first article appeared in yesterday's supplement, a valuable paper by Colonel Baird Smith, on the subject of the failure of the rains in the North-West Provinces. We are glad to observe that an early notice has been taken of the serious consequences of a failure of the rains by Government, and measures taken into consideration to mitigate the sad consequences of famine and drought. Nothing can be better than Colonel Smith's suggestions, and we concur in all he says. We were eye witnesses of the drought of 1837 and the famine of 1838, and can judge by experience of the necessity of early measures being taken, and of the terrible misery that must ensue even after Government and individuals have done their utmost. It is not yet too late for rains, and showers in September would save some of the khureef crop, more particularly forage and grass for cattle, and the fields will remain in a condition to be ploughed. In 1837 the rains ceased early in July, and with the exception of one or two slight and partial showers, no rain fell in the Doab between the Kalee Nuddee and the Jumna till the rains of June, 1838. The lands were as hard as iron; no irrigation appeared to do any good, and the few scrubby fields of wheat and barley which were forced in the neighbourhood of some wells were a sorry sight indeed. The famine was so severe that the wretched people stripped the thatch from their houses and the leaves from the trees to feed their cattle until the whole country had the appearance of a desert and the villages lay in ruins. The grain-eating animals and such birds of the air, as parrots, pigeons, &c. nearly all disappeared, whilst birds of prey and wild quadrupeds increased. A good shower of rain in September and October, then, would partially mitigate the sad prospect before us, and the measures Colonel Smith recommends would largely tend to the same object. The Christian village existing at Agra before the mutiny took its rise from the famine of 1838, and arrangements of the like kind can be made again in the many confiscated villages still in the hands of Government. Colonel Smith's chief recommendation is to organise a system of management by the aid of Government officers, missionaries, and natives, and to form committees throughout the suffering districts to distribute the charity of Government and public subscriptions, to find employment for the destitute, and to pay none, but those absolutely incapable, who do not work. He points to the numerous public works, on which multitudes could be employed with advantage, particularly the leading canals, or Rajbhas, from the Great Canal through the country. This reminds us of one considerable difference in the position of the country now. In 1838 the water in the wells sank fully six feet, leaving all the small wells nearly dry, and the supply in the best wells was very scanty. We understand that the percolation from the Great Canal is so great that the wells to a very great distance from the canal have a supply of water hitherto unknown, and that the water in them has risen above any level before observed. This will, no doubt, continue, and will aid the peasantry. Colonel Smith does not recommend any attempt at drawing supplies of corn from more fortunate districts by Government; he would leave that to the merchants, as he calculates there is a year's stock in the country. If he thinks there is a year's supply in the countries which suffered from the rebellion we fear he is mistaken. The demand for the armies which traversed the country, then the destruction which took place, completely cleared out all stocks, and the surplus of the crops since has not filled the pits again. We think, therefore, Government should carefully ascertain what districts could supply corn, and how it could be easily transported to meet the demands of some of the committees of distribution. We would not recommend Government to open a shop to sell, but to supply the various committees with grain to distribute, instead of buying in the districts and competing with the public. No sooner shall it become known in the country that arrangements are made to feed the kungulas (the poor), than crowds will flock in from the native States bordering on the south bank of the Jumna, thus bringing many more mouths into our own provinces. One very serious mistake was made in 1838, and Colonel Smith's minute does not touch on the subject. The Board of Revenue laid down no rules for the remission of rents, and collectors were left to act as they thought best; the result was that in some districts great consideration was shown, whilst in others the revenue demand was continued without the slightest consideration for the circumstances of the people. A zemindar with possessions in two districts remarked that he appeared to be subject to two independent Governments.

In Agra, Mr. Mansel, with that judgment and intelligence for which he was remarkable, early met the difficulty by at once remitting one-half of the Government demand, publicly notifying the same, that the sub-tenantry might become aware of the fact; but he left the adjustment of the account between landlord and ryot to themselves. In Muttra, the collector, Mr. Tyler, delayed informing the people of his intentions until it was almost too late, and when he did make a remission it was to those who were known not to be in good circumstances: the dissipated spendthrift and the imprudent thus escaped, whilst the prudent and the capitalist were mulcted in the full amount of the Government dues. Those who would have been useful in restoring the exhausted district were themselves exhausted first, and long afterwards did the district feel the injustice of the arrangement. In Allygurh another collector acted the hard, uncompromising landlord, and made the rule that the people should be squeezed to the uttermost. He was of opinion that the people were cheating the Government in the neighbouring districts, and that by his rule those really unable to pay would show themselves, and the Government could then remit what they could not recover. This precious plan ruined the district; to escape the pressure and the torture applied by the Tuhseeldars and Government officers many proprietors mortgaged their lands and estates to the capitalists of the towns. This was the commencement of the numerous mutations of property in Allygurh, and the account of many of these transactions was made up and squared off during the rebellion of 1857. But now no such inconsistencies should be permitted, and if we are to suffer again that most awful of all inflictions, a famine, in a distant province where a whole agricultural population is suddenly thrown out of employment, and without food, we ought to be better prepared to meet it than we were in 1837.—Englishman.

MISCELLANEOUS.

STAMP DUTIES.—The Governor-general has sanctioned for the Punjab and Oude a reduced scale of stamp duties. These duties have always been lower in the non-regulation than in the regulation provinces. The effect of the new law, if fully carried, would be to quadruple the cost of justice at once to every suitor and upset the system at present carried out of a regular scale of costs, also paid by stamps. The operation of the Act in Sind is postponed till 1st November.

PROGRESS, No. 2.—The Governor-general has decided to leave Calcutta for his Central India tour on the 15th November. It is expected that he will visit Oude, going as far as Fyzabad, and return to Benares, there permanently to establish his camp. The Commander-in-Chief will leave Rajmahal for Allahabad in the barge of the Lieutenant-governor of Bengal about the 20th October. The first camp of instruction will be formed at Cawnpore. He will be present with the Governor-general and Lady Canning at the opening of the East India Railway from Synthia to Rajmahal on the 15th October.

INCOME-TAX ASSESSORS.—Messrs. J. R. B. Ross and J. D'Cruze, deputy-magistrates, are two of the four Income-tax assessors for the district of Hooghly. Mr. D'Cruze will assess the town and suburbs of Serampore.

A MORAL PHENOMENON.—In an article on the death of the Free Church missionary, Dr. Ewart, the Bhaskur, a Bengalee paper, says:—"He had a large body so that Bhim Sen's was contemptible in comparison, but the wonder is this, there was not a drop of wrath in him; he was one of the few that fulfilled Christ's command if a man smite thee on the one cheek turn to him the other also."

DARJEELING.—A letter received from Darjeeling says that the tea companies are making progress. One company had already made eighty maunds. The coffee crop is expected to turn out well. There is a great want of European tradesmen at Darjeeling. The baker of the place, who has been very successful, and intends giving up his business at the end of the year, says the climate is as fine as any man could wish to live in, and workmen from England can work there as well as at home. He attributes the absence of European tradesmen to the false pride which prevents them from making themselves useful in this country.

CORN IN EGYPT.—The Delhi Gazette says the region of the Nerbudda is so fertile that wheat is selling at sixty seers for the rupee; gram seventy seers; rice twenty-six to thirty-five seers; ghee three and a-half seers; and other articles in the same proportion. The population of this district is 122 to the square mile, while that of the North-West Provinces is 420.

LOCAL GOVERNMENTS, P. W. D.—In the Calcutta Gazette of the 29th September there is an important notification enlarging the powers of the local Governments in the Public Works Department. At present the Governments of Madras and Bombay have power to sanction projects not exceeding in cost Rs. 25,000 each; in future the limit is to be Rs. 60,000; the limit for Lieut.-governors is to be Rs. 40,000; and for Oude, Pegu, and Mysore Rs. 10,000; other administrations, Rs. 5,000. Works of an emergent nature (within the limit of the year's budget) may be sanctioned by the local Governments for immediate execution.

MODERN ANTIQUITIES.—A sum of Rs. 1,200 has been sanctioned for the repair of the ancient tombs in the Dutch Burial Ground at Negapatam. Some of them are two hundred and fifty years old. The old grave-yard at Cossimbazaar, near Moorshedabad, in which some of Warren Hastings' family were buried, was cleaned out five years ago, on the occasion of the Lieutenant-governor's visit. In his "Bengal Obituary" a Calcutta undertaker some time ago published the inscriptions on some of the oldest tombs in Bengal. To the Indian antiquary, if such is to be found, they are invaluable.

LOOT.—The extent to which plunder was acquired during the troubles of the rebellion may be seen from an advertisement by the political agent at Bhurtpore. The kotwal found in the possession of a faquir there a silver ingot weighing 178 rupees, forty-seven bunches containing 376 strings of small pearls, a bundle consisting of twenty-eight strings of pearls, and a quantity of coral beads. The faquir will give no account of how the property came into his possession.

PUBLIC WORKS EXPENDITURE.—The Supreme Government has increased the limit within which the local Governments may sanction emergent expenditure for public works. This is a reform in the right direction. The total Public Works expenditure for all India in the current year is Rs. 3,343,395. Adding Government outlay for railways establishment and land, telegraph and local charges, the sum is £3,917,815, close on four millions. This expenditure is about £3. 11s. 6d. per square mile, sixpence a head of the population, and 9½ per cent. of the revenue. One-fifth is for new military buildings; one-fourth for new Government buildings, both military and civil; one-fifth for public works of improvement; one-fourth for repairs; one-fifth establishment charges, and one-tenth for unforeseen demands and petty works.

A PRINCELY GIFT.—The North-West Gazette says a splendid vase has been presented to the Rajah of Syedpore Bhitree by the British Government. It is about 6½ feet high and 3½ feet in circumference at the base, on which are three carved figures, representing Justice, Agriculture, and Trade. The inscription in English and Persian is as follows:—"Presented to Rajah Deo Narain Sing Bahadur by his Excellency the Right Hon. the Governor-general and Viceroy of India, for his loyalty and devotion to the British Government during the rebellion of 1857."

MR. C. HOLLINGS.—The Right Hon. the Secretary of State for India has on a reference from the Indian Government sanctioned that Mr. C. Hollings, Sub-deputy Opium agent of Gya, be permitted at any time he wishes to retire on a pension equal to one half of the average salary and allowances drawn by him during the last five years of his service, in recognition of the valuable services rendered by him at Gya during the disturbances caused by the late sepoy mutiny.

CANPORE MEMORIAL CHURCH.—The subscriptions to the Canpore Memorial Church have now reached Rs. 42,000, of which Rs. 35,000 have been paid into the Oriental Bank. The Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in London agree to pay over the money subscribed in England on condition of their receiving Christ's Church, Canpore, for mission purposes, reserving a small amount for a monument to their missionaries killed during the mutiny. The dispute which has hitherto delayed the erection of the church is thus removed. The sum subscribed, however, is not sufficient for a building of a character corresponding to the event which it is designed to memorialise. It is a national undertaking, and as such in extent, design, and elaboration should be worthy of the British name. Dr. Tressider, Civil Surgeon of Canpore, will receive donations from those who have not yet paid, or have not yet subscribed.

TARIFF VALUATIONS.—The Calcutta Chamber of Commerce have appointed their president, Mr. Bullen, to form one of the commission about to be held in Calcutta to draw up a uniform scale of tariff valuations for all India. Mr. Spooner, the Commissioner of Customs, Bombay, is to act as president. The Government of Bengal has nominated Mr. Eden. The mercantile community of Bombay has such confidence in Mr. Spooner that it has not sent a representative, and the Madras Chamber of Commerce found it impossible to send any of their members.

NON-COMMISSIONED OFFICERS IN INDIA.—We are glad to notice, in general orders, the fact that two non-commissioned officers, Acting Sergeant Henry Blockman, of the 38th Foot, and Lance Corporal W. Shakespear, of the 8th Foot have passed the examination in Hindostanee; the former the test for military interpreters.

INDIGO IN THE PUNJAB.—An official letter from the Deputy Commissioner of Dehra Ghazee Khan to the local Government describes the extent of the cultivation of indigo in that district. In former times the plant was grown and the dye manufactured on a large scale, the remains of old vats being still found on the farms. The cultivation was checked by the encroachments of the river and the destructive effects of inundations. Last year, however, 8,258 acres were grown with indigo, yielding 3,379 maunds, the average being a maund to two acres of ground. It sells at the average rate of from 50 to 56 rupees a maund. It finds a ready sale in Bombay. The whole sum realised by the sale of indigo in the district last year was Rs. 16,85,512. It is most profitable to the small proprietors, but barely repays the non-proprietary tenants for the risk.

THE MOOKTEARS IN LOWER BENGLA have presented a petition to the Governor-general in Council, complaining of the interference of the Lieutenant-governor with their rights and privileges. The petitioners declare they pay certain rates to procure the evidence of witnesses, viz., from Rs. 2 to Rs. 3 per witness in criminal cases, but in ordinary ones from 4 annas to 1 rupee. The Lieutenant-governor has, however, with reference to a certain criminal case, issued a proclamation offering very high rewards to parties who would prove the guilt of the principal defendant, as well as that of the accessories. They therefore request that the Governor-general will take such measures as will prevent his honour from issuing similar istaburs or proclamations for the future.

THE INDIGO PLANTERS' ASSOCIATION of Calcutta have petitioned the Legislative Council to remodel or repeal the Rent Law (Act X. of 1859), which secures under-tenants in their holdings and rights. They say the Act interferes with what is the essence of the solemn compact of the Government as declared in Regulation I. of 1793, viz., that the actual proprietary right in the soil shall exist in the zemindars, subject to such sub-tenures as then existed or have been since created by the zemindar; that its effect is to remove into the hands of the collectors and their amlah powers hitherto enjoyed by the zemindars alone, that it constitutes and recognises a new and peculiar body of landed proprietors, and that its details are in many respects defective.

GOVIND PERSAUD PUNDIT, the owner of a portion of the Raneeunge Coal Fields, has been condemned by the Judge of Bancoorah to six years' imprisonment, for being concerned in an affray attended with murder. A point of law, however, is reserved.

INCOME-TAX RETURNS.—The Phoenix has heard that a committee has been formed, consisting of Messrs. Harington and Sconce, and Baboo Pro-sunnocoomar Tagore, to revise the forms of returns of the Income-tax Act, which are complained of by natives as unintelligible.

THE P. AND O. AGAIN.—The Englishman publishes a letter from the passengers of the mail steamer Nemesis, addressed to the Secretary of the Admiralty, complaining of the discomfort and inconvenience to which they were subjected by the overcrowding of the vessel between Suez and Aden. There were 105 first class passengers, thirty-nine second class, 187 French troops, and 200 of the crew, making a total of 534 souls all huddled together in a small steamboat capable of carrying only half that number. To make matters worse, the Nemesis lies so low in the water that, except in a calm sea, the ports on the weather side require to be closed. To this must be added the warm state of the weather experienced in the Red Sea passage in the month of September, and some idea of the misery and discomfort of which the passengers complain may be conceived. The consequence was that three of the passengers fell ill and died. It is to be lamented that such a state of things should be permitted to exist on board the P. and O. Company's steamers. The remedy lies not in protests to the P. and O. Company or the Secretary of the Admiralty, but in the formation of a rival company to the P. and O. Company's steamers.

EAST INDIAN RAILWAY.—The new road from Caragolah Ghaut, opposite the Colgong Station of the East Indian Railway, to Titalya, runs for 108 miles, and when completed will bring Darjeeling and Purneah into easy and speedy communication with Calcutta. The works on the road are very difficult, but it will be opened out as an unmetalled communication, passable at all seasons of the year, and bridged, except in the case of six of the larger rivers, by the end of the next working season.

PAUCITY OF COVENANTED OFFICERS.—The Hurkaru understands that it is the intention of the Lieut.-governor to invest salt agents and their assistants, and the superintendents of salt chowkees, with the powers of magistrate and collector in their respective divisions, in consequence of the paucity of covenanted officers for carrying on magisterial and revenue duties.

ALLEGED PERJURY.—True bills have been brought in against Mr. James Fortescue Harrison and Captain Charles Need, of the 6th Europeans, for alleged perjury committed in the police-court in the abduction case of Captain Crossman's daughter. Captain Need has since been tried and triumphantly acquitted, the judge coinciding with the jury.

H. M.'S 6TH REGIMENT, stationed at Barrackpore, has received orders to proceed at the end of October to Hazaureebaug, where already H. M.'s 37th Regiment is stationed. Surely the authorities are not aware that one regiment of Europeans is provisioned with very great difficulty by the Commissariat at that place; the 6th Royals are to remain under canvas, as there are no houses available upon any terms. The climate is delightful, but the inconveniences not a few.

THE RAJAH OF BURDWAN has received a letter from Lord Palmerston, in which his lordship has acknowledged in warm terms the high sense entertained by her Majesty's Government of the service rendered to the State by the honourable manner in which the Rajah accepted and acknowledged the necessity and policy of the Income-tax, in his letter to the late Mr. Wilson.

EARLY CLOSING MOVEMENT.—An advertisement in the Calcutta journals announces the intention of twenty-one of the leading tradesmen in Calcutta to close their shops in future at three o'clock on Saturdays. A number of young men will thus have leisure on their hands which there are but few pleasant ways of filling up. The volunteer movement, in this respect, is timely.

CHITTAGONG.—The Hurkaru says the hill tracts of Chittagong have been declared non-regulation districts by the Government of Bengal. The other non-regulation districts are, Assam, Cachar, Chota Nagpore, Sonthalistan, Arracan, the Tributary Mehals, and Darjeeling. The viva voce system of trials in petty cases was introduced into these provinces in 1857.

FEMALE ORNAMENTS.—The Englishman states that in consequence of the disclosures made in the libel case at Lucknow, the Governor-general has issued orders that ornaments found on the persons of native females are not to be touched on account of the Income-tax, but that those found in the rooms occupied by women may be taken.

MILITARY APPOINTMENTS.—According to the Englishman Colonel Drake gets the command of the 65th N.I., Colonel Burney, of that regiment, obtains a brigade, Colonel Macdonald will have Barrackpore, and Colonel Grey, of the 5th Foot, gets the Sealkote brigade. A wing of the 6th Europeans will probably go to Barrackpore, and the regiment of Lucknow accompanies the Commander-in-Chief on his tour up the country. The 6th Foot go to Hazareebagh, Colonel Robertson to command the camp of exercise; and Colonel Smith gets another brigade.

A REMEDY WORSE THAN THE DISEASE.—The effect of the destruction of "pets" at Peshawar is thus described by a correspondent of the Delhi Gazette:—"The absence of dogs from the soldiers' lines is beginning to be felt. Wild animals, as the dark nights are creeping on, are creeping into barracks. The jackals take infinite pleasure in scampering through bungalows, and proclaiming their delight outside in the most approved and inimitable choruses they are capable of. Jungle cats take pot-luck with people's scant larders, and then add insult to injury by indulging in a species of tom-tomming which 'native music' must ever despair of surpassing in hideous crescendo! This, certainly, is not so very bad, but when wolves take advantage of the immunity with which their prowling fraternity visit the barracks, the matter becomes somewhat more serious. For instance, I hear, on good authority, that last week one of these animals went into the Artillery lines, and came very near carrying off an infant child from the side of its mother. The cries of the poor little thing fortunately awoke her, and the brute let go its hold."

THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF is to be the guest of the Maharajah of Burdwan for a day or two at the races. From thence his Excellency will proceed, shortly after the 20th October, to Rajmahal, then by the Lieutenant-Governor's yacht, which has been placed at Sir Hugh's disposal, to Allahabad, and next to Cawnpore, where his camp will be formed.

A QUICK VOYAGE.—The ship Renown, one of Green's new vessels, has made a splendid run from England to Calcutta. She left Gravesend on the 12th July, and Lizard Point 16th; she made Ceylon on 23rd, and Madras on the 27th September, quitted it the same evening, and anchored at Saugor on the evening of the 2nd October—thus making the voyage in 78 days.

SHIPPING.

ARRIVALS.

Sept. 22. Ravenscraig, Barrow, Mauritius; Good Hope, Miller, San Francisco.—23. Str. Gov. Higginson, McMillan, Moulmein; Sultana, Rice, Mauritius; str. Nemesis, Weston, Suez.—30. Str. Baltic, Melville, Madras.—Oct. 1. Alexander Baring, Nunerby, Moulmein.—2. Clarence, Viale, London; Catherine Apcar, de Smidt, Singapore.—3. Charger, Hatch, Hong Kong; Turon, Code, Mauritius; W. W. Smith, Clare, Liverpool; Egeria, Pollock, Bombay and Cannanore.—5. Screw str. Fiery Cross, Crockett, Hong Kong; Gottfried, Chapes, Singapore; City of Palaces, Young, Mauritius and Madras; Sultan, Linstroff, Bombay; Zingari, Nowlitz, New York; Babington, Wilson, Liverpool; Hindostan, Veliet, Bordeaux; Melicete, Gould, Liverpool; Nile, Owen, London; Ann Dunn, Bennington, Point de Galle; Renown, Hight, London; Blanchemont, Nicols, London; St. Luce, Returie, Bourbon; Mauritius, Galloway, Greenock; Ravensworth, Appley, Newcastle; Thomas B. Bates, Lincoln, Liverpool.—8. Str. Burmah, Gray, Moulmein.

PASSENGERS ARRIVED.

Per str. Burmah.—Capt. Stanley, Mr. Galstin, Mrs. Harris and two children.
Per Turon.—Mrs. Code, Lieut. J. D. McPherson, 65th N.I.
Per Deva.—Mr. Erskine, Master White.
Per Clarence.—Miss Gibbs, Miss Broadhead, Miss Kuxvelt, Lieut. Oliphant, Messrs. Pear, Bishop, Saltmarsh.
Per Fiery Cross.—Mr. and Mrs. Bird, Messrs. Warwick, Giff, Lewis.
Per Sultan.—Mr. J. L. Sozmo, Mr. Manning.
Per Zingari.—Mrs. Walton.
Per Hindostan.—Mr. Dubus, Mr. A. Dubus.
Per Nile.—Major Flounden, Lieut. Rogers, Mrs. Kaumagh and family, Rev. Mr. Robinson, Miss Robinson, Messrs. Devers, Benclear, Scatchard, Johnson, DeGratouid, Fort, Geunier, Mr. and Mrs. Colles, Mrs. Hudson, Mrs. Watson.
Per Renown.—Capt. Cope, Miss Cope, Mr. Heveley, Mrs.

Howard, Mrs. Payne, Miss Edwards, Miss Willow, Mr. Payne, Mr. Brook, Lieut. Moorhead.
Per str. Luce.—Miss Kelly.
Per Governor Higginson.—Messrs. Wallace, Munro, Agabeg, Smith, Isaac, Capt. Fitzgerald, Matheson, Chesney, Lieuts. Deshon, Rinchat.
Per Ravenscraig.—Messrs. Duke, Hicson, Townsworth, Surgeon, Brough, Miss Butlers.
Per str. Nemesis, left Madras, Oct. 7.—From SOUTHAMPTON.—Mr. Van Gelder, Mr. H. De la Condemaine, Miss Lisant, Rev. G. Palmer, Miss Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Francis, Lieut. and Mrs. Anderson, Mr. Hillyard, Ens. Hon. T. Scott, Mr. Fedden, Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Laing, Mrs. Molyneux, Mr. and Mrs. Vaux, Mr. Bird, Mr. Scott, Mr. Moller, Lieut. Sperling, Mr. Cave, Mr. and Mrs. Kenny, Mr. Herbert, Lieut. Inglis, Mr. G. Badham, Mrs. Sanders, Messrs. Stanley, E. Bour, A. Norman, W. Cracknell, W. Goo, H. Grove, Denham, Green, Blythe, Cockburn, and Law, Rev. Mr. Humphrey, Capt. Delane, Lieut. Fitzgerald. From MARSEILLES.—Maj. and Mrs. Onkes, Mr. Greenacre, Mr. and Mrs. Cann and child, Miss Walton, Surg. Greenso, Mr. French, Mr. Lachlan, Capt. Davies, Mrs. De Michele, Mr. Farratt. From ROXBURY.—Capt. McBean, Mr. Ketchel and brother. From MADRAS.—Mr. Spooner, Mr. Kyllar, Mr. Maraw, Mr. F. Bridgegroom, Lieut. Hunter, Mr. Lock. From SYDNEY.—Maj. Nation, Mr. Balings. From MELBOURNE.—Mr. and Mrs. Roberts. From GALLE.—Dr. Linton, M.D., Capt. F. Stanton, Mr. Hunchmidt, Maj. J. F. Tennant, Mr. Broider, Mr. M. Collins. From MADRAS.—Mr. Simpkins, Mr. Tharlieb, Mr. Clinton, Mr. J. MacPherson, Mr. J. Stokes, Lieut. Baker, Mr. W. Pinton, Mr. H. Peacock, Mr. Fielding, Mr. F. Brown, Mr. Adams, Mr. Bell.

DEPARTURES.

Sept. 22. Areta, Scott, London; Loodianah, Walton, London.—23. Vespasian, Thompson, London; City of Benares, McMillan, London; Due de Brabant, Dore, Mauritius; str. Lancetfield, Oliver, Penang, Singapore, and Hong Kong; str. Candia, Curling, Suez; Mercury, Hubbard, Boston; Genii, Murray, London.—24. Shaftesbury, Regan, London; Patel Curram, Dameron, Muscat; Rajmahal, Roddock, Liverpool; Philosopher, Ross, London.—25. Cinderella, Williams, London.—26. Paragon, Gibson, Penang and Singapore; Hydra, Brown, Boston.—27. Amelia, Beattie, Batavia; Voyager, Banks, Coconada; Eugene and Amelie, Rault, Bourbon; R. N. Jarvie, Motley, Madras and Comorand Coast.—28. Maupertius, Ichorgno, Bourbon; Maxwell, Smith, London; Cairngorm, Gibbons, Boston; Fulwood, Moore, Mauritius.—29. Ida Ziegler, Reynolds, London; John Scott, Harrison, London; Tubal Cain, Smult, Singapore.—Oct. 1. Morning Star, Forman, London; Rubicon, Bambrough, Mauritius.—2. Cromwell, Symmer, Boston; Sherazee, Earle, Madras and Coconada.—3. Str. Governor Higginson, McMillan, Akyab, Rangoon, and Moulmein.—8. P. and O. Co.'s str. Colombo, Dunn, Suez.

PASSENGERS DEPARTED.

Per str. Colombo, for MADRAS.—Miss Cadell, Mr. Walls.
For GALLE.—Mr. W. Anderson, Mrs. Maude, Mr. Graham.
For SUZ.—Major E. Clerk, Mr. W. Merriam, Mr. Thwing.
For MARSEILLES.—Mrs. Graham and children, Mr. Tweedie, Mr. A. Baker, Mr. H. P. Owen and infant, Dr. De Boissiere.
For SOUTHAMPTON.—Miss Calver, Mrs. Bridge, Dr. Youell, Mr. Perreau, Capt. Bristow, Mrs. Todd and family, Lieuts. Kilvert, Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Hicks.

COMMERCIAL.

Calcutta, Oct. 8, 1860.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.

	Sell.	Buy.
Public Works, 5 per cent.....	96 6 to 96 8
New Company's Rupee 4 do.	84 12 to 84 4
Dit o, 5 do.	96 12 to 97 0
3rd Sica Rupee 4 do.	20 8 to 21 0
Transfer 4 do.	Nominal.
New 5½ do.	1 2 to 1 4

BANK OF BENGAL.

Discount on Govt. Acceptances (3 months)	3 per ct.
Do. on Private Bills and Notes (do.)	6 per ct.
Interest on Deposit of Co.'s Paper	5 per ct.
Do. on open Cash Credit Accounts	5 per ct.
On deposit of Goods, &c.	6 per ct.

EXCHANGES.

Agency Bills, at 6 months' sight	2 0½ to 2 0½
Do. with documents, do.	2 0½ to 2 0½
American Bills under credit, do.	Nominal.
Treasury Bills, 30 days' sight	Nominal.
Navy Bills, 3 days' sight	Nominal.
Bank of England Post Bills, at sight	2 0½ to 2 0½

RATES OF ADVANCE.

4 per cent. Stock Receipts	Sa. Rs. 100 Co.'s Rs. 78
4 ditto Government Paper	Sa. Rs. 100 .. 78
4 ditto ditto	Co.'s Rs. 100 .. 71
5 ditto ditto	" 100 .. 91
5½ ditto ditto	" 100 .. 98
New Treasury Bills	" 100 .. 98

On goods 3-4ths of approved valuation.

JOINT STOCK SHARES.

	Paid up.	Present value.
Bank of Bengal	4000 each 6000	to 6025
Agra Bank (Limited)	500 ..	700 to 750
Delhi Bank	500 ..	500
India General Steam	1000 ..	1525 to 1530
Ganges Company	500 ..	625 to 640
Bengal Coal Company (Limited)	1000 ..	1750 to 1800
Calcutta Steam Tug Association (Limited)	600 ..	490 to 500
East India Coal Company (Limited)	70 ..	73 to 75
Bonded Warehouse Association	445 ..	600 to 605
Calcutta Docking Company	700 ..	975 to 1000
Oriental Gas Company (Limited) ..	10 ..	par to 4 as pm.
Assam Company	200 ..	440 to 450
East-India Railway Company	420 ..	Rs. 2 dis.
East-India Copper Co. (Limited) ..	1000 ..	no sales.
Calcutta Auction Co. (Limited)	75 ..	70 to 75

PRICES OF BULLION.

Sovereigns	each, Rs. 10 5 to 10 6
Doubloons	" 32 8 to 32 10
Madras Gold Mohurs	" 15 2 to 15 0
Old Gold Mohurs	" 21 14 to 22 0
New Gold Mohurs	" 15 2 to 15 3
China Gold Bars	per sicca wt., Rs. 16 0 to 16 2
Gold Dust (Australia)	" 15 0 to 16 0
Sycee Silver, none, Co.'s Rs. 100 ..	106 0 to 106 4
Spanish Dollars	per 100 Rs. 222 0 to 222 8
Mexican do.	" 224 8 to 225 0

FREIGHTS.

To London, £2. 15s. to £3. 10s.
To Liverpool, nominal.

EXPORTS (Calcutta, Oct. 8).—Supplies of produce from the districts continue moderate, and the stocks of principal bulky staples have been materially reduced by late increased exports. Raw Silk and Corahs maintain former prices; good qualities are scarce, and business has consequently been limited during the past fortnight. Sugar has been in limited operation for Great Britain; the Bombay native shippers have been, and are still, the principal buyers of the Benares sorts. The market is almost bare of the Gurpata and Dulloah, and in the latter a little business in the middling kind has been reported for America. Saltpetre—The less favourable advices from home have led to a very limited business for that quarter; purchases have been almost confined to shipment for America. Rice.—Table sorts have been in increased demand for Great Britain, and have advanced in price. Moonghy and Ballum have fallen off in shipment, owing to unfavourable news from Mauritius. Wheat has engaged good inquiry for the home markets, caused by late favourable accounts. Linseed, Rapeseed, and Poppyseed, have been in increased demand, and active business, especially in Linseed, has been done for Great Britain at advanced prices. Jute has also been in active inquiry, and the new crop, which is not arriving very freely, meets ready buyers at extreme prices. Hides have been in large operation, especially for the home markets; but the demand has slackened a little.

IMPORTS (Calcutta, Oct. 8).—The market has been very dull during the last fortnight, and no improvement can be expected till November, after all the native holidays, which are fast approaching, and will commence on the 19th instant. Business is expected to be very unimportant till then. The accounts from the Upper Provinces are again unfavourable; Grain, which had been somewhat cheaper, has again risen in value. The demand in our market at present is local and confined to 64 to 7 lb. Grey Shirtings, at a shade of improvement, say half an anna per piece. There is no change in any other descriptions of Grey Cottons; but there is a tendency of price downward, and any attempt to force sales will have to submit to low prices. Glasgow Goods are without any improvement; sales have been effected for local requirement at discouraging prices. Mule Twist has been in limited operation. The present buyers are local dealers, who are buying merely for immediate requirement. Metals continue dull, and former prices are barely maintained.

MADRAS.

MISCELLANEOUS.

RIFLE CLUBS.—A rifle club, distinct from the Madras Volunteers, has been organised at Madras, under the command of Captain H. Roberts. The movement was originated by the Governor, Mr. Morehead, and the Madras Club. The Government manifesto on the subject will strengthen its hands. A rifle club has also been established at Vizagapatam by Mr. Fano and Captains Smith and Claridge.

THE NEIL FUND.—The total amount of the Neil Fund raised for the 1st Madras Fusiliers was Rs. 9,972. The surplus, after paying for the silver plate presented to the regiment, amounted to Rs. 4,000, which has been invested in Government securities. The interest of this sum is to be distributed annually in the shape of gratuities to the most deserving non-commissioned officers and privates who take their pensions.

MADRAS IRRIGATION COMPANY.—The operations of the Madras Irrigation Company have been attracting a degree of attention which must be rather unpleasant to those concerned. According to the Indian Statesman it has been discovered that the "levels" are all wrong; and the agent, Mr. Agnew, has been on a tour of inspection, which has ended in an order from him to stop all works for the present. The writer of this letter—who states that he is a shareholder and has visited the works in Kurnool—gives what would be a ludicrous if it were not a lamentable picture of the state of things: a paltry dam dignified with the name of annicut, and utterly unsuited to resist the floods; the first two miles of a canal channel excavated before the section on the twelfth mile had been "set out" or "plotted;" estimates all wrong, and the like. All this makes up a picture the reverse of satisfactory, and that the statements of the writer are well founded is more than probable, for to the best of our knowledge they have not been contradicted or explained.—Athenaeum.

Digitized by Google

Sangkolinsin wishes to try another throw of the dice, to see if he will not be more fortunate; and another account is, that two new commissioners have been appointed—one of them a Prince of the blood—and that Kweiliang and his coadjutors have been merely put forward to sound our demands. All these rumours are equally plausible, but no reliance can be placed on any of them, as they require confirmation. One thing is certain, that the Chinese Government will not give in without a good deal of argument.

At Shanghai matters remain much the same as we have had to advise for two or three mails. Trade still remains paralysed, and was unlikely to improve during the present unsettled state of affairs. The settlement itself is quite safe, as there are plenty of troops there. The rebels are said to be pressing Hang-chau, but this city is strongly garrisoned.

Our dates from Fuhchau are to the 21st. A missionary had rented a house inside the city, but the mandarins insisted on his withdrawing, as no treaty makes any mention of foreigners residing within the city. The British Consul has taken up the subject, and protested against such a narrow view of the treaty being entertained.—The native authorities have collected a fleet to prevent the Canton boatmen from going up to Fuhchau.

From Swatow, according to our latest dates (the 13th), the bad feeling which has been manifested against foreigners still exists against the "undutiful barbarians." A piece of ground had been marked off for foreign residences by the mandarins, but the people came out to the number of 2,000, and pulled the stakes up.

From Canton we learn that an improved feeling has been experienced in the market. The rebels, however, although defeated in the Lokcheong district, are impeding trade in another part of the country. It is said they have seized a quantity of tea which was intended for the Canton market.

A daring robbery took place at Canton the other day. A band of fifty men, who have for some time been prowling about the western suburbs, attacked the premises of Cammoo Yacoub, wounded the watchman, and carried off 2,000 dols., 1,000 dols. of which belonged to the Comptroller, and two chests of opium.

In this colony there is not much to notice. The design for a clock tower, which was open to public competition, was decided upon a few days ago, and the plan of Mr. Rawling, of the Royal Engineers' Department, accepted. He was also the successful competitor for the prize for the water works plan.—Overland China Mail.

THE STRAITS.

SARAWAK.—The latest advices from Sarawak fully confirm the evil effects of Governor Edwardes' ill-judged proceedings at Muka. The whole of the disturbed Dyak districts are said to be in a blaze—a spear from Seriff Mashahore was sent throughout them, and the Seribas Dyaks supplied with powder and fire-arms. They are stated to be now out in force. While the Sarawak force was lying at Muka, Talib, a follower of Seriff Mashahore, and the murderer of Mr. Steele, with Sa Kalai and Sawing, who were also implicated in the murder, attacked the Katibas fort with a party of Kayans and took it, killing more than thirty of the defenders. A letter from Sarawak, with the perusal of which we have been favoured, says "The whole population of Bruit and Rejang, &c., are flying hitherwards and to Sebuyow from fear of Mashahore. The Malays of Serikei, Matu, and Kanowit are running hither also, and Kanowit fort is to be pulled down, for no one will hold it; so that there will henceforth be no check on the head-hunting Dyaks getting out to sea, and piracy and murder will again reign on this part of the coast just as before Kanowit fort was built. In a few months the coast about Rejang, Oya, Bruit and Muka, will, no doubt, swarm with Dyak pirates from upper Sakarran, Seribas, Kanowit, Katibas, &c., excited to madness by their deliverance from the long restraint which our Government has hitherto been able to put upon them, but which has now been quite removed by Governor Edwardes' acts." We are glad to find, however, that Captain Brooke has resolved not to abandon the Kanowit fort for the present. On the contrary, he has sent Mr. Johnson there with a small force to endeavour to restore confidence. Serebas is said to be up in arms, and the famous piratical chief, Rentab, with a large party has come down and made a stockade about twenty miles above the fort, entirely stopping the trade.—Singapore Free Press.

JAVA, Sept. 24.—No further disorders have occurred among the foreign troops, and the apprehensions caused by the events at Samarang are now subsiding. Unfavorable intelligence has been received from Banjermassing—an attack by the Dutch troops upon a rebel post had failed; the result of a renewed attack was not known. The necessity for greatly increased reinforcements is apparent, the prestige of the European arms suffering greatly from the present desultory and inefficient mode of conducting the operations. Mr. Cores de Vries intends to run a steamer between Batavia and Singapore once a month in connection with the mail to Europe, while the mails from Europe will be conveyed by the contract steamers as usual. The extra vessel will leave Batavia on the 15th of each month. The sugar crops promises to be unusually favourable. A sale of 40,000 piculs of sugar at Batavia on the 15th, on Government account, gave satisfactory returns.

SHIPPING INTELLIGENCE.—The Dutch ship Derkina Titia, Capt Evink, from Macao bound to Java, was totally lost on the 17th September on Arends Island. The crew reached Sourabaya in safety. The Singapore Free Press records the loss of the screw steamer Sir James Brooke on her passage from Bangkok to that port. She struck on the rocks near Point Romania. The Pigeon, the first screw steamer built in Singapore, was recently launched from the yard of Messrs. D. Lyon and Co. It is of the tiny proportions of 40 feet long and 6 feet broad. Its burden is 9 tons, and it is of 4 horse power. It is intended for excursions and pleasure parties.

CENTRAL ASIA.

August 20.—Sirdars Sooltan Mohamed Khan, Syd Mohamed Khan, and Peer Mohamed Khan went to Shahooddowlah Khan and told him that it was very improper on his part to give a bad name to the woman, and then not only to bring a disgrace upon him, but upon them all. On this Shahooddowlah replied that he would not be easy until he had killed his wife. Sooltan Mohamed rejoined that he dare not to do such a thing, the best thing for him would be to let the matter drop, and to make it up with Peer Mohamed. "If I cannot have this satisfaction, and you have no shame, I would divorce the woman," said Shahooddowlah. To this the three Sirdars agreed, and all the property belonging to Peer Mohamed's daughter was ordered by Sooltan Mohamed to be sent to his house. The Ameer is still suffering with the fever.—August 21.—This morning Shahooddowlah went to pay his respects to the Ameer, and after he had asked how he was, he told all the story of what had happened between him and Peer Mohamed. The Ameer turned to him and said, "Boy! it is all right that you have divorced the woman, but I hope you will have nothing more to do with Peer Mohamed. Last night it was given out that you had sent some thieves to kill either Peer Mohamed or his daughter," continued the Ameer, "and as it is very unfair to let this quarrel go on in the family, I again advise you to keep clear of such vicious deeds. It is stated in the Book that when a person finds his wife going wrong, the only punishment he should inflict upon her is to divorce her, which you have very properly done, and not to hold enmity towards others." By this advice Shahooddowlah came to his senses, and promised before the Ameer that he would think no more of the matter.

—August 22.—An Urzee from Sirdar Mohamed

Auzim Khan from Koonduz was this day received. He informed the Ameer that Meer Shah, the Hakim of Buddukhshan, had sent him his son with nine valuable Kuzakee horses, seven camels, two slaves, and two slave girls, as presents. The Hakim has promised to be firm in alliance for the future, and to be ready always to render any assistance required from him. The Meer of Koolah is very obedient, and has commenced corresponding with him (Mohamed Azeem). Nothing striking from Bookhara.—August 23.—The Ameer is getting better. To-day he came out of his seraglio and went to inspect the stables; there he sent for the Moostoufee and ordered him to pay the Dooranee sowars and send them to Koonduz. The Moostoufee accordingly paid about one hundred sowars, and told them to get themselves ready to march to Koonduz by the next week. The rest will be paid to-morrow.—August 24.—The Ameer Sahib held a private durbar, all the Sirdars and Khans attended to pay their respects. Ghoolam Hussun Khan, the British Vakeel, also waited on the Ameer to ask after his health. The Vakeel was very kindly received, and told that he, the Ameer, was now doing well. Turning towards Moostoufee, the Ameer said that formerly the Purwan district in Kohistan used to be given as contract to Nadur Khan, and the lease was always renewed with the increase of four or five thousand rupees every year, and as he had failed to do so this year, he, the Moostoufee, is to send his own men to get the revenue realised and paid to Shahnawaz Khan, the son of late Ukrum Khan. A Mirza has this day been sent by the Moostoufee for the purpose.

—August 25.—Intelligence was this day received from Kandahar, that Sooltan Ahmed Jan had arrived at Heerat. Besides the Persian troops and artillery, the King of Persia had been pleased to grant him twelve guns, seven hundred camel loads of ammunition, two battalions, and twenty thousand gold bootkees as reward. All the Persian troops are under his command. The day Sooltan Jan arrived at Heerat, a grand illumination was made in the city, which continued for three days. He has conferred valuable khilluts upon all the chiefs and khans of Heerat.—August 26.

—The daughter of Sirdar Mohamed Ufzul Khan, the wife of Ameen-Ooddoul-lah Khan, who had been sick with fever for the last six months, departed this life to-day about seven o'clock. Sirdar Shere Allee Khan, Oosman Khan, and other chiefs, attended the burial. The Ameer grieved very much for this irreparable loss.—August 27.—It was stated in the Urzee of Sirdar Mohamed Ameen Khan, received this day from Kandahar, that Mohamed Oomer Khan, servant of Sooltan Allee Khan, son of late Sirdar Rahimdil Khan, had come in from Persia, via Heerat. He says that the King of Persia had ordered eight thousand bootkees to be paid as an allowance to Sooltan Allee Khan, and two thousand to Mohamed Ukram Khan, son of Unoollah Khan Uchukzai. Both the above-named chiefs were ordered by his Majesty to go and take charge of Kainaut. While Sooltan Allee Khan was leaving for Kainaut in Mushhid, he ordered Mohamed Oomer to go to Heerat and bring his property, &c., to Kainaut. Sooltan Allee had also given him a letter for Ameer Dost Mohamed Khan. When he, Mohamed Oomer, arrived at Heerat, he was surprised to learn that Sooltan Ahmed Jan, the ruler of Heerat, was looking out for him. Mohamed Oomer was seized on the plea that he was carrying a letter from Sooltan Allee to the Ameer, and was deprived of all that he had. Sooltan Ahmed Jan also confiscated all the property belonging to Mohamed Ukrum Khan at Heerat. Having been thus left as a beggar, Mohamed Oomer got his release and proceeded to Kandahar. On his way to Kandahar he met with Meer Ufzul Khan and Ghoolam Moheeoodeen Khan, who first enquired after Sooltan Allee Khan, and having heard all the story of his journey they took from him Sooltan Allee's letter from the Ameer, which he had so long kept hidden by him. He begged of them to give back the letter, but to no purpose, as they said that the Ameer had turned them out of his territory, and "did he think that they would give him back his letter?" Sirdar Mohamed Ameer Khan also said in his letter that Mohamed Oomer was in a very wretched state, and that he would shortly leave Kandahar for Cabul, to pay his respects to the Ameer.—August 28.—The following is the contents of Sirdar Wully Mohamed Khan's letter from Heerat to his father Sooltan Mohamed Khan, that "when he, Wully Mohamed reached one march this side of Heerat, Sirdar Shahneewaz Khan, son of Sirdar Sooltan Ahmed Jan, with two hundred Sawars, came to receive him and took him to Heerat with great respect and honour. He supplied him and his servants with all necessities; even ready-cooked breakfast and dinner every morning and evening. It was only a few days after he had been at Heerat that Sirdar Sooltan Ahmed Jan arrived from Persia, and was highly pleased to see him. The Sirdar, for the present, has allowed him Rs. 50 a-day and one rupee a-day to each of his servants, besides grass and barley for his and his servants' horses. Sirdar Sooltan Ahmed has highly recommended him to the King of Persia, and it is hoped as he assures him, that either the King will send for him to Persia, or will do something good for him at Heerat.—

August 29.—It is ascertained by an urzee received from Sirdar Mohamed Ameen Khan from Kandahar, that Meer Ufzul Khan and Ghoolam Mo-haeood-deen Khan, the ex-Chiefs of Kandahar, have purchased from Saloo Khan the fort of Lashchoon for one hundred and fifty thousand Kandahar rupees, and there they have settled themselves. The fort of Lashchoon formerly belonged to Persia. Allee Khan Seestanee at first was appointed by the King of Persia as governor of that fort, and four guns were given to him to place there. This Allee Khan, by some means or other, was nicely taken in by Saloo Khan, who took from him the fort and the guns now sold to Ufzul Khan. It was also mentioned in letters that Meer Ufzul Khan is making the fort defensible.—August 30.—A baker in the Rukakhana Bazaar, having kindled a fire in the oven, was preparing flour to make his bread, when suddenly the flame reached the roof, and in a moment set the whole shop on fire. A woodseller's shop, which was close to it, also took fire, and thus the whole line of the bazaar was in flames. About thirty-five shops in one line were consumed to ashes. By great exertions of the police the fire was put out, or else it would have reached the Motee Ram's Sarai, and would have done great havoc. Bakers, shoemakers, leathersellers, and wood sellers, have suffered the most.—August 31.—An Urzee was received from Sirdar Mohammed Ufzul Khan from Toorkistan, informing the Ameer that the Vakeel of the King of Bokhara, with Akhoodzada Sirajood-deen, had arrived there on their way to Cabool. "This is the same Vakeel," said Ufzul Khan, "who once before was sent by the King to the Ameer." The object of their embassy would be made known to the Ameer on their arrival at Cabool.

Sept. 1.—A letter was received from Koonduz, stating that some few days ago, Meer Shah, the Hakim of Buddukshan, having been unwell, had written to Mohamed Ufzul Khan to send him some Hakeem to treat him for his sickness. Mohamed Ufzul Khan, as a token of his kindness, sent his own Hakeem, Moolla Mohamed Auzim Uttarbashce. Meer Shah is now quite recovered of his sickness, and has sent a friendly letter and two slave girls for Mohamed Ufzul Khan, saying that he is very thankful to him for the kindness shown to him in his sickness, and would be much obliged if he would allow the Attarbashce to remain some time more in Buddukshan until his son, who also was a little unwell, had got well. The Ameer Sahib having perused the letter, stated in the durbar that Ufzul Khan is the only person who knows well how to manage the affairs of the state. "Look," continued the Ameer, "how he has gained the friendship of the Hakim of Buddukshan, who was an enemy to the state, and how he is managing with the other foreign powers." The Ameer prayed in public for Ufzul Khan's long life and success.—Delhi Gazette.

Official Gazette.

BENGAL.

BY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL.

Home Dept., Fort William, Sept. 19.—Mr. H. P. Owen, dep. superint. of telegraphs in the Bengal circle, has 12 mo. leave of abs. to England on m.c.

Sept. 21.—No. 1,801.—Messrs. E. W. Moloney and R. Alexander, C.S., are per. to proc. to Eur. on furl. for 3 years from the date of embarkation.

Foreign Dept., Sept. 20.—Mr. W. E. S. Lutter to be dep. coll. and an assessor of Income-tax in the town and suburbs of Moulmain.

Sept. 21.—Rev. R. Pierce has been app. a marriage registrar at Hoosainabad, in the Lucknow dist.

Public Works Dept., Sept. 21.—Capt. A. G. Craster, 2nd cl. exec. engr., is app. to offic. as exec. engr. of the Upper Sirhind div. fr. Aug. 11 till rel. by Capt J. Eliot.

Appointments.—The undermen. gentlemen are app. to the public works dept., and posted to Bengal:—

Mr. A. S. Stewart to be an exec. engr. of the 4th cl., in ch. of Jessore road.

Mr. C. Meason to be a spec. asst. engr., att. to the 2nd div. Grand Trunk Road.

Mr. C. Ducas to be a spec. asst. engr., and employed on Oolabarriah canal, in Burdwan div.

Mr. E. B. Toussaint to be a temp. supervisor on the bridge works.

Ens. G. Nolan, asst. engr. 2nd cl., 2nd div. Grand Trunk Road, is app. to the exec. ch. of Lower Assam div.

Foreign Dept., Fort William, Sept. 29.—Lieut. J. Jacob, 22nd Bombay N.I., to do duty with 2nd corps Central India horse.

Cor. J. Low, 3rd Eur. L.C., to do duty with 1st corps Central India horse.

Asst. surg. R. Dick had med. ch. of the Decolee irregular force from July 1 to 17 last inclusive.

Maj. R. H. Keatinge res. ch. of duties of Nimar pol. agency fr. Capt. E. Thompson on Sept. 18.

Oct. 2.—Capt. A. J. Bruce, offic. 4th asst. to comr. of Mysore, ret. to du. on 6th Aug.

The foll. arrange. are made in the rev. survey dept., consequent on the demise of Capt. E. Willoughby:—

Capt. D. C. Vanrene, rev. surv. of the 1st or east. div. Nagpore surv., is transf. to 2nd or Lucknow div., Oude surv., with effect fr. July 28 last.

Lieut. R. E. Oakes, asst. rev. surv., in ch. of 1st or eastern div., Nagpore survey, to be rev. surv., in perm. ch. of that div. fr. the same date.

The Gov. gen. in Council makes the following arrangements in the Pegu commission:—

Lieut. M. Lloyd to be dep. cour. of Tharrawaddy, fr. Aug. 3, 1859.

Lieut. W. C. Plant to be asst. comr. of Henzada, fr. June 30, the date on which he took charge of the office.

Lieut. A. R. McMahon to be asst. mag. of Rangoon, fr. May 11.

Lieut. F. Fitzroy to be superint. of the Pegu topographical survey, fr. Jan. 16, the date on which Lieut. Edgcome left Madras for England.

Public Works Dept., General Estab., Oct. 2.—Mr. G. A. Lorimer, probat. asst. engr., Bhagulpore div., is perm. to res. his app. in pub. works dept.

The stations of Monghyr and Rajmehal, at present att. to the Patna and Berhampore divs. respectively, are transf. to the Bhagulpore div. of public works.

The Barrakur bridge works are constituted a separate exec. ch. in the Burdwan circle of the Bengal pub. works dept.

Posting:—Mr. W. R. Powell, 3rd class exec. engr., is posted to Barrakur bridge works.

Mily. Dept., Oct. 1.—The foll. order, issued to the Pegu lt. inf. batt., is confirmed as temp. arrangements:—

Aug. 16.—Appg. Lieut. and adjt. J. Duval, 50th Madras N.I., to offic. as 2nd in com., v. Capt. Acton, placed at disposal of Govt. of Fort St. George, and Lieut. S. C. Montgomerie, 3rd M.N.I., do. du., to offic. as adjt. of batt., with effect from Aug. 16.

No. 976.—Punjab Irreg. Force—2nd Cav.—Asst. surg. G. Farrell, att. to 2nd Punjab inf., to med. ch., v. Asst. surg. Garden app. to another situation.

2nd Inf.—Asst. surg. S. C. Courtney, offic. in med. ch. of 5th inf., to med. ch., v. Asst. surg. Farrell.

No. 979.—With reference to the notification No. 7684, 4th inst., issued by the govt., N.W.P., the servs. of the underment. officers are placed respectively at the disposal of the C. in C. and of the govt. of Fort St. George:—

Lieut. J. L. Sawers, 37th N.I., 2nd in com. of the Jhansie divl. police batt.

Lieut. P. C. Dalmahey, 60th N.I., adj. of Humeerpore batt.

Lieut. P. P. L. Stafford, 34th Madras N.I., 2nd in com. of the Benares divl. police batt., and offic. comdnt. of Mirzapore batt.

Lieut. Minroy, of 36th Madras N.I., offic. adj. of Banda police batt.

No. 980.—Mr. R. D. Farrell to a 3rd class sub-ass. topographical survey with effect from Oct. 1, to fill a vacancy in the Hyderabad survey.

No. 981.—The following order, issued by the comr. of the prov. to the Nagpore irreg. force, is confirmed:—

Sept. 8.—No. 15.—Appg. Lieut. Burton, of H.M.'s 92st regt., to offic. as adj. of 1st inf. at Raipore, and directg. him to proc. and join without delay.

No. 982.—The underment. officer is permitted to proc. to Eur. on leave of abs., on m.c.

Capt. C. P. Lucas, 47th N.I., for 15 mos., old reg.

Foreign Dept., Fort William, Oct. 4.—Mr. G. B. Maconochie, asst. commissr., Oude, is appd. an assessor for the city and suburbs of Lucknow, and also to be a special assessor.

Oct. 5.—Maj. A. L. McMullin, late 23rd N.I., is appd. sec. asst. to the agent to the gov. gen. for Central India.

Lieut. W. G. Ward, 36th Madras N.I., is appd. asst. to the gen. superint. of operations for the suppress. of thuggee and dacoitee at Jubbulpore.

Lieut. Stainforth, asst. superint., is appd. to offic. as dist. superint. of police in Oude, dur. leave of Lieut. Hill, with effect from the 18th ult.

Lieut. Chalmers, H.M.'s 4th Eur. regt., received ch. of the cantonment jt. magy. of Lucknow on 27th June.

The following arrangts. are made in the rev. surv. dept.:—

Mr. W. A. Wilson, asst. rev. surv., is transf. from 2nd Nagpore div. to 2nd Lucknow div., Oude rev. surv.

Mr. W. Ellison, asst. rev. surv., is transf. from Chota Nagpore div. to 2nd div. Nagpore surv.

Mr. W. Ward, sub asst. surv., 4th class, is transf. from the Bundelkund div. to the 2nd Lucknow div., Oude surv.

Mr. W. Reilly, sub. asst. surv., 3rd class, is transf. from 1st Baiswarrah div. to 2nd Lucknow div., Oude surv.

Mr. C. Sheridan is appd. a sub. asst. surv., 3rd class, and posted to 2nd Lucknow div., Oude surv.

Financial Dept., Oct. 4.—Mr. L. C. Probyn, 1st asst. acct. gen., Bombay, to offic. as civ. aud., N.W.P.

Mr. D. B. Hodge, offic. 2nd asst. acct. gen., Bombay, to offic. as 1st asst. acct. gen., v. Mr. Probyn.

Mr. J. L. Hynes to offic. as 2nd asst. acct. gen., Bombay, v. Mr. Hodge.

Public Works Dept., Gen. Estab., Oct. 5.—Appointments:—

Engrs.—Capt. H. Hyde and F. S. Stanton, dep. consult. engr., railway dept., to be also ex-off. asst. secs. to govt. of Bengal, in public works dept., railway branch.

Capt. R. de Bourbel, dep. consult. engr., railway dept., to be also ex-off. asst. secy. to Govt. N.W.P., in public works dept., railway branch.

Mr. T. Moss, asst. to chief engr., N.W.P., to be also asst. secy. to Govt., N.W.P., in public works dept.

Lieut. D. J. P. Campbell, 7th M.N.I., is app. temp. asst. engr. of 1st cl., and posted to Mysore.

Military Dept., Oct. 4.—No. 983.—The servs. of the undermen. officers are placed at disp. of the foreign dept.:—

Lieut. Sir R. de L. St. George, bart., of art.

Lieut. W. J. Stewart, of art.

Oct. 5.—No. 984.—The undermen. officer is perm. to proc. to Europe, on leave, m.c.:—

Capt. and Brev. maj. E. Clerk, 4th Madras L.C., dep. comr. at Jhansi, for 15 mos., under new reg.

No. 985.—Mr. F. Adams is app. a 3rd class sub-ass. surv., Ganjam topographical survey, to fill an existing vacancy, with effect fr. 1st inst.

No. 986.—Serg. maj. G. Edmonds, formerly of the late 30th N.I., and recently att. to the Etawah levies, having much distinguished himself during the past disturbances in the Etawah district, having been especially recommended by his commanding officer, and being considered by the C. in C. to be eminently deserving of reward, the Rt. Hon. the Gov. gen. in Council, concurring in that opinion, is pleased to confer upon him the rank of ens. unatt., subject to the approval of the Rt. Hon. the Secy. of State for India.

No. 989.—The foll. promotions are made:—

15th N.I.—Capt. and brev. maj. J. W. Carnegie to be maj., fr. Sept. 30, v. Maj. and brev. lieut. col. G. J. Montgomery, dec.

15th N.I.—Lieut. C. T. O. Mayne to be capt., fr. Sept. 30, v. Maj. G. J. Montgomery, dec.

No. 991.—The foll. order, issued by the Govt. of Bombay, is confirmed:—

Dated Sept. 1.—No. 509.—Granting leave to Eur. on m.c. to Lieut. H. J. E. Teed, 23rd Madras N.I., 2nd in com. 3rd inf. Hyderabad conting., for 15 mo., under new reg.

No. 992.—Lieut. R. Onseley, 48th N.I., is permitted, at his own request, to resign his app. of act. sub asst. comy. gen.

No. 996.—The undermentioned officer is permitted to proceed to Europe, on leave, m.c.:—
Asst. surg. J. J. Halls, civ. asst. surg. of Nuddea, for 15 mos., under new regs.

No. 997.—The undermentioned officers have reported their return from England:—

Capt. G. S. Mackbean, 74th N.I., Dep. asst. comy. gen., Lieut. W. G. Davies, 71st N.I., asst. comr., Jung dist., on leave for 15 mos., from 23rd June, 1859. Lieut. C. H. Cantlor, 2nd Eur. Bengal fus., and Brev. surg. H. M. Greenhow, med. dep., date of arrival at Fort William, Sept. 29.

No. 998.—The undermentioned officer is permitted to proceed to Eur., on leave, m.c.

Ens. C. W. G. Perreau, g'n. list, inf., for 15 mos., under new regs.

No. 999.—H.M. has been pleased to appoint the undermentioned gentlemen to be cadets for the inf. in H.M.'s Indian mil. forces at presy. of Bengal. They are accordingly admitted into the service and prom. to the rank of ens. from the dates assigned to them in G.O. No. 939 of 18th ult.:—

Infantry.—Messrs. A. W. Bird and H. J. Peet, date of arrival at Fort William, Sept. 29, 1860.

BY THE LIEUT. GOVERNOR.

Sept. 18.—Mr. E. E. Lewis to the charge of the sub-div. of Damoorhoodah, and to exer. special powers of an asst. to a mag. in Nuddea.

Mr. H. L. Oliphant to the charge of sub-div. of Bongong, and to exer. powers in Nuddea, in add. to the powers he already exercises.

Mr. A. B. Falcon to the charge of the sub-div. of Jenida, and to exercise special powers of an asst. to a mag., and the powers of a dep. coll. in Jessore.

The following gentleman to be dep. mag. and dep. coll., and to exercise respectively the powers of a covenanted asst. to a mag.:—Mr. H. L. Jones, in Burdwan.

Leave of absence:—

Sept. 17.—Mr. T. C. Trotter, judge of Behar, for 6 weeks, of the new revised absentee rules, making over charge of his office to the addl. judge, Mr. Lantour.

Mr. C. J. Jackson, civil asst. surg. of Sarun, for 1 mo.

Sept. 18.—Mr. G. W. Battye, salt agent of Tumlook, for two and a-half mos., under new rules.

Mr. P. F. Bellow, civil asst. surg. of Mymensing, for 6 weeks, making over charge of the med. duties of the station to the native doctor.

Sept. 21.—Mr. A. S. Harrison, insp. of schools Behar div., for 2 mo. on m.c.

NEW SUB-DIVISION.

Sept. 18.—Notifications.—The Lieut. gov. has been pleased to sanction the formation of a sub-div. in the district of Jessore, to be called the sub-div. of Jenida, and composed of the foll. thannahs, with its hd. qrs. at Jenida, viz.:—
Jenida, Kaloopole, Kotchhandpore.

Sept. 20.—Mr. T. Warner has been app. by the Gov. of Trinidad to be emigration agent at Calcutta for that colony.

RIVER NAVIGATION.

Public Works Dept., Sept. 20.—Bengal notification.—It is hereby notified, for general information, that the Lieut. gov. of Bengal has sanctioned the adoption, from and after Nov. 1, 1860, of a revised schedule of rates of toll on the Nuddea rivers, in lieu of the rates now in force, which were published under date Aug. 28, 1857.

2. The system of measuring boats also, whereby the displacement or the part of the boat actually immersed in water is measured, which has for some time been tried experimentally on the Nuddea rivers, will be adopted permanently on those rivers from Nov. 1, 1860, exception being made only with respect to unladed or empty boats, on which tolls will continue to be levied as now, by the measurement or capacity of the entire boats.

3. The toll receipts during the past year amounted to Rs. 1,89,858, out of which Rs. 1,60,232 have been expended on the works connected with the navigation of the rivers.

In the Bhaugirutty the bar at the mouth was lowered 13 ft. 8 in. by the construction of spurs, bandels, &c., and the employ. on the same work of a steam gun-boat.

The channel of the river was improved over a distance of 160 miles, 45 of which were deepened from 2 to 12 feet. In effecting this, 100 miles of bandels and 40 miles of brushwood spurs have been constructed.

On the Mattabangah two large cut-offs were excavated 14,000 feet in length, with a view to straighten the channel, and restore to it the water carried off by the Pungassey river.

Besides this, there have been large improvements and repairs to the river banks, bunds, &c., and some removal of impediments by blasting.

[The schedule is omitted as not being of any public interest in this country.]

Sept. 28.—The foll. gentlemen to be assessors and deputy colls., under Act XXXII. of 1860:—

In Hooghly.—Messrs. J. R. B. Ross and J. DeCruze. In Shahabad.—Mr. L. DaBren.

Sept. 29.—Mr. T. P. Larkins to be sec. to local committee of public instruction at Bograh.

Oct. 1.—Mr. H. Nelson, offic. civ. and sess. judge of Sarun, to be civ. and sess. judge of that dist.

Mr. R. J. Richardson, offic. addit. judge of Sarun and Tirhoot, to be addit. judge of those dists.

Mr. C. T. Buckland to be civ. and sess. judge of Hooghly.

Mr. P. G. E. Taylor to be civ. and sess. judge of Burdwan.

Mr. G. C. Fletcher to be civ. and sess. judge of Bancoorah.

Mr. J. J. Ward, now on leave, to be civ. and sess. judge of Chittagong.

Mr. R. N. Shore, offic. civ. and sess. judge of Cuttack, to be civ. and sess. judge of that dist.

Mr. G. A. Pepper, mag. and coll. of Noacolly, to be a mag. and coll. of 1st grade.

Mr. H. Rose, offic. mag. and coll. of Sarun, to be a mag. and coll. of 1st grade.

Mr. W. M. Beaufort to be a mag. and coll. of 1st grade, but to cont. to offic. until further orders as civ. and sess. judge of Purneah.

Mr. H. L. Dampier to be a mag. and coll. of 1st grade, but to cont. to offic. until further orders as sec. to the board of revenue.

Mr. W. J. Herschel, offic. mag. and coll. of Nuddea, to be a mag. and coll. of second grade.

The Hon. A. Eden to be a mag. and coll. of second grade, but to continue to offic. until further orders as jun. sec. to board of revenue.

Mr. T. P. Larkins, offic. mag. and coll. of Bograh, to be a mag. and coll. of second grade.

Mr. H. Muspratt to be a mag. and coll. of second grade.

Mr. W. Le F. Robinson, offic. mag. and coll. of Purneah, to be a mag. and coll. of second grade.

Mr. H. H. Robinson, offic. mag. and coll. of Chumparun, to be a mag. and coll. of Chumparun.

Mr. R. J. Wigram to be mag. and coll. of Baraset, but to cont. to offic. until further orders as mag. and coll. of Jessore.

Mr. H. W. Alexander, now on leave, to be jt. mag. and dep. coll. of Patna.

Mr. H. Belfour to be jt. mag. and dep. coll. of Behar, but to cont. to offic. until further orders as coll. of Dinagepore.

Mr. J. S. Drummond, offic. jt. mag. and dep. coll. of Tirhoot, to be jt. mag. and dep. coll. of that dist.

Mr. C. J. Mackenzie to be jt. mag. and dep. coll. of Mymensing, but to cont. to offic. until further orders as mag. and coll. of Baraset.

Mr. J. H. Ravenshaw, now on leave, to be jt. mag. and dep. coll. of Dacca.

Mr. W. V. G. Taylor, to be jt. mag. and dep. coll. of Midnapore, and ex officio asst. to superint. of tributary mehals.

Mr. F. G. Millett to be a jt. mag. and dep. coll. of sec. grade.

Mr. E. D. Lockwood to be a jt. mag. and dep. coll. of sec. grade.

Mr. D. J. McNeile to be a jt. mag. and dep. coll. of sec. grade.

Mr. B. Wood to be dep. commissur. of Sonthal Purgunnahs.

Sept. 29.—With reference to the notific. dated Sept. 27, the following collectors are appd. to be collectors of the first grade:—
Messrs. F. A. E. Dalrymple, R. C. Raikes, A. A. Swinton, and G. Bright.

Oct. 2.—The following superints. of salt chowkeys are prom.:—

Mr. F. Crank, of Barripore, to the 1st class.

Mr. W. H. Terraneau, of the western div., to 2nd class.

Mr. J. S. Rochfort, of Noacolly, to 3rd class.

Oct. 3.—Mr. F. H. Elphinstone, dep. mag. and dep. coll. of Jessore, is transf. to Midnapore, in which dist. he will exercise the powers of a covenanted asst. to a mag.

Oct. 4.—Mr. G. B. Hampton to be coll. of stamps in Calcutta.

Mr. J. W. Furrell to be a member of the local committee of public instruction at Sarun.

The following moonsiffs are vested with the powers of a dep. coll. in districts named:—

Mr. J. Baptist, of Meherpore, Mr. L. W. Hutchinson, of Han-kaly, Bongong, in Nuddea.

Oct. 5.—The following gentlemen appl. assessors, to be also dep. colls. under that Act, viz.:—

Mr. W. Heysham, in the suburbs of Calcutta.

Mr. E. B. Baker, in Howrah.

Mr. J. R. Angus, in Bancoorah.

Oct. 3.—Mr. H. Nelson, jud. of Sarun, has leave for 1 mo., of the new revised absentee rules.

BY THE LIEUT. GOVERNOR, N.W.P.

Judicial Dept., Camp Nynee Tal, Sept. 6.—Priv. leave for 1 mo. is granted to Capt. C. Warde, canteenment jt. mag. of Agra, fr. date on which he may avail himself of same.

Leave for 15 days is granted to Mr. S. Thornton, dep. coll. of Cawnpore, fr. 15th ult.

Gen. Dept., Sept. 4.—The priv. leave for 1 mo. granted by the Lord Bishop of Calcutta to Rev. T. W. Shaw, chapl. of Cawnpore, fr. date on which he may avail himself of same, is confirmed.

Mil. Dept., Sept. 14.—The serv. of Capt. G. F. Pearson, comdt. of batt. of mil. police at Seonee, are placed at disp. of Govt. N.W.P. in public works dept.

Mr. W. Braybrooke, the adjt., will relieve Capt. G. F. Pearson, and take temp. ch. of the batt., in add. to his other du., till fur. ord.

Judicial Dept., Sept. 1.—Mr. F. B. Pearson, judge of Cawnpore, who has been deputed on spec. du., will make over ch. of current duties of his office to principal sudder ameen.

Sept. 7.—Dr. J. Wise, 3rd tr. 3rd brig. horse art., officiated as civ. asst. surg. of Muttra dur. abs. on leave of Dr. Wylie, or fr. May 22 to June 16 inclu.

Sept. 14.—Mr. H. M. Chase officiated as mag. and coll. of Mynpoorie fr. June 8 to July 3.

Mr. H. M. Chase will offic. as mag. and coll. of Mynpoorie fr. July 28.

Sept. 17.—Priv. leave of abs. for 1 mo. is granted to Dr. C. T. Paske, civ. asst. surg. of Saharunpore, fr. date on which he may avail himself of same.

Rev. Dept., Sept. 11.—Mr. J. E. Casabon is app. an overseer of Gurhwal forests, consequent on the death of Mr. P. Stephens, on a salary of Rs. 200 per mensem.

Sept. 13.—Mr. D. A. Cameron, dep. coll. and dep. mag. of Seonee, is transf. to district of Nursingpore.

Sept. 17.—Leave for 6 mo. on m.c. is granted to Mr. G. M. Jones, coll. of customs, Jhansie div., fr. July 26.

Gen. Dept., Sept. 15.—Asst. surg. J. A. Currie, superint. of vaccination at Agra, will afford med. aid to 8th tr. 11th brig. roy. art. at that station, in add. to his other du.

Public Works Dept., Sept. 8.—Messrs. J. Hair and W. W. Cutcheth, civ. engrs., asst. engrs. 2nd cl., have passed exam. in colloq. knowledge of Hindoostanee lang., as presc. by rules of public works dept.

Mily. Dept., Camp Nynee Tal, Sept. 19.—Appointment:—Capt. E. B. Clay, offic. comdt. of Saugor mily. police batt., is appd. to be comdt. of Seonee mily. police batt., v. Capt. G. F. Pearson.

Capt. E. B. Clay will continue to offic. at Saugor until further orders.

Judicial Dept., Camp Nynee Tal, Sept. 17.—Mr. F. M. Lind, mag. and coll. of Benares, rep. his ret. to India on board the str. Malta on the 25th ult.

Sept. 22.—Maj. E. Clerk, dep. comr. of Jhansie, is granted the usual prep. leave, to enable him to proc. to pres., with a view of applying for furl., on m.c., to Eur.

Sept. 24.—Mr. W. B. Joyce, dep. coll. and dep. mag. of Muttra, is vested with full powers of a joint mag. and dep. coll.

Revenue Dept., Camp Nynee Tal, Sept. 14.—The foll. officers are hereby app. to be special assessors, viz.:—

Capt. F. C. Tombs, dep. paymr. of the Benares circle.

Maj. P. J. Edgell, dep. paymr. of the Cawnpore circle.

Capt. A. Elderton, dep. paymr. of the Meerut circle.

THE NEW COLLECTORS.

Sept. 18.—The Hon. the Lieut. gov., N.W.P., is pleased to app. all colls. of land revenue, and other officers exercising the functions of a coll. of land revenue, in the provinces and districts under the authority of the Govt. of the N.W.P., to be ex-officio "Collectors of Stamp Revenue," in their respective districts.

It is further notified that the general superintendence of the stamp revenue will, as heretofore, continue to be vested in the Sudder Board of Revenue, N.W.P.

Sept. 20.—Lieut. A. D. Vanrenen, rev. surveyor in Bundelcund, is granted priv. leave for 1 mo., from the date on which he may avail himself of the same.

PRIVILEGE LEAVE.

Financial Dept., Camp Nynee Tal, Sept. 20.—The following letter from the secretary to the Government of India, in the financial department, to the address of the civil auditor at Bombay, No. 7,727, dated Aug. 17, 1860, is published for general information:—

Sir,—In reply to your letter, No. 790, dated 28th ult., I am directed to state that the views expressed by you in respect to the grant of an instalment of privilege leave, after the first six months of an officer's service under Government, appear to the Governor-general in Council to be erroneous.

It is clear from the general bearing of the rules noted below*, which treat of cumulative leave for two or three months, that no privilege leave, not even for a day, can be granted until an officer, either in the Covenanted or the Uncovenanted Civil Service has earned it by being at his post for eleven months.

* Financial notification, dated June 27, 1857, No. 25. Financial resolution, dated June 20, 1856. Financial resolution of August 29, 1856. Section XII. of the Covenanted Civil Absentee Rules, dated June 8, 1855.

When he has been at his post for eleven months, the Government may, if convenient, give him one month's leave, either at one time or by instalments, but there is nothing in the provisions of the rules quoted which seems to permit of any leave being granted, until eleven months' service has been completed.

Public Works Dep., Railway Branch, Allahabad, Sept. 21.—Capt. G. F. Pearson, 33rd Madras N.I., is app. to be supdt. of forests in the Jubbulpore division.

BY THE LIEUT. GOVERNOR, PUNJAB.

Public Works Dept., No. 1,681, dated Sept. 10.—Leave:—Mr. T. A. Wilson, exec. engr., 1st div., Lahore and Peshawar road, has 20 days' privilege leave, from the date of his availing himself thereof.

No. 327.—The brig. ord., dated July 31, by Brigdr. T. J. Galloway, comdg. Peshawar district, directing Asst. surg. J. M. Fleming to rec. med. ch. of 1st regt. Punjab cav., in room of Asst. surg. D. B. Daly, detained at Murree by sickness, is confirmed.

Sept. 14.—No. 1,708.—Leave:—Capt. H. E. Quin, prob. asst. engr., Lahore and Peshawar road, has 1 mo.'s ext. leave granted him, per Punjab Gazette of Aug. 1.

No. 1,711.—Capt. J. H. Kees, officg. exec. engr., Kohat div., public works, has 4 mos.' leave, on m.c., from date of his availing himself thereof.

Gen. Dept., Sept. 15.—No. 2,366.—Transfers:—Mr. G. Knox, asst. commr., from Kangra to Jullunder district.

No. 2,367.—Mr. D. Wood, asst. commr., from Simla to Delhi district.

No. 2,368.—Mr. J. Kitchen, extra asst. commr., fr. Goorgaon to Leia district.

Lahore, Sept. 15.—No. 376.—The regtl. order, dated July 29, by Lieut. A. U. F. Ruxton, comdg. 3rd Punjab inf., directing Lieut. J. MacNair, do. du. officer, to offic. as adjt., in add. to his other du., from July 29, in room of Lieut. G. A. Way, on leave, is confirmed.

Public Works Dept., Sept. 18.—No. 1,736.—Mr. W. Purdon, exec. engr., Punjab salt mines, ret. fr. furl. to Eur., on m.c., has 2 mos.' leave, to enable him to rejoin his appt.

Gen. Dept., Sept. 19.—No. 2,101.—Lieut. R. G. Sandeman, asst. commr., Mooltan, has 3 mos.' gen. leave, from the date of his availing himself thereof.

No. 2,408.—Mr. C. M. Burton, extra asst. commr. at Hooshiarpore, has 1 mo.'s leave, with effect fr. the 22nd inst., or such date as he may avail himself of the same.

No. 2,401.—Postings:—Mr. H. E. Jacomb, asst. commr., has been posted to the Gojranwalla district.

No. 2,402.—Mr. H. Burra, asst. commr., has been posted to the Hooshiarpore district.

Public Works Dept., Sept. 20.—No. 1,747.—Postings:—

Mr. J. H. Lyons, prob. asst. engr. to the 7th div. Grand Trunk Road.

Mr. A. Byrne, prob. asst. engr., to the Lower Sirhind div. of public works.

Mr. J. W. Wright, prob. asst. engr., to the 8th div. Grand Trunk Road.

Gen. Dept., Sept. 22.—No. 2,430.—Transfer:—Mr. C. E. Bernard, asst. commr., from Delhi to Simla district.

Lahore, Sept. 19.—No. 378.—In continuation of Punjab ord., No. 407, dated Dec. 30, 1859, Lieut. H. S. Jarrett will continue to conduct the du. of do. du. officer, in add. to those of officg. adjt. 3rd Punjab cav. This order to have effect from Dec. 5, 1859.

No. 379.—Lieut. E. C. Codrington, att. to the 25th or Huzara Goorkah batt., is app. to offic. as adjt. of 4th Sikh inf., dur. period Lieut. and adjt. G. B. Staunforth may offic. as 2nd in comm.

No. 380.—Leave of absence:—Lieut. H. L. C. Barnard, adjt., Huzara Goorkah batt., is perm. to proc. to Cashmere on 60 days' priv. leave, with effect from the date on which he may avail himself of it.

No. 381.—The district order, dated June 7, by Maj. L. B. Jones, comdg. Dera Ismael Khan frontier and district, appg. Ens. S. W. Bell, H. M. 81st regt., to perform the du. of station staff officer, consequent on dep. on du. of Lieut. H. S. Jarrett, 3rd Punjab cav., is confirmed.

Sept. 20.—No. 383.—Leave of absence:—Capt. T. E. Hughes, of art., comdt. No. 3 Punjab lt. field batt., for 3 mo., from such date as he may avail himself of it, to Bombay, on m.c., prep. to furl. to Eur., under new rules.

CAMELS.

Sept. 22.—No. 384.—The allowance of fifty camels to each batt. of the milly. police is from this date reduced to thirty. Officers will not purchase any camels until the number is reduced as above, reduction to be effected by casualties. Carriage for police purposes required more than twenty miles from hd. qrs. may be billed for; but officers will be expected to make the best arrangements possible that economy is observed.

BY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF.

Adj. Gen.'s Office, Simla, Sept. 8.—Capt. H. T. Pollock, late 50th N.I., is directed to do genl. duty in Sirhind div.

The app. of Lieut. G. D. Crawford, late 18th N.I., to do du. with 1st Assam L.I. batt., announced in G. O. of June 15 last, is cane. at his own request.

Lieut. E. A. Trevor, Bengal engrs., is app. to do du. with sappers and miners, at Koorkee, to join.

Leave of absence:—
18th N.I.—Lieut. W. B. Barwell (adjt. Rohilkund's horse), fr. Sept. 1 to Dec. 1, to Nynce Tal, on m.c.

Sept. 11.—Lieut. E. B. Wimberley, 3rd Eur. regt., is to be considered as borne on the rolls of his regt. as adjt., with effect fr. Feb. 2.

Leave of absence:—
Brigade Staff.—Capt. J. Ross (brigade maj., Scal-kote), fr. Sept. 8 to Oct. 15, in ext. of priv. leave, to remain at Murree.

Engineers.—Lieut. T. C. Manderson, fr. June 30 to July 27, in ext. of priv. leave, to remain at Simla, on m.c.

Sept. 12.—Ens. A. W. Graham, general list, passed prescribed colloq. exam. on 29th ult.

EAST INDIAN REGIMENT.

Sept. 13.—With reference to G. O. dated Sept. 26, 1859, fixing the establishment of officers for the East Indian regiment, it is notified that the Government have been pleased to sanction four instead of three "doing duty" officers for that regiment.

Brev. col. F. B. Boileau, 6th batt. Bengal art., is perm. to visit presy., prep. to furl. to Europe, on the leave granted him in G. O. of Feb. 18 last.

Leave of absence:—
Medical Dept.—Surg. J. Allan, F.R.C.S., fr. Sept. 1 to Nov. 30, to Barrackpore, on m.c.

Sept. 15.—With the sanction of Govt., and under the provisions of G. O. No. 1,113, dated Sept. 1, 1857, Lieut. J. Chalmers, of the late 39th N.I., is permitted to count as serv. for retiring pension the leave granted to him fr. May 1 to Nov. 1, 1858.

Lieut. F. A. Bertie, late 74th N.I., offic. adjt. of Lahore lt. horse, is confirmed in that appt.

Ens. A. J. T. Welchman, general list, do. du. with 1st Eur. Ben. fus., is app. to do du. with 5th Eur. inf., and directed to join.

Orders confirmed:—
Peshawar div. order, dated June 26 last, appg. Lieut. G. Atkins, 21st N.I., to com. of Fort Shub-kudhur, v. Capt. B. Soady, app. 2nd in com. of 13th Punjab inf.

By Lieut. H. Chapman, 2nd in com. of Alexander's horse, dated 17th ult., assu. com. of corps from Lieut. H. M. Repton, who reverts to his duties as adjt., and directing that officer to offic. also as 2nd in com.

By Capt. W. J. Ward, comdg. 14th Punjab inf., dated 1st inst., assu. ch. of the adjt.'s office, consequent on Lieut. J. Trevelyan proc. on leave, no other officer being present with the corps.

Presy. div. order, dated 2nd inst., placing the serv. of Asst. surg. T. G. Skardon at disp. of dep. insp. gen. of hospitals at Agra.

Sealkote station order, dated 3rd inst., app. Capt. F. A. Champion, 52nd L.I., to offic. as maj. of brig., in add. to his duties of interp. dur. abs. on leave of Capt. J. Ross.

Sept. 17.—Orders confirmed:—
Julpigoree station order, dated June 23, reapp. Lieut. P. C. Rynd, 73rd N.I., to act as station staff, with effect fr. Nov. 8.

By Lieut. A. G. Owen, com. Rohilkund horse, dated 1st inst., assu. ch. of adjt.'s office, fr. 31st ult., v. Lieut. W. B. Barwell, proc. on leave, on m.c.

Leave of absence:—
3rd Comp. 5th Batt. Art.—Capt. A. Angelo, fr. July 23 to Nov. 15, to Mussoorie.

3rd Eur. L.C.—Lieut. G. F. Smith (adjt. 4th Sikh cav.), fr. Sept. 26 to Nov. 25, to Calcutta, on m.c.

Late 12th N.I.—Lieut. A. G. Remington (late comdt. Banda police batt.), fr. Sept. 1 to Nov. 30, to Calcutta, m.c. This cancels the leave granted to him in G. O. Aug. 6.

Sept. 18.—Ens. C. N. Garbett, att. to 1st Eur. Bengal fus., is perm. to do du. with 2nd batt. rifle brig., and directed to join.

OCCUPATION OF BUNGALOWS.

Sept. 19.—It having been brought to the notice of the C. in C. that officers comdg. stations frequently direct the occupation of private bungalows on account of Govt., for the use of troops, without consulting or intimating their intention to the dept. of public works, which has to arrange for the payment of rent, H.E. directs that for the future, whenever officers comdg. stations have occasion to rent houses for the use of troops, they shall do so in communication with the exec. engr. of the station.

The C. in C. is pleased to make the following appointments:—
Ramgurbh Irreg. Cav.—Lieut. H. C. Collier, of the 8th hussars, to be 2nd in com., and directed to join.

Shekhawattoe Batt.—Capt. W. R. Forster, unatt., to be comdt., v. Col. H. Forster, who resgs.
Lieut. T. Taylor, late 14th N.I., to be 2nd in com. v. Capt. W. R. Forster.

Arracan Batt.—Capt. T. C. Hamilton, actg. 2nd in com., v. Capt. J. M. Evans, whose servs. are required with his regt., the 6th Bengal Eur. inf.

Sept. 20.—The following officers were declared by the board of examiners at Fort William, on the 3rd inst., to have passed in Hindoostanee:—

Lieuts. W. J. Stewart, Bengal art.; A. Goldney, of the late 50th N.I.; H. L. Hawkins, of the late 30th N.I.; and W. Wroughton, of the late 54th N.I.; Ens. H. A. Plowden, of the late 51st N.I.

The Lahore div. order, dated 30th of June last, authorising Cor. F. W. Macmullen, gen. list, to proc. to Calcutta, on duty, is, with sanc. of Govt., conf.

Leave of absence:—
Late 37th N.I.—Brev. maj. J. Barrett, from 15th Sept. to 15th March, 1861, in ext., to remain in the hills north of Deyrah, on m.c.

Orders confirmed:—
By Maj. G. W. M. Hall, com. the 4th irreg. cav., dated Sept. 12, 1859, app. Lieut. R. A. Chadwick, 5th Madras N.I., to act as 2nd in com.

By Capt. H. R. Drew, com. the Kamroop regt., dated 1st inst., directing Capt. E. H. C. Wintie, 2nd in com., to assume ch. of adjt.'s office.

Leave of abs.:—Late 61st N.I.—Lieut. N. Lewis, do. du. with 21st P.I., from Sept. 1 to Oct. 15, to proc. to presy., for an exam. in the native languages.

Lieut. col. J. M. Drake, com. of the recruit depot at Barrackpore, is rem. fr. the late 46th to the 58th N.I., and directed to join.

Capt. H. Skinner, unatt. list, is per. to continue to do du. with Landour depot until further orders.

Asst. surg. A. R. Brodie passed prescribed colloq. exam. on 15th inst.

The undermentioned officers passed the prescribed colloq. exam. on the dates specified opposite their respective names:—

Lieut. W. G. Maitland, late 39th N.I., asst. surg. J. M. Camenson, med. dept., and I. Newton, med. dept., July 16 last.

Lieut. E. Kitson, late 64th N.I., July 18 last.

Lieut. W. S. A. Lockhart, 44th N.I., 3rd inst.

Ens. R. Gray, of H.M.'s 97th foot, is appd. to do du. with 4th Sikh irreg. cav., and directed to join. This cancels the G.O. of 18th ult., p. 408, appg. Ens. Gray to do du. with the 1st irreg. cav.

Leave of absence:—
Brig. Staff.—Lieut. J. F. Gully (Brig. Maj. Saugor), from Sept. 1 to Oct. 16, to Calcutta, prep. to furl. to Eur., on m.c.

43rd Regt. N.I.—Capt. T. E. B. Lees (2nd in com. 2nd Assam, L.I.), for 4 mos., from Sept. 2, on m.c.

Med. Dept.—Surg. Maj. W. Shillito, from Nov. 1 to Feb. 1, 1861, in ext., to Calcutta, prep. to retiring from the service.

GOOD CONDUCT PAY.

Adj. Gen.'s Office, Simla, Sept. 22.—In continuation of G.O. dated March 16 last, it is notified for guidance that soldiers who may re-enlist in H.M.'s Indian forces within six months from the date of their discharge from the British army, will be allowed to count their previous service towards good conduct pay and other advantages, provided they declare their previous service on re-enlistment.

Lieut. col. J. M. Drake, comdt. of recruit depot at Barrackpore, is removed fr. late 46th to 58th N.I., and directed to join.

Capt. H. Skinner, unatt. list, is perm. to continue to do du. with Landour depot.

Asst. surg. A. R. Brodie passed presc. colloq. exam. on 15th inst.

QUEEN'S TROOPS.

Adj. Gen.'s Office, H.M.'s British Forces, Head Qrs., Calcutta, Sept. 15.—Head Qrs., Calcutta, Sept. 10.—Capt. H. Wood, 3rd batt., rifle brig., passed his exam. in the vernacular at Agra on Aug. 23.

CONVEYANCE OF MILITARY STORES.

It having been brought to the notice of the C. in C. that extra expense is entailed on the soldier by the greater portion of corps of H.M.'s British forces serving in this presy. employing private agents for the purpose of receiving, landing, and forwarding qmrs. stores and regtl. necessities, when for this express object a mil. store dept. has been formed by gov., officers comdg. regts. will arrange that in future all such necessities shall be consigned to the military store-keeper, Calcutta, to be forwarded through him to regtl. head qrs.

Asst. surg. Allanby, having been appd. to 95th foot, the exchange between that officer and asst. surg. Spence, as announced in G.O. No. 93, of July 9, is hereby cane.

The Gen. C. in C. has been pleased to approve of the following appts. of musketry instructors:—

87th Foot.—Capt. E. R. B. Barnes, appt. provisional instructor, v. Lieut. Hawkes, appt. adj.

88th Foot.—Corp. N. Griles, to act as serg. instruo., pending arr. of 3rd class Serg. Robertson, who was ordered, in Feb. last, to be posted to the regt. in place of Shaw, reduced.

Official intimation has been received that the underment. officers of the 20th foot have been posted to batts. as follows:—

Capt. J. H. H. St. John, 2nd batt.; Lieut. C. G. Gibaut, 1st batt.; and of Lieut. Hon. A. E. P. Vereker, being removed from 1st to 2nd batt., v. Gibaut, retained in the first.

Leave of absence:—

7th Hussars.—Brev. Lieut. col. Sir W. Russell, Bart., from Sept. 30, 1860, to March 31, 1861.

Royal Art.—Lieut. col. Hon. D. M. Fraser, in extn., from Aug. 1, 1860, to Jan. 31, 1861, m.c.; Lieut. H. A. Tracy, in extn., from Aug. 1, 1860, to Nov. 1, 1861, m.c.

At the recommendation of the officer in charge of inspec. gen's office, the underment. med. officers will proc. immediately to join their respective corps, their servs. being urgently required:—

13th Foot.—Asst. surg. Clark, M.D., Goruckpore.

23rd Foot.—Asst. surg. Turton, Lucknow.

PURCHASING DISCHARGE FROM THE RANKS.

Sept. 5.—The following soldiers have obtained their discharge from H.M.'s serv., on payment of the sums specified opposite their names:—

6th Drags.—Serg. R. Hughes, £20; Priv. J. Millar, £15.

19th Foot, 1st batt.—Serg. W. Kelly, £18.

88th Foot.—Priv. T. Dennehy, £20; Priv. J. Bann, £20; Priv. S. Byrns, £20; Priv. W. O'Connor, £20.

93rd Foot.—Serg. W. Coventry, £18; Priv. J. McDonald, £20.

97th Foot.—Priv. J. Gribben, £5.

No. 6 batt., 14th brig. R.A.—Gun. W. Wakeland, £25.

No. 6 batt., 14th brig. R.A.—Corp. W. Conway, £25.

No. 1 batt., 14th brig. R.A.—Corp. G. F. Bell, £25.

6th Drags.—Private S. Brown, £30.

The following order is confirmed:—

By H.E. Lieut. gen. Sir P. Grant:—

Granting leave to Asst. surg. H. Johnson, 17th lancers, and Asst. surg. Marshall, 91st foot, to England, under new rules, m.c.

Leaves of absence:—

19th Foot.—Capt. R. Martin, to England, under new rules, m.c.

38th Foot.—Lieut. A. M. Grote, to England, under new rules, m.c.

Sept. 17.—Lieut. W. P. Brown, 1st batt. 7th fus., do. du. with 11th Punjab inf., has been perm. by the gen. officer comdg. the forces in China, to proc. to England, on m.c., on 5th Aug. last.

The following order is conf., subject to approval by H.R.H. the Gen. C. in C.:—

By the officer comdg. 48th foot:—

Dated Aug. 28, 1860.—Appg. Serg. J. Roche to act as 3rd class serg. instr. of musketry, from 23rd Aug., 1860, v. Dalton.

Leaves of absence:—

38th Foot.—Surg. D. W. Lawlor, to England, under new rules, m.c.

Sept. 18.—Orders confirmed:—

By the gen. officer comdg. Sirhind div.:—

Dated June 7.—Directing Asst. surg. Russell, 27th foot, to proc. to Subathoo in med. ch. of detach. 2nd rifle brig., and return from Kalka, his servs. being urgently required with his regt.

By the officer comdg. 98th foot:—

Dated Aug. 6.—Directing Capt. Batt to ass. dus. of interp. to the corps on dep. of Capt. Stroud.

Leave of absence:—

91st Foot.—Capt. W. R. D'Eyre, to England, for 18 mo., from date of embarkation, under new rules.

MUSKETRY INSTRUCTION.

The following circular memorandum is published for information and guidance:—

Circular Memorandum.

Horse Guards, S.W., July 3, 1860.

General No. 47.—1st Feb., 1859.

H.R.H. the Gen. C. in C. desires that all officers of infantry shall have in their possession a copy of the latest edition of the regulations for conducting the musketry instruction of the army, which they are to produce at half-yearly inspections.

By command,

(Signed) Y. SCARLETT.

INSTRUCTORS OF MUSKETRY.

Sept. 17.—The following extracts from letters from school of musketry, Hythe, July 20, are published for information:—

Serg. instructors cannot be posted to cav. regts. from the corps of instructors.

Officers comdg. regts. in India should communicate with the officers comdg. their depots, with a view to select officers and non-commissioned officers to send to Hythe who will be of use on joining the hd. qrs. of the corps.

Men decidedly blind or suffering from chronic disease of the eye should be brought forward for discharge.

Men blind of right eye should be taught to shoot and drill from left shoulder.

No man to be exempt from instruction if not brought forward as an invalid.

Sept. 25.—At the recommendation of Col. Sir G. Barker, Lieut. Ford, No. 3 batty. 14th brig., royal art., will be temp. att. to 11th brig. for du. with No. 1 batty. at Fyzabad.

The leave granted to Lieut. col. W. H. Kirby, 94th foot, of 14th May last, is cancl. at his own request.

The following order is conf., subject to the approval of H.R.H. the Gen. C. in C.:—

By the officer comdg. 70th foot:—

Dated Sept. 11.—Appg. Serg. P. Dowd to act as 3rd class serg. instr. of musketry, from 5th inst., v. Bibby, reduced.

The following order is conf.:—

By H.E. Lieut. gen. Sir W. R. Mansfield:—

Granting leave to Asst. surg. C. E. LeFebure, 64th foot, to England, under new rules, m.c.

Leave of absence.—13th L.I.—Surg. Jackson, to England, under new rules, m.c.

Surg. W. W. Poole, 54th foot, in med. ch. of 75th foot, will proc. to join his own corps.

Staff surg. Clarke, in med. ch. of 54th foot, on being relieved by Surg. Poole, will proc. to Allahabad and ass. med. ch. of 75th foot.

Sept. 20.—The C. in C. in India is pleased to make the following promotions and appointments until H.M.'s pleasure shall be known:—

56th Foot.—Lieut. J. W. Huskisson, to be adjt., v. Williams, prom., Aug. 21.

93rd Foot.—Brev. maj. W. G. A. Middleton, to be maj., by purch., v. Cornwall, who ret., Sept. 18.

Lieut. A. C. Nightingale, to be capt., by purch., v. Middleton, prom., Sept. 18.

Ens. C. D. Potts, to be lieut., by purch., v. Nightingale, prom., Sept. 18.

Orders confirmed:—

By Lieut. gen. Sir W. R. Mansfield, K.C.B.:—

Granting ext. of leave to Capt. M. Fanning, 64th foot, to Dec. 15.

Confirming the following order, subject to the approval of H.R.H. the Gen. C. in C.:—

By the officer comdg. 28th foot:—

Dated Aug. 28.—App. No. 2,742 Serg. G. Morris to act as 3rd class serg. instr. of musketry, fr. Aug. 15.

By the gen. officer com. Sirhind div.:—

Dated Aug. 29.—Directing Lieut. R. E. Brookes, 46th foot, to rejoin his corps at Jullundur by dak, at the public expense, on making over charge of convalescents at Dughshai.

Leaves of absence:—

24th Foot.—Lieut. G. Scott, to rem. at presy. till Nov. 18, on m.c.

48th Foot.—Lieut. G. N. R. Goddard, to Nynee Tal, fr. Sept. 3, 1860, to Jan. 12, 1861, on m.c.

54th Foot.—Asst. surg. G. Youell to Calcutta m.c.

75th Foot.—Maj. D. F. Chambers, paymr., to Calcutta, fr. Aug. 21 to Oct. 21, m.c.

88th Foot.—Lieut. E. A. Percival to Simla, fr. Aug. 24 to Oct. 15, m.c.

Sept. 27.—Orders confirmed:—

By the officer comdg. at Jhelum:—

Aug. 30.—Directg. the dep. postm. to provide a seat in the mail cart for Lieut. M. Taylor, 93rd Highlanders, from Jhelum to Rawul Pindee, proceeding as evidence on a general court-martial.

By the officers comdg. 81st foot:—

Sept. 6.—Appg. Capt. Chichester to act as interp. to the corps, from 1st inst.

Leave of absence:—

Rifle Brig.—Lieut. G. L. Austin, to England, under new rules, from Oct. 1 to March 31, 1862.

At the recommendation of the officer in charge of inspec. gen's office, Asst. surg. T. Hession, H.M.'s 70th foot, will proc. without delay, by Dak, to join his regt. at Allahabad.

Sept. 28.—With the sanction of Govt. the foll. officers are per. to remain for another season at the Thomason college:—

20th Foot, 1st batt.—Lieut. G. R. Gibbs.

79th Foot.—Capt. W. H. Mackesey.

The foll. order is conf.—By H.E. Lieut. gen. Sir W. R. Mansfield, granting leave to the foll. officers to England, under new rules, m.c.:—

33rd Foot.—Brev. maj. F. S. Vacher.

46th Foot.—Lieut. C. J. Burgess.

66th Foot.—Capt. W. G. Margesson.

Leave of absence:—

38th Foot.—Lieut. W. Hame, to England, under new rules, for 18 mo., from date of quitting the regt.

79th Foot.—Lieut. S. G. Jones, in ext., to Oct. 14, for exam. in native languages.

92nd Foot.—Lieut. W. Kilvert and Ens. W. G. Hicks to Calcutta, m.c.

Sept. 26.—The C. in C. in India is pleased to make the foll. appoints., until H.M.'s pleasure shall be known:—

24th Foot.—Lieut. R. P. O. P. Lord Louth, fr. 79th foot, to be lieut., v. Birch, who exch., Sept. 25.

79th Foot.—Lieut. A. J. C. Birch, fr. 24th foot, to be lieut., v. Lord Louth, who exch., Sept. 25.

INSPECTION REPORTS.

H.E. the C. in C. having had before him the half-yearly inspection reports of H.M.'s British regiments in India, finds it necessary to remark upon the very meagre replies of several of the inspecting officers to the questions in the confidential reports, as well as the absence of that information which should be afforded under the head of "General Observations."

Under the latter should be mentioned, in addition to remarks on the general efficiency of the regiment, the names of any officers who evince a marked knowledge of their professional duties and zeal in performing them, as well as of those who have not given proof of the same good dispositions.

Sir Hugh Rose's great wish is to advance promising officers, and it is through the medium of the "General Observations" that he should be informed of their merits. If this information is not accorded, he is unable to do justice to them and to the rights of the service; and trusts that, at future inspections, the greatest attention may be paid to this important duty.

The reports from the Madras Presidency are particularly full and clear.

In G.O. No. 119, dated Aug. 22, officers passed in Hindoostanee, for Lieut. H. F. Harris, read Lieut. W. F. V. Harris, 71st foot.

The following orders are conf.:—

By H.E. Lieut. gen. Sir W. R. Mansfield:—

Granting leave to Asst. surg. E. B. Kearney, 4th foot, to England, under new rules, m.c.

Granting leave to Col. Browne, R.A., to England, under new rules, for 6 mo., from date of embarkation.

By the officer comdg. 71st foot:—

Dated Sept. 22.—Appg. Lieut. W. F. B. Harris, interp. to the corps.

Leaves of absence:—

Royal Art.—Capt. F. C. W. Griffin, in ext. of priv. leave, from 12th Oct. to 10th Nov.

54th Foot.—Brev. maj. P. W. Gillum, in ext., from 6th Oct. to 6th Feb., 1861, to remain in England.

81st Foot.—Lieut. F. K. Fitzroy, to Murree, from date of leaving the regt. to 31st Oct., 1860, on m.c.

82nd Foot.—Capt. R. Maule, to Nynee Tal, from 1st May to 31st Oct., 1860, on m.c.

82nd Foot.—Lieut. R. Millor, to Mussoorie, from 10th July to 15th Oct., on m.c.

99th Foot.—Paymr. C. S. Thomas, to England, under new rules, m.c., with effect from 2nd May, 1860.

Clothing.

Adj. Gen.'s Office, Simla, Sept. 24.—It appearing to Govt. very desirable to make the present stock of clothing of the Bengal army last, if possible, till the 31st Dec., 1861, officers commanding European and native regts. of H.M.'s Indian army are requested to forward immediately, direct to the asst. adjt. gen. of the army at Simla, numerical returns showing the number and description of men of their corps whose clothes is likely to remain in a serviceable condition till the date above specified; also the number and description of those the renewal of whose clothing will be absolutely necessary at the usual period, with a view to arrangements being made with the clothing department for the issue of compensation to the former, and new clothing to the latter.

Military Waggon.

Under instructions from Govt., H.E. the C. in C. is pleased to direct that the extra or full service proportion of waggons shall at all times remain attached to troops and field batteries of the Royal and Bengal art.; and that the cattle kept up for their draught may be left under charge of the commissariat for general and departmental duties, but ready for ordnance purposes whenever required in the field or camp.

The Appointment of Tehseeldars (Punjab).

General Dept., No. 2,341, dated 11th Sept.—Notification.—The following rules, suggested by the officiating financial commissioner, defining the powers and duties of tehseeldars, are prescribed by the hon. the Lieut. gov. for future observance:—

The appointment and dismissal of tehseeldars are matters of grave importance, demanding the most careful consideration on the part of the superior authorities.

It will rest with the commissioner of the division to propose a fit person for the appointment to the office of tehseeldar. The confirmation of the financial commissioner will be necessary to such appointments, and the opinion of the judicial commissioner will be previously taken regarding the judicial qualifications of the nominee. Appointments to the office of tehseeldar will be notified in the Gazette.

In the financial commissioner's office will be kept registers of all applicants for tehseeldars, with their certificates, and a register showing the character of every tehseeldar as certified in the annual reports, or abridged from the district character books.

It will not be competent for the deputy commissioner to put a tehseldar on his trial for offences, nor to punish him by fine, suspension, or removal, without previously obtaining the assent of the commissioner; and the commissioner's order will be subject to appeal, in the revenue department to the financial, in the police and judicial departments to the judicial commissioner.

Tehseldars will be divided into three classes:—

The first class will have—

1stly. Full powers to try cases in Appendix A.

2ndly. Full powers in civil cases to try suits of a value less than 300 rupees.

3rdly. Full powers in revenue cases to try and decide summary suits and regular revenue suits of a value less than 300 rupees.

The second class of tehseldars will have—

1stly. Limited powers in criminal matters to try cases entered in Appendix B.

2ndly. Full powers in civil cases to try suits of a value less than 300 rupees.

3rdly. Limited powers in revenue cases to investigate and report summary suits and regular revenue suits.

The third class of tehseldars will—

1stly. Have no powers civil or criminal.

2ndly. Limited powers to investigate and report summary suits and regular revenue suits.

It will rest with commissioners, at their discretion, to recommend tehseldars for the exercise of power. All officiating tehseldars will belong to the third class, and all tehseldars who have served one year in the permanent appointment will be promoted to the first class. It will also rest with the concurrence of the financial or judicial commissioners to degrade from a higher to a lower class.

As a general rule, no tehseldar should have charge of the same tehseldaree for more than five years.

On his first nomination, the tehseldar will write and sign, in the presence of the deputy commissioner, the declaration given in the Appendix C, and no future plea of ignorance of Government orders will receive attention.

Sannuds (specimens of which are given) signed by the commissioner, defining his powers, will be given from time to time to every tehseldar.

R. H. DAVIES, Sec. to Govt., Punjab.

Exemptions from Discharge without Pension (Native Army).

No. 968 of 1860.—H.E. the Gov. gen. in Council is pleased to direct that, on any reduction of the army by the disbandment of regiments or otherwise, all native commissioned officers, non-commissioned officers and soldiers who are members of the Order of British India, or of the Order of Merit, shall be exempt from ordinary discharge without pension, and shall be retained in the service and be transferred, if necessary, supernumeraries to other corps.

Any officers, however, who are members of either of the orders, and who may on such occasions prefer taking their discharge without pension, will have continued to them the extra pay attached to the Order of British India, or the Order of Merit as the case may be, notwithstanding their discharge.

Assessors of Taxes.

Mily. Dept., Fort William, Sept. 28th.—No. 966.—The undermentioned officers have been appointed special assessors for the purpose of assessing the duties mentioned in Schedule 4 of Act XXXII. of 1860, in respect of all pay, salaries, and allowances, payable by any person in the military employment of the Government, or serving in any military department, and payable from the public revenue by such officers respectively, without the previous audit of any auditing officer:—

Division paymasters—Presidency paymaster, paymaster Queen's troops, deputy paymaster Benares, ditto Gwalior, ditto Meerut, ditto Meer Meer (Lahore); ditto Sirhind division (Umballah); ditto Rawul Pindie, ditto Lucknow, ditto Cawnpore. Officer in charge military treasure chest, Nowgong.

Stud department—Officer in charge stud depot Buxar, ditto Ghazee-pore, ditto Haupper, ditto Korum-tadhee. Assistant in charge cattle, farm Hissar. Officer in charge stud depot Poosah, ditto Saharun-pore.

Agencies—Timber agent Baloo Ghaut, clothing agent 1st division, ditto 2nd division.

Superintendent of the Cossipore foundry.

Agent for the manufacture of gunpowder, Ishapore.

Agent for gun-carriages, Futtelghurh.

Commissariat—Executive commissariat officer, Agra, ditto Dacca. Superintendent of Kheddas Dacca, ditto Kumoon. Executive commissariat officer Ferozepore, ditto Lahore, ditto Meerut, ditto Futtelghurh, ditto Presidency, ditto Raneegunge, ditto Jaunpore, ditto Jullunder, ditto Gwalior, ditto Rawul Pindie, ditto Dinapore, ditto Kussowlie, ditto

Peshawur, ditto Sealkote, ditto Mhow, ditto Fyzabad, ditto Umballah, ditto Mooltan, ditto Allahabad, ditto Bareilly, ditto Benares, ditto Cawnpore, ditto Saugor, ditto Lucknow.

Superintendent of supplies Raneegunge.

Barrack Sergeants' Pay.

No. 967 of 1860.—H.E. the Gov. gen. is pleased to notify that barrack-sergeants are entitled to the infantry pay and batta of their rank, house-rent at Rs. 20 per month, when not furnished with quarters, clothing, bedding, family allowance, and, when furnished with quarters, to fuel at hill stations.

Proposed Changes in the Budget System.

Public Works Dept., Fort William, Sept. 25.—Notification.—The following resolution is published for general information:—

Nos. 194-56.—Extract from the proceedings of the Rt. Hon. the Gov. gen. of India in Council:—

Public Works Dept., Fort William, Sept. 22.

General.—Accounts.

Read despatches to the Rt. Hon. the Sec. of State, Nos. 69 and 70, dated Oct. 8, 1859, on proposed changes in the budget system of the public works department.

Read a despatch from the Rt. Hon. the Sec. of State, No. 49, dated Nov. 8, 1859, on the same subject.

Read a reply to the above by H.E. the Rt. Hon. the Gov. gen., No. 1, dated Jan. 16, 1860, asking further instructions on some material points of the scheme, before issuing directions to the local Governments.

Read a despatch from the Rt. Hon. the Sec. of State, No. 14, of Feb. 8, 1860, on the same subject.

Observation.—The Rt. Hon. the Gov. gen. in Council observes that, although the despatch No. 1, of Jan. 16, 1860, has not yet been replied to, the near approach of the time at which the local governments must commence the preparation of their budgets for 1861-62, and the admitted inconveniences of the present budget rules, render it very undesirable to allow the system to continue for another season. H.E. in Council has therefore caused the following rules to be drawn up so as to give facility to the local governments in administering their public works depts., and to bring the public works dept. and the financial dept. of the Government of India into harmony as regards estimates of expenditure.

These arrangements can scarcely stand in the way of any orders on the budget system which H.M.'s Government may finally give.

The power of sanction of the larger local governments cannot, however, properly be increased to the full extent desired by the Government of India while the power of the Government of India itself continues to be restricted to the sanction of projects of which the cost does not exceed one lac of rupees.

Resolved, therefore, that the following changes be now made:—

Previous Powers.	First. That the local administrations be empowered to sanction projects not exceeding in cost each:—	Rs.
Rs. 25,000...	Madras and Bombay Governments	60,000
Rs. 25,000...	Each of the Lieutenant-Governors	40,000
Rs. 2,000...	Chief commissioner of Oude, and commissioners of Pegu and Mysore...	10,000
Rs. 2,000...	Commissioners of other local administrations	5,000
Rs. 5,000...	Governor of the Straits Settlements	5,000

Second. That the consideration and sanction of projects on their individual merits be entirely separated from the general review of the wants of each local administration in public works, and the allotments of funds for meeting those wants. Individual projects and estimates may, therefore, be considered by the local administrations at any time, and may be sanctioned for insertion in a future year's budget, or, in emergent cases, for execution at once (within the limits of the budget total as provided below), or, if exceeding the powers of the local governments, may be sent at any time to the Government of India for orders, or for transmission to the Secretary of State.

The projects and estimates entered in Part I. of the budget will thus come to be those which, having been previously submitted to and approved by the Government of India, or Secretary of State, the Local Government proposes to commence during the year, or which it may be desirous of commencing during the year, and intends to submit to these authorities, or having submitted, has not obtained orders on. Part I. of the budget will not, therefore, be accompanied by any plans or estimates.

Third.—That in Part II. a slight change be made, namely, the omission of two of the three columns in which the outlay on each project up to the end of the previous year is shown. The first of these columns shows the outlay for which accounts have actually been received, the next shows the estimated outlay up to the end of April (the budget being due in January), and the last shows the total of these two. The last only will be retained, it being understood that it is filled up by actual accounts as far as possible, and the remainder by estimate.

Fourth.—That the power to sanction projects chargeable to Part III. of the budget (the reserve or unappropriated fund) be allowed to be exercised to exactly the same extent as the powers at the annual review; that to save, the local Governments may at any time of the year exercise the same powers of sanction as were under former rules restricted to the annual review, and may order a work, if wanted immediately, to be carried out at once and charged to Part III. of the budget, but always on the condition that the funds in Part III. shall not be imprudently drawn upon, but sufficient shall be reserved at all times of the year to meet probable unforeseen demands.

The total amount of Part III. should be made in all cases equal to one-tenth of the whole allotment.

Fifth.—It has already been ruled in a general way that the budget should contain the whole of the expenditure on public works proposed by each local Government. But the rules have not been fully understood and acted on in all cases. In stating below precisely what it must contain, it is premised that it is not intended, by requiring the insertion in the budget of outlay from funds entirely at the disposal of the local Government, to exercise any interference therewith. It is only desired that the Government of India should be kept informed of the outlay for financial purposes, and of the nature of the projects to be undertaken, for the information's sake, and in reference to their effect upon the wants of the country which remain to be met from the imperial funds.

The budget should include, therefore, in addition to the regular expenditure of cash by the officers of the public works dept. proper:—

A. The approximate cost of stores indented for on the Home Government, and expected to be charged during the year. Materials, tools, and plant for general purposes may appear in Part II. at the end. Machinery for workshops should form part of the charge in the estimates for forming or improving the workshops, and so will fall in the project in Parts I. or II. Materials (such as iron girders) specially devoted to any project will, of course, enter as part of the cost of that project. In all cases the amount chargeable for materials from England should be noted separately.

N.B.—The outlay for the purchase of stores and manufacture of materials in India is to be met from the amount assigned to each work, although the purchases or manufacture are not chargeable directly to the works. The works receive supplies from the stock account, and the stock is replenished from the outlay allowed for the works, and so the expenditure of cash is covered by the sums set down in the budget for the works.

B. Outlay of imperial funds for public works purposes by officers not belonging to the public works department. For original works these will appear in Part II., for repairs in Part IV., and provision for unforeseen requirements in Part III.

C. Expenditure to be incurred by Government on account of railways, for Government controlling establishments, land commissioners' salaries, purchase of land, and works on railways executed directly by Government (such as the Rohilkund Railway); establishment charges will, of course, fall in Part V.; land purchases in Parts II. or III., according as it is specifically estimated, or only estimated in a general way to meet possible requirements. Construction and repair of Government railway works will, of course, fall in Parts I. or II. and IV. respectively.

D. Disbursements on account of the capital deposits of guaranteed companies for construction of railways and other works, including repairs and working expenses, purchase of stores, &c. It will only be necessary to set down the total sums intended to be drawn on account of each company. These sums should be shown after the Imperial expenditure in Part II. of the Budget, and should have a separate total. It should be understood that the sum set down is to be a practical limit, and the local government is no more at liberty to authorise, without sanction, the drawing of funds on account of capital deposits, in excess of the budget provision for the purpose, than it is in the case of imperial funds.

E. The items of outlay from road and ferry funds, and from any other funds at the disposal of the local Administration. These should appear separately from the imperial outlay and guaranteed capital disbursements, in their appropriate places in Parts II. A, II. B, IV., or V. It is not intended to order any changes as to the period of allotting the local funds to the several district committees, and of determining the operations for the year. All that is wanted is an estimate of the probable outlay, and a list of the principal works to which the funds are likely to be devoted, so far as known at the period of the submission of the budget. The local Government will be quite at liberty to alter the arrangement after submission of the budget, and the Government of India will be sufficiently informed on the subject by receiving a copy of the resolution of the local Government when the final arrangement for the year is made.

It is thus provided that the budget shall embrace three great classes of expenditure, which shall not be in any way blended together, but shall be shown quite distinctly, with separate totals, namely:—

1. Outlay from imperial funds.
2. Outlay from local funds.
3. Outlay from capital deposits of guaranteed companies.

Sixth.—The budget should be accompanied by an extract of the anticipative sketch estimate or other similar document submitted to the financial department for the same year; which extract should contain all the public works anticipated receipts and charges, and should show an intended outlay exactly corresponding to the public works department budget. There should also be accounts of the estimated balances and income and expenditure of each of the local funds for the coming year.

Resolved further, that the alterations above determined on shall be held to, and considered fixed for the budgets of 1861-62, and for such their changes as may be hereafter ordered in correspondence with H.M.'s Govt. will come into operation for the preparation of the budgets of 1862-63. Thus, all parties will be saved the harassing effect of orders and counter-orders, should the Sec. of State's instructions reach after the publication of the rules now determined on, and before completion of the budgets of the ensuing year.

MADRAS.

BY THE GOVERNOR IN COUNCIL.

Fort St. George, Oct. 2.—The Hon. the Gov. in Council has been pleased to make the following appointment:—

Lieut. col. G. Briggs to be a lay trustee of the chaplaincy of St. Thomas's Mount.

Public Works Dep., Oct. 1.—The priv. leave granted to Capt. F. J. Moberly, dist. engr. of South Canara, under date June 15 last, is cane., and that officer to be regarded as having joined his dist. at Fraserpet on Aug. 10.

STAMP COLLECTORS.

Sept. 29.—Under Sect. XIX. of the new Stamp Act the Hon. the Gov. in Council has appointed the present supndt. of stamps to be supndt. of stamps, and the collectors of the several dists. to be collectors of stamp revenue in their dists. respectively.

REDUCTION OF THE RATE OF INTEREST.

Sept. 28.—Under instructions from the Supreme Government, and in accordance with Rule XI. of the Government Savings Bank, the Hon. the Governor in Council is pleased to resolve that from May 1 next, interest on deposits in the Government Savings Bank be reduced from 4 to 3½ per cent. per annum.

By order, T. Pycroft, Chief Sec.

Oct. 2.—No. 423.—Lieut. J. Markham, riding master 1st regt., L.C., is to be considered as having returned to his duty on March 8, the date of expiration of the leave to sea on m.c. granted him in G.O. Aug. 20, 1858, No. 321.

Returned to duty:—
Asst. surg. W. H. Rean, arrived at Madras on Sept. 25.

Admitted on estab. as a cadet of inf., in conformity with his app. by the Home Govt., and prom. to rank of ens.:—

Mr. S. L. Hunt arrived at Madras on Sept. 29, 1860.

Oct. 2.—No. 424.—The following G.O. by H.E. the Gov. gen. of India Council, are republished:—

Fort William, Sept. 18.—No. 936.—H.E. the Gov. gen. in Council is pleased to make the following appointments:—

Hyderabad Contingent, 1st Cav.—Lieut. W. J. Bell, 2nd Madras N.I., A.D.C. to the maj. gen. com. Pegu div., to offic. as adjt. dur. period Lieut. Tweedie may offic. in civil employ.

Sept. 21.—No. 946.—The following order, issued by the Resident at Hyderabad, is confirmed:—

Dated Aug. 14.—No. 203.—Confirming the order by the officer com. 3rd regt. of inf., Hyderabad cont., dated Aug. 7, directing Lieut. Innes, adjt. 3rd inf., Hyderabad cont., to offic. as 2nd in com., in add. to his duties as adjt. fr. that date, consequent on the departure of Lieut. Teed, 2nd in com., 3rd inf. Hyderabad cont., to Bombay, on m.c.

No. 951.—The undermen. officers are perm. to proc. to Europe, on leave, m.c.:—

Capt. R. O. T. Nicolls, 6th Madras N.I., asst. comr. Punjab, for 15 mos., under new regs.

Fort St. George, Oct. 2.—No. 425.—The foll. notifications from the Calcutta Gazette are republished in gen. orders:—

ORDERS BY THE LIEUT. GOV. N.W.P.

Mily. Dept., Camp Nynee Tal, Sept. 4.—No. 768a.

—The undermen. officers of the mil. police, N. W. Provinces, having failed to pass the exam. required, their servs. are replaced at the disposal of the Govt. of India, in the mil. dept.:—

Lieut. P. P. L. Stafford, 34th Madras N.I., 2nd in com. of Benares div. police batt., and offic. com. of Mirzapore batt.

Lieut. McInroy, 19th Madras N.I., offic. adjt. of Banda police batt.

With reference to the above, Lieut. P. P. L. Stafford will remain in temp. ch. of Mirzapore batt. till relieved.

The coms. of the Humeerpore and Banda batts. will take temp. ch. of the offices of the adjts. of the batt. in add. to their own duties.

No. 773a.—Mr. R. Knyvett, offic. adjt. of Seonee batt. of mil. police, is app. to be adjt. of Humeerpore batt., on probation, v. Lieut. P. C. Dalmahoy, and is required to join without delay.

Capt. G. F. Pearson, comdt., will take temp. ch. of adjt.'s office, in add. to his other du.

ORDERS BY LIEUT. GOV. PUNJAB.

Gen. Dept., Aug. 30.—No. 2,236.—Leave:—Capt. R. O. T. Nicolls, asst. comr. at Loodiana, has leave for 8 weeks, to enable him to proc. to Calcutta, prep. to m.c. to England, with effect fr. such date as he may avail himself of same.

Fort St. George, Oct. 5.—Leave of abs.:—The priv. leave for 20 days granted under date 18th ult. to Rev. A. W. Pearson has been changed to prep. leave for same period:—

Appointments:—

Mr. M. Cross to act as 1st judge of Court of Small Causes dur. abs. of Mr. Burgess on leave.

Mr. C. T. Longley to be sen. asst. to coll. and mag. and agent to Governor of Fort St. George in Vizagapatam, but to act as subord. judge of zillah of Chicacole dur. employ. of Mr. C. R. Pelly on other du.

Mr. R. W. Barlow to be an asst. to coll. and mag. of Nellore.

Mr. W. C. Stuart, dep. coll. 3rd cl., to act as dep. director of rev. settlement in Wynad dur. abs. of Mr. E. C. G. Thomas on m.c.

Mr. H. Richardson, dep. coll. 3rd cl., to be posted to Manantoddy, in place of Mr. Stuart.

Mr. R. G. Clarke, civ. and sess. judge of Negapatam, opened his court at Tranquebar on 1st inst.

STUDENTS AT THE ENGINEERING COLLEGE.

Fort St. George, Oct. 5.—No. 427.—With reference to paragraphs 1 and 2 of G.O. Sept. 4, No. 391, the Gov. in Council directs that the following course be observed as regards military students at the Engineering College, belonging to H.M.'s British regts.

Until further orders, military students belonging to H.M.'s British regts., who are retained after being 2 mos. in the college, will continue to be borne upon the strength of their respective regts., but as supernumeraries, to allow of proms., being made in their room.

In the event of their subsequently misconducting themselves while at college, or after their transfer to any of the departments of the public service, they will be liable to be remanded to their regts.

Oct. 12.—Leave of absence from their stations:—
Mr. J. Gordon, princp. sudder ameen of Trichinopoly, for 3 mo.

Oct. 10.—Appointments:—

Capt. T. S. Hawks, 37th regt. (gren.), to be 1st asst. in the Madras police, and to act for Capt. Grove as superint. of police in the dist. of Nellore.

Oct. 12.—Mr. C. T. Longley, actg. sub judge of Chicacole, to be marriage registrar of the dist. of Vizagapatam.

Mr. P. Gonsalves, tabsildar of Barcoor in South Canara, to act as dep. coll. and mag. of the 4th class in North Canara, dur. absence of Surappa on leave.

Oct. 12.—No. 432.—The undermen. officers are perm. to proc. to Eur.:—

Col. J. Byng, 4th L.C., on m.c., under old regs., with perm. to visit Australia, and to embark from Madras.

A. N. Magrath, Esq., late director gen. of the med. dept., for 15 mo, under regs. of 1854, and to embark from Madras.

Lieut. H. R. Elliot, 42nd N.I., do. du. with sappers and miners, on m.c., for 15 mo., under regs. of 1854, and to embark from Madras.

Lieut. C. S. Blair, 18th N.I., on m.c., for 18 mo., under regs. of 1854, and to embark from Madras.

Lieut. C. A. Gumm, 81st L.I., on m.c., for 18 mo., under regs. of 1854, and to embark from Madras.

Lieut. W. Osborn, 30th N.I., on m.c., under old regs., and to embark from Bombay.

Vet. surg. J. M. Cullimore, do. du. with horse art., is perm. to proc. to Cape of Good Hope and Australia, on m.c., for 18 mo., under old regs., and to embark from Madras.

Returned to duty:—

Capt. F. P. Drury, 20th N.I.; arr. at Madras on Oct. 9.

Lieut. A. R. McMahon, 30th N.I., is to be considered as having returned to duty on April 27, the date of his arr. at Calcutta.

Admitted on estab. as cadets for the art., and prom. to rank of lieuts.:—

Art.—Mr. A. J. Lavie and Mr. F. R. Twynam; arr. at Madras on Oct. 7.

Judicial Dept., Oct. 9.—Appointment:—Asst. surg. W. H. Rean to be zillah surg. at Chicacole, v. Blackwell.

Public Dept., Oct. 12.—Asst. surg. W. J. Van Someran is perm., in compliance with his own request, to res. the appt. of professor of anatomy in the med. coll., fr. 7th inst.

Asst. surg. W. N. Chipperfield to be professor of anatomy, v. Van Someran.

Fort St. George, Oct. 12.—No. 435.—The foll. G.O. by the Gov. gen. of India in Council is republished:—

Fort William, Sept. 25.—No. 965.—Maj. W. G. Robertson, 22nd M.N.I., is perm. to proc. to Cape of Good Hope, on leave, on m.c., for 15 mo., under old regs.

Oct. 12.—No. 436.—The following notifications fr. the Calcutta Gazette are re-published in gen. orders:

Public Works Dept., Fort William, Sept. 25.—No. 222.—Lieut. W. H. G. Palmer, 10th Madras N.I., whose servs. were placed at disposal of the gov. of the Straits' settlements, for employ. in public works dept., is apptd. temp. a special asst. engr., with effect from May 4.

Mily. Dept., Camp Nynee Tal, Sept. 4.—No. 797a.—The servs. of Capt. F. F. Pearson, comdt. of batt. of mily. police at Seonee, are placed at disposal of the gov., N.W.P., in public works dept.

Mr. W. Braybrooke, the adj., will relieve Capt. G. F. Pearson, and take temp. charge of the batt., in add. to his other duties.

Oct. 9.—No. 430 of 1860.—The Hon. the Gov. in Council is pleased to make the following promotions:—

Infantry.—Sen. Lieut. col. (maj. gen.) A. S. Logan, unatt., to be col., v. Carfrae, dec.; date of commission, Aug. 30.

51st N.I.—Sen. Ens. E. B. Bruce to be lieut., v. Wight, dec.; date of commission, Aug. 18.

Maj. the Hon. H. Arbuthnot, 3rd regt. L.C., is per. to proceed to the Cape of Good Hope on m.c., for 18 mos., under old regs., and to embark from Madras.

The undermen. officers are per. to proceed to Eur.:—

Capt. H. E. Walpole, 16th N.I., on furl., under old regs., and to embark from Bombay.

Lieut. T. R. Griffith, 48th N.I., on furl. under old regs.

Asst. surg. D. Mackenzie, on m.c., under old regs., and to embark from Madras.

The servs. of Capt. W. J. Morris, 4th regt. L.C., are placed at disp. of the Govt. of India, for employ. in Nagpore irreg. cav.

The servs. of Asst. surg. D. W. Trimnell are placed at disp. of the Govt. of India for app. as civ. asst. surg., Narsingpore.

The Governor of the Straits Settlements has granted 2nd Capt. J. F. A. McNair, art., exec. engr. and superint. of convicts at Singapore, leave to Europe, on m.c., for 15 mos., fr. Sept. 21.

Admitted on the estab. as cadets for the cav., art., and inf., and prom. to rank of cornet, lieut., and ens. respectively, leaving date of Mr. Onslow's commission to be settled hereafter:—

Cavalry.—Mr. F. M. Onslow. Artillery.—Mr. J. S. F. Mackenzie, Mr. A. I. Macleverty, Mr. G. R. Gambier, Mr. D. W. Lawrell. Infantry.—Mr. E. W. G. Williams, Mr. P. Justice. Arr. at Madras, Oct. 7.

BY THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF.

Hd. Qrs., Choultry Plain, Sept. 29.—Maj. D. Hodson, 3rd Madras Eur. regt., is app. to do du. temp. with 34th L.I.—to join.

Oct. 1.—With reference to G.O. No. 422, dated Sept. 28, Capt. H. O. Mayne, 6th L.C., is directed to join regt. at Bangalore.

Leave of abs. from their corps and stations:—

Lieut. col. H. Roberts, 9th N.I., till Sept. 10, 1862, western coast and Nilgiris, m.c.

Lieut. col. C. Clemons, 31st L.I., in cont., pres., m.c., prep. to Eur. on m.c.

Capt. P. L. Holmes, 17th N.I., in cont. of priv. leave, till Oct. 27, 1860, to enable him to join.

Cor. A. Ricketts, cav., in cont., to pres. on m.c., prep. to Eur. on m.c.

Vet. surg. J. M. Cullimore, d. d. horse brig. art., pres., m.c., prep. to the sea and Australia, on m.c.

Oct. 3.—Lieut. J. Markham, riding mr. 1st regt. L.C., is granted leave, on m.c., to Bangalore and Nilgiris, retrospectively from May 14 till Aug. 16,—this cancels the leave on m.c. granted in G.O. May 18.

Oct. 4.—Lieut. C. A. Sim, of the engrs., is app. to do du. with sappers and miners till further orders—to join hd. qrs. at Dowlaisweram.

Oct. 10.—With the sanction of gov., Capt. R. Western, 44th N.I., has obtained a furl. to Eur., is apptd. to com. of invalids, &c., about to be embarked in Helvellyn.

Brev. Capt. R. J. Lewis, 31st regt. L.I., is relieved from committee for exam. of army clothing.

Court Martial.

LIEUT. G. READE, 39th N.I.

At an European General Court Martial, held at Trichinopoly, Aug. 17, Lieut. G. Reade, 39th N.I. of H.M.'s India forces, was arraigned on the following charge, viz. :—

Charge.—For behaving unbecomingly the character of an officer and a gentleman in the following instances :—First Instance.—In having at Thayetmyo, on Feb. 15, 1858, given to John Pierce, mess writer of the 39th N.I. of H.M.'s India forces, an order payable at sight on Messrs. Arbuthnot and Co., of Madras, for the sum of Company's Rs. 400, in consideration of that amount paid to him by the aforesaid John Pierce, which order was dishonoured, Messrs. Arbuthnot and Co. not having funds to meet such order, and he, Lieut. G. Reade, not being authorised to draw upon them.

Second Instance.—In having at the same place and time, as set forth in the first instance of the charge, given to the aforesaid John Pierce an order payable at sight on Messrs. Arbuthnot and Company, of Madras, for the sum of Company's Rs. 100, in consideration of that amount paid to him by the aforesaid John Pierce, which was also dishonoured, Messrs. Arbuthnot and Company not having funds to meet such order, and Lieut. George Reade not being authorised to draw upon them.

Third Instance.—In having at the same place, as set forth in the first instance of the charge, on the 27th day of March, 1858, given to the aforesaid John Pierce an order, payable at sight on Messrs. Arbuthnot and Company, of Madras, in favour of one Mahomed Cassim for the sum of Company's Rs. 200, in consideration of that amount paid to him by the aforesaid John Pierce, which was also dishonoured, Messrs. Arbuthnot and Company not having funds to meet such order, and Lieut. George Reade not being authorised to draw upon them.

Finding.—Guilty of the first instance of the charge. Guilty of the second instance of the charge. Guilty of the third instance of the charge. Guilty on preamble to charge.

Sentence.—The court sentences the prisoner George Reade, lieut. in 39th N.I., to be dismissed H.M.'s Indian army.

Approved and confirmed.

Trichinopoly, 22nd August, 1860.

(Signed) PAT. GRANT, Lieut. gen. C. in C.

Head Quarters, Madras, Aug. 27, 1860.
Lieut. George Reade is to be struck off the strength of the army from the date of the promulgation of this order at Trichinopoly, which is to be reported to the adjt. gen. of the army.

BOMBAY.Miss Nightingale's "Notes on Nursing."

Poona, Oct. 8th.—The C. in C. desires to call the attention of commanding and medical officers to Miss Nightingale's "Notes on Nursing." The principles and practice laid down in this little book are admirably calculated to assist surgeons, hospital sergeants, hospital orderlies, stewards, and apothecaries in the management of the hospital and the tender care of the patients.

Lectures occasionally given by the doctors for the benefit of the men to inculcate the results of Miss Nightingale's science and experience, and to explain the laws of health, could not but be very useful for the better care of their patients when they are not present themselves.

Such lectures might be given with the sanction of commanding officers in the regimental school-rooms. They should not last more than half an hour at a time, should be popular in character, and be illustrated by instances and examples drawn from regimental customs and practice, whether in the hospitals or in the patcheries.

Officers possessed of regimental experience must be all aware of the fearful and constant mortality among regimental children, which often results from nothing but ignorance on the part of the parents.

It is the business of every commanding officer and every medical officer to try and remove that ignorance as far as lies in their power. Consequently the women of the regiments should be invited and advised to attend the lectures on health as well as men.

BIRTHS.

ARBUTHNOT, wife of the Hon. Maj., son, at Madras, Oct. 5.

BAKER, wife of G., daughter, at Monghyr, Sept. 24.

BLACK, wife of J., daughter, at Point de Galle, Oct. 11.

BUCKLE, wife of W. B., daughter, at Chittagong, Sept. 22.

CLARIDGE, wife of Capt. H. C. L., son, at Waltair, Sept. 29.

CREASY, Lady, son, at Nivara Ellia, Sept. 30.

DICKSON, wife of T., son, at Cinnamon Gardens, Oct. 1.

DYER, wife of A. R., daughter, at Calcutta, Sept. 26.

FITZGERALD, wife of Capt. W. R., daughter, at Darjeeling, Sept. 21.

GRANT, wife of Maj. E. L., daughter, at Wellington, Neilgherry-hills, Oct. 2.

GORDON, wife of J., daughter, at Calicut, Sept. 26.

GRAHAM, wife of Lieut. J. M., M.P., son, at Chittagong, Sept. 27.

GRANT, wife of Maj. E. L., daughter, at Wellington, Oct. 2.

GURRAY, Mrs. A. M., son, at Shanghai, Sept. 6.

HUTCHINSON, wife of R. F., daughter, at Arrah, Sept. 23.

JORDAN, wife of M., son, at Calicut, Oct. 7.

LACKERSTEEN, Countess, daughter, at Calcutta, Sept. 25.

LUGARD, wife of Rev. T. G., daughter, at Ootacamund, Sept. 26.

MACQUEEN, wife of G. A., daughter, at Chanda, Sept. 19.

McKEE, Mrs. W., son, at Calcutta, Sept. 22.

O'DOHERTY, wife of Mr. D., son, at Madras, Oct. 2.

POGOSE, wife of N. P., son, at Calcutta, Sept. 30.

REMFERY, wife of J., son, at Calcutta, Sept. 30.

SANDEMAN, wife of H. D., daughter, at Chowringhee, Sept. 26.

SCHILLER, wife of F., son, at Calcutta, Sept. 30.

SMEDLEY, wife of E. H., son, at Kandy, Oct. 9.

MARRIAGES.

DONNELLY, A. W., to Miss Eliza Kerby, at Mussoorie, Sept. 1.

GILLHAM, Capt. F. M., to Juliet E., daughter of the late Capt. Locke, at Vepery, Oct. 3.

GUTHRIE, Lieut. T. K., to Georgina M. M., daughter of J. Y. Fullerton, at Poonamalle, Sept. 26.

LEEDS, H., to Adelaide L., daughter of the late W. Davis, at Rangoon, Aug. 20.

LONG, R. H., to Miss Emily M. Buchanan.

MAYO, J., to Amelia J., daughter of the late T. Reidy, at Colombo, Oct. 11.

OAKES, Ems. G. H., to Fanny, daughter of the late J. Milne, at Madras, Oct. 8.

SIMONS, W. C., to Marian, daughter of the late Rev. C. Rawlins, at Calcutta, Sept. 29.

DEATHS.

BECHER, widow of the late Maj. R., at Gowhattee, Sept. 13.

BELL, Lieut. A., H.M.'s Bombay N.I., by sun stroke, at Fort Macao, China, aged 31, Aug. 25.

BOWEN, Emily A., wife of A., at Calcutta, aged 32, Oct. 2.

BRIST, George, at Calcutta, aged 55, Oct. 1.

BURHORN, John H., at Shanghai, aged 36, Aug. 25.

CLAUDIUS, Laura J. E., daughter of T., at Cuttack, aged 18, Sept. 19.

DARLING, John, at Hong Kong, Sept. 16.

DAVIDSON, Helen J. R., wife of R., at Cuddapah, Sept. 23.

DRUMMOND, Jessie E., daughter of G., at Dinapore, aged 21, Sept. 22.

DYER, infant daughter of A. R., at Calcutta, Sept. 26.

EARDE, George, at Colombo, Oct. 15.

FITZPATRICK, Asst. apothecary J., attached to Mysore Commission, at Sheemoogah, Oct. 2.

HANCOCK, Edith E., infant daughter of R., at Shanghai, Sept. 9.

HUYBERTSZ, H. P., at Colombo, Oct. 10.

IVEY, William J., infant son of W., at Dinapore, Sept. 7.

KELAART, Dr. E. F., on board the Ripon, aged 41, Aug. 31.

LAVILLE, wife of Mr. S., bandmaster, at Secunderabad, Sept. 24.

LOCKYER, Maj. gen. H. F., on board the Ripon, aged 63, Aug. 30.

LONG, Catharine, widow of the late Dr., at Mutwal, aged 61, Oct. 10.

LUSHINGTON, Stephen, c.s., at Pooree, aged 30, Sept. 25.

RENNIE, infant son of Capt., on board the Ripon, Aug. 21.

RENWICH, Mary, infant daughter of J., at Shanghai, Sept. 5.

SAVAGE, George, infant son of Capt. G. W., at Calcutta, Sept. 30.

VYALL, Joseph, at Ferozepore, aged 71, Sept. 16.

The Victoria Cross.

WAR OFFICE, November 8.

The Queen has been graciously pleased to signify her intention to confer the decoration of the Victoria Cross on the undermentioned officers and soldiers of her Majesty's army, whose claims to the same have been submitted for her Majesty's approval, on account of acts of bravery performed by them in India, as recorded against their names, viz. :—

7th Hussars (now of the 11th Hussars).—Major Charles Craufurd Fraser. For conspicuous and cool gallantry, on the 31st December, 1858, in having volunteered, at great personal risk, and under a sharp fire of musketry, to swim to the rescue of Capt. Stisted, and some men of the 7th Hussars, who were in imminent danger of being drowned in the River Raptce, while in pursuit of the rebels. Major Fraser succeeded in this gallant service, although at the same time partially disabled, not having recovered from a severe wound he had received while leading a squadron in a charge against some fanatics in the action at Nuwabgunge, on June 13, 1858.

78th Regiment.—Surg. Joseph Jee, c.b. For most conspicuous gallantry and important services, on the entry of the late Maj.-gen. Havelock's relieving force into Lucknow, on Sept. 25, 1857, in having during action (when the 78th Highlanders, then in possession of the Char Bagh, captured two 9-pounders at the point of the bayonet), by great exertion and devoted exposure, attended to the large number of men wounded in the charge, whom he succeeded in getting removed on cots and the backs of their comrades, until he had collected the dooly bearers who had fled. Subsequently, on the same day, in endeavouring to reach the Residency with the wounded men, Surgeon Jee became besieged by an overwhelming force in the Mote Mehal, where he remained during the whole night and following morning, voluntarily and repeatedly exposing himself to a heavy fire in proceeding to dress the wounded men who fell while serving a 24-pounder in a most exposed situation. He eventually succeeded in taking many of the wounded, through a cross fire of ordnance and musketry, safely into the Residency, by the river-bank, although repeatedly warned not to make the perilous attempt.

93rd Regiment (late).—Colour-serg. James Munro. For devoted gallantry, at Secunderabad, on Nov. 16, 1857, in having promptly rushed to the rescue of Capt. E. Walsh, of the same corps, when wounded, and in danger of his life, whom he carried to a place of comparative safety, to which place the sergeant was brought in, very shortly afterwards, badly wounded.

PRESENTATION OF THE VICTORIA CROSS.

Her Majesty, on the 9th inst., distributed the Victoria Crosses to the following individuals :—

Mr. W. F. McDonell, Bengal Civil Service, magistrate of Sarun. For great coolness and bravery on July 30, 1857.

Major C. C. Fraser, 7th Hussars (now 11th Hussars). For conspicuous and cool gallantry on Dec. 31, 1858.

Capt. (now Major) G. A. Renny, Bengal Horse Artillery. For having, with great gallantry, mounted to the top of the wall of the magazine at Delhi, Sept. 16, 1857.

Lieut. (now Capt.) A. S. Cameron, late 72nd regt. (now of the 25th regt.) For conspicuous bravery on March 30, 1858, at Kotah.

Lieut. J. G. Malcolmson, 3rd Bombay L.C. For rescuing a brother officer in extreme danger on Feb. 8, 1857.

Surgeon J. Jee, c.b., 78th regt. For most conspicuous gallantry and important services, on the entry of the late Maj. gen. Havelock's relieving force into Lucknow, in Sept., 1857.

Colour serg. G. Waller, 1st batt., 60th rifles. For conspicuous bravery on Sept. 14 and 18, 1857, at Delhi.

Colour serg. S. Garvin, 1st batt. 60th rifles. For daring and gallant conduct before Delhi on June 23, 1857.

Colour serg. J. Munro, late 93rd regt. For devoted gallantry at Secunderabad on Nov. 16, 1857, in rescuing a wounded officer of the same corps.

Farrier G. Hollis, late 8th hussars. Selected for the Victoria Cross by his companions in the gallant charge made by a squadron of the regt. at Gwalior on June 17, 1858.

Bugler W. Sutton, 1st batt. 60th rifles. For gallant conduct at Delhi, on Sept. 13, 1857, the night previous to the assault, in volunteering to reconnoitre the breach, and throughout the operations.

Private S. Morley, 2nd batt. milly. train. For saving an officer's life on April 15, 1858.

Private J. Kirk, 1st batt. 10th foot. For daring gallantry at Benares, on June 4, 1857.

Private D. Dempsey, 1st batt. 10th foot. For having at Lucknow, on March 14, 1858, carried a powder bag through a burning village, for the purpose of mining a passage in rear of the enemy's position; and for another act of gallantry on Aug. 12, 1857.

Private H. Addison, late 43rd regt. For gallant conduct on Jan. 2, 1859, near Kurraeah, when he received two dangerous wounds, and lost a leg.

Private J. Thompson, 1st batt. 60th rifles. For gallant conduct in saving the life of his captain on July 9, 1857.

Private J. Divane, 1st batt. 60th rifles. For distinguished gallantry in heading a successful charge by the Belooch and Sikh troops on one of the enemy's trenches before Delhi on Sept. 10, 1857.

The above-named officers and gentlemen were decorated with the Victoria Cross by the Queen on the occasion of the usual parade of troops composing the garrison of Windsor, in the Home Park, in honour of the Prince of Wales's birthday.

COUNTRY AGENTS:—

Edinburgh, W. Blackwood and Sons.
Dublin, Hodges and Smith.
Brighton, C. Booty.

Communications for the Editor, and Advertisements, should be sent under cover to Messrs. WM. H. ALLEN & Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

* * Should any delay or irregularity occur in supplying this Paper, communication of the fact to the Publisher will insure a remedy.

ALLEN'S INDIAN MAIL,

TUESDAY, November 13, 1860.

THE ANTICIPATED FAMINE.

WE mentioned in a recent summary that Colonel Baird Smith, C.B., at the request of the Governor-general, had drawn up a memorandum suggesting the measures most fit to be taken, should the Upper Provinces be visited with the dearth which still seems imminent, though probably to a less extent than was, a short time ago, apprehended. Though very brief, Colonel Baird Smith's paper is so exceedingly able and practical that no apology is necessary for alluding to it at somewhat greater length than on the former occasion it was in our power to do. The last severe famine, it will be remembered, occurred in 1838, when many thousands of natives perished miserably from starvation. The full force of the terrible calamity was spent before Colonel Smith came upon its track, but even then the traces of its ravages were painfully conspicuous. At every station, he says, where a Christian Mission was established, numbers of children were provided for in Orphan Asylums, and within his own knowledge between three and four thousand of these unfortunate creatures had been taken care of through public or private agency. A large number of children, it is supposed, were also "purchased by natives from their parents, and brought up as household bonds-folk," or for worse purposes. "Large areas of village lands lay uncultivated; but few cattle were to be seen, and the population generally were sickly looking and depressed. The number of people who had lost an eye and were pitted with small-pox was remarkable." Under these afflicting circumstances the European community displayed not only commiseration, but an active beneficence that might well have guaranteed them against such black ingratitude as they experienced in less than twenty years afterwards. Nor did the Government turn a deaf ear to the cries of the starving population. Not only was the land-tax remitted to the value of a million and a-half sterling, but fully an additional million was expended in direct relief of the destitute. A like sum, in the opinion of Colonel Smith, should now be held in readiness by the Government to be laid out in remunerative labour. Only the very aged and the very young, and the utterly helpless should be assisted without exacting some return for the relief afforded to them. Even in ordinary times the women and children are in the habit of labouring in the fields and in other ways, and it is therefore no hardship to them to be employed on works of public utility, such as irrigation canals, reservoirs, and dams, imperial or district roads, town improvements, drainage, &c., &c. The danger most to be feared arises from the ignorant impatience of the people, who are apt to break out in rioting, and to destroy or waste in a few hours of passion food enough to maintain them for many days. The grain merchants are in the habit of concealing reserve stocks in pits and out-of-the-way places, from which they produce a constant supply when the price is tempting and their property secure. But any violence or injudicious attempt to tamper with the market causes a sudden suspension of trade, and grain is no longer forthcoming. It is not, perhaps, very surprising that the native officials should be so little acquainted with the principles of political economy as to recommend magisterial interference with the free course of trade, by fixing a maximum rate, and prohibiting the exportation of corn from one district to another. But it is somewhat humiliating to learn that English magistrates, who are supposed to have been imbued with more than the elements of that science while at Haileybury, should forget their European teaching and listen to the shortsighted promptings of their native subordinates. Even now several also of the Anglo-Indian journals are urging the Government to institute coercive measures, and pretend that political economy is one thing in Europe and quite another thing in Asia. There is no reason, however, to suspect the Government of being capable of such utter folly and infatuation as to listen to those violent because trivial, those peremptory because ignorant, counsellors. The only thing to be done is to adopt Col. Smith's suggestion, and "hold lightly-equipped columns of troops in readiness at the military stations in dangerous districts, to move at once in support of the police if the latter should require such aid." Confidence and order will thus be maintained, and the liberal aid of the Government will afford employment and a livelihood to tens of thousands of poor wretches who otherwise would be reduced to the lowest depths of misery and destitution. It is true this is not exactly the use to which Government intended to apply the public revenue; and it is equally true that the present aspect of things is not very favourable for the introduction of the Income-tax experiment; but rough hew our ends as we will, they are shaped by Providence far more wisely, though possibly in a manner less immediately agreeable than we originally proposed. Providence, says the old proverb, favours the provident. If Government, therefore, honestly apply itself to mitigate, if it cannot avert, the impending calamity, it may safely leave the result in the hands of a higher Power that out of evil ever brings forth good.

INDIGO.

THE report of the Indigo Commission might be summed up in three lines. The facts are as every moderate man supposed them to be, and the Commission have no changes to suggest. Our readers, however, are not likely to be satisfied without a somewhat more detailed account, and we will endeavour, therefore, to give a fair analysis of the substance of the report.

We say the substance, for the report, like all Indian official papers, is overlaid with masses of writing on subjects wholly or partially foreign to the inquiry. The one point on which information was desired was the cause of the hostility palpably existing between the ryot cultivating on the ryottee system and the planter. To elucidate it the Commission pour out pages about the neej system, which nobody attacks, the shouk dadun system, which nobody ever heard of, and the north-west system, which produces no excitement at all. They then offer dozens of paragraphs on the relation between planter and zemindar, which is quite satisfactory to both parties, and a long defence of the Missionaries, whose conduct—thoroughly excellent—was no part of the inquiry. It is not till the reader has waded through some fifty paragraphs that he arrives at the first expression of opinion on the only point at issue. That opinion, it must be allowed, is clear and peremptory. The ryot, as he appears to us, is deprived of his free will, and bound to continue a cultivation which does not give him a fair or adequate profit, which in its worst aspect he absolutely dislikes, and in its most favourable aspect he is only induced to tolerate. All the defects of the system, inherent and incidental, all the faults which justly are to be laid at the door of either planter or ryot, by their respective opponents, may be traced originally to one bare fact—the want of adequate remuneration. It is this that mainly renders the possession of landed influence indispensable to extensive cultivation, and it is owing to this that the planter has to urge the ryot to plough and to sow, to weed and to cut, by means little short of actual compulsion; it is this that brings out into strong relief the well-known defects of the national character of the Bengali; that sharpens his cunning, aggravates his indolence, tempts him to procrastination, and fosters his proneness to concealment; it is this, in short, that renders the whole relation between the two parties one prolonged and unhappy struggle, in which Anglo-Saxon energy, promptitude, and pertinacity, are often almost baffled by that subterfuge and evasion which are the proverbial resources of the weak. The ryot, then, according to the Commissioners, is compelled to cultivate indigo. The mode of compulsion they find is mainly this:—The planter offers advances which the ryot is always ready to take. Once taken he never works them fully off. Consequently he is compelled either to go on cultivating at an unremunerative price, or to risk an action for a debt he cannot pay. Moreover, it is the opinion of the Commission that the planter often, instead of resorting to the Courts, compels the ryot, by sowing his fields for him, to keep his engagements. More forcible means are alluded to, but the Commissioners do not find that the use of those means is proved. There is compulsion, but it is in the mass of cases the ordinary compulsion exercised by a creditor over an insolvent debtor, though made more stringent by the fact that the creditor is usually also landlord.

Under these circumstances, existing in every country of the earth, what produces the special excitement in Bengal? This, that the debtors are hundreds of thousands in number, and that the ryots, denied the opportunity of benefiting to the fullest extent by the generally increasing prosperity, suddenly discover that the ideas spread abroad that Government had a direct interest in the manufacture of indigo are unfounded that it is quite optional with any man to take advances or to refuse them; that they are free agents; that no more force is to be used; and that in these respects the Government had decided to give them fair support. We must not be surprised if they proceed at once to act upon this discovery; nor is there anything to be wondered at if, in their anxiety to complete their social freedom, they should sometimes have extracted that part of the orders and notifications which best suited their purpose, or sometimes wilfully misapprehended and misinterpreted their intent altogether, or even if they have exhibited a spirit of resistance, a determination and a power to act together, in contrast to their previous condition of apathy and inability to help themselves.

There is the whole case. A vast body of agricultural debtors have risen against a small body of somewhat severe creditors. Those creditors being also their landlords the resistance has naturally assumed the form of agrarian outrage. Thus far the Commission are agreed; but they divide when they come to the remedy. The majority recommend that subdivisions and subdivisional officers should be increased, and that a better police and "civil courts of prompt and effective procedure" should be created. In other words, they recommend the precise reforms for which the planters have been clamouring for the last thirty years without effect.

A more "proper" or more imbecile suggestion we never remember to have read. The Commission find that the indigo districts are oppressed by the power of the capitalist over his tenants. Yet they recommend that that power should be increased by a softer method of procedure. How is a prompt civil court to stop a peasant from getting into debt? or how is an efficient police to prevent the creditor from putting the new court constantly into action. A really efficient police might, of course, prevent the planter from employing force, or the ryot from attacking the planter, but the real grievance would remain unaltered. It is the power of the creditor to compel the debtor to work on at an unprofitable trade, which is the root of the existing disorders, and that power can be exerted through "prompt" civil courts just as efficiently as in any other mode.

The minority of the committee dissent altogether from this suggestion, as not touching the root of the matter. They would first, by a complete reorganisation of the police, by disarming the country, and by rendering landholders responsible for affrays, compel all parties to keep the peace towards each other. The planter must be deprived of his clubmen, the peasantry of their spears. They would then compel the ryot to honesty by making breach of contract a penal offence, and the planter to humanity by appointing a special Commissioner to hear indigo complaints. The latter expedient, they add, is especially necessary while the country is in its present excitable condition. These suggestions, wise or otherwise, are at least practical, and failing a final settlement of the question, would at least ensure that order to secure which, and not to settle trade disputes, governments exist.

For ourselves we believe that both the minority and majority of the Commission have missed the true remedy for the permanent difficulty. The contracts already entered on must be worked out or repaid, if necessary, under compulsion. If they are, as the planters say, voluntary, it is no function of the Legislature to teach agriculturists to swindle. If they are, as the ryots say, compulsory, let the ryots repay them to the collector, whose receipt shall be a final discharge. It is for the future alone that we must provide; and in future the one thing to be secured is, that the relation of planter and peasant shall be that of free labourers and employers. This result, we firmly believe, will be best secured by the abolition of all means for the recovery of indigo advances made after 1860. Deprived of the law of distraint, the planter must, for his own sake, offer such a price for the indigo that it will suit the ryot to cultivate the plant. On the other hand, the ryot, deprived of advances, must either cultivate with his own capital, or, as he does in all other cases, borrow from the regular money-lender. The planter and the peasant will then return to their natural position as buyer and seller, and agrarian outrage will be, at least for indigo grievances, impossible. To the objection, that in that case indigo might cease to be grown, we have only to reply, that if indigo can only be grown by forced labour indigo must cease to be grown. We are not in India to establish slavery. The danger, however, is purely visionary. Indigo can be purchased like anything else for a fair price. The necessity of giving a fair price, or going without, would soon lead to improved methods of manufacture.

SUPPOSED LOSS OF THE SHIPS "CLEVELAND" AND "ASIA," WITH ALL HANDS.

The fate of these ships has for a long while excited the deepest anxiety, both in London and in India, and it is with regret we have to announce that they have been given up as lost at Lloyd's, and by others interested in the vessels.

The Cleveland belonged to Messrs. W. and S. Smith, of Royal Exchange-buildings, and of Newcastle. She was a full-rigged ship, 514 tons register, classed A 1 for twelve years in Lloyd's registry, having been built under special survey at Newcastle, in 1858. She sailed from Madras for London on the 28th of last March, with a miscellaneous cargo and the following cabin passengers:—Mrs. Paske and child, Captain H. B. Herbert, of the 7th Madras Native Infantry, Colonel and Mrs. Ricketts and family, the Rev. T. and Mrs. Keiber, Dr. Squire, of her Majesty's 60th Rifles, and Mr. Keane. The ship was afterwards spoken with on the 3rd of May by the Rajasthan, Captain Atkinson, in lat. 22 S., long. 59 E., since which period nothing whatever has been heard of her.

The Rajasthan reached Jamaica on the 7th of last August, and forwarded her speakings to England. The Cleveland crew was as follows:—Captain H. Blick, aged 30, of London; Mr. Haynes Bryan, aged 28, first mate; Mr. Richard Brunton, aged 21, second mate; Joseph Hebblewhite, aged 29, ship's carpenter; Julian Follitt, aged 22, steward; Charles Nelson, aged 22, cook; Joseph Thornton, aged 28, Phillip T. Marriott, aged 39, John R. Nichols, aged 22, F. Solibery, aged 22, William Myer, aged 24, Thomas Bailey, aged 41, Hugh Walker, aged 24, George Smith, aged 48, Thomas Byan Wyke, aged 18, and Giuseppe Squarb, aged 22, seamen; and Thomas R. Thompson, of London, Stephen Curtis, of London, Arthur Latter, of London, and John S. Duncan, midshipmen and apprentices. Both ship and cargo are represented to have been insured.

The unfortunate ship Asia was 1,314 tons register, a Quebecer, which sailed from Liverpool on the 14th of last February, bound for Bombay, with a general cargo. Twenty-five days afterwards she was spoken with by the Walter Scott, in lat. 27 W., but nothing whatever has been since heard of her.

The subjoined is a list of her officers and crew:—Captain Thomas Coram, master; Mr. Thomas Ireland Gordon, aged 32, chief officer; Mr. Geo. Joseph Reid, aged 32, second mate; Charles Pover, aged 22, third mate; Robert Scott, aged 35, carpenter; Charles Jones, aged 24, boatswain; John Waddle, aged 42, sail maker; Mr. Thomas Arthur Wilson, aged 25, steward; Herbert Turks, aged 31, cook; William Payne, aged 24; Carl Wilt, aged 21, John Wilson, aged 35; Charles Wilson, aged 46, Charles Ulback, aged 25, Robt. Walker, aged 32, John de Silva, aged 33, James Jackson, aged 22, Henry Green, aged 23, Robert Nichol, aged 21, Thomas Davis, aged 31, Henry Crawley, aged 22, John Tringo, aged 20, James Howard, aged 24, Antonio Nichols, aged 24, Bartholomew Kelly, aged 20, Daniel Williams, aged 19, and Matteo Radoomich, aged 19, seamen. The Asia was insured.

SHIPPING.

ARRIVALS.

Nov. 8. Jenny, Ryberg, Algoa Bay.—9. Euryalus, Tarleton, Cape of Good Hope; Prince Regent, Tully, Bombay.—10. City of Durham, Blacklock, Ceylon.

PASSENGERS DEPARTED.

Per str. Indus, from SOUTHAMPTON, Nov. 12, to proceed per str. Bombay, for BOMBAY, and per str. —, for CALCUTTA, from SUEZ.—Per MALTA.—Mr. F. E. Thompson, Mr. Leary, For SUEZ.—Mr. T. C. Chevallier, For BOMBAY.—Capt. and Mrs. J. Jones and infant, Mr. J. Battye, Mr. and Mrs. J. Deas and lady friend, Dr. F. H. and Mrs. Smith, Miss H. Smith, Mrs. Dundas and infant, Miss Robertson, Mr. Openshaw, Mrs. MacDonald, Asst. surg. Pirie, Miss Fisher, Ens. Glasgow, Mr. and Mrs. Mactier, Miss Dalziel, Miss Baker, Col. and Mrs. Liddell and two daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Tunnell, Lieut. Col. Travers, Mrs. Travers, Lieut. A. A. G. Dushwood, Mrs. Forrest, Miss M. MacGillivray, Ens. Thrupp, Asst. surg. McMaster, Ens. Richardson, Miss Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Poett and two children, Mrs. Butler. For CALCUTTA.—C. B. Prior, Mr. Rogers, Capt. Burton, Mr. Prinsep, Mrs. L. Stokes, Mr. Barrow, Mr. G. S. Jones, Mrs. Sutherland and child, Mr. Dwyer, Mr. Walter, Mr. Stuart, Mr. A. F. Lingham, Capt. G. Strangways, Mrs. A. R. Sneyd, Miss and Master Sutherland, Mrs. Allen, Miss Bayley, Mr. W. J. Mulligan, Mr. Rinnington, Capt. R. S. Wilson, Mr. J. Long, Mr. Critchley, Lieut. Col. W. G. Beves, Mr. H. Fraser, Capt. J. MacDougall, Capt. Ravenhill, Capt. White, Mr. Spetz, Mr. B. Schumacher, Mrs. R. V. and Miss C. Boyle, Capt. and Mrs. Skottowe, Ens. H. Robinson. For MADRAS.—Mr. Chaplin, Mr. E. Ross, Lieut. W. H. Warrington, Asst. surg. Symons, Mr. Eastall, Mr. Lecky. For SHANGHAI.—Mr. J. Malcolm. For SINGAPORE.—Mr. Mooyer. For HONG KONG.—Mr. Lind, Mr. F. Mayor. For CEYLON.—Miss Richardson and infant, Mr. J. Kydd, Mr. B. Griedrod, Mr. J. Duncan.

Per str. Euxine, from MARSEILLES, Nov. 21, to proceed per str. Bombay, for BOMBAY, and per str. —, for CALCUTTA, from SUEZ.—For CEYLON.—Mr. H. Ritchie, Mr. and Mrs. Gavin, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, Mr. A. Monce. For BOMBAY.—Capt. Barr, Mr. Lord, Lieut. Col. Forbes, c.b., Mr. and Mrs. Keys, Mrs. Whitlock, Mr. Paul, Rev. J. Sheriff, Mr. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. J. Christie. For SINGAPORE.—Mr. L. Bonman, Mr. and Mrs. E. Milman, Capt. R. N. Taylor, Mr. T. M. Mrs. and Miss Higginbotham, Mr. G. Dartnell, Mr. T. M. Grant. For CALCUTTA.—Mrs. Inglis and child, Mr. Abadie, Miss Cobbett, Mr. Mangles, Mr. J. Lyall, Mr. Moncreff and friend, Mr. Peitch and three friends, Mue. Bancel, Mr. R. T. Collan, Mr. Williamson, Mr. McIver, Asst. surg. Watson, Mr. Woolley, Capt. J. H. Gordon, Miss Orr.

DOMESTIC.

BIRTH.

GAITSKELL, the wife of Major J. G., H.M.'s Indian Army, of a son, at 7, Lansdowne-place, Cheltenham, Nov. 7.

MARRIAGE.

BOWRING, Sir John, LL.D., F.R.S., late H.M.'s Plenipotentiary in China, to Deborah, daughter of the late Thomas Castle, Esq., of Clifton, at Lewin's Mead Chapel, Bristol, Nov. 8.

DEATHS.

JOURDAN, Col. Henry G., H.M.'s Indian army, at 19, Westbourne-park, aged 77, Nov. 10.
WILLOCK, Eliza, relict of Sir Henry, K.L.S., late of Castelnaud-house, Mortlake, at 7, Chester-terrace, Regent's-park, Nov. 9.

THE MINTS.—The silver received and coined at the three Mints during August was as follows:—

	Received.	Coined.
Calcutta	Rs. 8,85,063	Rs. 25,21,148
Madras	1,93,162	7,99,175
Bombay	none	27,89,000

Rs. 10,78,225 Rs. 60,59,323

Of the amount received Rs. 6,91,540 was from merchants.

BENGAL GOVERNMENT LOANS.

	Buy. s. d.	Sell. s. d.	Actual Sales.
5½ per Cent. Loan of 1859-60	—	—	101½st.
5 p. Ct. Loan of 1854 (P. Works Loan)...	—	—	1 10½
4 per Cent. East-India } Sicca Rs.	—	—	1 7
Transfer Loan Stock }	—	—	—
New 5 per Cent. Loan of 1856-57	—	—	95 ½st.
4 per Cent. Loan of 1855-56	—	—	1 7
4 per Cent., 1842-43 and 54-55	—	—	79ster.

INDIA EXCHANGES.

BILLS.	Bank and Commercial Bills, at 60 days' sight, per Co.'s Rpe.	Indian Govt. Bills, at 60 days' sight, per Co.'s Rpe.	Total for each Mail to Three Presidencies.
Bengal ...	2s. 1s. 11½d.	2s. 2d.	£. s. d.
Madras ...	2s. 1s. 11½d.	2s. 2d.	—
Bombay ...	2s. 1s. 11½d.	2s. 2½d.	—

Post Bills and Bank of Bengal, Bombay, Madras, and Indian Government Interest Bills 2s.

STOCKS AND SECURITIES.

Shares.		Paid.	Prices.
£.	India Stock	223½
	India Stock (5 per ct.), 1859	103½
	India Enfranch Paper 4 pr. ct.	80½
	India 5 p. ct. Enfranch Paper, 5½	96 to 96½
	per cent.	101½
	India Loan Debentures, 1858	96½
	India Debentures, 1859	96½
	India Enfranch Paper, 4 per ct.	103½
	India 5 per cent. for account... ..	8s. to 4s. dis.
	India Bonds (£1,000)	8s. dis. to par.
	Ditto (under £1,000)	—
	RAILWAYS.
Stock	Bombay, Baroda, and Central India (guar. 5 per ct.)	100	93½ to 94½
18	Ditto Additional Capital, A	all	—
18	Ditto B	16	1½ to 1½ dis.
5	Calcutta & S. Eastern (lim.)	1.3	½ dis. par.
20	Ceylon (guar. 6 per cent.)	7½	1½ to 1 dis.
20	Eastern Bengal (gu. 5 p. ct.)	10	1½ to 1½ dis.
Stock	East India	100	101 to 100½
100	Ditto 4½ p. ct. debentures	all	98 to 99
20	Ditto F Ext.	all	½ dis. par.
Stock	Ditto 5 per ct. deb.	all	100½ to 101½
100	Ditto 1865-70	75	½ dis. par.
20	Jubbulpore	all	½ dis. par.
Stock	Great Indian Peninsula (guar. 5 per ct.)	100	96½ to 96½
20	Ditto (New ditto)	8	1½ to 1 dis.
20	Great S. of India (Lim.) Scrip (guar. 5 per ct.)	13	2½ to 1½ dis.
Stock	Madras (guar. 4½ per ct.)	100	84½ to 85½
Stock	Ditto 5 per cent.	100	94 to 95
Stock	Ditto Extension (guar. 4½ per cent.)	100	86½ to 87½
20	Ditto 4th Extension (guar. 5 per ct.)	15	1½ to 1½ dis.
20	Ottoman Rail. (guar. 6 p. ct.)	7	—
Stock	Sicily 5 per cent.	all	38 to 39
20	Ditto (New)	15	—
Stock	Ditto Indus Steam Flotilla (guar. 5 per ct.)	all	93 to 95
20	Punjab (5 per ct.)	10	2 to 1½ dis.
	BANKS.
100	Agra and United Service lim.	50	80 to 82
40	Australasia	all	62 to 64
26	Bank of Egypt	all	2½ to 2½
20	Chart. of Ind., Aus., & China	all	22 to 22½
25	Chart. Merc. of India, Lond., and China	all	33 to 35
25	Oriental Bank Corporation	all	43 to 45 x.d.
20	Ottoman Bank	all	18½ to 19
	MISCELLANEOUS.
20	Madras Irrig. and Canal	1	1½ to 2½ pm.
10	Mediterran. Ext. Tel. (Lim.)	all	2 to 4
20	Nerbudda Coal and Iron	5	3 to 2 dis.
1	N. B. Australasian Company	all	7 to 1½
1	Oriental Gas	all	1 to 1
	Ditto New	15s.	½ dis. to par.
10	Oriental Inland Steam A.	6	—
50	P. and O. Steam Nav. Co.	all	76 to 78
20	Ditto New	25	4 to 78
20	Red Sea and Ind. Telegraph	17½	47 to 17½
1	Submarine Telegraph Scrip	all	1 to 1
1	Ditto Registered	all	1 to 1

THE ORDER OF THE BATH.—WAR-OFFICE, Nov. 9.—The Queen has been graciously pleased to give orders for the appointment of Lieut.-gen. Sir James Hope Grant, K.C.B., Commanding H.M.'s Military Forces in China to be an Ordinary Member of the Military Division of the First Class, or Knights Grand Cross, of the Most Honourable Order of the Bath. Her Majesty has also been graciously pleased to give orders for the appointment of Vice-Admiral James Hope, C.B., Commander-in-Chief of H.M.'s Naval Forces in the East Indies and China, to be an Ordinary Member of the Military Division of the Second Class, or Knights Commanders, of the said Most Honourable Order.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

CALCUTTA REVIEW. No. 68.
Just received.
Price Seven Shillings.
CONTENTS.

1. Capture of Lucknow.
2. Christianity in India.
3. Oudh.
4. The Ryot in Bengal.
5. Clavijo's Embassy to Timur.
6. Calcutta in 1860.
7. An Indian Staff Corps.
8. The Indigo Blue-book.
9. The British Soldier in India.
10. Critical Notices of Works on India and the East.

CONTENTS OF No. 67.

1. Outram at the Alumbagh.
2. Colonisation and Settlement in India.
3. Mountstuart Elphinstone.
4. The Law Courts of the Bengal Presidency.
5. Ceylon of Yore.
6. Limitations of Indian Liberty.
7. Indigo Planters and Missionaries.
8. The Wedding at Patalia.
9. The New Taxes.
10. Critical Notices of Works on India and the East.

CONTENTS OF No. 66.

1. Melanesia and the New French Settlement.
2. The Mahomedans in the Punjab.
3. English Life in Bengal.
4. The French Courts of Justice.
5. Military Hygiene in India.
6. Lord Dalhousie.
7. Forbes's Ras Mala.
8. India as a Career.
9. Critical Notices of Works on India and the East.

London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street, E.C.

ENGRAVED BY ORDER OF THE HON. EAST-INDIA COMPANY.

AN ATLAS OF INDIA, on a scale of four miles to an inch. From Trigonometrical Surveys made for the purpose, being intended to form a complete Map of the whole of India, on a uniform plan, the Sheets being issued separately as they are completed, at 4s. each, or on cloth, in cases, 7s. each.

The following Sheets are published, viz. :—

24. Bassein, Rumaun.
25. Bombay.
26. Janjira, Ratnagheria, Vizia-droog.
- 27 & 41. Goa, Dharwar, Belgaum.
38. Aurangabad, Nassik.
39. Poona.
40. Satara, Bejapoor, Meerut.
41. Goa.
42. North Canara, Mysore, &c.
43. South Canara, Coorg, &c.
44. Part of Malabar.
47. Himalaya Mountains.
48. Dehra Doon, Sirhind, and Upper Doonab.
49. Delhi, Meerut, &c.
50. Agra, Bhurtpoor, Jeypoor.
55. Mairer, Jaunah, Bassein.
56. Nandair, Kowlas, Beder.
57. Sholapore.
58. Part of the Ceded Districts, and Nizam's Dominions.
59. Part of the Ceded Districts, and Mysore Dominions.
60. Mysore Dominions.
61. Coimbatore, Neilgherry Hills, Malabar.
62. Travancore, Cochin, Dindigul.
63. Tinnevely and Travancore
65. Himalaya Mountains.
66. Gurhwal, Kumaon.
67. Moradabad, Bareilly.
68. Furruckabad, Etawah.
69. North Bundelcund.
70. South Bundelcund.
72. Nagpoor.
73. Wyragar, Chandak.
74. Gilgunder, Mullaugoor.
75. Hyderabad.
76. Guntoor, Kurnool, &c.
77. Cuddapah, Nellore, &c.
78. Madras, Arcot, &c.
79. Salem, Trichinopoly.
80. Rannad, Tanjore.
81. Tuticorin.
88. Allahabad.
89. Rewah, part of Mirzapoor.
94. Rajahmundry, Elloor, Coringa.
95. Masulipatam, Mouths of the Kistna.
102. Khatmandu, Ghoreekpoor.
103. Ghazeepoor, Dinapore.
107. Gunjam, Goomsur.
108. Gunjam, part of Vizagapatam.
109. Part of Vizagapatam.
111. Natchoor, Bhowareh.
112. Bhagulpoor, Purneah.
113. Soory, Ramghur.
114. Midnapoor, Charbassa.
124. Lower Assam.
125. Sylhet.
129. Upper Assam.
130. Upper Assam.
131. Munnipoor.
138. North-East part of Assam.

* A small Index Sheet may be had GRATIS, on application.
London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

MEMOIRS of a GRIFFIN, or, a Cadet's First Year in India. By Capt. BELLEW. With Numerous Illustrations. 2 vols., post 8vo. cloth, £1. 1s.

* These Memoirs being founded on fact, serve to instruct the Cadet whilst he reads for fun.
London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall street.

ALLEN'S

MAPS OF INDIA & CHINA.

MAP of INDIA; showing the British Territories subdivided into Collectorates, and the position and boundary of each Native State; chiefly compiled from Trigonometrical Surveys, executed by order of the Honourable Court of Directors of the East India Company. On six sheets—Size, 5 ft. 6 in. high; 5 ft. 8 in. wide. £3; or, on cloth, in a case, £2. 12s. 6d.; or, with rollers and varnished, £3. 3s.

The object kept in view in compiling this map has been to render it available to the greatest possible extent for popular use. For this purpose the names of all stations, civil and military, are inserted, as well as those of all towns and places of note likely to be looked for. To make clear the subdivisions of the whole of the country, both British and native, the limits of the various districts and collectorates, with their names, are distinctly indicated. The railways and telegraphs are laid down, and the trunk roads conspicuously coloured. The newly-acquired district in Burmah is included. To avoid, however, the confusion consequent upon over-crowding, and make the map clear and easy for reference, the names of many small villages, and places of no present importance, have been omitted, and thus a very wide measure of comprehensiveness has been attained, while needless diffusiveness has been avoided.

A GENERAL MAP of INDIA; compiled chiefly from Surveys executed by order of the Honourable East India Company, with the railways and telegraphs. On six sheets—Size, 5 ft. 3 in. wide; 5 ft. 4 in. high. £2; or, on cloth, in a case, £2. 12s. 6d.; or, with rollers and varnished, £3. 3s.

MAP of the ROUTES in INDIA; with Tables of Distances between the principal Towns and Military Stations. On one sheet—Size 2 ft. 3 in. wide; 2 ft. 9 in. high. 9s.; or, on cloth, in a case, 12s.

In this map are given the whole of the military and civil stations, together with the principal towns, the villages being omitted, so as to make the stations more prominent. The colouring defines the boundaries of the three Presidencies, and shows also the railways and telegraphs.

MAP of INDIA and CHINA, BURMAH, SIAM, the MALAY PENINSULA, and the EMPIRE of ANAM. On two sheets—Size, 4 ft. 3 in. wide; 3 ft. 4 in. high. 16s.; or, on cloth, in a case, £1. 5s.

MAP of the PUNJAB and SIKH TERRITORY. On one sheet, 5s.; or, on cloth, in a case, 6s.

MAP of AFGHANISTAN, and the ADJACENT COUNTRIES. On one sheet—Size 2 ft. 3 in. wide; 2 ft. 9 in. high. 9s.; or, on cloth, in a case, 12s.

MAP of CHINA, from the most Authentic Sources of Information. One large sheet—Size, 2 ft. 7 in. wide; 2 ft. 2 in. high. 8s.; or, on cloth, in a case, 11s.

MAP of the BURMAN EMPIRE, showing the Annexed District of Pegu. One sheet, 3s. 6d.; or, on cloth, in a case, 5s.

A MAP of the WESTERN PROVINCES of HINDOOSTAN, the PUNJAB, CABOOL, SINDE, BHAWULPORE, &c., including all the States between Candahar and Allahabad. On four sheets—Size, 4 ft. 4 in. wide; 4 ft. 3 in. high. 30s.; or, on cloth, in a case, £2; rollers, and varnished, £2. 10s.

MAP of ARABIA, from all the most recent Authorities, by order of the Court of Directors of the East India Company. Size, 3 ft. 3 in. high; 4 ft. 3 in. wide. On cloth, in a case, £1. 5s.

HAND-BOOK to the MAPS of INDIA, giving the Latitude and Longitude of all places of note. By Major H. V. STEPHEN, late of Bengal Army Revenue Survey Department. In 18mo, bound, price 5s.

MAP of INDIA; from the most recent Authorities, showing the railways and telegraphs. On two sheets—Size, 2 ft. 10 in. wide; 3 ft. 3 in. high. 16s.; or, on cloth, in a case, £1. 5s.

MAP of the STEAM COMMUNICATION and OVERLAND ROUTES between ENGLAND, INDIA, CHINA, and AUSTRALIA. In a case, 14s.; on rollers, and varnished, 18s.

London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

COLONEL HOUGH ON COURTS-MARTIAL.

PRECEDENTS IN MILITARY LAW; including the Practice of Courts-Martial; the Mode of Conducting Trials; the Duties of Officers at Military Courts of Inquests, Courts of Inquiry, Courts of Requests, &c., &c.

The following are a portion of the Contents:—

1. Military Law.
2. Martial Law.
3. Courts-Martial.
4. Courts of Inquiry.
5. Courts of Inquest.
6. Courts of Request.
7. Forms of Courts-Martial.
8. Precedents of Military Law.
9. Trials of Arson to Rape. (Alphabetically arranged.)
10. Rebellions.
11. Riots.
12. Miscellaneous.

By Lieutenant-colonel W. HOUGH,

Late Deputy Judge-advocate-general, English Army, and Author of several Works on Courts-Martial.

In one thick 8vo. vol., price 25s.

"It would be impossible to over-estimate the utility of this work to members of the military profession as a comprehensive exposition of the law especially applicable to them, and to the practice of military tribunals; and it would be difficult to speak in terms of commendation too high of the manner in which it has been executed."—Morning Chronicle.

WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street, London, E.C.

THE NORTHERN ASSURANCE COMPANY.

1, MOORGATE STREET, LONDON.
DAYS OF GRACE.

In cases of Annual Insurance the liability of the Company continues in force during the 15 days allowed for the renewal of the Policy, and the Company is bound to accept payment of the Premium, although the insured property should meanwhile have been destroyed. In Foreign Insurances the Company is equally bound to accept the Premium if instructions to renew have been despatched from the place where the property is situate, within 15 days from the date when the Policy falls due. See case referred to in the Times City Article, 13th Oct., 1860.

PERSONS proceeding to INDIA can effect ASSURANCES on favourable terms with the COLONIAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

LOANS given to Civil or Military Officers proceeding to India on her Majesty's Service.
Agents at Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, and in all the British Colonies, where premiums can be paid and claims settled.

The Colonial was established in 1846, and its present income is £40,000 per annum.

Subscribed Capital, £1,000,000 sterling.

Constituted by Act of Parliament.

SAMUEL R. FERGUSON, Res. Sec.

LONDON 81, Lombard-street, E.C.,
and at Messrs. Paris and Co's, No. 10, St. James's-street, S.W.

EDINBURGH (Head Office) 5, George-street.

DUBLIN 65, Upper Sackville-street.

GLASGOW 58, St. Vincent-street.

EAST-INDIA WINE COMPANY, 55, Parliament-street, London, S.W.—The following choice WINES delivered CARRIAGE FREE to every railway-station in the Kingdom, and to all parts of London and its environs:—

	Per Doz.
SHERRY Good	36s.
Superior Pale	42s. and 44s.
Mature and Choice, Pale or Gold	46s. and 48s.
Very Choice, Pale or Gold	51s.
PORT..... Fine Crusted	42s., 44s., and 46s.
Superior Old Crusted	48s. and 51s.
Very Fine Bee-swing ditto	50s.
Ditto ditto, in pints	53s.
CLARET St. Julien, Larose, Second and Third Growth	36s. to 54s.
Chateau Lafite, Margaux, and Latour. First Growth	78s.
MADEIRA East-India	63s. to 72s.
West-India	48s. to 60s.
Direct	36s. to 51s.
MARSALA Finest quality	30s.
BUCELLAS Superior	36s. to 42s.
VIDONIA Finest	32s.
CHAMPAGNE..... Fine Sparkling	48s. to 54s.
Finest quality	72s.
Ditto pints	36s.
MOSELLE Finest Sparkling	78s.
HOCK Ditto ditto	75s.

OTHER GERMAN AND FRENCH WINES.

Bottles charged 2s., and Hampers or Cases 1s. per dozen, and allowed for if returned.

WINE IN WOOD SUPPLIED DIRECT FROM THE DOCKS, OR FOR EXPORTATION.

Orders and Communications to be addressed to

CHARLES JAY, Manager,

East-India Wine Company,

55, Parliament-street, S.W.

The above Wines may be ordered through Messrs. GRINDLAY and Co., East-India Army Agents, 55, Parliament-street, S.W.

CLAPHAM COMMON—UNFURNISHED.

MR. JAMES STEVENS is instructed to LET No. 1, THE CRESCENT, Rent £90. This house is within a few yards of that delightful and healthy spot—Clapham Common, and overlooks a beautiful ornamental enclosure. It has just been thoroughly drained with glazed pipes, and put into substantial and ornamental repair, and is fit for and put into substantial and ornamental repair, and is fit for immediate occupation. The house contains, on the ground floor, entrance-hall, dining-room and library. Above—double floor, entrance-rooms, with five bed-rooms, very convenient store-rooms, and excellent domestic offices. Within one mile of the Balham Station for Brighton, Crystal Palace, West-end, &c. Omnibuses to West-end and City pass constantly.

JAMES STEVENS, Auctioneer, Clapham Common, S.

Corrected to May 12, 1860.

THE EAST-INDIA REGISTER & ARMY LIST

FOR 1860,

CONTAINING

Complete Lists of the Servants at Home and Abroad: Regulations respecting the Appointments to the Civil, Military, and Medical Services.

COMPILED BY PERMISSION.

12mo. sewed, 10s.; or, by post, 10s. 6d.;
or, bound, 11s. 6d.; or, by post, 12s.

London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

AN INTRODUCTION to the GRAMMAR of the SANSKRIT LANGUAGE, for the Use of Early Students. By H. H. WILSON, M.A., F.R.S., &c., &c. 8vo cloth, 18s.

London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

CHRISTIAN AND RATHBONE, EAST INDIA AND COLONIAL OUTFITTERS, 11, WIGMORE-STREET, LONDON.

COMPLETE EQUIPMENTS and OUTFITS for Ladies, Officers, Cadets, and Civilians, of the best quality, at the lowest prices for cash. Estimates will be forwarded on application, showing the entire cost of OUTFIT and PASSAGE via the CAPE, or OVERLAND.
ESTABLISHED 1792. 11, WIGMORE-STREET.

SUPERIOR EDUCATION for the DAUGHTERS of GENTLEMEN in a FIRST-CLASS ESTABLISHMENT, West of London. Inclusive Terms, from Sixty to Ninety Guineas per annum. The system adopted combines the most approved features of the Colleges, with the discipline of the School. Professors of eminence attend for all the higher branches of English Instruction, all Accomplishments, and Foreign Languages. A French Governess is resident. References to Clergymen and others. Situation and Residence unexceptionable.
Address ALPHAS, Messrs. LEADER and Cock's, 63, New Bond-street, London.

ADDISCOMBE DIRECT APPOINTMENTS, and WOOLWICH.
The Rev. C. J. HUGHES, M.A., who has Prepared nearly TWO HUNDRED PUPILS for the above, occasionally has VACANCIES.
Adelaide Lodge, 61, Finchley Road, St. John's Wood, N.W.

HINDOOSTANI AND PERSIAN.

LESSONS in the above LANGUAGES are given by an INDIAN GENTLEMAN of Twenty Years' Experience as Professor, Interpreter, and Translator; who has obtained Certificates of degrees of honour and high proficiency from the Examiners of the College of Fort William. He possesses the most satisfactory testimonials, and can give unexceptionable references.
Address, "ALLY," care of Messrs. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street, London, E.C.

MILITARY and NAVAL EDUCATION.—A MARRIED CLERGYMAN, resident at Brighton, RECEIVES a limited number of PUPILS, between the ages of Twelve and Fifteen, who may be destined for the Military and Naval Professions. With a view to this ultimate object, the entire course of Study, from the outset, is regulated expressly in conformity with the requirements of the Examinations at Addiscombe, Sandhurst, Woolwich, and Portsmouth; and every care is taken to direct special attention to those subjects likely to prove professionally useful in the future career of the Naval or Military officer. The Pupils are examined periodically in Mathematics by Professor J. R. YOUNG, formerly of Belfast College, and Author of "A Course of Mathematics, Pure and Mixed, for the Use of Candidates for the Military and Civil Service Examinations," &c.; and also in Classics and Modern Languages by Scholars of repute. Prospectuses may be had of Messrs. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street, London.

Preparing for publication, in One Volume Octavo,
BY J. R. YOUNG,

(Late Professor of Mathematics, Belfast College),
A COURSE OF MATHEMATICS,

PURE AND MIXED,

More especially designed for the Use of Candidates for the MILITARY & CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.

WITH A VARIETY OF PROBLEMS IN, AND PRACTICAL APPLICATIONS OF THE FOLLOWING SUBJECTS:

1. ALGEBRA, TRIGONOMETRY, AND MENSURATION.
2. ANALYTICAL GEOMETRY (CONIC SECTIONS), STATICS, DYNAMICS, AND HYDROSTATICS.
3. THE DIFFERENTIAL AND INTEGRAL CALCULUS with their applications to the Higher Geometry, Mechanics, &c., &c.

The object of this work is to furnish Candidates for the Military and Civil Service Examinations with such a practical knowledge of Pure and Mixed Mathematics as may prove most serviceable to them in the course of the ordeal to which they are about to be subjected. On such occasions a mere theoretical acquaintance with principles is by no means sufficient. It is also necessary that the young aspirant should have been trained by actual experiments, as it were, to the application of the abstract rules, the enunciation of which he has otherwise mastered only by an effort of memory. To assist him in this, Mr. J. R. YOUNG has devised a multitude of problems, of greater or less difficulty, in Algebra, Trigonometry, Mensuration, Analytical Geometry (Conic Sections), Statics, Dynamics, Hydrostatics, the Differential and Integral Calculus, with their applications to the Higher Geometry, Mechanics, &c. The chief peculiarity of this work, however, is one that will recommend it to a very large class of students. The most difficult questions are rendered comparatively easy, by the practical simplification of the mode of solution. Instead of a pompous and puzzling display of technical phraseology, the utmost care has been taken to explain the most knotty points in a plain, unaffected manner, intelligible to every ordinary capacity. In this respect, Mr. YOUNG's "Course of Mathematics" will be found to possess a decided superiority over all preceding works on the same subject.

London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

In post 8vo., cloth, price 2s. 6d.

CHRONOLOGICAL ACCOUNT OF INDIA

Showing the principal events connected with the Mahomedan and European Governments in India.

By JOHN CHARLES BURGOYNE

London: W. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

Published Weekly, on the 3rd, 10th, 18th, and 26th of each month,

THE HOME NEWS.

PRICE 6d.

A JOURNAL SPECIALLY DEVOTED TO INDIAN TOPICS AND THE GENERAL NEWS OF THE DAY.

The publication of the HOME NEWS weekly instead of fortnightly, as heretofore, rendering it now as available to the English as to the Indian reader, Messrs. GRINDLAY and Co. will be happy to receive names of intending Subscribers, and will forward the HOME NEWS to them on the days of publication.

The HOME NEWS contains a Summary of the Principal Events of the Week—Parliamentary Intelligence, with Full Reports of all Indian Debates—East-India House Reports—Foreign Intelligence—Opinions of the Press—Literature—Law and Police Courts—Political, Clerical, and Miscellaneous News—Arrivals and Departures of Ships from and to the East—List of Passengers Outwards and Home—Army and Navy Promotions and Changes—Births, Marriages, and Deaths—Commercial, &c., &c.

SUBSCRIPTION.

For One Year £1 4s. 0d.
Postage on 48 Numbers 0 4 0

HOME NEWS OFFICES, 53, Parliament-street; and 9, St. Martin's-place, Charing-cross.

Subscribers to Messrs. Grindlay and Co.'s Agency, 24s. per annum in England, are entitled to receive the HOME NEWS free of cost, except for postage, in addition to the use of their Reading Rooms, &c.

I.

In post 8vo., Twenty-second Thousand, 7s. 6d.

CHRIST on the CROSS: Psalm XXII.
By JOHN STEVENSON, D.D., Vicar of Patric-bourne, Canterbury. Also, 11.

In post 8vo., Twenty-second Thousand, 5s.

THE LORD OUR SHEPHERD: Psalm XXIII. And, 111.

In post 8vo., Sixth Thousand, 6s.

GRATITUDE: Psalm CIII.
SEELEY, JACKSON, and HALLIDAY, Fleet-street.

This day is published, post 8vo., price 7s. 6d.

THE CONSUMMATION. By THOMAS HUTTON, F.G.S., Capt. Bengal Army.

Also, by the same Author, 2nd Edition, in 12mo., price 3s. 6d.

ISRAEL, IN THE PAST, THE PRESENT, AND THE FUTURE; or, LECTURES ON THE RESTORATION OF THE JEWS.

Second Edition, in 8vo., price 10s. 6d.

THE CHRONOLOGY OF CREATION; or, GEOLOGY AND SCRIPTURE RECONCILED.
London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street, E.C.

PROFESSOR WILSON'S GLOSSARY.

GLOSSARY OF JUDICIAL and REVENUE TERMS, and of useful words occurring in official documents relating to the Administration of the Government of British India, from the Arabic, Persian, Hindustani, Sanskrit, Hindi, Bengali, Uriya, Marathi, Gujarathi, Telugu, Karnat, Tamil, Malayalam, and other Languages, compiled and published under the authority of the hon. the Court of Directors of the E. I. Company. By H. H. WILSON, M.A., F.R.S., &c., &c. 4to cloth, £2 2s. 6d.

London: WM. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

Just published, in two sheets, price 10s. 6d.

A NEW CHART of the BAY of BENGAL with Plans of Coringa Bay, Point de Galle, Trincomalee Harbour, Colombo Harbour, Paumben Pass, Chittagong River, Kyauk, Phyou, Port of Akyab, entrance to Rangoon River, Bassein River, entrance to Moulmein River, Mergu River, Hastings Harbour, Penang Harbour, Acheen River. Compiled chiefly from Surveys of the Officers of the Honourable East-India Company. By JOHN WALKER, Geographer to the Company.
London: W. H. ALLEN and Co., 7, Leadenhall-street.

Just published,

DISEASES of the SKIN, with Photographic Illustrations, price 1s., by post 1s. 2d.; also SKIN DISEASES, and their REMEDIES, 2s. 6d., by post, 3s. 11d. By R. J. JORDAN, M.D., Licentiate of the Royal College of Physicians, Edinburgh, Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, England, etc., etc. Published by John Churchill, to be had from the Author only.
AT HOME, from Ten to Two, and from Five to Eight, or by appointment.
29, George-street, Hanover-square.

TO RAILWAY AND STEAM SHIPPING COMPANIES.

MACHINE BELTING.

FIRE-ENGINE HOSE and BUCKETS,

All descriptions of Leather for Exportation.

S. E. NORRIS and Co.,

SHADWELL LONDON,
MANUFACTURERS AND PATENTERS.

OVERLAND ROUTE.—COMMUNICA-

TION by STEAM to INDIA, AUSTRALIA, &c. via Egypt.—The PENINSULAR and ORIENTAL STEAM NAVIGATION COMPANY BOOK PASSENGERS and RECEIVE CARGO and PARCELS for GIBRALTAR, MALTA, EGYPT, ADEN, CEYLON, MADRAS, CALCUTTA, the STRAITS, and CHINA, by their Steamers leaving Southampton on the 4th and 20th of every month. For GIBRALTAR, MALTA, EGYPT, ADEN, and BOMBAY, by those of the 12th and 27th of each month, and for MAURITIUS, REUNION, KING GEORGE'S SOUND, MELBOURNE, and SYDNEY, by the Steamers leaving Southampton on the 20th of every month.

For further particulars, apply at the Company's Offices, 133, Leadenhall-street, London, E.C., or Oriental-place, Southampton.

GRINDLAY & CO., EAST INDIA ARMY AGENTS, having REMOVED their business to No. 55, PARLIAMENT-STREET, S.W., are prepared to open Banking Accounts at the above address.

Civil and Military Pay, Pensions, Fund Allowance and Dividends realised and remitted to all parts of the country and the Continent.

Every description of India-office business transacted. The new form of Life Certificate and requisite Power of Attorney supplied on application personally or by letter. India Government Paper and Interest Bills negotiated. Remittances to India at the exchange of the day. 55, Parliament-street, S.W.

DINNEFORD'S PURE FLUID MAG-

NESIA has been, during twenty-five years, sanctioned by the medical profession and universally accepted by the public as the best remedy for Acidity of the Stomach, Heartburn, Headache, Gout, and Indigestion. As a mild aperient it is admirably adapted for ladies and children, and it is invaluable in warm climates. Manufactured (with the utmost attention to strength and purity) by DINNEFORD and Co., 172, New Bond-street, London; and sold by all respectable chemists throughout the Empire.

MUMFORD'S CONCENTRATED CORDIAL ESSENCE OF JAMAICA GINGER.

The Cordial Essence, which is now taken in preference to all other preparations of Ginger, not only from its agreeable flavour, but from the value and certainty of its effects, will be found most useful in all cases of indigestion, spasms, heartburn, diarrhoea, irritability of the bowels, and in most nervous affections. To invalids suffering with impaired digestion from long residence in warm climates, and to those who are proceeding to India, this preparation cannot be too strongly recommended.

Prepared only by GEORGE MUMFORD, Chemist, 5, Bathurst-street, Hyde-park-gardens, and sold by all Chemists, in bottles at 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each; also in large stoppered bottles, for foreign use, at 21s.

COMMANS'S CELEBRATED ARECA-NUT TOOTH-PASTE is used by her Majesty and the Royal Family.—Has been examined, approved, is used and recommended, by many of our first physicians and dentists as the best preparation known for cleaning and preserving the teeth. Testimonials have been received, unsolicited, from many of the nobility and gentry. The following is amongst the many in testimony of its high value.

“Liverpool, August, 1859.

“I have much pleasure in offering my testimony to the value of your Areca-nut Tooth Paste, and have no hesitation in saying that it is the most efficacious and agreeable Dentifrice ever produced. I have recommended its use to my patients for some years.”

“W. J. NEWMAN,

“Surgeon Dentist to the Liverpool Infirmary for Children.” Prepared only by COMMANS, Chemist, Bath, in pots, 2s. each; to be procured of all Chemists, through the Wholesale Agents, Barclay, Edwards, London; Oldham and Co., Dublin; Duncan and Flockhart, Edinburgh.

CHUTNIES and INDIAN CONDIMENTS.

—PAYNE and Co., Belatee Bungalow, Calcutta, beg to inform their Indian constituents and the public that their famous Indian Condiments can be obtained in London in the same perfection as at their Establishment at Calcutta, which branch of the business has been successfully carried on for forty years, and stands pre-eminent for Indian Condiments and Delicacies of every description. They may be obtained from C. Steubridge, Oriental Warehouse, Leicester-square, London; Croese and Blackwell, London. Payne and Co., Regent-street, London; A. Cobbett, Pall Mall, London; and most Italian Warehousemen and Grocers in the City, and West End. The following Condiments are much appreciated in Europe:—

Bengal Club Chutney.	Chilli Vinegar.
Lucknow ditto.	Essence of Chilies.
Pandare ditto.	Tapp Sauce.
Cashmere ditto.	Mofussil Sauce.
Tamarind ditto.	Bamboo Pickle.
Pickled Mangoes.	Guava Jelly.
Curry Powder.	Mango Jelly.
Curry Paste.	Pine Apple Preserve.
Cayenne Pepper.	Preserved Mangoes.
Pickled Limes.	Mulgatawney Paste.

Agents for the sale of their Condiments required in the large provincial towns of England and Scotland, and the Australian Colonies. Priced Lists sent free on application.

PAYNE and Co., Belatee Bungalow, Calcutta; Established in 1821.

TO FAMILIES PROCEEDING to INDIA

and the COLONIES.—Owing to the difficulty experienced in procuring REALLY GOOD DRESSING-CASES, TRAVELLING and CARRIAGE-BAGS at the Colonies, Families and Ladies and Gentlemen proceeding abroad are invited to inspect the Stock of DESKS, DESPATCH-BOXES, WORK-BOXES, FINE CUTLERY, KNIVES, SCISSORS, and other FANCY ARTICLES, at 52, NEW BOND-STREET, which will prevent the annoyance so often experienced abroad in purchasing worthless exported articles.

Sole Manufacturers—WILLIAMS and Co., 52, New Bond-street, London, W.

TO PERSONS FURNISHING.

THE most varied and extensive STOCK of CABINET FURNITURE, UPHOLSTERY GOODS, BEDSTADS, BEDDING, CHIMNEY-GLASSES, DAMASKS, CARPETS, &c., conveniently arranged for public inspection, will be found in the immense Furniture Galleries and Show-rooms of Messrs. DRUCE and Co., Nos. 58, 65, and 69, BAKER-STREET. The price is marked on every article in plain figures, that persons may make their own estimates, as importunity to purchasers is not allowed. Every article being manufactured by first-rate workmen, of the best seasoned materials, a twelve-month's warranty is given.

Purchasers are invited to visit this establishment before deciding elsewhere.

N.B.—Iron Bedsteads, 8s. 6d. each; 500 Easy Chairs and 100 Wardrobes to select from. Carpets 1s. per yard under the usual price.

 Illustrated Books post free.

J. MAPLE and Co.'s NEW ILLUSTRATED

CATALOGUE, containing the Prices of every Article required for completely furnishing a House of any class, post free. This is the largest and most convenient Furnishing Establishment in the world. Established Twenty years.

J. MAPLE and Co., 145 and 146, Tottenham-court-road.

HANDSOME BRASS and IRON BED-

STEADS.—HEAL and SON'S Show Rooms contain a large assortment of Brass Bedsteads, suitable both for Home use and for Tropical Climates; handsome Iron Bedsteads with Brass Mountings and elegantly Japanned; Plain Iron Bedsteads for Servants; every description of Wood Bedstead that is manufactured, in Mahogany, Birch, Walnut-tree Woods, Polished Deal and Japanned, all fitted with Bedding and Furniture complete, as well as every description of Bedroom Furniture.

HEAL and SON'S ILLUSTRATED

CATALOGUE, containing Designs and Prices of 100 Bedsteads, as well as of 150 different articles of Bedroom Furniture, sent free by post.

HEAL and SON, Bedstead, Bedding, and Bedroom Furniture Manufacturers, 196, Tottenham-court-road, W.

OBTAIN THE IMPERIAL LINEN COM-

PANY'S PRICE LIST, sent free by post, and never buy Household Linens or Family Drapery of any kind without first consulting this useful manual, as you will by it learn to save one-third your outlay, secure first-class goods from the first-class makers, and be in pocket all profits intervening between the producer and consumer.

The THREE-GUINEA SAMPLE PARCEL, containing One rich Hambro' double Damask Table-cloth, to dine ten persons, usually £1 1s.

One very large pair fine Witney Blankets, usually 17s. 6d.

One pair fine wide Russia Sheets, usually 16s. 9d.

One pair magnificent Embroidered Swiss Curtains, usually 19s. 6d.

Half-a-dozen rich Damask Dinner Napkins, usually 10s. 6d.

One elegant Marsella Bed-quilt, welled, usually 13s. 6d.

Six Marsella Toilet Covers, fringed, usually 9s. 6d.

One bundle Royal Turkish Towels, fringed, usually 12s. 6d.; and

One dozen fine French Cambric Handkerchiefs, usually 10s. 6d.

All of which will be forwarded to any part on receipt of three guineas.

N.B.—Other articles, of same value, may be substituted, if desired.—Post-office orders payable at Old Cavendish-street.

Bankers—ST. SAMUEL SCOTT & Co.

Address—THE IMPERIAL LINEN COMPANY,

53, WIGMORE STREET, CALEDONIAN SQUARE, LONDON.

Manager, JAMES THOMAS.

MOREWOOD AND CO.

(Late MOREWOOD and ROGERS).

Dowgate Dock, Upper Thames-street, London, and

Lion Works, Birmingham.

Keep in Stock ready for immediate shipment MOREWOOD and ROGERS' PATENT GALVANISED TINNED IRON, CORRUGATED or PLAIN; and GALVANISED IRON. Also, GALVANISED IRON PAILS in various shapes, adapted specially for shipment. MOREWOOD and ROGERS' PATENT GALVANISED TINNED IRON TILE. This is the best form in which the metal can be exported, from their great facility of fixing, convenience of carriage abroad, and saving of freight. Gutters, Ridge, Cap, and all Fittings readily supplied. Wire for Fencing and Telegraph purposes.

Address all Orders to DOWGATE DOCK, LONDON.

WATERPROOFS for INDIA.

EDMISTON and SON, Sole Manufacturers of the only WATERPROOF CLOTHING guaranteed to withstand the climate of India. THE POCKET STIPHONIA (weight 12 ounces), price 4s. This Coat can be carried in the pocket. Shooting Boots and every requisite for the Sportsman in India. Portable Folding Baths, Air Beds, Water Beds for Invalids, Pillows, &c. Portable India-rubber Boots, to carry one or more persons, weighing from forty to fifty pounds. Price £7. 10s., £10. 10s., and £18. 18s., folding in a compass of three feet.

The STIPHONIA DEPOT, 6, Charing-cross, late 69, Strand, London.

NO ICE REQUIRED to produce common

Ice, Dessert Ices, to Ice Wines, &c., in SIMPSON'S NEW PATENT FREEZING VASE.—This Apparatus is, without exception, the most efficacious, simple, and portable ever produced. By using the Patented Freezing Powder, Dessert Ices and Common Ice can be frozen by the most inexperienced, in a few minutes, on the table, or in an invalid's apartment. Residents and travellers in hot climates will find it invaluable, as it produces that luxury—Ice!—at command, and only occupies the space of an ordinary hat-case.

Prices: one pint, Four Guineas; three pints, Five Guineas. Freezing Powder, 3s. per cwt. Freezing Pots, Ice Moulds &c., &c.

SODA-WATER, &c.—Use the “Seltzogene”

(solely of one piece of glass), the only portable apparatus that has the patronage of the medical profession, who recommend it for making pure Soda-water and Aerated Beverages. Metallic impregnation is avoided, there is no leakage, and it is not affected by hot climates.

Prices: two pints, 23s.; three pints, 30s.; five pints, 42s. Powders (forty charges in box), 6s., 10s., and 16s. each. References and descriptive catalogues sent free.

GEO. SIMPSON'S Patent Depot, 315c, Oxford-street, London.

PULVERMACHER'S GALVANIC ANTI-

RHEUMATIC CHAIN-BANDS FOR SELF-APPLICATION.—Unequalled and certain as are the effects of the Chain-Bands in all kinds of rheumatic Pains, still more remarkable and speedy is the relief they afford in Neuralgia, Tic Dolorous, Head and Toothache, &c. Even the most inveterate cases of Paralysis, Epilepsy, Deafness, Gout, Sciatica, Lumbago, Indigestion, Nervous Debility, &c., disappear in a comparatively short time. Prospectuses, recording a vast number of private cures and extracts from numbers of scientific works, sent free. Chain-Bands, 5s., 10s., 15s., 22s., according to power.

J. L. PULVERMACHER and Co., 78, Oxford-street, adjoining the Princess's Theatre, London, and all Chemists.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.

